Aluminum Drive Gets Results

County Agent H. M. Breedlove stated this morning that the aluminum program for defense was coming along fine and that people from all over the county were bringing in aluminum every day. Breedlove urges all persons to collect all scrap aluminum and bring to his office and as soon as a big shipment is collected it will be turned over to the chairman of the program for this district and turned into airplanes.

If each person in the county will cooperate in this program, Breedlove said, there is no telling how much aluminum can be collected in this county to help out in this national emergency. Let's all get behind this move and try to make it a big success. Tell all of your neighbors about it and let's all bring in all of our scrap aluminum.

WAR DECLARED ON COTTON FLEA HOPPERS

According to county agent H. M. Breedlove some of the farmers in the Hedley community are going to dust their cotton with sulphur to kill the cotton flea hoppers that are causing the cotton to shed its squares. Breedlove said that twenty-two hundred pounds of sulphur would be ordered the last of this week and that other farmers in the community had expressed their desire to kill the pest that is causing the cotton to shed its squares.

Continued hot weather will kill the cotton flea hopper Breedlove said but occasional showers and cold nights have protected the cotton flea hopper to this time. The sulphur is put on the cotton in the form of dust at the rate of ten pounds per acre and the average cost per acre for this is about twenty eight cents Breedlove said.

Clyde Bridges, Alvin Simmons and Roy Jewell of the Hedley community are some of the farmers who have poisoned in the past years and found out that the control of the cotton flea hopper is very important to increasing the production on the farm. Anyone wishing any information in regard to this matter can contact County Agent H. M. Breedlove.

MAMMOTH BEAN OFFERS PLENTY FOR ALL

Yes sir, right here in Clarendon there is a bean being grown that might be called a three-in-one menu special. It has an elongated shape with a crooked neck, has a hard slick rind and looks like a large squash. However, it tastes like a squash, has seeds like a cantaloupe and grows on a vine like that of a pumpkin—yet it is a bean.

Monday afternoon this strange vegetable was brought into the Leader office by Glenn and Dale Hall, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hall of this city. These fine lads reported that the seeds had come from the Condon Bros. in Ohio, and is known as the New Guinea bean. Before leaving they presented the Leader with one of these mastodons of the garden patch which weighs 13 3/4 pounds. The bean is 30 inches long and measures 22 inches around the large end. Some bean, eh, Ripley?

The dead were removed to the Womack Mortuary at McLean and the Dunkel-Carmichael Mortuary at Pampa.

The injured are in Amarillo and Pampa hospitals. Cause of the accident had not been determined.

Both cars were badly demolished, and brought into Clarendon by the Palmer Motor Co.

SAYS CROPS NORMAL

G. J. Teel, who has extensive farming interests near Lakeview in Hall county, reports that crop conditions on his farms are about normal with the exception that cotton is slightly late. He believes that with proper seasons and a late winter, he will yet be able to harvest large crops.

Work Progresses On Local School Buildings

In an interview with O. C. Watson, chairman of the School Board, we are advised that work on the Clarendon Junior College buildings which were badly damaged in the recent cyclone, is progressing in a very satisfactory manner. He said he was assured by contractor Nels Singleton that the main part of the Administration building would be roofed and gassed in this week. Work on the auditorium is also making progress.

The south building is also under reconstruction, the top story being removed and it will be finished as a two story building.

A committee of the School Board, Messrs. C. J. Douglas and Allen Bryan, was in Amarillo Monday getting necessary information looking to the purchase of new equipment for the Home Economics Department.

The School Board, looking to the dire need of these buildings in time for beginning of the new school term, have given their very best time and efforts to that end; and Mr. Watson assures us that they will be ready for use at that time.

This good work by our School Board and the builders, is most highly appreciated by the citizenship of this entire community.

PRIVATE INDUSTRY PLANNED AHEAD

A newspaper interviewer recently asked an executive of a leading oil company this highly significant question: "If an enemy air bombing force were able to reach Southern California and attack the thousands of oil wells located there, is it likely that the supply of petroleum for our Army and Navy would be seriously lessened?"

The executive's answer was an emphatic "No!" There are 20,000 oil wells in California alone, spread over a tremendous territory. If an enemy could destroy half of these wells—which is obviously a ridiculous assumption—the remaining 10,000 wells could double their production.

That isn't all. For example, oil storage tanks offer good targets for enemy bombers. Therefore, the oil industry, with commendable foresight, has long made it a policy to build these tanks sufficiently far apart so that if one were hit its neighbor would not be ignited. On top of that, the oil industry makes full use of the safest storage of all—the underground pools, provided by nature, where oil is found.

The oil industry, to sum up, is one of the many private industries which planned ahead for just such an emergency as we are facing now. Private enterprise made this country great. And private enterprise is today making this country secure.

