Simultaneous Revivals To Begin March 4th

The Churches of Clarendon have joined together in an effort to give emphasis to spiritual things through simultaneous revivals. With the theme "March To Church In March" the churches of our city will each be engaged in a revival effort at the same time March 4-11th. Services will be conducted twice daily in each of these churches.

The churches and their pastors and visiting evangelists are as follows: The First Methodist Church, Rev. John A. English pastor will have as their preacher Rev. J. E. Shewbert of Colorado City, Texas. The Assembly of God Church will have their pastor Rev. L. M. Ridener preaching. The United Pentecostal Church, Rev. James L. Gilbert pastor will have Rev. Hubert McFarlin of Blum, Texas preaching for them. The First Baptist Church, L. A. Sartain pastor will have as their preacher Rev. Reuben P. Ward of Houston, Texas. The First Presbyterian Church does not have a pastor but will perhaps have someone to come and preach for them during this time.

Two colored churches will join in the simultaneous revival also. They are: St. Stephens Baptist Church with E. L. King as pastor and the Henderson Chapel Methodist Church with Rev. L. W. Jolly, the pastor, doing the preaching.

It is hoped that all other activities of the community will give place to this special emphasis on spiritual matters and join in to make it a glorious blessing to all in our community. Christians are urged to be much in prayer for a great spiritual awakening.

LAST RITES HELD SAT. FOR MRS. CHARLIE JOHNSON

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at the First Baptist Church for Mrs. Eula Mae Johnson with Rev. L. A. Sartain officiating.

Mrs. Johnson, age 72 years, passed away last Thursday morning at St. Joseph's Hospital in Wellington after a lengthy illness. She had been a resident of Donley County for almost a half century. She was the widow of Charlie Johnson who worked for the JA Ranch a long number of years. He preceded her in death December 19, 1949. She was a member of the First Baptist Church.

Mrs. Johnson was married to Charlie Johnson at Bowie in 1899. They moved to his fathers ranch in Hutchinson county where Charlie worked for a short time before buying some land across the Canadian river. They lived there four years before moving to Clarendon. While they were living near the Canadian Mrs. Johnson joined her husband in whatever hardships confronted them and always displayed her pioneer spirit. It was always her job to drive the team and wagon in coming to Clarendon for supplies, across the Canadian river, noted for its quicksand, after Charlie rode ahead and picked the way. They moved to Clarendon in 1904 and farmed until 1910 at which time Mr. Johnson worked for the JA Ranch until 1937 when they moved back to town to make their home.

Survivors are a son, Lloyd Johnson of Clarendon, a sister, Mrs. S. E. Roland, Weatherford, Okla., and a brother, S. S. Martin, Bowie.

Pallbearers were W. W. Noblet, M. M. McCully, H. P. Barnard, Jr., Houston Bell, Grady Tyler, Johnnie Blocker, Leroy Campbell and Ernest Kent.

Five Local Scouts Receive Awards

Scouts, Scouting Executives and parents met at Lions Club Hall Sunday afternoon at 12:30 for the purpose of holding a Court of Honor for the advancement of boys from Tenderfoot to Second Class Scouts. Five boys were presented their badges with one of their parents present to pin them on, Billy Bradshaw, Charles Anderson, Wesley Stewart, Lloyd Risley and Tommy Lane.

Rev. Jimmy Mitchell was Master of Ceremonies. John Pounds, Scout Executive of Wellington, presented the Charter to the American Legion. In the absence of Jack Gray, Mike McCully accepted the Charter on behalf of the Legion. Rev. John English, Methodist minister, delivered the main address on Scouting.

These boys and their leaders are to be commended on their advancement and the splendid work that is being done. Troop No. 37, sponsored by the American Legion, is now full. The Methodist Church has indicated that they might sponsor a second troop. Details along this line will be announced later.

A basket dinner was served at the noon hour with approximately 40 Cubs, Explorers, and regular Scouts present.

Navy Club To Exhibit Nazi Captured U-Boat March 1

The Navy Club of U.S.A. will have an exhibition in Clarendon of a German Midget Submarine on Thursday, March 1. This exhibit is mounted on a large trailer and will be parked at Bob Moss Pharmacy, and open between the hours of 10 A. M. and 10 P. M. There is no admission charge. However, voluntary donations are gratefully accepted, and funds so raised help the Navy Club of U.S.A. carry on their extensive welfare and rehabilitation program.

The Midget Submarine was known in Germany as the "SEEHUND" and was one of the secret weapons the Nazis developed in their futile effort to conquer the world. The Seehund is 39 feet long, and weighs 21 tons, carrying two full sized torpedoes, each being 22 feet long. The submarine, having a speed of 8 knots on the surface, and 4 knots submerged, was operated by two men.

This is the only one in this country and as far as known there are only two left in the world, all the rest having been destroyed by the Germans so that the existence of this secret weapon would not be known. This U Boat is mounted on the original trailer used by the Germans to transport this submarine overland. This submarine was launched from this very same trailer along with others of the same type and kind, at desired location for attack upon our ships. They always attacked in a pack and from this method of attack came the well known expression of being attacked by a Wolf Pack.

