Get equipment, supplies ready for canning

by Cynthia Manning

Get canning equipment and supplies ready--harvest and preservation season for garden fresh fruits and vegetables is just around the corner.

WHY CAN? Canning is one of the oldest methods of preserving food. Proper canning insures safe food by processing food with high heat and protecting it with an airtight seal.

Heat destroys harmful bacteria and other microorganisms that cause food spoilage. Also, heat inactivates enzymes that could cause undesirable changes in flavor, color and texture.

CANNING METHODS: Two processing methods to use in home canning are water bath and steam pressure. The acidity of the food is the chief factor in determining which method to use.

STEAM PRESSURE CANNER: For low acid foods such as meat, poultry, fish and vegetables, use a steam pressure canner--a heavy pan with a rack and cover which can be clamped down to make it tight. The cover is fitted with a safety valve which will blow out if the pressure gets too great, a petcock to drive air out and a pressure gauge.

Keep all these parts of the pressure canner clean and in working order. Use directions for testing gauges once a year. Food needs 10 pounds of pressure for processing to insure that food reaches the recommended temperature. If the rubber gasket becomes hard, soak it in boiling water and stretch it to keep steam from escaping.

WATER BATH CANNER: For high acid foods such as tomatoes, fruits and pickled vegetables, the appropriate equipment is a water bath canner. This could be any large pan with straight sides, a cover and a rack to keep jars from resting on the bottom of the pan, thus allowing water to move freely around the jars. Use a pan that is deep enough to allow the jar tops to be covered one to two inches and have space to gently boil. Large soup kettles could serve as water bath canners.

USE MASON JARS: No matter what method of canning, use only standard, mason jars made especially for canning. These usually have the name of the manufacturer on the side and are heat tempered to withstand steam pressure during processing and vacuum after cooling. Also, they are mechanically shock resistant. Never use jars with nicks or cracks.

LIDS: There are a number of lids on the market. The most common type is the two piece flat metal lid edged with sealing compound and held in place by a metal screw band.

OTHER EQUIPMENT: Other equipment to have on hand ready for the canning season is:

- A jar lifter that can grip the container will help when handling the hot jars.

- Tongs for removing lid and screw bands from the hot water are helpful.

- A saucepan is needed for heating the lids. The size will depend on the number of jars.

- A wide mouthed funnel and a cup-like ladle for pouring liquids and filling jars will help keep the jars clean and facilitate the filling process.

If the top of the jar is unclean, then the jars will not seal properly.

This equipment is essential to proper food canning. For further home canning information, contact your local county Extension agent (home economics) for the Home Canning Bulletin B-194.

Taking part in the Year of the Child will be Clarendon High School students in Mrs. Jerry Staton's Home Economics class who will be working with a summer reading program in conjunction with the City-County Library in Clarendon and Donley County.

Mrs. Staton and five of her students attended a library meeting recently where the program was explained and demonstrated.

Attending from the Home Economics Department were Karen Kotara, Colleen Cockerham, Kathy Wilson, Lisa McAnear & Medina McAnear.

Do you like Elm beetles?

Organic gardener and devotee of ecology, Alice Courtney, is interested in the control, if not eradication of Elm Beetles in the area of Clarendon and Donley County.

She is particularly interested in organic control of the pesky beetles by the Tachnid fly and the Chalcid wasp, a small harmless type of wasp. These insects are beneficial in the control of numerous insect pests.

Another organic control commodity which interests Alice is Sabadilla dust, which kills grasshopper larvae, according to the material Mrs. Courtney has. At this time she is hunting a distributor of this dust.

Those persons who are interested in forming an Elm Beetle control group by organic methods may contact Alice Courtney at 874-2626. She feels our many beautiful trees in Clarendon are worth some extra effort to save and keep healthy.

Capitol Comments

by State Representative Foster Whaley

Three days of tough debate ended March 15 on H.B. 1060. This is the House bill that activates the tax relief act that appeared on your ballot last November. Here are the main points as finally passed.

Farm and ranch land will be taxed on a productive basis, formulas will be developed by the school tax assessment practice board and necessary forms developed and rules written as to how this will be done. The S.T.A.P.B. (School Tax Assessment Practice Board) will be run by a committee composed of the comptroller, the attorney general, the commissioner of agriculture, commissioner of general land office, and the governor. If S.T.A.P.B. is abolished, the authority of this board transfers to the comptroller. The capitalization rate will be 10 percent of 2.5 percent above the federal land bank rate of Houston on December 31. Tax penalties are imposed for those who convert land to uses other than agriculture after having had their land taxed on a productive basis. The school district will be reimbursed dollar for dollar for any losses suffered as a result of using the productive formula.

Article 2 also allows timber land to be taxed on a productive basis as well.

Article 3 exempts most intangibles but not all.

Article 4 exempts household goods.

