Rodeo And Celebration Most Successful In Event's History

The rodeo, carnival, and celebration sponsored by the Lions Club here the Third and Fourth of July were the most successful events of this nature ever held in Clarendon, according to J. R. Gillham, general chairman of the celebration. The largest entry list and the largest crowds ever to attend a rodeo in Clarendon were present for the celebration.

Beginning with the dance on the night of July 2nd, and continuing throughout the entire celebration, every feature was an outstanding success. Final figures are not available at this time, but the rodeo, lunch stand, carnival and dances will net the community center building fund approximately $3,000.

The dances were under the direction of R. E. Drennan, Mrs. Mildred Ritter, and Mrs. Katherine Bugbee, and a large crowd attended each of the nights of July 2nd, 3rd, and 4th. Dee Lowry and his hard working committee served lunch and drinks to thousands of people throughout the celebration. George Trout's carnival committee were busy throughout the Third and Fourth. The committee for parking space at the rodeo headed by Wm. Patman sold all of the available space before the rodeo opened for the first day.

C. B. Morris' gate committee did a very nice job of handling the crowd. H. T. Burton's committee on caring for the grounds after the rodeo watered the field and had it in excellent shape on the 5th. Clyde Wilson's committee for arranging the grounds had the rodeo pens and all material arranged properly for the rodeo.

Many ranchers, local town people, and others cooperated in every way possible to make the big undertaking a success.

New City Well Helps Relieve Water Shortage

The City Commission has announced that the critical water shortage here was over and that there was plenty water for yards and gardens now. They wish to express their appreciation for the cooperation of the citizens during the critical shortage experienced last week.

One of the items which relieved the shortage was the new city water well which was put into operation last week. The well was drilled by Leonard Reed a few weeks ago and it was only last week that the commission was able to locate a pump to operate the well. The new pump is of the irrigation type which is used on the plains for irrigation and is termed more of an experiment by the city here. If it proves successful over a period of time, it will be of great benefit to our city, for the installation and operating cost is much lower than the old type wells which have been supplying all the water. The new pump is located near the Johnson Machine Shop and a four inch pipe carries the water from the pump into the main line.

S. degrees at the University of Texas in 1938 and 1940 respectively and has subsequently done distinguished work in chemical laboratory for both the sulphur and petroleum industries in Texas. Teaching at the University of Arkansas for one year led him by devious paths to Yale University as instructor in Chemical engineering where he is also candidate for the D. Eng. degree.

Let it come - we can always use it whether we like it or not.

When it starts raining, it seems that it can do the job pretty easy and more often.

The blustery cloud which arrived here early this morning netted .90 of an inch of rain according to the official weather station at the airport.

Being so near press time, we were unable to check the fall over the entire county but by looking at the cloud, it looked as if a good portion of the county received some of the much needed moisture.

Charles Reed, Donley County Agent, reports that farm and ranch owners attending public hearings at Clarendon and Hedley last Saturday were in favor of Soil Conservation District program for Donley County.

Howard Goss, Field Representative, State Soil Conservation Board was in charge of the hearing. Mr. Goss fully explained the soil conservation program. He pointed out the benefits, and quoted the State Law, which prohibits the district from levying taxes, voting bonds, or forcing anyone to comply or enter into soil conservation district. Mr. Goss stated that soil conservation was a voluntary set up, and that a majority of the resident land owners of Donley County would have to "vote" the district in. He listened to the testimony offered by the land owners present indicating the need of soil conservation work in Donley County; their interest in soil conservation work, and to determine if District is set up, would the land owners participate in soil conservation program. Not a single voice was raised in opposition to Soil Conservation District program. Every one was impressed and indicated the need of Soil Conservation work, and their desire to participate.

The State Conservation Board will meet at Temple on July 16, and this office will be advised whether or not sufficient interest and need was presented at hearings June 30 to justify setting up Soil Conservation District in Donley County by submitting plan to Donley County resident land owners.

