Methodist Golden Jubilee Marks Fifty Years Service To Clarendon Community

FULL WEEK OF NOTABLE PROGRAMS CULMINATES
SUNDAY IN SERMON BY BISHOP H. A. BOAZ AT 11 O'CLOCK WITH MUSIC PROGRAM IN EVENING

The Golden Jubilee Celebration of the Clarendon Methodist Church will close eight days of notable programs and preaching next Sunday morning and evening, when Bishop H. A. Boaz, long identified with church movements in Texas and the Nation, will preach at the morning hour, and the choir will render a program of worshipful music at night.

Beginning last Sunday with a sermon by Rev. J. Sam Barcus, pastor of the local church over 40 years ago, and later president of Clarendon College, the celebration of the history and achievements of the local congregation has proceeded with intense interest, and splendid preaching by former pastors and presiding elders.

Sunday afternoon a vesper service was held on the site of the first church building erected by the Southern Methodist congregation, honoring the halcyon ground and those sturdy pioneers who launched the church in this community. The CHS Band played 1910, now pastor at Archer City, Texas, and who built the present handsome brick church in the last year of his pastorate here, preached Sunday night and Monday night to the delight of the congregation and visitors.

Rev. W. M. Murrell, presiding elder of the Clarendon District from 1927-1930, retired and now living in Abilene, was here Tuesday and preached at the evening hour.

Wednesday evening came the program dedicated to the history of the church over the fifty-year period. Mrs. C. A. Burton was chairman of the committee which rest to the congregation. A large cake bearing fifty candles has been the center of decorative schemes at the altars of the church this week, and special music by the choir has featured every service. two hymns, Dr. G. S. Hardy offered the prayer, and short talks were made by Dr. J. Sam Barcus and Rev. O. P. Kiker, in a brief program under the direction of the pastor, Rev. E. D. Landreth. Moving to the block just south of the Courthouse, the assembly passed on the site of the first church erected in Clarendon by the Northern Methodists for a brief tribute. In this church the Southern Methodists worshipped for two years preceding the building of their own church. Rev. E. D. Landreth read a letter to the group from Dr. G. O. Richardson now of Denver, Colo., who was the pastor of the North Methodist Church when it was built, and who wrote his congratulations to P. A. Buntin, charter-member of the Clarendon Methodist Church.

prepared the records for the occasion, and Dr. G. S. Hardy, the only man who ever served here as pastor, presiding elder and college president, delivered the address of the occasion. It goes without saying that this address was the high point of the week's celebration, and contained facts, humor, pathos, prophecy and observations as only comes from profound students of church history and statecraft such as Dr. Hardy.

Thursday evening, Dr. A. L. Moore, pastor here in 1926-27, now pastor at Childress, will be in the pulpit for the evening message.

Friday evening, Rev. A. W. Hall, presiding elder here in 1915-1918, now of Weatherford, will preach.

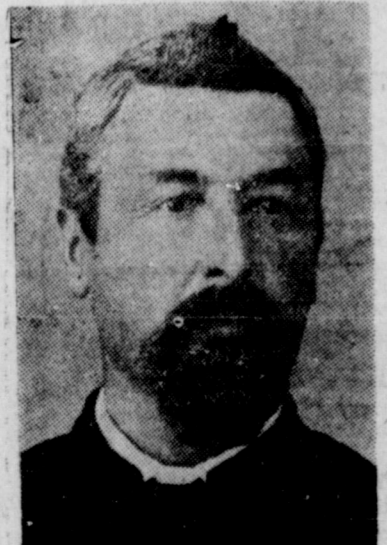

Saturday evening the service will be devoted to fellowship, reminiscence and testimony, with Sunday services as noted in the opening paragraph of this story.

As announced several weeks ago, the evangelistic note has been held uppermost throughout the week, and by Tuesday ten of the fifty accessions set as the goal of the Jubilee occasion had been realized. Religious fervor has been markedly present and conviction, repentance and conversion has been witnessed from time to time.

Rev. E. D. Landreth, the pastor, has expressed himself as especially happy over the response from the backslidden and non-Christian in attendance. "Also, I want to voice my appreciation of the interest so generally manifested by those of other churches, and no church at all in our Golden Jubilee," he said. "We trust it will be a blessing to every church and every person, young and old, in our community."

An added feature of the Jubilee has been a display of old record books of the Sunday school and church, old pictures, the church's war service flag, the list of members of the church who saw service in the World War, and various items of historic in-

BRONCHS LOSE TO PIRATES 26 TO 6

TO PLAY FIRST CONFERENCE
GAME ON HOME FIELD
FRIDAY NIGHT

Scoring once in each quarter of the game, the LeFors Pirates downed the Clarendon Bronchos 26 to 6 Friday night on the local field in the first game of the season.

Beginning in the first few minutes of the first quarter, the Pirates marched steadily down the field for the first score.

Carruth, the "spark plug" of the Pirates, made three of the four touchdowns, the other being made by a pass and a 55-yard run to cross the line. LeFors made two out of the four extra points attempted.

The only score for the Bronchos was made by Bob McWhorter in the last few minutes of the game, recovering a punt on LeFors' 40-yard line and carrying it on over the stripe. The try for the point was unsuccessful.

The Pirates received several penalties for off-sides, and the Bronchos received one 15-yard penalty for unnecessary roughness.

Coach Emil Hutto made approximately eight substitutions during the game, LeFors running practically the same squad through entire 60-minute of playing.

Officials for the game were: Walker, West Texas State, referee; Cox, West Texas State, umpire; Gregg, McMurry, head linesmen.

