Firebelles Reminded

The Clarendon Firebelles are reminded that they need to meet at the Fire Hall on Sunday, July 1st at 7:00 p.m. to wash and decorate the Seagraves Fire Truck for the July 4th parade.

July 5th Deadline Set

The Clarendon News is changing the deadline for the July 5th paper so that the staff can have July 4th as a holiday. Please have all articles and advertisements into the News office no later than 5:00 p.m. Friday, June 29th.

Fire Warning Emphasized

The Fire Marshal, Fire Chief, and Law Enforcement Agencies remind everyone that fire danger will be at an all time high during the July 4th celebration and you must use extra caution with fireworks and other fire hazards. Under new Texas law, if you start a fire accidentally or intentionally and it destroys another persons property such as a structure, grassland, or other property, that individual can recover his loss from the person responsible and you can be charged under the law with arson.

Just one mistake and you could burn many acres of grass and/or other property and end up paying or if you are under age, your parents could end up paying for your mistake or mischief.

It is unlawful to pop fireworks inside the city limits and if you start a fire on someone else's property inside or outside the city, it is a violation of the law, plus you could be forced to pay for any damage resulting from a fire you started. Keep this in mind if you feel you must pop fireworks. With the high fire danger conditions at this time, a spark can be out of control in seconds.

Shannon K. Myers was awarded an $8,000 four-year Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo 4-H Scholarship recently in special ceremonies at the Texas 4-H Roundup in College Station.

Shannon, daughter of Carolyn and Johnnie Myers of Lakeview, was an active member of Donley County 4-H clubs for eight years. She served as county council chairman and district vice chairman. She was a member of the Texas 4-H Council and won first place with her Dog Care and Training demonstration at district contest. She received the Danforth "I Dare You" and Gold Star awards.

Shannon was also a leader in her high school and is named in "Who's Who Among American High School Students." She served as class vice chairman, Future Homemakers of America chairman and science club treasurer. She was also drum major for the Memphis Cyclone band.

Shannon, who plans to major in agricultural communications at Texas Tech University, was one of fifty Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo Scholarship winners honored.

The 4-H scholarship recipients were chosen by members of the Texas 4-H Youth Development Foundation. The selected students all demonstrated academic excellence and strong leadership skills throughout their high school careers.

The show also will award fifty four-year, $8,000 scholar ships at the Texas State FFA Convention, July 11 in Lubbock. All 4-H and FFA recipients must pursue a degree in agriculture or life sciences at a Texas College or University.

The show is the world's largest donor of agricultural scholarships, with scholarship funding provided by revenues earned at the annual Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo. Since awarding it's first scholarship in 1957, the show has provided more than $21 million to more than 2,700 Texas youth pursuing an education. Additionally, the show has committed more than $1.15 million in educational funds for the upcoming school year.

Included in this commitment are the metropolitan scholar ships to be awarded at the Million Dollar Scholarship Luncheon on June 21 in Houston; the Area Go Texans scholarships, presented at rodeo performances during the 1990 show and school art scholar ship, awarded to the recipient selected during this year's art contest.

JEAN BATEN-Woman Of The Year. On April 28th during Founders Day Celebration. Xi Lambda Xi sorority of Beta Sigma Phi recognized Jean Baten as our Woman of the Year for her continuous dedication to various local organizations. She is another fine example of why we are so proud to be a part of this wonderful community.

month of May and pending business, I introduced guests: Stephanie Hrycyk and Cath Wilson, financial consultants both from Amarillo. They presented various avenues of fund-raising ideas with regard to types of long term investments that would greater returns to benefit our Center. This was very beneficial information for future consideration.

Cheryl Pickard, our home extension agent, gave our nutrition program on Tuesday, June 19th, with the able assistance of Jennifer Simpson and Aaron Ashcraft, who are active 4-H members. They gave a skit on "Why We Should Drink Milk". It was well received and we appreciate their efforts in doing this for us. Thanks girls.

