Rev. Jerry Pollard

to speak at

Assembly of God

"I believe that discipleship can affect the growth of any church anywhere. This is becoming the new philosophy in church evangelism," says Reverend Jerry Pollard, Assemblies of God missionary to Peru.

Mr. Pollard will be guest speaker Wednesday, April 2, at 7 p.m., at the Assembly of God, 5th and McClelland St., the Reverend J.W. Brown, pastor, has announced.

Discipleship training has carried Mr. Pollard, his wife Wanda and their two children across the Andean Mountains numerous times and into the Upper Amazon Jungle Basin.

During their first 4 year term of missionary service, the Pollards have been involved in church planting through discipleship in northern Peru. They have established fourteen new churches through discipleship training seminars. Through the discipleship principles, the Pollards have also seen small churches grow into larger churches and larger churches grow into even larger churches.

Prior to missionary appointment, Mr. Pollard pastored Evergreen Assemblies of God in Grangeville, Idaho. Mr. Pollard graduated from Southwestern Assemblies of God College, Waxahachie, Texas, and attended the Assemblies of God Theological Seminary, Springfield, Missouri.

At this special missions service, Mr. Pollard will share his concern for reaching Peru with the Christian message. The public is invited to attend.

WTU to hold microwave cooking class

One of the best ways to learn to use your microwave oven is to attend a microwave cooking class. Whether you are an amateur or pro, in class you see and learn microwave techniques, receive many palate pleasing recipes and have an opportunity to share microwave experiences with others which will be of benefit to you. The West Texas Utilities Company gives you this opportunity by inviting you to the Microwave Oven Cooking School, presented by the West Texas Utilities Electric Living Consultant, Jymann Hokanson. The School will be held Monday, March 31 from 12:00 noon to 1:00 p.m. at West Texas Utilities office, 304 S. Kearney. No reservations are required. And all information and recipe samples are free of charge.

In keeping with the state's celebration and festivities of the Texas Sesquicentennial the theme for the school is "Microwave Roundup". Recipes to be demonstrated are designed with various crust and browning skillet techniques. During the session those attending will equally learn some helpful hints about microwave ovens in general and be given materials to refer to at home.

So dust off that hat, buckle on your spurs, hitch-up those doggies, and drive your chuckwagon on down to the West Texas Utilities "Roundup" to enjoy a Taste of Texas.

Boss Lion Winsor reminded us about the district convention and our broom sale in April. Program chairman Smith announced a blood drive to be conducted at Clarendon College and also that the Howardwick Lions Club would participate in the special project that we approved last week to the extent of $200. He then called on Lion Henson to introduce the program. Haskiel Bever, administrative assistant to the Potentate of the Khiva Temple in Amarillo, accompanied by John Goodman and Alvin Hicks, told us that Shriners in the 38 county local area help to support 21 children hospitals at which treatment is free of charge to eligible children. The local Al Morrah Club is one of the largest area contributors. Other organizations and individuals are invited to help the Shrine with this extremely beneficial work by giving contributions to any Shriner. The program concluded with a very informative film showing the work that is done at the children's hospitals.

H&R Block alerts taxpayers

H&R Block has been made aware by Internal Revenue Service that the IRS may now penalize a late tax return, even if it shows a refund! In the past, a late return with a refund was not normally penalized.

Because of this ruling H&R Block is alerting all taxpayers who might file late to either file now or apply for a tax deadline extension in order to avoid paying such a penalty or interest. The size and scope of the tax return could determine the amount of money saved on the penalty or interest.

According to Virgil Belcher, District Manager of the H&R Block offices in Amarillo, "We are trying to save taxpayers money. The public may not be aware of this ruling, and we feel they should be alerted."

