Clarendon Celebration Preparations Headed Down Home Stretch

Rapid Progress Being Made In Repairing Local Storm Damages

BALDWIN PARKER, COMANCHES TO BE FEATURED

VARIETY OF PARADE FLOATS IN PREPARATION, COMMITTEE REPORTS

A Fourth of July event to compare favorably with any similar occasion this year or before, in any Panhandle city, was the prospect this week for the Clarendon Celebration and Ranchers' Rodeo, as virtually complete plans were announced by several of the guiding committees for the event.

That the Celebration will offer one of the most colorful parades yet to be seen in the Panhandle was assured this week by parade committeemen Flip Breedlove and Buddy Knorr, who announced results of a canvass of local business houses to line up float events. Cooperation in the preparation of floats was assured by the following local firms, with others yet remaining to be contacted:

Rowe Ranch, C. T. McMurtry Ranch, Hommel's One Stop Service Station, Palmer Motor Company, Shaver & Whitlock Dry Cleaners, Chunn & Clampitt, Patton & Semrad, Shamburger Lumber Company, Johnson's Machine Shop, Fontayne Elmore, Frank White, Jr., Piggly Wiggly, Alderson Studio, Bartlett Grocery, Norwood Pharmacy, O. K. Cafe, Thompson Hardware Co., Ben Franklin Variety Store, Clarendon Furniture Co., Green's Dry Goods Co., Bryan Clothing Co., Coca-Cola Bottling Co., Douglas-Goldston Drug Co., Mellinger, Rosenwasser Dry Goods Co., Pastime Theatre, Lee's Cafe, Buntin Funeral Home, Ballew's 66 Station, J. A. Ranch, Farmers State Bank, Donley County State Bank, Clifford & Ray Grocery, Stocking's Drug Store, McElvany Tire Company, Clarendon Food Store, Wm. Cameron Lumber Co., S. J. Ranch, First National Bank, J. L. McMurtry Ranch, Blocker Ranch, Geo. B. Bagby.

Floats are being planned this week, and will be ready to form one of the principal parade attractions by Celebration time.

The floats will not be the only feature of interest in the parade, however, as the event chairmen have announced plans to have riders and equipment from all Donley County ranches participating, along with bands, visiting and local sponsor girls, and rodeo entrants. Loud speaker equipment will announce each parade entry as it passes a downtown reviewing stand.

Adding interest to the parade and to the entire Celebration program will be the appearance on both Celebration days of Chief Baldwin Parker and 15 Comanche Indian braves, who have agreed to come to Clarendon from their home at Cache, Oklahoma. Baldwin Parker is a son of Quanah Parker, famous Indian chieftain, and the chief and his braves will present a number of Indian ceremonies during the Celebration program. They will move into town before the Celebration opens, and will camp out near the city park, living in tepees in true frontier days style.

ARE YOU A GOAT?

The Celebration Advertising Committee is trying this week to secure the cooperation of the business men and women of Clarendon in a Western regalia dress-up campaign, to advertise the Celebration to local folks and visitors in the city.

A majority of Clarendon citizens have entered into the event with good will, turning in loud western outfits, but there are some few who are such stubborn "goats" that the committee has decided everyone would know they were such without throwing them into the Main Street cage with the real goat.

Are You a Cooperator?
Or, Are You a Goat?

Judge H. S. Bishop Of Amarillo To Deliver "Mulkey Day" Address—W. H. Patrick Is Master Of Ceremonies

The committee entrusted with working out the details of the "Homer Mulkey Appreciation Day", here on July 4th, has almost completed the arrangements for the ceremonies which will take place here on the streets of Clarendon at 10:30 o'clock of the second morning of the annual Celebration.

W. H. Patrick will serve as master of ceremonies, and Judge

JUDGE H. S. BISHOP

Henry S. Bishop of Amarillo, old acquaintance and friend of Mr. Mulkey, will deliver the Appreciation address. Seats on the platform to be constructed for the bandstand will be provided for Mrs. Mulkey, W. I. Rains, honorary president of the Donley County Old Settlers Association; Jim Christian of Claude, representing the Panhandle Old Settlers, and a former comrade of Mr. Mulkey's in the days when he worked for XIT ranch East of Dalhart. The XIT promoters at Dalhart will name that old-time friend in the next few days.

A. L. Chase is chairman of the local reception committee for "Homer Mulkey Appreciation Day", and will name some twenty or thirty to assist him in registration and welcoming friends of Homer Mulkey who will come to Clarendon on July 4th to show appreciation for his helpful spirit, and his work for this community and the Panhandle.

NEW PHONE DIRECTORIES ARE ISSUED THIS WEEK

New telephone directories were distributed to local subscribers this week by the Southwestern Associated Telephone Company, corrected as to June, 1941. The new books were mailed to all subscribers.

during the Celebration program. They will move into town before the Celebration opens, and will camp out near the city park, living in tepees in true frontier days style.

Always a real Celebration drawing card, this year's street dances will be better than ever, according to Ernest Kent, street dance chairman. Dances will be held on Main Street each night, following the night rodeo performances. One of the dance features will be a square dance contest, and Mr. Kent says that square dance teams already are entered from Silvertown and Memphis, in addition to a local group. Other teams are expected to enter before Celebration time. Old time dances will be featured at each dance, and a string band headed by Joe David has been secured to play for the event. Lu McClellan, Dayton Shelton, and numerous other old-time citizens have offered to assist in making the dances interesting.

PARTICIPATION IN FOOD STAMP PLAN SHOWS INCREASE

Participation in Donley County's Food Stamp plan reached a new high this week, the local issuing office reported, with better than 63 percent of all who are eligible participating in the plan. Stamps issued by the county food stamp office passed the $5000 mark in value this week, the fifth week the plan has been in operation.

Federal payments under various emergency programs to Donley County workers on WPA and the like are at a fairly high mark at present, after a slump of a few weeks ago. A number of WPA workers are employed in road construction projects in various sections of the county; several men are working under a WPA grant in preparing grasshopper poison, and a large crew of workmen is engaged in clearing away the wrecked ruins of the east wall of Broncho stadium, blown down in last Monday's cyclone.

With more men employed on WPA, and with the number of Donley people receiving other forms of federal assistance remaining almost stable, a sizeable increase in Food Stamp volume can be expected in the next few months, it is indicated.

IN CYCLONE VICINITY TWICE IN ONE WEEK

Editor and Mrs. Sam M. Braswell returned here Monday night on the belated Zephyr, from Galveston where they attended the 1941 Convention of the Texas Press Association, and visited with Mr. Braswell's daughter, Mrs. Clair Marie Chua, and her husband at Mt. Belvieu. Driving back from Galveston to Houston Saturday afternoon they were in the cloudburst and small cyclone at Seabrook, which made two storm experiences for the week, which is quite too many.

LUSK ACCEPTS NEW POSITION WITH SAN ANGELO FIRM

Verna Lusk, manager of C. D. Shamburger Lumber Company's local yard for the past six years, announced this week that he has accepted a position in San Angelo, and will terminate his connection with Shamburger Company here on June 24. In San Angelo, Mr. Lusk will take a position with the Axtell Company, one of the Southwest's leading wholesalers of heavy hardware supplies.

