

July 4th celebration

Multiple events to occur on courthouse lawn

Several events will be taking place almost simultaneously July 4th on the courthouse lawn as Clarendon brings its Saints Rost Celebration to a climax.

Various artists and craftsmen of the region will be showing their products (and selling them) from 9:00 a.m. until 5:00 p.m. Rev. Pettigrew Hamilton and his wife, Antoinette, say that there are still some booths available at $5 each. The fee is to cover costs of advertising and of stakes, Rev. Hamilton said.

Between 10:30 a.m. and 12:00 noon, "Old Settlers" of the region will meet again to recall past times. As happened last year the oldest resident will be honored as will the one having the most offspring.

Between 11:00 a.m. and 2:00 p.m., those who have purchased tickets from the Al Morah Shrine Club will settle down to a barbecue lunch at $2.50 a plate. Paul Hancock, chairman of the barbecue committee, says that anyone wanting some of the barbecue can purchase meal-tickets from any Shriner or from the Farmers State Bank. Proceeds will go to the Crippled Children's Hospital.

Regional fiddlers will get together at 3:00 p.m. on the lawn to compete for cash prizes. First prize will be $150 and total prizes will amount to $400, according to Blackie Johnson, Outdoor Entertainment Committee Chairman.

No fatal accidents in Donley during May

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated three accidents on rural highways in Donley County during the month of May, 1977 according to Sergeant J. R. Smith, Highway Patrol supervisor of this area.

Summer enrollment increases at CJC

Final registration for the first summer semester at Clarendon College hit an all time high for any one single summer term at the college.

A total of 112 students are enrolled in summer classes this semester compared to no persons killed and one person injured.

The rural traffic accident summary for this county during the first five months of 1977 shows a total of 22 accidents resulting in no persons killed and 15 persons injured.

106 students during the same period last year.

The first semester will end on July 8 and registration for the second semester term will be held on July 11. Classes will begin on July 12 and run through Aug. 19.

Equalization Board to hold open meeting

An open meeting of the Donley County Equalization Board has been called by County Judge W. R. Christal to meet at 10:00 a.m., Thursday, June 30.

"At that time we will review the tax situation," Judge Christal said, "and make our plans for the coming year."

The board will also determine what independent auditor they can find to audit their books, and they will "probably" have a person in to demonstrate some new radar equipment, according to Judge Christal.

Riding skill to determine Queen

The Rodeo Queen this year will be selected strictly on the basis of horsemanship, Mrs. Peggy Moore, Queen Selection Committee Chairwoman, has announced.

"In previous years whoever had the most votes won," Mrs. Moore said. "This year, however, each girl will be given a drill pattern, a sheet of paper telling them what to do. They will all have to do the same thing. There might also be two or three questions for them to answer."

Mrs. Moore said that any girl, ages 15 through 18, interested in entering the contest, should be at the arena, dressed in full riding gear at 3 p.m. Friday, June 24.

The Outdoor Entertainment Assn. board of directors will be at the arena to select the winner, although their selection will not be announced until the night of July 4. A 1st Runner Up will likewise be honored at that time.

"A Miss Congeniality, to be selected by the girls themselves, will also be announced," Mrs. Moore said. "All the girls will ride in the parade."

A "Junior Queen" contest will also be run this year. Any girl age 13 or under should contact Mrs. Moore (874-2832) after 4:00 p.m. any day before June 27. The Junior Queen will be announced during the Junior Rodeo on July 1.

Shriners help

Doctors expect girl to recover

A woman asked the little blond-haired, blue-eyed girl how old she was. The girl immediately gave the victory sign, indicating with her fingers that she is two-years-old. But also, symbolically perhaps, little Lisa Holland was forecasting her own future.

More than 40 persons showed up at the Clarendon County Club the night of June 20 where Lisa and her mother, Mrs. Jeannie Holland, were the special guests of the Shrine Club.

Herman Green of Howardwick, president of the Shrine Club, explained to the guests that Lisa had just returned from a visit to the Shrine Crippled Childrens Hospital in Dallas where she was fitted for braces.

Lisa's mother, Jeannie, briefly described their visit to the Dallas hospital. She said a group of five doctors worked as a team trying to discover the origin of the problem that has caused Lisa to suffer broken legs four times already in her brief lifetime.

The doctors in Dallas are confident they can solve Lisa's problem with the aid of braces, Green said, and that she will grow into normal maturity.

"By the time she is 14 or 15 it is expected that the natural growth of the bone tissue will make the braces unnecessary," Green said.

The Masons operate three hospitals in Texas: the Scottish Rite Crippled Childrens Hospital in Dallas, the Burns Hospital in Galveston and the Shrine Orthopedic Hospital in Houston.

