4-H'ers were reminded that October 7-13 is National 4-H Week, a time to promote 4-H activities within Donley County. It was also announced that District Roundup, which showcases method demonstrations and share-the-fun activities, will take place November 10 at WTAMU.
If you'd like to get involved as a 4-H'er or adult volunteer, contact the Donley County Cooperative Extension office at 874-2141. Also, a calendar of 4-H events can be picked up at the Extension office.

Bourland

A graveside ceremony for Betty Lewis Slick Young Bourland will be held at Citizens Cemetery in Clarendon on Saturday, October 6 at 5:00 p.m.
Mrs. Bourland was born in 1917 in Dallas and died on September 25, 2001, at her home. However, it was her summers on the family RO Ranch near Clarendon which shaped the rest of her life. Her ranch summers were spent on horseback, picnicking by the Salt Fork of the Red River, swimming in the spring, and above all, learning the ranch business by osmosis, stuck to her father, W.J. Lewis, every day he went to the ranch.
After her father died in 1960, Betty, with her sister, Anne, sold some parcels of ranchland, sold some of the breeding herd, and took on debt to pay the inheritance taxes and kept the core of the ranch.
When she decided accounting firms didn't know enough about ranching business to keep the books properly, she went back to school and learned to keep her own ranch books. Ten years ago she put a plan into effect to transfer the ranch intact to her children and grandchildren. Inheritance taxes were not going to diminish the ranch a second time.
Three years ago, Betty reached back to her teenage years and found George Bourland, her sweetheart before his naval career and World War II separated them. Her marriage to George was a comfort and a closing of a ranch bounded life.
Betty is survived by her husband,

George Bourland, originally of Clarendon and now of Dallas; her sister, Anne Lewis David of Houston; her children, William Slick of Las Vegas, NM; John S. Young, Jr. of Seattle, WA; Anne Young Shelton of Clarendon; and Susan Young Levanas of Dallas; her grandchildren, Erin, Tara, Dave, John, James, and Will; and her great grandchild, Sean Michael.
Memorials may be made in her name to St. John the Baptist Episcopal Church, PO Box 1078, Clarendon, Texas 79226.

John T. Tucker, 68, died Sunday, Sept. 30, 2001, in Azle.

Tucker, a retired truck driver, was born Feb. 25, 1933, in Parker County. He is survived by his beloved wife of 45 years, Vera Tucker of Weatherford; daughters, Lori Morelock and husband, David, and Valerie Shaeffer all of Weatherford; grandchildren, Jeanna Morelock and George Shaeffer both of Weatherford; brother, James C. Tucker and wife, Martha, of Weatherford; numerous nieces, nephews, and other extended family; special friends, Bill and Mo Dillingham of Azle and Bob and Betty Rogers of Weatherford.

Girl Scouts enjoy Fun Day at Bertrand home

By Linda Rowland
Girl Scouts enjoyed a fun filled day at the Roy Bertrand home Sunday, September 23.
The girls played games such as Jell-O tug-a-war (pictured right) and water polo and enjoyed watermelons furnished by Clovis McCary. They went home with smiles on their faces and needing a bath.
Due to the wonderful response from the community not only did the girls enjoy Fun Day, but also Troop 237 received Troop T-shirts from an anonymous donor.
We want to welcome Barbara Raspberry to Girl Scouts; she has volunteered to be the third grade Girl Scout troop leader. She is in need of an assistant. If you would like to volunteer but not be a leader, our troops are always looking for individuals who can help our girls earn badges.
For the month of October, the Clarendon Girl Scouts have two events planned - a camping trip to Camp Mel Davis and a Juliette Lowe Birthday Party. For more information, call Denise Bertrand at 874-3372.

Rush's optimism shows America's greatest strength

This week America began the process of bombing the terrorist nation of Afghanistan, while at home many people are trying to get on with life. From the gritty determination of New York City to continue with its annual Columbus Day Parade to the Texas Panhandle's "But At Home - Support America Now" movement, the United States is moving forward.

Certainly there are some folks who have given in to fear, buying gas masks and preparing for the worse. Over the weekend, some entertainment gurus got the jitters and canceled the Emmy Awards for the first time ever. Those people, however, are in the minority.

Freedom and optimism are our greatest weapons against terrorism, and no one can ever take those away unless we let them.

By going about our everyday business, by exercising our own freedom and vigorously defending the freedom of others, we insure that America will never die. With a continued focus on improving ourselves and our country, by never giving up on the ideal that America's best days are in front of her, and by continuing to strive for that "more perfect Union," we guarantee that the American Dream will be handed down to succeeding generations.

In my lifetime, two men have been able to vocalize the American ideal with such clarity that great masses of people could understand it and live it. The first was Ronald Reagan, who spoke of America as the "Shining city on a hill" and the "last best hope for man on Earth."

I have always maintained what made President Reagan "The Great Communicator" was not his acting skills (he was only a B-movie actor after all), but it was rather his sincere belief in America and the freedom which this country represents.

Reagan, eternal in his optimism, left the national stage several years ago in the face of the debilitating effects of Alzheimer's disease. In a farewell letter to the American people the former president wrote: "I now begin the journey that will lead me into the sunset of my life. I know that for America there will always be a bright dawn ahead."

Love him or hate him, it was that attitude that made Ronald Reagan a great leader and a great man.

The other individual who best vocalizes what being an American is all about is Rush Limbaugh - a man many people either love or hate but for whom few are lukewarm. I would not put the radio commentator on the same level with Reagan - I don't think he would do so himself either. But Rush has two overriding things in common with the former president - an unwavering optimism and an unflinching belief in America.

I grew up with President Reagan in the White House (and have tried to repress memories of Ford and Carter - particularly the later), and I listened to Rush while I was in college at Texas Tech. I liked Rush for two reasons initially - first he agreed with me 85 percent of the time and second he drove my first roommate, who was a member of Greenpeace, nuts.

Later, what I came to admire about Rush was his ability to communicate the idea of freedom. Being free doesn't mean just being able to do what you want, such as going to the movies or going to church or driving a car. It means being able to improve your own condition, being unfettered in the pursuit of your dreams, and making something of yourself.

It's the old adage of "rugged individualism" and "pulling yourself up by your bootstraps" which makes America great, and Rush can communicate that.

