Aldermen act to tax leased autos

The Clarendon Board of Aldermen met in regular session November 27 in the Board Room of City Hall.

Mark White was sworn in to fill the vacant term of Alderman Smiley Johnson, who moved to Canadian recently.

Levying ad valorem taxes on leased vehicles was discussed. Most aldermen agreed that not taxing leased vehicles while taxing owned vehicles was an inequitable situation that was unfair to those citizens paying the tax.

A motion was made and seconded to pass Ordinance 339 to tax leased motor vehicles. Aldermen Michael Tibbets, Billy Jack Land, Mac Stavenhagen, and White voted yes. Alderman Bob Watson voted against the measure.

Donley voters pick Estes for senate

Voters in Donley County again chose Craig Estes to be their next State Senator in Tuesday's run-off election to fill the seat of the late Sen. Tom Hayward.

With 270 of 317 precincts reporting at press time, Estes, a Republican, was leading Democrat Greg Underwood across District 30 by more than 4,000 votes. Local voters chose him by a margin of 93 to 68.

Turnout was low for Tuesday's polling with barely more than five percent of voters casting ballots locally.

CC music program to be held Sunday

The Clarendon College Jazz Band and Choir will present their annual Christmas program this Sunday afternoon, December 9.

The talents of various soloists will also be featured. The program starts at 2:30 p.m. in the Harned Sisters Fine Arts Center.

Deadline is Friday for Santa Letters

Kids in Donley County are urged to get their Santa Letters to the ENTERPRISE office at 105 S. Kearney by 5 p.m. this Friday, December 7.

Letters will be published in our December 20 issue and then forwarded to Santa.

Santa coming to Burton Library

Santa Claus will be at the Burton Memorial Library this week and next, December 6 and 13, from 7 to 8 p.m.

Kids of all ages can tell Santa what they want for Christmas and have their pictures made with him. The cost for pictures is $2 each, and proceeds benefit the Library.

Inside:

- The era of big government is back... or did it ever really end?
- The county's new constable takes the oath of office.
- Santa Claus makes a stop in Hedley to visit with the kids.
- It's time to make a donation to the Toys for Tots campaign.
- And the Lady Owls come in and whip the Lady Broncos.

All this and much more in this week's Hedley Owl edition!

Courthouse project on schedule despite engineering delay

Restoration work on the Donley County Courthouse is on schedule despite an unexpected redesign of foundation work for the main tower.

Plans originally called for four 30-foot piers to be sunk at the corners of the main tower as reinforcement for the weight which will be added when the third story is recreated. But workers with Phoenix 1 encountered sand and rock at a depth of 30 feet, making the design unfeasible.

To compensate, Phoenix 1 Dwight Smith says engineers designed a new spread footing that will incorporate 10' x 10' footings at a depth of five feet below sidewalk grade. Workers began pouring the new foundation last week and were expected to continue early this week.

Phoenix officials say the redesign caused a two-week delay in one phase of the project but did not affect the overall schedule of the work.

Inside the 1890 courthouse, workers are busy stripping decades of paint and stain from woodwork and are completing demolition work.

A massive masonry vault from the old Home Extension Office was removed, and a doorway connecting that office to the main corridor was re-opened. The vault was not original to the building, having been added in about 1914, according to project architect Chris Hutson. The vault door, which is original, will be returned to an adjacent vault in the same room.

Also in the old Home Extension Office, workers opened a wall where architects theorized two large pocket doors were once installed. The theory was confirmed with the discovery of the original wooden track for the doors still in place.

The doors themselves were stored in the attic of the courthouse and will be refinished.

Two iron fireplace mantels that were hidden when the elevator was installed in the early 1980s have also been removed. The mantels, with patent dates of 1887, will be used to recreate fireplace surrounds in the future county judge's office.

Original tile from in front of one hearth was also recovered from the elevator shaft.

For more information on the restoration of the Donley County Courthouse, visit our website at www.ClarendonOnline.com and click on the courthouse logo.

Crowds come to town for old-fashioned holiday fun

In the air there was the Spirit of Christmas last Saturday in downtown Clarendon as people and cars lined Kearney Street for the Donley County Old Fashioned Christmas celebration.

The Clarendon-Donley County Chamber of Commerce and the Donley County Tourism Council hosted an Open House at the Chamber office. There were 132 people representing Clarendon and eight other towns including Canyon, Amarillo, Panhandle, Dallas, Wellington, Hedley, Memphis, and Childress that attended the open house.

Marilee Self won the gift certificate to Mike's Pharmacy. Joanne McAfee won the certificate to Country Bloomers Flowers and Gifts. Cennet Rhode won the certificate from Downtown Diner. Tex Selvidge was the winner of the certificate from "Sam Hill" Pit BBQ, and Billie Melton won the certificate from Bailey Autos and Collectibles. The Hedley businesses winning prizes were City Hall and Hedley Homemakers Club.

The winners of the Christmas Lighting Contest were Howardwick - Roy Monroe, Clarendon - B.J. and Jennie Owens; Hedley - Pick and Laquetta Cox; and the Clarendon business winner was Cornell's Country Store. Special recognition was given to W.R. Christal.

Local Girl Scouts lit their nativity scene and decorations at the Lions Club Friday night and served cider, hot chocolate, and cookies.

A Quilt Show at Eads Furniture & Appliance began the activities Saturday at 8:30 a.m. with a wide variety of quilts on display. And down the street at Community Fellowship Church, the Breakfast with an Angel was held at 9:00 in the Panhandle Community Services Building. Adults and children enjoyed breakfast, songs, and the Christmas Story told by the angel. Children also made celebrated Jesus' birthday.

