Lake Creek Watershed Field Review Report Tonight (Thurs.)

A field review began September 9 on the proposed Lake Creek Watershed and a final report is to be given in a Thursday night meeting (tonight).

Members of the review team are L. H. Barnes, State Soil and Water Conservation Board Engineer; W. W. Snyder, Economist for the Soil Conservation Service; and H. N. McGill, Hydrologist for the Soil Conservation Service.

Others assisting with the field review are Douglas Cunningham, Soil Conservation Service area conservationist and Monty Sowers, Soil Conservation district conservationist. The field review will be completed today, Thursday.

The function of the review team is to determine if the watershed project is economically feasible. To determine this information a study is made of the amount of damage done to cropland, rangeland, public and private roads, bridges, and other facilities by Lake Creek and its tributaries. Other information used by the team to arrive at their decision will be the amount of conservation practices already applied such as terraces, waterways, ponds, diversions, and brush control. This information has previously been gathered by the Soil Conservation Service and Soil and Water Conservation District.

A meeting will be held tonight, Thursday, September 11, at 8 p. m. at the Lelia Lake Community Center to discuss the team's findings and to answer any questions concerning the watershed. All interested people in the area are encouraged to attend.

STUDENTS RECEIVING S. S. BENEFITS SHOULD CHECK STATUS NOW

Students between the ages of 18 and 22 who are receiving social security benefits because of the death, disability or retirement of a parent may need to make a report immediately, according to Travis C. Briggs, manager of the Amarillo social security office.

Briggs said that students receiving benefits last May or June, until the school year ended, were sent a card asking them whether or not they intended to continue their schooling in the fall semester. They were also asked whether they would be attending a different school than the one shown on the card they completed in May or June. Some may have decided not to return to school as originally planned. If so, they need to report these changes to the social security office to prevent possible overpayments or suspension of their benefits. Reports should be made in person or by mail to the Amarillo social security office, 1006 Adams. It is open from 8:15 a. m. to 6:30 p. m. each Thursday and from 8:15 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. Monday through Wednesday and Fridays. "If they wish," Briggs said, "students may phone the office, phone no. 376-5151, and request a pre-addressed postal card on which to report the needed changes."

Briggs also encouraged any students or parents of students who may be eligible for student benefits and who are not currently receiving them to contact his office for further details.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Troffer of Commerce visited the week end with her sister, Mrs. Roeda Rattan and family.

PARENTS AND CHILDREN

Perhaps democracy is being forced upon children when they are too young. To saddle a child or adolescent with freedom beyond his demonstrated capacity of judgment is not fair, even though it be done under some high-sounding name. The privilege of developing children little by little up to the point where they can cope with the bewildering world into which they have been launched is the reward and crown of parenthood. It is popular to blame influences outside the home when a boy goes wrong, or to rail against television, radio, newspapers and magazines. But all these enter as a second influence, and if the first—the ingraining of a sense of decency by parents—has been effectively done, then all these lose their power to debase.—Royal Bank of Canada Monthly Letter.

Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Etherage and son, Mark, of Hereford, visited the week end with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Watson.

Dave Neeley Is New Basketball Coach At Clarendon College

The president's office of Clarendon College announces the appointment of Mr. Dave Neeley as head coach and physical education director at Clarendon College. Mr. Neeley is a native of Kansas, having done his undergraduate college work at Southwestern State College at Weatherford, Oklahoma, and completed his Masters Degree in physical education at Kansas State University in May 1966.

Mr. Neeley is married to Janell Ambercrombie Neeley from Hollis, Oklahoma. She was a teacher for several years in Kansas.

Dave Neeley comes to Clarendon College with very fine recommendations from several of the leading coaches throughout the nation. He has coached under Tex Winter who is presently the head basketball coach at the University of Washington in Seattle and has coached with Roy DeWitz, Bill Guthridge, and came very highly recommended by Jerry Jobe, head basketball coach at Southwestern State College in Weatherford, Oklahoma. Clarendon College feels very fortunate to have acquired a coach of this caliber to replace Lawrence Overcast, who went to Trinity University at San Antonio.

