WHAT ABOUT THE FARMER?

It is urged that agriculture be given equal representation with industry and labor in all Federal defense agencies and bureaus. That is an absolutely just demand. Food is as important as munitions to the winning of wars.

The farm labor problem has disrupted normal farm operations—the farmer simply can't pay the wages that are offered by war industries. And the farmer's other operating costs are rising dangerously fast.

The farmer asks only that he be given the same consideration that is given to other groups. That in itself is vital to the success of the defense effort.

In some quarters, it is being urged that rigid controls be placed on the prices of farm products of all kinds.

It is difficult to see how this could be done without bankrupting a large segment of the agricultural population, unless equally strict controls were placed over the farmer's costs for materials and labor.

Farm labor, for instance, is at the highest level in history, and is extremely difficult to obtain. The farmer's taxes, like everyone else's are shooting up. And the price he must pay for practically everything he buys is rising as well.

A ceiling should be placed on farm prices when, and only when, equitable ceilings are applied to all other prices. Any other course would be rank, ruinous discrimination.—Stephenville Tribune.

A HARD LESSON.

A hard lesson that Big Business is having to learn in a hard way is that it is not bigger than the government. That is true both nationally and in some of the states.

Big Business had a lot of reason to feel that it had grown bigger than government. For a long time it went its unrestrained way, and inevitably, abused its privileges until the public revolted.

Inspired by the ease with which newspapers could be controlled, legislatures could be bought and courts could be subsidized by the power of money, Big Business has a lot to unlearn. It has to come to the realization that, after all, the government is the people, and the part is never greater than the whole.

Big Business is only a part, a small part, of that thing we call human society. Some there are who hold that it is not even an indispensable part.—Tribune (Ariz.) News.

PRISONERS AID DEFENSE PLAN.

Many serious disciplinary problems of the American prison have dissolved, according to the latest reports of the American Prison Association. Many penitentiary wardens have noted that, because the national defense program has been a "godsend," prison morale and behavior has reached an exceptionally high peak.

In the Federal penitentiary at Atlanta, Ga., for instance, 1,000 men have been working on two shifts, making such things as cases for TNT charges, clothing for aviators, shell covers, tents, pack sacks, and mattresses. In a recent week 157,000 pounds of finished goods were turned out at Atlanta alone, compared with 86,000 lbs. in the corresponding week of last year.

An aviation school has been established at the Federal reformatory at Chillicothe, Ohio, and now several of the former inmates are working as mechanics for airlines. Warden F. Lovell Bixby declared that not a man has gone out of the reformatory in the last six months without a job, a long step toward the complete reformation of the prisoner.

YOU SAID IT.

At one time parts of England, especially a few of the island cities, were smashed day after day by planes from Germany. But England has never had a real army in the present war, and right now when an invading army would be of vast assistance to the Russians, the English are lagging behind. When the Germans have whipped Russia, it will then be too late for England. —Texhoma Times.

VALUE OF GYP.

The tight soil this year is making double the cotton of the sandy land, while the gypsum land is the marvel of everybody. Conditions seem to have been just right. After all we should not wonder at this; for years the gyp water of the Acme mine has irrigated the finest gardens in this section. And to think that old-timers used to tell that gyp water would kill vegetation! Their error was probably caused by gyp water making the ground too rich and causing crops to burn up. —Quanah Chief.

HAD LEGAL TALENT.

One for the old joke contest: Two neighbor women had an argument. One claimed she had loaned the other a pitcher and, when it was returned, it was cracked. The other woman said, "In the first place, I returned the pitcher in good condition; in the second place, it was cracked when I borrowed it; and in the third place, I didn't borrow it at all." —Moore County News.

CHESTER MAYO WRITES FROM CANAL ZONE

An insight into the many interesting features to be found in the Canal Zone was contained in a recent letter from Chester Mayo, written to the editor of your Donley County Leader. He writes:

"We have no seasons. It is summer the year round, all vegetation being green at all times. The rainfall is 124 inches on an annual average. No flies or mosquitoes to speak of as the federal sanitation methods take care of that. The seasons are two—wet and dry. The first five months of the year are driest.

"Wild life includes panther, coon, opossum and others. The sloth is a bad actor, but slow and you can keep out of his way. He climbs among the trees head downward. The ant eaters are harmless, so are the monkeys of a small species. The alligators are numerous. Then there is the iguana, often called the South American chicken because its flesh tastes much as a chicken. He is a large rusty-looking lizard, eaten readily by the natives. Some are 5 feet in length, their tail being their chief weapon. Parrots are a common sight.

"A few banana plantations, though they grow wild, as do the coconut, papa, the latter being similar to a canteloup except it grows on a tree. The flowers are most beautiful, orchids predominating.

