Snow And Cold Dominate Weather

Snow and cold weather still hold the top spot as far as the weather picture is concerned. The story isn't on a local basis either for there is snow practically all over Texas and it also extends without interruption to the northeastern states as well as the central plains states.

A blustery spell predicted for last week end failed to materialize in this area but one that had not been predicted zipped in Monday night in the form of a blowing snow that piled up drifts and hampered traffic. The sun came out bright Tuesday but the snow returned during the early hours Wednesday morning and is due to continue through Thursday morning. Colder weather accompanied the storm, also, with the mercury dropping to 8 degrees on Monday night and again on Tuesday night.

Our moisture for the month of February so far totals 1.41 inches which includes a .02 inch melted out of the snow Wednesday morning at 7 o'clock. An estimated 1 inch of snow had fallen by noon Wednesday. The moisture total for the year so far is 2.99. The January and February total for last year was only .43 inch.

FARM NEWS

from the County ASC Committee

Do You Intend To Plant Your Cotton Allotment In 1960?

If you do not intend to plant your cotton allotment this year, it would be to your advantage to release the allotment to the County Committee. If you are in Soil Bank CR you do not have to plant or release.

The County Committee can re-appportion the acreage to other farmers, but only to those who will come to this office on or before April 22nd and sign Form MQ 30 "Request for Additional Cotton Acreage." The history will be retained by the farm from which the cotton is released. It is very important that at least 75% of the farm allotment be planted or released or in Soil Bank.

Please come to this office for further information concerning the above.

Choice (A) or (B) Allotment

If you decide that you want the Choice (B) allotment and price support you must notify this office in writing not later than March 16, 1960. If you want the Choice (A) allotment and price support no such action need be taken. March 16, 1960, will soon be here — ACT NOW — if you want the Choice (B) allotment for 1960.

Conservation Reserve Contracts

Soil Bank contracts may cover a period of up to 10 years. Producers who have 3 to 5 year contracts may extend them to 10 year contracts by applying for such extension at the County ASC Office.

Dates To Remember

March 15th — Choice (A) or Choice (B) Allotment.
 March 31st — Maturity date for 1959 Grain Sorghum and Wheat Loans.
 April 1st — Premeasurement of Cotton.
 April 22nd — Release of farm Cotton Allotment.

OFFICIAL MEMORANDUM

By Price Daniel
 Governor of Texas
 Austin, Texas

GREETINGS:

For each of the past ten years Public Schools Week in Texas has been set aside as a special time to place increased emphasis on our educational system.

During this period, parents are encouraged to visit the public schools, and all citizens are urged through special programs to recognize the tremendous importance of our system of education. Our goal is to make Texas public schools the finest in the Nation, and to achieve this our citizens are urged to take an active interest in the school systems and to cooperate with their school boards, superintendents, principals and teachers.

Never before in our history has there been a greater need for educated leadership. As we rush to train young people in science and technology to keep pace with world events, it is also important to remember that our public schools will furnish our leaders of tomorrow with the basic human, moral and spiritual foundations necessary for more advanced training and knowledge.

THEREFORE, I, as Governor of Texas, do hereby designate the week of February 27 - March 4, 1960, as PUBLIC SCHOOLS WEEK in Texas.

In official recognition whereof, I hereby affix my signature this 5th day of Jan., 1960.

PRICE DANIEL
 Governor of Texas

Two Oklahoma Men Jailed Here Tuesday On Cattle Theft Charge

Bulldogs End Season With Lubbock Christian Here Tonight, 8:00

The Clarendon College Bulldogs will end their regular basketball season tonight in a game here with Lubbock Christian College. The only possibility of further play after tonight would have to come with an invitation to participate in the Region V, National Junior College Athletic Association Tournament which will be held in Amarillo the second week in March.

The Bulldogs will have a chance to finish in a tie with Amarillo for third place in the West Zone Conference if they defeat the Lubbock team tonight. A win over LCC would give the Bulldogs a 6-6 conference record. Howard County is in first place and Frank Phillips is in second place.

The Bulldogs have shown an improved team the last two games. They played great ball in defeating Amarillo at Amarillo on Feb. 16 by a score of 87 to 84, then came home to blast the Wayland College B team last Friday night by the top-heavy score of 110 to 72. They are gaining valuable experience with every game, with their line-up sprinkled rather liberally with freshmen, and may be ready to give a good account of themselves in the event they are invited to the Regional Tournament.

Tennis Teams Start Workouts This Week

Coach J. R. Williams announced this week that workouts in tennis have begun with quite a number of both boys and girls coming out. Both boys and girls made a good record last year and are expected to make a good showing in district play this year.

Kenneth Housden placed first in singles last year and will be trying for a repeat performance this year. Others reporting for tennis are Dennis Bradshaw, Jerry Allen, W. N. Elam, Ronnie Hall, Don Hudgins, Wayne Mann, Sandy Skelton, Don McAnear, Billy Spier and Steve Richerson.