Green said the primary reason for being of the Al Morrah Shrine Club is to help children with physical problems get treatment in one of their special hospitals.

"Any crippled child, we would like to hear from them. We would like to get them to a hospital. It doesn't matter what their race or creed. It's the child we're concerned about," Green said.

Hopefully, by the time she's 14 -- at the latest -- Lisa Holland will be raising two fingers in the air and then with only one meaning: victory.

Turtles to race for cash prizes

The Celebrated Running Turtle of Donley County will receive $15 cash, or rather his young owner will, according to Turtle Race co-Chairman Gary Mays.

The 2nd and 3rd place runners-up will receive $10 and $5 respectively.

Mays said that any youths from new-borns to age 15 interested in entering the Turtle Race should register at Henson's Store before Saturday, July 2.

The contest entrants will be divided according to age, however, the divisions being age 0 to five, six to 10 and 11 to 15.

The race will take place "on the square" and will begin at 2:30 p.m. Saturday, July 2.

4-H'ers to show projects in 'Fashion Salute'

On Thursday, June 30, forty Donley County 4-H members will model garments made during 4-H clothing projects.

The fashion show and awards program will be held in the Clarendon College Auditorium at 8:00 p.m. The public is encouraged to attend. Theme of this year's Revue is "A 4-H Fashion Salute" featuring red, white and blue stage decorations. Commentator for the event is Mrs. Jeff Walker.

The Dress Revue is a national 4-H awards program conducted in Texas by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service for youth ages 9-19. Objectives of the program include:

July 4 rodeo prizes may exceed $7,000

Prize money at the rodeo this year is expected to reach the $7,000 mark, according to Blackie Johnson, chairman of the Outdoor Entertainment Assn.

"We'll be giving away two top-quality saddles, one to the best all-round rider and one to the best all-round roper," Johnson said.

The saddles are the contribution of the Clarendon Mfg. & Dist. Co., Chamberlain Motor Co. and Greene Dry Goods.

Books to enter the rodeo will be open at 8:00 a.m., June 30 and close at 6:00 p.m. of the same day. Contestants may enter by phone (874-2538) or they can come in person to the Rodeo Headquarters at the Rodeo Grounds the day they wish to compete. However, each of the six events is limited to 36 contestants.

C&C Rodeo Co. of Childress will provide the stock for the events.

Persons in the audience will also have a chance to win a prize. Two halves of beef will be given away each night of the Rodeo. Winners will be determined by the numbers on their ticket stubs.

Johnson said he would like for all Outdoors Entertainment Assn. members to show up for "Workday", Friday, June 24.

Anyone may enter July 4 parade

"All community and area clubs and any individual entry is welcome to be in the 4th of July parade," said Owen Johnson, co-chairman with John Sarich of this year's parade committee. "We don't want to exclude anybody who wants to be in it. We're looking for as good a parade as we had last year, and we had a darn good one then!"

The parade will begin at 2:00 p.m., Monday at the park, Johnson said, "and it will proceed down Main St., turn west at the red light on Hwy. 287, then continue down past Alderson's Chevrolet and the court house to the Methodist church.

"As usual," Johnson said, "there will be categories for riding clubs, floats, car clubs, or any individual entry. Trophies will be given for each division."

HAVE YOU BOUGHT YOUR 4TH OF JULY BAR-B-CUE TICKET YET? SEE A SHRINER

THE EDITOR'S DESK

By BOB LITTON

My name is Bob Litton. I'm the new editor of the Clarendon Press.

I have already met several of the citizens of this county, so I no longer feel like I am addressing myself to a faceless mass of beings "out there." I also have been so swamped with work, due primarily to the pre-fourth of July celebration publicity and my own relative newness to this work as full-time journalist, that I also no longer feel very fresh in the job, despite the fact that I have only been here five days.

I wish to thank those of you who have made it a point to try to make me feel welcome and at home in Clarendon. The Monday morning sun had hardly stretched his arms before people were walking into my office or calling me on the phone and inviting me to this affair and that event or trying to help me in my struggles with this blasted 35mm camera, which has neither light meter nor working picture indicator.

Some have naturally expressed surprise that I would want to leave all the sophistication and entertainment facilities of a metropolis like Dallas to come out to a small West Texas town where the biggest event of the year is the 4th of July parade and rodeo. I say "are naturally surprised" only because I expected such a reaction based on my knowledge of human nature, yet I really feel that people who wonder about such a move are under the influence of that old principle, "familiarity breeds contempt."