"We are making a new set of locks on the Canal to permit larger vessels to pass. The Canal Zone is a strip of land 10 miles wide across the Isthmus. The Panama railroad maintains commissaries and clubhouses in every town in the Zone. Otherwise, the YMCA is the only other agency operating here. Except for a few shares, the railroad is U. S. owned."

New Gin Will Be Erected at Lesley

The Memphis Cotton Oil Company has announced that a new gin will be built at Lesley, about 15 miles west of Memphis, on the site of the old Lesley gin, which burned last week.

The gin will have five 80-saw stands, Frank Foxhall, manager of the company, said, and will be constructed of all new equipment. Officials hope to have the gin ready for operation in three weeks.

The old Lesley gin, which had been operating in the same place more than 20 years, was destroyed by fire last week. It was in the center of an excellent farming section, and farmers were inconvenienced by its burning, since no other gin was nearby.

Of some 150 million pounds of freshwater fish produced in the United States annually, nearly two-thirds comes from the American waters of the Great Lakes.

At the end of summer, a caribou buck has accumulated a maximum quantity of fat which lies on the back and is sometimes two or three inches thick.

The age of a rattlesnake cannot always be determined by the number of rattles on its tail. The age can be determined from the rattles only when the snake still possesses the first rattle, or true button. The true button often is knocked off when the snake strikes its tail against some hard object.

THE TEMPLE OF TRUTH

By the Apostle
WINTER WORRIES. Speaking of cold weather, winter weather has disadvantages.

hating to get up in the morning, and not being able to spend the winter in San Antonio.

ADVICE. It isn't wise for a man to say just what he thinks, any more than it is for him to eat everything that's placed before him.

ers live more happily on the average than the other kind. TIME AND TIDE. The fellow who has money to burn, generally winds up by sifting the ashes.

INVENTION. This is a great age. We have a synthetic substitute for about everything except brains. Making love is like learning to drive an auto. Brains are seldom used. The results of both efforts are often strewn along the highways. ABSENT MINDED. Some husbands are like a sculptor. They kiss the model and chisel on their wives.

TIMES CHANGE. Before the days of the auto, a telephone pole was said to be good for about fifteen years.

PREDICT FREEZE. The dodo bugs predict the first freeze here November 9th. On the Apostle's combined thermometer and calendar, there was a string of dodo bugs Sunday morning.

MAMA SAID IT. "Listen to me," said mama. "I'm full up on you always saying 'my car' and 'my home' and 'my son' and 'my dog'.

Jesse James Named To Be Treasurer

AUSTIN, Oct. 25.—Gov. Coke R. Stevenson today appointed Jesse James of Cameron, Tex., to be state treasurer to succeed Charley Lockhart who resigned last night because of continued ill health.

Lockhart, known as the "littles treasurer of the biggest state," is but 45 inches tall. His report tendered with his resignation showed he was custodian of $341,758,000.

The new treasurer, a former member of the State Legislature, has been assistant to Lockhart for several years.

Lockhart first was elected state treasurer for a term beginning Jan. 1, 1931. He has been reelected uninteruptedly.

Accident Kills James Lane

Vacation meant death Friday afternoon to a state highway department employe who took an extra job in the oil fields, went out to a well that morning, and died that afternoon when an oil field derrick on which he was working collapsed.

James Elmo Lane, 27, was killed instantly. The accident occurred on the Texon Royalty company's Cobb lease seven miles northwest of Pampa. Lane had just started to work for the company Friday morning. He had been with the state highway department there for two months. His home was in Clarendon where he had lived for 26 years.

Lane, a rodmán with the highway department, was on vacation at the time of the fatal accident, and was at work on the well because a friend had asked his help as they were short of men, according to a state highway department employe who has worked with Lane.

According to witnesses, Lane was near the top of the derrick and Jones was operating a machine pulling tubing when the derrick collapsed. It fell sideways hurling Lane to the ground.

Lane is survived by the widow, two small sons, James Edwin and Martin Terrance, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Lane, Clarendon, two sisters, Mrs. Mary Durant and Miss Joe Alice Lane both of Clarendon, and two brothers, Colvin Lane and H. L. Lane, both of Clarendon.

The body was brought to Clarendon by Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral home. Funeral services were conducted at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon in the First Baptist church, of which he was a member, by the Rev. J. Perry King, former pastor. Burial was in Citizens cemetery.

Pallbearers were G. W. McCalley, W. A. Riney, Truett Behrens, Irvin Hergert, R. M. Anderson, and G. K. Reading.

Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Grant are again at home after spending several weeks with relatives at Kansas City, and with their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Hudson of Logan, N. M.