Reporting for the girls team are Paula Adams, Peggy Jackson, Marie Richey, Karen Knorpp and Suzie Yankee.

Two Hollis, Oklahoma, men were lodged in the local jail here Tuesday by Sheriff Bill Cornell on a cattle theft charge. The two men along with two other Oklahoma suspects were picked up at Hollis Saturday night by Hollis Sheriff Q. D. Jackson, Sheriff Cornell and Texas Ranger J. P. Lynch and placed in the Hollis jail.

Two of the men, Jessie Allen McDearmon, 32, and Bobby Gene Willett, 25, were brought to the local jail by Cornell Tuesday and bond was set at $5,000 each.

Four head of black cattle missing from the Arlie Wood feed pens about a mile east of town on January 31st were identified in a herd of cattle 12 miles north of Hollis.

Sheriff Cornell reported that this may be the beginning of breaking a big cattle theft ring as a number of other unbranded cattle were in the same herd where Wood's cattle were found.

High School Teams Finish Third

Both the high school boys' and girls' basketball teams, coached by J. R. Williams, finished in third place in district play this year.

The Broncos lost a thriller to White Deer that pushed them into third place. They played hard all season but just seemed to shy of hitting the basket when the important time came. They placed second in the White Deer tourney at the first of the season. The Broncos compiled a 16-11 season and scored 1,431 points to their opponents 1,332. They were led by three seniors who have played their last ball for CHS, Wayne Mann, W. N. Elam and Kenneth Housden. Sandy Skelton also a senior, played as a reserve.

The girls team wound up in third place, also, after losing a double overtime game to Memphis. They scored a fabulous 1,444 points to their opponents 1,333. They compiled an 18-10 record for the season and averaged 51 points per game to their opponents 48.

The girls were led by senior Pat Owens who played a guard position. The scoring punch was made up of Paula Adams, Marie Richey and Alice Johnson. — W. N. Elam, Rep.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

Proper Irrigation Water Use

Now is the time for the irrigation farmers of the Donley County Soil Conservation District to be planning ahead. It may seem with the abundant supply of moisture available now, that the irrigation season is being rushed. Successful irrigation farmers know, however, that you cannot wait until the last minute to start getting ready.

They also know that to make money they must make proper use of their irrigation water. This means applying the irrigation water in the amounts and at the time it is needed. Factors to be considered include the needs of the crop, the characteristics of the soil and topography, and the climatic conditions.

The high cost of fuel and repair bills for the irrigation pumps and motors make it essential that the water be used as efficiently as possible. Some ways that fuel is wasted are; too great a friction loss in pipelines, applying more water than the crop needs, and not applying as much water as the crop needs. If the friction loss is too high, then the pump and motor have to work harder to put out enough water. If more water is being applied than is needed, then the system could be changed to cover more land or cut back to save fuel. If not enough water is being applied to meet the needs of the crop and soil then maximum production is not being obtained.

As was pointed out at the beginning of this article, some planning must be done to get proper use of irrigation water. Contact the Soil Conservation Service technicians assisting the Donley County Soil Conservation District. They will be happy to assist you in any way possible to get the proper plan for your irrigation system.

GRASSROOTS OPINION

Waltham, Mass., News-Tribune: "Nearly every motorist who has done late night driving can recall instances where he has dozed for a fraction of a second. Your eyes close, the head dips, then you straighten up with a sudden awareness bordering on panic. It might take only the time for a snap of the finger to regain control. In such an experience, you brush against the wings of death."

Johnson - Davis Vows Exchanged

Miss Alice Mae Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Johnson, Jr., Clarendon, became the bride of Mr. Johnny Edwin Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Davis, also of Clarendon, in a double ring ceremony read at 7:30 p.m. February 20th in the home of the bride's parents. Rev. W. R. Lawrence, pastor of the First Baptist Church officiated.

Vows were exchanged before a background, accented by palms and draped with Plumius fern. White tapers in crystal candelabra and a large bouquet of white gladioli formed the center. Jimmy Johnson, brother of the bride, lighted the candles.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Miss Beth Johnson. She wore a blue pima cotton dress accented with pink and a matching headpiece. Her corsage was of pink carnations.

Best man was Keith Schollenbarger of Shattuck, Okla.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a ballerina length gown of sheer white nylon over taffeta fashioned with a fitted bodice. A lace jacket accented with tiny taffeta bows featured three-quarter length sleeves. Her white lace gloves tapered to pedal points at the hands. Her veil of illusion was caught by a headpiece of Brussels lace studded with seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white carnations with baby blue center sprayed with silver.

