COUNTY MEETS SET NEXT WEEK

SHELTERBELT, GAME PRESERVE AND AAA EXPLANATION ON PROGRAM

According to information received from H. M. Breedlove, county agent, there will be 14 meetings held over Donley county in the next ten days relative to Shelterbelt, game preserve and AAA explanations.

Shelterbelt officials will be with the county agent at the meeting, and will explain the various phases of the Shelterbelt project set for Donley county.

Breedlove will explain the game preserve project, in which he stressed that it did not necessarily mean that hunting would be stopped, but that care would be exercised to protect the birds and animals. This project is sponsored by A. and M. Extension Service and the agreement is that one will abide by the laws, and help to protect the game and birds on his land. One hundred signs are being painted, on 1x12 lumber, 24 inches long, which when put on a farmer's land will permit him to keep hunters out if he wishes, but it does not stop hunters unless the owner so desires.

Breedlove stated that all questions concerning the AAA would be discussed at the meetings.

The meetings will be held as follows:

- Windy Valley, Oct. 5, 10 a. m. at the school house.
- Chamberlain, Oct. 5, 2 p. m., at the school house.

THIEVES TAKE CAR TUESDAY NIGHT

1930 CHEVROLET COACH IS TAKEN FROM BUSINESS STREET LAST NIGHT

A 1930 model Chevrolet coach belonging to Mrs. O. W. Latson was reported stolen Tuesday night at 9:30 o'clock, from in front of the apartment house entrance.

Guy Wright, deputy sheriff, was called and a search was started immediately. Officers in neighboring towns were called and it was sent to Amarillo police to be broadcast over police radio.

The car was black, with license No. 346-035.

Wright and Jack Latson looked all around Clarendon until around midnight without discovering any clues.

It was determined that the car was taken between 8:30 and 9:30. The car was driven to and parked at the apartment house at the time Latson returned from work, and the keys were left in it. Passersby noticed the car there until 8:30 and one person stated that he saw two strange men nearby sometime around 8 o'clock.

BRONCHOS DOWN LAKEVIEW 7 TO 6

BOYS SHOW RESULTS OF TRAINING IN FIRST CONFERENCE GAME

Fighting all the way through the 50 minutes of football, the Clarendon Bronchos downed the Lakeview Eagles 7 to 6 in the first conference game of the season on the home field Friday night, before 500 to 600 fans.

Lakeview kicked to the Bronchos and the ball was returned to the 30-yard line. In the first play the Bronchos fumbled and Lakeview recovered. The Bronchos held the Eagles and on the fourth down forced them to kick. The Eagles fumbled the punt and the Bronchos recovered and after four plays including one 43-yard gain, Melton went over for the Bronchos' score and Hullan made a perfect kick for the point.

The two teams played head-up football through the second quarter and until late in the third quarter when Merrill, Lakeview quarterback, drove hard over right tackle for their score. They failed to make the point.

The Clarendon boys played hard football all through the game.

Longan and Huffman played an especially good game, both making sensational tackles on defense.

Spirer was taken out during the last quarter because of an injured leg.

The Bronchos will not play the game with Stinnett, scheduled for next Friday. Their next game will be with Mcбетie at Mcбетie on October 6.

The next conference game is with Memphis, October 13, and the boys are expected to be in good shape for it.

The line-up in Friday's game was as follows:

| Lakeview   | Bronchos |

| Davis      | LE       |
| Nash       | LT       |

Seventeen Additions To Church During Methodist Celebration

The Methodist Jubilee program which closed Sunday night was every way successful. The spirit of the meetings was that of the old-time camp meeting and revealed that this spirit is not dead but only hidden under a cloak of blasé modernness. Seventeen new members were added to the church, seven of them by baptism. Five hundred and fifty people registered at the church during the week.

The program given Thursday night was quite interesting. Mr. P. A. Buntin, charter member of the church, gave a talk on the first Methodist church here, how it was built and memories of the old meetings. Mr. Buntin led the congregation in singing, "Shall We Gather At the River," and other old hymns. Following his interesting memories, Grandma Rogers made an inspiring talk comparing the old religion with that of today. Rev. A. L. Moore of Childress, pastor of the church in 1926-27, preached a brief and inspirational sermon.

The week's program was climaxed by the services Sunday at which Bishop Boaz of Fort Worth preached. The congregation was delighted that the bishop was able to extend his schedule to preach for them Sunday night as well as in the morning. The service Sunday evening which was scheduled as a musical program included an hour of delightful music by the choir, including one number directed by Charles Dean of Plainview and one of R. Dean Shure's compositions.

Each evening during the meeting, the flower decorations were changed so that every color was used sometime during the week. The church was beautifully decorated with all golden flowers Sunday. A gold birthday cake was placed before the altar all of the week.

Rev. E. D. Landreth stated this week that the Jubilee was satisfactory in every way and that the generous response received from the people was unexpected. He said that the general spirit of the congregation was more enthusiastic than at any time during his time as pastor here.

The fellowship enjoyed by the people in recalling old times and hearing former pastors played a great part in making the Jubilee such a success.

NOT OUR WAR! IT'S UP TO YOU

Parrotting the phrase "that if there is a war we'll have to go in," is the worst kind of psychology. That jumble of words had more to do with defeating the efforts to "keep us out of war" than anything else, writes J. E. Jones, who has been a Washington correspondent for more than a quarter of a century.

Those who live in Washington, he says, know how responsive the leaders of government are to war propaganda, and war sentiment. In 1917 an apparently unwilling president, cabinet and Congress suddenly threw aside all restraint and caution, and acted like a pack of enthusiasts going into a football game. It was just as simple and silly, and tragic as that. So, you watch your tongue and don't contribute to another war-craze in our country. In 1914 the diplomats wrote to one another, and waited days and weeks for answers. That was fatal. Now the British prime minister telephones in every direction, and then hops a plane and goes to see the mad Hitler. Science and progress have furnished such devices of peace to prevent war. Chamberlain acted in terms of today. It was a tremendous difference from the old way.

The writer of this article understands the way the capital moves. He believes that if the people remain sanely loyal to American views of peace that they will hold in their own hands a certain checkmate upon any public official who would attempt to rush the United States into "the next war."

FEED 'EM IN THE SOUTHWEST

A million head of feeder calves and hundreds of thousands of lambs are annually shipped from Texas to the corn belt. Oklahoma and New Mexico contribute many more thousands of head to this northward movement and now Arkansas and Louisiana are getting into the livestock business. The cattle and lambs moved into the corn belt from the Southwest provide a profitable market for corn belt produced feedstuffs and are a major factor in increasing the fertility of the soil in those states. While this is going on, Southwestern farmers are producing millions of tons of feedstuffs in the form of grain sorghums, corn, oats, sweet sorghums and hays which they vainly endeavor to sell for cash on a glutted market. In the meantime, if our citizens wish to give a banquet to prominent visitors, they must first send to Kansas City or Chicago for the good steaks cut from Southwestern produced cattle, but fed on corn belt feeds, before they can print their menu.