The fourth annual Country Christmas Extravaganza craft show was held at both the Lions Club and the Rebecca Lodge, and the Burton Memorial Library held a Book Sale and served hot chocolate. Local author Gail Shelton signed copies of her latest book. Santa Claus also stopped by the library for pictures with the kids.

The Downtown Ministry Center was the site of many activities throughout the day. The Art Club held a Cake Walk, and kids made Christmas crafts. Christmas Tree Silent Auction was also held in the center. Winners were Joan McAfee - Friends of the Library tree, Audrey Hall - Rasberry's Designs tree, Carolina Selvidge - Donley County Horse Club tree, Joburta Helms - Channel 11 tree, Onita Thomas - Ministry Center tree, Myles Shelton - Boy Scout Troop 433 tree, and Jeanie Lauderdale - Ace No. 8 Bed & Breakfast tree. Those needing to pick up their trees should call Eddie Helms at 874-2528.

An exhibit of local artists was held in the Texas Loft in the old Goldston Building, and the Clarendon PTA served lunch and refreshments in the Downtown Ministry Center.

Select churches and homes were open for tours in the afternoon, and KEFH-FM hosted a live remote broadcast throughout the day from Eads Furniture.

Saturday night closed out the day's events with a special bingo at the VFW Hall and dancing the night away at the annual Saints' Museum Benefit Party at the Clarendon Community Center.

Former local rancher Derrick dies at 87

Services were held here Wednesday for long-time Donley County rancher Frank Derrick. He was 87.

Derrick was born December 13, 1913, in Spur, Dickens County, and came to Donley County in 1915. His father worked for the RO Ranch, which later became the Lewis Ranch, for 65 years.

Derrick was raised on the Lewis Ranches and went to work there at the age of 17. After the death of W.J. Lewis in 1960 and his son's death a year later, Frank became the general manager, a position he held during most of the Lewis era of the RO Ranch and until his retirement.

He was very community oriented and involved in many community projects throughout his life. He served as a staff sergeant in the US Army during World War II and was involved in the chemical warfare division. He was a recipient of the Texas Trail Blazer Award as an outstanding rancher in 1991. He was the Clarendon Chamber of Commerce Man of the Year in 1988, and he received a special recognition for his support of the Clarendon Volunteer Fire Department.

He was a member of the Texas Cattle Raisers Association and was a Methodist.

He was preceded in death by a brother, Henry Derrick, and a sister, Margaret. He is survived by two sisters, Mary Harlan of Clarendon and Pearl Hermesmeyer of Clarendon; one brother, Floyd Derrick of Amarillo; and several nieces and nephews.

Services were 3 p.m. Wednesday, December 3, 2001, in the First United Methodist Church with Rev. James Ivey Edwards, pastor, and Bobby Boston and Lewis Gibbons, friends of Mr. Derrick, officiating. Burial was in Citizens Cemetery under arrangements by Robertson Funeral Directors, Inc., of Clarendon. Nephews of Mr. Derrick served as casket bearers.

The family requests that memorials be made to a favorite charity.

District begins groundwater level measuring

Beginning the first of December and lasting through mid-March, the Panhandle Groundwater Conservation District will begin conducting its annual winter water level measurement program throughout the District.

Winter water level measurements help not only the District with vital data and information for the district records, but it also helps out the general public, farmers, and ranchers.

Winter water level measurements are gathered by using an E-line or a steel tape down the casing of the well. An E-line consists of a long measuring tape with a battery-powered circuit running through it. The end of the E-line that is first placed in the hole purposely has a short in it. When this short is submerged into water, a buzzer will sound on the reel telling the operator that it has found the water level.

The steel tape is used in much the same way. The tape is first covered with a blue or yellow chalk for four to five feet. This end is then inserted into the casing. In order to put the right amount of tape into the well, the operator must know the previous year's water depth. The tape is then pulled back out of the well. The operator then finds the area where the chalk has been washed off the steel tape. From this reading, the operator can then calculate the water level.

The PGCD will be able to make saturated thickness maps that are useful in locating the amount of water under the ground in a particular place. Many farmers and ranchers use these maps to locate the best places to drill irrigation wells or windmills. Other maps prepared from this data are water level and depletion maps.

The water level maps tell them where the present water level is located. The depletion maps tell us how many feet the water table has risen or fallen in the last year. The depletion maps we use to determine the amount of depletion are the same maps used for those landowners eligible for depletion allowance on their income tax returns.

The PGCD has been measuring water levels on many different wells throughout the District. On some See "Water" on page 3.

Democrats prefer power over stimulus

I love how fast Democrats change their colors. Not quite three months ago, every Democrat on Capitol Hill became a pro-military, pro-freedom, overnight conservative when the Twin Towers in New York were destroyed and the Pentagon was attacked.

But all good things must come to an end, and now the Dems are back up to their usual tricks - spending our tax dollars like nobody's business.

The latest charge in this effort came Tuesday when Sen. Robert Byrd (D-W. Virginia) pushed through an additional $15 billion in the Senate Appropriations Committee for "homeland security provisions." Half the money would go to New York and the other half would go to defense (probably defense installations in West Virginia knowing Sen. Byrd). The president has threatened to veto the bill.