Article 5 exempts two motor vehicles per family. School districts will be reimbursed by the State on a dollar for dollar basis for losses incurred by granting this exemption.

Article 6 gives a residence homestead exemption to each family.

Article 7 grants $5,000.00 market value residence exemption to all homeowners. It also grants a $10,000.00 market value exemption to those 65 years and older or disabled. The elderly and disabled will have their taxes frozen where it can't be raised in the future.

Article 8 is a complicated formula for reimbursing school districts for losses incurred by giving the exemptions. I did not vote for this method because it was unfair to most of the school districts in my Legislative district. Most of the school districts in District 66 suffered only minor losses, however.

You may contact me in Austin by mail at Box 2910, Austin 78769, or by telephone 512/475-3883 (O) or 512/837-4873 (H). My address in Pampa is Rt. 1, Box 70, Pampa 79065, Telephone 806/669-3251.

Texas National Guard

The Texas Army National Guard is giving $1,500 in bonus money or $2,000 in educational assistance to new recruits. The bonuses to new Guardsmembers will be given to any eligible man or woman without previous military service joining any Texas Army Guard unit between March 15 and June 15.

No restrictions have been placed on either the unit or the type of military assignment the new recruit must enter. But a time limit of three months has been placed on the bonus. After June 15 only selected units of the National Guard will continue to offer the enlistment and education assistance incentives to new Guardsmembers.

Scott said, "We are looking for high school seniors or graduates who can meet our physical and mental standards and want to serve their state or nation. We have at this time the funding to offer this program to about 2500 Texans."

One-half of the $1,500 enlistment bonus will be paid to the new Guardsmember following completion of basic and advanced training with the balance to be paid in three annual increments.

Individuals interested in learning if they are qualified for one of the incentives should contact their nearest Texas Army National Guard, Recruiting and Retention Office, P.O. Box 5218, Austin, Texas 78763.

These persons will provide fun and entertainment for the younger children by conducting reading hours for the boys and girls.

Methods of the Home Economics students will use to amuse and inform the children include, flannel boards, soft toys, puppets, and last but not least their vivid imaginations.

If you wish your child to attend any or all of the reading hour sessions, a roster will be posted at the City-County Library, so that you may include your child's name. In addition as the time for the reading program nears the schedule for the reading hours will appear in the Clarendon Press.

These reading hours will be conducted by the Home Economics students under the direction of Mrs. Staton, in the Fellowship Hall of the Episcopal Church because the present library facilities are not adequate to accommodate this type activity.

In return, all of the Home Economics students involved will receive school credit for the work they will be doing with the children.

It promises to be an exciting summer for children of Clarendon and Donley County. Any parent who needs more information on this library program, is asked to please contact your City-County Library at 874-3685 or Mrs. Jack Clifford at 874-2049.

join. Thereafter the child should bring his card each time he comes to the library.

This is the way the Summer Program will be conducted. When the child joins the Summer Reading Program, he will be given a name tag and a small gunny sack. These items will be displayed in a prominent place in the library. Each time the child reads a book he or she will be given a small gold nugget to be placed in the gunny sack. The children will not be in competition with one another, but rather they will read books at their own pace.

Children who have not learned to read are not excluded from this reading plan. Parents may sign up their toddlers and read the books to them. It has been proven that, reading to children at an early age inspires an interest in books during the years to follow.

Interest rates change

Farmers Home Administration announced a change in the interest rates made on loans to farmers effective March 28, 1979.

While most interest rates have gone up Emergency actual loss loans will continue to be approved at 3%.

Loans for the purchase or improvement of land will be made at 9%. Those made for operating purposes (operating, emergency and economic emergency) will be for 92%. The previously announced rates of 3% for real estate and 5% for operating for limited resource loans will still be approved.

Farmers Home Administration interest rates are set periodically and are based on the Federal Government cost of borrowing. New rates now being announced will not affect the existing loans, at present, or those approved before March 28th.

Children act fast - so do poisons

Act fast in accidental poisoning cases--you may save a life.

Learn speed-based emergency steps now--during National Poison Prevention Week (March 18-24)--because as this year's theme points out, "Children Act Fast - So Do Poisons".

EMERGENCY STEPS
Here's what to do if a child accidentally swallows a poisonous substance.

- Call a poison control center.

doctor or hospital immediately for specific actions to take.

- Read the label information on the product that was swallowed. Some labels give first aid information.

- Make sure that the airway is clear and that breathing has not stopped. (Apply artificial respiration if needed).

- Keep the child warm.
- If the child is unconscious, do not attempt to induce vomiting or give anything by mouth.

- Follow first aid instructions of poison control center, doctor or hospital personnel.

VOMITING--OR NOT
Whether or not vomiting should be induced will depend on the kind of substance swallowed.

Do not induce vomiting for corrosive substances such as household cleaners, bleach, ammonia and dishwashing machine detergents. For most of them, experts say to dilute the poison with water or milk.