One of Clarendon's most civic-minded individuals, Mr. Lusk has taken an active part in virtually every constructive civic enterprise undertaken during his residence here. He is a member of the Clarendon Lions Club in which he holds the office of Tailwister; a member and director of the Clarendon Chamber of Commerce; and a member of the finance committee of the Clarendon Celebration. With Mrs. Lusk, he has formed a wide circle of friends both in Clarendon and in outlying sections of Donley County.

Mr. and Mrs. Lusk will leave Clarendon next week, to move to their new home. His new work starts on July 1. No announcement has yet been made by Shamburger Company officials as to Mr. Lusk's successor.

'HOPPER CONTROL PROGRAM MAKING HEADWAY

Grasshopper control in Donley County was making good headway this week, according to county agent, H. M. Breedlove, who said that both poison distribution plants in the county were reporting wide use of poison to nip the 'hopper problem in the bud before it became serious.

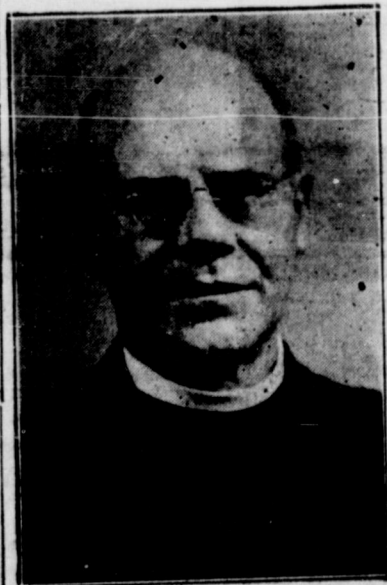

Poison material is being furnished to any county farmer who asks for it, at the nominal cost of 10 cents per sack, with the farmer furnishing the sack to carry his poison home. Distributing plants have been opened in Hedley and Clarendon, and will remain open for as long as there is need for 'hopper control measures. For best results, the Extension Service advises that the poison should be used on the day it is bought. Any poison which is left should be placed in a safe place about the farm, out of the reach of children or stock.

More interest will be taken in 'hopper poisoning later in the summer, Mr. Breedlove stated, as soon as farmers manage to catch up on their work and get their crops going good following the recent rainy siege.

RECTOR HENSHAW TO ACCEPT PAMPA POST JULY 1

Edgar W. Henshaw, rector of St. John the Baptist Episcopal Church in Clarendon, conducted his final services in the church this week, preparatory to leaving Clarendon on July 1, when he will take up new duties as rector of St. Matthew's Episcopal mission in Pampa.

His final Sunday service was conducted here Sunday by Rev. Henshaw, and on Tuesday morning, he directed a celebration of Holy Communion, marking the 362nd anniversary of the first prayer book service held in America, as his final service in St. John the Baptist Church.

REV. E. W. HENSHAW

Rev. and Mrs. Henshaw came to Clarendon in 1939, to assume the work of the Episcopal Church in Clarendon and several neighboring cities. Due to the size of his parish, Rev. Henshaw had to divide his time between several churches, and he said this week that the strain of continual travel had forced him to accept the new position, where a more compact work will be in his charge.

During the period Rev. Henshaw has been rector of St. John the Baptist Church, the church has shown a renewed growth and strength, and the circle of friends made by the rector and his wife is a large one, every member of which will join in wishing the Henshaws good fortune in their new home.

BOOSTER JAUNTS SCHEDULED FOR NEXT WEEK

PANHANDLE CITIES DUE TO HEAR ABOUT LOCAL CELEBRATION

Bound on a good-will mission, and with ballyhoo for Clarendon's Celebration as their principal purpose, delegations of local businessmen will leave Clarendon on three booster trips next week. Two of the trips, on next Thursday and Friday, will cover an extended itinerary, while the third will be a side visit, on Wednesday, to McLean's Annual Jubilee and Rodeo.

Clarendon boosters have made a name in past years for being the most enthusiastic in the Panhandle, and this year the Celebration committee hopes to set a new mark for both size of the booster delegations and individual enthusiasm of their members. At least one representative of every local business house will make the trip, advertising committee members hope. All booster groups will be headed by the Clarendon band, and other musical numbers may be arranged this week to add interest to the program given in each city.

The trip Thursday will take in Ashola, Goodnight, Claude, Washburn, Amarillo, Canyon, Happy, Tulla, Silvertown, Quitaque, Turkey, Lakeview, Leslie, and Brice. The group will make its biggest appearance of the day in Amarillo, where a welcoming delegation has been arranged by Amarillo citizens.

Friday the boosters will swing east and north, visiting Lella Lake, Hedley, Memphis, Esteline, Childress, Wellington, Shamrock, McLean, LeFors, Pampa, Skellytown, Borger, Panhandle, White Deer, Groom, and Jericho. All booster trips will make up at the junior high school building, at 8 a. m. each day.

MUSEUM WILL BE OPEN TO CELEBRATION VISITORS

The Donley County Museum will be open to Celebration visitors on July 3 and 4, it was announced this week by Mrs. Lollie Bagby, who is in charge of the museum and its interesting displays of early day relics and other historical material. Though the museum is located in one of the college buildings, damaged by the tornado Monday, no damage was done to any exhibits, Mrs. Bagby reports.

DEAN DRENNAN IMPROVING

Reports during all this week and up until today were very favorable in regard to the condition of Dean R. E. Drennan, who was critically injured in last Monday's storm. Dean Drennan was in a dangerous condition for several days immediately following his admission to an Amarillo hospital but his condition took a turn for the better, and it is thought at present that his recovery is assured.

THE WEATHER

Old Sol was out today, for the second or third time in a row, and Clarendon and Donley county gardeners, farmers, and yard-keepers had hopes of catching up in their back work. There was a big IF—if the sun stays out, much can be done to save late crops and retrieve yards from weeds and overgrown grass. Today's outlook was that it would stay out until noon, but later than that nobody would prophesy, weather predicting having fallen into disfavor of recent weeks.

If you're interested in figures, rain has fallen eleven days of June, with the total moisture reaching 4.87 inches. Rainfall this week, since last Thursday, totalled 1.53 inches.

MANN ADVOCATES PREPAREDNESS IN TALK HERE

Gerald C. Mann, attorney general of Texas, brought his campaign for the United States senate here late Wednesday afternoon.

Speaking before a crowd gathered on a downtown street, Mann pledged that when he goes to Washington as United States senate "I shall devote all of my energy and all of my ability to the task of national defense."

"The most compelling problem facing the nation today is that of total national preparedness," Mann declared. "I view this problem very realistically. We want guns and more guns and we want them now. We want ships and more ships and we want them now. We want airplanes and tanks and submarines. We want them in great numbers and we want them now."

"We have in the White House a man of action and I want to go to Washington to help President Roosevelt build a great army, navy, and air force."

The speaker scored strikes in defense industries and said, "We must have action in stopping them." He outlined a bill he promised to introduce immediately in the senate, eliminating labor strife in such industries but guaranteeing fair wages to labor and fair profits to capital.

