Donley Voters Select Majority of Candidates In Primary Election

RUNOFF REQUIRED TWO COUNTY RACES

KING GETS 22-VOTE MAJORITY; PIERCE AND WORD WIN EASILY

Only two Donley county office holders face a runoff in their candidacy for re-election as a result of Saturday's Democratic Primary.

Joe Bownds, who has been tax assessor-collector for the past three and one-half years, received 931 votes to lead two candidates seeking the office. J. W. (Jess) Adamson, Hedley, was runner-up with 863 votes. Will P. Chamberlain, commissioner of precinct No. 4, was third man with 461 votes.

John H. Hermesmeier of Jericho, commissioner of precinct No. 1, who was up for re-election, led the field of three with 115 votes and will be opposed in the second Primary by J. D. Wood, who received 103 votes. John H. Goldston third man in the primary had 41 votes.

Complete Donley County primary election results by boxes will be found on page three of this issue.

R. Y. King, county attorney, won by a 22-vote majority the nomination as county judge. He received 1133 votes. County Judge S. W. Lowe, seeking re-election, was second man with 719 votes, and A. H. Baker, third, had 392.

As early election results came in Sheriff Guy Pierce, up for re-election, obtained a safe lead over W. C. Johnson and M. W. Mosley of Clarendon, and C. Huffman of Clarendon, that steadily mounted to finally give him a 486-vote majority. Pierce received 1,373 votes; Huffman, 435; Johnson, 302; and Mosley, 140.

W. G. Word, county clerk, defeated two opponents by a 480-vote majority. Word was opposed by two men entering the political field for the first time, Paul Shelton, Clarendon, groceryman, and R. W. Moore, farmer, of the Chamberlain community. Word received 1,360 votes; Shelton, 643; and Moore, 246.

John C. Knorpp, recent law graduate, also entering politics for the first time, became a candidate for County Attorney, and with an unopposed field tallied up 2,259 votes.

Mrs. Margaret V. Thompson, County Treasurer, also unopposed, in her race for re-election received 2,270 votes.

W. A. Davis, candidate for re-election as Justice of the Peace of Precinct No. 2 had the field to himself as did Major B. Hudson, public weigher.

R. T. Brown, City Marshall, was the only candidate for Constable, Precinct No. 2.

J. C. Doherty and Frank Kendall, both of Hedley, received 253 and 222 votes respectively, for the office of Justice of the Peace of precinct No. 3.

G. G. Reeves, Commissioner of precinct No. 2, opposed by V. V. Johnston was reelected by a vote of 683. Johnston received 366.

Claude Nash received 745 votes in his unopposed race for re-election as Commissioner of precinct No. 3.

Three new entries from the northeastern part of the county battled for nomination as Commissioner of precinct No. 4, the place held by Will P. Chamberlain who entered the tax assessor-collector race. Marvin Hall received 90 votes to obtain an 11-vote majority over T. W. Bain and A. O. Hefner, who received 40 and 39 votes respectively.

C. G. Speed, was second prize winner and will receive The Clarendon News for one year.

The third prize, an ice cold watermelon, goes to Miss Callie Walters.

Mr. Patman was the only participant in the contest to pick at least 20 leading candidates.

Mr. Speed tied for second place with C. B. Morris, Mrs. Fayne Kent, Newt Waldron, Ernest L. Hunt, W. K. Davis, H. C. Brumley and H. T. Burton, by picking 18 leading candidates.

WORK UNDERWAY AT PROJECT HOME

CANNING PLANT WILL BE OPERATED FOUR DAYS EACH WEEK

Twenty girls between the ages of 18 and 25 spent their first day in the NYA Resident Training Home Wednesday. The first two days were devoted to arranging the home and acquainting the girls with plans for the six months work and training program sponsored by the Clarendon Chamber of Commerce, County Commissioner's Court, and various civic clubs.

