A Common Paper for Common People

Soil Conservation District Now Tentatively Approved For Donley County

Charles Reed, County Agent, has been notified by V. C. Marshall, State Conservation Office, Temple, Texas, that the farmers and ranchers of Donley County have proved their need and interest in conservation of the soil and moisture. This testimony was presented to Howard Goss, Field Agent of the State Board by the Donley County landowners at Public hearings held at Clarendon and Hedley on June 30th.

Before the Soil Conservation District can be officially recognized and set up a majority of resident land owners of Donley County must indicate their approval by "voting for the District." The resident land owners include man and wife as eligible voters. Absentee land owners (own land in Donley) live outside of Donley County are not eligible to vote. Insurance companies, banks, trust companies or other types of corporations even though they are land owners in Donley County, are not eligible to vote. After the Soil Conservation District is set up, they can make application to the local office and receive full benefits of Conservation aid the same as resident land owners or operations.

Bear in mind that the primary function of the Soil Conservation District is to provide technical aid and assistance to Donley County farmers and ranchers to conserve the land and water, to protect and build up the land by terracing, strip cropping, tanks, re-seeding idle land to pasture grass, etc. This work is voluntary, and no one is forced to comply or enter into Soil and Water Conservation program. The district cannot vote bonds or levy taxes to carry out program and it cannot force anyone to enter the Soil Conservation program or to carry out the plans. It is strictly a voluntary soil and water conservation program for the benefit of the land, the community, county, state, nation, and the future generation as well as for the present owners and operators.

This office will take every possible means to notify each resident land owner of date set for "voting in" the Soil and Water Conservation District. Donley County needs all of the Soil and Water Conservation aids and benefits that we can obtain. All of the technical aid and assistance will be furnished to co-operators without cost by the Soil Conservation Service. The SCS will set up office in Clarendon to provide prompt service and aid to Donley County co-operators, and the whole set up will be supervised by Donley County land owners selected or "voted in" by you.

The Junior team lost their game to Hedley by a score of 16-6, but showed up well considering what little practice they had received.

A good crowd witnessed the games here Sunday and a number of fans are expected to go along with the teams to Hedley this coming Sunday.

MEMBERS OF Texas & Panhandle Press Associations

One of the greatest stories of the war concerns two friends from Texas. Here it is, as told in TIME magazine:

A slender, 19-year old Marine reported for duty last week at the carpenter shop of Camp Pendleton, Calif. For one of the mightiest small fights in World War II, Pfc. Andrew Jackson (Duke) Carter, Jr. of Paducah, Texas had only one mark to show; he had a deep red scar on his right hand.

In Mare Island Naval Hospital, 450 miles to the north, lay 22-year-old Sergeant William Geo. Harrell, Carter's best friend and doughty ally in the fight. Sergeant Harrell had no hands.

The night they made Marine history, Carter and Harrell were riflemen of Company A of the 5th Division's 28th Marines—the regiment that planted the flags on Mt. Suribachi. It was March 2, long after Suribachi had been secured, and the 28th had moved into the line along the steep ravines of northern Iwo.

Before dark the two men dug their foxhole. One slept an hour while the other watched; then they swapped.

About 5 a. m. Harrell was awakened by rifle fire near his ear. By the light of the yellow star shells he saw Carter firing away at four Japs who had tried to filter through the line. They lay where they fell, ten feet away.

More Japs came. Harrell killed two with his carbine, at 25 yards. Another Jap popped into the ravine below. Carter got him. Then his Garand jammed.

While Pfc. Carter ran back a few yards to get another rifle from the company command post, the enemy started tossing hand grenades. One landed inside the foxhole. Harrell tried to find it and throw it back. It blew off his left hand. His left thigh was broken, too, and he bled from many wounds made by fragments of the grenade.

As Carter came back into the foxhole, two Japs charged. Carter fired twice, but his new rifle jammed, too. He grabbed a Jap rifle, yesterday's souvenir, and impaled one of the attackers on its bayonet. The other Jap swung his saber, split Carter's hand. But Bill Harrell still had one hand left. He raised the carbine, shot the saber-waving Jap.