Rush Limbaugh - like millions of Americans - is a self-made man, utilizing his own God-given talents to climb to the top of his field. His ascent to the top is as much a part of the American story as the self-taught boy who grew up in a log cabin and became a great president of a divided nation, as the nerd who developed a computer code that turned him into one of the world's richest men, and, yes, as the 24-year-old boy who bought his hometown newspaper six years ago and made it one of the best in his state.

In great and small ways we all live the American Dream by pursuing our own self-interests and exercising our inalienable liberties. That is the source of America's strength. Reagan knew that, and so does Rush Limbaugh.

In the years since I left college, I haven't listened to Rush very much. Not because I didn't want to, but because I can't get the darn radio signal in my office and my Internet connection is so pathetically slow I can't listen to him online. Still, I tune my pickup radio to his program every chance I get.

Monday, I learned that a malady has stricken Rush. The man is now practically deaf - totally deaf in one ear and almost completely deaf in the other. This condition has come upon him in just a few months' time, and the outlook is uncertain at best. Surely a daunting challenge for man who makes his living talking on the radio and chatting with his listeners.

And yet, while most people would be wallowing in self-pity in the face of this adversity, Rush is determined to continue with his program and to overcome this hurdle. I am confident he will do so and will continue to do the job he loves so much.

God bless you, Rush. You're an inspiration to millions of us, and our prayers are with you.

Tough times provide good times for tax cuts

By Bill Hammond

Americans are closing ranks and staying at home. Hot-spot eating establishments known for long waits and constant hum of voices are eerily quiet. Shopping malls, usually chock full of sale-seekers, feature vast, empty parking lots. Once-popular air flights between big cities are only half-filled with travelers. Routine business meetings are being replaced by teleconferences. What is happening is that responsible individuals as well as the corporate community, sensing economic uncertainty, are pulling in the reins on spending.

The sluggish American economy is not just the result of terrorist attacks on New York. This downturn has been a long time in the making and is further complicated by the public's fear over the state of foreign affairs. But virtually every industry and trade is now feeling our hangover from an irresponsible spending spree in the '90s, as we confront economic decisions personally and as a nation.

When citizen Ronald Reagan assumed the Presidency in 1981, the old guard, liberal establishment sharpened their swords for a battle with him over tax cuts. They characterized his approach to taxation as simplistic and reckless. But in the end, Reagan was able to rally the Congressional troops and prevail. He proved the naysayers wrong with a tax package that jump-started the lackluster economy for what became an unparalleled period of growth.

The Bush Administration has already backed tax breaks to help industries like the airlines adversely affected by the terrorist attacks. That is the right thing to do in order to save those companies that are essential elements of American life. But beyond those cuts, we must consider other businesses as well. The Administration may be heading the advice of Federal Reserve Chairman Alan Greenspan who has stated that "temporary" tax cuts may offer a shot in the arm to the economy.

Why temporary? A reduction in the capital gains tax should be permanent and should be enacted now. That would do more to spur investment and stimulate the economy than most anything else. A reduction in the corporate tax rate by five percent would allow businesses to use the cuts for debt reduction, savings or investments. Accelerating the individual tax cuts scheduled for 2004 would grant additional relief to Americans at the taxation saturation point. There is an immediate need to repeal the corporate alternative minimum tax (AMT) because companies in AMT pay higher taxes when profits are down, hardly the time to pull money out of the company coffers.

Then there is a more novel idea and one we don't hear much about reducing government spending. That's just what rank and file Americans do when they feel the pinch of economic stress. Why should government be exempt from fiscal responsibility?

The terrorist attack has dampened our spirit but just for the moment. Americans have an inbred resilience. We will come out of our homes and return to a normal life, but government can and should do its part to bring our confidence back. Tough times demand bold decisions. Congress should act swiftly but judiciously in enacting tax incentives to individuals and businesses. This will bring about investments, expansion and new jobs that make up the cornerstone of American economic prosperity.

Remember the words of Ronald Reagan: "If not us, who? If not now, when?"

Hammond is president of the Austin-based Texas Association of Business and Chambers of Commerce.

Treasurer asks for apology from her accuser

I am disappointed that when politics are involved and it is an election year, there are people that will falsely accuse and make malicious lies about a person that has worked so hard to do a good job for the county. I am proud to be a part of Donley County, and it especially hurts for these accusations to have been started by another elected official.

I have always thought that we should stand behind each other and not stab each other in the back. She had nothing to gain but has accomplished getting doubt into the public. That has hurt me in ways I will never forget.

I have worked all my life to be known for my honesty and integrity, and all it took was this person's lies to destroy everything I have worked so hard to build and achieve. I have now proven that there was no wrongdoing on my part and that I have done a good job serving as County Treasurer and will continue to do the best that I can to serve the County of Donley.

I would like to thank the Commissioners and the Judge for all their support on this matter and for standing up for me. Thank you for allowing me to have the special audit that I requested to prove I am innocent of wrongdoing.

I now feel that I, along with the County of Donley, am due a public apology from the person who made these false accusations and malicious lies so that we can put an end to this once and for all.

Becky Jackson,
Donley County Treasurer

Hons enjoy coming home

I appreciate everyone in Clarendon for helping my family have a great reunion. I was born in Clarendon in 1952 and started school there. We were able to return there after so many years. We visited the First Christian Church and Saint Mary's. Both had wonderful memories for my sisters and me. Just by luck both were open, and we got to walk around and relive our old memories.

Trey Chamberlain, whom I started school with, took time out of his schedule to come see us. I got to talk to Tommie Saye and Herman Barnes. Both of these men were important role models in my early years. Like all trips we didn't have enough time to see and do everything, but after over thirty years we did get back.

On behalf of my mother Leola Hon, and my older sisters Jane, Judy, and Jackie, thank you Clarendon.

Focus attention on plight of battered women in America

Each year since 1987, October is proclaimed National Domestic Violence Awareness Month. Battered women's advocates in our area and across the nation focus public attention on the epidemic of domestic violence and encourage everyone to become part of the solution.