The girls will work in the canning plant, which is the work project operated in connection with the home, today and Friday of this week. Beginning next week the canning plant will operate four days each week.

The project will be attended by two groups of 20 girls each. The first group will return to their homes after two weeks, thus alternating for the duration of the project.

During the time the girls are not working on the work project, they will participate in training activities under the supervision of the home supervisor, Miss Maude Robinson, a graduate home economics teacher. This training will be in cooking, sewing, marketing, budgeting, health and hygiene, citizenship, home beautification, and related home arts and handicrafts. A well-rounded recreational program will be provided for the girls.

According to Phil B. Wilson, district supervisor, diligent care has been exercised in the selection of girls to attend the project. Their background, desires, formal education, and general ability are such that they can be expected to profit by the work and training offered in the home, as well as to fit into the operation of the project.

The public is invited to visit the home on regular visiting days, which will be named by the home supervisor at a later date.

Election Party Is Huge Success

Complete results of the Donley County Democratic Primary election, with the exception of one box, that of Smith, were given to a large crowd in Clarendon Saturday night before midnight, which beat the time two years ago by about one and one-half hours.

The election party this year was given by The Clarendon News in conjunction with Douglas & Goldston Drug Co., and Bryan Clothing Co.

The large blackboard was erected between the Rexall and Bryan's store. It was well lighted and high enough for figures at the bottom of the board to be read by people in the back of the crowd who were not fortunate in getting a "ringside seat."

By previous arrangement with election judges, returns begin to come in promptly at 7:00 o'clock closing time at the polls. Election judges cooperated in a fine spirit to make the election party a success from every angle.

The record crowd was most enthusiastic when returns of its favorite candidate were placed on the blackboard.

PANHANDLE MAN PLACES SECOND; McCRAW THIRD MAN

W. Lee O'Daniel, flour broker of Ft. Worth and radio entertainer for the past eight years, threw a wrench into Texas politics this year and by the use of a hillbilly band, and a Golden Rule policy, swept the field of 12 gubernatorial candidates and won the Democratic nomination in the primary by a majority of nearly 30,000 votes.

By an overwhelming vote throughout the state O'Daniel established a precedent in Texas primary elections. It was the first time since the double primary system has been in effect that a gubernatorial candidate, who was not already in office won the nomination in the first primary.

The accident occurred Saturday when Davis was giving a midget automobile a test run. The gasoline tank became ignited and exploded. Because of the manner in which the midget cars are built the tank is almost in the lap of the driver.

A BETTER DAY FOR TEXAS

Texas has had as good moral men for governor as any state, and her politicians have been clean as politicians go, but somehow in the landslide nomination of W. Lee O'Daniel to the governorship, The News has a feeling that a better day for Texas is at hand.

There are those who if not ready to scoff at any man who openly declares his allegiance to the Bible and to religion, are always ready to sneer at a man in public life and call him a hypocrite if he shows marked symptoms of Christianity. There is now as in the past weeks those who take such an attitude toward our new governor-elect.

The News did not support Mr. O'Daniel in the first primary, as it had outstanding obligations in the race, but it has no fears for the good intentions and the ability of the governor-elect in handling the affairs of state in Texas for the next two years. We have known of Mr. O'Daniel's Christian character for a number of years in the city of Fort Worth, and we are happy to see such a man sit in the chief executive seat of our state.

Remember this: "Birds of prey never sing," and that "Righteousness exalteth a nation." We are for our Governor-to-be, and we are expecting a better day for Texas, with a head that reads more Bible and less of other more popular literature.

WHAT ABOUT TOMORROW'S SALES?

There may be a recession in business, but there is no "recession in human wants," and merchants are making a psychological blunder in assuming that there is, Kenneth Collins, vice president of a large Philadelphia store, told the opening session of the Pacific Advertising Clubs Association in Los Angeles recently.

