New teachers at Clarendon High announced

CPA gives audit report to hospital board

The Donley County Hospital District Board Aug. 9 heard a report from Mike Turner, a CPA from Amarillo who audited the hospital accounts for the years 1974, 1975 and 1976.

Turner told the board members that no audit could be made for the 1974-1975 fiscal year because inadequate journals and ledgers were kept. He said that from June, 1974 until November, 1974 was the most confused period.

An estimate was finally obtainable from the records after December 1, 1974. It was ascertained that about $115,000 were under accounts receivable, 40 per cent of which were uncollectable.

The major portion of the uncollectable charges were Medicaid, Medicare and Blue Cross-Blue Shield cases. These latter were lost, Medical Center Director Gerry Knight said, because the administrative personnel at the time did not know the proper procedures for admitting patients under such programs.

The hospital's acknowledged indebtedness as of June 30, 1975 was $105,781.10, Knight said. For the fiscal year ending June 30, 1976, the indebtedness was $9,578.89.

Knight said that to date about 60 per cent of the accounts receivable has been collected, the warrant indebtedness has been reduced from $90,000 to $40,000 and $30,000 more will be retired in December, 1977.

Knight also updated the board on the status of their appeal of the 10th Court of Civil Appeals decision. He said that the preliminary work had been completed and was now filed with the Texas Supreme Court.

Joel Greene hurt in car, train wreck

Joel Bruce Greene of Clarendon was severely injured Aug. 9 when his car was struck broadside by a train near the Sully St. crossing of the Fort Worth-Denver track.

Clarendon police records indicate that Greene apparently attempted to cross the track 33 ft. west of the regular crossing site and his car became lodged between the rails.

City Administrator Bud Knorrp said Thursday the train's engineer, Bill Giles, saw the car, applied the brakes and blew the whistle. However, there wasn't time to stop the train completely, Knorrp said, and Greene's car was knocked 67 ft. down and off the track.

Knorrp said that Greene suffered a skull fracture and a broken neck. He said that the doctors at Northwest Hospital in Amarillo either already had or were intending to perform surgery on Greene's spine and head.

Firemen combine drill, fun

Two Clarendon volunteer firemen enjoy a game of water polo after completing their pumping exercise.

Eighteen Clarendon volunteer firemen combined fun and work at their regular drill Aug. 11.

The drill included a pumping of the pumper and followed by a hotly contested game of water polo.

Fireman Clyde Price cooked hamburgers for the members of the fire department.

After the meal the firemen discussed modern techniques of fire fighting that were covered at the 1977 fire

Two new classes and three new teachers will be waiting for Clarendon High School students when they return to school Aug. 22, according to Principal Mark D. Gunnels.

Gunnels said that he is trying to add another art class. Art was included in the school curriculum for the first time last year.

Also, Gunnels said that he intends to institute a reading improvement program. The program's limit of twenty students will include varying levels of ability -- advanced, at-level, and below-level -- all in one class, he said.

The new teachers are Marian Staton, Richard Roper and Robert Abernathy.

Marian Staton, 29, was born in Stephenville but was raised in Tulia where she was graduated from high school in 1966.

Mrs. Staton attended Tarleton State College for two years and then transferred to Texas Tech. where she received her degree in home economics education in 1970.

From 1971 until 1976 Mrs. Staton taught home economics in Sunray, where she also met her husband, Jerry. They were married in 1971 and have one girl, Shelly Ann, now 2-1/2-years-old.

Jerry and Marian Staton both enjoy snow-skiing and try to spend at least one week during Christmas each year at one of the ski resorts. Mrs. Staton also likes to work on craft projects, especially macrame and crocheting.

Because of her interest in being advisor to two area officers of the Future Homemakers of America Mrs. Staton was made an honorary member of FHA at both the

After returning to Kingsville to complete work on his master's degree in 1972 Roper was assistant band director at Weslaco High School for the 1972-1973

Staggered vehicle registrations forecasted

Some motorists are getting a preliminary look this week at the new year-round registration program which will be initiated next January.

Flyers outlining briefly plans for the new system are being mailed with new motor vehicle registrations, according to Robert W. (Bob) Townsley, director of the Motor Vehicle Division of the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation.

