Little League field rules and regulations

Clarendon Little League officials met Monday to discuss the problems of scheduling workouts, field maintenance and upkeep. The Little League has approximately 125 youth in the program this year. Teams this year consist of: a Babe Ruth team, two Little League teams, four minor league teams, and a girls Sr. Little League softball team. The number of teams and players involved has created a need for some guidelines concerning use of the Little League facilities by ball teams other than Little League. Little League officials voted to limit any softball or baseball tournaments, other than Little League, to two weeks before Little League season begins and after the 1st of July. A fee of $10 per team will be charged for each team participating in a tournament. After Little League season, any softball or baseball team that uses the Little League Park will pay $10 per game or a $100 fee for use of the facility from July 1 to September 1. This fee is in addition to the electric bill. The money from these fees will be used to replace bulbs and maintenance of the parks.

It was further recommended that the city council be contacted and encouraged to set time limits of 10: p.m. for all regular games or practice. It

Hartley Singer to be at First Baptist Church May 25

Hartley is a small farming community in the northern TEXAS Panhandle. The only two churches in the town of 300 are the Baptist and the United Methodist. In the winter of 1977, the pastors, with the backing of their congregations, decided to form one community-wide youth group. Called the Hartley Christian Youth, it would be open to any interested young person regardless of denominational preference. This group was to include kids in the 7th-12th grades. To everyone's delight, the group has been a success. Youth from United Methodist, Catholic, Baptist, Church of Christ, and Dutch Reformed churches have participated in the group in its two year history. This year The Hartley Christian Youth have put together their own musical entitled "The Pilgrim Pathway." The subject of the musical is the Christian life from conversion to Jesus Second Coming. It includes many contemporary favorites as well as some that are less well known. The group, under the direction of Dana Perdue and Karen Alexander, will be sharing the musical in churches through Texas, Oklahoma, and Kansas May 25-29. They will be singing in the First Baptist Church, Clarendon, at 8 p.m. on May 25. Everyone is invited to attend.

Get Your Room Air Conditioner Ready For Summer

As winter finally breaks her grip on most of the country, thousands of homeowners will begin the spring ritual of cleaning, raking, fertilizing and so on, getting ready for summer.

But many will forget one of the most important steps in preparing for summer... getting the air conditioner ready.

So, for those who do not wish to risk a sleepless night later, here are some tips from General Electric, one of the nation's largest producers of room air conditioners.

Turn the air conditioner on. Check to see that you're getting an unobstructed flow of cool air into the room. Be sure that curtains or furniture will not block the flow of air.

Be sure the filter is clean. Take the filter out and clean it if necessary. This is an important step to assure that the unit operates as efficiently as possible. If you don't know how to get the filter out, consult your use and care book.

Check the coils, inside and out. Dirt accumulation on the coils tends to reduce efficiency also. This is most prone to happen on the outside coils. If the coils are covered with dirt, or if dirt has accumulated between the fins, air will not be able to carry away the heat efficiently. The unit will have to work harder and you'll have to pay more in electrical costs. (This type of dirt accumulation calls for steam cleaning by an appliance service technician.)

Trim bushes and shrubs away from air conditioner. Bushes, shrubbery or any other obstacle around the unit will impede the heat exchange process, causing the unit to function below par.

Seal around the air conditioner. Be sure there are no air leaks around the air conditioner to let in the hot, muggy summer air. The less heat and humidity the air conditioner has to remove from a room, the less it has to operate, saving you electricity and money.

What if it doesn't work? If the unit will not operate at all, first check the electrical system. Be sure the unit is plugged in firmly. A partially loosened plug sometimes will not make electrical connection. If all looks okay there, check the fuse or circuit breakers. If they're okay and it still won't start, then it's time to call in a technician.

What if you get no cold air? If the unit operates, but does not cool the air, even after running for four or five minutes, there could be several explanations but any of them will require the services of a technician. In that case, call your factory technician so you can correct the problem in your air conditioner before it becomes a problem in your household.

Patchin Club paint job

After several years of talk planning, raising money, more talking, the ladies of Les Beaux Art Club, Patchin Club and the Book Club finally realized the latest goal - painting the exterior of the Patchin Club House.

