Tourism, Extension leaders plan festival

Destination Donley County Tourism and Donley County Extension are teaming up to host a Harvest Festival on November 20 in the Clarendon Lions Club Hall located at 4th and Sully.

The Festival is seeking crafters in the Panhandle area to participate and help offer a variety of wares. The cost of the booth is $10 for a 10x10 booth. Some electricity is available on first come, first served basis. Vendors must supply all set up needs including tables and chairs. Booths can not sell main dish or meal items such as hotdogs, hamburgers, chili, etc.

An entry form is available in this issue.

The Festival will include an arts and crafts show from 9:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. and a pumpkin food contest at 2:00 p.m.

For more information, please call Linda Gray at 874-2009 or Mary Ruth Bishop at 874-2141.

Hedley city aldermen change meeting date

The Hedley Board of Aldermen voted to change the date of that city's regular monthly meeting when they met Monday night.

The board approved a motion to hold future city meetings on the first Thursday of each month.

Aldermen also approved the city's contract with the Donley Appraisal District for tax assessment and collection services.

Square House exhibits art of Pastel Society

The Carson County Square House Museum will host a month of exciting pastels done by the Lone Star Pastel Society for their annual Members Only Exhibit in the auditorium of the Hazlewood Education Building.

The combined artistry of over 30 artists promises excitement, inspiration, and enjoyment for artists and other visitors.

A reception for this impressive group will be held in both galleries on November 7, 2004, from 2:00 to 4:00 p.m.

The Square House Museum is located on SH 207 and Fifth Street in Panhandle.

For more information, call 806-537-3523.

Foster parents needed in Texas Panhandle

There is an urgent need for more families to open their hearts and homes by becoming foster and adoptive parents.

Foster care provides a temporary safe haven for children as Child Protective Services (CPS) caseworkers and foster parents work toward uniting children with their families.

For more information, call 354-6230.

Voters choose Lindley over Tunnell

Wheatly ousts Commissioner Shields; Constable Wallendorff beats write-in

Tax Assessor/Collector Wilma Lindley successfully fended off a challenge by Republican Vicky Tunnell by a margin of 1,085 to 657 when Donley County voters cast their ballots Tuesday.

Lindley's was the only county-wide race to be contested this year, but races in two precincts did produce some drama for the evening.

Former Republican county commissioner Andy Wheatly managed to reverse his fortunes from the 2000 election, successfully ousting the Precinct 3 Democratic incumbent, Henry C. "Buster" Shields, 280 to 135.

In Precincts 3&4, Constable Mike Wallendorff, a Democrat, won the right to keep his job, tallying 449 votes. He easily defeated the write-in candidacy of Tony Sellers, who garnered 153 votes.

In uncontested county races,

Sheriff Charles "Butch" Blackburn received 72.3 percent of the county vote, and Commissioner Ernest Johnston got 69 percent of the votes in his Precinct 1.

Donley County voters overwhelmingly preferred US Rep. Mac Thornberry (R-Clarendon) over his Libertarian opponent, M.J. "Smitty" Smith, by a margin of 1,513 to 55.

At press time, Thornberry was leading 120,869 to 8,854 with 281 of 474 precincts reporting.

Local voters also favored reelecting President George W. Bush, giving him 1,420 votes compared to 340 for Sen. John Kerry (D-Mass.). The Libertarian ticket received five votes, and one person voted for Ralph Nader.

State Sen. Robert Duncan (R-Lubbock) and State Rep. Warren Chisum (R-Pampa) were both unopposed this year and received 1,302 and 1,371 votes in Donley County. Also unopposed were District Judge David McCoy (D) with 1,159 local votes and District Attorney Stuart Messer (R) with 1,337.

Sixty-eight percent of registered voters in Donley County went to the polls this year. That's a total of 1,792 ballots cast and is up just slightly compared to the last presidential election in 2000 when 1,759 people voted.

Hot dog hold-up

Four-year-old Branson Cruse and two-year-old Baylor Cruse enjoy a hot dog while dressed as a cop and robber during the community trick-or-treating last Saturday at Medical Center Nursing Home. Winners for the night included Best Pumpkin Carvers ShayLee Steele (college), Xenia Buckhaults (high school), and Edward Graham (junior high). Coloring contest winners were Nicholas Shadle in the 3-7-year-old category and McKayla Shadle in the 8-12-year-old division.

Drug dealer's call gets him arrested

A methamphetamine delivery went all wrong in Clarendon last week when an alleged drug dealer unwittingly called the law and told them where he was.

Sheriff Butch Blackburn said his department was examining a cellular phone seized during a recent burglary investigation October 28 when it started ringing. The caller told the person answering the phone that he was in town at a residence at 420 W. Third and said that he had "the stuff" with him.

Officers immediately suspected a drug deal was in the works, and they went straight to the scene and arrested Mark Davis, age 33, of Amarillo. Blackburn said Davis was carrying a .357 revolver and had 33 grams of methamphetamine and $2,485 in cash.

Davis was booked into Donley County Jail and arraigned on felony charges of Possession of a Controlled Substance and Felon in Possession of a Firearm. He was released Saturday on $70,000 bond.

Other items seized during Davis' arrest included two pistols, brass knuckles, lead-filled gloves, slappers, and records of other drug deals.

In other crime news, Blackburn reports his office solved the burglary of a barn with living quarters inside it, which had been under investigation since October 19. Several thousands of dollars worth of electrical equipment and tools had been missing from the barn.

An investigation of tire and shoe tracks at the scene led to the October 28 arrest of Sean Kyser, age 35, of Howardwick. Items taken in the theft were recovered from a residence in Howardwick and in Pampa.

Kyser was still in jail at press time with bond set at $10,000. He is also being held on two misdemeanor charges out of Amarillo.

"I appreciate my deputies' hard work on this burglary which in turn led to getting a drug dealer off the streets," Blackburn said, referring to Davis. "When we get a dealer like this, it helps us and Amarillo and the other surrounding communities, too."

Leaking City Hall smells like death

City Hall stinks. Literally. That was the message delivered by City Secretary Linda Smith and City Clerk LeAnn Marcum when the Clarendon Board of Aldermen met in regular session last Tuesday.

"This place is falling apart," Smith said, noting that the 1918 municipal building is leaking badly every time it rains.

"It smells like dead bodies," Marcum added.

City Administrator Sean Pate said this week that an insurance adjuster for the Texas Municipal League (TML) had examined City Hall following last week's meeting and is expected to issue a report soon about the building.

"There are several maintenance issues that need to be addressed," Pate said. "The roof needs a lot of work, and water is leaking in through windows on the top floor."

Pate said stagnant water about one foot deep is standing in what was once a swimming pool in the basement, and he said simply, "It's stinking."

"We're going to have to address the water damage and probably replace the window seals. That gets to be a lot of money. It will come down to what the insurance will cover."

Pate said a foundation expert has said that part of the building is in good shape for its age, but the administrator noted that water causes a lot of damage if left unchecked.

"It is kind of ironic that this place was built in 1918, and now the Red Sox have won the World Series," Pate said. "Maybe the curse of the Bambino has gone from Fenway to Clarendon."