In other cases involving non-corrosive substances such as medicines, shoe polish and alcohol, vomiting is generally recommended. A good precautionary move is to keep a one-ounce supply of syrup of ipecac in the home--to induce vomiting when recommended.

TAKE PRODUCT ALONG
When the child is taken to the hospital emergency room or doctor's office, take the product container, too. Label information will help the doctor decide on further treatment.

The National Cotton Council

The National Cotton Council has called for permanent repeal of the tax laws carry-over basis for computing capital gains on inherited property, saying congress should never allow the provision to become effective.

It would create formidable compliance problems and substantially add to the tax burden at the death of the family farmer, William McFarlane, Clovis, Calif., cotton producer, said in a statement filed with the Senate Finance Committee.

In addition, the Council said the new tax provision would seriously affect almost every family or business which had accumulated even a moderate amount of property.

Under the carry-over provision scheduled to become effective at the end of this year, a person inheriting property would be subject to capital gains taxes based on the property's appreciation in value since originally acquired by the deceased.

For example, on land bought by a farmer for $100 an acre and sold by his heirs for $1,000 an acre, the capital gains tax would be based on an appreciation of $900. Under present law, if the land was valued at $800 at the farmer's death, the capital gains tax would be based on a appreciation of only $200.

The combination of federal and state inheritance taxes plus capital gains on a moderate-sized family farm estate could amount to as much as 55 cents on the dollar, McFarlane noted. Heavy taxation could well force a farm family to go heavily into debt in order to retain inherited property regardless of economic circumstances, he added.

As an example of the complexities which would arise as a result of the carry-over basis, McFarlane pointed out that each item of equipment or property inherited would have to be computed separately.

This would apply to each and every item of furniture inherited and to each and every stamp in an inherited stamp collection, he said.

The California producer noted that it would be impossible to speculate and judges to handle the volume of offenses result in massive but not deliberate non-compliance.

There are not enough prosecutors and judges to handle the volume of offenses which almost inevitably would occur because of the near impossibility and burdensomeness of compliance, he added.

If the provisions go into effect, McFarlane said tax consultants would have more work than before since citizens would be forced to consider the much greater tax consequences of any decision involving inherited property.

Repeal of the carry-over provision was unanimously called for by the Council's 292 delegates representing all segments of the raw cotton industry from grower through manufacturer in 18 states.

Chalker elected chairman board of W.T.U.

Durwod Chalker, president of West Texas Utilities Co., Tuesday was elected chairman and chief executive officer of Central Power and Light Co. in Corpus Christi, and has submitted his resignation at WTU, effective July 1.

Chalker will be succeeded at WTU by Glen D. Churchill, former WTU vice president who since July 1976 has been executive vice president of Central Power and Light Co.

The changes were announced after being approved by the boards of directors of both companies in meetings Tuesday morning.

At Corpus Christi, Chalker will succeed Roff W. Hardy, also a former Abilenian, who will retire on July 1. Hardy has been chairman and chief executive officer of Central Power and Light since resigning as WTU president on Jan. 1, 1975.

WTU and CPL are sister companies within the Central and South West Corporation, an electric utility holding company with central offices in Dallas.

Other CSW operating companies are Southwestern Electric Power Co., Shreveport; and Public Service Co. of Oklahoma, Tulsa.

Central Power and Light currently is the largest operating company in the Central and South West System in terms of annual revenue, number of customers and number of employees. It serves more than 200 towns in a 44-county area in South Texas extending from Bay City to the Lower Rio Grande Valley, and including the cities of Laredo, Del Rio, Uvalde and Victoria.

Also announced following the WTU Board meeting was the resignation of Glenn Rosilier, corporate treasurer and director of accounting and finance. Rosilier has been elected controller for the Central and South West Corp. effective July 1. At Dallas, he will succeed Robert L. Range, who is moving to Corpus Christi to become executive vice president of Central Power and Light.

Promoted by WTU as result of Rosilier's resignation were Don Shahan, to secretary-treasurer, and Larry Connors, to controller. Shahan has been corporate secretary and assistant treasurer and manager of federal taxes and financial analyses. Connors has been assistant controller and manager of accounting.

Chalker, a native of Stephens County, joined WTU as a junior engineer in the Transmission Department in June, 1950, after earning a degree in electrical engineering at Texas A&M University. He has spent his entire professional career at WTU, all of his service in Abilene except from 1954-60 when he was district distribution superintendent at San Angelo.

Chalker was elected vice president in 1968 and to the WTU Board of Directors in 1969. He was elected president and chief administrative officer in 1975 and was named president and chief executive officer in 1976.

