Over 900 Donley County Men Answer U.S. Conscription Call

Typical All-American Title Is Won By D. E. Leathers Family

450 REGISTER AT CITY HALL AND COURT HOUSE

DRAFTESSE ARE IN GOOD HUMOR—RUSH LOCAL PLACES EARLY

Over 900 Donley County men, between the ages of 21 and 35, stormed the 18 voting precincts of the county Wednesday and registered for the nation's first peace-time draft.

A count at 2 o'clock today by Miss Helen Wiedman, official in charge of registration, revealed 946 conscript-age men of Donley County had responded to Uncle Sam's call.

It was a good-natured, friendly but vigorous multitude that swamped the local registration places at the City Hall and the Court House early in the morning.

Some thirty of forty eager conscripts were on hand at the City Hall when the doors were opened at 7 a. m. and they kept registering officials busy until 10:30 a. m. At 9 p. m., closing time, 237 men had registered here.

At the Court House there was a good sized crowd waiting to be registered. And here also they kept on coming until about 10:30 a. m. At 9 p. m., 213 men had been conscripted at this place.

At Hedley 154 answered President Roosevelt's call, and Lilla Lake registered 97.

One youth, lacking but 10 days of being 21, tried to register at one of the local places but was turned down.

Some six or eight transients, representing Arizona, California, Dallas and Amarillo were signed up here.

Thompson Wright and Melton Cottingham of Lilla Lake were the first two to complete registration in Clarendon.

Officials in charge of the local registration boxes said that the men cheerfully responded and humorous incidents helped make their work pleasant.

The Clarendon registration figure of 450 was about 50 to 75 above the conservative estimate, according to Miss Wiedman.

Those who volunteered their services at the City Hall were Joe Holland, E. R. Andis, R. W. Moore, F. E. Caraway, B. C. Antrobus, G. G. Reeves, Rayburn Smith, Mac Shaver, Virvian Taylor and Dorothy Watson. Those serving at the Court House were J. T. Patman, A. L. Chase Vera Noland, Mary Durant, Mrs. Margaret Thompson, Johnny Rhodes, Maxine Patterson, Walker Lane, Mildred Ritter, Ira Merchant, Mrs. J. E. Burch, Adeat Tyler and W. A. Riney, Jr.

Union Prayer Service At Episcopal Church Registration Day

A union prayer service was held Wednesday morning, October 16th, at 11 o'clock at the Episcopal Church, on Registration Day and in line with a national movement among Protestant churches to pray for Divine guidance in the hour of National emergency.

Ministers of four local churches participated in the scripture readings, meditations, and prayers in the following order: Rev. E. W. Henshaw, Rev. H. C. Gordon, Rev. J. Perry King, and Rev. M. M. Miller.

Some thirty five members of the several churches were present for the service.

HEDLEY SCHOOL KIDS PICK COTTON, GET FUNDS FOR TRIP

Due to a shortage of cotton pickers in Donley County, fifteen members of the senior class of the Hedley high school have gone into the cotton fields.

The group of school children pulled 3,360 pounds of bolls the first day to earn $16.80. The class income will be used to defray expenses of next spring's class vacation trip.

Baptist Revival Is Attracting Large Interest Daily

The Baptist Church revival, now in its second week, is growing in interest daily and attracting large crowds, the Rev. J. Perry King stated this week.

Eight new additions to the church have already been announced.

The Rev. Sid Martin, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Memphis, is conducting the revival which closes Sunday night. George Reynolds of Childress, gospel singer of unusual ability, is leading the singing.

Rev. King extends a welcome to everyone to attend the meetings.

IRISH INTERCEPT BRONCHO PASS TO WIN, 13-7

The luck of the fightin' Irish held here last Friday night when Shamrock's outplayed team came from behind in the closing minutes of play to snatch a Clarendon pass out of the air and gallop to a 12-7 victory.

It was Sewell, Irish left half, who intercepted the Broncho pass on his own 47 yards and ran un molested 53 yards to pay dirt.