Mrs. Johnson choose for her daughter's wedding, a dress of black linen with white trim and matching accessories and a corsage of white carnations. Mrs. Davis, mother of the bridegroom, wore a navy blue dress with white trim and matching accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony. Guests were invited to register their names in the guest book which was presided over by Miss Sharon Moore. The refreshment table was laid with a white imported linen cloth and centered with the three tiered wedding cake flanked by blue tapers in silver candelabras and the crystal service completed the decor.

Assisting at the reception was Miss Marie Richey and Miss Peggy Sue Jackson.

For traveling, the bride chose a blue knit suit with white accessories and a pink corsage.

The bride is a student of Clarendon High School. The groom is a graduate of Clarendon High School and is employed by Chamberlain Motor Co. here. The couple will be at home in Clarendon.

Forty-three guests attended the wedding and reception. Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Johnson and Lisa, Mrs. Barbara Brown, Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. Bud Shaffer and son, Donnie, Pampa; and Keith Schollenbarger, Shattuck, Okla.

Clarendon Cub Scouts and their parents celebrated the Golden Jubilee of Scouting at a banquet at the First Christian Church on Thursday, February 18. Cub Scout colors of blue and gold were carried out in the decorations and on the speaker's table was a golden 50 with small figures of Cub Scouts on each side. The boys each made an ashtray for their dads. The ash trays were small cans with rope twisted and glued on them.

Master of Ceremonies was J. B. Melton, who is the institutional representative of the Christian Church which sponsors the Clarendon Cub Scouts. The opening ceremony was participated in by all the boys. The colors were advanced and the boys repeated the Pledge of Allegiance and the Cub Scout promise in unison. Rev. Paul Hancock of the First Christian Church gave the invocation.

One year pens were received by Gary Baker, Eddie Carmichael, Roger Johnson, Larry Kidd, Frank Phelan, III, Ferrel Shelton, Billy Barnes, Jerry Melton, and Chuck Adkins. Souvenir pocket pieces were given to all the Cub Scouts.

Rev. William R. Lawrence of the Baptist Church was the guest speaker of the evening.

HOW MUCH HIGHER?
"How much higher can the gasoline tax burden go before it becomes a handicap to the furtherance of the nation's economy?" That king-sized question is asked by J. H. Carmical in a lengthy article in the New York Times.

Last October, Congress raised the federal gas tax a cent. Now it is proposed that another half-cent be added. This may not seem like much - but it would increase the American motorists' fuel bill by a handsome $250 million a year.

Gasoline already carries excessive taxes which are outrageous for a basic necessity. The average tax, state and federal combined, has passed 10 cents. Collections run to some $5 billion a year. Then, Mr. Carmical points out, the motorist must pay all manner of other special levies—registration fees, excise taxes on the cars themselves and on tires and parts, etc. All in all, he estimates, tax collections from highway users probably amount to more than $10 billion a year.

What this all adds up to is that the gas tax can reach a point of diminishing return, as motorists reduce their consumption in one way or another. As an example, Mr. Carmical points to the growing trend toward small economy cars - which certainly indicates that the driving public is growing increasingly cost conscious. Higher gas taxes, state or federal will defeat their own purpose.

SPENDERS OR SAVERS?

Writing in U.S. News & World Report, David Lawrence points to "the most important question before the Congress." It is whether the expected federal budget surplus for the coming fiscal year (estimated by the President at $4.2 billion) shall be spent, or applied to the reduction of our national debt. As he puts it, "Shall we become 'spenders' or 'savers'?"

There is small doubt what will happen if the spenders rather than the savers have their way. The surplus will be dissipated, there is every possibility that a deficit will take its place, the already weakened dollar will become weaker in world money markets, and there will be new rounds of inflation. In this connection, the President made a remark of the utmost significance: "Personally, I do not feel that any amount can be properly called a surplus as long as the nation is in debt. I prefer to think of such an item as reduction in our children's inherited mortgage. And, once we have established such payments as normal practice, we can profitably make improvements in our tax structure and thereby truly reduce the heavy burdens of taxation."

Finally, Mr. Lawrence posed another big question in these words: "What presidential candidate will espouse the doctrine of paying off the public debt by annual contributions from surplus?" The country deserves — in this election year — an unequivocal answer.

Californians Change View Of Texas

Three California college students have a different view of Texas which is explained in the letter which follows that was received by Bill Todd after returning home from a fishing trip to Guyamas, Old Mexico.

Mr. Todd along with Cap Morris, George Benson, Bert DeBord, Doc Mann, Amil Carter and Glenn Adkins, came upon the three young men on a downtown street in Guyamas and noticed that they all carried a downcast appearance. Upon inquiring as to their trouble, they found that the boys had wandered farther away from home than they had anticipated, had had a blow-out and had run out of money. Our local group took them to their cabins, fed them and assisted them in securing money for a longer stay and their return trip home. The letter gives a better description of their feelings for our fine Donley County citizens:

Mr. Bill Todd:
Well sir, we arrived here safely about 1:30 this morning, 770 miles in 13 hours. I just took a shower and I feel fairly awake, so I thought I'd write you now. Speaking for all three of us, may I again express our great thanks and gratitude to you for all the help you gave us. Never before have I so truly appreciated meeting a person as yourself. May I also say, through you, to all of your "boys" that because of them Californian's impression of Texas has changed completely. You gentlemen were the epitome of hospitality, good cheer, and comradeship that one reads about in books about your fair state but so rarely sees in actuality.

