Storage space for the 1941 crop is probably the biggest problem of wheat growers, Walter J. Flynt, secretary of the Donley County ACA, said this week.

HEDLEY FARMER PLOWS TOO WELL—TURNS HIS MONEY UNDERGROUND

Action of Hall County representatives will tie in nicely with work already being done by Donley County people to obtain hard-surfacing of this highway to the south Donley County line.

When completed, the road would link not only Hall County towns and communities, but also those in Briscoe County, with Clarendon and its mainline highway to points east and west.

President's Speech Adds New Weight To Defense Bond Sales Drive

An all-out drive for sales of National Defense Savings Bonds and Stamps was forecast this week as one of the immediate results of President Roosevelt's speech of last Tuesday by Frank Scofield, Administrator of the Texas Defense Savings Staff.

"Following the President's talk on Tuesday, I have come to the conclusion that it is my duty to call on the citizens of Texas to double their efforts to aid America, and we must have an all-out purchase of defense bonds and savings stamps.

"We are going to have a big bill to pay in order to protect this land we love so well—and it will be worth every cent it costs to know that our country and those we love are safe. And when I stop and think that our Government thought far enough ahead to make plans to borrow money from us that it could pay back with interest, I swell with pride.

"I could think of no more fitting memorial to those who gave their lives in the last war than to ask that all Texans do their bit now toward preparing defenses which we hope will protect us and save the lives of our native sons."

Meanwhile, a roundup of the Clarendon agencies which are cooperating in the Defense Bond drive this week disclosed that Defense Bonds and Defense Savings Stamps worth more than $6500 at face value have been purchased by Clarendon and Donley County public-spirited citizens.

First Booster Trips Start Next Week

Local and out-of-town publicity plans drew the spotlight of attention this week from guiding committees for the coming Clarendon Celebration, with definite announcements of plans coming from several of the groups concerned.

Local publicity will center around the annual Dress-Up campaign, which will get under way on June 16th. The two-piece rule of last year will be in effect starting on that date, and pens and other necessary materials will be on hand for those who appear on the local streets minus the required two pieces of cowboy regalia.

The publicity drive pointed to out-of-town visitors will head up with the annual booster trips, which have been scheduled for June 26th and 27th. Before then, however, news of the Celebration will reach outlying cities over a large section, through distribution of bumper signs, windshield stickers, and advertising placards. All these publicity devices were either ready for distribution or were in production late this week, and some of them already are in circulation.

Proceeding the scheduled two-day booster jaunt, several group trips to Panhandle cities, the first on Monday, will also distribute advertising and publicity about the Celebration. Clarendon Lions, accompanied by the Clarendon Band under Ray Robbins' direction, will journey to Amarillo Monday, to take part in the District Lions Convention. June 13, another booster group will accompany the band to Pampa, to participate in that city's Top 'O Texas Fiesta. Then on June 25, the band will go to McLean, to add color to the annual celebration there.

Booster trip plans call for a two-day jaunt, covering thirty Panhandle cities. June 26, the boosters will make a south and west circle, with stops scheduled at Ashola, Goodnight, Claude, Washburn, Amarillo, Canyon, Happy, Tulla, Silverton, Quitaque, Turkey, Lakeview, Leslie, and Brice. On the second day, the group will visit Lelia Lake, Hedley, Memphis, Estacado, Childers, Wellington, Shamrock, McLean, LeFors, Pampa, Skellytown, Borger, Panhandle, White Deer, Groom, and Jericho. Advertising committee members, Ralph Andis, Homer McElvany, Lee Bell, Verna Lusk, and Ray Robbins, hope to interest a large delegation of local business men and individuals in making the two-day trip.

Work started this week on preparation of Broncho stadium for Celebration rodeo events. Considerable changes will be made in the arena, parking, and pen layouts this year from last year's arrangements, and rodeo committees are devoting much time to planning the most convenient and practical rodeo staging equipment possible with the facilities at hand.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bounds and daughter, Sandra, of Amarillo were here Sunday.

CLASSIFICATION OF ALL DONLEY REGISTRANTS COMPLETED BY BOARD

Classification of practically all men registered for selective service in Donley County has been completed, local board secretary George Ryan said this week. Last month the board was ordered to complete all classifications immediately, and the board set about mailing questionnaires to all the unclassified men on its list.

At the present time, the local board has 50 men who are ready for service in Class 1-A. These men have passed their physical examinations. Another group of 110 men has been placed in Class 1, subject to physical examination which will place them in Class 1-A if they are physically fit.

Isadore Mellinger visited with friends and relatives in Memphis Sunday.

STATE AID FOR TEXAS JUNIOR COLLEGES

The bill providing for state aid for Texas junior colleges will likely become law by signature of Governor O'Daniel, or allowed to become a law without his signature, which is the first step in Texas recognizing her duty to the many junior colleges that are serving our state.

