Aerial Navigation.

M. De Comberousse, in a discourse pronounced at the funeral of the late Henri Giffard, made this significant admission: "An intimate friend of Giffard told me yesterday that he carried to the tomb the secret which he had long sought for, and which had revealed itself to his eyes during his last years. He added that our colleague shrank back from his own discovery, and, filled with horror, put an end to his existence." In other words, he saw at length that aerial navigation must prove the suicide of civilization.

Mr. Engeman, proprietor of the Coney Island race track, has discovered a novel way of evading the grasping railroad monopolies. In dismay at the rapid gobbling of land in his vicinity nominally for railroad purposes, but really for hotels, bathing houses, mechanical cows and other things, he looked about for some method of saving his property. His expedient consisted of getting up a railroad company of his own, and condemning his own lands for railroad purposes. His railroad company consisted of himself and his hired men. He had neither depot, locomotive, nor rails, but he prevented any other railroad company from confiscating his land. This is a hint to other property owners, upon whose possession the great corporations have fixed eager eyes.—Chicago Times.

The Battle of Butchers.

A telegram from Albany, New York, to the Fort Worth Gazette, shows that the live stock traffic will die hard. If the move is made to destroy the business of shipping dead meat, there is something bold in undertaking to kill it with its own butcher-knife. The telegram runs as follows:

ALBANY, NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—T. C. Estman, of New York, A. H. Morris of Albany, W. H. Vanderbilt of New York and H. and W. Arnold of Chicago have formed a company with a reported capital of $1,000,000 to oppose the Chicago dressed beef enterprise of Hammond, Swift & Co., of Chicago. They will open depots in every city where other firms have agencies now and will have beef brought from Chicago in Refrigerator Company's cars at a price which will just cover expenses. This is considered a move to crowd out the dressed beef trade in the interest of the live stock business and the railroad companies to Chicago.

Ostriches for an Experimental Farm.

There are now in Central Park twenty-two ostriches, probably the largest of these interesting birds ever seen in this part of the world. They belong to Dr. Prother, of Buenos Ayres, who has brought them here for the purpose of starting an ostrich farm. He already has a large farm in Buenos Ayres, which he has found quite profitable. He expects to succeed still better here owing to the large and protected margin for the feathers, the abundance of food for the birds, and the absence of those protracted droughts which leave such heavy losses among the ostrich farmers in South Africa. The farm will probably be in one of the Southern States, as the birds cannot endure a temperature much below the freezing point, and the cost of warming the ostrich houses in winter would be a considerable item in the Northern States. The ostriches in Central Park are picked birds, yielding the highest grades of feathers; and are valued at $1,400 each.—Scientific American.

Mr. Talmadge on Whisperers.

In his sermon yesterday Mr. Talmadge said, speaking of whisperers: In nine cases out of ten men have got into business trouble through whisperers. I know how much business men have to suffer, and years ago I resolved never to let a Sunday pass without considering the spiritual wants of business men, either in prayer or sermon. Oh, these whisperers, these snoopers! I hate them, and I ask God to give me more intensity in my hate of them! Counting on his fingers and repeating each word, Mr. Talmadge continued: "Envy, murder, deceit, malignity, whisperers! Peddlers of the night-shade! Peddlers of Canada thistle! Peddlers of nux-vomica! Oh, whisperers! it would be better for you to go abroad with a fire-brand and knife in your hands and burn and kill all whom you meet. John Wesley's wife was a whisperer, and her whisperings made so much trouble that the two had to separate. Jesus Christ himself had whisperers about him who said he was a wine-bibber and the companion of publicans. There is one person worse than a whisperer, and that is the man or woman who listens to the whisperer without a protest. The receiver of stolen goods is worse than the thief. Don't make yourselves inspectors of street-gutters or stakeholders in a dog-fight. Teach your children to speak well of others. If you whisper, whisper good."—World.