He is a member of the Board of Directors of the First National Bank of Abilene, a director and member of the Executive Committee of the Abilene Chamber of Commerce, currently serving as chairman of the Chamber's Industrial Manufacturing Committee. He also is on boards of the Abilene YMCA, Hendrick Medical Center Foundation, Boy Scouts of America Council, West Texas Rehabilitation Center and the United Way of Abilene. He is past-president of local chapters of the Texas Society of Professional Engineers and the Institute of Electrical and Electronic Engineers, and a recipient of the TSPE Engineer of the Year award.

Chalker and his wife, Vada, have three sons: Daniel, a student at Texas A&M; David, a junior at Cooper High School; and Jason, in Austin Elementary School. They live at 777 Elmwood and attend the First Baptist Church.

Churchill will return to Abilene to head the Company he joined as an assistant to the controller in August, 1964. He is a graduate of Texas A&M with a degree in accounting and is a Certified Public Accountant.

bility for employee affairs, accounting and financial functions of WTU, and served in this capacity until he joined CPL.

During his 12 years in Abilene, Churchill was active in United Fund, the Abilene Chamber of Commerce and served as a director and secretary of the West Texas Rehabilitation Center. He also was a member of the Abilene Exchange Club and the Abilene A&M Club. At Corpus Christi, he has been a member of the Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors and a member of the Executive Committee.

He is a past-president of the Abilene Chapter of Certified Public Accountants, and is a member of the Corpus Christi Chapter of CPA's and the Texas Society of CPA's, in which he has served as a director and member of the executive committee. He also is a member of the American Institute of CPA's and has served on the Editorial Advisory Board of the Journal of Accountancy.

Churchill and his wife, Joy, have three children: Mrs. Susan Cook, Sheryl and David.

Shahan will become secretary-treasurer of WTU just 11 years after graduating from Cooper High School. He earned a degree in electrical engineering at the University of Texas at Austin in 1972 and a Master of Business Administration Degree in accounting and finance in 1975. He joined WTU in April, 1975, as a management assistant in San Angelo, and moved to Abilene a few months later. He was promoted to administrative assistant to the controller in 1977 and to corporate secretary in October, 1978.

Connors is a graduate of St. Edwards University and was an accountant with Arthur Andersen & Co. in Houston for three years before joining WTU as assistant to the controller in October, 1976. He was promoted to assistant controller in February, 1977.

CLARENDON COLLEGE TO HAVE BASKETBALL CAMP

Clarendon College has announced that a basketball camp for junior high school girls (grade 7 and 8 during 1979-80 school year) will be held at Clarendon on June 3 - 8, 1979. Clarendon College is co-sponsoring the camp with Eastern New Mexico University which has sponsored Sunshine Basketball Camps for several years very successfully. Dr. Dick Slinker will be the camp director with Coach David Land, Clarendon College basketball coach serving as a consultant.

C oaches for the camp features Kathy Harston, Wayland Flying Queen All-American, Breena Caldwell, Wayland Flying Queen All-American, Marie Kocurek, Wayland Flying Queen All-American, Tina Slinker, Flying Queen, and Marilyn Payton Texas-Tech University All-American.

The purpose of the camp is to further the knowledge skills and enthusiasm for basketball and add to the coaching the girls will receive from regular season coaches. Basic fundamentals of all aspects of the game will be stressed. Special attention will be given to post play, jump shot, guard play and pressing defense.

Enrollment will be limited to 120 participants in the Clarendon College Sunshine Basketball camp to assure that each participant will receive plenty of individual work and attention.

Simulated and actual game conditions will allow maximum use of drill and instruction. Each girl will play in a minimum of four games during the week. This will allow camp participants to work on defensive and offensive skills under game conditions.

Students who enroll for the camp will be housed in the women's dormitory at Clarendon College. Camp counselors will also be housed in the dorm, and they will work to see that all participants have an enjoyable and relaxing time. Participants must remain on campus unless off-campus trips are planned under the leadership of camp personnel. Visitors must secure permission to visit from Camp Director.

Participants will work hard at camp, but there will be time each evening for fun, recreation, and good entertainment. All girls are insured from the time they arrive at camp until they leave and a team trainer will be at all sessions.

The Clarendon College Girls Basketball Camp will conclude on Friday June 8th with the championship game and a demonstration clinic. Parents, coaches, and friends of participants are invited to attend the final session.

Miss Basketball will be the top award given at each camp. The winner will be selected by the coaching and counseling

GREENHOUSE ANOTHER PLUS FOR CLARENDON COLLEGE

Another plus for Clarendon College and an advantage for students in the Agriculture Department is the newly completed installation of the greenhouse donated to the College by Molita Greer, Clarendon florist.

Work was begun in the summer of 1978 when dismantling of the greenhouse at the Greer home was started in preparation of the move to the college campus site.

Harlan's Flowers, Molita Greer's business, was moved to the present US 287 location and she no longer used the greenhouse on her property. Her gift of the facility to the Clarendon College amounted to several thousands of dollars and with the recent completion of the erecting of the building on campus it is being used for the first time this semester.