Domestic violence has reached staggering proportions. In the United States, nearly one-third of American women (31 percent) report being physically or sexually abused by a husband or boyfriend at some point in their lives. The Texas Council on Family Violence states that there were 175,282 family violence incidents reported in Texas last year. Of all the women killed in 1997 in Texas, 37 percent were murdered by their intimate male partners. This is higher than the national average of 28 percent reported by the FBI. Family violence costs the nation from $5 to $10 billion annually in medical expenses, police and court costs, shelters and foster care, sick leave, and absenteeism. Last year alone, Tralee Crisis Center served 2,815 victims of domestic violence and sexual assault in our area.

In order to demonstrate that domestic violence crosses all boundaries in our society, we are looking for religious organizations to participate in a statewide "Ringing Awareness" event, which will be held on Wednesday, October 14, at 4:00 p.m. On this day, religious organizations will ring their bells simultaneously across the state for four minutes. The four minutes represents the four women each day in the United States who are killed by a current or former partner.

People need to understand that domestic violence is their business when a neighbor, friend, co-worker, or the woman down the street is suffering. Domestic violence is not something that can be regarded as a "private affair" any longer. Only when people recognize this fact, will the violence come to an end. ### Bible says we must be a faithful soldier for Israel

Pardon this seemingly insensitive question, but why should we care about what's going on in Israel - the war between the Jews and the Palestinians? We have more than our share of problems, too. Their war has nothing to do with the USA! I don't think it matters two copper pennies what we say or do. Or perhaps it does!

The world is witnessing one of the most significant battles of all times. There has always been conflicts in Israel. Do you know that Jerusalem is known as the "city of peace," yet it has known more battles than any other city on earth?

In the Bible, it states that anyone that is against Israel is an enemy of God, so it's very clear which side we should stand.

We must never even think for one moment to go against Israel. We must stand as a faithful soldier and fight along side with our God and savior - Jesus!

'Tons' of books to browse at library's sale

It sure got chilly all of a sudden. Perfect weather for staying inside by the fire (provided you have a fireplace) and eating chili. Not so perfect for going to football games, though at least the wind died down.

Seemed like a lot of folks weren't too enthusiastic about braving the cold to go to Wellington. Attendance was down, despite the fact that Wellington isn't nearly as far away as Canadian; but when you sign up to ride the band bus, you ride the band bus. The children were angels, or as angelic as high school students are capable of being. Noise doesn't count. Besides, what parent can't sleep through a little noise? But I was certainly glad to have bought a new coat last Saturday. It came in handy to say the least.

Last week had plenty going on, at least as far as I was concerned. On Wednesday, Clarendon College students involved in the college ministry met their adoptive parents. Around 100 students were matched with local families. Some already knew them, and some met for the first time. College students have such enthusiasm—even when they're trying to be cool, it shows. Should be a good year.

Friday, besides the game, was Art Club; and no, my son did not come eat all my pies like I dreamed. The club members did, the way they were supposed to, at the meeting, for dessert after the King Ranch chicken and salad. or fields, whatever we happened to have. I imagine all the members did something like I did, studying the roadside to see what flowers were blooming and trying to think what could be done with them. Pat Thornberry's wildflower bouquets on every table provided additional inspiration.

Coming up this week (which sure did change from next week awfully fast) is the Library Book Sale and Open House on Saturday morning until 1:00 p.m.. There will be "tons of books" (this according to the librarians who have collected them) to browse through and buy for your own book collections, as well as refreshments, activities for the younger set, and door prizes. I expect to leave with a whole new stack of books for my To Be Read pile, which is already alarmingly large, if only because my son keeps handing me his books and insisting I read them.

The Lions Club Pancake Supper is this Friday as well at the school cafeteria this year in a change of location. Don't forget and go downtown to the Lions Club building. Nobody will be there. The same cast of characters will be cooking, slinging batter on everyone within range (this can be taken as a hint to stay out of the kitchen), so you know the food will be good. Just remember to go to the school so you can get some.

Michael Morrow and Jamie Frye

Frye, Morrow plan exchange of vows

Jamie Heather Frye and Michael Shane Morrow, both of Clarendon, have announced plans to wed Friday, October 12, 2001, at the First Baptist Church in Clarendon.

The couple, along with their parents Gerry and Linda Frye and Earl and Sharyn Morrow, invite all their friends to a reception following the private ceremony. The reception will be held in the First Baptist Church Fellowship Hall at 6 p.m.

'Two-day' hospital stay on day four and counting

Winter has arrived. We woke up Friday to temperatures in the low forties and high thirties. With the wind chill, it was about twenty-five. It misted rain a little.

I went to the doctor last week, and he told me I needed some surgery. He said I would be in the hospital two or three days. I said I'd heard that story before.

I came up early Wednesday morning, fasting of course. After blood work, X-rays, and EKG, they put me in a lovely open-backed gown and put me to bed. By then it was almost noon. Just before they brought my lunch, a person came to take me to dialysis so I missed lunch. By the time I got my dinner, I was ready for almost anything... almost. I finally got a sandwich and milk with graham crackers.

The doctor said he'd do the procedure Friday at 10:00 a.m.

Karen and Helen Ford came early Wednesday morning, and we waited... and waited. Finally about 11:30, they came and said the procedure had been postponed until Monday at 1:00 p.m.

I'd already missed breakfast, and about 12 they took me for dialysis, and I missed lunch again. I had a sandwich, milk, and animal crackers.

Now, as I write this, it is Saturday noon, and so far today I've had some cold oatmeal, a stale English muffin, and cold coffee. I'm looking forward to lunch.

The nurses and techs are really neat, though. They are caring and helpful. I've never seen so many young, handsome doctors. Even with my poor eyesight, I can see them. Anyway, I told them I'd be here more than two or three days.

HEDLEY • 856-5919

Tommy and Annette Clendennen brought their daughter, Morgan, to see me. She is a neat little bundle.

Mike and Lori Wallendorff came by on Saturday also. They're really good friends.

Neeley Landrum and his son, Richard, stopped by. They'd been to the WTAMU homecoming in Canyon. Neeley is the pastor of the Methodist Church in Hedley. Richard is good friends with my grandson, Langly Couch.

The peanut harvest is going well. If the weather stays pretty everyone will be busy, busy. Keith is hauling peanuts from the field to the drying plants.

