Civilians of The Southwest Buckle Down To Grim Facts of War Needs

Critical Shortage of War Materials Must Be Supplied By Home Front

Civilians in the Southwest can be forgiven for their pride in what is being done all around them to help win the war as they see signs that the new war plants are humming. Surely they can glory in the fact that in the Southwest there were big oil equipment factories that could be converted to making machines of destruction. And, they can be cheered by the munitions output from sectional industries that formerly made cotton gin machinery and other farm and industrial equipment.

But, instead of being tempted to relax they must get into still a more vigorous stride toward Victory. They must realize that the pull will be long and hard, and that we are just getting started.

The sacrifices which the Home Front will be called upon to make, and the jobs that will have to be done in each state and community in the months to come are many—just extensions of what already has been experienced—and will require greater energy and determination.

Where we have had little for civilian use, we will have still less.

After a little more than six months of war, we are turning out ships and weapons at a rate that must give Hitler and Hirohito nightmares. But we can't afford to let down—we must turn out ships and weapons even more rapidly, and as materials get scarcer, the folks on the Home Front will cheerfully do without, or give up what they have, so that the boys who are doing the fighting will have more.

Right now, in all parts of the Southwest, the home folks are searching their homes, and cellars, and garages, and barns, and smokehouses for the presently most needed material—RUBBER. Everyone knows the situation. The Japs cut off our supplies of crude rubber. In addition to making the crude rubber stockpile last, we've got to find every piece of rubber that all of us can spare so it can be reclaimed and used for war production.

The scrap rubber campaign is the biggest thing of the moment. The President has outlined the details and turned the job over to the state and local salvage committees. Governors and mayors, civic and professional leaders, and volunteer groups of all kinds already have pledged their fullest help.

It's a job for everyone to GET IN THE SCRAP, so the President and the War Production Board can find out how much rubber we actually have. Important decisions hinge on the results in Clarendon, Amarillo, Pampa, Dallas, and every other city and community in the Southwest and the nation.

The rubber campaign is simple. All that everyone has to do is find all the rubber he can and turn it over to the volunteer collectors, committees, civic and charitable groups or patriotic and service organizations. Or, if he wishes, take it to any filling station—designated by the President as the official depositories for the drive. Working with their oil companies (See CRITICAL, Page Eight)

REDELL HENSON TO SERVE AS STATE COMMITTEE CHAIRMAN

Redell Henson, Clarendon Future Farmer, will serve as a State Committee Chairman in a series of meetings to be held in New Braunfels, June 18-20.

The meetings, being held in lieu of the regular annual State FFA Convention, are for the selection of outstanding chapters in the improvement of swine, dairy cattle, poultry, livestock, cotton, and soil; to pass on applicants for higher degrees in the organization; to select officers for another year, and through executive and business meetings to plan the program of work for the forthcoming year.

The division of which Henson is chairman will select the most outstanding chapter in Texas in swine improvement, and will make plans for swine improvement for the ensuing year.

Worley In Active War Service

Cong. Gene Worley, who enlisted in the navy a few days after war was declared, and who was assigned to a lieutenant's position because of previous military training, was sent to the Pacific coast for training.

Within a few weeks, he was on a sub stationed in Pearl Harbor. For the past several weeks, this submarine has been doing duty in Australian waters, and giving a good account of its part in winning the war.

Wherever the war is thickest, there will be our own Gene Worley. He never voted for war until the Japs opened up. When he voted for war, he enlisted just as he promised his people in his memorable campaign for a seat in Congress. Gene Worley would never send your boy on a more dangerous mission than he was willing and would take upon himself.

While Gene Worley is fighting his country's cause, he will be re-elected to Congress by the biggest majority of any man in the Panhandle's political history. "There are only a very few fifth columnists who would vote against Gene Worley's interests," a prominent citizen of Donley county stated today.

VICTORY GARDENS STUNG BY HEAT

The past few days have been a hard blow to the victory gardens over the country as a result of the growing heat. The mercury reached 102 degrees Wednesday, according to weatherman Joe Goldston, and many garden plants were lying flat on the ground.

FROM CANAL ZONE

Chester Mayo arrived Friday from the Panama Canal Zone to visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Mayo. He has been working on a defense project there for the past 18 months.

pending upon the demand. Admission to the show will be gained by tickets presented by the merchants sponsoring the event. A list of these merchants will appear in this paper on July 2nd. A separate ticket will be required each week as each of the tickets will be good only for the date printed on the same.

This feature is intended as a goodwill measure to the customers of the Clarendon merchants, and will be free to anyone presenting a ticket at the show from any of the cooperating merchants. The name of the show and the list of the merchants where the tickets may be secured will be found in one of the two Clarendon papers each week after the event begins.

MEASEL VICTIM GIVEN AID

For some time now, C. G. Cobbs who farms near Ashtola has been laid up with the measles. With crop planting time at hand, prospects didn't look so good to Mr. Cobbs. However, good neighbors of Mr. Cobbs came to the rescue and helped ease his anxiety.

"It isn't so bad to have the measles in busy times," says Mr. Cobbs, "when you have such fine neighbors as Old Donley has. Last Friday afternoon five of these fine neighbors came with tractors and got me out of what might have proved to be a jam."

Those helping were S. G. Evans, John White, J. F. White, Homer Hardin and Pink Marshall.

Lions Club Behind Rubber Drive

The local Lions Club voted at their regular Tuesday meeting to get behind the Rubber Salvage Drive in full force.

The Club is not asking that you donate your old rubber, but insists that you take it to one of the service stations and sell it. But in case you do want to donate your scrap rubber to the club pile which is located in the old Queen Theatre building, two doors south of the Pastime, you can do so.

The main idea of the whole plan is to get every piece of old rubber to a place where it can be shipped in to be salvaged. If you have some and no way to bring it in, just call Lee Bell at the Pastime Theatre or Charles Lowry at the West Texas Utilities office and they will come out and pick it up.

LOCAL MEN INDUCTED INTO ARMY

GIRL RIDERS WILL MEET SATURDAY AT 5 O'CLOCK

There will be girls riding in the Fourth of July celebration event this year, but they will be known as the "Girl Riders" and not Girl Spendors as they were last year.

A meeting of the Girl Riders will be held at the Clarendon Hotel Saturday afternoon at five o'clock, and all those interested and who wish to ride are asked to be there. Special costumes will not be necessary this year, thus leaving it up to the girls themselves as to what type or style of riding costume they wish to wear.

All girls who are interested are asked to call either Carol McClellan or Archie McMurtry, who are in active charge of the Girl Riders. The event is limited to girls living in Donley county only, and any girl may enter whether she has been a contest winner in the past or not.

