Estlacks Sell Clarendon Office Supply & Printing

One of the older businesses in Clarendon, Clarendon Office Supply & Printing owned by G.W. and Ruby Dell Estlack, was sold effective April 1, 1992 to David R. Smith.

Smith has been associated with the business for the past four years learning the skill and technique of printing.

Estlack's first experience in printing came after his father, the late J.C. Estlack bought the Blake Print Shop and opened Estlack Printery in 1924. A newspaper, The Donley County Leader was established and added to the print shop with the first issue March 4, 1929. Later G.W. and Alfred Estlack bought the Clarendon News and G.W. Estlack became sole owner in 1959. Estlack sold the newspaper December, 1974 and expanded the office supply and commercial printing part of the business.

Through the 63 years Estlack has been involved with printing, the business has been housed in several locations, the first being in a part of the building now housing The Nook. Other locations in sequence were the building later to house City Gas; the old Holland Bros. building where the first issue of The Donley County Leader was printed and now the east parking area of First Bank & Trust; the Vera Lewis Estate building; and the present location at 104 South Kearney.

Estlack has served as Director, Secretary, and President of the Panhandle Press Association and as a Director in the Texas Press Association. He has been awarded many honors among them First Place in Editorials on both the Panhandle and State levels and has been listed in Who's Who in Texas.

Mrs. Estlack entered the printing business in 1937 and will continue working for Smith.

"Upon retiring, I plan to classify, sort through, and label my collection of relics and antiques accumulated through the years as well as devote some time to compiling a history of this area," said Estlack.

"To you our friends and customers we wish to convey our sincere appreciation and thanks for your support through these many years. It has been and will continue to be a pleasure to be a part of this community," the Estlacks stated.

"Our hope is that David Smith will receive the loyal support you have given us," they added.

MR. & MRS. G.W. ESTLACK sold Clarendon Office Supply & Printing, a 63 year-old business, to David Smith who has been trying to take over the business for the past four years.

Letters to the Editor:

An Emergency Medical Technician class which began on December 2, 1991, has added five new EMT's to the Clarendon EMS Association.

The class was taught by Paramedic Phillip Vargas and consisted of nine students. The class consisted of 120 class hours, plus 24 hours at the Emergency Receiving Center at Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo. The students also were required to have three "Code 3" ambulance runs during the course. Some of the students were able to complete the ambulance runs on the Clarendon Ambulance while others went to Amarillo and worked 12 hour shifts on the ambulance there.

The students went to Amarillo on March 10 to take the state exam. They have waited about six weeks to get the results. All students in the class passed the exam.

Those taking the test were, Benny Osburn and James Thomas who went from ECA's to EMT's, Faylon Watson and Nina Riddlespurger who were recertifying

Symphony Premier Set

The sound and beauty of Palo Duro Canyon will unfold in music on the stage of M.K. Brown Auditorium in Pampa with the Amarillo Symphony Orchestra on Sunday, May 3, at 2 p.m. Tickets for the Pampa performance of the World Premier weekend will be $10 for adults and $5 for students. Tickets are available at The Clarendon News.

Any tickets left over may be sold at the door. Amarillo Symphony season tickets will be honored.

Palo Duro Symphony portrays the geography and texture of the canyon and its progression from morning to evening, according to Dr. Samuel Jones, who was commissioned to write the composition by the Amarillo Symphony Board.

Jones is professor of composition and director of graduate studies at the Shepherd School of Music, which he founded, at Rice University in Houston. His compositions include works commissioned by the Houston Symphony, the American Symphony Orchestra League, and the Shenandoah Valley Music Festival.

The Pampa performance is sponsored by the Pampa Fine Arts Association and made possible in part with grants from M.K. Brown, McCarley, David and Nona Payne Foundation and the Texas Commission on the Arts.

The first performance of the Premier Weekend will be at 7:30 p.m., Friday May 1, at the amphitheatre at Palo Duro Canyon. The second performance will be at 8:00 p.m., May 2, at the Amarillo Civic Center Auditorium. In addition to the premiered symphony, the Amarillo Symphony Orchestra will be performing numbers by Hector Berlioz, Anton Dvorak, and Richard Strauss.

While writing the symphony, Jones camped in the canyon and returned several times over the past two years to experience it in different seasons. He particularly wanted to capture the feeling one has when driving along the flat terrain and suddenly the bottom drops out and there's a 110-mile-long canyon. "It was for me--as it is for everyone--a deeply moving experience," said the composer.

as EMT's and the new EMT's are Nancy Newhouse, Mike Suiter, Carylon Apel. There was also two students who will not be members of the Clarendon EMS as they live in Amarillo. They are Mike Shadle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Shadle of Clarendon and Jean Stroup.

