TEXAS HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT workmen began cleaning up the debris left of their 160-foot radio communications tower which toppled to the ground about 1:30 p.m. Friday. The tower kept the Clarendon office in communication with other highway department units including those in Childress and Amarillo and was also used in communicating with work crews maintaining roads in the Donley County area.

Browder Autograph Party Changed to Sunday, April 20

An autograph party on Sunday, April 20, will formally introduce Virginia Browder's "Donley County: Land O' Promise" to interested residents of Clarendon and Donley County.

The affair will be held in the lobby of the Farmers State Bank and Trust in downtown Clarendon from 2 until 5 p.m. and will be hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Simmons. The public is invited to attend.

The historical tone has taken almost eight years to produce from beginning to end, with more than six years of research being done before any writing began.

The autograph party had previously been announced as being a day earlier. The Sunday date was selected to enable more people to attend.

Ms. Browder will be on hand to personally autograph copies of the book. She has been a life-long resident of Donley County, and with the exception of two trips to Europe and attending two boarding schools in Dallas and Washington, D.C., she has made her home on the family ranch located between Hedley and Memphis.

Her father, James D. Browder, bought the ranch in 1907, moving there from near St. Jo in Montague County.

The historical edition may still be reserved at the prepublication price of $12 from the Clarendon Press through Friday, April 18. However, on the day of the autograph party, the book will be sold at its regular retail price of $15.

This collector's first edition of Donley County history will have a dark green and gold cloth hardback binding with a clear milar dust jacket. The 8 1/2 by 11 inch book will contain 328 pages with many previously unpublished early day photos, art sketches by the Harold Bugbees with chapter headings of art created for the book by Turkey artist Otto Stubbs.

Featured in the book are such colorful people as Col. Charles Goodnight and Tom Bugbee along with men of the cloth such as Henry Lewis Carhart who helped to settle and civilize one of the nation's last frontiers.

Author Browder covers the days of the Comanche and Comanchero, the rancher and later the farmer and the settlements and towns and communities that made up Donley County.

Histories of pioneer ranch families, churches; schools, communities and businesses will make up this welcomed edition of Panhandle county histories.

The Donley County History is number 14 in a series of Texas county histories published by Nortex Press of Quanah. The new history will contain a new Nortex Press emblem identifying it as a Bicentennial publication.

Other area county histories published by Nortex Press include Childress, Motley, Dickens, Foard, Hardeman, Farmer and Potter.

Only Contest Is Howardwick Council Race— Ho-Hum...Another Election Is Water Under the Bridge

In the only contested election races in this area, George Howard and Sue McIver outpolled two other individuals to win seats as aldermen at Howardwick Saturday. Howard received 46 votes out of 69 ballots cast, and Mrs. McIver polled 39.

Oscar Engels and John McVickers each received 21 votes in the balloting.

Only one other surprise was revealed in Howardwick's election returns which was 18 write-in votes for Alton Hendricks in the mayor's voting. Glen Doty was the only name printed on the ballot. He received 43 votes to win his second term in that office.

John Sarach also received one write-in ballot for mayor. The only other write-in ballots were five cast for B.B. Winkle in the race for aldermen.

Returning to the Donley County School Board election, three candidates ran unopposed and have been returned to their respective offices. These include Lloyd McCord in Precinct Two, Vergil McPherson of Hedley in Precinct Three, and W.H. McDonald, county-at-large.

Voter turn-out was extremely light in all elections except Howardwick where 69 people voted out of a possible 81 eligible.

Area Cattle Company Charged In P&S Suit

Another area cattle company has been charged with violating the Packers and Stockyards Act, it was announced by the U.S. Department of agriculture this week.

Charged with violating financial, payment and record keeping requirements of the P & S Act was Anadarko Cattle Co., Inc., of Miami.

The firm is registered as a livestock dealer and formerly purchased livestock in Oklahoma, Texas, Montana, California, Kentucky and Tennessee.

The firm is not in operation at this time.

They have been charged for operating as a livestock dealer when current liabilities exceeded the current assets by more than $128,000; failing to pay, when due, the full purchase price for more than $115,000 worth of livestock; still owed for more than $108,000 worth of livestock as of January 23, and failed to maintain sufficient accounts and records to fully and correctly disclose all transactions involved in its livestock business.

The USDA pointed out that the filing of the complaint does not prove that the firm has violated the act and it has a right to a hearing to determine if evidence supports the charges.