Mrs. McClellan states that she has asked the following committee to assist in organizing and planning the riding event: Vera Lewis, Laverne McMurtry, Virginia Dodson, Jo Word, Neil Norwood and Ethelyn Drennan.

The girls will be divided into two divisions—those fifteen and under and those over fifteen years of age. In the above 15 year age group, will be offered two prizes, a $5.00 stamp book for each of the two winners. The winner of the lower age bracket will receive a $5 stamp book.

A contest will be conducted to determine the Queen of the Girl Riders, along the same lines as was staged last year. Each vote will be 10c, and those wishing to vote for their favorite girl may do so at Lee's Cafe, Norwood Pharmacy or Douglas & Goldston Drug. After several days of voting, the five highest candidates will be designated to continue the race, the winner to be crowned queen the day of the Fourth.

TO THE PRODUCERS OF DONLEY COUNTY:

Walter J. Flynt, Secretary Donley County ACA

The 1942 method for measuring cotton will be different from that used heretofore, due to the new definition of cotton. In 1941 the acreage planted to cotton was defined as the acres of cotton which reached the stage of growth at which bolls are first formed, or acreage in excess of the allotment which was not disposed of within 10 days after notice of measurements was mailed. The 1942 definition of cotton is all cotton planted not in excess of the allotment regardless of whether or not it reaches the bolling stage, or even whether or not the cotton comes up, providing, however that cotton in excess of the allotment will not be counted if it is destroyed by means over which the operator has no control or by the operator himself within 10 days from the date of notice of measured acres.

Producers are being cautioned to try to have the best stand of cotton possible by replanting where necessary, whether or not insurance is carried, since all acreage planted to cotton will be counted against the normal yield, rather than the matured acres as counted heretofore.

This provision will reduce the yield of a great number of farms unless much thought is given to the situation and everything possible is done to insure an average yield on the acreage planted.

Under the 1942 performance regulations strips of any crop must be at least 10 feet wide before it will be counted as a separate crop.

According to 1942 regulations, all interested parties must be entered on the original application. If an interested producer is left off after an operator signs the Application then it will be very hard to convince the State Office Audit Unit that the producers name was not left off intentionally and in this case is a practice tending to defeat the purpose of the program and no payment will be received. It then is of great interest to every operator to see that all parties interested in crops on any farm are entered on the compliance papers at the time measuring is done. Producers should also check each application to see that all interested parties are shown thereon BEFORE he signs it.

CALL FOR SCRAP RUBBER

In obedience to the request from the President of the United States, I, as Mayor of Clarendon, make the following request, of every person in the City:

"There is a great shortage of rubber in the United States, so serious that war work is being hindered and the production of war material greatly curtailed. Unless more rubber is produced, there will be a nation wide gas rationing in order to conserve rubber. You may even have to give up the tires you now own, so please bring in to your filling station, old discarded rubber of every kind—old tires, tubes, galoshes, rubber heels, fruit jar rings, tennis balls, and any old rubber of every kind, whether in large or small amounts. This will help win the war, and will also help keep our cars running. Your nearest filling station will handle this rubber for you, so bring them whatever amount you might have.

Patriotic American Citizens
Do your duty.
Tom F. Connally,
Mayor

MRS. JOHN EVANS PASSES AWAY

Mrs. John Evans, one-time resident of Clarendon for many years, died at St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo, Thursday morning of last week. Funeral services were conducted from the Blackburn-Shaw Funeral home, Friday at 2:30.

Mrs. Evans was the mother of Mrs. A. J. Morris of Amarillo, and a sister-in-law of Sam Evans who lives near Ashtola.

NO MORE CANDIDATE RALLIES TO BE HELD

Miss Ruth Richerson, county school superintendent, announced Wednesday that state officials had requested that all future candidate rallies and pie suppers be cancelled due to the war situation. This request undoubtedly will be a hard blow to the candidates, for most of them look forward to the good eats and making speeches that are to be had at such affairs.

War Bond Sales Short of Quota

According to information received from Buddy Knorpp, Donley county Bond chairman, lots of people are falling down on their bond purchases. Sales up to the present time amount to $5,149.30. This is approximately $19,000.00 short of the quota that was set up for Donley county.

There are only 12 days left in the month and bond purchases will have to average around $1,500 a day to meet the required amount.

"Donley county has never fallen down on a job yet, and we don't want to fall short on this one," Mr. Knorpp stated today.

CHESSHIRE MOVES OFFICE AND OPENS STATION

A Brooks Chesshir, local Continental Oil Agent, has moved his office to the last service station on highway 287 west of main street, and has opened the station for retail business.

The moving took place as a matter of convenience as the station is closer to town and more convenient for customers to reach. Mr. Chesshir will operate the station under the highest of standards and will handle all wholesale orders from that office.

CLARENDON FFA WINS AREA I CONTESTS

According to information recently received by J. R. Gillham, local vocational agriculture instructor, from O. T. Ryan, Area I Supervisor, the Clarendon Chapter was the highest ranking chapter among the 92 schools in Area I in four of the six chapter contests for the 1941-42 school year. The local chapter placed first in swine production, dairy cattle improvement, poultry improvement, and livestock improvement. The other two contests were in cotton improvement and soil conservation.

In addition to winning the area, the local group also placed first in the state in the swine production contest. The other contest winners will be decided this week at a State F.F.A. meeting at New Braunfels. Ryan stated that he felt the local chapter had a strong chance to win one or more of the other three contests in which they are representing Area I at the state meet.

MOVE BACK

Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Brumley and family arrived late last night to make their home in Clarendon again. Mr. Brumley sold his business interests in McCarney and will be associated with his father, H. C. Brumley in the farming and cattle business here.

McLean Boy Killed In Foreign Action

Word was received recently that Andy Corbin, son of M. T. Corbin of McLean was "killed in action in performance of his duty and in the service of his country."

Pvt. Corbin was born July 28, 1922 and joined the U. S. Marines in April last year, at the age of 18 years.

MORE CONSERVATION CHECKS ARRIVE

Conservation checks are still coming into the office of Walter J. Flynt with 302 checks arriving this week in the amount of $24,428.59 bringing the grand total to $183,004.93. Around $200,000 is expected when all checks come in.

Donley County Is Well Organized For Salvage Drive of Scrap Rubber

CHURCHES ORGANIZE DAILY VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL

For some time now the churches of the town have been planning a Bible school for this summer. Wednesday morning a representative group from here visited the Memphis Daily Vacation Bible School. Those in the group included Rev. E. L. Moody, Rev. L. Guy Ament, Mrs. J. E. Burch, Miss Mable Mongole and Rev. M. M. Miller. This committee observed the work being done there and are pleased to announce that the Clarendon school will open its doors July 6th through the 17th.

