CLARENDON, DONLEY COUNTY, TEXAS, JULY 16, 1942

A Common Paper for Common People

Roosevelt Summons Cong. Gene Worley

Congressman Eugene Worley of Shamrock, has cabled friends he will return to Washington as soon as possible in compliance with a directive issued by President Roosevelt, calling all members of the House and Senate now on active war duty, back to Congress.

Worley's cablegram came from a far-away Australian port where he is aboard a U. S. Aircraft carrier. The identity of the port and the name of the ship cannot be disclosed for military reasons but it can be said the port is a key United Nations naval base and that the aircraft carrier is one the Japs have claimed to have sunk on four different occasions.

Friends of the Congressman who are in charge of his campaign for reelection, do not expect Worley to reach the continental United States until after the July 25th primary. They point out the President's directive, issued June 17th but not made public in Washington until last week, asked Representatives and Senators on war duty to report on July 1 "or immediately upon returning to the United States," but that at least a few weeks would be required for Worley to make the hazardous and circuitous trip home.

EUGENE WORLEY

Immediately on reaching American shores, Congressman Worley plans to head for his district to discuss the war with his constituents before resuming his duties in Washington. Worley will bring a wealth of first-hand information which will be helpful in shaping the future course of America in the far-flung battle for freedom.

Worley enlisted in the navy shortly after the sneak attack on Pearl Harbor, in keeping with a campaign promise to volunteer his services if he voted for a declaration of war. He said then he would return to Congress when the President called him.

Before going to the Australian theatre of war, Congressman Worley was stationed at Pearl Harbor for a few months. He took his naval training at Washington and received his basic military training while a student at Texas A&M College several years ago. Gene was elected to Congress to represent the 28 counties of the Panhandle in 1940. He had previously represented the counties of Gray, Wheeler, Collingsworth and Donley in the Texas legislature for six years, and so popular was he in his legislative district, he

Fishing Good At Lake McClellan

Bert Howell, manager of the concessions at Lake McClellan, visited the Leader office Tuesday and reported that the lake had started clearing on the west end and that some real good catches of bass, crappie and cats had been made the first of the week. In addition to the clearing of the lake, Mr. Howell stated that approximately two additional feet of water would be let out of the lake which would help make the fishing better than ever.

Mr. Howell also stated "that they were having a first class dance at the recreational hall Sunday night, July 19th with Marie Hettrick and her all girl orchestra from Pampa furnishing the music."

Lillian Maxey Is Slightly Injured

While riding her bicycle about noon today, Lillian Maxey, aged 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Maxey, was hit by a car and badly shaken and bruised. She was rushed to the Clarendon Clinic where her attending physician states that her injuries apparently are not serious, although more time must elapse before the extent of her injuries can be more fully ascertained.

At the present time the young lady is resting nicely despite the shock and bruises, and it is hoped that she will continue to mend rapidly and soon be riding her bicycle again.

KILLS COYOTE WITH CAR

Besides managing a small grocery store in Brice Flat, Mrs. Arnold Baten also makes an occasional trip out for supplies. It was while coming to Clarendon Monday night that she came upon two young coyotes running down the highway. Mrs. Baten being a farm-raised girl knew the wily coyote to be the most destructive killer of the chicken flocks. She immediately stepped on the gas and presto junior coyote lay dead with his brother scurrying frantically into the roughs by the roadside.

Farmers who live along the highway should be grateful that this energetic young store keeper has made the coyote world one less and assured them of more fried chicken and maybe a few more dollars at the market.

Canning Sugar Being Rationed

County agent H. M. Breedlove of the Texas A&M College Extension Service, stated this morning that if you're applying for canning sugar, one question that the rationing board is sure to ask you is: "How many quarts of fruit do you plan to can?"

"To help the housewife to have the information ready for this question," Breedlove said, "I believe that the following information will benefit you. For example, there are 50 pounds of fresh fruit in a bushel of peaches. On an average, this will make 18 quarts of canned fruit. One bushel of plums will make 30 quarts and you can expect 20 quarts, or two or three gallons of juice from a bushel of grapes. Also be sure to know how much fruit you canned last year and how many quarts of fruit you have on hand. If you will have this information when you go to the rationing board, it will help them to wait on you faster. Also be sure to bring your rationing book with you as they need the serial number from the books in issuing canning sugar."

Ed Kinslow, chairman of the local rationing board is well pleased with the progress of issuing canning sugar and says that if people will follow the above suggestions that it will be of great help to the office in issuing the canning sugar.

Alfalfa Fields In Donley County To Be Inspected

According to county agent H. M. Breedlove of the Texas A&M College Extension Service, inspection of the Alfalfa fields in Donley county will be in the next week or two, depending on the maturity of the seed. The fields will be inspected for the purpose of certifying the seed. Mr. Goeth of the Field Seed Certification Division of the state Department of Agriculture will inspect the fields.

Those producers wishing to have their fields inspected will contact Mr. Clark Cook of Lelia Lake. "I believe after the association is formed that we will have a better market for the alfalfa seed and will have a much higher type of seed to offer the public," the county agent stated.

Formation of the association and election of officers will be at the time of the inspection of the fields.

Most alfalfa fields at this time are fairly free from weeds and grasses that would effect the alfalfa seed. It looks as if there will be some good alfalfa seed harvested this year.

"With the formation of the Donley county Certified Alfalfa Seed growers association, it will be one of the few to certify alfalfa seed in Texas," Breedlove said. "We are very much pleased with the progress so far and feel sure that this association will be of great importance to the county."

More Fat Pigs This Fall

With the biggest crop of pigs in Texas' history coming up for market this fall, County Agent H. M. Breedlove of the Texas A&M College Extension Service, stated that every body, from the grower to the packer, is figuring how to handle all of these pigs with out delay. If the fall crop materializes as now indicated, the number of fall pigs per litter is now 6.0, 3,234,000 pigs will be saved during the 1942 season. This will be 40 percent more than in 1941, and 18 percent more than the record set in 1939.

The county agent urges that all persons, in order to get the most money from the pigs, is to have them fat and ready for market during September and October. In this way they will get a better price and escape the heavy movement and other sections of the

Some good suggestions in helping the pigs to come along at a faster fattening rate is the following:

1. Separate fast growing pigs from the slower ones so that a more fattening ration can be fed the thrifter pigs. Some times the smaller pigs will do better by themselves due to less competition from the larger pigs.
2. Put pigs on good pasture, alfalfa, clover or sudan grass.
3. Feed plenty of grain. Prices are favorable for feeding grain.
4. Feed plenty of proteins. If you can't get tankage, work in some of the vegetable proteins, such as soybean meal, cottonseed meal and peanut meal.

"I believe that the above suggestions will help you in getting ready to market your pigs," the county agent stated. "Fall market is usually good for pigs."