If the charges are proven, the firm would be placed under a cease and desist order and its registration would be temporarily suspended.

Glen Wallace and Cecil McAfee, incumbents, were returned for another term of office.

The only newcomer to public office was Billy Ray Johnston who was elected to fill the vacancy left by Delbert Robertson on the Donley County Hospital District board. Robertson did not seek re-election. Ernest Barbee and Lacy Noble were uncontested in the race and have been returned to serve another term on the board.

Clarendon Independent School Board members Warren Hardin and L.P. (Bud) Moore, incumbents, will serve another three-year term in office, having had no others in the race.

Lease Contract Recieved From Pacer-Phenix Firm

Donley County Hospital Board members were scheduled to attend a Wednesday night meeting to go over details of a proposed contract received from Pacer Phenix Corporation last Friday morning.

The document was flown to Clarendon from the corporation's home office in Wichita Falls.

Although hospital officials could not give many details of the proposed contract, it was said to have been much the same as the hospital board had earlier submitted to Pacer Phenix. Hospital Administrator

Gerry Knight said Monday that the document had been delivered to attorneys representing the hospital district for their inspection.

Knight said the Wednesday meeting was for general discussion of material contained in the proposed contract. He said the proposed effective date was May 1, 1975.

Board members and others connected with the hospital had been expecting the delivery of Pacer Phenix's documents for more than a month.

Originally, the hospital board had discussed the proposed lease-purchase agreement at their monthly meeting on February 10 when the company had submitted a preliminary proposal to the board for consideration. Although the board thought that the medical concern was effective date, delays occurred in the interim.

Original terms proposed by Pacer Phenix were generally to have paid off all the bonded indebtedness of the hospital district as the notes came due for the next 25 years, with the exception of the first year. The lease payments after the first year would vary between $44,000 and $50,000 per year.

Under the original proposal, the firm could purchase the hospital from the district for $90,000 at the end of the lease agreement. They would also have the option to purchase the facilities and the land for the total amount of the bonded indebtedness, about $644,000 at present, at any time between now and the final year of the 25 year lease, renewable at their option at five-year intervals.

The first year lease amount is in the sum of one dollar, the reason for this being the initial cash outlay in staffing, equipping and opening the facility could require several thousand dollars at the start.

Hospital district taxes would be used over the next two years to retire general obligations and warrants outstanding and to meet bond payment schedules until the corporation took over the indebtedness after the first year.

Details of the proposed contract had not been made available to The Press at deadline Time Tuesday.

Contributions Begin to Mount For Lefors Tornado Victims

Contributions to the Lefors tornado relief fund got off to a good start during the past week with the fund totaling $322.50 late Tuesday afternoon. Contributions are being accepted at the Farmers State Bank and Trust Company, Osburn Furniture and at the First Baptist Church.

Although Lefors has received a disaster area designation by the federal government which entitles owners of homes and businesses damaged in the March 27 tornado to apply for low interest federal grants, there are many people who cannot repay these loans.

Among these people is one elderly woman of 85 who has no family whatsoever. She lost her home and all of the contents of the early morning storm. Her only income is a small social security check each month which barely meets the necessities of life.

There are also others of these individuals, an independent committee has been established to seek contributions from all over the Panhandle and provide as much help as can be secured.

Dr. James Brandon said Tuesday that one individual has donated an entire house full of furniture and appliances to assist a Lefors family. Another had donated several sets of dishes and cookware. These items cannot yet be put to use because of the lack of housing facilities in Lefors.

All funds collected will be used in Lefors for those in most immediate need. At the present time, a house to house survey is being made of the small community of about 800 people to find out the status of each family and if there is any apparent need for assistance from the committee.

Those with the most pressing needs will receive the first attention.

The survey sheets, when they are completed, will be made available to the committee for study in pinpointing the most critical need for help.

Although most of the people who are serving on the committee are affiliated with the Baptist Churches of this area, other churches have aided in the fund raising efforts.

Corbin Trial Set Tuesday In Clarendon

Trial has been set in 100th Judicial District Court for James Corbin on theft and jail breaking charges. The trial will be held in Judge Robert Montgomery's court on Tuesday, April 15, at 10 a.m.

Burglary charges against Corbin have been dismissed since his original arrest on November, 1974, for breaking into the Coca-Cola Bottling Company in Clarendon.

Corbin allegedly escaped from the Donley County Jail in the early morning hours of November 10. Corbin and his teenage wife were arrested in Riverside, California, about two weeks later.