Miss Ruby Moore will be general director of the Clarendon school. She comes highly recommended as leader in Religious education.

A complete schedule will be announced in the near future. A faculty meeting is called to meet Sunday 3 p. m. at the First Presbyterian Church.

VISITS MOTHER

Sgt. and Mrs. Sam B. Morris of Fort Sill, Okla. visited the past week end with his mother, Mrs. R. M. Morris.

Pantex Company Wants Workers

There will be jobs for everyone. Perhaps the Pantex Certain-teed Company is situated near this city but their personnel will include workers from Clarendon and all other cities and communities of the Panhandle if George H. Robertson, personnel director, has his way.

Furthermore, Tom J. Finley, personal representative of Mr. Robertson and the company will be in Clarendon for the express purpose of taking applications and granting interviews to interested men and women who wish a job that will help in winning our war, regular hours and good pay. It matters not what type of work you may now be doing the Certain-teed probably has a position where you would fit perfectly.

When Mr. Robertson assumed his duties in Amarillo he declared his company was interested in offering employment to men and women who were being forced out of business through war restrictions; to those who had husbands or relatives in the armed services, and to the residents of the Panhandle-Plains area before searching for employees elsewhere. He has carried out this plan of employment to the letter. In fact he is going more than half way in sending representatives into the territory in search of home labor and executives.

All types of employees are sought. From the most lowly manual labor to high executive positions, the search continues throughout the Panhandle. Perhaps you are a carpenter, paper hanger, pipe fitter, clerk. (See PANTEX Page Eight)

Livestock Improvement Program Brings Outstanding Sires to Donley

The livestock improvement program sponsored by the Clarendon F.F.A. members has brought outstanding Jersey bulls and boars of all breeds to Donley county. The chapter owns two registered Jersey bulls that are available for service to club members and patrons alike. These bulls were bought from Chester Elliot, Tullia, Texas, one of the outstanding young Jersey breeders of the state. Golden Impatience Lad, the Jersey bull stationed at H. A. Harrison's farm south of town, is out of Golden Lads Joetta, a cow with an official record of 668.5 pounds of butterfat in one year. Gamboge's Jester Design, the bull stationed at C. G. Kirkland's home in Clarendon, is out of Gamboge Blonde Raleigh Lass, a cow with an official record of 668.9 pounds butterfat in one year. These bulls have been used for the past three years in building up the type and quality of dairy cattle in Donley county.

An outstanding Chester White boar sired by Star King, 1941 champion chester white boar, a Eventuation berkshire boar, a Poland China boar of Pure Gold breeding, and a Duroc boar of the famous Waveline breeding are available for breeding services at the F.F.A. boar pens south of Clarendon; and Haskell Hay, Goldston farmer, has bought an outstanding Spotted Poland China boar for use by the club boys and farmers throughout the county. This breeding program has done much to cause Donley county to be recognized as one of the top hog producing counties of the entire state.

The salvage of rubber in Donley county is well under way according to county agent H. M. Breedlove of the Texas A&M College Extension Service. Dealers of gasoline at filling stations are buying the rubber as fast as the people can bring it to the stations. This is one of the biggest drives in history and possibly one of the first for this kind of salvage. The President is asking for this rubber for the army and it might determine as to whether gasoline will be rationed in Texas or not. Forrest Sawyer, chairman of the salvage committee says that every thing is in fine shape for the drive and that people are bringing in the rubber and old iron in truck loads.

Civic organizations in the cities are behind the campaign and in Clarendon the Lions club is sponsoring a rubber collectoin campaign. The committee for the Lions club is Charles Lowry, Lee Bell, Ralph Porter, Jim Patman and R. E. Drennan. They will put on the drive in the city of Clarendon and assist in any way possible with the drive in the entire county.

The War Board of Donley county met in the office of the county agent last night and completed the final plans for the operation of the campaign. Letters have been mailed to all farmers and ranchmen in the county and another circular will be mailed the first of next week notifying all people of the closing date. Nolie Simmons, chairman of the Donley county War Board contacted the filling station dealers and finds that the rubber is coming in fast.

The war board also warns the people not to forget the old scrap iron and bring it in at once, the county agent advised—this material is more important than gold at this time. This iron might be the means of winning the war for the Allies.

"Let all people in the county get behind this salvage campaign and give the President our support in this matter by bringing in this salvage," the county agent stated. "This must be done and is one of the most important things that is before you at this time. It is all of our patriotic duties to see to it that all of the scrap rubber around the place is brought to town at once."

FUTURE FARMERS ASKED TO ASSIST IN DRIVE FOR SCRAP RUBBER

The War Production Board requests the Future Farmers of America to assist in the Scrap Rubber Drive June 15-30, J. B. Rutland, State FFA Adviser announced Tuesday.

In a telegram from L. J. Rosenwald of the War Production Board, Future Farmers were urged to cooperate to make this intensive two-week collection drive a success.

During the period of June 15-30, it was explained, Oil and Gas Service Stations throughout the country will serve as primary collection depots. They will pay one cent per pound for all scrap rubber delivered to them.

OUT OF THE BAG

The latest argument of the advocates of socialized electricity is that the big government-owned dams can't make their maximum contributions to the war effort unless all private power generating and distributing facilities in their areas are taken over by the government and given to the control of the bureaucrats and the politicians. And that lets the cat out of the bag—pure and unadulterated state socialism. That this "aggression" method means death to a great free enterprise is blithely ignored.

In the Pacific Northwest the private utility systems have long distributed big blocks of the government-generated power. That power has been distributed over existing lines, and it hasn't been necessary to build wasteful, duplicating lines. All savings have been passed on to the consumers. The Federal and state regulatory bureaus completely control the price which the utilities pay for the power and the price for which they sell it.

To meet war production demands, Northwest utility executives advocated pooling of all available power resources in the area, in order to gain maximum output at minimum cost in time, money and labor. They proposed plans which would protect the interests of the government and the private industry alike. They didn't ask for big profits for preferential treatment of any kind. They only asked to serve their area as best they could, and retain the right to stay in business. A similar situation exists in many sections of the nation. Government-produced power can be transmitted over existing utility lines. Where new lines are needed, the utilities are able and ready to build them—and they will build them with private money, not tax money.

But that isn't what planners of state socialism want. Their eyes are fixed firmly on unbounded patronage and political power, total domination of a heretofore free enterprise. We have seen this mania gain a foothold in foreign lands—we must not give it a foothold here.

