Clarendon And Hedley To Merge Farm Associations

The Clarendon National Farm Loan Association and the Hedley Farm Loan Association will be merged about July 1 in a move brought about by the Federal Land Bank decentralizing and strengthening both local and farm associations in Texas.

According to C. E. Killough, secretary of both of the organizations, the Clarendon and Hedley branch will be combined when the directors of the two associations meet.

Under the new set-up, a downtown office will be established in Clarendon with a full time secretary and an assistant. Directors of the two branches will select a new board, employ the secretary, choose the office location and name the unit.

Directors of the Clarendon National Farm Loan Association are Odo Caraway, president; C. B. Morris, C. H. Hugbee, R. W. Moore and Heckle Stark.

Heading the Hedley Farm Loan association are J. W. Masterson, president; J. B. Pickett, J. W. DeBoard, A. T. Simons and J. A. Tollett.

Under new plans for Texas the 76 impaired associations (out of the total of 294 in the state) can be rehabilitated, all associations put in strong financial position, and nearly $2,000,000 worth of member stock in previously insolvent associations can be restored to par value.

"The Land Bank will be in position to pay $450,000 in cash to redeem withheld stock of 3,400 farmers who have paid their loans in full through insolvent associations," Mr. Evans said. "It can also restore to par value $1,500,000 worth of stock held by 16,600 member-borrowers through such associations."

The reorganization program and consolidation among some associations will decentralize part of the Land Bank functions by putting more duties and responsibilities on the local associations. Losses suffered during the early 1930's in some areas brought insolvency to the associations affected, although the system as a whole in Texas has made a remarkable record, Mr. Evans said. "This new plan is expected to provide more efficient operations, a better farm loan service close to the farmers, and to make possible savings in land bank operations estimated at $195,000 annually."

The land bank, started during the first World War is now in its 27th year. The Federal Land Bank of Houston is one of the strongest of the land banks," Mr. Evans said, "with all government capital retired and with its $10,170,000 capital stock owned by Texas NFLAs. The bank has been able to perform its services, cover losses and build up an earned surplus and legal reserves total of more than $22,600,000. This has been done on a margin of one per cent between the interest rate on farm loan bonds sold to the investing public and the rate charged borrowers."

"The land bank system pioneer in long-term, low-rate farm mortgage loans is realizing its goal of that more than a third of all borrowers have paid their land debts in full, New records in debt retirement ahead of maturity are being made this year. This vindicates the bank's courageous policy of basing loans on normal agricultural production value during the depression and thereby saving many thousands of farms and ranches."

The farm loan bank of Houston today has more than $203,000,000 in land bank and land bank commissioner loans on its books.

CANNING PLANT TO BE OPERATED IN CLARENDON THROUGHOUT SUMMER

ALICE R. BISHOP ACCEPTS JOB WITH S. D. P. W.

AUSTIN, May 31 — Alice R. Bishop of Hedley has accepted a position with the State Department of Public Welfare as Senior Field Worker and assumed her duties in Amarillo on May 31.

Miss Bishop was born in Golden and reared in Hedley. She is a graduate of Hedley high school and Abilene Christian college. She has also attended West Texas State Teachers' College. Prior to her selection by the welfare department through a Merit System examination she was a teacher for several years in the Hedley public schools.

In preparation for her new duties she has just completed four weeks of training in Austin and Fort Worth. Miss Bishop will help administer the old age assistance, aid to the needy blind, and aid to dependent children programs. These programs, being financed jointly by federal and state money, grant assistance to aged persons who have reached their 65th birthday, to blind persons who are at least 21 years of age, and to children under 14 who have lost the care or support of one or both parents through death, continued absence from the home, or physical or mental incapacity of the parent, in order to secure federal funds the state is required to grant aid only to those persons found to be in need of such assistance under other provisions of the law.

SEABEES WANTS MEN FOR SPECIAL WORK IN SERVICE
Cooks, stewards, carpenters, carpenters' helpers, lubrication and grease-job men, mechanics and assistant mechanics are being sought by the U. S. Navy Seabees in the new nation-wide drive for thousands of additional recruits to serve in the construction battalions. It was announced today by Lieut. Comdr. L. H. Ridout, Jr., officer in charge of the Dallas naval recruiting district.

Virtually all men between the ages of 18 and 50 with experience in construction trades are needed in the fighting Seabee units at the present time. A new plan of voluntary induction is open to men between the ages of 18 and 37 (inclusive) and those who qualify definitely are assured of assignment to the Seabees, where their civilian occupations will be put to greatest use in vital war service. Application must be made, however, before the volunteer receives his notice to be inducted into the armed forces.

Under the voluntary induction plan, applicants are enlisted as apprentice seamen and then assigned the petty officer rating they are qualified for. Men 38 and over are eligible for the Seabees through voluntary enlistment, and also can qualify for petty officer ratings.

The method of enlisting in the Seabees is to visit your nearest navy recruiting station where a preliminary physical examination will be given. The applicant then will be sent to Dallas, experience paid, where Lieut. C. B. Parrett of the Navy's civil engineering corps will interview him. A visit to the nearest navy recruiting station will give the applicant the complete story, and allow him to determine if he is qualified for the navy's construction units. The navy engineers also offer opportunities for men with experience in construction trades.

A LETTER
Lelia Lake, Texas, May 31, 1943
Sirs: I have just read the article in The Clarendon News, entitled "A Clarendon Soldier's Mother" by Mary Cooke. I have read it several times and consider it a classic. The word picture of our patriots of the American Revolution enabled me to see the camp fires at Valley Forge. Miss Cooke certainly knows her Clarendon, for I'm sure many families really don't realize yet that we are in a death struggle for existence. Respectfully, ALBERT GERNER.

TO CAROLINA

Hayter home. Mrs. Hart, teacher in the local schools, will return to South Carolina with him to make her home for the summer.

Mr. Tom Connally is now in Sun Ray on business.

Scrap, More and More Needed!

More, and still more, scrap metal is needed to make the steel which builds the tanks and ships required to carry this war to complete victory. Texas farms are one of the biggest sources of scrap. And farm families are asked to turn in as much of it as they can collect.

According to H. M. Breedlove, County Agent of the A. and M. College Extension Service, many dealers have reported that the amount of scrap coming into their yards has dropped more than fifty per cent. Unless it starts flowing in larger quantities some war plants may not be able to produce as much war materials as they did last year. Also, the lack of metal may cause plants which manufacture farm machinery to fall behind their production schedules. Breedlove says that if this should occur it would delay considerably the production of farm machinery and equipment.

