More Water Than City Can Handle

By MARTY EADY
Managing Editor

Monsoon like wind and rain bombarded the already wind burn and rain soaked fields and area of Clarendon and Donley County Monday night which resulted in flooding of city streets and surrounding flat lands.

The siren was set off shortly after 8 p.m. Monday to warn Clarendon residents of the incoming raging wind and heavy rains. The skies blackened as clouds swirled in from the east only to be met by what appeared to wind bearing clouds from the west. Observers in Clarendon watched as the clouds suddenly met in the vicinity of Greenbelt Lake and the Ashtola Community. The impact of the swirling winds meeting shifted the direction of the rain filled clouds back eastward toward Clarendon. High winds first struck the city with chilling breezes which automatically sent residents to the cellars or looking skyward for a possible tornado. It was only a matter of minutes after the spine chilling winds struck Clarendon that the first of what was to be two sets of heavy rains within a period of approximately six hours, dropping an additional 6.87 inches of rain on top of waterlogged land which had received 2.36 inches of rain Saturday night.

The aftermath of damages was not from the pea size hail which fell sparingly in the area, but from the high winds and flooding waters which left Gorst Street looking like a river. Gorst, which runs north and south across Highway 287, caught the over flow of the creek which runs through the middle of Clarendon.

The river-like street made passage through Clarendon on Highway 287 impossible for automobiles and even some heavy trucks, although the larger rigs were able to pass through the estimated three to four feet of water at a slow rate of speed.

The Clarendon Police Department, Donley County Sheriff's Department, Texas Highway Patrol, aided by CB'ers, closed unpassable streets. Even the sight of flashing red lights went unobserved as some drove right by patrol cars into the swift raging water. Three vehicles had to be pulled from the waters by a wrecker. In one incident two wreckers were required, one to break the water so someone could tie onto the stranded automobile as water raced along the car doors and windows.

Donley County Sheriff Frank Lindsey reported the sighting of a tornado approximately one mile west of Lelia Lake around 9:30 Monday night. He watched as the funnel uprooted a large tree, leaving it crossway in the west bound lane of Highway 287. He stood by until Highway Department equipment could arrive to clear the obstruction, warning motorists of the danger.

One unidentified woman had to be pulled from her vehicle as swift currents of rushing water caught her vehicle as she prepared to cross Gorst Street on Fourth Street as the flooding started. Before the on rushing waters subsided early Tuesday morning, the vehicle was to have been completed covered by rising water.

At one point water ran across Highway 287 in front of the Cotton Gin and east of Chamberlain Motor Company at an estimated height of four feet, making it impossible to see the highway. Traffic east of Clarendon was halted and kept from crossing the danger area. Memphis Police Department and Highway Patrol units began to stop vehicles from coming any further west until the danger had passed. Also vehicles which had been caught between the two flooded area sought refuge on the lot of Chamberlain Motor Company. Witnesses said that the area looked like a huge used car lot with large semi-rigs and automobiles alike.

Damages were found to be relative small Tuesday morning from what could have been disastrous. No deaths nor injuries were reported although several residents were flooded out. One such was the George Umberger family who not only found their home flooded, but also their service station and the Curiosity Shop on the east end of the city. Also it will be awhile before Bailey Estes will be able to continue with his new home he is building completely out of steel, just east of the Umbergers. Much of the low laying land north of the city was under water and is expected to remain so for a few days.

A small bridge was washed out in which Gorst Street was used to cross the creek. Insurance companies in Clarendon reported a relative small amount of damage to businesses and houses in the way of wind and rain damages. One business, Riggs Farm and Ranch Supply, was forced to sandbag to keep the on rushing water down Gorst Street from filling the building.

One woman told this reporter, as the rains were still peppering down, "I've lived here 35 years and have never seen this before." An older man said, "I've lived here a long time, but the last time I can remember anything like this was back in 1934."

Residents who were marooned on one side or the other as well as stranded motorists just stood in amazement at what they were seeing.

For the residents in Donley County who were hurt the most by the late spring-like rains it will be hard to recuperate for awhile. Especially since Donley County isn't eligible for flood insurance under the government pool. In fact very few insurance policies even cover flooding.