During the last class, Phillip was presented with a black satin jacket with his name embroidered in red and a paramedic patch on the sleeve as a thank you from the

Congratulations to each of the students and a big thank you to Phillip Vargas for the great job you did as our teacher.

Chronic Obstructive Lung Disease Therapy

The term chronic obstructive lung disease or COPD is a term which refers to two conditions - chronic bronchitis and emphysema. While COPD cannot be cured, airway obstruction can be relieved and quality of life improved for many who suffer from this condition. This can be accomplished through proper nutrition, correct use of medicines in metered-dose inhalers, and appropriate exercise.

Nutrition: Excess body weight can make breathing more difficult. According to a recent article in the medical journal Patient Care, the recommended diet for persons with COPD includes plenty of protein plus vitamins and minerals (especially vitamin D and calcium if one is taking a steroid medicine). Minimize intake of carbohydrates and fat or junk foods.

Medicines: One of the best methods of delivering medicines to the lung passages is by way of metered dose inhalers. Many persons do not use these devices properly and should discuss inhaler technique with their pharmacist or physician. A spacer device to help improve medicine penetration into the lungs may be recommended by some physicians.

Exercise: Regular exercise is part of COPD therapy. Lower-body aerobic exercises emphasizing endurance (such as cycling and walking) are considered better than exercises that emphasize strength.

The best way to stay cool this summer is to have your cooling system serviced now. A checkup by a cooling and heating dealer could help prevent a costly, uncomfortable breakdown during the heat of summer. Proper maintenance can also help reduce operating cost and extend the life of cooling equipment.

And if your present system has seen too many summers, replace it with an all season electric heat pump. Ask your dealer or WTU for details.

Greenbelt Members to Meet in Wellington

The 53rd annual meeting of the members of Greenbelt Electric Cooperative will be held Friday, April 24, in the Bura Handley Community Center in Wellington. The meeting will get underway at 1:30 p.m. with registration of members and guests.

The agenda for the meeting includes election of two directors, business centering on the financial standing of the Cooperative, and drawing of members' names for attendance prizes.

This year, members will elect directors from Districts 2 and 5 to serve three year terms. District 2 is composed of all of Wheeler County West of U.S. Highway 83 including Gray County to the West and Roberts County to the North. District 5 includes all of Armstrong County and Randall Counties.

In early April, each member received a notice of the meeting, along with the Co-op's annual report. Everyone is encouraged to look over the report before the meeting since the financial statement in the report will be reviewed during the business session. Directors, management, and employees of GEC will be at the meeting to answer any questions that any member may have concerning the Cooperative.

At this year's annual meeting one member will be given a complete satellite system as the Grand-Prize winner. Besides the Grand Prize, over $500 in door prizes will be awarded.

The annual membership meeting dates back to the beginning of Greenbelt Cooperative. The founding directors in 1938 felt the members should have a specific opportunity each year to learn more about their organization and to participate in a forum in which they could get answers to any questions about the Cooperative. The directors felt the annual meeting was so important to the success of the Cooperative that the bylaws of the Cooperative were written to provide for such a meeting.

Greenbelt Electric was established as a nonprofit organization to bring electricity to rural communities which were lighted by kerosene lamps and heated by wood, places where water was pumped by hand.

Before the Cooperative was established, the existing power companies refused to serve the rural areas because they felt it was not cost effective.

Today Greenbelt continues to observe these basic principles of operation:

*Each member, no matter how much electricity he or she purchases, has one vote

*Nonprofit operation with affordable service to members is the primary objective

Fertilization Pays Dividends

By Tim Trimble - CEA

Proper fertilization of cotton can pay big dividends to producers in Donley County according to demonstration results in 1991. The Donley County Extension Service along with Evans Fertilizer and cotton producer E. Wayne Barbee conducted a demonstration on proper fertilization on dryland cotton. Soil tests were taken and recommendations from the test were based on a goal of 500 pounds of lint per acre. Lab recommendation for 500 pounds of lint, indicated a need for 50 units of Nitrogen and 35 units of phosphorus.

Four different treatments were used: treatment #1 = 50 units N, 35 units P, preplant; #2 = 25 units N, 17.5 P, preplant; #3 = 100 units of N, 70 P, preplant; #4 = 25 units N, 17.5 units P, preplant and 32 units N, sidedress.

Results indicated that treatments #1 and #4 were the most cost effective with a cost of $.04 and $.038 per pound of lint and $154.67 and $156.53 return minus cost respectively. Treatment #2 at half the rate cost $.026 per pound of lint with return a cost of $134.02. This is approximately $20.00 per acre loss in order to try and save $10.00 per acre by using less fertilizer.