Why should we send all of our cattle and lambs to the corn belt for finishing when it has been demonstrated beyond a shadow of doubt that we can do as good job at home at smaller cost? It is true that we have not developed our markets sufficiently to absorb all of our cattle and lambs, and we expect to continue to meet the demand of corn belt feeders for well-bred livestock, but we should lose no time in providing our own people with high quality meat, and in developing markets in the eastern industrial area.

The feeding of livestock for the market can not be developed to perfection over night. It is going to take time, but the Southwest is fortunate in having a large number of men who know how to feed and many thousands of 4-H club boys and vocational students who are rapidly learning. Farm and Ranch, sponsor and supporter of the Breeder-Feeder movement, believes that ultimately the Southwest is destined to become the greatest feeding area in the country as it is now the greatest producing area.—Texas Farm and Ranch.

THE DESIRE TO OWN

In a remarkable book entitled "The Desire to Own," J. A. Arnold, secretary-manager of the American Taxpayers League, points out this desire was largely the cause of man's long ascent to the ladder of civilization. Back in the dark ages that precede written history by tens of thousands of years, early man settled himself and his family on a plot of ground. Little by little he began gathering together possessions, which he would defend with his life. And as the centuries passed, other, kindred desires and ambitions appeared in the awakened brain of man—the desire to earn, the desire to save, and the desire to transmit property to those of his blood who would follow him.

Today the desire to own—which has been the desire responsible for all material progress, for all industrial development, and for all the expansion of our vast industrial civilization—is opposed, curiously enough, by that agency which man created in order to protect himself in the ownership of what he lawfully possessed: That is government. Through oppressive and excessive taxation we are making ownership of property of all kinds, whether it be money or real estate or securities or anything else, constantly more difficult. This is as true of the man of small means, who pays out a quarter of his income in hidden taxes to government, as it is of the man of large means whose income is practically confiscated by direct taxation. Federal and state governments possess unlimited power of taxation. They can, if they will, take all that any man or any business earns. It is coming perilously close to that point now. And thus, slowly but certainly, man's opportunity to acquire possessions—ownership of material things—is lessened or destroyed.

Mr. Arnold has a solution, and he repeats it in the same words a score of times in his book: "The power of government over the purse must be limited." Many other thoughtful students of history and government have come to the identical conclusion. Unless some definite check over the taxing power of government is established, the future of civilization and of individual ownership of property, will be destroyed.

NOBODY'S BUSINESS

By JULIAN CAPERS JR.

AUSTIN.—The Senate investigating committee, conceding its hearings on the Colorado River flood of July, last week saw the interests of washed-out farmers in the river valley all but forgotten, as lawyers cleverly transformed the committee investigation into an electioneering campaign in behalf of bond issues in 15 or more towns and cities to build competing municipal electric generating or distributing plants. A. J. Wirtz general attorney for CRA and Everett Looney, attorney representing the city of Austin in the hearings, grabbed the headlines and effectively tied the hands of the private power companies, by obtaining, through Attorney General William McCraw, an injunction forbidding the Texas Power & Electric Co. and the Central Power & Light Co., from presenting their side of the controversy to the voters. An obscure district judge, Raymond Gray, of San Saba, issued a sweeping temporary order on an ex parte hearing, forbidding the power companies and their employees from in any manner presenting facts or arguments against the bond issues to the voters of affected towns. The method resembled that employed by the Hitler government in holding a German election, where only "yes" vote is desired or permitted. The elections will have been held by the time an appeals court can review the order of Judge Gray and rule upon its justice. Bond issues carried by sweeping majorities in Lampasas, Burnet, Marble Falls, Fredericksburg and Bastrop. In Goose Creek, however, voters turned down the proffered PWA grants, and rejected the bonds.

CARMICHAEL PASSES

Death last Saturday took from the ranks of state officials H. H. Carmichael, director of the Department of Public Service, and executive head of the splendid state police force which has been built up during the past two years, since the rangers and the highway patrol were combined. Col. Carmichael, a World War veteran with a distinguished service record, had been assistant state adjutant general several years prior to his appointment as safety director. He was quiet and efficient, and had done an excellent job of ironing out the difficulties which arose inevitably in merging the modern highway patrol with the antiquated ranger force. Homer Garrison director of the highway patrol will temporarily direct the state police pending appointment of Carmichael's successor.

ALLRED WILL NOT QUIT

Governor Allred has revealed that he will not resign as governor to take his place on the federal bench until his term expires, January 7. His previously considered plan to resign this month was abandoned under pressure from his friends, and from Mrs. Allred, who felt he should serve out his term. Allred considered resigning to go on the federal bench when certain political forces threatened to oppose his confirmation as judge, in the belief that the fact he was already serving would strengthen his claim to the judicial post. But following the issuance of a letter by Senator Tom Connally, declaring he would support Allred's confirmation, although he was not nominated by the junior senator, Allred's friends advised him the opposition movement to his confirmation would get nowhere, and the governor decided to remain in office until his term was out. He indicated no special session will be held. There was also some suggestion here that indictments of Rennie Allred, Jr., brother of the governor on charges of violating the federal hot oil act, might have influenced the governor's decision. The case will be tried in the Houston federal court—to which Allred was appointed—and many here believed he wants it disposed of before he goes on the bench, even though the trial would be held before another judge.

PROTEST MEXICAN OIL DUMPING

From the North Texas Oil & Gas Association to all U. S. customs collectors in Texas, and to Treasury Secretary Morgenthau, this week went a resolution of protest against imports of Mexican oil. The resolution points out that since the contract of the importing company with the Mexican government call for importation of more than seven million barrels of oil at prices less than the market price of competing West Texas crude, the imports violate the federal anti-dumping statute of 1921, which provides that when a U. S. industry is injured by importation of commodities at less than fair value, a dump duty shall be levied. The federal law provides customs appraisers shall notify the secretary of the treasury, when alleged dumping occurs, and withhold appraisal reports until the secretary makes an investigation. The resolution points out that the Mexican oil, sold for 70 cents a barrel in Mexico is, worth substantially more and competes with West Texas crude selling for $1.20 at seaboard refineries.

AUSTIN NEWS NOTES

A movement to recommend W. D. McFarlane, defeated congressman of the Wichita Falls district, to W. Lee O'Daniel as state tax commissioner, was reported in Austin this week, but supporters of McFarlane were said to have encountered a counter-move in the O'Daniel camp to seek to abolish the office, and put the collection of franchise and pipeline taxes under direction of the state comptroller who collects most other taxes. Advocates of the plan say a considerable saving could be effected. . . . Reports also reached here that Edward Clark, secretary of state and former secretary to Governor Allred might be reappointed by O'Daniel. Abe Mayes, of Atlanta, house member, is said to be seeking the post, as an "original O'Daniel supporter." . . . Chief interest here centers in O'Daniel's selection of a highway commissioner to succeed John Wood. Despite the fact the appointment logically would be to an East Texan, the name most frequently heard is that of R. L. Lucas, of Fort Worth, undertaker and a director of the Texas Good Roads Association. Friends of Walter Woodul, defeated candidate for attorney general, who was endorsed by O'Daniel, are also booming the lieutenant governor for the post. . . . Gerald C. Mann, nominee for attorney general and Bascom Giles, for land commissioner, plan to take office immediately after they can qualify after the November-January elections, according to informed sources here. The earlier date after they receive their election certificates would probably be around December 1.

