Abusive and Disorderly Soldiers Clash

TRINIDAD, Col., April 4.—A clash has occurred between soldiers of the regular army and members of the state militia. Two companies of the Fifth cavalry, United States army, arrived here en route overland to Fort Apache from Fort Logan. Several of their officers were entertained by Major Hill, commanding the National guardsmen. During this time a number of regulars came into the city on leave of absence. They came upon the patrol of militia and began hurling epithets at them.

Captain Scholz of the state guards happened on the scene and ordered a sergeant to arrest one of the most abusive of the regulars. The latter's companions prevented the sergeant from carrying out the order, and at the same time drawing their sixshooters and surrounding the patrol. Scholz hurriedly dispatched a messenger to the cavalry officers and Lieutenant Mosley came quickly to the scene and ordered his men to their camp.

They explained to him that they were just having a little fun with the militiamen. The matter will be investigated and the guilty ones dealt with.

National Executive Committee-man Fairley of the United Mine Workers of America has issued an open letter to the public, in which he suggests a conference of mine operators and miners for the purpose of arriving at some settlement of the differences in the southern coal fields and thereby end the strike.

The Japs Advancing.

TOKIO, April 3.—The advance guard of the Japanese army in Northwestern Korea occupied the town of Seng Cheng yesterday afternoon without opposition. Seng Cheng is on the Peking road, eighteen miles west of Chengju and about forty miles south of Wiju.

When the Japanese drove the Russians out of Chengju Monday the Russians withdrew in two columns, one going over the Koak San road and the other over the Peking road. The Japanese advance from Chengju was made very rapidly. It was anticipated that the Russians would resist this advance, but they failed to do so, and it is not now probable that there will be any further opposition south of the Yalu river.

PING YANG, April 3.—Russians hold the Yalu river for seventy-five miles from its mouth. Their cavalry is concentrated at Wiju. No engagement is expected on the southern side of the river.

Wellington.

Times.

School tax election at Salt Fork school house Saturday, resulted in a 25 per cent special school tax.

"Wellington Methodist," a new paper edited by Rev. J. B. Curry, and printed at the Times office, will make its debut tomorrow. It will be a 2-col. 4-page infant with plenty of backing to make a power in the land later on.

Bob Rankin lost all his feed stack, last Thursday. It took fire from some unknown cause and as the wind was blowing so hard, and no one there but Mrs. Rankin, the fire could not be controlled. It burned $100 worth of feed, three saddles, two sets of harness, his crib and the lot fence. Bro. Rankin is like all the rest of us sand-hillers, not able to lose it.

Discussing Panama Canal.

WASHINGTON, April 3.—The early part of the present week will be devoted to the postoffice appropriation bill and when that measure is disposed of, the Panama canal bill will be taken up. The canal bill will be among the few measures other than appropriation bills which will receive attention before final adjournment of the session. It is expected that the measure will be debated at some length, and it is understood that amendments to it will be offered by senators on both sides of the chamber. It is expected that by the time the canal bill shall be disposed of the supdry civil bill will have been reported from the committee whereupon it will be considered.

During the week there will be discussion of various other bills, including the bill for the protection of the president to which Mr. Hoar will speak on Monday; the pure food bill, to which Mr. Heyburn will speak Tuesday, and the Chinese exclusion bill, which will be discussed on Wednesday by Mr. Patterson.

Bryan Appeals His Suit.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., April 3.—Notice of an appeal to the Supreme Court from the verdict of the Superior Court was filed today by counsel for William J. Bryan on the Philo S. Bennett will case. The appeal is from the finding which excluded as a part of the will the sealed letter by which Mr. Bennett expressed a wish that Mrs. Bennett should turn over $50,000 from his estate to Mr. Bryan. Henry G. Newton of Mr. Bryan's counsel said tonight that the appeal would be prosecuted to the last court.

"It is not a matter of personal interest," said the attorney. "Mr. Bryan considers it his duty to carry out the wishes of Mr. Bennett. He has no thought of profiting by the will himself."

Scoring Bryan.

The democratic spell-binders at Washington are leaving nothing unturned in the way of reflection on Mr. Bryan, because they fear his influence against the "reorganizers," who bolted the ticket in '96 and 1900. They sent out the following press dispatch Saturday:

"Mr. Bryan has been cutting such a sorry figure in the Bennett will case that he is divorcing every bit of sympathy which southerners ever entertained for him, and they feel that his exit from the role of leadership is good riddance.

