For Street Marker Project Drive Monday Night, November 28th, Set

The big push in an effort to wind up the Chamber of Commerce-City of Clarendon street marker project, will be made next Monday night, November 28th, when workers will pair off and make a house-to-house visit in order to raise the necessary money to purchase street markers for the entire City of Clarendon.

The workers will meet at the Lions Hall at 6:30 p.m. Monday night and are due to report back at the Hall at 9 p.m. You as an individual can help with this project by having your street marker contribution ready when the workers knock on your door.

Due to the larger number of vacant areas in town, it will be necessary for every resident to be liberal. These areas as well as the downtown section must be marked as well as the rest of town.

Permanent type street markers are really needed in Clarendon and can be the first step toward residential mail delivery which would certainly be an aid to our elder citizens as well as others.

In addition to the house-to-house contact, Miss Ruth Richerson and Mrs. Joe Ritter are making rounds of the business district this week.

New School Buildings Up For Bids

Actual construction on Clarendon's new school buildings is getting closer with the announcement being published this week seeking bids on the new structures. Bids on the new buildings will be received up until 2 o'clock on December 20th at which time a meeting will be held in the high school auditorium and bids opened. A large crowd of contractors, sub-contractors, etc., is expected to be on hand for the opening of the bids.

Proposals will be received on each building, with combined proposal for both buildings. Proposals will include general construction, mechanical, and electrical work in one contract.

Supt. J. R. Cox announced yesterday that anyone interested in sub-contract materials, etc., could check with the School Tax Office any time after this week for more information.

For more particulars regarding the proposition, turn to page ten in this issue of the Leader and read the Advertisement For Bid notice.

News Copy Needed Early Next Week

With an overflow of visiting during the Thanksgiving holidays, we would like to remind everyone to turn your news items in just as early as possible, so we can plan our pages to care for more items. We would appreciate receiving all rural items, club items, etc., on Monday if at all possible. Our shop foreman, James Mahaffey, has been ill for the past week and is still out, so your cooperation will be more than appreciated and will help shorten our night hours.

1961 Upland Cotton Quota And Acreage Allotment - Referendum December 13th

Cotton Growers will vote in the referendum December 13th, to determine whether to use a system of marketing quotas for the upcoming crop of upland cotton. If marketing quotas are approved in the referendum the price support will be available to growers who comply with their allotments at a level within the range of 70 to 90 per cent of parity. If marketing quotas are disapproved for 1961, acreage allotment will remain in effect and price support will be available to cooperators at 50% of parity as provided by law. There will be only one allotment price-support program available to growers for their 1961 crop cotton.

The national allotment for 1961 were increased in accordance with the new formula in the law under which the quota is established on the basis of estimated domestic consumption and exports but is subject to such upward adjustment as may be necessary to maintain adequate stocks of cotton. Referendum regulations require that the county committee "shall take particular care to designate a place where each voter can mark and cast his ballot in secret and without coercion, duress or interference of any sort whatever."

Change of Address or Operations

Please notify this office of any change of address or operations of your farm.

We need to know to whom the cotton allotments should be mailed. These notices will be mailed around the first of December.

If you have purchased additional land or sold land, advise this office.

Office To Be Closed

This office will be closed November 24, 1960, for Thanksgiving. HARVEST DAYS
The corn is in - full is the bin
With all our farm's full yield
Our cellars hold - Treasures untold
The wealth of all the field.
The lands now rest - they gave their best
To us who love the soil
The winds and snow - can come and blow
We'll rest from summer's toil
With thanks we raise - our voice in praise
To Him who guides our ways -
He let us share - His bounties fair
And blessed our harvest days.

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION

The American People in this year of 1960 have abundant reason to give thanks for the blessings that a Divine Providence has bestowed on this favored land.

Thanksgiving is one of the most revered of our national and state holidays, and its observance is traditional among our people.