OUR RUBBER SITUATION

Four leading war agency officials have joined in a statement designed to clarify the facts about the severe rubber shortage.

Issued because many confusing and conflicting stories have been circulated about rubber, the statement points out that the shortage is extremely serious, reports to the contrary notwithstanding, and that no rubber of any kind can be spared for purposes not directly connected with the war effort.

Donald M. Nelson, chairman of the War Production Board; Arthur B. Newhall, Rubber Coordinator; Joseph B. Eastman, director of the Office of Defense Transportation, and Leon Henderson, Administrator of the Office of Price Administration and director of the WPB Division of Civilian Supply, all joined in the statement, which follows:

There has been a great deal of confusion about the rubber situation, much of it caused by optimistic stories about the availability of synthetic rubber at an early date, or the large amount of scrap rubber which can be reprocessed.

But there is little real basis for such optimism. Our rubber shortage is one of the worst materials shortages we face. We can spare no rubber of any kind for non-essential uses. Statements to the contrary are misleading, and do the country a great disservice, for the facts as we see them are grim, and we need one hundred per cent cooperation in conservation measures by the general public and by industry.

Ruth Palmer of Amarillo is at home over the week end.

Dedication Services Lubbock Flying School, June 21

LUBBOCK, June 16—The behind-the-scenes life of both aviation cadets and enlisted men will be one feature of the special dedication services at the large Lubbock Army Flying School which the public may see on Sunday, June 21.

Besides the barracks themselves, mess halls, link trainer building, day rooms, hangar, and the sub-depot shop and hangar will all be open to the visitors as part of the formal dedication of the advanced twin-engine school.

Opening the gates to the general public at one o'clock, Colonel Thomas L. Gilbert has announced that Major-General H. R. Harmon, commanding office of the Gulf Coast Training Area, will be the principal speaker in the dedicatory services scheduled for two o'clock. Col. Gilbert will also speak.

The Lubbock Army Post Band will play a varied program under the leadership of Warrant Officer George P. Attridge from one to two o'clock.

Until late in the afternoon the visiting public will be admitted to various parts of the Lubbock Field on a general inspection tour. The many aspects of camp life of both aviation cadets and enlisted men may be visited on this occasion.

During the progress of the program on the ground, the aviation cadets will carry out routine flying activities, including take-offs, formations, and landings.

4-H Livestock Members Have Need of Contest

Incentives to 4-H livestock club members as offered in the national meat animal contest, are more important this year than ever before, according to a statement by the National 4-H Committee in Chicago in announcing it for 1942. This is because some shows in which 4-H members enter have been cancelled.

"Even without a chance to show, 4-H owners of livestock can still put their work into competition if they enter the contest," it is stated "since it emphasizes the rate and cost of gains contained in the project record book, and also the general standing of the member in home, club and community activities."

Medals for county winners, watches for state victors and four fine trips and three $200 college scholarships are provided for this year's 13th annual contest by Thos. E. Wilson, chairman of the committee. The contest is accepted in this state.

Kyle Bingham from Burleson is visiting his uncle, R. C. Bingham and family.

Beauford H. Jester Begins Campaign For R. R. Commissioner

CORSICANA, June 16—Beauford H. Jester of Corsicana, well known attorney and veteran of the first World War, has started his campaign for the office of State Railroad Commissioner to succeed Jerry Sadler, resigned. Mr. Jester will carry his campaign to all sections of the state. His headquarters will be in Corsicana.

"Having been refused re-entry into military service upon my reserve commission in the army because of failure to pass the physical examination, I am unable to serve in the army during this war" Mr. Jester said in announcing his candidacy. "Like every loyal American I want to render the service which will be the greatest contribution possible to our war effort. The vacancy on the Railroad Commission, to my mind, offers a great opportunity to aid the war effort as well as to serve the people of Texas. Petroleum and transportation are as indispensable as guns, planes and ships to our ultimate victory. The Railroad Commission of Texas has the important duty of regulating the oil production and conserving this resource in Texas. The Commission has the further responsibility of regulating transportation in Texas. The Commission therefore becomes extremely important in this time of war. At this time above all other times, service upon the Railroad Commission calls for the most competent, conscientious and patriotic service."

Coy Looper, who has been visiting her sister in Amarillo the past two weeks, returned home Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Freddie Weathers brought her home. Mrs. Weathers is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Looper of Clarendon.

Mrs. Jack Cates of Childress visited Monday night with Mrs. R. N. Morris.

Mr. and Mrs. Bennett Kerbow have moved to Amarillo where he is employed.

O'Daniel Is Asked To Answer Three Questions

AUSTIN, June 17—Dan Moody, Austin attorney who has spent thirty years framing questions witnesses couldn't answer, to-day called on W. Lee O'Daniel to answer three questions in the latter's speech at Waco Friday in a new development in the red-hot U. S. Senate race.

Declaring "every thinking citizen must realize Senator O'Daniel went to the Senate labeled as a sort of medicine show man and the result of a queer quirk in Texas politics," Moody commented that "there are 10,000 men in Texas who could do a better job there than O'Daniel."

Moody announced he had written O'Daniel asking him to answer the following questions:

"1. You state you cannot accomplish anything in the Senate and your record of not getting more than four votes on any proposal proves that. What justification can you offer for asking a six-year term?"

OMEN.
Charity should begin at home, but should not stop there altogether.

GEOGRAPHICAL.
Then old Mark Twain got off

Remember that the City of Smiles is located in the State of Mind.

NUISANCE STUFF.
A loud guy harangues us over the radio and finally winds up by saying he is a self-made man. It's decent of him to take all the blame for his own short-comings.

SUGGESTION.
Then old Mark Twain got off

this one: "The man who is a pessimist before he is 48 knows too much; the man who is an optimist after he is 48 knows too little."

FATHER'S DAY.
Next Sunday is Father's Day. It differs from Mother's Day in that the old man does not have to work harder on that day than any other day. In fact he does not have to work at all. Seriously speaking, it is a nice thing to think of the old man at least one day in the whole year. If you give him anything, give him socks or shirts or something he can use. This suggestion here has been prompted by the request of a number of fathers the past few days. If you want to give something worth while, string out a course of decent treatment through the whole year. The old boy will glow under the spell and really think you mean it. If you can't do that, say nothing all day the 21st of June and give him a rest. Now that chore is done and we shall pass on.

BIG JULY 4th.
Rodeos have been a success here when managed by men who know horses and stock, and have the right kind of a fellow looking after the cash end of the deal. This season people will want to get in there and help the USO and the war cause in earnest. The men managing the affair are fair, honest and sincere. It is a swell time for all the folks to get in there and pitch. More power to the fellows who know roping and riding at first hand. Durn a sissy trying to manage a rodeo.