OLD FOLKS ASKED ABOUT PICNIC

Stopping in Clarendon Tuesday after being in Amarillo all day, President W. L. "Uncle Bill" Rains inquired of a number of regular attendants what they thought about having the annual pioneer picnic.

The President wants all the members of the Donley County Old Settlers Association to have a say in the matter. "Should the war decide the matter?", inquires Uncle Bill. Make it a point to see him, vice president J. C. Estlack, or any one else directly concerned in the success of the affair, and have your say.

The annual pioneer picnic date is around the middle of August as a rule. The time is short. The matter must be decided soon. Tate Grove must be gotten ready and a program outlined.

UP FROM HEDLEY

Claude Nash and John Nash were up from Hedley Monday.

PATSY PITTMAN HAS POSTER ON DISPLAY

The fire prevention poster of Patsy Pittman of Clarendon's South Ward School is now on exhibit in the main lounge of the East Texas State Teachers College Library. The poster is rated excellent among the 100 being exhibited throughout the state by the Fire Insurance Division of Insurance Commissioners, Austin, Texas.

FFA Boys To Make Trip

Members of the Clarendon FFA Chapter will gather at the City Hall at 3 p. m. on the afternoon of the 25th of July for a weekend trip to Lake McClellan for fishing, swimming, hiking, boating, and camping trip. J. R. Gillham, chapter adviser, stated that he expected approximately 40 boys to attend.

Each youth will bring his own bedding and eat and will ride on a truck with the other members. The group will return to Clarendon on the afternoon of July 26th.

American Legion To Promote Drive For Old Phonograph Records

Preparations for the American Legion's old phonograph record salvage drive, which begins July 17 and extends through August 2, gained new momentum today with the formation of three key committees for the direction of canvassing, collection, and promotional activities.

Purpose of the campaign is to collect a quota of 5000 records in this community as a part of the nation-wide campaign for 37,500,000 records. These records will be

War Effort Demands Big Salvage Drive

Another big drive for scrap iron and household fats salvage program is now in full swing in Donley County, according to county agent H. M. Breedlove of the Texas A&M College Extension Service. The War Department is asking for more scrap iron, and in addition to the iron is asking that all housewives save waste cooking fats each month for the department. For each family a goal has been set up by the War Department of from one to two pounds of waste cooking fats per month which would yield well over half a billion pounds per year.

L. E. THOMPSON LEAVES TODAY FOR TORONTO

L. E. Thompson, president of the local Lions club, left on the noon train today for Dallas where he will join other Lion representatives from all over the state. From Dallas the group as a whole will board a special train which will take them directly to Toronto, Canada where the Lions International Convention will be held this year.

This Convention will be in session from July 21st through the 24th.

Mr. Forrest Sawyer, chairman of the salvage campaign in Donley county stated that it is estimated that two billions of pounds of kitchen fats are now wasted each year.

Some of the reasons behind the effort of conserving the waste fats from the kitchen are as follows: War in the Pacific has reduced imports of fats and oils from the Far East, and substitution must be offered to replace this loss in supply. Moreover, the war effort requires glycerine for explosives and other war needs, both for our own forces and those of the Allies. And fats make glycerine. Therefore, for both of these reasons it is necessary to salvage every pound of the waste kitchen fats.

The use of glycerine and its many chemical combinations by our armed forces and those of the Allies are many. For the army they include explosives, signal rockets, recoil mechanisms, demolition charges, propellants and gun powder. Aboard ships this vital product is used in ships compasses, hydraulic equipment, pumps, steering gears and in depth-charge release gears. It is also used as a protective coating for ships, tanks and turrets, and as a base chemical in the manufacture of many products used by all branches of the fighting services.

Housewives are being asked to save their waste cooking fats in metal containers, the county agent stated, such as old coffee cans or other tin cans. When one pound or more has been accumulated it should be taken to the local butcher who will buy it from you at the price of about 5c per pound. The definite price will be set in the near future. The Wholesale meat dealers will in turn pick up this salvage fat from the local butcher and turn it in to the proper authorities to put it in the channels for the War Department.

This is one program that the housewife can offer a great deal to the national defense program and all persons should contact their neighbors and see that they are saving all salvage fats.

The USDA war board of Donley county, headed by chairman of the board Nolie Simmons, is asking that all salvage iron and scrap metal be brought in and sold at once to the local dealers. The War Department has started (See WAR EFFORT, Page Eight)

MARKET GARDENER MAKES MARK

Perhaps his talents run in that line is the reason Lee Morrison has grown such a good market garden on the lot north of the home of Mrs. Monica Harvey and west of the Frank Whitlock place. Lee has been ably assisted by his daughter, Miss Elizabeth. They have been marketing peas and squash for some time. The corn is about ready and then the finest type of melons will come right on.

It all goes to demonstrate that a war garden could be had by stirring the soil on a number of city lots otherwise growing up in weeds. Take a look at the Morrison garden, the way it has been cultivated, and the fine products being taken off the plot every day.

VISITS PARENTS

Mrs. Jane Bownds and children Sandra and Richard of Leslie are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Killough this week.

Salvation Army To Make Annual Appeal This Week

The Salvation Army will make their customary annual appeal in Clarendon this week for funds to help carry on the program in Texas. W. B. Pedigo, representative of the State Headquarters, who has been coming here for many years, will conduct the appeal.

"Any other participation supposedly for the Salvation Army are without proper authority," Mr. Pedigo stated.

"The Salvation Army's participation in the last World War will be well remembered by War veterans, and it is their hope that they shall be able to repeat their good work throughout the entirety of this conflict," he added.

Local Fall Fair Will Be Held During Early Part October

A local county-wide fair will be held at Clarendon during the early part of October, J. R. Gillham, secretary of the local Chamber of commerce announced today. Carroll Lewis, President of the Donley County Stock Show organization, will call a meeting of the directors of that body together at an early date for the purpose of selecting committees to care for each division of the show and plans for the event will be published within the near future.

One of the most important features of the fair will be the annual club boys fat barrow show. Committees are at work now arranging for a public auction of all pigs that place in the show and a good premium in price will be paid for the grand champion, reserve champion, breed champion, and all of the best pigs in each breed. Efforts will be made to secure the highest possible price for all of the pigs that do not place.

CLARENDON GAINS NEW RESIDENTS

Clarendon gained by Lelia Lake's loss this week when Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Morton decided to move to Clarendon to make their home. They are moving today and will occupy the home of Clyde Price.

Mr. Morton was recently placed here as the manager of the Foxworth-Galbraith Lumber Co. He thought for some time that he would maintain his residence at Lelia Lake, but due to the shortage of tires and the distance from his work, he decided to go ahead and move. And another thing, he was missing that good cooking Mrs. Morton placed before him every day at noon.

