Failing!

That is what a great many people are doing. They don't know just what is the matter, but they have a combination of pains and aches, and each month they grow worse.

The only sure remedy yet found is BROWN'S IRON BITTERS, and this by rapid and thorough assimilation with the blood purifies and enriches it, and rich, strong blood flowing to every part of the system repairs the wasted tissues, drives out disease and gives health and strength.

This is why BROWN'S IRON BITTERS will cure kidney and liver diseases, consumption, rheumatism, neuralgia, dyspepsia, malaria, intermittent fevers, &c.

I was a great sufferer from Dyspepsia, and for several weeks could eat nothing and was growing weaker every day. I tried Brown's Iron Bitters, and am happy to say I now have a good appetite, and am getting stronger. Jos. McCawley.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS is not a drink and does not contain whiskey. It is the only preparation of Iron that causes no injurious effects. Get the genuine. Don't be imposed on with imitations.

The Governor of Texas has received a telegram from New York offering seventy cents per acre for one million acres of State lands.

Mrs. SCOVILLE and her daughter Bertha were found in London, Ont., on the 30th, whether the unfortunate woman had fled in anticipation of a verdict by the jury pronouncing her insane.

The proprietors of the Bessemer Steel Works, located at Pittsburg, Pa., being satisfied that the best pecuniary results will be obtained by absolute rest one day in seven, have decided to stop work on the Sabbath day.

There seems to be about money enough in the country just now for all practical purposes. According to the mint reports we have $718,000,000 of coin money, of which $512,000,000 is gold. Of paper money the supply is $825,000,000, all of which is at par; and besides, our credit is good for enough more to buy the balance of the continent. Then, too, the country is prosperous, and is just now gathering the most abundant crop that ever grew. The Agricultural Bureau estimates the grain crop at 1,680,000,000 bushels, including corn and wheat, which means a surplus of 209,000,000 bushels. Other crops of broad stuffs are equally bountiful. But this is not all, ten great states and fractions of three others are now picking away at a colossal cotton crop which will add to our exports not less than $250,000,000. If any nation of people were ever in a better condition materially, history makes no record of it, and to cap the climax, there is a fighting chance for a change in the politics of the country. -Ex.

Progress of Telegraphy.

131,100 miles of poles, 374,368 miles of wires, 12,100 officers, nearly thirty millions of messages transmitted, over seventeen millions of dollars received, over ten millions paid for expenses, leaving over seven millions of dollars in profits--such are the astonishing returns of the Western Union Telegraph Company for the single year ending June 30, 1882. Enterprise, good management, and the possession of valuable patents have been the basis of this extraordinary success.

Home Rule for the Apaches.

Tucson, Ari., November 3.--A despatch from San Carlos, dated yesterday, says that General Crook has held a final conference with the Apaches. Every male Indian on the reservation capable of bearing arms and not excused on account of sickness was present. They were told the time had now come for them to make an effort for their own living and to govern themselves. After being among them nearly two months studying their wants, General Crook said he was sorry to find how little if any progress any of them had made towards civilization and self-support, while a majority of them were not so well off to-day as they were over eight years ago when he left them. In future the troops would not serve as a guard to prevent the Apaches being robbed and oppressed, but the Indians themselves must defend their own rights. Their present locality being ill-adapted to either farming or grazing, permission would be given them to select lands on the reservation for cultivation under care of the chief, who will be responsible for the behavior of the respective bands. The chief would be assisted by soldiers enlisted from his tribe, who would habitually reside among their own people. White soldiers will not be employed except in cases where the Apaches failed to govern themselves. The Indians must learn to depend upon themselves for their future. The address was listened to with close attention by more than twelve hundred warriors.

Oklahoma.

THE SPEEDY OPENING OF THE INDIAN TERRITORY DESIRED BY THE WESTERN PEOPLE.