Soldiers of Production

America's "soldiers of production," men and women working in the plants of American industry, have their uniforms, too. Some uniforms worn by G-E workers on vital production jobs are shown below.

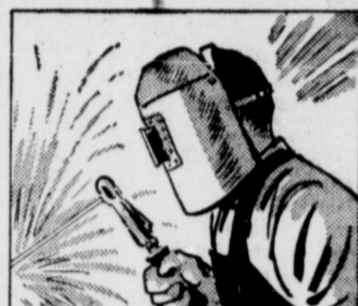

1. Not a gas mask, but a special nose mask to guard his breathing, is worn by this spray painter at his job in one of the General Electric plants.

2. Like a man from Mars, the "cold room" research man is a strange sight as he tests airplane instruments for high-altitude performance in a G-E laboratory.

3. Frankenstein? No, just another G-E worker. His job is sandblasting big turbine castings for Uncle Sam's ships at one of the General Electric plants.

4. The helmet he wears is to protect him from light! The rays from a welder's arc could cause blindness if he did not wear this strange headgear.

General Electric believes that its first duty as a good citizen is to be a good soldier.

ON THE RANGE.
Lt. Gene Worley, our congressman, is a lieutenant commander on a sub that has been doing duty in the southwest Pacific for some weeks. When Gene comes home, he will have further laurels to his credit. He was stationed at Pearl Harbor for a time and then his ship went to Australian waters where he "could get into action," a thing he craved from the moment he voted for war following the Pearl Harbor massacre by the Japs. Gene has filled every promise made his people up to date, and will keep right on doing it.

The Multi-Steam Bath Treatment

The skin is one of the most important eliminative organs of the body. The perspiration contains waste products which must be gotten rid of. The lungs, the kidneys and the intestines are the other eliminative organs of the body. The lungs give off carbonic acid gas; the kidneys carry away urea, and other impurities, and the intestines dispense of waste products of digestion and all undigested substances. The perspiration eliminates other impurities and also contains a certain percentage of carbonic acid gas. This equals about 1/50 of the amount of that gas which is eliminated by the lungs. On account of the elimination of carbon dioxide, as it is called, the skin is often referred to as the third lung. Clogging up of the sweat glands is a very serious matter. It prevents perspiration and causes poisonous material which should be gotten rid of to be retained in the system. The composition of the sweat varies greatly in accordance with the condition of the patient. In patients with disease of the kidney the proportion of urea in the sweat is increased. In diabetes there is an increase of glucose in the sweat.

Steam baths prove beneficial in such disorders as rheumatism, catarrh, neuritis, auto-intoxication, nervousness, chronic inflammation, kidney diseases, and skin infections. Your local Chiropractor can supply you with the modern Multi-Steam Bath Treatment.

The Reason For Rationing

The rationing of commodities in the face of growing scarcity is the only way to keep prices down. What would rubber tires sell for if all restrictions were removed?

Take Bank credit. It too must be governed by a sound rationing policy. Not because of scarcity now, but for a stronger reason—the danger of using it for speculative ends, thus creating a "run-away" market.

For this reason Banks are urging their customers to seek credit only for sound and constructive ends such as increased production. Our Bank wishes to help where help is needed under such a policy.

The M. R. Allensworth home is attractive with a bright red vine flowering gracefully over the front porch, the stately trees and the closely trimmed lawn.

The Fred Chamberlain home is noticeable as one seems to feel the need of trees and protection from the hot rays of the sun.

Odos Caraway home and grounds is attractive because of the terraced lawn, numerous evergreens and the bright colored flowers.

RED CROSS VOLUNTEER SERVICE

Some of you perhaps read the poem "Attention, First Aiders" as it appeared in the Volunteer in March. In answer to this bit of satire, Jane Griffith of the Nashville, Tenn. chapter gives us her own original composition:

ANSWER
While there's life, there's also hope

Of educating you, John Dope. Mister, it's the folks like you Who make our job so hard to do! You yap when you are in the pink;

"Oh, how that First Aid work does stink!"

You blab about its worthlessness, But wait until YOU'RE in distress It's when you're stretched out dying that You'll welcome an applied cravat! When blood flows from your sliced up veins It's then that you will change refrains!

If you're found groaning in some ditch You'll not object to traction hitch. And you don't readily complain When Thomas splints can ease your pain;

If in a state of asphyxiation You'll want artificial respiration. And while you're waiting for the Doc

You'd not object to easing shock. So, brother, you just stop that yelping

Of saying First Aid work's not helping! At least our tourniquents aren't things

As permanent as harps and wings With no First Aid you'd feel much worse

For you'd be waiting for the hearse!

Knitting
Sweaters turned in since last week include those knitted by Mrs. Ernest Kent (w.p.), Mrs. Joe Kendall (muffler), Mrs. J. W. Evans (o.d.), Mrs. Hattie Palmer (od), Mrs. Karl Adams (od), Mrs. John Potts (od), Juanita Bingham (wp), Leona McCraw (wp), Mrs. Frank Phelan (wp), Mrs. D. F. Wadsworth (od), Mrs. John Smithy (od), Mrs. Bob Head, Mrs. Harvey Shaw, Mrs. B. F. Kirtley, and Mrs. C. E. Griggs. Wool for eight sweaters and a muffler was issued to Miss Jessie Cook for the Ashtola unit.

Yarn was afagan squares was issued to Mrs. John Smithy, Mrs. Harvey Shaw, Mrs. Tom Goldston, Patty Molesworth and Clydie Price.

All the last shipment of the wool is being issued and patterns are being made for the helmets and wristlets and as soon as they are completed, instructions will be issued.

The workers are still begging for scrap yarn for the afagan squares. A very nice donation was given by Mrs. Ralph Andis but the need for still more yarn is great. Look around again.

Mrs. Leo Cantrell and Mrs. J. E. West gave a very nice donation of children's clothing for the Red Cross. All donations of this nature are greatly appreciated.

Texas Pensions Were Started By Gov. Allred

Declaring that "too many promises have been made, too many promises have been broken," James V. Allred, candidate for United States Senate, reminded Texans that old age pensions were started in Texas while he was Governor and that for five long years every pension paid to the old people of Texas was from money raised during his administration.

With the fire and force which captured the imagination of Texas voters in his successful campaigns in the past, Allred continued his drive this week after an impressive West Texas sweep that carried him from El Paso through the Panhandle.

His speeches drew crowds all the way, and served notice that Texas voters are giving real thought to their selection of a war-time senator. Allred is emphasizing his own platform of winning the war and winning the peace, of providing for men in the armed forces while they are in service and when they come out, of supporting the President's war program wholeheartedly and of seeing to it that farmers and small business men are not wrecked by the war.