"The newspaper is, of course, pre-eminent in the securing of tomorrow's sales," he said, "and through its universality of distribution should, in my opinion, be pre-eminent for the building of future good will."

Industry should turn to advertising more than ever in days like these, not only to secure what sales are available with the diminished buying power, but to keep the public conscious of certain products so that sales will be turned in that direction as soon as the public can buy.

Many merchants make the grave mistake of assuming that a business recession means less wants, but this is not true. As a matter of fact, people want things more desperately when they are without the means of buying them than they do when they have plenty of money.

"Since most of you merchants are interested in the selection of the media of advertising," Collins told the group, "I might add that approximately ninety per cent of the companies I have contacted was through the columns of newspapers. This is natural to me, for I have always felt that advertising should aim at two things simultaneously: Tomorrow's sales and the reputation for the future.—Wellington Leader.

WAGGING TONGUES

Tongues are wagging because Vice President John Garner did not personally greet the President in Texas a few weeks ago. So many breaks between the President and Vice President have been reported that one is lead to believe that most of this talk is idle talk. If the Vice President chooses to fish rather than be pushed around by the mob, that is his business. Garner has never taken much to playing the crowds.—The Canyon News.

NEXT SUNDAY—WHAT THEN?

The day after tomorrow is Sunday. You may go driving across the country to see a friend or relative, or you may start your long-dreamed-of vacation trip. Whichever it is, please be careful.

Each week end the 1938 death toll paid to recklessness on the highways of our state is increasing. It isn't necessary for you to pay tribute to this merciless god when the exercise of precaution would prevent it.

How would you like to be pictured in scenes like these? A twisted mass of steel studded with broken glass and a grotesque, bleeding body lying on the road side; he tried to pass a car on a hill!

An overturned coupe lying at the foot of an embankment, a feminine hand sticking through the broken windshield with blood trickling over a diamond engagement ring, emblematic of a lifetime of happiness; she tried to kiss her lover on a curve!

A scared, wild-eyed little lad of four, too frightened to cry, standing in the slush of a wet pavement beside the lifeless form of his mother while passersby attempt to extricate the mangled remains of the father from a car leaning crazily against a telephone pole; he forgot to turn on the windshield wiper.

The black, greasy charcoal that was once a university student whose future was bright with the promise of a successful career at the bar, lying in the fire-twisted hull of what was his dad's car; he drove just a little too fast for the type of road!

Horrible, you say. Yes, these are horrible pictures. But remember—the day after tomorrow is Sunday. You may drive across the country to see a friend or relative, or you may start your long-dreamed-of vacation trip. Whichever it is, please, PLEASE, be careful.—Wheeler Times.

We may claim to have corrected the vices we have indulged,—we may profess to have assumed the virtues we have not,—but let's not forget that while precept is much example is more.

NOBODY'S BUSINESS

By JULLIAN CAPERS JR.

AUSTIN—Now that the tumult and shouting are over, and Texas is recovering from its surprises at the incredible feat of Wilbert Lee O'Daniel, flour broker, master salesman, radio personality par excellence, and Democratic nominee for Governor of Texas by virtue of a precedent-shattering victory over a field of 11 opponents, it is time to glance at the future and speculate a bit on what lies beyond Jan. 17, 1939, when O'Daniel takes over.

Political analysts, surprised only at the magnitude of O'Daniel's victory, because virtually all of them had swung to the belief a week before election that he would be high man, explained the Hill Billy victory as another manifestation of that periodic unrest and dissatisfaction which causes the American people to rise in their might and smite the established order of things. O'Daniel's leap from political obscurity into the Governor's chair in a few short weeks marks the first time a governor has been elected without a runoff election since the double primary system was established in 1907.

O'DANIEL'S PROMISES

The new Governor has talked very little about the government, as he said, he knows very little about it. He has definitely promised his nearly 500,000 adherents, however: (1) That he will abolish the poll tax; (2) That he will pay a $30 a month old age pension to everybody, regardless of need, who qualifies otherwise. (3) That he will reduce government expenditure.