On Sat. June 23rd, Elmo & Della Fortenberry, Ann Bunyan, Verdine Tipton, Ellie Wilkinson and myself rode the van and attended the "Thunder on the High Plains" public aware ness event in Amarillo at Sam Houston Park. This was sponsored by "Yesterday's Children, Inc." for the purpose of making people aware of their dream to develop the western heritage town or park for the purpose of planning for a permanent fund to help the senior citizens of the panhandle by capturing tourism which flows on I-40 and Hwy 287. There were many artisans and crafts men demonstrating their skills, quilt and crafts auction and lots of live entertainment. I cannot express enough importance of the need for this type of an attraction and the benefits it would bring to the whole area. You see this would act as a hub to attract tourists to other regional areas and towns thus extending the time they would spend here and could affect the economy for all. I encourage you all to stay tuned in on this as it is so important to us as well as our children, grandchildren on down for years to come.

Largest Consumers of Medicines in U.S.

Seven out of 10 older persons take at least one prescription medicine every day. Recent surveys indicate that the elderly, as a group, are the largest consumers of medicines in the United States. There are several reasons why. For one thing, the elderly experience more illness - almost 80 percent have one or more chronic health conditions.

As an age group, the elderly are hospitalized more frequently than younger adults. Medicines prescribed for older individuals are often more complex and are used for longer periods than for most other groups.

Medicines most commonly prescribed for the elderly are used for high blood pressure, arthritis, heart conditions such as angina, and gastrointestinal problems. Studies of nonprescription medicine use by the elderly indicate that the most frequently used categories include laxatives, pain relievers, vitamin and mineral supplements, eye drops, topical medicines for various skin conditions, and cough and cold medicines.

Elderly persons should exercise care in the prescription and non-prescription medicine they take since the chances of having medicine-related adverse effects is highest in their age group.

Public Notice

TO ALL FORMER AND CURRENT INTRASTATE WIDE AREA TELECOMMUNICATIONS SERVICE (WATS/800) SUBSCRIBERS:

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company has instituted a Class Action Lawsuit seeking judicial approval of a settlement reached in Docket No. 7297, an inquiry of General Counsel of the Public Utility Commission of Texas into possible overcharges which occurred between September, 1976, and February, 1987, due to rounding practices, on bills of intrastate WATS/800 customers sent by Southwestern Bell and other telephone companies which concur in Southwestern Bell's tariff. The suit is styled "Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, Plaintiff, vs. MCI Telecommunications Corporation, A Member of the Class of Texas Intrastate WATS and 800 Service Customers Who Paid Overtime Charges From September 1976 Through February 1987, Defendant," and identified as Cause No. 471,460 in the 126th Judicial District Court of Travis County, Texas.

Pursuant to the settlement, while not admitting liability, Southwestern Bell, the other local exchange telephone companies in Texas, and AT&T Communications of the Southwest, Inc. have agreed to pay refunds to those WATS/800 customers who paid overtime charges attributable to the rounding practices for intrastate WATS/800 services at any time between September, 1976, and February, 1987. The refunds will be based upon either the actual or estimated amount of overtime charges attributable to such rounding practices. An exact refund will be determined for customers able to produce copies of their WATS/800 service bills. For customers who do not have copies of their WATS/800 service bills to establish actual overtime charges paid, an average refund of $4.53 to $5.95 per WATS/800 service line per month will be applied. All claims will be subject to verification. The refunds will also include interest at the rate of 7.80% per annum.

Fireworks Can Cause Injuries

Sometimes the Fourth of July "bombs bursting in air" are the last things a child's eye will ever see. Last year more than half of all fireworks-related eye injuries happened to children, warns the Texas Society to Prevent Blindness.

Fireworks injuries of all kinds soared 10 percent in 1988, up to a new total of 10,200. Eye injuries in particular tend to be severe. In one study, 40 percent of the reported cases caused permanent eye damage, visual disability or destruction of the eye.

