Health Notes

AUSTIN — "Please pass the pork" is a familiar sentence around many dinner tables these days, as cold weather approaches. A juicy roast pork or pork chops are dishes that can't be beat, according to many connoisseurs of meat. However, pork can be dangerous if it isn't cooked long enough. So, be sure that pork passes the test of thorough cooking before you put it on the table. Otherwise, trichinosis may result, said Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health officer.

Trichinosis is a big word, but the disease is easy to prevent. All you need to do is cook the meat until the pink color turns to white. When the change of color occurs, the meat is safe to eat. Farmers who raise hogs for sale as meat, and who feed them garbage, should cook the garbage first, or the meat may become contaminated. If butchered pork is stored at a temperature of five degrees above zero, Fahrenheit, for 20 days, trichinosis parasites should die, if there are any.

If a person eats a pork chop, for example, that contains trichinae, they are swallowed in the form of tiny capsules. In the intestines these capsules develop and discharge minute worms which are carried by the bloodstream to various parts of the body — settling in muscles, where after a period of time they become calcified and die.

What are the symptoms of trichinosis? Stomach upsets and muscular pains, a feeling of chilliness, sore throat, and sometimes considerable fever, are some of the signs. An acute attack of the illness lasts about one or two weeks. The disease has a low death rate, but recovery is fairly slow.

Mrs. Cal Merchant and Mrs. Calvin Merchant and son Richard returned home Friday from a two weeks visit at Dallas with relatives and with her sister, Mrs. J. M. Ozier at Temple. Mrs. Calvin Merchant and little Richard returned to their home at Hereford Saturday.

About 60 of the Clarendon people went to Memphis Sunday afternoon to see the play, "The Hasty Heart."

Paratroopers to Show

Loading of C-119 Plane

A detachment of crack paratroopers of the Army's 82d Airborne Division will demonstrate loading of personnel and equipment on the new C-119 cargo and troop transport plane as highlight of an air show at Hagerstown, Md., in March.

The occasion will be the formal inspection by the Air Force of the first C-119 aircraft to be turned over to it by the Fairchild Engine & Airplane Corporation. The new plane is the first of 136 C-119's being built for the Air Force by the Hagerstown firm. An improved version of the C-82 "Packet"—the armed services' first post-war transport plane—the C-119 is expected to meet more adequately the needs of combat organizations like the 82d Division in airborne operations. Greater payload capacity resulting from increased engine power is a main improvement embodied in the new transport.

Powered by two Pratt-Whitney Wasp Major engines with take-off ratings of 3,250 horsepower, the C-119 will carry a load of nine tons for 2,000 miles as compared with the C-82's five-ton payload for that approximate range.

The C-119's cargo capacity of over 3,000 cubic feet enables it to carry 42 fully equipped combat troops, plus 20 parachute supply bundles suspended from a monorail. Used as an ambulance plane, it can transport 36 litter patients with their attendants.

Increased window area in the plane's nose section provides improved pilot vision for formation flying. Windows on each side of the nose section at floor level below the pilot and co-pilot furnish better visibility for delivery of paratroops and parachute supplies.

In keeping with the armed services' policy of having the men who will use these planes in combat get acquainted with them early, a specially chosen group of 82d Division soldiers in January received a pre-view of the C-119 and the new XC-120 detachable-fuselage plane at Hagerstown during construction.

Questions and Answers

Q—I have an unused certificate of eligibility which I obtained from VA about a year ago. May I use it to enter a school under the GI Bill this coming January, even though I understand VA is issuing new types of certificates?

A—Yes. But before you use your certificate, check with your VA regional office to make certain the school and course are those you are permitted to enroll in under the law.

Q—How much can I borrow on my converted National Service Life Insurance policy which has been in force under the permanent plan for a little over a year?

A—You may borrow up to 94 percent of the cash value of your insurance and still keep it in force. Loan application forms may be secured from your VA office.

Q—I am taking vocational training under Public Law 16 for disabled veterans and find it difficult to progress as rapidly as others taking the same course. What happens if I fail my course?

A—Generally, VA will take special steps to enter you in another course in which there is every likelihood you will complete successfully. The situation depends on the facts and the circumstances of your case.