The structure is approximately 18x20 feet and is located in the southwestern quadrant of the campus. It is used by the Biology and Agriculture Departments for study on plant structure and experiments on mineral deficiency and diseases of plants as well as the propastaff and will be judged on overall ability, dedication, and improvement. Numerous individual awards will be presented at the Thursday night awards session. Sunshine Camp Tee Shirts will be given to all participants.

Phamphlets describing the camp have been distributed to public schools throughout the Panhandle. Local school officials may have a pamphlet that provides additional descriptions of the camp activities.

The cost of the week-long camp will be $95.00. A $15.00 deposit is required to guarantee a reservation at the basketball camp. Reservations must be made prior to April 15, 1979. For further information, call Clarendon College, 806-874-3571 or Dr. Dick Slinker 505-562-2591.

gation of grasses and other plants. Some of the plants are being studied to determine their resistance to disease and insects.

Of mutual benefit to both the Agriculture and Biology Departments it is used separately, each department independent of the other. The biology department stores plants, some of an exotic nature, and thus has them ready on demand at a considerable savings amounting to several hundreds of dollars in a years time when they are needed.

Curtis Shaefer is the agronomist at the college and David Lowrie is the biologist. Most of the students are general education students taking a required 8 hours of biology.

A definite capital improvement for the college as a whole, the greenhouse is primarily used by the two departments,

Biology and Agriculture. A number of Clarendon College students plan to go on with their education in some related field

World wide talk given by Witnesses

Congregations of Jehovah's Witnesses around the world heard a special talk that was given April 1. Because of circumstances, the talk will be given locally April 8th.

A different speaker in each congregation will present the talk on the theme, "Happy Though Hungry--How Can It Be?"

Mr. John L. Winters will be presenting this talk in the Memphis congregation at 10:00 A.M., on Sunday, April 8.

The subject matter deals with spiritual hunger, highlighting first of all how much of mankind has no desire for anything other than the self-gratification of this world. It emphasizes the need to hunger for righteousness and shows how each one can increase their happiness by recognizing and filling their spiritual need.

"The subject will certainly be a timely one for anyone interested in their spiritual life," says Mr. Winters, spokesman for Jehovah's Witnesses. He urges all to attend the meeting, free of charge, at 507 N. 8th St., Memphis Texas.

War on weeds in cotton

"We were just about out of soap. Anybody driving down the road could see that I wasn't raising cotton anymore. I was raising Morningglories."

Roy Acuff was definitely having problems. He grows about 800 acres of cotton and runs the Center Gin Company in Ropesville, Texas. Over a period of about four years, his Morningglories got so bad that he was becoming desperate.

"It's an 80 acre block of prime land and we were fixing to abandon the farm. You have got approximately a thousand odd dollar an acre, which is quite an investment just to let some onery weed have it," he said.

The weeds didn't win, however, because Dr. John R. Abernathy killed them. He is project leader of weed research at the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station in Lubbock, Texas. For 5 years, he has been finding answers for many of the specific weed problems that cover the High Plains and cause economic loss to area farmers. His research is partially funded by cotton producers through Cotton Incorporated.

The answer that Dr. Abernathy found for Acuff's problem was a stout rate of Sancap, followed by Caparol and MSMA. To say the least, Acuff is glad to see his Cotton Incorporated dollars funding this research.

"The Morningglory has become such a problem and it increases so much. It will choke your cotton to death and we didn't have anything to control it. But John developed a program we can get with and stay with. It's really helping us."

Dr. Abernathy's program deals with almost any facet of weed research. "We work very closely with almost any commercial company that's involved with the evaluation of new herbicides for use in cotton and specifically new herbicides that might fit into our cotton production on the Texas High Plains."

His war on weeds is not without just cause. Dr. Abernathy estimates, that if it weren't for herbicides, the High Plains could lose $436 million worth of cotton to weeds.

"We've still got 25% losses due to weeds, even though we have herbicides to control many of these weeds," he says.

Because finding the right weed control combination is a complex task, much of Dr. Abernathy's program takes place outside the lab.

"It's not too easy to bring new weeds into an experiment station and work with them. We rely very heavily on farmers in the area that have these specific problems. We have worked with numerous farmers in the 100-mile radius of Lubbock and put out test plots on their land."

"We carry on a very large field project, probably one of the largest in the United States as far as number of plots. We put out between 10,000 and 15,000 herbicide plots per year."

By using this technique, Dr. Abernathy has come up with answers for Morningglory, Lanceleaf Sage, Spurred Anoda, Prairie Sunflower, Oakleaf Thornapple and Roughblack Foot. He's still working on Cocklebur and Yellow Nutsedge.

This Cotton Incorporated research has helped Chris DeBusk with various weed control problems. A cotton grower from Idalou, Texas, DeBusk often calls on Dr. Abernathy's expertise.

"If I've got some sort of problem on the farm, I knock on his door because he is supposed to be the expert and he's been a big help to me."