From The

Larry Thomas

Through my tears I saw a man rejected by His own race. Through my tears I saw Him tried falsely by Caiaphas, the high-priest, and the rulers of the Jews and the scribes. Yet He spoke not a word. Through my tears I saw Him turned over to Roman soldiers to die. Through my tears I saw them mock Him, hitting him on the head and saying, "If you be a prophet, tell us who hit you." They beat Him until the blood came upon Him. I watched the reaction of this perfect, spotless Son of the living God: He spoke not a word. Through my tears I watched as they forced a crown of thorns upon His brow out of mockery, and I watched as the blood - that precious, spotless, perfect blood flowed forth from His brow. I watched as it filled His eyes, as it rolled down that precious cheek. Through my tears I saw a muscular Roman soldier clinch his fist onto my Savior's beard and rip it out until all that was left were raw patches of red flesh. Through my tears I watched as another Roman soldier spit on my Savior's face - yet he spoke not a word. Through my tears I watched as the cat of nine tails made stripes on His back. I heard the dull sounding thud of those metal balls on the ends of the tails as they hit my Savior's back. Through my tears I saw those purple bruises on His back - literal stripes. I watched as those bruises began to form whelps - as they began to ooze blood. Then I had to cover my eyes at the next sight - the bones of his back began to show. I watched through my tears as they took my Savior, his back of crushed flesh, and threw Him onto a splinter, rugged cross. I watched as a Roman soldier drove a nail precisely through the lower palm of my Savior's hand, being very careful not to break a bone or hit a blood vessel; this was done to prolong death. I watched as they expertly nailed His feet to a flat cross. He had no board to support Him. A board was usually nailed under the feet onto the cross just to make the death a little more merciful and bearable, but they had no mercy. Through my tears I saw the great agony on my Savior's face as they lifted the cross high into the air with Jesus on it and I saw the torture and pain as they slammed it into the hole and every bone popped out of place. I saw Him through my tears as that bloody figure bowed outward from that cross. My teeth were grinding together as I saw Him gasp for air - for you see, His ribcage pushed against His lungs to the point that He had little air capacity. I watched the flesh rip around the nails in his hands and feet as he pulled upward to get his next breath of air. As He tried to push upward with His legs I noticed that they were out of socket and that the skin around the knee was bent out of shape and stretched. Through my tears I noticed His arms elongated because they too were out of socket. Then I watched as my Savior hadn't moved for quite some time. His head was loose, the blood had dried, His mouth was open, and His tongue cleaved to His jaw. His eyes were welded shut by dried blood. He moved. It looked like this was His last breath. Sure enough, one more time He pulled Himself up, and with that final breath he spoke his last words upon the cross: "It is finished."

This was the moment when His heart literally burst or "exploded" because of my sin. Then came the Roman soldier to break His legs in order that He wouldn't be able to push up to get another breath - this would speed up the death process. But he did not break His legs because he appeared to be dead. Instead, he thrust a spear into the side of His dead body; and out of the wound came pouring both water and blood. The only way that water and blood could mix in the body is if the heart were to explode first. Through my tears I trembled just to think that He did all this - for me.

Elizabeth A.H. John. Storms Brewed in Other Men's Worlds. College Station: Texas A&M University Press, 1975.

Under the circumstances, it was natural for the bureaucrat to feel somewhat touchy. He outranked the other man. It was natural to be jealous of what was, at best, a weakening of his authority in an area clearly under his command. But the letter was quite pointed. It reminded him that, should he be unable to cooperate, resignations had to be submitted in triplicate. There was nothing subtle about it.

The situation sounds remarkably contemporary. But the bureaucrat involved was Don Domingo Cabello y Robles, freshly appointed Governor of Texas, and the letter was dated June 20, 1779. Cabello did manage to cooperate with Athanasie de Mezieres, and Texas benefited from their combined talents in handling "the Indian Problem." That problem was already almost 240 years old and would persist for almost another 100 years, although the book does not go beyond 1795. The curious mixture of very familiar situations and an archaic/exotic time makes a fascinating book. There is, literally, a cast of thousands -- Spaniards, French, Karankawas, Lipans, Comanches, Tiwas, Pueblo Indians, Hopi and dozens more. The area which would some day be Donley County was center stage, but the set is so large that it is little noticed, for the right edge is the eastern boundary of Louisiana and the left is the Pacific ocean. Events were recorded in settled areas like Nacogdoches, San Antonio and Santa Fe, but the violence and pressure often occurred in the area between those towns and to the north. Had a European observer lived here on the Salt Fork of the Red River, what would he have written in those 300 years?