"No fireworks are safe in children's hands," said Mr. William Carpenter, President and Chief Executive Officer of the Society. "Even sparklers, which burn at temperatures of more than 1800 degrees F, can cause serious burns to the eyes and skin, and can easily ignite clothing. Sparklers alone accounted for more than half of all fireworks injuries reported last year.

Consumer Product Safety Commission statistics show that in 1988, 45.6 percent of fireworks eye injuries requiring hospital emergency room treatment struck children 5 to 14 years old. This is a sharp increase from the year before, when the same group accounted for 32.9 percent nationwide. Even very young children were injured. Last year 7.6 percent of fireworks-related eye injuries occurred to tots under the age of 5, up from 6.1 percent from 1987.

Most injuries result from mishandling fireworks. Accidents occur when they are held in the hand, when attempts are made to relight apparent duds or when bending directly over fireworks to ignite them.

While a number of states have banned the private use of fireworks, most still permit Class C devices to be used. This category includes pieces that contain no more than 50 mg of black powder. Bottle rockets, roman candles and sparklers are common examples. Together these have caused the overwhelming majority of serious injuries to the eyes.

The Texas Society to Prevent Blindness warns against the private use of fireworks. Unfortunately, the range of state laws and illicit market make fireworks readily available. If you are going to use fireworks, the following safety rules are recommended:

* Check local laws regarding use of fireworks. It may be illegal to use fireworks within the city limits, or within the county you live.

* Never allow children to use fireworks. Even sparklers are dangerous.

* Fireworks should only be used outdoors in a clear area away from homes, buildings

* Be sure others are out of range before lighting fireworks. Many firework injuries occur to innocent bystanders.

* Never handle or attempt to relight a firework that does not go off. Keep water nearby for emergencies and for dousing malfunctioning fireworks. Drench thoroughly before discarding the dud firework.

Survivors include one daughter, Lovonia Sloan of Clarendon; one son, U.G. Swinney of Clarendon; three sisters, Flossie Reynolds of Clarendon, Oleta Moffett of Clarendon, Otha Eddleman of Claude; two brothers, Otis D. Koontz of Clarendon, Delmar R. Seal Abandoned Wells For Safety Abandoned wells are a serious hazard. They drew national attention in 1987 when heroic efforts rescued little Jessica McClure who had fallen into an unsealed abandoned well in her backyard in Midland, Texas.

The greatest hazard of abandoned wells, however, isn't that they might trap children and small animals that fall into them. Such instances are rare. More commonly, these wells serve as potential routes of groundwater contamination. An old well can allow runoff water to flow directly down to an aquifer, often carrying fertilizer and chemical residues into the groundwater.

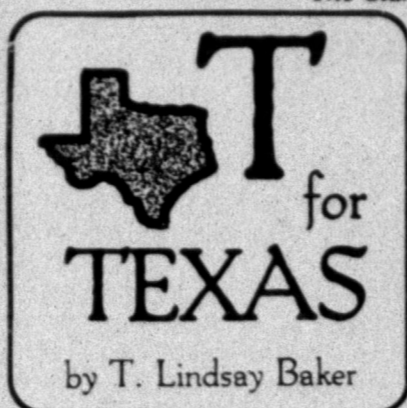

Merely capping a well is not enough to prevent it from becoming a problem. Instead, the well must be sealed or plugged to be made safe.

Sealing begins by removing any pumping equipment and clearing any obstacles and debris that have entered the well. When obstructions have been cleared, the well can be sealed by filling it with cement from the bottom of the well to within two feet of the surface.

The well casing should be cut off below plow depth, or at least two feet below the surface, and the hole filled with soil.

Other procedures are used to seal large-diameter wells, if special geologic conditions exist, or if special techniques were used in constructing the well. When sealing a well, it's important to fill it with a material that is less permeable to water than native soil and rock. Otherwise, water can migrate between water-bearing layers and possibly degrade high-quality water with lower-quality water.