You don't appreciate enough what you have here. Try moving to Dallas for a couple of months. Drive 40 miles a day down Central Expressway in rush hour traffic. Breathe in some of those polluted drafts of air. Check your doors each night to make certain they are secure against burglars and rapists and go to bed wondering if they can ever be secure. Try sitting in one of the coffee shops and talking to someone who has been in Dallas a year or more and discover, if they are willing to talk to you, just how uptight they are compared to your neighbors back in Clarendon.

Of course, I was glad to come here because of the healthier climate and calmer pace of this region, but there are also other, more tangible, reasons. This is where a job on a newspaper was available, and believe me, journalism jobs are not easy to come by these days.

I share with Lowell Carlson, the previous editor, a pleasure in writing feature articles, especially articles about old houses and the rare skills of craftsmen. Being a city boy, however, I am not as much up on ranch/farm economics as he is. Although it will probably take me a good while, I intend to learn as much as I can about such an important factor in this area.

My favorite kind of writing, though, is kind of like the old "familiar essay", what I like to call "epiphanies", a word James Joyce used to refer to an examination of, and a search for, unsuspected levels of meaning behind common objects: a comb, a street-light, yesterday's newspaper, etc. I guess you could call them simply prose poems.

But such insights don't come every day and you can't force them. They just happen. They are what I most hope to share with you.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

I would like to contact anyone remembering cousins of mine who lived in Clarendon years ago. My cousin was Addie Kimmel Rowland, the daughter of Jesse Kimmel of Hood County, Texas. She married James Rowland, and had four daughters named Blanche, Bertha, Bess, and Bernice. Bernice Rowland married a Mr. Andrews, and one of the other girls married a Mr. Darnell. Postage will be refunded to anyone having any information about these cousins.

Sincerely,

National Cancer Institute to test flame-retardant finishes

Cotton industry representatives have urged the National Cancer Institute to test flame-retardant finishes for cotton in order to clear the air regarding their alleged potential for causing tumors.

Representatives of the National Cotton Council, Cotton Incorporated, and the USDA's Southern Regional Research Laboratory met with Institute officials after THPC, THPS, and possibly other flame-retardant finishes for cotton were reported to be on the organization's list of chemicals to be tested for carcinogenicity.

The group emphasized that, in order for results to be a valid measure of carcinogenicity to wearers of the treated cotton garments, testing should be done on treated fabrics themselves rather than on the chemical monomers used.

Dr. Mary Carter, head of the Southern Regional Research Center, verified that numerous laboratory attempts to dissolve the polymer formed in the cotton flame-retardant process have failed.

A statement elaborating on these views has been filed by the National Cotton Council with the House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Subcommittee on Oversight and Investigations.

Mosquitoes - the uninvited picnic and yard guest

Mosquitoes have a way of turning up as uninvited guests—at picnics and backyard cookouts, for instance.

But you don't have to let mosquitoes take all the fun out of your summer fun. There are some measures you can take to ward off their attacks, says the Texas Department of Health Resources, an experienced agency in this field.

Bountiful-and frequent-spring rains throughout most of Texas have left the state ripe for mosquito infestations in practically all areas. Perhaps you've already seen and felt evidence of a mosquito hatch in your own yards, or in a camping or picnic area.

It only takes a little standing water and some adult mosquitoes to bring on the pain, discomfort, aggravation and sometimes disease from the pesky insects.

Water in which to pass their early life stages is a necessity for mosquitoes. Adult flying mosquitoes frequently rest in grass, shrubbery or other foliage but they don't develop there. In walking through such areas you can run into a swarm of them, leading you to believe they hatch out there.

Some mosquitoes lay their eggs in standing water where they hatch in a day or two. Other mosquitoes lay their eggs in old tires, tin cans, or other water-holding containers in which they may remain unhatched for weeks or months until they are covered with water.

With both types of mosquitoes, the wigglers or larvae grow quickly and turn into tumblers or pupae. Soon the skin of the tumbler splits open and out climbs another hungry mosquito—looking for you as its victim.

In addition to being pests, says the Texas Department of Health Resources' General Sanitation Division, mosquitoes can spread disease.

Such diseases as encephalitis, yellow fever, dengue fever and malaria are common diseases spread by the flying insect. They are major health problems in other parts of the world.

One of the latest epidemics of mosquito-borne diseases in Texas was Venezuelan Equine Encephalitis (VEE) which struck the state in 1971 after entering through Mexico. The disease hit many people—mostly in the Rio Grande Valley—and made heavy inroads into the half-million horse population.

While mosquitoes are a threat to health and bodily comfort, there is something that you as an individual can do to ease the situation and lessen the job of local and regional health organizations and mosquito control units.