PLOWIN' Out the CORNERS
by Uncle Bob

Uncle Bob sends me a copy of his old Home-town paper. It is the Dunfermline Press, published in Dunfermline, Scotland, county of Fife; for hundreds of years this was the capitol of Scotland - - - Anyway, under the heading "A Texas Cowboy" was a boiled down version of our story about Uncle Bob, that appeared in the Amarillo Paper. And did it give us a thrill, and how we hope all of his old friends and relatives read it and write to Uncle Bob.

An unusual thing about these papers is the ads; every inch of the front and back pages are sold for ads. All the news is found inside. Think how mad we would be if we picked up our weekly paper and all over the front page were ads and more ads. But I guess we would get used to it after awhile. Thanks Uncle Bob for being so thoughtful to send the papers and for the nice letter and the translation of the hard words.

Mama says my last two or three columns sounds a little too preachy. I don't want it to sound that way. Maybe I will have to get some worse jokes to use along to kinda even things up. Anyway, I don't want to write just to entertain folks, even if I could. I would rather cheer some one up or, help the mto climb up out of a rut; help them to feel better, and think better thoughts. Maybe at that I have been too preachy lately; I'll try to be a little more ornery from now on.

Thanks to our good friend Mr. Nordyke for the buck-eyes. I'll keep them with me day and night hoping for the best. Thanks again, and if you get caught in Claude this Thanksgiving in a snow storm, come by to see us again.

Haven't signed up a new member lately in the Ain't Smoking Right Now Society. If you know someone who should have a membership card send in their name. We'll send them a card with our best wishes. Several people have suggested that the Society should have a big barbecue sometime. Reckon we ought to try it? Let us hear your ideas on the subject.

"Love your neighbor; but don't pull down your hedge"—Franklin Better is little with content, than much with contention—Franklin.

"The man who can't make a mistake can't make anything"—Lincoln.

"Kissing an unwilling pair of lips is as mean a victory as robbing a birds nest, and kissing too willing ones is about as unfragrant a recreation as making a bouquet out of dandelions"—Josh Billings - - - Anyway, Mama tells about a lady that she knew that was always making this statement; "Kissin' your sweetheart, Boy, oh boy, but kissin' your husband is just like kissin' a door facin'."

Again this week we have been so busy; not much time to think about something to write. Let us have some letters from the readers to help us out next week. If we don't get them I guess we can fall back again on Mama's book of quotations.

DuLaney's Have Blanks For K-F's $200,000 Contest

DuLaney Motor Co. today announced receipt of entry blanks in a $200,000 nationwide contest to name the new low-priced automobile to be introduced by Kaiser-Frazer Corp. in 1950.

First prize is $10,000, with 1,023 additional cash prizes. Kaiser-Frazer will match the "Name-the-Car" prize money dollar-for-dollar in a contribution to the Damon Runyon Memorial Cancer Fund in honor of each individual winner, according to DuLaney's.

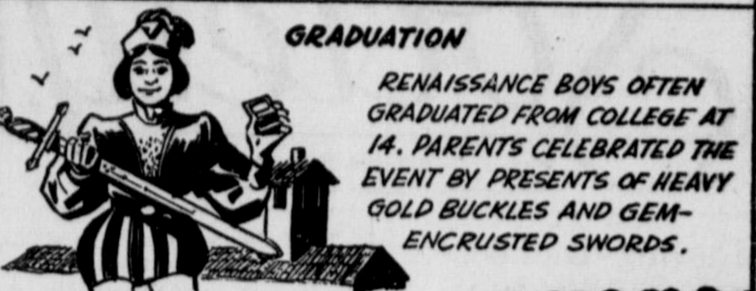

An additional feature of the contest is the fact that the prize money for each winner will be doubled if he has his present car appraised when he obtains his entry blank. Contestants need only write their name suggestion on the entry blank and explain in 25 words or less the reason for the selection.

"I want the American people to name this new car," Henry J. Kaiser, chairman of the board of K-F said in announcing the contest. "It is a car for all America. It will be a companion to the other Kaiser and Frazer cars we are now producing, completing the full line in every price range."

It will be a standard-size model seating five passengers and will give its owner the lowest maintenance and operating costs of any standard automobile on the road, Mr. Kaiser said.