The Bronchos made nine first downs to the invaders' five, and chalked up 205 yards from scrimmage to the Irish 51, only to see their 7-6 lead fade shortly before the game closed.

With but four or five minutes left to play the Clarendon crew staged a late rally which was thwarted deep in Irish territory.

Starting on their own 33, the Bronchos ran and passed their way to the Irish 21, where they lost the ball on downs.

Friday night's defeat was a bitter pill for the Clarendon team to swallow since they were handed a 13-0 beating by the fighting Irishmen last year and were out to avenge this defeat.

Shamrock's first score early in the second period was made possible by a pass interference ruling that put the pigskin on the Clarendon 13 yard line.

The yard stripe play came on the 10 yard stripe where Galbreath, Irish quarter, passed to Anderson, right end, who scampered over. Galbreath's kick was low.

The Bronchos' goalward drive started right after the first Irish touchdown. McGrary, shifted from end to the backfield, ripped off 44 yards to place the ball on the Irish 10-yard line. Three plays later, Hermsmeider, fullback, crashed over from the two-yard line. Capt. Hartzog, left half, kicked the extra point to give the Bronchos a 7-6 lead.

Mrs. George T. Cook of Pebble Beach, California and Mrs. P. B. Long of Pasadena, California are here visiting in the home of John Bugbee and with other relatives here in Clarendon.

"Blanket Sized" Ballot, Nearly As Big As Top of Desk, Awaits Nov. 4 Voters

"Blanket sized" ballots will await voters of Donley County, come general election day, Nov. 5.

The ballots were printed this week and each one, nearly as big as the top of a desk, contains names of five parties, one marked "Independent" which is blank, and another, also blank, that does not even have a hazy "Independent" heading.

Parties listed are Democratic, Republican, Communist, Socialist, and Prohibitionist.

The Democrats have a full ballot, ranging all the way down from the 23 presidential and vice presidential electors. Tom Connolly, candidate for senate, and W. Lee O'Daniel for governor, head the candidates proper.

WORK UNDER WAY AT ATHLETIC FIELD

WPA WORKMEN UNDER A. C. DONNELL START PRELIMINARIES MONDAY

With a small detachment of WPA workmen, Superintendent A. C. Donnell began preliminary work Monday on the stone tennis project at the school athletic field, which will cost upwards of $15,000. The workers moved a small tool house to a convenient location near the project, are tearing away the old wire fence about the property, and otherwise clearing the ground for the construction work.

On account of national registration day for the draft, no work was done Wednesday, but another detachment of workers are getting out the rock on the A. L. Thornberry ranch, West of Clarendon. Mr. Thornberry, is contributing the rock for the project, in a fine spirit of co-operation like Forrest Sawyer, and Carl Bennett, who are donating the sand and gravel.

Upwards of thirty men are now on the project, with others to be added as progress of the job justifies.

ROBBERIES SOLVED BY CONFESSIONS OF THREE MEN

A series of robberies were solved by the sheriff's department this week with the confessions of three Hedley men who are being held in the county jail here.

A. G. Tims, indicted and arrested last week on charges of burglary and felony theft, Ed Parmlee, and J. D. Shults have made confessions which have cleared up the robbery of three filling stations, and the theft of two jersey bows and a bull-yearling.

The trio admitted, according to Sheriff Pierce, the robbery of the Log Cabin filling station at Hedley about three weeks ago, the robbery of the Gulf wholesale house at Memphis, and the robbery of a filling station at Crosbyton.

Sheriff Pierce said that the men stole 17 tires at the Hedley station, got ten cases of oil at the Memphis wholesale house, and took the cash register, nine tires and a case of oil at the Crosbyton station.

Tims and Shults also confessed the stealing of two jersey cows in Collingsworth county and a bull yearling in the Naylor community, according to the sheriff. These two men face six felony charges, and all three of the men face burglary charges.

They are being held in lieu of $1,000 bond on each count.