These could be called the Ten Commandments of Home Mosquito Control. They are:

1. Empty, remove, cover or turn upside down any receptacle that will hold water—particularly old bottles and tin cans.
2. Change water and scrub vases holding flowers or cuttings twice each week—or grow cuttings in sand.
3. Discard old tires or store them indoors.
4. Screen rain barrels and openings to water tanks or cisterns.
5. Repair leaky plumbing and outside faucets. They may cause standing water in which mosquitoes can hatch.
6. Connect open wastewater drains to a sewage system, or construct separate sump or leach lines.
7. Clean clogged roof gutters and drain flat roofs.
8. Fill holes in trees with sand or mortar, or drain or spray them, as required.
9. Stock ornamental ponds with mosquito-eating fish.
10. Clean and drain evaporative coolers frequently.

These tips will help you prevent mosquitoes from reproducing. Your health department may have summer spraying programs to rid infested areas of the insects. You can keep your window screens in food repair, screen fireplaces and other openings and also kill all mosquitoes inside your residence with proper insecticides.

LENORA WOOD of the Artists Studio Club of Memphis gave a demonstration on how to paint roses, Thursday, June 9th to members of the Clarendon Artist Studio Club.

CATTLE PRICES UP BUT PRODUCERS' SHARE LESS
Retail beef prices have increased about 5 per cent in recent weeks, and cattlemen may soon be getting a slightly bigger piece of the beef profit pie, says a livestock marketing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Of course, marketing costs have been partially responsible for the increase in retail beef prices, but these costs do not benefit producers. Following a substantial drop in the farm-to-retail price spread in April and early May, it is jumping up once again.

AGRICULTURAL BRIEFS
SAFETY FOR MACHINE OPERATORS—All machine operators should consider special attention to safety factors, points out a safety engineer with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Particular emphasis should be given to keeping children away from machines, keeping your mind on the business at hand, keeping hands away from working parts while the machine is running, keeping all protective guards in place, and especially, showing respect for all machines.

Johnston Offers Unusual Service

Ernie Johnston of Clarendon may have picked an unusual second business career but it's one most people can't get along without.

Johnston, a long-haul driver for Montgomery Ward Company wanted a part-time self-employed second business for his off hours.

The skunk on the back of the 650 gallon tank truck tells part of the story. Ernie pumps septic tanks, grease pits, in fact, anything liquid. "Business is very good," says Ernie. "I can pump almost anything except pits over 20 feet deep. I've had customers call for my pumping service in about a 60 mile radius from Clarendon. It's certainly an unusual service to offer but one that's virtually indispensable unless someone else does it instead of me."

Johnston took the business over last January and since then has found free time once he's off the road at a premium. Customers include the JA Ranch, local car washes, automobile dealerships and local residents.

"People take a look at the skunk and ask how I can stand the odor but actually it's not bad. You just open the tank and stick the pump hose into whatever you're pumping," explained Johnston.

Like the chimney sweep in England, Ernie's service fills a basic need also.

Couple exchange vows

Terry Kathleen Saye Blaut and Donny Cole Askew were united in marriage in the sanctuary of the First Christian Church of Clarendon on Wednesday, June 15, 1977, at 7:30 in the evening. Wilbert Bernabe, minister of the church, officiated in the reading of the double ring wedding vows.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tommie Carl Saye of Clarendon. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Askew of Hereford, Texas.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a sleeveless white eyelet-embroidery dress with a scooped neckline edged with double rows of ruffled eyelet lace. The fitted bodice was tied at the waist with ribbon lace with an underlay of apricot-colored satin ribbon. The floor-length skirt flared from the waist extending to a candlelight train. A deep ruffle edging the skirt was accented by ribbon lace with the underlying apricot ribbon matching the waist tie. The ruffle was edged with scalloped lace. The bride wore a picture hat of matching white eyelet with double rows of eyelet ruffles. The crown of the hat was circled by lace with underlay of satin apricot ribbon. The white ribbon lace fell from the bow at the back to the edge of the skirt. She carried a white cascade bouquet centered with a white orchid.

Mrs. Mike Owens of Clarendon was matron of honor. Her floor length dress was of floral print voile in shades of apricot, with a square neckline and long full sleeves with buttoned cuffs at the wrists. She carried a nosegay of mixed flowers.

The groom's brother, Leigh Askew of Hereford, served as best man. Ushers were Sam West of Elida, New Mexico, cousin of the groom, Tim Saye of Amarillo, Texas, brother of the bride, and Roy Bertrand of Clarendon.

Guests were registered by Miss Betty Jane Hampton of Clarendon.

An arch of lighted candles served as the background for the ceremony. The candleabra was festooned with greenery and tiny white flowers. On each side were pedestals topped with bouquets of white gladioli, apricot carnations, and yellow-apricot spider crysanthemums. Pews were decorated with white and apricot ribbons.