Under the law, with certain specifications, the state will pay $50 to the junior college for each pupil enrolled, and while it will not bring all the help we had hoped for here in Clarendon, certain benefits for Clarendon Junior College seems assured by the passage of the bill.

Like so many forward steps in education, the new aid law, may be considered as an entering wedge, to be broadened from time to time as its soundness becomes more apparent.

SENATORIAL CANDIDATES HAVING HARD LUCK

What with general rains, fireside chats, sinking of the Hood and the Bismark, blitz on Crete, and disturbing developments in Europe and the Near East, the Big Four senatorial candidates in Texas are having a "heck of a time". The public mind is so taken up with world events that it is hard for it to center on the issues before the voters of the state.

In the next three weeks the campaign may gain public attention enough to really warm up in good old Texas summertime style. Meanwhile the dopsters are trying hard to determine whether Gerald Mann or Martin Dies will run second to Governor O'Daniel, with Lyndon Johnson generally accorded fourth place, at this stage of the race. In a hot campaign, relative positions can change within a few days, of course.

JUSTICE HUGHES WILL RETIRE

An interesting development in this week's news was the announcement of Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes of his retirement from the supreme court of the United States on July 1st. In a letter to President Roosevelt, Judge Hughes gave age and health reasons for his desire to step down from his long service on the court.

In his eightieth year, Chief Justice Hughes has achieved a place in the hearts and minds of Americans not soon to be equalled. He is without doubt one of the best balanced judicial personalities ever to serve his country, and it is with genuine regret that we shall see him pass into private life. He goes with the admiration and respect of his countrymen.

IT CAN HAPPEN

- That even our successes become stale.
- That even our pleasures turn sour.
- That even our greatness seems small.
- That even our money is unable to purchase anything of worth.
- That even our peace is no longer peaceful.
- That even our hopes become fears.
- That even our prayers become sacrilege.

ANOTHER HOUSTON SITS IN THE SENATE

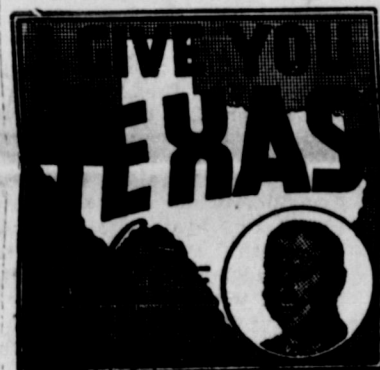

Andrew Jackson Houston, son of General Sam Houston, conqueror of Santa Anna, and empire builder of the Southwest, took the oath as United States Senator from Texas Monday of this week, and became the oldest American ever to sit in the senate.

118 years ago his illustrious father took the oath of congressman from Tennessee, and ninety-six years ago Sam Houston became the senator from Texas.

The junior senator from Texas, 87 years old, will serve less than a month, and there's romance in the vigor of Houston blood and traditions of the Southwest in his membership in the greatest law-making body in the world.

Senator Houston stands for all-out aid to Britain, ending of strikes in defense industries, sobriety and cleanliness in morals, as the ground-work for effective national defense.

Hats off to the new senator from Texas, who is so soon to be the latest ex-senator.

tin who had traveled with Col. Humphreys, "king of the wild-catters"; of discovering an elderly man in San Antonio who is entitled to be called the "father of Spindletop", which was the birthplace of the present day Texas oil industry; of innumerable conversations with oil drillers, teamsters and shoe-string operators; and then finding time, mainly at night, to write—anyhow, enough has been said to show that a book is no slight venture.

When I was a boy I lived in Texas until my father's death and then, when I came back after growing up and becoming a newspaper reporter, it was with the determination to write something about the great romance of oil. I'll never forget the thrill of seeing, south of San Antonio, my first derrick, though the view was from a train window and at a distance.

While doing some temporary work for Doc Sellers' Brady Sentinel, I received two offers, one from Coleman and the other from Eastland. Sellers, (now publisher of the Rising Star Record) knew of my desire to be in the oil fields and so he recommended that I go to Eastland, capital of the county that had witnessed the development of the famous Ranger and Desdemona districts.

As the one-man news staff of the Eastland Daily Oil Belt News, the slender, young editor had no time for anything else; but all through the crowded weeks that lengthened into months that glided into years (including editorship in Cisco and Ranger) I was storing up information, much of it subconsciously—in short, was absorbing atmosphere, color, incidents, characters.

A few days ago, the first copy of "Oil Boom" arrived from the nationally-known publishers, the Caxton Printers of Caldwell, Idaho—and the long-cherished ambition to write a book about the romance of oil had been achieved.

At least, "Oil Boom" wasn't—for me, anyhow. And if you're interested (and I hope you are) "Oil Boom" is a portrait gallery of famous oil rushes, all but one in Texas; Spindletop, Burkburnett, Mexia, Desdemona, Ranger and Smackover, the last-named being in Arkansas.