"Men, who know and understand Mr. Bryan's mental processes are convinced that when he finds himself repudiated he will bolt the platform and nominees of the St. Louis convention. They are not prepared to say that he will transfer his allegiance to President Roosevelt, but that is their belief. He may attempt to save his prestige by organizing a third movement and nominating an independent candidate, but the chances are that he will make a public avowal of his support of Roosevelt.

"It is known that he entertains a warm regard for the president and he has publicly denounced Judge Parker as an impossible candidate and has refrained from saying a word about Roosevelt."

WOMAN'S PEN PORTRAIT.

Helen M. Gougar, Noted American Writer, Describes William Randolph Hearst.

In these days, when much is being written about leaders in national life, a woman's estimate of prominent individuals is always apropos. Helen M. Gougar, who has met nearly all of America's noted men and who has written numerous interesting stories and interviews, published the following in the Lafayette (Ind.) Call:

"Who is William Randolph Hearst? "I will answer as I know the man. "Mr. Hearst is forty-one years old. "He was born in San Francisco. "He is the only child of the late United States Senator George Hearst and Phebe A. Hearst.

"His ancestors were of North Carolina and Virginia stock, his mother being a descendant of the Randolphs of Virginia. His mother is noted for her great charities, having endowed the University of California.

"He is a most devoted son and co-operates heartily with his mother in business and benevolent enterprises. "He was educated in the public schools of San Francisco and in Harvard college.

"He is a man of fine physique, robust health, indomitable energy and great executive ability. He is a 'business man' in every sense of the word.

"He is exceedingly temperate in habits, never gambles or races horses, but is a devotee of the automobile. He once owned a yacht, but during the Spanish-American war it was fitted up as a cruiser at his expense, and he presented it to the government, then enlisted himself as a private in the war and risked his life on the firing line before Santiago.

"In April, 1903, he married Miss Millicent Wilson of New York. There is a charming romance connected with this marriage. Miss Wilson was a poor girl. Mr. Hearst met her and fell desperately in love with the vivacious miss. His affection was reciprocated. He requested her parents to put her in college and he would furnish the money for her highest possible education.

After her graduation he took her and her mother on a tour of the world that she might have the culture of travel. She is a very beautiful woman, with a charming personality. She is much beloved by the mother of Mr. Hearst.

"Mr. Hearst is a strict moralist and holds women in high esteem.

"His charities are unbounded. Every winter he furnishes free coal, food and raiment to thousands of the suffering poor of the tenement districts of New York, which city is his present residence. He sent out three relief trains—one from New York, another from Chicago and another from San Francisco—and hurried supplies to the Galveston sufferers. He gave large sums for the relief of the Jews in Russia; also to the victims of the St. Pierre volcano district.

"As a newspaper man he has had a remarkable career. He understands the business in every detail, from setting type to editorial writing and business management. His first venture was the San Francisco Examiner, which he took when it was almost defunct. He put life and enterprise into it until it has the largest circulation of any newspaper on the western coast. He owns the Los Angeles Examiner, Chicago Examiner, a morning paper, and the Hearst Chicago American, an evening paper, the latter having the largest circulation of any Chicago daily. In New York he owns and runs the New York American, the Evening Journal and Das Morgen Journal.

"He is a devoted advocate of the principle of 'equal rights for all; special privileges for none.' He is an aggressive foe of the new form of human slavery known as 'trusts.'

"He prevented the waterworks of New York from going into the hands of a few monopolists known as the Ramapo robbers. He smashed the ice trust of New York at an expense of $250,000 to himself, and the babies of the tenement districts call him 'blessed.' He killed the food trust and is now locked in deadly embrace with the coal trust, at the head of which is Mr. Baer, who claims that the Almighty and he are in partnership to rob the firesides of America in the interest of this most grasping combination.

"Doubtless if he is nominated for president on the Democratic ticket he would cause these combinations to tremble in their boots.

"With such a man for candidate on a wise and conservative platform the Democratic party will doubtless make a lively campaign that will put metal in Republican ranks."

To Prosecute Trusts.

If house bill 11,588, introduced at the beginning of the Fifty-eighth session, becomes a law United States attorneys will be empowered, without instruction from the attorney general, to institute proceedings against trusts that unlawfully restrain trade and commerce. Circuit courts are given jurisdiction to prevent and restrain violations of the antitrust act and it will be the duty of district attorneys to bring proceedings against offenders. The Hon. W. R. Hearst, representative from New York, is the author of the bill.

