ALL WANTED THE FLOOR

When the group of so-called "little business" men assembled in Washington on invitation of the administration to present their views of the needs of "little business," they all wanted the floor at once.

There are two reasons why they acted as might have been expected: They followed the example of congress; and they had waited so long for an opportunity to say their say that it just bubbled over.

Probably the soundest advice from any other group was heard when "little business" finally got its label reduced to a few brief resolutions. The boys from the forks of the creek know more about the nation's needs and the fundamental laws that govern than any other one group, not excepting the "brain trusters."

AND THE YEAR IS GETTING OLD

For many weeks now there have been a half dozen or more drilling blocks in Donley held up by the mistaken keenness of that many landowners whose property is located in the proposed blocks.

It looked like there would be a half dozen announcements of drilling contracts around the first of the year, but here 1938 is already one-twelfth gone—almost one-sixth—and still her own people block the hopes of Donley County for oil development.

There is no business sagacity in blocking a movement which would likely bring the greatest progress and development to this county she has ever known. One who stands in the way of thorough oil tests in Donley may be smart, but his actions are anything but.

A WORTHY EXTRA EFFORT

A worthy extra effort in recent months by the various tax collecting agencies of city, school, county and state, have been productive of an increase in the total taxes paid in Donley County, which is on a par with totals reported over the state.

People are waking from the delusion that maybe if taxes were not paid there would come a day when they would be marked off. They are coming to the realization that the cost of government has increased tremendously, and that taxes must be paid—that the day of reckoning is not far away.

If you have not paid your taxes, it will stand you in hand to make a beginning today, even if it must be done in small installments. Taxes are going to be collected—that is certain.

LOCAL TRADE IS A COMMUNITY INTEREST

Local trade is a matter of intense community interest, therefore, it is amazing that some people are content to sit idly by and allow others to project and carry out plans calculated to bring new business to the town.

For instance, Tuesday was the first of a series of Free Auction Sale Days, promoted for the general combined good of the local farmers and traders, yet with a very special angle of increased business for Clarendon. Notwithstanding, all this, there were certain business men who allowed the plan to proceed without any help or promotion on their part.

The first of the Free Auction Sales Days proved a remarkable success, and brought a crowd here witnessed only on Saturdays or circus days. Its success proved the great interest of our farmers and traders, and gives just an inkling of what we may expect as we go along with plans for the next one on March 8, and in the months to follow.