Varied Community Items Engage Lions

Clarendon Lions Club met Tuesday in regular weekly luncheon at the Clarendon Hotel, with Vice President R. E. Drennan presiding in place of President Patrick, who was out of town for the day.

Varied matters pertaining to community interest came in for discussion as follows:

Lion Robbins asked for cars to transport the band to the Amarillo Fair on Thursday. He also announced that $39 had been realized from the Tag Day for the band.

Lion Douglas called attention to the fact that a number of the football squad lived in the country and that cars were needed to take them home after the daily practices.

The new horns have been ordered and are expected any day.

Thursday, Sept. 22, the band went to Amarillo to represent Clarendon officially at the Tri-State Fair. They broadcast over KGNC at 3:30 p. m., Thursday. They are helping to sponsor the pep rallies and will appear between halves at most of the football games.

IN INDIVIDUAL HONORS
BRACKET

The Clarendon Vocational Agriculture boys took top honors in the poultry judging team at the Tri-State Fair at Amarillo Monday with a total of 1,105 points.

Tulia followed with a total of 1,002 points and Silverton, McLean and Erick third, fourth and fifth places respectively.

Clarendon's winning team was composed of Joe Williams, Beatty Hillman and Junior Speir. In the individual honors bracket, Williams with 376 points took first, Hillman with 361 was second, W. C. Donnell of Silverton with 354 was third and Speir was fourth.

The Clarendon team will receive the poultry judging loving cup given by Hardeman-King Co. They must win it two years in succession before it becomes their property.

Approximately 40 boys, team members, and alternates were entered in the division. R. H. Wells of Panhandle was superintendent.

The boys judged six classes of three breeds and took an examination of 50 questions.

J. R. Gillham is coach of the local team.

The Clarendon team was high in each of the four divisions of the contest. Williams was high point man in judging White Leghorns and Barred Rocks, and Speir was high point man in judging Rhode Island Reds. Williams was also high in the examination.

EVENTS SHAPE UP FOR C. C. REUNION

CC-EX COMMITTEE MAKES
PLANS FOR NOV. 11-12TH
CELEBRATION

According to Clyde I. Price, chairman, the local committee in charge of the Clarendon College Exes Reunion, scheduled here for Nov. 11-12, is making splendid progress with the preliminary plans.

A break came this week, when the McLean High School authorities called over and asked the privilege of cancelling the football game with CHS there the night of Nov. 11, which would have greatly divided the interest and attention of local folks out of loyalty to the Bronchos. The request was granted, and it is said that a game has been arranged here with the up-and-coming Vega HI, for either the afternoon or night here in Clarendon. This will afford an extra event of entertainment.

McLean, not being in the area of the district with Clarendon, felt she did not need to play the Bronchos in the regular season and her request was thankfully received here in view of the CC Reunion.

A TRIBUTE THAT HONORS THE COMMUNITY

As the Clarendon citizenship does honor to the Methodist Church this week in its celebration of fifty years of history and service in this community, there is a very definite sense in which the community honors itself.

There is nothing discriminatory from denominational standpoint in the genuinely hearty participation of the community in the Church's Golden Jubilee—and that's where the community honors itself. Judging from the general attitude in Clarendon, the same interest would be—and will be—extended to any church here in similar celebrations.

It shows conclusively that there is a high sense of moral and civic consciousness among our people which binds them generously to the history, ideals and achievements of its churches who have contributed so largely to the welfare and quality of the community over the years.

Clarendon honors itself as it participates in the Golden Jubilee of the Clarendon Methodist Church. May she ever be responsive to the objects and activities of all her churches, irrespective of creed.

FARM RELIEF FAILS AGAIN

Paul Mallon expressed the view of most informed commentators when he wrote in a recent column: "The farm act is failing fast. That fact . . . is becoming so evident that many of Mr. Wallace's men will now concede privately they do not see how the situation can be worked out next year on the same basis."

This has been the unhappy experience of most farm acts of the past, no matter how sincerely inspired or efficiently administered. Time has again proven the old adage that "self-help is the best help," and that goes for the farmer as well as everyone else. If agriculture looks to political panaceas for permanent benefits, it will be foredoomed to disappointment. Real farm progress is coming from activities instigated and controlled by the farmers themselves, such as non-political farm marketing cooperatives which apply sound business principles to farm operation.

ATTEND THE TRI-STATE FAIR

Clarendon and Donley county people should be unanimous in their attendance of the Tri-State Fair at Amarillo this week.

It's our Fair, it contributes greatly to the progress of our country and deserves our full support.

THE BAD NEWS

NOBODY'S BUSINESS

BY JULIAN CAPERS JR.

AUSTIN. — When Governor-Nominee W. Lee O'Daniel was persuaded to endorse a slate of six candidates for other offices in the runoff primary, he stirred the O'Daniel bloc of over half a million voters into a seething mass of dissent.

That major mistake of strategy backfired on him last week at the Beaumont Democratic state convention. The delegates booed him off the stage when he rushed to the microphone at midnight in a desperate effort to stave off defeat for his platform plank on pensions. The delay resulting from the near-riot on the convention floor enabled O'Daniel's floor managers to whip loyal delegates into line, and push through a vague and meaningless plank on pensions.

O'Daniel then returned to Fort Worth, went on the radio and made a speech in which he denounced the newspapers, and charged reporters who wrote the sorry story of the spectacle of O'Daniel, the fallen hero, retreating from the stage in confusion and embarrassment, with dishonesty and corruption.