Political Pot Boiling

AUSTIN, June 18—Texas' political spotlight, dimmed in recent weeks by the war, burns brighter these days, vying with the battle communiques for the front pages and commanding the interest of voters from East Texas' piney woods to West Texas' plains country.

Here in the state capitol, interest in things political were spurred by the recent resignation of snuff-dipping Jerry Sadler as Railroad Commissioner and "inside-track" filing by bushy-browed James E. Kilday, a "look-alike", incidentally, for John L. Lewis if there ever was one.

But that was last week and this week new developments swung the attention of capital observers to a familiar topic: W. Lee O'Daniel.

Real heat, fire from two veteran campaigners, was injected into the tri-cornered race for the U.S. Senate and no man could tell for certain who would get their fingers—or what have you—burned most.

These were the developments: 1. O'Daniel, who has been as silent in Washington as Lincoln's tomb even in the face of hard-hitting blows by his two opponents, made the announcement he would travel the Texas political highways and byways in the company of Hal Collins, candidate for governor. And, he opened his campaign with a broadcast from Waco.

2. Former Governor Dan Moody a sturdy veteran of the campaign wars who upset the invincible Ferguson, swung hammer blows at O'Daniel in a series of announcements. Red-headed Dan declared O'Daniel was pulling a "Huey Long" stunt in trying to dictate the choice of Collins as governor. And, commented Moody, what justification can O'Daniel offer in asking for reelection when he has admitted he cannot get anything accomplished in the Senate?

3. Former Judge James V. Allred, hitting the West Texas campaign trails, bludgeoned O'Daniel with a declaration that he was a candidate because he "was tired of having fun poked at Texas because of our junior senator."

It was too early in the campaign to tell anything definite of the probable outcome, but observers here generally agree that O'Daniel has been hard hit by his two formidable opponents. What the remaining weeks of the campaign will bring is a matter of intense conjecture with the O'Daniel backers declaring the junior senator's "magic radio voice" will bring his constituents back into the fold.

Capital comment was that Candidate Moody's repeated blasts were the most devastating. The fiery Austin attorney called attention to O'Daniel's vote against the service of the men drafted when he addressed the Senate and declared: "I oppose extending the period 18 months, or six months or one day."

"The President, Secretary of War, the Army Chief of Staff," Moody declared, "had appealed to Congress to continue these men in training. The war was all about us. Our ships had been sunk; our soldiers were in Iceland; but the junior senator thought that a time to disband our armed forces?"

Whether O'Daniel would win again, whether fast-talking Jimmy Allred would take his measure or whether silver-tongued Dan Moody, the political giant-killer of yesteryear, would join Tom Connally in the Senate is the topic of the day.

And one thing is certain: this trio is likely to run the Japs back to Tokyo—or at least off of the front page.

Girls Taking Home-Making Course To Continue Work This Summer

The girls taking the Home-making course this summer will complete their class work this week, but they will continue their individual projects through July and August.

Many of the girls have selected canning for their project. They have some good ideas of conservation of materials and equipment that might be passed on to the public.

Most wars are won by saving foods and in order to save food we must save containers.

Use as few cans as possible. Remember to save the cans from commercially canned foods and re-use them.

Zinc and tin are critical materials. Buy the two piece type covers for jars. Since any jar will seal in twenty-four hours, the same bands may be used for an indefinite number of times, as the band may be removed as soon as the jar is thoroughly cool.

Careful labeling and systematic storing will save much time later. Buy a standard top jar when buying commercial foods, so they may be reused in home canning.

Metal tops for jars are not needed for jellies, jams or preserves; paraffin will exclude the air, then waxed paper may be tied on jar.

Cosmetic jars may be used for jellies and jams. Honey may be used for one-half the amount of sugar you ordinarily use. One-fourth the amount of sugar in jams, jellies and preserves may be replaced by corn syrup in the proportion of 1 cup of syrup for each cup of sugar omitted. For canning fruits the syrup may be made by using 1 1/2 cups of corn syrup for 1 cup of sugar. If you do not have a Victory Garden, buy the vegetables in season. Eat fresh vegetables and fruits when they are in season and save the canned, dried and preserved foods after the fresh foods are gone.

Your job on the food front is to find out what is most plentiful and buy or use that to the best advantage.

Preserve all foods possible by drying, freezing, smoking and canning, and we will re-enforce the food front yet—doing a great part toward helping to win the war.—Contributed.

BIG TOWN?
I'll say it is!

If all of our employes and their families were gathered together in one community, it would make a sizable city. There are 3,000 folks on the payroll of this and associated companies. Then add their families and the hundreds of other persons necessary to meet their need for clothing, food, shelter, medical care, and so on. We figure this total number would make up a town of close to 20,000 population.

Natural Gas is playing a vital part in the country's war program, just as it is playing an important part in the development of the Gulf South.

Actually, there is no such "Big Town," because our employes are scattered all over the Gulf South, in cities, towns and villages. Wherever they are, they are good citizens and good neighbors. Their sole working objective has always been to assure Gulf

American Mothers Will Help Salvage Old Rubber Goods

Mrs. Joseph L. Doakes is just an average American mother. She has a son in the Army, and one in the Navy. Her husband, Joe, is a veteran of the last war, and she wouldn't complain if the Army agreed to let him be a veteran of this one.

Mrs. Doakes doesn't consider that she deserves any special praise for mothering two service men. She thinks fighting is their job, and she'd hate them to dodge it.

And that's why she is determined to do her part—however large or small the task—to help her sons and their country toward victory.

Yesterday Mrs. Doakes read in the paper that all American housewives can help the war effort by turning in every scrap of old rubber they can find.

The United States will get no more new rubber until we chase the Japs back to Japan, she read. What we've got on hand must go into tires, gun mounts, bulletproof gasoline tanks of our bombers and fighting planes. It must go on the wheels of jeeps and the treads of tanks. It must go into gas masks and raincoats, into life rafts and sailors' boots—into a thousand and one things our fighting men must have to win the war.

But old rubber can be reclaimed, the story said. The nation's rubber plants can reprocess 360,000 tons of it—if they can get it.

Mrs. Doakes saw a job for herself. She put on a big apron and tied up her hair and went to work.

For a start, she looked into the hall closet. Before she looked out again, Mrs. Doakes had unearthed three pairs of worn-out rubbers and two pairs of galoshes, an old raincoat that Joe had been treasuring for years past its usefulness.