VISITING RELATIVES

Mrs. Glen Riley and children of Belen, New Mexico is visiting relatives here this week.

TOM ROBERTS TO BE WRITE-IN CANDIDATE FOR CONSTABLE

The Leader has been authorized to announce the write-in candidacy of Tom Roberts for the position of Constable of Precinct 2.

Mr. Roberts has been a resident of Donley County for several years and at the present time, is employed by A. B. Chesshir, agent for Continental Oil Products.

"If the people of Precinct 2 see fit to write my name on the ticket and elect me, I will conduct the office of Constable to the best of my ability," Mr. Roberts stated.

RETURN FROM COLORADO

Mr. and Mrs. Van Kennedy and family returned Sunday from Colorado Springs, Colo., where they visited Mr. and Mrs. John Bass. They visited many interesting points out and around Colorado Springs while there.

Large Crowd Attends Free Show Here

Approximately 1700 people attended the Merchant's first free show here Saturday, July 11th. The event proved to be a big drawing card and people were delighted to find that they were offered a regular feature show of good quality.

Admission to the Saturday matinee this week, beginning at 1:30 p. m. will be by ticket given by any one of the ninety merchants sponsoring the event at no cost to the party desiring to see the film. Three shows will be run with the second and third features starting at 3:00 and 4:30 p. m. "Dangerously They Live" featuring John Garfield and Raymond Massey will be the film offered this week. Turn to another section of this paper for a list of the merchants and individuals making this show possible and for a list of places where you may be able to secure your tickets.

RECORDS FOR OUR FIGHTING MEN

A year ago Mr. and Mrs. America were scouring cellars and attics and forgotten corners of the in-between floors for old aluminum items. Last month they were hunting down old rubber gadgets. And now, thanks to The American Legion, there's a nationwide quest for old phonograph records. These old records will be sold as scrap, and provide the funds for new records and phonograph players to be shipped to American fighting men here and overseas.

For The American Legion's Records For Our Fighting Men campaign, while not concerned with equipment for the war machine, is deeply devoted to the cause of the men on whom we depend to run that machine. These men are Americans with a profound love for good music. Because they're Americans they like all kinds of music, and because they're in many cases far from home, the music that springs from America not only provides recreation and entertainment for them, but also serves as a reminder of the things American which we all treasure, which we're fighting for.

These factors should count heavily in your giving all-out support to The American Legion salvage campaign. Time is growing short; August 2 is the deadline. By all means, help the Legionnaires and their co-workers in achieving success in the good work which they have undertaken.

Mrs. Emory Morris of Pampa visited her brother, Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Ayers and family over the week end. She also visited her parents at Windy Valley.

Data Obtained On Donley County Water Wells

Basic data on the extent and quality of underground water in Donley County was obtained by a survey completed with the aid of the Work Projects Administration, it was announced in a publication report issued today by the Texas Board of Water Engineers. This is one of a series of county publications relating to water wells in Texas, compiled by means of WPA projects under the supervision of the State Board of Water Engineers, cooperating with the United States Department of the Interior, Geological Survey, and the Texas Bureau of Industrial Chemistry. They form the basis for a more comprehensive study which is being made for the whole state by the Geological Survey, in cooperation with the State Board of Water Engineers.

Records of 264 wells and seismograph test holes, and 17 springs, drillers' logs of 99 wells and seismograph test holes, and logs of 31 test holes put down by WPA labor are given in the Donley County release. It also contains 72 chemical analysis of water obtained from wells and springs in addition to a map of Donley County showing the location of wells, springs and test holes.

Copies of the Donley County release will be placed in school and public libraries, as well as in the various county offices in Donley County. Mr. C. S. Clark, Chairman of the Texas Board of Water Engineers, states that a limited number of copies are available for free distribution from the Austin office to interested individuals who request them.

Cottage Cheese Is Almost Equal To Round Steak

County agent H. M. Breedlove of the Texas A&M College Extension Service reports that according to all reports from the state office that cottage cheese is almost equal to round steak as a source of protein, containing up to 21 percent. Much skim milk is allowed to go to waste on the farm that could go for the manufacture of cottage cheese. One gallon of skim milk would yield about one and three fourths pounds of cottage cheese. A dairy thermometer should always be used to test the temperature of the milk during the manufacture process.

Any one can make good cottage cheese at home by following this procedure:

- 1. Adjust the temperature of the one gallon of fresh clean flavored skim milk to 75 degrees F. by placing the container of skim milk in a large vessel of water. The temperature of the water will depend on whether the milk is to be warmed or cooled.
2. Add 1/2 cup cultured buttermilk or clabber milk free of gas holes and off flavors. Stir the milk well so that the cultured buttermilk or the clabber is well distributed.
3. Hold the milk at a temperature of 75 degrees F. for 12 to 14 hours.
4. Cut the curd when sufficient firm. Insert a thermometer obliquely into the curd and lift gently. When the curd makes a clean break then the cheese is ready to cut. Cut the curd into one half inch cubes with a horizontal curd knife and spatula to allow the whey to separate.
5. After cutting the curd allow the cheese to set undisturbed for ten minutes before stirring or applying heat. This will help the cubes from breaking during the cooking process.
6. Add one quart to 1/2 gallon of water at 110 to 120 degrees F. directly to the cheese. The addition of water furnishes a media in which to stir the cubes and helps prevent their breaking.
7. Place the pan containing the cubed cheese in a bath of warm water and heat slowly to 120 degrees F. Allow approximately 30 minutes to reach this temperature and stir very carefully while heating.
8. To test the curd for sufficient cooking place a few of the cubes in cold water. If the cubes are firm, hold their shape, and contain little whey, the cooking is complete.
9. Drain the whey and wash the curd twice with a little cold water. Handle carefully to prevent breaking the cubes.
10. The cubes should be drained in a colander, sieve, or cheese rack until all excess water is removed.

11. Salt cheese to taste. Add sweet cream if desired and store in a cool place until ready to consume or market.

The county agent said that the information coming from College Station was for the purpose helping people to have a bigger live at home program in 1942. Cottage cheese is healthy and good for all the family. Try following the above information and see how you like it.

WILLIAM T. DUNN NOW WORKING AT HOUSTON

William T. Dunn of Route 1, Ashtola, who has been employed at the South Houston NYA War Work Center shops, recently was hired as a welder at 76c an hour by the Houston Shipbuilding Corporation in Houston, according to information received here this week.

Dunn applied for NYA work through the United States Employment Service, which agency later assisted in placing him with the Houston firm. He was assigned to the South Houston NYA Center where he obtained work experience in the shops and attended related information and training classes taught by instructors furnished through the Pasadena Public Schools and the State Board for Vocational Education.