If there had ever been a static situation among the precolumbian inhabitants of North America, it was long gone by the time Europeans ventured into the Texas/New Mexico area. The introduction of horses, new diseases and (later) firearms created an unstable and ever-evolving situation in the middle of North America. Events in Canada or Mexico had unexpected, even unknown, repercussions half a continent away. When Europeans began to displace native populations on the Atlantic, the evicted tended to displace others in a tribal chain reaction. The people caught in center of the chaos had not developed the ability to write, but they were neither stupid nor ignorant. They interacted with Spanish and French officials whose duties often required them to keep records of everything they heard. From those records Elizabeth John created an meticulous account of tumultuous times. Fortunately that account preserves much of the personality of the very human characters involved. Despite the barriers of culture and language, they are real people.

The book is not light reading in either content or style, but it is hard to put down. It is us in other skins and other times.

Storms Brewed in Other Men's Worlds can be found in the Clarendon library. Call number is T/978/366.

IT'S A FACT!

A large, round wooden cask used for storing and aging tobacco is called a hogshead. Tobacco leaves are aged for about two years.

The country that grows the most tobacco is China. America's leading exporter of tobacco products is Philip Morris, which is also the largest consumer products company in the United States.

These facts come from the Philip Morris Trivia Game.

Watt's Happening in Hedley

by Peggy Watt

Walter Johnson escaped serious injury Friday when a falling drill hit him on the head as he was working on a windmill. He received a bad bruise, a bump on his head and a black eye from the ordeal. He'll be as good as new in a few days, we hope.

Earl and Sharon Wheatly attended the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association convention in San Antonio last week.

Mother, Su-San and I returned home Tuesday evening from our little jaunt to Oklahoma. We visited with some of mother's relatives in Vian and Claremore, Oklahoma. We also visited the Cherokee museum, the headquarters of the Cherokee Nation, and the Bureau of Indian Affairs in Talaquah, the Will Rogers Museum in Tulsa and several other sights of interest. Well, maybe they weren't actually sights of interest to anyone except an Indian, but they were of interest to me. Mother is at least 1/4 Cherokee and I'm very interested in my Indian heritage. We were able to trace our Indian lineage back to an ancestor in 1624, when the first Indian census was taken. I'm not sure if the Mullins' were on the Mayflower, but the Indians certainly met the boat.

Dean Hill came home from St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo where she underwent strenuous tests early last week. Her daughters, Sue Pinkerton of Dallas and Neva Lewis of Quanah came to be with Dean and Red during this time.

W.P. Doherty is in Hall County Hospital. According to my source of information, which isn't too reliable, he enjoyed the company of the hula girls in Hawaii while he was supposed to be visiting Scott.

Pie Adamson of Canadian was at the morning worship services at the Methodist Church Sunday morning. It was good to have her home. Everyone misses her.

Dannie Bernardin suffered bad bruises when she took a fall in Memphis the latter part of last week. She didn't have any broken bones, but is sore and still.

Gary and Janice Alexander, Sherrie, Angie and Donna of Memphis, Gene and Pete Floyd of Panhandle, joined Ronnie and Janie Hill, Jennifer and Jana at their mother, Mrs. Jeannette Floyd's house Sunday. When I talked to Janice, they were expecting Pat Peters of Arkansas momentarily.

Alice Paschal of Amarillo, Barbara Owens of Tulsa, Oklahoma, and Carroll and Marsha Favor spent the weekend at Giles with their parents Edwin and Ethel Favor. Barbara's son, Michael came with her.

Joyce Boliver spent last week in Amarillo with her children, Jimmy and Sharon Boliver and Angie. Angie was enjoying her spring break from school and Joyce stayed with her while her parents were at their jobs.