Because of Dr. Abernathy's help in ridding his farm of Lanceleaf Sage, Don Enger of Shallowater, Texas, is a true supporter of Cotton Incorporated.

"About five years ago, I came up with a new weed on my place that was terrible. It was just solid," Enger explains. "I pulled one up and took it to Dr. Abernathy. He told me it was Lanceleaf Sage. I had never heard of it before."

WATER FACTS AND FANCIES

The delightful mineral waters that people have enjoyed for millennia resulted from violent upheavals of the earth. In general, mineral springs occur in volcanic districts. And some people believe that it was the force of eruptions—and the continuing underground rumblings—that released the combination of natural carbonation and pure waters.

VA study on amputations

A study analyzing the relationship between war-caused amputations and subsequent deaths from cardiovascular disease has been transmitted to Congress, Max Cleland, Administrator of Veterans Affairs, reported today.

The study, mandated by Congress, was conducted for the Veterans Administration by the Medical Follow-up Agency of the National Academy of Sciences.

The study, Cleland said, indicates more than a one-third greater risk of death from all causes for veterans with amputation of both legs, or of one leg at or above the knee, compared to veterans who were disabled but had no amputation. The risk of death from diseases of the cardiovascular system was more than 50 percent greater for the amputees.

The amputation of arms, hands, or feet did not detectably increase the risk of death, the study reported.

As a result of VA's review of the NAS study, the VA Administrator said agency regulations would be proposed to grant service connection for ischemic heart disease or other cardiovascular disease developing in veterans with amputations of one leg at or above the knee or amputation of both legs at or above the ankles.

Since the NAS study was not intended to explore the causal mechanisms whereby amputation affected mortality, Cleland said VA will undertake its own research in this field.

The study submitted to Congress analyzed statistically valid samples of World War II veterans with service connected amputations with non-amputee veterans matched by age, sex and military service. The study was conducted by Zdenek Hrubec, Sc.D., and Richard A. Ryder, M.D., for NAS.

Cleland noted the NAS study was a follow-on to a comprehensive review and professional analysis of relevant literature sent to Congress on June 30, 1977.

As a result of the study, Cleland today announced his appointment of Sol Kaminsky, 53, of Howard Beach, N.Y., to VA's Education and Rehabilitation Advisory Committee.

Cleland said Kaminsky, a double amputee of World War II and chairman of the National Hospital Committee of the Disabled American Veterans (DAV), would bring to the committee his expertise in the special medical and rehabilitation problems faced by amputees.

Land Bank Assn. hold 34th stockholder meeting

Jamie Cate of Paducah, has just returned from Houston where he represented The Federal Land Bank Association of Memphis at the 34th Annual Stockholders Meeting of The Federal Land Bank of Houston. The meeting, held at the Houston Oaks Hotel was attended by members of 64 Federal Land Bank Associations in Texas. There were about 650 persons in attendance.

Thomas H. Benson, President, in his report to the stockholders, stated that there was an increasing demand for new loans in 1978. This was the second largest year in the Bank's history with $245.5 million in loans and it appears the demand for loans will continue.

"In this time of historic highs in interest rates the advantages of the variable rate loans is apparent to the farmers and ranchers of Texas.

"87% of our loans are on the variable rate, and our borrowers have 8 1/2% interest rate as compared with the 11 3/4% prime rate," Benson said.

Speakers for the meeting included Dr. Gary Schwendman, Dean, College of Business Administration, University of Nebraska at Lincoln; Joe Griffith, a humorist from Dallas; Jeannette Cliff George of Houston and David Alders, 1978 National Future Farmers of America public speaking winner from Nacogdoches, Texas.

The Federal Land Bank of Houston makes long-term loans on farms and ranches and currently has 35,020 loans for approximately $1.5 billion outstanding.

The Federal Land Bank Association of Memphis makes services loans in this area. Members of the Board of Directors are Milton Beasley, Jr., Memphis, B.L. Smith, Jr., Paducah.

Lions Tail

Tuesday at noon the Lions met. Attendance was poor, so very poor, 20 were present of the 42 members and of those 20 several left not knowing they were going to miss an excellent program.

Boss Lion, Jerry Courtney announced that the nominating committee would meet to make nominations for the coming years officers.

The Panhandle Regional Planning Committee is to meet April 9th at the Hospital to discuss a regional health care program.

Department of Public Safety officer, Jerry Burgdorf provided an excellent slide talk on the 55 mph speed limit. The slide talk pointed out the enormous amount of fuel saved by passenger cars, trucks, and buses. This may become more important as gas prices increase.

Traffic fatalities were reduced considerably in 1973 with the 55 mph law, but have steadily climbed each year as fewer and fewer people drive 55 mph. At this time only 3 out of 10 drivers drive 55 mph.

