B & R Thriftway, which is owned by Bill and Ron Wilfong, will open Thursday, April 16, at 8 p.m.

The Wilfongs purchased the building, which had been Gibson Discount Center after Gibson's closed in March.

For the past few weeks, they have been busy petitioning off part of the building and will use 22,000 square feet of the 31,000 square foot building for their fourth grocery store. They own stores in Fritch, Tulia and Iowa Park. They have painted and redecorated the entire building, turned the shelves to run north and south, made the aisles 8 ft. wide, expanded the produce, frozen food section and meat market.

The store carries many major brands, including Shurfresh and Shurfine. They will also carry some hardware, toys, notions, school and office supplies, as well as household items.

The meat market will have deli meats and cheeses, some frozen meats, and an expanded fresh cut meat market. Robert Waggoner, who had owned and operated the independent meat market in the Gibson Discount Center will be in the meat market. The store will be open seven days a week, opening at 8 a.m. and closing at 9 p.m. Monday thru Sunday.

MaGee Ranch tour to be held April 23

The East Panhandle Range Tour will be held Thursday, April 23, 1987, according to County Extension Agent Ronald Gooch.

The tour will be held on the Joe Magee Ranch which is located southwest of McLean about seven miles, or four miles southeast of Alanreed (signs will direct you from FM Road 291.)

The program will start at 9:30 a.m. on the Magee Ranch. A meeting place for the tour will leave the McLean Dairy Queen parking lot at 9 a.m., and travel to the tour site.

The tour will feature results of three years of demonstrations on range weeds and brush control. The demonstrations have featured Gold-aster control methods. In addition, during the last year, work has expanded to perennial broom (broom snakeweed), sagebrush and other range weeds such as ragweeds. The herbicides have been applied both aerially and with a ground rig.

This tour gives ranchers the opportunity to see some long-term effects of control measures on range invaders such as goldaster. Also, the effects of various herbicide treatments on a variety of range weed and brush plants will be observed.

After viewing and discussing the four different treatment demonstration sites on the Magee Ranch, the tour will travel to the Gerald Tate Agricultural Center, located in the SE corner of McLean for a free BBQ meal.

Those planning to attend need to make meal reservations to the Donley County Extension Office, 874-2141, by Tuesday, April 21, 1987.

ATTENTION COLT MOTHERS!!

If you have a Junior High student, in the seventh or eighth grade, who participated in sports during the 1986-87 school year, we need your attention!

The Colt Banquet has been set for May 4, 1987, at 7 p.m. in the school cafeteria. The cost to attend the banquet is $5.00 PER PERSON. In other words, ten dollars ($10) would pay for the student and one parent. If both parents want to attend, there would be an additional charge of $5.00, or a total of $15.00.

We need this money turned in NO LATER THAN APRIL 24, 1987, so that we will be able to give an accurate count to the caterer. Several have already paid this fee; if you think you might have paid but cannot remember, contact Bettie Phillips at 874-2694 to be sure. If you are sure that you HAVE NOT paid, you may send the money to school by your student and have them give it to Paulette Kidd.

Remember, IT IS VERY IMPORTANT THAT WE HAVE THE MONEY AND AN ACCURATE COUNT NO LATER THAN FRIDAY, APRIL 24, 1987.

See you at the banquet!

Teacher Appreciation Week

We often take for granted skills such as reading, writing, adding, and subtracting. They come so easily to us, we tend to forget who taught us these skills. Teachers give us knowledge we don't get anywhere else.

April 27-May 1 is Teacher Appreciation Week. Join the Clarendon PTA in showing teachers your care. "A smile and a thanks" is all it takes.

By SHERI HALL

The intermediate class met on April 2 at the Methodist Church. Bobbie Floyd showed us how to make collars out of bandanas. We each made one to take home with us. Also Terri Floyd showed us how to fold a bandana to make a bow. Thank you Bobbie and Terri.

Those present were Amy Pinion, Michelle Farmer, Minde Hollar, Katrina Leathers, Sheri Hall, Christina Leathers, Bridget Bland, and Debi Hall. Leaders were Suzy Hall and Kim Lindley. Visitors were Larissa Lindley, Bobbie Floyd and Terri Floyd.

Visiting someone in a nursing home can help you both feel better. It's a good project for club members too. With each member taking a turn turning up on, say the third Sunday of every month, with some home-baked goodies and a thermos of nice hot tea, elderly people may have something to look forward to for years to come—and so will their younger visitors.