THE PINCH OF DEFENSE

We have barely begun to feel the pinch that the defense effort will produce. Next year, many a consumer who goes shopping for items that have been produced in abundance in the past will come home empty handed.

Evidence of the way the wind blows is found in the fact that motor car, electric refrigerator, and washing machine production will be cut about 50 per cent in 1942. Anything which requires aluminum, rubber, or basic metals will be harder to get.

Mrs. Viola Cornell, Mrs. Victor Smith and Lester Carlile were Amarillo visitors Monday.

MCDONALD OBSERVATORY FAMILY INCREASES

Austin.—The star-gazing "family" which manages McDonald Observatory, giant West Texas astronomical plant in West Texas, has been increased, as Indiana University joins the universities of Texas and Chicago for astronomical research.

Indiana scientists—who will use the plant's 82-inch mirror and photographic devices 15 nights each year—intend to concentrate their observations particularly on the speed of distant stars, University of Texas officials here are informed.

Heretofore the Texas-owned observatory has been concerned largely with the composition and physical nature of stars rather than their particular activities in space.

POOR RELATION

According to many authorities, the farmer is getting the worst of it during this war boom.

Farm income has not risen to anywhere near the extent of labor's income. Farmers are forced to pay far higher wages. The costs of all the manufactured goods the farmer must buy are also rising. And the farmer will bear his full share of higher taxes.

That situation cannot continue indefinitely. Agriculture, after all, is the most vital calling—a country must have food in war or peace. Agriculture cannot be treated as a poor relation. The nation's task now is to make an equitable adjustment between the interests of agriculture, labor, and industry.

STRANGE FRIENDSHIP

The mountains of west Texas about six miles from Van Horn are the scene of a rather strange friendship. A seven-point deer and a young ewe bighorn mountain sheep have been seen together several times. Not long ago a biologist of the Game Department came upon the strange pair bedded down together under a bluff on the side of the Beach Mountains. They sprang up together and the buck bounded off up the mountain, closely followed by the sheep.

Texas University Measures Cotton In Test Tubes

AUSTIN.—Farming at the University of Texas is done on a pretty small scale, when you compare it to the average 275-acre farm in Texas.

Yield from the 20,000 cotton plants set out each year are measured in test tubes and under microscopes—rather than in bales per acre or bushels or tons.

But findings of the botanists who plant and test this cotton crop—as well as those of other University scientists who are working on agricultural projects—can be converted into higher yield-per-acre, bigger markets, reduced harvesting losses—for every farmer in Texas.

For example, the botany department with federal aid is breeding cotton on a tiny farm near Austin as an experiment to find new and more profitable strains of cotton to fit various growing areas of Texas.

One project is aimed at producing a plant which will be resistant to the insidious cotton root-rot, a fungus growth that is destroying from 10 to 12 per cent of the state's annual cotton crop.

Another investigation is the search for a variety of cotton that can be grown with a minimum of water for germination. If successful, this project will enable farmers of arid Northwest Texas to convert that area from a "dust bowl" to a "cotton bowl."

Engineers and chemists are also working for the cotton grower.

An engineer has discovered that there is an invisible underground electricity—earth current—which may exert an important effect in the growth of crops. He is now studying this uncharted field to measure this underground flow and to determine the influence sunlight may have on the direction and intensity of the current.

A University industrial chemist has set up a "pilot plant" in University laboratories, to determine by trial and error, and chemical test tubes, what the future holds for Texas-grown cotton industrially.

He has already made a survey of the nation's textile mills to note the type of machinery employed, the quality of cotton used, the type of cloth turned out. The "pilot plant" here is a model textile mill using the best principles of construction and equipment found in industrial mills of the country.

In this plant he is testing the strength of various types of Texas cotton fibers, yarns and fabrics. He is also seeking new uses for Texas-grown cotton by chemically treating it to make it suitable for more varied purposes. For example, cotton mills—some even in Texas—are importing a certain foreign cotton to make a special cloth for which it is thought native cottons are unsuitable. By laboratory trials it was found that Texas cotton could be treated chemically so that it would be suitable for this purpose. Manufacturing tests are now in progress.

If these and other University industrial chemistry tests succeed, the value of Texas cotton will be greatly enhanced, and Texas cotton growers may be rewarded

DO YOU KNOW TEXAS?

MEMORABLE PASSAGE: "Regardless of a man's technical or professional, scientific, or vocational training or his talents—he who fails to love his Country deeply is a failure in any work in which he may engage; and, most regrettable of all, he will be a failure as a citizen."—Ben B. Hunt in Knowledge and Patriotism in Texas.

Q. Were there any Indians in the army of the Republic of Texas?

A. Yes. Bascom Giles, Commissioner of the General Land Office says the muster rolls list one "Catfish, a Cherokee Indian" as having served 30 days. The record says "Catfish" enrolled in a Ranging Company raised under the superintendence of Silas M. Parker, October 23, 1835. Commissioner Giles says there may have been others.