In other city business, the Board See 'City' on page 6.

Local banks bring Christmas Cash back for tenth year

Shopping at home for the holidays is easy and affordable as local banks have again teamed up to provide 0% interest "Christmas Cash" loans this year.

Interested parties must make application for a loan up to $3,000 with any of the participating local banks.

The annual program has proven popular with many consumers and is seen as way to encourage folks to shop at home with hometown merchants and to keep our local economy strong.

Once a Christmas Cash loan has been approved, the borrower will be issued specially printed Christmas Cash Dollars, which may be spent like US currency toward new purchases of products and services (excluding Lottery tickets, gasoline, and tobacco products) at all of the participating businesses. Businesses will display posters indicating they are participants of the promotion.

There will be no exchange of US currency to make change. For example, if someone purchases items valued at $72.95 and gives the merchant $80.00 in Christmas Cash, the merchant can give them $7.05 in-store credit. The customer may also the remaining $2.95 in US currency.

Christmas Cash Dollars are available in three denominations: $10, $20, and $50. There are two signature lines, the same as there are on traveler's checks.

The borrower's signature is placed on the signature line before they leave the bank, and then they must sign on the endorsement line when they spend the "Cash."

Christmas Cash must be spent at the participating merchants by December 31, 2004. Unspent Christmas Cash may be applied toward your 0% loan at the bank through January 7, 2005.

This cash may not be used as a regular monthly loan payment. It can only be applied toward the principal amount due at the end of the Christmas Cash note. Christmas Cash notes are paid back in ten equal monthly installments.

After January 7, 2005, Christmas Cash becomes worthless.

It's amazing the variety of products Christmas Cash can purchase. Some of the items purchased in years past included: replacement windows, vehicle repairs, groceries, furniture, entertainment equipment, cook-tops, dry cleaning for summer bedrolls, catered goodies, Christmas dinner, car stereos, special gift items, centerpieces, clothing, and much more.

The Donley County State Bank, The Herring National Bank, and Community Bank will buy Christmas Cash from participating merchants at a rate of 95¢ for every $1.00. Participating businesses are "interested in keeping your business here in Clarendon."

City Hall vital to downtown revitalization

As noted by this week's page-one story, the Clarendon City Hall is in bad shape. Poor maintenance is allowing water to leak inside the building, causing damage that may be expensive to repair.

The story sounds depressingly familiar. Just a few years ago, the Donley County Courthouse was in such a sad state that it took a state grant and just shy of a million dollars in local tax money to bring it back up to standard.

editor's commentary
by roger estlack

City Hall doesn't appear to be in as bad a shape as the courthouse then was — at least I don't know of any bat infestation, but city leaders need to act now to keep further damage from being done and ultimately to save the building for future generations.

The municipal building was constructed in 1918 with substantial financial assistance by local philanthropist and JA Ranch owner Cornelia Adair, who eight years earlier had built the Adair Hospital. Originally built as a YMCA, City Hall has undergone numerous renovations as needs changed, all the while serving the people of Clarendon in various ways.

But for quite some time, the municipal building has been slowly becoming a downtown eyesore. While it retains a certain stately look with its ionic columns and wide front steps, peeling paint and boarded up windows make it look nearly abandoned at first glance.

Unlike the pre-restored courthouse, the condition of city offices inside is quite different from the building's outward appearance. Relatively new carpet, furniture, and paint give the first floor interior a definitely modern, well-maintained look of which our citizens can be proud.

City officials are on the right track as they are currently identifying the problems facing the building and trying to determine what it will take to fix them. Collecting that information will be critical to making a wise, financially sound decision regarding the building's future.

As a regular observer of city meetings, I can attest that city officials have on a few occasions kicked around the idea of moving the seat of city government to a new location. That idea may have its good points, but Aldermen should resist any urges to abandon the 1918 structure.

City Hall has been a local landmark for many years, and it is an important element that helps make up our central business district. Additionally, the municipal building provides valuable workspace, recreation areas, and training rooms for the Clarendon Volunteer Fire Department.

Moving the city offices would not be a quick fix for the problem since the fire department would still need the building. More importantly, abandoning the current City Hall would instantly create another large, unused or under-used building downtown.

City leaders constantly urge Clarendon citizens to fix up and clean up around town. It is incumbent upon them to now put their money where their mouths are. What action the Board of Aldermen ultimately takes regarding City Hall will say a lot about our elected leaders' commitment to improving our community, to revitalizing our downtown, and to being good caretakers of our city's assets.

We're not looking for a project on the same scale as the courthouse restoration, but fixing up City Hall — making it weather tight and attractive — must be a priority for anyone who hopes to see Clarendon move forward toward a better tomorrow.

Hopefully, that statement is something all citizens can agree with as the aldermen begin to look at their options.

Meanwhile...

Last week's sports headline, "Visiting Indians stomp Broncos at home, 46-19," was entirely accurate, but it seems some folks would have preferred it to read "Broncos edged out by Quannah" or better yet "Broncos look forward to next week."

Give me a break. The complaints remind me of a couple of years ago when the state-ranked Hedley girls hosted the Clarendon girls in Owl Gym and gave the visitors a basketball lesson. The headline said, "Lady Owls trounce Lady Broncos, 86-44." A 42-point loss sounds like a trouncing to me, but some Clarendon parents were upset. I guess we hurt their babies' self esteem — or maybe it was really just the parents' self esteem.

The bottom line is this: If Clarendon kids can't handle a truthful headline about a sports game, then they're in for a lot of bigger disappointments in life. Besides, it'll all even out when the ol' Broncos "stomp" or "trounce" somebody else... just like last Friday night.

This paper has always supported the Broncos, but there is no need to sugar-coat the facts for them. I believe our student athletes are a resilient bunch who aren't substantially deterred by headlines... no matter how they are worded.

And finally, if any reader has any trouble about a headline, don't go complaining to the sports writers. They don't write the headlines; I do. Their jobs are hard enough without somebody nitpicking the headline that gets put on the stories.

Power of print produces hairless legs

Happy November! By the time this goes to print we will have elected or re-elected a President of the United States of America. I guess I missed my window of opportunity to make fun of the candidates. Now that window is closed, and anything I said would be both rude and irrelevant.

November is more than just a month for election days and Thanksgiving and Veterans Day. November on the fourth floor of Blanche Lange Hall is very special. It's No-Shave November.

The rules are very simple. All contestants will stop shaving their legs on Wednesday, November 3, 2004, at 10 p.m. following a brief informational meeting and sign-up time.

Contestants will refrain from shaving until Friday, December 3, 2004, at 10 p.m., when we meet again to declare a winner.

The girl who goes the longest without shaving and/or is the most disgusting will win a cash prize and the world's coolest razor.

I got the idea from my boss, the dorm director. She was in high school in the 60s, and she and her girlfriends decided that they would hold No-Shave November as a protest. They didn't get too many other girls to sign on, but it was a real bonding experience between them.

The girls of the fourth floor are not protesting anything. This is not a political movement. We are not making a statement. I just want to see that kind of bonding between my residents.

What is the one thing that unites all American women? We all hate shaving our legs, but we do it on an almost daily basis. America is one of the only nations in the world that requires its women to be hairless in order to be sexy.

