FARM NEWS

From the County PMA Committee

ACP ADAPTED TO NEEDS OF INDIVIDUAL FARMER

Under the Agricultural Conservation Program the individual farmer is given the fullest opportunity to carry out the soil and water conservation practices which are most urgently needed on his own farm.

From the list of approved practices for Donley County the individual farmer may select the ones needed on his farm. There is no "cut and dried" program that has to be used on every farm. In fact, the needs on each farm are different from those around it, since each farmer operates a little differently, and each farm is different in its production history, size, layout and kind of soil.

In using the ACP, the farmer—often with the help of the local PMA committeemen—determines what should be done to check erosion and keep the farm from becoming less productive. The practices available to farmers are those which meet the most serious conservation problems in the area and the farmer makes his own selection.

Where a stream is cutting into the cropland, the ACP provides assistance in riprapping the stream bank. If it's a hillside that should go back into trees, the ACP shares the cost of tree seedlings.

Where good topsoil is being washed away, or the land is being worn out, this program is available to help to correct the problem.

Where stockwater dams are needed to bring about a better distribution of livestock on the range, the ACP provides assistance in the construction of the dams.

Because the program is tied so closely to the practical living-making operations of farmers, it is administered by farmers who have been elected to county and community PMA committees. It is available to all farmers in the county and is flexible enough to fit into the production programs and meet the major conservation needs of the great majority of farms.

ACP AIDS IN PASTURE SEEDING

The ACP provides assistance on a share-the-cost basis to aid farmers of Donley County in seeding eligible grasses and legumes.

The seeding of grass and legumes continues to be one of the most important conservation measures to protect the soil against erosion and at the same time build soil reserves for continuing production.

It should not be overlooked that a good grass pasture also helps in producing the meat and dairy products which are needed in the defense effort.

To increase production now without cutting into the productivity of the land for the future, farmers will need to use more effectively than ever the grasses and legumes which are the key to fertility and production.

In many instances there is more opportunity to increase production through pasture improvement than in any other way. In too many instances the pasture has been the neglected part of the farm and too often there has been little if any attempt to use the pasture as a stepping stone to increased production.

Where the pasture has been seeded to adapted grasses and legumes and then given proper management, the direct returns often are comparable to the returns from cash crops.

Farmers are urged to go over their 1951 conservation plans with their PMA committeemen in order that the maximum amount of improvement practices may be carried out this year.

If a farmer has picked out the land most suitable for cotton, put his machinery in tip-top shape,

Farm Bureau Meeting And Box Supper Friday, Feb. 16

By LEE SHALLER
Pres. Donley Co. Farm Bureau

There will be a Farm Bureau meeting and a Box Supper at the Lelia Lake School House Friday night, Feb. 16 at 7:30 p. m.

One-half the proceeds will be used to boost the prices of Donley County Club Calves. Mr. Phil Walker from Claude, will be there to auction off the boxes. Mr. Chas. Cravy our District Service Representative has been invited to be our guest. I am sure he will be interesting, in his explanation of our Service Program. Membership dues will be discussed and settled. It is requested that all ladies and Misses who desire a separate partner as their guest for supper to bring a box. All boxes are to be tagged, as to the kind of meat used in its preparation, and your name on the inside. I hope that the favorable Legislative discussion on the Callan Graham House Bill No. 226, on a rural road program may also be revealed at this time.

I have a letter from Mr. Walter Hammond, President Texas Farm Bureau, explaining the camouflaged nature in which this bill is to be put over, allowing the powerful natural resources lobby to escape taxes on natural resources, as described by Representative Peppy Blount of Big Spring. Mr. Graham contends that we are to get $15,000,000.00 from the 30c Ad Valorem fund which was previously used in a Bond Retirement Fund.

As a matter of fact if and when we do get it for a better roads fund it will have to be voted as such in each county.

It is Mr. Hammonds request that the Legislative Committees of each county, wire their State Representative, their position on this matter.

It is my intention to wire our State Representative, with the permission of the other members of our Legislative Committee, that we are not in favor of the Graham Bill, but we are in favor of a tax on the Natural Resources for a Better Roads Program.