QUALIFICATIONS: If you are more than 65 years old; if you are a citizen of the United States; if you have resided in Texas five out of the last nine years and one year continuously preceding your application; and if you are in necessitous circumstances, then you are eligible for old age assistance in Texas.

CITIZENSHIP THOUGHT:—With public sentiment nothing with millions of dollars worth of new business.

Completion of the new $185,000 chemical engineering building—to be occupied this fall—will permit more efficient and more widespread activity along this line.

can fail: without it nothing can succeed.

Q. What was the Good Samaritan Lodge and was there ever a chapter in Texas?

A. Mrs. R. O. Carter, Dallas, writes that she has been informed by a pioneer woman of Dallas that her mother belonged to such a lodge in Port Lavaca, the first of its kind in Texas. It was in existence in 1859, but had disbanded before the hurricane of 1875. The purpose of the lodge was to promote the cause of prohibition.

QUEEN OF MISSIONS:—The San Jose Mission at San Antonio is known as the Queen of Missions. Rep. John C. Hoyo of that city has rendered a patriotic service in his recent successful leadership in the movement for this famous mission to be taken over by the Texas State Parks Board. He and his associate representatives from Bexar county also succeeded in securing an appropriation of $1,500 a year for the next biennium for maintenance, repairs, utilities, tools, equipment, supplies, and reasonable labor. Frank Quin, secretary of the Parks Board, accepted the mission for the State of Texas; and A. J. Wirtz accepted on behalf of the federal government.

THE TEMPLE OF TRUTH
By the Apostle
(By A. D. Estlack)
DEFENSE NEED.
Bring in your aluminum, folks! Any old kettle, dishpan or what have you, just so it is aluminum, will go far to aiding in the defense program. The County

Agent's office is the place to leave it. The government needs the aluminum to make bombing planes, and each plane made will do its part in pushing Hitler and his allies just a little farther back from our door.
THE BIG FAMILY.
Yes sir, I visited with the big family—eighty-six in all, with some thirty-one being absent, Sunday week ago, Mother and I attended the G. H. Hodges (deceased) family reunion at the J. B. Wadsworth home at Vashti in Clay County. The original ten children were there including their children and grandchildren. It was one grand day of fun-making, visiting and reminiscing. At the noon hour a delightful picnic was held, spread under the grand old oaks which have seen generations come and go. And as I stood there watching that happy group,

I turned my face to the heavens and gazed into the depths of the eternal blue. Somewhere up there, I knew, a grand old pair were smiling down upon a tradition well kept. And next year - - well - - I hope to be there at the picnic with my mother.
THERE'S LOTS OF 'EM.
You often hear some guy say, "I run things in my house," but if you will casually drop around you will find that he usually refers to the washing machine, lawn mower, vacuum cleaner, baby carriage and errands.

WASN'T SO SURE.
Rastus was in trouble again, and the judge asked him if he were guilty or not guilty. "Guilty, suh, ah thinks, but ah'd rather be tried 'n make sure of it."
SILENT MISERY.
Imma Fizzle says the only time she ever saw a crowd of women silent was when the chairman of the ladies club asked the oldest lady to speak up.
TIT FOR TAT.
The Mrs.—"I was a fool when I married you."
The Mr.—"I suppose you were, but I was so infatuated at the time I didn't notice it."
NO TOMFOOLERY.
Poke Jarrald says his wife and her school teacher sister were arguing as to whether it was correct to say of a hen, "she is sitting," or "she is setting." "The question," said Poke, "doesn't interest me at all. What I want to know when I hear a hen cackle is whether she is laying or lying."
TWO OF A KIND.
Red Cayenne says the black cat he kicked out of the henhouse the other night blitzed him with a round of poison gas. Red is now batching in the woodshed, cussing skunks and all that Hitler represents.
ONE FOR RIPLEY.
Glenn and Dale Hall are two boys who don't ask you to believe a thing—they show you. In other words when two boys walk in and hand you the largest squash you've ever seen and tell you it is a bean, you nearly have to grab something to keep from falling. And then they let you down more easily by telling you that it is a New Guinea bean. You still have some of your self respect left, however, when they enlighten you that it tastes like a squash—because of course, there must be something "squashy" about it or two and two wouldn't equal four. And all this time, while you feel kinda dizzy, Glenn, aged 13 and Dale, 8, are as calm as an East Texas breeze. "There isn't nothing to it," said Glenn, "you just simply cut it and prepare for cooking; or if you're not ready for squash just lay it away—it'll keep for a long time." Thank you, Glenn and Dale Hall for this generous offering. A 13% pound bean is nothing to sneeze at.