Washables For War-Time

COLLEGE STATION — War-time demands longer work hours so most women have less time to keep their clothes in good condition. It is as important as ever to present a neat appearance, so Mrs. Dora R. Barnes, clothing specialist for the A&M College Extension Service, offers suggestions for keeping trim.

Wash dresses are most practical for wiling summer days, she says, and these should be laundered often. Be sure the fabric is washable. Close all zippers and remove all non-washable trim before tubbing. Look to see if buttons are the type that can be washed without harm. Wash, dry quickly, and iron immediately.

Cottons and washable silks and rayons should be washed in warm —never hot water. The specialist suggests use of mild soap and thorough rinsing. Squeeze in the wash water; do not rub or wring them. After squeezing them, roll the dresses in a bath towel. Then shake them out and hang out-of-doors in the shade to dry—never in the sun—for the color might fade.

"When ironing, watch your iron temperature. Some fabrics, such as nylon, will melt under a hot iron. All materials can be scorched. Fabrics with rough weaves or textures look better if ironed on the wrong side," Mrs. Barnes advises.

PICNIC MATTER.
Uncle Bill Rains, president of the Old Settler Association of Donley county was in to see me Tuesday. Uncle Bill is trying to find out if the folks want to hold the picnic this August as on other annual occasions. Some may think it should be passed up on account of the war. Perhaps others won't think that way about it. As president of the Association, Uncle Bill Rains wants your opinion. Tell him what you think about it. Shortly after he left, Mrs. W. D. Shelton, one of our finest pioneer ladies and long a member of the Association, came in and when asked the question was emphatic in her belief that we should have the picnic by all means. "Why our boys in the service don't want us to sit down with long faces. We should keep our chins up and keep moving," she said.

HIGH HONORS.
I've had a lot of undeserved honors bestowed upon me back through the years. Being president of the Panhandle Press Association after being a director and secretary for years, was a big honor. Being postmaster is quite a compliment and I appreciate it all. But the highest honor of all is the fact that the members of the Donley County Old Settlers Association have selected me as their vice president through the years. In standing on the platform at the picnic grounds, I naturally feel humble in the presence of so many men who are the "salt of the earth," and so many fine old pioneer ladies whom I have always classed as "God's uncrowned queens." If you don't think so, rent a hall and I'll pay the rent and debate the issue with you, and let the congregation decide who won. And if you lose, just chip in some fifty bucks into some of the fine war organizations we have for the aid of those fine fellows in the service. If I lose, I'll leave the country and that would be a great calamity since I got here just as old Coronado finished digging Palo Duro canyon with his hands to provide winter quarters for his crew in 1540.

COMING BACK.

Cong. Gene Worley will be back with home folks soon. President Roosevelt has called all of the national lawmakers in the service to return to their places in Washington. Gene, who became a lieutenant in the navy, and who has lately been on an aircraft carrier near Australia, will be here possibly next week. He said he would be among the first to enlist if he voted to enter the war. When the Japs attacked our nation, he voted to hand them back the same kind of medicine, and Cong. Worley got right into the service and right over where the fighting was the thickest. Gene will get a big welcome from his home folks of the congressional district, and I don't mean maybe.

SANITATION.

Oddly enough, the man with the most soft soap can do a girl the most dirt.

PLAIN DUMB.

Hastoon Yazzie thinks a mushroom is a place in a roadside honky-tonk.

WEAKLY POME.

Here's to the stork, a most valuable bird That inhabits the residence districts.

ANOTHER PAIN.

Life in the army isn't Half so hard If you write that boy— Even a postal card.

HUMAN NATURE.

Just because he has a vacant stare, does not mean that he has an open mind. When the old boy tells you he will "think it over," he merely means that he will get off to himself, crowd out that one-cell mind where it will get some air, rehash his prejudices and make a second verbal attack on you. In other words, to shorten the story, there ain't no use in arguing with anybody about anything. Not even the weather.

Your Spare Tire

The public is tire conscious because the day of no tires looms up. A more serious prospect than having to walk appears in the "after-the-war" drop.

We suggest four ways for making sure of an economic spare tire when and if a "blow-out" comes.

1. Make 1942 an "Out-of-Debt-Year."
2. Make personal thrift a hobby in home and business.
3. Set up an "After-the-War" savings account.
4. Invest in Government War Bonds.

Our Bank is interested not only in supplying credit needs through loans today, but is trying to help people get a "spare tire" for tomorrow.

Scarsdale Forms Honor Guard

The following article from the "Scarsdale Enquirer," Scarsdale, N. Y. will be of interest to many persons in and around Clarendon, especially girls who were members of "The Honor Guard" organized in 1917 by Mrs. Henry Dodge, (nee Lila E. McClelland) during World War No. 1.

SCARSDALE—A village branch of the Girls National Honor Guard, a service group formed in the last war, was started yesterday at a meeting in the home of Mrs. Henry G. Dodge of 6 Rochambeau Road.

The Guard is open to girls of American citizenship between 16 and 25. Members will assist in war stamp sales, hospital work, airplane spotting and will study first aid, nutrition and hygiene to aid other war organizations, chiefly the Red Cross.

President Wilson and General Pershing praised the guard for its aid to the armed forces in the first World War.

Mrs. Dodge was organizing lieutenant in North Texas and became a lieutenant-colonel at the end of the war after serving overseas with the Red Cross.

This week members will assist at war stamp booths at the railroad station and at Scarsdale Theater. The village branch has to its credit $150,000 worth of war bonds sold by Mrs. Dodge since December.

Inquiries as to membership in the guard may be made by calling Mrs. Dodge weekdays between 11 a. m. and 1 p. m.

Miss Irene Rhodes returned home Thursday from a three weeks visit with her sisters, Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Adamson and Mr. and Mrs. Doc Adamson at Los Angeles, Calif.

Bascom Giles In Active Campaign

Bascom Giles, Commissioner of the General Land Office, began the second week of his campaign for re-election, stressing the importance of experience in the office he now holds.

"To manage the public lands of Texas wisely and to preserve the valuable archives of this office, the commissioner must be imbued with the responsibility and knowledge of these intricate matters that only years of experience in the General Land Office can give," Commissioner Giles said.

He called attention to the fact that the General Land Office is the repository of the base title to every tract of land in Texas, and that extreme care should be exercised at all times to safeguard these important documents upon which the validity of every Texas land title is based.

Commissioner Giles invited those who have not done business with the land office to ask one of the 200,000 persons who have as to the type of service he is rendering as a state official.

Gets TSCW Cup for Extemp Speaking

Miss Louise Goble of Mission holds the large loving cup awarded the best extemporaneous speaker at Texas State College for Women. This young junior, who is one of the outstanding members of the TSCW debate team, last month won the annual contest among the students of the college.

Officials in the Southwest region of Price Administration gave all the credit for this initial victory to the General Maximum Price Regulation which went into effect May 18.