Here's The Nation's Most Typical Family

Meet the Typical American Family — D. E. Leathers, his wife, and two children, Johnny and Margaret Jean — who have surely earned the right to smile at you. For this week they have been acclaimed by a committee of judges representing the New York World's Fair as the Typical All-American Family. They will board an airliner at Fort Worth Sunday and fly back to the World's Fair on another expense-paid trip to receive the highest honors in the national competition. At the fair they will again be the guests of the fair and the Ford Motor Company. As a reward for their winnings they will receive a $5,000 furnished home, a new Ford car and a sizeable bankroll.

Donley County Wins 1st at State Fair For Having Best Carload Of Pigs

Donley County won first prize of the 1940 State Fair at Dallas for the second consecutive year for having the best carload of 25 pigs in the county carloads class.

The F. F. A. and 4-H boys prize barrows, all from registered sows and boars, weighed from 210 to 220 pounds, averaging 215 pounds. Swift & Co. bought the champion carload at a top price of $8.50 per hundred.

The local youths showed 90 head of top animals at the Fair and captured a large share of the honors. $329 premium money was won by the boys and they received $372 more for their pigs sold at a premium in Dallas than they would have received locally. The cost of hauling the pigs, feeding, and fitting them was $192, leaving the exhibition netting a clear profit of $509.

Oklahoma club members furnished the major portion of the competition for the local boys and won a majority of the first place ribbons, but the local youths finished far ahead of any other Texas group in their club winnings.

Local winnings in the Club Show are: First and grand champion county carlot of barrows; third, litter of five and fourth, litter of six or more; fifth, seventh, 13th, and 14th light Duroc Barrows; First and 13th heavy Duroc Barrows; 5th and 6th Heavy Poland Barrows; 4th, 6th, 7th, 8th, 11th, 12th, 13th, 14th, and 15th light Hamp barrows; 2nd, 5th, 6th, 10th, 11th, and 15th heavy Hamp barrows; 10th, 11th, 14th, 16th light Chester White barrows; 10th heavy Berkshire barrows; 2nd, 3rd, 4th, 5th, 6th light Spotted Poland barrows; 3rd, 4th, 5th, and 6th heavy spotted Poland barrows.

Winnings in Open Class: 2nd and 4th light Hamps and 2nd light pen of barrows by Jack Ballew; 3rd heavy single and 3rd pen of barrows in heavy Polands by Redell Henson; 5th and 8th heavy Hamps and 4th heavy pen; 5th light single and 2nd light pen on Durocs; 5th heavy single and third heavy pen on Durocs.

Carl Morris, Billy Reid, Redell Henson, J. F. White, F. G. Crawford, Harice and Billy Jack Green, H. C. Shaw, W. C. Gunter, Jack Riley, Jack Ballew, Maschil Cole, Forrest Helton, Bobby Harold Smith, Frank Cannon, Bob Marshall, each made the trip to Dallas with their livestock.

Carl Morris exhibited a baby beef in the Junior Livestock Show that placed 16th and sold at $14.25 through the auction held for the baby beeves.

DONLEY'S BOOTH AT FAIR DRAWS MUCH PRAISE

Donley County's fair booth at the State Fair is drawing more praise this year than ever before, according to John Gillham, local vocational agriculture instructor, who has just returned from Dallas.

Donley is one of the few counties in the state to have a booth at the fair for the third consecutive year.

The educational portion of the booth features the importance of contour furrowing on pasture and its comparative value to non-furrowed pasture and was prepared by Gillham. The agricultural products in the display were gathered and prepared by County Agent H. M. Breedlove.

The educational portion of the booth will be displayed in the Clarendon News window up

APPEAL AGENT AND 2 DOCTORS NAMED TO DRAFT BOARD

W. T. Link, member of the Donley County Civilian Draft Board has been approved as an appeal agent, and Drs. B. L. Jenkins and T. H. Ellis, have been appointed examining physicians in connection with the work of the local draft board.

The other two members of the Donley draft board are C. T. McMurtry and George Ryan. The appeal agents, one to every draft board, will look after the interest of both the government and registrant in any matter of difference. They are not to be confused with appeal boards which will hear registrants' appeals from draft board rulings.