I hope to be home in time for the Cotton Festival. We're expecting a lot of people on October 13 and maybe October 12. The Lioness ladies make good stew and chili.

Mack White and the boys will be making music on Main Street on Friday evening, and Lon Adams and the Hedley FFA will be playing bingo.

Well, it's Monday afternoon, and guess what? The doctors got me ready for the procedure and gave me a shot to sedate me, and I had an allergic reaction to it. They gave me something to counteract it and brought me back to my room. They said they'd try another time.

Meanwhile... I guess I won't see you at the Cotton Festival.

4-H forum honors local couple

By Sue Church, County FCS Agent

Danny and Janice Bennett of Clarendon were honored as Distinguished 4-H Leaders from Donley County at the annual Panhandle 4-H Fall Forum was held Saturday, September 8, at the Miami School.

4-H youth and adult volunteers and county extension agents from a 21 county area attended business meetings and workshops on Fashion and Fabric Design, Pork Quality Assurance, Entomology, Horticulture, and the Clover Kids Program.

The highlight of the day was honoring 44 Distinguished 4-H Leaders in the Panhandle. These volunteers were honored for their commitment and service to their local and county 4-H programs.

"Annually more than 5,300 volunteers are involved in the Panhandle 4-H program. In addition, the Panhandle 4-H program reaches nearly 20,000 youth each year," states Angela Burkhart, Panhandle 4-H & Youth Specialist.

Southwest Airlines offers free 'Holiday' tickets to senior citizens

Southwest Airlines and the Area Agency on Aging of the Panhandle have announced the start of the 22nd annual Home for the Holidays program, which will provide Panhandle seniors with complimentary airline tickets to visit family and friends over the holidays.

Over the years, the airline with the big heart has allowed thousands of seniors the opportunity to be reunited with family and friends during the holiday season.

Fifteen applicants from the Panhandle area will be selected to receive complimentary round-trip tickets based on their need for economic assistance and their reason for travel. This year marks the 22nd Anniversary of the "Home for the Holidays" program.

Camille Keith, Vice President of Special Marketing at Southwest Airlines, has nurtured the program through the years.

"I have been proud to watch the Home for the Holidays program grow tremendously as Southwest Airlines has expanded," said Keith, "and I am grateful for our loyal customers and hardworking employees that allow Southwest Airlines to continue to give back to the community."

Applications are available at senior centers across the Panhandle and by contacting the Area Agency on Aging at 372-3381 or 1-800-642-6008.

Deadline for submission of applications is Monday, November 26, 2001.

Information on our war against terrorism available at CC Library

By Bulldog Bookworm

In the light of the tragic and horrifying events of September 11, it might be time to become more familiar with the terrorists and the type of terrorism we are up against in the "First War of the 21st Century." The Clarendon College Library is a good place to get started. The library is open to the public Monday through Thursday from 7:30 a.m. to 9:00 p.m.; Friday from 7:30 a.m. to 4 p.m.; Saturday from 2 to 5 p.m.; and Sunday from 4 to 9 p.m.

In all wars, information about the enemy and his capabilities is usually the first order of battle. A reconnaissance mission to Clarendon College will provide you with access to Time, Newsweek, and U.S. News and World Report magazines as well as the Christian Science Monitor, Wall Street Journal, and Amarillo Globe News newspapers.

All of the back issues are on hand to provide a blow-by-blow account of the terrorist outrage and its immediate aftermath.

Although the hijack-suicide missions of September 11 caught the country by surprise, terrorism in the United States and throughout the world is not a new thing. A variety of perspectives on terrorists, terror tactics, and what might be coming up next in a barbaric world of religious fundamentalists can be found in two volumes of the popular "Opposing Viewpoints" series.

"Radical Islamic Fundamentalists pose a serious threat," warned the book, Extremist Groups, earlier this year. "Twentieth-century developments have created a climate favoring the resort to violence by a variety of politically alienated individuals and groups," the book, Terrorism, reported last year.

These and other books on the subject can provide the information we all need to know about guarding against terrorist attacks, successfully countering terrorist threats, and continuing to function as a free society.

Clarendon exchange students react to terrorist attacks

Clarendon College students were unanimous in their condemnation of the terrorist attacks. Here are some of the comments made by exchange students concerning the outrage:

"It's not right. It was something that should have never happened," said Michael Woldemiriam, a native of Ethiopia. "It is a major crime against the entire world."

"I have strong feelings about what happened, and I feel that the government should have taken more precautions," commented Chungu Nkhazi, a native of Zambia. "These people should have been taken care of a long time ago. Whoever is responsible should have been known earlier."

Whatever happened to Banned Book Week?
In the midst of all the horror and confusion following the outrages in New York, Pennsylvania, and Washington, D.C., National "Banned Book Week" (September 22-29) slipped by almost unnoticed. Banned Book Week celebrates all of the ill-conceived attempts throughout history to ban or censor books and to control what the people read.

One of the Bookworm's favorite quotes came from an Ohio librarian who was under pressure from her funding source to ban several books local politicians found "offensive."

"A good library in a free society has something in it to offend everyone," Judith Dworkin told an Amherst, Ohio, Board of Aldermen. The spunky librarian took her case to the people and received funding approval by an overwhelming vote.

"A Free People Read Freely." Ironically number 99 on the list of books that people have attempted to ban in this country since 1999 is The Terrorist by Caroline Cooney. This book, written for young adults, is about a girl who loses a brother to a terrorist attack in London. The book's underlying message is a concern for terrorism reaching America. Why anyone would want it banned is unknown.

Some sizzling new fiction and timely non-fiction

Looking Back

20 Years Ago

THE CLARENDON PRESS, October 8, 1981
 • The first bale of cotton from Donley County, grown on Ora Pearl Farris' land by Phillip Wiggins, will be given away this weekend at the 30th annual Cotton Festival in Hedley.

Space History Museum honors CHS graduate

Richard F. Finch, a 1952 graduate of Clarendon High School, was recently inducted into the New Mexico Museum of Space History for his contributions to the US Space program during the years from 1961 through 1997.

Richard made his first significant contribution to space exploration in 1964 when he designed and patented a pressurization test set for General Electric Company and the Gemini Astronauts program at Vandenberg AFB in California and Cap Canaveral in Florida. The patented test set is still in use today for space flight radio guidance.