The other showdown going on in Washington is over a so-called economic stimulus package. In a nutshell, Republicans want to give people their money back by accelerating President Bush's income tax cuts and finding ways to give tax breaks to businesses. There was even some talk recently about suspending the federal payroll tax for a month. (Of course, if it were me, we would abolish the blasted payroll tax.) But the Democrats don't want tax cuts unless they're specifically targeted only to people who voted for Al Gore or possibly Ralph Nader. They would much rather increase health care payments and unemployment insurance payments.

Can anyone explain to me how increasing federal handouts will stimulate job growth? I didn't think so.

A man who is on unemployment doesn't need more unemployment insurance... he needs a job. And the best way to do that is to provide tax breaks to people who create jobs (i.e. businesses) and people who support those new jobs (i.e. taxpaying consumers).

A month-long payroll tax holiday is a brilliant idea and one that would benefit working people in every income bracket, and the impact would be immediately felt in their paychecks each week. It would also be a boost to businesses, who pay half the payroll tax, and particularly small business people, who get the privilege of paying both halves of the payroll tax for the sheer joy of being self-employed.

Unfortunately, this will never happen. If the American worker ever got a taste of how big their paycheck could be without the government sucking the lifeblood out of it every week, they would never want to go back.

Just imagine what a person - particularly a low-income worker - could do with an extra $75 or $80 or $100 each month! That could be the difference in opening a savings account or just getting by every month. Or it could mean finally getting a new car instead of a new used car. Within just a few months, that worker could get a new computer or save enough money to start taking a night class, which could put them on the road to greater economic independence.

But the Democrats can't have that. If poor people became middle class people, they would be less receptive to greater government involvement in their lives, they would be less interested in greater government spending, and they would be less likely to vote for the socialist agenda of the Democratic Party. Keeping people down gives government - and more especially Democrats - power. And they aren't going to give up the power they've held onto since the Great Depression.

And let's not forget, cutting the payroll tax would "threaten Social Security," and we can't do anything that might harm that generational shell game that Democrats and the AARP consider to be a sacred cow.

Everyone knew the spirit of bipartisanship would end in Washington. It was just gilded patriotism that gave the appearance of unity for the sake of liberty. But scratch beneath the surface, and the old liberals are still there - ready to take care of you because you are too stupid to take care of yourself, too stupid to be free.

Meanwhile...

A couple of weeks ago, officials in one county in Maryland made the really bonehead decision to try to regulate smoking in private residences. The move was abruptly cut short by outcries from all over the nation, and it looked as though common sense may have prevailed.

But then, town officials in Kensington, a community in that same county, tried to ban Santa Claus from coming to the lighting of the community Christmas tree because of a handful of residents who don't celebrate that particular holiday.

But you can't stop old St. Nick. Last weekend 21 men showed up dressed as Santa Claus and hundreds of protestors started chanting, "No Santa, No Peace!" Others carried signs reading, "Yes, Kensington. There is a Santa Claus."

Fortunately, smoking in one's own home is still very legal here in Donley County. And Santa is very welcome here any time without a fuss.

Era of big government being over is over

By Sheldon Richman

It is hard not to notice a certain amount of glee in the aftermath of the catastrophe of September 11. Some pundits and commentators have taken this line: "So, where are all you government bashers now? Let's see one of you step forward and criticize big government now that we need it to save us from the terrorists."

I'm paraphrasing, of course. But similar words have been printed on news and op-ed pages from New York to California. For example, Jeff Faux, a socialist at the Economic Policy Institute, has written, "When the chips are down, where do we turn? To the government's firefighters, police officers, rescue teams.... And to big government's Army, Navy and Air Force." But such sentiments are not coming from the so-called left alone. After all, the Republican Party favors bailing out the airlines and an "economic stimulus package." They're all Keynesians now.

It appears that the era of big government being over is over. This is good news for lots of aspiring economic planners. Let's face it, there are politicians and social scientists who have been frustrated for the last 20 years during which the case for big government has suffered badly. The implosion of the Soviet Union and the obvious failure of one government program after another has made these difficult times for socialists. They've conjured up environmental disasters to jump-start the cause, but it hasn't quite taken. Now there is the perceived need to beef up government in all sorts of ways to protect us from terrorists. The beefing up is likely to consist not only of the usual economic intervention, but also of more widespread wiretapping (the Clinton administration already had set records in this regard), email interception, and perhaps restrictions on encryption.

Let's get serious. When Bill Clinton declared the era of big government over he didn't mean it and it didn't happen. Big government has not gone away. The terrorists pulled off their awful crimes not because we have too little government, but because we have too much. First, we have too much government in foreign affairs. Washington and Jefferson advised that we as a nation avoid political entanglement with other nations and that we practice free trade with all. We long ago thumbed our noses at that sage advice and entered hostility-generating entanglements all over the globe. Nowhere is this truer than in the Middle East. Today it is considered a virtue to be ignorant of U.S. meddling in the Middle East, but ignorance is neither bliss nor security. Knowledge and understanding are preferable. They are the path not to the exonerating of the terrorists, as some have inexcusably claimed, but to the prevention of future outrages against humanity.

As for domestic policy, there has hardly been a retrenchment in the last 20 years. Ronald Reagan left the government larger than he found it. Federal revenues doubled over his two terms. (Yes, the tax rate cuts stimulated that, which means taxes weren't cut nearly enough.)

Bill Clinton had welfare reform forced on him by the Republicans, but with government-provided daycare and health care, the budget has gone up, not down. Government may have looked smaller next to the booming economy, but it is not smaller in the amount of power and influence it wields over our lives.