Retirement party for Troy Welty held March 30

Greenbelt Water Authority hosted a Retirement Party for Troy F. Welty on Monday evening, March 30th, at the Country Club of Clarendon. Mrs. Welty also "retired" from her many kindnesses shown the employees of the Authority, especially those working around the lake who stopped by for their "coffee breaks", and the pot was always ready for them.

Troy began his work as Lake Patrolman on September 15, 1971 and retired effective April 1, 1987, during which time he met a lot of lake visitors, some more pleasant and appreciative of his work than others, but he was always available when someone had trouble, like getting stuck or needing a phone late after everything else in the Lake area was closed.

Mr. Welty fulfilled a life long dream when he graduated from Amarillo College and from Clarendon College with a degree in Law Enforcement. He began his college career when he came to work for the Lake, and completed both degrees in 1977 at the age of 71. His young classmates at Clarendon College gave him a standing ovation when his name was called to receive his degree, a fitting tribute to his age and energy.

During his employment at Greenbelt Lake, he was fortunate to have only one illness which kept him from his regular rounds which was in 1982, and fortunately, he had a speedy recovery (or at least he seemed to be able to work) for which everyone was very grateful.

Those attending the Retirement Party were employees, Bobbie and Missy Kidd, Clarence (Butch) and Debbie Hamilton, and children Haley and B.J., Harper and Betty Muse, Lawrence and Lela Whitehead, Danny Askew, J.R. and Derlene Graham and sons, James and Doyce Swearingen, Ross and Robbie Hill, Faylon and Nancy Watson, Jeff Topper, and "The Boss" Jimmy Kuhn and his wife, Pat. Others who had worked with Troy around the lake were Game Warden, G... and Herman and Anita Mooring, former owners of Mooring Marina.

Members of the Welty family present were son, C.B. "Buck" and Jo Welty of Amarillo, granddaughter Jobyrta Helms, great-granddaughters Lindy, Carrie, and Andra Helms of Clarendon, granddaughter Melody Baker and Dane Jones of Lewisville, Texas.

Everyone in attendance enjoyed a delicious fried chicken dinner with all the trimmings and then a special retirement cake was served the honoree and all guests present.

Greenbelt presented Troy with an engraved Cross Pen and Pencil set, and Mrs. Welty with costume jewelry (it seems that is her weakness, so says the family.)

Both "Grandpa and Grandma" Welty will be missed, but I seem to think that the regular coffee drinkers will continue to drop in at various times and probably very regularly.

Mike's Pharmacy

Nonprescription fish oil capsules are being manufactured and promoted for the prevention of heart disease. The fat in natural fish oils contains two different omega-3 fatty acids, commonly referred to as EPA and DHA. According to a recent study reported in the Journal of Clinical Nutrition, omega-3 fatty acid enriched diets are effective in lowering blood cholesterol levels, even when the intake of dietary cholesterol is high.

The link between omega-3 fatty acids and reduced heart disease was first observed in Greenland Eskimos. The Eskimo diet is high in fat, but the fat is of the polyunsaturated type and consists of walrus, seal, and oily cold-water fish. The protective effect of this type of diet appears to come directly from the effect of the unsaturated fatty acids on blood platelets.

We do not yet have enough information to determine if fish oil capsule supplements will provide the same protective effect that is obtained by eating fish with high EPA and DHA concentrations. Also, potential adverse effects of using fish oil supplements for long periods have not been determined.

Watt's Happening in Hedley

by
Peggy Watt

Juanita Brown and Edith Stribling enjoyed a day out in Wellington one day last week.

OTony Clendennen of Lueders spent the weekend with his parents, Tom and Opal Clendennen. I asked him why he didn't bring Langly with him for me to keep while he was here, but he said Linda and Leon didn't trust him that far with the little kid.

Randy and Rhonda Shaw took LaRae to the circus Saturday evening. There were a lot of other Hedley people there. Sammy and Shirley Slover took his mother, Mrs. Fern Slover and Booger and Shelle.

I understand the highlight of the circus was Janie Hill riding an elephant.

Darrell and Clara Jo Holland hosted a birthday party for their daughter, Tanya, Monday evening. Those enjoying homemade ice cream and cake for Jennifer Hill, Amanda Ward, Tylena Bright, Mark Glover, Scheli Holland, Cheryl Glover, Mark and Stephanie Molloy, and Buford and Jerry Holland.