Richard also has a patent for crash-protection air bags for both private and commercial aircraft. Richard also worked at White Sands Proving Grounds in New Mexico during the mid and late 1960s testing chaff dispensing sounding rockets, and he traveled to Hawaii, Johnson Island, and Kwajalein Island to do further testing.

He also worked for New Mexico State University Physical Science Lab as data collection engineer for aircraft seat ejection tests, B-52 carpet bombing tests, and moon landing tests during the late 1960s.

Richard also made a significant mark in the aviation industry during the 1970s and 1980s when he worked as a consultant and design engineer for several aircraft companies including Ted Smith Aerostar, Piper Aircraft, Fairchild Aircraft, SAAB-Scania Aircraft, Pan Am, Lockheed Space Operations, and Traco Aviation. As an engineer consultant, he traveled all over the USA and to New Zealand, Australia, Singapore, Hong Kong, China, Hawaii, Switzerland, France, Germany, Sweden, Denmark, and to Mexico. Richard was the certified manager for the SAAB 340 commuter airliner in Sweden in 1982-1983. In 1997, he was asked to write the metal welding repair section for the FAA Repair Manual that is used by aircraft mechanics worldwide. The Federal Aviation Administration gave Richard a commendation plaque for that work.

The most interesting and important consulting work done by Mr. Finch was during 1984-1999 at Kennedy Space Center in Florida where he was doing operations analysis for NASA through Pan Am on the space shuttle. Richard was the engineer in charge of return to flight improvements for emergency egress (escape) after the space shuttle Challenger explosion. In this position, Richard was responsible for meeting with the astronauts on a daily and weekly basis to get their inputs on safety improvements for returning the space shuttle program to flight status. The results of his engineering efforts were tested in a full dress rehearsal practice run on May 2, 1988, with over twenty astronauts participating. As a result of his work on the return to flight project, NASA recommended Richard for the NASA Excellence Award, and ten of the space shuttle astronauts signed a thank you plaque and presented it to Richard. The plaque is now on display at the New Mexico Museum of Space History in Alamogordo, NM.

Richard has also been a writer and a publisher of automotive, welding, and aircraft books for over 26 years and is currently the number one selling author for HP Books Automotive Division of Penguin-Putnam Books of New York City and is on the best sellers list for Motorbooks International, Osceola, WI, the largest automotive and aircraft book company in the world. Richard's book, Welder's Handbook, has sold nearly one million copies and is available in Home Depot Stores and through all internet booksellers such as Amazon.com. Richard continues to write, publish, and do aviation consulting work worldwide.

Richard attended Clarendon College for two semesters, Abilene Christian College for three semesters, New Mexico State University for one semester, California Polytechnic University for ten years, Allan Hancock College for three years, and the now-defunct University of Beverly Hills for two years. Richard has AA, AS, BS, and MS degrees and a California College Level Teaching Credential. He also holds five commercial pilot's licenses including flight instructor, multi-engine, and instrument pilot's ratings.

Richard and his wife, Gayle, now live in the sleepy little village of Tularosa, New Mexico. Richard is the oldest son of former Clarendon residents Richard H. Finch and Travis Finch, who are now deceased. Richard's middle brother, Roger Finch, and his wife Carol Finch, now operate the Finch Farm between Clarendon and Lelia Lake. Roger is employed by Maverick Ranch - a Denver based meat company. Richard's only sister, Beth Finch Johnson, is an English teacher in Columbia, South Carolina, and his younger brother, Philip Finch, is a college professor and a respiratory therapist in Medford, Oregon.

Senior citizens enjoy exercise machine, bike

By Vida O'Neal

We are very proud of a new no impact exercise machine and a stationary bicycle. We appreciate this donation very much. I think we have several participants that will be using these machines to benefit their joints and muscles. Come on in and make use of these machines.

If you decide you want to go on the bus tour to Guymon, OK, on October 20, we can still add your names to the list. This sounds like a really fun trip and some really good food and entertainment. If you need more information, please call.

The center was privileged to receive an array of small pumpkins and gourds for decorations. The home delivered meals will receive one of the pumpkins, and those patronizing the center may pick these up for decorations until they are all gone. Charlene Gray Brown delivered these to the center, and we know everyone will enjoy them although the participants will miss her school class visit this year.

It is now time for the 2002 Membership Drive, which is currently underway. When you are ready to renew your membership, just let Pattye, Vida, or the desk clerk know, and we can fix you up. We hope to increase our membership this year, so tell all your friends to come join and have fun with us for the year 2002.

We are glad Pattye had a quick recovery and is doing well. We are glad to have her back to work.

On October 11, we will have a Catfish Supper for our October fundraiser. This is always a delicious meal, so pack up the kids and family and come to the Senior Citizens for an evening out. We will serve from 5:30 to 7:00 p.m. and carryouts are available. The public, including our college and lake friends, is welcome.

The Health Department will be giving flu shots on October 11 from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. to high risk participants, 65 and older, or those with health problems. Bring your Medicare card. If you do not have a card, the charge will be $5.00. Also a pneumonia shot will be available for $6.00.

Our condolences to the Cotton Nelson family and the Tuffy Reynolds family.

Get well wishes go to Rosa Mears, Marie McCracken, Verdine Tipton, and Billie Don Watkins. We miss you all.

Playing 'possum

Clarendon Elementary first graders had a surprise visit from "Paul the Opossum" on Thursday, October 04. Darrell Burton had been having trouble with something digging under his house. He set a trap and caught Paul. He brought him to school for the first graders to see. They enjoyed seeing Paul, then doing some research to find out more about this nocturnal animal.

Internet can be helpful tool with kids' homework

If you have school age children, I know your homework struggles very well. In this day and age, homework is not as simple as it was "back in the day." Not only does the homework our children bring home seem more difficult that what we did, our children are dealing with an entirely new world. The Internet may have changed our lives in the past few years, but in the arena of homework, it has opened up a plethora of information at the fingertips of our studious youngsters.