For almost a century Thanksgiving has been a national holiday, set aside to express our humble gratitude to God for the bounty of the harvest and for the heritage of freedom that is ours.

Now, therefore, I, as mayor of the City of Clarendon, do hereby designate Thursday, November 24, 1960, as Thanksgiving Day in Clarendon and call upon all our people to join in giving thanks to God for the many blessings that we enjoy.

H. T. Burton, Mayor.

Donley 4-H Club Gets Ready For Shows

The Donley County 4-H Club met at the Lelia Lake School House on the night of the seventeenth of November with Gene Floyd of Hedley, President, presiding. The most important business of the club was making stock show entries of steers for the members. County Agent Flip Breedlove made out the entries for twenty-four steers in the Odessa, Sand Hills Hereford Show, Amarillo Show, Fort Worth Show, El Paso Show and the Houston Fat Stock Show. The steers being fed by 4-H Club members look good at this time and they should make a good showing in the coming shows.

Medals were given out for the last year's 4-H Club work to 4-H Club members qualifying. The medals are furnished by the Texas A&M College Extension Service. Those receiving medals were: For outstanding work in beef production, Beverly Leathers, of Lelia Lake; Gene Floyd of Hedley; Rod Stone of Clarendon; Wayne Leathers of Lelia Lake; David Mooring of Lelia Lake. Janice Floyd of Hedley received the sterling silver four leaf clover for outstanding work as treasurer of the club. Darrell Holland received the gold medal award for achievement. Beef Cattle Ass'n. Makes Final Plans For Bull Sale December 8th

The Board of Directors of the Rolling Plains Registered Beef Cattle Association had its final meeting before the big December 8th sale on the night of the 18th of November in the office of County Agent Flip Breedlove. W. H. Cooke, III, President of the Association presided at the meeting. All business was attended to and the board decided to build their own bleachers for the sale and make them permanent in the building. John Bass, carpenter and registered Hereford breeder is in charge of the bleacher work for the sale.

Five counties were represented at the directors meeting. Cotton John Smith of radio station KGNC was present at the meeting and made fourteen three minute recordings for his radio programs between now and the time for the sale. The board and consignors wish to thank Cotton John for his fine work in helping to promote this registered bull sale.

Eighty-five head of bulls will go on sale in Clarendon on the 8th of December when Auctioneer Walter Britten and his staff of field men from the livestock magazines gather in Clarendon for this second annual event. Catalogs are now available by writing or calling at the office of the county agent, W. H. Cooke, III, President says that the sales arena will be comfortable regardless of weather as the Household Supply of Clarendon will furnish the heating for the bull sale. This firm also heated the building for the sale last year.

FORMER RESIDENT RECEIVES PROMOTION

Phillips Petroleum Company has named D. W. Tomlinson as superintendent of the natural gasoline department's new X-ray plant now under construction near Stephenville, Texas.

Tomlinson, a former resident of Clarendon, started with Phillips in 1941, serving in plant operations and supervisory capacities until March, 1960, when he was made director of the gasoline department's staffing section for the Panhandle district at Phillips, Texas.

Moreman Grocery Burglary Solved With Arrest Of Three Men

City Issues Trash Burning Notice

Mayor H. T. Burton announced this week that city officials have set a new ruling regarding trash barrels in the city of Clarendon. Due to fire hazards, residents are being asked not to burn trash and garbage in their barrels. He pointed out further that men on the garbage truck have been instructed not to pick up any barrels containing ashes. In other words, if you want your trash picked up, do not burn it in your garbage container, Mayor Burton said.

The greater majority of our grass fires has been caused from burning trash barrels and each time the fire department is called out, it costs the city and taxpayers a considerable amount of money in addition to the possible damage from a fire spreading to a house or outbuildings, the Mayor stated.

He pointed out also that anyone wishing grass on yards or vacant lots to be burned, may call the City Hall and the fire truck will be sent out to stand by while the burning is in progress.

