Group Says Water Park Coming

Yesterday's Children has reached an agreement with a private investment group from England to build Thunder Junction, the Western Heritage Park and Entertainment Center planned as a source of supplemental funding for senior citizen programs in the Panhandle.

Groundbreaking ceremonies will be held at 2:00 p.m. Friday, March 24, 1995, at the site near Clarendon and Greenbelt Lake. The public is invited to attend. At the intersection of State Highway 70 and U.S. 287, visitors can take the Greenbelt Lake exit and go 3/4 mile north on 70. The site is on the east side of the highway.

"A private investor developed an interest in this project and its potential after visiting the Bar H Working Dude Ranch at Clarendon," said Pat Kaiser, President of Yesterday's Children.

"After negotiations and visits over several months, we have come to an agreement that we believe will be beneficial both to the senior citizens of our area and the private investors as well," she added. "The public/private partnership we have worked toward has come together, and it's an exciting development that will also benefit the Panhandle economy!"

The park will be built in four phases. The first, which investors hope to have ready for this year's summer season, will be first phase of a water park and lazy river, along with a go-kart track and a miniature gold course. The New Braunfels General Store (NBGS), which has produced the Schlitterbahn water parks, is designing and building the components for Thunder Junction's water park.

Phase II plans include four large slides for the water park; Phase III, a train ride and Family Master Blaster ride, and Phase IV will begin the completion of the Western Heritage Park.

The agreement was reached on March 7 -- subject to completion of the land agreement -- by officials of Yesterday's Children, Inc., the non-profit group that initiated and developed the project; Thunder Junction, Inc., the private, for-profit corporation formed to develop funding for the project; and Westwood GMW Limited, the United Kingdom corporation headed by David Williams.

"Thunder Junction will be built, owned and operated by Westwood," said Stan McClendon of Wellington, a vice-president of Thunder Junction. "The legal agreement specifies several provisions that protect Yesterday's Children's investment and the integrity of its goals for Thunder Junction."

Westwood has agreed to provide a minimum annual royalty or a certain percentage of the gross park receipts -- whichever is greater -- to Yesterday's Children, Kaiser said. Distribution of funds to help provide senior citizen services throughout the 26 counties of the Panhandle will be handled by a volunteer board.

The location has been moved from a site owned by the Greenbelt Water Authority to a 67-acre site nearby in order to tie into a sewage system already in place. Yesterday's Children conferred with Don Stewart of Economic Consulting Services, who conducted its feasibility studies, before the location change was made. A lease agreement has been made with property owner Dale Robinson.

Sharp Delivers March Sales Tax Rebates

Austin - "Texas employment has risen by over 331,000 jobs in the last year, to stand at 7.9 million jobs, for another new all-time high," State Comptroller John Sharp said today as he delivered a total of $122.6 million in March sales tax rebates to 1,073 Texas cities and 111 counties.

"This added employment translates into increased consumer confidence, which has resulted in an 11.8 percent increase in sales tax rebates, as compared to March 1994," Sharp said.

Local city sales tax rebates for March are $110.9 million, 12.2 percent above the payments on year ago of $98.8 million. The rebates of $11.7 million to Texas counties reflect a 9 percent increase over the $10.7 million payments of March 1994.

This month's payments include local sales taxes collected in January and reported by businesses filing monthly returns in February.

The Comptroller also made quarterly payments totaling $174.9 million to six mass transit programs for local sales taxes collected from October through January and reported in December, January, and February.

Area Report

Counties in this region did not do as well as the state as a whole. Donley County's figures were off -.75 percent for the month and -13.62 percent for the Year-to-Date figure. Clarendon showed a -9.05 and -15.47.

Briscoe was up 46.59 percent and 2.81 percent. Carson County, however, turned in mixed returns, off for the month, -10.94 but up for the YTD, 15.50 percent. Childress chalked up positive numbers, 4.96 and 2.79. Wellington reversed Carson County's trend. Collingsworth county was up for the monthly period, but down for the YTD.

Gray County broke even with last year, with 1.03 percent and 0.16 percent. Hall County declined by -5.27 from the previous February's sales, and -3.35 for the quarter.