The notices indicate that "staggered" year-round registration begins January 1, 1978. "Your 1977 vehicle registration will expire midnight, April 1st, as usual, and must be renewed by that deadline," the notices say. "Beginning January 1, 1978, a new law requires that vehicle registrations be converted to a new system with registrations expiring on a staggered basis in different months throughout the year. school year. From 1973 through 1976 he was assistant high school band director, junior high school band director, and high school choir director for the Uvalde Consolidated School District.

During the 1976-1977 school year Roper was director of bands in Spring Lake, five miles east of Earth, Tex.

The Ropers have one son, Brian, who was four-years-old Monday.

Robert Lynn Abernathy, 27, is the new defensive secondary coach and history teacher. As coach his primary function will be to coach defensive backs.

Defensive secondary coach ROBERT ABERNATHY

Abernathy is a native of Hugo, Okla., where he was graduated from high school in 1968. He received a bachelor's degree in history from the Univ. of Okla. in 1972 and his master's degree in secondary education from East Central Oklahoma State Univ. in secondary education in 1976.

Abernathy said that this will be his third year as a teacher but his fifth as a coach. He worked with the Norman school system while attending the Univ. of Okla. in the university's intern coaching program.

During 1974-1975 Abernathy coached at Antlers High School in Antlers, Okla., and last year he was head football coach at Geary, Okla.

Abernathy's teaching concentrations are Texas and United States history.

He likes to go quail-hunting with dogs, to fish and to read. "In that order," he said.

Abernathy said that his ambition is to be head coach at a four-A school.

The coach said he is "super-impressed" by the attitude of the boys on the team. "I am unaccustomed to such dedication," he said.

CC regents set tax rate, level tuition

The Clarendon College board of regents Tuesday night selected an independent auditor for the coming year, set the tax rate and changed two policy rules.

The accounting firm of Smith, Bains and Solana of Dallas was chosen to audit the college's expenditures for school year 1977-78, according to Kenneth D. Vaughan, president of the college.

Vaughan said that the tax rate for the year will be 84 per cent (50-4/10 cents) for maintenance and 16 per cent (9-6/10 cents) for debt service.

One of the policy changes concerned the cost of auditing a course. Vaughan said that the tuition for auditing will now be the same as that charged regular students. The only difference will be that auditing students do not have to take the final and do not receive a grade. He said that persons who register to audit a course may change their status as long as they do so within the add-drop period.

In its other policy change the board formalized a policy regarding tenure that actually was in effect last year, Vaughan said. After a 7-year probationary period teachers will be eligible for tenure upon approval by the board of regents. Before last year the probationary period had been three years.

registration begins January 1, 1978.

"Your 1977 vehicle registration will expire midnight, April 1st, as usual, and must be renewed by that deadline," the notices say.

"Beginning January 1, 1978, a new law requires that vehicle registrations be converted to a new system with registrations expiring on a staggered basis in different months throughout the year. "To convert to the new system next year, registration periods for passenger cars and light trucks (such as pickups) will be staggered. All other registrations (including personalized plates) will remain the same.

"On or about January 1, 1978, you should receive through the mail a renewal notice for each of your vehicles. The passenger car and light truck renewals will be staggered for various periods and license fees will be prorated accordingly. (Renewal periods will be assigned according to the license plate numbers.)

"After your vehicles are registered under the new staggered system, all future registrations will be for a period of 12 months.

"This new system should permit us to serve you more efficiently by having an equal number of registrations expire each month throughout the year; and in subsequent years, after 1978, it should eliminate those traditional long lines that form each March at the county tax assessor-collectors' offices."

Broncs enter 2nd week of practice

Broncos work out in preparation for their game against McLean Tigers Sept. 2 which will be at Clarendon.

Sixty-seven boys reported for twice-a-day work-outs at the Clarendon Football Stadium.

Coach Jerry Wilson said, "I am very impressed with the enthusiasm and the work of the kids. As all coaches know, attitude is one of the most important elements in developing a winning ball club." "Our schedule will be the same as it was last year, that is, we'll be playing the same teams. The University Interscholastic League realigns the teams every other year. We won't know what teams we'll be playing next year until late November.