Groom Hospital Opening Set For Dec. 5

Groom's new 16-bed hospital may be open to patients by Dec. 5, hospital board members said Monday.

About 2,000 visitors toured the modern facilities Sunday afternoon after the building was dedicated.

Groom Memorial Hospital, costing $250,000, was financed by donations from about 400 area residents, matched by federal Hill-Burton funds. Hospital officials said architects want to make final alterations before the State Dept. of Health acts on final approval for opening the doors to patients from this area.

A tip Friday afternoon and the alertness of the Sheriff's department and the Highway Patrol were the forerunners of solving the Moreman Grocery burglary at Hedley on the morning of November 12th.

Three men have been arrested in connection with the burglary. One is being held here and two at Pampa. The arrests began when two of the men were picked up at Price's Truck Stop here after the Sheriff's department had received a tip from a Lelia Lake merchant that his car had been cased by a tip from a Lelia Lake merchant that his car had been cased by the two and giving a description of the car they were driving. Deputy Ralph Hill and Highway Patrolmen John Lowrie and Bill Scott apprehended Morice Roberts, 28, of Pampa and Charles Edward Norman, 28, of Hobbs, N.M., and found burglary tools in the back of the car. A third man, Bobby Theodore Thompson, 27, of Pampa, was picked up after being implicated by the other two men.

Sheriff Truett Behrens stated that the two men picked up here were questioned from Friday through Monday in order to break the case and Roberts and Norman gave statements of admitting the burglary of Moreman's Grocery along with clearing up several other robberies in the area. These included a lumber yard in Pampa, the Lefors, McLean, and White Deer High Schools, and others.

The men said they took $650 in cash from Moreman's Grocery and burned the $1500 in checks along with the bank sack. A portion of the burned sack was recovered where the men said they had buried it.

Former Resident Buried Here Monday

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon in Murphy Memorial Chapel for Adron M. Lanham with Rev. W. R. Lawrence officiating.

Mr. Lanham, 86, died Thursday in Bertrou, Colo. He was a former resident of Clarendon and Pampa and had lived in Loveland, Colo., for the past two years. He was a retired farmer.

Survivors include his wife, Hannah, of Pampa; a son, D. D. of Loveland, Colo.; a daughter, Mrs. Ethel Tooley of Denver; 13 grandchildren, 10 great-grandchildren, and two great-great-grandchildren.

Palbearers were Heckle Stark, Lee Holland, Truett Behrens, Oscar Thomas, Roy Clappitt and Coleman Huffman.

Burial was in Citizens Cemetery with the Murphy Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Rosholt, S.D., Seview: "South Dakota motorists had a chance to . . . sign petitions calling on Congress to drop the four-cent per gallon tax to three cents. Congress originally had promised to drop the tax from four to three on June 30, 1961, after it was enacted a year ago for a 22-month period.

"We didn't see or have a chance to sign one of these so-called petitions. But if the gas tax or any other kind of tax goes down instead of up it will rate headlines along with the first man into space."

When we look at some of the TV westerns we get the idea that most of our grandfathers were gun slingers.

However, today there are perhaps more gun slingers than there were in the Eighties. And the guns are faster.

Gunslinging is a fad now. Every town has one or more persons who stands for hours practicing the quick draw and twirling a revolver.

It has meant lots of business for the arms manufacturers, too. Colt, High-Standard, Ruger, Western and some others, all have come out with frontier models especially adapted to the quick-draw trade.

There are numerous quick draw clubs scattered over the country. San Antonio has a big one. It is composed primarily of business men who practice before an electric timer.

But that isn't the unusual thing. Their wives have formed a similar organization.

San Antonio now has a bunch of quick draw girls who can pull a single action from its holster and fan off a shot in about 1-30th of a second. That's fast work.

They shoot twice a month in the basement of the Tiner Sporting Goods Store, at a cutout known as Pistol Pete.

Some are working girls. Others are housewives and mothers. All of them are as serious about their shooting as the men, if not more so.