This is one of the types of submarines the Germans gambled with and which was most vital in their war plans. The failure of the submarine campaign was due to our effective counter measures, and was one of the deciding factors in the outcome of the war.

This submarine is under test observation and study by the Navy Department.

This exhibit is being toured nationally by the Navy Club of U.S.A., a veterans' organization incorporated by Act of Congress in 1940. The Navy Club of U.S.A. is the only exclusive national organization of Naval Veterans, and is strictly a non-profit organization, dedicated to the welfare and rehabilitation of all U.S. Naval personnel.

SIMULTANEOUS REVIVALS MARCH 4-11th

Director of Special Education Speaks To Local Lions

Dr. H. E. Robinson, director of Special Education of the Texas Education Agency in Austin, was the guest speaker at the regular luncheon of the local Lions Club here Tuesday.

The purpose of Mr. Robinson's visit here was to inform local leaders of the program in regard to exceptional or handicapped children that are now not attending regular school classes. He pointed out that the state will pay the teacher or teachers salary if there are enough students in this category to justify the classes. This number has been set at five and according to Miss Ruth Richerson, thirty-seven youngsters in this category were listed in the school census last year. A class room or rooms will have to be provided by the local school system or combined districts participating.

It has been understood that this special education program will be thoroughly investigated here, and an effort will be made to make it possible for our handicapped children to attend school just as our normal children are now doing, it was stated.

Farm Bureau Holds Membership Meeting

By LEE SHALLER
 Pres. Donley Co. Farm Bureau

At the membership meeting of the Donley County Farm Bureau, held at the Lelia Lake School house Friday night, Feb. 16, the Farm Bureau received $47.00 from the boxes that were auctioned off by Mr. Phil Walker and his brother Claude.

This money is to be used to help boost the prices of the Donley County club calves.

The much discussed topic of membership dues was settled at the meeting. The portion that goes to the State Farm Bureau Fund and Texas Agriculture, was raised last fall from $1.50 to $3.75; American Farm Bureau and The Nations Agriculture, from 50c to 75c; the District Fund was lowered from $1.00 to 50c, and the County portion raised from $2.00 to $2.50, making the dues for Donley County membership $7.50.

It was pointed out that if the County Farm Bureau is to accomplish its purpose, it would require more funds in the County treasury. If it proves that we need more money for our activities we can raise the dues more at a later date.

It was brought out that an increased activity was necessary in the service program, which includes, Farm Bureau Life Ins., Casualty, Fire, Blue Cross, and Blue Shield. At the District meeting in Amarillo a proposal was introduced to increase the commissions to the agents in order that the job would be more attractive for a Service Agent that would really devote his time and efforts. Of course the dividends paid by the Farm Bureau Ins. Cos. makes them attractive to its members because they will save him money. Since every member is eligible for Farm Bureau Ins., every farmer should be a member of the Farm Bureau.

Judge Williams informed us that it was obvious that the Callan Graham Bill was purposely brought up for discussion the evening of Commissioners Court day all over Texas, and was brought before the house the following day, hoping to have a small representation, adjourning after mid-night, only to reconvene and put it over after the delegation had gone to bed.

He also had lived in Pampa several years.

Two More Join Race For Local School Trustee Positions

Two more men have joined the race for the two school trustee positions which will be vacated this year with the expiration of the terms of Walter Clifford and Clyde I. Price. The two new candidates are Bud Hermesmeier and Roy Ferris. This makes four in the race at the present time as Claude Moore and Homer Estlack announced last week. SHOWER ADDS ANOTHER BIT OF MOISTURE

It looked like Spring had arrived considerably early here Monday when storm clouds started forming in the southwest. As the clouds moved over this area .10 inch of moisture was dropped and it looked for awhile like a good rain was in the making. This bit of precipitation brings our total for the year to .78 inch according to Mrs. Smith at the official weather station at the airport.

She reported the low for the week at 12 degrees on Sunday and the high of 72 degrees on Monday.

The weather forecast is for possible showers within the next day or so, and everyone is looking forward to such an occasion.

WARNING!

When the fire department is called out, the city ordinance requires drivers of cars and other vehicles to pull over near the curb until the fire truck and firemen have passed on their way to a fire. When going to a fire do not follow too close or travel in front of fire truck or park near fire hydrants.

We have had some complaints in regards to the rules not being observed. We are asking you to be more careful in observing the rules and avoid being liable to a fine. Major Hudson, Mayor.