Wichita, Kas., Oct. 26.--There is a very earnest desire on the part of many people in the Union for the speedy opening of the Indian Territory to the settlement of the whites. If the provisions of the treaty of 1866 were carried out the fine agricultural, mineral, and grazing lands of Indian Territory would now be comparatively open to the push progress of the white man. The treaty of 1866 stipulated for the organization of a United States Court in the Territory, for the election of a delegate to Congress, and the establishment of a Territorial Government. These provisions of the treaty have never been carried out. Only one of the leading Chiefs of the Indian Nation has ever been in favor of the carrying out of the provisions of that treaty. That man is Col. E. C. Boudinot, who did as much as any man to bring about the treaty. Boudinot has always contended that the opening of the Territory to white settlement, and the mingling of the two races, would tend to elevate the red man and better his condition. Boudinot is an educated Indian, a member of the Cherokee Nation, and on the whole a very remarkable man. For several years past Boudinot has favored the building of railway lines across Indian Territory. He claims that the 14,000,000 acres of land in the heart of Indian Territory purchased by the Government in 1866 from the Creeks, Choctaws, Seminoles, and Chickasaws are now a portion of the public domain and open to settlement by the whites under the Homestead and Preemption laws of the United States.

That when the Government purchased these lands it intended to locate thereon the wild tribes of the plains and the freedmen of the South. There are no freedmen now; all are citizens alike under the Constitution of the United States. The other tribes, known formerly as the wild tribes of the plains, were not located on these lands because of their proximity to the populous settlements in Kansas, Arkansas, and Texas, and the constant menace that their presence would be to the surrounding territory. Also from the fact that in 1870 Congress passed a law declaring that certain tribes should not be located there. For this reason Boudinot and the best legal talent in the West have claimed that these lands, known as the Oklahoma lands, are a portion of the public domain. The Indian title to these lands has been fully and entirely extinguished. The lands are unoccupied. They are not a part of any reservation. These are the lands which Capt. Payne and the Oklahoma colony have so long been attempting to colonize.

But the 14,000,000 acres of land known now as the Oklahoma lands are but a small portion of Indian Territory, which in all comprise 44, 154,240 acres including a fertility and depth of soil the finest west of the Mississippi River. This vast domain, comprising hill, dale, sunny slope, and lovely valley, is to-day virtually unoccupied, being the home of less than 70,000 people, while Indian Territory, properly developed and opened by the industry of the white man, is capable of supporting a happy and prosperous people of 5,000,000 souls. The entire country within the Territory is at the mercy of greedy Government agents, the rendezvous of lazy, thriftless, worthless, Indians and half-breeds, and the harbor of criminals of the worst class, who have fled here from neighboring States. The Territory may also be a good place to hold a large portion of the regular army of the United States and a fine field for the operations of the Indian ring. But the Quaker policy which has furnished the Indian the latest and most approved pattern of Winchester and Spencer rifles, should now furnish Mr. Indian with a hoe, and the same chain of circumstances which compel the Mongolian to labor for his breed should also compel "Lo" to do the same. As Indian Territory now is it is a mere hunting ground for wandering bands of Indians, and an unproductive waste. The great transcontinental lines of railway halt at the boundaries of the Territory. Situated as it is, centrally located midway between the oceans, it is a stumbling block to progress, and commerce is impeded. There are no towns of any consequence and but few aggregations of houses. Agriculture is almost unknown. The mineral resources of the country, and they are known to be very great, lie dormant, except in one instance, where Eastern capital has gained control of the southwestern coal interests in the Choctaw Nation. Bridges and roadways are unknown. This entire matter must be changed. The growth of the country demands it. The scarcity of fertile available Government land in America imperatively demands it. The Indian must go. If he still insists on staying, let him do as others do. He must become civilized; 44,000,000 acres of fine land--land abounding in timber, heavy belts of timber along the streams here having an immense advantage over the neighboring prairie States of Kansas, Nebraska, and Iowa. This land must be opened to white settlement and cultivation, lay aside the gun, and bring out the plow. The plow, the locomotive, and the white man can make a State of Indian Territory the rival of Kansas and Nebraska. Ten years of civilization would work magic in this country, which enjoys the golden mean of climate, the coal fields, the mountains of iron, the veins of lead, the limitless grazing lands, the native timber, and the smiling farms will swell the wealth of the new State. This change is demanded by the better class of people now doing business in and along the borders of Indian Territory. Let Congress take hold of this matter at once, redeem Indian Territory from the state of pure unadulterated cursedness which now holds sway, wrest from the monopolizing Texas cattlemen who use the ranges by marrying into the various Indian tribes. Let it no longer be known as the paradise of outlaws, but the home of a prosperous and happy people. -Inter Ocean.

Temperance in Russia.