Sure, there have been accidents. Some of these fast draw people have been careless. Accidents are decreasing, however, because most of the fans are using more care.

Generally the practice shooting is done with .22 ammunition. Many of the guns now on the market are for .22 caliber. These include all the top brands.

There are many conversions.

You can get inserts for the cylinder or a new cylinder for the .22 caliber to be used with the .38 specila or the .45. These, however, are only good where you practice the quick draw and want to hear the reports. If you actually shoot at a mark, you need a barrel of the proper caliber.

Most of the quick draw work is done with the tied-down buscadero-type belt.

Philip Y. Hahn, president of the Crosman Arms Co. has produced a gas-operated single action revolver, especially for the quick-draw enthusiasts. This CO-2 pistol is made exactly like the old .45 single action. In fact, it is so good its is being used on some of the TV westerns.

If you are watching one of these pictures and you see a cowboy knock off 18 Indians in a row with a six gun, chances are it will be one of the Hahn BB guns. They fire 18 shots with BB pellets.

Hahn also did another piece of clever merchandising. He made a buscadero quick draw scabbard and belt to accompany the gun. Now you can buy a fast draw combination at your favorite gun store without being in violation of the law. And it is a precision gun, plenty good for target practice.

If you've never tried BB or pellet gun shooting, you've missed something. In the first place it is a great deal more economical than shooting a firearm. The guns themselves are precision made. You can get them in various types. Some are the pump-ups, others are lever action, and still others are gas powered.

They are wonderful for target practice and basement shooting. I like to shoot tin cans with them. Frequently I'll take a spree at saving small cans until I get a box full. I punch a hole in the end of these cans, then run a wire through the hole and suspend them from a tree limb—where there is a hill for a backstop. Then I back off 30 or 40 feet and start to work on the cans.

It is more interesting if the wind is blowing. Then the cans begin to swing and they are harder to hit. With a little practice you can hit them almost every shot. The real fun is to start one swinging and then plink it with one of these BB guns.

Gas powered guns, like the Crosman, are real effective. Once in awhile they'll cut small limbs off the trees. When they hit a can at a side glance they sound like a .22 bullet on a flat surface.

Don't underestimate the power of these guns, however, and be careful where you shoot them. They are excellent to take on camping trips. The gas powered gun is ample for killing small game animals and birds. They

WHEAT PRODUCTION IN TEXAS NEW PUBLICATION College Station — Wheat, the third ranking cash crop in Texas, has come a long way since the days of the oxen and the soddy. The first wheat production in Texas was centered around Sherman about 1833. Through the years, the production areas have shifted so that now the leading area is the Panhandle, with about 64 percent of the total acreage. Next in importance is the Rolling Plains area with approximately 24 percent of the acreage. New varieties, irrigation, better insect controls and improved cultivation methods have all served to increase production from a few thousand bushels in 1833, to present production level of several million bushels annually. All Texas wheat is fall sown, and approximately 98 percent of it is in the hard red winter class. The remaining production consists of a small amount of soft red winter grown in North Central Texas and a small amount of durum, which is grown on the Enwars Plateau. Most of the wheat is used for the manufacture of flour for either commercial or family use. The Texas Agricultural Experiment Station has recently published a bulletin on "Wheat Production in Texas." In this publication all aspects of Texas wheat production are discussed and illustrated. This bulletin, B-948, may be obtained from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas. Don't "wreck" your chance for happiness.

Our Pilgrim Fathers Gave Thanks For So Little . . . We Have So Much To Be Thankful For

Let us pause on this day, as our Pilgrim forefathers did so long ago . . . to give prayerful thanks, not only for the food on our table, but more importantly, for those freedoms we hold so dear . . . freedoms our forefathers sought and won in the new land, America. Our country has come a long, hard way since the day of that first meager harvest in 1621 . . . to truly become the "Land of Plenty" and the "Home of the Free." Let us pray it will always be!