NOTICE TO VETERANS

A word of caution to veterans who have not enrolled for schooling under the G.I. Bill. July 25, 1951 is the cut-off date for initiating new courses or if you were discharged after July 25, 1947, you have until four years from date of discharge. A bill has been introduced in the House of Representatives to extend G.I. Bill education and training benefits two years beyond July 25 cut-off date for initiating new courses. Best bet is that Congress, if it does anything, will limit extension to trade schools, apprentice and on-job training and higher level education of doctors, dentists and allied specialists. The Government itself may announce separate plan to finance in private vocational schools, training of unskilled workers in skilled crafts as draftsmen, machinists, welders, etc., if shortage of skilled craftsmen becomes more acute.

Mike McCully, Veterans County Service Officer.

Public Urged To Use Wisely All Scarce Building Materials

If everyone uses scarce building materials wisely, more building can be done in Clarendon and Donley County during the emergency, according to W. W. Sandifer, local lumber and building materials dealer and member of the Public Affairs Committee of the National Retail Lumber Dealers Association.

"Because of production restrictions adopted to meet the needs of the rearmament program, supplies of certain building products, such as nails, pipe, gutters and downspouts, metal lath and reinforcing steel, are likely to be restricted for some months to come," Mr. Sandifer said.

"By not using those scarce products unless absolutely necessary, using no more than is required for safe construction, and avoiding waste in their use, the available supply can be made to stretch over a larger amount of construction work and benefit a larger number of local people.

"There should be plenty of lumber, wall board, cement, brick, and other non-critical building materials in the months ahead, but the amount of building that can be done will be determined largely by the care with which materials containing critical metals are used in building.

"With the virtual elimination of copper and aluminum for construction purposes, steel now is the material which must be carefully conserved in building until such time as expanded production makes it possible to meet both defense and civilian needs."

BIBLE STORIES RECORDED FOR BLIND CHILDREN

WACO — The Baylor University radio department has produced and recorded a series of dramatized Bible stories for the religious instruction of blind children.

Prof. John W. Bachman, chairman of the Baylor radio division, said that the records were produced at the request of the Christian Fellowship for the Blind at Memphis, Tenn. The organization will make the records available to all blind children, both white and colored.

The programs were written by Jack Lyle, senior journalism-radio major from El Paso, and were produced by students in Bachman's advanced production class.

Prison Commitments From Texas Cities Exceed Small Towns And Rural Areas

HUNTSVILLE — Texas city areas continue to send more people to prison than smaller towns and rural areas.

In 1950, more than half the new convicts sent to the State Prison system came from only eleven of the State's 254 counties. These counties represent about forty per cent of the state's population.

The record of commitments to the Texas State Prison system from Donley County shows a marked decline in the second half of a 22-year period. Out of a total of 70 commitments, only 22 persons were committed during the last 11 years.

These figures were revealed by Dr. Rupert Koeninger, director of classification at the prison and head of the sociology department at Sam Houston State Teachers college. His advanced students aided in the survey which dates back to 1928.

High mark for Donley County was reached in 1931 with nine commitments. The 1950 figure was two, as was the 1948 number. Four persons were "sent up" in 1949.

These figures were revealed recently by Dr. Rupert Koeninger, director of classification of the Texas Prison system. He was assisted in the 23-year study by sociology students from Sam Houston State Teachers college who take course work inside prison walls under his direction.

In order of the most number of commitments, the eleven counties were Harris, Dallas, Bexar, Tarrant, El Paso, Hidalgo, Travis, Lubbock, Jefferson, Nueces and Wichita.

They furnished 1,505 of the 2,995 prisoners committed during 1950, or 50.25 per cent of them. Based on 1949 population estimates, the eleven counties had a total population of 2,845,000, which was 39.35 per cent of the estimated state population of 7,230,000.

Lubbock and Nueces counties, on opposite ends of the state, were new-comers among the "few" counties which furnish the bulk of the state's convicts. All the others had consistently been in the group; although Travis county had not since 1947. Dropped from the 1949 "big commitment" list were Smith and Cameron counties. Cameron county did rank fifteenth, however.

The rank order of counties in number of commitments did change somewhat when Hidalgo county sent its fewest number of convicts in one year since 1945 and Tarrant county broke recent previous records in number of commitments. El Paso county has dropped from third place in 1948 through fourth for 1949 to its fifth position for 1950.

Thus, for the first time in recent years, the 1950 number of commitments were in the exact order of the State's "big four" cities—Houston, Dallas, San Antonio and Fort Worth.

Harris county with its 418 commitments leads the state for at least the 23rd consecutive time (the compilations go back to 1928), and sent the biggest number from any one county in one year in history. However, there were only six more commitments than in 1948.

Although Dallas county showed a decrease of 15, or approximately five per cent, over 1949, its 276 commitments was still the second highest in the history of the county.

Continuing an upward trend, Bexar county's 161 commitments was 14, or 9.5 per cent, greater than in 1949, and 23, or 16.6 per cent, over 1948. Two other years surpassed the 1950 figure though—177 in 1947 and 166 in 1940.

Tarrant county's rate of increase far surpassed any other county except Nueces, Travis and Lubbock with 134 commitments in 1950. This was 55, or almost 70 per cent, more than in 1949. There were 99 Tarrant county commitments in 1948.