Contest judges, in addition to Mr. Kaiser, include Walter Winchell, columnist and radio commentator who is treasurer of the Runyon Cancer Fund, and Columnists Leonard Lyons and Dan Parker, officers of the fund.

Rural Telephone Bill

Five years after it was first proposed, a rural telephone bill, passed in the last hours of the first session of the 80th Congress, was signed by President Truman on October 28.

Authored by Sen. Lister Hill (Ala.) and Rep. W. R. Poage (Tex.), the bill permits the Rural Electrification Administration to make loans, similar to those now being made for rural electrical lines, for the construction of rural telephone facilities.

Congress has authorized $25,000,000 for loans during the present fiscal year, which ends June 30th. Written into the law is a provision that during the first year no loans to new companies can be considered until all applications from existing companies already serving in the same area receive final action.

Judging by testimony from small independent companies and mutuals, when Congress was gathering testimony on the rural telephone situation, the need of the small existing companies for loans is so great that there seems slight chance that any new companies will be able to secure loans during the coming months, unless the existing companies are slow in making applications.

Although the loans are being made by the Rural Electrification Administration and rural electric cooperatives vigorously supported the bill, since telephone service makes the maintenance of electric service easier, at this time it does not seem likely that the rural electric systems themselves will build rural telephone lines.

It is possible, however, that in some sparsely populated rural areas where economy is of the utmost importance that some organizational arrangement whereby use of the same poles for electric and telephone service can be made. Such joint-use arrangements have been made in the past between rural electric systems and telephone companies.

American Telephone and Telegraph, along with a few of the larger independent companies, bitterly fought the Hill-Poage bill in Congress on the grounds that it would mean subsidized competition to them. Proponents of the bill pointed out that it permits loans only in areas where adequate telephone service does not exist or is not planned for the near future and that the loans do not mean subsidization, since they must be repaid with interest.

Congressmen supporting the bill also pointed out that some such assistance in furthering rural telephone improvement and expansion is a necessity, since rural service has actually degenerated instead of progressing during the past few decades.

Quarter Horse Show Changes Will Be Made

FORT WORTH — There were more than 350 entries last year in the quarter horse show, setting a record for the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show and the Fort Worth exposition is looking forward to another outstanding show. General dates are Jan. 27 through Feb. 5th.

The name, quarter horse, goes back to early days and comes from the speed that this horse displayed at a short distance, usually a quarter of a mile. A quarter horse's temperament adapts him to the handling of cattle and to rodeo contests and general pleasure use.

Quarter horses will be in two classes—halter and performance. Performance, in turn, has two divisions—cutting horse and roping horse competition. This is an innovation which was begun last season.

Roping and cutting will be divided into two classes, junior (foals of 1946 or later) and senior (foals of 1945 or before), another innovation made a year ago.

There will be the usual halter classes for yearlings, two-year olds, three-year olds, four-year olds and older, for stallions and mares. There will also be a halter class for geldings. All geldings are required to show in the performance class.

A new procedure will be instituted at the 1950 show: the dividing into two classes of aged mares—a class for maiden mares and a class for mares which have produced one or more foals.

In halter classes, in response to requests from a great number of exhibitors, all stallions and mares 3 years old and older (except mares that have produced one or more foals) must be brought into the arena under saddle and shown at walk, trot and canter and will be judged on way of going and manners. No penalty will be given unless the entry is very fractious or has a poor way of going. Then the entries will be called to the center of the arena, saddles removed and judging for conformation will take place.

The quarter horse show is approved by the American Quarter Horse Association. The judge will be Orville B. Burtis of Manhattan, Kansas, who operates the Davis Ranch, well-known for its good cattle and quarter horses. Closing date for entries is Jan. 5. Horses must be on grounds Jan. 26, which is a day ahead of the opening of the Stock Show, the reason being that, beginning at 10 a. m. on opening day, quarter horse performance judging will be held. Premium lists are now being prepared and will be mailed in the near future.

Farm And Ranch Magazine To Unite With Southern Agriculturist

DALLAS—An old Texas institution and farmer's standby FARM and RANCH magazine, has completed an expansion program which gives it 300,000 circulation in Texas, according to an announcement this week by Frank A. Briggs, long-time Editor of the publication.