Dee Williams of Clarendon provided the traditional wedding music at the organ. She also accompanied the bride and groom. Mrs. Ray Lee of Hereford, sister and brother-in-law of the groom, as they sang Malotte's "The Lord's Prayer" at the beginning of the service.

The wedding reception honoring the bridal couple was held in the basement of the church.

The table was covered with a white linen cut-embroidery cloth. The tiered wedding cake was topped with a nosegay of white carnations accented by apricot ribbon and illusion net. The centerpiece was a bouquet of white and apricot carnations. Punch was served from a crystal punch bowl by Mrs. Roy Bertrand. Mrs. Mark Hutsell of Amarillo served the cake.

The bride is a 1974 graduate of Clarendon High School where she was a member of the National Honor Society and received the Betty Crocker Home-maker award. The groom is a 1974 graduate of Hereford High School and a 1976 graduate of Clarendon College, majoring in Ranch Operations. He is employed by T. L. Roach and the couple will live on the Roach ranch northwest of Clarendon.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Askew hosted the Wednesday noon rehearsal dinner at Ruby Bromleys. The centerpiece on the bride and groom's table was a French bouquet of summer flowers flanked by candles in crystal candlesticks. The other tables had a candle circled with flowers as centerpieces.

Out of town guests attending the wedding were: Mrs. John Brown, maternal grandmother of the bride, of Colorado City, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. E. W. West, maternal grandparents of the groom, of Logan, New Mexico; Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Askew, paternal grandparents of the groom, of Hereford, Texas; Mrs. G. R. Robinson, Big Spring, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Brown of Quanah, Texas; Mrs. Larry Miller, Chad and Mandi, Irving, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. Eddie West of Texaco, New Mexico; Mr. and Mrs. Pat Smith of Dawn, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. Doc Minkley of Claude, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. Sam West of Elida, New Mexico; Mr. and Mrs. Odis (Sandra) Kizzian.

Pesticide applicator workshop scheduled

A training workshop for commercial and noncommercial agricultural applicators of pesticides has been scheduled for June 30 and July 1 at the Science Building, West Texas State University, Canyon, Texas, according to County Extension Agent Ronald Gooch.

The educational workshop, though not a part of the official certification process, is being conducted by the Extension Service to train commercial and noncommercial applicators in three categories of agricultural pest control. These are field crop pest control, fruit and vegetable pest control, and weed and brush control. The workshop is being limited to an audience of 150 persons on a first come, first serve basis.

The first session of the workshop will include general subject matter applicable to all categories of commercial and noncommercial categories. Sessions that follow will deal with category specific subject matter.

A certification examination is to be conducted on July 1 by the Texas Department of Agriculture at the same location.

Persons planning to attend the workshop must pre-register by writing to Carl D.

Patrick, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, 6500 Amarillo Blvd. West, Amarillo, Texas 79106, indicating their interest to participate in the workshop. Details will be provided by return mail along with study materials.

For members of their organization, the Texas Plant Food Institute will sponsor a similar workshop June 22-24 at the Best Western Villa Inn, Amarillo, Gooch adds.

Texas farmers and ranchers will have to put up with another month of hot, dry weather if National Weather Service officials are right in their forecasts. They are calling for below normal precipitation for the period of mid-June to mid-July for nearly all of Texas, and temperatures should be above normal for the northern half of the state and near normal for southern and western sections.

Improve tractor efficiency to conserve diesel fuel

Increasing fuel prices call for a closer look at better tractor efficiency, points out Ronald Gooch, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. For example, one gallon of diesel fuel can provide up to 13 drawbar horsepower for an hour, but few tractors obtain this amount.

One big step to improve tractor performance is to properly match tractors to implement loads during tillage. Many large tractors have more power than required for most operations, so excess diesel fuel is burned for the extra, unneeded power.

If a 150 horsepower (hp) tractor is doing only a 100 hp job, throttle it back. Operating in a higher gear at reduced engine speed can save 12 to 34 per cent on fuel consumption, emphasizes Gooch. For a 150 hp tractor this could be two gallons per hour.

Slippage during tillage is also a fuel waster. Soft soils and inadequate tractor weight can easily cause 20 per cent wheel slippage. Maximum slip for good power use is 15 per cent. Two-thirds to one gallon of diesel may be lost by excessive slippage. A 10 per cent increase in slip also results in a 40 per cent increase in tire wear.

For top power and fuel economy, keep the diesel engine in A-1 shape. Dirty air cleaners and injectors are power wasters as well as fuel wasters. Diesels don't need service as frequently as gasoline engines, but don't neglect them, cautions Gooch. Failure to service the pump, fuel filters, injectors and air filters can cost one gallon of fuel per hour on a 150 hp tractor before the problem becomes obvious.