Lubbock county sent 140 per cent more to the prison in 1950 than in the year previous. Its 67 commitments was 63.5 per cent higher than its previous high mark of 41 in 1947.

Nueces county, with Corpus Christi as the principal city, furnished the prison system with 59 Prison Commitments . . . 22 new inmates, 73 per cent more than in 1948, and the same number as in 1940, the previous peak year for the county.

Both El Paso and Hidalgo counties continued downward trends. El Paso, with 120 commitments, was 11 per cent lower than in 1949 and 14 percent off from 1948. Hidalgo county—McAllen—had 20 fewer, or 20 percent, over 1948, and 26 per cent less than in 1948.

Travis county, in establishing a new high in number of commitments, had 73, or 87 per cent, more in 1950 than in the year before. The previous high years were 1932 and 1937 when 59 were sent to prison from the Austin area.

Committing its smallest number since 1945, Jefferson county—Beaumont and Port Arthur—sent 64 to prison in 1950—31.2 per cent fewer than in 1949 and a 22.9 per cent drop-off from 1948.

Wichita county repeated its previous high mark of 54 in 1948 and increased 15, or 38.4 per cent, over 1949.

ACP PRACTICES GEARED TO DEFENSE PRODUCTION

In planning crops to meet defense needs this year, farmers of Donley County should keep in mind that the needs for the future may be just as great as for this year. Every farmer should do all he can to produce the crops needed but increase in cultivated crops should be made where they will not impair future production. This means that good productive pasture should not be plowed up to obtain increases of other crops when the other crops will not contribute any more to defense than the production which comes from the pasture. Nor should farmers abandon conservation practices for temporary increases in production. "For the long pull, conservation farming will result in higher production than the temporary gains that may be obtained at the expense of the land."

The formula is simple: Keep up the fertility of the land. Conserve all possible moisture. Use grass and legumes to restore and maintain the organic matter in the soil.

The Agricultural Conservation Program this year is particularly emphasizing the use of grasses and legumes as a means of protecting the soil for continued abundance. To this end assistance is provided for seeding grasses and legumes and for practices which assure good stands and good growth. Where lime or phosphate is needed before the farmer can obtain a good stand of clover or alfalfa, the program provides for sharing the cost of these materials.

The program is available to all farmers this year, not only to help produce what is needed for defense but also to keep the land in condition for continued production.

"The farm program will only be here to serve us as long as farmers back it and support it."

The history of the nation will eventually be written in terms of how well they preserved their natural resources and the fertility of their land.

ATTIC USED FOR FIRING RANGE

WACO—The firing range used by the Baylor Air Force ROTC rifle team is a far departure from the traditional target practice layout.

Rather than find a rural site where neither cows nor human beings are likely to get hit, Baylor authorities located theirs on the campus proper. And rather than on the ground, it is high in the attic of the Baylor Union Building.

The ping of rifle shots is heard only faintly on the main campus adjoining the building. Practice hours are set in the late afternoon when no classes are scheduled on the floor immediately underneath.

Baylor's riflemen are good shots despite the fact they've had no range until the present one was developed last month. A year ago they won first place in summer camp competition. Now that they have a range, they are "showing steady improvement," said Lt. A. G. Eggleston.

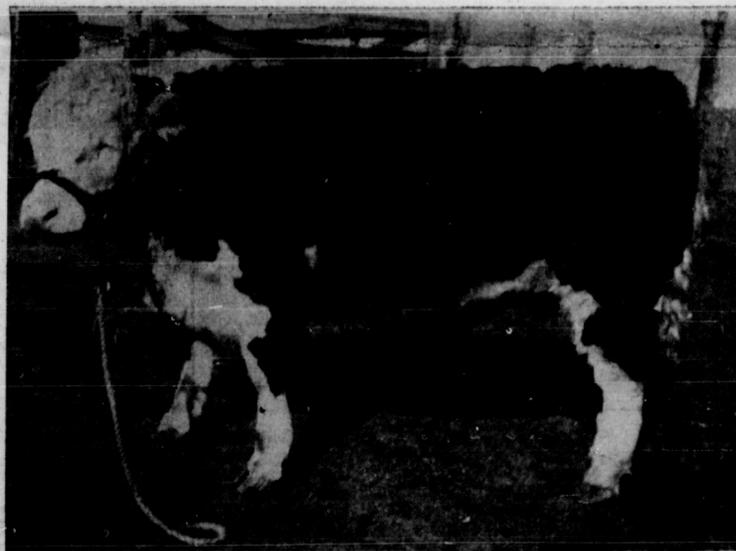

Matches are slated for this spring with rifle teams from many of the nation's leading universities, including Michigan and Notre Dame. Each team will do its firing at its own range, bullet-eyes recorded, and records exchanged.

Best Wishes for Success to the F.F.A. and 4-H Club Boys

Stock feeding is an industry that affords a home market for both stock and feed, and employment for those engaged in the work. It is a "farm pay roll" that means success when properly handled.