City Visitor—Which is correct, "a hen is sitting" or "a hen is setting"?

Farmer—I don't know and I don't care. All I want to know when she cackles, is she laying or is she lying?"

God and the doctor
We alike adore,
At the brink of danger
And not before.
The danger past
And all things righted,
God is forgotten,
The doctor slighted.

Around Texas: The Jacksonville cafe where at breakfast, instead of a little pat of butter, they set a half pound in front of you... The big highway sign, "Welcome to Milam County" which is signed (of all persons!) by the District Attorney, Bill Morrison... Rockdale, on one side of the main street a sign: "17 miles to Cameron" and on the other side of the street another sign: "16 miles to Cameron". Boy, we really made that mile in a hurry!

Raw salads are necessary because they provide the important Vitamin C, which is a factor in preventing pyorrhea.

All but three of Texas' 254 counties now have oil or gas production or exploration.

Eggs from hens getting a diet that is low in pigments but high in fish-liver oil will have light colored yolks rich in Vitamin A.

Texas petroleum production makes up 93 per cent of the value of all mineral production in Texas.

A total of 125 new oil fields were found in Texas last year. Approximately two-thirds of all the oil produced in Texas to date has been produced in the past ten years.

Texas has produced more than 27 per cent of all the oil produced in the entire United States to date.

Economic Highlights

Happenings That Affected the Dinner Pails, Dividend Checks and Tax Bills of Every Individual. National and International Problems Inseparable From Local Welfare.

One of the great and as yet unanswered questions of military science is this: "Which is the more vital weapon—air power or sea power?"

Ten or fifteen years ago an Italian strategist developed the theory that the bombing airplane had made all other weapons of war almost obsolete—that the nation with overwhelming strength in the skies could force any enemy to capitulate in a matter of weeks. That theory, which was more or less widely accepted by the Germans, has proven wrong. Britain has been given incredible punishment by the Luftwaffe, with no perceptible break in the people's morale, and with relatively little effect on British industrial production.

Another school, which had many followers in England and in this country, held that the airplane, highly developed as it might be, would be nothing more than an auxiliary weapon—that battle fleets and land armies would still be the determining factors. And that theory has also proven a mistaken one. Germany's air power was her prime weapon in effecting her successes in Poland, the Low Countries and elsewhere. To a very great extent, the Reich land troops simply mopped up, after the air divisions had terrorized populations, confused opposing armies, and made effectual resistance impossible.

One thing the Battle of Crete may do to supply something of an answer to the long air-power-versus-sea-power argument. It is not a perfect test. But it is the best test that has yet occurred. The British have overwhelming sea power, and British squadrons Axis Vichy government would do much to prevent this. Admiral Darlan, second in command to the ancient and ailing Marshal Petain, is violently anti-English.

There is some criticism in high quarters of our present Army program. The critics argue that too many of our ranking officers are still thinking in terms of the last war, and have been incredibly blind to the lessons of this war.

The Army's program calls for comparatively few mechanized divisions. Backbone is still the traditional infantry. While there will be more specialization than in the past, the emphasis will remain on tremendous masses of men with only basic training.

The critics believe that we need is a small, mobile, intensely specialized, 100 per cent mechanized army. They point out that the German divisions which defeated the French army of 3,000,000, numbered only 150,000 men, and that the German casualties were astonishingly light.

The German theory seems to be that one thoroughly trained soldier with modern weapons is worth a dozen ordinary soldiers armed only with a rifle and bayonet. And so far, that theory has worked dangerously well.

There is likely to be talk in Congress about this soon. There may be demands that the Army change its program in the light of what has happened in Europe. Those demands will be backed by many an expert.

It is true that the Army has often resisted radical change. The case of General Billy Mitchell is one in point—he was demoted for criticizing the Army command for not doing more to develop air power. Some say this extreme conservatism is the result of the Army's system of promoting officers largely through the seniority system, instead of on the basis of merit alone. Our generals average about 60 years in age—Hitler's average 45. Everyone knows what happened to France, which pinned its faith on great masses of infantry and old-type artillery, backed by such "impregnable" fixed positions as the Maginot Line.

One out of every three-and-one-half wells drilled by Texas cimen to date has been dry.

Nearly 200,000 oil and gas wells have been drilled in Texas to date.

Texas produced 14,362,000 pounds of cheddar cheese in 1939.

The South Plains region of Texas is the center of Sudan grass seed production in the United States.

Forty-one states, including Texas have enacted laws permitting farmers to establish conservation districts.

The ROAD AHEAD

Old Man Texas is today looking ahead and planning.

Beside the great farming and ranching country which Texans have built, he sees a new industrial empire here.

Already the start has been made. Some industries, such as petroleum, are now showing what can be done to utilize Texas' vast natural resources. Today this industry refines with Texas labor over four-fifths as much oil as the State produces. Its products make up nearly one-half of all Texas manufacturing. Altogether petroleum provides the living for almost one-sixth of our people.