Proper tractor operation also boosts fuel economy. A 150 hp tractor idling for an hour wastes one-half gallon of diesel fuel. When the stops for lubrication, refilling sprayer tanks, measuring land or lunch breaks are added up, these can total an hour per day.

With a 150 hp tractor, improper operation, maintenance and management add up to sizable fuel costs, says Gooch. It's possible to use as much excess fuel as 2.5 gallons per hour. In a 12-hour day, this is 30 gallons of diesel or $15 (at 50 cents per gallon).

Fuel cost is less than half the cost of inefficiency. Either 25 per cent more acres could have been tilled or equipment operating time decreased. In many instances it will cost more than $10 per hour to operate a 150 hp tractor. So the total cost of inefficiency is much greater than the fuel burned. Inefficiencies may total $30 a day even though fuel costs are $15 per day.

Efficient operators can get up to one more day of tractor operation per week than inefficient operators on the same fuel, notes Gooch. So, take a close look at how you're operating your tractor. You might be able to cut fuel costs even with the rising prices.

LOWELL CARLSON, former Editor of the Clarendon Press as he harvests the wheat which he will flail and grind into flour.

Newspaper editor grows daily bread

By Helen Woody

What started as a Bicentennial project last year has become a means of providing the Carlson family with flour for whole wheat bread. Clarendon newspaper editor Lowell Carlson grew several plots of wheat as an experiment to learn first hand how traditional hand harvesting methods worked and also harvest enough wheat for Mrs. Carlson who bakes all the bread and pastries the family eats.

"Because Brenda bakes such a wide variety of breads it seemed only natural to try to produce the wheat ourselves too," said Carlson.

Carlson had several local blacksmiths modify an old garden tractor mower so that it would bunch the grain as the mower cut through the wheat. The tractor is an old 1946 Planet Jr. given to Carlson along with a line of implements.

"The most fun is cutting the grain," said Carlson.

"Listening to the sound of the sickle sections cut the straw reminds me of being back on the farm in Iowa."

Carlson is less enthralled with the actual flailing and cleaning of the grain describing it as just plain hard work. He pointed out that a good wind is indispensable to clean the grain by winnowing.

"I just think that it's a good experience for anyone. It makes you more appreciative of what you have to eat and makes us proud to know that we raised the grain that goes into the bread Brenda bakes," explained Carlson.

Last year when Carlson first flailed wheat he had a problem with broken flail sticks and finally solved the problem by attaching an oak stick to the end of an old mop handle.

"You learn a rhythm when swinging the flail. The best way to learn how early farmers threshed wheat by hand is to do it. I thresh several bunches of wheat on the canvas before finally winnowing the grain from the chaff," said Carlson.

Describing themselves as not being food fadists but simply interested in growing as much food as they can themselves, the Carlsons use a small grist mill to grind the wheat for flour. It takes two grinds to get acceptable flour and they cautioned that it would be well to refrigerate the flour once ground because everything from the grain is still in the flour—oil, bran and all.

Mrs. Carlson admits the family's tastes don't run to bread that's all whole wheat and she uses some bleached flour to make a lighter loaf of bread. Using family recipes Brenda bakes bread and rolls using the home-grown grain.

"I can't honestly tell you the last time we had store-bought bread in the house. We just don't eat bread unless it's homemade," said Mrs. Carlson.

The Carlsons grow a big vegetable garden, freezing and canning much of it for winter use. They also raised their own fryers and keep hens for fresh eggs on their place just northeast of Clarendon.

"Growing wheat was just one way to keep in contact with the past," said Mrs. Carlson.

Joane Leathers has resigned her position as secretary of the First Baptist Church and will devote her time to her new business, Joane's Flower Shop.

LaHoma Sarton has been hired as the new secretary to the Church.

with the farm life we once knew," explained Carlson. "It's hard to go cold turkey when you spend the greater portion of your life on the land."

4-H BICYCLE PROJECT

"Fun on Wheels" is the theme of the National 4-H Bicycle Program. Fun means enjoyment. Enjoyment translates into safe bike driving, good health, exercise, fresh air, working together and in the true spirit of 4-H, "Learning by doing."

Any youth between 9 and 19 who is interested in bicycles are welcome to join this project. The first project meeting will be Tuesday, June 28 at 6:30 p.m. We will meet on the lawn area and parking lot behind Clarendon High School. You will not need to bring your bike to the first meeting, but will bring it to every meeting after that. If you are interested in this project, attend the meeting on June 28 or call Cynthia Manning and 874-2141.