Before I decided to move to Clarendon I had always heard that it was quite, peaceful and dry in the Panhandle area. But I'm beginning to wonder if someone didn't have the facts mixed up. The only time its peaceful is when its not lightning, the only time it is quite is when it isn't thundering and believe it or not is sure hasn't been dry lately.

I'm beginning to think it would have been smarter to have gotten a boat instead of a house. I've even thought about getting a boat to tie in my front yard since the street slopes downhill and looks like a river when it rains. But that probably wouldn't work either, since I'm not known to have the best of luck. The boat would probably have a hole in it and sink when I needed it most. Like when I didn't want to get my feet wet!

FEATURED AT FESTIVAL -- "My Brother's Keeper", a music group from Houston will be the main attraction at the Gospel Music Festival at 9 p.m. on Friday, July 4 at the high school football field. With the group will also appear local talent. The Festival is sponsored by the Clarendon Ministerial Alliance and concerned citizens. The show will last approximately two hours.

Alanreed News

Mrs. Jess Finley

I've heard some good fishing stories before, but some of the tall tales that the Gladding's collection has got to be some of the best. The Gladding International Sport Fishing Museum in South Otselic, N.Y. sponsors a fishing tall tale contest to emphasize the role of fishing in our national culture and folklore and to stress the need for increased sportsfishing conservation efforts.

The Gladding museum trustees made a beginning toward amassing the "World's Greatest Collection of Fishing Tales" last year when thousands of anglers revealed secrets of success.

For example, a North Carolina man saw a friend dipnetting fish after fish from a river bend. Puzzled, he asked his friend about the success and the friend explained that he would drop a package of his wife's laundry starch in the river. The starch made the tails of the fish going downstream so stiff that the big ones couldn't negotiate the bend. When they returned upstream, he easily caught them. Then there was the fellow who caught a lunker so huge that by the time it was dragged to the local weighing shed, the fish was reduced to a skeleton. Even the skeleton was too big to get into the shed, so they weighed the shadow of it which tipped the scales at 27 pounds. Believe it or not this tale came from a guy in Farmersville, Texas.

An 11-year-old Oregon youth, just fooling around, caught a lunker-size fish on bubble gum but the line broke. The youth was almost in tears over the loss when the fish blew a bubble and floated to the surface where the young angler happily netted it.

And what about the angler who dropped his fizzy headache remedy over the side of his boat? As the tablet fizzled and bubbled to the bottom, a curious bass gulped it down. In a moment, the bass bloated with gas, floated to the surface, and was caught. It weighed 11 pounds over the

Jehovah Witnesses To Hold Convention

A series of over one hundred conventions of Jehovah's Witnesses is scheduled this summer in the United States and Canada.

S. Lane, presiding minister of the Memphis congregation, said 30 delegates will represent this area at sessions set for the Civic Center in Amarillo.

Lane said 5,000 persons are expected for the four-day meeting, July 3-6.

"It is clear," Lane said, "that the earthly system is a closewoven fabric. Whether we like it or not, the nations are all interdependent. Yet this fact has not brought them into cooperation, even though they see the desperate need for this."

"Why is it that the nations cannot work out their problems by cooperation? In particular, because they are divided in so many ways," he said.

"They have different political ideologies, economic systems, social arrangements and religious beliefs. And people, as a result, often have deep-seated prejudices against those who hold views different from their own."

Discussing the convention program, Lane said it will explore all the problems confronting mankind today and systematically review the ultimate solution.

Lane said sessions are scheduled daily from 10 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. and 3 to 5:30 p.m. The program will feature four Bible dramas, lectures and general discussion periods.

Mr. and Mrs. James Burleson and boys visited friends in Big Springs, Lubbock and Lorene.

Dorothea Ledbetter from Amarillo spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O.C. Watson. Mr. Watson and his daughter celebrated their joint birthdays.

Religious Thoughts

by JAMES O. BRANDON

RELIGION IN THE HOME

People who are spiritually healthy are usually the products of spiritually healthy homes. For a home to be healthy physically, spiritually, emotionally, and psychologically, God's presence must be acknowledged and experienced.