The physicians will examine the registrants placed in Class I as immediately available for service.

The new draft board, whose duty it is to classify men of conscription age, opened headquarters today in the Rathjen building, located next door to the Donley County State Bank.

Absentee Balloting Gets Under Way This Week

Absentee voting for the general election got under way here yesterday with one person marking the ballot, according to Helen Wiedman, county clerk.

Absentee balloting will close on Nov. 2, and those who will be away from home on Nov. 5, date of the general election, are reminded to do their voting now.

The "blanket sized" ballots were printed this week in the Clarendon News printing department, and delivered to the county clerk's office Tuesday.

Children At Play Find 5 Boxes Of Dynamite Caps

While playing in a field last Sunday morning, the small children of George Jones, who lives south of Clarendon, found five boxes of dynamite caps.

The children discovered the caps when they removed a board from over a large hole in the ground.

The dynamite caps were turned over to Sheriff Guy Pierce who turned them over to the Texaco Co. Seismograph crew. Pierce said that the caps had been in the hole for at least two or three months.

LEATHERS TO FLY TO NEW YORK'S FAIR SUNDAY

FAMILY HIGHLY ELATED OVER THEIR VICTORY IN CONTEST

Their bags packed, the Nation's most Typical Family, the D. E. Leathers of Clarendon, are ready to go to New York once again after winning a contest in which 40 families were participating from practically every state in the Union.

The Leathers family, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Leathers, their daughter, Margaret Jean, and son, Johnny, were notified Monday morning that they had won following a six months search by the World's Fair to discover this nation's champion typical American family.

The Leathers will stop Saturday at Fort Worth where they will see Amon Carter, publisher of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, and who sponsored them jointly with the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

At Ft. Worth at 1:17 p. m. Sunday the family will climb aboard a fast airliner which will whisk them to New York like a magic carpet. In this metropolitan city they will officially receive the honor and be told that they are the winners of a new all-furnished home, a new Ford car, and a nice fat bankroll (how much they don't know). They will live again for a week in their attractive FHA home on Rainbow Avenue, and again see all the sights of the 1940 fair which closes on Oct. 27.

Before leaving, Mr. Leathers said they might be given a trip over the United States to visit all the typical families participating in the contest.

It was no accident, the selection of the Leathers family as the Nation's Most Typical American Family, nor was the road they traveled to such a coveted title an easy one.

The contest pace was fast and furious one, and far from a picnic as all members of the winning family will testify.

Nominated in April by the Clarendon Chamber of Commerce as the Clarendon entry in the West Texas Chamber contest, the Leathers family consequently was selected by a committee of judges as the winner in District No. 1 of the WTCC.

Their qualifications then were compared with those of families chosen as representatives of nine other districts in the West Texas chamber. The central judging committee chose the Leathers family as the winner of the West Texas contest, with the family of John Prude of Rankin as second choice or alternate in the event that the Clarendon family could not accept.

Probably the four happiest persons in the world Monday were Mr. and Mrs. Leathers and their two children, Johnny and Margaret Jean, who were notified they had been selected as

FIRST COLD SNAP SENDS MERCURY DOWN TO 33

Clarendon got its first taste of wintry weather Monday when a low temperature of 33 degrees, one degree above freezing, was recorded here by Weatherman Joe Goldston.

It was the coldest weather so far this season and freezing temperatures were recorded throughout this area. While Amarillo vicinity reported a killing frost, a light frost, if any, was noted here.

ALL-AMERICAN FOR CLARENDON'S FARM FAMILY

Clarendon and Donley County joins the All-American ranks. Through their entry of the D. E. Leathers family in the contest for the West Texas Typical Farm Family, which they won at the Big Spring WTCC convention, the Clarendon entry invaded New York where the contest was between state winners—and now they have won the All-American honors for themselves, and Clarendon—and Donley.

It is no little thing to be judged All-American in any worthwhile activity, and when the winning is in the basic pursuit of farm operation, judged under modern conditions, then the honor is to be doubly prized.