"Several of the boys have impressed the coaching staff during the last week. Mickey McGuire is showing real progress as a defensive tackle. I'm impressed with Gary McClellan as quarterback, Billy Gardner as running back and Kelly Choate as a defensive back.

"This Thursday night at 5:30 the Bronchos will meet the Sanford-Fritch Eagles at Eagle Stadium in Fritch. At this time they will unleash a new offense and a new defense. We'd like to have everybody come, if possible, and take a look at the 1977 Clarendon Bronchos."

How the crow conned the owl

Old grey Owl perched on a pole
Against the dark winter night.
His blinking face moved from left to right
And back again, seeming more full of knowing
Than he had need to use.

In time a crow alighted nearby
On one of the pendent lines.
He critically eyed the owl,
Then preened his own sable wing and breast
Much as humans will file their nails,
Not from any need of nature,
But rather in feigned indifference
To something too desirable or abstruse.

"Caw!" croaked the crow. "What a chump!
Haven't you seen the boy with his gun?
He's still out, though the hour's late,
And he'd love to put pellets through a perching owl.
Could you but see yourself! Stark against the black'ning sky

Like birch bark in lake water,
Such an easy mark you are!
You'd wisely hide among those poplar boughs
'Cross field. Keep here and you're a proper fool!"

After speaking thus, the crow bowed his head,
And his eyes' dark pupils leaned in their corners

Like landladies against doorjams.
"Tu whit! Tu whoo!" the owl responded,
"You're very clever, Crow, to detect
So smartly the youngster's aim before he appears.

Thank you for your considerateness."
Then, winking goodbye with one wide blink,
He swooshed into the air like little Miss Muffet.

"Caw! Caw!" guffawed the crow. "What a chump!
I wanted Owl's place; Boy was my lever;
And slick, here I sit at the peak of the pole!"

It started to snow, slowly at first
Then faster and faster until it draped
The lines, the pole and the crow.
The once black bird was now so white
He hardly looked like a crow at all...
But, mmmm, more like an owl, I'd say.
Still, the crow proudly roosted on his pinnacle.

It just so happened, though the crow didn't know,
Boy did come out that night to watch the falling flakes,
And, as always, for fun he carried his gun --
To shoot cans, signs, the neighbor's cat, and birds.

Of course, he saw the crow, though he thought it was an owl.
Had he known it was a crow he would have let it go:

He'd shot so many of those already.
But an owl was rare and thus a prize.
Boy took air; "ping" went gun; down dropped
Crow.

Next morning Owl was hooting in a creviced poplar
When chattering Chickadee told him of Brother
Crow
And what had befallen him over by the phone pole.

Owl blinked his left eye slowly and said,
'How odd he didn't follow his own advice!'

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR-

EPA PLANS TO BAN TOXAPHENE

The Environmental Protection Agency has published an official notice in the Federal Register of its intentions to ban Toxaphene. Laboratory tests have revealed a significant increase in the incidence of cancerous growths in male and female mice which were fed Toxaphene for a period of one year and ten months. Rats were similarly affected.

These laboratory findings simply confirm what farmers and ranchers have known for a long time -- Toxaphene is a poison which effectively kills many kinds of insect pests and if properly used, it is one of the safest insecticides known. It can be, and is, sprayed directly on livestock to kill several kinds of animal pests.

Toxaphene is the largest volume insecticide used in the United States. It is economical in price, and one of the safest chemicals to handle. Toxaphene has been recommended by EPA as a substitute when various other pesticides were being banned.

Farm Bureau has repeatedly requested that EPA carefully weigh the ratio between benefits and risks before banning any agricultural chemical. We have told EPA plainly that modern agriculture cannot continue to provide sufficient quantities of high quality food and fiber at reasonable prices to meet consumer needs without the use of agricultural chemicals and drugs.

It is time for all-out action by farmers and ranchers to convince EPA that its present course will result in lower quality and lower quantities of food and fiber at higher costs to consumers.

Please send a maximum number of letters from your county to the Environmental Protection Agency, with copies to your U.S. Congressman and Senators, in opposition to the proposed ban on Toxaphene. Your letters will be most effective if you include information on your personal knowledge and use of Toxaphene, what chemicals you would have to use if Toxaphene is banned, relative cost of alternative chemicals, availability of alternative chemicals, the economic impact on your operation if Toxaphene is banned, your observations on how your use of Toxaphene has affected fish and wildlife on your place, and your general views in regard to EPA bans on agricultural chemicals.