Published since 1881, Farm and Ranch, beginning with the January 1950 issue, will unite with Southern Agriculturist, a farm publication printed in Nashville, Tennessee since 1869. The combination of subscribers to Southern Agriculturist with those of Farm and Ranch will give this new publication more circulation than any magazine going to Texas readers, and almost as much as any two magazines.

Editorial offices will be maintained in Dallas as usual, Editor Briggs reported. The new name of the publication will be Farm and Ranch with Southern Agriculturist. A special Western Edition will be published each month for Texas and Oklahoma readers. Over 75,000 readers in Oklahoma will receive the magazine and 900,000 in the other Southern States, Mr. Briggs said. The new united publication will go to 15 Southern States all told and to over one and one-quarter million subscribers.

In the past Farm and Ranch went only to the Southwestern states, Briggs pointed out.

IS YOUR HOME READY FOR COLD WEATHER?

If it isn't . . . now is the time to be giving it due consideration. Those cold months ahead can be made much more enjoyable if you have a bright, cheerful home. Plan now to paint inside and out . . . put new paper throughout . . . repair the roof and seal all cracks with caulking compound. A little work now will save on your fuel bill and give you a more comfortable home this winter.

"A Meal From Home Freezer" Demonstration

A demonstration on the preparation of a "30 minute freezer meal" from the home freezer to table, will be given at the Clarendon Electric, Thursday, November 17th, at 2:00 p. m. The Donley County Consumers Locker Plant is cooperating in the production of this event. Mrs. Gladys Scott of the Greenbelt Electric Cooperative, will be in charge of the program.

Almost every item included on the menu will be taken from the home freezer and prepared into an attractive, appetizing meal in just thirty minutes! Many homemakers may find it difficult to break away from their customary canning of fruits and vegetables, but the color, flavor, and texture as well as nutritional value of fresh products can be more fully retained by freezing than by any other method of preservation. It is possible to prepare a meal this month and serve it next February, thanks to home freezers. Working and professional women have found frozen foods to be one of their greatest assets in saving time in meal preparation. Frozen foods save flavor, for they are always fresh, in or out of season. Food and money are also saved when frozen food are used; the food is 100% usable and quantities can be purchased and stored when prices are the lowest.

Hints on the preparation of holiday poultry will be given at the demonstration. It isn't necessary now to wait until Thanksgiving or Christmas to stuff the turkey. Some cakes and pastries retain their freshness much better than others when placed in the freezer. Suggestions along this line will be included. Modern electric ranges are also time releasing, to make more time available for the busy holiday season. A gift will be presented to each lady present; she will also register to be eligible for the drawing—at which time Six Months free locker space will be given by "Donley County Consumer Locker Plant," and a nice Electrical gift by Clarendon Electric.

This demonstration is free to the public. All R.E.A. members served through the Greenbelt are urged to be present.

Notes from - - - CITY HALL

May we again warn you folks who persist in going to fires. We are going to issue tickets to you who get in the way of the firemen who are risking their selves to save property and some times lives. The firemen are not out working in all kinds of weather for the pay they get, but it is for the protection of everyone. If we have a number of fires here, our insurance rates are raised proportionally, so it is up to you to keep your cars and selves out of the way of the fire trucks and firemen. The cost for the above violation will be much more than a traffic violation. We are, in this issue of the Leader, listing a number of lots for sale. Anyone interested in buying a good business lot or residential lot, come by the City Hall for information. The street work is still progressing very satisfactorily.

COTTONSEED PURCHASE PROGRAM:

Our Cottonseed Program is in full swing. If you are interested in selling your cottonseed, just tell your ginner that you want to sell your seed to the government. He will mark your ticket CCC and our trucker will catch the seed. All you have to do then, is come to the office here in Clarendon and receive your check. Commodity Credit Corporation is paying $46.50 per ton for this seed. And we have trucks at the two gins here in Clarendon, at the gin in Lelia Lake, and at the two gins in Hedley.

GRAIN SORGHUM LOANS:

The time of the year for grain sorghum loans is here. This office has all the necessary forms for making these loans. The loan rate for a warehouse loan is $2.03 per hundred less 20 1/2 cents storage charges which makes your actual loan rate $1.82 1/2 per hundred. For a warehouse loan, your grain must test not more than 14% moisture. The loan rate for farm stored grain is $2.03 on grain not testing more than 13%. If you do want a warehouse loan, come to the office with your warehouse receipt after you have sent your grain to the elevator and we will make out the papers. Those producers in the county wanting a farm storage loan should put their grain in storage, on the farm, and then come to the office. We will start the preliminary work and in a short while you will have your money.