Clarendon did herself honor several weeks ago, when she staged an open-air "appreciation" party for the Leathers family, on their return from Little Ole New York, but now a whole state will join this community in whole-hearted honor and appreciation for the splendid, neighborly family who has brought honor to Clarendon and all Texas.

The News salutes the D. E. Leathers family as our first All-American winners. We salute the farm industry for its evident virility and educated practice in Donley County, making possible the rearing of the Typical All-American Family.

We salute Mr. Leathers, Mrs. Leathers, Johnny and Margaret, real flesh-and-blood citizens of Donley County and Texas, worthy of the All-American honors they have attained. May their achievements serve as a stimulus to thousands of others on the farm, and in other worthy pursuits.

RIGHTS OF CONSCIENTIOUS OBJECTORS

A growing consciousness of the wrongfulness of war, brings to the fore the case of the conscientious objector in America, in these days of registration for the first draft.

The conscientious objector has rights, and the government is prepared to make certain concessions when an individual proves he is a bona fide believer in the moral wrong of bearing arms against his fellowman. There are many other services such a person can render to his government, and a sincere objector will do his part in one of these means of patriotic service to his country.

Now, as always, America has no patience with a "draft evader," or a person of puny patriotism who selfishly and cowardly refuses to do his part in a national emergency. The nation will take vigorous means to deal properly and summarily with such persons.

In our section of the country, we do not choose to believe that we have many "evaders", and very few conscientious objectors. Our intelligence dictates conditions under which our most sensitive citizens feel absolutely justified in bearing arms.

TEXAS DID HERSELF WRONG

Our opinion is that Texas did herself wrong, when she allowed the Communist party to have a place on the general election ticket in 1940.

When our nation is beset with dangerous forces pledged to wreck Democracy, Communism nor other ism of that red-eyed mold should have recognition among us.

Tolerance in an official way under world conditions, cannot justify recognition of Communism. Several other states outlawed the Communist party from participation in the general election, and we believe Texas did herself wrong by not being among the first to refuse it a place on our ticket.

It was inevitable that the recent meeting between Hitler and Mussolini at Brennar Pass should have been immediately followed by reports that the Axis has completed plans for invading England this fall or winter, bad weather notwithstanding. To some neutral military experts, this is almost incredible — it would involve the gravest and most far-reaching risks that Hitler has as yet taken. Despite that, however, there is at least one sound reason for believing that the reports may prove true. That reason is two-fold: famine and disease, two of the most deadly of the Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse.

No one knows exactly how serious the food situation is in Hitler-occupied Europe. But it is known that the conquered countries have been systematically gutted of their food reserves, in order that the German Army and the German people can be fed. The fine dairy herds of Denmark, products of centuries of development, have been slaughtered for beef. Already the people of Holland, Belgium, France and elsewhere have felt the pinch, as basic foods, notably fats, become more scarce. Germany, because of her seizures, is better off than most, but even there the people exist on a bare subsistence basis.

Great wars have always brought the threat of famine, and sometimes the actuality. But it is a reasonable supposition that this war, different as it is from its predecessors in so many ways, may be the precursor of greater hunger than the modern world has known. In the past, nations, when embarking on the great adventure that is war, have usually been fat, prosperous, well-fed. But the Germans, long before war began last September, were living on short rations. And the wars of the past were usually fought by professional armies, at least at the beginning, and to a lesser extent Italy, have been following a war economy for many years—everything, men and material alike, has been dedicated to preparing for conflict. Production of food has necessarily been held to the lowest possible minimum — substitutes of little nutritional value have long been employed. It is not unnatural that serious diseases have been growing in both number and intensity for many moons in Germany and Italy.

Disease, of course, is the ever-present ally of famine — and disease, once it gets the upper hand, becomes plague. Plague, according to the international grapevine that mysteriously brings news past the iron-clad European censorship, has already come to Poland. And plague respects no boundaries. The lack of soap in Europe is a factor here — dirt provides the finest possible breeding place for any kind of disease.