Life is another factor to consider in speeding. Chances of a fatal accident double from 45 to 60 mph and doubles again from 60 to 70 mph.

Consider the alternatives of economy and life for a few minutes of time.

Something you should know about fire safety

Spring could be hazardous to your health and life if you do not practice vigilance and safety; watching storm clouds and using good sense and caution with regard to fires.

High winds and low humidity are dangerous companions for anyone who sets a fire for weed cleanup at farm or home. Inside the city limits it is illegal to burn yards, lots or trash, as set by the State of Texas for towns.

Area weather reports on TV stations have tips and instructions for the viewer on safety precautions for violent weather and residents would be well advised to remember this information.

For more information regarding fires and their prevention, listed below are short articles for the readers benefit.

Fire deaths rising

The nation's fire death rate is climbing about 300 deaths a year, according to the U.S. Fire Administration's National Fire Data Center. There is an average of one death from fire every hour in the United States.

Estimates from the National Fire Date Center indicate that from 1975 to 1977, the number of U.S. fire deaths grew by approximately 300 fatalities per year to a total of 8,700 estimated for 1977.

The National Fire Date Center attributes this jump in the number of annual fire deaths to the residential fire problem. "Major fire disasters that claim many lives at one time are not the cause for the increase. Most fire deaths occur in ones and twos in people's own homes," the Center added. "If it had not been for the significant influx in home smoke detector installations, the rise in fire deaths could be even steeper."

Twenty-nine states and the District of Columbia showed increased numbers of fire deaths between 1975 and 1976; 30 states and the District of Columbia showed increases in fire deaths per capita; 11 states and the District showed increases of 20 or more deaths. Alabama logged the highest jump in one year, recording more than 100 additional fire deaths in 1976. Other states showing rises included California, Missouri, Kentucky, Kansas, Virginia, Michigan, North Carolina, Arkansas, Florida and Indiana.

On the opposite end of the scale, Maryland and Massachusetts each had significantly lower death rates; over 40 fewer fire deaths in 1976 than in 1975.

According to the National Data Center, "We do not know yet the reasons behind this rise in fire deaths, but we are seriously concerned by our new findings and are studying the problem."

Upholstered Furniture Cited
Fires that started in upholstered furniture caused 1,500 fire deaths, 4,500 civilian injuries, 2,000 firefighter injuries and $300 million in property loss in this country during 1977, according to estimates from the United States Fire Administration.

Philip Schaenman, Associate Administrator for the National Fire Data Center, announced these figures December 20 in testimony before the Consumer Product Safety Commission on upholstered furniture standards.

Schaenman said that last year more deaths resulted from fire where upholstered furniture is the first item to be ignited than from any other product. Most of the losses involving upholstered furniture result from fires in homes.

"And," he continued, "the leading ignition source is cigarettes carelessly dropped on furniture."

The Data Center's findings are based on 123,000 individual fires in structures that occurred in 1977 in eight states.

Of all upholstered furniture fires, 86% are residential fires. These cause 98% of civilian deaths, 98% of civilian injuries, 100% of firefighter deaths, and 88% of firefighter injuries that occur from upholstered furniture fires.

In the NFIRS 1977 data base, upholstered furniture was the first item to ignite in 4,500 residential fires reported by the eight states. Information on the source of these ignitions was available for 3,910 of these fires. Of these, 68% (2,646) had smoking materials as the source of ignition.

"Cigarettes," Schaenman said, "accounted for 98% of the smoking materials that caused these furniture fires."

Home Fires Number One
More than 6,000 fire deaths, or nearly 70 percent of the total, and tens of thousands of injuries, occur annually in the home environment. Nearly three-quarters of a million home fires disrupt or dislocate a similar number of families and produce often irreplaceable property loss well over $1 billion. Residential dwellers suffer the single largest share of property loss, both individually and as a group, among all occupancies.

The home environment includes one- and two-family residential dwellings, apartments, dormitories, rooming houses, boarding houses, and mobile homes. People, buildings, services and contents in these occupancies are vulnerable to fire because of (a) materials used in residential building construction and contents, (b) ignition hazards, such as smoking materials, heating, cooking and electrical equipment common to dwellings, (c) inadequate code application and enforcement, and (d) the low priority assigned by the occupants to fire protection. The large number and inherently heterogeneous nature of "dwellers" as a group makes fire safety training and education difficult.

The State Fire Marshal believes that life loss and injuries could be minimized and the risk of property loss could be greatly reduced through the establishment of goals and programs which sharply focus on the home fire problem. Each local jurisdiction has the final responsibility for its own residential fire safety efforts. Each local jurisdiction must make utmost use of its available resources toward developing educational and informational programs which can carry the fire prevention and safety message to the home environment.

Reporting Results - 1978
The total number of Inspections and Alarms reported to the State Fire Marshal's Office during 1978 is set out in the table below. The total of 197,180 alarms is an increase over the 188,083 for 1977 of nearly 5%, and the 293,390 inspections reported is an increase of almost 7% percent over the 273,106 inspections reported for 1977.