Husbands and wives should be sensitive as to how to help one another find God and walk with Him. One should encourage his mate to be a Christian and to live and act like one.

Everyone should use judgement and common sense in leading a child to faith in Christ. Children must not be pressured into premature, superficial decisions. However, there is something wrong with a home that claims to be Christian if children are maturing in that home and leaving it without becoming Christians.

Parents should teach their children that when they come to the age of moral accountability that they are in need of salvation and the child should turn naturally to his parents to lead him to Christ. Parents should want for themselves the privilege of bringing their children to Christ.

Parents have many advantages over other teachers. They have more time together, greater intimacy, the opportunity to relate their teaching to the situations of everyday life and the advantage of being considered authoritative by their small children. These factors alone mean that parents are the main educators of their children, for good or bad.

Religion is not so much taught as caught. What a parent communicates more to a child than what a parent says. We cannot impatiently teach patience. We cannot with faltering uncertainty teach faith. We cannot anxiously and fearfully teach courage. We cannot in pettiness and strife teach the love of our fellowmen. If one does not practice what he preaches in front of his children, then the children probably won't practice it either.

The Christian home, in seeking to perform its teaching and training function, does well to cooperate closely with the church. However, the church cannot replace the home as the institution primarily responsible for religious teaching and training. The church plays a supplemental role; and if little of moral and spiritual value is being taught in the home, then the church can do very little schooling.

Many Americans seem to expect the public schools to teach children to pray and read the Bible. Surveys taken reveal that the vast majority of families have no regular worship time in which they themselves pray and read the Bible. A family needs to read the Bible, pray, and go to church together. True worship in the home or in the church will result in a family sharing itself to do the work of God in the world.

One vital dimension of religion in the home is the of ways in which the family as a unit can do their faith.

It is important that a Christian home have the right atmosphere. Where does a person learn to love, have faith, be trustworthy, be compassionate? Basically, children observe and copy these values from their parent.

Can a person give love if he has never received love? One of the best ways to help a small child learn to love others and

Q. I am inquiring for my mother-in-law, who became a widow last week. She has asked me to help her get her social security started. She is 63 but has never filed for any social security. What kind of records will she need to furnish when she files?

A. She will need to furnish the social security number for her husband and herself, proof of her age, and her marriage certificate. If her husband was employed last year, she should furnish his 1974 W-2, or if self-employed, furnish his 1974 tax return. She can call the social security office if she would like, and they will complete her application over the telephone.

Q. It looks like I will need to file for disability benefits, as my doctor tells me I will not be able to work again. Should I bring a statement from him when I come in to file?

A. No, when you apply we will get the names and addresses of your doctors from you, and our disability agency will contact the doctor for a medical report.

EDITORIAL OPINION

Webster's New Collegiate Dictionary defines "apathy" as "lack of feeling or emotion; lack of interest or concern; indifference."

What better word than apathy is there to describe the mood of our jet-set population throughout the United States where we have all kinds of freedoms to do what we want. Yet many of us sit back and let the other fellow do it. We don't have time to get involved in anything which will affect us or our children. Somewhere out of the past 200 years has come the idea that it is better if someone else does it and we don't have to voice our opinion or show any interest. Yet at the same time it is those of us who gripe about the way something turns out if it doesn't suit us, but too we we don't want to get involved. We want to let the other fellow do it for us, although its not the way we want to see it done after it happens.

Here in the Clarendon and Donley County, just like all over of these United States, we have the same problem, too much apathy. We have an outstanding summer baseball problem for boys and girls alike, but just how many parents go to these games to see their kids play or how many take an active part in the organization to make it possible for these kids to have such a summer activity?

The same holds true for the upcoming Saint Roost Celebration on July 3-5. A celebration for the young and old alike. Here businesses and organizations have gone to a lot of time and effort to provide a gala three-day festival for our enjoyment. A festival which will be right here in our own front yard.

