Fifty Years a Methodist In Church He Helped To Organize in 1888

Methodist To Have Golden Jubilee Celebration

The Clarendon Methodist Church has set apart the week of September 18-25 for a fitting celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the church's organization. The former pastors and presiding elders have been invited to be present and to preach in the daily services. All former members of the Church are invited to return to Clarendon for a part in this Golden Jubilee, and it is believed that scores of them will be coming from all parts of the Panhandle and more distant points. Former pastors who have indicated they would be present are J. Sam Barcus, J. H. Hamblin, S. E. Allison, A. L. Moore, E. E. Bowen. Others are attempting to arrange their programs so that they may attend.

The program committee is arranging other special features such as a reception for former members and ministers, a musical night, a historical night, etc. The only charter member of the Church who still is in the church is Mr. P. A. Buntin of our city.

P. A. BUNTIN - - - sole remaining charter member of the Methodist church here who will be guest of honor at the coming semi-centennial celebration.

Motherly Sleuth Puts Fear of Law Into Bandits, Robbers at Lelia Lake

Called the protector of Lelia Lake, credited with the capture of 14 law violators and halting a series of burglaries, Mrs. John Howard was this week appointed a deputy sheriff of Donley county.

THIEF CATCHER

Only three of 17 who attempted burglaries at Lelia Lake, in the last few years, have escaped her sleuthing. Of those, two left a trail of blood after exchanging gun fire with Mrs. Howard's husband and her son.

When the Howards first moved to Lelia Lake, robbers were so frequent her son, Lon, decided to make an alarm system. "Since then all I do is call the officers in Clarendon," Mrs. Howard said.

But Sheriff Pierce said Mrs. Howard was too modest. "When I took office in 1930, Lelia Lake was in the midst of a crime wave," the officer declared. "Since then we have arrested and convicted 14 persons on the strength of Mrs. Howard's assistance."

Post Office Bandits

Catching the post office bandits was not a part of the alarm system, Pierce insisted. The criminals, going under the name of the Jackson gang, aroused Mrs. Howard's suspicions by their actions about town. After the end of a diligent two-hour watch, she saw them enter the post office and called the sheriff's department.

When the officers arrived, the gang had rifled the safe and escaped in the dark. But Mrs. Howard knew county roads and directed officers during a running gun fight which ultimately resulted in the apprehension of two desperadoes, upon whose conviction Mrs. Howard was rewarded by the federal government.

ed officers in the chase, which ended when the bandits wrecked their car after a running gun fight.

In almost every instance, Mrs. Howard has notified the officers in time for them to make arrests while the robbers were in the stores or just leaving.

"There has been no robberies in Lelia Lake for several years, due to your energy," Pierce said in deputizing Mrs. Howard.

TAXES

Taxes: We are taxed on our clothing, our meat and our bread

On our carpets and dishes, our table and beds:

Our tea and our coffee, our fuel and our light,

And we are taxed so severely we can't sleep at night.

We are stamped on our mortgages, checks, notes and bills

On our deeds and our contracts, and on our last will:

And the "Star Spangled Banner" in the morning doth wave,

O'er the wealth of the nation turned into the grave.

We are taxed on our offices, our stores and our shops,

On our horses and cattle, and if we should die.

We are taxed on our coffins, in which we must lie.

We are taxed on all goods by kind providence given,

We are taxed on our Bible which takes us to Heaven:

And when we ascend to that Heavenly goal,

They would if they could, stick a stamp on our soul.

TEMPLE OF TRUTH
By the Apostle

One of the best editions of a reunion paper yet to come to our desk is that of the Dalhart Texan. One of the best parts is the fact that the people of the town cooperated with the publishers, business men and individuals alike. The special edition was to exploit the XIX reunion held Monday and Tuesday of this week. Editor Albert Law, manager Ed Bishop and the loyal 'gang' both front and back, are to be congratulated.

The campaign literature sent out made about every request possible, but not a one asked the voter to "think" before voting. Liberal enough, fellows.

Merit is shorn of most of its luster when put on dress parade for the sake of notoriety.

