Personnel at each location will continue as they are now. The Boards agreed the merger would be in the best interest of each bank and the area served. In the past, both banks have been dedicated to serving the customers and citizens of Collingsworth and Donley counties. Community Bank will continue this service and will be better equipped to meet customers' present and future needs.

While the bank will be renamed Community Bank in order to more typically describe their service mission, all current checks and deposit slips of City State and Security State may be used until that supply is depleted. Community Bank will be on all new orders after the merger has been completed.

City State Bank in Wellington and Security State Bank in Hedley are presently owned by Security Bankshares, Inc., a bank holding company. The majority interest of Security Bankshares, Inc. was acquired on June 20, 1989 by Don Donaldson of Wellington, Texas and John F. Kane of Bartlesville, Oklahoma.

Donaldson concluded by saying, "the personnel and directors of each bank are very encouraged and are looking forward to the opportunities and benefits this merger will present to both communities."

Aid Program Is A Big Winner

"The men and women who settled the High Plains nearly a century ago understood the importance of neighbors helping neighbors during hard times. This spirit of neighbor-helping-neighbor is evident today in the participation of the Golden Spread Farmers Market Association in a program to benefit needy mothers and children in the Amarillo area," Deputy State Agriculture Commissioner Mike Moeller said here today.

Moeller, himself a farmer and rancher in Central Texas, made the comments at a news conference held at the Golden Spread Farmers Market. Moeller was joined by representatives of the Bi-City County Health Department.

"The Golden Spread Farmers Market, in cooperation with the Texas Department of Agriculture and the Texas Department of Health, is participating in a unique effort called the Texas Farmers Market Coupon Program. Other TDA-assisted markets participating in the program are located in Austin, Beaumont, Corsicana, Del Rio, El Paso, Hillsboro, Lufkin, Paris, San Antonio, and Sherman-Denison. This program was made possible by the passage of the Farmers Market Nutrition Act earlier this year by the Texas Legislature.

"The Farmers Market Nutrition Act authorizes the state of Texas to spend $178,628 to help needy mothers purchase fresh fruits and vegetables from these 11 TDA-assisted farmers markets. The state contribution is matched by a federal grant of $416,800. The federal funds are the result of congressional approval of the Hunger Prevention Act of 1988. The late Texas Congressman Mickey Leland sponsored the Farmers Market Nutrition Enhancement Act, part of the Hunger Prevention Act of 1988, which makes $8.3 million in federal funds available for farmers markets over the next three years in 10 states to provide assistance to recipients in the Women-Infants-Children (WIC) nutrition program. This program represents part of Leland's legacy of hope for hungry children from the Texas Panhandle to parched areas of East Africa," Moeller said.

"The Texas Farmers Market Coupon Program is simple in both theory and practice. WIC clients in the Amarillo area are being issued $20 in coupons for use only at the Golden Spread Farmers Market. The coupons are treated as cash by farmers, and the farmers are later reimbursed through the Texas Department of Health. TDA is also providing materials to local health officials to educate mothers about the nutritional benefits of adding fresh produce to their families' diets.

"The coupon program in Amarillo is being coordinated by the Texas Department of Health and the Bi-City County Health Department with assistance from the Texas Department of Agriculture. A total of $50,300 in coupon vouchers is available from three clinics operated by the Bi-City County Health Department for use by more than 2,500 WIC clients in the Amarillo area. The Texas Department of Health reports that about 63 percent of the coupons issued this summer have already been redeemed by area farmers. The coupons can be used by WIC clients until September 30," Moeller said.

"The need for initiatives such as the Texas Farmers Market Coupon Program has never been greater in Texas. Nearly four million people in this state require some form of food assistance, and an estimated 800,000 Texans go hungry at some point during the month. More than one million of those hungry Texans have been added to the poverty rolls since 1981. These poor Texans include family farmers, oil field workers, small business operators, senior citizens and others who were once self-sufficient middle-class citizens.