I am truly sorry that we could not have enjoyed your company for a longer period. Next time we shall outfit ourselves with more thought and make a more organized effort. Of course had we done this for this trip we may never have met you gentlemen. So it would seem that it was our great good fortune to have so ill planned this trip that we literally fell into your arms. Well, the end of the page is upon me and sleep dims my eyes so with us to have a stronger faith in our youth. It is the creed of a youth study center. It goes; I believe in a God who believes in and loves a fellow like me. I believe in a God who loves me as a real father loves his own son. I believe in myself because I am somebody. I am somebody because I am God's child.

Roy L. Taylor of Matador, candidate for State Representative from the 88th District, consisting of Donley, Hall, Childress and Motley counties, declared the major pledge in his campaign would be strong and unwavering opposition to a state personal income tax or retail sales tax. Taylor's formal announcement appeared in the February 11th edition of the Donley County Leader.

Someone has said that it does make a difference what we believe. I believe that the above is true. I believe in the future of our world because I believe in those that are to make up the inhabitants of tomorrow. I believe that they are better equipped to face life at its worst and at its best than those of my generation. We see evidence on every hand that helps offset the bad and makes us believe that our coming generations will do a good job with this old world. At least they won't do any worse than we have done.

I believe in life because life offers me a chance to grow, and because it teaches me that the real joy of life comes in giving and in living my very best.

When we find a lot wrong with our young people we can most every time trace the trouble back to the grown-ups. We need to give them a lot of love. We need to give them something to live for and insist that they accept the work and responsibility necessary to make that something live. If we have done these few simple things we will believe with more faith in the faithfulness of our young people.

Living in a Small Town or community is likely one of the finest things that has happened in your life. Think hard and see if you do not agree. Really, we are not joking or trying to just be funny. According to the records 80% of the very successful people and all of the politicians originated in either a rural community or a very small town. As for politicians, without this background one can't get past the local school board, or president of the community club.

In a small community you know everyone by their first name and they know you. They know all about you, even some of the things you don't want them to know. They know what kind of a living you make for your family and they know why you can't go to bed at night with a clear conscience.

While we are living folks have a tendency to let the air out of our sails now and then, and occasionally we even talk about the bad in our neighbors. But, when one of the group gets sick they all get busy doing nice things, and remembering all the good this person has done. If he should die, they all turn out to a person for the funeral. The church house won't hold the friends, nor the flowers and gifts which they bring. The surviving members are cheered and comforted and that is a pretty important thing at a time like this.

Yes, even with its ups and downs, pros and cons, living in a small town or a rural community is a pretty wonderful experience. We didn't even get around to how one can make a sponge cake or sponge a whole meal with things borrowed from one's neighbors.

"Credit is a treasure, far beyond measure. If used in a prudent way. But if you abuse it you're sure to lose it. And suffer for many a day."

We do not know who wrote the above but the words are just as true in this day as in any other

GABIE BETTS BURTON LIBRARY NOTES

EDITH BARNES

"No Room in the Ark" by Allen Moorehead has been given to the library in memory of James Morgan.

A memorial fund has been given time even though our whole economy is built on credit.

Our nation as a first example owes more today than it would have been worth one hundred years ago. Each time congress meets almost the debt limit has to be raised so that our Washington planners can go ahead with their habit of spending more than We The People pay in. We wonder where and when it will all end.

It is almost impossible to keep up with anyone these days without going in debt. Most folks don't try to figure out how much they can pay but rather how much they can afford to owe.

One reason it is so hard to keep out of debt is that too many folks try to spend what other folks think they make.

There is an old saying which says; "A hog bought on the credit will grunt until it's paid for." Most of us who were trying to do things during the "Thirties" are still a bit gun-shy about being in debt. It was a hard lesson, which most of us will long remember.

en dedicated to the memory of Mrs. Sarah N. Maxey.

One friend gave us four and another gave us five books the past week. None of them were in the library. Thank you both again.

Three memorial funds have been given in memory of Mrs. Maude Ryan.