The Coming University

The Grocer's Bulletin makes the following extracts from a recent lecture by Mr. James Parton, the historian:

"I have in my mind's eye," says Mr. Parton, "a glorious university, completely organized and equipped, to afford an education such as the future man will be given. It looks not at all like Oxford or Cambridge, nor even like Harvard. It looks more like a factory village situated in the midst of a finely cultivated farm of 1,000 acres, with beautiful gardens and parks, the whole the center of a thriving industry such as our factory villages might be, must be, and are just going to be, for man will not long be the submissive vassal that he is now. This university of mine shall have a chime of bells, which at 6 A M summons 2000 men to rise and cast off cloth and put on workmen's clothes and prepare for labor. At 7 they are in their different shops, workers in wood in metals, in leather, in stone, in hemp, in cotton, in flax, in wool. For three hours they labor being held to a strict account for the abuse of tools, material, and time. In summer a portion of each day is spent by all upon the land, so that they may have insight, some practical knowledge, of farming, of horses, of cattle, of the dairy, the garden, the orchard. At 10 all this is over, except in harvest and other periods of pressure. The chimes now send these workmen to their rooms, where they remove the dress and garments of manual labor, and come out to class and remain all day university students.

"Separated from the soil, man never yet has succeeded in thriving. At best, without, he is a potted plant, and some of the pots are miserably small. I have visited many factories in New England, and I find that wherever the operatives have a reasonable chance at the soil, where every family can have a good sized garden, with access to pasture for a cow, the people are healthy, contented, and saving. Wherever this is the case, the factory population is able to live without actual starvation or extreme destitution in the event of the mills being closed for even a very long period. Whenever they are separated from the soil, as in some of our large cities, there is equal demoralization and sad despair."

CONVENTION OF THE WOMAN'S CHRISTIAN NATIONAL TEMPERANCE UNION.

It was in Louisville, in the Christian church, at which there were two hundred and twenty-nine delegates and many visitors—all of whom were received as guests and cordially entertained by the good people of that delightful city. The opening address was by the President, Miss Frances E. Willard. She gave a report of the wonderful growth of the work in the South, and distant Territories where new Unions have been organized; and the hearts of noble and brave women moved who are willing to buckle on the armor and enter the lists for God and humanity. Even far off Honolulu and Australia have written for instructions, that they may organize temperance unions. And the indications now are that at our next meeting every State and Territory in our nation shall have this work in operation. In an appendix of the work we have a report of Haredity. It was claimed that no crime in the world is equal to that of branding, crippling, poisoning, a helpless being who must thus meet life, death and eternity! This traffic is at war with every interest. Though protected by law it defies the law. It is a vampire, eating up the very vitals of the nation. It drains to satisfy its wishes every year $1,400,000,000. It converts into liquid poison 40,000,000 bushels of grain annually. It creates an army of 800,000 paupers. It equips an army of 300,000 criminals. Dr. Hargreaves estimates our drink bill for 1880 to be over $852,000,000 Oh think of it! Is this a Christian nation?

German Work.—This has been a most auspicious year for German work and foretells a great and glorious future. Their first temperance convention held at Lake Bluff in August last led to the convention at Chicago where a German Total Abstinence Society was formed, whose object is to form Societies all over the land. Prison and Police Work.—Devoted and earnest labor has been given to this department by Mrs. Barney, of Providence, R. I. She has heard the sighing of the prisoner and received the blessing from those who were ready to perish. The most prominent and successful effort in this line of work is securing a matron in City Police Stations, a woman who shall have charge of all females who are arrested. The first city to lead in this work was Portland, Maine; the next Providence, R. I.; Boston followed her example, and also Brooklyn and Chicago. This has encouraged the ladies to found Homes where the women are received and many have been permanently reformed.