ODDS AND ENDS:

Don't forget to get your approval for leaving stalks and stubble on the land. You, as a producer, can earn a payment of 25 cents per acre for leaving your stalks on the ground and not grazing them, until January 1, 1950.

The deadline for planting your Austrian Winter Peas and Rye is November 31 of this year. If you are planning to sow some, please do so before the end of the month. We cannot issue any approvals before the end of the month.

We have talked about elections and cottonseed until we forgot to tell you about Cottonseed Loans. If you have adequate storage on your farm, store your seed and come to the office for the loan papers. The loan rate is $49.50 per ton.

Senator Connally Taking Much-Needed Rest In Washington

EDITOR'S NOTE — Leslie Carpenter, a correspondent for Texas newspapers in Washington, wrote the following article regarding the accomplishments of Senator Connally during the recent session of Congress, and permission has been given by him for it to be reprinted. Lack of space prohibits us using all of it and we are printing only a brief part.

WASHINGTON — Texas' Senator Tom Connally is taking a much-needed rest here after a whirlwind year which added a long list of new accomplishments to his record for the history books of the future.

The major achievement of the Texas Senator in 1949 was the landslide vote of 82 to 13 by which the Senate ratified the North Atlantic Treaty—the biggest and most dramatic "Monroe Doctrine" the world has ever known.

Connally led the fight for the treaty, as did other fights, such as the successful battle for extension of Marshall Plan aid to bolster Europe economically and offset Communist expansion, and the ambitious arms-to-Europe program under which America will send military assistance abroad, to name only two.

As chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, Connally is the Truman Administration's quarterback on Capitol Hill for foreign policy. The quarterback has made a touchdown every time he got hold of the ball.

And this year of 1949 has been a turbulent one in world history, which has called for a vast amount of action by the Congress to carry out this nation's planning for keeping the world at peace.

With the end of the Congressional session, Secretary of State Dean Acheson dispatched his heartfelt thanks. In a letter to Connally Acheson said:

"I want to congratulate you and the Senate Foreign Relations Committee for the magnificent accomplishments of this session. I dare say there have been few, if any, Congresses which have so successfully carried such a heavy foreign relations legislative load. I believe this success is attributable to your leadership, the effective cooperation of Senator Vandenberg and the objective consideration of foreign relations legislation given by every member of the committee without thought of partisan advantage."

Connally said he plans to return to Texas this fall but that he wants a chance to rest here for a short while before leaving. Those who have watched the pace at which he has labored all year agree he deserves the rest.

Except for the two years, 1947 and 1948, when the Congress was under Republican control, Connally has been chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee since before the war.

Alba, Texas, was so named because settlers did not permit negroes to live there. Alba means "white."

Clam Chowder Can Be Dynamite!

If Smiley Roberts is a friend of yours, like he is mine, and if you want to keep his friendship, like I do, don't ever let him hear you say that good clam chowder can be made without cream.

In New England, where Smiley comes from, friendships have been broken over tomatoes versus cream in clam chowder. Experts say that south of Boston the tomato reigns supreme, but north of Boston it's cream—or else!

From where I sit, whether it should have cream or tomatoes is simply a matter of taste. This is plain to anyone who doesn't come from clam chowder country.

What a great world this would be if we could all see that most prejudices are matters of taste only. Some like hot coffee. Some like it iced. Some people like a temperate glass of beer. Others prefer ice-cold lemonade. My grandmother used to say, "Prejudice that sees only what it pleases, cannot see very plain."

OLD PATHS By DOYLE WILLIAMS Minister of Christ

If any of our readers is still troubled about the design of baptism, please turn to the words, "Repent and be Baptized," and leave the word baptize out for the time being, and read the passage without it, and see if you can determine what repentance is for or in order to. No doubt, you will find the design of it in an instant. Thus read it now and look at it: "Repent every one of you, in the name of Jesus Christ, in order to the remission of sins." What is the repentance in order to? You answer, "In order to the remission of sins." Now, leave out the word "repent", and read again. The same words that told what repentance was in order to, will now tell what baptism is in order to. It will then read, "Be baptized, every one of you, in the name of Jesus Christ, in order to the remission of sins." Then, certainly, when you have both repentance and baptism, the same connecting words tell what they both stand for or in order to.