MAKE HOLIDAY MEALS SAFE By Cynthia Manning, County Extension Agent

July 4th meals are fun--but make them safe. A picnic in the park or supper in the backyard can make the holiday one to remember, but prepare and serve the food safely to be sure the memory is a pleasant one.

Food poisoning bacteria thrive in temperatures between 50-120 degrees F. So consumers can start right from the grocery store to make the food safe for picnic or barbecue.

It is suggested to buy ground beef a day or two before the holiday unless it can be frozen for a longer time. Shop in a store that displays meat and poultry in a clean refrigerated area.

Avoid packages that have been broken or have punctured wrappers.

Thaw frozen meat in the refrigerator to prevent bacterial growth. Don't allow this meat to stand out unrefrigerated for more than an hour at the most. And be sure to cook hamburgers and hot dogs in batches small enough to be used quickly so they don't stand, allowing bacteria to grow.

Also, cleanliness in preparing food is always important--but especially with hamburgers. Always wash hands thoroughly with soap and hot water before and after handling raw meat.

Baked beans is another dish that shouldn't be kept at room temperature for more than two hours.

Bacteria grow well in eggs at room temperature. Leave boiled eggs out of potato salad unless it is refrigerated until serving time. Make potato salad with eggs the same day it is to be served. Turning to exact directions for avoiding foodborne illness. "Keep perishable foods cold, at or below 40 degrees F. Foods in this category are cream pies, seafood and dishes made with eggs, fish, meat and poultry."

Or keep the perishable foods, such as seafood, poultry and cooked meats, hot--about 140 degrees F. Bacteria grow best in lukewarm foods, so never let these foods stand at room temperature for more than two hours.

Often foodborne illness is mistaken for a simple "bug" or virus. The real cause may be that the food wasn't properly handled, prepared or served. This can be prevented by serving hot foods hot and cold foods cold.

Senior Citizens enjoy trip to Carlsbad Caverns

By Ruth Mills

The group left the Center at 9:00 a.m. Thursday in the First Baptist Church bus with Dean Beryl Clinton doing the driving. They enjoyed a noon picnic lunch at the McKenzie Park in Lubbock. The group arrived at Carlsbad, New Mexico around 6:00. The management of the Royal Manor Motel had the reserved accommodations ready which everyone appreciated. The food was very good and unexpectedly very reasonably priced.

Friday morning was spent exploring the town and the Zoological and Living Desert Gardens. A visit was made to a glass blowing and curio shop. All enjoyed watching the making of several miniature objects, especially the ones who won the object that was being made by guessing it.

Everyone enjoyed the Caverns. Three took the elevator down but all rode the elevator up. The group stayed and watched the Bat Flight out of the Caverns at sunset.

On the way home Saturday, the group rested and ate supper at one of the Malls in Lubbock. The bus arrived back in Clarendon at 9:00 p.m.

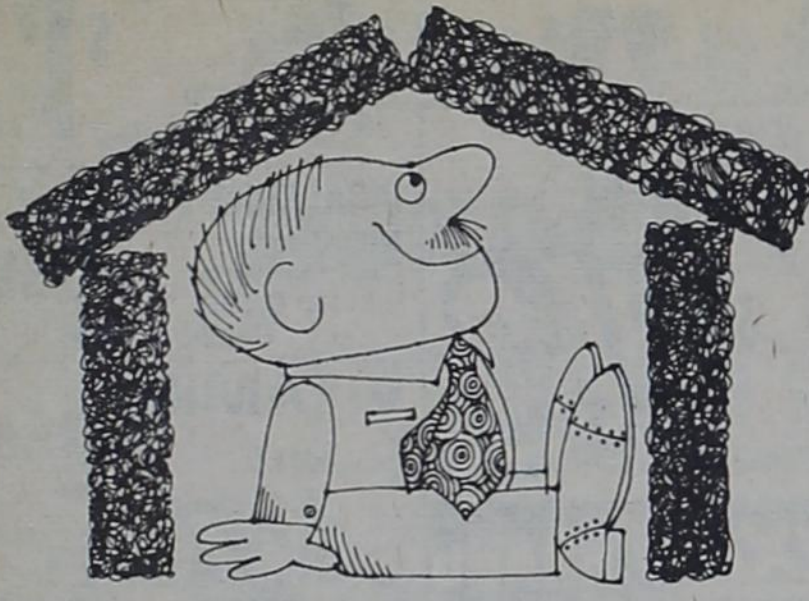

The twenty who went on the trip appreciate the kindness of the Baptist Church, Dean Clinton and Frank White who financed the gas and oil.

The next trip will be to see "Texas" in the Palo Duro Canyon. Please call 2665 so we will know how many buses will be needed. Later on a trip to the Alibates area and Lake Meredith is being planned. This trip will be the courtesy of the Clarendon Church of Christ.