Mr. and Mrs. George Bagby returned Sunday from a trip to Houston where they attended a convention of life insurance agents. Mrs. Selden Bagby of Clarksville returned with them for a visit.

Co-Starred In New Film

GATEWAY

Don Ameche and Arleen Whelan are starred in the 20th Century Fox dramatic hit, "Gateway." The cast also features Gregory Ratoff, Binnie Barnes, Gilbert Roland, Raymond Walburn and John Carradine.

STORY HOLDS SENTIMENTAL TIE FOR DON

To Don Ameche, 20th Century-Fox star, his leading role in "Gateway" has a deep sentimental attraction.

For Ameche represents the splendid principles on which the theory of America as a land of opportunity is based.

"Gateway" is a stirring story of the joys and sorrows of those who arrive at Ellis Island—the "gateway" of America.

Don, of course, is as American as the Yankee Stadium. He was born in Kenosha, Wis., and until he took his recent vacation, had never left these shores.

But his father, Dominic Felix Ameche, came from over the sea. The senior Ameche was born in an Italian village near Rome. He came to America as a very young man, and his life here has epitomized good citizenship.

Don's father became a successful business man. He married a girl of Irish-German stock and they are parents of a large and happy family. There are eight children of whom Don is the eldest.

"Gateway," currently is at the Pastime Theatre with Don Ameche and Arleen Whelan co-starred. The dramatic story of Ellis Island features Gregory Ratoff, Binnie Barnes, Gilbert Roland, Raymond Walburn and John Carradine, Maurice Moscovitch, Harry Carey, Marjorie Gateson and Lyle Talbot are included in the cast. Alfred Werker directed the film. Darryl F. Zanuck was in charge of production with Samuel G. Engel as associated producer.

MORE POWER THE NEED

John J. Brodhead, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal Church of Dallas said:

"A great machine lacking power, a great movement lacking spirit, a great leader lacking faith, are all pathetic things. In our land we have million dollar churches that show by their works that they have lost power, spirit and faith, with such a loss can they be called a church of the living Christ?"

Hints Given For Removal Stains

Just as foods have their seasons, so do four stains on tablecloth and napkins.

Early September is an especially trying season for the homemaker, who has managed to squeeze washday in between the back-to-school rush and the now-or-never end of the ranning season—only to find daubs of peach stain on her best linen tablecloth.

So in consideration for hundreds of homemakers faced with similar hectic washdays throughout the country, we're going to give a few hints on how to keep table linen spotless by simple, home methods. These hints are for white, washable nappy, including that made from cotton and rayon as well as from fibers of the flax plant.

Foods now causing the most trouble as a result of accidents at table are fresh fruits, especially peaches, pears and plums; milkshakes and soft drinks, grape juice, iced tea, coffee and chocolate; ice cream and frozen desserts of all kinds, and salad oil and salad dressings.

Chances of completely removing a stain are at their best if you begin work immediately, before the spot has had time to dry. By all means do the spotting before laundering. Merely smoothing the surface with a hot iron, often sets a stain so it is difficult to budge.

Brush or scrape off as much of the spilled food as possible. Use the simplest methods first. Sponging with clear, cool water often loosens the stain, and it practically never does any harm. Work with patience and care. Often the way in which the cleaning is done is as important in final results as the cleaning materials used.

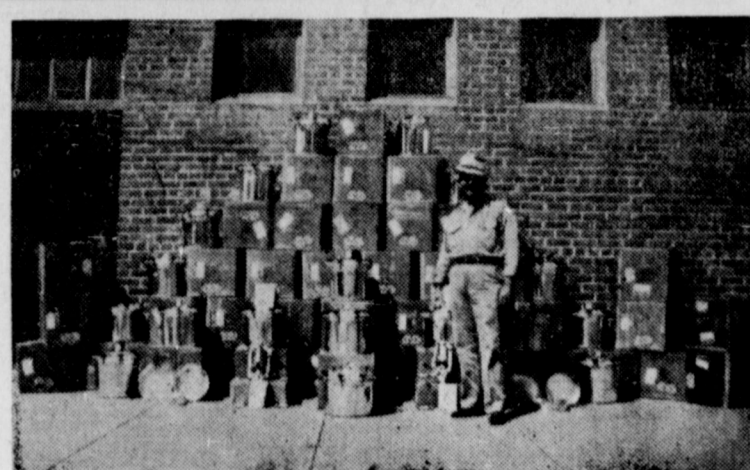

For quick and efficient removal of spots on nappy you will need three types of cleaning agents, in addition to the usual laundry supplies. You should have a good bleach, and materials for absorbing and dissolving various stains.

A bleach is the substance which comes nearest to guaranteeing final spotlessness in removing stains from white, washable materials. Sodium perborate is one of the best of bleaches because it works slowly and gently. It will not injure white cotton, linen, rayon, or even silk. Other good bleaches which are quicker and more vigorous in their actions are oxalic acid and Javelle water. Oxalic acid has the disadvantages of being harmful to some materials and poisonous to human beings. Javelle water, and other similar chlorine bleaches commonly sold under trade names, are potent and very rapid in their action, and must be used with caution. Read and follow directions when using bleaches—or your table linen may age before its time.

Good absorbents to use on stains are chalk, white talcum powder, cornstarch and corn meal. Absorbents act like blotting paper in taking up much of the staining material, and are especially useful for stains of a fatty nature.

A solvent of some kind, to dissolve the staining material, is almost indispensable in cleaning. Plain water will do the trick with sugars and starches. Carbon tetrachloride is invaluable for taking out grease and oil stains. It's the only common grease solvent which is non-inflammable. Glycerine is best for dissolving tannin which causes so much of the trouble with fruit stains.

To use a solvent, place the

Mr. Elvis Burch with the 70 cookers purchased through the Farm Security Administration for Donley and Hall county clients.

Canning Equipment Provided By FSA to Clients In Donley, Hall

The Farm Security Administration is providing pressure cookers for their clients to assist them in carrying on a live-at-home program.

Approximately 70 families in Hall and Donley counties have received this equipment. Every effort is being made by thrifty FSA families to fill the food preservation budget this fall.

Cellars, basements, "dugouts" and the ventilated pantry, if properly constructed and ventilated, can be made to meet these requirements in Texas.

A ventilated pantry is one so constructed that the cool air which is drawn slowly through the pantry during the days and keeps the foods in the pantry at approximately the same temperature as can be maintained in a cellar or other underground storage place.

As important as the pantry itself are the containers and the way in which they are labeled and stored.

A well organized pantry makes meal planning easy because the general food divisions suggest the daily food need of the family.

Oil Company Will Pension Employees

PONCA CITY, Okla.—The Continental Oil Company announced today the establishment of a retirement and pension fund for all of its employees who reach the age of 65 in the case of men and 60 in the case of women.

The plan, according to Dan Moran, president of the company, will be cooperative in character, employees making regular monthly contributions which will be supplemented by a contribution on the company's part. It will provide a minimum benefit of $30 a month and in the average case the total retirement income including the federal pension will amount to a figure somewhere between one-third and one-half of the employee's salary. For the older employees the company is providing a benefit in recognition of service already rendered.

