Home Building Under FHA To Be Explained Here Sept. 12th

Junior College And Junior High School Enrollments Show Slight Increases

HOUSING OFFICIAL FOREST GREGORY TO BE HERE

MEETING SET FOR 8 P. M. AT AMERICAN LEGION HALL HERE

A step by step explanation of how residents of Clarendon can buy or build their homes under the Federal Housing Administration plan will be made Thursday night, September 12, at 8 o'clock in the American Legion Hall at Clarendon, it was announced today by P. S. Luttrell, of Dallas, State Production Manager for Texas of the Federal Housing Administration. He announced that Forest W. Gregory, Field Representative, of the Northwest Texas FHA District will be in charge of the meeting. In addition to the explanation of the FHA plan of home ownership, there will be shown 36 slides, in color, of houses ranging in price from $1600 to $5400 which have been built and financed under FHA during recent months in Northwest Texas.

All business firms in Clarendon will be advised of this meeting in order that they might acquaint their employees with plans for the Thursday night meeting and it is expected that a large number of salaried people will be present. "I feel sure," Luttrell said, in connection with the meeting, "that many of our people can buy or build their homes on the FHA system and pay for them with money they now spend for rent. A good many of these people, however, do not know how easy it is to own homes and how little it takes to buy or build on the liberal F. H. A. terms. "The Clarendon meeting is a timely one and FHA officials will be here for the express purpose of explaining the simple steps necessary to buy or build your own home. The showing of slides in this community at a cost that many of your residents can well afford. It follows, of course, that home building brings a measure of prosperity to all business in the community."

BENEFITTING RAINS FALL IN DONLEY

Moisture ranging from about half an inch here to an inch or over in other spots in the county was reported this week. Clarendon received .48 of an inch Monday night, according to Weatherman Joe Goldston, and a trace yesterday. Heavy rains fell north of Ash-tola Wednesday afternoon, as water was reported running over the highway and standing in fields. The beneficial rains were needed for both cotton and pasture land.

GRASS GROWING IN THE STREETS-GOT THAT BEAT HERE

In the campaign of 1932 the nation heard a lot about "grass growing in the streets" if such and such a candidate was elected. Talk about "grass growing in the streets", Clarendon has that beat all hollow. Up on Kearney street, across from the postoffice and one door South, there is a luxuriant and lusty growth. It isn't grass-It's black-eyed peas. More than that it has a good crop on it. "Black-eyed peas right out of the brick paving!

Clarendon Churches To Join In National Day Of Prayer Next Sunday, September 8th

Sunday next, September 8, has been set by the President of the United States of America as a day of Prayer in which all persons are urged to pray either in their homes, or better yet, in the church of their choice for the blessing of Almighty God upon this Our Land and, for the restoration of peace to the whole world. The members of the Clarendon Ministerial Alliance urge the people of this City to join with them in this great corporate offering of prayer. We urge that we go beyond the call of our President and before we pray for blessings upon our land, and upon the world, humbly acknowledge our willful disobedience to God's laws and commandments. Then being assured of the forgiveness of our Heavenly Father we shall be enabled to approach the Throne of the Eternal, Almighty God, with purity of heart and purpose. Only by the grace of God can our land be secure and peace restored to the world at large. God has declared that "It is not by might nor by power but by His Spirit that good comes." Let us pray for that Spirit to guide us the people, and our leaders in government. Let us also pray that oppression and wrong may be defeated and the peace of God which is the only true peace, be restored to this sin-sick, war-torn world. The doors of all churches in the City will remain open during the entire day, so that all who wish may enter and pray in the silence of God's House. Let Us Pray. Signed: J. PERRY KING, Baptist, President. MAYNARD M. MILLER, Presbyterian, Secretary. H. C. GORDON, Methodist. E. W. HENSHAW, Episcopalian. CLAUDE C. SMITH, Church of Christ.

Methodist Revival At Lelia Lake Set Sept. 12 A Methodist revival meeting will open at Lelia Lake on Thursday, Sept. 12, according to Rev. A. S. Forch, Methodist circuit pastor. The meeting will be in charge of Rev. Fitzgerald. The revival at Bray ended last Sunday with eight conversions and seven additions, Rev. Forch reported.

At 90, Chief Tahan Returns To Locate Old Indian Camp Sites And Die On His Happy Hunting Grounds

By JEROME STOCKING EDITOR'S NOTE:—This story was written for the Clarendon News at the request of the News' editor. Mr. Stocking consented to write the article since he personally knew Chief Tahan and could give the News readers an accurate account of the Chief's life. The News extends its thanks to Mr. Stocking. Chief J. K. (Tahan) Griffis, 90-year-old Osage Indian, was here last Saturday trying to locate old Indian camp sites and to learn the white man's name for the creeks and springs of Donley County. Chief Griffis remembers them only by their Indian names. He visited in the home of Mrs. Sarah M. Stocking while here and searched for early Donley County maps which would show the creeks with their names and location. "I was captured by a band of Kiowa Indians on Elm Creek near the present city of Gainesville, Texas, about 1852," Griffis began his interesting story. "The Kiowas were searching for white horse thieves when they came upon our cabin in the trees. My father was away on a buffalo hunt that day and mother, an Osage woman, became frightened and opened fire on the band. The Kiowas thinking they had located the thieves in the cabin surrounded us and returned the fire. After my mother had exhausted the ammunition the Indians charged our cabin door in the growing darkness. The leader picked up an axe and killed my mother as she bent over to protect me from harm."

from harm. "I was taken prisoner by the Kiowa chieftain Tieti and carried away. I roved all over the Panhandle-Plains country with the Kiowa clan for many years." "The country looks different now; so changed," the Chief said with a sigh. "Barbed wire is strung every where and the sage and mesquite is all plowed under and not a buffalo in sight. Yet I can identify our old camping places when I come upon them. Only recently I found her two daughters and one son. Those seeking back positions include Carlton Gordon, L. P. 30 REPORT FOR OPENING GRID WORKOUTS

BRONCHOS HAVE BUT TWO WEEKS TO GET READY FOR LEFORS TILT

Thirty enthusiastic prospects for the 1940 Clarendon Broncho football squad dug their cleats into the green turf here Tuesday afternoon in the first workout of grid season. About the same number was issued uniforms on Monday, but the first day was spent in light drills consisting of passing the kicking. With but two short weeks left to prepare for the opening game with Lefors on the Lefors field, Coaches O. C. Warden and I. T. James wasted no time in teaching their charges the fundamentals of the favorite autumn sport. With prospects for a squad of forty in view, the two local mentors appeared well satisfied with the initial turnout, but declined to comment on their district outlook. A number of last year's lettermen will bolster both the line and backfield, among them being Captain Hartzog, Hermesmeier, Bulls, and Lumpkin. Coaches Warden and James said they had several boys who looked promising and that they would be in the fight for positions in both the line and backfield. Workouts Tuesday and Wednesday consisted of dummy blocking for the linemen and passing and kicking for the backs. There was nothing to show that the coaches have settled definitely upon their regulars for the opening games. Among those trying for line berths are J. W. Goodman and Jack Rolf, center; Ray Bulls and Chester Gregory, right guard; Leslie Wordlow and Woodie Spener, right tackle; C. G. Kirkland and Basil Smith, right end; Ralph Morrow and Clyde Peabody, left guard; Jimmy Lumpkin and Corral Peabody, left tackle; Ollie McCrary, Robert Summers and Ratton, left end.