Mrs. Nora Hartwell had all her children and grandchildren together last week. Those enjoying the hospitality of Phillip and Arletta Cobb in their home at Wellington were James and Monie Hartwell, Leroy and Opal Hartwell of Amarillo, Shane and Tina Cobb and Randall, Shawn Cobb of Wellington, Jeff and Sandy Burnett and Bevin of Denton. The occasion was to welcome Bevin home. Bevin is Mrs. Hartwell's brand new great-grandson, and Phillip and Arletta's grandson.

Mrs. Lizzie Ray is in High Plains Baptist Hospital recuperating from an embolism. I talked to C.L. Sunday and he told me she was a lot better. Hopefully she'll be home in a few days.

Clyde and Mildred enjoyed the circus in Memphis Saturday with their children, grandchildren, and in-laws. They were joined by daughter, Cecilia Lemons of Brice, grandchildren Candi Hoggard of Clarendon, Tim and Jody Wiginton great-grandchildren Joe and Felicity of Wellington and in-laws Snowdie and Floy Wiginton of Memphis.

Junior Hill is in St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo having tests. He was rushed to Amarillo Wednesday morning suffering from what was first believed to be a heart attack.

Tests proved it to not be his heart and the doctors haven't decided what is wrong with him. Martha is with him and I wasn't able to get in touch with any of his children.

Helen Lamberson and Colleen Lamberson took Colleen's daughter, Lisa, to the airport in Amarillo last week to fly home to Houston. She had been here for several days 'helping' her parents work on their home. While they were in Amarillo, they lunched with Helen's sister, Betty Hix.

Susan Cosby of Tulsa, Oklahoma visited her parents, Bill and Juanell Carson Sunday. She attended worship services at the Methodist Church Sunday morning.

Blackie and Shirley Johnson took Kendra and Matt Martin and Walter Johnson to the circus in Memphis Saturday evening. I don't think Blackie rode the elephant.

Evelyn Messer attended a meeting of the Kappa Gamma Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma at the Branding Iron Restaurant in Memphis last week.

Bobby and Pat Roland of Amarillo spent the weekend with his parents, Bob and Jessie Roland. They celebrated Bobby's birthday and went fishing at Baylor Lake.

Joe and Marlee Brandon and Kale of Amarillo spent Saturday night with her grandparents, Manford and Wilma Snelson.

Eloise Spalding accompanied Doug and Martha Lowe to Clayton to visit Gary and Sara Carter and Lisa last week. When I talked to Alfred, he was expecting them any time.

David and Amanda Ward enjoyed the circus with their aunt, Tonya Ward, Saturday evening. Shana and Shawna McCrary took Jane Wood to the circus, I think.

Mrs. Genevieve Caldwell of Clarendon United Methodist Church will be bringing the special music at the Hedley Methodist Church Sunday morning. I'm looking forward to it.

Sunday is Easter. Lets all remember what it's all about! Have a Happy Easter!

Two judging teams from Hedley F.F.A. went to Lubbock Friday to the Texas Tech judging contest. The Horse Judging team placed fifth in the district. Guy Watt, Scheli Holland, and Anthony Carson are on the team. The Dairy Products team went also, but I haven't heard how they placed. Guy didn't know about the results. Tina Shields, Shelle Slover, and Cheryl Glover are on the Dairy Products team.

Classes at Hedley school are enjoying the week of vacation. They took their fifth six-week tests Thursday and Friday. We'll have the honor roll results next week.

Mr. Collins left with the senior boys Tuesday for a trip to the Dallas-Fort Worth area. They will be back Saturday. The 1986-87 graduating class consists of five boys. Calvin Holland and Keith have been together since first grade. Terry Moore has been here off and on, Eugene Schwertner came when they were freshmen, and Will Funderburg came this year.

Hedley Eastern Star Friendship night

The Hedley Eastern Star Chapter #413 hosted a friendship night on Saturday, April 11, in the Hedley Lions Den. Approximately fifty members and guests enjoyed a meal of ham, baked beans, broccoli-rice casserole, tossed salad, hot rolls, cake, and tea.

Jay McKay of Muleshoe was the master of ceremonies. Ms. Betty Stewart of Memphis played musical selections on the piano during the dinner hour.

The program consisted of a parade of Easter Bonnets worn by the ladies and part of the men. Three Judges selected the hat of Wanda Jeffery of Wellington as the Most Beautiful Hat, John Sarich as the Most Original Hat, and Dorothy Brinson as the Funniest Hat. The Judges were Wilma Leslie of Memphis, Lawrence Whitehead of Clarendon, and Mary Ann Rasnee of Memphis.