Terry Delores Simpson, Jody and Deena of Klondyke, Texas spent part of last week with her parents, Sam and Flora Sanders. Flora's sister, Joy Thomas of Tulsa came with them. They spent most of their time in Wellington with Flora's other sister, Roberta Ryan, who is seriously ill in Collingsworth General Hospital.

Callie Stephens is home from St. Anthony's hospital in Amarillo where she underwent tests. When I talked to her, she told me there was nothing seriously wrong with her.

Ernie and Glenda Perhan of Dumas came Saturday and brought her son, Glenn Green to spend his spring break with us. He's about the same age as Guy and they've already had a good time. He's learned to drive Guy's tractor and help with the cattle and he gathers the eggs about every half hour.

Junior and Betty Gilchrist and Paul and Sharon Ferguson dined at the DeVille Restaurant in Memphis Friday evening. They had intended to go to Ray's and Gay's for the fish, but were too late. I think almost everyone in the county goes there on Friday evening. If we dined out, which we don't, and liked fish, which we don't, we might dine there some day. On the rare occasion that we do eat out, we usually go to the Country Kitchen in Clarendon.

Beulah and D.K. Hall have had their children and other relatives visiting lately. Beulah is still in casts on both her arms. Truett and Fern Hall of Clarendon, Radell and Elizabeth Sanders, Gene Sanders of Amarillo, and Bill and Rosalee Sanders of Borger have all been here. Of course Royce and Thelma Hall of Clarendon and Miss Alma Hall of Amarillo are frequent visitors. Lester and Louella Myers of Amarillo, Zelma Pendleton of Stamford, and Jophene Foster of Memphis have visited also. Beulah will go to the doctor Wednesday and hopefully she'll get her casts off then.

Gail Johnson and Kevin accompanied Mrs. Louise Long to Borger Saturday to visit her daughter Ruby Kunc. Ruby underwent surgery there recently and is recuperating at home. She's going back to the hospital for further treatments.

Richard Ward came for his wife, Betty, who has been at her parents home recuperating from surgery in Lubbock. Bob and Jane Long enjoyed having Betty and Jane said she hoped the next time she was feeling better so they could get out more. Shawn Long of Ulysses, Kansas also visited Jane and Bob. He intended to spend his spring break with them, but had a new job and couldn't get any time off yet.

Milissa Beasley and Benjamin of Decatur visited her Hedley grandparents, Clyde and Mildred Hoggard Wednesday and Thursday of last week. Candi Hoggard spent Thursday and Friday nights with Clyde and Mildred. Bobby came and got her and left Bill and his friend Jerry Stegall for the rest of the weekend.

Mike Johnson of Lawndale, California, Kermit and Dorothy Hopper of Lelia Lake joined Johnny and Eddie Fisher and Nookie and Geraldine Wiggins and Phillip at Mrs. Nell Land's home for lunch Sunday.

James Roy and Mary Virginia Hoggatt of Amarillo spent their spring break with their Hedley grandparents, Bud and Betty Hoggatt. They took them home Saturday and helped Mary Katherine hang her curtains and other little jobs that lacked doing after their move from Tulsa to Amarillo.

J.C. and Helen Upton and Casey and Mike and Debbie Pace, Stephanie and Julia visited their grandmother, Mrs. Ruby McKee Sunday.

Darrell Holland accompanied Calvin to Houston to the Shrine Orthopedic Hospital for medical treatment last week. He got a good report and if he continues to improve, he won't have to go back for a year.

Doyle Messer helped with the milk judging contest held at Clarendon College Saturday. I wonder how many milk judging contests he's taken part in during the last 30 years.

Jim and Nelda Hudson of Amarillo spent the weekend with her mother, Mrs. Lillie Messer.

Kathy Richardson of Lawton, Oklahoma visited her parents, Virgil and Opal McPherson over the weekend. They went to Amarillo to see her daughter, Sandy and Sherrie Rogers while she was here.