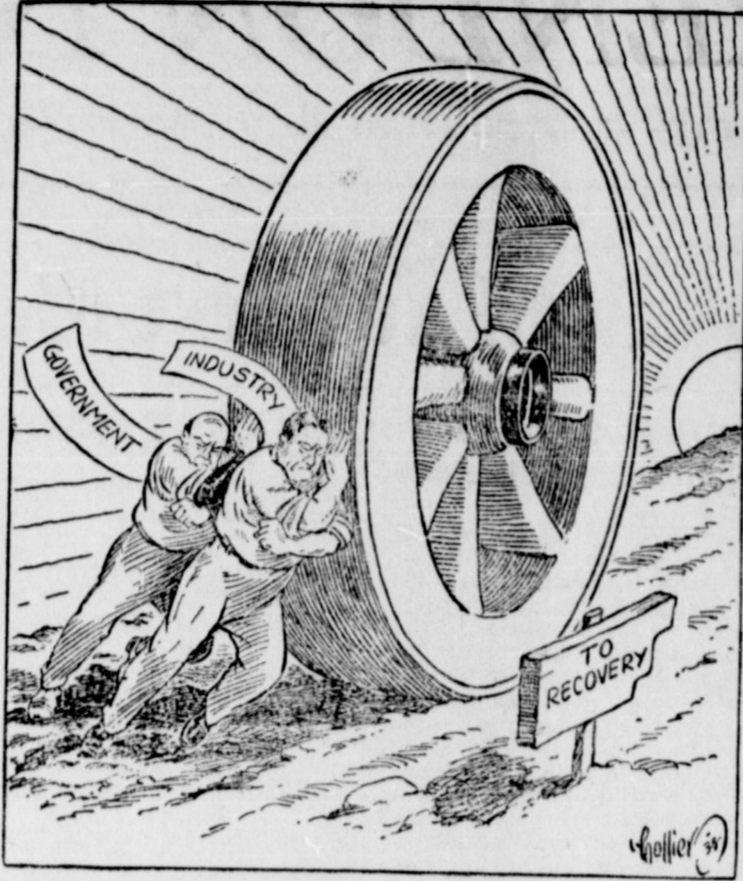

Local trade is an intense community interest. Let us get behind this proven popular monthly event and make the Free Auction Sales Days the biggest and best of any other county in the Panhandle country. We can do it easily by a united effort.

THE LESSON OF THE DEAD LINE

San Marcos Daily News: The old adage of the mariner, that "Time, Tide and Steamboats Wait For No Man," is well described as a valuable rule of conduct by Editor Lester B. Colby of The Informant magazine. Using as his subject, The Dead Line, as applied to a gauge of time in the newspaper world, Editor Colby writes very interestingly, as follows:

I had called to interview one of America's great generals of industry. He was a big, genial, friendly man—chief of a fifty-million dollar manufacturing group with thousands of salesmen in the army he commanded. He was a genius for organization; had a reputation for getting results. Men envied him the name he had built.

When we were through there came a twinkle in his eye and he remarked:

"I began as a reporter on a daily newspaper. What I learned in those days has helped me much each day through all my life."

"What was it you learned?" I asked.

"Dead Lines," he replied. The great industrialist put a match to his cigar and leaned back.

"I learned, early in those days, to respect the Dead Line. I learned that at a certain moment each day all my work had to be done. At that unchangeable fraction of time the job must be over. It could not be missed.

"At a certain minute the type had to be in. At a certain minute the type had to be set, the proof read, the forms locked up. At a certain minute the press had to start. Trains never waited. The papers had to go out.

"When I got into business life I found that few men understood the meaning of the Dead Line. It was not a thing in their consciousness. They did not finish. Tasks piled up. Correspondence and a mass of details were left over to the next day. Tomorrow was always a good day, or the next.

"It came to me that I possessed something that these other men did not have—an intimate knowledge of what the Dead Line meant.

"So all my life I have mapped each day's course, worked to the Dead Line, swept my desk clean.

"Every day, all my life, the Dead Line has been the policeman that has regulated my conduct. He has paid me big dividends. He has cost nothing for salary. The Dead Line has been my truest friend, my great benefactor.

"Without my sense of the Dead Line, I often think, I might have been just another private in the ranks. If any man should come to me and ask for my most prized secret, this one thing I would say to him: "It is the Dead Line. Make it your whip, your spur, your goal; make it a part of your daily conduct and find a place for it somewhere along with your religion. Never forget the Deadline."

PAUL SHELTON ENTERS RACE FOR COUNTY CLERK

The News is authorized to announce the candidacy of Paul Shelton, well-known business man of Clarendon, for the office of County Clerk, subject to the action of the Democratic primaries in July.

Mr. Shelton says this is the first time he has ever asked a salaried office at the hands of the people, and that his candidacy is based on his belief that he has the ability to properly serve the people of Donley County in the clerk's office. He intends to make a vigorous campaign among the voters of the county, promising a faithful and efficient performance of the duties of the office to which he aspires, if they see fit to honor him with a majority of the votes when they go to the polls.

He will appreciate the support and influence of the voters of the county. See his name in the announcement column.