The custom of removing hair from one's legs dates back to the 400s B.C. when Greek women were singeing the hair from their legs with lamps. The custom died out for inexplicable reasons.

It was only in May of 1915 that the custom was revived on this continent. It all began with that month's edition of Harper's Bazaar. The magazine featured a model sporting a sleeveless evening gown that exposed, for the first time in fashion,

life's lessons
by carrie helms

her bare shoulders and her armpits.

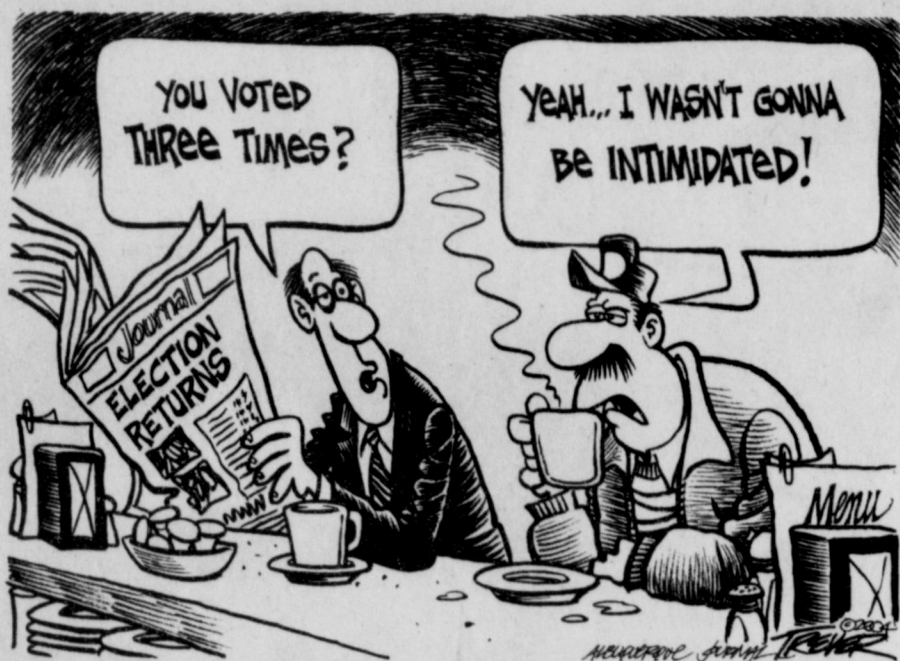

A young marketing executive with the Wilkinson Sword Company that made razor blades for men, designed a campaign to convince the women of North America that underarm hair was unhygienic and anti-feminine.

And it worked! In two years, the sales of razor blades doubled, and almost one hundred years later, women still shave their legs and underarms.

That's the power of the print media! If I started a campaign to convince the world that alarm clocks caused brain damage by waking you so rapidly from REM sleep, I could single-handedly bring down the alarm clock industry and have the 8 a.m. class tradition destroyed.

Maybe No-Shave November is a movement after all. It is not a call for women to shake off patriarchal oppression, but a call for more responsible advertising and journalism.

With great power, comes great responsibility. As a journalist I must use my powers for good, not evil. Please join us in No-Shave November, and together we can take over the world for truth, honesty, and an alarm-clock free existence.

Veterans Day a time to recall sacrifices

From the brave last stand at the Alamo in 1836, to rugged Monte Casino during World War II, to the desert sands of Iraq, Texans have earned a reputation for not backing down in the fight for freedom even when it may cost them their lives. It is to honor these brave soldiers that we celebrate Veterans' Day and take time to remember so much given on our behalf.

Texas has our nation's third-largest veteran community, according to the 2000 census. Over 1.7 million of our 26.5 million veterans live in the Lone Star state. Texas is also home to a large number of defense facilities, with over 114,000 military personnel stationed in our bases. Texans serve around the globe, on land, sea, and air, defending this nation and all who value freedom. As we pay our respects this Veterans' Day, I hope we will also pause to show them our gratitude as well.

I try to express my thanks to our veterans by doing my part in Congress, where I serve on the Veterans Affairs Committee. There I have worked with my colleagues to ensure we provide our veterans the best possible resources and care. In recent years, we've passed a range of legislation that addressed the needs of our veteran community: the Veterans' Opportunities Act, which created new life insurance and health care benefits for up to two million eligible spouses and children of veterans; the Homeless Veterans Comprehensive Assistance Act that authorized $1 billion to aid homeless veterans and prevent others from becoming homeless; and the Veterans Education and Benefits Expansion Act, which authorized more than $3.1 billion over five years to expand educational, housing, burial, and disability benefits.

Earlier we introduced legislation to assist Medicare-eligible veterans struggling with the costs of prescription medications. And we have continued to pass strong Defense and Military Construction appropriations bills to ensure our troops are fully equipped to face the enemy.

Fighting in distant lands can be lonely and trying for troops who miss home. Yet every day we see more evidence of a "can do" spirit and Texas ingenuity to help bridge the gap between our troops and their loved ones. If anyone wants to talk about family values, they should look at our men

capitol comment
by sen. kay bailey hutchison and women in uniform.

And speaking of values, it is good to know that the courage that burned in the soldiers of the Alamo still shines brightly. Sgt. Pamela Osbourne used to call her husband Rohan almost every day from her supply depot in Baghdad. Her last conversation with her husband is poignant. "Hold your head up, baby," she said. "I'm coming home. Even if I come home in a box, you should know that I did it for you. Take care of the kids. Stay strong. And remember that I love you."

Unfortunately, she and a fellow soldier were killed the next day. Sgt. Osbourne joined the ranks of those veterans who have died so we may remain free. An immigrant who came to our country at age 14, she had two goals: to become a citizen and to serve in the Army. In fulfilling her dream, she made that ultimate sacrifice.

Her devotion to her adopted country reflects the fierce loyalty which makes America the greatest nation on earth. This Veterans' Day, Americans pay tribute to those extraordinary men and women who in every war have unfailingly answered the call to duty. Their memories will remain part of the fabric of our nation forever. To our veterans and their families: Thank you and God bless you.

Trim regulations to trim US waistlines

By Michael Cannon and Radley Balko

The Journal of the American Medical Association recently published a study purporting to link increased soda consumption with weight gain. This comes on the heels of studies linking obesity to urban sprawl, longer commutes to work, time in front of the television, time on the Internet, not enough physical education in schools, vending machines in schools, marketing and advertising of junk food to children and countless other trends, foods, habits and (in)activities.

Unfortunately, a slew of nutrition activists and nanny-statists want to use the fact that some Americans are getting bigger to limit what all Americans can choose to eat. And so we're seeing lawsuits waged against food companies, calls for "fat taxes" on calorie-dense eatables, and moves for restrictions on the advertising and marketing of junk food.

Of course, sensible people oppose such measures and prefer a system where everyone is free to make his or her own decisions about diet and lifestyle but also is required to bear the consequences of those decisions.

But there are a number of things we can do that could both facilitate an increased sense of personal responsibility and harness the power of the marketplace to encourage good decisions about diet and activity. For one thing, we could allow health insurance companies to do "medical underwriting" — charging lower insurance premiums for people who exercise regularly and follow healthy diets. That only makes sense, as those people are expected to have lower health care costs than donut-munching couch potatoes.