Guests included Eastern Star members from Clarendon, Childress, Wellington, and Corona, California. Masons from those towns and Pampa were present. There were also several friends present who neither belong to the Eastern Star nor Masons.

The tables were decorated with ceramic Easter eggs and bunnies with baskets of Easter Lilies on pastel table cloths. Each guest received a beautifully decorated ceramic Easter egg as a favor.

The eggs and bunnies were made and hand painted by Dorothy Brinson and Gail Johnson.

Hedley Homemakers Club

The Hedley Homemakers met Monday, April 6 at 7:00 p.m. in the Home Ec. room at the school. The meeting was called to order by Janie Hill. Kay Talley introduced Theresa Oliva from the Floral Boutique in Memphis. Theresa gave a program on flower arranging.

The minutes of the March meeting were read by Cheryl Pickard. A treasurer's report was given by Timber Lee Potts. She also reported that we had purchased two of the barrels for main street.

Plans were made for the Easter egg hunt. It will be Saturday, April 18 at 2:00 p.m. in the Hedley School Park. There will be three age groups with prize eggs in each group. Age groups will be as follows 0-3, 4-7, and 8 and up.

The meeting was adjourned and refreshments of homemade ice cream and fresh fruit and not topping were served by Cheryl Pickard and Kay Talley.

Those present included Debbie Hill, Nancy Stephens, Janie Hill, Timber Lee Potts, Kathi Holland, Becky Hill, Tammy Brinson, Janny Longan, Barb Collins, Carole Ward, Cheryl Pickard, and Kay Talley.

You've heard Christians say the world as we know it is going to end one day...

that Jesus Christ will return to earth to gather his followers together into eternal peace...

that those who ignored God will be doomed to an eternal hell...

that pain and sorrow will end forever for God's people, but remain forever with those who fought God...

Are you sure they aren't right?

Cholesterol level of beef has no relation to fat content

Consumers who have been buying leaner ground beef to lower their cholesterol and calorie intake may be doing neither, according to a Texas Agricultural Experiment Station study.

Cholesterol and fat in the diet have been linked to heart disease and intestinal cancer, and as a result, many health conscious people are working to reduce the amounts of fat and cholesterol they eat in foods such as beef, eggs, and dairy products.

But consuming lean or extra-lean over regular ground beef is not an effective means of lowering dietary cholesterol, according to the study.

Consumers should know that within a range of no fat to 30 percent fat, the cholesterol content of the cooked beef may not be significantly different, according to the study by meat and muscle biology scientists at Texas A & M University.

"Consumers who purchase lean ground beef over regular ground beef are paying higher prices for no significant reduction in cholesterol and may not even obtain a reduction in calories," says Lisa M. Hoelscher, who authored the study along with Jeff Savell, J.M. Harris, H.R. Cross, and K.S. Rhee.

The research was conducted to determine the effects that fat level and cooking method had on the final cholesterol and calorie content of ground beef patties.

Ground beef was prepared in batches of 0, 5, 10, 15, 20, 25, and 30 percent fat, and patties from each batch were either broiled or pan-fried. The patties were then frozen and a portion of them were later reheated in a microwave oven.

The study found that cholesterol content of ground beef patties were not related to fat level. Cholesterol values of cooked patties tended to be lower than the raw patties because of losses during cooking. The research failed to establish any significant relationship between fat level and cholesterol content.

Calorie content was, of course, directly related correlated with fat content. Microwave reheating increased fat loss for both pan-fried and broiled patties, but had no effect on cholesterol content.

"At low fat levels, there was no significant difference between the fat content of raw and cooked products, but as fat level increased, the difference became significant," Hoelscher says.

Calorie content of cooked patties peaked at approximately 20 percent fat. As initial fat increased to 30 percent, losses during cooking increased and calories tended to remain the same or even to decrease.

Purchasing lean ground beef (approximately 20 percent fat) over regular (approximately 30 percent fat) may not be a good means of reducing calorie consumption but extra-lean (approximately 10 percent fat) ground beef would reduce calories about 25 percent, the study shows.

Ground beef containing less than 2 percent fat would provide a calorie reduction of 50 percent over regular ground. Grocers generally charge premium prices for extra-lean products, and it is up to the consumer to determine whether the calories-for-dollars trade-off is worthwhile.