Officers theorized Corbin's wife, Nancy, entered the jail through a downstairs window, secured the keys to the cells and opened the cell door for her husband. Corbin was extradited from California shortly after the first of the year but his wife was not because of her age.

Trial will be held in the District Courtroom of the Donley County Courthouse.

Heart Fund Drive Will Be Tonight

Members of the Hedley High School FHA class will seek donations in Hedley on Thursday, April 17, on a door to door basis. Money from the two fund drives will be pooled and turned over to the national association.

College Drama Group Will Present Comedy

A comedy success by the noted playwright, John Patrick, author of such successes as "The Teahouse of the August Moon" and "The Hasty Heart," has been selected by the Clarendon College Drama Department as its next major presentation. This is the whimsical parable called "The Curious Savage," which will open a two performance run at the Clarendon College Fine Arts Auditorium on Monday and Tuesday nights of April 21 and 22.

The "Savage" of this comic fantasy is no uncivilized cannibal, but an elderly lady of wealth named Ethel Savage, who is "Curious" in a most charming way. Her eccentricity is a belief in the right of people to indulge their foolish but harmless desires.

Ethel Savage recognized from personal experience how desperately people need to do this occasionally. She has, for example, dyed her hair blue. "Because it goes with anything." Also, she once bought a tomb for a horse, and wrote a play in which she starred herself.

In this last project she knew she was ridiculously bad and that the audience came to laugh at her. But she could see no harm in that. A ten million dollar heiress, the "Curious Savage" simply decided to do all the silly things she'd always wanted to do. What's more, she's determined to set up a Happiness Fund designed to put her millions to work helping people do things they have always wanted to do.

In order to keep her from thus wasting the family fortune, her three odious stepchildren have her thrust into a retreat for people who have turned a little "Eccentric" in the public's view. Their desire, of course, is that they can eventually have her declared insane and gain control of her millions.

Marie Thomas, freshman from Pampa, has been chosen to portray the title role in "The Curious Savage." In the original production, this role was created by the famed actress Lillian Gish. Katrina Messer, Clarendon Sophomore, will be portraying the harsh stepdaughter, Lily Belle. The other two stepchildren, Titus and Samuel Savage, will be played by Leon Couch, Hedley freshman, and Dee Whittington, Quitaque freshman.

Mrs. Savage's fellow tenants of "The Cloisters," the institution where she has been confined are Hannibal, portrayed by Doug Meador, Matador freshman; Jeffrey, played by Joel Ross, Quail sophomore; Fairy Mae, played by White Deer freshman Gayle Ballard; Mrs. Paddy, played by Amarillo freshmen Beth Coburn, and Florence, played by Diane Clayton, freshmen from Memphis.

Rounding out the cast are Curtis Washburn, freshman from Floyd, New Mexico, as Dr. Emmett, the psychiatrist at the Cloisters, and Nikke Amburn, Freshman from Hollis, Oklahoma as Miss Willie, the nurse who aids in the surprise ending to the play.

Tickets will be priced at $1.25 for adults and $.75 for students and children. Clarendon College Students are admitted on their College I.D. card.

CC Ex-Students Reunion

Ex-Students of Clarendon College will return to Clarendon for the annual reunion on April 26 and 27.

On Saturday and 26th registration and visitation will be held at the College Cafeteria. A tour of the College Farm and Greenbelt Lake area will be conducted at 1:00 p.m.

Ruby's known through the southwest for fine food, will be the site for a 3:00 p.m. reception. A banquet for exes and their families will be held at 7:00 p.m. Saturday night at the College Cafeteria. Dinner music will be supplied by Mr. and Mrs. Mike McCully of Clarendon.

Master of Ceremonies for the banquet will be Ernest Kent, President of the ex-student association. Featured guest speaker for this year's reunion is Ralph Randal of Panhandle, an ex-student of Clarendon College.

Following the Saturday night banquet a concert will be held at the Harned Sisters Fine Arts Center of the college featuring the "Bank Notes," a musical group composed of employees and families of the First Bank and Trust of Booker.

A business meeting will conclude the Saturday activities. A luncheon is planned for Sunday noon at the Clarendon College Cafeteria following church services.

REDDY'S HELPFUL FREEZER TIPS

Lock in flavor: Use moisture and vapor-proof materials especially designed for freezers to wrap your foods. Tightly sealed, these lock in flavor and moisture and prevent "freezer burn" (surface drying) on foods. Don't use wax paper, bread paper or regular cellophane for freezer foods.