Also the yield per acre between Treatment #1 and treatment #2 was approximately 110 pounds of lint. Grade was slightly better in treatment #2, otherwise there would have been $30.00 per acre difference between the recommended amount of fertilizer and half that rate.

Treatment #3 was double the recommended rate which had a cost of $.079 per pound of lint and a return minus cost of $147.68 per acre. This would indicate that as we increased application rate above recommended amount that this would be counter productive and result in less return for increased input.

In the demonstration we did have one unexplainable yield, that of the untreated check. For some reason its yield was very similar to the other yields. Also there was a slight difference in grades of each plot. Even though the check did very well without any fertilizer it can't be assumed that we could have made a good yield on all of the field with no fertilizer. This evident by the difference in yields from the other four treatments.

The use of soil samples and following the fertilizer recommendations should be the most efficient way to manage crop requirements. In addition, it is the most environmentally sound technique.

The Chamber Corner

This is a new article that will be appearing monthly.

The purpose of the article is to inform the Chamber members and general public what your Chamber is doing to benefit Clarendon and Donley County. Any suggestions or comments are readily welcome.

The 4th of July Parade will again, this year, be in the capable hands of Ms. Ellie McKee and Kay Miller. Any questions regarding your entry in the parade should be directed to these ladies at 874-2821 or 874-2662.

The chamber office is temporarily located at Knorpp Insurance Agency.

Our next monthly meeting is May 21, 7:00 PM at Chamberlain Motor Co.

We will once again, this year, have the drawing for the Trip for Two to the Las Vegas National Finals Rodeo. The drawing will be held on the 4th of July at the Clarendon Rodeo grounds. Contact any Chamber director for tickets.

The directors have been talking with a sports equipment manufacturing firm that has been looking to move to Clarendon. This firm will employ 6-10 welders and painters. Admittedly, this is not a GM Saturn Plant, but if we are successful in bringing it here, it will provide some additional payroll.

If you have any questions or suggestions regarding the Chamber, please direct them to any of the following directors: Walt Knorpp-President, 874-3521; Trey Chamberlain, 874-3527; Jimmy Kuhn, 874-3650; Bobbie Floyd, 874-3335; Jerry Chambliss, 3564; Patrice Wheatly-Sec, 874-3521; R. L. Gilkey-VP, 874-3531; Jerry Courtney, 874-3535; Jerry Stockton, 874-3571; Jenks Boston, 874-2513; Mike Word, 874-3855.

Lions Tale

The Clarendon Lions Club met in a regular meeting, Tuesday, April 14, 1992 in the Lions Hall at noon. There were seventeen lions present, two visitors and the Lions Sweetheart, Mrs. Dee Williams. After a very delicious meal, Boss Lion Delbert Robertson opened the meeting in due form. He then called on Lion Tamer Redell Henson to introduce the guests. They were as follows: David Smith, guest of Lion Donald Smith; and Mike Newton, Amarillo, guest of Lion Bernabe. The Boss Lion made a few announcements and as no program was set for this meeting, the Boss Lion reminded the Club that a Broom Sale is to be held in two or three weeks. There being no further business the meeting was adjourned.

Waste Pesticides

By Tim Trimble

Farmers and ranchers in four regions turned in 197 tons of waste pesticides in a special state-sponsored collection program this spring.

The Texas Water Commission, Texas Agricultural Extension Service and Texas Department of Agriculture sponsored the four collection days on Feb. 24 in Edna, Feb. 27 in Elsa, March 2 in Munday and March 5 in O'Donnell. More than 270 private pesticide applicators, representing approximately 800 Texas farms and ranches, took part in the free, no-questions-asked collection effort.

About 10,000 clean, properly rinsed metal and plastic pesticide containers also were turned in at the four sites. The containers will be used exclusively for the manufacture of recycled pesticide containers.

Producers from as far away as Amarillo and Stanton brought materials to O'Donnell, where 80 tons of chemicals in more than 750 drums were collected. At the other sites, 559 drums were collected at Edna; 558 drums at Elsa, and 325 drums at Munday.

"This collection offered farmers and ranchers a rare opportunity to dispose of these hazardous waste pesticides," said Diane Wilcox, project manager for the water commission. "The majority of these farmers turned in pesticides inherited from their fathers and grandfathers, pesticides that have been banned from use for decades. These collections allowed farmers to get rid of these

AIDS Killing Young People

According to a new report by the United States Department of Health and Human Services, the greatest rate of increase in contracting AIDS is among young people engaged in heterosexual (male-female) activity. It is spreading very rapidly among teen-agers.

AIDS is now the second leading killer of young men and the fifth leading killer of young women. What is really frightening about the figures is that the average time between contracting the HIV virus and the appearance of full-blown AIDS is about ten years. This puts the statistics behind the actual infection level, but it also allows HIV carriers a long period in which they are infecting other sexual partners with the virus. And more than 40 percent of the high school students that were surveyed reported having more than one sex partner.