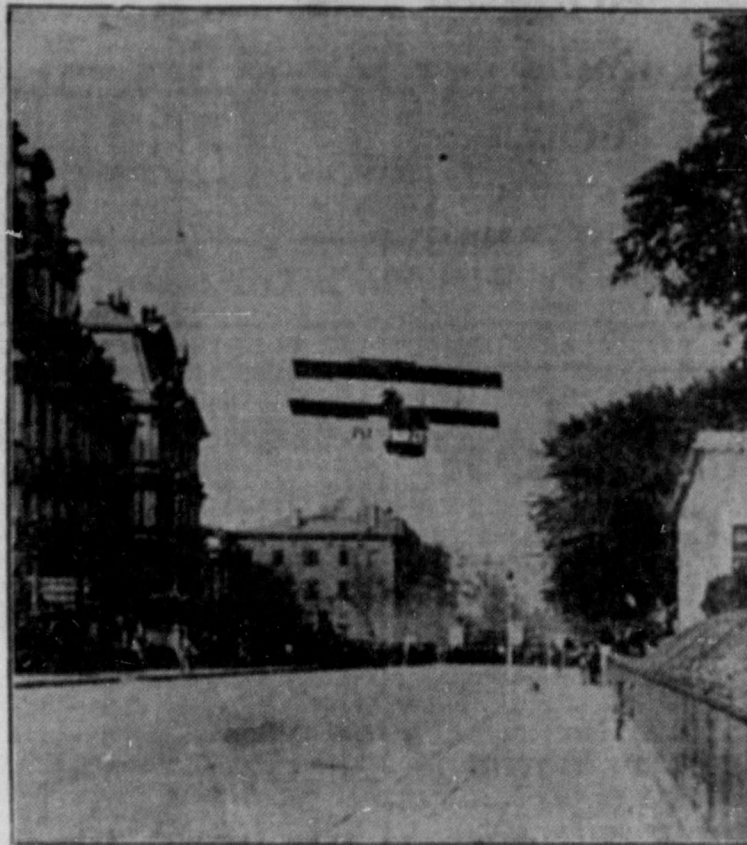

Carter ran back to get another rifle. While he was gone two Japs got into the foxhole. Harrell seemed to be dying, so the Japs tapped a grenade, left it beside his head. But Harrell had a little left. He pushed the grenade away from him with his remaining hand. The explosion took his hand off. It also killed the Japs.

When Duke Carter returned, the Japs had given up trying. As Bill Harrell was carried away he opened his eyes and muttered: "Get that saber for me." Carter got it, sent it home to his friend's mother in Mercedes, Texas.

After daylight other marines counted the dead Japs around the foxhole. There were twelve.

Keep this story. Show it to your friends. And read it again in October, when a solicitor from your local war chest asks for your contribution to the National War Fund. If it doesn't make you double the size of your check, nothing will!

WHEN PLANES LANDED IN WASHINGTON'S STREETS—On October 14, 1912, C. G. White (Farman) attracted thousands of spectators when he flew his biplane across Pennsylvania Avenue and came down in Executive Avenue between the White House and the State, War and Navy building (left).

LIBRARY NOTES

By Mrs. C. A. Burton

This quotation gives us something worth thinking about: "A house without books is like a house without windows, for through books you have the world at your finger tips. In a well balanced library you will find mystery stories to sharpen your wits and hold you spell-bound; Western stories to take you into the plains for breathless adventures, to make you relax after a hectic day, to get your mind off the current problems; Romance and Love stories to give you the thrills you may have missed to keep you young and give you a better understanding of your fellows; Travel to take you comfortably into far-off places and broaden your horizon; books which will improve your memory, and help you to get the most out of life."

All this leads to this list of new books, stragglers from an earlier order. Some are replacements; some new: "The U. P. Trail," "Sunset Pass," "Wildfire," and "The Rainbow Trail" by Zane Grey. Zane Grey did not write classics, but he surely did write readable stories, and we shall not see his like again. Two other westerns are "Red Clark, Range Boss," by Gordon Young, and "Gun King of Melted Rocks" by Randolph Hale. "Courage Has Eyes" is a sequel to "Bright Midnight" by Trumbull Reed. Both are Seeing-Eye Dog stories of thrilling interest; "Doctor Ellen" by Adele De Leeuw; "Earth and High Heaven," by Gwethalyn Graham—a best seller of unusual merit for many months; "Wilderness Champion" by Joseph Wharton Lippincott, a dog story for the boys; "Little Champion," a horse story for both boys and girls.