Label packages: Date and identify freezer packages so (1) you don't accumulate a lot of mysterious shapes and (2) you'll be able to pick out foods that have been in the freezer longest.

Take advantage of sales: Avoid overstocking with commercially frozen food that's always available. Use your freezer as your own bargain counter and store foods you can buy on sale. But do allow space for short-time baked goods, leftovers and special party foods.

Mrs. Wm. Greene, Jr. Named Cancer Chairman

Mrs. Wm. Greene, Jr. has been named chairman of the Donley Unit of the American Cancer Society's 1975 educational and fund-raising Crusade in April when the theme will be: "We Want to Wipe Out Cancer in Your Lifetime."

Mrs. Greene, whose appointment was announced today by Mrs. Glenn Wallace, ACS President will lead local volunteers in a community-wide effort to help teach families how to protect themselves against cancer. Our volunteers will ask for support of the Society's vital programs on behalf of research, public and professional education and service to the cancer patient.

"The promise of research is so great," the new Crusade Chairman said, "that the 1975 Crusade will be one of the most important ever. The dedicated people in the laboratories, the men, women and children suffering from cancer today, and our hopes for the future all depend on our willingness to support the cancer fight."

Under her leadership approximately 50 volunteers will visit friends and neighbors and businesses in Donley County. They will distribute this year's Crusade leaflet, a cancer quiz, testing the public's awareness of ways to protect themselves.

"Our local volunteers are part of an army of 2,300,000 American Cancer Society volunteers mobilized for the 1975 Crusade. This is probably one of the greatest volunteer forces in history," Mrs. Greene said. "We want to take cancer out of the medical books and put it into the history books as something that afflicted people a long time ago!"

The American Cancer Society will conduct a door-to-door crusade Thursday, April 17.

The theme for the Crusade as always is "We want to wipe out Cancer in your lifetime."

Many useful services such as hospital beds, wheel chairs, dressings, etc. are provided to Cancer patients through your donations, not to mention life saving research and educational information.

Mrs. Etta Adkins and Grace Markham of Amarillo visited their mother Mrs. Susan Ashcraft and sister Miss. Emma, Saturday.

Prevent Cancer

Those for whom cancer is synonymous with fear are encouraged by the World Health Organization's official: "Cancer prevention offers the greatest hope for its control." Health authorities feel the attack on the enemy before it attacks.

Various experts estimate that there may be some relationship between environmental factors and cancer tumors up to NINETEEN PERCENT of the time. However, you reduce your cancer risk. First, if you make sure your diet contains enough fiber, there may be less chance of cancer "getting you behind." Although a study indicates that an intake of fiber may be a contributing factor in cancer of the colon and rectum, reportedly now strikes one in ten Americans than any other major malignancy. Prevention Is Best Control For Cancer

By MARION WELLS
Copley News Service

Those for whom cancer is synonymous with fear will be encouraged by the words of one American Cancer Society official: "Cancer prevention offers the greatest possibility for its control." Many authorities feel the action you take now may help defeat this enemy before it attacks.

Various experts estimate that there may be some relationship between environmental factors and cancerous tumors up to NINETY PER CENT of the time. How can you reduce your cancer risk?

First, if you make sure your diet contains enough roughage, there may be less chance of cancer "getting you from behind." Although all the findings are not in, increasing evidence suggests inadequate intake of fiber may be a contributing factor in cancer of the colon and rectum, which reportedly now strikes more Americans than any other major malignancy. Unrefined whole grain cereals and breads are considered a particularly good source of roughage. Other good sources include some fruits and such vegetables as broccoli, carrots, cabbage, cauliflower, brussels sprouts and eggplant. If special medical conditions warrant, ask your physician's guidance in determining which sources of bulk are best for you.

Do you smoke? You may be buying cancer by the pack. One government expert warned that "the risk of lung cancer increases in proportion to the number of cigarettes smoked. Among heavy smokers the risk is 20 times greater than among nonsmokers." "Banning the butt" lowers your risk. Incidentally, smoking also increases your chances of developing bladder, mouth and throat cancers.

Is heavy drinking related to cancer? Concerning pharynx, larynx and mouth cancers, a recent government report on alcoholism notes that "tobacco use and alcohol consumption each contributes separately to increased risk of cancer, and data suggest that heavy use of both has an additive and possibly even a synergistic effect in increasing risk."