P. C. Bennett and Quentin Williams, Soil Conservation Service, informed the group the benefits that SCS could offer District. P. G. Haines, College Station; Cliff Davis, local Farm Security Supervisor; Rayburn Smith, Sec. Treas. Farm Loan Ass'n., and John Gillham, Vocational Agriculture instructor and Secretary Clarendon Chamber of Commerce, attended hearings and were in favor of Soil Conservation District.

A rain, measuring from shower proportion to three inches, fell over most of the county late Monday afternoon benefitting growing crops to a great extent. This was the first rain of any amount for some parts of the county since the growing season began, and will allow many farmers to plant cane and other quick crops that will make before frost.

The Goldston community reported approximately 2 inches, and the McKnight section on the east side of the county reported the heaviest fall of around three inches. The fall was estimated at one-half inch here in Clarendon.

Mr. and Mrs. Rex Jones who spent the 4th with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Blocker, have left for their home at Dallas.

Your Congressman Says . . .

The United States has had inflation since the war began. Prices have fluctuated rather wildly in many instances but on the whole the government price control system, which admittedly has numerous defects, has still worked much better in this country than in most places I had an opportunity to visit and observe. The most glaring example of inflation at its worst exists in Greece. I priced a pair of sandals seen in a shop window. No one in this country would have looked at them a second time because the sole was made from an old rough discarded tire casing with two straps of artificial leather. This pair of so-called sandals cost at the then rate of exchange $50. I priced a pair of fairly good men's shoes which were handmade because the Nazis left the Greeks with very little machinery of any kind. The storekeeper quoted a price of $150. I journeyed through the public market in Athens and saw the natives bargaining and buying what they could under the terrific price schedule which prevailed. One native had a hen— which obviously was a sick hen, for which he asked $20. He half-way apologized for this high price by pointing out that the hen was about to lay an egg, and eggs were very valuable in their own right.

Prices were very high in all countries I visited except Germany. Prices were sagging there. All stores in the smaller German towns still left standing had been ordered closed by the American military government. I saw very little trading or commerce of any kind going on in Germany.

The British seemed to have controlled their inflationary tendencies fairly well and one way this was done was by increasing the tax rates which were extremely high.

In France prices were also very high. During the German occupation the Nazis kept the French money presses rolling day and night with the result that there was three times more currency in circulation under the Nazi regime than France ever had in her most prosperous years. Food and clothes and practically everything else is very scarce in France. Under those conditions black markets are flourishing. The Army has set up a number of post exchanges for members of the American forces where they can buy such things as perfumes, handbags, jewelry, and other things which they want either for themselves or to send back home to the members of their families. It might be of interest to point out that many French women have volunteered to assist a number of our organizations in helping the boys wrap their packages for shipment back home.

While the French rate of exchange is obviously not equitable to the Americans over there, additional steps have been taken to correct these inequities to some degree. Another example is illustrated when the Army took over the Grand Hotel in Paris which is one of the biggest hotels in Europe. This place is thrown open to all members of the Allied forces where they can buy a good meal for ten francs, which is twenty cents, get a nice room where royally used to sleep for 40 cents a day. And they can play pingpong, dance, or even get a dish of good old American ice cream—with chocolate. This is one of the most popular places in all of Europe and the boys seem to thoroughly enjoy all the privileges offered. In addition there are numerous USO and Red Cross establishments scattered in or around Paris. One thing the boys would like to do is to go up on the Eiffel Tower. However, when I was there the Army was using the top of this tremendous structure as a radio station. The Champs - Elysees is always crowded with American soldiers. The Arc de Triomphe, Cathedral of Notre Dame, War Building, Latin Quarter, Sorbonne, Versailles and many other points of interest were very popular with our boys also. And they all seemed to be thoroughly enjoying the conducted tours.

LIBRARY NOTES

By Mrs. C. A. Burton
Literary awards are always interesting—and two of especial interest from year to year are the Newberry and Caldecott Medals—the first for the best story for children, the other for the most beautiful American picture book. Frederick Melcher, an eighteenth century bookseller and publisher, established the Newberry Award and Children's Book Week, which has been observed since 1922.