THEY WANTED $30

The issue was clearly drawn at Beaumont. O'Daniel told hundreds of thousands of voters in every speech he made during the campaign, that he would give those over 65 years a pension of $30 a month, regardless of need. On that promise, he rolled up the huge total of voters which elected him without a runoff.

At Beaumont, he, or his advisors, brought out a platform that was a bitter disappointment to everybody, in virtually every particular. The convention opened under extreme tension, as friends of the victorious candidates whom O'Daniel didn't endorse brought their resentment to Beaumont. The keynoteer virtually denounced the Roosevelt administration, and President Roosevelt hasn't lost his popularity with the Democracy of Texas yet. The address of the governor-nominee was a weak and ineffectual effort. Instead of talking about practical plans for delivering upon his promises, O'Daniel read a prepared paper in a monotonous voice. The talk was clothed in glittering generalities. It referred to mother, home, church, and the Ten Commandments—subjects which had proved sure-fire in sentimental radio programs, but which fell rather flat upon an audience of practical minded delegates who came to Beaumont to find when the $30 pensions would begin. A smattering of barely polite applause rippled through the hall when O'Daniel had concluded.

THAT PENSION PLANK

When the platform committee brought out a platform which "recognized the leadership" of Roosevelt, but didn't even damn him with faint praise; acknowledged the services of Governor Allred and wished him success as a federal judge; commended the two senators, urged industrial development, governmental economy, recommended continued maintenance of schools and highways, and the conservation of water and natural resources.

On pensions, the platform merely said: "The Legislature should make immediate and adequate provision for the social security program and immediately provide for the payment the maximum amount of pensions and old age assistance to persons over the age of 65 years within the limits and provisions of the constitution of this state and constitution and laws of the United States."

That brought on the war. Analyzed, it means exactly nothing. The state already is administering its pension law upon that basis. As was pointed out in this column and by virtually every newspaper in Texas, while O'Daniel was promising the people $30 a month in July, "the limits and provisions of the constitution of this state and constitution and laws of the United States" forbid the payment of $30 a month pension to everybody.

There was one other platform plank—calling for abolition of the poll tax as a requirement to vote. The delegates smashed that "one to pieces in short order, and kicked it entirely out of the platform. A couple of speeches by old-line Democrats who waved the bloody shirt and demanded that Negroes be kept from controlling the state elections did the job.

ISSUES ARE IGNORED
The platform had no word or suggestion as to how to raise money to pay larger pensions. It contained no hint of how O'Daniel feels about legalized horse race betting, or other forms of gambling; about sale of whiskey for the drink; about taxation; about relief of farmers, whose prosperity has reached a low ebb in Texas this year; about regulation of public utility rates, or solution of the transportation problem, which is the state's most acute economic problem and includes the development of navigable waterways, revision of the 7,000-pound truck load limit, and other ramifications.

The platform and the other developments at Beaumont reflected the conflict in views of O'Daniel's advisers. Surrounded by men who are as widely apart in their views on public questions as the two poles, the nominee apparently was pushed and hauled about until he was thoroughly bewildered. Unless the new governor decides whether he will go along with Frank Rawlings, the Fort Worth liberal and horse-race advocate, or Carr Collins, the Dallas conservative; with the old folks who want $30 pensions, or the special interests who want to escape taxation and block progress; with the professional politicians who know better than to try to interrupt a roll-call vote with a sentimental speech, or the amateurs who don't know anything about public affairs—he faces endless trouble during the next two years.

It was the first political convention O'Daniel had ever seen. But until he sees the Texas Legislature in action he hasn't, as the old Negro remarked, "seen nuthin' yet."

A natural born citizen of the United States does not lose his citizenship by living abroad, no matter how long he stays there, unless he renounces it by becoming naturalized in the country of his choice.

Dentists annually use about one-third of the gold not needed for monetary purposes in the United States.

Sneezes and coughs by persons affected with colds shoot the germs through an eight-foot space.

MANY BREAKS IN TERRACES BEGIN WITH RODENT HOLES

A harmless looking rodent hole in a terrace ridge may not be as harmless as it appears. The Soil Conservation Service finds many terraces are broken each year by water cutting through holes made by burrowing rodents.

Holes burrowed in the fall months are likely to cause trouble. They probably will go unfilled through the winter months and cause trouble when spring thaws and rains come. Many farmers report that they give their terraces an inspection each fall—preferably after the first frost.

Any rodent hole found and filled may be listed as a terrace break prevented, say the Soil Conservation Service workers. And each break avoided represents tons of soil saved and possibly the prevention of a gully.

Jealous Sweetheart Accuses

Charles Boyer and Sigrid Gurie in Walter Wanger's "Algers," released thru United Artists.

Native Quarter Seen In "Algers"

The bustling streets of the native quarter of Algiers were literally set down in a sound stage at the United Artists studios recently.

"The Casbah," as the district is called, is distinct from the modern French city which is the capital and chief seaport of Algeria on the Mediterranean coast of Africa, and is the home of Arabs, Moors, Berbers, Kabyles, Libyans and picturesque members of the countless other nations and tribes. Primitive customs prevail, and the district is a refuge for criminals from all parts of Europe, Asia and Africa.

The settings representing the Casbah were erected as the scene of action in "Algers," the Walter Wanger production in which Charles Boyer will star at the Pastime Theatre Wednesday, Thursday and Friday in the role of Pepe le Moko, a devil-may-care international jewel thief, for whose love glamorous Sigrid Gurie and alluring Hedy Lamarr are rivals.