"We already know that the Texas Farmers Market Coupon Program is a practical and cost effective way to help those most in need. TDA launched a pilot project in San Antonio last fall in cooperation with the San Antonio Farmers Market Association, the San Antonio Metro Health District and TDH. We raised almost $45,000 in foundation and corporation contributions, and the San Antonio project provided food assistance to 3,600 WIC clients in Bexar County. More than 85 percent of the coupons issued in Bexar County were redeemed by area farmers.

"Previous studies indicate some WIC mothers have insufficient funds to buy enough food to last the month, and the diets of needy families are frequently lacking in vitamins A and C. The Farmers Market Coupon Program will make a dramatic improvement in the diets of WIC families while encouraging WIC mothers to make fresh produce a permanent part of their families' diets. According to a study by the Harvard School of Public Health, each dollar we spend on WIC saves $3 dollars in later medical expenses," Moeller said.

"The Farmers Market Coupon Program is also a big winner for area farmers who sell through the market. The program offers farmers a steady source of income and exposure to a sizeable group of new customers. According to survey results from the pilot project in San Antonio, the majority of WIC mothers had never shopped at a farmers market before. However, nearly 80 percent of the WIC mothers surveyed in San Antonio say they will continue to shop at farmers markets, and another study found that WIC mothers spend an additional $4 for every $10 in coupons used at farmers markets. The new business generated by the Texas Farmers Market Coupon Program could make the difference between success and failure for some small farmers, and the added cash flow generated by this program will be felt throughout the Panhandle communities where these farmers live. In essence, this program feeds two families for the price of one," Moeller said.

Watch For Pneumonia in Calves

Pneumonia in calves can be greatly accelerated during the fall season, particularly with viruses, bacteria and other germs present.

Stress factors contributing to pneumonia include weaning, hunger, thirst, castration, dehorning, adverse weather, abusive handling, shipping, fatigue and mixing with other cattle said Tim Trimble, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Viruses involved are IBR, PI3, BVD, reoviruses, rhinoviruses, adenoviruses, herpes viruses and syncytial viruses. Bacteria types include pasteurilla and hemophilus and other dangerous germs are chlamydia, micoplasma and rickettsia.

Normally healthy calves harbor germs that can cause respiratory infection. Bringing calves together from different sources results in an exchange of these germs.

Stress causes mild infections to develop into clinical disease. Calves with pneumonia generally are extremely depressed, with head down and ears drooped. The abdomen is tucked up, fever reaches 107 degrees F., breathing is difficult, and the nose is dry or has a roopy discharge. Deaths are usually sudden and unexpected.

To minimize the severity and numbers of respiratory infections in calves, Trimble recommended these practices:

- Maintain vaccination in the breeding herd.
 - Vaccinate calves at 2 to 4 months of age.
 - Vaccinate calves again 3 weeks before weaning.
 - Castrate, dehorn, brand and implant calves up to three weeks before weaning or three weeks after weaning.
 - Wait to co-mingle and ship calves three weeks after weaning.
- Producers should keep stress and exposure in calves to a minimum at all times because vaccines are not available for all times because vaccines are not available for all respiratory germs. Reduce the number of stresses at weaning time because the weaning practice is an extremely traumatic experience to a calf.

The Texas Agricultural Extension Service is cooperating with the Internal Revenue Service in offering many Tax Practitioner Workshops across the state, reports Tim Trimble. Twenty-six General Workshops will be held in all major Texas cities. The General Workshop nearest our county is in Amarillo on November 15 - 16, 1989. There will also be fifteen Advanced Workshops of fered in major cities. The General Tax Workshops will concentrate mostly on personal taxes - the Advanced Workshops' emphasis will be on business tax problems.

In addition to the General and Advanced Tax Workshops, there will be four Partnership Taxation Workshops, four Estate Planning Workshops, four Problem Resolution Workshops, three Income Taxation of Trusts and Estates, and two Agricultural Problem Workshops.