Congressman Beau Boulter Reports from Washington

OUT TO LUNCH ON THE BUDGET

As you may have recently read in the news, Congress has again begun its annual task of preparing a budget for the next fiscal year. Unfortunately, this very important process has become yet another meaningless exercise in frustration and irresponsibility. This is due to the lack of restraint Congress has continually shown in spending your tax dollars.

As a member of the Budget Committee here in the House of Representatives, I have seen all too often how some Congressmen are quick to approve a federal budget on one hand, yet even quicker to bust that budget with more spending and waste. Congress clearly lacks the discipline and commitment to the people it represents to stick to a set of clearly outlined budget priorities.

In 1985, Congress took a concrete step toward confronting this problem. By an overwhelming majority, it passed the Gramm-Rudman Balanced Budget law. This landmark legislation put the Congress on a five year schedule of deficit reduction, working toward a balanced budget in 1991. Unfortunately, Congress is trying to buck this diet of restraint and is planning to indulge in a feeding frenzy of taxing and spending.

On January 5 of this year, President Reagan submitted his budget proposal to the Congress. And while I don't agree with every facet of his 1988 budget, it does meet the FY 1988 Gramm-Rudman deficit reduction target of $108 billion. Normally, a compromise would be reached between the President's budget proposal and that of the Congress.

This year, however, Congress has only booted and hissed at the President's budget, while failing to offer one of its own. And, although no concrete proposal has been put on the table, the House leadership has already put forward some ideas that are, quite frankly, very shocking.

Frighteningly, many in Congress are talking about raising your taxes—$18 billion in new taxes to be exact. Let me state for the record, I simply will not be party to an effort to take more money from the pockets of working Americans.

In the minds of many of my colleagues, this proposed tax hike is justified as a tool to increase revenues and balance the budget. However, in reality, nothing could be further from the truth. Congress has already spent over $700 million on new government programs this year, including a dishonestly adopted Congressional pay raise. And this is only the tip of the iceberg. Some members of Congress have plans to force almost $10 billion more new spending down the throats of the taxpayers.

In a way, this whole budget fiasco reminds me of being invited to a lavish banquet held by the House leadership. The menu has been set. As an appetizer, the American people have been served up a scheme to increase congressional salaries; the soup of the day is an $18 billion federal tax increase. As the main course, Americans are facing over $10 billion in new government spending. And finally for dessert, Americans have been told that Congress intends to break its promise to reduce the federal deficit under Gramm-Rudman.

I, for one, do not believe that this is a meal the American people will be willing or able to digest.

Family History Book to include businesses

There will be a section in the Donley County Family History book of business, past and present. Businesses are the backbone of our communities, and this will be one of the most interesting sections in the new book. Everyone is aware of the businesses in our area, and because they "know the businesses" it will be one of the most read sections. Businesses are encouraged to write their stories, and furnish photos of the business. There is no charge to have stories and photos included, nor is there any obligation to purchase books.

From The PEN of PASTOR PINION

"DEFILEMENT OF THE MIND"

In my last article I began to discuss the predicament of Daniel and the three Hebrew children. Upon the invasion of Jerusalem by Nebuchadnezzar, they were carried away captive to the monarch's palace in Babylon. Notice the description of them in Daniel 1:4 where scripture records they were "children in whom was no blemish, but well favored and skillful in all wisdom, and cunning in knowledge and understanding science." These young men were the "cream of the crop." They were the most excellent physically, intellectually and spiritually that Israel had to offer. They were recognized to be the choicest of servants.

It is always the best servants that Satan attacks with his most fierce assaults. Make no mistake that although it was the Babylonians who held them captive, it was Satan who was at work to destroy their character and testimony. By looking at the manner in which he sought to defile Daniel, we can learn much about his activity against the saints of God today.

The first attack was against the intellect. In verse four we are told that Daniel and his companions were ones "whom they might teach the learning and the tongue of the Chaldeans." This was more than a language class. It was an effort to revolutionize the entire way of thinking of these men. Proverbs 23:7 tells us, "For as a man thinketh in his heart, so he is." If Satan can get us to talk like the world and to think like the world then he will take successful Godly values and supplement them with the ways of the world. Today we are constantly bombarded with attempts to alter the way we think. Television particularly, attempts to portray any who is moral, spiritual and conservative as being ignorant and unenlightened. On the other hand the "so-called" beautiful people live a life of irresponsible sex, drugs, and alcohol. (And of course they are always rich and beautiful.) The public education system is filled with the atheistic philosophies of secular humanism. Popular opinionism attempts to sway us from our christian standards. And yet God warns us to "be not conformed unto the world." (Romans 12:2) Brethren, we must be on guard. If our thinking becomes conformed to the world, then so will our morals, attitudes and actions. We must, as Daniel, purpose in our heart "that we will not let our minds be defiled but instead follow the exhortation of Philippians 4:8.