This is something for everyone. An activity in which everyone should be involved, from the high school band to every club and organization in the surrounding area. But here again, just how many of us are going to sit back and let the other fellow do it? True, too many chiefs can hamper anything, but there needs to be Indians to carry out the plans, and not all of us watching from the sidelines.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor
Find attached a copy of a letter I have written and mailed registered to County Judge Billy Crystal County Judge of Donley County.

I feel the Tax Payers of Donley County need to know of at least one instance of how their hard earned tax dollar is being spent. This letter is specifically complaining of one instance and certainly it would lead one to wonder just really how many times tax money has been misappropriated like the instance referred to in my letter to the County Judge.

Signed,
Clyde D. Peabody

Judge Crystal

"This letter is per your request made during a telephonic conversation with you last Monday afternoon June 9, 1975 placed to your office at the Donley County Court House.

The purpose of this letter is to file a complaint against Mr. Olace Hicks, who was elected County Commissioner of Precinct #2 Donley County. The nature of the complaint against Commissioner Hicks is that on June 3, 1975 I maintain he used County road equipment and Tax Payers money for his own use to build a road in Precinct #1 and which I understand is in the Precinct of Commissioner Gene White.

On June 3rd, Mr. Jerry Green, which is a business associate of my twin brother Carroll Peabody and myself on some property we own west of Clarendon in a community known as the Martin Community, stopped a County road grader from building a road on property we maintain is ours. Mr Hicks instructed his blade man as he referred to the heavy equipment operator who was operating the maintainer, to move up on the right of way of the Burlington Northern Railroad Co. and build a road from the Railroad crossing in front of a house setting on our property to the old Martin school property.

Mr. Green contacted me by phone in Ft. Worth, Texas and I in turn contacted Mr. Olace Hicks by phone in Clarendon, Texas to discuss the problem with him.

During my telephonic conversation with Commissioner Hicks when I asked him why he had sent a County road grader from his Precinct #2 into Precinct #1 to build a road on our property or Burlington Northern Railroad property, he informed me the reason the road work was done, was because that was the way he went to church and Sunday school at the Martin Baptist Church on Sunday mornings.

Judge Crystal, I believe in a man going to church, because I believe in God myself, but I don't believe a County Commissioner has the right to use Tax Payers money to send County road equipment from his Precinct over into another Precinct to build himself a quarter of a mile road, just because that's the way he chooses to drive to church and Sunday school on Sunday mornings. Its a known fact that just south of the Burlington Northern Railroad not more than three or four hundred feet, there is a super four lane highway that is a much better road than the road Mr. Hicks had built for himself, and is maintained by the Texas Highway Department, and could serve the same purpose as the road he had built. I also contend the Tax Payers in Precinct #2 could take Commissioner Hicks by the hand and lead him to County road sites where their allotted tax money for Precinct #2 could have been much better spent, rather than losing the tax money because he used the County road equipment and tax money over in Precinct #1 to build his road.

As a Tax Payer in Donley County, my complaint is only representing one man, myself, and I feel that I am entitled to complain about any Public Official that misappropriates public funds. I don't believe when the Tax Payers in Precinct #2 elected Mr. Olace Hicks as their County Commissioner, they at the same time, gave Mr. Hicks a mandate to use one penny of tax money for his own personal use, nor do I believe any other Public Official regardless of who they are, or where they may be located, has any mandate for the personal use of public funds.

My telephone call to you was for the purpose of asking that I be placed on the agenda of the next public meeting of the Donley County Commissioners Court, and on the day I called you on the phone I was under the impression you informed me you had a County Commissioners Court meeting going on at the time I called you by telephone and I understand you have given me permission to appear on the agenda of the next Commissioner's Court which is July 14, 1975 and I appreciate your consideration.

After having talked with Mr. Green, after having personally visited the site of the road building, I have some recommendations to make to the County Commissioners Court and the Tax Payer of Donley County.

RECOMMENDATION No 1

I would like to recommend to the Commissioners Court and the Tax Payers of Donley County that a committee of 3 or more Tax Payers of Donley County, none of which hold public office in Donley County, and who are Tax Payers who live in the reside in Precinct #2, but not in the city limits of Clarendon, Texas, be appointed by the County Judge to investigate my complaint and one committeeman should be a representative of the news media, who must duly report the facts to the Tax Payers of Donley County, and the other members of the committee should be very representative of a thorough cross section of the Tax Payers of County Precinct #2. The reason for there being no public officials on the committee is for the purpose of stopping any doubt of any bias a public official might have in the committee's investigation.