When cement is not practical because of volume and expense, clay or a mixture of sand and bentonite might be used to fill the hole.

"A Sound Thrashing for Irreverence"

T. Lindsay Baker

College Mound, a Kaufman County community so small that all but the most detailed maps don't even show it, lies just off Interstate Highway 20 southeast of Terrell. The day was, however a day when College Mound boasted a greater population than its present day nearby county seat.

The community traces its origins to the first half of the 1840's when a number of families from Tennessee, Indiana and other states settled in the vicinity. Among these families were those of John Beck and his five married daughters.

One of the first activities of the settlers was to organize a union church to serve all denominations. Over the years some groups built their own churches or merged with other, leaving the College Mound church in the hands of the Methodists. Today community member still gather there to worship in a beautiful 1897 wooden sanctuary.

The name of College Mound comes from a natural hill just north of the church, today decorated by an unpainted farmhouse. In the early days of the settlement, a visionary from the East came to the neighborhood seeking a site on which to found a "college," and he chose that prominent point. At that time "college" denoted almost any school that taught more than the most basic subjects.

The Easterner returned home to raise funds for the proposed venture, but he died without achieving his goal. Thus the school never came to College Mound, but the name stuck, and it remains today.

Peaceful though College Mound is today, it was not necessarily that way in the past. Stories still told in the town include one about an incident when the church congregation was still meeting to worship in the log cabin.

Two saloonkeepers from the nearby Elmo community sat down in the church intent on disrupting things. After the service began, the bartenders began talking back and forth, disrupting the worship. The minister, a Rev. Crane, interrupted the proceeding and asked the men to desist, but as soon as he began again, they returned to their heckling.

From outside the church an unidentified man appeared at the door. Bearing a visage akin to that of Abraham Lincoln, the bearded stranger took off his coat, walked over to one of the preacher's tormenters and pushed him to the yard outside. The settlers seated inside listened as the lanky stranger administered a sound thrashing to the barkeeper and then brought him back inside.

Putting his coat back on, the stranger invited the two men to join in the services if they would agree to behave. The men declined the offer, but they never returned to cause any more trouble.

Hedley News

Funeral services for two former Hedleyans were held this past weekend in local churches. Alice Izoro (Mrs. Barney) Johnson passed away Wednesday, June 20, in Memphis. Memorial services were held Friday morning in Hedley's First Baptist Church.

On Saturday, services were held in the Hedley Church of Christ for Elvin E. Hickey, who died June 21. Full obituaries may be found elsewhere in this issue.

Shawn Bright is on leave from the U. S. Navy, and has been visiting home folks. He will be stationed at Groton, Connecticut, upon his return to duty.

Ruby McKee and family enjoyed a reunion at the home of her daughter, Betty Hedgecoke, in Amarillo on Saturday. Among the many others present were Sue Weatherly from Hedley; Billy Neal McKee from Houston; Mattie Lou Nivens from Quinlan; and Leroy McKee from Seattle, Washington. LeRoy attended the morning worship at First Baptist Church in Hedley.

Several Hedley young people continue to enjoy church camps. David Ward and Jason Ham, along with Pastor Rob Lackey are at Pan-fork Baptist Encampment near Wellington this week. Freedom Garrison is attending a Baptist camp near Albuquerque. She will return home Friday.

Amarillo tied its all-time high temperature record on Sunday, with a thermometer reading of 108 degrees. The record was set, coincidentally, on the same day--June 24--of 1953, a year remembered for several heat records. Our corner of the Panhandle, usually a bit warmer than Amarillo, did not quite make it to 108, but it was plenty hot! Incidentally, the locations of both the lowest and highest temperatures ever recorded in Texas are not too far from us, according to the Texas Almanac. The temperature dropped to twenty-three degrees below zero in Tulia on February 12, 1899, and again in Seminole on February 8, 1933. The mercury soared to a scorching 120 degrees at Seymour on August 12, 1936. In spite of our recent heat, the area is still pretty green, thanks to scattered thunderstorms. Moderate-to-heavy showers fell in the Hedley area on Thursday of last week.