What about nutrient deficiencies and cancer? An apparent association has been reported between certain cancers and anemia and malnutrition. According to a United States Department of Agriculture report, "... individuals in good nutritional state are less likely to develop cancer." This same report estimates we might reduce cancer incidence and deaths by as much as 20 per cent simply by improving our diet.

Do food additives add to our cancer risk? Processed, packaged items are loaded with so many additives that even scientists can't be sure how longterm exposure to a combination of these and other chemicals may affect our health.

There is current concern about nitrite, added to many processed meats and some smoked fish. Under suitable conditions nitrite can react with certain amines (including many drugs) to form nitrosamines. The majority of nitrosamines tested can cause cancer in test animals. Experiments primarily with animals have created some concern that such potentially cancer-causing chemicals might be formed in the human system.

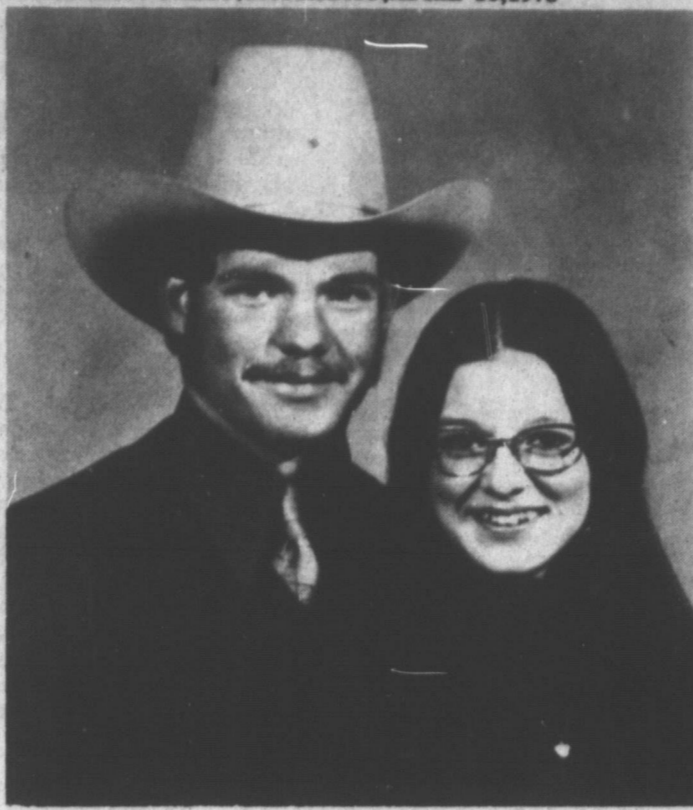

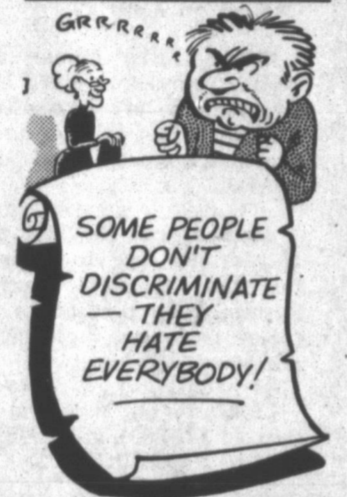

In the personal professional opinion of Jacqueline Verrett, Ph.D., for years a researcher with the Food and Drug Administration, "... from all the evidence, the prudent assumption must be that when you ingest nitrite and amines at the same time or in close proximity, so that they remain in the stomach together long enough to interact, you run the risk of creating nitrosamines." The prudent procedure is to READ LABELS CAREFULLY, avoid nitrite (and nitrate) additives as much as possible, and also try to limit your intake of other added chemicals.

investigate available air purification systems.

Prompt attention to "pre-cancerous lesions" may keep them from becoming malignant. Consult your physician without delay if you notice any of the following: "... white patches on the lining of the mouth; dry, scaly, itching patches on the skin; moles subject to irritation; sores caused by jagged teeth or ill-fitting dental plates."

Finally, have frequent medical checkups and cancer screening at recommended intervals. The next best thing to cancer prevention is EARLY DETECTION AND TREATMENT. Don't give cancer a chance to "grow on you."

Nobody's Perfect But...

by JERRY SPARKS

The fruit of several years work will be realized only 10 days from the date of this paper when Virginia Browder's accounting of the history of Donley County will be available to the public.

The initial unveiling of the historical edition will be at a formal autograph party on April 20 at the Farmers State Bank and Trust Company in Clarendon. The author, plus representatives from the publishing company and others will be on hand to greet the public.