ABOUT 500 ATTEND COUNTY-WIDE PICNIC

Farmers and business men forgot their worries last Thursday afternoon when they assembled at the Lelia Lake school grounds for a county-wide picnic. Approximately 500 persons attended the event which featured barbecued chicken, beans, onions, pickles and other side dishes which go to make up a real picnic. Some 200 chickens were barbecued by H. M. Breedlove, county agent, and his assistants. The picnic began at 4:45 and was over about 6 p. m. C. H. Day, field officer of the Triple-A, was the speaker. He related the fight of the various farm organizations to bring about a definite farm program. Besides being an AAA official, Mr. Day is a master farmer of Texas and the Panhandle, and former president of the Texas Agricultural Association. Lawrence Neece of the local agricultural office, said that the picnic was a real success. Mr. and Mrs. Bob Utley and son, Don, and Misses Hazel Gordon and Ethel Jones all of Ft. Worth and Surmon Clark of Post were visitors in the H. C. Gordon home over the week-end. Mrs. John E. Oakes and little son, John Monroe of San Antonio spent this week here in the home of her sister, Mrs. Frank White, Jr.

Cowboy Loses Three Fingers While Roping Steer

Paul Gister, Mill Iron Ranch cowboy of Turkey, lost three fingers from his right hand while roping a steer yearling last Sunday. Gister's fingers caught in the rope and were jerked off at the joints when the yearling and his horse ran on opposite sides of the mesquite tree. He was taken to the Adair Hospital for treatment. Attendants said he suffered considerable shock but was recovering rapidly.

Dallas Woman Hurt When Auto Hits Pavement Dip

Over 200 Baptists convened here Tuesday and Wednesday of this week for the 35th annual session of the Panhandle Baptist Association. Of this number 186 were registered from out-of-town, representing 18 churches in Donley and Hall counties. The local Baptist church was the scene of the sessions, with the Rev. J. Perry King acting as host pastor. The election of new officers featured the two-day meeting. Sam J. Hamilton of Memphis was elected moderator; the Rev. A. F. Loftin of Estelline, vice moderator; M. O. Evans of Brice, clerk; and the Rev. Harry Self of Lelia Lake, treasurer. A song service, led by Mrs. J. E. Burch of Clarendon, opened the first day's program. O. C. Watson of Clarendon delivered the address of welcome while E. E. Walker gave the response. Besides election of officers, the first day's activities included special music, a sermon by the Rev. V. W. Allen of Lelia Lake, benedictions, and reports by various committees. Feature of the second morning was a talk by J. C. McKenzie, district missionary, who spoke in place of Dr. R. C. Clarendon Women Knit And Sew Many Garments For Europe's Destitute

The Donley County Red Cross is doing its bit toward providing clothing for thousands in Europe, made homeless and destitute by the war. Twelve dresses, 2 layettes, and 21 knitted garments, all made by some 35 Clarendon ladies, were shipped this week to New Jersey where they will become part of the Red Cross supplies destined for the needy of Europe. Charlotte Molesworth, home service chairman of the Red Cross, supervised the local work while Mrs. Eva Atteberry had charge of the sewing and Mrs. Hayward Warren directed the knitting work. The following ladies contributed their sewing: Nadine Whitlock, M. S. Parsons, Walter Cliff-

DROP IN SENIOR HIGH STUDENTS REVEALED

OPENING SCHOOL ADDRESS MADE BY O. C. WATSON, BOARD PRESIDENT

A slight increase in the Junior College and Junior High School enrollments was revealed Wednesday when a matriculation checkup for the first two days of school was made by school officials. The Clarendon Junior College report showed 96 students enrolled compared with but eighty a year ago at the same time. The Junior High enrollment figure was reported at 173, in comparison with a matriculation of not quite 170 last year. The high school showed a slight decrease with the enrollment for the first two days dropping from the 240 figure in 1939 to 226. In the senior high the enrollments were, sophomores, 76; juniors, 83; and seniors, 67. McHenry Lane reported the grade school enrollment at 245, and said this figure was about the same as that reported a year ago. An assembly at 10:30 a. m., Monday featured the opening day of school. O. C. Watson, president of the school board, gave the main address and stressed the fact that the Clarendon school system was a partnership affair, with everyone doing his or her share. Mr. Watson said that the school system was a "cooperative enterprise in the community," with the students, faculty, school board, taxpayers, and citizens all doing their bit by cooperating with one another. Other interesting parts of the program included a concert by the Clarendon high school band, group singing, and announcements by Superintendent H. T. Burton and Dean R. E. Drennan. The rest of the school opening day was taken up with registration and teaching conferences, the latter for the purpose of working out the conflicts in the schedules.

$25,000,000 IS NO SMALL CHANGE!

Just how Texas cotton farmers are being consistently discriminated against in the present farm program is brought vividly to mind by Peter Molyneux in the current issue of The Texas Weekly. Texas and Oklahoma have been cut four times the number of bales as other cotton states for the past five years, which to Texas means a loss of approximately $25,000,000 per year.

Well, there is something radically wrong with Texas representation at Washington, and it is time to find out just who the "sap" is in this case. Texas farmers are not "saps", but they have been "strung along" by cheap, power politics long enough. It is time to do something effective and 1940 is a good year to begin.

In part Mr. Molyneux says: "It is an amazing fact that more American cotton was produced outside of Oklahoma and Texas during the past five years than during the five years ending with 1932, the period immediately preceding the plow-up! Most people will find this difficult to believe, in view of the Government's program of drastic restriction of production. Those with some knowledge of cotton statistics might well point out that the United States produced 73,334,000 bales of cotton during the five-year period ending with 1932, whereas it produced only 66,599,000 bales during the past five years. That's a reduction of 6,735,000 bales, isn't it? Yes, it is. But it is nevertheless a fact that outside of Oklahoma and Texas the amount of American cotton produced during the past five years exceeded the amount produced during the five years ending with 1932. The amount produced outside of Oklahoma and Texas was 46,866,000 bales during the past five years. It was 44,726,000 bales during the five years ending with 1932. In other words, in spite of the drastic measures adopted and applied by the Government, and in spite of the hundreds of millions spent by the Government in "benefit payments", the production of American cotton outside of Oklahoma and Texas during the past five years amounted to 2,140,000 bales MORE than during the five years ending with 1932. On the other hand, the production of cotton in Oklahoma and Texas during the past five years amounted to 8,875,000 bales LESS than during the five years ending with 1932. In Oklahoma and Texas only 19,733,000 bales of cotton was produced during the past five years, as compared with 28,608,000 bales during the five years ending with 1932. All of these figures can be depended upon, for they are official Government figures. And the information they convey is absolutely correct. While Oklahoma and Texas have been cutting their cotton production to the bone, so to speak, there has not been a corresponding reduction in the rest of the country. The figures quoted speak for themselves.

The loss to Texas which is being occasioned by this discrimination of twelve and a half million bales in the whole country during the past seven years, as compared with the previous seven, the net reduction in Texas ought not to have been more than four and a half million bales. That's less than half the net reduction that has actually been made. And it involves a loss to the State of something like $180,000,000, or more than $25,000,000 a year for the whole period. We do not pretend that this is a precise calculation. But it gives a good working idea of what it means in dollars and cents. As a matter of fact we are quite sure that it means more than the amount suggested. But $25,000,000 a year is not small change."

THE RAMPARTS WE WATCH

Economic Highlights

Tax Bills of Every Individual. National and International Happenings That Affected the Dinner Pails, Dividend Checks and Problems Inseparable From Local Welfare.

As the United News recently pointed out, this country seems to be copying Great Britain in getting ready for possible war. "The United States is getting tough with Japan in one ocean," says the News. "It is promising to use force to keep Hitler from taking title to territory that may be his through right of conquest in another ocean. It is denying Hitler access to investments inside the United States that are owned by people he has conquered. It is talking about ways to let Britain have warships as well as airplanes and guns that belong to the American Army and Navy. Any one of these gestures, overnight can lead to trouble. Yet the National Government is proceeding in slow motion to get set for the time when somebody, somewhere, may call a bluff."