The steel mills need especially the higher grade, heavier type of scrap metal which is found on farms. This is because it is more easily melted down than light metals. Farmers already have done an excellent job in the large amount they have contributed to the scrap harvest. But it is likely that many farms and ranches haven't been tapped.

Here's one small way farmers can help in making scrap easier to handle. Burn all the wood off it before turning it in. In the past discarded farm machinery and other metals have been turned in as they were, and dealers had to remove the wood before the scrap could be shipped. In many cases they paid less for it in that form.

The national spring drive for scrap will continue through June. So round up any pieces around the farm and have them ready when your community drive starts.

Canning plant facilities will be available to the public throughout the entire summer, according to J. R. Gillham, vocational agriculture instructor, who will have supervision of the canning program. Through the cooperation of the commissioners court, the county canning equipment will be used and the vocational agriculture department will provide the rooms, utilities, and lady supervisors for the canning work.

The plant will open at the Junior high school lunch room on January 17 and will remain open on Tuesdays, Wednesdays, Thursdays, and Fridays of each week. Each person desiring to can their foodstuffs will do their own work but will be furnished the use of the canners, water, and heat free of charge, and the work will be under the supervision of ladies experienced in the use of the equipment. Mrs. J. E. Humphries will act as supervisor of the canning plant, and parties desiring to use the equipment will contact her to secure date for canning their food. It is not necessary that parties make advance reservation for their canning dates, but those that do so will be allowed the use of the equipment in preference to those that do not.

Three large retorts with a capacity of 98 cans each and three quart pressure cookers will be available, tables, water, and gas heat will be furnished by the sponsors, but the parties canning will furnish all of their canning materials.

Tentative plans call for operation of a plant at Ashola during the part of the summer and any other community in the county desiring a similar plant should contact Gillham at an early date. The purpose of the canning plant operation is to provide facilities for the canning of every possible can of food by three parties not possessing the necessary facilities at home.

THE POSTWAR JUNIOR COLLEGE

The junior colleges are due to be the chief beneficiaries of the increased demand for specialized training in the post-war period, according to Dr. Frederic C. Eby of the education department of the University of Texas. He foresees conditions which will make that type of institution much more conspicuous and important in the educational scheme of things.

The junior college was new and untried when the first world war ended. There was a boom in higher education in the postwar period that taxed the facilities of many senior colleges. In some respects it was detrimental to the colleges and to the students. It forced the former to add to their facilities and to enlarge their plants, only to find that many of the students did not complete the courses. Also there were students who found higher schooling unduly costly for what they obtained from it. The development of the junior college tended to correct both of these ills. It took much of the teaching load off the senior institutions and it enabled high school graduates to test their capacities for higher training at less cost.

There is likely to be, when this war ends, a much more realistic view of college education than has heretofore prevailed. The senior colleges will not want the type of student who is not prepared to obtain a degree. The youths whose schooling was interrupted by military service will want additional training, as expeditiously and as economically as possible. The junior college, it is apparent, will fit nicely into the special needs of that period. It is destined to play a much more useful part in higher education when the men in uniform return.

SAVE PUERTO RICO

There is a bill before Congress to grant independence to the island of Puerto Rico. Anything that suggests independence for any country today has an appeal, and there lies one of the dangers of this proposal. The people of the United States are totally unfamiliar with Puerto Rico and what it means to this nation. They do not realize it is a territory of the United States and can be the 49th state. It is therefore of the utmost importance that the widest possible understanding of this issue be gained immediately.

Puerto Rico is one of our most important island bases. It guards the Panama Canal and provides a point from which we could intercept an enemy attacking our eastern coast.

There are foreign powers that would like to see Puerto Rico given so-called independence on the chance they would gobble it up.

Talk about "freeing" our fellow citizens in Puerto Rico, 99 per cent of whom are citizens of the United States, and 50 per cent of whom are natural born citizens of this country, is fantastic.

The representative of Puerto Rico in our Congress recommends statehood for the island.

It would be costly folly to cast our island possessions adrift. They are a fortified ring around our nation. They have real freedom and protection under our government.

The danger of allowing any island outpost of the American continent to fall into the hands of another power is illustrated by our loss of Kiska and Attu.

Instead of throwing Puerto Rico away under a false banner of independence, we would better give it statehood, as advocated in both the Republican and Democratic national platforms of 1940, and add a new star to our flag.

LOOKING AT FOOD

Americans get tired being told how much better they fare than do people in other countries. Just the same, it is well to keep it in mind. The food of a Japanese internment camp in Hong Kong, where Americans, British and Dutch are held, includes nine items, rice, white flour, sugar, salt, peanut oil, meat and vegetables. There is dirt in the rice and flour and dried leaves and grass in the cabbage, to increase the weight. The amount of meat is slightly more than a quarter pound. There is no milk to provide calcium, no whole grains, with vitamin B, no fresh fruit for vitamin C. Naturally, illness is frequent and hard to recover from under such circumstances. The Geneva convention requires prisoners to be fed as well as the soldiers of the country which intern them, but it is evident the Japanese do not take this convention very seriously.

Norwegians get a diet which sounds well—meat skimmed milk, goat cheese, bread, flour, oleomargarine, sugar, potatoes, rutabagas, salt codfish and berries. The deficiencies are in quantity. A quarter-ounce of meat per day is not much.

These rations have been assembled by the Department of Nutrition at Teachers' College of Columbia University, N. Y., and placed on exhibition there. The daily diet of a WAVE is set against those of the Norwegians and Japanese prisoners. Its big slice of broiled beef liver with all the fixings which go to make up 2,900 calories is really something to look at. But that's America.—Amarillo Times.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS
by BOYCE HOUSE

When this observer was a mere youth, I used to attend the boxing matches occasionally in the old, barn-like Phoenix Athletic Club. One of the most skillful of the pugilists was Dixie Kid, a negro, former welterweight champion of the world. He was unbelievably fast on his feet and—unusual for a speedster—he had a powerful punch. I recall one bout in which his opponent swung, Dixie Kid ducked and leaped under the other's arm, then whirled so quickly that he was facing the same way his opponent was, and hit him in the back from behind!

That was a long time ago. What called him to mind was a brief item a while past in the papers that the Kid was on the Pacific Coast, broken in finances and health.

"I whipped 'em all 'cept liquor," he said.