Allen Drury is a political writer who has covered the United States Senate and national politics for over fifteen years. If any one is ever going to be qualified to write about the Senate and national politics he is. This is exactly what he does in "Advise and Consent." There is not a dull moment in the whole book. You get your facts about the inside workings of the Senate and Washington but Author Drury writes so knowingly of all these things and so well that you are not aware of it, you are too absorbed in what is going to happen next. If I didn't dislike the phrase "required reading," I would say it should be just that for every adult. If this was not enough "Advise and Consent" make you want to do something big to prove you do deserve, just a little, this country of ours. Also when it comes down to brass tacks not all of our Senators are in Washington trying to line their own pocket. This one plus William Pearson's "A Fever in the Blood" and Margaret Leech's "In the Days of McKinley" are timely reading for an election year.

GEORGE'S WIFE

By "Sarah"

This has been a long hard winter for people who refuse to hibernate in front of the TV set, sleep and eat the time away until spring work begins. There is always plenty to do around the house when one cannot get out though, such as straightening dresser drawers, etc. Trouble is, we usually find something in them to side-track us, so we just stuff things back until another day. This time we found a box of old receipts, poems, and sayings of famous men, or famous men's sayings. Some of them had been on our bulletin-board at one time or another. We selected a favorite, yellow with age and full of tack holes, but very short, to find out all about it

3-9, this year is emphasizing teenage reading and it is about time. Most everyone after they give it a little thought will agree with the following quote from a letter from the American Library Association, "A number of factors are at work preventing young people from becoming readers and discouraging youth from continuing voluntary reading. Parents of teen-agers too often do not set an example of good reading habits. High school book reports, 'required' reading, and college emphasis on courses-for-credit instead of courses-for-content all tend to make reading a chore for the young adult."

with what reference we had on hand.

This is what it said: "Live among men as if God beheld you; speak to God as if men were listening." By Seneca.

Seneca, Lucius Anneus c BC-AD 65, son of Cardoba. Entrusted with education of Nero; became consul; charged with plotting against N. was forced to commit suicide. A major representative of Roman Stoicism (which we would leave out, because we found it to mean; unmoved by joy or grief), his philosophy is contained in his Moral Essays, etc., which preaches austerity, moral righteousness, forgiveness and the good life. Sounds like it was written yesterday, only not many of us would die for what we believe in.

This one will go back on the bulletin-board, and we recommend, instead of stewing around until another favorite western comes on over TV, try this instead. Also while stocking the boom-shelter, include along with the funnie books, The Book; an encyclopedia and a dictionary. You might even put them in the dirt cellar you already have, to while the time away during these spring storms.

We had things going pretty good until George came in and broke the spell with, "Where's dinner?" We told him we were not hungry, that we were feeding another malnutrition. "Now what's ailing you?" was his reply.

AUSTIN — Here we go again! It seems as if a segment of Texas history is repeating itself as the state and numerous gas companies go to court to decide the constitutionality of a new gas tax.

Some 80 gas companies have filed suit asking the court to declare invalid the natural gas severance beneficiary tax passed by the Legislature last summer. Six of the suits are set for trial beginning Feb. 15.

They will be tried in the same Austin district court in which the contest over the old gas gathering tax was begun. This tax law was passed by the Legislature in 1951 and eventually declared unconstitutional by the U.S. Supreme Court.

Gas companies are attacking the new severance beneficiary tax on much the same grounds they did the gathering tax. They contend it is in violation of interstate commerce laws.

Passage of the severance tax came after one of the hardest battles of the stormy six month session. It places a 1.5 per cent levy on the pipelines on the grounds that they benefit from the taking out of the gas.

Revenue-wise, the gas tax represents a rather modest portion of the overall tax program passed in 1959. It was estimated it would bring in about $15,000,000 of an overall $185,000,000.

SHORT BALLOT — In the 12 races for statewide office this year, there will be only 22 candidates.

Six state officials are seeking re-election unopposed.

Some years ago, there were almost as many candidates in the governor's race alone as there are now for all the statewide offices. In those days the filing fee was only $100. Today's price is killing off the competition.

Filing fees today are 5 per cent of annual salary, which runs $1,250 for governor, $1,125 for U.S. senator, $600 for lieutenant governor, etc.

WATCH THAT "FLU" — If you're one of those lucky Texans who hasn't yet been hit by influenza, State Health Commissioner J. E. Peavy has advice for you:

"Don't take any chances."

In several cities the flu has reached epidemic proportions. Dallas reported the highest flu-caused death toll since the 1918 siege.

Dr. Peavy said flu ordinarily lasts only three to five days but must be taken seriously because of the possibility of complications such as pneumonia.

He advised against self-treatment and urged victims to go to bed and call a doctor at the outset.

P-TA ENDORSES SESSION — Some 85 per cent of local P-TA leaders in Texas favor a special session to raise teachers' salaries, according to a report made to Gov. Price Daniel.

Mrs. T. W. Whaley of Kosse, president of the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers, told the governor that executive committee members of 563 local P-TA units were polled.

She said 8,155 favored a special session, 847 were undecided and 563 were ainst it. There were no suggestions as to how to pay the bill.