Nationally, a survey of prices in representative cities showed a net advance of eight-tenths of one per cent in total living costs between mid-April and mid-May, but from mid-May to the beginning of June there was a drop of one-tenth of one per cent.

In Houston, food prices declined 1.2 per cent from May 15 to June 2. In Kansas City, they dropped nine-tenths of one per cent. An increase of two-tenths of one per cent was shown in St. Louis.

But, showing what was happening when the OPA ordered that prices shall not rise higher than they were in March, 1942, average living costs on June 2, 1942, were 10.8 per cent higher than they were on June 5, 1941, and 17.5 per cent higher than they were when war broke out in Europe.

Through price control, we have tightened our economy. We also have taken in our belts. We have determined that almost nothing which might be useful in war shall be wasted on the non-essentials of ordinary living.

Instead of waste, we must pursue conservation and salvage. We must collect our scrap metals to help feed the war furnaces, and as we have been doing for almost two weeks now, we must gather up every piece of scrap rubber so that all available can be reclaimed for war use. These efforts also must continue for the duration.

In addition, as the fighting front needs more materials, the Home Front will do without more. Important developments of the week in this connection included the war notice sent to all manufacturers by the War Production Board. This notice was that all manufacturers using more than $5,000 worth of basic metals in a 90-day period will be placed under a drastic allocation program beginning July 1st.

To get critical materials under this program, manufacturers must file their applications under the WPB Production Requirements Plan with their nearest WPB district office before July 1.

Prospects are pretty dark for any use of critical materials for production of anything that won't help win the war or maintain necessary civilian services.

Paul Hanna who has been visiting his aunt and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Howze, has gone to his home at Falfurrias.

Paint Now

It is as important for you to take care of the lumber in your home as it is to take care of the tires on your car.

Statistics say there is over 80 BILLION DOLLARS worth of property in America. 90% of it is painted or paintable. 60% of it in almost every community actually needs painting or repainting NOW.

Our own government is urging and wants every property owner to take good care of his property for the duration of the War and nothing on earth takes as good care of property as REGULARLY APPLIED COATS OF GOOD PAINT PRODUCTS. They protect against DECAY, DETERIORATION and DEPRECIATION and at the same time give morale building beauty, cheerfulness and comfort.

SIDE GLANCES ON TEXAS HISTORY

By Lorena Drummond
University of Texas Library

First Texas Settlers Were Cattlemen

The cattle industry in Texas evidently got an early start, since a traveler of the 1870's describes the Spanish colony of San Antonio—the first group of actual settlers—to be made up of cattlemen.

Monsieur De Pages, French scholar and seaman, describes a lengthy trip across Texas in his two-volume "Travels Around the World," a copy of which is contained in the University of Texas Library's collection of Texana. The tour was made in 1767-1771.

In San Antonio, De Pages wrote, he found that the principal employment of the settlers was the raising of horses, mules, cows, and sheep. The cattle were allowed to run wild, being herded together once every few months, and kept in a corral in an effort to tame them. This discipline, the Frenchman commented, was seldom very effective.

The fore-runner of the famous Texas cowboy was described by De Pages, too, who said that the San Antonions were excellent horsemen and particularly fond of hunting or chasing their animals.

"Having entered the field and start an animal they mean to take alive, they give him chase at full speed till his fatigue enables them to come within a certain distance of him. Here the hunter, holding the running noose of a strong thongcoiled around his arm, throws it with such dexterity that he seldom fails to catch him around the neck or horns.

De Pages reveals that another writer had previously described a similar process, and declared it to be peculiar to the people of Patagonia.

A Frenchman's First Sight of Texas Longhorns

As his party traveled into central Texas and out of the forests onto the plains, De Pages got his first view of the famous Texas Longhorn. The cattle, he related, were originally tame, but had long since become wild and roamed in large herds over the plains.

The hunting of these cattle, De Pages wrote, began with festivity and ended with a celebration.

"As soon as a herd of cattle was seen on the plain, the most fleet and active of our cavalry prepared to attack them, and descending in the form of a crescent, hunted them in all directions," the traveler explained.

The cattle were stamped and kept running till exhausted, whereupon as many as the hunters could reach were slaughtered. What the pursuers needed for food, they took, and abandoned the rest to the wolves.

RETURN HOME

Mrs. Roy Fletcher and daughter Jessie returned to their home in Raymondville, Texas, Tuesday after enjoying a three weeks visit with her father, J. R. Martin and sister, Mrs. R. C. Allison.

Greater War-Time Truck and Bus Use Will Aid Texas Gasoline Tax Revenue

WITH substantial amounts of Texas' gasoline tax paid by commercial trucks vital to transportation, by buses, by cars of defense plant workers and by other passengers engaged in essential business, it is possible that increased war-time activities may partially offset war curtailment.

This view is expressed in a study of the outlook for Texas state aid high-way bonds, released by James C. Tucker, partner of Barcus, Kindred & Co., of Austin, municipal bond specialists. These state aid bonds receive 1¢ of the 4¢ state gasoline tax.

Figures from the Planning Survey of the Texas Highway Department are cited, showing that 28 per cent of Texas gasoline taxes are paid by trucks and buses and 72 per cent by passenger cars. The study then points out that interest charges on state aid bonds during the next five years could be paid if collections fell to only 29 per cent of the 1941 receipts.

Surveying the future outlook, the study states that if gas tax collections cover interest charges but not all maturing principal, two courses are open:

1—Counties may levy taxes to cover deficiencies. In the first three years of the State Aid Act, counties were required to levy taxes averaging $2,000,000 to cover estimated deficiencies. They are economically better able to provide such amounts today.

2—Maturing principal of state aid bonds may be refunded. Inasmuch as $28,956,541 of 34 per cent of the present outstanding state aid, matures within the next five fiscal years, some extension of principal maturities would be justified.

AUGUST FIRST IS DEADLINE FOR TRANSFERS

According to Miss Ruth Richerson, Superintendent of Donley County schools, August 1st is the last day to make transfers from rural schools to town. Parents, whose children intend to attend school in town, should make the proper transfer before the deadline, August 1st.

Failure to send in transfers to State headquarters will deprive the town school of the quota allotted for each pupil being transferred. A pupil who has not been transferred in the proper manner will have to pay tuition at the town school.

Miss Richerson also stresses the fact that pupils must be transferred individually and not as a group. She asks that all transfers be made immediately, as it is very important to the town school as well as to the parents in a financial way.

Even though an entire school has been transferred to town, each child is required to be transferred singularly or pay the tuition price. If not properly transferred, the money will remain in the community where the child is registered.

Texas Cuts Local Debt $19 Per Capita in Past Decade

Texas has reduced its state and local debt $19 per capita since 1932, while the corresponding debt of the entire United States has been decreased only $3 per capita, according to a statistical analysis issued by James C. Tucker, partner of Barcus, Kindred & Company of Austin, municipal bond specialists.