Whatever topic your child is studying, the simplest search for homework help, reports, essays, and research papers, etc. is to type into your search engine the keyword or phrase. In our home, Yahoo is by far the most used search engine, but we also had good luck with Lycos and Infoseek. For those of you who are not exactly sure what a search engine is, think of it as kind of an electronic card catalog. In your browser, you simply type, www.yahoo.com or www.infoseek.com and so on. This will take you to the homepage of the search engine. There you will find a listing of information and search areas. Usually they are divided by category, such as geography, current news, humanities, etc. Simply click on whatever topic that you are in search of information about. Normally you will then be prompted to enter your topic again at that point, and badda bing badda boom...before you lies all the internet sites, web pages, even stories with that key phrase listed. Scroll through, find a site that interests you, click on the hyperlink, (usually underlined) and you're cooking with Crisco then! If the one you are looking at doesn't appeal your need, simply click on the back button in your browser, and you are back at the listing page; and all you have do at that point, is scroll through and find another one. It's that easy. Ahhh, the sigh of relief at homework made simple! Feels good doesn't it?

In my home we have commonly put to use several on-line encyclopedia services. For excellent results, and easy to use formats, you might be interested in www.encyclopedia.com, www.NatureServe.com, www.Encarta.com, www.Grolier.com, and last but not least, my personal favorite, www.AskJeeves.com. These particular sights offer a vast variety of on line educational help for students, teachers, and parents. They are easy to use and usually fill the bill for homework help. Most of these sites are also easy enough to use that my children can maneuver through them with little or no help from me. If my generation had had the internet at our fingertips, I know one woman who would have enjoyed homework more, and made better grades!

Happy Surfin'. And as always, GO BRONCOS!

Gage named county spelling bee director

AMARILLO - Across the area county spelling bee directors are being named to coordinate the 2002 National Spelling Bee, an education program sponsored by the AMARILLO GLOBE-NEWS and West Texas A&M University.

The director for Donley County is Jay Gage, teacher at Clarendon Junior High.

The 2002 regional event to be held on the WTAMU campus will be on April 6, and the deadline for reporting all county champions to Jeane Bartlett, spelling bee editor of the AMARILLO GLOBE-NEWS, will be March 23.

The national sponsors, the Scripps Howard Newspapers, permit students from public, parochial, charter, private, and home schools to participate. Students normally begin in a classroom competition, school competition and advance to the county level. There must be at least five finalists in a home school elimination. Scripps Howard rules state that a contestant cannot be in a grade higher than the eighth before February 1, 2002, and a speller cannot be older than 16 by the date of the national finals, May 29, 2002.

The AGN-WTAMU bee offers two levels of competition. The junior bee is for students in grades five and below. The senior bee is for grades eight and below. Any director has the option of combining the two levels if he/she so chooses. However, each county in the AGN-WTAMU assigned area can have only one representative in the April 6, 2002, regional contest.

Each county may select a junior winner in addition to the senior champion, but the elementary grade student will not compete in the area's final spelldown unless he/she wins the county's senior title.

The sponsors will recognize each county junior winner and each county senior winner at a luncheon preceding the regional competition on April 6.

The AMARILLO GLOBE-NEWS will provide an expense-paid trip for two to Washington, DC, where the 2002 area champion will represent the area sponsors in the National Spelling Bee, beginning May 26. The top prize at the national level will be $10,000.

Most schools and students in the area study from the Scripps Howard booklet Paideia, which contains a collection of over 3,500 words grouped in 29 categories at three difficulty levels - beginning, intermediate, and advanced. This booklet is available from the AMARILLO GLOBE-NEWS at a price of $1.00 per copy. To order the booklet, contact Jeane Bartlett, Spelling Bee Editor.

New Lady Bulldog coach anxious to try new things

By Sandy Anderberg

Clarendon College would like to welcome Wade Scott as the new Lady Bulldog basketball coach for the 2001-2002 season.

Scott attended and played at the University of Texas at Arlington before spending a year at Frank Phillips Junior College in Borger. He finished his college degree at Eastern New Mexico College in Portales.

Scott, originally from Roswell, New Mexico, comes to CC from Western Oklahoma State College where, he served as the men's basketball coach for the last six years.

Previous to that, Scott was the head coach at Yale, Oklahoma and then an assistant at New Mexico Military Institute in Roswell.

Scott is excited to be in Clarendon and looking forward to coaching the Lady Bulldogs.

"Coach Zehr has built a great program here at CC," said Scott. He says Coach Reed also did a good job for the time that she was at CC.

Scott is used to being on the men's side of the game, but he has many expectations for the Lady Bulldogs and is anxious to try new things.

The Lady Bulldogs have five girls returning from last year, and otherwise everyone else is new. "It'll take us awhile to learn to adjust to each other and gel together to make a team, but we can do it," said Scott. He is very impressed with their work ethic and good attitude. "We've got a good group of girls."

"I'm excited about the opportunity to coach in Clarendon and what I've seen so far," said Scott. "We know that change won't come overnight, but we're looking forward to getting started."

Coach Scott noted that they need people to come out and support the Clarendon College teams. "They're representing Clarendon, and they'll do it very well," he added. According to Scott, the ladies have tremendous togetherness and heart and are very willing to encourage each other.

"The girls will have to get used to winning again," Scott added. "We want to be a powerhouse in our conference like we were once before."

The Lady Bulldogs will participate in a few scrimmages in October before beginning their season.

Coach Scott is assisted by head volleyball coach Jodi Card.

Garza looks forward to assisting CC Bulldogs

By Sandy Anderberg

In his first year as a college assistant, G. Garza is looking forward to working with Tony Starnes as his assistant to the Bulldog basketball team.

Garza is a '98 graduate of the University of Texas and began his coaching career at 5A San Benito High School where he coached for two years.

Garza is looking forward to a great year at Clarendon.

"I'm really glad to be here," said Garza. "Clarendon seems like a very friendly town."

Garza and Starnes met a few years ago at a basketball camp. "He's [Starnes] really a good man," said Garza. "I'm going to enjoy my time with him."

He is looking forward to the year assisting with Starnes and coaching the Bulldogs. They already have a good working relationship and have the same ideas and goals in mind.

That spells success for the Clarendon College Bulldogs.

As we left this interview, there was mention of an all-in-fun bet involving golf ball driving accuracy. Negotiations were still going on. Whether that contest ever came to pass is unknown. But what is known is that the Bulldog's coaches are serious about working together for the benefit of Clarendon.