"There are three sides to this question," he stated. "Labor has a side, Capital has a side. But above all the American public has a side. Our boys in the army camps must be adequately armed. Our country must be fully defended."

"There can be no sound national economy until the purchasing power of the farmer's dollar is placed on a par with that of the other man," the speaker continued. "Too long has the farmer been forced to buy on a protected market and sell on an unprotected market. I shall favor continued federal aid to the farmer and the ranchman."

Mann warned that there must be no repetition of conditions following the last war when the ex-soldier found himself penniless and jobless. He advocated raising the base pay of the soldier from $21 to $40 per month, with the increase being put into a federal savings account for the men until they are mustered out of service.

"Such a plan will provide the ex-soldier with something to fall back on while readjusting himself," Mann declared. "That is not only just and right, but it is sound economics."

REPAIRS PROGRESS ON RESIDENTIAL PROPERTY

STRICKEN SECTION OF CITY MAKES STRIDES ON WAY BACK TO NORMALCY

With few exceptions, residential property damage resulting from last Monday's cyclone was well along the way toward complete repair this week, as a small army of carpenters and helpers pushed the work of reconstruction. Some work has been done on almost every home touched by the storm; the remainder either will not be rebuilt or are waiting for insurance adjustments or until carpenters become available.

In the south section of the city, repair work has gone especially fast, and remarkable progress has been shown in removing signs of cyclone damage. Of the most seriously damaged homes in this section, repairs are progressing on those belonging to J. L. McMurtry, Mrs. O. L. Fink, Mrs. W. A. SoRelle, and Wiley Morris. Temporary repairs have been made on the F. L. Bourland home, which is to be completely repaired later. The Joe Holland home will be rebuilt soon, also, as Mr. Holland announced this week that he had disposed of the property to Speed Bros. contractors and builders, who are rebuilding the house as an investment property. Mr. and Mrs. Holland are staying temporarily at the Latson apartments, but will occupy the Henry Williams residence, which they have purchased, July 1.

North of the College Hill section, repairs are going forward on the home of Mrs. Lena Antrobus, which is being remodeled into a single-story, modern brick dwelling. The home was being roofed this week, and will be refinished on the interior later. A new garage also is planned at the Antrobus home. Across the street, repairs are under way on the home of A. A. Mayes, which is being roofed this week. A new garage is being built here, and also at the home of Mrs. Lollie Bagby next door. Repairs on the front porch of the Bagby home have been completed.

Minor repairs in the whole storm-wrecked sector have gone along with good speed this week, and though new unpainted shingles and similar scars mark damaged homes, the prospects are that all effects of the blow on residence property will be effaced shortly. Damaged trees, of course, cannot be replaced in years.

Repairs to damaged telephone and electric supply cables and lines were complete this week, after a hard run of work on the part of relief crews of West Texas Utilities Company and Southwestern Associated Telephone Company. New poles had to be erected in many locations by both companies, and a considerable amount of cables and wiring was damaged and had to be replaced.

A WPA crew is at work clearing away wreckage of the ruined wall of Broncho stadium. Rocks used in building the wall originally are being reclaimed, and will be used again when the wall is rebuilt. Work on this job will be confined to clearing away debris until after the Celebration. For Celebration events to be staged in the stadium, a temporary wall will be erected.

At the Clarendon College buildings, a crew of NYA workers is still busy with removing equipment and furniture from the wreckage to a protected place, so that further damage will not result to any valuable furnishings. School officials still were waiting on an insurance settlement this week, and when it comes through, will proceed at once with plans for rebuilding the damaged structures.

Mr. and Mrs. Payne Kent of Borger are visiting here.

OTHER HONORS FOR PANHANDLE NEWS MEN

Panhandle newspaper men have had prominent part in the work of the Texas Press Association for forty years, but in the elections at the Galveston convention of the organization last week double honors came this way, David M. Warren of the Panhandle Herald was elected president, and Deskins Wells of the Wellington Leader was named secretary-treasurer.

The News salutes these fine contemporary workers of the Press in this area, knowing that they will serve in a most efficient manner in their respective capacities.

It was the good fortune of the Clarendon News editor to place in nomination Editor Warren for the presidency of the Association.

UNUSUAL TALENT ON TEXAS PRESS PROGRAM

At the Galveston convention of the Texas Press Association last week, there was an unusual array of top-notch speaking talent. Maj. Crown, the crusading editor of New Orleans, Bob Considine, sports writer of New York fame, and Jimmy Fiddler, nationally known columnist of Hollywood, Col. Hunter of the American Railway executives association of Washington, and General Hugh Johnson, world-famed army authority and commentator on military affairs.

In past years the newspaper men of Texas have heard many notables, but this seems to have been the all time record in such a group of headliners.

Entertainment was lavish, the weather was mild, and the waves inviting. Between events the press boys vied with each other in boasting of the rainfall in the various sections of Texas this year.

O'DANIEL COULD BE BEATEN—MAYBE

For the first time since he set new records in Texas election annals, W. Lee O'Daniel's strength has shown signs of cracking. In many quarters it is being said that the governor could fail to win a plurality in the senatorial election on June 28.

On the other hand, among the leading candidates there is a continuing tendency to declare that the race is between Mann, Johnson or Dies, and O'Daniel, according to who is talking.

There are indications in many sections that community leaders for O'Daniel have openly espoused the candidacy of one of the other big three candidates—usually Johnson. Especially is this true among those who want O'Daniel to remain as governor, and who like Johnson's old age assistance platform.

Johnson has undoubtedly come up from fourth place in the last few weeks and is among the contestants for top honors. Roosevelt leaders are working hard for him all over the state.

The race is still difficult to predict.

FOUR FRIENDSHIPS

Have you ever stopped to think that very often people who are happy and successful have based their lives on four friendships?

The first friendship is with people. They are good neighbors. They are courteous, thoughtful, cheerful. Other people like to associate with them. They are leaders in their work.

HEY! TAKE YOUR HAND OFF!

JUST HUMANS

By GENE CARR

Making Faces.

The second friendship is with books. These people never lose the desire to learn, and one of the ways they improve themselves is through good literature. Through books they learn more about the business in which they are engaged, whether it is being a successful farmer or a skilled surgeon.

Next is friendship with high ideals. These people know right from wrong and avoid the wrong as much as possible. They keep their promises. . . . can be depended upon.

Last is friendship with God. They believe in a higher power, read the Bible, attend church regularly, and help to carry on the church work in their community.

Is not this a goal all of us can strive to reach?

—The Progressive Farmer

Economic Highlights

Happenings That Affected the Dinner Pails, Dividend Checks and Tax Bills of Every Individual. National and International Problems Inseparable From Local Welfare.

Whether or not this government will use the Navy as an active belligerent in the Battle of the Atlantic, is a question that no one but possibly the President can answer. Whatever the eventual decision, there are a number of important obstacles in the way of concentrating our fighting ships in the Atlantic—of which the most important is the strange Empire of Japan.