There can be no doubt that the American people, by an overwhelming majority, approve this government's aggressive pro-British, anti-Axis policy. The government thus simple reflects the thoughts and motions of its citizens, which is what it is supposed to do. On the other hand, it is probably true that the American people at large have no conception of the lethargy with which the rearmament program is proceeding. They have read in their newspapers that Congress has approved or is about to approve defense measures involving appropriations of close to $15,000,000,000. This money is to be turned into clouds of fighting planes, swarms of tanks and a two-ocean fleet which will dwarf the naval might of any other power. All that makes an encouraging picture. What is not encouraging is the hard fact that government officials, and the distinguished industrialists in charge of defense preparations, are experiencing a very difficult time in turning the dollars into arms. According to the War Department, an army of 2,000,000 men is necessary to defend this nation's interests in the Western Hemisphere. The Department is certain that such an army can be raised, in an orderly manner least disruptive to the social and economic life of the nation, only by compulsory, selective conscription. Yet, due largely to political reasons, the conscription bill has floundered about in Congress for weeks, and the Army has been growing only at the rate of 15,000 to 20,000 new recruits a month.

The two-ocean navy, under the best of conditions, cannot be completed for five years. And the best of conditions are not in sight now. Some ship contracts have been signed, but nothing seems to have been done to provide needed new facilities for making the necessary armor plate.

All authorities agree that a gigantic air fleet, whatever the exact number of planes is absolutely necessary. But military plane production has been increased comparatively little. The Germans are supposed to be able to produce up to 4,000 planes each month. August plane production in this country will total about 895 ships, of which a considerable proportion are non-military, or are built for export.

Tanks are considered by many to be as vital as planes — it was German tanks which won the battles of Belgium and Flanders and France after aircraft had done the preliminary work of destroying factories and towns and military depots, and disorganizing and terrorizing the civilian populations. We have not yet put in orders for big tanks, of the kind the Germans employed so effectively, and we have less than 700 light tanks on order.

We are even moving slowly in producing that basic arm—the rifle. Garrard rifle production runs around 500 a day, which is considered far under the desirable rate. And experts have found serious faults in the Garrard's design and operation—a problem which is still being acrimoniously debated.

During June and July, military contracts signed totaled $1,250,000,000. That's a big sum—but the bulk of it was for Naval purposes, under a program which has been underway for a considerable time. Only about $200,000,000 represents orders for the Army. So, unless the unexpected happens, it will be a long time before our defense amounts to much except on paper.

All this does not mean that we are unable to prepare against war — no nation on earth possesses our potential production. It simply illustrates the tremendous obstacles that arise when it is necessary to change from a peace economy to a war economy. The tax factor has been a major difficulty — present laws make it difficult and in some cases impossible for a company to expand sufficiently to meet arms program needs. The legal factor is another, as William Knudsen of the Defense Commission, has pointed out. Red tape slows matters down, and officials are in fear of doing things that might later be construed a violation of the precise letter of the law. No one can be blamed for this — that's the way government normally works. The problem is to readjust the functioning of our government to emergency preparedness needs in such a manner that when the crisis is over we will not find ourselves saddled with dictatorship, and the liberty we sought to preserve, destroyed.

Wendell Willkie's acceptance speech rang the bell neatly. And Harold Ickes' more or less official reply to it missed the boat. That seems to be the general consensus of the commentators and the press.

The response of the professional politicians to Mr. Willkie's opening gun could have been, and was, easily anticipated. The Republican spokesmen naturally said that it was one of the greatest orations in this country's history. The Democratic spokesmen naturally said that it was a complete flop. But the views of the pros are not of any particular consequence. What is of immense importance is how the speech struck the so-called "plain people" of America—the tens of millions who vote for the candidate they think the best, regardless of party affiliations, and who hold the balance of political power in the United States. These are the people who, in 1929, elected Herbert Hoover by an overwhelming majority—and who, four years later, turned him out of office by an even more overwhelming majority. They don't write for the papers and magazines and they don't make speeches. But they are deeply interested in homes, in jobs, in war and peace, in fiscal policy — in all of the problems that confront the country. And these are the people who next November will elect Wendell Willkie to the highest office in the land — or will give Franklin Roosevelt what no other President has been given or has ever sought, a third term in the White House.

The commentators have been trying to analyze Willkie's speech in the light of its appeal or lack of appeal to these average Americans. Some were disappointed with the delivery — it was very hot, Mr. Willkie had been working for weeks at fever pitch with little rest, and he was obviously tired. But few found much to disappoint them in its content. Even though he was addressing a Mid-West audience which was close to 100 per cent against involvement of any kind in European affairs, he had the courage to say decisively that this country's destiny is inextricably involved with the destiny of the other democracies, and that Fascism is our enemy. He had the courage to endorse New Deal objectives and laws which he thinks good, even as he criticized New Deal administration and what he regards as its defeatist philosophy. He affirmed in ringing words his faith in the American destiny. And he brought down the house when he offered to meet the President in open debate on any issue. As Columnist Raymond Clapper wrote: "He has placed national interest above politics in this crisis."

And so it was almost inevitable that Secretary Ickes' reply should be widely regarded as a dismal failure. Mr. Ickes called names, and got off some amusing wisecracks. He attempted to pin the "Wall Street" label on Willkie. But, say the commentators, the feeling is strong in Democratic ranks that no New Deal official, save one, can make anything resembling an adequate reply to the colorful Republican candidate. That one, of course, is the President. He has thus far kept silent. And not until he speaks will the Democratic campaign really start.

In the acceptance speech, Mr. Willkie had to cover much ground in a short time. Even so, his stand upon all the issues is now clear in general. He will go into the details in future talks. The serious-minded commentators were extremely pleased with his position on foreign policy — it is sufficiently close to the Roosevelt policy to make it certain how this country will stand no matter who wins in November. It would be gravely dangerous, they feel, had there been so much dissension on foreign policy as to split the country wide open, and thus make adequate defense for security difficult or impossible to achieve.

Mr. Willkie will have the support of the great majority of the country's newspapers this year. A number of Democratic papers, such as the influential Baltimore Sun (which supported Roosevelt in 1932, and was neutral in 1936, on the grounds that it regarded neither Roosevelt nor Landon as fit for the presidency) have swung over to him. He has proven himself a man who can arouse real enthusiasm and create great loyalties — which is something that can be said of extremely few men in either party.

The defense program is beginning to move at last. Big airplane contracts have been placed, along with contracts for powder, tanks and other necessities.

It takes time for American industry to change over to war production after decades in which our security was never threatened. But once it gets going, the experts feel, the results will be astounding. No other country in the world anywhere near our industrial machine — and no other nation is so potentially powerful, once it shakes off its lethargy and gets down to the business of preparing against aggression in dead earnest.

A man with a hoe is the best weed-killing machine.

JUST HUMANS By GENE CARR

AMERICANS WILL FROWN ON IDLE RUMORS

Not so long ago an idle rumor circulated around a certain town in Texas, which should not have had the attention of any good, fair-minded citizen. The rumor had to do with a foreign-born man who had lived for thirty years or more in the locality and had always conducted himself as a good neighbor, and a good man, even if he did have peculiarities, as most of us do. The rumor intimated that this man was the agent of a foreign government now in deserved ill-repute the world over, that he had been apprehended in some un-American activity, and had been sentenced to prison for a term of years. Since the man in question had moved several months ago with his family to a distant part of Texas, his daily presence could no longer combat the falsity of the rumor, and some fell before the hysteria of national war scare, and believed the rumor.