Doorposts

Walls

by Jon Leggett

First the Womb;
And then the crib;
Next the playpen;
Then the back yard fence;
And your home block. ("Don't you DARE cross the street by yourself!")

Walls protect. As we grow older, the walls are pushed farther and farther outward.

The halls of your school, and your best buddy's house for an hour afterward;

The location of the playoff game, attained by a drafty, rattly, yellow bus--only an hour away, but seemingly on the rim of the world;

Your college town, where you find yourself afoot;

The distance your pocketbook allows in your first jalopy.

"A wall of fire about me, I've nothing now to fear...."

The law;
Your imagination;

The grave;
The skies.
"...We have a strong city; salvation will God appoint for walls and bulwarks" (Isaiah 26:1).
Walls protect. They also limit. There's a wall around Satan. "This far and no farther," God has said to him. "...God is faithful, who will not suffer you to be tempted above that ye are able..." (1 Corinthians 10:13).

Walls protect. Walls limit. They also separate. Did you find it strange that the grave was included in the list of ever-expanding walls? But would you really choose to live forever in an increasingly-wicked world? The grave is another step--a big one--in the Lord's process of totally separating His people from evil.

Walls separate in another way. Our sin builds walls. The wrong kind. But God has the remedy: "...Ye who sometimes were far off are made nigh by the blood of Christ. For he is our peace, who had made both [Jews and Gentiles] one, and hath broken down the middle wall of partition between us" (Ephesians 2:13-14).

Walls protect. Walls limit. Walls separate. Someday soon the protection, the limiting of Satan, the separation from evil will be complete. "...That great city...had a wall great and high..." (Revelation 21:10,12). That wall has a gate, and it's still open wide--just for you. Be there!

DPS News

Now that school is out and vacation time is here, motorists are heading for the road in droves, thus increasing their chances of experiencing unfamiliar driving conditions.

Major V.J. Cawthon, Department of Public Safety Commander of Region 5 said, "When driving in the rural areas, slow down before, not after entering a curve. If you wait until it seems urgent to slow down, it is too late. Your engine should be pulling your vehicle through the curve. This pulling force aids in directional control, when you use a safe speed in a curve".

The Major reminds the Texas motorist to be alert to the fact that many people lose their lives within 25 miles of departure and /or destination. This fatal fact of the road is due, in great part, to abusing the speed laws.

Plan your trip so that you have plenty of time to reach your destination and return in comfort. This means a minimum of night driving, no speeding and no driving when fatigued. Have a happy and safe school's out vacation.

PHILIP J. CORBIN - ORTHODONTIST

DR. PHILIP J. CORBIN, a member of the American Association of Orthodontist & Board Certified is recognized throughout the area as performing a valuable service for the health and well-being of our citizens. Most of us are born with less than a perfect set of teeth. Aside from a better looking smile - orthodontic treatment has many benefits. Crowded teeth are hard to clean and may contribute to tooth decay, gum disease and eventual tooth loss. A poor bite can result in abnormal wear on the tooth surface, difficulty in chewing and damage to supporting bone and gum tissue. Jaw joint pain (TMJ) and associated headaches can sometimes be attributed to crooked teeth and uncorrected bites. Orthodontics has progressed a great deal in the past few years and braces are less obvious as a correctional service due to new materials. Dr. Corbin has successfully fitted braces on both adults and children that are designed to be less conspicuous. They specialize only in orthodontics and can completely restructure your smile with little discomfort. We are pleased to recommend DR. PHILIP J. CORBIN in Amarillo at 3419 S. Coulter - Suite 1A, phone 353-9862.