Fraternal Relations between Woman's Missionary Societies and Temperance Union.—We hailed with gladness the fact that this work need not be separated. And from abroad the missionaries are sending us intelligence of their work in forming temperance Unions. A Missionary in Africa writes: "The Steamer on which we came out brought apparatus to manufacture brandy." In Japan they have to fight the curse of strong drink. Already in Yokohama a missionary has organized a Band of Hope and a Lady in Chicago obtained Mrs. Bayley's illustrated temperance Stories and sent them to Mrs. Viele, who writes us she is delighted to use them in her Band of Hope. Also in Calcutta a missionary writes "We are contending with this foe of the world" Truly the Missionary Societies and the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, should join heart and hand in fighting this common enemy. The event of holding our national temperance convention in a Southern city prove how wonderfully this work has served to unite the North and South. We are now joining heart and hand to remove from our nation the crime of drunkenness. It is impossible to express by words or recount all the kind attentions of Louisville to the delegates of the convention. Their hospitality was unbounded and the large attendance at every session, both day and night, by the citizens proved that they were in true sympathy with the cause and the workers engaged in it. On the Sabbath nearly a hundred of the delegates were invited to speak in the halls and churches, and to crown it all, they made most liberal arrangements for the members of the convention to visit the Mammoth cave, which was accepted and greatly enjoyed.—By Mrs. Henry R. Smith.

JAM FROM TURNIPS AND TAR.—According to the correspondent of a trade journal, it is a mistake to suppose that fruit is necessary to the manufacture of preserves. He describes a visit to a large jam-producing factory, in which he found that the work was being bravely carried on without the aid of fruit at all. Jams of various kinds were being produced before his eyes—current, plum, strawberry, apricot, raspberry and gooseberry. Yet neither current, plum, strawberry, apricot, raspberry nor gooseberry was in the building. Turpicks served the purpose of the fruit. The flavoring matter was extracted from coal-tar and the resemblance to raspberry and strawberry jam was further produced by mixing the boiling compound with small seeds of some innocuous herb. A common form of sugar is used and this is the only honest ingredient of the mess. These preserves are offered as made from "this season's fruit."

The North American Review for December commands attention no less by the eminence of its contributors than by the value and timeliness of its table of contents. First, there is a symposium on "The Health of American Women", regarded from three distinct points of view: Dr. Dio Lewis considers the question as it is affected by the prevailing style of feminine attire, especially by the practice of tight lacing; Mrs. Elizabeth Cady Stanton points out the many injurious influences of social environment; and Dr. James Read Chadwick sets forth the effect of education, climate and food, and finally discusses the question whether the modification produced in the European human type by transfer to America lessens the fertility of women. Gov. Buren R. Sherman, of Iowa, writes of the "Constitutional Prohibition" of the liquor traffic in that State, and maintains that the measure is in entire accord with the traditions of the original settlers, and approved by men of all political parties and all nationalities. General Grant, in an article entitled "An Undeserved Stigma", states the facts of Gen. Fitz John Porter's case, and argues that the sentence of the court martial that cashiered him was based on a misconception of the essential circumstances. Richard H. Proctor writes of "The Influence of Food on Civilization", discussing with much learning and force some of the most interesting sociological problems of the present day and of the near future. Prof. Fisher, of Yale College, in defining the causes of "The Decline of Clerical Authority", holds that this decline, which affects the status of church and minister only as a part or function of the secular State, is by no means to be regretted, and that the spiritual influence of the church and its ministry is to-day greater than of old. Finally, there is a symposium upon the conditions of "Success on the Stage", the contributors being six of our most prominent actors—John McCullough, Joseph Jefferson, Madama Modjeska, Lawrence Barrett, Maggie Mitchell, and William Warren.

Dear Mac.

I enjoyed a rare treat last evening, and wished for you and other lovers of music to help me enjoy it, knowing your fondness for music.

The Original Tennesseans sang here last night, to a full house, and were greeted with enthusiastic applause. I heard them sing, nine years ago, and could not help noticing the change in Programme and style. They originally sang almost exclusively those wild, sweet plantation Sacred Songs for which the South was so famous before the war.