The Tax Practitioner educational program has been highly successful. Last year about 5,500 people participated in the state-wide series. These practitioners reported filing more than 615,000 tax returns. For additional information, please contact the Extension Office.

Bronco Project

With the remodeling of the old College Building to be the new High School, Bronco Mothers are undertaking a new project. To help create some school pride, school spirit, and enthusiasm in our school system, our project will be a "Bronco" to be laid in the floor of terrazzo. This "Bronco" will not be walked on by anyone.

In order to be able to accomplish this, we welcome donations from clubs, organizations or any interested person. An October Fun Fest Carnival, sponsored by Bronco Mothers will help offset some of the cost. With your help and lots of hard work we are determined to reach our goal which is $2000.00. To make a contribution, contact Betty Phillips at 874-3760 or Jo Ann Brown at the Donley County Bank.

4-H Week of Oct. 1-7

The week of October 1 - 7, 1989, has been designated as National 4-H Week.

Donley County has some one hundred and ninety-five 4-H members who are among more than 388,000 in Texas and 4.5 million across the nation who will participate in this annual youth celebration.

As we observe National 4-H Week, we recognize that the program is truly a people development program, said Cheryl Pickard, county 4-H program coordinator with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The agency is the parent organization of 4-H.

The program assists youth in developing skills that will be useful in the real world, Mrs. Pickard said.

Program concepts help boys and girls discover their strengths and weaknesses, and exposes them to activities in a variety of career fields. Additionally, 4-H helps them build positive self-concepts for directing their lives, while learning and having fun as well. Families can add to the fun by learning and growing together.

Volunteer leaders assisting in the 4-H program also learn new skills while sharing their expertise with young people.

Through a valuable network of volunteer leaders, state landgrant universities, state and local governments and the U. S. Department of Agriculture, 4-H continues to stimulate youth to develop life skills and explore many career options. About seventy-five adult volunteer leaders work with 4-H boys and girls in Donley County through three different 4-H clubs.

The 4-H'ers can choose from some seventy different project and program areas designed to help them prepare for the future.

As part of National 4-H Week in Donley County, the organization will hold its annual Achievement Banquet, Saturday, October 7, 1989, at 7:30 p.m., in the Clarendon School Cafeteria. An all-you-can-eat barbecue dinner will be available at a cost of $4.25 per person. Leaders and 4-H'ers who have excelled in the Donley County program over the past years will be recognized. The Donley County Cloggers will be on hand to provide entertainment.

Everyone in the community is invited to attend. Please call the Extension office (874-2141) before 5 p.m., October 5, 1989, to make reservations to attend.

Attention 4-H'ers

All 4-H members should be at the Clarendon School Cafeteria at 9:00 a.m. on Saturday, October 7, 1989, to decorate for the Achievement Banquet. This should not take very long if everyone pitches in to help.

Will you help me feed a hungry child?

Dear Friends & Neighbors of Clarendon and Donley County,

I am enrolled as a student at West Texas State University. One of the requirements in my Sociology class is that each student "adopt" a child in the country of Ethiopia and try to raise enough money to feed that child for the coming year. Every student is expected to participate in the project, but we were given a variety of fund raising methods to choose from. I chose to do the "FUN RUN"...

So, this next Sunday afternoon, October 8th, at 1:00pm I will attempt to run 5 miles (20 laps) at the Clarendon College track. You can help feed a child by pledging 50¢ per lap, for a total of $10, if I am able to complete all 20 laps. Your pledge will not only help feed a child, but it will also entitle you to the privilege of watching me run (to see if I live or die)... or you can even run with me if you so desire!

If you can help, please fill out the form below and sent it in to me this week. After my run, I (or my estate) will send you a stamped, addressed envelope so you can mail in your contribution. Your support will be greatly appreciated...