Camille Victims Need Your Help Now

Mike McCully, local Red Cross Chairman, reported yesterday that appeal for assistance thru the Red Cross for victims of the Hurricane Camille, had met very meager response locally and announced that tables would be set up Friday at both banks and the Post Office to receive any and all contributions.

The money donated will go to help Camille victims only, McCully stated. At the present time the Red Cross has spent $20 million at Gulfport, Mississippi alone and there are still over 600 people in temporary shelters there. To date, the Red Cross has assisted 62,000 people in the Camille devastated area.

The people of this community have always heeded generously humanitarian appeals like this. Let us again open our hearts . . . and our pocketbooks . . . and make sure that the necessary funds are received to help the victims of Hurricane Camille, McCully concluded.

News Copy On Time

It is that time of year again! Clubs are resuming their meetings after summer vacation and school is once again in progress. This means that our news load at the Leader office is heavier and deadlines (I hate that word) must be followed to take care of all news possible.

Reports of all meetings Wednesday through Sunday are due in the office Monday morning. Monday meetings are due Tuesday morning and Tuesday meetings are due in not later than 9:30 a. m. Wednesday morning. No late news or carry-over news will be accepted as no one likes to read late news.

News space is governed by the amount of advertising and will be handled on a first come—first serve basis. Your cooperation as in the past will be appreciated. It takes everybody's news to have a good paper.

CLARENDON BRONCHOS TO OPEN SEASON HERE FRIDAY NIGHT AGAINST MEMPHIS CYCLONE

The Clarendon Broncos will open the 1969 season Friday night at 8 p. m. when they host the Memphis Cyclone. This clash will be a real test for the Clarendon team and a large crowd is expected.

The Memphis team, reports Coach Noonkester, should be stronger than it was in 1968. Although the Cyclone are not quite as big as they were last year, their speed and agility pose a threat to the Broncos.

Having lost nine starters from the 1968 squad, the Clarendon team will contain many new faces. The probable starting lineup offensively will be as follows:

Center, Jay Lamberth; Guards, Frankie Ellis and Willie Craft; Tackles, Ronnie Hasty and Jerry Green; Ends, Bobby Leeper and James Hall; Quarterback, Jim Moore; Fullback, Bennie Reese; Tailback, Charles Louis, and Wingback, Ike O'Neal. Defensively, the Broncos will probably be represented by defensive linemen Craft, Hall, Green, Hasty and Larry Longan, with Louis, Moore and O'Neal in the secondary.

The coaches felt that the Thursday scrimmage with Shamrock was quite beneficial. They were particularly pleased with the offensive showing, but added that this week's workouts would be devoted largely to defensive drills.

It is anticipated that Clarendon fans will fill Broncho Stadium Friday night to offer their support to the 1969 ball club.

Congressman
Bob Price

18th District, Texas

Dear Friends:

With Congress in recess until after Labor Day, and the President on a working holiday at the Western White House in San Clemente, I think it is a good time to review the record of the Nixon Administration during its first months of office.

Vietnam

The President has announced a comprehensive plan which can leave no doubt of his desire for peace in Vietnam. For the first time in eight years, American troops are beginning to come home. However, although willing to take a risk to gain peace in that part of the world, the President is "unwilling to take part in any disguised surrender."

Foreign Relations

In his recent trip abroad, the President clearly improved our national image in the countries he visited. He demonstrated his willingness to go anywhere to restore mutual understanding and establish a more peaceful world. In key meetings with various heads of state both at home and abroad, the President has laid the diplomatic groundwork for major new initiatives in our Asian policy and East-West relations.

Inflation

In fighting the sharply rising cost of living, the Nixon Administration has already created a substantial budgetary surplus. In addition to cutting the fat out of the previous Administration's budget, the President has proposed an anti-inflationary tax program and effected anti-inflationary fiscal policies. Believing that economy begins at home, the President has also reduced funds available for hiring Federal employees and decreed a 10 percent cutback in Federal employees stationed around the world.