RECOMMENDATION No. 2

I would like to recommend that after the above appointed committee has made their report to the Commissioners Court, if the facts are as stated, Mr. Olace Hicks be recalled as County Commissioner of Precinct No. 2 and a complete investigation and verified audit be made of public funds entrusted to his care, and an election be held so the Tax Payers in Precinct No. 2 can elect a new Commissioner to complete the elected term of Mr. Hicks.

RECOMMENDATION No. 3

I would like to recommend to the Commissioners Court, and the Tax Payers of Donley County, that a committee of 3 or more be selected by the above committee appointed to investigate the charges, who do custom dirt work in Donley County, to survey the road site, and make a recommendation to the Commissioners Court what they would charge to do the dirt work ordered done by use of County road equipment and Tax Payers money by Mr. Hicks. Then I recommend Mr. Hicks be required to reimburse Donley County that amount of money.

I don't believe the actions of Commissioner Hicks will be condoned by the Commissioners Court or the Tax Payers of Donley County. If the Commissioners Court tries to justify county tax money being spent in the manner used by Mr. Hicks of Donley County that we are entitled to a lower tax rate and further more I would contend that each and ever Tax Payer of Donley County is entitled to personal use of the County road equipment and tax money to the equivalent expended by Mr. Hicks to build the road with County road equipment, and Tax Payers money.

I invite every Tax Payer of Donley County who suspicion's or know of any incident where tax money has been misappropriated to join me in a protest to the Commissioner's Court of Donley County."

Respectfully yours
Clyde D. Peabody

NEWS OF SCIENCE

TINY CAPSULE DOES BIG THINGS

"Microencapsulation"—it's a big word that stands for a tiny thing. It is the process by which chemicals are packaged in a capsule of pin-head size or smaller. As a result, toxic or short-lived chemicals release their contents in controlled quantities over a period of time.

This process is now being used in the field of chemical pesticides. Pennwalt Corporation has announced that the Environmental Protection Agency has approved labeling of its Penncap-M microencapsulated product for use on cotton, alfalfa and sweet corn. Penncap-M, a DDT substitute, is the only microencapsulated pesticide that has been so approved for agriculture.

The controlled release process means economic benefits to the farmer and greater safety in use, and it reduces harmful build-up of chemical residues in soil and run-off water. The product may reduce by 50 percent the number of sprayings of sweet corn needed in a normal season. Microencapsulation is certainly a big word for a small capsule that will do big things!

RELIGIOUS THOUGHTS

God is for him to be well loved in the home. One should want to be the kind of parent who can be trusted. Empty and broken promises say to the child: "Mother and Daddy can't be trusted." If you can't trust your own mother and father, who can you trust? Will a child trust his heavenly Father if he discovers he cannot trust his earthly Father? It is an awesome thought to realize that what a small child thinks of is natural parent will likely determine what he thinks of God. Parents should desire to provide a child with a family atmosphere which will help him to be loving, trusting, and concerned about others.

For parents to say, "Shut up and sit down; we are going to pray, and you will get something out of it," does very little for a child except to make him dislike God and prayer. Nor does it help a teenager to hear his parents brag about how fast they drive, or how much money they cheat the government out of, or to hear them lie to an acquaintance on the telephone. The teaching of religious facts is important, but the religious atmosphere at home is more important. Parents should seek to provide an atmosphere which reflects their Christian faith.

The Bible says, "Except the Lord build the house, they labor in vain that build it."

Engagement Announced

At a barbecue and dance at the JA Ranch headquarters on June 21, Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery Harrison Wadsworth Ritchie of Paloduro announced the engagement of Mr. Ritchie's daughter, Cornelia Wadsworth, to Miles Teel Bivins, son of Mrs. Lee T. Bivins, 2311 West 16th Street, Amarillo, and the late Lee T. Bivins. A September wedding is planned.