It is so common to find fault with Russia, her government and officers, that it is a pleasure to record the movements of that country, at the present time, in the cause of temperance. We give a few extracts from an article written by Olga Novikoff nee Kireeff. "After the death of the late Emperor, the movement against drunkenness reappeared even stronger than before. In the outburst of sorrow caused by that Paricide, many village communes determined as a sign of their grief to close the drinking shops. In three places of the government of Pensya, where the governor has striven to close these shops the villagers declared in favor of closing them forever. Three villages in the government of Vilna, moved chiefly by religious motives did the same thing. General sympathy greeted that movement, for as a rule the smaller the number of drinking shops, the greater is the prosperity of the place. To combat the progress of intemperance the sale of spirits is entrusted to a joint stock society founded by persons possessing the general esteem. Each town has its own society, its special charter confirmed by the economic the Finnish Senate, and the operations of all these local societies are under the control of the governor. The communes can, if they please deprive the society of the right of selling drink in retail. The profits of the society after deducting 16 1/2 per cent are employed in works of public utility, and in those which contribute to elevate the morality of the lower classes. At Viburg, for instance the profits on the sale of drink are devoted to schools, to the fire brigade, and to the public library. The sellers of spirits under this system, have no personal interest in pushing the sale of drink. The sale of spirit in the rural communes is confined to two descriptions of shops: The first are those with the right of sale for drinking on the premises. The second for the sale of liquor in corked bottles for consumption at home. Another important decision, was that which interdicted any members of the municipal councils to hold a license for the sale of drink, and the owners of the houses where drink is sold, are not to be permitted to vote, in the settlement of any question relating to the drink shops--a very necessary stipulation.

It was also decided to forbid the opening of any drink-shop within less than 90 to 230 yards from any church school or other public buildings in towns. Communes and individual proprietors are to be allowed to forbid the opening of drink-shops upon their own land. The Orthodox church has co-operated with the National Government in the work of moral reformation. The Holy Synod has issued striking little tracts and hand-bills explaining the evils of intemperance. These societies take great interest in getting the children to school, and in organizing charitable relief. A society has been formed at St. Petersburg with branches in all the provinces, for the purpose of organizing industrial, agricultural and technical schools in towns and villages throughout Russia.

We are watching with much interest to see the result of this great work in Russia, especially in regard to the work of popular education combined with the temperance movement.

Food Makes the Man.

Speaking roughly, says the Lancet, about three-fourths, by weight, of the body of man is constituted by the fluid he consumes, and the remaining fourth by the solid material he appropriates. It is therefore no figure of speech to say that food makes the man. We might even put the case in a stronger light and affirm that man is his food. It is strictly and literally true, that "A man who drinks beer thinks beer." We make this concession to the teetotalers and will add that good sound beer is by no means a bad thought factor, whatever may be the intellectual value of the commodity commonly sold and consumed under that name! It cannot obviously be a matter of indifference what a man eats and drinks. He is, in fact choosing his animal and moral character when he selects his food. It is impossible for him to change his inherited nature, simply because modifications of development occupy more than an individual life, but he can help to make the particular stock to which he belongs more or less beefy or fleshy or watery, and so on, by the way he feeds. We know the effect the feeding of animals has on their temper and very natures; how the dog fed on raw meat and chained up so that he cannot work off the superfluous nitrogenized material by exercise becomes a savage beast while the same creature fed on bread and milk would be tame as a lamb. The same law of results is applicable to man, and every living organism is propagated "in its kind" with a physical and mental likeness. This is the underlying principle of development. Happily the truth is beginning to show slowly and imperfectly, to find a recognition it has long been denied. -Scientific American.

In God's Country.

Dear Mack. Since writing you from Dodge City. I have seen more of men and things, in what the boys down there call "God's Country," and I concluded that a few notes of travel and observation might not be amiss. My visit to Dodge City, and the observations I was able to make impressed me with the conviction that, there is a large amount of business done there, a large amount of money changes hands; there is considerable enterprise and an awful amount of sin. I could form no estimate of the number of dram shops. Gambling houses are numerous and gambling is carried on openly. In passing the open door of a gambling house and saloon I saw a beautiful, well-dressed woman sitting at a gambling table playing, and I was informed that there were several women in town who are professional gamblers, and sit at the gaming tables night after night. Such depravity is shocking. We are thankful that such things do not exist in Clarendon.