And while this big government was busy with all this meddling, it apparently wasn't doing what it claims it does: protect us from aggression.

The issue now is whether our safety depends on government's getting even bigger. It was the federal government that was charged with keeping the cities and -- for gosh sakes! -- the Pentagon free from attack. It failed miserably. But under the perverse rules of the political sector, when government fails, we are forced to give it even more resources. No one even resigns in disgrace, much less gets fired.

Before we embark on a spasm of government-building, which, believe me, will not be only for the duration of the terrorist threat, let's recall that America's greatness, prosperity, and resiliency have come from our freedom and decentralization. Now is not the time to further concentrate power in Washington.

New organization aims to protect liberties

By Andrew Kerr, Executive Director, Civil Liberties Defense Foundation

It's heartening to see American flags everywhere in response to the September 11 attack on America. While every country has a flag, only the American flag symbolizes the unprecedented freedom each American enjoys and is guaranteed by the first 10 Amendments to the Constitution, collectively known as the Bill of Rights.

But those very rights are under assault today. In particular, the Second Amendment, which guarantees individuals the right to bear arms, is under attack by well-meaning but misguided citizens who imagine they would be safer if the Second Amendment were abolished (or misinterpreted). They are unmoved by the facts.

Texas is one of the majority of states that allows law-abiding citizens to carry concealed arms. Despite the hysterical warnings of the anti-gun lobby that every fender bender would turn into a shoot-out, Texas crime rate actually dropped since that legislation passed in 1995. Interestingly, when Australia recently deprived its citizens of the right to bear arms, armed robberies increased 40 percent.

The Texas constitution states: Every citizen shall have the right to keep and bear arms in the lawful defense of himself or the State; but the Legislature shall have power, by law, to regulate the wearing of arms, with a view to prevent crime. But now certain Texas cities and counties, using the same erroneous assumptions as their anti-handgun brethren, are attempting to wrench that power from the Legislature and, eventually, from the citizens.

In response to these naked challenges to the Bill of Rights, the Texas-based Civil Liberties Defense Foundation was founded by State Senator Jerry Patterson (author of the Texas Concealed Handgun law) and Representative Suzanna Gratia Hupp. Not just to defend the Second Amendment, but ALL the amendments. We are opposed to selectivity in liberty: every loss of a right diminishes our freedom.

Now is the time for Texans, whose revolution was secured by the courage and personal arms of the Army of the Republic of Texas, to rally with us to keep the Bill of Rights-and our personal freedoms-intact. Please inform yourselves of the facts and help us fight the good fight.

Christmas festival puts town in holiday mood

The Christmas lights are on in Clarendon, making the season official around town. A whole lot of people came to Saturday's festivities, and there was plenty of fun to be had.

I'm sure that, like me, people were baking like crazy last week, leading up to Saturday's "Christmas in Clarendon" or whatever those in charge decided to call the event. I baked cookies for a bake sale, a cake for the cakewalk, and the poor coaches and referees using the hospitality room at the JV Tournament got Oreos. I just ran out of time, but I did get good cookies for them, right?

The cakewalk was apparently a popular activity. Held in First Baptist's downtown ministry center, folks were lining up for the opportunity to win a home-baked cake. Some of them, Mary Douglas for instance, walked right up and won almost instantly. Others went through the rounds a couple of times, gave up and went to one of the bake sales for a cake. Or cheesecake. Whatever looked good. And plenty of things looked really good.

Like the Christmas trees up for auction. There were some gorgeous trees lining the back room at the ministry center. The Girl Scouts' angel tree was lovely, and the "horseshoe" tree was really unique and so clever. I am glad though, I wasn't the one who had to move it. It looked beyond heavy. Onita Thomas (whose name I've finally learned to spell) won the bid on the adorable stuffed animal tree. Our family took home the Boy Scout tree. I figured we'd bid on that one, given the number of Boy Scouts in the family. And the tree was so pretty with the knots and badges and camping-themed ornaments.

Getting it home was something of an adventure, since the halves of the tree separated when we picked it up and I was standing on my head, reaching between tree parts, hunting all the electric plugs to get it completely separated. Even with the sheets wrapped around it to protect the ornaments, I found a few behind the vehicle the next morning.

It's now installed in the living room and looking very lovely. The son was thinking it was shorter than the one we had last year, until we convinced him that it only looked shorter because he's grown half a foot or so. Makes a difference when you're looking down at the top of the tree rather than up.

Congratulations to all the basketball teams on your performances at the recent tournaments. Everyone played hard and did well. Rest up when you can. The next tournament will be here before you can blink.

Oh, and thank you to everyone who came by the library and bought a book. Or came by to see Santa and let me see all those cute kids and beautiful babies. I had fun visiting with all of you. And I have books left. Let me know if you still want one.

Santa Claus makes visit to children in Hedley

Most of the children of the late Sam and Flora Sanders got together recently for a trip of fun and site-seeing. Sister Dolores Simpson of Eastland was unable to go. Those fortunate enough to make the trip were sisters Lillian Fowler, Oreatha Potts, Joyce Woodard, Helen Lindsey, and Sammy Housden, all of Hedley; Betty McQuire of Amarillo; and Tobitha Wiggins of Wheeler. Brother Trace Sanders also made the journey as did brothers-in-law Charlie McQuire and Bill Wiggins.

The group gathered in the home of sister Jean Rice and her husband, Pete, in Bullhead, Arizona. The points of interest included Loftlan, Nevada; the Grand Canyon; Grand Coulee Dam; the Hoover Dam; the Painted Dessert; and the Petrified Forest.