Why the Dirty?@***
Down on a state prison farm last week, a felon handling a shovel used the shovel in a unique manner. He slapped a guard in the face, took his gun and invited two more felons to take "leg bail." Leg bail, in the parlance of a prison gang, is to maliciously abscquat, etc. if you understand correct grammar. There ought to be a law against molesting guards by slapping them in the face with a shovel. It might jeopardize the guard's social standing.

A local sport fan says he has it all figured out. Managers of negro Joe Louis hire some bird to take the rap with a bloody mug and will keep this racket going so long as they can get a crowd. He says that Max Schmelling is the only real fighter to ever tackle the negro.

and he knocked him out by mistake when he got mad at the black man.

Dry weather and hoppers are about to interfere with the AAA farm plan. A local party going from here to the Black Hills of South Dakota a few days ago, says the hoppers are eating the bark off the posts after cleaning up the fields, or what the drouth left. He says there won't be enough feed grown from Clayton north to feed a milk cow through the winter. It begins to look like the fellow who suggested that farmers be encouraged to raise all the products possible, and build more federal storage granaries and less dams, knew something. And that man doesn't eat ants or have fits, either.

Besides the human head, the other solids are mineral, vegetable, geometry and comfort.

Red Kian thinks that a bridal path is a rocky trail up a mountain.

His Face Got Red.
Monday, farmer R. A. Poulson of near Fresno, Cal. while driving his tractor across his field, felt the whole works suddenly drop. It landed in a cave 20 feet below. The water rose and Poulson swam out without serious damage. The tractor was a loss. The earth cave was played up big in the Los Angeles dailies Tuesday.

50 Years Ago Item.
Polecat Joe arrived home from Clarendon Sunday with two cases of lard and one of smallpox aboard his freight wagon. Nigger Lassus' oldest son, Karo, lost control of his carbuncle Friday, and is laid up in the barn for repairs.

Flying the ocean in a plane that was classed as 'an old crate' was not as much of a feat as escaping death at the hands of the mob that welcomed Corrigan home. Americans have no nobility to worship, hence they seize upon any one to become hero worshippers for a short time. The old boy spent a week in the hospital.

Americans carry their heroes to the sky immediately, and drop them just as quickly.

Older men choose whom they shall vote for largely by old acquaintance. Young men prefer to try new men. That has been the rule, but in the runoff the 27th of this month, new men will likely be the choice since O'Daniel voters will not choose to hobble their governor with old line politicians.

If you fell out with your neighbor over politics, tell him you are sorry for having lost your reasoning at a time when you needed it most. The beauty about kindness is that there are so many easy ways to show it, and so many good places to put it.

Some of the folks up Kansas City way complain that the BBB's control the election. Boogie, booze and bosses, you know.

The newspaper folks of the daily class are falling over each other to get the "Life of O'Daniel" before the public. The Dallas News boasts that they have the only real story. The Wichita Record says about the same thing, and the Ft.

Worth Press and Houston Post tell about the same story. The only amusing thing about the whole affair is that the Dallas News announces their story to start in the News August 14, when the other papers started theirs Monday of this week. Who would have thought the staid old Dallas News would have been scooped like that?

Well sir, some more folks down tooting it up about the Will Rogers highway dedication. Had you ever noticed that the old westerners who actually got a fair sample of that day seldom take much stock in these modernized attempts to rehash again the Old West? The old-time cowboy feels about the matter as does the returned soldier who got in the actual battle zone. He just ain't got nothin' to talk about.

T. J. Darling, Temple, big man in the Texas republican ranks, urges the nomination of W. Lee O'Daniel to head their state ticket.

Easy payments and painless dentistry amount to about the same thing.

When a woman talks of her past, she's confessing; when a man does the same thing, he's merely bragging.

The wife of one defeated candidate is having a Biblical quotation painted on a card to hang in front of where the old boy sits each evening. The card will bear the sentence, "many are called, but few are chosen."