When I first heard them they scarcely attempted any thing artistic, and when they did it was regarded a failure. It was not an unusual thing then to see moist eyes in the audience.

Now they sing but few of the original songs, and those they sing have gone through the hands of artists and have lost all their original sweetness and beauty. One would scarcely recognize "Swing low sweet chariot," as now sung.

Their voices have evidently undergone training, culture and improvement, and there are some of the finest voices among them I have ever heard. The Basso is certainly the finest I have heard, and I doubt whether there is any thing in country to compare with it.

The Love Ditties and other performances they have introduced are a decided blemish and ought to be discontinued.

A popular audience is embarrassing to your correspondent, and he now longs for the holy solitudes and sweet retreats of the cow range of North-west Texas.

Fashions, extravagance, and the many other inseparable concomitants of civilized centers do not pay. A leading physician doing a practice of six thousand dollars a year told me this he could not save any money.

With experience and culture and interior sources of thought, imagination and love, one may be far happier in a cow camp than among the elite in courts, senates and crowded cities.

I should like you to hear the Tennesseans though.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—A catalogue of articles accumulating in the dead-letter office during the past year, has just been issued, arranging a sale thereof at public auction, December 4th. Articles consist of jewelry, toilet goods and every conceivable thing which could be sent through the mail. The list comprises more than 8000 packages.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—Postmaster General Howe to-day signed a contract with Geo. E. Heilich, of St. Louis, for supplying combination letters and envelopes, which are expected to be put upon the market in January. All postoffices will be supplied with the combination, and sheet envelopes and stamps will be sold for 3 cents.

Boston, November 21.—A very large spot was seen on the sun to-day from the Harvard College Observatory. It was so conspicuous as to be seen with the naked eye, which, in the opinion of observers, goes far towards verifying the theory that the magnetic and electrical disturbances and flashing northern lights are caused by this solar phenomenon.

An old nurse says: Dr. Acker's English Remedy is best for coughs, croup or diphtheria. At druggists.

True hope is based on energy of character. A strong mind always hopes and has always cause to hope, because it knows the mutability of human affairs, and how slight a circumstance may change the whole course of events.

At the head of the metropolitan papers we find no such words as "edit or in-chief and general manager."

This shows that those papers don't amount to much.—Oil City Blizzard.

New York, November 21st, 1882

The Stewart Memorial Cathedral in Garden City, is rapidly approaching completion, and a magnificent specimen of Gothic art it will be. Will the remains of its founder, the dry-goods prince ever rest in the spot destined for them? God and Mr. Hilton only know. The work of the masons and the workers in stone is finished, and the wonderfully beautiful wood carving in the interior harmonizes in a truly artistic manner with the exterior. The vault where the remains of the founder and his family are to rest is as well lighted as the rest of the crypt. At the ends and sides are stained windows representing biblical scenes. Four organs are placed in different parts of the church, and if its acoustical properties are perfect, the musical ear will find nothing to be desired. The majority of the windows are stained with small figures but the sanctuary and pulpit show almost the life size pictures representing the Good Shepherd and the twelve apostles. The date of the dedication has not yet been fixed, but it is in the near future.

The stores are selling out all their superfluous material at almost any price and getting ready for the Christmas trade, for which they will exhibit an unusually large number of novelties. One of the most charming additions to bric-a-brac ornaments is shortly to be introduced. It consists of an open music book in French brisque, the edge of the leaves artistically curled, the lettering antique and two grey doves with their necks craned, their beaks wide open, and their feet on tip toe, endeavoring to decipher the characters and do justice to the music. Another novelty in china is a fisherman at sea in a basket trying to haul out an inquisitive fish at whom he is making faces. There is an immense variety of lamps and lamp shades among the latter but the most pleasing ones are etched designs upon plain porcelain, or the covers of old lace, in which characteristic medallions form part of the pattern.