And that's a good bet every time.

Jr. High Colts blast visiting Wellington, 16-0

Looking stronger than ever, the Clarendon Colts romped past the Wellington Skyrockets 16-0 Thursday night at Bronco Stadium.

The Colts jumped out to the early lead in the first quarter when Steven Ballard crossed the goal line on a 10-yard run. Michael Bruce scored the extra point.

The defense kicked in and held Wellington scoreless. The score at the end of the first half was 8-0.

The Colts kept things rolling in the 2nd half and increased their score when Will Betts scored another six points on a 45-yard run. Steven Ford scored the extra point on a pass from Chase Thornberry. That final score put Clarendon up by 16 points over the Rockets, which was the final score.

"The guys played good football," said coach Joe Gifford. "We had some 7th graders that really stepped it up and played hard for us. They all did a great job."

The Colts will be preparing for Canadian this week. The Colts will host that game Thursday night, October 11, in Bronco Stadium beginning at 5:00 p.m.

Good luck, Colts!

Lady Bronco JV wins Shamrock c-c contest

By Sandy Anderberg

The varsity and junior varsity cross-country teams participated in the Shamrock meet October 6.

The junior varsity team won 1st place, finishing in front of Shamrock and Claude.

Despite the cool weather, the Lady Bronco JV had five members who ran fast enough for medals.

"The girls ran very good Saturday," said head coach Mary Karr. "We were proud of their effort."

Medalling for the junior varsity were: Shanna Shelton 3rd, 14:47; Sarah Depew 4th, 14:49; Brandi Betts 6th, 15:15; Equilla Weatheron 7th, 15:19; and Brittney Hall 10th, 15:40. Jessie Anderberg finished 14th, 15:56; Meghan Gribble 15th, 15:58; Kylene Karr 19th, 16:44; Lacey Anderberg 20th, 16:56; and Cierra Benevidez 21st, 17:01.

The varsity team finished in 3rd place behind Claude and Wheeler.

"The girls ran a good race," said Karr. "All of these meets are preparing us for our District meet October 22nd in Canadian."

There were three medalists among the varsity runners. They were Jessica Hernandez 4th, 13:09; April Bryley 9th, 13:20; and Claire Rodriguez 27th, 13:43. Other runners were: Kayla Martindale 22nd, 14:12; and Lacey Eads 27th, 14:40.

Sophomore Drew Sell was the only Bronco running at the meet. Sell finished in 5th place with a time of 19:26. That finish was good enough for a medal.

The Lady Broncos will be running at Wellington Saturday, October 13, beginning at 9:30 a.m.

Rockets burn Broncos

By Sandy Anderberg

Despite scoring five touchdowns and gaining 244 total yards, the Broncos fell to the Skyrockets Friday night in Wellington, 32-25.

The Broncos are now 2-3 for the year and 0-2 in District play.

The Broncos got the early score from an 8-yard pass from Jeremy Ray to Greg Wootten. The extra point failed. Wellington answered back with six points of their own.

The teams traded scores once again before the break when Richard Anderson caught a 2-yard Ray pass in the end zone for six. The extra point failed. Wellington scored right before half time, giving them the six-point lead.

"Mistakes and poor tackling on defense were our worst enemies Friday night," said Head Coach Roger Hoeltzel. "We'll continue to work on defense and tackling to give ourselves a chance against Canadian Friday night."

The Broncos plan to work hard in practice and concentrate on better defense.

The Broncos are facing a tough schedule for the next three weeks according to Hoeltzel. They go up against Canadian this week, and as always their line is big.

"They're very large," said Hoeltzel. "They're also very tenacious, just like always. We've got to play better defense to compete with them."

Hoeltzel feels the Broncos gave the Skyrockets too many scoring opportunities. They want to alleviate those mistakes this week. Hoeltzel went on to say he feels like we'll be able to put points on the board against Canadian.

"Our emphasis this week is better defense and giving ourselves a chance to win the game."

The Broncos go up against the Canadian Wildcats at home Friday in Bronco Stadium. The game will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Lady Bulldogs take on FPC

By Sandy Anderberg

The Lady Bulldogs played hard against a solid Frank Phillips team Tuesday night, October 2, at Bulldog Gym. Frank Phillips was victorious in that match, defeating the Lady Bulldogs 30-22, 30-24, and 31-29.

The Lady Bulldog fans made it noisy from the start, getting into every point and making it hard on Frank Phillips. Closer than the score reveals, the Lady Bulldogs proved to be a handful for the Lady Plainsmen.

"The team played great," said Coach Jodi Card. "We made Frank Phillips work for every point they got."

Coach Card was pleased with the support for the Lady Bulldogs.

"The crowd support was exceptional. We really appreciate all of the support."

The Lady Bulldogs traveled to Borger October 5 and 6 to participate in the Plainsmen Classic Volleyball Tournament.

The Lady Bulldogs faced New Mexico Military Institute in their first game of the best 2 out of 3 format.

New Mexico defeated the Lady Bulldogs 30-24 and 30-15.

The Lady Bulldogs faced Trinidad State in game two and lost in a close game. Scores were 32-30 and 30-11.

They went against Cisco Junior College in game three and lost 25-30 and 13-30.

"We played well at times on Friday," said Card. "But we just couldn't keep it going for the entire match."

On Saturday, the Lady Bulldogs once again faced the Lady Plainsmen from Frank Phillips. The Lady Bulldogs lost the first set 26-30, but fought back in the 2nd defeating them 30-26. Clarendon lost the 3rd and final set 6-15 to the Lady Plainsmen.

"We really played our guts out," said Card. "We managed to get the 2nd game from them, but the 3rd (game) was all Frank Phillips."

Named to the All-Tourney Team was 5'3" setter/hitter Cecy Moreno. Moreno, from El Paso, is a sophomore and a definite leader on the Lady Bulldog team. Her ability to make things happen and slam a kill when they most need it is definitely an asset to the team. The All-Tourney Team is selected by participating team's coaches.

The Lady Bulldogs will be in action October 12 and 13 in Plano at the Colin County Junior College Tournament. The Lady Bulldogs will play at home October 16, 18, and 19.