Letters should be mailed as soon as possible, and must reach EPA before September 15. Address letters to EPA as follows:

Honorable Doug Costle, Administrator
Environmental Protection Agency
401 M. Street, S.W.
Washington, D.C. 20560

As you know, it will take a lot of letters to make an impact on EPA, and on Congress.

Sincerely,
Ted Shaller

CITY COUNCIL RAISES PROPERTY TAX 100%

For the past nineteen years the City of Clarendon has taxed property on the basis of 25% of its market value. By virtue of increased operating cost to the City primarily occasioned by inflation, the present tax receipts are inadequate to fulfill the responsibility for which the City is obligated in its governmental function.

Rather than increasing the tax rate or value of your property, the City Council feels that it would be more equitable and would more nearly fit the circumstances of everyone to simply increase the percentage assessment of the value of taxable property. Accordingly, the City Council has voted to uniformly increase the assessment of taxable property from the present 25% to 50% of its market value.

The City Council will sit as a Board of Equalization from 1:00 o'clock P.M. to 5:00 P.M. on the 25th day of August, 1977, in the City Hall in the City of Clarendon. You are hereby notified that you may appear before the Board of Equalization at such time, date, and place should you so desire and show cause why your assessed value of taxable property should not be increased to 50% of its market value as above mentioned.

Yours very truly,
Leonard Selvidge,
Mayor of the City of Clarendon

Tulia Explorer Scouts camp at Greenbelt

Greenbelt Lake was chosen as the site for a camp out by a group from Tulia last weekend, Explorer Post 260 of the Boy Scouts of America.

Post 260 is a division of the Boy Scouts of America and is a police club. Eligible persons are high school age boys and girls. This group meets at the police department.

Two girls with the group have received their certification. To be certified Linda Smitherman and Patrice Simpson participated in Emergency Medical Techniques by completing 128 hours of classroom work. Forty hours were spent in the hospital emergency unit, cardiac unit, intensive care, respiratory unit, emergency room and ambulance runs.

Both Linda and Patrice are 17 years old and are students at Tulia High School. The program is new having been instituted in the 1976-1977 school year.

Enjoying the camp from Tulia were Mrs. Ray Simpson and Patrice, Linda Smitherman, Mr. and Mrs. Randy Neill, Ira Smith, Samantha Simpson, Joe Padilla, Terry Boyett and Chief of Police, Weldon Smith.

Cub Scouts plan campout

The Cub Scouts will have a camp-out at Greenbelt Lake Saturday morning, according to Scoutmaster Pettigrew Hamilton.

Hamilton said that the Scouts will meet at City Park at 6:00 a.m. and then go to the Boy Scout camp area on the west side of the lake.

"We would like to invite prospective members to go with us," Hamilton said.

"Any boys entering the 2nd

Hwy. 70 improvements scheduled

Work in Donley County is included in the 1978 Special Rehabilitation and State Highway Safety and Betterment and Farm to Market Road Improvement Program approved by the State Highway and Public Transportation Commission. The quarter-billion-dollar program was made possible by the funds provided by the 65th Texas Legislature.

A large part of the program will be financed with General Revenue funds especially appropriated for this purpose with the remainder of the projects financed with state highway funds.

District Engineer Lewis H. White of Childress said the work includes seal coat on 16.9 miles of State Highway 70 from the Gray county line, south to U.S. Highway 287 at Clarendon at an estimated cost of $218,700.

Statewide, the program provides for the improvement of some 6,900 miles of highways at an estimated construction cost of approximately $225,560,000 with an additional $4.3 million set aside for later assignment.

Approximately 68 per cent of the overall program will be on State and U.S. Highways, another 30 per cent on Farm to Market Roads, and the remaining 2 per cent reserved for future assignment.

The program is the first phase of a long-range program to restore the highway system to the standards Texans have come to expect, White said. It is based on recommendations submitted by several district engineers and selected following a statewide assessment of highway needs.