Governor Daniel has held off calling a special session pending the development of enough pub-

LICENSE PLATES ON SALE— Texas drivers have from now until midnight, April 1, to get new license plates for their cars.

State Highway Engineer DeWitt C. Greer predicts that nearly 5,000,000 cars will be registered this year. This adds up to some long lines April 1 unless a lot of people buy early.

Greer emphasized the importance of each vehicle owner's registering his car or truck in his home county. When he goes to register, each owner should take his certificate of title and last year registration receipt.

Penalty for an improper registration is $200.

This year's license plates are black with white letters.

CITY-COUNTY STUDY — Texas Commission on City and County Government plans to send a questionnaire to city and county officials and other interested persons on the possibility of combining some city and county functions.

Aim, according to the Commission, would not be to combine city and county governments, but to find ways to economize by eliminating duplicating services. Seventeen Texas counties, it was pointed out, have 55 per cent of the state's population. It is in these areas that city and county problems tend to overlap.

PRICE FIXING CHARGED — Atty. Gen. Will Wilson has charged a Wisconsin manufacturer of drafting equipment with fixing the prices of goods sold to the state.

Suit was filed in an Austin district court against the Hamilton Manufacturing Co. of Two Rivers, Wisconsin.

Wilson contends the company, through "suggestions" to its distributors, set the prices on more than 200 different items totaling $100,000.00

RIGGED TV AND PAYOLA

The Committee investigating the misuses and abuses of the air waves has been in session in recent days continuing the investigation on "payola". "Payola" is a term which is somewhat difficult to define. It came into use as a reference to the practice of slipping money to a radio or TV announcer or star in exchange for that personality mentioning your product or name on the air in a program which was being sponsored or paid for by someone else, or to influence a person to push or give a preferential position to certain products as opposed to other like products. For instance, one record company would pay a disc jockey side money in order to influence that disc jockey in playing the records and music produced by the particular record company willing to pay these sums. This created a situation of unfair competition, as well as being a questionable practice under the terms of the Communications Act. The Communications Act requires, in effect, that parties paying fees to radio stations for the use of the air waves be identified. Since the air waves are public property, it would be difficult to say that commercial bribery, unfair practices, misuses and abuses of the air waves would not be immoral, if not illegal. This was pointed up by President Eisenhower in his recent news conference in which he stated in effect that it definitely involved the morality of the parties involved.

Nevertheless, there is a divergence of opinion as to whether or not payola as such is a practice which should be condemned. Some say it is a general practice in all businesses and therefore should be allowed in radio and TV. Others say it involves only a few dollars, therefore it shouldn't matter. Others claim that the monies received were consultation fees, although they are unable to explain why these consultation fees stopped when the disc jockey lost his job at the radio station. Others claim the payments were merely friendship payments intended to influence the disc jockey but that the disc jockey was not influenced. In other words, this group is claiming the money was tainted with a questionable purpose and that they were willing to accept the tainted money, even though they did not carry out the purpose for which it was given. However, the hollowness of these positions is reflected by the fact that in almost every case attempts were made to hide the practice. If it was not wrong, as is argued by some people, why did the participants try to hide their activities?

Turning to the TV rigged quiz show hearings, the Committee has recently submitted a report containing a number of recommendations. One of these recommendations suggests legislation to put radio and TV networks under licensing procedures of the Federal Communications Commission. I voted against this recommendation in Committee, but my views were overruled by a majority of the members of the Committee. Under the circumstances, I signed the report but reserved the right to contest legislation carrying out such a recommendation. My thought on the subject is prompted by my desire to prevent further government regimentation of business as much as possible. There is no question but that the networks engaged in practices which were deceitful and fraudulent, whether the actual facts were known to the network executives or not. Action is certainly in order to prevent repetition of such practices. However, it is my feeling that proper safeguards can be provided without subjecting another segment of American business to the whims of bureaucratic action. Once the Federal government moves out of the field of policing directly the air waves and moves into the field of regulating associated businesses, there will be no stopping point. If business generally associated with the use of the air waves engages in illegal practices, they should be properly punished. However, it is not my feeling that the power of exacting the death penalty should be placed in the hands of a politically appointed bureau. I shall treat this subject further when legislation is proposed.

THE WEATHER

I was advised by a taxi driver the other day there would be no more cold weather because the worms had begun to build dirt mounds. Either he or the worms had the wrong word, because the temperature that night dropped to thirty degrees.

All This And Inflation Too

I arrived home the other evening to find two of the boys in the kitchen just polishing off some hot tamales. I said, "Is that what we are having for supper?" They said, "No, we just ate a dozen hot tamales to hold us over." I said, "You mean you ate a dozen hot tamales?" The reply: "A dozen apiece." Needless to say, it properly whetted their appetites for supper, which followed thirty minutes later.

Take care, not chances; chance takers are accident makers. The difference between safety and accidents is often common sense.