MORE CANNED FOOD FOR CIVILIANS

Civilians will gain 30 million vases of canned fruits and vegetables as a result of reduced government requirements. The reductions are mainly for corn, peas, spinach, tomatoes, snap beans, fruit cocktail, sweet cherries, peaches, pineapple, and pineapple juice. Since the 1943 production is not known, current point values for these items will not be immediately affected.

PAY OFF FARM DEBT

Increased revenue from crops and livestock should be used to pay off farm debt, said Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard recently. He emphasized that the payment of outstanding obligations, along with as large an investment as possible in war bonds, is a sound protection for the future.

FOOD FOR 3-DAY FURLOUGH

A serviceman on a leave or furlough of at least 3 days hereafter will be provided with a complete application form for obtaining rationed food before he leaves camp. He will give the application to the person who provides his meals, who will submit it to the local board for food certificates within fifteen days after the furlough ends.

FURTHER CHEESE RATIONING

To conserve supplies of milk, rationing will be extended to include all cheeses and cheese products, except cottage, bakers, and pot cheese, the war food administration and OPA have announced. All hard cheeses and most cheese foods have been rationed since March 29. Early in June soft perishable cheeses such as cream cheese, neufchatel, camembert, hederkrantz, brie, and blue cheese are to be added to the ration list.

WOMEN MUST WORK

By December, 1943, one-third of the female population of working age — 17.4 million women — will be required for the civilian labor force and the armed forces, said WMC Chairman Paul V. McNutt. At least 2 million women must be added to the labor force in 1943.

LOWER POTATO PRICES 7 PER CENT

Consumers ceiling prices on potatoes have been decreased about 7 per cent according to a recent OPA announcement. At the same time, the price paid growers was increased 30 cents per hundredweight on the 1943 early crop.

SUGAR SUPPLY FOR 1943

On the basis of prospective 1943 supplies of sugar, the current level of consumption in this country probably can be maintained, the war food administration has announced. The allocation of the prospective supply will be as follows: 1,153,000 tons for the armed forces, lend-lease and other exports, and 4,600,000 tons for civilian uses. The civilian uses include an estimated 2,255,000 tons for household use and home canning, and 2,342,000 tons for industrial and institutional sugar users.

STOCKING REGULATIONS

OPA's new regulation setting definite maximum prices on rayon stockings is based upon construction, which in turn governs quality. All full-fashioned rayon hosiery sold at retail must be marked with the ceiling price and the gauge or needle count. Gauge and needle count govern wearability, not sheerness. First quality, full-fashioned rayon hosiery prices now range from 71 cents to $1.31. Hosiery with special features such as "non-run," or mesh, reinforced heel, sole and welt, etc., are now priced from 98 cents to $1.67. Irregulars, seconds and thirds are cheaper.

First quality, circular knit rayon hosiery prices range from 28 cents to 64 cents. Hosiery with special features is priced from 36 cents to 66 cents and irregulars, seconds and thirds for less.

TEACHERS CAN TAKE SUMMER JOBS

School teachers will not be prevented from taking jobs at higher pay under regular positions by working during the summer vacation in war plants, agriculture or necessary civilian services, said Paul V. McNutt, chairman of the war manpower commission recently.

PRICE SUPPORT FOR BUTTER

Dairy farmers have been assured that wholesale prices of butter will continue to be supported at a level equivalent to 46 cents a pound, Chicago basis, until June 30, 1944, by the war food administration. The support was pledged last December at the time farmers were called upon to meet 1943 production goals.

PRICES SET ON PRESSURE CANNERS

Specific ceilings on three war models of pressure canners have been announced by OPA. Except in the war western zone, the consumer will pay $13.90 for the National model, $14.90 for the Wisconsin model and $15.00 for the Burpee. In the far western zone prices are 60 cents higher because of transportation costs. Production of another 125,000, more than in any other year.

MATERNITY CARE PROVIDED

Wives of men in the four lowest grades of the armed forces can now get maternity care plus medical, hospital, and nursing care for their babies in 23 states with cost to the family, the Children's Bureau of the U. S. Department of Labor has announced. To supply for such aid the wife must fill out a form MORE MORE MORE secured from the state health department. Additional states are expected to have approved programs soon.

MILEAGE FROM SCRAP TIRES

To obtain additional mileage from tires that can be made serviceable with the addition of reliners, the office of rubber director has excluded reusable tire carcasses from rubber scrap program to reclaiming plants. Because of this order some half-million otherwise unusable tires can be placed in service through the defense supplies corporation.

LUMBER FOR FARMS

To relieve lumber shortages on farms for all repairs except those to farm dwellings, WPB has set aside a total of 500 million board feet of lumber for delivery on an AA-2 preference rating during June, July, August and September. Farmers who cannot obtain lumber with present ratings, should apply to the county farm rationing committee for certificates to purchase lumber for maintenance, repair and new construction necessary to the food production program.

CANNING WORKERS NEEDED

About 400,000 workers for the food canning and processing industry will be needed at the peak season this year. Canning is essentially a seasonal, hometown industry, manned by local workers — youths, housewives, mechanics, and others who normally work at other occupations during the rest of the year.

FOOD DEALERS WELL OFF

Under community wide dollars and cents ceilings now being established, food retailers and wholesalers will continue to enjoy the most favorable economic

THE LOW DOWN

From HICKORY GROVE By JO SERRA

A nation-wide sales tax right now, to pay for the war, is the medicine we need. Unless we care to drag around for years as a half-way invalid, we better start doing something — and taking our medicine.

A sales tax is a hot potato and poison to many office holders. But more than one politician of renown has not always had his finger on the public pulse — they just think they do. That is why we see so many new faces there on the old Potomac, as time rolls along — as we get hep.

And while we are on the pulse subject, it reminds me of the horse doctor story that the chef down at our Coffee Pot Restaurant told me. A horse doctor, he says, must be smart — smarter even than your family doctor, where you feel bad, he says. You tell your family doctor and the doctor proceeds to fix you up. But a veterinary, he can't ask the horse where he has a pain.

But the sales tax — I am off the subject. The time to get the money in which everybody is flush — which is now — and avoid much more bitter medicine later.

Yours with the low down,
JO SERRA.

SALES UP

Independent retailers in Texas reported a sales gain of 32 per cent during April, compared with the same month last year, the University of Texas bureau of business research reported. For the first four months of this year, sales were 27 per cent over those during a comparable period of 1942.

FARM INCOME UP

Texas farm cash income during the first four months of 1943 stood 55 per cent better than during the comparable period of 1942, the University of Texas bureau of business research found. Total farm income for the year is 247 millions, compared with 160 millions last year. April alone saw income of 75 million dollars to Texas farmers.

position on record, says OPA. The volume of business done, dollar margins over cost, and profits before taxes stand today at high levels, a favorable situation reflected in the fact that business failures are currently at the lowest point in a half century.