James Edward and Timber Lee Potts and James Lee visited her mother, Betty Dwight and brother Paul, Danny, and Kirk and their wives over the weekend.

Berle Owens lunched with his mother, Mrs. Cassie Owens Saturday.

Tige and Jonnie Hill, Dorothy Brinson, Jonnie Wilson, Nell Land, Eddie Fisher, and Ruth McKay attended the Clarendon Eastern Star Friendship Night Thursday evening. I would have gone, but since the one act play was held at the same time, I couldn't be in two places at the same time.

There was a good crowd of Hedley folks to give the cast and crew of the one act play their moral support. I saw Buford and Jerry Holland, Don and Emma Lou Bramblett, Cheryl Pickard, Karen Noble, Lyndon Messer, Regina Monroe, T. and Nancy Mullins, Lola Brown, Helen Crump and Kim, and of course Evelyn Messer. Guy went with them.

The Chancel Choir of the United Methodist Church in Clarendon presented the cantata "The Splendor of Easter" for the Hedley United Methodist Church Sunday morning. Directed by Debbie Roberts and narrated by David Davidson, the soloist was Gala Davidson. She is a former director of music at the Hedley church and has a beautiful voice. I know everyone who heard the music enjoyed it. I know I did. I always enjoy it when someone else comes to sing. We're in for a treat again next Sunday. Susan Cosby of Tulsa will be singing. She has a standing invitation to sing whenever she is in Hedley.

We Methodists enjoyed the joint monthly service the Baptists Sunday evening. Our preacher, Rev. James Carter preached there. Jon Leggett and Pat Knowles sang a beautiful song. Just before the services began, a youth group from the Emanuel Baptist Church of Duncan, Oklahoma came in. They were passing on their way skiing. Rev. Jeff and Rhonda Byrne, Youth Director Billy and Vici-Beth Morgan, were accompanied by Todd Epperly, Cathy Bradley, James Dodd, Tyra Aldridge, Eugene Howland, Debra Hammond, Leona Jones, Lance Carver, Wendy Woody, Cheryl Smith, Breit McEntire, Brian Stevens, Brent Cloyd, Marqueta Shafer, Donette Wisley, Kandyce Gibbs, Melissa Wilson, Cheryl James, and Mike Brown.

4-H JUNIOR II CLOTHING PROJECT

The Junior II Clothing group met March 13. Refreshments were served and upcoming events discussed. Then we took a tour at Denise's Cloth Shop where Denise showed us the difference in fabrics in her shop. We also had a scavenger hunt where we each had to find 4 items in the shop.

We set up Monday, March 17 to visit the college where Mrs. James will show us about hair and hand care.

Those present were Kimberly Altman, Suzzette Henson, Megan Williams, Rhonda Mabry, Lori Quesenberry, Mandy Sliker, Elizabeth McAnear, and Sheri Hall.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:

TECAT is over, and I am confident that I passed. My concern is that the citizens of Donley County will forget that the rights of 210,000 teachers and administrators were abused by an overly ambitious governor and an ill-advised legislature. I believe Sam Houston would turn over in his grave if he knew how little regard had been paid to that section of the Texas Constitution which says, "No bill of attainder or ex post facto law, retroactive law, or any law impairing the obligation of contracts shall be made" (Article I-Bill of Rights, Section 16). Article I, Section 29 further states, "To guard against transgressions of the high powers being delegated, we declare that everything in this 'Bill of Rights' is excepted out of the general powers of government, and shall forever inviolate, and all laws contrary thereto, or to the following provisions, shall be void."

Webster's Third New International Dictionary defines ex post facto as "Done, made, or formulated after the fact and on the basis of current premises, conditions, or knowledge." The term ex post facto law is defined as "a civil or criminal law enacted with retrospective effect."

My "Texas Teacher Certificate" plainly states, "This certifies that Helen Arline Estlack has fulfilled the requirements of state law and the regulations of the State Board of Education and is hereby authorized to perform duties as designated below," and it goes on to list a description of my certificates as "Professional High School - English (08-13-76) and Provisional High School - English (08-13-81)." Both certificates were issued for "Life."