These three women's clubs use the clubhouse during various scheduled times of month as a meeting place business meetings, study groups and refreshments. The home which was built in early 1900's (probably between 1906 and 1908) was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Patching a number of years. In 1949 Mrs. F. G. Patching gave the home to the City of Clarendon stipulating that home be used as a meeting place for women's clubs. Through the years, the women's clubs have maintained the house by making repairs, decorating the interior with paper, furniture, and accessories appropriate to the style of the house. Patchin Club House gets paint job

After several years of talking, planning, raising money, and more talking, the ladies of the Les Beaux Art Club, The Pathfinder Club and the 1926 Book Club finally realized their latest goal - painting the exterior of the Patching Club House.

These three women's clubs use the clubhouse during various scheduled times of the month as a meeting place for business meetings, study programs and refreshments. The home which was built in the early 1900's (probably between 1906 and 1908) was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Patching for a number of years. In 1949 Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Patching, Jr. gave the home to the City of Clarendon stipulating that the home be used as a meeting place for women's clubs.

Through the years, the women's clubs have maintained the house by making repairs, decorating the interior with wallpaper, furniture, and accessories appropriate to the style of the house. A fine collection of paintings which the ladies have acquired throughout the years can be found in the clubhouse.

Mr. Kenneth Byrd of Clarendon contracted the painting and concrete work necessary to complete exterior repairs. Work began several weeks ago and was recently completed. As always, several husband willingly loaned their labor to help carry lawn debris as well as worry with their wives over approaching thunderstorms hailing out half-repaired screens and windows. Support for the project came, too from outside the clubs' memberships. Much money was donated by various individuals within the community as well as outside the county to help with the face-lift of the clubhouse. The club members are naturally, pleased with their latest accomplishment and are extremely grateful to all those who donated time and money to help improve the clubhouse.

Note from Senator Bob Price

Senator Bob Price says rural school districts will be able to pay their teachers a salary more in line with districts in the large urban areas in the state as the Texas Senate approved a 7% teachers pay raise bill Friday.

"The bill by Senator Oscar Maury of Dallas was amended several times. I supported several amendments offered by Senator Pete Snellson which raised beginning salaries and improved the salary schedule. I think by changing the formula there will be a fairer distribution of the state's funds for education throughout the state," commented Senator Price.

"I am especially pleased that the amendments passed by the Senate will serve to balance the salaries of the teachers over the state. I feel that a teacher in our area should be paid the same as any other teacher in the state who is serving the same amount of students," said Senator Price.

Patchin Club House

By JEANICE WEATHERLY

No formal record exists of the names and purposes of the ladies clubs which have interested the women of Donley County since the first residents settled down and began to take civic betterment seriously. But as a center of culture when the area was being settled these clubs in Donley County and Clarendon played an important part for the membership and as a stimulus for the arts.

With the building of the Clarendon City Hall in 1918, by Mrs. Adair, and her generosity to the city of Clarendon the club women were given a place to meet, in the basement of the building.

This club room had a kitchen, a fireplace with a gas log and was enjoyed by the clubs until the war years of World War II when the Red Cross was offered the space to roll bandages and do whatever else they could to support the war effort. During this time the various clubs met in the homes of the members.

Slowly things began the process of getting back to normal and once again the club room was used by the women's clubs. Soon after this time the Patching home was offered to the club women of Donley County after the passing of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Patching Sr. in 1948. Mrs. Patching died in June and Mr. Patching in December of the same year.

The last thirty years have seen many changes in the big old house which is the property of the club women and a symbol of civic responsibility from one generation to another. Preserved for following generations is the exterior style of a residence befitting the lifestyle and climate of the Texas Panhandle just after the turn of the century.

The elder Patchings, Fred Patchings Sr. came to Clarendon to be near Clarendon College and thus to be able to educate their children. Mr. Patching had an interesting background.

John and Mary Patching came to the United States from their native England. They were living in Chicago before the move to Clay County, Texas, in 1875 when Fred Patching Sr. was 14 years old.

In Texas, after a short stint with the Ft. Worth and Denver railroad, Patching went to work for a ranch near Clarendon and worked on area ranches for the next 11 years. He married Mary Josephine Slover in 1890 in Bowie where he stayed for seven years and farmed. The plains country kept him thinking about it and in 1897 he moved his family to Tulia. He helped organize the Tulia Bank and Trust Co. there. In 1905 the family made the move to Clarendon.