SAVING ON FARM FERTILIZER

Farmers who use nitrogenous fertilizers — used mainly for top soil reconditioning — will be saved approximately $25,000 within a year by the six per cent freight reductions which became effective May 15, 1943. This saving will chiefly affect sales and purchases next year, since most farmers have already bought their 1943 requirements. The individual's saving will depend upon his location and upon the delivery system of the seller.

FRILES REMOVED FROM WOMEN'S WEAR

A clothing conservation program adopted by WPB will affect every branch of the women's and children's outerwear industry. Manufacture of dresses is now subject to two controls; square inch limitations on the amount of material which may be used for trimmings, collars, pockets, etc., and restrictions on size and design of the trimmings and control of the basic silhouette to specified measurements of length, sweep, hip, hem, etc., listed in amended order L-58.

RUBBER BOOTS FOR WORKERS

Rubber boots are now available to the following classes of workers: miners, loggers, communications linemen, construction workers, oil drillers, quarry workers and clay extractors. Formerly only miners and loggers were on the eligible list. Applicants must show ration boards a definite occupational need for rubber boots, but a purchaser is no longer required to turn in worn out rubber footwear when he buys a new pair.

EXTRA MEAT RATIONS

Loggers, miners, prospectors, fishermen, sheepherders and others who live or work far from population centers and who cannot supplement their meats-fats rations with fresh fish, poultry, and eggs can get extra points for rationed meats and fats by two new OPA amendments.

SAUSAGE REGULATIONS

The price of some of the beef sausage has been rolled back from 3-8 cents to 1-2 cents a pound, effective June 1.

Rationing . . . At A Glance

SUGAR—Stamp No. 13 valid for five pounds until midnight, August 15.

CANNING SUGAR—Stamps 15 and 16 in Ration Book One valid for 5 pounds of sugar each through Oct. 31, 1943. Those needing additional sugar for canning may apply to local rationing boards.

COFFEE—Stamp No. 24 in Book No. 1 (for those 14 or older on the date the book was issued) valid for 1 pound of coffee beginning May 31, expires on June 30.

SHOES—Stamp No. 17 in Book No. 1 good for 1 pair of shoes through June 15. Stamp No. 18 becomes valid June 16 for 1 pair of shoes.

MEAT, EDIBLE FATS AND OILS, (including butter), CHEESES, CANNED FISH—Each holder of Book 2 allowed 16 points per week. Red Stamps, E, F, G, and H expire May 31. Red Stamps J, K, L, M, and N expire June 30 and become valid as follows: J, May 23; K, May 30; L, June 6, M, June 13; and N, June 20.

Mileage Rationing

GASOLINE—Value of each coupon in A, B and C books is 4 gallons. A-6 coupons expire midnight July 21.

TIRE INSPECTION—All "A" book holders must have second official tire inspections by Sept. 30, 1943. Subsequent inspections for A book holders will be once every six months. "B" book holders must have second official tire inspection by June 30, 1943. "C" book holders must have second official tire inspection by May 31, 1943. Next official tire inspection for "T" book holders must be made within 60 days of last inspection or within 5,000 miles, whichever occurs first.

TIRES—If official tire inspector recommends a tire replacement apply to local ration board for the tire ration certificate. Tires will be rationed to all on the basis of tire inspections and county quotas available with most essential mileage to come first. Recaps can now be secured without rationing certificates.

Other Rationing

Eligible purchasers needing new automobiles, bicycles, typewriters, rubber footwear and other commodities, (except farm machinery and pressure cookers) on which sales might be restricted should see their local ration board. Persons interested in securing farm machinery and pressure cookers should see their county USDA War Board.

HOME CANNING HINTS

The following questions and answers on home canning were issued today by the office of price administration to help housewives know how to get and use sugar allowed for this purpose. Coupons for buying sugar for home canning will be available at local ration boards on and after May 15.

Q. Does the sugar allowance of "one pound of sugar to each four quarts of finished fruit" mean that I must can all fruit with the same weight of syrup?

A. No, but you must make an average of four quarts of finished fruit for each pound of sugar you get. You may, if you wish, put up some of your fruit or fruit juices with no sugar at all, and make a heavier syrup for certain others.

Q. Must I declare the number of quarts of fruits and vegetables I have on hand when I apply for sugar for home canning?

A. No. However, the available supply of sugar for home canning is limited, and local boards may ask for information about your supplies and needs of home canned fruit in deciding how much sugar you will receive for this season's canning.

Q. Why are sugar purchase coupons being issued in small denominations of 1, 3, 5 and 10 pounds?

A. To encourage consumers to buy sugar only as they are sure they need it. This will help save limited supplies of canning sugar, and at the same time make shopping easier for women who can and preserve in small quantities.

Q. May I ask a friend who has a pressure cooker in her kitchen to do my canning for me, if I supply all ingredients, and get back all at the finished fruit she puts up, without surrendering ration points for the food she cans?

A. Yes, if you contribute either the ingredients or the equipment or part of the labor required to can fruits and vegetables, you may acquire them without surrendering ration points.

Q. Must I give up ration stamps for canned foods which the local cannery processes for me, if I supply the ingredients?

A. You may acquire 100 quarts of such foods point free for each person in your family, if you or your family raised the fruits or vegetables. However, these foods are considered commercial products, and if you acquire more than the 100 quarts per person, or if you wish to sell them, you must pay and collect points for them at the point value of commercially canned foods — as given on the official table of point value of processed foods.

Q. May I give away as many quarts of home canned vegetables as I wish if they require no sugar in canning them?

A. No. But each person in your family may give away not more than 50 quarts of home canned fruits and vegetables without collecting ration stamps. If you wish to give away more than that, you must collect ration stamps from the person to whom you give them, although you need not ask for money payment for this food unless you wish.

Q. How many jars of jams and jellies may I give away?

A. Jams, jellies and preserves are not rationed, and you may give away as many jars as you can spare out of your allowance of five pounds of sugar.

Q. What is the point value of home canned food?

A. Home canned food has a point value of 8 points per quart and 4 points per pound or per pint.

Q. May I sell canned fruits which someone else puts up for me?

A. Yes. But you must collect ration stamps at the rate of eight points per quart for every sale you make, regardless of who does the canning.