Sincerely, Philip R. Stroud

Yes, Phil, I will help you feed a child in Ethiopia with my pledge of 50¢ per lap for your "FUN RUN!" (Not to exceed 20 laps, or $10.00)

Funds Turned Over To State

State Treasurer Ann W. Richards Friday turned over $40 million in unclaimed money to state agencies to pay for schools, highways and other general state government services.

The money is from abandoned checking accounts, uncashed cashier's checks, unclaimed utility deposits and the like for which no owners could be found.

"This is one of the best sources of non-tax revenue for the state," Treasurer Richards said. "It has grown from virtually nothing in 1982 to $40 million this year and each new dollar we collect is a dollar that we don't have to collect from our taxpayers."

The state received a large amount of unclaimed property earlier this week after the Treasury sold its unclaimed stock certificates for more than $4 million.

In addition, auditors from the Treasury found $11 million in heretofore unreported unclaimed property from various businesses in the state.

Based on their job performance, the Texas State Auditor has prepared a report that shows Treasury Unclaimed Property auditors had the highest per audit hour return of any revenue collecting agency in state government.

Richards said that while she was proud of the amount of unclaimed property collected and turned over to the state, she was even more proud of the fact that the State Treasury had been able to find owners of $30 million in lost property during the last year.

"We have found more lost property for the citizens of Texas this year than the total found for all previous years prior to 1983, the first year I was in office," Richards said.

"So far this year we have written checks returning lost property to more than 16,000 Texans and we are finding more each day."

The Richards Administration has collected $273.5 million in unclaimed property in the past six years, or 86 percent of all unclaimed property collected since the unclaimed property law was passed in 1962.

Of the $114 million returned to owners during the past 27 years, the Richards Administration returned $110 million or 96 percent.

In order to find owners of lost property, state law requires the Treasury to publish a statewide listing of those persons with $50 or more of unclaimed property each March.

This year, the Treasury published a list of 110,000 names of persons with more than $60 million in lost money.

The state can use any money that remains unclaimed for general state expenses and for education. This year $20 million went to the General Revenue Fund and $20 million to the Foundation School Fund.

While the state may use money while it remains unclaimed, the owners or the owners' heirs may claim their property at any time in the future.

Battle For Crop

Cotton farmers in Donley County continue to battle for a crop. Despite early season disease problems, replanting several times, too much rain, too little rain, insects and cool weather, cotton farmers continue to battle for a chance to make a crop this year. As many problems as the cotton crop has seen, there will be a good chance that many producers will see good yields if the weather will cooperate a little longer.

The latest problem that cotton farmers are dealing with is Heliothis infestation, or better known as bollworm and tobacco budworm infestation.

Heliothis moths have been in the county since spring but numbers didn't start building up until about three weeks ago. They over-winter in the pupal stage in the soil near host plants. Adult moths emerge in early spring and will usually complete several generations on host plants other than cotton before moving into cotton. After moths move into cotton they feed on nectar then lay eggs which require two to five days to hatch. Larvae feed on fruiting forms for fourteen to eighteen days, then burrow into soil around plants and pupate where they spend twelve to eighteen days. Upon emergence as adults, moths spend two to five days feeding on nectar before egg laying begins again.

Bollworms and/or tobacco budworms can build up enough numbers that economic loss can occur. When approximately one worm for every three feet can be found in the field on forty inch rows, then there are 4356 worms per acre. Worms can damage one to two bolls each. Using an average of 1.5 the damage of 4356 worms would be 6534 bolls per acre. On the average it takes 350 bolls to make a pound of lint. With a loss of 6534 bolls per acre that equals an 18.7 pounds lint lost per acre. At $.60 cot ton, this would be an approximate loss of $11.22 per acre due to worm damage. Of course, this is just an example but it does show that it does not take very many worms to cause heavy crop damage and losses, but there are often more variables than those mentioned that will affect these calculations.

Many fields in the county have been sprayed for worms and according to Emory Boring III, Extension Entomologist, the recent cool weather should slow moth egg laying. But warm temperatures will be needed throughout September and part of October to help the cotton mature. If warm temperatures are seen, then farmers should be watching closely for worm problems.