Europe has never been completely self-contained — it must import. Today there is almost no commerce between the old world and the new, save for that which is controlled by Britain. The British fleet is carrying on the blockade effectively, and is prepared to extend it — as, for example, to Spain — if necessary. If Britain were to fall, the great Axis' merchant marine could again go to the four corners of the world, to come home laden with all that the people of Europe now lack. So long as Britain survives, the Axis will be able to obtain almost nothing outside the gutted land it dominates. If Hitler does attempt an "all-out" blow against England soon, this will be one of the principal reasons for it.

There are some who believe that the possibility of famine points to the way that the dictators' grip on Europe may finally be loosened. A hungry people, they reason, will revolt against their masters — there is little choice between suicide and starvation. But there is another side to this. As Alan Gregg writes in the Yale Review, "There are varieties of starvation. Reduce abruptly all forms of food after an adequate diet, and you will still be strong enough to riot for food; gradually reduce to zero some essential of your diet, and you will finally be too weakened to protest with energy." So famine in captured nations might actually play into Hitler's hands by lessening the ability of the conquered peoples to effectively protest.

It is not expected that there will be widespread famine this winter. It is considered almost a certainty that it will come in grave form next winter, however, if the war is still going on then, and Britannia still rules the waves. Few experts dare anticipate what Europe will be like if the war lasts four or five years, as some military authorities think it may. The peoples would be literally decimated — victims of war who never saw a battle, and never heard the wail of a bullet.

Some in this country would help the conquered peoples with food and other necessities. But Britain has so far refused to pass relief ships through the blockade, on the very reasonable theory that the dictators would seize their cargoes once they were delivered. Europe will not get much help from us.

Fires take a toll of around 10,000 deaths every year in the United States.

Clarendon Youth Is Member Of Dairy Judging Team

Howard Strawn of Clarendon is a member of the Texas Tech Dairy Products Judging Team which is now in Atlantic City participating in the National Collegiate Dairy Products Judging contest. Besides Strawn, the team is composed of George Wilson of Princeton, Nathaniel Nelson of Clifton, and Clayton Roach of Lockney.

Mart G. Pederson, associate professor and coach, says that it is a real accomplishment for a boy to make this team, as the boy must first be above average as a student, and must eliminate several boys in the tryouts before he can become a member.

Approximately 25 of the outstanding colleges in the United States will participate in the contest, Pederson said.

Congratulations are in order for the D. E. Leathers family. Not only have they brought fame and fortune to themselves but also to Clarendon, Donley County, and the whole state of Texas. In interviewing Mr. Leathers we repeat his words, "I'm not only glad we won for ourselves but also for Texas, but we're sorry for those other folks who didn't win." This statement would indicate to this writer that there is no such a thing as selfishness in the hearts of these plain Donley County citizens — and Donley County should be rightly proud of these good folks. Our hat is off to them — and may they continue along the road of success.

News dispatches emanating from Rome would indicate that "International Racketeering" is the thing of the day. Through an Italian newspaper, the United States was offered a bribe if she would "throw in" with the axis powers and help them win the war against England. We would get Canada, Newfoundland, and other English islands and possessions in North America as our share of the spoils. We of the United States want no part of such underhand dealings. We have a great country and our people are not the kind to stoop to such underworld methods.

We have taken our stand — along side of England — and here we'll remain because we want to be free to think, free to talk, and free to worship as we please. And only under democracy is this possible today. We are sorry, Il Duce, but we're afraid you're barking up the wrong tree.

We believe that America's answer to the dictators should be the building of more planes, tanks, guns, and etc. Then if they get tough and want to knock the chip off our shoulder, let 'em do it, and we'll give 'em something they

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Murff and son were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Myers.

What's the matter with America building some air raid shelters? We may not need them now, but from the looks of things we'll be needing them soon.

We're in favor of building them now in order that we can build some comfortable, up-to-date models. Why wait until the last minute and crowd our people into quickly constructed shelters where they stand a good chance of being killed by the hundreds?