"The new retirement and pension plan," said Mr. Moran, "was adopted by the directors of the is warmest and the bottom coolest, the following arrangement is suggested:

Top shelf — Pickles, relishes, preserves, jellies, and other sweets, as they contain sugar and vinegar preservatives.

Next—Fruits and tomatoes and citrus, they have natural acid preservatives.

Below this—Leafy, green and yellow vegetables.

Other vegetables.

Canned meats should be placed on the lowest, and therefore coolest, shelf for canned foods.

Stored vegetables and fruits placed in well ventilated bins or crates of one or two bushel capacity.

Vegetables for storing should be well cured.

Sweet potatoes, onions, squash and pumpkins need dry storage.

Carrots, turnips, parsnips and most root vegetables need slightly moist and cool storage.

Potatoes need be medium dry at a temperature between 50 to 60 degrees F.

Citrus fruit can be banked in clean dry sand.

Dried vegetables and fruits are best stored in air-tight jars or containers.

company after authorization by the stockholders at the last annual meeting, and it is their opinion that it will benefit both the company and the employees."

The plan affects approximately 5,000 employees. It will be administered by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company.

TEXAS 4-H ENTRY IN NATIONAL DAIRY MEET

Paul Adams, 18, and Ivey Miller, 16, both of Pickton in Hopkins county, will represent the state in the National 4-H Dairy Production Demonstration Contest at the National Dairy Show in Columbus, Ohio, October 8 to 15. The contest is being conducted by the Extension Service throughout the nation for the second year, and is designed to improve methods on dairy farms. The state winning team won over pairs from other counties and was awarded a trip by State Club Leader L. L. Johnson. The boys demonstrated the production of clean milk, showing the best utensils and the procedure to follow, and were coached by Assistant County Agent J. W. McPartridge. They receive all-expense trips to Columbus. Last year L. C. Love and James Dean of Eastland county represented the state in the national finals.

ELEVEN-YEAR TEST SHOWS PROFITS OF TERRACING

COLLEGE STATION. — Each inch of rainfall held on the land by contour rows and level terraces, resulted in an extra net income of $3.69 per acre a 11-year test has shown. In 1927, at the request of M. R. Bentley, agricultural engineer of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service, and others, the Agricultural Experiment Station has set up the sub-station at Spur, under the direction of R. E. Dickson, two comparable 10-acre field areas, one of which was terraced and the other with the rows running down the slope. The blocks consisted of Abilene clay loam soil with a slope of six inches in 100 feet. The terraces were of the level type spaced at vertical intervals of 12 inches and had the ends closed to hold the water. Measuring devices installed at the bottom of the slope revealed that there was no runoff from the terraced field while there was a 11-year accumulated runoff of 23.36 inches, or an average of 2.12 inches a year, from the un-terraced area. The terraced field, over the 11-year period, returned an annual average of 66.1 pounds of lint and 123 pounds of seed per acre above the yield of the second area. Figure at 10 cents a pound for cotton and $20 a ton for seed, the increased yield had an average value of $7.84 a year. The 11-year total acre gross income of the terraced field was $220.89, while that of an acre with the rows running down the slope was $134.56. The difference in gross income per acre was $86.23 in favor of the terraced area. Bentley estimated that more than half of the 10 1-2 million acres of Texas crop land terraced or contoured under the leadership of the county agricultural agents to date is of the level type, which is especially suited to the conditions of the Plains country.

NONE WITHOUT ADVANTAGE
A Clarendon man recently returned home from a vacation through the eastern portion of our country, tells of one day while on his trip, observing a farmer plowing, using four oxen. The farmer was yelling at them, as usually is the case, calling them by names. "Get us thar Baptist—Move oved Campbellite—hi thar Methodist . . . move along—close up Presbyterians." The Texas tourist being rather curious as to the use of these names pulled up and waited for the farmer to come out to the end of the row. "I am puzzled as to why you have named your oxen these church denominational names, would you mind explaining to me why?" The farmer rolled his tobacco cud around in his mouth, spit, and then languidly replied: "Why, stranger, them's the fittestest names I c'd git. This yer Methodist is a good critter and a willing worker, but every onst in a while he has to jump up and down and bawl. That ar Baptist is a powerful strong beast, but whenever he comes to a pool of water he allus wants to lay down in it. That ar Campbellite is an A-number one feller, an' does an honest day's work, but he is the stubbornest, contrariest critter that ever lived. An' this Presbyterian, he is he stiddest one in the hull lot. I can depend on him to keep them all together, but he's so stuck on hisself that all the rest of 'em jes' naturally despise him."

Fire Prevention Week Is Oct. 9-15

AUSTIN. — Stressing the importance of continued vigilance on the fire prevention front, Marvin Hall, fire insurance commissioner, today urged state-wide observance of the annual Fire Prevention Week scheduled for October 9 to 15.

"Fire uncontrolled is one of the most serious problems that confronts us today," Hall said. "Each year its heavy toll in life and property is a black mark on the proud name of Texas. Only by constant and relentless vigilance of the part of every Texas citizen can we hope to reduce and finally to eliminate the costly destruction of this economic enemy number one.

"Active participation in Fire Prevention Week by every Texas citizen will go far toward curbing losses and saving lives, and, since fire losses have a direct bearing upon the fire insurance rates, there are other practical benefits accruing from effective fire prevention.

"Fire Prevention Week is designed for every Texan interested in performing a distinct service to his state, to his community, and to himself," Hall said. "If we remember that the fire that never starts will never get out of control, and keep that thought before us each day of every year, then we will rightfully say that the practice of fire prevention pays big dividends in human lives and happiness.

STATE POLICE TO "CLEAN UP" TEXAS MOTORISTS

State police plan to "clean up" on Texas motorists—but in a manner expected to be pleasing to the motoring public, it was announced today by the public safety commission.
W. H. Richardson Jr., safety commission chairman said plans are being made to equip patrol cars with soap, paper towels and containers of iced water. Then, when state police assist motorists with repairs to disabled vehicles there will be a general hand washing scene followed by refreshing drinks of water.

The safety chairman said the idea is part of a plan to impress Texas and visiting motorists with the state's hospitality and to permit patrolmen, whose hands are dirtied many times a day assisting travelers with repairs to their automobiles, to "keep clean and cool."
"We agree there is hardly a task as unpleasant as changing a tire, but it can be made more agreeable if there are means of washing hands and being refreshed with a drink," he commented.

State police expressed the opinion that a cold drink of water may even soothe the hurt feelings of drivers arrested for traffic violations.

HIGH SCHOOL GIRL FINDS METHOD OF KILLING COYOTE

Lucille Goldston, junior in high school, accidentally discovered a new method of killing coyotes. One night last week while driving home from church she felt the car receive a slight bump and jar. As she had seen nothing in the road, she stopped to investigate and found that a coyote in the path of the car had been completely crushed.

MUSIC STUDY CLUB FEDERATED THURSDAY

Further organization of the Music Study Club of Clarendon was perfected Thursday, Sept. 22 at a meeting held at the home of Mrs. J. L. McMurtry. Mrs. J. H. Howze, president, presided over the meeting.