SEA GULLS SAVE THE DAY

There is in Salt Lake City, Utah a monument to the sea gull. This monument of granite, which has on top of it the figure of a sea gull, was completed in October, 1913, for the purpose of honoring the birds that saved the crops of the early settlers of the great Salt Lake Valley.

The crops that had been planted east of the lake in the spring of 1848 would be soon ready for harvest. The settlers were happy because they were sure they would have plenty of food during the winter ahead. Then, one day, millions of crickets flew down from the Rocky Mountains in the west and began to eat up the crops. Everyone rushed out to fight the crickets but little could be done, until suddenly thousands of sea gulls flew in from the west and ate up the crickets. The sea gulls had saved the settlers from starvation.

12,000 Texans Including Top Ranking Admirals in Navy

Texas, as it observes Navy Day on Monday, Oct. 27, finds two of its native sons in two of the highest administrative posts in the United States Navy—one of chief of the Bureau of Navigation, and the other as commandant of the largest continental naval district.

Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, born at Fredericksburg, Texas, on Feb. 24, 1885, is responsible, as chief of the Bureau of Navigation, for the procurement and training of the navy's officer and enlisted personnel, a mammoth job in the rapidly expanding two-ocean navy.

Capt. T. A. Thomas, Jr., acting commandant of the Eighth Naval District, which includes the entire state of Texas, was born at Austin, Texas, and he was appointed to the Naval Academy from that city.

But Texas' contribution to the illustrious names of high-ranking naval officers does not stop with these two.

There is Adm. Adolphus Andrews of Galveston, who entered the navy in 1897, commandant of the 30th Naval District in New York City.

Adm. James O. Richardson entered the navy in 1897. He formerly was commander-in-chief of the United States fleet and afterward was chief of naval operations. He is now on duty with the navy department in Washington.

Other Texas Admirals

Adm. Samuel M. Robinson, another Texan, who entered the navy in 1901, is now chief of the Bureau of Ships in the navy department. Adm. Austin T. Beaugard entered the navy in 1903, and is now with one of the navy's South American missions.

The Chinese jujube, sometimes called Chinese date, is extremely hardy and produces a crop of fruit yearly. It grows well in west Texas areas having 18 inches rainfall. Several trees are growing in Donley county.

Canned Goods Are Graded

COLLEGE STATION, Oct. 27.—With food prices soaring from week to week, Texas' people most can't produce and conserve most of their food at home need more than ever to get full value for their money when they buy canned foods.

Since there are thousands of brands available in retail stores neither the homemaker nor the retailer can be sure of the quality each brand is supposed to represent. That's where the Department of Agriculture's Agricultural Marketing Service has come to the rescue. Regardless of the brand name, the quality classes for canned fruits and vegetables established by the Department of Agriculture provide a reliable means of identifying quality. Only products packed in plants under the "continuous inspection" of the Agricultural Marketing Service can be labeled as a "U. S. grade."

Here are the four grades, guideposts to consumers: Grade A (Fancy)—Only the finest canned fruits and vegetables are in this grade. They are carefully selected as to size, color, degree of maturity and freedom from blemishes. Grade B (Choice)—Products in Grade B are of excellent quality but not so carefully selected or so tender and succulent as those in Grade A. Grade C (Standard)—Products in Grade C are of good quality but not uniform in color, size and maturity as B. Below grade C—Some canned fruits and vegetables which fail to meet the requirements of Grade C in certain respects may be wholesome, nutritious and acceptable in flavor. If labeled to meet regulations under the Federal Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act they may be sold on the retail market.

HOW'S THIS FOR GAME

The bobwhite is not the only quail in Texas. In addition the Lone Star State has scaled quail, commonly called blue quail, Mearns quail and Gambel quail. All of them are plentiful this year, as is attested by this report from the Game Manager of the Southwest Texas region: A Game Warden on a 14 mile drive along a road near the McMullen-LaSalle County line counted 105 coveys of blue quail!

Billy Patman, attending college at Canyon, spent the week end here with his homefolks.

A new type of soybean known as the Magnolia has been developed by the Louisiana Extension Service after eight years of experiments.

PETERS TAKES NOTED POULTRY THIEF ON MOSLEY FARM

Only the choicest turkeys and chickens were selected by the noted poultry thief that has been dealing misery to the citizens some fifteen miles east of Clarendon this fall.

The Milt Mosley farm was a special "hang-out" for the marauder. His damage on that farm ran into a large sum.

A few days ago the services of D. D. Peters, experienced trapper and neighbor to the Mosleys, was invited to get on the job. Peters did just that. He got what is termed the largest coyote ever to be caught in the county. Mr. Mosley gave Mr. Peters an extra five dollars for his trouble. The reward had been up for some time with no takers until trapper Peters took over.