Tax Reform

The President has proposed major tax reforms which would phase out the surtax, remove five million poor from the tax rolls, reduce the tax levied on low and middle income taxpayers, and prevent the very rich from escaping their responsibility to pay federal income taxes. The President's proposals have been incorporated into the Tax Reform Act of 1969 which recently passed the House, and is now pending before the Senate. While the President's proposals were aimed primarily at the individual taxpayer, the House tackled on several controversial provisions relating to trade and commerce. If the Senate does not agree with the House version, it may modify it or reject it in its entirety. In either event, the House, in conference, will have the opportunity to vote on a new or a modified tax reform measure.

Welfare Reform

President Nixon's proposals to reshape the nation's antiquated welfare system appears to be the first significant effort in over three decades to shift welfare emphasis from handouts to jobs and job training. His "New Federalism" domestic policy would continue payments to those unable to work. However, through a system of job incentives and job training under the revamped manpower training programs, it would become more profitable for an individual to work than to stay on welfare. The poor will always be with us and provision must be made for their care. But, as the President said, what Americans need is not more welfare but more "workfare." Under the President's proposed welfare system, old age assistance, aid to the blind and to the partially and totally disabled would be continued.

Revenue Sharing

The "New Federalism" policy proposes a revenue sharing plan that will allow local and state governments to combat their problems with federal funds. The plan increases the problem solving responsibility of state and local levels, and at the same time reduces red tape and bureaucratic management by minimizing long-distance Federal involvement. The Nixon Administration formulated the plan based on its belief that state and local problems could be better remedied at their source if the Federal government helped meet the financial burden presently borne by state and local governments.

Law and Order

The Nixon Administration has launched a major attack on organized crime. It has proposed new laws which would facilitate this attack and would strengthen state and local law enforcement agencies. The President has also proposed legislative attacks on the distribution of obscene and pornographic materials and the control of narcotics and dangerous drugs. Both problems have become national scandals whose origins lie in the general permissiveness which has evolved under previous Administrations.

Defense Policy

The President has gone on record opposing any cut in our state of military preparedness which would weaken our national defense picture. Realizing the need for a missile defense system, the Administration uncompromisingly put its prestige on the line in favor of the Safeguard System. The narrow approval of Safeguard in the Senate foreshadows its overwhelming endorsement in the House, thus insuring that the President will speak from a position of strength in his attempts to improve East-West relations.

As you can see, the first months of the Nixon Administration have been active ones. A recent Gallup Poll found that 65 percent of the American people approve of the way the President is doing his job. This is also the consensus of a majority of the letters I have received from the Texas Panhandle. The President has worked diligently for this strong measure of approval. By his calm, careful, and well thought out approach to our national problems, the President has earned the confidence of the American people.

For my part, I can best assist the President in his work and can best represent the interests of the 18th Congressional District, if I continue to get the benefit of the views of the residents of the Texas Panhandle. It is for this reason that I am greatly pleased by the great volume of mail I receive, and the large number of constituents who stop by and visit while I am in my Washington and Amarillo offices.

Bob Price

Crawford-Lane Nuptials Solemnized Here Recently

Miss Pamela Dewiece Crawford, Clarendon, Texas became the bride of Frank Wade Lane of Turkey, Texas in a double-ring ceremony read here recently. Rev. William R. Lawrence officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James D. Crawford of Clarendon. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Lane of Turkey.

Vows were exchanged at the First Baptist Church of Clarendon. The altar was decorated with tiered candelabra bearing white tapers and arrangements of white gladioli backed by greenery. Tapers were lighted by Johnny Gerner and Rickey Mooring.

A prelude of nuptial music and the traditional wedding marches were presented by Mrs. Raleigh Adams, organist.

The bride, presented in marriage by her father, wore a formal gown of satin and lace. The fitted bodice featured a rounded neckline outlined in seed pearls and long sleeves with similar trim. The satin skirt extended into a short train to the back. Her shoulder-length veil of illusion was attached to a tiara of seed pearls and she carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations centered with a white orchid atop a Bible belonging to her grandmother.

Miss Debbie Lane of Turkey, sister of the groom, was maid of honor. She wore a pink sheath dress with white chiffon sleeves and a bow with short veil attached in matching pink in her hair. She carried a nosegay of light pink carnations.

Attending the groom was Keith Lane of Greeley, Colorado, brother of the groom.