The beef herd of A. & H. V. Rowe reached Dodge a few hours in advance of us, and the cattle were held, a few miles north of town, on the beautiful mesquite prairies, where we dined with the boys, and found them all in good spirits, as usual. "Bob" was slightly uncomfortable in consequence of the situation, but "Uncle Charlie," the cook was boss and gave us a splendid dinner. I shipped our beaves at Dodge on Friday evening and started with them for Kansas City at 10 o'clock at night. We were armed with prod poles, lunch and a grip sack or two, and the ever necessary cow man's blankets.

The Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Rail Road is more of an institution than I had supposed. The track and road bed are in splendid condition, the business is immense, and the accommodation generally first class. The night Caboose accompanying the stock trains is the finest of any thing we have seen. There are bunks for the stock men, toilet arrangements, and every other convenience for comfort. The day caboose, however, is a shame and disgrace to the road. It consists of an old box car, with plank seats, and not a solitary thing for the comfort of the stock man. After being up most of the night prodding cattle, and watching that all goes well, it comes pretty tough to be compelled to ride all day in a car where comfort is out of the question. In consequence of the slow time made by our train we were compelled to unload our cattle at Topeka and feed and give them a few hours rest. I reached Topeka at 2 o'clock in the morning and my ears were run down to the stock yards, where I was left alone in the dark to unload my cattle. I succeeded, however, in this business, and when I came to reload, I could get no help of Rail Road unless I would pay for the drinks all round. I declined to do this but gave the boys their pay in cash. My cattle were consigned to Pratt & Evans, of Kansas City, commission men, whom I found to be gentlemanly and prompt, and as pleasant business men as it has been my pleasure to deal with. I would recommend this firm to such stock men as may have cattle to ship to Kansas City or to Chicago. Kansas City is built on more hills than was ancient Rome. Buildings are perched upon the rocks in various directions, and seem hung up in mid air for effect like bird cages at a church fair.

From Kansas City to Quincy I traveled over the "Old Reliable" Hannibal and St Joe Rail Road. This was my first trip over this road, and I must confess that, although I had read and heard much of the excellence of this road, it surpassed my expectations. The road is not only complete in all its equipments, but the officers and employees of the train I found among the most gentlemanly and obliging of any I ever met. It is always a pleasure to meet men in such position, who know how to be gentlemanly and obliging to all.

During the evening the conductor asked me if I would like to see the mother of Jesse James, I assured him I would. She was pointed out to me among the passengers under circumstances that gave me a good opportunity to see her. She was large and tall, weighing I should say, two hundred pounds. To my surprise she had a most intelligent head and face, and wore an expression of love and benevolence. She would impress a stranger as belonging to the upper class of society, and as being a woman of culture and character. She was dressed in a neat suit of black and left the train at Kerney. From Quincy to Chicago I traveled over the Chicago Burlington and Quincy Road, where I felt quite at home, having traveled this way before. We would advise every one going to or returning from Texas to patronize the old, safe well managed C. B. & Q.

I found Chicago the same wonderful giant city of the West, controlling in some measure, the commerce of the world and centering in herself the attention and interest centering in no other city except, perhaps, London and Paris. I had a few hours in Chicago which I improved faithfully, and left at 4.45 p. m. over the Chicago and Northwestern R. Y. for Evanston, the seat of learning of the great northwest. Here I spent the evening at Prof. Fisk's with Dr. Ridgeway and Bonbright and Professor Baird and Carhart, of the Northwestern University. The very air about this University seems laden with learning, and a cow man, fresh from the frontier of Texas, with not time even to exchange his blue for a white shirt feels an embarrassment that makes him long for the prairies and dogouts of Northwest Texas.

From Evanston to Oshkosh, we spent part of a night on the Chicago and Northwestern Rail Road, a better than which is not to be found. Their new and magnificent Depot building in Chicago is a model of rail road architecture, and of convenience for the trading public. I noticed a number of new features connected with this road since my last visit, one year ago. I find numbers inquiring every where here, in regard to stock and other business at Clarendon and in Northwest Texas, and there are many looking thither ward for business and health. No better country for investments can be found, and no more healthful climate. If you come to Texas via Chicago, be sure and come over the Chicago and Northwestern. J. W. C.

Election Notes.

THE NET RESULT.—The result of the November elections is, in a word a Waterloo for the Republicans. New York gives a Democratic majority of 135,000. In Pennsylvania, Pattison, Democratic candidate for Governor, has a plurality of about 20,000, Indiana is Democratic by a small majority. In Massachusetts, Michigan, and Kansas the Republicans lose the Governors, but elect other State officers, Illinois and Iowa (where there are no Republican quarrels) give good Republican majorities on State tickets, and probably hold their own on Congressmen. Nebraska, Democratic candidate for State ticket, a good majority, but rejects the suffrage amendment. In Virginia the readjusters claim a substantial victory. In nearly all the other States Republican losses on Congressman are reported.