Ellis, Jolly exchange vows

Karen Ellis and Gene Jolly were united in marriage July 23 in the chapel of the First Baptist Church of Clarendon with the Rev. Bryan Knowles officiating.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Bob Ellis, and best man was the father of the groom from Amarillo.

Debbie Hall served as matron of honor and wore a long silk organza gown of orange, carrying out the bride's colors of orange and white. Shelli and Renee Ellis were flower girls and wore dresses of petit floral semi-sheer knit.

Wedding music was provided by Mrs. Raleigh Adams who played the traditional processional and recessional marches.

For her wedding, the bride chose a white satin gown with long lace sleeves, round neck, empire waist line and a sweeping train. The dress was custom made for the occasion by the groom's grandmother. A short lace veil was attached to a headband of heavy Irish lace.

A bouquet of white carnations with orange streamers and a white Bible given her by her maternal grandmother completed the bride's ensemble.

The mother of the bride wore a blue floral street length dress of knit accented with white accessories and a white carnation corsage.

Mother of the groom chose a full length yellow satin gown and wore a white carnation corsage.

Each mother was given a rose by the bride; on the way to the altar the mother of the bride received her rose, on the way from the altar the grooms mother received her rose.

Following the wedding a reception was held at the Frankie Ellis home. The bride's table was laid with a lace cloth and centered with the bride's wedding bou-quet. Serving in the dining room were Cheryl Shadle presiding at the crystal punch bowl, and Sherry Johnson served guests from the two-tiered cake topped with the traditional bride and groom.

Cindy Ellis registered guests in the bride's book.

For traveling on her wedding trip to Red River, N.M. the bride wore a black jersey dress with white accessories and lifted her corsage from the bridal bouquet.

After the wedding trip the couple will be at home in Amarillo where the groom is employed by Budweiser Co.

your son or daughter, you can overcome the problems commonly referred to today as "communications gap". The 4-H project serves as a beginning to start the "partnership"—it grows through mutual understanding and trust between parent and child.

Parents and 4-H'ers learn to share the joys of winning and the disappointment of losing and to jointly work out solutions to problems as they arise. By becoming active 4-H parents, you can develop closer family ties and become better "partners" in working toward common goals. Contact the county Extension office for additional details on the 4-H program, adds Cynthia.

Volunteers look after cemetery

"People are brought in here from all over the country to be buried," said Fred Clifford, president of the Clarendon Citizens Cemetery Committee.

"I see that the place is halfway decently kept, keep up the books and raise money for maintenance," Clifford said.

Clifford sends out solicitation letters once a year to close relatives of persons interred at the cemetery. "I don't have much trouble keeping up with relatives," Clifford said. "The problem I have is that people who used to give $10 still give $10. Of course, we appreciate anything we can get and some people are very generous."

The cemetery committee is a volunteer group. Besides Clifford, members of the committee include Chauncey Hommel, Tommy Saye and, unofficially, Phoebe Ann Buntin.

About 28,000 persons are interred within the present cemetery area of 27 acres; but more acreage, now leased out for farming, is available. "We'll probably need to start using it in 10 years," Clifford said.

The Donley County Historical Survey Commission is interested in using some of the ground abutting Hwy. 70 as a final resting place for about a dozen persons who were disinterred from the old Clarendon cemetery when Greenbelt Lake was created. Jeanice Weatherly, one of the commission members, said the State Highway Department would replace the original marker and sponsor the fencing. Money for the lots has already been raised from donations.

Clifford said that the current price of a lot of four spaces is $300 and that individual spaces cost $100. "For a long while they practically gave lots away out there at $25 for four spaces," he said. "I don't know when they raised them to $100 for four spaces, which is what it was when I took it. It went up to $100 per space about three years ago."

The cemetery committee has hired a man as full-time groundskeeper. Currently, Terry Collins, a student at Clarendon Junior College has the position as a summer job. "Of course, when he goes back to school we'll have to find someone else," Clifford said.

Clifford said that the most recent improvement at the cemetery has been the drilling of two wells and the installing of a watering system. "There's not more than 100 ft. from any space to a spigot," he said.

Jerry Carmichael at sea

Navy Machinist's Mate Third Class Jerry K. Carmichael, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe B. Carmichael of Box 404, Clarendon, is currently on an extended deployment in the Mediterranean Sea.