If Mark White can tamper with teacher certification by requiring another test after lifetime certification has been granted, who might be next on his list to take a one-time test to determine eligibility to continue a profession? Could he even go so far as to revoke high school diplomas or college degrees until another test is passed? Since he has such a low regard for the quality of education which teachers have received as well as for the competency of high school graduates, I would not think it impossible that he might try.

Not only has Mark White violated the rights of Texas educators, but he has also encroached upon the rights of all Texas citizens when he lobbied successfully for an appointed State Board of Education. Whatever the merit of an appointed board might be, it remains a fact that the citizens of Texas have been denied an established right of choice. He has said that he only plans to appoint the board for four years and then return the right to vote for it to the people of Texas. Is this not further evidence that he puts his own opinion above that of the citizens of Texas? Who is to say that he will actually relinquish that power at the end of four years?

And who can say what an appointed board under such a governor will decree? So far, we have (1) "no pass-no play," (2) a limit on unexcused absences, (3) a rule that states that no child can be passed to the next grade if he has failed even one subject, (4) a proposal to abolish vocation programs, (5) a proposal to bring private schools under the same rules as public schools, (6) a controversial discipline plan, (7) a proposal to overhaul higher education as they have done with public schools, and (8) competency testing of teachers who have already earned certification. Regardless of whether one favored teacher testing or thought it a waste of time and money, the real issue is the loss of local control over educational policy, which amounts to an attempt to abridge our rights as parents and citizens.

Indeed, I can not imagine that the people of the great state of Texas, especially in this Sesquicentennial Year of Texas Independence, would permit a governor to continue to disregard those rights which Texans fought so hard to earn 150 years ago. The lesson we should all learn from this thing is that freedom can never be taken for granted. If it be denied one group, one person, or even one teacher, the door is open to further disregard for the legal rights of everyone. We must take every means to keep vigilant watch over our constitutional rights and to protect them from any foe.

Sincerely,
Helen Estlack
Teacher

Clarendon Junior High School P.S. On Monday night after we had taken the TECAT, Mark White stated on national television (Ted Koppel's Nightline) that next he intends to test teachers in their subject areas. Where will this end? What will it cost Texas taxpayers?

The total cost of the 4-day camp is $59.00. This includes all meals, lodging, refreshments and limited accident insurance coverage.

Dates are: July 6-9 (ages 9-11), July 9-12 (ages 9-11), July 13-16 (ages 12-14), July 16-19 (ages 12-14).

Whatever camp is chosen, each camper will receive a letter from the Center at least 2 weeks before camp. It will contain specific information regarding equipment and other articles to bring, maps, times of arrival, etc.

For more information, come by the Extension office in the old courthouse or call Terry Floyd at 874-2141.

NOTICE OF EXPLANATION ON FLOOD PLAINS AND WETLANDS
City of Clarendon

To all interested agencies, groups and persons:

The City of Clarendon proposes to use Federal funds provided under Title I of the Housing and Urban Development Act of 1974, as amended, for the following project in an area which is included in the 100 year flood plain:

WATER IMPROVEMENTS - This project is required to provide adequate water supply and fire protection to Target Area residences which currently lack such protection. The project calls for looped lines and fire hydrants to place every residence in the neighborhood within 500 feet of a "rated" fire hydrant. One location for which this project is planned is located in the 100 year flood plain, specifically:

Alley [between McClelland and Goodnight] White St. to Front St.

The proposed improvements will conform to applicable State flood plain protection standards. The proposed action will not affect natural or beneficial flood plain values as most of the project is replacement of existing lines.

It is the City's finding that the proposed project cannot be undertaken in any other location and therefore, there is no practicable alternative to the proposed project. Failure to provide these improvements will result in the continued deterioration and blight of a low/moderate income area of the City of Clarendon. It is the City's judgment that the continued viability of this low/moderate income area outweighs consideration of Executive Order 11988.