In Chicago the Republicans elect their county ticket and three of the four Congressmen.—Inter Ocean.

PHIL., Nov. 8.—A Comparison of the returns received at the Democratic and Republican headquarters, as well as those at the hour bulletined, show that the Democrats have carried the State by a plurality from 20,000 to 30,000.

The Boston Journal figures a plurality for Butler in the State of 20,000 but claims that the entire Republican State ticket except Bishop is elected, which returns at present indicates.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Nov. 7.—The tidal wave has swept over Connecticut and the Democrats have carried the State by over 3,000 majority.

A clean Democratic sweep is reported from South Carolina.

Indiana goes Democratic by 10,000.

In New Hampshire, Wisconsin, and Illinois the contest has been close, each state polled a heavy vote. Other States with the exception of Missouri do not report as close or lively a contest.

Go FOR THE DOCTOR!—Some families cannot live more than a day or two at a time without calling in the physician of the village. Jimmy has colic; Mary is taken with Sick Headache; the old man is troubled with his Liver; Josh has Dropsical Swellings; Araminta is subject to Fits; Polly is Costive; Mother Loses her Appetite; Jotham is stricken with Fever, and so on. Please note this: Swayne's Pills are prepared by a physician and beat everything for all the above ills.

HOME NEWS

Green McCullum is in town this week.

Mr. P. S. Dresser and Albert Dyer called at our office this evening.

A steady cold and drizzling rain fell Wednesday night.

Mr. Chas. Hinsdale paid the News office a visit this week.

Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Golather were in town Monday.

Mr. Albert Dyer is visiting with Clarendon people this week.

Jim Willie of Goodnight's ranch is stopping in town. He is stopping with Chris. Kowalski.

Homer Mills is now located on McClellan Creek ranch in the old Button dugout.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Parks were visiting at Mr. Goodnight's ranch this week. They returned Tuesday.

Sam Cordell has been stopping in Clarendon for a few days. He has quit the ranch business and will take a short vacation.

Mr. Goodnight was in town Wednesday, busy as ever, not too busy however, to share his cordiality with many friends.

Our estimable landlord B. H. White killed a fine porker Thursday evening. The boarders are feasting on the first fresh pork of the season.

Mr. A. Bartlett is storing his fodder in the DeForest & McClelland yard preparatory for winter. He is again located in his old quarters.

Orders for job work have been quite numerous this week and having been crowded with other work have not been able to fill orders quite as promptly as desired.

How lonesome it seems at times. No longer the "chuck-a-luck" of the cranes is heard over our heads. They have winged further south, and the north is upon us.

R. B. Briggs pulled into Clarendon on the 6th from Henrietta, after an absence of three weeks on a freight-trip. He reports grass short and water plenty along the lower end of the route.

Mr. Geo. Osborn has at last received his long looked for supply of watch crystals and all who have watches minus crystals can now have them fixed on short notice and in a workmanlike manner.

Mr. James M. Ferguson Jr., of Philadelphia, is stopping in town with the intention of remaining here and locating in some business.

Mr. Ferguson is an old book-printer and is a rambler in the West for his health. As a member of the fraternity, and for the present he abides with us.

There will be noticed in another column a letter from Dr. Carhart, giving some of the impressions that he received upon reaching the states.

It is impossible not to envy the Dr. in some slight degree the pleasure of reaching and remaining in "Gods Country."

All the necessary arrangements are completed for a first class tin-shop in town. Gus Hartman has rented and fitted up the picket building back of the News office preparatory to opening up a shop. Soon the hammer will be heard, and the sheen and glitter of newly made ware will be visible.

Judge Brown is still detained at Kosse by the bedside of his father who is in a very critical condition. He writes that he will start for Clarendon by the first train, after it appears he can safely leave him, by whose will it is now his paramount duty to remain.

For tremulousness, wakefulness, dizziness, and lack of energy, a most valuable remedy is Brown's Iron Bitters.

On Monday the 20th inst. the returns of the election precincts will be opened and the result declared. In case of the absence or inability of the County Judge, the law provides that any two of the County Commissioners can perform the duty. It is hoped that Judge Brown will be home by that time but hardly expected as the latest advices are to the effect that his father is very low.