For many years, the American people have been accustomed to swift changes in the status of U. S.—Japanese relations. Both sides have done considerable diplomatic bluffing. Many times alarmists have said that the two nations were standing at the very brink of war. But, so far, nothing much has happened, outside of a few minor incidents which were swiftly settled, such as the sinking of the Panay some years ago.

Now, according to a number of responsible correspondents who know the Japanese character and Japanese conditions, there is a chance that matters will at last move from the talking to the shooting point. Here are the principal reasons they use to substantiate that position:

First, Japanese leaders are confident Germany will win this war, and they believe that, therefore, the future of Japan will depend on the future of Hitler's "new order." So they are determined to carry out their Axis commitments to the letter.

Second, they are convinced that this country cannot be frightened or argued out of its present position—a position which says, in effect, that if Japan moves into the South

Pacific, we will use force to stop her, inasmuch as the Japanese leaders are also convinced that Japan must dominate the lands and great resources of the South Pacific Islands if she is to survive as a first-class power, they have come to the point of view that eventual war is certain and there is little use in longer trying to prevent it.

Third, working on the assumption that war is inevitable, the Japanese strategists feel that this is the time to fight it, while the United States has its hands full in the Atlantic and must attempt to dominate two oceans with a one-ocean fleet. By 1946, the U. S. will have a formidable two-ocean fleet, and then, think Japanese naval men, Nippon's chances of winning a war would be extremely poor.

Fourth, Japan knows her position is precarious so long as she must depend for the bulk of essential supplies, such as steel and petroleum, on the United States. Therefore, it is reasoned, the thing to do is to strike out and obtain by conquest essential raw materials for herself.

This government is taking Japan plenty seriously. The bulk of our fleet is operating in the Pearl Harbor area. The Atlantic fleet is small and its few capital ships are mostly obsolete and slow. Large concentrations of aircraft, particularly Flying Fortresses, have been sent to Hawaii and even farther east. Air-raid shelters have been built in the Philippines, and practice air alarms are set off periodically.

The cool heads in our naval high command do not discount the Japanese fleet. They think our ships are better, and our gunnery more effective. We have a definite edge in the quantity and quality of carrier-based aircraft. And we have a larger fleet. Even so, the navy men feel, it would be a considerable job to lick Japan, and would require all our energies for a considerable time.

It is significant that recent pronouncements of Japanese statesmen have become very blunt. Premier Matsuoka scarcely bothers any more to conceal his dislike for the U. S. and his admiration for the Axis. Germany's successes in Europe have stiffened Japanese spines, and encouraging Japanese saber rattlers. The result is that the Pacific can accurately be described as a tinder box today.

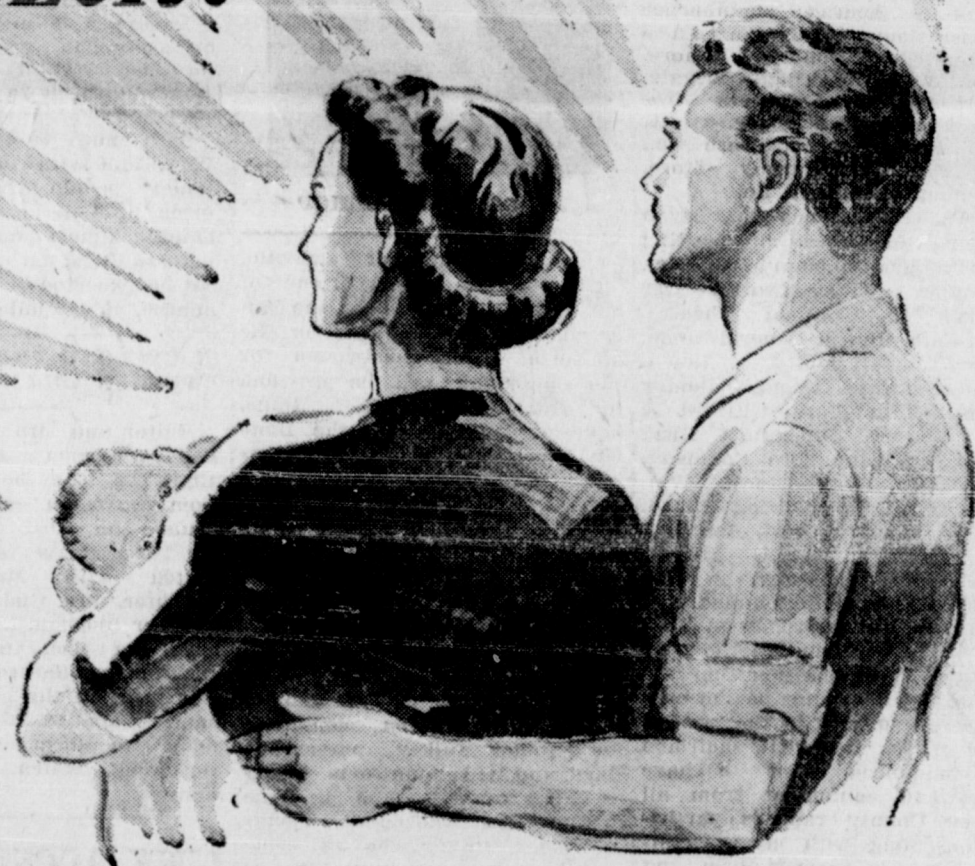

This government, beneath the surface, now regards France as being virtually an Axis ally. There is a good reason for that. The real head of France today is Admiral Darlan, who likes the Germans, hates the English, and has always had a reputation for playing whatever political angle seemed most profitable at the moment. Even Marshal Petain was suspected of anti-democratic sympathies long ago, and he is so old and so ailing now that he is head of the new French total state in name only.

Well - substantiated reports come from Vichy to the effect that France will conclude a permanent peace with Germany, and give to the Reich certain important French possessions. One of these possessions is Dakar, which this government regards as being a definite threat to American security if held by an unfriendly power.

Best chance for our actively entering the European war, therefore, would be for France to make this transfer. No one believes we would sit quietly by and let the Germans occupy Dakar. And no one believes Hitler could be stopped from doing that without a scrap.

107 DONLEY MEN NOW IN U. S. ARMED FORCES

Donley County has supplied 107 men into the armed Forces of the U. S. to date, George Ryan, local selective service board secretary said this week, after tabulating enlistments of county men into all branches of the service. Almost two-thirds of the group of Donley soldiers and sailors are serving regular enlistments in the Army, Navy, Army Air Corps or Marines, Mr. Ryan said, while the remainder are men who have gone into the Army, for a year's training under the Selective Service Act. Of the entire group, only two men were drafted into service, a record of patriotism for which the county can well be proud.

Four more Donley County men will enter service on July 9, in compliance with an induction order received this week by the local board. The men are Alvin Yarbrough, Hollis D. Bledsoe, Albert Daniel Loyd Woolsey, and Lehman, Eugene Springs, Yarbrough and Bledsoe are draftees, with order numbers 41 and 51 and Woolsey is a volunteer with order numbers 742 and 777.