Johnny Leathers Graduates, Gets Plane Plant Job

Johnny Leathers, son of the D. E. Leathers all-American family of Clarendon, completed his defense training course here Friday and was accorded individual "graduation exercises" at the North Fort Worth Kiwanis Club luncheon program at Boulevard Methodist Church.

Leathers who is 20, already has landed a job in a defense aircraft plant and will go to work next week at the North American factory at Grand Prairie.

The occasion for Johnny's "graduation" was a program on which Prof. J. G. Umstadt of the secondary education division at the University of Texas was the speaker. As he did in a talk Thursday before the Fort Worth Kiwanis Club at Hotel Texas, Umstadt stressed the importance of practical training for many students in high school rather than preparing them to go to college.

Leathers was presented with a certificate of qualification as an aircraft sheet metal worker and riveter by G. B. Trimble, director of vocational education. Leathers finished his training course Friday morning at a Technical High School. He enrolled for the training on Aug. 12 because he wanted to do his part in the defense program and because the training also offered an opportunity to learn a trade—Star-Telegram.

Last Rites For Head Sunday

Funeral services were conducted at the First Baptist church here at 3:30 Sunday afternoon for Dennis Richard Head, 54, who passed away at his home Friday from a heart attack. Rev. J. Perry King conducted the service.

Attending the casket were M. L. Putman, Frank Lyle, Stanley Carlile, C. L. McCrary, Ralph Keys and W. O. Butler.

Mr. Head was a native of Cornersville, Tenn., coming to Texas early in life. He married Miss Josephine Bryant in Abilene in 1908. To this union, five children were born.

Surviving are his wife, and Mrs. Claude Eudy of National City, Calif. and Bob Neal Head of Clarendon are the children. Sybil Louise Head is the only grand child.

Mr. Head moved to Donley county in 1909, and followed a general contracting business until his death.

Funeral arrangements were in charge of the Buntin funeral home.

W. E. Betts of Clovis, N. M. visited his sister, Mrs. C. A. Burton here the past week end.

Wm. E. Hardin Dies Monday

Funeral services were conducted at the First Presbyterian church here at 3:30 Tuesday afternoon for William Eugene Hardin. Rev. Millard M. Miller, the pastor, conducted the service.

Attending the casket were Bert Smith, Lee Bell, Carl Peabody, Doss Palmer, Ed Dishman, Duke Hudson.

In charge of the flowers were Mesdames Ruby Dell Estlack, Granville McAnear, Dexter Todd, Elvis Burch, Fred Buntin and Misses Mary Williams, Johnnie and Dorothy Rhodes. Honorary pallbearers included Marvin Jones, Ben Chamberlain, Glenn Williams, Elba Ballew, R. C. Bingham, Roy Clayton, Grady Pittman, Donald Harlan, George Wayne Estlack, Howard Stewart, Damon Pharr, Kelly Chamberlain, Walter Knorpp, Lon Rundell, Slayton Mahaffey.

Masonic rites were conducted at the graveside.

He is survived by his wife, the former Margaret Kerbow of Memphis whom he married about a year ago, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hardin, father and stepmother. One brother, Warren Hardin, and the sisters are Gladys at home and Mrs. J. T. Sykes of Alanreed.

Stricken with a throat infection while visiting relatives at Cooper, his father, Frank Hardin and brother, Warren Hardin, went down and brought Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hardin back as far as Wichita Falls where he is said to have passed away some two hours after entering a hospital there.

Though but 25 years of age, Wm. Hardin was Sunday school superintendent and deacon of the First Presbyterian church. He was a Mason and actively affiliated with every movement for the betterment of his associates and the public at large.

Shortly after his marriage, a farm was purchased near Martin. Industrious to achieve success in every worthy undertaking, his crop on that farm is of the type of reward for industry and sound judgment. The young couple began their married lives doing "team" work. Their every interest was in common, the dutiful wife spending much time with him on the tractor. Both were intensely interested in life, and deserved the happiness that was theirs. The wholesome environment of their parental homes as children was reflected in that new home. It was an altar of love where affection governed their daily lives.

No man passing from the earthly scenes of Donley county ever left more real, sincere friends behind than did Wm. E. Hardin. His was a noble life worthy of emulation for men of any age. The world is much better for his having lived. Even though he had to go at an early age, he left behind life's richest heritage—a good name.

Your Donley County Leader expresses deepest sympathy to the heart-broken wife, the loved ones at home, the relatives and friends who will miss him greatly. Just why the most worthy lives must become but a sweet memory in so short a time, will never be fully understood until there comes that happy reunion around the throne of God where sorrows are no more.

HOMER HARRISON DIES MONDAY

Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Cossey and children of Dallas stopped in the Cal Merchant home Tuesday night on their way to Stratford to attend the funeral service of Homer Harrison, husband of the former Martha Blackburn of Clarendon.