WEATHERLY SERVING WITH AMPHIBIOUS UNIT

"Progress is not made by taking pride in our present standards but by critically examining these standards, hypothetically setting higher standards, and attempting to achieve them."

The word Bigot has likely been used more often during the recent election than at any time in the history of the world. Most everyone could well have been smeared with this name during the heat of the campaign. After listening to a heated argument down town as to who the bigots really were we decided to look the word up in every dictionary we could find.

Mr. Webster worded it this way; one obstinately or intolerantly devoted to his own church, party, belief, or opinion. This would just about cover the field. As a synonym he gives us the word Enthusiast. An enthusiast is one actuated by enthusiasm. This last one would surely get the rest of us during the slam bang of the last few weeks of the race.

The first definition of enthusiasm is given as divine inspiration or possession. Looking at the synonyms of Enthusiast we find fanatic, zealot, and bigot. A fanatic is an extreme or unreasonable enthusiast especially in matters of religious belief or opinion. A zealot is a fanatical devotee or partizan.

Out of all these various shades of meaning we should be able to find a name to fit just about everyone who disagrees with us. This has been the main abuse of the word in that just about every group used the same words in describing those with different views to their own.

One fellow who was fed up with the mud and slander suggested that each of us who help fill the pages of our newspaper try to put in something humorous for awhile to sort of take the sting out of things.

Another disgruntled citizen took the following sneaky punch. "Knowing we must stand behind the winner, we wonder which, the elephant or the mule would be the easier to stand behind." What a mean kick?

From our mailbox. Some time back we had a column dealing with unusual names. The following response came from Mrs. Edmund Carpenter of Hammon, Okla. The capitalized words woven into the story are the names of Indian pupils in the school where her children attend. They are mostly from the Cheyenne and Arapho tribes. We quote;

"Fannan is a Littleman, Whiteman with a Romannose, Bigfoot Scabby Lefthand, with a Fingernail. He is in Standingwater with an Orange, Candy Chipps, a Whiteshield with Miles of Howlingwater on Hardground in Osage. His animals and birds include: Heap of Birds, Magpie, Whitecrane, Blackhawk, Old Crow, Little Elk, Lone Elk, Young Bull, Howling Buffalo, Bellmule, Ridgebear, Coyote, Wolf, Turtle, and Whiteskunk."

Mrs. Ray Smith of Plainview sends us a fine group of sayings. The following are samples.

"Where there is no faith in the future, there is no power in the present."

"Remember you would never have glimpsed the new horizon had you not succeeded in reaching the first."

"Good humor is the health of the soul; sadness is its poison."

Nancy Morchel of Floydada quotes from Josh Billings; "Tight shoes are the greatest blessing on earth. They make you forget all your other troubles." This might help us forget the furor of the election.

Oscar P. Yoder of Albuquerque thinks the world would be better if all of us would both practice and preach more down to earth philosophy.

J. Muri McCasland, the Cattle Rustler for Boys Ranch, has now turned Maize Gatherer for the same worthy cause and invites us all to join in. We can leave our feed at any elevator. This is pasture to the plate security for beefsteaks to the boys.

Most of us never get a chance to do the really big things in life. Likely, we will never invent a thing of great importance; neither is it probable that we will be in the position to save the life of any person. These exciting adventures are reserved for only a few people.

However, each day that we live brings the opportunity to do a number of little things that in the long run will add up to something big. Today our little might be only a smile as we pass folks along the way. Tomorrow we might write a letter to someone who would be lonely or blue.

Each of these along with many other little fruits of human kindness will gather into a cluster of happiness that will fill the lives of those about us and overflow back into our own life in a measure of seven fold.

Grains of sand make up the seashore, and soil and rocks are the heart of mighty mountains. Tiny drops of water fill up the seas, and breathed into each person is that little bit of air that makes him a living soul.