Everyone I talked to told me they enjoyed the trip and wouldn't have missed it for the world.

We had the first snow of the season last week. It started about eleven Tuesday morning and snowed until about noon Wednesday. I called the Sheriff's Office early Wednesday morning and was told the road was extremely hazardous so I called the Dialysis Clinic and canceled my treatment. I went thirsty for three days but suffered no ill effects from the missed treatment.

Most of the snow was gone by Wednesday evening. Which was a good thing because Santa Claus made his visit to Hedley Thursday evening with bags of goodies for all the children who'd been good. Somehow I doubted that all those kids had been good this year, but everyone seemed to enjoy the cookies, cocoa, and coffee the homemakers served.

I got to hold Collin Monroe. I guess he's about a month old now, and he was the best acting kid there. He slept all the time, and when it was time to have his picture made with Santa, he never made a whimper.

Connie and Mahdeene DeBord will celebrate their fiftieth wedding anniversary on December 9. Their daughters Connie Wilson and Deborah Flanary will host a reception in the Hedley Senior Citizens Center from 2 to 4 p.m. All their friends and relatives are invited to help them celebrate the occasion.

Connie DeBord married the former Mahdeene Barrington on December 8, 1951, in Clovis, NM. They lived in Fort Chaffee, Ark., while Connie was in the service. Later they moved to a farm north of Hedley, and Connie farmed and taught school until his retirement.

In addition to their two daughters, the DeBords have three grandsons and a granddaughter.

Congratulations, Connie and Mahdeene.

Donley County Senior Citizens elects four members to board

By Vida O'Neal

The election for the 2002 Donley County Senior Citizens Board was completed on November 27. The board consists of eight members with four elected each year for the term. This election we regretfully had two resignations. Patsy Hill and Nelson Christie resigned from the board, and we had Buddy James, Gerald Mulanax, Lee Roy Jackson, Paulette Kidd, Merle Kramar, and Wanda Beddingfield running to fill the four places on the board. Those elected were Paulette Kidd, Gerald Mulanax, Wanda Beddingfield, and Lee Roy Jackson.

We appreciate everyone's participation in the election.

The annual supper for our volunteers will be held December 13. Please mark your calendars now. This is an appreciation of those of you who donate your time, efforts, and love to help out at the center.

We appreciate the lovely poinsettia that Ethelyn Grady sent to the Center. It's beautiful. We appreciate the pecans for a Friday fundraiser from Ruby Dell Estlack.

The month of December we do not have our Birthday/Anniversary Supper. We will have a different basket of goodies each Friday before Christmas we will be selling chances on for part of our December fundraiser. The first week will be a fruit basket. The money will go to the nutrition program, which helps to fund our home deliveries and the food for services at the Center. You do not have to be a member of the Center to buy chances on our Friday Fundraisers. Just come by and pick your lucky numbers and donate a dollar to the nutrition fund. The December bake sale will be held on December 21, which also benefits the nutrition fund. If anyone would like to contribute to the bake sale, please let us know.

We appreciate a very generous donation of beef from Crow Hollow Feedyard.

Get well wishes go to Jack Leeper, Mildred Housden, Bill Hodges, Vada Morrison, and Phoebe Ann Buntin.

Panhandle-Plains Museum plans Christmas open house

Join the Cowboy Christmas Celebration at the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum in Canyon, December 7-9. The 25th annual Christmas Open House adds a new gift to the magic of the season - The Christmas Waltz at T-Anchor.

The Museum's T-Anchor Ranch House, built in the late 1870s, provides the perfect setting for a cowcamp Christmas, highlighting authentic cowboy traditions in the Texas Panhandle. Visitors will get a rare glimpse into the life of a Panhandle cowboy.

Inside the museum, children's eyes will light up at the sight of Santa, waiting to hear their Christmas wishes. Parents are invited to bring their camera to capture the special moment of their child with Santa in an antique sleigh in the midst of a winter wonderland.

Costumed interpreters in Pioneer Town tell stories of life in a small Panhandle town in the late 1800s. The rancher's home, shops, and schoolhouse are filled with authentic domestic and commercial articles. In Pioneer Hall, festive decorations and a tree decorated with strings of popcorn, berries, and ornaments made from natural materials remind visitors of a more simple time.

Musical entertainment will be provided by several school groups and area choirs in the Derrick Room. Upstairs, in Storyteller's Corner, children will hear Christmas stories told in a Victorian setting.

Now it's time to visit T-Anchor, decorate the cowcamp, and watch the Christmas waltz begin. The spirit of the Panhandle cowcamp Christmas is captured in the music of cowboy poet Buck Ramsey's Cowboy Christmas Waltz. First recorded in 1994 and then published as a book in 1996, the music and words describe a simple-yet-rich moment shared by friends at Christmas time... with fiddle and guitar they waltz and two-step the night away.

Join the fiddlers in the east annex of the Museum for a bit of your own waltzing and two-stepping. On Friday, December 8, and Saturday, December 9, enjoy the music of the Burson Family and Friends. Lanny Fiel and the Ranch Dance Fiddle Band will perform on Sunday afternoon, December 9.

The sights and sounds of Christmas will echo throughout the Museum. Visitors will be reminded of a bygone era and the joy of friends and family as they stroll through the Museum and celebrate another Christmas season.

Generations of visitors have found this the perfect way to welcome the holiday season. Don't miss the Museum's 25th annual Christmas Open House. There is no charge for this special event, scheduled from 7-9 p.m. on Friday and Saturday, December 7 and 8, and from 1-4 p.m. on Sunday, December 9.