In view of this fact we wish to congratulate our F. F. A. & 4-H Club boys for their fine work in finishing off the best in Herefords, Hogs and Sheep. You offer proof of a possibility within the reach of most any stock farmer.

Study of Potential Needs In Panhandle Has Been Initiated

AMARILLO — A study of potential industrial development, population growth, and requirements for municipal and industrial water supplies in the Panhandle-Plains area has been initiated by the Bureau of Business Research of the University of Texas.

Announcement of the study was made Saturday in Amarillo by H. E. Robbins, regional director of the U. S. Bureau of Reclamation.

The survey, Director Robbins said, will be conducted in 44 counties in Texas to include the trade areas of major cities in the Region. The survey area includes all counties in the north and south Panhandle-Plains Region; Motley, Dickens, and Kent counties to the southeast, and Borden, Dawson, and Gaines counties to the south.

University of Texas research crews, under the direction of Dan C. Hill, Jr., will interview many persons in each of the 44 counties comprising the survey area. Among those to be contacted are heads of business concerns, including petroleum refining plants, smelters, chemical and food processing plants, which now use water for industrial purposes; city officials and commanding officers of defense installations. The area's oil, gas, and agricultural resources also will be included in the survey, which is slated for completion next December.

Looking to the future industrial development and water supply requirements in the area, the survey will provide estimates of potential municipal and industrial water use trends in 1960, 1980, and 2000.

The University's detailed analysis of the many factors that influence industrial expansion and population growth, and which result in increased water requirements, Director Robbins explained, will facilitate planning operations by the Bureau of Reclamation when funds are provided by Congress for construction of the Canadian River Project.

The bill authorizing construction of the 85-million dollar Canadian River Project to supply water for 11 cities in the Panhandle-Plains area became law last December when it was signed by President Truman. However, the Congress has not provided funds for construction of the dam on the Canadian River or an aqueduct to transport water to the 11 project cities.

TO IMPROVE TEXAS RANGE GRASSES

AUSTIN — The University of Texas Plant Research Institute is well into its program to lay a scientific base for improving Texas range grasses.

Dr. W. Gordon Whaley, Institute director, reports that:

A general survey of the characteristics and distribution of 254 Texas range grasses will be published this summer, and a new survey to summarize reproduction and breeding data on Southwestern grasses is underway.

Several basic nutritional studies of Texas grasses have been completed or are in final publication stages, including two projects which may improve phosphorus fertilizer practices.

Four studies of grass reproduction have been started, including one to produce mutations and other inheritable changes in grasses by doubling their chromosome numbers through exposure to the drug alkaloid colchicine.

Other investigations underway include a study of what constitutes drought resistance in Texas grasses and a general project to discover and study natural hybrid plants and attempt to reproduce them artificially.

Why your promptness is always appreciated

Your prompt payment of telephone bills helps keep down our collection costs. And since we must pay the 15% to 25% Federal Tax promptly or face a fine, your promptness allows us to help pay out of receipts instead of our own reserves. The same is true of our payment to other companies for connecting and carrying our toll and long distance calls.
 We appreciate your fine cooperation and assure you that all of the money your promptness saves us will be devoted to keeping service values high and costs low.

In congratulating the young people who are exhibiting in this week's livestock show, we also take time to mention what we really know to be true regarding the value and profits of Club activity -- an activity that even can be the key to your success! We know without doubt that Club work will profit in hard dollars and cents to every member -- it will enable you to be a more successful farmer, rancher, and citizen of tomorrow, because the very participation in such constructive down-to-earth enterprise lays a foundation of knowledge and future security that cannot be shaken. Andy Anderson, New National Hospital Director of VFW

AUSTIN — Andy Anderson, Scripps-Howard newspaper columnist and feature writer for the Houston Press, Houston, has been appointed national hospital director for the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States by Charles C. Ralls, commander-in-chief of the V.F.W. Anderson is a member of Floyd E. Breedlove VFW Post 9182, Katy, Tex., and has been in the forefront of activities that have gained national recognition for that small but progressive post. The nationally known writer who also is a real showman and entertained, and above all else a friend of those disabled by war, has gladly accepted the appointment as national VFW hospital director, and is now on a tour of military and Veterans Administrations located on the West Coast.

Now visiting hospitals in the vicinity of Ocean Side, Calif., Anderson next week will be in Los Angeles and will begin a week's engagement in the San Francisco area on February 21st.

All his hospital visits and appearances are being sponsored by Veterans of Foreign Wars posts near hospitals visited, and by the Scripps-Howard newspapers. Arrangements are now being made for Anderson to fly to Tokyo early in March for appearances in military hospitals in Japan, and from there he probably will visit Korea.

An expert with the rod and reel, Andy Anderson has done much to improve the lot of disabled veterans through development of special equipment that has enabled thousands of physically handicapped veterans to enjoy hunting and fishing. Without these special aids, most of which have been perfected and patented by the wiry little Houston newspaperman, they could not enjoy these sports. Not one cent does Andy receive from the manufacture and sale of this equipment. He does everything for the love of the veterans to whom he has virtually dedicated his life.