Former Youth Escapes Death As Minesweeper Sinks

Wayne G. Ray, son of Leo Ray of Amarillo, and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Ray of Clarendon, narrowly escaped death aboard the minesweeper Partridge when it hit a mine and sank off Korea Feb. 2nd.

Mr. Ray learned of the sinking of the minesweeper Feb. 5, but didn't know of his son's safety until Monday when he received a letter from him.

Seaman Ray, who had participated in the shelling of Inchon with the Battleship Missouri, was near the 39th parallel when on the second sweep of a designated area the Partridge hit a mine. He was standing astern at the time of the explosion and was thrown overboard, accounting for his survival. Eight of the crew of 36 were killed.

In his letter to Mr. Ray, young Ray describes what happened.

"The first day we went along all right and we cut three mines. The second day on the first pass we did alright and cut six mines. Then on the second pass we hit a mine. I was standing on the stern with a life jacket and helmet on and was blown over the port side. I looked back towards the ship and could only see half of it. The ship stayed afloat for only 13 minutes." The only injuries Ray received were a sprained ankle and a few bruises.

Notes from - - - CITY HALL

According to weather records we experienced some of, if not the coldest weather, that has been during the past 46 years.

Consequently we had some pretty bad freeze ups in our water lines as well as property owners on their own premises. Seems things are getting back to about normal after doing considerable repair. Only for a few exceptions the citizens of our city were very cooperative and patient during this emergency and we do appreciate this very much. Thanks to you. Major Hudson, Mayor.

Candidates File For City And School Positions

According to the records at the School Tax office, Claude Moore and Homer Estlack filed their names for a place on the ballot for the school trustee election which will be held here Saturday, April 7th. Two trustees will be elected this year. Clyde I. Price and Walter Clifford are the retiring trustees and neither have declared their intentions at the present time.

In the City election which will be held the "first Tuesday in April," Major Hudson has announced his candidacy for the office of Mayor. Mr. Hudson is the present mayor and was appointed this past year to fill out the unexpired term of Joe Jones who resigned after re-entering the armed services.

Tax Office Reports Collections Good

Officials at the county tax office made a very good report for the county tax collections yesterday when it was revealed that 94.34 percent of the taxes due January 31st had been paid. In reality the figure stands at about 98 percent as there are a number of parties on the roll that are unknown or there is no address. The total amount of the tax roll is $65,294.98 and of this amount $61,601.86 has been collected.

They also reported a rushing poll tax business on the last day which brought the total of poll tax receipts issued to 1,041 and 16 exemptions. This is around 100 over the expected number.

To date the tax office has issued 149 car tags which is pretty slow business for the number that will have to be issued before April 1st. If you want to lighten the load and save yourself some extra time, buy your tags now and avoid the rush later on.

Boy Scouts To Have Camping Trailer

The Boy Scouts of Clarendon have made arrangements for the building of a specially equipped camping trailer. This trailer, being built by the Veterans School, will be fully equipped with camping equipment and supplies as the funds become available. A special feature of this trailer is that it may readily be converted to an emergency mobile unit for cooperation with local disaster units in any emergency.

The original cost of this trailer is estimated to be around $200. Thus, the Boy Scouts are doing their best to prepare for any eventuality.

Dry Snow Nets .07 Inch Moisture

The dry snow which started falling Tuesday night, continuing thru Wednesday, netted a total of .07 inch of moisture according to the official weather station at the airport. Mrs. Smith reported this amount of moisture was melted out of the two inches of snow which fell. Even though the snow blew considerably it will be quite beneficial as every bit of moisture that falls is needed badly at this time. The cold weather accompanying the spell dropped the mercury around 45 degrees in two hours time and it was plenty cold all day Tuesday with the low reading at 15 degrees. This was equal to much colder weather elsewhere as the strong wind blew the cold on in.

There was quite a bit of difference between the weather Sunday and that of Tuesday. The mercury reached a high of 86 degrees on Sunday and then settled on the 15 degrees Tuesday. Sunday, the weather seemed just like the middle of summer time and numerous bugs and flies were in the air.