Then, a citizen of the home town on vacation dropped by the city where his former neighbor lived, and found him safe, well and happy with his family as he went about the business of making a living. The rumor was FALSE, and the returning vacationist was happy to tell the truth about a good man maligned, and give the lie to the mischievous story of blighting consequence.

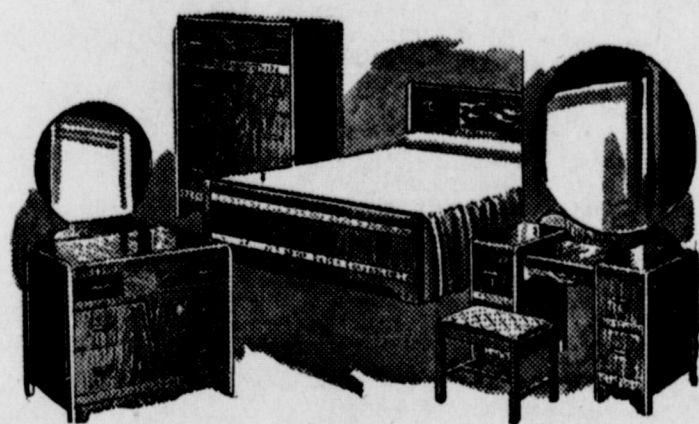

Let's be American, every one of us. Let's frown on every rumor or innuendo against good folk of foreign blood who live among us, until they prove their traitorous intent by overt acts. Let's be American!

GRATITUDE A LA MODE!

After a Sunday School class discussion last Sunday on the subject of "ingratitude", one member told this writer of an instance where he was called out of bed on a cold night by a neighbor with a broken-down automobile, to drag it into town for repairs. He said it was bad enough to have to crawl out from between warm blankets on such a night for the price of the agreed consideration, but what sticks in his memory is the fact that the check given turned out to be a "cold check," which hasn't been made good to this day.

The sin of ingratitude is certainly one of the major sins of the day, but when you get a "cold check" to boot, it does seem like piling Ossa on Pelion, which by all standards is too thick.

HUFFMAN, GRADY PLAY IN GRID CLASSIC

Two Clarendon boys played on the winning team Friday night at Plainview when the East battered out a 7 to 6 victory over the West in an all-star grid classic which climaxed the Plains Coaching School.

Johnny Grady played tailback in all four quarters and registered some nice gains for the Easterners, while Colie Huffman, handicapped by a bad knee, played only a short time in the fourth period as center. Five risings in Colie's knee prevented him from seeing much action in the contest.

All of the 49 players in uniform saw action and outstanding performances were so common there really were no stars among the All-Stars. John Bond, McLean, and Jim Baugh, East, and M. L. Kittrell, McLean, and Jim Baugh, East, and M. L. Kittrell, McLean, and Tom Sechrist, Dalhart, however, set the turf afire.

The opening quarter was devoted almost entirely to ground play, each team attempting one pass. The West crew took the ball on downs on their own 39 and marched to the East three-yard stripe, as the quarter ended.

George Huggins, West fullback, scored on the second down of the second quarter, driving five yards over center to pick up the count and two yards lost on the first down.

extra point failed. The Easterners took the kickoff and marched to the West four. It looked like a touchdown for the Kimbrough - coached squad until Huggins of Olton knifed through and downed McBride, Nocona, for a five-yard loss. The ball went over on downs. The East kicked and McBride, Baugh, Aspermont, and Williams of Wellington spearheaded an aerial ground attack that carried the Easterners to the Curdick-coached squad's four-yard line as the half ended, West 6, East 0.

The third quarter was a seesaw stanza with the Easterners fighting desperately to score. John Bond, McLean, back, added a thrilling climax to the quarter with a 40-yard run to the West 5-yard stripe from where he plunged to a touchdown on the second play of the last quarter. Jim Baugh, booted the ball through for the extra point. The Westerners tried to pull out of the hole with a field goal try in fading seconds of the game, but Sechrist's try from the 25 was low.

BIDS ASKED FOR POST OFFICE LEASING

The United States Post Office Department posted notice of bids this week for the leasing of suitable quarters for the Clarendon post office whose present lease expires on April 1, 1941.

According to the proposals, floor space of about 1600 to 1800 square feet is desired. Important considerations are a reasonably central location, good daylight, and accessibility to rear or side entrance for mails.

General building requirements, equipment specifications, and form of proposal, together with information concerning the provisions of the lease, may be obtained from Post Office Inspector A. S. Page at Fort Worth, Texas.

Diagram of the rooms offered, showing inside dimensions, offsets, doors, windows, etc., and any adjoining ground for light areas, driveways, or parking areas, must be submitted with the proposal.

The Post Office Department reserves the right to reject any or all proposals, to negotiate further with the proponents for better terms, or to endeavor either before or after the closing date to secure offers on suitable properties, in addition to those submitted in response to this notice.

Leasing is done for a term of five years, and the lessee must furnish the fixtures. It is rumored that the Post Office Department seeks to secure new fixtures for the office here.

ARMY EXPANSION CREATES NEED FOR DOCTORS

The expansion of the Army creates a need for about 600 civilian medical officers in various grades for temporary and part-time service. The duties of full-time officers will be to act as doctors of medicine in active practice in hospitals, in dispensary and in the field. The duty of part-time officers will be to report for sick call at a fixed hour each day and to be subject to emergency call at all times.

The Civil Service Commission in making this announcement calls particular attention to the fact that part-time officers will be able to continue their regular practice. In order that this may be done, appointments to the part-time positions will be made of medical officers in the vicinity of the place of duty. Information concerning these positions may be obtained from the Secretary of the Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners at any first or second class post office, or from the United States Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C. Physicians are urged to apply at once. This work is of the greatest importance to the success of the National Defense program.

Fair?—It's Cool

It's cool on Treasure Island, and an Exposition showgirl displays the 1940 Golden Gate International Exposition's new summer poster as she sits atop a cake of ice. The poster has been widely acclaimed in the warmer regions of the United States where it has been put on display in hotels and travel bureaus, railroad stations and other centers of attraction.

It's that time of the year when football takes over. And the question uppermost in local citizens' minds is, "What kind of a football team will the Bronchos have?"

We're inclined to believe the Bronchos will be O. K. this season and the prospects look very, very bright.

Coaches Warden and James can put a line on the field averaging close to 150, and that's exceptionally good for a small town high school football team. The weight of this line would run something like this, 185, 165, 185, 190, 209, 175 and 150. Not bad, not bad.

And the return of six experienced gridsters who have complete knowledge of the game is something more to bolster our optimistic slant on the situation.

And, like Hitler, we're all the more convinced of being on the winning side, since reports from the various other schools in the district point out various weaknesses. Graduation, so it seems, has taken a big toll of the stars that galloped up and down the gridiron last year in this district. And some schools are reporting only two and three experienced men can be counted on this season.

But let's not be too optimistic, as it's early and injuries to a football team is like heavy casualties to a fighting army.

And another thing, we need some reserve material and need it badly. Coaches Warden and James would like to have a few more boys between the weights of 135 and 200 report at once. To have an A-1 football club we've got to have reserves—and lots of them.

When the war first broke out newspaper headline writers had a tough job of picking out the best war news to play up on the front page. But now all that's changed. One day they run, "Germans Bomb London," the next day, "English Bomb Berlin."

DIES WILL SPEAK TOMORROW AT AMARILLO

AMARILLO — Revelations about what he terms communistic and fascist activities in the Southwest, among certain movie elements and labor groups on the West coast, and in the industrial centers of the East are expected to be made by Congressman Martin Dies of Orange, Texas, when he comes to Amarillo, Friday, September 6 for two addresses. He will tell what he has learned about "fifth column" activities in America.