Mrs. Dale McGaugh returned to her home at Richmond, Calif., after a month visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Fitzgerald.

RED CROSS VOLUNTEER SERVICE HOME SERVICE

By Mrs. C. A. Burton

Public Law 118, approved July 2, 1945, extends for an additional 3 years all five-year level premium term insurance issued under the National Service Life Insurance Act on or before Dec. 31, 1945 and not exchanged or converted prior to that date to some other plan of insurance. Premiums changed for the additional period will be the same as for the original five-year period.

As the National Service Life Insurance Act went into effect Oct. 8, 1940, expirations would begin next October and continue to increase. The new law was to protect men who may be serving outside the U. S. and may not have the opportunity to convert their insurance before expiration. The three-year extension will take place automatically, without action on the part of the insured.

The Navy Department is discouraging campaigns for public contributions of Christmas package funds to send gifts to Navy men.

The Navy Department, in announcing the results of a survey made by the Navy Mail Service states that Navy men prefer above all else to receive letters, but that of gifts the ten preferred, in the order of their popularity are: photographs, canned snack foods, such as olives, sardines, nuts; books, writing cases or portfolios, service watches, good pipes, pens, engraved identification tags, waterproof wallets, cigarette lighters.

The five most disappointing articles to find in a package from home in the order of their unpopularity are candy, cake, cookies, fancy shaving kits, cigarettes. The reasons given were that the food is usually inedible upon arrival, that there is no way to carry and stow the toilet kits and that Navy men are issued an ample supply of cigarettes.

Sgt. Cleo Russell Writes Sister From Pacific

The following letter was written by Sgt. Cleo Russell to his sister, Miss Louise Russell of Pampa. They are son and daughter of Mr. Fred Russell of Clarendon. Sgt. Russell is located somewhere in the South Pacific.

"Dear Sis,

I have quite a stack of letters from you but I knew that this was coming up and they came in so fast that I held them over. I don't feel much like writing anymore and I do very little of it. After I get back to the States I think that I will stop it all together and let Charlene take over.

You talk about rain and you don't even know what it is. It hasn't stopped over here but just a few hours in several weeks. I mean rain and not the showers like you get there. I have web feet and gills. It won't be long before my fins are out or is that horns?

I don't know half of the people you talk about in your letters so you must remember that I haven't been there in over three and a half years and before that I was only there off and on.

Our cigarettes were late this time and I was on my last pack when we got them. We get four cartons a month so I manage to get by. I was lucky this time as I got two of Camels. The others are 10 Golds and I find them hard to take. I smoke my pipe a lot though so that helps. You should see some of the rands we get over here and the beer is even worse.

Lately we haven't done so bad though.

I am glad that A. W. is back. If he doesn't write me a letter I am going to wring his neck. Tell him that just before his 60 days are up he should wire his C.O. and ask for an extension. He may get it and it won't hurt to try. I will be damn lucky if I make it back by next year. They say there is a war on over here but I am so far back from it now that I wouldn't know. We used to be neighbors but those were the good old days.

(The A. W. mentioned above is A. W. Shoffit, a cousin, who was taken prisoner last December in Germany. He was freed in May.)

What kind of tubing shop do you have there and do you have much work? If you know the foreman you might be able to pick up some ideas on tools and such that I might be able to use. I have been doing that work for over two years now and I can still learn a lot. I had to teach myself to begin with but I think that I am pretty good now if I do say so.

I put down that address as a permanent one. We had to check up on all that stuff and I thought that yours would be as good as any. It would be easier to reach you than it would be Dad.

My address has been changed a little so that it doesn't take a page to write it now. I wish that you would see the Leader and see them as they still send it to Cpl. and to the old A.P.O. I told Dad to do it several months ago but I don't think he did.

That's all for now,
Love,
Bud"

Truck Load Limit Increased 5 Tons

The 10,000 pound increase in Texas truck load limit which will give a permanent load of 45,000 pounds, will result in a tonnage of approximately 20 per cent on the 20,000 vehicles operated by the Texas Trucking Industry. Lynn B. Shaw, General Manager of the Texas Motor Transportation Association, said today.