Ladies in search of something new to make for Christmas, may find a suggestion here. A very charming and at the same time useful sofa pillow may be made to resemble a flour sack, almost full, and tied round the top with cord. The material best suited is dark green plush, with a finely designed monogram wrought in the centre. The facing around the top of the sack is delicate pink satin, and the cord tied round is of the same color finished with pink silk tassels. The effect of this is very beautiful.

HAVANA, November 23.—Three hundred and sixty workmen from the Canary Islands have left Cuba for the purpose of settling in Mexico, and it is said a Mexican agent has contracted for 300 more to leave this island for the same destination. The custom revenue of the island for October shows an increase of $378,500 over the same month last year. General Adam Badeau, the newly appointed United States Consul-General has arrived in this city.

What gives a healthy appetite, an increased digestion, strength to the muscles, and tone to the nerves? Brown's Iron Bitters.

No family Dyes were ever so popular as the Diamond Dyes. They never fail. The Black is far superior to logwood. The other colors are brilliant.

"It's all nonsense to suppose that you can go serenely through this life without physical suffering. The man who indulges in this hypothesis may as well expect to pick up a red-hot iron with his fingers without getting burned. Josh Billings says "Every man has thinks to evade thru this existence without havin' the dyspepsia is a fool." And overlooking his orthography, Josh is right. When a man therefore is in need of a medicine for constipation, dyspepsia, liver and kidney complaint, languor and other ailments peculiar to the season, let him take none but Swayne's Pills.

Call at the drug store and examine those new, genuine Buckskin gauntlets.

They are just the thing for cowmen and are sold at reasonable rates.

Several outfits were caught out in the hard snow storm of last week while crossing the plains and had a tough time of it. Fifteen inches of snow fell on the plains.

A number of the boys from adjoining ranches and camps were in town on the evening of the 30th to participate in the general jollification that prevailed during that day.

M. V. Blacker late of Ireland registered at the White House on the 27th. He was enroute to the Goodnight and Adair range, and left for there the next morning.

Do not be deceived. Insist on having the genuine Brown's Iron Bitters, made only by the Brown Chemical Co., and take nothing else.

Now is the time to supply yourselves with hard rubber pen holders at the drug store.

D. W. Van Horn & Co. will close out all summer goods at cost from their stores at Fort Elliott, Mobeetie, and Clarendon - to make room for a large fall and winter stock.

You ought always to carry one of those useful ink pencils, which can be had at the drug store.

Several parties leave on the Saturday morning stage for Mobeetie to attend a meeting of the Stock Association to be held there on the 4th.

We are a little backward in coming forward this week. We were delayed one day in our issue but will make it all up "soma other week not this week."

A new comer wended his weary way into Clarendon to-day having traveled all the way from Dodge by foot. However, he got in in advance of the Mobeetie Stage about two hours.

J. F. Evans arrived at Clarendon on the 24th and left Saturday morning for his ranch on Glenwood. He has about eighty-four young Shorthorn and Hereford bulls en route from Dodge City to his range.

Pure drugs and medicines for sale at the drug store, at reasonable prices.

Messrs Rockwell and Barton from McClellan Creek have been in town this week. They have been scouring the country hereabouts in search of horses that strayed from their range during the late severe storm.

Mr. Phink of the Bar O outfit has been in town for a few days eating turkey at the White House and enjoying thanksgiving. Mr Phink has called upon us and expressed in a substantial manner his appreciation of the News-by leaving his subscription.

We hear that McClelland and his surveying outfit have not thus far met with very great success on their trip. A runaway team, smash up, and a general spilling out of things besides plenty of mud and bad weather is reported by the Blanco stage driver.

Mr. W. C. Koogle was in from the head of Mulberry Saturday evening. He has been running an outfit across the plains hauling cedar posts for a Canadian outfit.

Mr. Koogle will start for Maryland in a very few days on a visiting tour and vacation, and will be absent for several weeks.