The celebrated chairman of the House Un-American Activities Investigating Committee will speak at 2:30 in the afternoon and at 8 o'clock at night in Amarillo's renovated Municipal Auditorium.

Capacity crowds are expected for both appearances.

Admission for the afternoon address will be 50 cents for any seat. At night it will be 50 cents for balcony seats and 75 cents on the lower floor. All proceeds above actual expenses will be given by Mr. Dies and the News-Globe, the sponsoring organization, to charity. The arrangements are similar to those observed on Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt's lecture tours.

There will be no reserve seats, but those who wish to avoid standing in line at the box office may buy tickets at the News-Globe in advance.

Out-of-town visitors are urged to attend early to be sure of seats. However, a public address system will make the address plainly audible anywhere in the house.

Low "Grand Circle" Rail Rates Will Be Continued

The Burlington Lines, in conjunction with the other railroads in the United States, will continue for another year — until October 31, 1941—the low "grand circle" railroad fares by which an individual can travel by rail from his home to both Atlantic and Pacific coasts thence to the original starting point at a substantial reduction from standard rates. F. D. Daggett, General Agent, FW&DC Railway, announced today.

Continuation of this plan was decided upon by the railroads because of the success attained by it in the first year of operation when it was used by 32,500 persons. Of that number, 25,000 purchased grand circle tour first-class tickets, that is, traveled by Pullman, and 7,500 traveled by coach.

Under the plan, an individual can purchase a "grand circle" coach ticket for $90 or a first-class ticket for $135 plus the regular sleeping or parlor car charges for space occupied. These greatly reduced rates apply from all cities and towns in the United States. The plan makes it possible for an individual to travel by rail on a "grand circle" fare from 6,300 to 8,000 miles, depending on the starting point and the route selected.

FARMER MUST BE READY TO HELP IN DEFENSE

IMPROVED LANDLORD-TENANT RELATIONS CITED AS NECESSARY

Farmers, just like all other citizens of the country, must be in a position to shoulder their part of the national defense load, according to J. E. Burch, county supervisor for the Farm Security Administration. And those farmers, he added, who have security of tenure, who can produce an ample supply of food and yet protect the soil and conserve the moisture will be better able to help in times of emergency.

Burch believes it is time for landlords to be thinking about the tenants who will farm their places next year. He cited a number of reasons why a tenant, if he has been satisfactory, should be told at this time he may continue on the farm another year or even longer.

"If the landlord and the tenant make a contract now for next year it will profit both parties," Burch said. "They can plan for cover crops, improvements in the buildings and perhaps acquire needed machinery and livestock."

He reports definite progress in landlord-tenant relations in Donley county. He said a check of the 128 tenant families in this county on the FSA program shows that 41 of them have leases of from two to five years.

"The Farm Security Administration," Burch said, "has been working for improved landlord-tenant relations. We have tried to cooperate with landlords in finding good tenants and we have been working with tenants to secure long-time leases in order that the farms of this country can be operated at a profit and conserved rather than mined."

He cited a well-known fact that tenants who move each year usually are compelled to mine the soil in order to make the most out of it and leave it poorer than before, and a short term lease cannot justify the landlord

Public's Attitude on Fires Has Changed

AUSTIN—Interesting changes in the public's attitude toward fire were pointed out today by Marvin Hall, State Fire Insurance Commissioner.

In the United States a man who has a fire in his home, store or factory is regarded as unfortunate, but during pre-war days in Europe he was assumed to be a public offender, the Commissioner said.

In France, if a fire spread beyond a man's property and damaged that belonging to his neighbor, he had to pay his neighbor's loss. In Germany, if a man had a fire the police ordered an investigation.

Carelessness was assumed from the fact that the fire occurred. If he could not prove in court the next day that he had taken every reasonable precaution, he was fined, and for his negligence he had to pay the city for the unnecessary use of the fire department.

Mrs. W. L. Porterfield and daughters, Angelyn and Betty Gene, returned to their home in Blackwell, Texas, after a two-weeks visit here with Mrs. Porterfield's parents, Rev. and Mrs. H. C. Gordon.

Dr. Guy Stricklin and daughter, Beverly Gray, and Mrs. Geneva Dozier returned this week to their homes here after an extended vacation trip in Drake, Colorado. Mrs. Stricklin will return in a few days.

or tenant to build up the soil or make improvements to the farmstead.

The Supervisor said the FSA has flexible farm lease forms for landlords and tenants and that he would be glad to explain them to all interested parties.

"We hear a great deal about national defense," Burch said, "but as far as agriculture is concerned, a necessary contribution toward national defense is to restore opportunity to low-income and disadvantaged farm families and to protect the soil of the landlords of this nation."

Miss Helen Risley, bride-elect of James McGregor of Panhandle was honored with a shower-announcement party given by Mrs. Melvin Eagle of Pampa, the former Edna Thomas of this city, and Miss Nell Cook at the home of Mrs. F. B. Thomas on Tuesday, August 27.

The house was beautifully decorated with zenias and various other cut flowers. The announcement was made by printed cards tied to a small corsage of sweet peas on the refreshment plate. Miss Dorothea Watson presided over the bride's book in which approximately thirty five guests registered.

Jack Draffen of Austin spent from Sunday until Tuesday night of this week in the W. B. Sims home visiting his mother, Mrs. Eva Draffen and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Sims.

Mr. and Mrs. Murry A. Wolfe and daughter, La Verne, of Los Angeles, Calif., arrived this week for a visit here in the home of Mr. Wolfe's uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Franke White, Sr.

Garden Glances

Presented weekly by the Garden Club

"America the beautiful lies in the hands of the gardeners"

Is it actually September, the end of summer?

But September can be such a lovely month, with the dahlias and annuals coming in full color.

The multitude of dahlias in Mrs. Rundell's yard are a delightful sight, while stately dahlias of unusual height and gorgeous blossoms are noticeable over the garden fence at Jim McMurry's.

Red mallows are making a brilliant display in the back yard at Frank Bourland's, and a beautiful lavender Althea can be seen at Mrs. Kirtley's.

Don't you admire the hyclanth-blue jars on the porch at Jim Patman's and the lovely orange one at Lee Holland's? If you are interested in pretty yards take time out and look at the yards of Walter Knorpp and Meredith Gentry. Formal plantings present unforgettable pictures of evergreens, roses, verbenas and many other blossoms dear to the hearts of color lovers.

"Gardens are such friendly things They raise much more than flowers; Friendships true and kind and strong. Spring from garden hours."

Anon.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Larimer had as their guests for the week-end W. A. Larimer, Doris Larimer, Harold Larimer, and Elsie Baird all of Denton. Mr. Larimer is director of the Business Administration Department of the North Texas State Teachers College here.

HAYES ROBBINS FAMILY MOVES TO WHITEFACE

Mr. and Mrs. Hayes Robbins and daughter, Frankye, left this morning for Whiteface, Texas, where they will make their home. Mr. Robbins informed the News that he has traded for a home there, and will have all the carpenter work he can do, brought on by a big oil boom for that area. One major company moved eight drillers to Whiteface last week, and so far no dry holes have been encountered. Whiteface is on the line between Hockley and Cochran counties.

The many Clarendon friends of the Robbins family regret to lose them but wish them well in their new location.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Roy Wells are visiting in the D. O. Stallings home this week-end en route to their home in Huntsville from a short vacation to Colorado Springs.