The provisions of this remission bill were adopted by the Board in order to encourage payment of delinquent tax due the District at this time and to help relieve the financial problems caused by recent storm damage to school property.

Property owners, owing delinquent tax, can make a substantial saving in interest and penalty charges and at the same time materially aid their schools in this emergency. The provisions of the Act expire November 1st, 1941.

COTTON EQUITIES IN LOAN WILL BE PAID IN FULL

Farmers with cotton in the government loan will receive full payments for their equities if the government should take title to the cotton.

This was emphatically pointed out this week by Walter J. Flynt, County AAA Secretary, when he was advised by the United States Department of Agriculture that title will not be taken to loan cotton without prior public notice.

If the government should take title to loan cotton, the cotton producers would be paid any amounts by which (1) the redemption costs of their notes (which include principal, interest and carrying charges on the pledged cotton) were exceeded by (2) a fair value for the cotton at the time, which would be determined by the Secretary of Agriculture on the basis of the then prevailing average market prices for cotton with reasonable allowances for differences in grades, staple lengths, and locations.

"Don't be misled by false representations to the effect that the government will not give full value for cotton equities when and if it is necessary for the Commodity Credit Corporation to take title to the cotton," the AAA official warned.

The notes secured by 1936 crop cotton, the maturity date for which was extended to July 31, 1941, are not callable on demand. The notes secured by 1939 crop cotton matured on July 31, 1940. The notes secured by 1940 crop cotton do not mature until July 31, 1941, but they are callable for payment on demand at any time. It is possible that the government may find it desirable to take title on August 1, 1941, to any cotton remaining pledged to secure notes which are overdue at that time. In the event, however, that the government should take title to any of the stocks of loan cotton, at least ten days public notice of such action would be given by a press release.

PARITY GOAL TO BE REACHED ON '41 WHEAT CROP

For the first time since the early 20's when the farm depression hit American agriculture, Texas wheat farmers who cooperate with the 1941 farm program are going to reach their approximate parity goal on this year's crop.

"That's what the new Department of Agriculture wheat loan program plus 18 cents for wheat parity and conservation payments mean to Texas wheat farmers," Fred Rennels, assistant state administrative officer in charge of the AAA office, declared.

Since wheat farmers approved marketing quotas by a majority of 89.8 percent in the national referendum May 31, with 94 percent voting favorably in Texas, the 85 percent of parity loan becomes mandatory under the law.

The wheat loan rate, which represents an average national loan value to farmers of about 98 cents a bushel, is based on the July 1 parity price for wheat.

The primary purpose in announcing the loan now, Rennels explained, is to give producers in the early wheat areas the same advantage producers in the later wheat areas will have. Wheat harvesting is under way now in some sections of the state and will reach a maximum volume in the next two weeks or so.

The loans, as in previous years, will be made by the Commodity Credit Corporation, and the state and county AAA committees will be responsible for local administration of the program.

All growers planting within their wheat acreage allotments will be eligible for wheat loans on all the wheat they produce. Farmers who exceed their wheat allotments will be eligible for loans at 60 percent of the regular loan rate applicable to cooperating producers in that particular county on wheat produced on excess acreage.

The loans, with interest at 3 percent, will be made up to December 31 and will fall due April 30, 1942. The loans are callable on demand.

Loan rates to farmers are based on terminal rates, taking into consideration the location, handling charges, grade, and quality of the wheat.

The basic loan rate for Texas is based on wheat stored at Galveston, Rennels said. This rate, which has been announced previously, is $1.17 per bushel on No. 2 hard winter wheat with the average loan value to Texas estimated at about 94 cents per bushel with added premium for protein.

The price will vary in different counties since the average freight rates applicable to various counties differ because of distance from terminals. For instance, the AAA official pointed out, No. 2 hard winter wheat in Dallam and Sherman counties will be 90 cents per bushel while No. 2 hard winter wheat from Bell and Navarro counties will be 99 cents per bushel if the wheat is stored in the respective counties.

For all grades of yellow hard winter wheat, the loan value for mixed wheat containing 10 percent or more of a class other than hard winter or red winter wheat may be obtained from the special representative of the Commodity Credit Corporation in the respective areas.

Other commodities benefiting from the 85 percent of parity loan program include cotton, tobacco, corn and rice.

Which Hose is the Lighter?

By RICHARD S. BOND

Of course the garden hose is the heavier, for there are fifty feet in the coil shown. But, believe it or not, this particular hose, including couplings, weighs only eight pounds.

That's about 2 1/2 ounces per foot and my woolen fishing hose weighed more than that (per foot) even before I allowed the river to flow into my hip boots.

The little insert is an actual photograph of a garden hose called "The Junior Garden Club" — a new type just announced by the B. F. Goodrich Company, Akron, Ohio. A woman or a child can handle it with ease. Although designed for many special services, such as watering flowers, supplying sprinklers, washing the car, cleaning basement floors and other uses, where the standard size hose might be cumbersome, the hose carries from 65 to 75 per cent as much water as the conventional size at average pressure when attached to spray nozzle or sprinkler.

W. G. BRINSON OF HEDLEY BURIED THERE SUNDAY

Garden Glances Presented weekly by the Garden Club

"America the beautiful lies in the hands of the gardeners"

With so many attractive and picturesque spots in town it is difficult to point out the most outstanding. We suggest that you drive around and "look for the beautiful". Never have the trees, flowers, and lawns been more lovely than they are this year.

The old fashioned flower garden with its various types and colors, is well portrayed in the yard of Mrs. Jefferies.

The tall bright green, sugar maples, the rustic rock fence draped with ivy and the spacious lawn with gaily striped chairs reminds one of the poem, "The House By The Side of The Road."

Near by one sees the well-kept grounds of Turner Nichols. Pines, spruce and cedars help to make the landscape more impressive.

The Christian and the Baptist churches vie for honors in the display of the elegant golden elders blooming profusely on their campuses.

Lilies are still with us. If you want to see one especially rare spot you will be gratified to visit the Joe Goldston plot.

More lilies are found in the Brumley yard also. Especially ornamental and useful is the rock fence containing rocks from Florida to California.

Many catalpa trees are blooming in the city. The C. W. Taylor home presents one of the most beautiful of this type.

Speaking of trees have you noticed the one at the northwest corner of the Court House. This tree is a beautiful and shapely Chinese elm. It is indeed a tribute to our own town and to its planter. It is understood that this tree was planted by Mrs. J.

Lemon Aids to the Bride

By BETTY BARCLAY

MEALS well-cooked and attractively served help to keep the fires of romance burning as many wise brides know. Some women are born cooks, others acquire the art. But every model homemaker is on the look-out for aids to help her provide the meals in a simple yet effective manner which will please the "man of the house."

There's hardly a dish that lemons won't improve. They bring out the flavor of so many foods that they go right through the courses of a meal adding distinction each step of the way. Men thoroughly enjoy salads when fresh lemon juice is added to the dressing to bring out a fragrant tang and tempting flavor.

Lemon Mayonnaise
This dressing is just the thing for all salads — especially the orange salad pictured on side. Combine 1 egg, ¼ cup fresh lemon juice, 1 teaspoon mustard, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon sugar, and a dash of pepper or paprika. Then beat 1 pint salad oil in slowly, using a whirl type beater. Continue beating until dressing is thick. Makes 2½ cups.