49 Army Chapels Being Erected
AUSTIN.—Erection of 49 regimental chapels in eleven Texas Army Camps, under a program now being carried out by the Constructing Quartermasters, was praised by Governor W. Lee O'Daniel in a communication today to the Chief of Chaplains of the United States Army, Washington, D. C.
The chapels, which will be available to Protestants, Catholics, and Jews alike, will cost approximately $1,000,000 when completed, the Governor was advised. Each chapel will have a movable altar, so constructed as to be adaptable for use by the several religious groups. A series of doors and panels in the altars will provide the essential requirements for each kind of service.
"The religious program as planned by the United States Army to reach every man in the service seems to me to be of the highest importance," Governor O'Daniel said.
"While no attempt is being made to force religious observance upon any man, it is significant that the tradition of a God-fearing American Army is being maintained in sharp contrast to the materialism of the totalitarian states. This activity will doubtless receive the approbation of American citizens generally and will bring great satisfaction to the hearts of the mothers and fathers of our soldiers."
Mr. and Mrs. J. W. de Vlaming of Paducah visited in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. V. L. Smith Saturday night. Mrs. de Vlaming is the former Miss Yvonne Smith.
The Young married folks Sunday school class enjoyed a party at the school house Friday night. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Brock and family ate dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Murphy Brock and Della Brock Sunday.

Hitler is moaning,

The British say, "Uncle, begin!"

The warmongers cry, "Increase!"
WHAT NEXT?
An alligator is reported to be living in water near Brownwood. That is some jump from East Texas. Another epidemic of rainfall like that witnessed here in the Panhandle the last few months may bring the big fellows farther up here in North Texas. Get out your guns, boys, there may be a new luggage bag just around the corner of the next cloud.

LADIES HOLD UNION MEETING

Every month that has five Wednesdays brings all the ladies groups together from the various churches of Clarendon. Yesterday the ladies of the First Christian Church were host to the ladies of the Methodist, Baptist, Episcopal and Presbyterian Churches.

The program was under the direction of Mrs. Cox of the Baptist church. Miss Burton of the Baptist favored the group with a piano solo.

About fifty ladies were present and seemed to enjoy themselves in about the coolest spot in town.

GARDEN GLANCES

"America beautiful lies in the hands of the gardeners."

In wonder-workings or bush aflame
Men look for God, and fancy Him concealed;
But in earth's common things He stands revealed,
While grass and stars and flowers spell out His name.

—Minot J. Savage

The residence is made very attractive because of the huge sweet-scented honeysuckle draped over the entire porch.

Although this is the first year to have been planted the lawns of the Allensworth's and Blocker's are growing nicely. Adding another attraction to each side of town. The Blocker home boasts a new coat of paint also.

A bright spot is created by the zinnias that bloom so profusely in yard of James Trent.

Mrs. L. S. Bagby's lawn and flowers and shrubs are looking pretty again in spite of the damage done by the storm.

The flowers at the city park give a bright splash of color to the rock covered ledges. And lend their beauty to the lovely grass park below.

Many residents have had the weeds cut on vacant lots of the town but still a great many weeds remain to mar the town as a whole. One very attractive lot is the one near the J. T. Patman home. It is covered with grass, centered by an enormous flower bed of cannas and petunias. All together this is a very noticeable and unique lot.

Very tall and graceful phlox of purple and white enhance the grounds of Roy Clayton's. The lawn also is carefully trimmed, giving the passing motorist a good impression of the town.

The W. J. Lewis' home presents a lovely lawn and the most beautiful bed of daisies that I have noted this season.

—Contributed.

Jimmy Miller and family left this week for Amarillo where Mr. Miller will enter business and will make their home.

Robert and Bill, small sons of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Talley have been ill for several days with flu. They are reported as being improved at this time.

IN MEMORY OF MRS. J. T. BAIN

A splendid friend and neighbor,
A mother kind and sweet—
A faithful wife and daughter,
And a sister hard to beat.
Should we rise to call her blessed,
Every child would echo back;
And also would her husband,
For his praise she doesn't lack.

Mother dear was worn and weary,
And was ready quite to go,
But we all were loathe to let her
Just because we loved her so;
Yet we bow in meek submission
Knowing she is free from pain,
And although our loss is grievous
Yet for mother it is gain.

We believe in God the Father—
Believe the promise of His Son,
And we know that we shall meet her

If our race is rightly run,
Give us grace, dear Lord, to do it
Everyday a fresh supply,
Yes, do grant that we shall meet her
In those mansions upon high.

—Mrs. J. S. Hall.

FIGHTING PLANES TO BEAR LONGHORN EMBLEM THIS COMING FALL

AUSTIN.—The Texas Longhorn—athletic emblem of the University of Texas—will see service over Germany this fall. University officials this week granted permission for three Texas members of the Royal Canadian Air Force to use the Longhorn as the insignia on their fighting planes.

"And after much debate and elimination we have selected, with your permission, the charging Longhorn steer—which has always symbolized the spirit of Texas U.—the basis of our insignia and emblem.