Potter County followed the urban trend, up 12.04 and 6.34. But neighboring Randall County reported a good month, 11.81 percent and a bad YTD, -1.48.

Wheeler enjoyed good sales, 27.59 and 9.71.

12 Steps to Creating Real Opportunities

By Sherri Smith-Gray, Creative Planning Resources

Is Rural America dying? Depending upon which part of the country you are currently living in, the culture to which you belong, or if the moon is in the second phase of Pisces twice removed, the answer to this question could be (and too many times is) Yes; and then again, it could be No. There are numerous statistics that show an alarming death rate among rural communities, especially in the mid-west section of the United States. But before we cut off basic life support to some of these rural communities, lets look at some rather interesting "facts" that are becoming more prominent in the scheme of "things".

- The technological breakthroughs in telecommunications have decreased and sometimes eliminated the time and space barriers.
 - The trend toward home based business entrepreneurship is continuing to rise at a steady pace.
 - Many professionals, skilled laborers and executives are leaving the crowded, smog-filled, crime-laden, hurry-up and wait atmosphere of the major and minor metropolises for the slower paced, value-oriented, clean-air, no traffic, leave the doors unlocked amenities of remote rural areas. They are injecting businesses, jobs, micro-economies and progressive leadership into rural areas.
 - People are returning to basics. They want something they can depend upon.
 - Those rural community leaders who prepare their communities for the "real" economic opportunities available to them will win the economic recovery game.
 - "A people without Vision will perish." (King James Version)
 - If you think you can, or if you think you can't - either way you're right!
- So, how do community leaders (in reality) "take back their town" and leave a legacy for their heirs? The following is a suggestion of how "real" community leaders can take "real" steps to create a "real" future for their very "real" communities. These steps have been tried and found to work not just in theory, but in "real" practice for those who are serious about their future.

1. Step back. Take a good, long, hard look at your community.

La Traviata Coming to Area

Amarillo Opera will present Giuseppe Verdi's La Traviata Saturday, April 1 at 7:30 p.m. in the Amarillo Civic Center. Founder/Director Mila Gibson has invited internationally acclaimed operatic conductor David Stockton to be Music Director and Conductor. International opera star Joseph Evans, tenor, will be featured as Alfredo. Other guest artists will be Diane Syrcle, soprano, as Bioletta and Timothy Tucker, baritone, as Germont. La Traviata ("The Lost One") will be sung in English.

"La Traviata will be Amarillo Opera's first full production on Civic Center stage," according to Genavieve Caldwell, Amarillo Opera Outreach Coordinator, Clarendon. "Because the productions are produced as a cooperative effort between AO, Inc. and Amarillo College's music department, we usually perform at AC. Seating capacity, stage space, and other dramatic facility differences will mean that this production will be our most expensive and grandest opera production to date."

Local principals Sara Burke, Lee Kandle, Lanny Allen, Gregory Shapley, Joe Bolin, and Erma Rush will join over 50 local singing artist and orchestra members from the Amarillo Symphony to bring the excitement of Verdi's music to the Panhandle.

Tickets will be priced at $10, $15, and $20 and can be purchased at the Civic Center Box Office at 378-3096. The Gala following the production will be opened to the

Cotton Farmers Learn Benefits of Eradication

Eliminating one of the cotton industry's most devastating pest was the focus of discussion during a cotton producers meeting March 7 at Clarendon College.

The meeting, sponsored by the Donley County Extension Office, allowed cotton farmers throughout Donley County to hear first-hand about the Texas boll weevil eradication program.

The program plans to eradicate the boll weevil from Texas by the year 2002. Texas is divided into nine eradication zones. Donley County falls within the Northern Rolling Plains Zone. This zone includes the following counties: Donley, Gray, Wheeler, Collingsworth, Hall, Childress, Cottle, Hardeman, Foard, Wilbarger, Wichita, and northern half of Archer and Clay. Oklahoma producers are also included in the zone.

Lindy Patton of the Rolling Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., was invited to talk about what farmers within his organization have done to prepare for boll weevil eradication in the Central Rolling Plains Zone. This zone lies to the south of the Northern Rolling Plains Zone.

Patton, who lives and farms near Stamford, encouraged Donley producers to start planning now, regardless of whether they want to take part in eradication or not.