The new load limit becomes effective September 4, ninety days after adjournment of the legislature, and Shaw urged all truck owners to immediately register present equipment for the amount of gross tonnage expected to be hauled.

This will mean an additional $65.00 each on approximately 20,000 units, an increase in Annual Revenue of $1,300,000 to the Counties and State.

Shaw said the trucking industry had been operating under a great strain to effectively handle all war important materials and at the same time maintain maximum safety standards. He declared that 10 per cent of accidents on highways involving trucks had been due to inability to secure replacement parts and tires. From a maintenance standpoint, operators are expecting relief by early fall.

He pointed out that average truck life is now in excess of a quarter million miles, more than twice the average pre-war mileage. Shaw declared that although war demands had made this necessary, it is not economical to operate a fleet of motor trucks for that length of time.

An Amendment Concerning Old Age Pensioners

Old age pensioners in Texas stand to receive an average of $5.50 per month more than their present payments if a proposed constitutional amendment is passed, August 25, raising the ceiling from $15 per month to $20 per month. State legislators of Texas are pointing out.

Under the new arrangement, the solons say, the state could pay an average of $2.75 more to each of the 170,000 old persons on the rolls at present, and the figure would be matched by federal funds.

The state constitution now limits the total that may be paid to destitute children in one year to $1,500,000 and limits payments to needy blind to $15 per month, the law-makers explain.

Last year $3,000,000 was paid out for these two purposes, and should no increases be made for these two projects, there would be $32,000,000 a month for old people against approximately $26,000,000 now being used, or an increase of about $6,000,000.

The old age and other public welfare projects amendment will be voted on by Texas citizens August 25, at the same time three other amendments to the constitution are considered by the people of Texas.

Ever See Your Car BOTTOM- SIDE- UP?

Chances are, you haven't seen your car from this revealing position since the last time your modest Aunt Nellie lifted her skirts above her knees!

Brother, if you want to know the shocking facts of car-life, just sneak a look at your bus from underneath-up! And don't let a shiny hood fool you. It's what you usually can't see that can hurt you!

For instance, take that spring shackle, crummy and crusted with the mud and grime of miles of dusty roads . . . or that dry, rusty spring . . . or that tattered muffler, just hanging on by a thread . . . or that worn, bone-dry tie-rod.

There's plenty more you could see—plenty your Phillips 66 Service Station Man

DEEP-SEA BULB SCRUBS ITSELF

An underwater spotlight manufactured by the Westinghouse Lamp Division packs 1,000 watts inside a round glass bulb the size of a 40-watt decorative type bulb. If lighted in air, where there is no cooling water pressure, the lamp would fall in a few minutes. When the bulb is shaken, a thimbleful of tungsten crystal inside scrubs away the blackened deposit of burned filament, which collects much faster than usual because of the high wattage enclosed within such a relatively small area.

Sealed beam lamps which guide aircraft to safe night-time landings are 20 times more powerful than the sealed beam headlights which were introduced on American automobiles in 1940. To attain top reflectivity, the Westinghouse Lamp Division coats the reflector's inner surface with a vaporized aluminum film one-thousandth the thickness of human hair. MOOS OF THE MOMENT of the Kraft Dairy Farm Service

Even if you can't take a vacation, remember that your cows work pretty hard to help reach the national milk goal. They need a rest before freshening, to be sure they will be in good condition for next year's job.

Extension dairymen are uniform in strongly recommending that a cow should be dry for six weeks at least before freshening. This permits the cow to rest for the important job ahead and gives her a chance to build up her weight.

Alabama points out it may take two weeks or more to dry off a dairy cow, if you do it right. Milk flow may be cut down by lengthening the time between milkings and by leaving a considerable quantity of milk in each quarter. They suggest that when the volume falls below a gallon per day, to stop milking.

The amount and kind of feed a cow gets in its dry time has a most important bearing on the milk volume when the animal goes back on the milking list. Since many cows will be freshening in the near future, this seems a good time to remind you to study up on proper feeding methods.