"We would greatly appreciate it if you would send us the different types of decals and stickers using a full and three-quarter view of the steer. From these we hope to have our full insignia made up; a charging Texas Longhorn crashing through the ringed star insignia of the U. S. Air Corps, with the motto of the R.C.A.F. between the star's uppermost points, and the word, Texas, centered below."

Traffic Fatalities On Increase

AUSTIN.—With 140 traffic deaths reported for June, State Police statisticians today announced a seven per cent increase in Texas fatalities for the first six months of 1941.

In the first half of 1940 there were 787 deaths; this year the toll for that period rose to 843, an increase of 56.

Worst record was made by towns of under 2,500 population, where fatalities jumped 29 per cent from 38 to 49.

Highway deaths increased from 429 to 514, a gain of 85 or 20 per cent.

Thirty two fewer persons were killed on country roads, where the toll was reduced from 138 to 106, a drop of 32, or 23 per cent.

Cities recorded a bare reduction of four per cent with a saving of eight lives, their toll dropping from 182 to 174.

Military personnel was involved—either as drivers, passengers or pedestrians—in 10 per cent of all the fatal collisions, said Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., State Police director.

Dallas, co-winner with Kansas City last year for the nation's top safety award, took fourth place in the rating of cities of more than 100,000 population. Fort Worth and Houston showed a decrease of one death each; San Antonio remained on par with last year's record, and Dallas recorded an increase of one death.

Uncle Sammy Vs. Japan

Along with Japan's many troubles and inconveniences of recent date, like getting their supply of oil, gas, scrap iron and other commodities too numerous to mention all cut off by our Uncle Sammy, comes the further news that now little Japan's ships are denied passage thru the Panama Canal, because of "repairs" being made to said canal, therefore said ships now have to take off southward toward and around Cape Horn, that is if they go at all, or go back home from whence they came. Congratulations to our Uncle and may the good work go on. That is the sentiment of the American public.

Tuzigoot National Monument

Tuzigoot, Indian ruins near Clarkdale, Arizona, three miles east of the fine, paved highway through Oak Creek Canyon. State route 79, is Arizona's newest national monument, proclaimed a protected area by President Roosevelt during the summer of 1939. Tuzigoot represents all that remains of an Indian people who flourished in the region about 800 to 1000 A. D. This area is of interest to archaeologists because of opportunities for study, while the ordinary traveler will find it interesting because of scenic beauty as well as archaeological appeal.

Fish Cost Only Half Cent

AUSTIN.—Fourteen years ago the cost of every fingerling fish distributed from the hatcheries of the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission was 47 cents. This year the cost of each fish raised will be approximately a half cent, it was announced by the executive secretary of the commission after he had examined reports from the hatchery division of the Department.

Improved methods of fertilization, feeding and handling of fish have made it possible for the Texas Department to cut the cost of fish and it is going down each year. In 1939 the cost of fish was one and a half cents. Last year there was a sharp drop in production cost to 9 mills and with the hatcheries expecting to plant at least 12,000,000 fish in the lakes and streams of the state the cost will be 5½ mills. That will make the cost of fish distributed this season approximately one-ninth of that fourteen years ago. Anglers benefit by the additional number of fish planted. Unless methods had been devised to raise more fish with the hatchery space and personnel available, more fish could not be planted due to the limited amount of money the Department has available for fish production.

FIND 4 TIMBER WOLF PUPS

Despite efforts of several state departments, including the Game Department, to eradicate timber wolves, there are still a few of the huge beasts in Texas. Four were dug out of a den near Crockett, in East Texas, recently, after the mother had been caught in a trap. Two of them were killed by dogs, but the other pair are now in the zoo at Beaumont.

And here is another note which attests to the fact that Texas still has a variety of wildlife, although some of it is not desirable. A game warden in the Panhandle reported recently that he had killed nine huge rattlesnakes within a period of six weeks. The largest was 6 feet, 2 inches in length and had a circumference of twelve inches. Four other rattlers each measured more than five feet in length.

Here's What I Expect An Advertisement To Tell Me!

"WHERE CAN I BUY IT?"

Naturally, one of the first things I want to know about something I see in an ad is—where can I buy it? It isn't simply a matter of convenience and of saving time in planning my shopping, either! No, the name of the merchant, itself, often decides whether I buy or not. Invariably, you see, I give preference to stores whose ads I see regularly and often—I know the stores must have good value or they couldn't go on advertising year after year!

"WHAT WILL IT DO FOR ME?"

I find it so much easier to make up my mind when the ad tells me facts about the merchandise! What is it? What will it do? How will it help me? Why do I need it? I want to know about color, weight, texture, material, style—I enjoy reading those things and I usually buy from the merchants who tells them to me.

"HOW MUCH IS THE PRICE?"