Texas cities, located in and near vast oil fields, should consider this problem before it's too late.

An enemy attack from the South would most likely be directed at Texas and its oil fields. It's time for us to wake up and realize what's going on in this world of ours today.

Want to Get the Razzberry?

Try telling folks the rates have been cut in half!

1 I work for the utilities and the other night I had supper over at Jim and Edith's house. It was a swell supper and I told Edith so. "Cooking," she said, "is easy. We have nearly everything electric." "There is a point," I says, excited-like. "And you're using about twice as much electricity today as you did 10 years ago for the same money." "Maybe you mean the bill is twice as high nowadays," Jim chimed in. "It may be just as high, Jim," I said. "Mine is, too. But there's a good reason for it. Look here..."

2 Then I took them around the house, pointing out their refrigerator, electric washer, the percolator, radio, toaster, iron, and all the other electric appliances, not to mention the better-light—better-sight lamps. I said: "Now, honestly, aren't you using a whole of a lot more electricity than you did just a few years ago?" They said that was right.

3 Then I tossed a couple nickels on the table, real dramatic-like, and said: "The average person pays only about a dime a day for electric service! Some pay less, some a little more. And the more you use, the lower the rate!"

4 "Is this a bargain or isn't it?" I asked Edith. "Never thought of it like that," she said. "I certainly do get my money's worth!"

Leathers--

 the Typical all-American family by the judges at the World's Fair, New York.
 Dressed in work clothes, the 39-year-old father said tears of happiness streamed down his face when he was advised of winning "I still can't believe it," Leathers said, "but boys, it's the most wonderful thing that has ever happened to me."
 Leathers, a Lella Lake farmer, said he was continuing working although he was not getting much done. "I don't know for sure what prizes are given, but I am not making any plans as yet."
 He said he understood a $5,000 furnished home, a new car and a sizeable bank roll are included.

"We will probably have to return to New York in a few days, and that's all we can think of now."
 The petite Mrs. Leathers, who is only six months her husband's junior, was doing the family wash when she received the news. "I don't know what I did, really," she said. "We cried and laughed and I think I hollered a few times."
 Mrs. Leathers dressed immediately and came to Clarendon, where she was getting a permanent wave when found by newspapermen. "You can quote me on anything," she said. "I'm so happy I hardly know what I am saying." Mrs. Leathers, who appears not much older than her 16-year-old daughter, was highly attractive even amid the mass of soap suds on her head.
 Johnny, the 19-year-old boy, was found in the library of the Clarendon Junior College where he is a student. Johnny has had so much publicity lately on the typical American and state family races, and champion club calves and pigs he produces, that he simply said with happy smiles: "I can't believe it yet. Think of us winning over all of America. It's just too good to be true. I don't know what to say."

 Margaret Jean, 16, with brown hair and flashing brown eyes, could easily be a contestant in a beauty contest. She was found in school in the typing department of the high school. "I don't know what I first thought of did. Johnny called me out of class and he had to tell me twice before I finally believed him." Standing on one foot and then another and with joy bursting all bounds, she reiterated the statements of the family. "I hope we have to return to New York," she said. "I sure like to go on trips. I haven't any definite plans. It is so wonderful that I am still in a daze."
 Leathers, who said he likes the trips, but would always be contented on the farm, concluded the interview. "Maybe it isn't typical American to cry," he confesses, "but I sure did it anyway. There were so many fine families in the contest, I don't see how we won, but the only thing I hate about it is that they all couldn't have won too. I am sorry because I know how disappointed some of them must be."
 Mrs. John Rhodes and daughters, Mattie and Irene, and Mrs. Howard Stewart are visiting in Bovina and Clovis, N. M. They expect to return home this week end.