After all, if you didn't get elected, you just failed to get enough votes. If you have or now in office and failed of re-election, it means that the folks don't want to impose on your time any longer. Political office holders seldom, if ever, get much ahead honestly.

Dallas has a real wagon yard just as it did 50 years ago, except that it has been modernized in one respect. Allen McClendon, a 'staid-at-the-wagon-yarder' Friday was highjacked, and no one caught the "highjackee" so far.

Miss Heida Jo Cauthen of Amarillo visited her mother, Mrs. Linnie Cauthen here Sunday.

Barbara Ruth is the name of the daughter born to Mr. and Mrs. Jiggs Mosley at Big Springs August 3rd.

THESE YOUNGSTERS

Unmindful of the milling feet in front of the Clarendon postoffice, a 4-year-old boy staged a "lay-down" strike Monday afternoon and for more than an hour, pedestrians had to carefully pick their way past the child.

Becoming aggravated at his sister, who appeared to be about 6-years-old, the boy laid down and every effort on the part of his sister resulted in kicking and screaming.

The sister had to stick to the job, for, she said, she would get licked if she went home without him.

Twenty-four Clarendon F. F. A. members, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Gillham and Mr. and Mrs. Don Matheson, returned late Tuesday night from a ten day trip to Yellowstone National Park and other points of interest.

The group left Clarendon July 31 and found Capulin Mountain, Raton Pass, and Pikes Peak the chief points of interest of first days trip which ended at Cascades at foot of Pikes Peak.

The larger portion of the second day was spent in the Denver Museums and city park; the second night was spent at the Ft. Collins Municipal camping grounds, where the boys enjoyed a plunge in the city lake.

The third day was spent in a tour of Wyoming with Cheyenne being the chief point of interest.

Wednesday the group toured the Wind River Canyon, the famous Thermopolis "Hot Springs", Cody Shoshone Dam, Sylvan Pass and Fishing bridge within the park. Canyon Junction, the Grizzly feeding grounds, Canyon Lodge, and fishing in Yellowstone Lake furnished the program for Thursday.

Friday the group visited such points as Yellowstone Falls and Canyon, Mammoth Springs, and old Faithful.

Saturday the group left the park and spent the major portion of the day in the Grand Teton National Park.

Sunday the group were on their way home. Laramie, and other points of interest in Wyoming were visited during the days travel. Monday the group drove to Colorado Springs and to Canon City where the scenic beauty of the Royal Gorge was enjoyed by the group. The group returned from Pueblo, Colorado, Tuesday.

Bears proved to be one of the chief interests of the trip with tall bear stories being told by the boys of the nightly visits to the camps by the hungry animals. Three car tops were torn out of cars within a range of 50 yards of the boys camp the first night in the park.

List of boys was given in last weeks paper with the exception of Maurice Risley.

Run-Off Candidates August 27 Primary

Heading the list are candidates for lieutenant governor. Coke Stevenson of Kimble county had 258,625 votes in the first primary. He has held the post of Speaker of the House two terms and bears a good reputation. He is a lawyer and rancher of Junction and legislators declare him to be a "square shooter" in all matters concerning his actions. His opponent is Pierce Brooks of Dallas, a lawyer of fine character and handicapped by a limited acquaintance. He has never held office. His vote was 305,054 in the first primary.

For attorney general, Walter Woodul led the list of five with a vote of 340,453. Mr. Woodul has been in the legislature, senate, and is at present Lt. Governor. His official experience allegedly covers 21 years. His fight on the old age pensions will likely cut down his old age vote considerably. He has a lucrative private practice as one of Houston's leading lawyers. His opponent is Gerald C. Mann who polled 328,548 votes in the first primary being just 11,905 votes behind Woodul. Goodrich has thrown his strength to Woodul but polled a small vote. Calvert is actively speaking for Mann; Yarbrough's state manager is actively helping Mann. Mann has never held public office by election. He was appointed assistant attorney general, and when Gov. Allred stepped up, Mann was appointed Secretary of State. He bears a fine reputation and is a self made man. He easily carried the Panhandle in the first primary and is expected to carry the state August 27th by a large majority.