Tobacco Use Poses Risks For Teenagers

A new Texas law is a step toward preventing drug addiction, lung cancer, and other diseases related to tobacco use, according to the Texas Medical Association. Effective September 1, the law makes purchasing tobacco products a crime for persons younger than 18.

That law, however, isn't enough to stop teenagers before they become addicted to tobacco products. Parents are urged to teach elementary school students about the dangers of using tobacco products and to enforce strict rules against tobacco use among teenagers.

Many factors contribute to tobacco use among adolescents. Peer pressure is the most important factor, although use by parents and other family members gives children a positive image of smoking even before they start school. Teenagers believe smoking makes them appear grown up.

Many teens don't take the health threats of tobacco use seriously because they believe they can quit whenever they want, thus reducing the health risks. The addictive power of nicotine, however, makes quitting extremely difficult. Studies show that 85 percent of teenagers who smoke two or more cigarettes completely—and overcome the initial discomfort of smoking—will become regular smokers.

Early adolescents are most at risk for starting the smoking habit. Studies show the tendency to smoke climbs steadily from 12 to 16 years old, then declines. Smoking rarely begins after age 20.

Tobacco is second to alcohol among the substances most used by 12- to 17-year-olds in Texas, according to a 1988 survey by the Texas Commission on Alcohol and Drug Abuse. Although the survey showed tobacco use has dropped slightly among Texas adolescents since 1980, 5 percent of high school seniors say they smoke more than half a pack a day. One alarming trend is the rising use of tobacco among young women, which has gone from half that of males in 1980 to the same level as males in 1988.

Smokeless tobacco, widely advertised in recent years, is not without risks either. Snuff users expose their mouth and gums to powerful carcinogens, and some researchers predict an epidemic of oral cancer by the turn of the century. Large amounts of sugar and sodium in smokeless tobacco also are associated with periodontic disease and high blood pressure.

The risks of tobacco use far outweigh any benefits. The Texas Medical Association hopes Texas' new law will begin to curb the problem among teenagers.

The Texas Medical Association is a professional organization of more than 29,000 physician and medical student members. It is based in Austin and has 116 component medical societies around the state. The Association represents 80 percent of the state's physicians and its goal is to improve the health of Texans through the professional and personal development of members.

Riding Out A Hurricane in 1875

Nowadays when tropical storms strike the Gulf Coast, residents have the choice of either fleeing inland or staying home to ride out the tempests. The option of escaping the storms is comparatively new. Only in recent years have weather forecasts been able to warn people that hurricanes were coming so that they could get out of harm's way.

Throughout the nineteenth century, hurricanes caught Gulf Coast residents without the warnings we now take for granted. This is precisely what happened to Aransas Pass harbor pilot John T. Mercer and his family in Sept. 1875.

Fortunately for us, Mercer kept a detailed daily journal. Five of its volumes, covering the years from 1866 to 1881, are preserved on microfilm at the Corpus Christi Public Library. They tell us much about life on the Texas Gulf Coast over a century ago, and they include a running narrative of events at Aransas Pass during one particular storm.

Mercer began his journal entry for Thurs., Sept. 16, 1875, early in the morning. At 1 o'clock a.m., he wrote, "All hands got up. The wind blowing fearful from the north northwest." As the day progressed, the weather didn't improve.

In the darkness of the early morning hours, Mercer's sons went down to the bay and retrieved their rowboats. Later they tied them to a blacksmith shop building to keep them from being dashed to pieces by the wind. Already storm-buffed vessels in the harbor were dragging anchor, some of them washing ashore.

"The Bessie lays on her side," Mercer wrote, describing one of the wind-battered vessels he saw. "She appears to be fast to her anchor (and) she is catching fits. The Farwell is out of sight."