Standing in the way of medical underwriting are legal prohibitions against allowing insurers to assign risk in health insurance premiums the same way they do with auto and life insurance premiums. Currently, many states require insurers to charge the same premiums for any member of a group health plan, regardless of risk. Removing those barriers would encourage insurers to begin experimenting with carrot-and-stick approaches to healthy lifestyles.

Congress can help eliminate state laws that encourage unhealthy lifestyles by enacting legislation similar to the Health Care Choice Act, sponsored by Rep. John Shadegg. Shadegg's bill would enable the residents of any state to purchase health insurance in any other state, under the laws and regulations of the state where the insurer is incorporated.

A nationwide market for health insurance would go a long way toward restricting the obesity problem to the obese, instead of subsidizing it by spreading the costs of weight gain over the entire population.

It certainly won't guarantee an end to the obesity problem, but it would be preferable to policies that encourage irresponsibility and restrict choice for everyone.

Michael Cannon is Director of Health Policy Studies, and Radley Balko is a policy analyst with the Cato Institute (www.cato.org).

Veterans Day to be observed in Clarendon, Hedley services

Several organizations in Donley County have slated services and programs to honor area veterans for Veterans' Day.

The Children's Ministries of Community Fellowship Church will honor all of those who have served our country with a cookie and coffee reception on Wednesday, November 10, at 6 p.m. The children will be providing a token of their appreciation to all the veterans that attend. The guest speaker for the evening will be Mr. Jack Moreman.

On Thursday, November 11, the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 7782 will hold services at the Donley County War Memorial at 10 a.m. Although this is a private service, the public is invited to attend.

The Adamson-Lane American Legion Post will hold their annual Veterans Day program at 11:00 a.m.

at the Rowe Cemetery in Hedley.

The students at Hedley School will hold a special program for the veterans beginning at noon. Veterans will enjoy a meal at the school cafeteria - (invited guests only, please).

Finally the day will end up at the VFW Hall in Clarendon at around 2:00 p.m. where all Donley County veterans will be treated to a free picnic sponsored by the VFW Post, their Ladies Auxiliary, American Legion Post 287, and the Friends of the Donley County Veterans.

Although the Veterans meal is free, the VFW is asking for donations for the spouses, dependents, and guests.

VFW Post 7782 would also like to remind all veterans that Golden Corral in Amarillo will be giving away free meals on Monday, November 15, for all US Military veterans.

ALLERNON and IMMUNA-FLU

Allernon is a completely natural, homeopathic and non prescription allergy relief remedy that helps your own immune system fight allergies. This unique formula was created by renowned allergist, Malouf Abraham, Jr., M.D as an alternative to the allergy shots and side effect laden allergy medications that allergy sufferers have had to endure.

Thousands of users say it provides them with effective relief from their allergy symptoms such as sneezing, wheezing, sinus congestion, watery eyes, and hives.

Immuna-Flu! It is formulated to ward off the wave of respiratory ailments that sweep through families as the kids go back to school and kindergarten.

Dr. Malouf is using the respiratory "dead germ shot" he used for 40 years along with some herbal formulas that his labs in Indiana have found helpful over the years. They've even tossed in some pure cherry juice so the kids will like it better. Ideally, the whole family will begin Immuna-Flu before school starts and continue it through the cold & flu season.

Halloween recalls images of past costumes

After the nice weather last week, who would have thought this week would get so cold? Granted, not as cold as other nearby places but cold enough. We are grateful it waited till after trick-or-treating. I hope you all went to vote, despite the weather.

So now Halloween is over, November is here, and the holidays will be upon us before we can catch our collective breaths. Don't blink, or you could miss something.

Last week felt busy, but now I'm thinking, I don't really know what was so busy about it for me. Of course, it was extremely busy for those involved in creating and working in the various Haunted House projects. I'm sure they're grateful that's done and won't have to be done again until next year. Hope they all raised lots of funds.

It was bound to be at least "busy-ish" for parents with younger children – the trick-or-treat age group – to find costumes and take them out candy-collecting. Did anyone else have kids just come up and stand on the porch waiting to be noticed? No doorbell ringing, (granted, our doorbell only works half the time and then, only if you hold your mouth right and press with the right finger) or even knocking. Not even any yelling out of "Trick or Treat!" at the top of their lungs until somebody came to the door. They just sort of loitered and breathed real hard. Strangest thing I ever saw, on Halloween anyway.

I remember the year my mother made costumes for my brother, middle sister, and me – the baby sister was too little to go trick-or-treating with us. I was a witch's hat. No witch – just the hat. Only she couldn't get the brim to stick on the bottom, so basically I looked like a big, black upside-down ice cream cone with legs instead of ice cream. There was a hole in the poster board to look through, but it was hard to match it up with my eyes.

My brother was an owl, complete with a hood/mask thing, but the eyeholes weren't spaced right, so he could only see out of one of them at a time. My sister just had a hat with bunny ears that tied under her chin. She was a very cute bunny at four. And she had to lead her older siblings around because we couldn't see. I think she got to wear the owl costume a year or two later, but the witch's hat died a very rapid death. In fact, I'm not sure it made it all the way through its first Halloween.

Our own children tended to be pretty basic when it came to Halloween costumes, especially the boys. I made a Superman cape and a Batman cape and those worked for years. The youngest often wore both of them. Or a towel. Towels make great capes. But the daughter did come up with a few original ideas. One year, we turned her into a computer—a big cardboard box covered with foil and one flap turned up for a keyboard—and later, she was a traffic light. But those were her ideas.

Saturday, we saw a lot of princesses, pirates, gypsies and bunny rabbits and one or two who I think disguised themselves as "teenagers." They were all absolutely adorable. Y'all come back next year.

Mrs. Ryan McDonald

Tyler, McDonald exchange vows

April Dyan Tyler and Ryan Kirk McDonald were married on Saturday, October 23, 2004, in the historic YWCA Building in downtown Fort Worth, Texas. Dr. Ben Craver of San Antonio officiated the double ring ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Barry C. Tyler of Wimberley, Texas. The groom is the son of Ms. Maureen McDonald of Arlington, Texas, and the late Mr. John Kris McDonald. Mr. Bruce DeLaurentis of New York City, N. Y., is the step-father of the groom.

Music was provided by Lindsey Stortz with the TCU String Quartet.

Readers during the ceremony were Ms. Anna Ritchey of Lubbock and Mrs. Kristin Duncan of Arlington.

Matron of Honor for the bride was Mrs. Jolene Woolley of Dallas. Bridal attendants were Mrs. Myra Sanchez of Abilene and Mrs. Leanne Campbell of Arlington.

Best Man for the groom was Mr. Derek Allen of Arlington. Grooms-men were Mr. Andrew Musfeldt of Arlington and Mr. John Tyler of Lubbock.