Not So Easy.

Attorney General Bell has decided that it is unlawful for an express agent to deliver packages of liquor which come to be delivered C. O. D. in local option districts unless such liquor has been actually ordered by the party to whom the package is addressed, and that each such person must make affidavit that he ordered the liquor to be sent to him. The Mt. Vernon Optic says: "Armed with this authority our county attorney has notified Express Agent J. O. Roots that all persons taking out C. O. D. liquor must make affidavit that they had ordered the liquor. Thus we see that the ill wind to the whisky purchaser blows good to the notaries public, who are doing a nice little business just now." It seems that some wholesale liquor dealers had been sending packages of liquor to the express office and then notifying parties to call and get them. The ruling above will stop this illegal traffic.—Greenville Banner

GEN. MILES advises the Prohibition party to wait and see what the big parties do before making its nominations. It would not have been more discourteous to have advised them to wait until after the election. But it served the pros right. We had never so much as heard that Miles was a prohibitionist.

We give something of Wm. R. Hearst in this issue, not that he is our man for the presidency, but that the people may know something of the man the reorganizers are working for all that is in them to keep out of the democratic nomination. Every daily in Texas is against him, and are now also denouncing Mr. Bryan, whom they praised during the last campaign as being the very embodiment of statesmanship. It all shows the proneness of the party to run after new leaders and how they can be changed by party bosses.

A personal letter from Mark Bennett, of the World's Fair says "the exhibit palaces have been completed. Millions of plants are waiting in the green houses to be set out and as spring is much earlier here than at Chicago the early visitors will be greeted with blossoming plants everywhere. The aggregate number of exhibits is estimated at 20,000 car loads. They are coming in at a rapid rate and installment is well under way."

You may guess pretty well what Alton B. Parker is, when a man like Walter Wellman, the republican syndicate writer, sends out a two-column article laudatory of the man. It is not much to his credit, either, that he was educated in the David B. Hill school of politics. He was but a common country lawyer until Hill picked him up in 1885 and made him his campaign manager when Hill ran for governor of New York. The latter was successful and appointed Parker to a supreme judgeship to fill a vacancy. Born in Massachusetts and living most all his life in New York his sympathies will doubtless be with the trusts and commercial strategists.

As a result of the large herds of cattle being crowded out of the Creek Indian country by settlers, there is a greater influx of cattle into the Osage Indian country in Oklahoma and much to the dissatisfaction of the fullblood Indian, who are protesting. There is considerable land being fenced by cattlemen. Heretofore most of the Osage land had laid open.

Speaking of the Dewey-Berry murder case in Kansas, wherein the former murdered three of the later after failing to oust them from their homes by law, the Kingman Journal says: "It cost the Deweys $50,000 and the county $15,000 to prove to the world that the Berrys committed suicide. Wonderful, isn't it, what a wad of money can accomplish?"

The Plague in the Water Barrels.

About 150 health officers attended the state meeting at Austin, and of the things discussed was standing water in barrels.

In advocating the abolishment of water barrels and standing water, without oil treatment, it was said that not only would it prevent the propagation of mosquitoes and yellow fever, but also tend to lessen typhoid, malarial and other fevers. Such water receptacles were condemned as inimical to the public health. In the same connection a practical and acceptable suggestion was made with reference to necessary pools of water, such as for stock purposes and fountains. It was stated that if they would be stocked with a few goldfish or minnows there would be no mosquito breeding, for the fish would eat the wiggletails and destroy the mosquito in embryo form.

Shipping From the Concho Country.

A report from San Angelo says the territory shipments are going out with a vim. More cattle are being shipped than was expected and it looks like there will not be many horns and hoofs left in the Concho country when this spring's cattle rush is over.

Several big cattle sales have been made. Jay Gibson bought of F. Tankersley 2,700 steers at prices said to be from $18 to $20, and R. F. Tankersley sold 800 three and four-year-old steers to J. Smith of Cleburne at $18 a head.

The lack of rain has resulted in poor range and no grass to speak of, much less the green weeds the mutton men were looking for at this time. Consequently the great number of range muttons in this section have not grown fat enough for shipment and they will be late getting fat enough for market. The spring muttons will be a great deal later than usual getting to market.