But this is only a beginning.

Texas has many other raw materials, unexcelled by any other State. Texas has in oil and gas the cheap and dependable fuel supply essential to industry. Texas is the gateway to Latin America, our new foreign market.

Each new industry means more jobs. It makes added tax values for our State and local governments, bigger payrolls for our workers, and greater prosperity for you and every other Texan.

THE WHIRLWIND!

Published by the Students of Lella Lake High School, Lella Lake, Texas

SENIOR SKETCHES

Mildred Floyd has gone to school here her entire eleven years. She does not know exactly what profession she is going to follow but does know she wants to continue her education and make a success of whatever she may choose to do. Mildred always looks on the sunny side of everything in life which makes her a very nice person to have around. She was vice president in her junior year and secretary and treasurer in her senior year. Basketball is her favorite sport. Virginia Gee Leathers has never gone to any other school but Lella. Her ambition is to be a success in life. She has what you would call a "bubbling" personality, never has a frown on her face but is always smiling and laughing. She has lived up to her position as queen of the high school. Virginia Gee was reporter for senior class this year. Her favorite sport is tennis; her favorite pastime is sleeping.

Jophine Espey, Valedictorian of the senior class, has went to school here her entire eleven years. Her ambition is to go to North West Texas hospital and enter nurse training this summer. After training is completed, she wishes to be a Navy nurse. Like all girls she wishes to settle down with a nice boy but first she must have adventure. She wishes to be one of the first woman pilots to fly the mail plane across the Panhandle. Jophine was a member of the Student Council when in the ninth grade, vice-president in eighth grade and vice-president this year. She believes in making the most of her time and not wasting it in acting silly. She is a valuable member in the class. They can always depend on her. Chester Lee Scott has been going to school here five years.

His ambition is to be a Diesel engineer. His favorite sport is tennis; his favorite pastime is going with girls. Chester Lee was president of senior class this year and did a good job of it. He is probably the wittiest member of the senior class and very popular with both boys and girls. The class would be much quieter without him.

Pearl Jenkins spent her high school days at Lella coming here from New Mexico. She has a good personality and friendly ways which will make her a success in any beauty shop where she plans to work. In a few years as you pass through Groom, Texas, you will no doubt see Pearl's Beauty Shop on a large neon sign.

Bobby Cruise has been at Lella since his first day of school. His quiet easy going way makes him a favorite with everyone; although he is rather light he has been one of the most valuable basketball players. He intends to attend Abilene Christian College and he expects to take up sports in a bigger way.

CLASS PROPHECY

Anita:
Is it wrong to predict a wedding soon
For this sweet affectionate lass?
She will take fever from the moon
And lead us to our fate and doom

We, so ambitious members of the senior class,
Take heed, listen to me
Be alert, so that you may see
Through and through that lucky groom
For he will be extraordinary I assume.

Bobby:
I see you at the head of a table doing grace.
You have coffee nerves,
And an uncertain twist upon your face
A twist someone else deserves.
Your halfscore children are well fed
Not on broth and beans, but on steak and bread.
This should give you much relief

I predict a surplus in eggs and beef.

Jophine:
You will be an air hostess allright
And you will keep those young pilots always in a fight.
Your salary will be $1029 a year.

But this wage will be lowered I fear,
And while you're trying to make money on the side I see a crash.

Then Congress will have another matter to discuss.
What shall we do with this oversupply of hash.

Calvin:
You will make an athlete
Not because you want to,
But to keep your figure neat;
For 250 pounds is rather too much meat.

This is enough weight to flatten out your feet,
And when falled upon will almost ruin your seat
So keep trim
By being slim.

Mildred:
I see you in a uniform
Tucked with tattle tale gray
Entertaining the gentlemen patients with your charm
And telling them of the fish you caught in the bay.

When you try to be convinced

just remember what I wrote
You can't catch a whale in a row boat.

Pearl:
You will be one of the stenographers
Of employers that can't forsee
To buy a chair, or one that just prefers his stenographer to set upon his knee.

If you'll only be sentimental
While setting on his lap
He will probably be more gentle

When you want time for a nap,
J. R.:

You will be a man of love
But this love will go only surface deep and when you lose one love
You'll only think I'll find another

After I sleep
You've plenty of time to woo Jane,
Jill Meg and Marthy
Because life begins at forty.

Virginia:
You will be a dress maker
You will hem stitch all the day,
And when you stop to thread the bobbin
Your boss will say I'm not paying you to play.

With the temper you've got
She won't say those things for long
She'll forget that she is hot
And admit that she is wrong.

Chester Lee:
You will make a salesman
face deep
While they're at the beach playing in the sand,
But you'll always end up swimming
And looking at their tan.