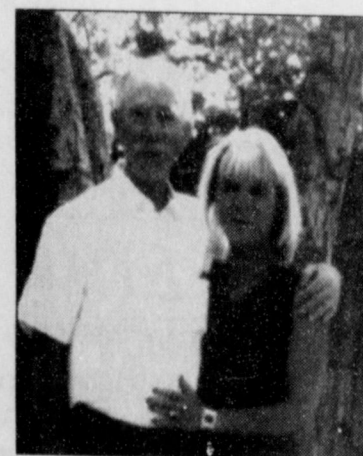

The post wedding celebration was held in the Grand Ballroom in the historic building.

The couple honeymooned in Jamaica and will be at home in Arlington, Texas.

The bride is the granddaughter of Mrs. Wanda Dromgoole and the late Mr. Connie Dromgoole of Clarendon. Paternal grandparents of the bride are Mrs. Lea Tyler and the late Mr. E.W. Tyler of Clarendon.

The bride graduated from high school at Amarillo High. She then attended and graduated from Texas Christian University in Fort Worth. She is a Registered Nurse and is currently the manager of the Electrophysiology Lab at Methodist Hospital in Dallas.

The groom graduated from high school in Arlington and attended the University of Texas Arlington. He is owner of Texsun Landscape Services in Arlington.

Debra Hegwood & Alan Chitwood

Hegwood-Chitwood announce engagement

Mr. and Mrs. J.C. Chitwood of Lubbock are pleased to announce the engagement of Debra Lynn Hegwood of Clarendon to Mr. Ronald Alan Chitwood, also of Clarendon. Ronald is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J.C. Chitwood.

The wedding will be held November 13, 2004, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Ater, sister of the bridegroom, in Lubbock.

Debra was born in Fairfield, California. She graduated from Normal High School. She has a house cleaning business.

Ronald was born in Porterville, California. He graduated from Idalou High School. He is currently employed by the TNMO Buslines, where he has worked for 21 years.

Howardwick Baptists plan for high turnout

Retirement is great. We spent another week meeting good people, seeing more of this wonderful country of ours, and listening to bluegrass music in the Arbuckle Mountains of Oklahoma at the Arbuckle Mountain Fall Jam.

This RV park is located between Wynnewood and Davis, Oklahoma, with Paul's Valley, Sulphur, Turner Falls, and the Chickasaw National Nature Center located within easy driving distance of the park. The main reason we went was the music, and we were not disappointed with jams going day and night. This was our second year to attend. We enjoyed it so much last year our children Gary and Candy from Houston and Colleen, Brad, and Ryan Fross from Wichita, Kan., decided to see what all the excitement was about. They were equally impressed and left with Web site addresses and the promise to check for locations of bluegrass festivals near them.

We lost another member of our community, Bernita Lockhart of the Saints' Roost addition, who died October 17. She was the sister of Clovis West and will be missed by all. Our condolences also go to Dianna Knight and her family on the loss of her mother, Lessie Gist of Pampa, who died Oct. 24.

The First Baptist Church of Howardwick has a big day planned

November 7 with "High Attendance Day," the annual Thanksgiving dinner with turkey, dressing, and all the trimmings and with good-byes to Shen and Lena Maxey, who are moving to Amarillo. Our community will miss these two who have been very active for many years.

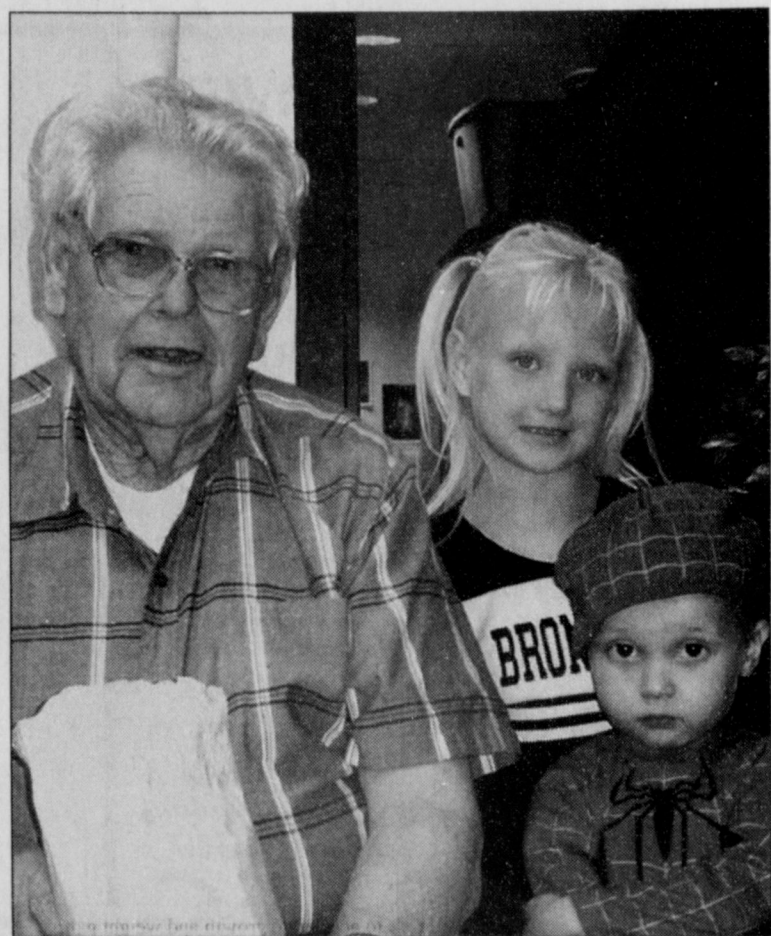

L.D. Robison picked a good time of year to have his eye surgery; he should be well healed and able to see all those weeds when he starts mowing again next spring.

The fire department meets November 11 at 7 p.m. Remember City Hall is closed all day Friday until further notice.

By the time this is printed the election will be over. I hope everyone voted, and we can focus on what is good about our country. It will also be nice to watch television without those political ads popping up.

Teach your child skills of social success

By MaryRuth Bishop

Have you ever noticed that some children just don't fit in? They want to have good relationships with their peers, but somehow or another, they always end up feeling rejected. And the worst part is, they don't know why. They think they are being friendly, so the rejection comes as an unpleasant surprise. Social rejection is extremely painful during any stage of life, but it may be especially so for elementary school aged children. In fact, studies show poor peer relationships may be related to a variety of difficulties including depression and/or the development of risky behaviors such as drug and alcohol use.

Several researchers have found that a common reason some children fail to develop good relationships with their peers is that they lack good communication skills. And, particularly problematic is a lack of nonverbal communication skills. In other words, children who are rejected who don't fit in tend to make lots of nonverbal mistakes. They stand too close, stay too long, interrupt others, hug people who don't want to be hugged, dress inappropriately for the occasion, and other similar types of things. If your child is one of the unlucky crowd who has difficulty fitting in with his or her peers, how can you tell if your child would benefit from help in developing his or her nonverbal communication skills? What kinds of activities can you share with your child to help him or her develop those skills?

What Is Nonverbal Communication?

It's important to understand that nonverbal communication is the language of relationships. It is in the way that we treat others, much more than in what we say to others, that lets them know whether they are liked or disliked, respected or disrespected, wanted or dismissed. And, there are different types of nonverbal messages and a grammar for understanding them that allow us to use and interpret nonverbal signals appropriately.