WAC plans activities to begin next month

The Wellington Activity Center (WAC) will be holding a men's and women's volleyball tournament starting at 10:00 a.m., November 3.

The tournament will run for six months and will only be played on the first Saturday of every month. Teams will only be allowed seven players on a team, and only six men's and six women's teams will be accepted. Deadline for entries is October 31.

The WAC will be starting its first bowling league in November.

Clarendon graduates hold 50th class reunion

By Millie Allen Wright

The Class of 1951 met in Amarillo to kick off their 50-year Class Reunion at the Country Barn and Steak House on Friday, September 28, 2001, with an informal dinner and evening of visiting.

Class of 1951 alumni and spouses in attendance were: Eugene and Frances Auldridge, Electra, Texas; Nell (Heathington) Baldwin, Abilene, Texas; Allyn and Ladell Barker, Lamar, Colorado; Ramona (Rhea) Batchelor, Amarillo, Texas; Alvis and Mary Edna (Elmore) Bentley, Austin, Texas; Jo Anne (Sibley) Brown, Clarendon, Texas; John "JP" and June Carlile, Granbury, Texas; Johnny Jo and LaVerne (Morris) Hutchison, Amarillo, Texas; Bliss Knorpp, Amarillo, Texas; Wilson Lane, La Mesa, California; John and FanChon (Allred) Melvin, Glyndale, Texas; Arlis Mooring, Ada, Oklahoma; Bill and Vivian Pittman, Austin, Texas; Nell (Bentley) Wadsworth, Abilene, Texas; Jeaneta (Hewett) Wallace, Benbrook, Texas; Millie (Allen) Wright, Calimesa, California.

Special guests: Kim (Word) Miller, daughter of the late Millard "Bumpy" Word, Amarillo, Texas; Jeanie (Pittman) Johnson; Roberta Pittman, Clarendon, Texas; Bill Ledbetter, Electra, Texas; Bill and Sharon Cox, Burkburnett, Texas; Shirley Thaggard, Electra, Texas; Ira Jean (Estlack) Chunn, Amarillo, Texas; Laree Short, Amarillo, Texas.

Members from the Class of 1952 who joined them: Inelle (Cox) Bagwell, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania; Shirley (Morris) Bulman, Amarillo, Texas; Ray David, Clarendon, Texas; Richard and Gayle Finch, Santa Barbara, California; Mary Ann (Landers) Gattis, Grapevine, Texas; Gaylon and Glenda (Davis) Johnson, Moran, Texas; Frank and Jennie Jones, Amarillo, Texas; Patsy (Estlack) Sammons, Slaton, Texas.

In late January of this year, Past Senior Class President, Bill Pittman, sent out letters noting it was time and, "We really should hold a reunion to commemorate the 50 years since graduation." He suggested each graduate send a bio to relate and bring others up to date, with a bit of what has gone on in their lives during those years since graduation, and add to the nostalgia with a few high school memories that might serve as reminders to others of those "good old days" at Clarendon High.

Bill also requested all classmates send him their phone number and an e-mail address if they had such. At that time, he had a short list of classmates for whom he did not have an address, but these individuals were quickly located via friends who had stayed in touch. The response was fantastic to say the least.

They were unable to locate former classmates Jackie Brooks and Naomi Gibson. If anyone has information on these individuals, please let any member of the class know their whereabouts.

Though time and distance have separated them through the years, 17 of the remaining 22 classmates rallied for the occasion, and came together for this milestone event.

"We can be thankful, in great part, for the advancement of electronics during this era, which was vastly responsible for making this such a highly successful event" Bill said. "There was never a meeting held to discuss plans or set a date, but ideas came from several sources, which we shared with others via the Internet, to determine what we wanted to do. And before September 1, 2001, everything had taken shape, and was set for the end of September dates. It was really a neat experience and went so smoothly."

Ramona (Rhea) Batchelor came up with the location for dinner, which allowed them to reserve a room well in advance at no cost. Millie (Allen) Wright volunteered to type up the bios others sent. She put her bulldog tenacity to work, and as a result, our Bio Booklet has 100% representation of all living classmates.

Nine classmates are deceased, but they were able to gain information on these via spouse, children, and siblings, for 100% representation of these classmates as well.

It was noted the majority of classmates fondly remembered Dean R.E. Drennan leading their high school assemblies with singing. Jada, Let Me Call You Sweetheart and In the Evening by the Moonlight. A very feeble attempt was made to set the mood with these songs; "alas, without Mr. Drennan leading them, we probably fell a little short here, but the thought was there, and that's what counts."

Eugene Auldridge had formed a band called the Caprock Valley Boys while a senior in high school; they played on numerous tours with the late Cotton John Smith and Sid "Red" Muse of KGNC out of Amarillo. Eugene contacted one of the former band members, Ray David of Clarendon, along with Shirley Thaggard of Electra; Bill and Sharon Cox of Burkburnett, and Bill Ledbetter of Electra to entertain the group with those "oldies but goodies" tunes from our past, providing music and entertainment for the evening.

In the early fifties, no high school homecoming was complete without a white mum corsage. Thus, as a reminder of that era, they contacted Harlan's Flowers in Clarendon to recreate those corsages for this occasion. Mums were placed in vases for table adornment until all were present; then each female was presented with her very own mum corsage. Connie did a fine job of these, with silk mums, one streamer bearing the year 1951, another with 2001 and the letter C across the mum in school colors of maroon and white.

Jim and Mary Douglas joined them for a short while, with Jim taking photos as reminders of the occasion. They then hurried back to Clarendon to insert these into the computer along with some gorgeous shots of Clarendon and the surrounding area, memorable landmarks, traditional photos of the cook off, ranch shots around the area, and a few snapshots of "younger years" classmates, creating a CD for all to have as a keepsake edition, compliments of Bill and Vivian Pittman.

Kim (Word) Miller closed the evening for them with You'll Never Walk Alone and The Lord's Prayer. She has such a beautiful voice, all were touched.

JoAnne (Sibley) Brown arranged for them to meet on Saturday, September 29, 2001, for further informal visitation, reminiscing, and lunch at JAMZ.

Approximately 25 made an appearance here to continue catching up with a lot of chatter and visiting. Others dropped by to chat a while and made this a great time to top off a wonderful occasion that all are sure to remember for a long while.