GUY PIERCE MAKES HIS FORMAL ANNOUNCEMENT

In making my announcement for Sheriff re-election, first I want to thank my many friends for your loyal support and co-operation these past years. I have tried awfully hard to make you a Sheriff and merit your confidence. The Sheriff's office belongs to the people of the County to elect a many every two years as your Sheriff. I am proud to have been that man. If you think I have conducted the sheriff's office as it should be conducted I am asking your continued support and influence at the polls for another term. I will try and see each voter to solicit your vote and influence. I have been asked by a number of my friends to make the race again. I do not think the job belongs to me. I am just asking for the job again on my past record as I need a job like most everyone else and I like the work. Guy Pierce.

AT THE FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

There Is Always Worship Fellowship—Service

If your path seems all up hill remember that it is the road that reaches the heights. One should never become embittered or rebellious at the responsibilities of life. Loads lifted are life giving to the lifter. Duties and obligations met with a daring faith are invigorating and delightful in the living of a well ordered life. Postponement and procrastination are depressive and humdrum, and take away the alluring features of life that otherwise would be lighted and made fascinating by promptly recognizing and performing the duties one meets day by day. God has said, from the days that light appeared upon the earth, remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy. When Christ came He kept this commandment every Lord's day and said to His followers, forsake not the assembling of yourselves together. It would seem therefore, a binding duty for every Christian to be in his place of worship at the time and hour appointed in his church. Delight yourselves with such a duty and privilege every time the opportunity presents itself.

We had a good day at the Baptist Church last Sunday. It will be our joy to have you share with us the blessings that come in the regular services next Lord's day.

J. Perry King, pastor

FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH Robert E. Austin, Minister Frank White, Jr., superintendent Wilfred Hott, song leader. Bible school, 9:45.

Lord's Supper, 11:00. Morning sermon, 11:30. Christian Endeavor, 6:00. Evening services, 7:00.

CHURCH OF CHRIST H. V. Crumley, Minister

The subject for the Lord's day morning worship hour will be, "A little child shall lead them." Jesus said, "Of such is the kingdom of heaven." As one looks into the face of a little child he sees all the virtues that Christ would have in us. All the spirit of Christ is manifested in the little children. It is no wonder that he said, "Unless you become as a little child you can not enter the kingdom of heaven."

Two more placed membership with us last Lord's day. The services grow in every way. Won't you come and enjoy the New Testament way that we worship? You will certainly be welcome.

LIGAMENTS TORN SEVERAL MONTHS AGO ADJUSTED

ON OUR BOOK SHELF

"They Seek a Country" by Francis Brett Young has a historical setting. The first part of the story describes the hard life of the working-class of England in 1836, shortly after the so-called reform. John Oakley goes to London to protest against the enclosures to a Parliamentary committee, but leaves that great city feeling that his attempts were a complete failure. He is accidentally caught with a bag of dead pheasants and is sentenced to transportation in Africa. Mr. Young gives us a vivid description of the horrors of the convict ship. John Oakley and his friend escape from the ship when it stopped on the coast of Cape Colony to get a supply of water. The two men are given shelter by a Boer family by the name of Prinsloo. John falls in love with the lovely Dutch girl, Lisbet Prinsloo.

Mr. Young describes the Great Boer Trek of a hundred years ago when the Dutch decided to move from the Cape Colony and establish a free colony of their own in Transvaal. He also gives us a clear picture of the conflict between the Boers and the fierce Zulu. "They Seek a Country" is a delightful and interesting story of pioneer days in Africa.

PERSONALITY PARADE

(Editor's Note: This starts a group of descriptions of various persons in school who will not be named until the following week. See if you know them).

An attractive brunette Junior girl, she has gone to school in Clarendon at various times for a number of years. She lives in the country, but stays in town. Everyone admires her black curls and heavily lashed brown eyes. She plays basketball and she has many heart-interests, but plays no favorites.

One of the most popular boys in C. J. C. he is also one of the brightest. He is short and blond freshman with hair somewhat inclined to curl. He is especially good in math, but he makes good grades in all his subjects. He always has a smile and a gay remark for everyone at all times.