First, there are several channels or types of nonverbal communication. That is, we communicate with others using (a) facial expressions, such as happiness or anger, (b) space, such as standing close or being stand-offish, (c) touch or lack of touch, (d) objects, which includes the way we dress and things we use to define ourselves, (e) time, such as rushing or always making others wait for us, and (f) paralanguage, which includes the tone, intensity, or loudness of our voices.

Second, it is also important to know there is a grammar or set of rules for nonverbal behavior, just as there is for language. If people stand within arms' length, look us in the eye while talking, and smile when they look our way, we know we are liked. If people move away from us, avoid eye contact, and frown when they see us, we know we are disliked. But what happens when one person doesn't understand these rules? He or she may be sending messages that weren't intended or receiving messages that others didn't mean to send.

Next week: Assessing Your Child's Nonverbal Communication Skills. Questions: Contact MaryRuth Bishop - Donley County Extension, 874-2141.

PPHM to exhibit uniforms Veterans' Day

CANYON - The Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum in Canyon will observe Veterans' Day, November 11, with an exhibit of four United States military uniforms.

Originally known as Armistice Day, Veterans' Day is a federal holiday established to recognize and honor those individuals who have served in the armed forces of the United States. The original purpose of Armistice Day was to commemorate the cease-fire, or armistice, that ended World War I on November 11, 1918. The name was changed to Veterans' Day in 1954 in recognition of the later United States involvement in World War II and the Korean War.

The exhibit includes a World War I Army uniform worn by Edgar Lee West of Amarillo. United States involvement in World War I covered a relatively brief period between April of 1917 and November of 1918. A World War II Army Air Corps uniform worn by Roy Joseph Bourg while stationed at Amarillo Army Air Field can also be seen as well as a ca. 1960 Navy Reserve uniform worn by James C. Claughton of Amarillo, a veteran of World War II and the Korean War. Helen M. Norris of Bushland, an air evacuation nurse during the Vietnam War, donated several of her Air Force uniforms to the Museum, one of which is included in this exhibit.

Many families preserve military uniforms because of the commitment and sacrifice they represent, and often choose later to donate them to a museum. The Panhandle-Plains Historical Society owns and cares for a large collection of military uniforms dating from the late 1800s to the 1970s.

Cherry reunion

The Cherry family held their annual family reunion recently at the Bar H Dude Ranch in Clarendon. There were approximately 40 relatives present, and the ages represented were from three months of age to 90 years of age. The family meets every year at the ranch.

Hedley folks seen in BSA halls

It snowed all day Monday in Amarillo. Guy, Cathy, Mariah, and Christian came and brought me home from BSA, where I spent a week of rest and relaxation in their penthouse.

I think I must be paying for the new addition they are building onto the hospital. I go into the hospital for a minor little day surgery and wind up spending a week or longer. It is a good thing I have Medicare and Texas Blue-Cross Blue Shield insurance. I would have to sell another section of my kid's land to pay for it.

I don't know much of what's happening in Hedley this week.

I saw Junior Hill's niece, Pat, who is a nurse in the Critical Care Unit. Her mother is Inez Hill. I also saw a nurse in the surgery room who said she lived between Hedley and McLean and attends services at the Baptist church.

I also saw Julie Neeley who is Cary Don Neeley's daughter-in-law. It was almost like old home week for me.

My Pastor, Gary Bolen, came to see me on Sunday.

Peanut field trip

Eddy Helms, of Clarendon, talked to the Clarendon Elementary First Graders about peanut farming on Friday, October 22. The First Graders had been studying about peanuts and farming for two weeks. They ended their study with a field trip to Birdsong Peanuts in Memphis, where Joe Rolo gave them a tour of the plant. They ate lunch at the Creative Playground in Memphis and then went to Mr. Helms's peanut field.

Hutson completes basic training

Air Force Airman John Mark Hutson has graduated from basic military training at Lackland Air Force Base in San Antonio.

During the six weeks of training, John Mark studied the Air Force mission, organization, and military customs and courtesies, performed drills and ceremony marches, and received intense physical training, rifle marksmanship, field training exercises, and special training in human relations.

In addition, airmen who complete basic training earn credits toward an Associate's Degree through the Community College of the Air Force.

Airman Hutson will continue his Air Force training in the field of Air Traffic Control at Keesler AFB in Biloxi, Mississippi.

John Mark is the son of Jack and Katrina Hutson of Vanderbilt, Texas. He is the grandson of Opal Messer and the late P.C. Messer of Clarendon and Bob and Lorrein Hutson of Van Vleck, Texas.

National Merit Scholarship Program lists HHS boy as 'commended student'

Hedley ISD principal Joline Wilson announced that Stephen Howard has been named a Commended Student in the 2005 National Merit Scholarship Program.

A letter of commendation from the school and the National Merit Scholarship Program (NMSC), which conducts the program, will be presented by the principal to this scholastically talented senior.

About 34,000 Commended Students throughout the nation are being recognized for their exceptional academic promise. Although they will not continue in the 2005 competition for Merit Scholarship awards, Commended Students placed among the top five percent of more than one million students who entered the 2005 competition by taking the 2003 Preliminary SAT/National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test.

Howard is the son of Bruce and Gwynne Howard of Hedley.

Senior Citizens to hold board election

By Marlee Sharp

Starting November 8, we will be electing board members. Absentee voting will be from November 8-11, and final voting will be on November 12. All members of the Donley County Senior Citizens who are registered voters are eligible to vote.

Those up for reelection are Wanda Nichols, Carolyn Moffett, Onita Thomas, and Judy Castner. New candidates for the 2004-2006 term are Sue Leeper and Sam Grider. We are happy to have Blackie Hartwick out of the hospital and back at home.

Those celebrating birthdays this week are Jewell Judd, Sharon Grady, Jerry Hawkins, Ailene McElroy, Frieda Siddle, Marie Hill, and Betty White.

Our condolences to the family of Louise Carter.

Reminders:
Game nights - Tuesdays, 6 p.m.
Exercise group - M-W-F, 9 a.m.
Inspirational singing - 2nd and 4th Sundays, 2 p.m.

Clarendon Rotary will host pumpkin painter

Darla Assiter Carthel grew up on the Assiter Pumpkin Ranch near Floydada. At 16 she accompanied her father and brother to Dallas to a produce stall at the Dallas Market. To fill the time between customers, she painted one of the pumpkins to look like a Dallas Cowboy football helmet. This sold immediately, as did the others she painted.

She continued to paint as a hobby while raising a family and earning a Masters Degree in math at Eastern New Mexico University.

Darla will be the guest Speaker at the November 10 meeting of the Clarendon Rotary Club and will exhibit and meet the public at the First Baptist Church in the Fellowship Hall from 1:30 to 5:30 p.m. The event is free and open to the public.

City: Aldermen raise permit fees

of Aldermen held a final public hearing on Ordinance 353, which would increase building permit fees in the city. The ordinance was approved unanimously on its second reading and took effect October 26.