RANGE SEEDING

Now until the last of April is the best time to seed grass — the earlier the better. Several people in the Donley County Soil Conservation District are planning to seed some of their land back to grass. Among these are Charles A. Williams, A. D. Hendrix, Calvin Dorman, Hagy Ranch, James Doneghy, Fontayne Elmore, J. N. Weaver, and Van Kennedy. Most of the above mentioned have received assistance under the Great Plains Conservation Program or the Conservation Reserve Program.

Charles A. Williams has just completed seeding approximately 158 acres to a mixture of Indian Grass, Switchgrass, and Sand Lovegrass under the Great Plains Conservation Program. Present on Mr. Williams' land was largely a mixture of undesirable grasses and perennial weeds. To control this competition and furnish a seed bed for the seeded grasses he pulled two large flat bottom sweeps under the old grass. The sweeps left strip of old grass some 12 to 14 inches wide untouched to insure against any wind erosion damage. The drill and sweeps cover an area of 11 feet.

A. D. Hendrix, the Hagy Ranch, and J. N. Weaver plan to use the same type operation on seeding their own grass.

Fields now in cultivation but not productive would probably yield more for money invested if seeded back to grass. The soil itself might be good but due to hazards such as steepness, ponded water, etc., it would be better if in grass.

The best way, according to experiment stations, to insure a stand of grass on this type of land is to provide a mulch cover. The grass will be drilled into this dead mulch cover the following year.

This mulch cover could be almost anything such as redtop cane, grain sorghums, etc. Drill this cover in the spring or early summer of the first year and prevent it from making seed. This could be done by mowing, shredding, or planting the cover late enough for the freeze to kill it before seed is matured. This is done to prevent it competing with the little grass the following spring.

During the spring of the second year drill the mixture of native grass seed into the dead mulch cover. This procedure will give the seeded grasses the best chance for survival and a successful stand.

James Doneghy has followed the above procedure on a poor stand of seeded grass. He established the cover last summer, let the freeze kill it before it made seed, and is now ready to seed his mixture of native grass this spring. The establishment of the mulch cover and planned seeding will be done under the Great Plains Program.

For additional information concerning grass seeding contact any employee of the Soil Conservation Service assisting the Donley County Soil Conservation District. They will be glad to give any information they may have.

"CORVAIR HANDLES BETTER, STEERS MORE EASILY, RESPONDS MUCH MORE QUICKLY AND HOLDS THE ROAD MORE SECURELY THAN ANY STOCK FOUR-DOOR SEDAN EVER MADE IN THE U.S."

—Jim Whipple, Car Life

If you think we're enthusiastic about Corvair, leaf through the leading automotive, sports and science magazines and see what the experts are saying. Then, by all means, drive one yourself.

"Corvair's steering is so light that at parking speeds it feels power assisted; it is so precise as to be absolutely without play, and it is fast enough to allow complete control over every situation."
—Karl Ludvigsen, Sports Cars Illustrated

"Steers like a feather and is extremely quick. . . This is a beautifully designed automobile, engineered by real pros. . ."
—Tom McCall, Mechanix Illustrated

"Most surprising thing to me outside of the excellent handling characteristics was the feeling of roominess inside. . . I didn't have the sensation of driving a small car and the headroom was greater in the Corvair than in some standard size cars. . ."

—L. H. Houck, Automotive News

"So far as shopping goes, the Corvair is a housewife's dream. It's small and easily maneuvered without any power steering, and so easily parked . . . it's a lot easier to unload a cart full of groceries into a front trunk at the supermarket than it is into a rear one."
—Rosemary Francis, Popular Science

"I want to state as firmly as I can that the Corvair handles as beautifully and is as safe as—if not safer than—any family car on the road today."
—Jim Whipple, Car Life

"There is none of the typical whine normally associated with rear-engined vehicles. Inside the car, the effect is quite unlike anything we have ever experienced. It almost seems that there is no engine, and the general effect is so quiet as to be almost uncanny."
—John R. Bond, Road & Track

"No written word can suffice for the genuine pleasure that you will receive behind the wheel of America's newest and most advanced contribution to transportation. . . It is a great car."

ALDERSON CHEVROLET
CLARENDON, TEXAS

AUSTIN — Democratic County Executive Committees will decide on March 14 whether to change the old custom of holding rural area precinct conventions in the daytime.

New election law passed last year has already doomed a number of Texas political traditions — like announcing when the dogwood comes out and serving watermelon at election rallies. Primaries are now held the first weeks of May and June, instead of the last weeks of July and August, as before.

For COLDS take 666

Another change is that a person who wishes to participate in a Democratic precinct convention must already have voted in the Democratic primary held the same day in order to have a poll tax stamped "Democratic."

City precincts won't be affected. There, customarily, the precinct conventions have been held after the polls close at 7 p.m.