Yellow Fever Immunes.

In the state meeting of physicians at Austin last week, a theory was mentioned by those who have heretofore been skeptical, and that is there are many "immunes" from yellow fever in Texas in those who have dengue fever. The State Health Officer has since called attention to the fact that persons who had dengue fever in the past epidemics in this State did not contract yellow fever in the infected districts last year.

A notable example is Dr. Tabor himself, who had the dengue, but never contracted yellow fever, though he worked in the midst of the epidemic at Laredo, going into all of the filthy places and assisting in treating the cases. This will be good news to the many Texans who had dengue during the epidemics several years ago. They are now regarded as immune from yellow jack.

Great Gas Well.

While drilling for oil in the townsite of Henryetta, I. T., the Creek Prospecting and Developing Company brought in a gas well, the pressure of which is gauged at 2,500 pounds, and is getting stronger all the time. A considerable part of the town has already been lighted for several nights from the burning well and the company will begin at once to lay mains through the streets and alleys and prepare to light the town.

The Independent is getting pretty badly disgusted with the Bryan democrats in the west who fought the last campaign on anti imperialism as "the paramount issue" and are now out "whooping it up" for the worst multi-millionaire imperialist in the whole United States. Donald Doak preached a good sermon at the Methodist church last Sunday. At the close of the sermon nine new members were taken into the church, including J. J. Mickle and family and C. A. Crozier and family.

G. H. Montgomery of Texline was here last Saturday with his parents. He informed a Herald reporter he would at once resign his place as county attorney at Dalhart and would move to Marietta, I. T., where he would open a law office.

At the school board meeting last Saturday the delinquent tax accounts were turned over to the county attorney to secure by enforced collection. Suits will be brought against delinquents as soon as papers can be made out, and costs will be piled up pretty rapidly against non payers. The board desires to make a test case so that their rights may be known.

Snake Indians to Migrate to Mexico.

The Snake Indians have decided to leave the territory which has been their home for half a century and on April 26 will hold a convention at which will be selected three delegates who will go to old Mexico to look out a location for the band. They have been told that they can find there for the taking a hunting ground that will suit their fancy and will not in this generation or the next be encroached upon by the whites. This movement is headed by Tobe Berryhill, and he will be one of the delegates. The Snake band has resisted allotment to the last, and now that they have been forced to take arbitrary allotment, they will leave the land given them by the government and go in a body to a new home. It is stated on good authority that they will not even remain long enough to sell their lands. There are about 200 of the Snake band who will swear allegiance to their old time leader.

What Are the Philippines?

The Chicago Tribune wants to know whether the Philippines are domestic or foreign. As that is one of those things that no pop can out, The Independent can't tell. It rather thinks that for imperial purposes, finding places for a lot of carpet bag office-holders, they are foreign and for the purpose of piratical commercial raiding they are domestic, and no outsider is allowed to share in the boodle. If the Philippines are foreign, the coastwise navigation laws cannot apply to them. If they are domestic, the tariffs cannot apply to them. The scheme now on passage through congress to apply the coastwise navigation laws so that no foreign ship can engage in that trade and thus raise the cost of transportation immensely, is for the benefit of the eastern ship combine. The tariff is for the eastern tariff robbers. In neither case does any western or eastern farmer get any share of the rake-off. The fact is, that the farmers for the most part will have to furnish the money to pay the grafters in both cases. These certainly would be a rise in the price of Manila binding twine. The farmers would have to put up that much of the graft and have no way of escape.

But the thing that drives us wild is that we can't find out whether the Philippines are domestic or foreign. It don't seem possible that they can be both at the same time.—The Independent.

BLACK-DRAUGHT STOCK and POULTRY MEDICINE

Stock and poultry have few troubles which are not bowel and liver irregularities. Black-Draught Stock and Poultry Medicine is a bowel and liver remedy for stock. It puts the organs of digestion in a perfect condition. Prominent American breeders and farmers keep their herds and flocks healthy by giving them an occasional dose of Black-Draught Stock and Poultry Medicine in their food. Any stock raiser may buy a 25-cent half-pound air-tight can of this medicine from his dealer and keep his stock in vigorous health for weeks. Dealers generally keep Black-Draught Stock and Poultry Medicine. If yours does not, send 25 cents for a sample can to the manufacturers, The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.

 The first five were elected.

A Citizen that Will Bear Watching.