Ushers were Jack Bell and Gerald Lane of Turkey, a cousin of the groom. Ringbearer was James Crawford, Jr., brother of the bride.

Jenny Clay of Quitaque was flower girl and carried a basket of pink carnation petals. Guests were registered by Betty Dewices.

Mrs. Crawford, mother of the bride, wore a blue chiffon dress accented by white accessories. Mrs. Lane, mother of the groom, wore a three-piece green knit suit with matching accessories. Each wore a corsage of orchids.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in Fellowship Hall of the church. The refreshment table was laid with a white net cloth edged in pearls over taffeta. A four-branched silver candelabra with pink carnations and white daisies provided the floral decor. Appointments were crystal and silver. The tiered wedding cake, touched with pink, was topped with a cluster of wedding bells. Presiding at the table were Vera Tucker and Shirley Moss of Clarendon.

As a traveling costume, the bride wore a two-piece jacket dress in lavender with matching accessories and the corsage lifted from her bridal bouquet.

The couple will be at home in Lubbock.

Mrs. Lane attended Clarendon schools, Kilgore Junior College, and West Texas State University. She is presently a junior student at Texas Tech. Mr. Lane graduated from Turkey schools and after a tour of duty with the Marines in Vietnam attended West Texas State University. He is presently employed with Pioneer Natural Gas in Lubbock.

A rehearsal dinner was held on the patio of the J. D. Crawford home in Clarendon. A pink and white decor was carried out. Twenty attended.

Luther Baker of Lefors, Texas officiated.

Traditional wedding music was presented by stereo.

Vows were read against a background of basket arrangements of yellow gladioli and white asters. Smaller table arrangements of multi-colored asters decorated the home.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a street length dress of white Italian lace over linen and carried a bouquet of white asters centered with a large white orchid.

Mrs. Nancy Ogle of Amarillo, sister of the bride, served as matron of honor. She wore a dark street length dress complimented by a corsage of yellow gladioli.

Jerry D. Stewart of Omaha, Nebraska attended his brother as best man.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Stewart home. The serving table was marked by an arrangement of white and yellow asters in an antique cut-glass bowl. Wedding cake and yellow tinted punch were served.

For a wedding trip to parts of Arkansas, the bride wore a yellow linen sheath dress accented by the corsage lifted from her bridal bouquet.

The bride attended school in Plainview and West Texas State University and is a Legal Secretary with Gibson, Oschner, Harlan, Kinney, and Morris in Amarillo. The groom attended Clarendon schools and West Texas State University. He is employed by Southwest Osteopathic Hospital in Amarillo.

Highlights and Sidelights From Your State Capitol

Legislators battled wearily toward a conclusion of the second special session, with some indications of a conclusion developing.

A Senate-written version of the tax bill came within six votes of adoption in the House. But representatives balked at the Senate's compromise $357.6 million tax bill which included a new "destination allocation formula" designed to collect a corporation franchise tax on out-of-state industries selling products in Texas.

Senate first turned a deaf ear to the House request for a new conference committee.

Gov. Preston Smith and Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes pressed hard for House adoption of the Senate amendments to HB 4, but Speaker Gus Mutscher said the measure remained a "bad bill."

Only really-new idea in the compromise was the designation allocation formula.

Otherwise it called for a quarter per cent increase (to 3.5) in the state sales tax and inclusion of beer and liquor under its base; five cents a pack raise on cigarettes; 50-cent (to $3.25 per $1,000) raise in corporation franchise tax rate; one half per cent (to 7.5 per cent of value) hike in natural gas tax; and 10 cents a drink tax on alcoholic beverages.

sold in private clubs and on airlines.

Rep. John Allen of Longview denounced the big-city members for failure to support the tax bill. He pointed out that of 19 members from Harris County, only one voted for the tax bill. And this is the county that gets 20 per cent of the state spending, Allen said.

Allen noted that other big-city delegations voted against the bill, except for the Dallas delegation, and that 54 of the 68 votes cast for the bill, were from members from rural or small-city areas.

He pointed to the coming re-apportionment after the 1970 census and asked: "How will we ever pass a tax bill when Houston gets 24 members and only one of them will vote for a tax bill?"