Letter to the Editor

The Legislature's regular session is more than half over and very little has been done to solve the states major budget problems. The Governor has submitted a $36.9 billion budget for the next two years, which includes extending the temporary sales and gasoline tax enacted during last summer's special session.

This will raise $2.9 billion addition revenue. The House of Representatives have passed this bill but the Senate has refused to act. They want to raise taxes much higher. The Governor says he will veto any tax bill above the one already passed by the house.

All of us Texans are finding out that we can't live on oil and gas as a tax base for our accelerated state spending.

The Texas economy has caused the Moody Investment Service to downgrade our State Bonds from AAA to AA. This rating decrease will increase the cost of our school districts and municipal construct projects as a result all Texas taxpayers will face the prospect of paying millions of dollars more in interest charges on all state backed bonds.

Texas throughout our state already find themselves struggling to make ends meet during these tough economic times. They respond to these conditions by pinching pennies, cutting back on expenses and cutting back on low priority goods and services. There is no reason the state legislature can't do the same thing.

It has been proven time and time again when the state or federal government takes money from the people by taxation the general economy of the state declines and when taxes are cut the economy improves. If there is one thing Texas don't need right now is a further decline in our economy.

When companies across our nation seek expansion opportunities, they look for states with favorable tax rates.

The $36.9 billion budget submitted by the Governor is not a good growth budget as many of our legislators and special interest groups claim. It provides a moderate increase of 2 percent. Many economist are convinced that we can live with a 2 percent increase and continue improving our economical growth, which will stimulate business development in our state.

A recent state wide poll showed only 10 percent favored higher taxes to balance the state budget. So, who is out of step. Many of our legislators must not have read the polls nor have been listenin to us or maybe we haven't made it clear what we want them to do. Have you?

I cannot close this letter without a pitch for our high schools. The legislature has been subjected to enormous pressures from higher education lobbyist for larger increase in their share of the budget. We are all for higher education but that is not our major educational problem. A report was released showing that three out of four people in our state penal institutions were school drop-outs.

This report leads us to assume that if we can find a way to keep our students in school up through graduation, many of our penal inmates would be useful taxpaying citizens.

Our prison overcrowding would be a thing of the past.

Once again I urge you to contact your state senator and house representative. Let them know what you want.

Low-salt hams can be produced with accelerated processing

Ham lovers who are concerned about good nutrition have been pleased with the lean, boneless hams that are widely available, but still they are left to contend with the high salt content of most hams.

But lean, boneless, low-salt hams may be on the way.

The fat content of ham has fallen as low as 4 to 5 percent to meet the demands of consumers, and new processing methods have made the production of lean, boneless hams economical, allowing them to be reasonably priced.

With new, accelerated processing methods on the horizon, total curing time can be reduced to 15 hours, compared to the standard 132 hours. Inventories can be turned over faster, providing a fresher product at retail.

The difference is that the pork carcass is processed immediately, rather than after a 24- to 48-hour chilling period. Electrical stimulation of the carcass at slaughter can be used to return the tenderness that is sometimes lost from chilling too rapidly.

Several large pork sausage operations, including Owens, Jimmy

Dean, and Rudy's Farms already use accelerated processing, and produce fresh sausage ready for distribution about 2 hours after slaughter.

While accelerated or hot processing - with its labor, time, and storage saving advantages - is gaining ground, it has not been combined with efforts to produce cured products with reduced sodium content.

Small amounts of salt, or sodium chloride, are essential in cured meats for extracting muscle proteins to bind meat pieces together, to enhance flavor and texture, and to retard spoilage, says J.T. Keeton, a meats researcher with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

Keeton, J. J. Bohac, R. Leu, and H.R. Cross recently studied the influence of hot processing and electrical stimulation on boneless hams cured with brine in which half the sodium chloride had been replaced with potassium chloride.

The researchers found that treated hams in the experiment contained 40 percent less sodium than conventional hams, and in addition, their cured color was slightly lighter than hams cured with pure sodium chloride. While conventionally processed hams are less salty tasting than those produced by accelerated processing, the differences are small and do not affect acceptability, the scientists say.