Between 1932 and 1940, Texas' gross state and local debt declined from $134 per capita to $115 per capita, Mr. Tucker's figures show. During the same period, similar debt for the United States as a whole decreased from $137 to $154 per capita.

Thus Texas' debt reduction record was nearly seven times greater than that of the entire country. The figures were 14.77 and 2.2 per cent, respectively.

E. C. Nelson

Judge E. C. Nelson is a candidate for Chief Justice of the Court of Civil Appeals. This is one of the highest judicial offices in our State, one that demands the most thorough training and the widest possible experience. Judge Nelson has attended and graduated from the leading universities and law schools in our country, giving him an educational background of the highest order.

He taught school for five years before entering the legal profession, and served two years in the United States Army during World War I, fourteen months of his service being in France.

He has had a well-rounded legal experience. He has been a licensed attorney for more than 22 years. He has practiced law in all of our courts and has been judge of all courts of record up to the Court of Civil Appeals. As an appellate judge, he will be able, from his own experience, to review a case from the standpoint of both the practicing lawyer and the trial judge. He is now District Judge of the district composed of Potter, Randall, and Armstrong Counties, and his record as a trial judge is one of the best in the State.

Judge Nelson is 51 years old, just the right age to undertake the work of an appellate judge. He is old enough for maturity, experience, and judgment, and young enough for the years of hard work the position requires.

The size of the district has made it impossible for him to see all the people, but he solicits the vote and influence of all our citizens.

Chiropractor Is Hero of Hong Kong; Had Madame Chiang Kai-shek As Patient At One Time

The No. 1 American hero at the historic fall of Hong Kong was the prosperous and socially prominent Chiropractor, Dr. Frank J. Molthen.

An account of Dr. Molthen's bravery under trying conditions was revealed by F. W. Kendall, an American engineer, and the only citizen of the United States known to have escaped from the Crown Colony since its capture by the Japanese.

Dr. Molthen won considerable renown in this country and much prestige in China from the fact that he numbered among his patients Madame Chiang Kai-shek, wife of the great Chinese Generalissimo, Madame Chiang had long been a patient of the handsome Doctor who went from Los Angeles to the Orient five years ago to establish a practice.

Through Madame Chiang's influence, the Generalissimo himself became a firm convert to Chiropractic, and a frequent patient. Shortly before the siege of Hong Kong, Dr. Molthen had written to his wife, who was in Los Angeles with their six children, telling her that the Generalissimo and Mme. Chiang had invited him to Chungking to treat them. As a matter of fact, Mrs. Molthen (who is also a practicing Chiropractor) assumed that her husband was in the Chinese capital at the time of the Japanese attack on Hong Kong, and only learned of his presence in the Crown Colony from Mr. Kendall's account, which was widely printed in American newspapers and magazines.

Dr. Molthen's patients included the two other "famous Soongs"—sisters of Mme. Chiang Kai-shek, as well as many other persons prominent in the political, social and business life of modern China. He enjoyed a splendid practice and was reported, incidentally, to have had a large sum of money on deposit in Hong Kong banks, which it is feared has been lost to the enemy.

Mr. Kendall, the escaping engineer, who eventually made his way to Chungking, related to audiences there how the strapping 6 ft. 2 in. Chiropractor loaded a motorcycle sidecar with gun cotton and roared off to the waterfront, at the height of the excitement and panic, where, single-handed and with rare presence of mind, he blew up two large ships to blockade a strategic inlet in the harbor. "There is no question," says Mr. Kendall, "but that this action delayed the Japanese attack, and thus, indirectly, cost many enemy lives."

Dr. Molthen's next step, according to published accounts, was to scuttle some thirty or forty other small craft, which might have been utilized by the invaders. When last seen by Kendall, Dr. Molthen was busily engaged in untangling traffic at a busy street intersection in the Crown Colony. "Hong Kong certainly needed men like Molthen!" was the Kendall comment.

Mrs. Molthen, who is still in Los Angeles, has had no direct word from her husband. Although she has made persistent appeals to the State Department and the Red Cross, no further fragment of information has been received concerning the perpetrator of this daring "one-man blitzkrieg." This is doubly distressing since she remains partially disabled as a result of a recent major operation. She is physically unable to resume her own practice, and she and the six children have now lost the support on which they had so confidently depended.

GARDEN GLANCES

"America beautiful lies in the hands of the gardeners."

The warm dry weather is very injurious to the gardens and flowers. Yet there are some points of interest in the local gardens.

The City Hall has some unusual canna blossoms. They are almost all yellow and are cool and fresh looking.

The Norwood home has some nice petunias that are flowering to make the garden gay with their bright colors.

W. B. Sims' yard is filled with vari-colored flowers, making the grounds quite showy.

The Lumpkin's and Potts' homes are decorated by a number of perennial phlox and other bright flowers.

Gladioli are blooming gayly in many gardens. Mrs. A. G. Lane has some very beautiful ones that are almost a flame color. They produce a bright spot in the garden.

E. W. Harris of Harold visited his brother Dr. and Mrs. B. B. Harris Sunday.

HARRY N. GRAVES

Judge Harry N. Graves was elected four years ago to fill the unexpired term of the late Judge O. S. Lattimore as a member of the Court of Criminal Appeals of Texas. He has actively participated in the work of the Court since that time, and has written his share of their opinions.

This Court has disposed of the cases submitted to it, and is up with its docket, and he requests a second term at the hands of the voters.

Would it be wise to change the personnel of this Court at the present time?

EUGENE WORLEY Goes Back to Congress

AT THE REQUEST OF PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT

Congressman Eugene Worley sent word last week from a far-away port in Australia that he would return to Washington in compliance with a directive issued by the President, calling all members of the House and Senate who are on war duty, back to Congress.

It will require a few weeks for Gene to reach American shores but as soon as he does he will head straight for his district to talk over the war situation with you before resuming his duties in Washington.

Gene has been aboard a U. S. Aircraft Carrier at Pearl Harbor and off the Coast of Australia for the past six months. He volunteered his services.

to his country when he voted for war—just like he told you he would. He did what his predecessor, Marvin Jones, did in World War I, and what Senator Tom Connally did in 1917.

When he enlisted in the Navy in January, Gene said he would return to Congress when the President called him, and he is keeping that promise, too. He will return with a vast amount of first-hand knowledge of this war that will be helpful in shaping our future course.

Gene will not be back in time to ask you for your vote, but his friends ask you for him.