November Miracle

By Mary Beth Nelson

The lovely warm temperatures occurring during November were, indeed, another delightful surprise from Mother Nature. However, the particular November "miracle" of which I am thinking happened several years ago.

As November stretched into December, blustery 57-mph winds accompanied 40° temperatures. My neighbor across the street called me. "Mary Beth," her voice sounding slightly doubtful that I might accept her invitation. "If you're brave enough to face the elements, there's something you need to see right now." Curious enough to confront her challenge, I immediately went to her house.

Through the window, she directed my attention to the dead branches of her lilac tree. "Nothing unusual about that," I first thought. As she guided my gaze to a lower branch, I became awed to see about a foot of branch covered with tiny lavender lilac blossoms as if it were springtime. Firmly attached to their anchor, it seemed that even forceful threatening wind could not destroy them.

Later, reflecting on the delicate blossoms' loveliness as the defied surrounding turbulence, I suddenly thought, "Through God's loving promises and care, He offers humans an 'anchor' on which to lean during adversities of daily living. If we trust and hold fast to His word, we, like the lilac blossoms, can overcome some of life's heaviest storms."

Bible Thought: "... we who have fled to take hold of the hope offered to us may be greatly encouraged. We have this hope as an anchor for the soul, firm and secure..." Hebrews 6: 18-19 (NIV)

West Texas A&M University offers reward

High school students who finish in the top 25 percent of their 2002 graduating class could be at least $1,000 richer if they make West Texas A&M their university of choice.

The scholarship packages are available—and guaranteed—from WTAMU for the 2002-2003 academic year if qualified students complete and submit a scholarship request form by Feb. 1, 2002, and an application for admission by March 1, 2002.

Texas residents and out-of-state students who receive the $1,000 scholarship package and enroll in 15 semester credit hours can expect to pay approximately $2,500, including room, board, books and supplies, for their first semester at West Texas A&M. The state average for public senior universities, according to the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board, is $4,200 for residents and $7,400 for non-residents.

The $1,000 scholarship package is guaranteed if the student finishes in the top quarter of his/her 2002 high school graduating class and completes and submits a scholarship request form by Feb. 1, 2002, and an application for admission by March 1, 2002.

Forms are available online at www.wtamu.edu or by calling 806-651-2020 or toll-free at 1-800-99-WTAMU.

Applicators must obtain CEUs by December 31

Agriculture Commissioner Susan Combs reminds pesticide applicators to obtain the necessary continuing education units to renew their license.

Many private applicators, as well as all-commercial and noncommercial applicators, face a Feb. 28, 2002, renewal date. Private certificate holders face a Dec. 31, 2001, deadline.

Applicators can obtain a list of approved courses or other information on CEU courses by calling 1-800-TELL-TDA or by logging on to TDA's web site [www.agr.state.tx.us/pesticide/ceu/pes_ceuhome.htm].

The Lady Bulldogs played Hardin Simmons Junior College on Friday, November 30, and handily defeated them 84-55.

Sancho Lyttle and Ravon Justice teamed up and put down 20 and 18 points respectively in the win. The scoring was spread out among the squad members with all but two players adding points to the board.

Others scoring for the Lady Bulldogs were: Esther Chavez 10, Heather Black 6, Rachel Fabela 6, Nidia Garcia 6, Vasha Adams 4, Lana McCandless 4, Nivia Garcia 4, and Hayley Hugley 2.

The Lady Bulldogs went up against Western Oklahoma on Saturday and quickly took control and defeated them 70-50, boosting their record to 7-5 for the year.

Again, Lyttle led all scorers with 23, and Justice added 17.

Others scoring were: Colby Davis 7, Black 6, McCandless 5, Nivia Garcia 4, Nidia Garcia 4, Adams 2, and Chavez 2.

Head coach Wade Scott was pleased with their performance but realizes there's always room for improvement.

"I was pleased with the way that the ladies played this weekend; however, I would like to see more intensity on the defensive end and a lot less fouling on our part," Coach Scott said.

"This week we will play our third nationally ranked opponent, which is Northeastern Junior College."

The Lady Bulldogs will travel to Sterling, Colo., December 6. They will resume their schedule after the Christmas break on January 10 at Odessa.

Good luck, Lady Bulldogs!

CC players sign with TTU, LCU

Two Clarendon College Bulldogs have signed letters of intent to play baseball at major universities.

Sophomore Joel Flores of Lubbock has signed with Texas Tech University.