Though Pepe le Moko has lived in security in the quarter for two years, he is under constant surveillance by the French provincial police, waiting to place him under arrest when some circumstance shall lure him outside its borders. The massive settings take in a large area of strange region with a veritable labyrinth of obscure and passages and stairways leading to the rooftops.

John Cromwell directed the picture and Jamiel Hassen served as technical director.

The screenplay was prepared by John Howard Lawson from the story by Detective Ashelbe, with added dialogue by James M. Cain. Prominently featured in the supporting cast are Joseph Calleia, Alan Hale, Gene Lockhart and Mme. Nina Koshetz. "Algers" is released through United Artists.

American business spends more money for advertising than is spent for the same purpose in all the remainder of the world. The result is that, while American people represent only one-seventh of the world's population, their purchases represent 47 per cent of the world sales.

Arabia is a land without a river, a forest or a lake, yet it is an area almost four times the size of Texas.

Methodist History Review In Jubilee

A brief history of the Clarendon Methodist Church is presented below, following the text used in the Historical Program held Wednesday evening at the Church, as the mid-week feature of the Golden Jubilee Celebration, Sept. 18-25, honoring the completion of Fifty Years' Anniversary for the local congregation. Mrs. Gabie Betts Burton was the chairman of the committee preparing the history of the various phases of the church's activities which follow:

A BRIEF HISTORY

Methodist Episcopal Church, South
Clarendon, Texas

Rev. J. T. Hosmer, pioneer Methodist preacher, came to Clarendon and held services in 1887, but the church was not organized until 1888 under the leadership of Rev. Isaac L. Mills, with 15 charter members, among whom were the following: P. A. Buntin, Mrs. P. A. Buntin, Mrs. M. O. Rogers, Miss Susie Rogers, Frank E. Caraway, Mrs. Elizabeth Caraway, J. H. Roberts, Mrs. J. H. Roberts, A. M. Beville, Mrs. A. M. Beville, Harwood Beville. Rev. Mills continued as pastor of the Clarendon mission, including Clarendon and surrounding points until the fall of 1890. During the year 1890 the first church building was erected. The present building was erected in 1910 under the pastorate of Rev. O. P. Kiker, at a cost of approximately $40,000. In 1920 the church debt was paid under the leadership of the pastor, Rev. C. N. N. Ferguson, and presiding elder, J. R. Henson and the church was dedicated by Bishop W. F. McMurry. During the Centenary Movement, the congregation raised $2,942.

In 1893 Clarendon became a station charge, with about 200 members, and during the 50 years more than 5,000 people have been received into membership.

Four sessions of the Northwest Texas annual conference have been held in this church, 1910 with Bishop Adkins presiding, 1915 with Bishop McCoy, 1920 with Bishop McMurry, and 1933 with Bishop Boaz.

J. T. Hosmer came in 1887 and served one year.

C. S. McCarver came in 1890 and served one year.

B. M. Stephens came in 1891 and served three years.

The Clarendon district was organized in 1894, the following presiding elders have served the district:

R. A. Hall came in 1894 and served four years.

J. M. Sherman came in 1902 and served four years.

Dr. G. S. Hardy is the only man having served Clarendon Methodism in the three capacities, pastor, presiding elder and college president. Dr. J. Sam Barcus served as pastor and later as college president. Dr. J. T. Griswold, J. M. Sherman, John R. Henson, J. W. Story, served as pastor and as presiding elder.

When our country was called in 1917, our church homes gave 114 boys to the colors. Five of these made the supreme sacrifice, Aubyn Clark, Homer Stocking, Joe Sawyer, Ernest Nelson and R. Clayton.

The influence of the Clarendon church will not be measured this side of eternity. Would that it were possible to mention the great host of people who through the years have contributed to its on-going. Out of it have gone preachers all over Southern Methodism and four young men adopted the slogan of our great leader "The world is my Parish," while worshipping here and went out to help win the world for Christ. They were Ansil Lynn to Africa, Hubert Sone to China, and Joe Mickle and Sam Hilburn to Japan. Besides these multitudes of others in every station of life who were part of the five thousand whose names have been on our rolls are helping to make the world a better place in which to live.

BOARD OF STEWARDS

A Board of Stewards of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, of Clarendon, was organized at the time of the organization of the church and through the years it has functioned.

Until recent years when the Board of Christian Education was organized in local churches by authorities outlining the discipline, the Board of Stewards had general supervision, not only of finances in the church, but the personnel of officers and teachers of the Sunday school, together with the pastor, and that service was rendered in an efficient manner by the stewards.

As is always the case, the finances of the church is the principal duty of the Board of Stewards, and they look upon it as such. As is reflected by the records available, since the organization of this church, there has been raised and expended by the church approximately $500,000.00. Of course all of this has not passed through the Board of Stewards, but a large part of it has. The following have served:

M. R. Allensworth, J. B. Annis, Ben Andis, W. A. Armstrong, C. W. Baker, J. T. Barnard, J. R. Bartlett, A. M. Beville, J. N. Browning, W. L. Blaylock, U. J. Boston, F. L. Bourland, G. L. Boykin, H. L. Brady, S. M. Braswell.

METHODIST SUNDAY SCHOOL

From the best information obtainable, in May, 1888, the Sunday school of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, Clarendon, Texas, was organized. From that day to this the Sunday school has been a going organization.

Of the 34 people who were present on this date of organization and were charter members, only two are known to be alive. One is P. A. Buntin, at Clarendon, Texas, the grand old man of the Sunday school and church. The other being Harwood Beville, who was a mere child on the date of organization.