J. C. White went down to Mountain Creek after a supply of thanksgiving turkey. He returned Sunday night after first securing fourteen of the turkeys, two antelope and a wolf. Enough for a good many dinners. The excellent quality of the turkeys was thoroughly attested by many.

Those splendid hard rubber rulers for sale at the drug store.

Mr. J. F. Houston left for Ovilla, Ellis County Tex. the first of the week to spend the winter with his relatives and friends. While here he has been engaged in fencing and otherwise improving his range. He has also bought additional range and stock. He has while here won by his honesty and pleasant manner the respect and friendship of all. His return in the spring will be welcomed.

The typographical force of the News extend thanks to Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Carhart for the bounteous Thanksgiving dinner served up to them in grand style on the 30th. The loaded and groaning table that met our gaze upon arriving at the house provoked an appetite that astonished us. Mrs. C. having helped us to the delicious viands we ate drank and made merry, and having done ample justice to the repast we reluctantly withdrew.

Pure blood makes good health. Acker's Blood Elixer, endorsed by eminent physicians. At druggists

To-day has been the liveliest that Clarendon has seen for several weeks. About noon Bartlett and Walter Dyer struck up a horse race for $250.00 a side. The running took place about 2 o'clock. As we have neither space nor time to give a full description of the race we can give only the result. As is customary the dark horse came in ahead, about three lengths, and as Bartlett was running the dark horse he of course was the winner of the $250.00. But somehow, we don't know how, Mr. B. is a looser by $15.

The Literary sociable of Wednesday night was well attended and can be pronounced one of the most successful meetings of the season. The programme was not fully carried out on account of the inability of several of the members (bad colds). The remainder of the programme was well supported especially the impromptu readings contributed by Messrs. Pemberton and Clarke. Mrs. Cooper read "Betsy and I are out" and Mrs. Allan contributed the sequel. Mrs. Lyman read "Over the River," an appropriate selection and well rendered. The singing was superintended by Mrs. B. H. White assisted by Mrs. Allan, A. R. Carhart, W. A. Allan and Messrs. White and Barton on the violin. The music was grand.

The apparent and general good will that prevailed will insure a full attendance at the next meeting to take place two weeks from the date of the last session at some house of which due notice will be given.

A good horse is an abomination, and all good men who have had any experience with them say so. But when a man wants to take his lady out riding and makes all the necessary arrangements to have a good time, just as any thoroughly interested and painstaking person would do, and then getting into the vehicle with a smile illuminating his face and an air of great satisfaction about him and then to have the beast rear up and fall back smashing everything up fine it's all very pleasant, and then the encouragement that the bystanders give that's very pleasant too. No one seems to appreciate the situation quite in the same light as himself, and how silently and awfully he wishes he could fly away out in the middle of the staked plains, anywhere, to free his pent-up burdened spirit.

"Presumption begins in ignorance and ends in ruin." On the other hand, the production of Kidney-Wort began with wise cautions and scientific research, and its use ends in restoring shattered constitutions and endowing men and women with health and happiness. "My tormented back," is the exclamation of more than one poor hardworking man and woman; do you know why it aches? It is because your kidneys are over-taxed and need strengthening, and your system needs to be cleansed of bad humors. You need Kidney-Wort

Antelope. In consequence of the cold snap the antelope and deer are gathering in bunches for the coming winter season. The severity of the weather has driven the antelope inhabiting the plains to seek the shelter of the broken country, and in fact of the plains. Large bands may be seen at any time by riding a few miles out from town. The long lines of wire fence which have been built during the past season afford only too fine a chance to capture the little animals. By holding them toward the fence or get them cornered a reasonable shot at them can be secured. Several parties from town have been hunting them during the past week about fifty have been killed.