Mrs. G. S. Robertson of Childress, president of the 7th district of Federated Texas Music Clubs, opened the program with a discussion of the organization and federation of the local club. Mrs. W. H. Lee, also of Childress and secretary of the 7th district, enlarged upon the subject. Each member of the club expressed her views on the development of the club.

The purpose of the Music Study Club is to provide an organization of all musical elements in the city in order to assist in musical programs and activities of the churches, women's study clubs, men's associations, and all groups which have music connected with them. Since the club will be a member of the Federation of Texas Music Clubs, they will have access to programs and material of the federation. It is expected that this club will be foremost in restoring the musical activity for which Clarendon was so noted in the past. There is a great deal of musical talent here and when it is correlated into one group, it will give a great deal of satisfaction to the city.

The hostess, Mrs. McMurtry, served delicious refreshments to Mesdames Rayburn Smith, Chas. Dean, Ed Dishman, Lee Bell, Millard Word, J. H. Howze, Tom Goldston, Frank White, Simmons Powell, John Knorpp, Misses Anna Moores, Etta and Ida Harned.

STAFF:
EDITOR: Jeanne McDonald.
CONTRIBUTORS: Maxine Ellis, Billie Horton, Marie Bain, Pauline Riley, Jimmy Thompson, Clyde Benton Douglas, Margaret Faye Wadsworth, Rayburn Smith, Gail Adams.

EDITOR'S CORNER

Last year the Broncho Range won third in a contest for all the school papers in the Panhandle. This year the Press Club has made up its mind to win first. We must have contributions, regular contributions. If you have some idea for a good feature or a column, write it; and if you are a reader of the BR also think it is good, write your idea each week. You will be helping to make your school paper a better one while getting a big kick out of writing down your thoughts and observations at the same time.

It is the duty of those of you who were elected class reporters and club reporters to write regular features. You must keep your eye on the school before the eyes of your activities and the gossip found in your class. Anything that is interesting to you will certainly be interesting to the rest of the school.

If you were not elected reporter, that doesn't mean that you shouldn't write a little now and then. Or if you have an idea, then write regularly. We must have stories to make a school page. To have stories we must have reporters. We must have regular and prompt reporters.

The class has made arrangements for tables and chairs to be put in the school library. Committees will be appointed by the president later. The class will work together to pay for it later. To help pay for it, coffee, lemonade, and candy will be sold at the football games. When you go to the football games, remember the eighth grade.

LIBRARY NOTES

Everyday is clean-up day in the library. Book cases are being lined against the wall, and the new tables and chairs are being placed in the center.

CHS Broncs Win Over Lakeview 7-6

Oh! how we love these Bronchos now. The way they punched that old pigskin through the Eagle line was enough to thrill anybody. They recovered from their loss to LeFors and won their first conference game by defeating Lakeview 7-6 in a rough-and-tough battle.

It was a fight from the beginning but the Broncs were the toughest. They had some bad luck the first few minutes of the game, but recovered and by sheer power lugged the ball into pay dirt. Grady, Allison, and Melton aided by eight other Broncs really went to town. Melton was the Bronc that galloped across the goal line. "Tubby" Huffman kicked the extra point with ease because the line held splendidly. This score came close to the end of the first quarter.

Allison did plenty of long kicking for his teammates. Several times he booted his team out of danger. On the kickoff, the ball soared high and sped far before landing in the hands of an unhappy Eagle because he was surrounded by Broncs. This boy really knows his stuff and the general opinion is that he will be plenty good in his next two years.

The Eagles deserve praise for the way they advanced down the field in the third quarter. They really went places with that ball. They scored by several long runs but the try for extra point was smoked down by a Broncho rush.

After this score the Broncs battled valiantly for another score, but were unable to make it. The fourth quarter was a breathless fight. Everyone was wanting his team to score again and neither lacked much of doing so.

Fisher Johnson, Junior Spier, and Johnny Grady were slightly injured but were able to continue playing. They will be in condition for the next tussle. We expect the best from these boys and feel sure we will get it.

Our hats are off to the Broncs and will continue to do so forever. We salute your high courage, determination and ability.

Impressions of a Freshman in CJC

It is difficult for me to pick out the one thing about Clarendon Junior College that impresses me most. I am beginning to realize and appreciate the value of the courtesy shown the new students by the older students who know the faculty, the rules, and requirements of the school, and are accustomed to the building. These older students and the faculty truly fulfill their responsibility to make the new students feel at home.

The personal interest shown by each teacher in his pupils, and the systematic way in which the work is carried on is a recommendation for the college that the students and community may well be proud of.

The library, the laboratory, the museum, the band, and the paper are worthwhile assets to the school. The library is the largest school library in this part of the country. I was impressed by the several different social organizations within the college. They act as a stimulus and a source of worthwhile entertainment to the students.

The lack of chivalry shown to the girl students by the boys is the greatest fault that I have seen in the students. Chivalry is not necessary, but it is appreciated and admired. Chivalry is a habit that may easily be formed and one that results in gaining friends and acquiring good manners.

COLLEGE AND HIGH SCHOOL CLASSES ELECT OFFICERS FOR YEAR THIS WEEK

The Senior Class of 1939 met Monday for their first official meeting and elected officers to lead the class during the year. Billie Patman, last year's president of the class, presided over the meeting.

Neel Thompson was chosen president, Frances Hott, vice president; Billie Lou Gilbert, secretary-treasurer, and Pauline Riley, reporter.

Although no plans have been made, the class expects to accomplish a great deal this year and have a great many activities. There are 61 students in this class including several new ones. Miss Cope and Mr. Stewart are Senior Class sponsors.

The Freshman Class of Clarendon College held its first meeting on Wednesday, September 21.

The following officers were elected: President, Francis Morris; vice president, Jack Reeves; secretary and treasurer, Francis Grady; reporter, Jimmy Thompson.

Ethelyn Drennan was elected chairman of the recreation committee; Jo Word chairman of the program committee, and Forest Adamson chairman of the committee on rules.

Mr. Drennan was unanimously elected sponsor.

Mr. Drennan suggested that this year's freshman class could be the best in the history of the school if every member would cooperate with and assist the leaders of the class. He insisted that all freshmen help the president and various committee chairman in fulfilling the duties of their office and make the class one which will long be remembered for its work as a class.

ASSEMBLY

The assembly program Friday the sixth period opened with the entire group singing "America," "The Star Spangled Banner," "Love's Old Sweet Song," and "Old Black Joe." Raymond Wood sang "Music, Maestro, Please," accompanying himself on his guitar, and for an encore he played a guitar solo. For a second encore he played and sang "Lovelight in the Starlight." Mr. Drennan then made some announcements, among them being one concerning the college exs' reunion. He said that they still needed some of the old annuals for certain years and would appreciate it if anyone having them would see Mr. Price.

Mr. Burton gave a talk to the girls concerning the pep squad. It seems that interest in it is waning, but interest in the uniforms is growing. Quite a few who are apparently not in the pep squad brought maroon slacks. Mr. Burton assured them they couldn't get in for a dime by donning them. He also said that unless more joined there could be no pep squad.

At the close of the program the football game with Lakeview was announced, and hope was expressed that all would attend.