Howardich First Baptist Church started their vacation Bible School Monday morning and will be through Friday, time 8:30-11:00 a.m. There were 19 students registered, 10 workers. Teachers are Mrs. Raimon Cole, Dana Perdue, Marie Hill and Norma Gorgill.

Mrs. Cindy Ellis and her mother, Mrs. Tillie Anglin, attended the Oklahoma National Teenage Pageant held in Oklahoma City this past weekend. Mrs. Anglin's daughter, Mrs. Kay Eastep of Indola, Iowa is the State Director for Oklahoma and Iowa, conducted the pageant.

PROPER INSULATION...

Keeps in the Cool Air You've Paid For

- ★ Proper insulation helps to keep OUT heat in the summer, helps to reduce outside noises, absorbs inside sounds, and can save over 40% on energy costs on both cooling and heating.
- ★ Insulation comes in rolls, loose-fill or batts. Insulation is labeled with a R value showing its ability to resist heat. The better its insulating value, the higher the number. R values up to R 30 in the ceiling and R 20 in walls are now being recommended for new construction in this area.
- ★ Insulation can pay for itself with the savings from operating costs in about 1 1/2 years. Your home will be cleaner because insulation will help to keep dust and dirt pollution from sifting in.

ARE YOU LOOKING FOR SOMETHING?

Most people are. Some people know what they are looking for. Others are less certain. They go in all directions searching for something, but they are not sure what it is or where to find it.

Jesus says:

"The Kingdom of heaven is like unto a merchant, seeking goodly pearls: who when he had found one pearl of great price, went and sold all that he had and bought it" (Matthew 13:46).

Are you looking for God?

"No man hath seen God at any time; the only begotten Son, which is in the bosom of the Father, he hath declared him" (John 1:18).

Jesus said: "I am the way, the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by me" (John 14:6).

Jesus also said: "He that hath seen me hath seen the Father" (John 14:9; see also 2 Corinthians 5:18, 19).

Are you seeking God's grace?

There is a certain door through which you must enter. "For by grace are ye saved through faith" (Ephesians 2:8). The unworthy sinner reaches the grace of God through faith. This is the door. Are you looking for the joy of salvation?

The man from Ethiopia was. He was searching the Scriptures diligently when Philip found him and preached unto him Jesus. He was assured with all men that "He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved" (Mark 16:16).

Are you looking for peace of mind?

Only in Christ can this be found: "Peace I leave with you, my peace I give unto you: not as the world giveth, give I unto you. Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid" (John 14:27).

Are you looking for eternal life?

"... God hath given unto us eternal life, and this life is in his Son. He that hath the Son hath the life; and he that hath not the Son hath not the life" (1 John 5:11-13).

"Whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but may in him have eternal life" (John 3:15).

Howardwick Partyline

By Sharon Mills

There were forty-one neighbors to turn out for the birthday and anniversary supper of the Friendship Club. There is no membership dues or fees to belong to this club. It is made up of residents of Howardwick, so everyone is invited to these suppers and each who has a birthday or anniversary is honored. It is a very good opportunity to meet a neighbor or someone who may be down for the weekend.

Don't forget Lions Club meets this Saturday evening.

Willie Blevins met her brother, Buster Alston of Glenrio, New Mexico, in Amarillo Monday and accompanied him to the doctor.

Glen and Joella Day and daughter, Glenda, and Joella's brother, Clarence Terry of Ardmore, Oklahoma spent the week at Murray Lake in Oklahoma, camping.

Jim and Thelma Corgill's son, Jimmy and wife, Norma, and brother-in-law, Herman and June Douglas, surprised the Corgills with a phone call saying to have the hamburgers ready. The call was from Tucumcari and they needed to get home to Fort Smith, Arkansas as soon as they could eat. They had been vacationing in Las Vegas, Nevada. The Corgill's granddaughter, Brenda, Bo Ray and children, Misty and Jason, and grandson, Kenneth Rodgers, all of Amarillo ate Sunday supper and home-made ice cream with them. The Corgill's daughter, Martha Matlock of Amarillo called wishing Jim a happy Father's Day.

Mr. and Mrs. Pick Cox's three daughters were home for Father's Day. They were Lucy and Joe Pool and daughter, Jennifer of Amarillo who came Friday night and Saturday. Mrs. Janet Walker and son Billy, also of Amarillo, and Sandra and Charlie Layton and son Joel, of Dumont. Joel will be spending this week with his grandparents, so he can attend the Vacation Bible School at the Howardwick Baptist Church.

The Mills family went to Carlsbad Caverns with the Donley County Senior Citizens. There were twenty who went on the trip. It was really enjoyed by all.