Delegates To See Top Attractions In Soil Conservation

OKLAHOMA CITY—Delegates to the fifth annual meeting of the National Association of Soil Conservation Districts here February 20 to 23 will have a chance to see two of Oklahoma's top attractions in soil conservation.

One of these points of interest is the Department of Agriculture's watershed flood control program on the Washita River where land treatment is being combined with engineering structures to keep rainfall on the land and slow down run-off.

A bus caravan will take convention delegates on a tour of the Mill Creek area near Sulphur to view a typical part of the watershed program on Friday, Feb. 23. The visitors will see the land treatment measures which stabilize and improve the soil and increase its water-holding capacity, and the gully plugs, small detention reservoirs and other engineering devices which hold back a portion of the surplus water until streams can carry it safely.

Parts of the big Washita watershed already have shown in flood periods that the watershed treatment program will go far in lessening agricultural damages. The Soil Conservation Service of the Department of Agriculture is carrying on the upstream flood control program through the 15 soil conservation districts lying in the watershed.

The bus trippers also will stop at Hereford Heaven, the ranch operated by Oklahoma's former governor, Roy Turner.

Planes of Oklahoma Flying Farmers on the same day will take other delegates to the Wichita Wildlife Refuge near Lawton. Here the visitors will see herds of buffalo, elk, deer and longhorn cattle on native bluestem range against a rugged mountain background. A buffalo barbecue luncheon will be served by the Comanche Soil Conservation District board of supervisors at Lake Quannah Parker. The lake bears the name of the famous Comanche chief who lived in the area. On the trip the planes will fly over a portion of the Washita River flood control project.

The bluestem ranges on the Wichita Wildlife Refuge are believed to be the only remaining areas of native bluestem which have not been commercially grazed.

A. P. (Red) Atkins, president of the Oklahoma host supervisors association announced final plans for the three-day Oklahoma City meeting are nearly complete. Speeches by Secretary Charles Brannan of the Department of Agriculture and Dr. H. H. Bennett, Soil Conservation Service chief, and a three-man panel discussion on the needs of Soil Conservation Districts are expected to be program high-lights.

On the panel will be Allen Kline, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation; Obed Wyum, chairman of the program committee of the National Farmers Union, and Dorsey Kirk, master of the Illinois State Grange. President Waters S. Davis, Jr. of the National Association of Soil Conservation Districts will serve as moderator.

A night of entertainment is being arranged for February 21. Indian dances, square dancing and a chorus from Oklahoma City University are among scheduled events.

To the list of large delegations planning the trip to Oklahoma City have been added those to be sponsored by the Louisiana, Georgia and Alabama associations of supervisors. A Georgia delegation of 60 will make the trip by plane, auto and train. President W. T. Nolin of the Louisiana association predicted the delegation from his state, including supervisors and wives, would be more than 50.

John M. Lile, president of the Alabama association, will lead a group of 35 to the meeting.

Events being scheduled for wives in attendance include a tea at the Oklahoma City Country Club with Oklahoma's new first lady, Mrs. Johnson Murray, presiding.

AMERICAN LEGION NEWS

At the last Legion meeting there was brought up a matter of urgent general interest. Many of our boys from Donley County, already in the armed services, some have volunteered and others are being drafted. Who knows where they are and who they are. Since June 25, 1950, all men in the armed services of the United States are included in the amended charter of the American Legion. Every boy's name is eligible on the HONOR Roll, in a new cabinet too, in the hall of the Court House along beside those of World War I and II, and this June 25, 1950 Korean skirmish, may mean, who knows? So while we know and lest we forget? begin now to compile a list of the names of now, and add new names as the list continues till hostilities end. This is an all out appeal; county wide as well as to relatives and friends, talk with any of the old committee who worked out our present honor roll set up, the labor and heart aches they went through getting those almost forgotten names together; and there will never be a better time to let them know and thank them for the wonderful job they did, complimented and admired by many who pass that way.

A post card with his or her name and initials and the branch of service they are in will do for the record, and mail to American Legion Post, Clarendon, or Hedley, Texas. They will do the rest, thanking every one kindly.

—F.E.C., Publicity.