Imogene:
His hair will be blond,
And his eyes will be blue
And everything he has he'll have to pawn
When he buys a ring for you.
Then he'll take you home to milk the cows,
And you'll cook the things to eat

You'll also slop the sows
That butcher out his meat
When he has you to wash his feet.

You'll wonder if he's still so sweet.

Claud:
You're not going to throw your life away
You're going to join the happy on the W. P. A.

Virginia Gee:
Your lovely nose
Will play a big part in your life.

It's your nose, I suppose,
That will make you a loving wife

You'll keep the whole world guessing
What will happen next
And your name will be missing

Up all the history texts.
Now pay attention
I've something to say
You'll be drawing W. Lee's old age pension someday.

Anita Cook wants to be an air hostess on a big plane going from coast to coast. She has spent all eleven years at Lella and is glad she did. She has been queen of her class twice. With her witty way and big blue eyes she should "fly high".

Imogene Wisdom, salutatorian of the senior class has been at Lella during the past eleven years. She was valedictorian in the ninth and she also made the highest grade that year in the whole high school. She was president of the freshman class, and secretary and treasurer last year. She wants to go to college this summer and then enter training to become an army nurse. Later she wants to become an aviatrix and someday own a plane. With her friendly ways and ready smile there is no doubt but what she will succeed.

Calvin Holland has gone to school here for four years. His favorite sport is basket ball. His favorite pastime is fishing. He would like to take up government engineering. He thinks maybe he will go to Dallas to take this training.

Claude Bain's ambition is to become a doctor. He has gone to school at Lella Lake for eleven years. His favorite sport is swimming and his favorite pastime is tinkering with old broken radios. His main characteristic is the ability to say witty things at all times. After school is out he plans to work on the farm.

Mrs. Crockett Taylor underwent a major operation in Baptist Memorial Hospital in Houston Monday morning. She is reported to be improving rapidly.

Mrs. S. L. Joekel and son, Robert Charles, of Austin are visiting this week with Mrs. Homer Glasco and Mrs. B. L. Jenkins.

Garden Glances

Presented weekly by the Garden Club

"America the beautiful lies in the hands of the gardeners"

June has arrived with more variety in the gardens. Roses are still in full beauty, poppies are with us yet; honeysuckles are perfuming the air and many other summer flowers are beginning to show their charm.

Tall white, pink and blue sprays of rare beauty are given by the stately larkspur in the yard of Carl Adams. There are also many other bright spots of this old favorite.

The C. C. Gilbert yard presents a number of flowers of especial interest to the botanist. Here we find corn flowers in five different shades and perennial sweet peas in three gorgeous colors.

A rare view of charm and grace is given the passerby as he sees the stately, white Regal Lilies making attractive the homes of Rev. J. Perry King, Misses Horned and Mrs. Wiedman.

A scene of astounding beauty is the rose entwined fence edging the George Ryan home in west Clarendon if you have not seen this remarkable beauty spot drive by and see for yourself, mere words do not adequately express its loveliness.

WPA GRANT MADE TO PANHANDLE-PLAINS MUSEUM

CANYON, June 5—President Roosevelt has given his approval to a WPA allocation for erection of an addition to the Panhandle Plains museum. The sum, and the sponsor's portion, are to reach a total of $56,952.

News of the grant came from Congressman Eugene Worley.

Mr. Worley immediately notified Senator Grady Hazelwood at Austin, urging him to push the bill under which the State would match funds with WPA. As a result of the Panhandle-wide "gold brick" campaign, a fund of about $7,000 is pledged to expedite beginning of construction. The local fund or state appropriation must be increased to $20,000 or more.

The basement for the addition was completed several years ago under a $25,000 grant from the Texas Centennial Commission. The present campaign is intended to rear the upper structure on this basement.

The museum is so popular and widely recognized that it cannot contain all the gifts which are offered. One of these will come from Judge James D. Hamlin of Farwell, president of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society. Judge Hamlin's collection of valuable art objects cannot be received until the addition is completed.

Already ranked as one of the outstanding institutions of the kind in the southwest, the Panhandle-Plains museum ultimate will have a commanding place among the museums of the nation.

Mrs. Claude Moore and daughter, Diane, of Athens, Texas, are here visiting with her father, C. D. Murphy.

LIBRARY NOTES

(By Mrs. C. A. Burton)

The annual meeting of the American Library Association will be held in the historic city of Boston beginning in June 19. A most comprehensive program has been prepared, covering every phase of library work. Friday, June 20, will be Harvard Day. On that day the general session will be held in the Commencement Tent in Harvard yard, and a luncheon will be served in the yard afterward.

The general theme of the convention is, "Deeds Not Words", and this is followed by "The Americas—South and North". "This Above All", by Eric Knight, takes first place on the best seller list, displacing James Hilton's "Random Harvest". It has been published only a few weeks and critics have given these three reasons for its meteoric rise: "Its quality is superb—plot, wonder dialogue, human, mystery—its love story is memorable and modern. It paints a heartening picture of the plain Englishman's amazing spirit, a tribute to human courage and the freedom it defends."