"This will be your program," Patton said. "Nobody is going to push it on you. You have to want it. The effort is going to have to come from the farmers."

Patton emphasized that the program is grower controlled. He encouraged the Donley producers to organize at the county level and then work with others within the zone. Currently, Robert Belew of Vernon, Texas is the appointed director on the Texas Boll Weevil Eradication Foundation, Inc., for the Northern Rolling Plains Zone.

Producers within the zone must first pass a referendum to support the eradication plan and pass a second referendum to finance the cost.

Letter To The Editor

On June 10, 1993, I was forced to place my wife of 59 years, in the Medical Center Nursing Home here in Clarendon. We are so fortunate to have such a facility as this in our community. After visiting other facilities in the panhandle we are quickly convinced that we have the best, here in Clarendon.

We are in the midst of a clean-up, paint-up and face lifting endeavor at the medical center. We are selling raffle tickets on a 19" color - remote RCA television set to be given away the night of April 14, 1995. The tickets sell for $1 each or 6 tickets in a book for $5. We need your help, if you feel as proud of this community and its citizens as I do, then I ask you to help us in anyway you can.

If it is a cash donation, please make it payable to the Medical Center, Face Lift Fund, P.O. Box 1007, Clarendon, Tx 79226. Any other act of charity for this cause would be appreciated and you can call Tina Davis or Peggy Cockerham at 874-3760.

We are also holding a dance at the Community Center on April 14 from 8:00 p.m. to 12:00 p.m. to benefit this endeavor. The band will be the West Texas Swing Band from Pampa, featuring a guy I have known all his life - Jay Riley, my son.

I do hope and know that the fine people of this community will get behind this project, as you always do. I thank you all and I am so grateful to be counted among you.

Soup to Nuts

My theory is that if vegetables are present in any recipe, the calories in any other ingredient are null and void. This information will put this week's pasta dish in the low-cal category. It is also possible that mental attitude toward food affects the calorie count.

Fettuccine Florentine

- 6 oz. Fettuccine
- 2 cups frozen California Blend (Carrots, Cauliflower, Broccoli)

Boil fettuccine in lightly salted water for 12 minutes. Add vegetables. Drain after three minutes and return to saucepan.

Add:

- 1/2 cup whipping cream
- 1/4 cup butter
- 1 Tbs. chopped fresh parsley
- 1/8 tsp. leaf tarragon
- 1/2 cup grated parmesan cheese

Heat on very low burner until hot through.

This makes a nice side dish for broiled or grilled meat of any kind. Add chicken, tuna, or thinly sliced grilled steak to transform this recipe into a main course. There is no substitute for real cream or butter.

If you are looking for a special recipe or would like to see one of your favorites in print, drop by the newspaper office, or write to Lynne Williams, Box 807, Clarendon, TX 79226.

1926 Book Club Held Annual Guest Day

The 1926 Book Club held their annual Guest Day on March 7, at the Patching Club House. The social committee consisting of Pearl Hermosmeyer, Elvie Shields, Norma Schwertner, and Susie Shields served refreshments to eleven members and nine guests. The refreshments were sandwiches, cookies, candy, and punch and coffee. The quartet tables featured seasonal figurines placed on clover-shaped doilies.

Thelma Shields entertained the group with a number of piano selections. Nelson and Virginia Christie told of their experiences teaching on a Navajo reservation. They showed sand paintings, rugs, jewelry, and many pictures. Guests for the day were Connie McAnear, Wilma Spier, Dee Williams, Martha Lowe, Helen Land, Betty Jean Williams, Tookie Thornberry, Brian Mann, and Nelson Christie. Members present were Virginia Christie, Glenda Hawkins, Hazel Brandon, Evelyn Mann, Thelma Shields, Viola Bones, Dikki Howell, Frieda Tucker, Pearl Hermosmeyer, Elvie Shields, and Norma Schwertner.

Do you ever want to sit down and just enjoy some light humorous reading? If so, You Can Always Tell A Texan, But You Can't Tell Him Very Much by Boyce House and Papa Was In A Hurry by Gertrude Stagg Carruth are two books which guarantee several pleasant hours of amusement, and are located in Burton Memorial Library's Texas Collection.