The first superintendent of the Sunday school was P. A. Buntin. It was an administration of organization and trying out something new in the community, so-liciting membership of adults and children. The following is a roster of officers and teachers in 1899: Superintendent, Mr. A. M. Beville Assistant Superintendent, Mr. J. M. Clover.

Secretary ---Miss Elise Coulter Treasurer ---Miss Mable Easum Organist ---Miss Allie Graves Librarian ---Mrs. Leisberg Primary Class No. 1, Mrs. J. D. Jefferies.

Primary Class No. 2, Mrs. L. Graves. Class No. 3 ---Mrs. J. M. Clower Class No. 4 ---Miss Dona Saye Class No. 5 ---Miss Daisy White Class No. 6 ---Prof. B. R. Blankenship.

Bible Class ---W. R. Silvey S. S. Missionary, Miss Ann Bobo The superintendents who have served the school were: P. A. Buntin, A. M. Beville, H. T. McCorkle, S. H. Condron, J. Roy Bartlett, Fred A. Story, J. Ralph Porter and Densil R. Davis.

A. M. Beville served longer than any other superintendent of the Sunday school. It was during his administration that Clarendon College was chartered in 1893, and started on its course of service for the people of Northwest Texas, and as the town and college grew, the Sunday school grew.

During Mr. Condron's administration the Sunday school began a systematic method of coordinating with the general program of the Sunday school as outlined in the General Board of Education. During J. R. Bartlett's ad-

Retired Minister, Builder of First Church In Clarendon, Sketches History as He Congratulates Church On Golden Jubilee

An interesting contribution to the Golden Jubilee celebration of the Clarendon Methodist Church came the past week to P. A. Buntin, only resident charter member of the local church, from Rev. G. O. Richardson, retired minister of Denver, Colo., under whose ministry and direction the first Protestant church building in Clarendon was constructed.

Seeing a news item in the Denver Post concerning the Golden Jubilee occasion here, Dr. Richardson wrote Mr. Buntin the interesting letter reproduced herewith.

As a part of the vesper services Sunday afternoon and after the tribute at the site of the first Southern Methodist Church, on the vacant lot south of the Clarendon Hotel, the group proceeded to the corner just south of the Courthouse which was the site of the old North Methodist Church mentioned in the letter, and here Rev. E. D. Landreth read Dr. Richardson's letter with appropriate appreciative remarks.

The letter follows:

3628 Meade St.,
Denver, Colo.,
Sept. 12, 1938.

Bro. P. A. Buntin,
Clarendon, Texas.

Seeing the enclosed clipping in the Denver Post, I thought that I might be able to add some items of interest.

In the winter of 1887 my father, Rev. G. W. Richardson explored the Panhandle of Texas, preaching in the dining rooms of thirteen cattle ranches. On his second round he asked the proprietors what they thought about building a church, a community church under the auspices of the Methodist Episcopal Church at Clarendon, the center from which they procured their ranch supplies. They said, "if the other ranches agree to do so, this ranch will." They agreed to make contributions. Father then asked the church extension for a gift of $250 towards a $1,250 church, guaranteeing to build the church without debt. Father proceeded to get subscriptions. The residents of Clarendon did their apportionments.

I was completing my senior year in the Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill. Father who was the presiding elder, asked me to become the pastor of Clarendon. I arrived with my family July 3, 1888. I found the lumber on the ground. Dr. Stocking, druggist, Mr. White, general merchant, and Mr. Grant, editor, were trustees and the building committee. As pastor, I was officio chairman. The church was erected under contract. It was enclosed so we could begin using it about Sept. 1. It was painted with two coats of white on the outside and bell placed in the tower. We had to postpone the interior until the following summer.

I, with two days help of a carpenter, built a house on the rise, east of town.

My circuit included Washburn, Clarendon, Childress, and Matador Ranch. I preached in Clarendon two Sabbaths a month, the other places one Sabbath per month. Bro. Mills, pastor of the M. E. Church, South, also lived in Clarendon. He preached in our church two Sabbaths a month. A Baptist preacher, Rev. Beauchamp, occupied our church on the fifth Sabbaths.

In November, 1889, the Austin Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church was held in Clarendon and the Church dedicated "without debt." My appointment was Denton, Texas. I have not lost my interest in the Christian progress in Clarendon.

I am glad that the growth of the city and Church warrants a $40,000 church building.

Please let your pastor read this letter. If he thinks it worthy of a place in the Jubilee celebration, I will be greatly pleased. I have been on the retired list of the Pacific Northwest Conference for 33 years.

I took the supernumerary relation when my wife became a permanent invalid. Six years ago, Jan. 24, she passed on to her reward.

I am now living with my maiden sister. We have a home, beautiful without and within. God bless the Methodist membership of Clarendon Methodist Church. May it continue to be as a "city on a hill," whose light shall shine to the regions around.

Your brother,

GEO. O. RICHARDSON.

Local Store Saying It With Tulips

Clarendon Furniture Store Is Offering a Special Collection of Tulip Bulbs Through Cooperation of Mattress Manufacturer

From all indications Clarendon will be considerably beautiful next spring through the numerous planting of tulip bulbs now being made. Clarendon Furniture Store report that the Rainbow collection of Dutch tulip bulbs they recently announced in connection with their participation in the celebration of the tenth anniversary of the Spring-Air Mattress, has made a big hit, and that the boxes of bulbs have been going like hot cakes. They have been obliged to re-order, and are in hopes that the full quantity asked for will be supplied. On the basis of the number of bulbs locally distributed, they have made the interesting computation that if all other distributors of this offer throughout the country are enjoying an equal demand, a total of five million bulbs would be required to satisfy the requests. National headquarters at Holland, Michigan, announced that they could take care of orders up to a million and a half but beyond that there was some question whether there would be any more bulbs available.