Of course nearly every ad mentions the price, but if an item has been marked down I want to know from how much. So many sale ads say 'Was Higher' . . . how much higher? I want to know how much I am saving and I want the chance of deciding for myself if the item is a real value or not. I have more confidence in the store that is consistently truthful and buy from such a store regularly—and my husband says an old customer is worth three new ones because new ones cost additional money to get!

The "Texan" Cameron Home Is Inspected

First inspection of the Cameron-Built "TEXAN" home under construction at 400 Taylor Street was completed Monday by the official FHA inspector. This home is being built by Wm. Cameron & Co., Inc. in accordance with all FHA requirements and will be by the FHA plans so that it can be bought for less than one dollar per day.

"The 'TEXAN' will be completed in time to be open for public inspection during the week of August 24, 1941," said Roy C. Wyatt, manager of Cameron's building material store here.

The inspection was made by

Chas. A. Wolflin of Amarillo, Texas, architectural inspector for the FHA. The purpose of the inspection was to make certain that the house is being built in accordance with plans and specifications, which had received FHA approval before construction started.

Mr. Wolflin checked the footings for the foundation to see that the concrete had been placed deep enough in the ground to avoid any possible future difficulty. He also measured the width and height of the footings and foundations and checked to see that proper reinforcements of iron and steel had been placed in the concrete footings. The material, workmanship and other important constructions were also checked and he stated the work so far was excellent. The inspector will return when construction is sufficiently advanced to make another inspection of other details, including plumbing and electrical wiring.

This is one of the 36 similar homes being built in Texas by Wm. Cameron & Co., Inc. to stimulate and encourage the desire for home ownership and the construction of quality, low-priced homes. All of these homes were planned by Cameron's Home Planning Department and can be bought for less than one dollar a day.

Value of Diet

Proper eating is a distinct aid in relieving the pain incident to rheumatism. Dieting will not remove the cause, but the proper selection of foods will reduce the amounts of toxins formed in the body. The basis of all diet for rheumatism is milk. It should be used in large quantities and can be supplemented by the use of grain, broth, non-acid vegetables and non-acid fruits. The only exception to this latter is in the case of citrus fruits. The acid of oranges and grapefruit does not lead to the production of large quantities of poisons. Care should be taken to see that the rheumatic person is warmly clad. Woolen clothing is usually advisable because it promotes greater elimination through the pores of the skin. The use of large quantities of pure water is also advisable, in that it increases the activity of the excretory organs and washes out the accumulated toxins which otherwise would find lodgment along the millions of cells in the body.

While rheumatism is generally thought to be an incurable disease, Chiropractors have experienced excellent results in handling it. These results have the merit of permanency even in damp climates which are least advantageous to proper bodily elimination.

SIDE GLANCES ON TEXAS HISTORY

By Charles O. Hucker
University of Texas Library

The Bloodless War For Austin's Honor

People seldom recall that there have been such things as civil wars in Texas, but anyone with a hearty imagination could justifiably so consider several domestic uprisings which dot its early history. Because they produced no lasting, tangible effects which might serve as reminders of them, the majority have been almost completely forgotten; but one that hasn't been was the so-called "Archive War" of 1842.

This long-remembered "war," probably the least bloody of all the wars recorded in the University of Texas Library's Texas Collection, was fought at a time when the civic honor of the town of Austin was sadly endangered and determined—that is, in one sense, a rather sentimental one—that the "friendly city" is today the capital of the State of Texas.

During the decade of Texas independence, Mexico repeatedly sent invading armies across the Rio Grande in attempts to re-subjugate its old northern province, twice sacking San Antonio. One of these invasions, of March, 1842, was directed straight at Austin, the Republican capital since 1839; and the townspeople turned out in force to stem the enemy tide. It was short work, and the Austinites returned jubilantly to their homes—but only to discover that in their absence the government had been moved out of harm's way to the town of Houston.

The Tug-of-War Begins

Thus in the summer of '42 Austin was threatened with absolute desertion. But one hope remained, for one government agency had not yet been moved away. That agency was the General Land Office, whose archives were more voluminous than those of any other branch of the government. And Austin determined to keep those archives.

For several months the situation did not greatly change. Once some messengers brought an order that the records be forwarded on, but they were so successfully denied that they became permanent residents of Austin. Then, in November, the seat of government was moved to Washington-on-the-Brazos, and late in December President Sam Houston, more determined to have his archives than ever before, despatched a troop of soldiers to bring them from Austin.

The Crisis Looms

It was early morning of December 29th when the word spread through Austin that the moment for action was at hand: the troops were packing the archives into wagons for the trip to Washington. So the townspeople gathered together once again, brought up some cannon, and eagerly let fly at the soldiers just as they were about to leave.

The volley did little good for the civic cause, as it was deliberately aimed at the walls of the Land Office building and not at the troops; and did it great harm, as the wagons immediately fled out of town, archives and all. The citizens quickly mounted a company of volunteers for the pursuit, and the race was on.