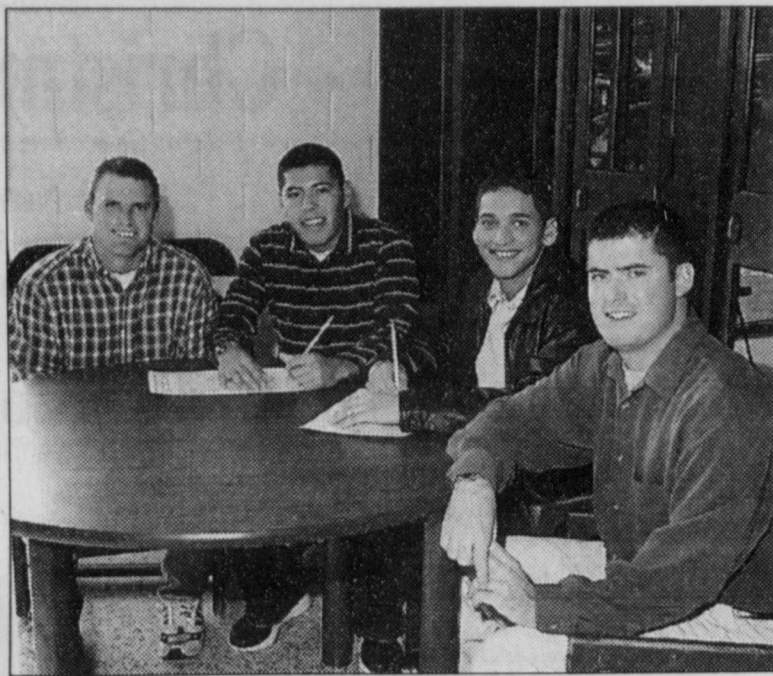

Flores is a pitcher for the Bulldogs and plans to study education and coaching. He is a graduate of Lubbock High School.

"Joel was the first player Clarendon College signed two years ago," said CC Coach Trent Petrie. "He's a left-handed pitcher who is probably the best in our league. Texas Tech is very excited about getting him in their program."

Victor Rodriguez, also a CC sophomore, has signed with Lubbock Christian University and will seek a degree in either business administration or sports management.

Rodriguez is from San Juan, Puerto Rico, and attended high school in Florida where he was a member of a state championship team in 1998. He plays leftfield for the CC Bulldogs.

"Victor had a great fall for us this year," Petrie said. "He can really swing the bat, and LCU is also excited about getting him in their program."

Bulldogs battle RCC, Lamar

By Sandy Anderberg

Redlands Community College is number seven in the national junior college rankings, and the Bulldogs went head to head with them last week. They fell short in their quest to upset the nationally ranked team by the score of 100-83.

The Bulldogs played well, but Redlands just proved to be too much for them to stop. The Bulldogs will get a second chance to defeat Redlands in February at home.

"This was the best team we've faced so far," said head coach Tony Starnes.

Scoring for the Bulldogs were: Chris Packer 16, Richard Gilliam 13, Lonnie Cooks 13, and Lee Robinson 13.

November 30 the Bulldogs traveled to Lamar, Colo., to participate in the Lamar Junior College Classic. The Bulldogs drew Lamar in the first round of play and were defeated, 104-94.

The Bulldogs again played good basketball and took the early lead. They were up by 12 points but let Lamar back in the game.

"We led by 12 at half time, but we just couldn't hold it," Starnes said.

Leading scorers were: Cooks 14, Packer 14, Gilliam 12, Raymond Shaw 11, Jacobia Platt 9, and Michael Mack 9.

The Bulldogs faced off against Otera Junior College on Saturday. The Bulldogs lost 104-80.

CC was just not ready to play according to Starnes.

"We were never in it. We were mentally and physically not ready to play."

Scoring for the Bulldogs were: Robinson 12, and Platt 11.

The Bulldogs face a tough schedule before the Christmas break. They will travel to Colorado Springs, Colo., to take on the Air Force Prep and Air Force JV on December 6 and 7.

Good luck Bulldogs!

JV Broncos take 2nd place in tournament

The Broncos played hard and were successful this weekend in the Clarendon JV Tournament held in the Bronco Gymnasium.

In the first round, the Broncos went up against Silverton and had no trouble defeating them 50-35.

The Broncos jumped out to an early lead and never looked back. They outscored their opponent by 22 points at the end of the 2nd quarter.

"The guys played great defense," said coach Danny Brittain. "The scoring was distributed throughout the team. Everybody contributed."

Scoring for the Broncos were: Justin Johnson 12, Drew Sell 8, Richard Anderson 7, Dusty Martindale 7, Alex Polley 5, Tim Leeper 4, Jeremy Howard 3, Adam Leeper 2, Chuck Robertson 1, and Tim Sears 1.

The Broncos drew White Deer in the 2nd round and very handily gained the victory over the Bucks 57-45.

Brittain was especially proud of the Broncos' defensive game against the Bucks.

"Drew Sell did a great job shutting down their best player," said Brittain. "We denied him the ball."

The Broncos led from the beginning of the game and continued their pressure on the Bucks.

Scoring for the Broncos were: Johnson 15, Polley 11, Anderson 7, Sell 7, Robertson 6, Martindale 6, Adam Leeper 3, and Howard 2.

The Broncos found themselves in the Championship game on Saturday against a tall Panhandle team. After being down by 19 points at the beginning of the 2nd half, the Broncos fought back and came within 2 points at the buzzer with the final score being 54-56.

"The boys played hard to come back," Brittain said. "In the first half we couldn't make a shot. But we came out fired up fired up in the 2nd half and almost got the win."

Brittain gave credit to all of the Broncos for the come back attempt.

"We missed a few free throws, but our hustle made up for it. They never gave up, and they played hard."

Scoring for the Broncos were: Martindale 26, Sell 7, Johnson 7, Adam Leeper 6, Anderson 4, Polley 2, Howard 1, and Robertson 1.

The Broncos will host Pampa December 11 beginning at 5:00 in the Bronco Gymnasium.

Colts play Wellington

The 7th grade Colts are still going strong adding a win over Wellington to their win/loss column. The Colts stopped the Firecrackers 46-39 Monday night.

The Colts jumped out to an early lead over the Firecrackers and had the Rockets down 12 points at the break. Coach Mike Ray credited the Colts with great execution of their full court press.

Clarendon continued their great play in the 2nd half despite an attempt by Wellington to come back.