Q. I usually can several hundred quarts of fruits and vegetables to sell through the local

ONE-THIRD OF FARM INCOME FROM COTTON

COLLEGE STATION — Texas farmers obtained one third of their 1942 cash farm income from cotton and cottonseed. Specifically, cotton seed produced 4.7 per cent of this according to U. S. Department of Agriculture figures quoted by C. E. Bowles of the A. and M. College extension service. Compared with other crops, the revenue from cottonseed exceeded that received from wheat, more than the combined income from fruit, truck and vegetables, and four times the amount received for other oil-bearing seed crops, such as peanuts, soybeans and flaxseed.

Bowles, who is the Extension specialist in organization and cooperative marketing, says that the income from that rose more than that from cottonseed, largely because of price ceilings governing the sale of cottonseed products.

Proceeding with a breakdown of farm income sources in 1942, Bowles says that beef cattle contributed 18.8 per cent; poultry, eggs and turkeys, 7.5 per cent; sheep, wool and mohair 5.7 per cent; government benefit payments, 5.7 per cent; and hogs 4.4 per cent. Income from sale of hogs was more than double that of 1941, and revenue from eggs was 63 per cent more than in the preceding year.

A 12 per cent increase in crop and livestock production, along with prices averaging about 29 per cent higher than those of 1941, account for most of the rise in income. Income trends during the first four months of 1943 bear out predictions of U. S. D. A. economists that farm incomes will be somewhat larger this year. But scarcity of certain feed prices may be expected to slow down expansion of livestock.

farmer's market. May I continue to do so under rationing?

A. Yes. You may continue to sell home canned fruits and vegetables, but you must collect 8 ration points for each quart sold.

Q. What do I do with the ration stamps I collect for sales I make of home canned food?

A. You turn the ration stamps in to your local ration board any time during the first ten days of the month following the sale.

Q. Must I make any special report when I turn in the ration stamps I collect for foods I sell?

A. No. But you must keep a record of your sales.

Q. How do I get sugar for canning fruit for sale?

A. You apply to your local board on OPA Form R-315 for the amount of sugar you will need, at the rate of one pound of sugar for every four quarts of finished fruit.

Q. May I also apply for sugar for making jams and jellies for sale?

A. No. You may have only enough sugar for preserving fruits for the use of your family — not more than five pounds per person.

Q. May I buy canned fruits and vegetables directly from the local canning factory?

A. Yes. But these cans are commercial products and you must give up the same number of ration points for them as you would if you bought them at retail. The canning operator may sell them to you at a reduced dollar price if he wishes.

Washington MERRY-GO-ROUND

DEFEAT OF BURMA
Recent events in Burma unfortunately have pretty much punctured the one time world beating reputation of Gen. Sir Archibald P. Wavell, supreme commander in the India-Burma theater.

The Japs are reported to have only about 50,000 men in Burma. How many the British have in the entire India area is a military secret but it can't be less than a million. However, there is one factor mitigating the otherwise dismal fiasco of General Wavell — most of his army is Indian.

FOUR GERMANS WATCH U.S.A.
There are four Germans who know the United States better than any others. Where they are now reveals what importance Hitler attaches to the United States and its influence on the neutral countries. For all four Germans are located in key neutral capitals where they can watch Americans and keep their ears open for news of U. S. diplomatic and military maneuvers, and counteract American influence.

Here are the four German experts on the U. S. A.
Franz von Papen, German military attache in Washington during the last war when he engineered plans to blow up the Welland canal and brain-trusted various other sabotage.

Hans Henrich Dieckhoff, ex-ambassador to Washington and one of the most skillful to be stationed here in years.

Kurt Sell, correspondent of the official German News Agency D. N. B., long stationed in Washington where he was generally popular. Unofficially he acted frequently for the German Embassy.

In Europe these four are now stationed as follows: Von Papen in Turkey; Dieckhoff in Spain; Thomsen in Sweden; and Sell in cuss with the president. On the basis of this, as well as matters the president himself intends to bring up, an advance memorandum could be prepared and distributed before the meeting.

Besides regular cabinet officers, there are usually a dozen other top government officials at White House sessions, including Harry Hopkins, Manpower Chief Paul McNutt, WPB Chief Donald Nelson, Farm (zar Chester Davis, Economic Stabilizer James Byrnes, Admiral William D. Leahy.

Time was when disputes between departments and agencies were ironed out at a cabinet meeting, but not now. Even disputes affecting major military and domestic policies are passed over. Favorite trick of department heads, who have a ticklish matter on their minds, is to wait until the meeting is finished, then pass a note to the president stating their particular problem, with a request for a private audience.

These are countries which if they moved their neutral position one way or the other, might decide the fate of the war.

CAPITAL CHAFF
Generals Giraud and DeGaulle are going to unite on at least one thing — an ultimatum to Admiral Robert or Martineau that he resign.

WPB's Ex-Vice Chairman Ferd Eberstadt says: "Before I came to Washington my crowd in Long Island hated Ickes, and I was provincial enough to agree with them. But I have found that he is one of the best executives in Washington and one of the few who always keeps his word. When he promises to do a thing, he does it."

CHINA PRESIDENT DIES
Liu Sen, 81-year-old president of China, died last week, three weeks following a stroke.

General Chian Kai-Shek has temporarily taken over the reins of the government.

Garden Glances Presented weekly by the Garden Club

I don't believe that I have ever seen the yards and gardens more beautiful than they are right now in Clarendon. Nearly everyone has some spot of color produced by flowers.

The C. C. Gilbert home is gayly set off by numerous bright colored flowers. It contains many roses, primrose, flowering shrubs and altogether is very noticeable.

The Gilmer Ayers yard is quite attractive with its neatly trimmed lawn, well spaced shrubs and numerous flowering plants.

The most beautiful of lilies are the Madonna. You will see many of these in the gardens. The ones that I have especially noticed are those at the homes of Rev. E. L. Moody and Mrs. W. D. Van Eaton.

Victory gardens were never better and promise a full harvest of vegetables for daily use and canning.

To the Woman Who Asks: How'll I Have Enough Fats to Save for Gunpowder?

IT'S EASY TO SEE what you're up against. Cooking fats are rationed. You're saving them of course. But you want to use them over again. And that's perfectly right! The government doesn't want your fats—even to make gunpowder—until you've got all the food use out of them. But when you have—every spoonful, every drop is desperately wanted. And not a housewife in America has too little to save!

LISTEN! Just one lowly tablespoon of fat—waste fat, the kind you used to throw down the drain—will make five machine gun bullets for our men at the front! That from just one tablespoon! And it doesn't matter whether it's pan drippings, the skimmings of a soup, old shortening or any other kind of used fat. It's a sin against your country to throw it out!