"The Longhorns" is pronounced J. Frank Dobie's best by his friends, in his introduction he begins with the statement that "The Texas Longhorn made more history than any other herd of cattle the civilized world has known." And this born story teller weaves in legend and folklore, and the story of the Texas cowboys, as well as the story of these gaunt, wiry intractable pioneers of the cattle world. He tells of the Spanish Conquistadores who brought their cattle with them—of ranching in the turbulent colonial times, of bull fights on the range of "ghost" steers, J. Frank Dobie was born in the Texas bush country of which he writes, and he has absorbed the love of the land. The illustrations are by Tom Lea and the very striking frontpiece, "The Stampedee", is a reproduction of a mural which he painted for the U. S. Post Office in Odessa, Texas. The courtesy of the reproduction was granted by the Section of Fine Arts, Federal Works Agency, Washington, D. C. We have but recently added "The Longhorns" to our shelves.

"The Bird in the Tree" by Elizabeth Coe was a best seller in 1940. The action of the novel takes place during the fall of 1938, but its sources are hidden in the past. It is a story of Damerose hay on the Hampshire coast of England, and against its eighteenth century background, a very interesting modern love story is given.

Our copy of "Candida" by Bernard Shaw has eight full page illustrations from the production starring Cornelia Otis Skinner. Ever since Shaw wrote Candida, it has been one of the favorite "acting" plays of the English theater. And as a "reading" play it is the most popular of Shaw's shorter plays, and a classic in form.

Another of our new books is a play by the most popular playwright in America, Maxwell Anderson's "The Star Wagon". Maxwell Anderson won the Pulitzer Prize for his play, "Both Your Houses". Then in 1936 he won the Critics' Prize for "Winterset", in 1937 he again won the Critics' Prize for "High Tor". Both of these were written in verse, but in "Star Wagon" he has written all but one scene in prose. The scene of the play is a small manufacturing city in Ohio—and it is the story of the Minch family—Stephen Minch, an inventor who invents for the pure joy of inventing, his wife, Martha, and his laboratory assistant, Hanus Wicks. Every lover of the theater should read this play.

"Album of the Great" by Rolf Klep tells briefly the story of sixteen people from Chalemagne to Frederick the Great—stories of people renowned in art, music, literature, religion, conquest and government—it is broad, well-rounded, brief and interesting. We realize that, the lives of great men are not only good stories—they are a large part of the history of the world. In this we have the outline of modern history—of what European men and women have done and aspired to do from the eighth to the eighteenth century of our era.

"If It Prove Fair Weather" is counted Isabel Paterson's best story—she has not written one for five years until this one. She says it is a "love story"—nothing else. Isabel Paterson "knows women, knows their secret vanities, their loyalties, their thoughts of men, their thoughts of one another, the very logic of their unreasonableness. And she knows men, too. Her dialogue sparkles, shines, glitters—and this story is no exception.

"Tobacco Road", the story by Erskine Caldwell which was soon filmed played for the last time in New York on the last day of May. It had opened in December 1933—the depression year that Franklin D. Roosevelt became president, and Adolf Hitler became German Chancellor. The play was presented 3180 times and brought in more than a million and a half dollars. The film rights brought in $150,000 besides royalties.

The reading people of the entire English speaking world will regret the death of Sir Hugh Walpole on the first day of June at his country home in England. Only 57 years old he had averaged a book a year since he was 25. He had visited America quite a few times—several times on lecture tours. He was busy with his pen almost to the last, writing his book review section of a London newspaper. His last novel published last year was "Roman Fountain"—a story of the Europe of today. A great many of his books are on our shelves.

One of our late books, "The Standard Opera Guide" by Upton and Borowski, tells the stories of 150 operas by over 60 composers, from the earliest to the most modern works, giving the plot of each in detail. It gives information essential to the fullest appreciation and enjoyment of operas of every variety.

"Why England Slept" by John F. Kennedy is a sensational challenge to our own nation by a young honor student of international relations. He presents fresh evidence to show where the fault has been, bringing a new and enlightening interpretation of the Munich episode, giving basic reasons why catastrophe has come to England.

John F. Kennedy is the son of Ambassador Kennedy, and he has spent several months in our embassies in London and Paris, studying conditions at first hand. He has studied at the University of London and is an honor graduate in international relations of Harvard. Henry R. Luce, editor of Time, Life and Fortune magazines says in a foreword, "This book is invaluable. It is the rare and immensely appealing quality of combining factuality and breadth of understanding with the truest instincts of patriotism." "Why England Slept" is one of our late accessions.

L. M. Smith of Childress and formerly of Clarendon is here this week with the West Texas Utilities relieving Victor Smith who is in Amarillo with his wife who underwent a major operation in a hospital there last week.