NEWS FROM THE ASHTOLA SCHOOL BUS

Although we live at Ashtola, we feel that we really belong to the Clarendon High School and college because we have attended them for years. We think that they are grand schools and appreciate the opportunity of coming even more than some of the students living within the city limits, we dare say, because the difficulties we sometimes have in getting here cause us to think of the matter more seriously.

There are six Ashtola girls attending college this semester. They are as follows: Marie Morris, Willa Poovey, Vera and Mildred Barker, Christine Knox and Nancy Miller, who has just moved into our community from Mississippi where she attended Holme's Junior College at Goodman.

The pupils attending high school are as follows: Russell Morris, Margaret Hill, Lois Scroggins, Helena Poovey, Earl Barker, Oleta Marshall, Jessie J. Tomlinson, Frank Mahaffey and Wayne Morris. Our bus is driven by Mr. Brack Miller.

CHURCH OF CHRIST

H. V. Crumley, Minister

Interest in our study of the book of Revelation increases as we proceed to learn more concerning the letters to the seven churches in Asia. The Lord's day we are studying "The Letter to the Church at Thyatira." You should read the text found in Revelation 2:18-29, and come then to hear it explained.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

There Is Always Worship—Fellowship—Service

Sunday is to be rather an interesting day in the Baptist Church. First of all it is Promotion Day in the Sunday school and the Training Union. New officers and teachers, sponsors and leaders will be taking their places of responsibility. Pupils will be changing from one department to another, from one class to another locating themselves for another year's work in the church. This part of the service is to be climaxed by a Promotional Program in the auditorium preceding the preaching service. Then Sunday has been designated by the budget and finance committee as Budget Day in the church. We are to vote on the adoption of the budget for the coming year and go as far as we can in getting it subscribed. We are looking forward to the day with a great deal of pleasure. We are to be challenged to the heroic in this service. It is always interesting to see how people respond and react in times of testing. So far we have not failed, and we are happy to believe that success is in store for us this time. It is easier to succeed than to explain why we didn't.

"Success is failure turned inside out—the silver tint of the clouds of doubt. And you can never tell how close you are, it may be near when it seems afar; So stick to the fight when you are hardest hit—Its when things seem worst that you mustn't quit."

Training Union at 6:45. No preaching service at 7:30. We will join in an evening of music at the First Methodist Church, which will bring to a fitting climax the Golden Jubilee Celebration of that church.

J. Perry King, pastor.

EDITOR'S CORNER

It is not only those students who plan a career in medicine who should learn the principles of first aid, hygiene and prevention of sickness. Little knowledge, as well as total ignorance, might prove to be very dangerous sometimes. No one, surely, should be ignorant of these principles.

Health and sickness are at all times momentous factors in the welfare of our nation. It is a significant fact that at least half of our national sickness could be prevented if the knowledge and resources that we now possess were fully utilized.

Every year in our own country, thousands of persons die merely because someone is fatally ignorant of the laws governing sickness and health.

Surely it stands to reason that there should be a required course teaching health, first aid, and prevention of sickness. This is taught some in elementary schools, however, it is on a very small scale.

There is no doubt that our nation would be a healthier and happier one if people would place health above everything else.

A sponsor and coach have not yet been decided upon. After plans for the year were discussed, 10 new members were voted into the club. Forrest Adamson, Ruth Cornell, Ethlyn Drennan, Craig Johnson, Claude McGowan, Jr., Marian McCormack, Jack Reeves, Dot Riley, Johnnie Rhodes, Anna Sue Williams.

GETTING AROUND ON COLLEGE HILL

Kitty Ruth Bailey had plenty protection at the LeFors game. It is rumored that she will be Bronchos' queen this year.

Several have noticed that Betty Jo Caraway shares secrets with quite a number College Hill boys. Dan Boston has become quite bold lately. Dan formerly had a reputation of being not so bold. He notified the boys at band practice Tuesday that it was none of their business why he couldn't be there at 8.

Charles (Dutch) B'anton enjoys biology more than any subject. Could it be the presence of Margaret Pipes that makes the science of bugs so interesting?

I was asked the other day, "I wonder why Billie Ruth Bulman's sleeve comes unbuttoned when she meets Pete Morrow?"

Had you noticed how sweetly L. J. Lummus smiles at that girl in the seventh period study hall.

Gail (Romeo) Adams has been making quite a hit with the girls from down Hedley way, especially Jo Wells. Gail has had a rep for being a woman killer for several years but his affair with Jo tops them all.

Oscar Butler has established himself again this year as the star typist. The other students marvel at his speed and accuracy. We still don't have a Band Column, but here's a little band gossip. John Burton King and Neta Jane Cornell are interested in each other's wharabouts after band practice. They are usually together.

Skillet Creek School News

The Skillet Creek school started Tuesday, Sept. 6. Miss Dotson is our new teacher. There were several visitors present the first day. We have ten pupils enrolled in our school.

We have organized a health club. The officers are: President, Billie Faye Glass; vice president, Jean Burr; reporter, Sybil Weaver; secretary, Kenneth Preston.

The club will meet every other Friday.

We have a cat at school to eat the crumbs which we throw away during lunch period.

Everyone is invited to visit our school.