A communication to the Houston Daily Star regarding the large number of antelope in the region of El Paso reads as follows: "Rev. W. G. Veal, who arrived from El Paso to-day, reports that antelope have been driven south by the cold snap, and have come as far as the Texas and Pacific Railroad track, which, for some reason, they will not pass, and that north of the road, between the sand hills and Big Springs, the country is covered with them as far as the eye can reach. He says, at a modest estimate, he saw not fewer than 2,000,000 in a distance of one hundred miles.

One of our exchanges informs us that Charles Dickens came to an early grave from the excessive use of cigarets. If this be the case we should think that certain parties near Clarendon were trying the hardest way possible to reach the level of that noted author.

Osborn has 2000 pounds of dressed antelope meat hung up in the East Wing of the Drug Store.

Stock Notes.

One of the most important things in breeding is to know how to balance defects in your stock. If your cow has too much length of horn and leg, you can shorten both by breeding her to a short-legged and Shorthorn bull. This is one illustration of what we mean. Suppose you cast about you and see if you can think of as many as four or five, or half a dozen illustrations of the same idea. Then ask yourself if it will be worth while for you to act on the idea, and when you have determined affirmatively, as you will do inevitably, go to work and do it. Cut off part of the leg and horns of your present stock, put more body on them, and do what else is needed to make your future increase worth (not merely sell for) at least $10 per head more than those now on hand are worth.—Stock Journal.

Sale of Jersey Cattle.

A sale of Jersey cattle was held yesterday at the American Horse Exchange. Forty-one head were sold for $8,130. The best prices obtained were $330 for a cow, dark fawn with full black points, of good pedigree, bred by William Watson, of Westchester; $310 for a cow of solid color raised by Benjamin L. Swan, Jr., of Oyster Bay, and $285 for a very handsome heifer from the farm of Mr. Watson. A dark granite gray cow, due to calve March next, which obtained first premium at the Queens County Fair in 1873, brought $270 and Princess Lottie, a cow of light fawn color and having a good pedigree, sold for $265. The bidding was very spirited.

The Polled Angus Cattle of Scotland.

This breed is attracting considerable attention. Jas. McDonald, in his "History of Polled Aberdeen or Angus Cattle," undertakes to find the origin of hornless cattle. He says the favorite theory is that the aboriginal cattle were provided with horns, and the polled cattle must be regarded as a distinct departure from the regular order of things. This was Darwin's views. Herodotus is the only writer who mentions them—the hornless cattle of Scythia. About two hundred years ago, several varieties of polled cattle were found in the British Isle. Only three distinct breeds survive—the Galloways, Aberdeens, and Norfolks. The Angus or Aberdeen, the author thinks, descended from the aboriginal horned cattle of Northern Scotland. The breed is supposed to have originated a century ago. The total number of this breed registered is 6,985. This rather small number and the active American demand have led the Scotch to suspect that American breeders are trying to get control of the breed.—Planters Journal.

Improved Stock and Refrigerators.

Directly the meat transportation companies get to work in this state and it is expected that beefs and sheep will be slaughtered in Texas this winter for shipment, a change will come over the spirit of Texas stockmen and they will find themselves thinking as they never thought before, not of the number of their cattle, but of their weight. The average Texas ranchman is no more indifferent than other stockmen; but has not had the experience of others in the value of improved stock, and the simple truth of the matter is he sees too little of the stock wards; he does not fully realize how great is the difference between the Longhorn and the Shorthorn and not being engaged in an unprofitable business, is careless of improvement because the comparison is not close enough to arouse and interest him.

But there will be a great and sudden change. A few sales by weight, under the eyes of the owner, a little plain talk with a money difference to back it, and the bull of the heaviest breed will come in demand and sell like ice cream at a church festival, not from any love of it, but with a feeling akin to despair, done as an evil of circumstances gracefully on the outside, but groaning within, paid for with regret but for a good purpose. The refrigerator car, should it be extensively operated in Texas, will do more for the improvement of meat stocks than any other influence of the age.—Stock Journal.