Randolph Caldecott was an English illustrator whose illustrations in the middle of the nineteenth century brought new vigor and freshness to children's books. He was one of the first to take advantage of improved printing processes, which made for brighter and truer colors. Children's books of the present day are often beautiful. The award this year went to "Prayer For a Child" by Rachel Field for the Caldecott Medal.

At last a librarian of Congress to take the place of Archibald MacLeish has been chosen. Luther H. Evans of Texas has been confirmed by the Senate. The new librarian plans extended service to other libraries. He says he plans to secure books which have been printed in Europe during the war, and to help in re-establishing some of the libraries abroad. He explains that the Japanese made a complete job of destruction of the libraries in the Philippines and that we are helping to repair them now.

David Russell, co-chairman of the S.M.U. speech department, has been appointed poet laureate of Texas by a joint committee of the House and Senate of the state legislature. He has been selected to hold the laureateship for two years.

The fourth annual Thomas Jefferson Award for the best story by a southern author went to Ben Lucien Burman for the novel, "Rooster Crows for Day."

RED CROSS VOLUNTEER SERVICE HOME SERVICE
By Mrs. C. A. Burton

Notifications of liberated prisoners of war in Europe sent by Red Cross are about completed; through May 31st, 25,483 had been sent.

An attempt is being made to get more accurate figures on the number of prisoners and civilian internees in the Far East. The trend shows a marked increase in the number of reported civilian internees. Heretofore, the best estimate was around 1000; now data received from the Office of the Provost Marshal General indicates that they have listed over 3000 civilian internees. Dr. Marcel Junod and Miss Margheurite Straehler have completed arrangements for their assignment in the Far East by the International Red Cross. A request was made for 10 tons of standard food parcels to be delivered to them at Manchouli, on the Russian border. An attempt will be made to have these food parcels forwarded from Vladivostok.

Medical supplies for the Far East are being assembled, including 10,000 pairs of spectacles and one million mixed surgical dressings, besides the medicines. These supplies are being prepared for the next shipment.

Prisoner of War camp at Shanghai, China, in which 426 American Servicemen are officially held by Japan, is being moved to an undisclosed location in North China. The new location is believed to be near Hoten, Manchuria.

Miss Lucile James is attending summer school at S.M.U., Dallas.

IT'S GREAT TO GET BACK FROM NATURE

POISON IVY, mosquitoes, ants, sunburn, rain—
Roughing it on a camping trip is great stuff. For a week or so. Then you begin to long for the comforts of home.

A good light to read by... a hot shower... your electric razor... an electric range... and, of course, your radio.

It's surprising the number of every-day conveniences made possible by electricity. You take them for granted—until you have to get along without 'em.

The big reason why you forget 'em is because electric service is so good and cheap. Electricity is still available at low pre-war prices. There have been no shortages.

And you can be sure there will be plenty of power for the post-war electric era—thanks to the practical experience and sound business management of America's light and power companies.

Listen to "THE SUMMER ELECTRIC HOUR" with Robert Armbruster's Orchestra and guest stars. Every Sunday afternoon, 3:30, CWT, CBS.

MRS. LENA ANTROBUS HONORED WITH POEM

At the recent meeting of the "Women's Society of Christian Service", in addition to flowers presented to Mrs. Lena Antrobus, a poem was composed by Mrs. J. T. Patman in her honor.

A tribute today we would like to give

To the one who among us the longest has lived.

Life is so precious to us all,

To count it by years might the bravest appall.

So count your years by the service you've done,

Thus counted I'm sure we would always stay young.

So to our oldest member we can say—

We thank you for what you have meant each day.

For the life you have lived for your friendliness too.