The poll tax can be abolished in Texas by a vote of the people amending the constitution. If O'Daniel can persuade the Legislature to submit such an amendment, it could be effectuated before the 1940 primary elections. But unfortunately, O'Daniel, although he boasts that he knows how to get along with folks, has been ridiculing and berating the Legislature throughout his campaign. That is not calculated to evoke cooperation. And he will find a great many Democrats in the Legislature and out, who firmly believe that the constitutional provision requiring voters to purchase poll taxes is a good one, and ought to remain. Of course, the legislature might regard O'Daniel's overwhelming victory as a "mandate from the people," but on the other hand, "professional politicians" who constitute the majority of the Legislature, know that the periodic outbreaks of hysteria such as the O'Daniel victory will be back at their every-day jobs in a little while, leaving their government to those they have elected.

PENSION DATA

The pension promise probably will prove the most embarrassing problem O'Daniel will find in his lap after he takes the oath of office. There are about 250,000 persons over 65 in Texas who can qualify. Payments of $30 a month to each of them will total around $90,000,000 a year. Under O'Daniel's promise, the State of Texas will have to carry all of the pension burden, without Federal aid because under the regulations of the Federal Social Security Board, the U. S. agency will not participate in any State pension program not based upon need, which pays a fixed equal sum to all who qualify as to age. At present, the State is pensioning about 112,000 people, with an average monthly payment of between $12 and $13 each. The total annual cost is about $18,000,000, of which the State pays $9,000,000 and the Federal Government the same amount. There is money in sight to continue these payments until January 1. Mr. O'Daniel will have need of all his reputed business ability to find a place to raise the $80,000,000 a year he will need to carry out his program. Mountain music won't do it.

OTHER RACES

The election held other surprises beside the Governor's race. P. Pierce Brooks, the Dallas real estate man, who was a fifth flight candidate for Governor in 1936, led the veteran Coke Stevenson by more than 20,000 votes for lieutenant Governor, and will run it off with Stevenson. Jerry Sadler, East Texas oilman, who profited by O'Daniel's example, and got himself a hillbilly band, went into the runoff with the veteran railroad commission chairman, C. V. Terrell. Bill McDonald, Land Commissioner faces a runoff with Bascom Giles, but Agriculture Commissioner McDonald defeated his field without a runoff, Gerald C. Mann, ex-secretary of State, was a close second to Walter Woodul of Houston, lieutenant governor, for Attorney General, and goes into the runoff with Woodul. The powerful political machines of L. A. Woods, State Superintendent of Education, and George Sheppard, rode out of the storm, and both went back without a runoff, as did

Treasurer Charley Lockhart.

JUDGES HIT BY STORM

Two high court judges—Richard Critz, of the Supreme Court, and Harry N. Graves, of the Court of Criminal Appeals,—face runoff races. Both were appointees of Gov. Allred, who filled vacancies occurring on the courts. Graves had only a nominal lead (on an uncomplete count made as this column was written) over Stephens, the adverse vote being regarded by many as a protest over Graves' appointment in spite of a delicate constitutional question of his eligibility. Judge Critz ran behind Davidson, who has one of the most potent names in Texas politics for a judicial candidate.

One congressman—Maury Maverick of San Antonio, apparently met defeat at the hands of Paul Kilday, an Assistant District Attorney, who has the backing of Mayor Quinn's city machine,—and two others, McFarlane of Wichita Falls, and Morgan Sanders, of the Third District, face runoff contests.

State Senator Joe Hill of Henderson, won re-election against stiff opposition, and early reports here carried news of the defeat of the Senate's veteran conservative, Tom Holbrook of Galveston and Eph Davis of Brownwood. Ross Hardin won by a clear majority for Senator in the Waco District.