Gay Lemon Garnishes
The brightness of a lemon garnish makes a picture he will want you to repeat. Thin slices of colorful lemon may be easily cut with the scissors. Squeezeable quarters have a definite place on the menu for they bring out a garden fresh flavor in vegetables and enhance the taste of fish and meat. For juicy quarters, cut the lemons lengthwise in four pieces with a sharp knife. Here we view a lemon garnishing a bundle of asparagus and an attractively cut lemon slice on the broiled salmon.

Magic Never-Fail Lemon Pie

Always popular with men and an aid indeed to the bride is this never-fail lemon pie made without cooking. Filling: Stir together 1½ cups sweetened condensed (not evaporated) milk, ¼ cup fresh lemon juice, grated peel of 1 lemon, and 2 beaten egg yolks. (Filling will thicken as though cooked.) Pour into: Pie Shell: Stand a row of lemon wafers around edge of an 8-inch pie plate. Fill spaces between wafers and cover bottom of plate with ¾ cup wafer crumbs, rolled fine and mixed with ¼ cup melted butter. Top with meringue made by beating 2 egg whites and ¼ cup sugar until stiff. Brown in oven.

AAA QUOTA LAW EXPLAINED FOR WHEAT BUYERS

With the wheat harvest season just around the corner, a message to wheat buyers issued this week by Walter J. Flynt, secretary of the Donley County ACA, has added importance. Mr. Flynt's message follows:

"Since Wheat Marketing Quotas are in effect, it will be necessary for you to co-operate with the AAA Office by keeping certain required records. The forms on which these records are to be kept are in the office now and are ready to be delivered to you when you need them.

"The Wheat Marketing Quota Law requires the 'Over-planted' producer to pay a penalty of 49c on each bushel of wheat which he cannot identify by a White Marketing Card. It is the duty of the Wheat Buyer to see that this 49c penalty is paid on the unidentified wheat.

"For the producer who is not 'over-planted', the buyer must fill out a form to show that the wheat he sells is identified by a Marketing Card and no penalty is paid.

"These forms are of as much importance to the buyer as to the producer, so it will be to your advantage to come to the AAA office at Clarendon for complete instructions—and come BEFORE you buy any wheat."

ANTI-STRIKE BILL GAINING WIDE SUPPORT

WASHINGTON, D. C. June 19.—With word from the War Department that more men were on strike than at any other time since the beginning of the emergency, the bill to stop strikes by Senator Tom Connally of Texas effected a crystallization of sentiment among both executive and legislative authorities expected to end this irritating interference with national defense efforts.

The measure, known as Senate 1690, authorizes the government to take over and operate in the national interest any plant or factory engaged in the production of defense articles in which the production of such articles is hampered, delayed or impeded by the existence of a strike or other labor disturbance.

Senator Connally emphasized that strikers, who are stopping work in plants that ought to be running twenty-four hours per day in behalf of our defense, are attacking the national welfare and the national safety by a form of creeping paralysis.

"My bill" pointed out Connally, "denies to no man his fundamental rights. It does demand that there shall be no stoppage of work in national defense plants. The processes of mediation and conciliation will be preserved. In the meantime, however, the plants must continue to operate under government direction and government protection. Men who do not desire to work may quit their jobs. Those who desire may continue to work with the government's protection. No right is denied any citizen.

"America faces a great crisis. The national security is involved. The nation does not propose to have its safety imperiled and its program for national defense delayed or bogged down by selfish and wilful groups who seek to take advantage of the nation's necessities to improve their own condition at the expense of thirty millions of people. Strikes in defense plants must stop. My bill will stop them."

LIBRARY NOTES

(By Mrs. C. A. Burton)

The library is bringing pleasure to people in the increased leisure of summer time as is evidenced by the fact that we checked out 1,330 books in May—and June bids fair to have as many or more. Often the remark is made, "What would we do without the library?"

Literature of any period is so largely typed by the trend of events of the time, therefore we are not surprised that propagandists of some kind permeates practically everything being turned out by the press just now. Even a large part of the fiction shows the same trend. Many of our new books are proving the more interesting because of that fact.

But even though the above observations may be true, many of us may be able to sympathize with the freshman high school girl who asked for something on the Renaissance. As an afterthought she added, "I don't know what it is, but I think it's a river because it ran through Italy, Germany and France during the middle ages."

An English writer who is one of the best known among our people is G. B. Stern. She was born in London. At seventeen, when her first poem was accepted by the first editor to whom she sent it, she decided on a literary life. For many years she lived in Italy, but now London is her home. Three of her books are on our shelves, "The Matnach," "Long Lost Father" and her more recent one, "Oleander River." She has a new one, "The Woman in the Hall" which we do not have and a still later one, "Lion in the Garden," which the critics say for sheer delight is as fine a thing as Miss Stern has yet written. She has two hobbies—boats and walking sticks.

On last Sunday, June 15th, five or six thousand old and middle-aged men and women who, 40, 50 or 60 years ago abhorred the rudiments of their philosophy, their culture and their sportsmanship from the McGuffey Readers gathered at Oxford, Ohio, to dedicate a memorial to the man who, one hundred and sixteen years ago rode into what was then the little village of Oxford to revolutionize the educational system of the United States by the simple process of adopting the textbooks and the teaching of the mental age of the students. During the next seventy-five years four-fifths of the children of the nation were educated from the 122,000,000 or more books which bore his name.

This celebration and the revival of interest in the memory of the man who did so much for earlier American culture and education are due Dean Emertus Harvey C. Minnich of Miami University. The memorial is a simple marble shaft surmounted by a portrait bust of William Holmes McGuffey and at the base a group of children and roundabouts and pantalets poring over one of the readers.

One of our late purchases is Ida M. Tarbell's, "Life of Napoleon," which is much shorter than "Ludwig's Napoleon" of which we have a copy. Miss Tarbell has for long been one of the outstanding women of our country. She grew up in the old region and graduated from Allegheny College. This was just at the time the Chautauqua movement was starting and Miss Tarbell began her writing career as a contributing editor to its magazine. She studied three years in Paris, returned to the States and was for twenty-one years on the staff of the Clivé's and later the American where she worked with Ray Stannard Baker, William Allen White and other leading personalities. Four presidents have been among her friends. As a writer and a lecturer, her life has been very full. Perhaps her "History of the Standard Oil Company" has been the best work—that and the "Life of Lincoln" and "Life of Napoleon."

Geography has had an important influence on the life and career of Bertila Harding. She was born in Bavaria but brought up in Mexico City where her father was a mining engineer. While in Mexico she grew much interested in Carlotta, Maximilian's ill-fated empress—and her "Phantom Crown" which our readers have enjoyed, was the result. Besides this she has written two other historical novels, "Golden Fleece" and "Imperial Twilight." Mrs. Harding was educated in Paris, Philadelphia, and the University of Wisconsin, and her home is now in Indianapolis.