ASSEMBLY

The first assembly program opened with the band playing a number of football songs, among them being "Hail, Hail," and "Clarendon Will Shine Tonight." The band also accompanied while the whole group sang "Yankee Doodle." Following this, the students sang the old standby, "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia." Mr. Drennan does not seem to consider the newer song books complete because they failed to have this song, however, everybody managed to warble through it on the strength of past experience, after which Mr. Drennan made some announcements. The main announcement was that concerning the first football game of the season.

Led Jay directed the band and asked the whole assembly to join in a pep rally. This was led by the pep leaders, Yvonne Smith and Lois Marie Taylor.

Next, Coach Hutto was called on to say a few words concerning the game. He said he felt good about the outcome and was expecting great things. He also said he has the best football team he has ever had in Clarendon even if this is his first year here.

The program closed with another number by the band and talks by Mr. Drennan and Mr. Burton concerning the game.

All students should try to do their best to make assembly programs better this year than ever and to create more outside interest in them.

MUTTERINGS FROM MR. X

Who is Mister X. Ah, there's a mystery for you. But I'll give you a few clues on his identity.

He hates Charlie Murphy because he made some scathing remarks about his column in his presence.

Likes everybody.

Thinks Lalar Belle Wilkerson is a little snoop because she is trying to read this over his shoulder.

He swears up and down that he's going to ask Lois Marie Taylor for a date some time.

He had a good time at the football game last Friday night.

By now you ought to know who he is, and if you still don't know, ask Rayburn Smith. He probably knows. Before Mr. X closes for this week (yes, girls he'll be back next week), he wants to thank every student that went to the football game. They all seemed to have a swell time and they all tried to help the Bronchos to win. So let's stick with them and the coach in every game. Good-bye folks. X.

Dr. George W. Truett, president of the Baptist World Alliance; Dr. L. R. Scarborough, president of the Southern Baptist Convention; Dr. Earl V. Pierce, former president of the Northern Baptist Convention, and Lawson H. Sooke, general secretary of the Baptist Brotherhood of the South, are among the leaders listed on the program.

Stewardship and mobilization will be themes followed during the conference in hope of organizing men for work in church activities, Springer said.

This conference, it was pointed out, will be significant in the beginning of a new organized movement by the Baptist General Convention of Texas to enlist men for a greater interest in church work. State officers to work with Springer and to head up work in various districts of the state will be elected at the conference.

William Fleming of Fort Worth, J. C. Hardy of Belton and Earl B. Smith and Springer of Dallas will preside at the conference sessions. Others on the program are Dr. R. C. Campbell, executive secretary of the Baptist General Convention of Texas; Dr. F. M. McConnell, editor of the Baptist Standard; George J. Mason, executive secretary of the Baptist Foundation of Texas; Robert H. Coleman, assistant pastor of First Baptist church, Dallas; B. Taylor, president of Howard Payne College, Brownwood; Paul Greenwood, Harlingen; E. S. Cummings, Abilene, and C. E. McGaw, Longview, speakers, and H. P. Black, Longview; John Josey, Amarillo; Harry P. Wooten, Dallas; J. D. Riddle, Abilene, and J. E. Reynolds, Fort Worth, directing the music.

Serve Chef's Salad At Home

By BETTY BARCLAY

One of my best recent "finds" in easily prepared but delicious dishes, a Chicken Mousse, is a salad that is also a favorite of one of the most famous chefs in the world. He is Gaston Magrin, premier chef of the world's largest ocean liner, the S.S. Normandie. His recipes produce food that world travelers look forward to enjoying when anticipating a trip, and always remember afterward.

His salads would delight the eye and palate of any housewife in any land, I am sure. This photograph he gave me, with the recipe I wanted, shows him surrounded by spectacular salads and appetizers, ready for the inroads of hungry passengers during a party on the Normandie.

The recipe I chose, and which he permitted me to pass on to my readers, is made with a prepared salad gelatin found on the American market, so I knew it would be easy to make. The speed with which this dish always disappears shows that it tastes just as good as it sounds and looks.

Chicken Mousse
1 package salad gelatin (aspic)
1 cup boiling water
3/4 cup cold water
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 cups finely chopped chicken
1/2 cup mayonnaise
1/2 teaspoon paprika
1/2 cup cream, whipped
Dissolve salad gelatin in boiling water; add cold water and salt. Chill until it begins to thicken, then gradually beat in mayonnaise and paprika. Fold in chicken and whipped cream. Mould and chill until firm. Unmould and garnish with stuffed olives, watercress or other salad greens. 10 servings.

FORT WORTH.—Baptist preachers and laymen from all of Texas will gather 3,000 strong when the first annual Texas Baptist Laymen's conference meets in Fort Worth, September 26 and 27, it was announced today by R. A. Springer of Dallas, state laymen's leader.

Stewardship and mobilization will be themes followed during the conference in hope of organizing men for work in church activities, Springer said.

Methodist History

administration emphasis was placed upon attendance and the Sunday school reached its greatest height of consistent attendance. During the administration of J. Ralph Porter the Sunday school attained a regular attendance of 600. A system was worked out for financing the Sunday school on a cash basis. Three new departments were organized. It was also during this administration that Clarendon College was closed as a denominational school, and the result of that was a smaller attendance. Densil R. Davis is at this time serving as superintendent of the Sunday school. His administration has given special emphasis to the young people of the church.