RED CROSS VOLUNTEER SERVICE KNITTING

Knitted garments turned in this week included a helmet by Mrs. Floyd Lumpkin, three War Production sweaters by Mrs. Tom Bugbee, Mrs. Frank McClure and Mrs. A. J. Sibley; squares for afagans turned in by Betty Jo Rhodes and Mary Ladell Cox; a muffler by Mrs. B. Blanks; and an olive drab sleeveless sweater by Mrs. C. E. Griggs.

Yarn was taken out by Mrs. May Hayes (m), Miss Lee Patton (h), Mrs. A. J. Sibley (h), Mrs. W. Taylor (w), Margaret Faye Wadsworth (m), Ruby Terry (m), Johnnie Johnson (m), and Mrs. C. D. McDowell (h), Mrs. Ernest Hunt (h), Mrs. Hattie Palmer (h), Mrs. Bill Bromley (h), Mrs. Charlie Bairfield (h), and Mrs. A. B.

Turner (h). Mrs. U. J. Boston gave a very nice donation of yarn for the afagan squares and another completed afagan was turned in by Mrs. James Trent. The afagan makes the fourth that Mrs. Trent has put together for the Red Cross.

The helmets are ready for distribution. Knitting of these helmets require four No. 4 needles that may be purchased at the production. The garments are easily made and instructions will be issued with each batch of yarn.

Anyone caring to instruct in knitting one afternoon a week, please get in touch with the knitting chairman, Mrs. W. A. Riney at phone 128. We need your help. Also if there is anyone wishing to learn to knit, come down to the club room and you will be given assistance. This is a special invitation to all of you who have been backward about taking advantage of the chance.

Cutting and Sewing The cutting of the women's and children's blouses was coming along nicely this week. Those who cut last week included Mrs. Cal Merchant, Mrs. J. M. Acord, Mrs. John Potts, Mrs. L. H. Skelton, Mrs. Will Johnson, and Mrs. Victor Smith.

We are again asking the heads of the church circles to get in touch with Mrs. C. T. McMurtry at phone 80 in regard to the sewing of the women's and children's blouses.

If you do not wish to make the button holes on the blouses, Naomi Morris has an attachment on her machine for this purpose and she has volunteered to do this service.

Production Room News We have had several nice donations this week, one of which was a donation which will be added to the local funds given by Mrs. Lon Rundell. Another is four white shirts donated by Mrs. Frank Phelan. These shirts will be used as children's aprons.

Mrs. Paul Smithey recently added a new poster to the room. The poster bears the volunteer service emblem, a copy of the volunteer service pin. Mrs. Smithey has been very generous in her work in the production room and she is busy now making more posters which will be added soon.

Mrs. C. A. Burton, Secretary of the Home Service, reports that a recent letter from National Headquarters to the Home Service Department gives the rate of increased pay to men in the service, and also the plans for soldier's help to dependents, as well as to the amounts added to this by the Government. But the statement is made that the money set aside from the soldier's pay and from the government appropriation will not be mailed out until after the first of November, though the amount will be cumulative from June 1st.

Appreciation for Knitters Private Gerald A. Biscoe of Newtonville, Mass., stationed at Scheffield Barricks, Hawaii, found on the label of a sweater these words: "Newton, Mass., Chapter, American Red Cross." Needless to say Chapter workers were glad to receive word that one of their sweaters for the American Armed Forces had reached a home-town boy.

Writing to thank the Chapter for the dozen sweaters, a part of a consignment of Red Cross articles distributed to the soldiers there, the Adjutant of the 65th Engineer Battalion said in part:

"Mere words fail to express the genuine deep-hearted gratefulness of the boys who received these sweaters.

"Although the Hawaiian Islands are largely tropical with beaches of constant sunshine, there is plenty of use for warm garments like these sweaters. Your work is playing a vital part in keeping up the morale and in improving the general welfare of our American soldiers."

"What is home without a mother?" cried the emotional young swain. "I will be tonight," twittered his blushing companion.

Keep Appliances In Good Repair

Mrs. Homemaker, faced with the probability that she soon will be unable to buy new electric appliances, is reminded by the West Texas Utilities that her sweeper, iron, food mixer and the like will last longer if kept in good repair.

Even new parts are becoming scarce and harder to get, says Chas. Lowry, WTU local manager. Practically all the factories, which once made household appliances, now have been converted to war production of some kind. For instance, a plant that used to make vacuum sweepers now is making gas masks.

The company, as a means of helping to "keep 'em working", has worked out a plan whereby appliances can be kept in useful condition for the duration.

Regardless of make or where originally purchased, WTU servicemen now are prepared to repair electric appliances insofar as new parts are obtainable. This special service is offered only as a convenience to electric users in communities where such repairs are not otherwise available, or the dealer from whom the appliance was originally purchased has discontinued business.

Small appliances, in need of repairs, should be taken to the local office for information about parts and costs while repairs for major appliances in most cases can be made in the home.

"By spending a little now," Mr. Lowry said, "you may save a lot—and keep 'em working."

Know Your Navy—Each slanting stripe above the cuff of a Navy man's sleeve represents four years of naval service.

The Flying Box Cars

These are the battleships of the air, these are the giant eagles which leave their coastal nests at dawn to prowl the expanses of water, these are the highly keen eyes of the fleet which can either shatter the enemy directly or summon swarms of eaglets to do it for them—these are the "flying box cars" which their crews love so dearly.

They are the "P" or patrol bombers, pride of the U. S. Navy which conceived and wrought them into a state of perfection, a perfection which the famed Trans-Atlantic crossing of the NC-4 in 1919 so dramatically forecast.

"Box cars" indeed they are called, but not derisively. Only because of their comparative size alongside of the smaller planes, their slower speed, their ability to travel great distances, and because in rough water the noise in landing is somewhat comparable to banging freight cars. (A full stall landing which sets the "boat" down with a bang is far easier on the craft than a gradual gliding approach which shears back on the rivets.)

What they have accomplished in this war cannot in the interests of military security be fully told until peace has again come to the world. It is public knowledge that a PBV ("Catalina") in the RAF first sighted the Bismarck. Other accomplishments on the European front and particularly the far-flung Pacific front would make equally dramatic reading—and someday will.

Indeed by the very nature of their mission they must remain somewhat anonymous to all of the public except those who live close by the sea and watch their brief goings and comings. Otherwise they are seen only by the ships at sea and by the creatures which inhabit the sea.

But the people, to whom the Navy belongs, should know a little more about them, and are entitled to. So let's study some of them at the U. S. Naval Air Station, at Corpus Christi, Texas, where young men by the hundreds are learning their ways.

There at the "University of the Air" are the patrol bombers which have seen service with the fleet, and have been retired for training purposes as newer models leave the assembly lines and are sent to the fighting fronts.

These "box cars" that are flown by students all day long vary between 12 and 15 tons in weight, are powered with two engines of 1200 or more horsepower apiece, have a cruising range upwards of 3,000 miles, a top speed of about 200 miles per hour, and carry a crew of 7.