Tarell Dyer of Centramedia Online services addressed the board concerning leasing space on the city radio tower to deliver high-speed Internet to Clarendon. Alderman Michael Tibbets said he would like to see Centramedia provide free service to the City Hall, the city library, the chamber of commerce, the Saints' Roost Museum, and the Donley County Sheriff's Department plus pay an access fee equivalent to $375 per month. Dyer will speak with his supervisor and return to the November 9 meeting.

Colby Waters of the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission presented a resolution to allow the city to apply for a Texas Community Development Grant. Aldermen approved the resolution.

Ronnie and Melinda McAnear addressed the board concerning property located at 820 S. Allen Street, which has become an eyesore and a nuisance. Pate recommended proceeding under the Dangerous Structures ordinance and utilizing the procedure to have the house demolished. A public hearing will be held on this topic November 9.

The Clarendon Economic Development Corporation presented a contract to the board. Under the terms of the contract, the CEDC would pay the city $200 per month for light clerical duties, such as collecting the CEDC mail, paying bills, posting agendas, and reconciling financial statements. The CEDC Board believes the contract will allow CEDC to pursue its goals without incurring the expense of hiring a director. The aldermen approved the contract.

In his administrative report, Pate said a letter had been received from the NRCS directing the city to pay the money owed on the disaster grant, which paved 12 blocks in southeast Clarendon and made flood improvements. The board directed Pate to take money from a General Fund certificate of deposit to pay the $38,562.09 bill.

Obituaries

Carter

Funeral services for Edna Louise Mann Carter, age 74, were held at 2:00 p.m. on Thursday, October 28, 2004, in the First Baptist Church in Clarendon with Rev. Truman Ledbetter, retired pastor, officiating. Burial was held at Citizens Cemetery in Clarendon under the direction of Robertson Funeral Directors, Inc., of Clarendon.

Mrs. Carter died Tuesday, October 26, 2004, in Amarillo. She was born April 14, 1930, in Clarendon and was a resident of Clarendon until moving to Dumas in 1948. She was employed by the First State Bank in Dumas from 1948 until 1989 when she retired and moved to Pampa. She lived in Pampa from 1989 until returning to Clarendon in 1995. She married Garth Cyrus "Red" Carter on May 28, 1948, in Clarendon. She was a homemaker and a member of the First Baptist Church in Clarendon.

Survivors include her husband, Garth "Red" Carter of Clarendon; two sons, Johnny Carter and wife Deena of Shamrock and Randy Carter of Austin; two sisters, Ruby Turner of Hostell, Texas, and Francis Kennard of Amarillo; and two grandchildren, Dakota Carter and Jacey Carter, both of Shamrock.

The family requests that memorials be made to BSA Hospice in Amarillo.

Owls deliver fourth quarter win Hedley overcomes 14-point deficit to surprise Groom Tigers

By Will Verstuyft

The Hedley Owls traveled to Groom on Friday night, October 29, for an exciting game that came down to the final seconds.

The Owls received the ball from the Tigers and went to work. The Owls took the ball down the field, within the 10 yard line but could not punch it in. The Tigers got the ball and aired it up a few times before they scored. The PAT was good. The Owls got the ball back but failed to score and turned the ball over. The Owls did not allow the Tigers to score again in the first quarter but in the 2nd quarter the Tigers scored again, the Owls blocked the PAT. The Owls failed to score in the first half. The halftime score was 0-14.

The Owls came out of the locker room, and one word summarized how they handled the 2nd half - "Believe." The Owls kicked-off to the Tigers but soon got the ball back when Eric Alston intercepted a pass from the Tigers and ran it all the way back for a touchdown. But it was called back for unsportsmanlike like conduct on the Owls. The Owls got to keep the ball and ended up scoring anyway as Stephen Howard carried the ball in for a TD. Kolby Brandon kicked the PAT. The Tigers scored again in the third, but the Owls still stood strong.

The Owls entered the fourth quarter down by 14 points but they "Believed." That is what turned the tide for the Owls. The Owls defense caused the Tigers to turn the ball back over to them. The Owls moved the ball down field, and once again Howard scored. Brandon's PAT was good. The Owls played strong again on defense as the Tigers moved the ball downfield but were stopped on fourth down when they tried to move to the ball on the Owls and were stopped by Freshman Jody Hinton. With the ball and only a minute or so left in the game, Alston hooked up with Cole Llewellyn for around 35 yards. Then with 13 seconds left, Howard ran it in again for 19 yards. The game was tied, and Kolby Brandon came out and kicked it through the uprights for the lead, which turned out to be all that was needed for an Owl victory. The final score was 24-22.

The Owls' next game is at Memorial Field at Hedley. This will be the final game of the season for the Owls. Kick-off is at 7:30.

Jr. High Owls win last game of season with 6-0 shut out of Groom Junior High

The Hedley Junior High Owls played their last game of the '04 season on Thursday, October 28. The Owls took on the Groom Tiger Cubs in what proved to be a purely defensive game.

The Owls kicked off to the Cubs to begin the action and soon capitalized on their opponent's mistake, as Archie Sharp recovered a fumbled ball to put the Owls in good position to score. Isiasa Ramirez ran the ball up the middle and scored a TD; the extra point attempt was not any good, and the score was 6 to 0. The Owls and Cubs continued to go back and forth for the rest of the first half; neither team scored, ending the first half of play 6 to 0.

The second half had the Cubs trying their best to turn the tables on the Owls with an onside kick, but Braden Montgomery quickly jumped on it, setting the pace for the rest of the second half. Neither team penetrated the other team's offense. The game ended with the Owls winning 6 to 0.

Broncos whip Cyclones

By Sandy Anderberg

The long-standing gridiron rivalry between Clarendon and Memphis encompasses several games, and this year's winner was the maroon and white as they totally dominated the Cyclones on the road.

The Broncos showed they were the best team, racking up 348 yards compared to only 236 for the Cyclones. Several things contributed to their success as the Broncos fought hard to get the District win.

"This was a big game for us," head coach Gary Jack said. "It was special to me to go to Memphis and really put it on them like we did. It is always a big game, and that is what we call stomping somebody."

The Broncos took the early lead as junior Will Betts, who according to Jack played possibly the best game of his career, scored on a 4-yard run. The extra point failed; and after the Cyclones broke a 62-yard run, the Broncos trailed by one point. But the deficit was short-lived as Betts took it in for six from 26 yards out. Chase Thornberry and Quentin West connected for the extra point to give the Broncos a seven-point lead at the break.

The first half was not without some offensive breakdowns as the Broncos had six turnovers.

"We couldn't hang onto the ball in the first half," Jack said. "We made all of those mistakes and still controlled the game."

Betts scored again in the third period on a one-yard run to go up 20-7. Stepping up to add to the total score in the final quarter was Thornberry on a pass from West, Tim Sanchez on a six-yard carry, and Bradley Sell on a 12-yard run. West kicked the final extra points after the scores.

Jack was pleased with his team's play and proud of the effort from his offensive line.

"Our line probably had the best night blocking that they've had all year," Jack said. "We moved some guys in and out all night, and they did an extremely good job for us. Jon Vaught, Cody Scrivner, Michael Henderson, Tyler Lewis, Ladez Captain, Ty White, and Chase Thornberry opened some nice holes and made good downfield blocks, which is good to see. It shows you we're all progressing, and I'm very pleased with that."