A smile today took only a minute but smiles grow into happiness and minutes grow into days. Little deeds we do today become habits tomorrow and the pattern of our life is changed by the actions of one minute.

"Kindness like grain, increases with the sowing." Little deeds grow into big experiences. An empty life can be made full by doing the little things along our way.

Rural Electrification...good for All Americans!

Business is better today—paychecks fatter, jobs more secure in every American city and town. And—there's a good reason why.

This year 16 million Americans, now served by non-profit rural electric systems, will buy over a billion dollars worth of electric appliances—made, sold and serviced in these cities and towns.

That was impossible 25 years ago. Then only one of ten American families, outside the city limits, had or could get electric power. That's when rural Americans, by working together, began to serve themselves with this necessity of modern living.

So—we cordially invite all Americans to share our joy as we celebrate the 25th Birthday of rural electrification. We are proud to have played a small but important part in bringing this "miracle" about. We are happy that rural electrification has proved to be "good for ALL Americans."

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford

AUSTIN — Shell-shocked and exhausted from one of the hardest-fought general elections in decades, Texans now can get a second wind and turn to new issues and decisions.

Some of the significant decisions ahead grow out of decisions made at the polls earlier this month.

As a result of Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson's election to the vice presidency his senate seat will become vacant on or before Jan. 20. It's a highly coveted position, seldom up for grabs, since the winner of a six-year term can be fairly sure of holding it for life.

It is likely that the race for Johnson's post will be the first special election in Texas history to have a run-off. A 1957 law, called the Pool Bill, provided that in special elections for congressional vacancies, there shall be a run-off if no candidate receives a majority of the votes in the first polling. Previously, special elections had been on a high-man-wins basis.

Many possible candidates are mentioned. Among them: John Connally of Fort Worth, Jack Cox of Breckenridge, Martin Dies, Sr. of Lufkin, Congressman Joe Kilgore of McAllen, Wright Morrow of Houston, Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey, John Ben Shepperd of Odessa, John G. Tower, Johnson's Republican opponent in the general election, Atty. Gen. Will Wilson and Congressman Jim Wright of Weatherford.

It is unlikely that any candidate will make a public announcement until Senator Johnson officially resigns and Gov. Price Daniel sets the date for the special election. Under the law, the governor must call the election in no less than 60 days and not later than 90 days from the time the vacancy occurs.

If Congress is in session at the time the vacancy occurs, it would also be the governor's duty to name an interim senator to serve until a successor is elected. Governor Daniel already has said that former Sen. William Blakely would have first chance at such an appointment.

When the vacancy will occur depends entirely on Senator Johnson. There is speculation that he will not lay aside his senatorial toga until he takes the oath as vice president (Jan. 20). Many feel that his presence and assistance in organizing the Senate prior to that date would help get the incoming Democratic administration off to a good start.

OKAYED AMENDMENTS POSE PROBLEM — On the purely state level, voters' approval of the four constitutional amendments during the general election pose some new decisions and issues for the state legislators next January. Among them:

1. MORE PAY—FROM WHERE? —By constitutional amendment, voters have, for the first time in history, put members of the Texas Legislature on an annual salary.

They will be entitled to $4,800 a year, whether in session or not. They also are to get $12 a day expenses for 120 days of a regular session and for each day of any special sessions called thereafter. This replaces the old $25-a-day pay plan.

Question is where to get the money. State's general revenue fund is, according to State Treasurer Jesse James' latest report, $60,535.63 in the red. By the time the next session starts, this figure is expected to be higher.

So, legislators will have to turn their attention quickly to a means of finding money somewhere if they're going to meet their own grocery bills.

2. LOAN COMPANY REGULATION — Passage of Amendment Four dumps in the Legislature's lap the tremendous job of passing laws to regulate lending practices in Texas.

Some lawmakers gloomily and privately predict that it will result in a worse fight than trying to pass a new tax bill.

Previously, the Constitution limited legal interest rates to 10 per cent. This provision was repealed.