Encouraged, Mrs. Doakes charged on the attic. With wifely instinct, she made for Joe's workbench under the window. There she retrieved an old pair of wad-

STEEL WORKERS BOOST WAR BOND SALES BY USE OF POSTERS

At the Bethlehem Steel Corporation plant, Bethlehem, Pa.

Workers at the vast steel plant of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation at Bethlehem, Pa., whose purchases of war bonds are being encouraged by the means of giant posters, at the present time are 96.3 per cent buyers of war bonds by means of payroll deductions.

Fourteen plants of the company have scores of 80 per cent or better at present, led by the Leedsdale Fabricating Works, with a perfect record, and the Ranking Fabricating Works with a 99 per cent participation. Of the major plants Johnstown comes first with 98.3 per cent, followed by Bethlehem with 96.3 per cent. The quarries are 94.1 per cent signed up; the Lebanon plant, 92.8 per cent; the Lackawanna plant, 87.3 per cent, and the Steelton plant, 86.6 per cent.

In the New York area the shipyard at Fifty-sixth St., Brooklyn, is 86.5 per cent represented and the Staten Island shipyard, 84.2 per cent. Other good scores are 81.1 per cent at the Preston Mines, 82.7 per cent at the Williamsport plant, 81.1 per cent at the Sparrows Point, Md., steel plant and 80 per cent at the Sparrows Point shipyard.

ers which he'd been talking about patching for more fishing seasons than she could remember. In the tool-chest she found several pairs of old rubber gloves left over from the boys' phase of developing their own snapshots. And behind an old trunk she spied a real find—a fifty-foot length of old garden hose, discarded for leaks. Flabby tennis balls, a rubber-tired velocipede and a little red coaster wagon finished out the attic's hoard.

Into the torn shower curtain went a retired rubber bath mat. From the pantry Mrs. Doakes salvaged old rubber rings from jam and jelly jars the family had emptied. To the growing pile she added two leaky hot-water bot-ties, a pure rubber reducing girdle she hadn't been able to stand, a worn-out rubber doormat, old rubber doorstops, and a plumber's suction pump that dated back to the little house the Doakes had moved into when they first married.

On to the garage! Mrs. Doakes looked a sight by now. But she found old tubes, two hopeless casings, some bits of patching and re-liners. With pride Mrs. Doakes surveyed her collection. Uncle Sam can make good use of that, she thought, and now for a bath.

Gene Autry Says Buy Stamps Instead of Fireworks the 4th

(The following letter was sent in by Beatrice Smith of the Goldston community and was written by Gene Autry, the movie star, to the Young Southerners Department of The Progressive Farmer.) Dear Fellows and Girls:

This year the Fourth of July has a special significance to everyone in the United States, and especially to you youngsters. We're fighting to keep the right of the Fourth of July, fighting for the independence and spirit it represents, and fighting for the honor of living in a country such as ours.

Independence Day is the inherent right of every American. Let's keep it that way. Let's put our fireworks this year in a place where they'll do the most good—on our fighting fronts.

This year, let's forego the pleasure of shooting firecrackers, spitfires, and Roman candles, and use the money we ordinarily spend for them to buy as many War Stamps as we possibly can.

Every War Stamp we buy spells "Trouble in the Making" for Hitler, Hirohito, and Mussolini, and the Future of the Fourth for us.

In other words, buy War Stamps this year, and we'll be helping to keep the right to buy firecrackers in later years—on the Fourth of July.

Sincerely, your pal,
Gene Autry

REPENTANCE

There is much written in both the Old and New Testaments about repentance and its importance. It is a command of Jesus and must be obeyed if one is saved.

Repentance follows faith; or is the result of one's faith. Some folk teach that repentance comes before faith. If this is true; what about the following?

A preacher goes into a heathen country to preach to the people. He begins like this: "You repent and then I will preach the gospel unto you. But says he; what have I done to repent of? What motive has the preacher given to cause him to want to repent? He does not believe in the preacher's God, therefore why should he repent toward him. If one repents before he believes the gospel, he repents before he hears the gospel. If this was true it would make repentance no part of the gospel.

But says one. Did not Jesus and John the baptist preach to the people to "repent and believe the gospel"? Yes this is true, but Jesus and John were speaking to the Jews who believed in God but had not yet believed in Christ. You repent toward God, against whom you have sinned, and believe on Jesus Christ.

But what of a man that has never heard of the true God? Why this is easy to understand. We would do our best to get him to believe in him, and he would have some reason to cause him to want to repent toward him.

Repent or Perish:
"Except you repent, you shall all likewise perish." Lk:13:3.

Commanded to Repent:
"And the times of this ignorance God winked; but now commandeth all men everywhere to repent". Acts: 17:30.
What is Repentance?
Not Godly Sorrow:
"For Godly sorrow worketh repentance unto life". 2 Cor:7:10.
Not Reformation:
"Bring forth therefore fruits worthy of repentance". Matt:3:8.
It is Change of Will:
"But what think ye? A certain man had two sons; and he came to the first, and said, Son go work in my vineyard. He answered and said, I will not; but afterward he repented and went. Matt:21:28-29. He will at first was not to work, but he changed his will and did work. Jesus said in changing his will, he repented.

Local USO Drive Still Short

The drive to raise $750 for the USO quota for Donley county by July 4th is still in progress but contributions are coming in slow. Approximately $200 has been raised at this time according to Bud Knorpp, and he is urging everyone to do their share in helping to raise the quota.

He has submitted another letter for this week's publication in order that everyone might see the benefits our soldiers receive from the USO.

June 7, 1942

Mr. Bud Knorpp, Chairman U.S.O., Clarendon, Texas. Dear Mr. Knorpp: It is with great pleasure that I reply to your request for my opinion of the USO.

Unfortunately I have never had the privilege of visiting any of the USO clubhouses or attending any of their shows due to the fact that I have been stationed and bivouaced in the mountains or the desert here in California, however, being in contact with the many soldiers that come and go in this organization I have been fortunate enough to meet boys from every walk of life and from every part of the dear old USA. It is through these boys that I have based my wholehearted approval of the USO. These boys have expressed deeply their appreciation of the USO clubhouses, it gives them a place to go for a few hours rest and relaxation, a place where they can meet their Buddy or perhaps an old friend from home.

I mentioned above that I was not fortunate enough to be near the USO, however I would like to relate a few of my experiences, not with the USO but with people, people who have what the USO stands for.

Only a few days ago I was stationed in the Imperial Valley near the Mexican border. While at this camp many generous people came to the camp to meet the boys and to extend invitations to their homes. These people extended the feeling that we were their boys and welcome and most of all they seemed to understand just how we felt. The people in Imperial Valley are from every part of the United States. On your right perhaps there is a Yankee accent and on your left a drawl from the dear old South, but they were all there for the same purpose, to make us feel at home, not just some soldier boy away from home but some mother's son who was miles from his home and that he was just as welcome in their home as he would have been if he were home.