For associate justice of the supreme court, Richard Critz, Williamson county took the lead with 372,876 votes. He grew up on a farm, became a lawyer, served his county both as county attorney and as judge. He has served in his present position six years without any unfavorable comment. Contesting him is W. H. Davidson of Jefferson county, a prominent lawyer who bears an excellent reputation.

For judge of the court of criminal appeals, Harry N. Graves, Williamson county, former legislator and an Allred appointee, is pitted against James A. Stephens of Knox county who polled 11,905 votes short of a majority. Graves has held a number of offices for several years. Stephens has practiced law for some forty years, but has held no elective office so far as can be ascertained. He bears a good reputation and ran far ahead in his home section.

Railroad commissioner: C. V. Terrell of Wise led the ticket of six with 288,921. He has held public office 54 years. It has been said that the name of "Terrell" was equivalent to election in past years. His nearest contestant is Jerry Sadler of Gregg county who polled 255,936. Sadler carried the Panhandle section and is said to be gaining to the point of an easy victory August 27th. He has never held public office.

Land Commissioner: Wm. McDonald, present incumbent led the

HISTORY REPEATS

Our attention has recently been called to the following editorial published in a New York paper, which is strongly written:

"The menace of the Roosevelt campaign does not lie in the third term tradition, but in the state of mind that could desire four years more of Roosevelt in the White House, four years more of personal government, four years more of

Presidential lawlessness, four years more of executive contempt for Congress, courts and Constitution, four years more of centralization, four years more of wanton extravagance, four years more of denunciation and demagoguery—in the state of mind that wants the new nationalism that wants a Federal interference with every form of human industry and activity, that wants the States stripped of their power, that wants the majority and bureaucracy substituted for the bill of rights. The danger does not lie in popular indifference to the third term tradition, but in popular indifference to the fundamental principles of liberty upon which the Republic was established."

That is quite a terrible thing for anyone to write about President Roosevelt, don't you think?

But not so fast—the foregoing paragraph from the New York paper wasn't written about President Franklin D. Roosevelt. Instead it was written about President Teddy Roosevelt in the New York World in 1908. As one columnist has suggested, "maybe this was where Teddy's children, Alice and Teddy, Jr., learned the mean things they love to say about their "Cousin" Franklin.

Frank Morgan, Wallace Beery, Maureen O'Sullivan in "Port of Seven Seas"

Practically Entire World Represented on Shores of Versatile Lake on Studio Lot

Now Seen as Marseilles Harbor in "Port of Seven Seas," It Has Also Represented Puget Sound, China Sea, Portsmouth Harbor, Irish Sea, Louisiana River and Mediterranean Sea

On the back lot of a motion picture studio is a body of water, some four acres square, that has represented practically every known body of water in the world.
Recently it was altered to represent the quay at Marseilles for Wallace Beery's new starring film, "Port of Seven Seas," showing Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at The Pastime Theatre.
The harbor is filled with all types of ships from a 300-foot steamer to a five-foot dingy. Sails and nets are drying on the wharf, while along the busy street are fish peddlers, housewives, drunken sailors, urchins and merchants. Old men sit at sidewalk cafes, laughing, drinking and talking.
Eight years ago, in the same spot, the late Lon Chaney fought his way through a tribe of savages in dark Africa for a sequence in "Congo." After that, the beloved Marie Dressler, in the same place, sailed her tugboat through Puget Sound in Washington for "Tugboat Annie."
Never was the waterfront so mysterious as when Captain Clark Gable sailed his steamer into Shanghai and later to Hongkong as he tried to escape Wallace Beery on his pack of pirates in "China Seas." Later shots, however, were made at sea.
Dignity hit the harbor as Gable, Franchot Tone and Charles Laughton sailed out of Portsmouth on H.M.S. Bounty for the film, "Mutiny on the Bounty." Here again, most of the actual filming was done for at sea.
Ireland also came to the body of studio-made water for scenes in "Peg O' My Heart."
Once it was transformed into a replica of a river in Louisiana for "Lazy River," in which Jean Parker and Robert Young had the leading roles.
The lake has seen action under fire especially when it was transformed into the Irish Sea for battle scenes of the World War in "Hell Below." In "Mama Steps Out," the lake took on a sophisticated attitude for scenes laid on the Riviera. Actually it's the best traveled lake in the motion picture business.