Boyce House was a humorist who specialized in Texas humor. In his 123 page book, he has combined 500 tall tales, jokes, and wisecracks about Texas. It is the type of book that you can put down after a few pages and go back to, later, without feeling interrupted.

If you appreciate good Texas humor, you'll want to pick it up again and again. Sports fans will especially enjoy the section, "On the Gridiron." The politically minded will appreciate the "Politician" chapter and "Order in the Courtroom." Journalists will be amused by "The Press", and cowboys will like "Cowboys." Other chapters are titled "Meet Some of the Folks", "Hither and Yon", "Chaparral Philosopher", "Getting Acquainted", and "Texas-Con and Pro." After authoring various magazine and newspaper articles and ten other books, it is certainly understandable why this free lance writer was much in demand as a speaker. His wit and hilarious humor delighted many audiences.

The name, Henry Stagg, may not be familiar to you, but it is his biography, Papa Was In A Hurry, written by one of his daughters that reveals his colorful 93 years of life, a life which included rice farming; experience in a Galveston storm; significance of a special pony, "Bodiddle"; his invention of an unusual mosquito repellent; Model T and Model A cars in which Mama would not sit in front; silent movies; his Sunday School teaching; his experience as a foreman of a road building gang at age, 80; and asking for and receiving a typewriter for his 90th birthday. Even though he uprooted his large family of ten children and Grandma by repeated moves, they still sustained a permanency with each other, and he set an honorable example for them.

These two books are definitely not new. Mr. House's book was first printed in 1955, and Mrs. Carruth's in 1967. However, they are examples that confirm the fact that good books will always remain good books. Why not check it out?

Single's Group To Meet

Home Alone! The next single's group meeting will be held Saturday, March 25 at 7:00 p.m. at the Home of John Rattan on the corner of Goodnight and Montgomery. It will be a pot luck supper. Bring a dish. If you have any questions contact John Rattan at the Donut Shop.

Brewer Gets New Assignment

On March 7, 1995, Navy Petty Officer 2nd Class Lonnie D. Brewer, son of Sandra K. Gillespie of Hedley, recently reported for duty at U.S. Naval Station Roosevelt Roads, Puerto Rico.

The 1979 graduate of Hedley High School joined the Navy in March 1980.

Where's The Beef?

Since you live in an agriculture community, just how much do you really know about agriculture? Well, to inform and maybe surprise you, the Palo Duro Pioneer Chapter of Texas Cattlemen are going to give you some facts. Did you know that each American farm family feeds over a hundred people every day? They produce enough food for 128 people in the U.S. and abroad. Now, that is not an easy or light task.

Another surprise that the people across the United States will soon be using is their ears to help keep their eyes on the road, ears of corn that is. A corn by-product is being made into a non-toxic ethanol for windshield washer fluid. It is safer for children and pets, an other new use of the agricultural crop.

The productivity of American agriculture is un-paralleled, so celebrate our abundance during National Agriculture Week, March 14-20. The Palo Duro Pioneer Chapter of Texas Cattlemen certainly intend to be involved.

- Be honest with yourself. If America is to survive as a Democracy with a Free Market Economy, we must start being honest with ourselves and others.
- Bring an outsider in to look at your community and have them objectively describe their first impressions - physically and emotionally.
- Ask all of your high school Juniors and Senior what they think of their/your community.
- Ask your manufacturers, service and retail businesses what they think. Not another survey, please. Sit down and TALK to them as a group.

- Don't take offense at what they say.
- Don't threaten to take away "privileges" for their opinions.

2. Get real mad
- Get mad at yourselves.
- Recognize the you are responsible for the physical, attitudinal and emotional condition of your community. Nobody else allowed your sewer system to rot, your downtown buildings to fall down, your young people to move away, your businesses to leave. You did!

3. Correct your "Stinkin Thinkin"
- Rural communities are losing their #1 natural resource....Their young people. They're leaving for many reasons, only one of which is the lack of job opportunities in particular career areas. There are a surprising number leaving just because of the attitude of the community in general. That's the real death.
- Just because its not your idea, doesn't mean its not a good one.
- Learn to agree to disagree. Whether you agree or disagree doesn't matter much if your loose your schools, youth, hospital, banks, jobs, and eventually everyone else in the town - does it!!