Since Virginia prefers being called by her first name, we will stick to that rather than the "Ms." title she says is acceptable, although she declares that she is not "one of those women libbers".

We know that she has spent thousands of hours in research along, since it was more than six years before the first page of copy came out of her typewriter. A great many of these hours were spent in personal interviews with most of the old timers of Donley County or their survivors, digging out bits and pieces of information along with old photographs.

Hundreds of people from all parts of the country have already reserved copies of the book, and orders have continued to come in despite several set-backs in the promised delivery date.

It's no simple matter to jump up and whip out an edition such as this historical edition Virginia has put together. The typesetting alone took several hundred hours, not to mention the proof reading which had to be done to correct any errors. The correction of these errors, again, took many hours of labor before it could be touched by the printer.

We know that Virginia can be justly proud of this historical edition at her autograph party. We are also certain that those people who have waited patiently for their copy will be happy to receive it.

Back several weeks ago, we printed a column dealing with shoplifting in Clarendon stores. Some people seem to think this is a light matter. Even we thought it might just be a rash thing that would soon die out here.

Since that time, we have been witness to at least two shoplifting instances, both happening in the same store at almost the same time. One of these individuals was caught red-handed by store personnel, the other managed to put his merchandise back on the counter before being caught outside the store.

If it's any consolation, Clarendon is not the only place having problems with retail theft. In the past week, we've noticed at least two more towns with the same problem.

Edgar Hays, publisher of the Nocona News, says that it is rumored that several A&P grocery stores in that area are being closed because people are stealing them blind.

Another area that is being hard-hit with the same problem is in Stamford, just north of Abilene, where about two dozen merchants have lost so much merchandise to shoplifters that they have gone together to form a merchant's protective group to help put an end to consistent theft.

All these stores prominently display posters stating that anyone—regardless of name, age or social status—caught shoplifting will be fully prosecuted. A series of advertisements in the local newspaper is currently being run to further establish that these businesses mean business.

Another rumor began circulating Tuesday afternoon to the effect that Mills Motor Company in Clarendon had closed up. Elsewhere in this issue, our readers will find an announcement contradicting this and also announcing that the motor company has expanded.

The expansion is the opening of a used car lot and service center in one of the busiest parts of Amarillo. Although the owners don't know how the rumor started, they think it might be because their local used car inventory has been reduced. This, of course, is caused by the removal of most of their used cars to the Amarillo location.

J.C. and Dale Mills state that they do not plan to close their Clarendon location, but plan to continue offering their services to the public as always.

Although we don't know for certain yet what is contained in the legal jargon of the contract flown in last Friday from Pacer Phenix Corporation on the proposed leasing of Medical Center Hospital and Nursing Home, we understand that there are a few clauses in the contract that are not entirely agreeable to some of the hospital board members.

These points probable were brought out in the 6 p.m. Wednesday meeting of the board. The time of the meeting was such that we could not get the news in this paper since we must go to press on Wednesday afternoon.

Like everyone else, we are more than mildly interested in the contents of this proposed contract and the possibility of seeing Medical Center Hospital reopen. Pacer Phenix has set a target date of May 1, and if this is to be done, the contract will have to be negotiated rather suddenly before many residents of Donley will have a chance to learn what is contained in the document.

The possibility exists that the lease could be settled before another issue of the newspaper can hit the streets. This is one of the shortcomings of a weekly newspaper. There is nothing we can do about it.

The hospital board will probable not act on the proposal this week, but could possibly take some kind of action at their regular April meeting which will be Monday, April 14.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—The great debate on school finance reform is shaping up in the House and Senate.

Major legislation to restructure education funding formulas has been heard before committees in both houses and is now being altered by sub-committees to meet revenue on hand and varying viewpoints of lawmakers and educators.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe's weighted pupil plan would cost an estimated $744 million in additional state revenue and $1.033 billion in local contributions.

The Texas State Teachers Association plan would require some $2.2 billion in additional state money and $520 million in local funds.

Dr. Richard Hooker, Briscoe's education consultant, acknowledges 550 districts would have to increase ad valorem taxes to meet their "fair share" of school program costs under the governor's plan (HB 1083 and SB 478).

However, Hooker notes, those districts contain only 14 per cent of the state's population, and he contends these districts have an option as to whether they will produce their "fair share."

TSTA Executive Secretary Callie Smith maintains HB 1083 would mandate minimum accreditation standards and teacher salaries, and 500 to 600 districts would have no choice but to increase taxes.