So don't get old, whatever you do.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to extend our heartfelt thanks to our many friends for their sympathy to us in the death of our husband, father, son and brother. The beautiful floral offerings and the cards and letters of sympathy were beautiful notes of friendship to us. May God's richest blessings be with you.

The Mosley Family.

Mrs. W. C. McDonald and daughters Janice and Myrne of Plainview visited relatives and friends the week end and returned home Monday.

Fat-Salvage Bee To Aid in Licking National Fat Shortage

It's been ages since we had an old-fashioned "bee" in these parts, but just as we've always pitched in to help a neighbor, so must we pitch in for our country. To help make hundreds of battlefields and home-front essentials, more used fats are needed than are on hand. City folks are trying to make up the deficit of over 1,300,000,000 pounds. But their fats aren't enough.

Women in small cities, towns and rural districts must also save every drop of fat. Not just big amounts. But scraps of plates, meat trimmings. Melt them down once a week. Your butcher will give you up to 4¢ and 2 red points a pound. If you have any difficulty, call Home Demonstration or County Agent.

FREE BANGS TESTS

Dr. Guy Porter, Government Veterinary, has furnished the county agent with application forms for farmers and ranchers desiring to co-operate with the government in control of Bangs Disease. This is a new control and eradication program that has replaced the "Test and Slaughter" method that has been in operation for the past several years.

CALFHOOD VACCINATION

The fundamentals are:

1. Make application at county agents office.
2. All female cattle on farm must be blood tested by government veterinary. There is no charge for this service. Cattle reacting to test are classed as carriers of Bangs even though the cattle have been vaccinated for Bangs. Bangs Reactors are branded, but the owner may keep reactors on the farm as long as he desires. When the Bangs reactors are sold, they must be sold thru an approved slaughter house so as not to be used for resale.

3. All female calves, 4 months to 8 months of age will be vaccinated by Gov't. Vet. No charges will be made for vaccine or vaccination by the government veterinary. Female calves vaccinated at this age seldom contract Bangs disease, and by the time that they are of milking age, the blood stream will not react to blood test. Cows vaccinated with Bangs vaccine will not have bangs, but will react to bangs test, and since no official government records are available, cows vaccinated for Bangs are classed as Reactors and branded.

4. All cattle brought to place after control program is in operation must be blood tested by owner and only Bangs free cattle will be permitted to be added to herd.

Some states have laws enforced that requires every head of cattle to be bangs free before they can be sold or shipped. This includes white face steer calves, and reliable veterinarians insist that it is impossible for male calves or bulls to be bangs carriers. Bangs disease is found only in the udder and sex glands of the female. It is not in the blood stream as so many believe.

CALFHOOD VACCINATION OF ALL HEIFER CALVES WILL STAMP OUT BANGS. IF ALL PRODUCERS WILL CO-OPERATE AND ANNUALLY VACCINATE THEIR CALVES.

Calfhood vaccination will only cost about 40 cents per calf to immunize her for life. The loss of one calf from bangs would pay vaccination costs for all heifers for many years. If you participate in Gov't. Bangs Control Program the service is Free.

Whether you participate in Gov't Bangs program or not, let's start vaccinating all heifer calves between 4 and 8 months of age to prevent Bangs. For further information contact your county agent.

Mr. and Mrs. Vada Carpenter and daughter Juanita visited relatives at Goodnight Sunday.

AMENDMENTS TO FEDERAL FARM LOAN ACT TO AID AGRICULTURE

Rayburn L. Smith, Secretary-Treasurer of the Donley County National Farm Loan Association, on his return Friday, July 6, from a meeting in Amarillo of secretary-treasurers in this part of the state, said that amendments to the Federal Farm Loan Act will provide improved long-term credit service to agriculture.

"The amendments permit Land Bank loans of 65 percent of the normal agricultural value of a farm or ranch," he said. "The legislation also permits the Land Bank under certain conditions to purchase notes and mortgages from the Federal Farm Mortgage Corporation. This would reduce the interest rate on Land Bank Commissioner loans acquired by the Land Bank from 5 percent to the Land Bank's rate of 4 percent, and also give the borrower the advantage of having only one creditor."