Robert Kelley, in the Valley District, appeared to lack only a few hundred votes for a clear majority over Lon Messer and Senator Jim O'Neal, who ran a poor second.

Returns were unofficial and incomplete as this column was written for transmission to subscribing newspapers by mail.

WHERE DO FRECKLES GO WHEN OTHINE IS USED? It's Amazing to Many

For nearly 30 years Othine has been "chasing freckles" and lightening sun-tanned skin. Where do the freckles and tan go? They mildly flake away with the nightly use of this dainty cream. Satisfy yourself, as thousands do each year. The use of one jar must please you . . . or your money will be refunded. Your local druggist has Othine . . . or he will gladly get it for you.

To the Voters of Donley County

Little boys had rather win a marble game than to loose it. Older boys had rather win an election than to loose it, but after all I appreciate the friendship of every one in the county as much even now as I did when I won six years ago. I appreciate the treatment of those running against me and hope they feel the same toward me.

For the new judge who is to take the oath of office at the beginning of 1939, I hope his administration of office will be pleasing and profitable to the county as a whole. The past six years have been rather difficult financially, but I hope for him that conditions will be better.

So to everyone who did and to everyone who did not vote for me, I thank you; for to me the friendship of all is just the same.

Very respectfully yours,

S. W. Lowe

Mountain Comedy Is Feature

No City Slickers are (left to right) Abner, Elviry, and Cicery Weaver, and Penny Singleton. They're just a few of the grand folks you're going to meet in "Swing Your Lady," the mountain comedy coming to the Pastime Theatre next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

wonderful workers for next Sunday's services, but it is the fact that many have failed to avail themselves of the opportunity of coming under the blessed influence of their ministry during the days of our meeting. We pass up unheeded so many of the good things of life. There has never been a more patient, painstaking, persistent, profitable pair of workers in our city. They have been Christian in every sense of the word. The influence of their ministry will never cease in Clarendon.

There will be no services Saturday, but we hope to carry on through Sunday with unabated interest the fine spirit generated in this meeting, then on through the coming days of the life of the church. The baptismal service will be at the close of the preaching hour Sunday evening. Be one of hundreds to bring this meeting to a remarkable climax in all of the services throughout the day Sunday. We need you and are happy to believe that you will be blessed in your efforts to be of service.

J. Perry King, pastor.

Salt With Water; Less Perspiration

AUSTIN—If your work is such that it causes excessive perspiration, add a pinch of ordinary table salt to each drink of water you take to help prevent heat cramps. This is advised by Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, to prevent a possible increase in the number of heat victims as the Texas Thermometer hits 95 degrees and above.

Laborers, mechanics, farmers and white collar workers whose work causes them to sweat profusely, are in danger of having their body salt content become deficient with resulting heat cramp or heat fag. Salt is a prominent constituent of sweat; the body may lose as high as 40 to 50 grams of salt during hot days. In industry, a method of preventing heat cramps is to take a tablet of pure salt or a mixture of salt and dextrose with each drink of water. Workmen whose duties require muscular exertion should be especially careful to add more than the usual amount of salt to what they eat and drink.

Salt deficiency may be prevented in various ways. Where prepared tablets are not available, table salt may be added to each drink of water. Milk is a source of salt and will help to make up for deficiency cause by sweating. Alcoholic drinks should be avoided.

Heat cramps is characterized by pains (cramps) in the abdominal region, headache, and in severe cases, by nausea and vomiting. The body temperature remains about normal, likewise the pulse rate. Body salt losses occur without the knowledge of the individual until there is a deficiency; then the abdominal muscles begin to cramp.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Myers and baby and Mrs. Joe Bowns and son, Donald, went to Wichita Falls Tuesday to the Clinic.

Mr. and Mrs. Grady Halbert of Crowell visited Mrs. Halbert's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Johnson this week.

IT'S OPEN SEASON, BOYS

Maryland Marlin

THE hum of the reel and the singing of taut lines is beginning to be heard all along the miles of open beach where Nature has prepared her bountiful piscatorial feast.