Charlotte Molesworth To Head County Cancer Crusade

HOUSTON—Selection of Miss Charlotte Molesworth, as chairman of the 1951 Cancer Crusade in Donley County was announced today by George E. B. Peddy, state Crusade chairman and prominent Houston attorney.

Miss Molesworth will direct the educational and membership drive of the American Cancer Society during April, appointing community chairmen and organizing a county-wide public education program. A message of congratulation was sent by Mr. Peddy to Miss Molesworth, expressing appreciation for her acceptance of this post of leadership.

"We are participating in a work which is increasingly successful," Mr. Peddy said. "Many people are being cured of cancer today with the knowledge which we now have (and which we spread to every corner of Texas during the Cancer Crusade). Cancer research is making rapid progress with the financial support which we give it. Science has developed new ways of aiding even the advanced cancer patient."

Mr. Peddy said that the American Cancer Society expects to raise more than $500,000 in Texas this year to carry on its programs of education, research and service to cancer patients.

Some day we'd like to have a bed that's twelve feet long and ten feet wide. And don't tell us that's a lot of bunk.

He who can forgive others builds a bridge for himself to walk upon.

Good listeners are more in demand this day and time than good talkers. The above may sound a little far-fetched at first thought but I believe that it is nevertheless true. In this day when most of us are wound up like an eight day clock; rushing here and there trying to keep up with the Joneses and at the same time hold down what Mr. Truman would call a six ulcer job plus a bunch of community activities. Most of us are eager to have someone sit down and listen to our problems and our troubles; even our ideas on what is wrong with the world. Anyway, if you want to see a fellow that is much in attention at a party look for the man who can listen well and some old boy will have him in the corner telling him Mr. Truman put the brakes on the brakemen, or a lecture on: "How I Was A Success In One Easy Lesson."

68,000 people will be employed in the price control department of the government by April, according to reports; at $15.00 per day this would amount to a daily expense of $1,020,000.00 per day. Brother do you suppose that there is any possibility that the American people will break even on the deal? When did we The People get an even break with any of the Deals

Newest member in the Ain't Smoking Right Now Society is Tulon G. White of Happy, Texas. He was recommended for membership by my nephew, Robert G. Lee of that thriving little town. Anyhow, glad to have him as a member and to hear from this nep-shaw again.

Around the First of March will be five years that we have been writing this column. I wonder do I still have any readers? Maybe we ought to round out five years and call it a day. Write us a card and tell us what you think about it. You should be the judge.

Open letter to Lewis Nordyke Dear Lewis, You will remember that almost the first brainstorm that hit me after I started this little column was that we set up a Department of Truth to pass on everything; especially in regards to our government. I was flooded with letters and suggestions but finally bogged down on how to get truthful men into the department and how to keep them that way, after once they were in. But Friend Lewis you do remember the idea and that even you gave me credit for this one idea being my very own. Now a terrible thing is trying to happen; last week Old Tack in The Tactless Texan was threatening to start a Foundation Of Truth. Don't let him do this to me. It is merely a cat with a different me-ow. I won't take it lying down and I am depending on you for a witness. It ain't nothing fair about it. Even though we both stoop to using jokes soaked in Hadacol, I wouldn't want to be done this way. Please protect my interests in this respect and I will continue to boost the results of your buck-eyes. I might consider using "The Brain" as a member of the Department. However, remembering what happened to Washington, D. C. since the Brain-trusters took over I doubt that we would want any of that stuff on the department. I think folks with a shiny buck-eye in their pocket might do better.

tion's history. He said: "Domestic consumption of petroleum hit an all-time peak last year. This is the eighth consecutive year that consumption has topped the previous year, and is high tribute to the keen competition which affects every branch of petroleum, from exploration and discovery right through marketing and research."

Stephens noted that, according to a recent government forecast, the American people will want an additional 468 thousand barrels per day in 1951. He added:

"Leaders of the industry are confident that they can meet this demand. A lot, of course, rests with what happens in 1951. Depending upon developments in Washington and abroad, and the availability of men and materials, there is every reason to believe that the industry can continue its excellent record of supplying our people with their petroleum needs."