A tall, red-haired senior who talks and makes a lot of noise most of the time. She is always in hot water of some kind. She has many friends because she is very friendly. She is always well-dressed, and she is generally willing to try anything once.

PHYSICAL ED. CLASS HAS VARIED STUDY

This physical education class of ours is really accomplishing things. You would never believe it, but even though we do discard our dignity when we leave the grade building after practice teaching, we really are splendid primary teachers, (so we think!)

Do you know of anyone who needs a good architect? Should you know any such individual or company, just send them to our physical education class. Each member of the class has recently completed the architectural plans for his ideal modernistic gymnasium. If any one is interested in building a new gymnasium for Clarendon, we will be pleased to have him look over our carefully thought-out plans.

As we begin our new text book, we expect to increase our knowledge of health and physical education a great deal. We are learning how arthritis--inflammatory rheumatism--is cured. We will learn how to care for sprained ankles, bruises, burns, and maybe broken hearts.

WE WONDER

Where some of the kids got this new "bingo" that's been going around school lately. Just listen to some of them for a while and you'll think they've gone nuts!

Why Al Word doesn't go on the Lucky Strike Program. He's pretty near as good as the auctioneer.

Why three certain young cooks don't even take their aprons off before they go to town; anyway, they make mighty good candy.

If truckin' is good for the figure. It seems to be the rage around here now.

Why certain girls wish the college basketball team would play more home games.

Why "Kat" got so excited at the basketball game with Amarillo--two reasons.

How many packages of typing paper Ethelyn uses a day.

Why Pauline Riley, Johnnie Rhodes, and Billie Lou Gilbert would like to go to Claude.

If Dorothea Riley wouldn't like to visit Brice more often--and why.

Why Billie Cooke rushes to the post office so many times a day. It must be because a certain girl moved away.

If Miss Headrick wouldn't like to move everybody in her English IV classes up on the front row.

When "Skeeter" Davis decided to come back to visit school.

Why Phebe Ann had such a hard time finding her pick-up the night of the Amarillo game.

Why the right side of Frances' face is so raw.

Why Gerald doesn't ever shave. Why Jo and Mary Charlotte were so sore Monday.

If Jeannie has gotten used to being called Mrs. Weatherly.

RANGE RIDER

It may come as a surprise to a lot of people, but the college has a good basketball team. As I don't expect anyone to take my word for this I'll just give the statistics. The Bulldogs have won 12 out of 15 games. This gives them a percentage of .800. Teams beaten by C. J. C. include such teams as McLean, 36-22; Quail, 21-18; Amarillo Junior College, 39-29; Clarendon High School, 26-15; and several independent teams.

The members of the teams are Grady, Isham, Cornell, Rolls, Nobles, Powell, and Butler. Others are Wilson, Holtzclaw, Warren, and Penick. Butler, injured at the beginning of the season, has been unable to finish the remainder of the games. T. C. Isham, a sharp-shooting forward, was unable to play in the last three games, but hopes to see action in the return engagement with Amarillo Jr.

College on February 9.

After the basketball season is over, C. J. C. hopes to put out a tennis team and a track team. We did not have enough men for a football team, but we do for the other sports. You folks that like to have a winning combination should back the C. J. C. athletes because they are winning.

Three members of the basketball team that I forgot to mention are "Push-Shot" Lane, "Dribble" Strawn, and "Free Throw" Lane. These three boys have never been in a game but they have that never-die spirit. After watching them play, the coach remarked that their game was a mixture of ice hockey, soccer, and polo.

The Bulldogs have ordered new suits. The C. J. C. Curtain Club is putting on a play to pay for the team. We shall all appreciate your fullest co-operation.

Miss Headrick is coaching two teams of debaters. No other groups have started work yet, but as soon as the basketball games are finished, the tennis and track and volley ball teams will begin practice. YOUR MILEAGE MERCHANT ADVISES

to quick starting... here's how

Regarding the Ignition... Insert your key, but at first keep the ignition switch OFF.