A more detailed description of this project and the Flood Insurance Rate Map (FIRM) is available for citizen review at the City Secretary's office at City Hall, 119 Sully Street, between the hours of 9:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday. Comments on this project in relation to Executive Order 11988 will be considered until April 15, 1986. The Chief Executive Officer of the City of Clarendon is James Kahn, Mayor.

Check alfalfa for weevils

This is the time when producers need to examine their alfalfa for the presence of alfalfa weevil larvae, cautions Ronald Gooch, Donley County Extension Agent.

Unseasonably warm weather has resulted in heavy infestations of alfalfa weevils appearing earlier than normal this spring.

With the beginning of warm spring weather, overwintering female weevils begin laying eggs. The young larvae which hatch out are very small, yellow-green in color and feed in the growing tips and developing buds. Older larvae are green with a white stripe down their back.

If larvae numbers are high enough to reach the economic threshold, one properly timed application should give control. Treatments should be applied in alfalfa two to six inches tall when two or more larvae are found per plant or when 30 to 50 percent of the plant terminals show weevil feeding damage. Plants 7 to 14 inches tall should be treated when 25 or more weevil larvae per square foot are present. Several effective insecticides are registered for alfalfa weevil control.

The alfalfa weevil has only one generation per year and is only a pest of first cutting, said Gooch. After the larvae finish feeding, usually by mid May in our area, the larva spins a net-like cocoon on the plant or in the soil debris. The adult weevil emerges from this cocoon and leaves the field. The weevils stay out of the alfalfa all summer and re-enter them in the fall. The adults overwinter in the field and the cycle then repeats itself.

Since the larvae are a pest of first cutting, it is sometimes possible to cut a little earlier than usual and avoid chemical treatments. Cutting results in exposure and a lack of food which kills many of the remaining larvae. Winter grazing by livestock helps reduce weevil populations, the county agent said.

WTU asking for refund to customers

West Texas Utilities Company's retail customers should see another decrease in their electric bills soon if the Public Utility Commission of Texas approves a request filed Monday in Austin. WTU is asking permission to refund to customers a total of $9.3 million in retail revenues collected in excess of actual fuel costs, and to lower its fuel charge rate. The total includes $9,146,092 in actual fuel cost savings which have accumulated since the current fuel rate for WTU was set by the PUC last August, plus $215,837 in interest.

This would be the second time within a year for WTU to make a refund and to lower its fuel cost factor. Over $16 million was refunded in August 1985.

If a reduction in its fuel rates, technically known as the Interim Quarterly Fixed Fuel Factor, is approved, WTU officials estimate the fuel cost charges to its customers will drop by 8.2 per cent during the three month quarter beginning in May.

The due amounts on customer bills include both fuel costs and base rates. Utility companies are not allowed to make money on fuel. WTU has had no change in its base rates since 1984.

Under WTU's proposal, all existing retail customers would receive refunds through one-time credits to their bills in the billing month of May, except for seasonal cotton gin customers, who would receive their refunds in December.

A typical residential customer would receive refunds of $22.

Glen D. Churchill, WTU president and chief executive officer, said this refund, as well as the one made last year is necessary because of a softer fuel market and the fixed factor method of collecting for fuel costs.

The present method was ordered by the PUC after the Public Utility Regulator Act was amended in 1983. Previously, an automatic fuel adjustment clause matched fuel billings to fuel expense each month. These immediate adjustments prevented over-recoveries and made refunds unnecessary.

Churchill said WTU's fuel costs have declined two years in a row.

"This reflects our successful efforts to purchase natural gas at lower prices to the extent possible, and to take advantage of declining prices," he said.

"Also, we had substantial benefits from lower fuel costs associated with power purchased over our system's high voltage direct current tie with Public Service Company of Oklahoma, which now has been in operation for a full year."

Natural gas is the principal fuel for all of WTU's eight major power generating stations. In recent years, fuel costs have amounted to more than half of WTU's total operating costs, but have dropped from an all-time high of $3.18 per million BTU in 1983 to $2.55 in 1985.