Time and space will not permit the enumeration of all the teachers and superintendents that have long and faithfully rendered service. Mention is made of a few, not to the exclusion of many others, that have rendered service as teachers: W. T. Hagter, Silas Hayter, Dave Johnson, Mrs. Betts Burton, Mrs. R. H. Alexander, Mrs. J. T. Patman. Some of these are still teaching. Some who have rendered service in the children's department are Mrs. Sam Sayre, Mrs. Albert Williams, Mrs. W. R. Holder, deceased, the latter for over 25 years serving as superintendent of the Cradle Roll Department. Mrs. W. W. Taylor, Mrs. R. C. Weatherly, Mrs. A. A. Mays, Mrs. C. C. Powell, Mrs. U. J. Boston.

The last department to be organized as a department was the Adult Department, which was organized in 1936, making the school completely organized in all departments according to the plan of church schools.

WOMEN'S WORK
The Ladies' Aid was organized before the first church building was constructed, and the early meetings were held in the homes. This was followed by the Parsonage and Home Mission Society which became the Home Mission Society. This organization took place in 1895 during the pastorate of Rev. J. Sam Barcus and later a Foreign Missionary Society was organized by Mrs. J. T. Coulter who was the first district secretary of the foreign work. The two organizations worked side by side until the merging of the two boards and then the two became one in Clarendon also in 1911.

The membership lists of these first societies contain many familiar names, but the names of many, many more who have joined the church triumphant. No minutes of meeting are available until 1900, but then we find that the women had decided to build two more rooms to the local parsonage, it seems the first one had only two rooms, and then follows accounts of dinners served, oyster suppers, ice cream festivals, but always some money sent for help away from home, too. So active was Miss Ann Ebo in collecting for the church that she was called the "Church Beggar." One of the first meetings of the N. W. Texas Conference Home Mission Society was held in Clarendon in 1904 and Miss Belle H. Bennett was a guest.

Among the later achievements of the society have been the payment of $5,000.00 on the present church building, and of $1,700.00 on the parsonage, the support of the Gable Betts Burton Bible Woman in Mexico, since 1918, leading the conference in payment of the Bennett Memorial, and paying the largest amount paid in the district each year on connectional work.

A partial list of the presidents who have served through the years is as follows: Mrs. M. O. Rogers, Mrs. J. D. Jefferies, Mrs. J. N. Eddins, Mrs. A. M. Beville, Mrs. W. A. Caldwell, Mrs. G. W. THE CHOIR
Good music has been one of the major emphases in the program of the Clarendon Methodist Church during these fifty years. It is possible here only to list some of those who have made worthy contributions in this field.

During the early years a reed organ was used in the church music. Later a piano was installed. In 1918 under the direction of Mr. R. Deane Shure a beautiful Hillgren-Lane pipe organ was installed at a cost of approximately $5,000.00. This organ still serves the congregation.

Those serving as organists and pianists preceding the pipe organ installation were: Miss Susie Rogers, Mrs. Jim Roberts, Miss Ruby Stephens, Miss Mabel Eastum, Miss Myrta Houck, Annie Claire Lee and Miss Helen Powell.

Methodist Pastors Laymen Convene In District Session

Answering call of Presiding Elder Thos. S. Barcus, the pastors and charge lay leaders of Clarendon District of the Methodist Church met here Tuesday in a fall rally meeting.

Dr. Barcus led the devotional at the 10 o'clock session, and had reports from the charge lay leaders, preceding a program on the layman's work conducted by District Lay Leader Sam M. Braswell. The completion of the financial goals of the year, and the circulation of the conference organ were discussed, with Hon. H. B. Hill of Shamrock, associate lay leader, in charge of the latter phase. As a feature of the morning session the pastors and laymen of the district presented Dr. and Mrs. Barcus with gifts as this November marks their four-year service to the district, which under the church law causes Dr. Barcus to return into the pastoral work. Mr. Hill made the presentation which was followed by touching responses by Dr. and Mrs. Barcus.

The Women's Missionary Society of the Clarendon Church served a noon-day lunch to the visitors at 12 o'clock.

In the afternoon reports of the pastors were taken up. Fair progress was reported in the work of the year, and except for a few churches where crop failures struck this year, 100 per cent reports will be made at the annual conference at Memphis in November.

Committee Inspects and Accepts Goodnight Monument and Curbing

Final inspection by the Goodnight Memorial Committee, consisting of W. H. Patrick, chairman, Vance Johnson and Cleo Hubbard of the monument at the grave of Col. Charles Goodnight, which for 10 years stood unmarked, was made last Thursday afternoon, Sept. 15.

Mr. Patrick stated that the committee found the work done according to contract and that they were proud of it.

A granite plaque on the headstone bears the following inscription:

"Charles and Mary Ann (Dyer) Goodnight . . . Together they conquered the new land and performed a duty to man and to God . . . He was a trail blazer and Indian scout. She was a quiet, home-loving woman. Together they built a home in the Palo Duro Canyon in 1876. They developed the cattle industry, they fathered higher education and civic enterprises . . . To them the Panhandle pays reverent and grateful tribute."

The work was done by the Goodnight Memorial Fund committee and a large number of Panhandle citizens who contributed more than $650 to adequately mark the burial place of the frontiersman.

A concrete curb was built around the entire burial lot, in which are the graves of the Goodnights, Mr. and Mrs. Leigh R. Dyer, Granger Miller Dyer, Albert Dyer and an infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Nunn.

Final landscaping was completed Thursday morning, just a few hours before members of the committee made their inspection.

When September 19 rolled around several of the school buses started rolling to the Tri-State Fair which is being held this week in Amarillo.

The Sunnyview bus took the lead by going Monday. The Hudgins and Midway buses are going Thursday, and the Ashtola and Martin buses are going Friday.