Lewis racked up 12 tackles and one sack, Danny Derry had five tackles and one sack, and Stephen Ford had five tackles as well. Betts had eight tackles, one sack, one caused turnover, and recovered two fumbles. Sell grabbed six tackles, Captain had nine tackles, and Henderson had six tackles with one sack.

"Offensively, Will Betts carried 25 times for 225 yards," Jack said. "He also returned a kick off for 75 yards. Sanchez also had a good night. He carried 15 times for 80 yards, and Sell had 60 plus yards on six carries and scored one touchdown."

Jack noted several players on special teams who had a good game.

"Jesse Gowdy and Jeremy Utsey had great games on our special teams," Jack said. "They helped to keep Memphis in a hole a little bit and kept them from making big plays."

The win over the Cyclones gave the Broncos a 2-2 District record going into their last district game and 5-4 overall.

"Beating Memphis in Memphis is pretty special," Jack said. "It was a big win for us. Makes me proud to be a Clarendon Bronco again."

The Broncos will face off against Claude for the last game of the season next Friday night at home.

"We'll have to come out and play hard against Claude next week for the last game of the year," Jack said.

"I want to say congratulations to the Jr. High Colts," Jack said. "They had a great year and ended up 6-3, which is much better than last year. The boys have come a long way, and we're going in the right direction."

"I also want to wish all of the cross-country runners good luck in their upcoming Regional meet," Jack said.

The Broncos will face off against the Mustangs in Bronco Stadium beginning at 7:30 p.m. Friday, November 5. Senior night will take place prior to the game.

Colts post big win over Memphis JH

The Clarendon Junior High Colts blasted past the Whirlwinds Thursday night at Bronco Stadium in the last game of the season posting a 36-6 win.

Eighth grader Devin Noble found the end zone in the first quarter on a 48-yard run, and Nathan Gribble added the extra point. With only 28 seconds left in the first period, Johnny Ballard took it in from 27 yards out to give the Colts a 14-0 lead. The Colts allowed their opponent's only score to come in the second quarter on an interception. But halfway through the second period, Derrick Shelton grabbed a 48-yard pass from Gribble to put six more points on the board to take a 20-6 lead. The extra point was not good.

Billy Cenicerros scored with only one minute left in the second quarter on a pass from Gribble to put the game nearly out of reach. Ballard made good on the extra point. Gribble put the last six on the scoreboard early in the third period, and Noble added the extra point to put the game out of reach for the Whirlwinds.

In the fifth quarter, the Colts shut out Memphis as Nelson Devin scored on a six-yard run. The extra point was good, giving the Colts an 8-0 win over the Whirlwinds. Coach Kerry Teafatiller was pleased with the game and the season.

"I was really proud of the way our kids played," Teafatiller said. "We had great effort on both sides of the ball. We had a really good year that we will be able to build on next year. I would like to take this time to express my thanks to the parents of these fine young men as well as to thank the coaches for helping me."

Congratulations, Colts, on a great year!

Washington, McLaughlin winners of weekly games

By Sandy Anderberg

George Washington shot a 66 to take top honors in the weekly men's game at the Clarendon Country Club Wednesday, October 27. Second place went to Redell Johnston, Wendol Miller, and Dan Ashford with a 69. Ashford also shot his age once again with a net score of 84.

Maxine McLaughlin's 63 was good enough for first place in the women's game on Thursday. Ruth Jackson was second with a 64, and Bonnie Crofford finished third shooting a 65.

The CCC will be hosting a Polar Bear Tournament November 6-7 beginning at 1:00 p.m. each day. The team will consist of two players and will be a scramble type format. The cost of the tournament is $140 plus the price of a cart. You may call 874-2166 for more information.

The CCC would also like to say congratulations to Mike Santos, who was recently sworn in as an American citizen. His hard work for the club is greatly appreciated.

Cross-country runners advancing to Regionals

By Sandy Anderberg

The Lady Bronco cross-country team finished third in the District meet held October 18 at Thompson Park in Amarillo, qualifying them for the Regional meet to be held November 6 in Lubbock.

Sophomore Shelby Watson topped the Lady Bronco field as she turned in a 13:44 for the two-mile course, which was good enough for fifth place individually. Former Regional qualifier and senior Jessica Hernandez ran eighth with a time of 13:54. Rounding out the field was Abby Patten 14:47, 19th place, Uthala Abdullah 15:16, 30th place; Amina Abdullah 15:28, 34th; Shanna Shelton 15:30, 35th; and Kaitlyn Howard 16:36, 57th.

The junior varsity Lady Broncos competed as well, but they cannot advance to the Regional meet. Those running were Samantha Myatt 16:40, 13th; Erin Holland 16:44, 15th; Holly Cornell 16:45, 16th; Caitlan Hall 16:48, 17th; Anndria Kidd 17:52, 26th; Haley Shelton 17:57, 27th; Casey Phillips 18:43, 37th; and Trisha Hewitt 18:45. The JV team finished fourth as a team.

The Broncos also had a team and competed in the meet. Quentin West finished with a time of 21:39 on the three-mile course, which was good enough for 12th place; and Bradley Sell was 23:38, finishing in 22nd place. Ladez Captain finished with a time of 25:54 for 29th, and Keifer Burton ran a 27:08 for 31st. Jon McLaughlin also ran but was unable to finish the course.

"I was very proud of the effort that all of the runners gave," Coach Cara Hathaway said. "They have worked hard all year, and it has paid off. We would like to thank everyone at the school including the faculty, staff, administration, students, and coaches. We would also like to thank the Clarendon Country Club for the use of their pool for conditioning earlier in the season."

Hathaway would also like to give a special thank you to Coach Jack and his implementation of the Bronco and Lady Bronco speed camp. This camp enables our athletes to condition throughout the summer and gain valuable strength that they can use in all of the various sports that they participate in. Camp participation is on a volunteer basis and is something that the Broncos and Lady Broncos quickly bought in to during the summer. They are now beginning to reap the benefits of their hard work.

The Regional cross-country meet will be held November 6 in Lubbock at the Mae Simmons Memorial Park beginning at 1:00 p.m.

Congratulations, runners, and good luck in the Regional meet.

4-H Spotlight

By Ashlyn Tubbs, 4-H Club Reporter

This week's 4-H spotlight is on 14-year-old Amelia Taylor. Amelia has been in 4-H for three years and has participated in the following 4-H projects: food and nutrition, photography, community service, and leadership.

Taylor

Amelia was voted 4-H parliamentarian, and at every meeting she stands up and speaks for 4-H.

"I like 4-H because it has given me skills in public speaking, skills for society, and it is a good place to make friends," Amelia says.

Some of her hobbies include reading books and going to youth and church, and of course, 4-H.

"I've learned a lot in 4-H!" she said. "It's taught me how to take pictures and not be afraid to speak in front of big crowds."

Some of the school activities that Amelia is involved in include athletics, band, UIL, and annual staff.

4-H is proud of Amelia and hopes that she will continue to participate in 4-H and all of the other projects that it has to offer. Stay tuned next week for our next 4-H spotlight.