If you desire to examine the matter in the simplest form possible, turn to the commission—Mark 16:16, and try it in the same manner. Let us see if we can earn what faith or believing is in order to or for. To this end we will read the passage without the words "and be baptized," so as to keep the eye on believing and find out precisely the design of it. It will then read, "He that believeth shall be saved." What is the believing for or in order to? To being saved. Now let us read the passage without the word "believeth," and inserting the same words that told what believing is for will tell what baptism is for. It will then read, "He that is baptized shall be saved." What is the baptism in order to or for? To be saved. When believing and being baptized are both inserted, as the Lord arranged them, the words that tell what each is for, separately, tell with as much accuracy what both are for when used together. In the same sentence, in the same words, the Lord tells what both believing and being baptized are in order to or for. They are in order to salvation. In the same way, the apostle—Acts 2:38—in the same sentence, in precisely the same words, tell us what repentance and baptism is in order to or for. They are two steps in the same divine process, in order to the same end—pardon or justification.

"But I can not understand the whole Bible," says some one. No matter if you can not understand half of it. There is not one ray of light from heaven for the children of men, except what comes from the Bible. What understanding you have of the Bible, or what light you have received from it, directly, or indirectly, is all the light you have shining along your pathway to the skies; and what light you shall, directly and indirectly, derive from the same divine source, is all that you will ever have to guide you to the everlasting city. Put away from you all the speculations of men; free your heart from the mystical theories of irresponsible preachers, and receive with meekness and trust, the simple terms of the plan that God has ordained to save your soul, and feel the freedom that only can come, from perfect submission to his will.

CITY-COUNTY LIBRARY NOTES

By May L. Prewitt

The October 24th issue of the Information Bulletin from the Library of Congress contained an interesting sketch concerning the visit of the Prime Minister of India, Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, and his daughter, Mrs. Indira Gandhi, to our Library of Congress. He made a personal request to see the Declaration of Independence, the Constitution, the Laocock Abbey Magna Carta facsimile, the Gutenberg Bible, the Jefferson and Lincoln exhibit cases, the Jefferson Library, the Woodrow Wilson Collection, and a special exhibit of material relating to India. He autographed the first edition of his recent book on "Mahatma Gandhi." In the office he recorded a statement in regard to his visit. While it is lengthy—it is worth our attention: "I have long heard of this Library of Congress, and so I was eager to visit it, even during my short stay in Washington. It is an amazing collection of the wisdom of the ages and an inspiring collection for any person who thinks in terms of the past or future. I am sorry I could only come here for a short time, but even during this brief hour or so that I've spent here, I have been greatly impressed. Among the many things that I have already seen here in Washington and in America, this is one of the most impressive. I wish I had more time to go through it and to gather some wisdom even by looking at the old and new books."

This statement was so well stated in complimenting our center of interest in Washington, that I took the space to quote it in these notes. We have "Nehru on Gandhi", a copy of that book he autographed while at the Library, but ours is the 5th copy right edition, and of course will never be autographed.

Two books have been listed for our shelves this week. First is Gladys Hasty Carroll's "West of the Hill"—this is a heart warming story about Maine people two generations ago. Once again Mrs. Carroll proves her right to the adjectives that critics have so generously heaped upon her stories "warm, courageous, flavorful, satisfying, honest, vigorous." Her characters are simple Americans, the salt of the earth; and their experiences are those our own grandfathers knew. Other books on our shelves by this writer are "A Few Foolish Ones," "As the Earth Turns," and "Neighbors To the Sky."

Our other edition is "The Conquerors" by Thomas Costain. This is a story history of England's most colorful era, and Mr. Costain has given us the simple realization that history is made by people—by people who are noble, courageous, stupid, vain, wise, good, villainous, and sometimes even truly heroic. You will likely enjoy this as you did "The Black Rose" and "High Towers." We truly need your reading support so enroll with our group of readers when you have the leisure.
