Social Security News

Q. How old do you have to be to apply for a social security card?

A. There is no age requirement and no need to present a birth certificate to get a social security card. We do suggest that you wait until you need a card before applying. You will need a card if you plan to get a job, or for tax identification purposes if you have a savings account in a bank, credit union, or savings and loan association. Young children should be accompanied by a parent, or should have a note from the parent indicating the need for a card, when they call at the office to get a card. This will lessen the possibility of establishing two or more records for the same person, which can create a problem in later years.

Q. Are Medicare and Medicaid the same thing?

A. No, they are not, and there is quite a bit of confusion due to the similarity in the names. Medicare is the term generally used to describe the federal program of hospital and medical insurance for persons over 65. The hospital insurance is financed by payroll contributions, and the medical insurance by premiums paid by the individual and matched by the federal government. Medicaid is a state program providing health insurance for needy persons receiving various types of assistance. Inquiries about Medicaid should be directed to the State Department of Public Welfare.

Q. I was 72 in May. Can I make more money now and still get my social security checks?

A. Yes, beginning with the month you are 72, you may receive your checks regardless of your earnings; however, you may not be entitled to benefits for some months before you reach 72.

Accent On Health

Halloween may seem harmless enough a tradition, but each year some unsuspecting children are treated with tragedy instead of the expected sweet or surprise.

Give it a little thought, and you'll see how a Halloween celebration could trigger any one of many accidents.

Take a group of excited children about dusk on the streets and you have an excellent potential for a traffic accident. If these children are in dark clothing and wearing a mask restricting their vision, your chances for a traffic fatality are even better.

Masks may contribute to other possible hazards. One limiting vision may cause a fall or prohibit a youngster from seeing glass, steps or other potential danger. For the very young, a mask may pose a problem of suffocation.

Bulky, poorly fitting costumes may catch on fences or bushes, or even cause an additional traffic hazard.

If your little goblin wants to be a pirate and carry a knife or sword, insist that it is a toy or cardboard one.

Painful burns or even more tragic accidents may await a youngster carrying a candle-lit pumpkin or dressed in flimsy, flammable clothing. Avoid this by using a flashlight—never a candle—to light a jack-o-lantern and by flame-proofing costumes.

To flameproof a costume, dip it in a mixture of three quarts warm water, seven ounces borax and three ounces boric acid. Repeat the process each time the garment or costume is washed.

One of the most helpful precautions to take for youngsters is to be sure that they are properly supervised by an adult or responsible older child. And, if they are your children, have them stay in their own neighborhood.

If you are driving on Halloween, especially at dusk, drive slowly and be especially careful on side streets.

Brighten the way for the children by keeping your porch light burning. If you prepare any decorations or costumes for the occasion, be sure they are flame-proofed.

With proper precautions Halloween can be a lot of fun. (A weekly feature from the Division of Public Health Education, Texas State Department of Health.)

NEWS FROM Congressman Bob Price 18th District, Texas

Dear Friends: I have been disappointed this week to have received some letters and telegrams from Panhandle residents who believe I have advocated lower prices for our farm products. I assure you that nothing can be further from the truth. I hope partisan politics is not being played in this problem in order to discredit my efforts on behalf of the farmers of the district.

I have made no statement or implied threat that the Commodity Credit Corporation would sell its grain to drive down prices on grain sorghum. (As a matter of fact the disposal of this grain is entirely in the hands of the Commodity Credit Corporation which has sole responsibility for disposing of their stocks under the law.)

In answer to my inquiry regarding the method the Commodity Credit Corporation is required to use in disposing of its commodity holding under the present law and how it might affect our district and the State of Texas, the Department of Agriculture has advised me that:

"With the beginning of a new marketing year on October 1, 1969, CCC has lowered its grain sorghum sales prices by the amount of carrying charges for storage and interest costs. However, sales offerings are being confined to port positions during October and CCC will not be competing with new crop farm supplies in West Texas or other interior locations."

I also have always felt that the members of any farm or commodity organization have the right to take any lawful action they desire to obtain a fair price for their products. I have worked with all these organizations in order to find an equitable solution to the farm problem. I did not leave my farming and ranching operations in the Panhandle to come to Washington to work against the farmer.