L. H. Carhart left Clarendon, for Brooklyn Tuesday morning. He goes to spend the winter with his family and friends in that city. He will go by way of Iowa and Wisconsin, and visit his aged parents residing near Treampaleau Wis., During his stay here he has been engaged in fencing his extensive range and improving his property in town. His home is among us, and he feels his interest here. We will gladly welcome him back in the Spring.

Mrs. T. W. Morrison and son Jimmy started on the stage Tuesday morning for Jacksonville, Illinois, where they go to spend the winter. T. W. Accompanied them to Mobeetic, but will return to look after his ranch interests on Running Water. Our community will greatly miss them. They leave a vacancy in our midst that will be hard to fill; being always ready to respond to any call made upon them, in every enterprise that was for the benefit of the town. Our best wishes go with them. We hope that soon again these may come to live with and among us.

Prof. Combs is very much impressed with the idea that this the best country for a man to come to learn to practice economy. We are very glad to learn this most interesting fact for it proves that even the most casual observer will notice that our citizens are great for economy. He believes that this would be a most excellent place to send some of the national government officers, for according to all reports they need to learn a great deal of practical economy.

About Wednesday noon, Mr. Kowalski while in the act of taking a loaded gun from a wagon, to shoot some ducks on Kelly Creek, accidentally received the full discharge of the gun in the fleshy part of his right hand.

Unfortunately our surgeon is away so that the required skill for dressing the wound is not at hand. The careful attention of many friends will undoubtedly bring him around all right. It is very unfortunate under the present circumstances for Mr. Kowalski to be deprived of the use of his hand, as it will prevent for a long time further work at his trade.

We are sorry to say that the report that John Phelps was shot has been substantiated.

It was in the vicinity of Montague instead of Gainesville. It is stated that John was sleeping during the night in the loft of a barn and that one of the boys went out to wake him and thought to do so by firing off his revolver. The ball passing through the loft hit John who was there asleep. He lived but a few hours after, begging that nothing be done to the person who did the shooting, as it was purely accidental.

This ends through carelessness the life of one who in this vicinity had many friends, from whom is extended a profound sympathy for the widowed mother of the deceased.

The Spauld and Carrolton ranches last week started a herd of some seventy-five head of horses for Stephens County for more economical feeding. Saddle horses need corn, and good care to be ready for the Spring roundup. The loco weed is unusually abundant this season, and as a general thing work-horses in this section are not in good condition, and consequently devour the tempting weed with an unnatural appetite. Some parts of the range are free from loco, but enough is found in the general scope to be fatal. The movement of this herd to Stephens County was imperative, and there will be more to follow soon. When grass becomes short and poor, and the animal reduced in flesh he is sure to eat loco and the animal is then ruined.

Ladies and all sufferers from neuralgia, hysteria, and kindred complaints, will find without a rival Brown's Iron Bitters a true tonic.

A Disastrous Duck Hunt.

On Thursday of this week, Mr. Kowalski accompanied by his family and Mr. Willie left town to escape the din and turmoil of daily life and enjoy themselves shooting, sailing, etc. on the lakes. By some means or other the shot gun had been placed in the bottom of the wagon and when they arrived near the lake, Mr. Kowalski lost no time in getting out and preparing for war on the feathered tribe that swarmed the shores, when in an evil hour he took hold of the business end of the gun and pulled it properly gently, towards him and "mirable dictu" it went off. It does seem that this old shot gun might have made an exception to the rule but no: it went off just like 50,000 goes off every year killing everything from a mother-in-law to a book agent, and brings desolation to a thousand homes. The fact however that it didn't take advantage of its devilish opportunity and kill the whole party, entitles it to a shadow of respect. A very painful but not danderous flesh wound in the right hand was the result. Though "there was dearth of woman's tears" (for the ladies behaved heroically) tender hands soon bound the wound and stan ched the flowing blood and the party returned at once to town with their knowledge of shot guns somewhat increased.

Since the occurrence the good people of Clarendon, especially the gentlemen (God bless them) have lost no time in tending their sympathies to the sufferer and his family and if their attending Mr. Kowalski can congratulate himself on the possession of a host of friends.

Ino. The Houston Sun comes to our table as a new exchange. It was recently started at Houston, and judged from the appearance of its maiden sheet we can speak for it a successful career.