AND DON'T WORRY about what kind of can you use, or how long it takes to fill it up. Any kind of can will do—even a soup can! Keep a few on hand as you empty them. They'll go to tin salvage anyway when you take them to the butcher. But above all, and no matter how long it takes to fill up your tin, take it to your meat dealer. Take it in person, and be proud to do it—for the boys who need those shells at the front.

THIS BUSINESS OF Living BY SUSAN THAYER

We Cook As We Please

It used to be a great feast day when we all went out to Cousin Hetty for Sunday dinner. There would be at least six cars packed under the elm trees in the wide sideyard and some 15 to 18 people would sit down at her long white-spread table. There would be chicken fried as only she can fry it, crisp on the outside, tender within, and then that rich, moist chocolate cake for which she has long been famous, and ice cream, satinsmooth, made in an old fashioned freezer that was turned by hand.

It was still fun this year, of course, although three of the cousins are somewhere overseas. But the food was different! Instead of chicken, Cousin Hetty brought in a big meat loaf covered with gravy and decorated with slices of hardboiled eggs. Instead of chocolate cake and ice cream there was a rice pudding that would melt in your mouth.

"Wonderful!" we exclaimed to her, "rationing makes no difference to you!" But we sighed on the slow drive home in two overloaded cars. "Wonder if Cousin Hetty will remember how to make that cake so that we can have it again when butter and chocolate are plenty?" Then some one else wondered if women in Virginia will remember how to bake hams and if New Englanders will keep their knack of pie-making.

"Of course," said Great Aunt Matilda, who has ways of settling arguments with good common sense. "We may all have to eat the same things for a while all over the country—and simple things too, and run our homes just the same way. But the spirit of individualism is strong in this country. It would take generations to regiment us.

"Take the boys in the army," she went on. "They wear the same kind of clothes now, eat the same kind of food, and conform to the same regulations. But in spite of looking and acting alike they're just as different as they ever were. And once the war is won and they're out of uniform, they'll go their own ways again. And once the housewives of this country are free from rationing and regulation necessary for winning the war, we'll be ourselves again in our kitchens with ham in Virginia, pie in New England, and great thick steaks out in the wide open spaces."

So don't throw away your favorite recipes or hesitate to tell your children about good things you'll give them again after the war. For as long as we have freedom of speech and of press and the ballot, we're going to insist on the right to cook as we please as well.

Vary Your Berry Dishes By Frances Lee Barton. The various berries appear on your local market, full advantage should be taken of them. Don't be content with a few dishes of berries and cream or an occasional berry pie. Can them, make short-cakes, and blend them into puddings—and creams like the following: Fresh Berry Tapioca. 2 cups sliced or crushed berries, sweetened; 2 1/2 cups fruit juice and water; 4 to 5 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca; 1/4 cup sugar; 1/4 teaspoon salt; 1 to 3 tablespoons lemon juice. Sweeten berries and let stand 1/2 hour. Drain; add water to juice to make 2 1/2 cups. Combine fruit juice and water, tapioca, sugar, and salt in saucepan and mix well. Bring mixture quickly to a full boil over direct heat, stirring constantly. Remove from fire. (Mixture will be thin. Do not overcook.) Add fruit and lemon juice. Cook, stirring occasionally—mixture thickens as it cools. Chill. Serves 4 to 8.

An interesting letter from Pvt. Woody L. Spencer, Jr., who has been serving with the marines in the south Pacific for several months, to his two little brothers:

The letter:
Dear Jack and Morris:
How are my little brothers today? I sure wish I could see you. Brother misses you both more than he can ever tell. I hope to get to see you soon. In the meantime you must study hard and be good boys. Always mind mother and look after her. Remember mother always tries to do the best she can for you and what she thinks is right. I know she loves her two little boys more than anything else.

You must always be good sports in anything that occurs in life. Always be a good winner and a good loser when you lose. You must learn to follow your leader and never grumble when you have to do something that you don't like. Learn to take the bad with the good, always respect the rights of others. You must always be a good christian and let God be your leader. Then when you grow up you will be able to hold your end of the burden. You must always be a good citizen and have respect for your government. You are living in the greatest country in the world. Now there are thousands of men and boys fighting and giving their lives so that you will always have the best country in the world. I realize that you are too small to understand what it is all about and wonder why I am away from home. Some day you will know, and you will study and read about the war we are fighting and why. You will have the responsibility of keeping it a great peace-loving country when you grow to be men. You must be proud of the honor. It is as important as a sour fitting for it now.

I want you to look after mother while I am gone. There's a chance that I may never return. You must see that she always has a good home and gets the best out of life. Brother may not be able to do these things. If I return I will always respect mother and dad and never say or do anything that will harm them. You must remember that they have sacrificed a lot for you.

I must close this letter now. I will write whenever I have time. I want you to write me as often as you can. Brother loved to get letters from you and saves every one of them. Be good little boys and study hard. Maybe it won't be long until I can come home. Then we will all have a big time. Bye.

A LETTER:

From: Lt. Charles W. Wood, (Somewhere in North Africa).
May 9, 1943.

Dear Ones:
How are you all tonight. I am just fine. Had a very enjoyable weekend. One which I shall long remember. Some day I will be able to show you some pictures of the beautiful places I saw. Today is "Mother's Day" and believe you Mother of mine, I did plenty of thinking about you. I am very sorry that I could not send you a gift but I do send you my love and this poem expresses my feeling—
This Mother's Day we're far apart,
But mom, you know I'm there in heart.
Because no matter where I roam
My heart and thought remain at home.
It's just a dream, those miles of blue,
And honest Mom, I'm with you.
And Oh! My heart will be so gay.

To send its gift on Mother's Day
For with the grace of God above
I'm thankful I can send my love.
It isn't what we would have planned,
But I know you will understand
Dear God, I pray the sun will shine,
On a Mother I am proud is mine,
And brush each little care away
To cheer her on this special day,
And maybe whisper if you please,
It's from her son who's overseas.

I hope that you had a very pleasant day and was with your mother. Tell Grandmother I send her my love and very best regards. I hope she and Grandfather are well. The war news is very good, I am now wearing a campaign ribbon. It is very nice and I really appreciate it.

Love and kisses,
Your son.

Mr. and Mrs. Charley Johnson have received a letter from their son Lloyd, stating that he is fine and dandy. The letter was mailed May 24 from somewhere in Africa.