In rural areas conventions usually have been held in the afternoon. This enabled people to come in, attend the convention, vote, buy their groceries, all in one trip, and get home in time to do the milking.

Now there is the necessity of giving everyone time to vote before the convention can be held.

State Democratic Chairman J. E. Connally has suggested county committees give thought to holding rural precinct conventions later — possibly not until after the polls close at 7 p.m.

LEGISLATIVE RACES — With 120 of the 150 House members making a bid for re-election, each of the two leading candidates for Speaker claims that half or more of these probable returnees is pledged to him.

Most active in the speaker's race are Reps. Wade Spilman of McAllen and James Turman of Gober. Some are predicting the race may be as long and hard as the last one between Waggoner Carr and Joe Burkett.

Thirty House members are either retiring from public life (including Burkett) or seeking another office (including Carr). Of the 120 who are running again for the House, 82 have opponents.

This means there'll definitely be no decision on the speaker's race until after the primaries.

Neither Turman nor Spilman has an opponent for his House seat.

Of the 16 senators up for re-election, all are running again and ten have opponents.

Unless there should be an unusual number of "upsets," legislative turnover should be about the same or less than usual. "Normal" replacement is about one-third of the House (or 50 members) and a very small number of senators, usually not more than two or three. TROJAN HORSE: — Consideration of a federal aid to education bill in Washington has Texans reacting with mixed emotions.

It also adds new urgency to the efforts of those who want to see Texans shoulder school improvement responsibility through passage of the Hale-Aikin program.

Gov. Price Daniel said Texans should accept U.S. Senate passage of the federal aid bill as "fair warning" that Congress will step in if states don't take the necessary action.

If the states let in federal money, they will let in federal control of schools, the governor declared. He called "impossible" the idea of "federal money without strings attached."

Under the aid bill pending in Congress, Texas would receive $62,000,000, largest share of any state, from a $1,833,000,000 appropriation. Thus far, very few Texas school districts have refused to take the federal aid now available — for science teaching equipment, school lunches, etc.

STICK WITH GUNS — State Board of Insurance has announced five minor changes in the safe driving insurance plan, but in broad effort, the plan remains the same. Board stuck to its guns despite a barrage of criticism. Main change is that an insurance company cannot deny liability on a policy if false or inaccurate information is given by the policy holder. For instance, a person taking out a policy might, intentionally or unintentionally, fail to tell the insurance company how many accidents or traffic violations were on his driving record.

However, the company would be entitled to collect the higher premiums or damages from fraud if the policy holder had not admitted to his true driving record.

Premiums go up in proportion to the number of accidents and violations on a driver's record.

NEW PARTY LEADER — Albert B. Fay, Houston oilman, shipbuilder and rancher, succeeds Jack Porter of Houston as Texas Republican national committeeman.

Porter came to power in the party in 1952 as an Eisenhower supporter when the "Old Guard" supporters of the late Sen. Robert Taft were swept aside. Porter stepped down this year because of his health.

Besides electing Ray, the GOP State Committee promised to field a challenger to Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson in the general election next fall. Johnson has no Democratic opponent for his senate post.

Republicans will nominate their candidates at a state convention May 30.

NO LOSS FOR FLU — Not the least of the worries in schools hard hit by influenza was that the district would lose a hunk of state aid money which is based on average daily attendance.

State Board of Education, however, has worked out an emergency "epidemic formula" to help ease the problem.

In flu-stricken schools, the average attendance for the epidemic period will be adjusted to reflect the percentage difference between actual attendance and attendance which would have been expected had there been no epidemic.

IT DID HAPPEN HERE

The following appeared in the "Commonwealth Shareholder". It is no fairy tale with a happy ending. It can happen again.

"On July 4, 1776, the representatives of the 13 American colonies, meeting in Philadelphia, severed their ties with the British crown in a noble and eloquent document known as The Declaration of Independence. With the adoption of the Declaration, the Congress turned to other pressing tasks. Among the most vexing was the problem of financing the struggle for freedom.

"Thirteen months earlier, just one week after the Battle of Bunker Hill, the Continental Congress had issued its first currency — $2 million of bills of credit. Later in 1775, and in the next four years, there were a number of other issues. Historians tell us the depreciation of this paper currency was slight and gradual through 1776. Once the amount of printing press dollars exceeded $20 million, however, depreciation accelerated sharply. By January, 1779, one silver dollar exchanged for eight paper dollars; by the end of the year, a silver dollar was worth 40 paper dollars.

"In the following year, Congress called in the flood of paper money, and issued a new currency on the basis of one new dollar for 40 old dollars. About half the old bills were turned in for redemption. Those still outstanding plummeted, and the expression for something valueless became 'not worth a Continental' Although inflation has been a fact of life through much of this nation's history, no subsequent experience has compared with our first, and bitterest, taste of inflation in the War for Independence."