Pearl Buck, 1938 Nobel Prize winner, is at work on a new book, "Of Men and Women," on her Pennsylvania farm, but is also actively engaged in relief work for China. She is one of the members of "United China Relief, Inc." which is trying to raise $5,000,000 for China relief. She says she sometimes wonders if China's plan of arranging marriages wasn't a good thing because there seemed few marriage failures under that plan. But she goes on to say that there will never be a true democracy while man feels superior to woman.

Miss Louise Morley, daughter of Christopher Morley, has been chosen to represent NYA Student Youth on the National Committee. She graduated from Bryn Mawr in June 1940, and is conference secretary of the International Student Service.

A. J. Crown will have published in July his first novel since "The Citadel." The title of his new book is "The Keys of the Kingdom." It has not been serialized, and is the Book-of-the-Month selection for August. Dr. Cronin interrupted his medical course at Glasgow University to serve in the Royal Navy during the World War, then returned to graduate with honors. He was a ship's surgeon and medical inspector of mines in South Wales then settled down in London to a splendid practice. Suddenly he developed a gastric ulcer and was forced to take a six month's rest. He went to a Scottish farm house.

Here he says the utter inactivity enforced by his condition made him so lonely that he was "reduced to feeding the chickens and learning to greet the disapproving cattle by their Christian names." For years he had thought of writing a book—and now in despair he began it—and "Hattie's Castle" was the result. He said he chose the publisher by closing his eyes and pricking the catalogue with a pin—and was astonished when they accepted it. "The Citadel" brought him fame, then came "The Stars Look Down" then the new book.

TRAIN SCHEDULES UPSET BY HIGH WATER DAMAGE ON RED RIVER BRIDGE

Fort Worth and Denver Railway schedules were temporarily disarranged Sunday night, Monday, and Monday night of this week, when high water on the Red River near Childress washed out a section of bridge and trackage.

The early northbound passenger Zephyr Sunday night was the last train to go through the washed out section, and further damage that night stopped northbound traffic altogether during the day Monday. Work crews repaired the track damage sufficiently for traffic to start back Monday night, and Tuesday northbound traffic was proceeding almost on schedule.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Beaty of Rochester, Texas, spent Sunday here visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Lee Holland.

'Names make news': When praised for his generosity in accepting an invitation to speak, District Judge Bascom Gist of Tyler replied: 'There are two classes of people—those that make speeches and those that listen to them. I would rather make a speech than have to listen to one.'

One of the most faithful readers of this column each week is former District Judge Ralph Yarborough of Austin. Recently, he told me, 'Your column two weeks ago was the best you've ever written.' To which your columnist replied, 'Thanks very much; by the way, all the things in that particular column were clipped from other papers and credited to them; I didn't write a line of it.' And then you should have seen the judge turn a delicate shade of pink and try to explain away his remark.

A young man (according to a story I hear) stepped out of a taxicab in front of a hotel in Lubbock and remarked to the driver, 'I'll have to get a check cashed; I'll be right back; my name is Marvin Brown and I'm the district attorney from Fort Worth.' The taxi-driver drawled, 'Yeah, and my name is Thomas E. Dewey and I'm the district attorney from New York and I'll just go along with you.' The 'fare' grinned and they went in together and the hotel cashier cashed the check because the chap really was District Attorney Marvin Brown!

Few years back, your columnist wrote a book, 'Were You In Ranger?' and because Anon Carter had made it possible for me to eat regularly during the depression by providing me with a job on the news staff, the first copy off the press was presented to him. Recently when my newest, 'Oil Boom', came out, the publisher of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram received a book with this inscription, 'The No. 1 copy off the press is presented to the No. 1 Texan.'

An Oklahoma editor published two pictures, one of a dilapidated house and the other of an eroded field, and invited his readers to take part in a 'You Write The Story' contest. Here is the prize-winning letter, written by an Indian:

Both pictures show white men crazy. Make big teepee. Plow hill. Water wash; wind blow soft. Grass gone, land gone, door gone, window gone; whole place gone to —. Buck gone. Squaw, too. Papoose gone. No pig, no corn, no cow, no hay, no pony.

Indian no plow land. Keep grass. Buffalo eat. Indian eat buffalo. Hide make teepee, make moccasin: Indian no make terrace, no build dam, no give d—. All time eat. No hunt job, no hitch-hike, no ask relief. No shoot pig. Great Spirit make grass. Indian no waste anything. Indian no work. White man heap loco.

Side Glances On Texas History

By CHARLES O. HUCKER
University of Texas Library

Of Philip Nolan: What Did He Want?

In the mixture of radical stocks that makes up the American people, the Irish hold a rank which is justly celebrated, and part of their impressive American heritage is at the heart of the development of Texas. It may even be, perhaps, that it was a native Irishman who first dreamed of a free and independent Republic of Texas.

This man was Philip Nolan, who is remembered in history as the first of the Anglo-Americans who led filibustering campaigns into Texas. The story of his expedition is one of the most intriguing tales ever turned up in the Texas Collection of the University of Texas Library.

In 1797 Nolan, who for twelve years had been trading illegally between San Antonio and Natchez, Miss., rounded up a herd of wild Texas mustangs for the United States cavalry, entering Texas this time with the written permission of Spanish officials in Mexico. And three years later he returned, carrying his original passport and a blithe disdain for the objections of the Spanish consul at Natchez, who suspected his intentions.

The Spanish Object

For months things went well with the eighteen men who crossed the Red River late in 1800. On the plains of northern Texas they found tremendous herds of mustangs and corralled hundreds. They won the friendship of various Indian tribes of the district, notably the powerful Comanches. They were prospering. But at last, on the 22nd of March, 1801, a troop of 150 Spanish soldiers laid siege to their little log enclosure on the plain, and shortly after dawn Philip Nolan lay dead with a rifle-ball in his head.

Despite Nolan's death, however, the eleven surviving Americans fought on past noon under the command of 17-year-old Ellis P. Bean. Around 3 o'clock in the afternoon they surrendered. They surrendered on two conditions: that they be allowed to keep their arms and that they be escorted safely to the Louisiana border. With such understanding, they were marched off toward Nacogdoches.

The Americans had one chance to escape. When they reached the flooded Trinity River, Bean fixed up a canoe and managed to maneuver the crossing so that at one time he had all of the Spanish soldiers on the east bank and their arms and their commander on the west bank with him and his followers; and he immediately proposed that the Americans send the Spanish officer across, dump the enemy arms into the river, and proceed back to the plains. But on the repeated promise of a safe return to the United States, the men chose to keep on toward Nacogdoches.

The Mystery

There they waited a month for an official order releasing them, and then suddenly all were clapped in irons. Six years passed and they were still in irons deep in the interior, and the Nolan escapade was closed history. Yet it still needed a little unraveling; finally one of the men was hanged, and another—Bean—had a long and remarkable future in Mexico. What became of the others remains a mystery.

The greatest mystery of all, however, concerns the original purpose of the expedition, for no one can prove definitely what it was. Perhaps, as some historians claim, it was only to get more horses. Perhaps, as has also been suggested, it was to seek rich gold mines in the land of the Comanches. But—and Spanish officials for years claimed they could prove this with documents—perhaps it was to separate Texas from Mexico.