MOTHER'S DAY LETTER

EDITOR'S NOTE: Capt. Sheldon Simpson, son of Col. and Mrs. E. E. Simpson, is a former Clarendon boy having been born here while his father was practicing law. A member of the armed forces before Pearl Harbor, Capt. Simpson's letter to his mother is reproduced here as a portrayal of the homesick soldier overseas:

Dearest Mother and Dad: Here it is May 9 and Mother's Day, but though we are thousands of miles apart my thoughts are very much of you today. I would like to have sent a telegram or wired some flowers, but I know Dad will do that and though I may not put my name on the card the thought will be there.

My dearest Mother, words cannot express what I feel but some how I think that you may realize my thoughts today. I am happy that I am over here because in my own very small way I may be able to give something toward upholding all those things that you and Dad stand for. Motherhood, Fatherhood, Home and Family. Those are worth every ounce of blood that all of us can give. It is all of you and Nonnie that make those things worth fighting for. I am happy that I can make my own contribution because I know that you are behind me. You have been very brave about everything and I want you to know that I appreciate it. Always, you and Dad have made things easier for me. All of you have been much too good to me always.

I think now that I have received nearly all of your letters. Within the last two days I have received eight letters postmarked all the way from March 30 to April 21. I don't know what the delay was. I guess some came by air and some by convoy. There were two or three letters from Sue Lollie.

Mother, you were a pretty good guesser. We sailed the morning of the 2nd of April. You said it was the 3rd. That's pretty good.

On Saturday and Sunday there were two French show troupes here to entertain the soldiers. Saturday night we fed eight of them. It was quite interesting. Saturday there were four girls and two men. All of them were from France, having escaped just before the Germans took over the country. One of the girls was what I had always pictured a typical French girl to be like. She was about 20 with dark hair and flashing dark blue eyes. Her home had been in Luxembourg, Belgium. She was very very pretty and most interesting to talk to. She was the only member of the group that could speak English. The whole bunch was full of life. One of them asked me if I was from New York. I told her no, I came from Texas. "Ah Texas," she said and broke out with "Deep in the Heart of Texas." You can imagine my surprise. From then on we had a big time. The Colonel served some wine. We sang Texas songs for them and they sang French songs for us. In the group Sunday night there was one young man who is leaving for the U. S. soon. He has a scholarship at the University of Illinois to study biology. Also there was another fellow who had fought in World War I. Russia, Czechoslovakia and Morocco. I asked him if he could speak any foreign language. He said he could speak only 16 languages. I had one of the best times I have had since I have been here. That is only natural though because it is the first time I have seen anyone outside of my own immediate group. We are still training very hard.

Sunday is no different from any other day as far as we are concerned. I think it is good for us. The training is very valuable and on the other hand it keeps us busy so we won't have a chance to get homesick. When we hit the Germans we are really going to give them hell.

DURING the first year of our toughest war, We— Trained a lot of men—made a lot of fighting tools— built a lot of shipping. And to help pay for it all, we bought War Bonds. Altogether, 50 millions of us bought War Bonds. And nearly 30 millions of us started putting, on the average, 10 percent of our pay into War Bonds every payday through the Payroll Savings Plan. That was a good start. But, it was ONLY a start. What we did in '42 is not enough for '43! We've got to do more fighting this year. We've got to do more building, more training, more shipping—and more saving. We've got to buy MORE War Bonds.

HOME IS ONE OF THE MOST DANGEROUS PLACES

AUSTIN — The general opinion prevails in America that home is about the safest place there is. However, the facts prove that, far from being the safest, it is often quite the opposite.

In commenting on the urgent need for the protection of life and limb in the American home, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer, today declared that accidents in the home are the cause of more deaths than diphtheria, scarlet fever, whooping cough, and measles combined; of more than appendicitis; of nearly as many as diabetes; of over two thirds as many as automobile accidents; and of over a third as many deaths as tuberculosis.

"Slippery floor surfaces, lack of handrails on cellar steps, absence of protective gates at the top of stairs in homes where there are small children toys left on stairs, unanchored small rugs on polished floors, poisons in medicine cabinets accessible to children, and the careless storage of sharp tools and firearms are some of the more prominent hazards resulting in home accidents, Dr. Cox said.

"However," he added, "in the last analysis, the problem boils down to one of reasonable individual caution. We cannot view complacently the more than 30,000 deaths annually due to home accidents. These deaths, chargeable to remediable carelessness, can and should be reduced."

Dr. Cox declared that such a needless and profitless loss of life should be deplored at any time, but to permit such a condition to persist in 1943, in view of our national crisis, is a neglect that cannot be condoned, and one which can seriously cripple our war effort.

CATTLE GRUBS MAY COST PRODUCER INVESTMENT

COLLEGE STATION — A recent demonstration in pest control revealed how infestation of cattle grubs may retard an animal's gain in weight until the owner loses money on his feed investment.

John O. Stovall, Hemphill county agricultural agent, and Marvin J. Simms, former Roberts county agent, assisted with a demonstration conducted by J. O. Wells, Roberts county rancher. Wells bought 27 bulls which were received at his ranch 15 miles Northwest of Miami on November 15. On that date they averaged 965 pounds in weight. Daily the bulls were fed four pounds of cake, all the bundles they could eat, and they were kept on grass.

The bulls were weighed a second time on February 17 and they were found to average 1,010 pounds, so the average gain was 45 pounds. On that date Stovall and Simms demonstrated the control methods to John Parker, foreman on the Wells ranch. No vat was available, but the animals were treated with a power spray. Stovall described the grub infestation as "moderate."

On March 17, the bulls were weighed again and they averaged 1,072 — a gain of 62 pounds in 30 days compared with the previous gain of 45 pounds over a 90-day period. The ration was not varied during the four months.

Figuring the cost of cake at about eight cents per day and the bundles at two cents per bundle, the agents point out that it probably cost Wells about twelve cents per day to feed each animal. During the first three months, the bulls were gaining only about a half a

County Agent's Column

By H. M. BREEDLOVE

Farmers and ranchers in Donley county will register as to the amount of labor that they will need for the making of present crop.

The registration of the labor desired will take place in the near future and forms will be mailed to all farmers and ranchers in the county so that a file can be set up in the county agents office for each person.

Available laborers in the county will also register at the county agent's office and the office will serve as a placement bureau for the labor for the farmers.

This procedure is going on all over the United States and Texas and labor can be transferred from one county to another as the labor peak is past in that particular county.

This set up will give county agents the chance to contact each other and move the available labor to the sections of the state where it is most needed.