LEISURE FOR PLANNING AHEAD

By T. C. RICHARDSON, Secretary
Texas Breeder-Feeder Association

At this season, between final cultivation and fall harvest, there is more leisure for both pleasure and profit than for several months to come. It is a mighty good time to visit around and see what other farmers are doing, to gather ideas and useful information, to digest it and adapt it to use at home, to make plans for next year's operations. If planning is delayed until after the rush of fall harvesting it is too late to get ready for some of the things one may want to do next year.

Nobody can convince E. C. Davis, tenant farmer of Conway county, Arkansas, that it doesn't pay to plan far ahead and set down the steps necessary to reach certain goals. Sitting down with his county and home agent and the farm management specialist Mr. and Mrs. Davis worked out a plan which called for 18 definite things to be done within the year, in order to improve their living conditions and provide a more dependable income. They set their goals pretty high; it scarcely looked possible to carry out every point in the plan. But they found planning each step far ahead helped get the job done at the proper time, and they fulfilled the entire 18 parts of the plan the first year. Now they can raise their goals.

It would have been too late to "plant two acres of grain for chickens" if the Davis family had waited until after Christmas to plan the year's work; or to "sow 36 acres of cotton land in vetch to be plowed under next spring." These are only two items of the 18, but serve to illustrate why forehandedness in planning is essential to good farming practices.
Every farm family and its farm is a different problem. Some families are satisfied with less than others, some want one thing, some another, and the problem is to make the farm give the family what it wants. Vague hoping for a lucky break with big yields and high prices doesn't usually bring results. Weather or something else beyond control may defeat the best of plans, but working without a definite plan is responsible for more defeats than weather.

Do we want a fall garden, a good table and full pantry next winter? It's time to get the ground ready and buy the seed. Do we need winter grazing for livestock and poultry? It's time to decide where it is going to be and get ready for sowing on the fall rains. Do we want the best prices for Thanksgiving and Christmas turkeys? The grain for fattening must be in the bin several weeks before marketing time. Does the land need a winter cover? Seed can usually be bought more cheaply ahead of planting season than when everybody wants them.
Nearly all farm families plan ahead to some extent, but too few take the time and trouble to work out their needs and the plans to meet them in definite form. Merely doing this and getting them down on paper is no job for a half-hour's casual conversation. It takes time to discuss, adjust and work out the details, and there is no better time than the few weeks just about now. The first plan will usually be revised several times by study and discussion, and it is therefore a good idea to lay it aside for a few days while everybody thinks it over. Then bring it out and work it over at intervals until all its weaknesses are ruled out.
A great deal of help can be had from county agents, home demonstration agents, farm management specialists in extension service, and vocational teachers who are technically trained in the many matters that enter into a complete home and farm management plan. Call on them, get bulletins and study them, and go at the job as carefully and thoroughly as a manufacturer plans the construction and operation of his plant. This takes time and we can't start too soon; the time spent in planning is worth more than any other equal time.

FIGURING

You've often heard the old story that figures don't lie, but liars will figure, and now we have found actual proof of that.
Some person with unusual ability at juggling figures, has gone into the question of unemployment in this country and secured the following result:
Population of U. S. 124,000,000
Eligible for old age pensions 30,000,000
Left to do the work 94,000,000
Employed by government and its subdivisions 20,000,000
Left to work 74,000,000
Ineligible under child labor laws 60,000,000

Left to work 14,000,000
Unemployed 13,999,998
After looking over these figures the editor of the Wilmington, N. C. Star, reasons that unless jobs are found for these 13,999,998 unemployed, you and the president must perform all the labor required to keep the ordinary every day activities proceeding, and since the president has no time for it, it is up to you.