The leading scorer for the Colts was Steven Ballard with 19 points. Brad Sell added 12. Ladez Captain and Ben Smith each added 6 points. Andrew Thomas had 2, and Jeremy Jeffers connected with a free throw for one.

"This was a great team effort from this group of boys," said Ray. "Nerves are still a factor with some; but when they get their hands on the ball, they get after it."

Other members of the Colt team are Clint Watson, Tyler Drackley, Jon McGlaun, John Vaught, and Wes Christopher.

The 8th grade Colts didn't fair as well as they were defeated by the Firecrackers 24-34. Clarendon started things out well in the 1st quarter, but Wellington made up the deficit by halftime. Chase Thornberry and Stephen Ford each connected with a three-pointer to keep the Colts close until the last quarter when the Firecrackers scored nine more points than the Colts.

"We played better than we did last week," said coach Joe Gifford. "We still need to get into game shape. I feel that we will have a better game this week."

Scoring were Thornberry 7, Ford 7, Morgan Robinson 4, Will Betts 2, Ty White 2, and Andy Roberts 2.

Both Colt teams will host Canadian December 10 beginning at 5:00. They will be in action December 15 in a one-day tournament in the Bronco Gymnasium.

Hedley Owls defeat Clarendon Broncos in close game

By Sandy Anderberg

The Broncos opened up the week against the Hedley Owls Tuesday, November 27, at the Bronco Gymnasium. The Owls came out on top, 53-52.

Jumping out to a three-point lead in the 1st quarter, the Broncos looked as if they were headed to their first victory. But a strong 2nd quarter by the Owls made the game close as the Broncos trailed by one point at the break. The game seasawed back and forth in the 2nd half with Hedley getting the win by one.

Bronco coach Wade Callaway was quick to applaud Hedley's play. "First off, credit has to go to Hedley for playing a great game," Callaway said. "As far as we're concerned, we feel we're still making progress. Our best basketball is definitely still ahead of us."

Scoring for Hedley were Josh Collins 26, Aaron Bugg 12, Bradley Conatser 9, Shane Mangelsdorf 4, and David Evans 4.

Scoring for the Broncos were: Cody Watson 15, Todd Hoeltzel 15, Jarad Lax 7, Antonio Wilson 6, James Williams 5, Jeremy Ray 2, and Cameron Word 2.

Thursday, November 29, the Broncos traveled to Floydada to take part in the Whirlwind Classic. They went up against the Smyer Bobcats in the first round. Because of teams withdrawing from the tournament, officials were forced to go into a 'pool-play' format.

The Broncos squared off against Smyer in the first round on Thursday. The Broncos hustled hard but fell short in the 4th quarter and were defeated, 66-62.

Clarendon jumped out to an early lead and held it until the 3rd quarter. They led by nine points going into the last period.

"We played great for three quarters," said Callaway. "We didn't execute what we wanted to do, and that caused us to break down. We just didn't finish the game."

Scoring for the Broncos were: Williams 18, Watson 14, and Hoeltzel 10.

The Broncos drew Idalou in the 2nd round on Friday night and defeated them 56-42. Things went well for the Broncos, and they had an excellent 4th period, putting 22 points on the board compared to only six points for their opponent.

"I was really pleased with the way the guys finished this game," said Callaway. "We showed a great deal of discipline throughout, especially in the last few minutes when it really counted."

Scoring for the Broncos were: Antonio Wilson 14, Watson 11, Hoeltzel 8, and Ray 8.

The win against Idalou put the Broncos in the championship game, which was played Saturday night against Crosbyton. The Broncos played great and kept the game close. Crosbyton hit a shot with 5 seconds to go in the game and steal the victory away from Clarendon. The Broncos took a 6-foot shot at the end of the game that went in and popped out giving Crosbyton the 64-62 win.

"We'll just keep improving," said Callaway. "When we learn to finish games, we'll beat anybody."

Scoring for the Broncos were: Wilson 18, Hoeltzel 11, and Ray 8.

The Broncos will travel to Lockney Thursday for the Lockney Tournament. The Broncos will play Lockney at 9 a.m. If they win, they will play again on Thursday evening with the time to be announced.

The Lady Owls JV squad traveled to Clarendon November 29-December 1 to participate in the Clarendon JV Invitational Tournament and took home the championship.

The Lady Owls played the Panhandle Pantherettes in the first game. The Lady Owls took a quick lead in the first quarter with a score of 21-8. With such a big lead, the Hedley girls settled down and only scored 6 points in the next quarter.

The second half was about like the first. The Lady Owls kept their lead and won the game with a score of 47-30.

Scoring for Hedley were Sarah Bolin, 13; Allison Hill, 10; Evange Ramirez, 8; Courtney Ellerbrook, 8; Lacey Wallendorf, 6; and Emily Edmonson, 2.

After that first point, though, the Lady Owls were back to normal and scored 16 points in the second quarter to add to their 13 from the first. The final score turned out to be 48-24. pressure throughout the second quarter and scored 15 more points while holding the Lady Broncos down to 9 points.

Coming out of the second half, the Lady Broncos outscored the Lady Owls by one point, cutting Hedley's lead to 17 points. The final score was 57-48 in favor of the thrilled Lady Owls. It was the fourth time that week that Hedley had beaten Clarendon in Bronco Gym.

Scoring for the Lady Owls were Ellerbrook, 19; Wallendorf, 10; Hill, 8; Bolin, 8; E. Ramirez, 6; Julie Ramirez, 4; and Edmonson.