Of course they are very much junior in all respects to the new monsters which are being built as fast as men and machines can turn them out, and which have reached a temporary culmination in the giant 4-motored "MARS" bomber of the Glenn Martin Co.

The reaction of those who learn to fly them is very much the same. Most pilots think at first they want to fly something a little "hotter", a little more dashing, like fighters and dive-bombers. For some months they often don't like the big boats at all. Then, after about a year, nothing but an order from the Navy Department will take them away from their new-found loves.

Why? Well, here's what one young pilot, who has flown them for four years and who has just returned from the Pacific area says:

"They're comfortable and easy to manage. They've got bunks and when you're not in an area where you have to be on alert all the time you can take turns getting some sleep. In rough weather they fly as smoothly as any airplane can, and you just can't put them into a tailsip. You've got your shore base to come back to every night and that's pretty swell for someone like myself who is very fond of trees and grass. They're big, it's true, but they aren't as good targets for the enemy as you might think. Given suitable weather conditions, it isn't hard at all to duck back into a cloud after you've finished your bombing or observation, and besides they're bristling with machine guns. They seem more friendly than other planes which buck and kick you in the teeth the moment you start to think you've got the best of 'em. I wouldn't trade the flying boats for any other plane in the service."

The "P" boats are the nearest relative to the non-rigid lighter-than air ships (Blimps). Faster than the blimps, they are both nevertheless A-1 at scouting, patrolling, convoying, and bombing of particular targets. And they are both beloved by their crews.

THE NOSE KNOWS

The nose is the first thing that strikes the observer. It is the most prominent feature of the face and is an outward evidence of race and character. It may be either an asset or a liability; on some it may be an outrage. It may be large or small, long or short, wide or narrow, straight, curved or humped, ugly, bulbous or pointed, or it may be sweet, neat and pretty.

A change in the color and there is the difference between the teetotaler and the anti-Volsted fanatic. It is an indicator of destiny.

Character is portrayed by this most important appendage. There is the shrewish nose, the easy-going nose, the very humble nose and the always running nose.

There is the nose that pokes into other people's business, and there is the nose of dignity. There is also the false nose. In short, there are all sorts of noses.—National Chiropractic Journal.

W. L. Clampitt and D. W. Clampitt attended to their farming interests at Farwell last Thursday, reporting crops in good condition there.

"Please send me 10¢ worth of electricity—today"

"But, Lady, you don't have to order it—just turn the switch!"

SUPPOSE, though, that you did have to order your day's supply of electric service, say, in baskets like groceries. You'd realize even more how convenient it now is. And you'd appreciate even more how little it costs... and how much it does for you.

Actually, a majority of all West Texas families have good light and operate their many appliances for about a dime a day—or less!

What's more, that dime buys just about twice or three times as much electricity as it did 10 to 15 years ago! And (are you surprised?) it's one of the few household items that hasn't "gone up" as a result of the war.

This bargain doesn't just happen. It comes from our united effort to give you better service at lower cost. It is made possible by practical, efficient business management of an institution built by Americans who invested their savings in an industry dedicated to the public service and regulated by the government.

That's the American way—and it works!

It works so well that even though our country today is pouring record-breaking amounts of electric power into the world's greatest production of planes, tanks, ships and guns—you still get low-cost current in your home... and at the flick of a switch. You don't need to order it... or secure a ration card.

Probably the few pennies a day you spend for electric service bring you more for your money than anything else you buy. For this small amount, would you clean oil lamps, beat rugs, scrub clothes, give up your radio?

Hardly! Electric service is the world's biggest bargain a new drive for salvage iron and this campaign started on the 13th of July, and will be closed at a date to be announced by the local war board. This is also true for the saving of waste fats. This will probably last for the duration of the war.

The salvaging of the waste fats from the kitchen by the housewife and the bringing in of scrap metal by the husbands will give the entire family a part to play in this national defense program.

Breedlove stated that a good policy to follow was not to throw away any waste materials of any kind because the government will probably have a salvage program that will collect this material in the near future.

"Let all of us contact our neighbors and do our part to save all of the waste fats and metals, and get them to the proper places at once so that they can go on to help the war efforts," the county agent stated.

"Some of the ladies clubs in the county plan to keep records on the clubs, and then turn in to my office each month the pounds of waste fats sold by their clubs. I am going to publish the accomplishments of each club that does this, if the president will bring me this information."

This is a real project for all of the clubs in the county to get behind and help to make a success. The human chain of communication of Victory Leaders are going to contact all persons in the county, and urge them to save all waste fats and bring all of the old scrap metal to town.

WILL VISIT IN NEW MEXICO

Rev. L. Guy Ament and family leave early Monday morning for Roy, N. Mex. for a few days visit. They will return for following Sunday service.

VISIT HERE

Mrs. Frank Carroll and daughter Ruby and son Ted from Turlock, Calif., spent Friday night with Mrs. Robt. Allison and family. The Carrolls moved from Clarendon five years ago. They are close friends of the Allison's.

TO THE PRODUCERS OF DONLEY COUNTY.

Walter J. Flynt, Secretary Donley County ACA

Since compliance is well under way we would like to bring to the notice of the Producers a few things regarding the method of handling compliance in the field and in the County Office.

Some of you no doubt wonder sometimes why it takes so long after your farm is measured before word is sent to you regarding the measurements. Reporters are instructed to come to the county office only once a week unless there is some special reason, so the maps are turned in at the office only once a week. If your farm is measured the day after the Reporter is at the office, it will be a full week before your map is even turned in for Planimetering in the office. Maps are being measured by Planimeter Operators in the exact order in which they come in to the office, so sometimes a map is in the office three or four days or even a week before it is measured. The same day the Planimeter Operators finish computing the acreage on the map, your notice is mailed to you regarding the measurements on cotton, government land and soil-building practices.

With the new maps there are bound to be a few mistakes in acreage calculations, however, we feel that more than a few mistakes may be uncovered. You will be sent a notice if your total cropland varies as much as three or four acres, and you will be asked to come to the county office to help us figure out the reason for the variation. At any time we will be glad to do any remeasuring you feel is necessary in order to get the fields and plots on the map correctly. There will be a compliance deposit of $1.00 plus 2c per acre on the acreage you wish remeasured in the field, but this will be refunded to you if it is found to be an error in an amount of 1/2 acre or more.

I would like to caution Operators to have the Reporters to be sure to take off all turnrows, and to turn in all soil-building practices, as the failure to do so will make it necessary to make another visit to the farm, and in addition to making it cost more to run the program, it would also make it necessary for the Operator to make a deposit for a recheck.

We want to assure all producers that we will make every effort possible to get all work correct, to serve the county as efficiently and as fast as we can in every phase of the work.