Off the coast of Maryland, the Old Line state, sport fishermen will be matching their skill and strength against the tricky speed of the white marlin, sportiest fish in the ocean. Along the Jersey coast special preparations are being hurried for bluefin tuna fishing while Maine is looking forward to its biggest salt water fishing season.

In the July issue of Motor Boating, Eri Roman, noted authority on fishing, has written an intensely interesting article on where they are and how to get them.

They are tall stories, these tales of fierce battles and long struggles with the briny tribe, but they are hard to disbelieve, for Mr. Roman has liberally illustrated his article with pictures made on the scene.

LIBRARY NOTES

(By Mrs. C. A. Burton)

Howard Mumford Jones, Professor of English at Harvard University and book reviewer of note has an article in the July Atlantic, from which the August Reader's Digest quotes at length, in which he claims that we are entitled to a new deal in novels. He says, "From many novels of recent vintage I have learned to believe that the true pith and marrow of existence is mostly outside the law and beyond the moral codes and that life in the United States is compounded of boredom and horror, violence and despair."

that purpose. He asks what would be the opinion of our civilization and culture, should an archeologist find his library in the 25th century after a great catastrophe had destroyed the United States, and judge us by the fiction they would find on the Shelves? And he reiterates that the American reading public is entitled to a new deal.

In pleasing contrast to this review article in the New York Herald Tribune's "Books" by Howard Mumford Jones of "The Virginia Edition of the Works of Ellen Glasgow," Scribners have published a fine special edition of twelve of Miss Glasgow's books which constitutes a social history of Virginia from 1850 to 1933. Professor Jones described Miss Glasgow as "witty, wise and civilized," and he says the preface written for this edition place their author in the great line of English novelists and are likely to be the most important pronouncements upon novel writing since Conrad and Henry James. Miss Glasgow is the only important American novelist to devote her mature powers to a single commonwealth, yet she has at no time fallen into mere local color or regionalism. She has written of Virginia only when it was appropos of human life. She excels in her portraits of adult women—her gallery of female characters surpasses in richness and variety almost any single group in American fiction. "She judges character by its adequacy in the difficult business of love and family life, by its capacity for tolerance and an amused patience." Miss Glasgow says of herself, "I feel younger at sixty than I felt at twenty when I was oppressed by my own and the worlds sorrow."

Women' ran third. 'Uncle Remus' fourth and 'Hiawatha' fourth. A one volume guide to the United States called "United States Guide," is now in preparation by the Federal Writer's project to be completed this fall. Designed for both American and foreign tourists, it will be the most comprehensive guide since Baedeker's Guide published in 1909. It will contain photographs maps and plans for recreation areas.

The July issue of Poetry is devoted to verse composed by members of the Federal Writer's project. John Dos Passos is now writing a new novel to be called "Adventures of a Young Man". Two of his books are on ourshelves, "Soldiers Three" and his recent success, "The Big Money". No best seller of the present has created a greater sensation than did "The Virginian" in its day, and it is still read and enjoyed. The daily press carried the announcement this week of the death of Owen Wister, the author, at Crowfield, R. I., his summer home. He was buried at Bryn Mawr, Penn. He was seventy-eight years old a week before his death—was a Harvard classmate and long time friend of Theodore Roosevelt. After his graduation he studied music in Paris, but returned to this country to study law. He wrote several books and many magazine articles, but he will always be known for "The Virginian", the material for which he gathered on a hunting trip through Arizona and New Mexico while recovering from an illness. John P. Morquand, author of the Pulitzer Prize novel, "The Late George Apley," is summering at Newberryport, Mass., and working on a new novel which he plans to have published next year.

Trees Grow in Semi-Arid Plains

No longer is it necessary that the Plains country be a vast, treeless expanse. Farmers are finding that adapted species attain a growth of 10 to 12 feet within three years if given the benefit of additional water and frequent cultivation. Water diverted from a roadway has been diverted to this tree site on one of the Soil Conservation Service demonstration projects.