The next morning, December 30, 1842, the citizens paraded back into town with the precious archives in their train, and the one-day "Archive War" had ended without the expenditure of a drop of blood—only a good deal of persuasive energy. No further attempt to steal away the Land Office was hazarded, and in 1845 the rest of the government was moved back to the "friendly city"—in resignation, perhaps—and has remained there ever since.

Gene Chamberlain and Mr. Crosby, prominent Memphis cotton broker, were in Clarendon on business Friday.

Tom Lane has been entertaining a very delightful cold which has had him near home for several days. He is better at this time.

Six Annual XIT Ranch Reunion

DALHART, July 30.—Shamrock, Texas, publicized far and wide for its St. Patrick's Day celebration and as "the home of the Irish", has become the first town to enter a team in the Sixth Annual XIT Ranch Reunion square dance contest in Dalhart Monday and Tuesday nights, August 4-5th.

Every town in this five-state High Plains area is invited said S. F. Weaver, president of the Dalhart square dance club, that is sponsoring the event. There are cash prizes, and no entry fees.

Pioneers, with long experience in square dancing, will be judges. All eliminations will be held Monday night; and the final Tuesday night.

Miss Margaret Stockstill and Miss Alice Cockrell, both of Pampa, have entered the cowgirl sponsor contest, and petite Sally Jim Small, ten-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Small, Sr. of Shamrock, is a tentative entry. Miss Stockstill will represent Pampa; and Miss Cockrell will represent Gray county of which Pampa is county seat. Both Miss Cockrell and Miss Small were ranking entries last year. Miss Small, incidentally, is a niece of former State Senator Clint C. Small, Amarillo.

Prizes this year are a special made saddle; a complete cowgirl outfit, including suede skirt, satin blouse, bolero jacket, boots and hat; and a pair of shop made boots.

"I have never missed an Annual XIT Ranch Reunion and I'm never going to," said Wm. M. (Bill) Sargent, assistant general livestock agent of the Rock Island in Fort Worth, when in Dalhart this week. Sargent is widely known throughout the Texas Panhandle and adjacent areas, having been traveling Rock Island agent out of Amarillo until promoted a few weeks ago.

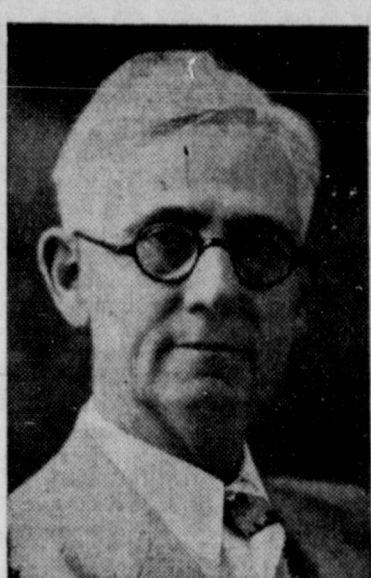

John C. Burns, Fort Worth, trustee of the S. B. Burnett estate, writes that he will be here. "Trinidad, Colo. will be well represented at the XIT Reunion in Dalhart," writes Secretary Wm. E. Inglis of the chamber of commerce.

The Sons of the American Legion Drum and Bugle Corps, with 30 to 35 pieces, will attend the Sixth Annual XIT Ranch Reunion in Dalhart, Monday, Aug. 4, the first of the two-day celebration, according to Director Guy P. Miller.

The brilliantly uniformed Perryton high school band, one of the finest school bands in the Panhandle, will be here Tuesday, writes Director Glenn A. Truax.

Dumas, Texas and Elkhart, Kansas will also send bands to one or both days of the celebration, the General XIT Committee has learned.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Hoy visited Mrs. Hoy's sister and family at Tullia over the week-end.

DR. J. A. HILL, born near Moody, Texas, and president of West Texas State College, Canyon, since 1918, will be the principal speaker at the Memorial Service Sunday night, August 3rd, prefacing the Sixth Annual XIT Ranch Reunion in Dalhart August 4-5th. The Memorial Service, in the Central Methodist church, is to pay a tribute to all the sons and daughters of the Old West, living or dead, who contributed to its glory.

tain members of his family in case of his death, according to a statement by Dewey Reed, manager of the Amarillo office of the Social Security Board. "The length of time a man has worked in jobs covered by this system and the wages he has received must be sufficient to meet certain minimum requirements. To use the language of the law—he must have had sufficient 'quarters of coverage.' A quarter of coverage is a calendar quarter (three-month period beginning January, April, July, or October) in which the worker was paid wages of $50 or more in covered employment."

It was further explained that a worker who is 65 years old or older can claim old-age retirement benefits if he is "fully insured." In general, he is fully insured if he has enough quarters of coverage to equal half the calendar quarters between December 31, 1936, and the quarter in which he attains age 65. But he must in any case have at least 6 quarters of coverage.