Her great-grandmother, Cornelia Wadsworth Ritchie of Geneseo, N.Y., later married John Adair of Ireland.

Subsequently, in partnership with cattleman and pioneer Charles Goodnight, the Adairs founded the JA Ranch at Paloduro in 1876. After the death of their father, Montgomery Ritchie and his brother and sister were raised in England and Europe by their mother. Upon graduating from Cambridge University in England in 1931, Mr. Ritchie went to the JA Ranch, taking over the management of the ranch in 1935, and he continues to live there today.

TEXAS TALK

by BILL COLLIER Branch Manager

Consumers are better beef eaters than ever. Authorities now are pretty well in agreement that per capita consumption of beef in 1975 will be very close to 125 pounds. Ten percent more than an average year. Reasons for the increase in beef eating are obvious: the over-supply created during the past several months is furnishing record numbers of slaughter cattle; retail prices on beef products have pretty well stabilized at levels comparable with 1973 costs; and Americans haven't lost their appreciation for a good steak. Not only is the consumer coming out ahead with the combination of ample supply and good prices, but the cattle industry appears to be on the road to economic recovery. Cow-calf men (those producing baby calves) probably still have a rough year ahead since the experts say their is an unresolved oversupply of other cows, but most other segments of the feeding industry are optimistic that 1975 will be the year of the cattle comeback.

Country Club Corners

Thirty feet by 70 feet, that's a big building and that's what we are going to have on the golf course in just a few more Saturdays, but only with your help. Volunteer help from our membership is the only way we can get this building. Last Saturday sixteen good workers were on hand at 8 a.m. and we made a good start on the project. The following got things off to a good start: Glen Wallace, Richard Gilkey, Kenneth Vaughan, Jeff Walker, Gerald Grant, Gene White, Jess Bridges, Stina Cain, Mark White, Flip Breedlove, Wayne Carter, Willard Skelton, David Mooring, Lendon White, Ronnie Hill and Kyle Hill. Now we want all of you back this Saturday and the next Saturday if you can make it plus at least sixteen or more new volunteers who have not yet helped on this job.

The Duplicate Bridge Club met for luncheon and cards last Monday. Nell Barnhill was hostess, Maxine Hardin won high and Katherine Cain was next.

Family night was fun last Thursday which was June 19 and two birthdays were discovered among the members. We sang happy birthday to Frances Skelton and Earl Ford. Not many knew they were twins before this.

Fifteen representatives of Southwestern Life Insurance Company met at the club for golf and lunch last Friday. Flip is our local representative and was host for the day of fun.

Good luck to the ladies today as they team up for their partnership golf tourney.

Now there is a whole cookbook filled with recipes custom-made for sugar substitutes. And here's just one diet idea from "The Sugar-Free Cookbook."

CLARENDON SUMMER BASEBALL

A REAL BIG LEAGUER

Blade Barker sits on the bench and watches his teammates, the Indians, with enthusiasm. Blade knows that only nine players can be on the field at a time and he awaits his turn to play, providing support for his teammates.

JUST A LITTLE BOY

He stood at the plate with his heart pounding fast;

The bases are loaded; the die has been cast.

Mom and Dad cannot help him; he stands all alone.

A hit at this moment, would send the team home.

The ball nears the plate; he swings and he misses;

There's a groan from the crowd, with some boos and hisses.

A thoughtless voice cries, "Strike out the bum."

Tears fill his eyes; the game's no longer fun.

Remember, he's just a little boy who stands all alone. So open your heart and give him a break.

For it's moments like this a man you can make.

Keep this in mind when you hear someone forget.

He's just a little boy and not a man yet.

Baseball Action...

STANLEY GARDNER of the Dodgers decides enough time has been wasted and hit the ball for a single.

PAM JACK takes a swing at the baseball in an effort to get a hit for her team, the Pirates. This is the first year girls have played on the little league teams in Clarendon.

JUNE ASHER of the Dodgers attempts a hit as she misses the baseball and catcher Todd Roberson waits for the throw.

TODD ROBERSON slides into third base on a steal for the Pirates.