- Become aware of what "real" rural economic development is - and what it is not.

- It is: Home Based Business Entrepreneurs; Student Entrepreneurs; Tourism and visitors who come back to stay; Historical Preservation; Targeted Retirement; Existing Manufacturing and Service/Retail businesses; History; Events and Recreation; Health Care; Infrastructure; Getting lucky with a business who wants to locate into your community.

- It is not: Recruiting a "clean", High Tech manufacturing concern employing 50-250 to your community - if it happens great, but if you only measure your community's success by that alone...

4. Create a "Tentative" organization made up of people who love their community and are committed to making the attitudinal, emotional, physical and monetary changes that must be made in order to save it.

- Who profits from you community's progress/success? Bankers; City officials; Civic leaders; Ministers/churches; Students/Schools; School Officials; Chamber members; Utility managers; Media; Health Care providers; Professionals; Businesses and entrepreneurs; Historical Buildings; Senior Citizens; Police; Fire; Elected officials; the community stray cat; all of the above and other.

5. Create a Vision for your Community - What does it look like in the year 2005?

- Be creative! You are competing with other communities throughout the World and you better have a pretty unique mouse trap to beat some of them!!

- "Hire" an outside consultant to help bring out a common dynamic, doable, natural Vision that all of "you" can support.

- An "outsider" is not weighed down by all the typical "insider" baggage from the political and Psychological dynamics of your community. Objectivity is maintained and popularity is not a concern.

- Identify sponsors to bring ($) in a professional consultant/trainer/facilitator.

- Identify every/all resources available to assist you in implementing your plan and attaining your Vision.

- Identify 1-3 focuses form your Vision that are truly "Visionary".

- Create goals to be accomplished in 3 weeks, 6weeks, 6 months and one year.

- Start by cleaning up your town!!! It is the most visible impression and reflects your opinion of yourself as a community. It is also something that your citizenry can see the results of "their" efforts quickly which adds to the motivation.

6. Develop a passion for your Vision.

- If you don't believe in your Vision (believe, not necessarily agree), don't expect anyone else to share in your passion.
- Be proud of "what" you are now!!! How much prouder will you be when you reach your goals.

7. Promote and present "your" Vision to the community at large

- Call a town meeting to explain, motivate and access general input into the Vision for your community, form your community.

- Make it everyone's Vision.
- Explain current reality.
- Give the "Nay sayers" something to do.
- Be sure to include the power brokers who may not have been involved in the planning process.
- It helps if you can gain consensus. It is not a requirement!

8. Create a "formal" organization to design, implement and fund a program of work which accomplishes your community's Vision.

- Identify a board of directors form all interested groups.
- Create committees.
- Identify and develop funding mechanisms which can access public and private dollars to help pay for the projects/programs within the Vision.
- Be Creative.
- Determine the feasibility of creating a Community Foundation (private operating foundation)
- Endowments, professional fund raisers, community fund raising activities.
- Hire an executive director (optional).

9. Take inventory of ALL potential business opportunities which lead to REAL business and economic growth.

- Look at your community as a product. The way it is now would anyone really want to buy what you have?
- Where are your actual and potential home based business owners?
- Does anyone in your community produce something that other people find desirable (i.e. secret recipe fudge sauce; unique dolls; an innovation that helped Farmer Brown's tractor hum, etc.)
- Ask students what they would like to do if they could be their "own" boss. Provides opportunities for youth to come home to.

- What sites, attractions and events are available to attract tourists within a 100 mile radius.
- What makes your community Unique.
- What is your history.

10. Recognition
- Recognize everything.
- Recognize that money is rarely an issue - commitment is the real issue.
- Recognize the importance, potential and gifts of every citizen within your community.
- Recognize every effort made on behalf of the community.
- Create a recognition program for efforts and success.
- Promote every effort in every communication tool available within a 70 mile radius.
- Give credit where credit is due.
- Recognize that the visitors your efforts bring to your community may also be looking for a "quaint", quiet, progressive, and sincerely friendly town to settle in - and do business from.
- Recognize that with change and progress comes conflict.
- Never give up - compromise, maybe - but, Never give up.
- Recognize that in order for others to know about your wonderful community - you must tell them about it.
- Your have prepared and are ready for the world to see what a thriving rural community of excellence really is so...
11. Market what you have done and what you have to sell to the World.
12. Nothing happens if Nothing happens
- Immediate action, upon creating a plan for the future of your community, is imperative for the success/survival of your future.
- Actions speak louder than words.