To meet this demand, the OIIC spokesman said, the oil men in 1950 drilled approximately 43,000 wells, the greatest number in history; boasted refinery capacity to an all-time peak; processed more crude oil than ever before passed the billion-barrel mark motor fuel production; and set new records for production of distillate fuel oil and natural gas. The capacity of the petroleum industry is roughly 25 per cent greater than it was during the peak demand of World War II. Since the end of the war, the OIIC chairman said, the industry has invested more than 10 billion dollars in capital expansion development — an average of more than two billion dollars a year.

He concluded: "The industry is well along its program to meet the challenges of 1951. Judged by its operations and past achievements, there is no doubt in my mind that the oil industry is better able now than ever before to meet the demands of an uncertain future."

Wouldn't we save a lot of time if so much time lost in hurry wasn't wasted.

Oil Men Establish New Records In 1950

HOUSTON—Achievements of the petroleum industry in 1950 offer assurances of oil men's ability to meet the challenges of 1951, according to Roy M. Stephens, newly-appointed Texas chairman of the Oil Industry Information Committee.

Stephens, who is acting sales manager of Humble Oil & Refining Co., called attention to new records established by oil men in 1950 in supplying the American people with the greatest quantity of petroleum products in the na-

What's its Power?

FIREBALL!
(Only Buick can make this statement)

BEND an ear to the deep baritone song of this marvel motor, and you'll know we aren't fooling when we call it Fireball.

What happens beneath that brawny Buick bonnet happens in no other car in the world.

Years ahead of the rush to high-compression valve-in-head engines, Buick was in there pitching for more power from every drop of fuel.

The result: a spectacular engineering phenomenon you feel the instant you touch toe to gas treadle. A rapid-fire sequence of tiny tornados, let loose their pent-up power every five inches a Buick travels.

If you could look inside that Fireball engine, you'd see why. Instead of the flat-topped pistons used in other cars, Buick uses a turbo-top piston, like this:

So the intruding fuel whirlwinds into a compressed ball that adds a super-urge to the downstroke of the piston.

And you get the thrill — and thrift — of this Buick "first" in every mile you drive.

More, you get a tried-and-true engine that's been polished and perfected in every detail up through the years.

Again and again, compression ratios have been stepped up to keep pace with advances in fuels. Self-setting valve lifters contribute to silence. Micropoise balance and Hi-Poised engine mountings add two more Buick exclusives.

And the silken might of this Fireball's power has been made more beautifully obedient by still another "first"—Dynaflow Drive.*

So we list as a prime reason why "smart buy's Buick" this Fireball power plant—and a host of happy owners will say "Amen."

Better see your dealer soon.

Texas F. F. A. Will Observe National Future Farmer Week February 17-24

Weldon Mason, Meadow, State President of the Texas Association of Future Farmers of America, has announced February 17-24 as National Future Farmer Week in Texas.

The Future Farmers "believe in the Future of Farming and in the ability of our organized farm youth to improve the conditions of our Texas farms and raise the standard of living." This is a part of their creed, and means to them what your job, or earning your living, means to you.

The major purposes of the Future Farmers of America organization are to develop leadership, encourage cooperation, promote good citizenship, teach sound methods of farming and inspire patriotism among the members.

Through their intensive courses in Vocational Agriculture taught in the various high schools, and under the sponsorship of the Texas Education Agency, these members of the FFA perform valuable community services and provide important leadership in developing our agricultural economy and in building a better state.

Among other things, members learn through active participation how to conduct and take part in a public meeting, to speak in public; to buy and sell cooperatively; to solve their own problems; to finance themselves; and to assume civic responsibility. The FFA is 100% American in its ideals and outlook, and has no outside affiliations. There is no secrecy in connection with any of its activities.

Courses in vocational agriculture under the National Vocational Education Act were first established in the United States in 1917. From the very beginning the boys who were enrolled in these courses in the various states felt a spirit of comradeship due to their background of country life and their desires with a regard to farming as a vocation.

At present 1/10 of the National membership of FFA is made up of Texans. There are 32,000 Texas Future Farmers at present, and 798 Future Farmer Chapters in our State.