We are in a unique position in our area because of the expansion of feed lot operations creating a local demand for our grain as well as livestock. I hope we will not jeopardize this expansion by fighting among ourselves.

This is a local problem between local businessmen, and I will not take sides. However, I stand ready and willing to do anything I possibly can to find an equitable solution to this problem.

I am also sorry to hear that some remarks I made recently in the district were misconstrued. I said at that time I have confidence that the proposed grain withholding action by some farmers will not result in violence as it has in other areas. I believe farm organization leaders and members can agree on a fair price for their products with the consumer without causing extensive damage to our local economy.

PRICE INTRODUCED OBSCENE BILL

Panhandle Congressman Bob Price joined a bipartisan group of Representatives introducing a bill to control pornography sent through the mails. The bill would prohibit the use of the U. S. Mails to send sexually provocative materials to anyone unless the occupant, in writing, specifically requested the materials from the sender. It also would prohibit the mailing of such materials to minors residing in those states which already have laws prohibiting the mail circulation of obscene materials to the young.

The Texas Republican stated that the bill has grown out of the increasing nationwide concern over the extensive flow of pornographic and obscene materials through the mails. Price said, "I have received many telephone calls, letters, and telegrams from concerned individuals in the Texas Panhandle and throughout the State on this matter."

Price declared, "In this Congress, I have already introduced legislation designed to stop and control pornography. I think that this bill closes the legal door even further."

The U. S. Post Office Department estimates that more than $500 million worth of obscene material is sold to young people through the mail each year. J. Edgar Hoover, Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, warned more than a year ago:

"The publication and sale of obscene material is big business in America today. . . . It is impossible to estimate the amount of harm to impressionable teenagers and to assess the volume of sex crimes attributable to pornography, but its influence is extensive." FBI statistics show that sexual violence is increasing at an alarming pace, and Mr. Hoover states that pornography in all its forms is a major cause of sex crimes, aberrations, and perversions.

Price stated, "In addition to the permanent social damage caused by pornography, the flood of these materials into the homes of most of our citizens constitutes a clear invasion of our constitutionally guaranteed right of privacy. The bill I have sponsored would immediately halt the flow of unsolicited hard-core pornography through the mails. I believe it is in this area that the real value of this legislation lies."

Price urged his colleagues to support this non-partisan effort to clear the country of pornographic trash-mail. Price plans to testify in support of the bill before the House Committee on Postal Operations.

State Hospital Makes Appeal For Stamps

Volunteer Services has such a charitable project to benefit patients at Wichita Falls State Hospital.

The patients from each area served by Wichita Falls State Hospital have asked for a color television for their own recreation center. This challenge has been accepted by the Volunteer Services Council to get seven (7) sets for these units.

The Gold Bond Stamp Company likes to participate in local benevolent organizations and projects. To do this, they have made the Gold Bond Project available upon request by charitable and benevolent groups. In these projects, Gold Bond stamps are turned into points. These points can be used instead of money to obtain any merchandise listed in the Gold Bond Stamp Catalog.

There are many ways to acquire these points by the chairman of the projects.

1. Anyone may participate in acquiring points by requesting Project Certificates after you receive your merchandise from Gold Bond stamps. Each certificate is worth 10 points.

2. A full book of Gold Bond stamps donated without trading it in gives us 750 points, and newspaper articles give extra points also. Please send two (2) copies of each. Please identify type of publication.

4. Other trading stamps can be exchanged for Gold Bond stamps.

5. Old Gold cigarette coupons, Red Scissor and Gift Star coupons can be used for points.

Any loose stamps will be used to fill out books.

Volunteers, please come forward! We need a stamp project chairman for your community to work with individuals and groups. Write for further information and see how quickly points accumulate. Your patients here will benefit from your efforts.

Please send certificates, stamps, clippings, and coupons to the following address: Mrs. Travis White, Volunteer Services Department, Wichita Falls State Hospital, Wichita Falls, Texas 76307.

Soil Conservation District News

Conserving Irrigation Water
Conservation irrigation means the furnishing of a water supply by means of ditches, pipelines, or canals, getting the water to the land without too much loss of water. Best results from irrigation are obtained when the operator is skilled in the knowledge of when to irrigate and how much water to apply.