NEW DRUG CONTROL ACT OMTS "FRAUD JOKER"

The new Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act omits the "fraud joker" that proved so serious a handicap in protecting the public against worthless and dangerous patent medicines and proprietary nostrums.

The old food and drug law provided for criminal prosecution of patent medicine makers who shipped goods in interstate commerce if it could be proved that the labels were false and fraudulent. This made it extremely difficult to get convictions. It was reasonably easy for the Government to prove label statements false, but hard to prove that the seller knew that his claims were unwarranted, that his labels were put out with wilful intent to deceive. In case after case the defendant claimed that he had faith in his "remedy" and believed it would cure.

It was the fraud joker that caused the Food and Drug Administration to lose its hard-fought case against a manufacturer who made a diabetes "cure" from horsetail weed. He claimed to believe his own statements and the jury gave him the benefit of the doubt. On the other hand juries did not accept another manufacturer's protestation in regard to an "abortion cure" made of corn starch with a little permanganate of potash and sold at from $6 to $12 a package.

Under the new law, which will go into effect June 25, 1939, 1 year after it was signed, the government will need only to prove a nostrum worthless. It will not be necessary to probe into the mind of the dealer and prove that he was cheating the buyer. This, in the opinion of enforcement officials, marks a material gain in the protection of the public.

Mrs. George Wittey and son and Mrs. Edna Lehane of Fort Worth spent Saturday night with Mrs. Sarah M. Stocking enroute to Colorado Springs.

The Low Down FROM HICKORY GROVE

You will find people poppin' off about politicians—saying they are a windy bunch and looking out more for themselves than for the voters. But all of 'em, I reckon, are not such bad kind of geezers. Anyway, everyone of them is not 100 per cent wind—maybe 50 per cent might be a good average. And that is about the same as in other places, like a lunch club speaker, etc.

But we got to have somebody run the Govt. this here Pat Harrison. He is from Mississippi, so he is a democrat, but I do not hold that against him. And I do not hold it against Mr. Bridges and Mr. Austin for being republicans—seeing that they come from New Hampshire and Vermont.

But to get back to Mr. Harrison he is not a yes-sir person, or 100 per cent wind, and you know, a duck like that, if he should ever run for President or something, I might give him a vote. Anyway, if by accident, he happened to sent me a nice jug of Mississippi sorghum, it would not hurt his chances. Yours for the low down, JO SERRA

Joe Ward and mother and son, Archie Ward, and William Dickson of Childress visited friends in Clarendon Tuesday morning.

Tramp Falls From Boxcar Early Today

Officers were called Thursday morning about two o'clock to J. O. Thompson's five miles east of Clarendon near the railroad track by someone who had shot at a tramp attempting to break in the house.

It was found that the man was James Sullivan of Jefferson county, about fifty years of age, who had fallen from a boxcar on a freight train coming into town when he suffered an attack of asthma and went to the door of the car for air. He had on no trousers when he fell and was attempting to find someone and get help for his asthma when discovered. He was arrested on a charge of vagrancy and brought to town and taken to the hospital. He will be sent to the mountains which were his destination for his health.

Elvis Burch Is FSA Supervisor

Elvis Burch, who has been supervisor for the FSA in Castro county has been transferred to Donley county as county supervisor of the same work.

Mr. Burch will begin his duties in about two weeks, and will be located in an office in the Goldston building, according to Bob Land, supervisor of Donley and Hall counties.

An enlargement of the scope of work necessitated the transfer of Land to Hall county alone, and Burch to Donley county.

Local People Home From Lions Meeting

Returning here Tuesday night after a journey of almost four thousand miles, without an instant of car trouble, Messrs. and Mesdames Homer Mulkey and Sam M. Braswell report an interesting and pleasant trip to the International Convention of Lions Clubs at Oakland, California.