PRESS CLUB HOLDS MEETING

The Press Club met in regular session Monday afternoon after school in Miss Headrick's room. Most of the time was spent in planning this week's page. President Rayburn Smith appointed John Burton King and Maxine Ellis to meet with him and plan a program for the next meeting. Three new members were added to the club: Billie Ralph Andis, Clyde Benton Douglas, and Margaret Faye Wadsworth.

OPEN LETTER TO SOPHS

Dear Sophomores:
I write this open letter that might be done.

It is the custom of all colleges to initiate their freshmen. Clarendon Junior College is no exception. Every year the sophs rule for one week. They enjoy administering their pranks and the freshmen don't mind taking them. I am a freshman. I don't mind taking any thing that you might ask me to, but that is not what I am trying to say.

You have elected to your initiation committee a transfer. She is classified as a sophomore here but it is really her first year in CJC. Do you suppose that a student transferred to WT from CJC as a soph would escape freshman initiation. I think not.

There are three or four in CJC classified as sophs who are spending their first year here. I think that it is only right that they be dealt with as Fish. Any other college would deal with them that way. Why not CJC?
Hoping that you will see this question my way, I remain—
Yours sincerely,
A FISH.

SWINGING WITH THE BAND

Don't get us wrong. The band hasn't been sentenced to die, they have only received a new piece, "Alexander's Rag Time Band."

The band is certainly enthusiastic. Mr. Robbins has a terrible time keeping them from blowing the bells off the brass section. The reed section doesn't give so much trouble.

The new trumpet player spends more time arguing with the Alto players than he does playing.

Speaking of fights between the band members, have you heard of the Johnson-Cornell battle. It goes on all the time. The strange part of it is that Toster usually wins.

It is rumored, in fact it has been threatened, that the baritone players will lose their seats to a couple of trumpet players if they don't improve right away.

Some of the band members who were in the old Municipal Band, got a big kick out of playing one of their old tunes "Trombone Tobbogun" last week. It's a swell tune and everybody likes to play it.

RAMBLING WITH MISTER X

There's a certain blonde-headed girl that's a Jr., who confided with me and said she sure liked Allen Anderson, Well Allen, that's your cue, or is it.

Two boys stopped at my residence not long ago and wanted to know where Thelma Tate lives. Will those boys please make themselves known to me?

A new romance is being brewed between that Hedley heart killer, "Root" Reed and the ever popular "Red" Drennan. I wish I could brew myself up a romance with a certain C. H. S. senior.

Did you know that Charlie Murphy, on some mornings, wonders where his head is. Charlie knows what I mean.

Look on Lalar Belle Wilkerson's third finger sometime, or maybe I'm wrong.

Ray Palmer is afraid of war. Somebody slip up behind him and light a firecracker. I'll bet he'll run for a gun.

I guess I had better close on that. So until next week,
Good-bye folks, X.

TO THE GIRLS OF C. H. S.

Here's to the girls of C. H. S. Who have always tried to do their best.

While others have laughed, scorned, and tried To make them fail, and to lose their pride.

Though there may be talk, just let it pass, It never comes from the better class.

Keep your head high, and always go straight You'll reach your goal before its too late

If you leave off liquor, beer and wine, Work for a good name, not a good time.

You'll always win, and don't forget— Don't do anything you'll ever regret.

Who wants a girl who is reckless and wild While there are others sweet tempered and mild?

The wild ones have fun, but it won't last, For some day they find that they they are outcast.

Then the sweet, willing girls that was considered so meek, Rises up in the world a full life to meet.

And remember this, girls, if there be gossip untrue, And someone you love has doubted you, Don't give up—you've something left.

One great thing—Respect for yourself.

Chi Delta Chi Meets With Jean Piercy

The charter and new members of Chi Delta Chi met Monday evening, Sept. 26, at the home of Jean Piercy. Various games of bridge, forty-two and Chinese checkers were played throughout the evening. Miss Nell Cook has been elected to coach the plays which the club plans to present during the year. Delicious refreshments of lemonade and cookies were served to the following: Dorothea Watson, Ruth Cornell, Ruby Tucker, Thelma Tate, Jo Wells, Ethelyn Drennan, Johnnie Rhodes, nna Sue Williams, Forrest Adamson, Craig Johnson, Jack Reeves, Ray Palmer, Billie Cooke, J. D. Swift, Jerry McGowan, Charlie Melly, Ralph Grady, Bob Wilson.

BAND NOTES

One thousand pencils will be sold by the band Thursday. They are Maroon and white with the football schedule printed on them. The price is five cents and up. The pencils were furnished by the Pastime and Cozy Theaters.

There are about 25 new members in the band from Jr. High and South Ward. There are also some new instruments, including a new bass horn, played by Thad Lyle, a baritone saxophone, played by Mary Williams, and an alto, played by Billy Jack Shelley. The band went to the Fair last Thursday and broadcast a program.

GROWTH: AN EVIDENCE OF EDUCATION

By DOROTHEA WATSON
A human mind continuing to grow and to develop throughout a long life is a splendid and impressive sight. Broadened views, widened sympathies, and deepened insights are the accompaniments of growth.

There is much in our modern education which is uneducational because it makes growth difficult. Turning from the distasteful before it is understood is an enemy of growth. Failure to see the relation of one subject to another is an enemy of growth. The habit of indifference toward men and things, and aloofness from them is an enemy of growth. These, then, are all to be stunned while formal education is going on.

Life is a mysterious thing which cannot be controlled by impulse and instinct, but by reason and conscience.

IF I WERE

Johnny Grady, I would train better, and run faster with the ball.

Waldron Melton, I would block and tackle harder.

J. H. Green, I would be a real leader, on and off the field.

Berl Longan, I would have a little more fire in practice.

Bob McWhorter, I would not get 15-yard penalties in the games.

The Bronchos, I would win some more games.

Golden Jubilee Is Largest Farm Show

DALLAS.—Fifty years of successful State Fairs in Texas will be climaxed October 8 to 23 in the Golden Jubilee celebration with the largest array of agricultural and livestock exhibits ever before shown in the Southwest.

Otto Herold, president of the world's largest State Fair, said this week that practically every inch of available space had been taken in the agricultural building, with but little remaining in the livestock and poultry buildings.

Sixty-seven Texas counties, covering the expanse of the state from north to south and from east to west, will be represented in the county unit exhibits. In addition to these there will be a regional exhibit from East Texas, numerous exhibits by individual farmers, and showing by the boy and girl club organizations, and the various farm activities of the federal government.

Competition in farm exhibits has been eliminated this year. Every county exhibit which passes the standard of "sifting" committee will receive a flat award of $125 cash. This change was made so that all the counties could be assisted financially in assembling and transporting their exhibits.

In livestock some of the country's outstanding herds will be on exhibit. Every breed of cow, or hog, or sheep or goat in the Southwest will be represented. Cleanliness and orderliness has been made the watchword of this show. Attendants will wear white uniforms. They will be housed in an upstairs dormitory with running water. Stalls will be kept "scrupulously clean."

LIBRARY NOTES (By Mrs. C. A. Burton)

Quite frequently there come gifts to the library in the form of books which we are glad to have. Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Stewart sent us quite a number as they were leaving recently. Remember that we are always in a state of "amiable receptivity" for anything worth while. Often when a book has been read in the home no one cares particularly about it any more. Pass it on to us and let others enjoy it, rather than put it away on a shelf and let it lie unopened for years.