Les Beaux Arts Club 1940 Flower Show Is A Big Success

The annual flower show sponsored by the Les Beaux Arts Club was held in the Women's Club room last Wednesday afternoon, October 9.
 The show was exceptional in view of the hot dry summer and extremely unfavorable weather conditions the week before the show.
 These shows are an inspiration to all flower lovers and the show this year certainly indicates the interest shown in flowers. These shows are given that all lovers of flowers may gain some knowledge from them, such as good design, color harmony, appreciation of better horticultural specimens, the value of beauty, good sportsmanship among exhibitors, a fine co-operation between organizations, and a community spirit that is important.
 There were many outstanding exhibits this year. One, a centerpiece entered by Mrs. J. D. Swift to be used as a centerpiece for the Art Club luncheon, was an artist's palette with the artist brushes in the thumb hole and a row of very small garden flowers around the edge blending yellows and purples.
 Another centerpiece entered by Mrs. C. D. McDowell was an Indian figure in his canoe on a reflector surrounded by different flowers, miniature trees and grasses.
 The bubble bowl exhibits caused a lot of comment. The outstanding ones entered by Miss Charlotte Molesworth and Mr. Wesley Knorpp.
 The following list are the names of those who were awarded prizes:

Dahlias, best specimen, Mr. Wesley Knorpp, first and Mr. W. O. Hommel second and third. Best vase of dahlias, Mr. W. O. Hommel, first, Wesley Knorpp second and W. O. Hommel, first in mixed vase. Pom pom, first, Mrs. Walter Taylor, second, Mrs. U. J. Boston. Miniature, first Mrs. Hommel. Dahlias, honorable mention, Mrs. Boston.

 The Les Beaux Arts Club wish to take this opportunity to thank every one who sent entries to help make the show a success.

LITTLE SANDRA SHELTON CELEBRATES SIXTH BIRTHDAY

Miss Sandra Shelton and a number of her friends were entertained with a delightful party celebrating her sixth birthday at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Leathers, Sunday afternoon, Oct. 3, from 2 to 5.
 The Hollowe'en motif was used in decorating the rooms. Spider webs, pumpkins, black cats, and eerie ghosts were everywhere. Many games were enjoyed. Sandra was asked to examine one of the ghosts to see of what ghosts are made. Under it she found a large basket overflowing with lovely gifts. Then the children filed into the dining room which was decorated with cats, jack-o-lanterns, and gaily colored balloons. Cake, ice cream and soda pop were served.
 Those present were the honoree, Sandra Shelton, and Shirley Aten, Joanne and Jeanice Cristall, Lynn Leathers, Sarah Anne Rains, Douglas Shelton, Gene Alderson, Joe Robert Leathers, Dianne Meacham of Memphis, and Mary Louise, Sherrod, and Douglas Hatley of Fresno, California.

Sarah Beth Lowry gave a piano solo, "Waltzing Doll" by Poldini and Ada Sue Smith played "Aragonesa" by Massenet. Dalene Bagby then read a representative group of poems from the works of seven contemporary poets.
 Delicious refreshments were served to the following guests, Mrs. Murry Dodson, Mrs. Carl Periman, and Mrs. John Deaver of Memphis and Mesdames Geo. Palmer, Cal Merchant, W. C. Kimball, E. H. Clark, F. Dodd and J. T. Hoy, and to club members, Mesdames Janie Lowery, Dalene Bagby, Thelma Bennett, Viola Bones, Clara Gillham.

The case of Raymond Ballew, charged with assault and attempt to murder two Hall officers, will feature the criminal docket which opens here in district court next week.
 The case was transferred here from Hall County. Sheriff Guy Pierce went to Huntsville this week and returned Ballew here for trial. The case is expected to be the first called on the criminal docket.
 Little activity took place in Judge A. S. Moss' court this past week. Three judgments were awarded in tax delinquent cases, and approximately 42 of these cases were carried over to the next term of court.
 O. H. Spier of Goldston plead guilty Tuesday on a drunk driving charge and was given a two-year suspended term. A. G. Tims of Hedley has confessed to burglary charges but has not yet been sentenced. Both of these men were indicted by the grand jury along with two others, Clifton Neeley of Memphis, charged with theft of auto and drunk driving, and Johnny Long of Hedley, charged with drunk driving. Neeley and Long are expected to face trial next week.