"Other provisions in amendments to the Farm Loan Act will speed up closing of loans through the association on long-term Land Bank loans. These betterments are the result of continuous effort by the associations and the Land Bank to improve their service to agriculture. During the past two years the Donley County Association received $16,089.00 in dividends from the Land Bank, of which $12,237.75 was put into the association's reserves and $3,851.25 was paid to farmers and ranchers in this territory in stock dividends."

TAKE A QUICK LOOK AT A

"VANISHING AMERICAN"

This car may have disappeared by the time you finish reading!

Every 17 Seconds (much less time than it takes to read this ad) another vitally needed car breaks down—so far beyond repair that it is gone forever.

This wouldn't be so serious if all of us lived within walking distance of our jobs. But we don't. And all you have to do is look at the acres of cars parked outside any big war plant to realize how much America's war effort depends on automobile transportation!

That's why, with 5000 cars a day going into the scrap heap, all of us have plenty to worry about. That's why Uncle Sam says, "Care For Your Car For Your Country!"

And it's not hard to do—especially with your Phillips 66 Service Man standing by to help you. Because he has a special Tire-Saving and Car-Saving Plan for motorists like you. If you'll take your car to him regularly he'll check your tires—look out for cuts, bruises, and nails; warn you when re-capping is necessary; see that the air-pressure is right.

He'll take a regular look at your battery, cooling system, and air filter. He'll help discover the little troubles before they become big ones. And your Phillips 66 Service Man will tell you it's a mighty good idea to have a complete lubrication job done regularly—for it's often those unseen parts of a car that cause trouble.

So for complete car-saving service, stop at your nearest Phillips 66 Shield . . . the sign of famous Phillips 66 Gasoline and Phillips 66 Motor Oil.

MOOS OF THE MOMENT

BY UNCLE BOB

of the Kraft Dairy Farm Service

Remember the old "meller-dramers" way back when, and how the crust old man drove the heroines out in a hizzard? I can get up a lot of sympathy, too, for a calf turned out to shift for itself.

Some folks turn a calf out to pasture with little care, as soon as it is through milk feeding. If you want the youngster to turn into a top producer, however, you'll pay more attention to its care and feeding.

Purdue University recommends keeping calves out of pasture until they are four months old. After they are weaned, and until four months of age, feed them good forage and four pounds of grain daily.

Then they may be pastured but should get three pounds of grain daily until a year old. If they are on good pasture or have high quality roughage they will not need grain supplement until freshening time.

This is one of the many advantages of fall-dropped calves. By the time they are at the proper age, spring pastures are ready and they can be moved into proper feeding without delay.

It is best to keep young heifers away from the rest of the herd. They need plenty of water and should have shade during hot weather.

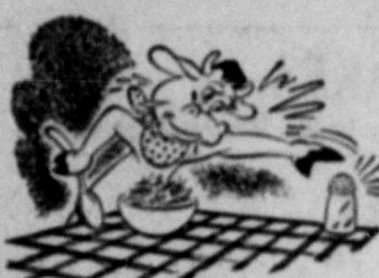

"Cool and collected" is the watchword for dairy farmers this year. Keeping milk cool is one of the most important things for the dairyman to do. The way dairymen are collecting their share of War Bonds completes the slogan very nicely.

This being July, I can't help but start singing my favorite song again—"Get it Cool Quick." The faster you get the temperature of milk down below 60 degrees the less chance there is for the milk to go to waste.

If milk stays warm, bacteria increase at a tremendous rate, but they increase slowly at temperatures below 60 degrees.

Cold running water is the ideal way to cool a can of milk. If you do not have enough milk to require a cooling tank, then a barrel cooler will solve your problem.

The following bulletins show you how to make a simple cooler of this type: Circular 274, Alabama Polytechnic Institute, Auburn, Ala., and Leaflet 191, Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind.*

Even a cow with a boarding house reach cannot get all the salt it needs unless the stuff is made available. Salt, says the University of Wisconsin, is the one mineral most likely to be missing in livestock rations.