"My Son, My Son," by Howard Spring, comes to first place among fiction best-sellers the past week with "The Yearling," second—and the Texas story by a Texas woman has pushed up to third place—"And Tell of Time," by Laura Krey. Four of the leading Dallas booksellers featured a large advertisement of it on one page last Sunday. It is a story of Texas during reconstruction days.

Shakespearean scholars have finally been granted permission to open the tomb of Edmund Spenser this fall in the hope of finding some eulogy by Shakespeare since it is recorded that when Spenser was buried all the distinguished poets were present and wrote verses in his honor.

It has been announced that Dr. Herbert Putnam who has been librarian of Congress for the last 39 years will, on his retirement, be made "librarian emeritus," a position specially created for him since his services to the library have been so phenomenal.

Romain Rolland, playwright, novelist, historian, and pacifist, has for 24 years been an exile to Switzerland, from his native France. This summer he returned to France, broken in "heart, body and spirit," longing only to pass his last years in his native land.

When Georges Clemenceau became premier he threatened to have Rolland tried and executed for treason should he ever return. Rolland's "Jean Christopher" won the Nobel prize in 1915. It would seem that the time of his return is unfortunate.

Upton Sinclair celebrated his sixtieth birthday on the 20th of this month, by having published his sixtieth book, a novel entitled "Little Steel." Mr. Sinclair, who is described as slender and mild-mannered, lives at Pasadena, California. Those who read his recent article on the present situation, which was copyrighted by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate, can doubt his knowledge of world affairs or his ability to write of them.

We are newly impressed by the fact that we are a young nation when we read of the library of the Society of Antiquaries in London among whose treasures are found "The Boke of St. Albans," printed in 1487 and "The Nuremberg Chronicle," a history of the world, printed in 1493, containing 2,000 woodcuts as illustrations.

Many and varied are the activities of the writers with whose names we are familiar in the present day. One of these is Dorothy Thompson, wife of Sinclair Lewis, Nobel prize-winner a few years ago. Through the press we learn that Dorothy Thompson is returning to the air as commentator where she was known for her expert analysis of national and international affairs as well as her unusually clear delivery. Miss Thompson is a native of New York and a graduate of Syracuse University in 1914. She began her journalistic career as a roving reporter in Europe where she made exhaustive studies of political and economic situations and when she came in contact with most of the leading public figures of the continent. She is as well known in her line of writing as her author - husband, Sinclair Lewis, is in his. One of the books listed as a non-fiction best-seller the past week was "Dorothy Thompson's Political Guide."

Very timely just now is Thomas Mann's late book, "The Coming Victory of Democracy." Mann was born in Hanseatic Lubeck, near Hamburg, in 1875, but moved to Munich, where he lived for 29 years. With the accession of the Nazi regime, he immediately went into voluntary exile abroad. And he now plans to become an American citizen. He is a former Nobel prize-winner, author of "The Magic Mountains," and the monumental novels, "Joseph and His Brothers," "Young Joseph," and "Joseph in Egypt." Many critics consider Thomas Mann one of the greatest living writers and all these things make us feel the timeliness of the prediction contained in the title of his book, "Victory." It is listed as a best-seller the past week.

Another timely book which is getting much attention is "In Search of Soviet Gold," by John D. Littlepage and Demover Sess. For the year beginning with 1928, Mr. Littlepage, a mining engineer, worked for the Soviet Gold Trust, spending most of his time in the Ural Mountains, Eastern Siberia, and other out-of-the-way places unknown to the world. He was largely instrumental in causing the Soviet Union to rise to second place in the world production of gold. There is very little that is personal in the book. He gives only 12 and a half pages to a 1,200-mile trip which he and his wife made in a Soviet Ford through the Ural and Altai Mountains and over the camel trails of Kazak Steppe. In all he traveled some 200,000 miles opening up mines and keeping up production, carrying out an industrial campaign of titanic proportions. He was one of the first American technicians called to Russia and one of the last to leave. He gives a clear, straightforward account of the Soviet industrial system during the chaotic years through the first five year plan to the great purge. His intelligent view of this Communist Republic gives a true and unadulterated picture of conditions which will be of especial interest as this time. A condensation of the book is given in the book section of Readers' Digest for October.

Joseph Auslander is bringing out a new volume of poems this month under the title "Riders at the Gate."

Home demonstration club women of Castro county say they don't lose an corn or other vegetables if they pre-cook it and are very careful to can it as soon as it is gathered and cool the cans quickly.

Mrs. V. Townsend of Hardin county uses very ripe figs pressed flat and rolled with sugar as a delicious dessert. She puts a layer of figs and a layer of whipped cream, then sprinkles with nuts and chills.

Betty Barclay's Food Facts No. 1 The Orange

As these features appear, clip and file for future use. Each story deals with a different food. Each statement a fact. Each recipe a tested tasty.

The orange is one of our year-round fruits. When the Navel, or winter orange begins to disappear from the market, the Valencia or summer orange takes its place.

The Valencia, or summer orange, is supposed to have originated in the Azores. Under California climatic conditions this fruit ripens from April to November and supplies millions of homes with their summer fruit punches and morning orange juice.

Few foods are as valuable in the diet as the orange. It has a decided alkaline reaction when taken into the system and thus tends to counteract the acid reaction of many common and healthful goods. Furthermore, the orange is rich in Vitamins A, B and C.

With hot weather upon us, you may be interested in the fact that recent experiments have shown that exposure to high temperature will cause as much as a fifty per cent loss in Vitamin C from the body tissues. As lowered Vitamin C reserves go hand-in-hand with the tired feeling we get when the weather is sizzling hot, the following recipes are suggested as beverages that are more than delicious hot weather drinks:

Hollywood Parade (Serves 30)

- 1 quart orange juice
- 1 quart orange sherbet
- 1 quart vanilla ice cream
- 1 quart chilled ginger ale

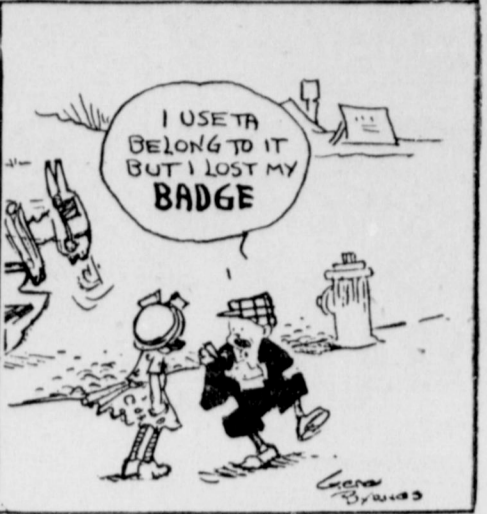

Beat orange juice, sherbet and ice cream with whirl type beater until well mixed. Add ginger ale. Stir and serve at once.