Did you know that "Compensation" means cash benefits payable to eligible unemployed workers?

Did you know that current taxes are used to pay jobless benefits? The "cushion" fund collected prior to the beginning of benefit-payments is held for emergency periods of depression.

Did you know that "contributions" mean payments required by the Unemployment Compensation Act to be made by an employer into the Unemployment Compensation Fund?

WILL ROGERS PAGEANT IN AMARILLO EXPECTED TO ATTRACT THOUSANDS

AMARILLO, August 10.—Old friends and admirers of the late Will Rogers, plainsman-philosopher, are coming to Amarillo by the thousands for a three-day celebration, August 15-16-17.

The celebration will dedicate the Will Rogers route (U. S. 66), now the first and only all-paved highway between Chicago and Los Angeles.

Leo Carrillo, cinema celebrity; Irvin S. Cobb, author-actor and other Hollywood head-liners; Gov. James V. Allred, the Kiltic band of Oklahoma City and cross-country cavalcades from all along the highway named in tribute to the memory of the beloved humorist-humanitarian will join in the celebration.

With a cast of 1,500 persons, "Old Southwest Days," a spectacle on stupendous scale, will be one of the features of the dedicatory ceremonies.

"Old Southwest Days," which will be presented on Butler Field at 8:45 o'clock each night of the celebration, will be historical, yet highly entertaining. Four centuries of history will pass in review within an hour and a half. Old cowboy friends of Will Rogers will portray his life.

Members of the cast will wear authentic, attractive costumes. The stage settings will be 250 feet wide. Powerful elaborate lighting effects will be employed and special sound equipment will be installed for the spectacular show.

Indian attacks on wagon trains, buffalo hunting, Southwestern battles, Coronado's trek across the plains, and other stirring scenes will be enacted.

To eliminate commercialism from the celebration all profits will be given to charity. Tickets to "Old Southwest Days" are only 50 cents.

Another feature will be a pioneer parade, staged each afternoon of the first two days.

Tom Sullivan, Clarendon, was bruised and shaken when he was struck by an automobile in front of his home last week-end.

C. R. Skinner told officers that he was returning to town from his farm without lights and thought he heard a "bump" when he passed the Sullivan car. He was unaware of the accident until he got home he said.

Sullivan was sitting on the running board of his car talking to a neighbor when the accident happened, Sheriff Guy Pierce said. He was not badly hurt.

VISITING IN DALLAS

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Stewart and daughter, Mrs. Mildred Kolner of Pampa, and Miss Dorothy Powell, left Wednesday to visit Mr. and Mrs. Frank Simmons in Dallas. They expect to visit the old home section around Cleburne before returning home.

Will Rogers many times crossed the last link to be paved in the route now bearing his name.

JERRY SADLER IS ON HOME STRETCH

Carrying the banner of the Average Man and the Average Woman, G. A. Jerry Sadler, 30-year old Longview attorney, this week was continuing his state-wide whirlwind speaking and handshaking campaign for Railroad Commissioner.

Fresh from the ranks of the plain folks, Sadler is looking to his people to support him against the forces of the professional politicians and monopolies. The vigorous young campaigner believes that the people of Texas want to inject new blood into the Railroad Commission to give it life to fight avarice and greed which have long dominated the army of the chronic office holder.

Sadler is campaigning as a "plain businessman, qualified through experience and study" for Railroad Commissioner. He has called on the Average Man and the Average Woman to join hands with him to defeat the efforts of more than 1,000 Commission employees who are paid One Million Dollars from the taxpayers' money annually and who are driving state-owned cars to champion the cause of a man who is approaching his 80th birthday and has held public office for more than 50 years.

Sadler is staunchly opposed to laws and orders which threaten the small and independent businessman. He believes in strict conservation of God-given natural resources of Texas, and he favors immediate payment of the $30 pension to Texas' aged.

—W. W. Hick Halcomb.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Mace of Lelia Lake, have as their guests this week, Mrs. Wadlow and daughter, Miss May, relatives of Mrs. Mace, from Nashville, Tenn.