One of his hobbies has been the sponsorship of the "Rambling Wrecks," membership in which is restricted to those 50 percent or more disabled during service in, or as the result of service, the nation's armed forces. Andy says there's nothing too good for those boys, and he does everything possible to see that they are properly treated and respected. Each summer he and the Houston Press sponsor a fishing rodeo for his "Rambling Wrecks," with everything free for the "Wrecks." This year's fishing rodeo will be co-sponsored by the Department of Texas, V.F.W., this being at Anderson's request.

In accepting the national VFW appointment, Anderson said he hoped to be able to develop a highly co-ordinated nation-wide VFW hospital program, one that will prove to this country's hospitalized veterans that their comrades in arms have not forgotten them, and are doing everything possible to insure them the best of medical treatment.

SOCIAL SECURITY NEWS

Workers who have reached the age of 65 can now qualify for old-age insurance benefits if they have at least six "quarters of coverage," according to John R. Sanderson, manager of the Amarillo office of the Social Security Administration. A quarter of coverage is any calendar quarter after 1936 in which a worker was paid wages of at least $50 for employment covered by the Social Security Act.

The present eligibility requirements went into effect on September 1, 1950, and apply only to workers who were living on that date. Persons who died before September had to meet the requirements of the old law in order for their survivors to receive benefits.

Sanderson said the new law permits eligible workers who are 75 or older to draw benefits without retiring. The law permits beneficiaries between the ages of 65 and 75 to earn as much as $50 per month without losing benefits, and removes the restriction entirely for those over 75.

Claims must be filed before any payments can be made. Delay in filing might result in a loss of benefits, since payments can be made retroactively for not more than six months. Therefore, any person who became eligible when the new law went into effect on September 1, 1950, should file his claim before April, 1951, in order to prevent a loss of benefits. Claims should be filed with the Social Security Administration, Amarillo, Texas.

A representative from this office will be in Clarendon at the County Court House on Tuesday, February 27, at 9:15 a. m.

Health Notes

AUSTIN—Progress being made in the prevention and control of dental disease through scientific and proper care daily of the teeth was described by Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

Dr. Cox said it was with children that modern dentistry has had its greatest success in preventing tooth decay. He told of the research being done by the Division of Dental Health with sodium fluoride in preventing tooth decay — both by fluoridation of community water supplies and the application of sodium fluoride to surfaces of the teeth by dentists.

A control test showed that in one Texas city where the water supply was fluoridated, the rate of decayed, missing and filled teeth among six year old children dropped 47 per cent in 29 months. In a nearby city where no fluoride was added to the water supply the rate remained at eight decayed teeth per child.

The Texas State Health Department recommends that teeth be brushed after every meal to remove particles of food which may cause decay-producing acids. Brushing teeth a few minutes after eating candy is especially important because acid which attacks tooth enamel is formed by action of bacteria on carbohydrates, especially sugar in a few minutes.

Dr. Cox said children's 20 first teeth should be given the best of care to permit the children to chew properly, to promote facial development and to preserve the space for the 32 permanent teeth which will come in later. Children should pay their first visit to the dentist when all 20 first teeth are in and then see him each six months thereafter.

CARD OF THANKS
 I wish to take this means of thanking all of you who were so kind and thoughtful during the illness and death of my mother; I would especially like to thank those who helped care for her, that brought food and sent beautiful flowers. May God's richest blessings be with each of you always.

How much expansion by 1960?

United Gas is now providing dependable natural gas service to well over twice as many customers as we served at the end of 1940. In the last ten years, our service has been made available to an additional 217,000 customers in this area. To keep step with the steady growth of the territory, our plans call for further large investments in new pipe lines and other facilities to serve still more customers and to assure more adequate supplies of fuel to industries on all parts of the system.

Brother Allison tells the story of the preacher that used the following little prayer before his sermons:

"Lord, fill my mind with worthwhile stuff, And nudge me hard when I've said enough."

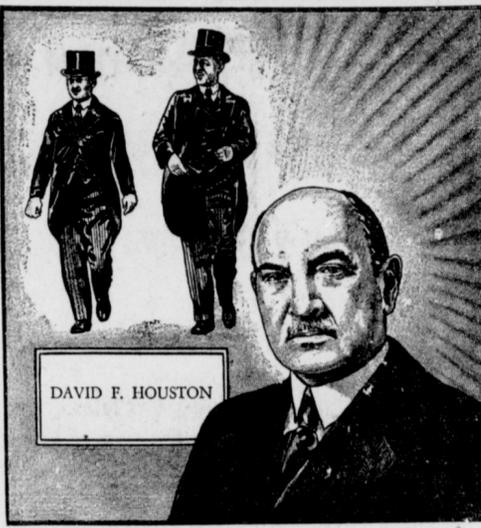

And a good little prayer for any speaker or preacher this would be. Another preacher put it this way: "If I have anything to say I can finish up in thirty minutes easy enough, but if I do not have anything to say sometimes it takes me an hour to preach the sermon."