An old nurse says: Dr. Acker's English Remedy is best for coughs, croup or diphtheria. At druggists. Arrested for using Washed Postage Stamps.

Lucius E. Hawley, of New Rochelle, was arrested yesterday for attempting to defraud the Postal Department by using washed postage stamps. Twenty letters addressed to postmasters on the line of the New York Central and Hartford and New Haven railroads asking for board in exchange for a piano were detained in the general office here for non-payment. Mr. Newcome, the special agent, said Hawley offered to show him the piano that he wants to dispose of. Hawley was held in $15,000.

THAT WIFE OF MINE.—Instead of spending all her stamps for nobby hats, silks, ribbons, lace, etc., keeps at least five boxes of Swayne's Pills in the house all the time to guard against Indigestion, Languor, Loss of Appetite, Liver Complaint, Bilious Acolia, Sick Headache, Jaundice, Bilious Fevers, Dropsy, Intermittent, Remittent and Congestive Fevers, Constipation and Epilepsy. Splendid wife, that! Five boxes $1.00.

Dr. Jaques' German Worm Cake stand unrivaled as a worm medicine Give them a trial. Sold by all Druggists.

Mob Law and Riot.

It seems very strange to us, that after all the lessons which the people of this country have had in regard to mobs and mob laws that we still have so much of it after, the lesson of 1877 which the people all over the country had, and the people of Pittsburg and Pennsylvania especially and the debt which they are laboring under and all caused by a mob. We had hoped that this would have been the last of mob law that we should have heard of. But such is not the case for we hear of two more instances of mob violence in the east and southeast. From Kentucky comes the most distressing tale of mob violence. It is most deplorable that the Governor of any state should be compelled to call out the militia to support the law.

Ladies and all sufferers from neuralgia, hysteria, and kindred complaints, will find without a rival Brown's Iron Bitters a true tonic.

Stock Notes.

Western Grass Cattle.

The receipts of this class of cattle were light to-day. The quality was very fair, but it being Thursday, an off day with shippers, the market was rather quiet. Salesmen, however, notwithstanding weak markets East, before the close succeeded in disposing of the bulk of the offerings at firm Wednesday's prices.

Stock Interests Should be Represented.

No systematic effort has yet been made in Texas to thoroughly organize the stock interests of the state. Much less of effort has been made by stockmen to force Texas legislatures to practically recognize them as substantial factors in the great business development of the state. This lack of intelligent co-operation has resulted as might have been expected. Stockmen have been swindled by nine out of every ten legislatures that have assembled in past years, and this will be the rule as long as the "every fellow for himself" principle obtains among them. The wool growers of the state are beginning to realize the necessity of concert of action, and are apparently determined to make their influence felt in the matter of electing men to represent them in congress. A number of them met recently in San Antonio, and resolved to disregard party lines and past party affiliations in that direction, and to vote as their business interests prompted. This is a move in the right direction, but the trouble is, there are too few engaged in the move. Not only should wool growers consult their business interests when it comes to elect business men, but they should also combine to elect men to the state legislature who are positively and unequivocally their friends. And other stockmen should do likewise, and we beg leave to assure the cowman of Texas that they are going to be no-bodies in the eyes of the average Texas legislator just so long as they "run in herds of one" and refuse to work together. Every stock county in Texas should have its county organization of stockmen, and then counties having mutual interests should work together in district associations, and every stockman should work to make the Texas Live Stock Association a grand success.—Live Stock Journal.

The alabaster clock, one of the most beautiful in Washington, surmounted by a statuette of the Muse of History, a clock which has ticked in the White House time out of mind, was a present from Bonaparte to Lafayette, who gave it in turn, to Washington, who decreed that it should be handed down to his successors in the presidential office.

There had been a temperance meeting, and all the boys attended. That evening Carl sat in a brown study. He pressed his lips tight together and knit his forehead into frightful wrinkles, and glared straight at the fire without saying a word for a long time.

"What is it?" said Aunt Abbie smiling at the boys earnest face.
"Aunt Abbie," said Carl, slowly and with much emphasis, "if I was poor as a knitting-needle, and had't any more money than a hen has teeth, I'd never sell rum!"—Ex.

Some people who think they occupy so large a place in the public mind might illustrate how they would be missed by sticking a finger in a pail of water and pulling it out and then looking for the hole.

The American Express office at Winnipeg, Manitoba, was robbed of $10,000, and no definite clew to the thieves.