Major McCanne packed up and sent to Bart Cleary at Clarendon his belongings. Among the goods and chattles he found all sorts of new notions that showed signs of having been picked up here and there at the stores. Among the lot was a jar of gum camphor, a bottle of strychnine, several bottles of medicine, a number of bars of toilet soap, balls, several boxes of cigars and various other things. The articles pilfered were taken out and the remainder sent to the old negro. He will now remain at Clarendon until he loads up pretty well when he will perhaps give us another visit. ARTS OF ALL AGES

They Are Blended by World's Fair Designers
So as to Produce Both Variety and Harmony.

Magnificent Picture in Which the Best of the Old Masters Is Seen With the Latest Creations of Modern Art.

THE architecture of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition is majestic in the great ivory white exhibit palaces, historical in the foreign and state buildings, all-world and unique in concession structure.

The palaces are the varied productions of the leading architects of the United States, designed in obedience to a chaste, harmonious scheme. The style adopted is described as "a free treatment of the Renaissance." According to dictionaries, "Renaissance" is the style which succeeded the medieval and was based upon study and emulation of the forms and ornaments of the classic architecture of Greece and Rome.

One of the architects defines the use of the term "as a carte blanche to the architects to produce a beautiful effect by the use of any architectural device that ever gladdened human eyes, from the pediment and peristyle of the Parthenon to the minaret and dome of the Taj Mahal."

The architect of the Palace of Education surrounded that building with a majestic Corinthian colonnade. Another architect made towers of the pedestals that carry the crowning sculpture of the Palace of Electricity. Another architect designed for the Palace of Varied Industries Spanish steeples and a semicircular colonnade unlike anything ever before done in architecture. The architect used a dome roof and a triumphal arch motif in the Palace of Manufactures. Another architect broke the sky lines of the Palace of Liberal Arts with quadriga crowned entrances reaching as high as five story houses. Other architects introduced into the Palace of Machinery a German feeling, with a forest of towers and a big sloping roof backing a sculpture decked entrance way.

The supervising architect of the United States treasury introduced another element of variety in the United States Government building, taking the form of a big flat dome, an Ionic colonnade and a classic pediment lifted in the air by a caryatid attic. The same architect reproduced in the great Fish pavilion for the government of the United States, line for line, a Roman dwelling house of the Pompeian type.

In the Mines and Metallurgy Palace the Egyptian obelisks furnish the motif for the entrances. The cornice is wiped out entirely by the substitution of an overhanging roof. In the Art Palace an engaged colonnade is employed to decorate a windowless museum facade. Festival Hall is made conspicuous and distinctive with the largest dome on earth. The chief of design of the Exposition adopted the dome roof, three massive entrance arches and a bottle shaped pylon for features of the great Palace of Transportation. This same mind employed plain heavy piers on the Palace of Agriculture and demonstrated the architectural possibilities of the farmhouse gable in the Forestry, Fish and Game building.

The artistic sense finds further pleasing variety in the Tudor Gothic of the dozen permanent red granite buildings which form part of the World's Fair settlement.

Architectural history may be read in the buildings of the states and foreign governments. France reproduces the Grand Trianon at Versailles; Germany, the Imperial castle at Charlottenburg; Great Britain, the Orangery of Kensington palace, at London; Japan, the Castle of Nagoya; China, the palace of Prince Pu Lun. Belgium builds an Antwerp townhall. Mexico has a patio, or inner court, in its buildings. Louisiana reproduces the Cabildo at New Orleans, where the formal transfer of the Louisiana Purchase Territory from France to the United States took place. New Jersey supplies a replica of General Washington's headquarters at Morristown. Connecticut presents the fine Sigourney mansion at Hartford and adds mantels and woodwork from two other Connecticut mansion homes. Virginia's pride is gratified in Monticello, the home of Thomas Jefferson. Mississippi builds Beauvoir, the home of Jefferson Davis. Most of the other states adopt the style of the big exhibit palaces on their buildings. The transition from the architectural dignity of the Plateau of States to the gaiety of the Pike is made by the building of Texas, shaped like a five pointed star, and by the wigwams of giant trees which Washington and Oregon supply. Color is used sparingly on screen walls and in shaded places in the exhibit palaces. The facades are a uniform ivory white, with color on the roofs, domes and towers. On Concessions street, however, color is used more freely, and the forms of the "art nouveau" abound.