Most of us think of salt as something that makes food taste better, but actually it is a most important item in your diet and the diet of your cows. All you have to do is eliminate salt entirely from your dairy rations, and watch milk production go down and animal condition get poor.

The extension experts recommend adding one-per cent salt to the grain ration and in addition put a supply of salt out where the cows can get it whenever they choose.

When cows are on pasture, a salt box should be placed in the barnyard or in the pasture, and kept well filled at all times. Loose (granulated) salt is preferred over block salt, but either is much better than none.

The week of July 22 has been set aside as National Farm Safety Week. Fingers which get tangled up with a piece of machinery or a foot which got in the way of an ax, aren't much help around a dairy farm. Another important thing to remember is to put poisons used for sprays, out of the reach of the youngsters.

Feminine Soldier On Home Front

The mother on the home front who bravely fights on against the agonies of despair is a brave soldier on a "battlefield" that is little known except to the nearest neighbors. For her there will be no gathering of notables and presentation of medals though she be most deserving.

Such a woman is Mrs. Sam Younger who resides with her nine children some nine miles north of Hedley. The husband and father, who saw service in World War I, had been ill for months. Late last week he was admitted to the Veterans hospital at Amarillo. Not many hours later, the wife was notified that her husband could live but a few hours. Despite poverty and many personal hardships, the wife made the journey as best she could to Amarillo.

Anxious about her little ones, she returned Sunday and the eldest daughter of 16 went to remain with her father who passed away Monday night, and was buried at Hedley next day.

When the mother returned to Hedley Sunday night, in getting to her home she had to walk several miles, but she just had to get back to her babies whom she knew to be without food except for a small portion of meal.

She found them well and happy at the mother's return. During the night, she isolated herself in a room and alone, gave birth to a male babe. Dr. Cox of Hedley was called next day and stated that both were doing nicely.

Jess Stiles and Will Chamberlain took an interest in the dire needs of the family and brought aid to them. R. E. Drennan of Clarendon county chairman of the Red Cross, secured the assistance of Mrs. Clyde Bridges of Hedley who brought help from the "greatest mother of them all"—your Red Cross.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Pounds and daughter Jerry of Ft. Worth, Mrs. Allie Pounds of Dallas, Mrs. Albert Sprinkles of Wichita Falls spent the week end with Mrs. T. Jones and Miss Cora Ferris.

After spending the 3rd & 4th with his daughter and family Mr. and Mrs. Homer Estlack, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Drennan and Mrs. Glen Drennan and small daughter Sandra returned to their homes at Electra Thursday.

Mrs. Chester Martin left Sunday for Crowell to be with her mother, Mrs. M. J. Traweeck who is in the hospital there from a broken hip when she fell some weeks ago. She is seriously ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Baird from the Rowe Ranch and Buddy and Sonny Baird of Wichita Falls spent the 4th with Mr. and Mrs. Bill Crawford.

Guests over the fourth of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Elkins were Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Kelley, Bill Kelley and little son, Mr. and Mrs. Burdette Kiern and son and Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Elkins, all of Pampa; Johnny Rex McClellan and two daughters, Cula Jo and Billy Mae, Billy Joe McFall of Turkey and Mr. and Mrs. Lu McClellan of Ashtola.

Mr. Neal Bogard is doing well after a spinal operation Friday morning at the Harris Memorial Hospital at Ft. Worth. Mrs. Ralph Grady Jr. and Mrs. Harve Smith were with him.

Joyce Smith and brother O. L. Smith visited relatives at Panhandle the week end. O. L. remained for a longer visit, Joyce returning home Monday night.

Mrs. J. W. Sullivan and daughters visited in the C. T. McClenny home over the week end.

J. L. McMurtry and Mr. Elkins attended the funeral of Mr. John Carpenter at McLean Monday.