I have the honor of knowing a family in Los Angeles who are not of our race, but nevertheless True Americans, who are quite wealthy. This family is spending thousands of dollars building mobile canteens, reading rooms, etc. in addition to the many dances and parties given for the boys who are on leave and need some place to go in a big city. This family of which I speak are usually among those who greet them at the door. The boys who attend do not know from whom the money comes for the party so to express their appreciation they autograph the welcome signs. Each time I visit these friends the lady shows me the recent welcome signs covered with the names of soldiers from every where, and with tears in her eyes she will say, "Some more of our boys were in to see us."

In my opinion it is not how much money a person can give to the USO, it is how much can he do to help the USO, whether it be money or personally, or both. The money that is given by those who can afford it, is the money that is used to build the USO Clubhouses to which the boys are free to go without invitation. This clubhouse is also a place where the people of that community, rich or poor, can go and extend a hand of welcome, a smile, and a few words of praise. These few simple things makes us realize that all we have given up or depriving ourselves of, is not in vain.

Yours very truly,
RUSSELL A. BARTON.
P. S.—My sincere personal regards to you and yours. Please give my love to Mother and Dad when you see them.

All are cautioned against seeking employment to evade the draft for it isn't being done. Those now employed with other defense projects must have a release from the chief executive before certain-teed will entertain an application for employment. Those having criminal history are wasting their time as finger prints and other investigation will reveal such cases. All others, however, may look forward, if employed, to a most pleasant work and with fellow-Panhandle citizens until the supply has been exhausted.

John Jay Selected For Navigator

We print the following letter that was received by Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Jay early this week from the commanding General at Randolph Field, noting the ability of another Donley County youth.

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Jay: In a memorandum which has come to my desk this morning, I note that your boy, now an Aviation Cadet, has been specially selected for training as a Navigator in the Army Air Forces. In order to win this war, it is vital to have the best qualified young men in charge of navigating our bombardment airplanes. Upon them will depend in large measure the success of our entire war effort.

The position of Navigator calls for a high degree of intelligence, alertness and coolness. Not only the success of the mission, but the safety of his crew-mates, depends on the speed and skill with which he performs his calculations. Men who will make good material for training as Navigators are rare. The Classification Board believes that your boy has the necessary reliability, character and mathematical aptitude.

If he shows the progress we confidently expect of him, he will in all probability win his wings as a qualified Navigator. Considering the rigid requirements for this training, you have every reason to be proud of your boy today. I congratulate you and him.

Sincerely yours,
H. R. Harmon

nies, the filling stations are paying a cent a pound for all kinds of rubber scrap. The oil companies will see that the scrap goes to the proper reclaiming plant, and if there is any profit from their sale as directed by the government, the profit will be turned over to some worthy war cause. Collecting scrap rubber is just one of the things to expect in the coming months. There will be many ways in which civilians will be asked to change their lives so that war industries may have the materials and so that there will be means to transport them.

Here's the way it is with food: Sugar is being rationed. The shipping shortage and Axis subs have made tea and coffee and bananas less plentiful. Other things that always have been brought in from abroad are going to grow scarcer, too, because of enemy action and because cargo space can't be spared for things we can get along without; and we can get along without everything but the barest essentials.

Fish will be harder to get. It's pretty obvious that the war has interfered with off-coast fishing, and besides the Army and Navy and Lend-Lease need fish as food for our soldiers and sailors and for our allies.

Pork may grow harder to get because we're sending lots of pork abroad in the same way. Because we're trying to save all possible tin for war we must learn to depend on fresh fruits and vegetables rather than on food from cans.

These things we must not do: We must not hoard food. We must not buy too much food at one time. We must not waste food. Not only must we eat fresh fruits and vegetables to save tin (there is enough tin in a single tin can to provide for two Army compasses), but we must try to find locally grown vegetables and fruits in order to cut the load on our railroads and on our trucking system. And we must find substitutes for fish and pork. There are plenty to be had.

We won't have to ration clothing this year—at least it doesn't look that way now. But look for further changes in style along the lines of those we have had already, in a further effort to save cloth for the Army and Navy. The wool problem grows more serious in the face of military need for wool and it is probable that we'll all wear a great deal more cotton than we did in time of peace.

Leather is a problem, too, although civilian shoe stocks are still adequate.

Because our railroads are bearing an increasing burden, there will be fewer passenger trains and slower passenger trains and passenger trains crowded to the point of discomfort. That goes for buses, too.

And, as for the automobile, anyone who grinds rubber from his tires in unnecessary driving these days is willfully aiding our enemies.

Mrs. Joyce Clark is in the Medical Arts hospital in Dallas following a major operation. Her condition is reported as favorable at this time.

WPA Workers Being Trained

SAN ANTONIO, June 14—The Texas Work Projects Administration sent 4,801 men and women from its rolls into other employment in Texas during May, it was reported today by State Administrator H. P. Drought.

War industry and agriculture were leading sources of new jobs for the workers who had been employed by the Federal agency, Drought said. More than 1,800 of the workers went to jobs in military and war industry construction, 827 WPA workers having been assigned to construction jobs at one army camp project in Central Texas.

North Texas aircraft plants, Gulf Coast ship builders and other war production firms absorbed 830 men and women from WPA rolls. Many of these, Drought asserted, received training through the WPA division of training and reemployment. At the present time, he added, 1,500 WPA workers are being trained in Texas National Defense Schools and soon will have acquired the skills necessary for private employment in plants and shipyards.

"Additional hundreds are being prepared for private work thru assignment to industry as in-plant trainees and through the airport ground servicemen program in which qualified workers are given instructions in servicing and repairing planes."

Texas Baptists In Debt-Paying Campaign

DALLAS, June 18—The Baptist General Convention of Texas plans to be debt-free by October 31, 1942, Dr. W. W. Melton, Dallas, executive secretary, said today as he announced a debt-paying campaign for the denomination in Texas.

The Convention now owes $421,000 on which it is paying $10,000 per month principal. A few years ago the amount owed was approximately $2,000,000. These amounts do not include debts of Baptist institutions in the State.

Authorized by the executive board of the Convention to launch the debt-paying campaign, Dr. Melton expressed the belief that now is the best time to "pay up" because of uncertainties in connection with the present world situation. Being debt-free, he said, would save Texas Baptists $18,000 annually in interest. Further, it would insure the permanence of Baptist work, should a post-war depression hit this country.