He is serving as a crew-member aboard the amphibious assault ship USS Inchon, homeported in Norfolk, Va. His ship is operating as a unit of the U.S. Sixth Fleet.

He and his shipmates recently participated in an amphibious training exercise near Greece with other Navy and Marine Corps units. During the remainder of the cruise, his ship is scheduled to continue participation in training exercises with other Sixth Fleet units and with ships of allied nations. Additionally, port visits are scheduled in several Mediterranean coastal cities.

His ship is 592 feet long, displaces 18,300 tons and carries a crew of 528 officers and enlisted men. She is designed to transport assault forces for amphibious operations and normally embarks a Marine battalion landing team and Marine helicopter squadron during a deployment.

Productive fall gardens

You can begin a productive fall garden now that will supply you with an even better looking crop than your spring garden, says Ronald Gooch, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

But if you want that fall garden to produce, don't try to nurture the plants that are still left in your spring gardens. You need vigorously growing plants, so start from scratch with fresh seeds, advises Gooch.

Fall gardens have a definite advantage over spring gardens. Since the soil is warmer, germination occurs quicker and the seedling has a better chance to reach its maximum productive potential. Since most vegetables are of a subtropical origin, the warm summer months give seedlings a better beginning.

A fall garden also allows your mature plants to thrive in the cooler fall months instead of suffering from hot weather as spring vegetables do. Many vegetables do exceptionally well in a fall garden, including lettuce, broccoli, cabbage, brussels sprouts, greens, cauliflower and carrots.

To achieve the best in quality and quantity from your fall garden, plant early enough to allow the crop to reach its full potential by the first frost, adds Gooch.

LEARNING Center

and people often bring in baskets of fruit or canned goods."
Actually, the learning center is simply an outgrowth of the Planned Parenthood program, which Eureda Mays is responsible for. "We found that many of the young women we were working with had the problem of what to do with their children while they worked, so we started the day-care center," Eureda said.

Besides caring for children and helping couples plan their family sizes, the trio of women attend to the health needs of senior citizens as well as of the children. "We give immunizations the last Monday of every other month," Robbie said. "Our next date for giving them will be the last Monday in September. And we take blood pressures. We go to Hedley once a week to take blood pressures there, too." "We're crazy!" Robbie and Eureda exclaimed as they created the educational materials they would use to teach the children when the latter awoke from their naps. While Robbie cut and pasted to make a visual exercise, Eureda filled snuff cans and small boxes with rocks and bits of metal to make rhythm instruments. In a world in which most people have to be sane and serious too great a part of the day in order to survive, such craziness as exemplified by Robbie and Eureda is enviable. In any case, it's what children most readily relate to.

Keep garden "busy"

You'll be amazed at the bonanza of fresh vegetables even a small garden can produce. But to keep a garden producing at its best, you need "succession planting," advises Ronald Gooch, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. This means keeping every inch of space "busy" growing good vegetables all the time. As soon as one crop is finished, plant another to take its place.

For instance, early spring crops--lettuce, peas, radishes and spinach, to mention a few--are usually harvested by the time warm weather sets in. When you clean up that area, don't let it sit empty. Empty space invites "robber" weeds and wastes ground that could be growing delicious vegetables for later harvest, explains Gooch.

Snap beans planted about every two weeks until early summer are a good followup to early spring crops and provide a good supply for the table and freezer. Swiss chard is a natural to succeed spring spinach. Swiss chard takes both summer heat and light fall frost as it continually produces succulent greens for cooking. Okra does best when planted late and fits in well after spring lettuce, spinach and even green beans. Squash does well following many early spring crops.

Many areas can produce a second crop of tomatoes, beans, potatoes, squash and other cold sensitive crops. These plantings are made in late summer or early fall, depending upon where you live in Texas.

Think ahead to early fall and the vegetables you'd like to perk up autumn menus--gourmet Brussels sprouts, crisp cabbage, tasty cauliflower, flavorful broccoli, succulent kale! All these mature best in cool weather. You can have plentiful amounts of these vegetables ever so much fresher and cheaper than from the market. July and August is the right time to sow seeds for these crops in most areas of Texas. All these cool-weather lovers can occupy space vacated by spring planted crops, says Gooch.