Motion by Susie Shields with a second by Doug Lowe to adopt policy on investment as follows:
Clarendon College Investment Policy
Investment Management Guidelines
1. Goals
The investment manager(s) of Clarendon College shall invest funds no needed for current operation into allowable investment of the Texas Public Funds Investment Act of 1987. No investments will be made that do not guarantee the principal amount invested. Yields on investments will need to be competitive with an analysis begun made to the board of regents on a regular basis.
2. Guidelines Governing Investments
a. The President and/or Business Manager are to act as investment manager(s) for all funds of the college district. All investments must have approval of the President and the Board of Regents.
b. Funds are to be invested in accordance with the public Funds Investment Act of 1987 which requires the investment of funds as follows:
(1) Obligations of the United States or its agencies and instrumentalities.
(2) Direct obligations of the State of Texas or its agencies.
(3) Other obligations, the principal of and interest on which are unconditionally guaranteed or insured by the State of Texas or the United States.
(4) Obligations of states, agencies, counties, cities, and other political subdivisions of any state having been rated as to investment quality by a nationally recognized investment rating firm and having received a rating of not less than "A" of its equivalent.
(5) Certificate of deposit issued by state and national banks domiciled in this state.
(6) Fully collateralized direct repurchase agreements having a defined termination date, and secured by obligations described by this subdivision.
c. Safety of investments shall be made with prudence and care as that of a prudent person. Investments shall be made with the same care as the manager would use in managing their own affairs and not for speculation, but investment, considering a safe return of principal as well as income.
d. Liquidity of investments should, in most investments, be within one year but in no circumstance more than two years. Diversification within allowable investment instruments to increase investment yields is encouraged.
e. All funds of the institution will be deposited in (State law requires that deposits be made into the depository bank within seven days of collection.) Adequate funds will be kept on deposit to meet current obligations and the balance will be invested in allowable investments.
f. State law requires rebidding depository bank contracts every two years.
g. Investment managers may invest college funds with the Texas Treasury Safekeeping and Trust Company (Tex-Pool). Investments into TexPool would require prior approval of the Board of Regents at a regular board meeting.

3. Authorized and Prohibited Transactions
a. Authorized transactions are those within the limits of the Public Funds Investment Act of 1987 as listed in Paragraph 2. above. Clarendon College normally deals with the following: Certificates of deposit; treasury bills or notes; and any obligation of the State of Texas. Any item outside the CC depository bank that requires board action and be recorded in the board minutes.
b. Prohibited transactions are any that are not within the limits of those in Paragraph 2 above. Examples are as follows: common stock or any stock in a corporation; investments in savings and loans; bonds other than those listed above (no junk bonds). Sales of donated stock are kept until receiving a fair market price.
4. Criteria for Measuring Investment Performance
An analysis of investments will be presented to the Board of Regents on a monthly basis. Information will be furnished as to time investment is made; length of time for investment; type of investment; rate of return; projected return and principal invested.
Policy revised and adopted by Board of Regents 2-9-95. Motion carried unanimously, 5-0-0. Motion by R.L. Health Care Reform

We don't hear very much about health care reform these days. But, that doesn't mean that the changes have stopped. While this issue is not presently a big topic on the national political scene, the real changes are occurring quietly at the state level. The attempts to improve our health care system will continue because the fundamental drive for change arises from economic considerations, not political pressure. The economic pressures for change will continue, and even increase over time. Present efforts to change medical care delivery of medical care more effective, more accessible, and insurance coverage more portable (so people don't lose their health insurance if they lose their job). While these changes are very desirable, their complete implementation will not convert what has been an illness care system into a health care system.

Historically, medical care in this country has been developed to provide treatment of disease. In this role, medical care has been very successful. We have developed very sophisticated ways to treat the diseases that our relatively wealthy lifestyle has produced. We now realize that only treating disease when it arises will not produce a healthy community. The changes that have been promoted to improve medical care will not convert the present disease care system into a true health care system. These changes focus on making the care of disease more effective, more efficient. They would result in our doing an incomplete job more efficiently. In the long run this will produce a system that will once again eventually bankrupt itself.