Rep. W. S. "Bill" Healy of Paducah sent constituents in his district a detailed breakdown on how the Governor's bill would affect local taxes, and said he would oppose it.

Big county school officials generally supported the Briscoe bill at the Senate committee hearing, and claimed it should provide even more money per pupil.

Teachers jammed the Senate chamber in support of their bill—and a $10,000 a year starting pay scale.

House Speaker Bill Clayton urged his appropriations advisors to cut spending recommendations below Legislative Budget Board recommendations.

The Senate approved merger of the Texas Highway Department and Mass Transportation Commission into a new State Department of Highways and Public Transportation.

Senators temporarily balked, however, at taking nearly $100 million in auto sales tax revenues during the next two years for a Public Transportation Fund to help finance mass transit projects and planning.

PRIMARY BILL ADVANCED

A presidential preference primary bill won Senate approval—but as a one-time-only measure, to expire in March 1977.

The bill (HB 679) went back to the House and into conference committee for certain revision.

COURTS SPEAK

The Third Court of Civil Appeals took under consideration (after hearing oral arguments) Southwestern Bell Telephone Company's appeal from an injunction blocking a $45 million long distance rate increase.

Court of Criminal Appeals reversed a murder conviction of a man who claimed a five-year-old boy left in his care died of an accidental head injury while doing "flips."

An Abilene man won a new trial on burglary charges because the trial judge refused to instruct jurors on possible probation.

AG OPINIONS

Atty. Gen. John Hill held the Texas Constitution permits a statute providing for abolition of county school superintendent's offices on a local option basis.

In the same opinion, Hill said a school superintendent may not resign his position and terminate the operation of his office.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

• A bill providing for cancellation of Texas Opportunity Plan Loans of students who work for certain state agencies after getting doctorate degrees in medicine or psychology is constitutional.

• Welfare Department files on child abuse investigations are not subject to disclosure under the Open Records Act.

• Information on teachers and their numbers of children in high and average high math and reading groups should be made public on demand.

• A state university's group insurance contract is also public record.

• A county auditor must be appointed for Kerr County.

• Kinney County must pay its justices of the peace at least $5,880 a year.

• A county court judge must appoint a court reporter on demand for cases appealable to the Court of Criminal Appeals.

APPOINTMENTS

Governor Briscoe appointed Dr. James Ray Hays of Bellaire to the State Board of Examiners of Psychologists.

Briscoe appointed to the State Board of Vocational Nurse Examiners Dr. Howell R. Gaddy Jr. of Georgetown and Mrs. Winnie O. Warhol of Marlin.

W. C. Ligon of Portland was appointed branch pilot for Fort Aransas Bar, Corpus Christi Bay and tributaries.

SHORT SNORTS

President Ford declared the City of Lefors a major disaster area on request of the Governor due to tornado damage; an assistance center was set up April 2.

Bowie, Ellis, Lamar and Motley counties received U.S. Department of Agriculture designation as disaster areas due to too much or too little rainfall.

April 1 was the last day 18-year-olds had to register for the Selective Service System. New procedures for future periodical registration are being developed.

Cigarette tax revenues increased $427,878 from March 1974 to March 1975.

Checks totalling $511,297 were mailed last week to 141

Kite Flying Contest To Be Held

There will be two categories for each age group - bought and home made kites. The kites will be judged and prizes awarded for the best in each category. Children who wish to enter may sign up in Mr. Cain's office, or at the athletic field on Monday.

PERSONALITY DEVELOPMENT AND THE HOLY SPIRIT OF GOD

Something needs to be said today about the influence of the Holy Spirit of God upon human personality development and the development of the human soul. The Holy Spirit of God is the third Person of the Tribune Godhead consisting of: God, the Father; Jesus Christ, the Son; and the Holy Spirit. The Bible teaches that God works in this world of matter in and through the Persons of His Son and the Holy Spirit.

Let me illustrate the influence of the Holy Spirit upon personality development in the life experiences of two of Jesus' disciples: Simon Peter and Judas Iscariot.

Simon Peter or Simon Bar Jona, as he is called in the Bible, was a fisherman when he met Jesus Christ. From that moment on, the Holy Spirit of God began to work in His life changing his attitudes and outlook on life. Peter, the fisherman, was a different person from Peter, the Apostle. A fisherman in the old world was a rough, tough sort of man. He didn't use the most refined language. In fact, his speech was sometimes base. At one time in his life, he denied that he ever knew Jesus and cursed a little just to emphasize it.