Under the new provision the Legislature has the responsibility to (1) license and regulate lenders, (2) prevent misleading advertising, (3) fix and limit maximum charges and (4) impose effective penalties for violations.

A. J. Gen. Will Wilson, elated over the passage of the amendment, warned that "the loan sharks will pitch their final battle in the Legislature to try to eliminate the penalties and to develop loopholes."

Abner V. McCall, executive vice president of Baylor University and head of a citizens committee that worked for passage of the amendment, predicted "a real dog fight" in the Legislature over control legislation.

3. LAND PROGRAM PICKS UP — Since the voters gave it permission Nov. 8 to pay higher interest on its bonds, the Veterans Land Board is getting ready to do a bigger business.

Maximum interest the board can pay on the bonds it sells was raised from 4 to 3.5 per cent. With this easing of restrictions, the board expects to be able to sell more bonds and have more money available to loan veterans for land purchases.

A new bond sale is planned tentatively for December. Meanwhile, the board secretary said mailing of applications to veterans has been stepped up from 10 a week to 225 a week.

Some 45,000 veterans are now waiting for loans, but in actual practice, only about one in five finally finds land and qualifies for a loan. Board has authority to issue $62,500,000 more in bonds. This amount of money is expected to take care of those waiting to buy who will qualify.

According to the constitutional amendment setting up the program, no new loans are supposed to be made after Dec. 1, 1965.

SCHOOL GOALS SET — Knowing it will be a tough job in this debt-ridden era, Texas school people are, nevertheless, setting their sights on a $100,000,000 improvement program.

At an Austin meeting of educators, legislators and interested citizens, Governor Daniel promised his support to the effort to pass a bill to raise teachers salaries.

This is one of the main items of the $100,000,000 Hale-Aikin recommendations. This program resulted from a study begun in 1957. It sat on the shelf during the last legislature because of the acute miney shortage.

GEORGE'S WIFE

By "Sarah"

As we have said a number of times to those who have voiced their wishes 'they would be glad when it is over' this long drawn out pre-election marathon we have just gone through, it has just begun for we citizens who would rather govern ourselves.

It takes but little effort to know who represents you in government, from the national to the local level. Where we are prone to fall down, now that we have done our part in voting, is to sit down and write that representative our protest or approval in plenty of time to reach him before the act is law.

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18TH DISTRICT

By Congressman Walter Rogers

The Mandate of the People
On November 8, 1960 the people of the United States exercised their right of franchise; a right enjoyed by very few people throughout the world; a right indispensable to the preservation of a government by law rather than by man; a right, the proper exercise of which is the keystone of democracy.

The result of the exercise of that right by well over 60 million Americans is indicative of many things. Pollsters, lawyers, editorial writers, columnists, political experts, and others will be analyzing that vote for many months and years to come. These analyses will produce as many meanings attributed to the votes and the voters as the number of people who undertake to treat the subject. Many will say that the system in this country is wrong, that it is unfair, that it does not permit the true reflection of the feeling of the majority of the people. Others will say that the system should be retained as the most perfect system yet devised by man. The electoral college method of electing a president has been under fire for a long time. Many attempts have been made to change it, but none have been successful. No doubt other attempts will be made in the future, near and far, but I seriously doubt that the system will be changed until there is definite proof that an alternative is better.

I would like to submit my feeling as to the real meaning of what happened on November 8, 1960. In my opinion the most significant fact was the closeness of the election, regardless of who won. It reflected the wealth of strength in the democratic process and it contained a mandate from the people to the elected officials that should and must be honored. The people said, in effect, that they want a balanced, sound, and honest government, free of extremist policies in either the direction of statism or monopolism, properly tempered so that the fullest strength can be realized. The people of this country from all walks of life; the farmer, the laborer, the professional, the housewife, the corporate representative, the butcher, the baker, and the candlestick maker, all spoke to make up the one voice that constituted the voice of the people. To all who would hear, that voice had the same clear, rich tones of the voice in 1787 that said to the world:

"We the People of the United States, in Order to form a more perfect Union, establish Justice, insure domestic Tranquility, provide for the common defence, promote the general Welfare, and secure the Blessings of liberty to ourselves and our Posterity, do ordain and establish this CONSTITUTION for the United States of America."