Our society has developed in a unique manner that results in our style of living generating illness faster than we can produce funds to pay to contain the damage that we do to ourselves. We must develop methods to delay the onset of chronic illness such as diabetes, high blood pressure, and heart disease. We must also develop ways to prevent the immediate damage done by accidents as well as the long term disability that trauma produces. So, we need to implement the changes that have been discussed over the past few years; and, we must also change our focus significantly. We must make the system as it exists more effective, less expensive, and more accessible. We must also do the more difficult job of changing our focus from disease to health so that we look at our society and change our style of living to allow us to be, and remain, healthy.

There needs to be a commitments on the part of both providers and the community that they serve to engage in healthy life styles that counteract the illnesses that our society fosters. Fundamentally, the long term survival of a health care system is a shared responsibility between the community and its medical providers.

It is not enough to have great qualities, we should also have the management of them.

Protect your rights! "Render" your taxable property by April 14th.

A "rendition" is a report to the appraisal district that lists all the taxable property you owned or controlled on January 1st of this year. The rendition form is available at your local appraisal district office... or you may draft a similar form.

Who must file a rendition? You must file a rendition if you own tangible personal property that is used to produce income—such as the inventory and equipment used by a business.

Are there any advantages to you? The advantages of filing a rendition are:

- You give your opinion of your property's value. If the appraisal district believes the value is higher, it must notify you in writing of the higher value and explain how you can protest that value to the appraisal review board.
You record your correct mailing address so your tax bills will go to the right address. If your bill is mailed to the wrong address, the law still holds you responsible for paying your taxes on time or paying extra charges for late payments.
You can also file a "report of decreased value" to notify the appraisal district of significant depreciation of the value of your property in 1994. The district will look at your property before assigning a value in 1995.

What's the deadline? The last day for filing or postmarking 1995 renditions is Friday, April 14. You can get an extra 15 days if you ask for it in writing by the April 14 deadline.

Where do you file? File renditions with your local appraisal district at: DONLEY APPRAISAL DISTRICT P O BOX 1220 CLARENDON TEXAS 79226 Phone (806) 874-2744

For more info, stop by your appraisal district and pick up "Texas Property Taxes: Taxpayers' Rights, Remedies, Responsibilities" Or contact: Comptroller's Property Tax Division P.O. Box 13528 - Austin, TX 78711-3528

YOUR YARD Lawn Care Month Marks Spring's Arrival

(NU) - As winter's chill and drab colors recede, among the first plants to reflect the hues of spring are lawn grasses. To celebrate the arrival of spring and the nation's focus on outdoor activities, the Professional Lawn Care Association of America has designated April as National Lawn Care Month.

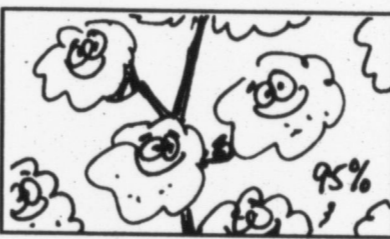

According to PLCAA, the North American lawn care season officially starts in April, when more than 25 million acres of lawns are turning green just about everywhere. It's estimated that North Americans spend about 1 billion hours tending to lawns every year.

"A 1994 Gallup survey reported that nine out of 10 U.S. households recognize the value of a well-maintained lawn and landscape," says Ann E. McClure, PLCAA's executive vice president. "National Lawn Care Month honors Americans' pride in beautifying their home and community landscapes."

With the economic, aesthetic and environmental benefits a healthy lawn brings, it's no wonder we consider lawn care a priority, notes McClure.

"PLCAA and more than 1,000 turf care professional members support National Lawn Care Month, and encourage everyone to enjoy and nurture nature's lawnscape," McClure says.

I wish to take this opportunity to express my deepest appreciation to all who expressed love and concern during my husband, W.C. Williams', illness and death.
I have received many lovely sympathy cards, also pot plants fully in bloom. They are beautiful. Again, thanks to all and God bless each of you.