You'll get some valuable feeding suggestions from Bulletin B-69, Extension Service, Texas A & M College, College Station, Tex., and I suggest you send for a copy as soon as possible.

summer months. Also stagnant, muddy water may contain harmful germs. Such water may cause milk to be ropery, too.

A water tank where you can keep a good supply of fresh water and where the cows can get at it whenever they want a drink is the best answer, if you do not have a clean stream or a clear pond or lake which provides good water for your dairy herd.

A fellow can put up with a skimpy serving of meat if he has healthy servings of fresh vegetables, a mound of potatoes and gravy and a good solid dessert. A cow feels much the same way. If your hay quality is not as high as you'd like, you can make up for this lack with corn silage.

Wisconsin says corn silage is right at the top when it comes to flavor and actual food value, if it is properly prepared. Corn silage can make the difference between good and poor health, if other feed is lacking in all the things a cow needs.

Most important is getting the silage put away at the right stage. If leaves have turned yellow and kernels are fully dented, such corn is past the right stage for silage. If kernels are still in the milk stage, the silage will be soggy and may not taste good to a cow.

Wisconsin recommends making corn silage when the kernels have just finished denting and when all or nearly all the leaves are green. It might be best to start making silage a few days before kernels have finished denting, since your job may last several days.

For a complete discussion of corn silage, you may want to get a copy of Circular 337, from the Extension Service, College of Agriculture, University of Wisconsin, Madison, Wis. It has a lot of helpful ideas.

National War Fund Radio Program

A state-wide radio program, to be broadcast by practically every Texas station Friday, August 10, will tell the story of National War Fund services being sent to our troops and allies as result of the 1944 Texas war chest campaign. Don Weldon, publicity director of the United War Chest of Texas, announced today.

The highly dramatic 30-minute air show will be broadcast from 9:30 to 10 p. m., from a Dallas studio, and will reach every town and county in Texas by way of a great all-station network created especially for the program, Weldon said. Stations in all parts of the state are cooperating to make the war chest show one of the greatest ever staged over the Texas air waves, he said.

With music by the famed 32-piece Eighth Service Command Band, and a script that carries listeners to every part of the world where National War Fund services go "For Our Own and Our Allies", the broadcast will give Texans an authentic picture of the work being done by their war chest dollars.

"Texans who contributed so generously to the war fund, through their local war chest organizations, should know just what their dollars are doing for our fighting men," the war chest announcement said. "The all-station broadcast will give that information in a highly dramatic and entertaining manner. We hope every Texan will hear the broadcast, and believe that every citizen of the Lone Star state will feel a great pride in the work made possible by Texas contributions to the National War Fund."

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Hopkins and children Cleta and Johnny from Dallas are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Spurgeon.

The last generation has been the most important in the history of electricity and worth ringing the bell for, because it's during this last era that the use of electricity in America has become so popular, so widespread, so useful, and so cheap.

It's during this last historic generation that most of our electric appliances have come into common use—electric refrigerators around 1925; radios around 1930; electric washing machines and vacuum cleaners in the early twenties; electric roasters and clocks around 1932; and so forth. Their economical use has been made possible through the lowered price you pay for electricity. For it's been during these same years that the price of your electricity has been coming down and has stayed down, even in wartime. For example, if you're the average user of electricity, you are now getting about twice the electricity you got fifteen years ago for the same money.

This taxpaying, business-managed company is proud to have brought you these benefits at a lower and lower cost. Only by hard work and farsighted planning have we been able to accomplish these results.

Sometimes young widows, aged parents, and orphans do not know they are eligible for benefits and lose money through delay in filing their claims.

In addition to the monthly old-age benefits payable to the insured worker himself at age 65 or after, the Federal Old-Age and Survivors Insurance system provides for monthly benefits to member of his family. Benefits are also payable to his family at his death, whatever his age.

A safe rule is this: When in doubt about your right to old-age and survivors insurance benefits, visit the local office of the Social Security Board. No matter where you work or live, you're probably not very far from a Social Security Board field office or from one of its part-time service points.

The Social Security Board field office servicing this area is located at Amarillo.