A very surprised Fred Patching, after considering himself a United States citizen for many years, found that he was not an American citizen and had to go through the formality of applying for citizenship.

His home along with Mrs. Patching, sons Bill, Edgar and Fred Jr., and daughters Iva, Eva and Ruth, is now the Patching Club House in Clarendon.

Iva, Mrs. John Harris, lives in Tulia and Ruth, Mrs. C.L. Craig resides in Hereford. They are the surviving members of the Fred Patching Sr. family.

When the Clarendon club women moved into their newly acquired club house in 1949 there were six clubs meeting and an immediate need for money to make some changes to alter the residence to a club house. Each club was assessed $2 per membership per club to begin with and any worthwhile money making endeavor was undertaken. The money did not grow on trees but did come in. Individuals gave then as now to help out and partitions were moved, a floorcovering put down, dishes and furniture purchased. The renovation was a success.

Some of the first person who took on the responsibility of the club room were the members of the first permanent board who were: Mrs. Cal Merchant, J.R. Porter, Mrs. Jim Swift, J.L. McMurtry, and Mrs. C.T. McMurtry. Anna Moores Simmons, was the first club room board president.

Today as in the past some of the money for the maintaining the club house comes from memorials, and the board receives them and mails cards out as other organizations do. The Patching Club House is one to be proud of.

TIPS ON JOGGING
It's fun...It's free...It's jogging!

Here are tips to help you run in comfort and safety:

- Get your physician's approval before you run.
- Then, dress comfortably. Buy sturdy running shoes, absorbent socks, and clothes treated with aerosol softener to minimize rubbing.
- Keep cool and confident with convenient aerosol deodorant, and protect feet with spray powder.
- Wear lightweight clothing in layers so you can peel some off when you get warm.
- Waterproof footwear and outerwear the instant aerosol way, to stay drier in rain or snow. For effective and safe use of aerosols, follow directions on product labels.
- Before you jog, do warm-ups. Beginners should alternate walking with jogging. Then, build up to all running.
- Afterwards, soothe sore muscles with a hot shower or bath and refreshing aerosol cologne.
- For safety, make yourself visible to drivers by wearing bright colors by day— and light colors at night. Or, wear an old hat or bandana spray-painted in dayglo or metallic colors.
- Important: avoid jogging alone or in isolated areas.
- Whatever the inconvenience—getting up at dawn, giving up lunch or running at night, most joggers agree it's worth it. It's exhilarating!

10,681 cities serve senior citizen

Since it start in 1973 the national nutrition program for hot, nutritious meals to persons aged 60 and over as reached most parts of the country. Today it comprises 1,100 nutrition projects serving meals at 10,681 sites. About 135 million meals were served in the 1978 fiscal year under this program, an increase of about 35 percent over the previous year.

The Administration on Aging program emphasizes socializing and services as well as nutrition, and they may be as important an inducement as the meal itself. The services most often include transportation, escort and information and referral services.

and sometimes extend into recreation, educational and health-related services. Through the nutrition program the Federal government helps communities meet some of the nutritional and social needs of older people. Priority goals of the program are to reach those who cannot afford an adequate diet or who lack skills to prepare their own meals or are too incapacitated to shop and cook, or who suffer depressive effects of isolation.

No income criteria govern eligibility. All persons 60 and over, and their spouses, may participate. Most of the staff at nutrition sites and project are volunteers who serve without payment in 1978, a total of 178,000 volunteers served in the program. About five of every six volunteers were themselves 60 years of age or older. Paid staff nationwide number about 25,000. The average meal cost is $1.80, including only food and preparation costs. Transportation and other services raise the average cost per meal to $2.25. U.S. Department of Agriculture provides some of the food. Its contribution is estimated at 29 cents per meal, on the average. In most localities diners may make a volunteer contribution towards the cost of the meal if they wish.

Medical Center news

We had a lovely birthday party for our residents honoring birthdays this month. Two were early in the month and 2 will come later; but we celebrate birthdays once a month.

Mrs. Leroy Luttrell, sister-in-law of Frances Pollard, baked us a lovely birthday cake all decorated with pink flowers. The table was laid with a white cloth, with a large happy birthday streamer ran across the table.