When fall does roll around, it's time to plant onions, greens, lettuce, carrots, beets, radishes and spinach. All these stand some frost in the garden when they're mature.

Homegrown peas are always a mouthwatering spring treat; you often can double the treat with a fall crop. Pods develop well in cool fall weather but should mature before frost.

August declared Immunization Action Month

Emphasis will be given immunizations against all diseases during Immunization Action Month. All children starting to school for the first time must have immunizations. Those attending day-care centers also need immunizations, and newborns should be started on immunizations as early as two months. These immunizable diseases include diphtheria, tetanus, polio, measles, rubella (German measles), pertussis (whooping cough), and mumps.

Special emphasis will be given to:
MEASLES: Many children who had measles vaccine before their first birthdays have contracted the disease this year. Measles is a dangerous disease which can have many complications. Unimmunized children should receive their shots. A booster is necessary for those receiving the shot prior to one year of age.

RUBELLA: Pregnant women who get the disease may have babies born with birth defects. Women of child-bearing age are encouraged to have a simple blood test to determine if they are immune to German measles. Your own physician can give you the test at his usual fee, or you may get it done free by most local health departments during August, September, or October. If you are of child-bearing age, a physician can advise you on getting the rubella immunization. Local health departments give this immunization to all children through the age of 11.

TETANUS/DIPHTHERIA: Older people have been found to need immunizations against both of these diseases. Protection can be received for both diseases at the same time. If you have had protection in the past, boosters are recommended every 10 years. More than half of those who get tetanus die from it, and most of the deaths are in older people.

WHERE CAN YOU GET IMMUNIZATIONS? Local Health Departments and Public Health Region clinics will be cooperating with Immunization Action Month activities. Most Health Departments give all immunizations free. Your private physician also can give you all needed shots for his normal fee.

WHAT SHOTS DO I NEED? If you have an immunization record, it should show which shots you and your children have received. Your local Health Department should have a record if immunizations were received there. Your private physician should have records. Check with your own physician or a local Health Department. In areas with no Health Department, Public Health Region clinics should be available.

WHY SHOULD SHOTS BE RECEIVED? Although disease levels are down, measles-a most dangerous disease-and rubella (German measles) are on the increase this year. Texas law requires that children going to school and those attending day-care school must be immunized. Young children are very susceptible to the childhood diseases. Even adults can die from diphtheria and tetanus.

WHAT ARE THE COSTS? Private physicians have a certain fee which they charge. Most Local Health Departments and Public Health Regions have no charge for immunizations.

Joe Was a Good Fellow

There were many flowers and lots of friends. The preacher made a nice talk about Joe's good qualities, but he didn't have much to say about Joe's hereafter. You see, Joe was not a Christian. Religion was "for little children, or perhaps women," but not for him. So Joe ignored God in his life; he didn't obey his will; he didn't talk to him; he made no effort to become a Christian, or to worship and serve as a Christian should. If there was a hereafter, he trusted in his own goodness to carry him through.

But Joe was guilty of sin, even as you and I. There were some things that he did when he was younger that he didn't like to think about, and he had tried to avoid those mistakes since then. But those sins were committed and they injured others and him--and the sins and the injuries still stand on Joe's record.

He was much like Cornelius, who in some respects was better than Joe (Acts 10:1,2). But the goodness of Cornelius was not enough to save him. He, too, had to hear words whereby he and his house could be saved (Acts 11:14). Neither Joe nor Cornelius could be saved without Christ, for Jesus himself said, "No man cometh unto the Father, but by me" (John 14:6).

Joe could have put his faith in Christ, repented of sins (Acts 2:38). He could have been forgiven by the Son of God who gave his life for that very purpose, to forgive and blot out, for those that obey him, the sins that mortals cannot correct. But he didn't. He just figured out a way of his own, and now he is gone--gone to meet his Maker, the one he ignored all his life.

Well, it is all over for Joe. But at the funeral there were other Joes and Harrys and Petes and Sues and Marthas and Janes just like him who some day will attend their own funerals. Will they be ready? It all depends on what they do about it now. "And now why tarriest thou? Arise, and be baptized, and wash away thy sins, calling on the name of the Lord" (Acts 22:16).