Devoted to the Students of Clarendon High School, Junior College and Junior High School

NEW FACES

At the opening of school this year we find a large number of new students in our midst. Many of them from the various towns near here will reside in Clarendon during the school year. We wish to welcome them heartily, and we welcome them heartily, tending our school. Here are home of the new students and their home towns:

THE SUMMER ACTIVITIES OF THE PEP SQUAD

The summer's activities for the Pep Squad were very progressive. During the Coronado Celebration we cleared approximately thirty dollars. The money will be used to buy suits for new members.

At one of the summer meetings we selected Carlyn Gerlack as mascot. Our sponsors for this year are Mrs. White, Miss Wallis, and Mrs. Gerlack.

ASSEMBLY

Our first assembly for the year was held at 10:30 on September 2.

The band opened the program with "America" and played several more numbers. Then, Rev. King gave the invocation. The student body sang several songs. Mr. Watson was the speaker for assembly. After Mr. Watson's speech Mr. Burton gave special announcements concerning the opening of school. Mr. Burton also introduced the new assistant coach, Mr. James.

The assembly started another school year with great enthusiasm.

STATISTICS

Statistics on the enrollment on Tuesday show a great increase over last year, particularly in some classes.

We find 97 college students—many more than were enrolled this time last year. The Freshman class is larger than last year, but the sophomore is smaller.

In high school we find the seniors the smallest class with only 63 in number, while the Junior is the largest with 80.

Since there are 76 sophomores we know why we have noise. Each sophomore is as confused as the other and tries, as loudly as possible, to find where he is supposed to be.

A FRESHMAN'S VIEW OF COLLEGE

To the eyes of a College Freshman the C. J. C. seems to be a terribly confusing place. Let me warn you, — you will feel worse the first day, than a 13-year-old high school soph.

In the first place there are the periods that one does not have classes — and then those that he does! A person never knows when, how, or where he has classes, or what days that he has them. We can only hope that the next few days will settle all these problems.

Don't think it's too bad. We shall really enjoy going where we please when we don't have classes. It gives a college student a feeling of superiority to drift off where he pleases and leave the lowly high school student laboring in the study hall.

THINGS WE SEE THIS YEAR THE SAME AS LAST

Outside of a new assistant coach — everything is practically the same. A new set of silly "Sophs" running around lost. The dignified "Jrs." showing their superiority. The sophisticated "Seniors" showing their authority.

We also notice that Mrs. Goodner has stored up plenty of energy during the summer because she is still as energetic as ever.

We thought the Sophs and Juniors in College were mixed up last year, but it is nothing compared to what they are this year.

Several romances that budded last spring are still in full bloom. The same old initials on the desk to which the "Sophs" will add their soon.

Groups of idle gossipers still blocking the stairs and halls. We hope the classes will all be as pleasant as last year.

THE SOPHOMORE'S IMPRESSION OF HIGH SCHOOL

Ernest Thompson says, "Some Fun."

W. G. Adams says, "Very Rough."

It's Greek to Billy Jack Shelly.

Helen Porter says, "We miss our mothers."

"It's swell till the lessons start," says Mary Nell Keys.

Dorothy Ann Kennedy doesn't know where she is.

G. G. Reeves needs a map.

Billie Nell Warren says, "Not as good as Jr. High."

Victor Smith says, "I had just as soon hoe."

Billy Moreland says, "It's better than Jr. High."

"So far so good," says Fleetwood Cornell.

BAND NEWS

The Band held its election on Tuesday, the third of September. President Lewis Chamberlain took charge of the meeting. John Burton King, who was elected president for this year then took charge. Clyde Douglas, Jr., was elected vice president; Bill Andis, secretary and treasurer, and Helen Porter, band master.

We then elected an entertainment committee. Clyde Douglas, vice-president, acting as chairman. The committee is as follows: James Earl Hott, Carl Morris, June Miller and Madeline Kelly.

The Band has ordered five new uniforms for the new members that have come in. The uniforms should be in sometime next week. We have also ordered three new Swiss flags, made of maroon and white silk. They are to be used principally for football games. One will have a C. on it, another an H. and another an S.

The band is sponsoring George Bagby's Fourth of July Movie, which will be shown Friday the 13th at the Cozy Theatre. Ticket sale will start next week. About three weeks ago the band room was enlarged about twice its former size. It was enlarged by the School Board.

In the middle of the summer the band bought a recording machine, which makes records of the music we play. Since all are says Arlis Ray Allison. Johnnie Beard says, "Root of all Evil."

Glenn Robertson says, "Watch your head, be careful."

"I prefer Jr. High and every thing that goes with it," says Frances Phelps.

"The sooner its over the better," says Betty Ann Craft.

"Mad House," says Agatha Cobb.

BRONCHO HOPES

The boys are all in good shape and in great spirits. Our first game is Sept. 20 with Lefors. It is a conference game and is to be played in Lefors.

How Women in Their 40's Can Attract Men

Here's good advice for a woman during her change (usually from 35 to 52), who fears she'll lose her appeal to men, who worries about hot flashes, loss of pep, dizzy spells, upset nerves and moody spells. Just get more fresh air, 3 hrs. sleep and if you need a reliable "WOMAN'S" tonic take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made especially for women. It helps Nature build up physical resistance, thus helps give more vivacity to enjoy life and assist calming jittery nerves and those disturbing symptoms that often accompany change of life. Pinkham's is WELL WORTH trying.

How One Woman Lost 20 Pounds of FAT

Lost Her Prominent Hips
Lost Her Double Chin
Lost Her Sluggishness

Gained a More Shapely Figure and the Increase in Physical Vigor and Vivaciousness Which So Often Comes With Excess Fat Reduction.

Thousands of women are getting fat and losing their appeal just because they do not know what to do. Why not be smart — do what thousands of women have done to get off pounds of unwanted fat. Take a half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water first thing every morning to gently activate liver, bowels and kidneys—cut down your caloric intake—eat wisely and satisfyingly—there need never be a hungry moment!

Keep this plan up for 30 days. Then weigh yourself and see if you haven't lost pounds of ugly fat. Just see if this doesn't prove to be the surprise of your life and make you feel like shouting the good news to other fat people. And best of all a jar of Kruschen that will last you for 4 weeks costs but little. If not joyfully satisfied—money back.

That Nagging Backache

May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action

Modern life with its hurry and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking—its risk of exposure and infection—throws heavy strain on the work of the kidneys. They are apt to become over-taxed and fail to filter excess acid and other impurities from the life-giving blood.

You may suffer nagging backache, headache, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling—feel constantly tired, nervous, all worn out. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

Try Doan's Pills. Doan's help the kidneys to pass off harmful excess body waste. They have had more than half a century of public approval. Are recommended by grateful users everywhere. Ask your neighbor!

DOAN'S PILLS

TELL-TALE CRACK

When skin between your toes cracks... when toes itch or burn... or white blisters appear... these are signs that you may have caught a fungus infection called "Athlete's Foot." Don't temporize. Act before the fungus spreads. Drench foot with SORETONE. It is a powerful yet harmless medicinal liquid. Laboratory tests show that SORETONE kills on contact all five of the stubborn fungi usually responsible for Athlete's Foot. It helps to soothe and heal the broken tissue. And, except in aggravated cases which demand the attention of your physician, it quickly relieves the itching and the pain. Note trial offer.

COLLEGE AND SPEND OR BUSINESS AND EARN?

YOUNG FOLKS: HERE IS THE ANSWER

One of America's Best Known College Presidents, Dr. Glenn Frank, has endorsed the educational program of the private business school for those not preparing for a professional career.

Roger Babson Says, "One of the great tragedies of American life is our common belief that everyone is suited to college training. There are hundreds in our colleges without desire, taste or capacity for what college has to offer.