This rural-urban split in the House was just one of many developments as the weary legislators fought to put a majority of each house together on a tax package to sustain state government during the next two years.

Senate first enacted, then backed down on its unusual proposal to levy $1 per ticket tax on admissions to "dirty movies."

Original bill would have designated the Commissioner of Bureau of Labor Statistics (who supervises boxing and wrestling) to review all movies coming into the state and determine those which should be rated "X" for adult audiences only. The latter was targeted for the tax. After thinking it over a couple of days, Senate bowed to the advice of members who argued that the regulation of sexy movies should be left to a separate bill, not a tax measure.

Increases in teachers' and state workers' pay, expansion of the college and university system, and improvements in the care of the mentally ill account for most of the increase in state spending.

But how to put together a tax package to provide the money was the question which troubled the legislators in the second week of the second special session.

Gov. Smith named Charles D. Mathews of Dallas to Texas Board of Insurance and designated Ned Price, formerly of Tyler, chairman of the major state agency.

Smith picked Ranaldo Ferrer Luna of San Diego and Frank Randall Nye Jr. of Rio Grande City as judge and district attorney respectively of the new 299th judicial district, for Starr, Duval and Jim Hogg counties.

At the same time, he selected Ted Zanderson Robertson of Dallas judge of Juvenile Court No. 2 in Dallas. Senate quickly confirmed all three. Jackson B. Smith Jr. and Wallace Harland Miller of Houston were named to domestic relations and juvenile court benches there.

Smith placed on the new Commission for Rehabilitation Mrs. Marjorie Cone Kastman of Lubbock, John David Simpson Jr. of Austin (Chairman), Dr. John James Hinchey of San Antonio, Dr. Clifford Stanley Knappe of Waco, John Thomas Bean of El Paso and Jack Blarris Dale of Houston.

Capt. Richard Gerald Johnson of Beaumont, Capt. Theodore Ralph Morgan of Groves and Capt. Samuel William Levingston, Daniel Jackson Simonton and Harold Edwin Weaver, all of Port Arthur, were designated by the Governor as branch pilots for Sabine Bay, Pass and Tributaries.

James R. Ray of Plainview will serve on Smith's staff and assist the new Committee of Human Relations.

Tough new rules of the Liquor Control Board to curb temporary guest card abuses at private bottle clubs cannot be enforced pending appeal of a court test case here.

District Judge James Meyers concluded that LCB rules are valid, but they should not be put into full effect until final disposition of the case on appeal.

In the lawsuit, Dallas clubs claimed the rule would close 75 per cent of Texas private clubs, many of which aren't so private. Rule would require guests to be personally introduced or physically accompanied by a club member. Bills would have to be paid by members on monthly statements, not in cash by guests.

LCB said applications for late hours (2 a. m.) drinking permits for clubs and taverns are being screened carefully. Only 18 were approved in the week before the new curfew-stretching law went into effect September 1.

An investigation of allegations made against Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler under careful procedural safeguards has been proposed to the House by Rep. Temple Dickson of Sweetwater, one of the men who fought an attempt by Rep. Frances Forent-hold of Corpus Christi to censure Sadler.

Dickson's resolution would require any investigating committee to give any person under investigation a bill of particulars on what is to be investigated, including all allegations made by members of the Legislature. It would require the committee to allow the subject of an investigation to be present at its meetings either in person or by counsel and be entitled to cross-examine all witnesses. Bill also would require that all testimony be under oath and that it be transcribed by a court reporter. And it would give the committee subpoena power, both inside and outside Texas.

Resolution directs Speaker Mutscher to refer the matter to an appropriate committee. Mutscher already has said that he will refer it to the House General Investigating Committee, and that Rep. Dick Cory of Victoria will be chairman of that committee.

Five hundred and seventy-seven new lawyers will be licensed in Supreme Court ceremonies here September 15. Four separate ceremonies will be held because of unusual size of class. Rufus Stovall Scott and Paul L. Tubb, both Southern Methodist University school of law graduates, scored high grades on summer test, with overall average of 89.

James Connally Technical Institute, near Waco, now is Texas State Technical Institute with its own governing board, has an additional campus at Harlingen with 500 students and is negotiating with the federal government for part of the inactive Amrillo Air Base as home of a third branch.