I believe with this set up we can more easily contact the available labor than trying to contact them in different parts of the state without county organization the county agent said.

Last year many cotton pickers were brought to Donley county and placed through the county office and with the organization in all counties of the state the contact will be much easier and faster in the mobilization of labor.

The registration of local labor including children, women and men in the town who intend to see that the war effort is not slowed up by the farmers not being able to harvest their crops will start in the near future.

There will be a file to all available labor and also a file for the farmers and ranchers and the labor that they desire. This will help to supply all local labor in the sections of the county where it is most needed and with the importation of labor from other counties it will help the local situation a great deal.

The Donley County Victory Council of farm men and women will meet in the county agents office in the very near future and lay plans for the handling of this program the county

FARM MACHINERY NEEDED SURVEY REVEALS

Farms lack 2 1/2 billion of the 23.3 billion labor hours, represented by figures with pitch fork, required for wartime food and fiber production. Each figure equals 1/2 billion labor hours.

Black symbols show tractors now on farms; hatched, additional machines needed to save labor. Each symbol equals 140,000 tractors.

AMERICAN farmers, facing the biggest production job in history need more than 205 million dollars worth of farm machinery to make up the present labor shortage, with but 97 million dollars worth available. These significant figures are pointed out by Country Gentleman, leading farm magazine. The authoritative survey reveals that the American farmer is currently carrying out his huge production job with 30% less power machinery per thousand acres than Great Britain. Yet 2.111 million man hours of labor can be saved the farmer by machinery, nearly enough to meet the farm labor shortage. A loss of 7.5 billion man hours of labor is indicated in 1943. With the proposed "land army" of the President, according to the magazine, this may be reduced to a loss of 2 to 2 1/2 billions of man hours or ten percent of the labor needed. Great Britain, says Country Gentleman, faced with a similar food crisis, increased food goals only 75 percent, but increased farm machinery 120 percent, this together with the enlistment of a land army of huge proportions.

Farm Notes

We are receiving very good response to the letter sent out showing the number of pounds of cotton harvested, on each farm. We should like to have all these in the office as soon as possible, as word needs to be started on tabulating this data on the farm work sheets as soon as possible. Those of you whose pounds check out all right we should like for you to sign the letter in the place specified and turn it in, but should it not check, we would be glad to check with you at any time.

Farmers in the Clarendon Community are especially invited to come to the county office Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, and longer if necessary to let us help you with any pre-measurement problems that you have. In order to have a study flow of work we are sending out just so many letters asking farmers in the county who have not taken advantage of the pre-measurement program are invited to come in as soon as possible to do this work if you would like to have it done.

We would like to insist, for the good of everyone involved, that each farmer make an attempt to get his farm measured out so that it can be placed on the map and so that we can give him a pre-measurement, either before or immediately after planting. We feel that in all cases it will be better to get these measurements made so that you can be definitely sure that you are not overplanted. At any time after next Monday we will be glad to help any producer who wants pre-measurements made. Until that time, we are working on the community groups, however after Monday, June 7, you may call at the office at your earliest convenience and let us help you in any way that we possibly can.

After final compliance is started, all premeasurements will have to stop at once, and all the measurements turned in then will be placed on the map showing the crop in each field, the soil-building practices to be carried out, etc, and will not be planted or the acreage determined until after the operator has signed a 1943 compliance form. After the form is signed and the acreage turned in by the operator, it will not be possible for an operator to destroy cotton, if he is over-planted, therefore, we urge you to let us help you with the pre-measurements so that it will be possible for you to be in compliance.

All producers who have not returned to the county office the record of cotton produced in 1942 should do so at once so that we can close our books and start tabulating the protection on farm work sheets and determine the 1942 actual yield. If you have lost or misplaced your sheet, write or call at the county office and we will furnish you with information again for your approval.

Producers who are covered by cotton crop insurance in 1943 should remember that all acreage

THIS BUSINESS OF FARMING

HOGS AND HOUSES

THE average man may think of a pig as something that wallows in a mud hole, but the farmer, often through bitter experience, has learned that the ultimate profit his swine will return depends on their housing.

Warm houses with clean, dry floors and sound roofs overhead are essential to successful swine-raising. Many a farmer has delivered his pork to market too late to realize maximum profits, simply because a cold, drafty hog house made early farrowing inadvisable. Today, when greatly increased production of pork is as necessary to the war effort as manufacture of munitions, inadequate hog houses should be re-conditioned and the new ones built should be as sound as non-critical materials can make them.

The importance of disinfecting and flushing hog house floors regularly has not been realized until recently. Losses after farrowing have been reduced from 33% to 15% of the litter by building houses with clean, dry floors. This means that the 1943 swine quota demanded of farmers by the Department of Agriculture can be realized with no more sowings. But the hog house will not be dry unless a sound roof is provided and it is not enough to provide just any kind of a roof. Roof material should be carefully selected. It should be low in first cost and in upkeep. It should give long life. It should be fire-resistant. It should be easy and economical to apply.

Outside of a spell of continued bad weather, fire is perhaps the greatest danger farmers face. To protect not only new or enlarged hog houses but other buildings as well from the danger of flying sparks, roofs should be covered with fire-resistant asphalt shingles or roll roofing. These materials are non-critical and may be laid right over an old roof. Likewise, they are easily and quickly applied to new structures.

Asphalt roll roofing also is recommended for use on side walls of hog houses. Applied over old houses, or new sheathing, roll roofing will cut off chilling winds, driving rains, and will facilitate and speed economical erection.

Feeding floors also are true economy. A concrete feeding floor, four inches thick, requires no reinforcing. If heavy loads are to be driven over it, the floor should be six inches thick. Adequate drainage should be provided by a slope of about 1/4 inch per foot. A good concrete mixture consists of 1 part portland cement, 2 1/2 parts sand, 3 parts gravel or crushed stone, and no more than 5 1/2 gallons of water per sack of cement when average damp sand is used.

These recommendations apply whether the farmer chooses to erect individual hog houses or community houses with feed rooms and straw lots.

FARM COURSE TO BE OFFERED TO LOCAL YOUTHS

Any Clarendon youths interested in securing experience in operating a tractor and tractor equipment should contact J. R. Gilliam, local Vocational Agriculture Instructor this week. A farm labor course for the purpose of giving local youths experience in operating tractors and tractor equipment will be offered either the week of June 7 or June 14. A local farmer will serve as instructor for the course which will last for a period of five days. Servicing, driving, pacing and setting equipment, and simple repairs will be taught the youths enrolled in the course.