The design of the irrigation system sets the limits of efficient operation. The depth and frequency of water application are selected for the crops according to their needs. Usually a pre-planting application of irrigation water is desirable. This can be done earlier and at time when labor is not too rushed.

Normal irrigations are made to replace moisture used by growing crops, and to keep moisture available for crop use. Timing and amount of water application are important factors in efficient irrigation.

An irrigation system is a piece of farm equipment designed to do the job of water application. This is no easy task for the farmer unless he has a good knowledge and understanding of his soils, his crops and their needs, and understands the principles of applying irrigation water. Irrigation is a complex subject. It has different problems with different soils and crops. The technicians of the Soil Conservation Service will be happy to assist you with any problems that you might have with your irrigation system.

PALO DURO TO GET MORE PARK FACILITIES

A $172,743 contract has been awarded by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department to High Plains Building Company of Amarillo for the construction of park facilities in Palo Duro Canyon State Park.

The project will include one restroom with showers, two restrooms without showers, 20 tent camp units, and 20 trailer sites, and is due for completion in March, 1970.

Palo Duro Canyon is estimated to be one million years old and exposes 90 million years of geological formations.

The 15,104-acre park, located in Armstrong and Randall Counties, sets the stage for Paul Green's symphonic drama, "Texas."

Highlights and Sidelights

From Your State Capitol

By Vern Stanford

Higher automobile insurance rates were adopted by the State Board of Insurance, but they are not as high as had been originally predicted.

Statewide, the increase in rates on Nov. 1 will be 9.9 percent. Insurance Board's staff earlier had recommended an 11.4 percent increase.

This smaller increase was accomplished by accepting the recommendation of Gov. Preston Smith's study committee that the percentage allowed insurance companies for acquisition costs be cut from 25 to 22.5 percent of the premium.

Another recommendation of the study headed by former Gov. Price Daniel was that the Board should include investment income of insurance companies in setting the rates.

Board Chairman Ned Price said the Board would give careful consideration to inclusion of investment income from unearned premium and loss reserves as "profit and contingencies." He added that "we may have further comment on this at a later date."

However, Price also warned that it may not have as much effect on the price of insurance as had been thought. He said "The Board has consistently recognized and considered in its regulatory acts that the companies have other income than that from underwriting."

Price also said that the Board will begin, "as time and circumstances permit," a detailed study of automobile rate-making formulae. He said the study of the present formula used in setting rates would be made during the coming year. The formula, he said, "will be reviewed with the objective of determining if rates can be made precisely by another formulae."

Democrats
State Democratic Executive Committee has nominated Mrs. Carrin Patman of Ganado to serve as the National Democratic Committeewoman from Texas. She is the wife of Sen. William N. Patman and replaces Mrs. Lloyd Bentsen of Houston, who resigned the position. Mrs. Patman is the daughter-in-law of U.S. Rep. Wright Patman and the daughter of the late Sen. Fred Mauritz of Ganado. She still has to be approved by the National Committee.

At the meeting, State Chairman Elmer Baum told committee members that Democrats have to overcome their biggest handicap—talking success for granted. He is organizing a futures committee to act as an advisory group to chart new approaches "for a brighter future."

French Robertson of Abilene, executive committee finance chairman, told members that he is dropping the "card carrying" Democrat scheme to raise money. The party had been selling gold Democratic Party membership cards for $10 and other cards for $1, but Robertson said it wasn't raising enough money to continue the program.

Bills
Governor Smith has sent Sen. Mike McKool's voter registration bill to the Secretary of State without his signature, thereby allowing it to become law. It requires that all citizens registering to vote in person must fill out a written application containing the same information as the registration certificate in order to get a certificate.

Governor vetoed a bill that would have allowed legislators to have office space in their home county courthouses. He said office rental could be provided from legislators' expense allowance.

He also vetoed bills providing for insurance protection (through private, non-profit corporations) on bank deposits above $15,000.

Smith said he is in accord with idea of giving full protection for bank deposits but feels that the matter should have careful study before implementing legislation becomes law.

Forest fires in the United States charred 10 per cent less acreage during 1968 than in 1967, but the total was still a formidable four-and-one-fourth-million acres.