Well, what was dashing Philip Nolan, son of Ireland? Merely a fortune-hunter? Or ought he be remembered as the first in the long line of dreamers who ultimately set Texas free?

Fair Sex Make Good Flyers

Flying aptitude tests made in the Sinclair Flight Trainer reveal that girls between the ages of 19 and 20 years make good flyers. This fact was a highlight of a report received today by S. W. Lowe, local agent for Sinclair Refining Company.

'The Sinclair Flight Trainer which is a tour of the country in the interests of nation defense,' Mr. Lowe stated, 'provides a person with all the thrills of flying while rating the flying aptitude of the would-be pilot. The unusual device is a miniature plane so rigged up that it provides all the motions and sensations of actual flight, yet it is securely anchored to the ground. The trainer operates within a movable "wishbone" at a height of about fifteen feet. The miniature plane is equipped with a four-foot propeller which drives a 75-mile-an-hour slipstream over the trainer's control surfaces. Regulation airplane controls enable the pilot to try sidesteps, banking, loops and spins as if he were flying a real plane.'

Mr. Lowe, stated that the Sinclair Refining Company is proud to be remembered as the first in the long line of dreamers who ultimately set Texas free?

100 Years Ago In Texas

'Owing to a press of matter previously engaged, we will be compelled to defer the publication of the "Franco-Texian bill," for two weeks; at which time, we will accompany this "infamous bill of abominations," as it has been so justly termed, with such an expose of its history during our last session of Congress, and its inevitable ruinous consequence to the prosperity and liberty of this country, had it become a law, that every Texian who has one spark of patriotic resentment in his veins, will feel towards its authors and advocates, a holy and abiding indignation, the just tribute of political reprobation.'

'Hon Mr. Van Ness, who arrived a few days ago from San Antonio, brings the intelligence that Commissioners are now at Gen. Arista to this government, San Antonio, on their way from for the purpose, as is generally supposed, of entering into arrangements for protecting the Rio Grande country from the inroads of the Indians and cow thieves; and thus encourage the trade between this country and Mexico. This looks like coming down a peg or two, on the part of this chief. A few months since he was endeavoring to inflame his men, by fiery proclamations, to come on here and drive us "rebels" out of the country. Now it seems he can treat with us.' —The Texas Centinel (Austin), June 15, 1841.

ing aptitude flying tests by means of the Sinclair Trainer supplementary to the company's lubrication activities in connection with the development of aircraft engines and air transportation in the United States. 'More than twenty-five per cent of the air transport planes in this country are Sinclair lubricated,' Mr. Lowe said.

'By charting the reactions of wings for the first time in the thousands of people trying their Sinclair Flight Trainer,' Mr. Lowe continued, 'Sinclair has found that the best aptitude for flying has been shown by young men between the ages of eighteen and twenty-three.

'And strangely enough, next best on the list are not slightly older or younger men than those in the first classification but young girls between the ages of nineteen and twenty. This certainly speaks well for the fair sex,' Mr. Lowe concluded.

The Low Down FROM HICKORY GROVE

In our U. S. A. we manage to keep in a lather—winter and summer. A few years ago they stirred us up by saying the country was bogged down on account everything was over-built—too many factories and too many everything. Now there is too little of everything, and persons like Mr. Morris from out there in Nebraska, they are saying the Government has gotta get busy and build—build everything—factories, power-houses, etc. etc.

But if you stop now to inquire about why we were lulled into a state where we figured we were over-equipped, instead of unprepared, you are a traitor or most any name they can think up as a slogan to shame you. But we gotta play ball now with the ones who lulled us—or we will all wake up as a dead pigeon.

But we can do one thing from now on; we can keep one eye peeled and one ear to the ground while we are bending our back at the oar.

If we let Socialism sneak in the back door, we got nothing on Germany, or vice-versa—and can call off the war, before the shootin' starts.

Yours with the low down, JO SERRA

Attention; Boys and Girls

Prepare to make money and at the same time be of service in the nation's Defense Program. A father was in our office a few days ago to arrange for the enrolling of his daughter who was graduating from high school and he remarked:

'This is a splendid time for a young man or woman to attend a business school and secure their business training for it looks like there is going to be plenty of good positions for them.'

This father was right. We are receiving more calls each week for Bryne graduates than we can supply.

Get specialized training for a good position. Our courses are complete and thorough. ### NARCOTICS TAKEN IN PANHANDLE ROBBERIES

Panhandle and Federal officers were hot on the trail this week of a group of daring narcotic thieves, who committed daylight robberies and burglaries to obtain narcotics from drug stores in several cities last week.

The fugitives extended their activities into Clarendon Thursday night, when they broke into Norwood Pharmacy and looted the store's supply of narcotics. Drugs valued at more than $25 were taken in the raid, which was accomplished after entrance was gained to the building through the skylight.

On the same day, a daylight robbery in which a quantity of morphine was stolen was successful at a Pampa drug store. Two men worked the robbery, one of them holding the proprietor's attention at the front of the store while a confederate cleaned out the store narcotics case.

What was believed to have been an attempt to pull off a daylight robbery by the two thieves failed at the Douglas & Goldston Drug store here Thursday. A man answering to the description of one of the men involved in the Pampa robbery bought a corn pad at the store, then asked permission to go to the back of the store to apply the pad. No drugs were taken, however, and it is believed that the thief was unable to locate the narcotics case in the pre-

A. which include "Tom Thumb Wedding" and "Ferdinand The Bull", and lunch hour at the grammar school.

Views from a large number of Clarendon's flower garden, scenes of devastation wrought by the cyclone, views of the Donley County Fat Stock Show, and of Donley County's wild flowers are also included in the reel.

George Nonwood, who underwent a major operation in an Amarillo hospital Tuesday, is reported to be improving rapidly.

Thursday night was apparently a busy one for the burglars, who also are believed to have been responsible for the burglary of a Memphis drug store. Again, a quantity of narcotics was the only merchandise reported missing.

REGISTRATION DAY PLANS ANNOUNCED

State Director of Selective Service, General J. Watt Page, in announcing the second registration of young men eligible for military training on July 1, said this week that local boards and their assistants would handle the registration in most sections of the State.

"Most of the local organizations, as well as individuals, who assisted in the first registration last October have volunteered their services for the second registration, Gen. Page said. "Texas has been fortunate in the patriotic response of both organizations and individuals in this connection."

New forms are being sent to all local boards since slight changes have been made in the procedure since the first registration last fall.

General Page indicated that there would be approximately 65,000 men registered in Texas on July 1. Registration will be conducted between the hours of 7:00 a. m. and 9:00 p. m., he said.

Donley County men subject to registration July 1 must appear at the Clarendon board office for registration, George Ryan, local board secretary, has announced. Only one registration place will be needed it is thought, to handle about 100 men who will be subject to registration.

Mrs. Guy Wright and son, Guy Alden, and Mrs. E. C. Herd attended the rodeo at Memphis Tuesday.