We come to sing Thy praise,

Not long ago we exchanged our books for a most wonderful collection of thoughts from people down through the ages. It is so good . . . The following are on Kindness . . .

"Kindness is the golden chain by which society is bound together."—Goethe.

"I expect to pass through life but once, if therefore there be any kindness I can show, or any good thing I can do for a fellow being, let me do it now, and not defer or neglect it, as I shall not pass this way again."—William Penn.

"Life is mostly froth and bubble; two things stand like stone: kindness in another's trouble, courage in our own."—Adam L. Gordon.

"Let us open our natures, throw wide the doors of our hearts, and let in the sunshine of good will and kindness."—O. S. Marden.

"Kindness is a language which the deaf can hear and the blind can read."—Mark Twain.

"I wonder why we are not all kinder to each other than we are. How much the world needs it. How easily it is done."—Hendy Drummond.

"Kindness in women, not their beautiful looks, shall win my love."—Shakespeare.

"Getting money is not all of man's business; to cultivate kindness is a valuable part of the business of life."—Johnson.

"Though the world needs reproof and correction, it needs kindness more; though it needs the grasp of a strong hand, it needs too, the open palm of love and tenderness."—H. W. Beecher.

"Wise saying often fall on barren ground; but a kind word is never thrown away."—Sir Arthur Helps.

Social Security News

Q. I am 68 and receiving social security. Since I do not have any relatives in the United States, I would like to move to Mexico where I do have relatives. Can I move to Mexico and still receive my social security payments?

A. Yes. Your social security checks can be sent to you in Mexico. Before you leave, be sure you contact your nearest social security office and fill out the necessary forms.

Q. Is the $1,680 exempt amount in the social security retirement test the total before or after all deductions are made?

A. The $1,680 figure is the total earnings before any deductions for income or social security taxes.

Q. My son and I recently began receiving social security payments after my husband's death. My neighbor says that if the two of us together earn more than $1,680 a year, our checks will be stopped. Is this correct?

A. No, each of you may earn as much as $1,680 a year and still receive all of your checks.

Q. I have had doctor bills in two different states. The total bills add up to more than $50. Are the bills added together to meet the $50 deductible for Medicare, or is there a deductible for each state?

A. There is only one deductible regardless of where you receive covered medical services.

Texas Traffic Costs Over $500 Million

The Texas barometer of traffic costs for 1969 soared past the one-half-billion-dollar mark as August traffic crashes in the Lone Star State added $61 million to the state's rapidly ascending cost register.

The Texas Safety Association said today that preliminary reports for the month of August indicate that rural fatalities, injuries and property damage from traffic accidents cost Texans almost $23 million. Urban accidents costs topped the rural tab by $15 million, with a total cost of $39 million for accidents happening within city limits.

The cost of traffic accidents on Texas streets and highways for the first eight months of the year reached $500 million when computed according to a National Safety Council formula.

Noting a significant increase in fatalities on Farm-to-Market roads in the past month, the Safety Association suggested folks driving in rural areas observe the following rules:

When traveling on an unpaved roadway, yield the right-of-way to vehicles traveling on a paved highway. Under a new Texas law, you may enter an intersecting paved roadway only when there is no chance of interference or collision with traffic on the highway.

Be prepared for animals grazing near the roadway. They may suddenly cross in front of your vehicle.

Look for narrow rough shoulder areas and washed-out or rough spots in the highway that can cause you trouble in steering.

Keep on your side of the roadway, even if it's narrow.

Slow down for sharp curves and when approaching or crossing narrow bridges.

Extension Specialist Discusses "Mum" Plant Diseases

With summer on the wane and fall approaching, it is a good time to consider "mum" diseases and their prevention, says Jerral Johnson, Extension plant pathologist at Texas A&M University.

During September and October her, mum diseases are most evident. Plans should be made now to prevent them before they occur.

Leaf spot diseases are undoubtedly the most noticeable of the mum diseases. Usually, leaf spots occur in mid-September on leaves at the base of the plants. These infected leaves soon wither and fall off. Gradually throughout September and October leaf spots spread causing progressive leaf loss. By full flowering time, all of the leaves may be destroyed—result, fewer blossoms and disappointment for the gardener, who has looked forward to the bright autumn color show mums provide.