THIS BUSINESS OF Living BY SUSAN THAYER

The great question among women during these days of crisis continues to be—what can we do to help make America strong?

As our great industrial system expands and production of materials for defense mounts the tempo of our national life quickens and we ourselves want more to do. We long to have some part in preparing this country for whatever role it will be called upon to play in world affairs.

But what should it be? What service can we render to this country that has made us the freest, most fortunate women in the world? Should we offer to work in the busy plants and factories? Should we take up training for some emergency? Or must we... just knit?

A few months ago no one seemed to know the answer, as women rushed about organizing new committees, writing feverish letters, talking endlessly to each other. But today individual leaders and organizations are beginning to agree on what women should do for their country today. It's not exciting but it's fundamental and its effects will be far reaching.

Stay put, they're saying. Don't do any more organizing or flag waving or talking. But first, make an even better home for your husband and children. Feed them so they'll be well and strong. Instill in your children the love of freedom. Iron out family difficulties so home will be the best place in the world. And, second, take a more active part in your own community government and affairs.

This is the advice of such organizations as the Parent-Teachers' Association and the Federation Women's Clubs, and of outstanding women. But what sort of community activities, you ask?

Take this vexing question of government spending that has reached such undreamt-of proportions today. If the women of each community in the United States get together and bring about a saving of even 10 percent in local spending there would be a saving of millions of dollars for the country as a whole, because in normal times more than half of our tax money is spent in local county and state governments.

And take our belief in the democratic system of government that is under fire today. We can't change the world but we can see that everyone in our own community, children and foreign-born especially, realize how important it is for us to keep our free press and free radio—our right to go to church where and as we like—our system of electing the people who run our government and our time proved system of free enterprise in business. If enough communities discover what Democracy really means and make it work better than ever, then the nation as a whole will be safe from all inroads against freedom and we shall be able to pass our "ancient liberties" on intact to our children.

DUVAL TAKES A DIG AT FENIMORE COOPER

One of the memorable things about John C. Duval's "Adventures of Big-Foot Wallace," which ranks among the most popular books on Texas ever written, is its ridicule of James Fenimore Cooper and similarly well-known chroniclers of frontier life.

Duval's objection was that Cooper, whose "The Last of the Mohicans" is still a favorite today, was hopelessly ignorant of the actual conditions of life in the West. So in his biography of Wallace, several early editions of which are in the Texas Collection of the University of Texas Library, he introduced a writer of his own creation who is one of the most comic characters in all Texas literature.

This "Mr. Author"—a scholarly individual with a stove-pipe hat, an umbrella, and an unshaken faith in the reliability of Cooper's Western lore—was himself writing a novel about a

How Would YOU Like To LOSE 15 lbs. of FAT?

How would you like to safely lose some of that ugly fat in a few weeks without risky drugs or inconvenience? How would you like to lose your double chin, bulging stomach and hips AND along with it regain your natural charm and attractiveness.

Weigh yourself today. Get a bottle of Kruschen Salts (a famous English formula). Then every morning before breakfast take one half teaspoonful in a glass of water—eat wisely—cut out fatty meats, butter, cream and rich pastries—go light on white bread and potatoes.

After 4 weeks weigh yourself again and just see if you haven't lost pounds of ugly fat and gained that "Kruschen Feeling" of greater vivacity, more energy and improved health that so often accompany fat reduction.

REFUSE IMITATIONS! Demand and get only the genuine Kruschen (the famous English formula) plain or new effervescent, pleasant, sparkling. Bottle lasts 4 weeks and costs but a trifle. Any druggist.

Prepare to make money and at the same time be of service in the nation's Defense Program. A father was in our office a few days ago to arrange for the enrolling of his daughter who was graduating from high school and he remarked:

This father was right. We are receiving more calls each week for Bryne graduates than we can supply.

hogs slashed at his legs with their tusks, Wallace reminded him of Cooper's observations on animal nature he exploded. "Oh, brother Cooper, I say! Cooper is an unmitigated humbug!" And soon thereafter he took his leave, determined, insofar as Cooper was concerned, that "He has imposed on the world long enough."

"I parted with our little author at San Antonio, "Duval had Wallace say in concluding the story of the strange friendship, "and he promised me faithfully to send me a copy of his book as soon as it was published; but I never got it, nor do I know to this day whether or not he has ever exposed, as he threatened to do, the 'humburgeries' of Mr. Cooper, in his great novel of the 'Wayworn Wanderer of the Western Wilds.'"

100 YEARS AGO IN TEXAS

"The voracious editor of the Gazette has caught the cue of his patron, Sam Houston—when driven from one falsehood, he is sure to seek refuge in another—'like master, like man.'"

The editor of the Gazette gives a long list of drafts, which he asserts were ordered to be paid by President Burnett, without special appropriations. Now, if the editor had examined closely, he would have seen that all these drafts were paid from old appropriations, which it was not in the power of Congress to cancel. These appropriations were made for the army and navy—and we believe that every item, or nearly so, which President Burnett ordered to be paid from them, was in some way connected with these departments."