Employers Are Agreed that the traditional liberal arts education alone is not preparation for business. Unless his liberal arts education has been strengthened with a technical training the academic graduate may be passed up by those whose business education enables them to offer specific service.

Dr. Link Psychologist, author and educator, says, "It is a waste of time and money for a girl or boy to go to college unless they have a good reason for going. To get an education is not a good reason for going. He says, "A very good test of education is: Will or can the student ever pay or help to pay for his education? If not should the parent pay for it?" Yet every boy and girl in the country should be made self-supporting. Especially the girl for there is no telling how early in life she may be thrown on her own resources.

The United States Bureau of Education reveals the startling fact that seven out of every ten young people who will hopefully launch themselves on a four-year college course this fall will never finish. The matter of health, or economic status, or lack of interest, of unfortunate choice of subjects — and many other reasons account for the fact that 70 per cent of the students drop out of our institutions of higher learning unprepared to earn a living. How, then, can one guard against this situation? The answer lies in attending a good Commercial College.

M. L. Frederick Says, "My work for many years has been the employing and training of young folks for business. During this time I have observed that one can attract the attention of influential executives and learn about business from them much more promptly and effectively by beginning on a secretarial or stenographic assignment than by any other approach to a business career."

No School will give this practical training in a more thorough manner or in so short a time or at such low cost or on such liberal terms as the BYRNE COLLEGE AND SCHOOL OF COMMERCE, Dallas, Texas.

Spending 14 Billion Dollars

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 27. — Seven citizens were selected with great care to constitute the National Defense Advisory Commission and their work was divided into divisions called Transportation, Agricultural, Consumer Protection, Price Stabilization, Labor Supply, Production Division and Raw Materials Division.

These Commissioners are responsible to the President, the Army and Navy, and other Administration branches of the Government. There are close contacts between the groups who will handle something like 14 billion dollars — which is the biggest peace-time affair ever created.

The present production of airplanes is now approximately 900 planes a month, and by January 1 the number of planes will be increased to 1,500 planes monthly, with a continuation of increased production. The number of employes in aircraft factories has risen from 56,800 people to 75,000 during recent months.

The Commission denies that there has been any delay caused by lack of specification for rifles, planes, tanks and other materials. The latest models of heavy tanks are being manufactured and they will be improvements over European war models.

There has been some clamor about the distribution of orders and the discrimination against manufacturers in different parts of the country. The explanation is that only the big contracts have been featured in newspaper articles. As a matter of fact the smaller business firms of the country are actually getting orders up to their capacity, which means that most of them are sub-contractors. More than 535 business firms are engaged on major contracts or as sub-contractors in the building of planes.

There has been a lot of wild guessing as to how long it will take the Government and American manufacturers to reach mass production in war materials. In reply to that question Mr. Knudsen told a group of broadcasters who cover the nation's four leading radio networks that the tooling-up process is now proceeding at a rapid pace and that substantial deliveries of most of the materials should commence next Spring at which time production will be rolling along at a good pace.

The Army and Navy assures the country that construction plants will be established over wide areas that will include all of the Middle Western States where suitable labor and materials are available.

Requirements of defense plans cover hundreds of thousands of Army and Navy articles, says Commissioner Stetinius whose job it is to make sure that the raw materials for the manufacture of these articles are available at the right time and at the right places. He must have chrome from Turkey; tungsten from China, diamonds from South Africa and thousands of raw materials from our own country.

A steady pace for transportation has been arranged by Commissioner Budd, railroad executive. Mr. Budd says that the War Department and the Public Roads Administration have already laid out networks of strategic highways on 80 thousand miles of road, with 2 thousand and bridges that will be strengthened, to carry heavy artillery equipment. Great volumes of freight can be handled by railroads, inland waterways, and 30 million mobile units which did not exist during the last War.

Commissioner Hillman informs the public that special courses are now being given in vocational schools throughout the country for the purpose of training skilled workers in the various industries. The United States Employment Service is cooperating with the Commission. Among other things the vocational schools follow closely the range of defense occupations that include machine shop practice, welding, pattern-making and drafting. According to Mr. Hillman there are about 80 thousand and persons now taking training.

The shipbuilding industry today is employing 40 thousand more people than usual; the aircraft industry is employing 50 thousand more people; the machine tool industry is now employing 18 thousand more people; and similar increases are shown in other industries. This is largely due to national preparedness activities.

Commissioner Davis, of Agriculture, reminds us of the slogan of 1917: "Food will win the war." And so his Division of the National Defense Advisory Commission has the big job of keeping our farms in healthy production, and at the same time preventing American farmers from becoming "the first economic casualty of this new World War!"

The Consumer Advisor is Miss Elliott and she described her job as that of watching what may happen to the prices of the things people buy, and through that knowledge work to raise the levels of living and to maintain public health. Miss Elliott reports that there has been no significant changes in the prices of consumer goods in recent months.

Price stabilization is under the direct charge of Commissioner Henderson who explains that he is carrying out the instructions of the President who he says wants to avoid the familiar price spiral, and he agrees with the opinion of B. M. Baruch, of World War fame, that prices must be kept normal in order to protect the country from post war headaches.

That is the picture of the National Defense Program. It is being administered by a Commission that was picked because every one of them has a reputation for "getting things done."

The Low Down FROM HICKORY GROVE

Since this new Indianian has shown up on the horizon, she don't look so extra promising for our lecturing fraternity. These lecturers, they been going up and down the country talking up the youth problem — and what we should do to save our young folks. They been doing pretty good too, financially — for themselves.

Nobody needs any super eye-sight to see that this Mr. Wilkie from Hoosierdom, is upsetting the apple cart. He has removed the wind from their sails, and if he does nothing more, he has done his country a good turn. Guess maybe he grew up as a Boy Scout.

Here is a feller who shocked wheat, and waited table, and taught school — and who did not bow down to any idea that young folks no longer had a chance. I would not hanker to be running on any ticket against him.

Some of our lecturing folks will now have to find some new theory to talk about—or maybe even to go to work, themselves. Yours with the low down, JO SERRA.

CORONADO STAMP GOES ON SALE SEPT. 7TH

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. — G. C. Dickens, managing director of the United States Coronado Exposition Commission, announced today the forthcoming issue of a special three cent postage stamp commemorating the 40th anniversary of the Coronado expedition to the southwestern states.

Issuance of the stamp was made possible through the efforts of Clinton P. Anderson, who preceded Mr. Dickens as managing director, and Senator Dennis Chavez, (D-N. M.) who worked with Ramsey S. Black, third assistant postmaster general, to obtain authorization for the issue.

The postmaster general has approved the stamp, which will be placed on sale for the first time at the Albuquerque post office on September 7. After that, it will be available at other post offices throughout the country.

Through the cooperation of the postmaster here, stamp collectors desiring first-day cancellations of the new stamp on September 7 may send a limited number of addressed covers, not in excess of ten, to the postmaster, with a cash or postal money order remittance to cover only the cost of the stamps required for affixing.

Postage stamps will not be accepted in payment, the local postmaster points out. The United States Coronado Exposition Commission coordinates and in some cases sponsors activities commemorating the Coronado exposition in New Mexico, Arizona, Texas, Colorado, Oklahoma and Kansas.

An important part of the program of celebrations is the great number of popular festivals, the "Fiestas" of the Coronado country, in which the people of the region participate actively and as spectators.

Feature of the celebrations is a gigantic road show, "The Entrada of Coronado," written specially for the commission and based on the historical records of the period.

The Coronado Calendar: Sept. 6 — Dance of the Harvest at the Indian village of San Ildefonso, New Mexico.

Sept. 7. — Coronado Pageant at Grand Canyon, Arizona.

Sept. 15 — Fiesta and Encampment of the Jicarilla Apaches at Horse or Stone Lake, New Mexico, for three days.