Yet, it was this very man whom after the resurrection of Christ, the Holy Spirit of God used on the Day of Pentecost to preach one of the greatest sermons that the world has ever heard. It is recorded in the second chapter of Acts. It is this man, changed by an inward experience with Christ, whom the Holy Spirit used to become the leader of the New Testament church. He is known by Christendom as Saint Peter, the Apostle. What happened to him? What changed him? He met Jesus Christ and was never the same again. The Spirit of God lived in him and he became a different person. Judas Iscariot was another follower of Christ. Judas didn't pay much attention to what Jesus said. "Love your neighbor as yourself," didn't make too much of an impact upon his life. Judas resisted with his will the efforts of the Holy Spirit of God to plant the simple seeds of the teachings of Christ in his heart. This man, as far as the Bible reveals, didn't curse nor swear. He spoke refined words. Yet, it was he who betrayed Christ with a kiss, lied to his friends, stole from the church treasury, and finally took his own life.

The Bible tells us not to quench the Holy Spirit of God as He deals with our lives (I Thess 5:14). God seeks to make better persons out of us. This is the task of the Holy Spirit to convict us of our sins, of God's right way, and of a judgement to come" (John 16:8-11). God tells us that His Spirit strives with men. He patiently works with us, encourages us, comforts us; but He can do none of this against our will. God warns that His Spirit will not always strive with a person who continually pays no attention to Him" (Gen. 6:3). We are told that we can grieve the Holy Spirit and are warned not to do so (Eph. 4:30).

A person's submission to the work of the Holy Spirit of God in his life has much to do with the way he thinks about things. God does seek to influence human lives and human personality for the better. His method is through the Holy Spirit working in human life.

Let me illustrate this. In creation the Bible says that the Holy Spirit of God brooded over the world bringing order, peace, and beauty. The picture is that of a dove brooding over her nest. Just so, the Holy Spirit is pictured in the Bible as hovering over human lives, brooding over the individual human soul, seeking to bring, order, peace, and beauty into human personality.

God's Spirit can change your personality for the good if you will let Him.

Cates To Chair Sub-Committee On Strip Mining

State Representative Phil Cates has accepted the Chairmanship of the Sub-Committee on Strip Mining in the House of Representatives which promises to be a hot seat for the remainder of the legislative session.

Legislation now facing the committee is expected to feature heated debate between the strip mining interest and the environmentalists.

"Due to the fact that Federal legislation has already passed the United States House and Senate and is almost surely to become law, the pressure for state action in this area is greatly intensified," Rep. Cates stated upon taking the appointment.

"It is of paramount importance that the State of Texas find workable solutions for our own land use problems during this session; otherwise we will find ourselves completely in the hands of the Department of Interior," Cates said.

"Strip mining has been somewhat of an unknown industry in this state, but it is big business," he continued, "and proper controls are essential."

"The people of Texas must be assured that in our search for acquisition of energy resources that we do not destroy our country-side. We must especially protect the rich, productive farm and ranch land that feeds a great part of this nation," Cates asserted.

"We must protect the land, but at the same time we must maintain a balance that will allow industry to continue its search for desperately needed energy resources as economically as possible."

"I believe that we will be able to make recommendations in a reasonable fashion through this committee whereby we can extract the natural resources and still restore the land in such a way for its continued use at a cost that won't be prohibitive," Cates said in summation. "And, I am committed to working toward that end."

Strip mining legislation awaiting committee action points out that "unregulated mining may destroy or diminish the utility of land for many uses and will in fact contribute to erosion, floods, pollution, and other effects inimical to the public interest."

Regulations of mining operations and practical reclamation of mined land will be two priority items that will be aired during the sub-committee meetings.

Thelma Waters was chosen as Beta Sigma Phi Queen of Hearts at the annual charity ball Saturday night. Susan Henson presented her with a crown pen. She will reign as sorority queen for 1975-76.

"Seek ye first the Kingdom"

Voice in the Wilderness...

In those days came John the Baptist, preaching in the wilderness of Judaea, And saying, Repent ye: for the kingdom of heaven is at hand.

For this is he that was spoken of by the prophet of Esaias, saying, The voice of one crying in the wilderness, Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make his paths straight.

And the same John had his raiment of camel's hair, and a leathern girdle about his loins, and his meat was locusts and wild honey.

Then went out to him Jerusalem, and all Judaea, and all the region round about Jordan.