To prevent this loss, says Johnson, the mums should be sprayed or dusted with Zineb or Phaltan. Start sprays or dusts when the first signs of leaf spots appear on the bottom leaves and re-apply at 10-day intervals until the flowers appear.

Powdery mildew is another common fall mum trouble. Characterized by noticeable white surface mildew on the leaves, it may be prevented by spraying with Karathane or Actidione PM. Start applications when mildew first appears and repeat five days later. Continue at five day intervals as long as mildew is a problem, suggests the pathologist.

Avoid fusarium wilt, stem rot, and the virus disease known as yellows by using wilt resistant varieties, rotating the garden location of the mum beds, and by controlling insects such as aphids, thrips, and leaf hoppers.

The chrysanthemum, he notes, is one of the few fall blooming garden flowers. With its bright flowers, it adds a vivid splash of color to the fall garden. Diseases can destroy this fall flower and must be prevented for maximum satisfaction and enjoyment, concludes the specialist.

Mr. and Mrs. Walker Jones of Lampasas spent the week end with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Hatley and visited other relatives and friends.

GAME PROSPECTS ARE "FAIR TO GOOD"

Texas Parks and Wildlife Department biologists over the State are predicting a "fair to good" hunting season, based on observations of game quantity and condition and the condition of habitat.

The physical condition of game animals appears to be good, despite sparse rainfall this summer. Biologists seem to think the drought conditions in some areas of the State will actually help hunters get their animals since less food was produced and animals will have to wander farther and eat longer to get their fill.

The following is a rundown of hunting conditions throughout the State.

PANHANDLE: The year began with good prospects for the hunting season and gradually deteriorated because of lack of rainfall on range vegetation.

Prospects for hunting white-tailed deer are fair to good. The species has become fairly stabilized in what is considered limited habitat.

Mule deer in the Panhandle are increasing and prospects should be good this year. A 46 percent increase in population over last year by winter counts plus a spectacular production of 89 percent by does indicates a good year ahead for the hunter and the mule deer.

Doves are scattered across the Panhandle, but it appears hunters should have a season equal to that of last year.

Prospects continue to look good for the aoudad sheep which have increased their range over last year. The aoudad population appears to be up, with a helicopter census noting 3.14 sheep per hour seen, compared with 1.9 sheep seen per hour last year.

The harvest of antelope should be about the same as last year. An aerial census revealed about five percent population decrease from last year, but production was 37 percent this year, compared to 34 percent last year.

There was fair to good quail production for both bobwhite and blue quail. The drought has hurt but there is a possibility that recent rains will have brought back some vegetation which would help the quail considerably. Hunting prospects are better than last year.

Turkey poult may have benefited from the dry weather and the great number of insects. The harvest of turkeys should be fair to good. Prairie chicken breeding male counts in the spring on the courtship grounds indicated a 25 percent increase over last year. There is a good chance of an excellent crop for the harvest.

Pheasants began the year with an excellent breeding population, and there was good early nesting success. However, drought and chemical spraying could lower the harvest potential. Biologists say it is still too early to make a prediction on pheasants.

COTTON GROWERS TO MEET IN CHILDRESS

Cotton growers of the area may be interested in a meeting to be held in the Childress City Auditorium, Childress, Texas, Thursday, September 18. The meeting will begin at 7 p. m.

Staff members of the National Cotton Council will appear on the program which will be brief and to the point. Their reports will cover the over-all cotton situation including a report on the program of research and promotion being carried out to regain market losses of recent years.

A recent USDA survey pointed out that many American homemakers roast meats at too high a temperature. Half of those interviewed roast between 350 and 375 degrees. Extension Consumer Marketing Specialist Gwendolyn Clyatt recommends a temperature of between 300 to 325 degrees. Only one of seven homemakers surveyed reported using a meat thermometer as a means of measuring doneness. Mrs. Clyatt says the meat thermometer is almost foolproof.

1½ million acres of brush were controlled by soil and water conservation district cooperators in Texas last year.