Sept. 15-19 — Celebrations of Mexican Independence Day in Carlsbad, Roswell, Socorro, Las Cruces, Albuquerque.

Sept. 19 — Fiesta and annual dance in honor of the patron saint at the Indian village of Laguna, New Mexico, near Albuquerque.

Sept. 22-29 — New Mexico State Fair, at Albuquerque, New Mexico.

Sept. 26-27 — "The Entrada of Coronado" comes to Socorro, New Mexico.

Sept. 28-29 — Fiesta de San Miguel (St. Michael) at Socorro, New Mexico.

Sept. 29 — Sunset Dance on the even of San Geronimo fiesta in Taos, New Mexico.

Sept. 30 — Annual Fiesta and dance in honor of San Geronimo, at Taos, New Mexico.

FEW CHANGES IN 1941 TRIPLE-A PROGRAM

COLLEGE STATION — Few changes of importance to Texas were made in the 1941 AAA program as approved by the Secretary of Agriculture.

Such changes as were included were based on the recommendations of the national conference of farmer-committeemen and ranchmen held earlier in the summer.

Soil conservation and maintenance of adequate food and fiber supplies continue as the basic principles of the program. George Slaughter, chairman of the Texas state committee, declares, and still more latitude has been granted the county committee for adaptation of the program to fit local needs.

The $20 minimum payment for each farm has been continued, the chairman pointed out, and an additional $15 is available for planting trees. Thus, any farm can earn as much as $35 by cooperating with the 1941 program.

In addition, on small farms where the maximum payment is not more than $20, any part of the soil-building allowance may be earned by carrying out locally adapted conservation practices not included in the program where recommended by county committeemen. This provision will be appreciable in designated areas only.

Encouraging feed production, the program provides that in areas where feed crops are not generally produced for market, any farmer may grow as much as 30 acres of soil depleting crops without incurring a deduction for exceeding the total depleting acreage allotment.

In view of the substantial acreage reductions made by established cotton growers, not more than one per cent of the state's 1941 cotton allotment may be used for new grower allotments, a reduction from the two allowed in 1940. No payments will be made for cotton produced in 1941 on allotments for new growers, Slaughter said.

Reddy helped me after grades.

They said 'Johnnie is smart as a whip' — but he made poor grades

Maybe your child is like that—"smart as a whip," but, for some reason, doesn't get good grades. If so—well, now that school is starting again, you might do something about it. Suppose you try this:

Fix him up a study table and give him a lamp of his own. You may find the result amazing. Many children, unknowingly, suffer from poor eyesight. Unless they have proper light for studying, they sometimes lack interest and enthusiasm for school work... The special shade on an I.E.S. study lamp spreads the light where it is needed. Chief Tahan-- our old ceremonial grounds just below Ceta Canyon in the Palo Duro. The big cedar-studded flat where we prayed is now called "Tepee Flats." We used to gather there 75 or 80 years ago for religious ceremonies and it seems to me a strange coincidence in the ways of worship that the big-wigs of present day religion still hold regular summer encampments just above our sacred stamping grounds."

Chief Tahan Griffis fought with the Indians in both battles of Adobe Walls and is probably the only Indian alive that can give an authentic historical account of both engagements.

Forty years ago Griffis was in charge of Presbyterian missions in the Indian territory and as late as 1922 he represented the Pueblo Indians' cause in the United States Congress when many of them were about to be dispossessed of their lands by white-squatter legislation. The Chief spoke before a senate dinner in full Indian regalia and the pending bill was defeated.

Although Griffis did not learn the English alphabet until he was past 30 years of age he speaks and writes well and is the author of a book of Indian myths and has to his credit many magazine and news stories.

The Chief has been married three times. His first wife, an Oklahoma Indian, was drowned while fording a swollen stream horseback as she assisted him in making an escape from an unfriendly tribe who was holding him captive in chains. His only papoose was lost after it had been entrusted to another squaw who kept the child after his escape.

After years of drifting in the Canadian wilds Chief Griffis returned to settle in the Vermont woods where he married the third time. Three children were born to the last wife and the youngest is only nine.

At ninety years of age Griffis is keenly alert in thought and action with a progressive interest in social and economic affairs of the day. He says that his health is perfect and that he can run a mile in 8 minutes flat.

He has only recently returned to the Panhandle country and is making his home at 410 West 10th Street, Amarillo.

"I have returned," the Indian said, "because I can read the significant smoke signals of time and I want these old bones to rest in this Indian hunting ground where the incense of sage and cedar still breeze above our ancient burial places."

Every Plainsman knows the story of the battle of Adobe Walls, but few have ever heard the Indians' side of it. Such an opportunity will be given to members of the Panhandle Old Settlers Association at their annual meeting, Sept. 18 at the Tri-State Fair.

Chief Tahan and Chief Lean Elk of the Cheyennes will give their accounts of the battle at the organization's annual meeting, which this year will be dedicated to the "Red Man of the Plains."

Rev. J. H. Polk, pastor of the Methodist Church of Megargel, Texas, visited his father, C. L. Polk, here over the week-end.

HUNTING AND FISHING LICENSES EXPIRE

Hunters and fishermen of Texas this week were warned by the Executive Secretary of the Game Department that all licenses issued by the Department expired August 31, the end of the fiscal year.

There is but one exception — the hunting boat license required of those who take parties out in boats to hunt. It is good for one year from date of issuance.

All other licenses, including the many licenses required of commercial trappers, as well as those issued to hunters and fishermen, expired on August 31, the Executive Secretary said.

New licenses may be purchased at most sporting goods or hardware stores over the State, and in addition from Game Wardens direct.

CHILDREN'S WEEK IS PROCLAIMED BY O'DANIEL

This week, September 1-7, has been proclaimed by Governor W. Lee O'Daniel as Texas Children's Week.

The Division of Child Welfare is a part of our State Department of Public Welfare, and is under the direction of Mrs. Viola Greenhill, Chief, and Mrs. Norma Rankin, Director of Child Welfare Services. The Panhandle District Child Welfare office is located in Amarillo, and has the responsibility of serving Donley County in meeting their child welfare problems along with twenty five other counties.

Probably the largest and most common problem is dependency and neglect where children do not have necessary food, clothing and shelter, and in most cases the lack of supervision and guidance from his parents. In attempting to meet this need, our first efforts is to try to revise home conditions to such an extent that the child can receive the care he needs in his own family group. Your County Welfare Worker is very thoughtful in cooperating with us on family welfare basis to make home conditions livable for the child. When home conditions cannot be corrected to such an extent that the child can get along well in his own home, the next plan is to see if relatives can assist him. If this fails, we attempt to find a substitute home for him, which is called a foster home, and may be an adoption home, a boarding home, a work home, a free home, or an institution. For those children who need care over a period of years, of a routine nature, the institution is usually selected. For those children who need the association of an individual family, the boarding home is selected and is the type of home which has to be licensed by the Division of Child Welfare, just as barber and beauty operators have to be licensed. Sometimes a boarding home mother is paid by relatives, County Commissioners' Court, or civic or fraternal organizations or various other sources which may exist in the community. The boarding home is a more acceptable type of care for children, since it gives the child an opportunity for individual family life, and an opportunity to develop his initiative and resources as an individual family life, and an opportunity to develop his initiative and resources as an individual. This is the way he lives when he grows up, so he can profit from his child home life when he establishes a home of his own.

The Child Welfare Worker has the responsibility of arranging necessary care for the child who has a physical or mental defect. Mental health is closely related to the emotional life of a child, and when a child shows an emotional instability, there is need to give him what is termed a psychological examination, which is an insight into his intelligence and behavior.
