Others talk gas savings... but Plymouth lets you see it. At your dealer's now—the PLYMOUTH PROVE-IT-YOURSELF ECONOMY DRIVE lets you take the wheel and see exactly the mileage you get! Thousands have taken this convincing drive. Don't miss it!

Then you drive in your usual fashion, through normal traffic. When the gas in the jar has been used, check the mileage reading on the speedometer. See for yourself the mileage you got on just a small amount of fuel. Simple, fair—and dramatic proof, we think, of the solid gas economy engineered into the Solid Plymouth for 1960. See your Plymouth dealer.

No special test track... no special test conditions... no special test driver! Just you at the wheel of a regular full-size Plymouth. Here's how it works:

Mounted on one side of a Plymouth is a jar which feeds a measured amount of gas directly to the car. You turn a control and the car is powered by the gas from this ECONOMY METER.

A Chrysler-engineered product, built a new solid way to give you solid satisfaction.

The "Gimmies" must be "Ketching." For years many groups here in the United States have been holiering "Gimmie", and trying to get their hands into Uncle Sam's pockets. Sometimes they succeeded. Trouble is, we have been learning lately that there is no Santa Claus and that in turn the smiling old gentleman has to reach into his faithful nephews' pockets for the where-with for it all.

All this wouldn't be so bad if we could keep the outbreak from spreading outside our natural boundaries. Lately however, the germs seem to have penetrated just about all the foreign countries so that everywhere our president, or other statesmen travel there are signs and symptoms on every hand. Almost while they are rolling out the welcome mat we can see the "How much" tabs hanging from the sides.

Actually, can you blame them? It is just natural human instinct to want to climb aboard a gravy train. They hear of what we are spending in the weak, slippery, and trifling nations to keep their love, and naturally they wonder why that they as tried and true friends can't have some of the pie. It is a bit like the story of the Prodigal Son in the Bible. They are like the other brothers who wanted a reward for being good. What can we do, and where will it all end?

Some time back we said that there were two kinds of friends; the ones you bought with your money, and the ones you still have. We believe this statement is true. We fought hot wars around the world and wound up with few friends. We are spending cold cash right and left and we wonder what we are gaining.

A Statesman has something to say — a politician has to say something.

According to one politician; if you will do something for your constituents they will always remember you — especially when they want you to do something for them.

A politician is a fellow who has what it takes to take what he wants.

Political plums are seldom grown from seed; they are usually grafted.

A politician is a fellow who can convince the voters as to his future. A statesman is one who is willing to stand on his past.

The main thing wrong with politics is the voter. About 50% of the people don't take time to go to the polls and vote, and the other 50% don't take time to find out why they are voting the way they do.

Then after we have supposedly elected the best man in the race we all begin twisting his arm to do things that are for our own best interests and not for the good of the whole. When we get these special interests bills into law then it is next to impossible to do away with them because any vote against the special law becomes a slap at some special group and the politicians get in hot water right off. VOTERS, we have the answer. Everyone go out and vote — everyone know why he cast his vote.

Flattery can be a thing that's wrong; Selfish, vain, an oft untrue. But a compliment can be a song; When I mean these things 'bout you.

Just about everything depends on whether we speak nice things honestly from the bottom of our heart . . . We have wondered lots of times about some of the "polishing the apple" articles that have been written over the last few years. This sort of thing can well be overdone even in the game of salesmanship. Unless the honey-coated words are heartfelt we doubt that they do any good.

We have heard that; "Flattery is like soap, 90% lye."

In the following story we believe that little Bobby was very honest.

He had been to a birthday party and his mother was suspicious that he might have asked for a second piece of cake, so she looked him straight in the eye and asked;

"Bobby, I hope you didn't ask for a second piece of cake, tonight."

"Oh no," replied Bobby, "I only asked Mrs. Smith for the recipe so that you could make me some of that good cake and she, of her own accord, gave me two extra pieces."

Flattery is like perfume; it might do to inhale a little, but it would never do to be swallowed completely.

"CREDIT CARD" ECONOMICS

Maurice H. Stans not only holds one of the most important positions in the federal government, but one of the toughest. He's the Budget Director — and excerpts from two of his recent speeches deserve the widest possible notice.

In one, he pointed out that during the last session of Congress "there were 20 major spending bills introduced in the House, along with 20 others in the Senate, for new programs which altogether priced out to more than 326 billion dollars over an average period of five years. If these bills were passed as they sponsors want them, they would add 50 to 60 billion dollars a year to our present spending."

In the other address he said: "If anybody in the audience can tell me how we could squeeze fifty or sixty billions of additional spending every year within 80 billion dollars of revenues, which is what our tax laws yield when times are very good, I'd like to hear his formula. This is what I would call 'credit card' economics at the national level."

Eternal vigilance is still, as it always has been, the price of liberty — and now it is also the only defense against national bankruptcy.

Dear Mr. Pool:

The loan supervisors have sent me their selections for the Top-Ten Honor Roll awards for 1959 in their territories. I am happy to advise that you have been selected for this recognition.