Next—the Choke... Pull it out (unless it is the automatic type, of course).

Now for the Hand-Throttle... Move it to approximately one-third open position.

Then the Clutch... "Put your foot down" on the pedal and keep the clutch clear out.

Finally the Starter... After it has turned the engine three or four times, switch the ignition ON.*

If you do this with just anybody's gasoline, you will know that you gave it every chance. But do it with Special Winter Blend Conoco Bronze and you'll know you START! You'll notice you are always through with the starter and choke much sooner, saving your gasoline, your oil, your battery.

Know what?... Conoco Bronze. Know where?... Your Mileage Merchant. And ask for his simple, helpful Complete Winter Care Card... FREE. Continental Oil Co.

*If your starter is of the type that does not spin with ignition off, consult Your Mileage Merchant

EDITORIAL
Half a year gone. Even with most of us possessing that old school kid trait of looking longingly toward spring and the time when school is out we can't help but look backward once in a while and wonder how time passes so fast.
From our standpoint, at least, it was a successful banquet. Others made it a success for us. There were outstanding talks from men well able in their field of discussion and exceptionally fine groups of entertainers, wonderful dinner and service and a splendid crowd of friends and business associates. We wish to thank each and every one of you for giving us a grand evening. We hope that you enjoyed our company half as much as we did yours and we invite you to come to see us again.
We wish especially to thank our ladies and girls for their parts in rendering such nice table preparations and service.
And here's a toast to a bigger and better Donley County Teacher's convention. May it become more and more event and less obligation.
The Editor.

Perhaps no one individual in the world has been more in the public eye during the last few months than Chiang Kai Shek, hence the timeliness of the book, "Strong Man of China," by Robert Berkov. Berkov, as manager of the Shanghai Bureau of the Associated Press, has analyzed the trend of poetics in China since 1900, giving a dramatic account of the rise to power of the most shadowy of the world's great men. He begins with Chiang's early life in the obscure village of Chikow, tells of him as military the story of the legend of the last seven-branched Candelabrum, the sacred memorial of the Jewish race. The story was first published in the original German in 1936, and was translated by Eden and Cedar Paul for Zewig. The legend goes that when the Temple of Solomon was destroyed by Titus this resulted in the downfall of the priesthood and the loss of the Candelabrum from the Holy of Holies. In 455 the Vandals conquered Rome, and the seven-branched Candelstick, symbol of the insecurity of the Jews, started to wander again. Finally, after many wanderings, it was miraculously delivered into the hands of the aged Benjamin, the child who had witnessed its removal by the Vandals decades ago. He buried it in a secret place on the road from Joppa to Jerusalem—and there it remains, lost to its people. In this story Zewig gives symbolical experience to his desire for peace. He says, "Sometimes one side conquered, sometimes the other, but never did righteousness prevail." We have several of Zewig's biographies on our shelves.

London's Embassy Theater some weeks ago produced "Cymbeline" by "William Shakespeare and George Bernard Shaw." About eight of Shakespeare's original lines were retained to very closely resemble Edward's abdication. Shaw insists there were no political implications.
Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Anderson and Miss Juanita Dodgen spent Sunday in Amarillo.

PEACE OF MIND
Peace in any form is most important . . . but peace of mind "tops" the list. That's why so many drivers insist on Federals "all around". There's a wonderful feeling of safety when you ride on these sturdy tires . . . a sense of security against deadly blow-outs . . . a confidence in the ability of these deep-cut treads to grip the "slickest" roads. But that's far from the end of the Federal story! You'll be amazed at the long, care-free life of these splendid tires . . . and you'll be pleased at the modest price you pay for so much quality. Come in today and let us mount a complete set of Federals on your car. It's the finest form of "peace of mind" insurance we know of!