The cities reporting to the State Fire Marshal's Office represent approximately 69% of the population of the state. If the per capita alarm rate were the same throughout Texas, we would expect the total number of alarms to be 285,768, or an alarm rate of 22.9 per 1,000 persons.

Safety Council gives award

A nine-year old central Texas girl, whose resourcefulness and courage under pressure made the difference between life and death for her grandfather, has received the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council's "Rural Heroism Award."

Wendy Harmon was a third-grade student last March when her grandfather 68-year-old rancher Archie Wright, was gored by a cow. The Gatesville youngster made a nine-mile drive in a pickup to town, an action credited with saving his life.

Presentation of the plaque was made Monday at the Texas Safety Association's 40th annual meeting by Millard Shivers, Council awards chairman and director of rural development for Blue Co's/Blue Shield of Texas. Ben Bullard, Associate safety director for the Texas Farm Bureau and Council president, was in charge of the statewide search for a rural hero.

Wendy's previous driving experience in helping feed the cows in her grandfather's pastures paid off when Archie Wright was gored by a cow on his ranch 12 miles southwest of Batesville March 18, 1978. Seriously injured, he managed to get 100 yards toward his house and yell to Wendy and a classmate, Amy Edwards, who were in the backyard.

Scared and barely able to see over the steering wheel, Wendy backed the pickup out of the vehicle shed, and she and Amy managed to get Wright into the cab. While Amy telephoned Wendy's mother, Mrs. Lynda Lynch who works in Batesville, Wendy drove nine miles to the outskirts of Gatesville, where her mother met them and completed the drive to the Coryell Memorial Hospital.

The doctor said that Wright would not have lived another ten minutes, and Wendy Harmon is credited with making the difference.

"I told myself I could do it," she said. "I knew I had to."

Country Club news

Spring is here again(?) and everything is getting organized for the coming summer months.

The golf course is in great shape—just waiting for better golfing weather. There's a men's tournament scheduled for May 5th and 6th and activities will be going on from now on.

The Women's Golf Association had a party Wednesday Evening at the club and had a nice turn out. Teams captained by Carolyn Myers and Evelyn Moore were chosen, and during the month of April there will be a contest to see which team can get the most people out each Thursday—presence is what counts not golf score; so if you haven't yet joined the association, do so right away and get put on a team. The losing team has to entertain the winners!

The monthly luncheon is Thursday at 12:00. Every Thursday some of us come and play games if the weather is too bad for golf.

Last Saturday night there was a birthday dance for Kathy Wilson. From what I hear, there was a good crowd who thoroughly enjoyed the evening.

This Saturday there is a Mexican dinner scheduled and Saturday, April 21 will be the dinner theater. Reservations are required for both.

Polly Sarich was hostess for Duplicate Bridge Monday. Winners were: 1st - Kathryn Cain; 2nd - Lea Tyler and 3rd - Gladys Bullard, a guest from Memphis.

Riggs volleyball team wins second

The Riggs women volleyball team took second in the Clarendon tournament and won it all at Wellington in a long weekend of volleyball last week. In the Clarendon tournament, Riggs advanced to the finals before a team from Amarillo ended their hopes of winning when they took the 3rd game of the best 2 out of 3 match.

It was a different story in Wellington though as Riggs beat 3 Shamrock teams to bring home first place but it was a long hard struggle. In the semi-finals, the women were taken to the limit when they won at the buzzer by two points in the final game.

The finals were anticlimactic as Riggs swept the match by scores of 15 to 8, and 15 to 10 to take first place in the tournament.

Vacations with relatives

Florence Baker and Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Naylor, have just returned from completing a 4,000 mile vacation trip by motor home in three weeks, beginning March 6.

The route was from Austin, on to Corpus Christi, Padre Island and along the Texas Coast on to Matamores and over in to Mexico for some shopping.

From there they followed the Texas border to the Big Bend National Park where they made a tour and spent one night.

Following the river (Rio Grande) road, which was very rough they made their way to El Paso. After about 10 days in Texas they went to Las Cruces, N.M. and from there across to Yuma, Arizona where they bought and ate fresh dates from the date orchards there.

Their next visit was to Escondido, Calif. where they visited with a niece and her family.

ON the return trip they went by way of Phoenix and near Flagstaff they followed a late snow storm and snow plows cleared the highways just ahead of them.

Other points of interest were Gallup, N.M. and Albuquerque, N.M. and enjoyed browsing about Old Town. After a few days with relatives there the trio returned home March 27.

The longest single classical symphony is Gustav Mahler's Symphony No. 3 in D minor. A full performance takes one hour, 34 minutes.

Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Waldrop, Colby and Jade of Gruver, and Mr. and Mrs. David Brunson of Quitaque visited Sunday afternoon.