Patio Cooler

- 2 cups boiling water
- 8 teaspoons jasmine tea
- 1 1/2 cups sugar
- 5 cups orange juice
- 1 cup lemon juice
- 2 quarts of ice water, ginger ale or charged water
- 1 quart orange sherbet
- Orange slices for garnish

Pour boiling water over tea. Steep 5 minutes. Strain and dissolve sugar in warm liquid. Cool. Add chilled fruit juices. Just before serving, add ice water or carbonated beverage. Garnish with orange slices. Float sherbet on top. (Makes 1 gallon—fills an ordinary punch bowl—30 small punch glass servings.)

REG'LAR FELLERS

King's-X Until He Finds It

It's Not Saved Until It's Safe

By T. C. RICHARDSON, Secretary
Texas Breeder-Feeder Association

Work piled up during cotton picking time and the inclination is to let other things go until the staple is safely ginned. It is impossible to plant all feed crops so that they mature and may be harvested at their best either before or after cotton picking time, and the best that can be done is to hire extra labor or else let some crops deteriorate in the field.

There is a great deal of difference in the feeding value of all hay and forage crops, depending on whether they are cut and cured at their best, or allowed to become over-ripe and woody. Weather damage in the shock is also much greater than in the stack or in the barn, and it is like throwing away part of the crop after it is made to let it stand too long, either before or after harvesting. In the case of grain sorghums birds often destroy more than enough to pay the cost of getting it into stack or barn.

Haying and curing dry bundle feed cannot be done in rainy weather, especially if it is warm enough to encourage mildew, but moisture helps rather than hinders the making of ensilage so long as the ground is not too muddy to permit harvesting. Troy Fenner, an Erath county farmer, last year got caught with a crop of forage ready for harvest, and saved it in fine shape by using an abandoned cistern as a silo. His cows doubled their milk production, when he began feeding the ensilage and this year he had a large trench silo ready to fill when the crop was ready.

It has cost a good deal of labor and several months time to produce the fine feed crop that the Southwest has this year, but it is not saved until it is safe—in the mow, the sack, or the silo. It is worth making an extra effort to see that none of it is wasted by standing in the field too long. Every bushel of grain and every ton of forage is potentially a few pounds of meat, milk or other livestock produce, and every pound of those products is equivalent to money in the purse.

Government crop estimates indicate the largest corn and grain sorghum crop the Southwest has ever had, and the same may be said of hay, for which the season has been unusually favorable in most sections, promising later cuttings than normal. Corn 182,937,000 bushels; grain sorghums 86,086,000 bushels; hay (except alfalfa) 4,385,000 tons; alfalfa, 1,124,000 tons. Let's save it all in this fat year—next year may be a lean one.

There is still time to sow winter cover crops for grazing, to help protect the soil from washing by winter rains, and to harvest next spring or turn under for soil improvement. There is a wide choice of crops for the

Trench Silos In Texas Increase

COLLEGE STATION. — There will be at least 15,000 trench silos filled in Texas in 1938, and there is a possibility that the figure will reach 20,000, reports from county agricultural agents indicate. Slightly more than 10,000 were filled in 1937.

If the figure reaches 20,000, 1938 will mark the eighth consecutive year in which the number of trench silos in the state has doubled over the previous season's totals.

"There have been good feed crops over most of the state, but the big thing is that farmers have found the trench silo the cheapest and best way of storing feed, and that county agents, vocational teachers, bankers, business men, and civic organizations have all pushed the trench silo idea," E. R. Eudaly, dairyman of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service, pointed out in explaining the rapid increase in the use of the trench silo.

"I understand, for instance, that the Farm Security Administration is urging all its clients to dig and fill trenches."

An outstanding example of the spread of the trench silo method is found in Fisher county, where 80 trenches were filled in 1937. So far in 1938 over 350 have been filled and indications are that the number will reach 500 by the end of the harvest season.

"The trench silo is about the only way to store grain in those sections of the state where weevils do so much damage," Eudaly said. In Willacy county, combines have been used to harvest a large grain sorghum crop and the grain has been placed in trench silos for future use.

"Weevils, or fire, wind, dust, rats, floods, or time itself can't hurt the feed once it's in a trench silo," the dairyman commented.

Mrs. L. H. McClothin of Hardin county places small spring potatoes on the barn floor and covers them with damp straw for several days before planting in order to sprout them. This always results in a better stand.

PWA Applications To Close Sept. 30

A flood of last minute applications were being filed this week with the Fifth Regional office of the Public Works Administration as September 30, set by Congress as the last day on which applications may be filed, drew near.

Geo. M. Bell, regional director, estimated that the final total of application to be filed in the seven-state region would approach the 1,500 mark, 100 more than had been expected at the beginning of the filing period in June.

Little more than three months following the signing of the 1938 PWA act, the program was moving forward with no loss of the speed ordered by Administrator Harold L. Ickes at its inception. In the Fifth Region approximately 800 projects have received allotments, bid openings have been held or are scheduled on 275 projects, and 110 of the projects are under actual construction.

The number of new projects which have reached the construction stage in each of the seven states of the region is as follows: Arkansas 6, Colorado 12, Kansas 16, Louisiana 10, New Mexico 3, Oklahoma 2, and Texas 61.

Local officials and PWA engineers are now cooperating in rushing hundreds of other projects into the building stage in order to provide as much employment as possible before winter sets in. The construction of these projects will provide not only thousands of man hours of work at the site of the projects but material orders will generate

If we are ever going to need a cooling-system for some of our rusty and moth-infested cash registers in this here nation, we gotta get some more double-fisters like they here in Ohio, and Oregon, and etc.

Presenting Clarendon Junior College

By DORTHEA WATSON

There is, perhaps, no branch of education within the reach of the masses, so well calculated to impress upon the youthful mind the importance of system, accuracy, and accountability in the affairs of life as the study of bookkeeping and accounting.

No matter what a person's education is to be a thorough understanding of the science of accounts cannot fail to be one of the greatest value to him either in practical utility or as a resource in giving strength and confidence to the mind; and to one who designs entering upon a business career, knowledge of this subject should be regarded as an absolute necessity. In a country like ours, with an almost boundless extent of territory and resources, with unequalled enterprise among the people, and where each is aspiring and everyone is free to exercise his skill in any direction, and liable to be called upon to occupy positions of trust and responsibility in the community, the study of accounts should be regarded as a necessity in a system of popular education.

The demand for accounting-trained men has increased tremendously in the past quarter-century. Today, the accountant is not merely a bookkeeper. He is a trained specialist. There is about as much difference between an accountant and a bookkeeper as there is between an architect and a bricklayer.

Most employers prefer to promote their own employees, rather than to bring in outsiders. An increase in the general demand for accountants will bring many new opportunities for promotion. Those with accounting ability will be moved up to meet the demand. This will also open up, for the beginner who possesses accounting knowledge, many opportunities to fill the vacancies thus created.

The accounting department of the Clarendon Jr. College is another in which classes are increasing each year. It is no longer the course which has confused pupils so much because it has been taught in such haphazard way. It is now considered as a science, in which students can prove their work instead having stated facts to memorize. Our college is proud of the excellent accounting department we now possess. Although it is only one of the courses offered in the business education department, it is perhaps the most important.

Financial assets of the University of Texas and its medical branch at Galveston now total $5,444,254, an increase of $2,831,005 over the previous year.