FEATURES OF EDUCATION.

How the Exhibit at St. Louis Will Be Distinctive From That at Any Other Centennial.

By CLAUDE H. WETMORE.

Education finds more recognition in the Louisiana Purchase Exposition than in any previous centennial celebration. It is the keynote of the great enterprise, permeating every display. Moreover, the idea in its abstract has a home of its own, in that for the first time in history the appliances of school life are shown in a building constructed exclusively for this purpose.

At Chicago and at Paris this exhibit was made a department of something else. At St. Louis it is seen alone, housed in a palace which many consider the most perfect architecturally of any on the grounds.

Besides, in the classification of exhibits education leads all others, taking rank over fine arts, manufacture and all the industries.

In remarking these facts visitors have added that it was strange such prominence had not been given to education before, and they are loud in their praise of those who have carried the idea so prominently to the front.

In St. Louis the revelation of process will be carried out in the Palace of Education as well as in the other palaces. Formerly it was deemed sufficient to arrange in booths samples of text books and of apparatus of the laboratory and observatory. Appliances used in the schoolroom were displayed conventionally, and visitors could pass through aisle after aisle and view only the technicalities of the world of instruction. As a result the pedagogue only was interested.

In St. Louis, however, there is to be actual demonstration of the use made of all such appliances, and the multitude will find itself entertained. Thus the model training school will be a creature of life—boys to be seen using the tools of the various trades. Pupils of a school for the blind will demonstrate the methods in vogue where the sense of touch is made to supply that of sight, and those who are deaf and dumb will also be given opportunity to display their method of instruction.

College professors at work in laboratories promise entertainment for the layman, and likewise there will be demonstration of the methods employed in using the modern telescope and taking photographs of the sun, moon and stars.

Supplementing these active exhibits will be others quite as interesting that have been secured from all over the world by means of the camera. Enter one booth and turn the swinging doors of a movable cabinet. You will see picture after picture illustrating school life, the children entering a class room, the pupils at recitation, in a fire drill, during the recess hour—in fact, through all the stages from the hour when they assemble for their studies until time comes for dismissal.

As illustrations of public school life in large cities, New York, St. Louis, Cleveland and other municipalities have planned to make extensive displays, while cities of the old world will bring their systems into comparison.

Higher education is exemplified as never before at a world's fair. All the large colleges of the United States have prepared extensive exhibits which are supplemented by displays from technical institutions.

Both interesting and novel will be the exhibits made by the Agricultural department of the Federal government in the Education building, for which congress made a special appropriation of $100,000. These will be in the nature of experiment stations such as have been established at various places throughout the country for the practical education of those who desire to study the scientific questions of agriculture and horticulture. Here will be demonstrated the best system of fertilizing the soil, of sowing the seeds, of caring for the crops, of harvesting them, and then for handling the same in barns and storehouses. Visitors to the Exposition will be given the opportunity for instruction in the diseases which infest the realm of Flora and the medicines or surgery that must be employed to combat the dangerous inroads.

Located on the Grand basin and commanding a view of the Cascades, the Terrace of States and the Hall of Festivals, the Palace of Education, itself a portion of the main picture, can be reached by either the broad boulevards or by transit over the crystal waters of the Lagoon. Its visitors may reach its doors in roller chairs, on foot or in gondola or electric launch.

In this building, as in the others, special arrangements have been made for the comfort of the sightseers. Multitudinous windows permit of free currents of air constantly circulating, and withdrawal rooms are at every hand where one can sit down after becoming fatigued from too much exploration.

A favorable report has been made authorizing the bill granting statehood to Oklahoma and Indian Territories, under the name Oklahoma, and to Arizona and New Mexico, under the name of Arizona, by the house committee on territories.

In a speech which Mr. Bryan delivered in New Haven, Conn., last week he deprecated the prevalence in this country of training boys and young men in the arts of warfare. The only warfare that man ought to wage, said he, is the warfare against evil in all its forms. Out west a lot of men who have called themselves Bryan democrats are "wooping it up" for Hearst as a candidate for president who is the most radical advocate for big armies and navies in the United States.—Ex.

does not, ultimately, bring about the best results to a community.

THE PAN-HANDLE

is NOT on a boom, but is enjoying the most rapid growth of any section of Texas.

WHY?

Because only recently have the public at large realized the opportunities which this northwest section of Texas offers. The large ranches are being divided into