With that preamble, the Constitution of the United States of America, one of the greatest documents ever struck off by the hand of man, was commenced. The people of this country in this election have truly evidenced that we are jealous of our rights and liberties, and that those entrusted with them will be held to full account.

Our government, like a fine watch, is made up of many, many parts, without any single one of which an imbalance could be created; but with all of which performing the service for which they were designed, true balance is attained. Our government and our philosophy will survive, so long as none of us forgets the presence and necessity of others.

Dinner With A Capital "D"

Food faddism, which is often accompanied by weird and unappetizing diets, has become something of a national problem. It's reached the point where nutritional and medical authorities are warning of the dangers to health that can come with off-beat eating.

However, people who make a specialty of cooking tell us that the old, established and nutritionally-sound favorites aren't about to be discarded. For instance, Harcourt, Brace and Company of New York has just published an amusing, unusual, informative and enthusiastically reviewed work entitled "The I Hate to Cook Book" by Peg Bracken. Miss Bracken observes: "Never scorn the noble prime rib or the rolled sirloin tip. Remember, most men like plain meat better than a casserole. Show me the man who doesn't like a juicy pink slab of good roast beef (followed by an Irish Coffee) and I'll show you a vegetarian who's on the wagon."

As for the Irish Coffee, that's as may be — it's a question of each to his own, and anyone who wants to adopt vegetarianism or go on the wagon is certainly entitled to do so. But, to the vast majority of us, a fine piece of meat means dinner with a capital D.

If you ever plan to succeed in a project, you must have a plan to go by. That way your work will be directed toward what you plan to accomplish and not be wasted. The same thing applies to your farm or ranch. A complete conservation plan of operations will help you to plan from year to year what you should accomplish on your land. This will save you time and money.

Your Donley County SCD urges the farmers and ranchers in this county to contact the local Soil Conservation Service personnel for a plan of operations on your farm. First of all, a soils map will be made on all land except rangeland. The map will show depth, texture, and slope of the land. This information will then show you what crops and practices will work best on that soil. Next, another map (aerial photograph) will be made to show fences, windmills, ponds, buildings, corrals, fields and pastures, etc. Range sites will also be drawn in the map and a range inventory made to determine stocking rates and rangeland needs.

The complete farm or ranch plan will do these things that you won't be sure of otherwise:

1. Sets up a sequence of practices as they need to be done so as to save time and materials.
2. Gives the operator a goal to work toward in order to get his farm or ranch in top operating condition.
3. Shows the operator what his land can produce in relation to what it is producing.
4. Furnishes the operator with the latest scientific information that will fit his operations.

Several men in this county have recently worked with the local SCS in developing a farm or ranch plan. Among those are Charels Hall, George Saunders, Jack Edens, Wallace Raney, Bernard McClellan, Clyde Wilson, W. R. Kelley, and J. W. Sullivan.

The conservation plan is one of the free services that your local Soil Conservation District furnishes you through the SCS. It will only cost you a few hours of your time in planning with the SCS personnel draw up a complete soil conservation plan for you so that you can start applying it on next year's operations.

Senator Barry Goldwater writes: "In order to remake society overnight and to eliminate the inequities which are apparent to all of us, the radical liberal is always willing to employ compulsion. In order to exercise the liberals seek additional power and constantly chafe under the restrictive limitations of the Constitution. Conservatives, on the other hand, believe that compulsion—however well intended—inflicts serious injury on the dignity of the individual and therefore argue that reform and improvement must be voluntary."

There are currently 2,986 private golf clubs in the United States, compared with 4,448 in 1931.