I am most appreciative of the part that you played in making 1959 another successful year for The Equitable's Farm Loan Service. We advanced $68.6 million and received $45.8 million in repayments which resulted in boosting our outstanding investment over the four hundred million mark—from $395.4 million at the end of 1958 to $418.2 million on December 31, 1959.

As a token of our gratitude for your part in this accomplishment, our farm loan appraiser will soon present you with a gift along with your certificate of award.

We hope that you will share the news of your award with your community. It does represent an achievement in the field of farm financing that you can be proud of. We have printed a special Top-Ten brochure and a supply will be made available to you when you receive the certificate and gift.

Best wishes for a successful 1960.

Sincerely yours,

NEW METHOD FOR CONTROLLING BOLL WEEVIL

College Station — A late-season chemical and cultural control program at College Station in 1959 showed promise in reducing the overwintered population of boll weevils. This reduction appears to be great enough to delay the start of boll weevil control programs the following year to effect substantial savings in insecticide costs.

The program consists of chemical treatments just prior to and during the harvest period to prevent the weevil from going into diapause, the physiological condition in which they survive the winter. These insecticide treatments are followed by stalk destruction if harvest is completed before frost kills the cotton.

Results obtained to date indicate this practice may be an effective eradication measure, according to Dr. J. R. Brazzel, associate professor, Texas A&M Department of Entomology, who worked on the project. He said the chemical and cultural control program was used in an isolated 18-acre cotton field, about four miles from a cotton field of five acres and more than 10 miles from large acreages of cotton.

Insecticides used were methyl parathion, toxaphene, DDT and pentachlorophenol. They were applied over a two-month period, at five day intervals during the growing season and every seven-nine days during the late-season before defoliation.

This experiment will be continued in 1960 and if the final results are as favorable as the data obtained to date indicate, this chemical and cultural control program late in the season may offer a means of eradication or greatly reducing the boll weevil populations.

Complete results of the program are contained in the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station's new report, "A New Method For The Control of Boll Weevils." Write the Agricultural Information Office, College Station for a copy. Ask for PR-2110.

GRASSROOTS OPINION

Newberry, S.C., Observer: "All this time we were under the impression that the American institution known as the coffee break was merely an excuse to slip away from the office . . . Dr. Jean Spencer Felton of the schools of medicine and public health, University of California at Los Angeles, says, 'The results of coffee consumption are seen in clearer and more rapid thinking, forestalling of sleep and fatigue, a prolonged intellectual effort, better association of ideas' . . ."

Do You Intend To Plant Your Cotton Allotment in 1960

If you do not intend to plant your cotton allotment this year, it would be to your advantage to release the allotment to the county committee. If you are in Soil Bank CR you do not have to plant or release.

The County Committee can re-appportion the acreage to other farmers, but only to those who come to this office on or before April 22nd and sign Form MQ 30 "Request for Additional Cotton Acreage." The history will be retained by the farm from which the cotton is released. It is very important that at least 75% of the farm allotment be planted or released in Soil Bank.

Please come to this office for further information concerning the above.

Important - Choice (A) Or Choice (B) Allotment

Farmers have until March 16 to make a written request for Plan (B) cotton allotment. It is not necessary to make a request for Plan (A) cotton allotment, as this will be automatic if a written request is not received for Plan (B). We believe that most farmers understand that the operator is the one who makes the choice and not the landowner, unless the land owner is also the operator of the farm.

Visitors in the home of Mrs. A. P. Todd Saturday were Dr. Byron Todd of Fresno, Calif., and Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Todd and daughter of Amarillo and Bill Todd.

GEORGE'S WIFE
By "Sarah"

Our President left today, on another Mission for Peace through Freedom. As we thought on this, at first we wondered why it should be necessary to re-assure peoples in our own hemisphere our aims and intentions toward them, especially when so many grave problems face us here at home.

Then the story of the Prodigal Son came to mind: Had the Elder Son been mindful that he was his brother's keeper, he might not have become a Prodigal at all.

Even though we are giving aid to lots of Prodigal Sons at this time, there is always the possibility they will "Come to themselves." Just as of old, we will kill the fatted calf and rejoice with them, when they do.

So we understand a little better the long view our President has taken in this tug of war between our peace, and Mr. Khrushchev's idea of peace. Mr. K. insists there is peace in Hungary, East Germany and all the other countries under their domination. Peace, being the most soothing word in any language, no wonder some countries are lulled into a feeling of security by the continued use of it on all sides.

There is just one little word between the two ideas, and that word is Freedom. In our country one without the other would be intolerable.

Since we are still struggling with "Individual freedom and justice for all" laid down in our Constitution, little wonder our Neighbors to the South need reassuring as to our aims and directions here in North America.

Mr. and Mrs. Theron Holland and children of Amarillo spent Sunday with his mother, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Martin.

It will be the first time a governor has visited the Irish Celebration. His acceptance touched off a move to invite the governors of neighboring states to attend and participate in the March 17 festivities along with him.

The governors of seven states: Missouri, Oklahoma, Colorado, Kansas, Louisiana, New Mexico, and Arkansas, have been invited. Governors who attend from other states will select Miss Irish Rose. Some will participate in other ways.