"The articles which have appeared in the Centinel, intended to ridicule the stuff with which the columns of the Matagorda Gazette have teemed for several weeks past, headed 'Indians in Austin,' it seems has set the editor of that paper into a severe fever. We are really sorry—but with much care, we hope he may yet recover. We will prescribe for him, so anxious are we to atone for any harm we may have done the boy. We sincerely recommend that those beautiful locks of his be forthwith shorn off, that a blister plaster of mush and milk be applied, that he be closely kept in a dark room, and above all, his nurse should be carefully enjoined not to let the word 'Comanche' reach his ears; if he should, however, happen to hear this word repeated, a strait jacket, we think, will be indispensable."—The Texas Centinel (Austin), May 20, 1841.

The Low Down FROM HICKORY GROVE

Away back yonder we put a lot of stock in the argument about women suffrage and how it would clean up everything and make politics sweet. Big problems would flatten to mole hills.

I been thinking about it on account of Japan. Our diplomats are not having much luck with Japan. And our economists are arguing pro and con on what to do. But our women folks keep on with silk hose. And nobody is getting anywhere any place.

We got a problem on our hands in the U. S. A. with cotton too. The whole South is bulging with cotton.

Sisters, if you are on your toes and want to kinda live-down the "cleanup everything" promises, you have a slick chance now. Switch to cotton stockings versus silk and solve the Japanese problem overnight—also the cotton problem. Show up the diplomats and the economists. And the old head of the household, so-called, show him up, too.

PARTICIPATION IN DONLEY STAMP PLAN GROWING

Donley County's Food Stamp plan was gaining ground steadily this week, with participation by those county families who are eligible gradually growing toward the time when all who can will take part in the surplus foods distribution plan. The local issuing office today reported a total of $2907 in both orange and blue Food Stamps had been issued since May 15, when the program started in Donley County. About one-third of this amount was distributed in the form of blue surplus stamps, it was said. At the start, about 30 percent of those eligible participated in the plan, but this week that percentage had gone up to 55 percent, and was gaining daily.

Fresh cabbage and beans have been added to the list of surplus commodities available with blue food stamps for the month of June, while butter and fresh carrots, available during May, have been taken off the surplus list. With these revisions, the complete list of blue stamp foods includes fresh grapefruit, oranges, apples, cabbage, snap beans, Irish potatoes, raisins, pork lard, fresh or cured pork except that packed in metal or glass containers, corn meal, eggs, dried prunes, hominy grits, dried beans, wheat and whole wheat flour.

METHODIST CHURCH VACATION SCHOOL WELL ATTENDED

Perhaps the most successful Vacation Church School in the history of the local Methodist Church was concluded last week, and Rev. J. O. Quattlebaum, Jr. reported that attendance and interest shown in the school was well up to expectations.

The school lasted a full week, with an average daily attendance of 54 boys and girls, out of a peak enrollment of 66. Mrs. J. R. Porter was dean of the school, and other staff members included Mesdames Frank White, Jr., R. Y. King, Bill Ray, Sam Braswell, A. A. Mays, W. W. Taylor, Joe Holland, Lester Schull, and Kayburn Smith, and Misses Betty Jo Bartlett, Patti Quattlebaum, and Naomi Morris, and the pastor.

The project work of the departments followed very interesting lines. The beginners prepared a book of poems and pictures for the pastor, the Primary and Junior Departments made paper houses of "The Land Where Jesus Lived", displaying them at the church services Sunday morning. The Intermediate group prepared a book of programs to be used in their department, and individual programs of worship.

Neel Thompson arrived home Thursday from Boulder, Colorado, where he has been attending college. Al Wells, also of Boulder, will be his houseguest for the next two weeks.

A couple ladies were talking about spring styles. I overheard them. Brown and tan are the colors, as I get it, for this season. I am not exactly 100 percent sure it is brown and tan, because they also said something about light green, so anybody reading this, should check up. It would be a disaster if some lady would come out in brown when it should be light green.

I have always craved to know what kind of an hombre it could be who can tell our fair sex what they gotta wear and do—and have 'em do it. I have researched around, and none of my neighbors have the least idea either. They are all in the dark, too, like my ownself.

This Style Gent, when he says, "Gals, this spring you wear brown clothes and red hair," it is brown clothes and red hair from Arizona to New Hampshire. Brothers, we gotta track down this person. Once we get his system, boy, are we setting pretty. Hot ziggy!

The Trend of Things

SKETCHED IN THE MERCHANDISE MART, CHICAGO

Fashioned from shirtings, seersuckers, soft cottons and sharkskins, the long skirted play suits are colorful and chic. A sarong type draping is new in a two-piece suit with bare midriff and matching bra.