What Becomes of Members?

Study the product of an organization to determine its effectiveness. Is the FFA actually training for rural and agricultural leadership? To answer this question one has only to observe and review the records of outstanding members and other members who are making good as young farmer-leaders in their home communities. Thousands also have passed on into the ranks of the Grange, Farm Bureau and Farmers Union, as well as other agricultural and civic organizations, there to accept and to fill creditably places of trust and ties where FFA Chapters are located. Observe the interest and achievements of FFA members in improving the communities in which they reside. The FFA is developing a trained leadership and a farm citizenry which serves and exerts an influence for good wherever found.

MAJOR B. HUDSON ANNOUNCES FOR MAYOR

I have filed application for my name to be printed on the ticket for Mayor for the next term of office. Election to be on first Tuesday in April which will be April 3, 1951. I have been serving the past few months as mayor by appointment to fill out balance of an unexpired term caused by resignation.

During the time I have served as your mayor I have become more familiar with the city government and have a better understanding in the way of performing the duties of the office whereby I feel that I can be of more and better service to you. I am asking your support.

As you probably know the city's revenue is not increasing but the cost of materials, maintenance, labor, etc. have advanced considerably the past several months. The city commissioners and I have been doing everything possible to keep maintenance and repair in the best manner possible out of the present revenue without making any loan obligations or raising tax rates and this is quite a task. May I urge each qualified voter to go to the polls on election day and vote. This is one of your privileges and your patriotic duty to take an interest in your city affairs for the betterment of your city.

Very truly yours,
Major B. Hudson, Mayor,
City of Clarendon.

Co. Survey, in said Coke County, Texas, and being the same identical land described land as made in an application to make mineral leases of real estate of wards by the guardian on file in the above entitled and numbered cause, to which record reference is here made for more particular and complete description; that W. J. Williams, judge of the county court of Donley County, Texas, on the 14th day of February, 1951, duly entered his order designating the 28th day of February, 1951, at 10:00 o'clock A. Library Notes

By May L. Prewitt

First to be reported on the list this week are four of the Curly Top Series. We have the entire list—fourteen books. These are similar to the Bobsey Twin series and almost as popular. Some replacements for Bobsey Twins were ordered before Christmas, but have not arrived. We received two attractively bound copies of Dickens this week that were given as memorial editions in memory of Mr. Chase. They are "David Copperfield" and "Oliver Twist" Our Library was incomplete without these. Our other edition has been ordered, but has not arrived. It is "Great Expectations."

Should you not be familiar with our Classical Features shown on the screen here, the Library has the Standard Opera Guide when these features are used, and the story is briefly outlined. You could scan "The Lost One" (La Traviata) in five minutes. Very frequently we forget these facts when they are not often discussed. The principal scenes in this is the supper at Violetta's house where she makes the acquaintance of Alfredo, the rupture between them due to the arrival of Alfredo's father. The ball at the house of Flora; and the death scene and reconciliation.

There is so frequently calls for Norman Marlin's "The Naked and the Dead," that I have purchased a pocket book edition. So many shun these extremely gruesome facts, that I had not invested in the expensive edition.

"The Book Clubs have slipped,"—the big ones at any rate, states "The New York Times Book Review" issue of February 4th date. The total membership is down nearly half a million from the 3,500,000 recorded in the bonanza year of 1946; the two leaders—Literary Guild and Book of the Month—are off a combined total of 735,000. Books in general, that is the novels, have become too immoral—"sexy" is the term used in discussing them. Only 17% of 1950 publications were novels. The MacMillan Co. published more titles than any other publisher—462. The Reader's Digest is operating a book club, solely on its own subscription list, and has 400,000 members.

We have some excellent non-fiction material on our shelves.

WARNING

Sometime Saturday night two fire hydrants were opened full force and the city water reservoirs were practically drained before we were notified. Had we had a fire during the early hours Sunday morning it could have been very disastrous. This is a criminal offense and the City of Clarendon is offering a reward of $25 for the arrest and conviction of person or persons guilty of this offense. In the future if you should notice or hear water gushing from a fire hydrant please notify a member of the city personnel at once.