Both couples made brief visits with relatives in California, and enjoyed the scenic wonders of the Grand Canyon in Nevada, the Boulder Dam in Nevada, Muir Wood in California, Brenner Pass in Nevada, the Great Salt Lake region in Utah, the Bridal Veil Falls in that state, and the Monarch Pass in the Colorado Rockies. In San Francisco Bay they also had a delightful visit abroad the U. S. Battleship Maryland, present flagship of the Pacific fleet.

Mr. Braswell served as vice-chairman of the resolutions committee in the Lions Convention, having served on the same committee at Providence, R. I. two years ago. Texans had over two hundred delegates in the convention, and had the pleasure of electing Geo. R. Joron of Dallas as 3rd vice-president of the organization. The 1939 convention will be held in Pittsburgh, Pa.

Tuition Required For Students Who Fail To Transfer

Donley county school students whose grades are not taught in the home district and are not transferred cannot attend high schools unless the parent or the sending school pays the tuition, according to a recent ruling of the Attorney General, H. T. Burton, superintendent of the Clarendon Public School, announced this week in urging all parents and school trustees to see that transfers are made by August 1, the last day transfers may be made.

"According to a recent ruling of the Attorney-General, county board transfers are not legal transfers insofar as the equalization law is concerned. The attorney-general has further ruled that students whose grades are not taught in the home district and are not transferred cannot attend high schools unless the parent or the sending school pays the tuition. If the sending school pays the tuition these students won't count on the teacher-pupil load given in the state aid application. Or, in other words, the sending school will not be reimbursed for those students who have failed to transfer. August 1 is the last day for transfers.

"It is very important for parents and trustees of sending districts to be sure that all transfers are made by that date," Mr. Burton said.

Publicity Exhibit At FFA Convention

J. R. Gilham, local F. F. A. advisor, returned Sunday from the State F. F. A. Convention at El Paso, where he prepared a publicity exhibit at the convention at the request of O. T. Ryan, area supervisor of vocational agriculture.

The exhibit featured the value of publicity in informing people of the F. F. A. work and its value. Included in the exhibit was the local chapter's scrapbook which won first place in the Area I scrapbook contest in May.

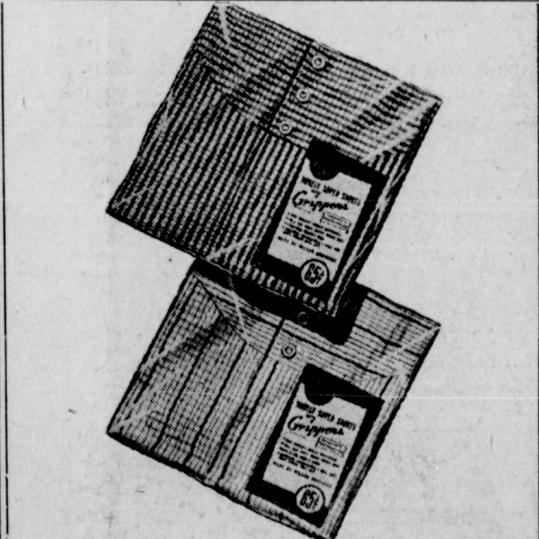

J. B. Rutland, state supervisor of vocational agriculture, stated that the Clarendon group was one of the most active in the state and had just completed its most successful year.

PIONEER PISTOL FOUND AT SITE OF FIRST JAIL

Fred Cunningham found a pioneer pistol of ancient calibre in the crumbling walls of this county's first jail.

The old model firearm is badly rusted but the heavy frame and large bore indicate it might have been a deadly weapon 60 years ago.

Mrs. W. L. Gordon of Dallas is spending the week visiting her sister, Mrs. Simmons Powell, and Mr. Powell. Mr. Gordon spent the week-end here, returning to Dallas Sunday.