"For anyone who reached 65 before July 1, 1940, six quarters of coverage are enough to be fully insured. But for those becoming 65 later, the required number of quarters of coverage increases. Those who reached 65 between July 1 and December 31, 1940, need 7 quarters of coverage. Workers attaining age 65 during the first six months of 1941 need 8 quarters of coverage, and those reaching 65 during the last six months of 1941 will need 9 quarters of coverage. The number of quarters of coverage required to be fully insured increases at this rate until the worker has 40 quarters of coverage. Then he is fully insured for life."

Work Experience For Youths

Ten thousand youths between the ages of 16 and 24 received work experience through National Youth Administration projects in Area 1 in the fiscal year July 1, 1940, to June 30, 1941, Harold V. Hamilton, Amarillo Area Director, announced.

Throughout the area, which includes 26 Panhandle counties, a monthly average of youth workers was maintained at 650. However, a fifty percent turnover in employees, due to youths receiving private employment, accounted for the large total employed during the year.

Project activities in the area include the boys' resident center in Canyon which is sponsored by West Texas State College. Boys working on this project have an opportunity to learn all phases of construction work and to attend related training classes in aviation mechanics, sheet metal work, cooking, auto mechanics, and welding conducted by the State Board of Vocational Education.

In Clarendon a part-time resident center for girls is maintained. Girls on this project live at the home two weeks each month, and receive experience in all phases of homemaking, such as planning menus and canning fruits and vegetables.

NYA construction jobs at Canyon, Estelline, Childress, Samnorwood, and Wellington have either been completed or are now under way. Some of the buildings constructed on the projects include civic and community centers and school buildings.

Other projects include an experimental farm near Childress, girls' production centers at Childress, Memphis and Wellington, mechanical work at the United States Department of Agriculture garage in Amarillo, woodworking shops at Amarillo and Childress.

Aviation Calls To Young Men

Sergeant Harvey M. Gist, U. S. Army Recruiting Officer, Pampa, Texas still is looking for applicants for Aviation Cadet appointment, he said today as he urged young men of Clarendon, who believe they may be eligible to contact him at their earliest opportunity.

"The Army needs pilots," he said, "which means the country needs pilots. Before they're pilots they're just good men. The Air Corps is going all-out in its expansion program — every one knows that. It's getting a lot of planes, but the planes are no good unless there are pilots to fly them."

"I've no doubt," he continued, "that there are a lot of eligible young men who don't realize what opportunities there are for Aviation Cadets. Or maybe they don't know whether they are eligible or not."

"How else can a young man learn to become an expert airplane pilot, with a high-paid job waiting for him, and get paid while he is doing it? Only Aviation Cadets get a break like this."

The requirements are simple. Applicants must be over twenty and not over twenty-seven, unmarried, in good physical condition and with at least a high school education and capable of proving proficiency in certain subjects. If they have had two years of college, so much the better.

"If any young men are in doubt about their qualifications, let them come to see me, or drop me a postcard. I'll be glad to tell them whether they can become Aviation Cadets or not."

Sergeant Gist, said that there was still lots of desirable vacancies for young men with less education, who want to get in on the ground floor of aviation, and are willing to spend a little time learning a good trade, whether they stay in the military service or not there is going to be a big demand for Army trained technicians, both in military and civil aviation.

Vacancies exist at Brooks Field, Texas located at San Antonio, Texas and at Ellington Field, Texas near Houston, Texas. Men accepted are forwarded at Government expense to their choice of these assignments.

Mr. Hoy was a business visitor in Pampa Saturday.

Work Started On Museum Addition

Work began on the new addition to the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society Museum Monday—in less than 12 hours after the Society's big "victory" celebration had ended.

Thousands of bricks continue to pour into the brick yard and museum officials say they expect more shipments to arrive during the following weeks. These bricks are being donated by civic groups and individuals. Cash contributions, also continue to pour in, it is stated.

Between four and five thousand persons attended the celebration Sunday, at which State Senator Grady Hazlewood was the principal speaker.

As part of the celebration program Sunday, children and young people from all over the Panhandle pushed wheelbarrows of brick up to the museum site—a demonstration of the section-wide participation in the building program.

The new addition has been made possible by public donation of cash and building materials, and by a $10,000 appropriation by the last Legislature.

PANHANDLE HIGHWAYS INCLUDED IN ARMY DESIGNATED ROUTES

In the great national network of proposed Military Routes, which it is apparent will be approved soon by congress, are included and designated highways 87, 66, and 370, all in the Panhandle, which will constitute a part of the 7000 miles of roadway to be included in the program. Construction is expected to be underway by fall, according to indications from WPA officials.

Beyond their military value as set out above, it is said these highways will be equipped alongside their right-of-ways, with "flight strips", at regular locations, spaced regularly for the landing, parking, refueling and take off of planes. Under the proposed cost of construction terms as it is understood at this time, the federal government will pay 75 per cent and the states 25 per cent.