The report characterizes teen-age sexual behavior as "high risk activity."

The department notes that there has been an increase in the use of condoms, but noted that only a third of sexually active teen-agers use them. And condoms do not guarantee "safe sex". Accidents happen and AIDS is spreading.

HIV virus cannot be passed through accidental contact. The most common method of transmission is sexual intercourse; drug addicts are often infected by sharing needles.

Although the Federal survey did not deal with individual towns, it should be noted that earlier reports show that the virus has spread to every community in the country. The State of Texas reported the presence of the virus in virtually every Panhandle county, including Donley.

There are no vaccines against the HIV virus. There is no cure for AIDS.

Anyone desiring more information can call the Center for Disease Control toll-free at (800) 342-AIDS.

Counseling Certification Offered

Dr. Pat McLeod of the University of North Texas is currently developing a one time program of offering four courses necessary for Vocational Counselor Certification in Amarillo beginning this fall. These courses normally must be taken on the campus of the university offering the certification. Many school districts are requiring their counselors to be certified in vocational counseling. One system that requires this is the Windham School System which is in charge of education in all of the Texas prisons. If you are interested

I would like to announce my candidacy for Hospital Board.

I would appreciate your vote on May 2nd.

chemicals in a safe manner, and in turn, ultimately protect the water resources and environment in their communities."

"This program made something available to farmers that in years to come the state will be glad of," said Harold C. Hohn, Dawson County farmer who turned in chemicals at O'Donnell.

"What we've collected in 40 years can't be brought to town in one day," Hohn told officials at the collection.

TWC Chairman John Hall agreed. "The tremendous response by our state's farmers and ranchers indicates that there is great need for this program. The Texas Water Commission will continue to provide this service not only for farmers and ranchers, but for all citizens of Texas by sponsoring 50 agricultural and household hazardous waste collection programs by 1995," Hall said.

Wilcox said the obsolete and unusable pesticides collected included 23 tons of arsenic chemicals, many of which were banned from use during the 1980's. Also turned in were approximately 8 tons of parathions, including ethyl parathion, a chemical banned in 1991; 3.9 tons of DDT, canceled from use in 1972, and 2.5 tons of chlordane, banned from use in 1990.

Mammographies Help Detect And Prevent Breast Cancer

When used in conjunction with regular physical examinations, mammographies or x-ray techniques used to create an image of the breast, are the most effective way to detect cancer before symptoms occur. Overall, mammographies are more than 90 percent effective.

"I recommend that women over age 40 have a mammography every one to two years because they are more susceptible to breast cancer," said Gilbert S. Bucholz, D.O., an osteopathic radiologist at Parkview Hospital in Toledo, Ohio and president of the American Osteopathic Association. "Women over age 50 should be screened every year." He pointed out that many physicians also recommend that women have a mammography between the ages of 35 and 39.

Gilbert S. Bucholz, D.O.

Dr. Bucholz said that women concerned about the risks of radiation should be assured that the dosage of radiation in a typical mammography, given annually, is not high and will not lead to cancer.

"Furthermore, physicians will only recommend mammographies when the perceived benefits outweigh the potential risks of exposure to radiation," he said.

Dr. Bucholz also recommended that women perform breast self examinations each month after their menstruation.

Mammographies can help prevent breast cancer by early detection. If a woman discovers lumps in her breast or armpit, a mammography will often determine if the lump is cancerous.

In addition to lumps in their breast or armpit, Dr. Bucholz recommended that women look for thickening of their breasts, dimpling of breasts, or a heavy or bloody discharge from the breast. Because cancerous tumors may often be too small to be felt by a woman, a mammography is a necessary procedure.

When weighing the pros and cons of having a mammography, Dr. Bucholz suggested that women focus on the benefits of early detection of precancerous changes in the breast.

According to the American Cancer Society, the incidence of breast cancer has increased three percent since 1980. This year, one out of every nine women will contract breast cancer, bringing the national total to 175,000. More significantly, 44,500 of these women died of breast cancer in 1990.

The only way to avoid becoming one of these statistics is by combining regular check-ups, monthly breast self-examinations and following physicians' guidelines for mammographies. "Early detection can mean a better chance of cure if treatment is begun right away," he said.

I WISH TO THANK all the people in Clarendon for their prayers, calls and concern for Chris and for the donations that were made at the Bronco Restaurant, Mary's Country Kitchen, the Dairy Queen, The Grocery Store, and through the Ministerial Alliance. Chris did not have surgery the 15th. He went to Dallas and the doctor said he is clear of cancer and did not need to have the spot removed from the back of the lung. Thanks.