At home earnest preparations were under way for the worst should the storm bring it. "Ned and Tom filled everything that would hold water, for fear the tide would get in the wells," Mercer penned.

Neither men nor animals could escape the fury of the winds. "Several chickens had the life blown out of them, roosting in the trees," Mercer wrote.

It was hopeless for Mercer to try to cook the dead birds. He complained on the pages of the diary, "We tried to make a fire in the house, but the rain came down the chimney and put it out." Cooking was out of the question.

Despite the high winds and torrential rains, members of the harbor pilot's household continually attempted to secure their own and others' vessels in the harbor. One ship named the Doaga broke loose from its moorings, and several of the men went out in dinghies to try to save it. "They taken the ballast out of her and moored her with part of it," Mercer scribbled, adding, "They had quite a job of it."

By 6 o'clock on the evening of the storm, Mercer was able to note in his journal that the wind was finally abating and the tide was falling. "I made out to make a fire in the house," he wrote. At least there would be a hot supper.

The Clarendon Press

After the meal, the diarist recorded, "All hands feel tired and wet," and everybody was headed for bed by 7 p.m.

Concluding his diary entry for the day of the storm, Mercer observed, "This days beats anything for high water since the flood. All well, nobody hurt, thanks God."

August Highway Statistics Released

Capt. Rusty Davis, District Supervisor of the Amarillo Highway Patrol District comprising of 31 counties said, "For the month of August, our troopers investigated 6 fatal accidents, 83 personal injury accidents, and 110 property damage accidents. There were 7 persons killed and 148 persons injured in these accidents."

Sgt. Mike Thomson of Clarendon stated, "In Donley county, our troopers investigated 1 fatal accident, 1 personal injury accident, and 5 property damage accidents in the month of August. Two people were killed and 3 persons were injured in these accidents."

The second meeting was held on September 12. Officers were elected and are as follows: President - Jimmy Hobbs; Vice President - Tully Leffew; Recording Secretary - Christie Helms; Treasurer - Andrea Edwards; Parliamentarian - Tammie Stegall; Reporter - Danny Smith; and Historians - Tessa Fletcher, and Amy Pinson.

Topics discussed included fundraisers, future meetings, and a car bash. The FTA Car Bash will be held after the Pep Rally, Friday at Thriftway. The car was generously donated by McKinney's Motors. The FTA would like to thank McKinney's for the generous donation.

The FTA members traveled to Suthpens in Amarillo for a seminar and banquet, September 23. The installation ceremony of District officers was held.

Clarendon's officers, Tully Leffew (Vice President) and Kelly Edwards (Financial Secretary) were recognized and installed as officers in District XVI. Several topics were discussed such as contests, the State Convention, officer duties, and the District Convention.

The meeting held on September 26 was used to discuss point systems and fundraisers. There were many suggestions and the FTA has planned many fundraisers for the future. The Clarendon FTA is going very strong and has many ideas for the future.

Coupons Coming

The Clarendon/Donley County Chamber of Commerce is preparing coupons for participating merchants to help attract customers into Clarendon that would not otherwise have come. The coupons will be given out with Greenbelt Lake permits, hunting licenses and fishing licenses. They offer inducements to get people into local stores.

The coupons measure approximately 2 1/4 inches by 4 1/2 inches. The Clarendon Press agreed to donate the typesetting to the Chamber. Clarendon Office Supply gave the cheapest bid on printing. Any merchant who wants to participate may do so by calling the Chamber of Commerce. The cost will be $6 per thousand coupons.

Thank You

We wish to express our heartfelt thanks for all the acts of kindness extended to us while Alexander was in the Neonatal Unit at Northwest Texas Hospital. We are very appreciative to the entire staff in the Neonatal Unit for the excellent care given Alexander while there.

The deeds were many, whether it was money, prayers, flowers, calls, thoughts or visits. We appreciate your support. At times like this, we realize friends are many and how priceless they are.

Please continue to remember Alexander and us, his family in your prayers.