Received this one from the brother-in-law's family that grows all the fine beans, and I quote: "An H bomb is an A bomb that has been soaked in Hada-col." I wonder can Old Tack top that one.

How most of us need the encouraging wit and humor that Will Rogers gave us. With his jokes he could mold public opinion and keep us "On the beam" so to speak. It was he who said that: "The only people that Europeans hate more than they do us is each other." They do not turn to us in love or trust but because they fear each other and distrust each other. Our only ally in Europe then is born of Hate. And you can just ask anyone who tours that country if this is not

Texas Venture
In Education • 1876-1951
Our first state college—Texas A. and M. is now in its seventy-fifth year

DAVID F. HOUSTON
The man who first saw the true mission of the A. and M. College of Texas as a major technological institution and raised the scholarship level of the faculty and entrance requirements for students to real college level was Dr. David Franklin Houston, president of the college from 1902 until 1905. In his short time as president, Dr. Houston changed the entire course of the college's history. In 1905 he left Texas A. and M. to become the president of the University of Texas, and later became president of the University of Maryland. During the administration of Woodrow Wilson he served with distinction first as Secretary of Agriculture and later as Secretary of the Treasury.

It seems that we are inclined to forget that the main reason that our forefathers came to this country was to find freedom. Freedom to worship, freedom from taxation, and freedom from an overdose of laws and commands to be obeyed. They set up our first government on the the-true.
"A man who has lived for himself has the privilege of being his own mourner."—Beecher.
"He serves his party best; who serves his country best."—R. B. Hayes.

ory that the least governed was the best governed, and that the fewer laws that we had the more respect we had for them; at least this was an underlying thought as they framed our constitution. Also that states rights be kept uppermost and that federal laws and taxes be kept at a minimum, and, what a great period of freedom we had. Of course we had a few depressions and our little ups and downs, but we held to the fact that it paid to work hard and be honest with both your country and your fellowman. We kept our initiative and our self respect. Then it was decided that we could have an Utopia just by passing a small handful of laws that were just a little far-fetched from the old way. To do this we had to do away with the Supreme court as it had always been; get it on a political basis. Then we had to pass more laws to try and make these stand up. More laws and more taxes; with each new law a bevy of new taxes and on and on. Never again will we be able to say we are free. It is said that we each one break at least one law per day. We are in constant prospect of being checked for committing or evading some act that puts us in bad with the judicial branch of our government. More laws and more taxes; less freedom and cheaper money seems to be our doom; unless we wake up. And no one seems to want to wake up as long as we are tickled by the feathered doles from Washington, and are broke out with a false prosperity that we still owe for on the books. We had rather pass all this on to our children. Someday they will have to pay the debt and then what will they say about their forefather - - -

Several bills have been introduced that would result in subjecting the expense accounts of the President, the Vice-President, the Speaker of the House, and the members of Congress to taxation. Congressman Rogers has gone over these bills but has some doubt as to whether or not they will fully accomplish their purpose. He has prepared a bill that simply strikes out of the law the tax exemption clause on these expense accounts, and unless the opinions that he has requested as to the effectiveness of the bills that have been introduced are favorable, he will introduce his bill sometime this week. He feels that if further taxation is necessary, it is the duty of Congress to lead the way.

Consumer added substantially to inflation and did themselves a great disservice by rushing into the market after Korea. The scramble for goods shot prices up and they have stayed up despite the let-down in demand. While the buying spree was short-lived, it was the most spectacular in the history of American business. A nation-wide study was made in an effort to analyze this unusual movement. It will probably show that excessive private expenditures since Korea have contributed measurably to inflation. Retail sales jumped 20 percent over the comparable two-months period in 1949. Sales of building materials increased 40 percent, and industrial production as a whole in August 1950 was 37 points above August 1949. This buying spree was less pronounced in the north and east. It was most noticeable in the Kansas City economic area. Dallas and San Francisco Areas were next to the Kansas City area. Why should people in the Kansas City area have been more jittery than the people exposed in Boston and New York? Maybe they just had more of what it takes to buy.

Whether or not the American people are subjected to rationing is going to depend upon the actions of the people. If they will confine purchases to their needs, rationing can be avoided, but if they indulge in a hoarding spree, rationing procedures will be necessary to protect those not able financially to buy un-

A Matter of Philosophy

Mark Twain, the great American humorist, was often a philosopher in disguise.

Once, asked by a group of young church people for advice on conduct, he penned on the back of a postcard:

"Always do right. This will gratify some people and astonish the rest."

Such statements as this one might give us reason to believe that Mark was a philosopher disguised as a humorist, instead of the other way around. But be that as it may, he did point up a situation which is undoubtedly true. Unfortunately, most people are astonished and even suspicious when somebody does what he ought to. They automatically start looking for the hook concealed in the bait.