Burlington Lines' Sensational New Type Passenger Car "Vista Dome" To Come Through Here August 14

V. LITTLEFIELD HURT
Mr. Littlefield was painfully injured while branding on his farm northeast of town Tuesday. A rope on which he was pulling broke, throwing him against a tractor-plow, severely injuring his back which will probably confine him for several days. The exact extent of his injuries had not been learned at this time.

E. L. Lewis was here from Lella Lake on business Tuesday.

your benefit as well to provide good farm and ranch lands for the future generations by taking care of the present land. This is good business for you, the community, county, state and nation.

The Donley County Soil Conservation District will be under the supervision of Donley County farm and ranch land owners elected by you. The Soil Conservation Service will provide office in Clarendon and will have Soil and Water Experts to aid Donley County farmers and ranchers to terrace land, re-seed pastures or idle fields, tanks, wells, water systems, weed control, brush control, and other beneficial or practical soil and water conservation plans that are agreed upon by the co-operators. All of these services and more are provided to you without cost. WATCH FOR DATE AND PLACE OF ELECTION FOR WE NEED SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT.

Burlington Lines' sensational new type passenger car, referred to generally as the "Vista Dome" because of its new glass enclosed penthouse, will make its initial appearance in Texas next Monday, August 13th, in the Texas Zephyr, it was disclosed today by Robt. L. Hoyt, general passenger agent for Burlington Lines, Fort Worth.

On its initial southward trip over Burlington Lines' Colorado to Texas route the Vista Dome will leave Denver in the Texas Zephyr at 1:00 p. m. Sunday, the 12th, pass thru Dalhart, Amarillo and the other Texas Panhandle points during that evening and night to arrive in Fort Worth Monday morning at 7:20 a. m. At Fort Worth, the new type car will be placed in the Sam Houston Zephyr for a twilight trip from Fort Worth and Dallas thru Waxahachie and Corsicana arriving in Houston at 9:00 p. m. Monday evening.

The northward trip will be out of Houston in the Sam Houston Zephyr at 9:00 a. m. on Tuesday, the 14th, to Fort Worth, retracing its southward jaunt, where it again will be placed in the Texas Zephyr to continue on to Colorado, providing an afternoon trip thru Wichita Falls, Vernon, Childress, Clarendon and other Texas Panhandle towns and communities.

The Vista Dome has been in service for several weeks on the Burlington Lines in the Midwest and it also has made a trip to the Pacific Coast.

It provides two seat levels, one of which is a raised compartment built into the roof, the top and sides of which are laminated, heat and ray resisting glass. This air-conditioned "penthouse" which is reached by a short stairway from the main floor, contains 24 deep-cushioned seats where passengers, with heads and shoulders well above the train's roof line, may ride in luxurious comfort while enjoying a view forward and upward as well as to the sides and rear.

The car, which has been created from one of the Burlington's stainless steel, Zephyr-type coaches during the course of routine wartime reconditioning, embodies the outstanding feature of the startling "Astra-Liner" designs recently conceived by General Motors. The addition of the "Vista Dome" increases the seating capacity from 52 to 58 passengers.

This increase in seating capacity is a welcome addition, Hoyt said, because of the current heavy volume of wartime passenger traffic moving via railroad. On this Texas trip the Vista Dome will do its part in handling wartime traffic, since it will be in regular passenger service in the Burlington Lines' diesel-powered, streamline Zephyrs between Texas and Colorado.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT

When the State Board indicated that the land owners of Donley County were in need of and desired benefits of Soil and Water Conservation Aid this was based on information presented by Donley County land owners at Public hearings at Clarendon and Hedley on June 30 to agent of State Board.

The State Board has given Donley County the preliminary approval to go ahead and start to organize our Soil and Water Conservation District that includes only Donley County. Final approval will be given by the State Board if a majority of the RESIDENT LAND LORDS, which includes the wife as having the right to vote, vote in favor of Donley County Soil and Water Conservation District.

Plans are being completed now for the landowners of Donley County to express their desires for District Conservation Program. This office will take every possible means to notify each resident landowner when the date of the "Election" and places of "Voting" have been set.

Remember that this District can NOT levy taxes, vote bonds, or compel anyone to enter or carry out soil conservation plans. The whole program is voluntary, and the primary purpose is to protect the land, build it up for