The State Government of Texas has astonished a good many of its citizens since it met in January. Governor Shivers recognized, in statesmanlike manner, that state expenditures cannot continue their flaring course in the face of the national emergency. Reuben Senterfitt, the Speaker of the House, had his committees ready to fuction when the Legislature convened, and Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey quickly appointed his in the Senate. Then the Legislature buckled down to responsible work. One of its first acts was to postpone all "single-shot" appropriations until the major appropriations had been made, thus paving the way for a new era in state budgeting—and possibly taxation.

The Governor, the Lieutenant Governor, the Speaker, and both houses of the Legislature have gratified many citizens of Texas by their actions. Let us hope that this encouraging trend continues. We look for the day when the people of our state will be gratified often and astonished rarely by our government in Austin.

Goodwill is as fragile as an orchid, but as beautiful; as precious as a gold nugget, but as hard to find; as powerful as a giant turbine, but as difficult to build; as wonderful as youth, and as hard to keep.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Sometimes Good Intentions Aren't Enough

That fire at the Griffin place didn't do much damage last week, but Volunteer Chief Murphy was pretty angry about it. Spoke to some of us over dinner and a bottle of beer.

"Griffin's farm is a good mile from town," he said. "And by the time we'd dodged all the people on the highway who were going to watch, we hadn't a minute to waste."

"Then blamed if those sight-seers hadn't parked cars right in Griffin's driveway and there was a mob of people milling around the house—just gawking. Joe, tell folks a fire's no sideshow. Ask 'em to think of the other fellow!"

From where I sit, some of us need to be reminded occasionally that even though our intentions are good we may be unfairly interfering. Whether it's blocking the right-of-way of fire equipment or criticizing a person's right to enjoy a temperate glass of beer now and then—the American Way is to give way, and give the other fellow his fair "share of the road!"

WEEKLY NEWS LETTER

From the Office of Congressman Walter Rogers

The threat of Communist aggression hangs over the head of every American today. Not only faced with attack from without, but the threat of Communist infiltration within the United States also, concerns us. And, the vicious experiences of other nations justify our concerns. In these days of global turmoil we have to be ever vigilant to guard against possible infiltration in the Government or outside the Government by persons concerning whom there is any doubt whatsoever of their loyalty to the U. S. The Soviet Union is ruthlessly expansive and aggressive and the Communist Party in the U. S. is an instrument of Russian foreign policy. But, too, we must be careful and safeguard the power of our own liberty. For, it is here in America that the citizens have the right to discuss their problems honestly with their Government, and should do so. Fleet Admiral Chester Nimitz has been named Chairman of a Commission on Internal Security and Individual Rights to protect our American Way of life.

The House and Senate has taken the unusual step of calling upon the United Nations to stop dilly-dallying and to brand Red China as an aggressor. The unanimity of the roll call left no doubt as to their position and the strength of their decision. Many of the lawmakers indicated that such action might be equivalent to a declaration of war. However, the great majority are of the same opinion as the American public, that the time for a firm and definite stand has long since passed and further delay would only contribute to the satisfaction of Russia and her satellites. The world should know how the Congress of this nation feels about this situation, and there should be no doubt in the minds of the people of the world now.

General Eisenhower is expected to report soon to the Senators and Representatives on the picture in Europe today. His press statements have been full of confidence. There will probably be several sixty-four dollar questions asked him. Our lawmakers know the defense of Europe is more than economic resources—more than coal, iron ore, steel, as vital as these are. It is a defense of a system, a way of living similar to ours, and built up over the centuries. The loss of this system, plus loss of those resources, would be irretrievable. One question likely will be how are the Atlantic Pact countries reacting to the idea of Europe rearmament—willingly or unwillingly?

Chief Mobilizer, Charles E. Wilson, when he took this job, told the President all he wanted was power equal to his responsibilities. No President has ever delegated to another such power over the nation's economic life. Certainly, on Mr. Wilson alone will rest the blame or praise. In his office and that of his top staff is this sign: "When the Devil Wanted Nothing to be Accomplished He Named His First Committee." This is proof that Mobilizer Wilson has no intention of following the old custom of naming a commission to study problems which he himself will have to solve in the long run.

The list of Federal Agencies to be decentralized and dispersed may be made public this week. The cause for delay in announcing the permanent removal of some of these agencies from Washington is due to the fact that the Defense Department and the Army and Navy Air Forces have been slow in deciding which of their activities should be transferred. It would remove about 40,000 workers from the Capital. Also, it might make Washington less vulnerable as an enemy target.

All prisoners of War of World War II, their widows, children, parents: The deadline for filing claims for the $1-a-day payments to prisoners of war or their survivors is March 1, 1951. The final date, March First, was fixed by law and cannot be changed by the War Claims Commission. If you or a member of your family were held a prisoner of war during World War II, you may be entitled to these special POW payments. For official claims (See Weekly News Letter Page 8)