Each birthday resident received a small cake with three candles, one for the past, one for the present, and one for the future. These cakes were baked by Vera.

We all sang happy birthday to each one, as we played on rhythm band. Then we all tried our luck at bowling. Amy Johnson, and Dyna Walters kept the bowling pins set up for us. Mrs. Gladys Diggs and George McKee were highest score.

Jo Ann Leathers sent beautiful flowers. One for the table, and each resident received a flower. We wish to thank Joan for these flowers.

All were served punch and cake. Special guest for our party were Doris White, Amy Johnson, Deyna Waters, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Luttrell.

Each birthday resident made a wish and flew out their candles. All had good luck. Visitors were Mrs. Gladys Diggs daughter and husband are her visiting with their mother Mr. and Mrs. Warren McDo-well, Cleo Spring, Okla.

VA counseling available

Invitations to use free Veterans Administration educational and vocational counseling are being mailed to more than one million eligible Vietnam Era veterans. Jack Coker, Waco VA Regional Office Director, said today.

The invitation takes the form of a new brochure and application which describe available counseling and enable the veteran to arrange an interview.

"VA Counselors can help veterans make informed career, job or school choices and plans," Coker said. "More important, these professionals can help the veteran solve problems associated with choosing and achieving his goals."

All VA offices have been stocked with the brochures and supplies have been distributed to veterans service organizations and county service officers.

These special efforts to encourage veterans to ask for counseling are a component of "Operation Boost," VA's national awareness program to alert Vietnam Era veterans to unused GI Bill Education and training benefits.

Forty or fifty years ago, the electric bill was most often called the "light bill". In thousands of homes, Mr. Edison's illuminating invention wasn't the only electrically powered appliance, but most people associated electricity with the most visible benefit - light.

Today, with the help of electrical energy and the appliances it powers, our tasks become easier and our lives more enjoyable. At West Texas Utilities we're working to provide you a continuing dependable source of electrical energy now and in the future.

Remember Reddy supplies the energy, only you can use it wisely.

Officials Line Up At Pumps For Gasohol Demonstration

AUSTIN--Texas Legislators and state officials, including the governor, braved a steady drizzle, a mobbed service station and a dozen television cameras in order to fill their cars last week, but there were no complaints.

The fill-up, with up to 20 gallons of gasohol, was free.

The demonstration, sponsored by the Texas Department of Agriculture and made possible through the courtesy of Midwest Solvents, Inc., the Texas Oil Marketers Assn., and Neal, Inc., of San Antonio, was the finale to Gasohol Day at the State Capitol, according to Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown.

Brown set aside his regular duties for the afternoon and manned the pumps for the demonstration.

"It's one thing to talk about gasohol, which is a blend of 10 percent 200 proof anhydrous ethyl alcohol and 90 percent unleaded gasoline," Brown said, "and quite another to be driving around with a tankful of it. You begin to really think in terms of possible alternatives to traditional fuel supplies."

"Gasohol is not a new or untried concept," he continued. "It has been around since World War II and currently accounts for 2 percent of the auto fuel sold in Iowa. Unlike our own state, Iowa does not have any statutes which prohibit the manufacture of industrial alcohol. Those laws are the first hurdle we must clear in Texas before we can produce fuel alcohol on a commercial basis."

Joining Brown at the gas pump for the gasohol demonstration was Rep. Dan Kubiak, one of the co-sponsors of current legislation which would allow industrial production of the fuel additive in Texas, and Speaker Bill Clayton.

Among dignitaries taking part in the demonstration were Gov. Bill Clements, who filled his official limousine, and Land Commissioner Bob Armstrong, whose fillup, totaling one gallon, was for his motorcycle.

All members of the Legislature and all elected state officials were given certificates for 20 gallons of free gasohol during the three-day demonstration period.

"While the supply was limited and not on sale to the public during this brief test, I hope within two years to see every station in Texas marketing gasohol," Brown said.

TDA Reports Fat Lamb Sales Climb

AUSTIN--Marketing of Texas fat lambs topped last year's levels by 35 percent in March, due in part to a strong seasonal demand at Easter, the Texas Department of Agriculture has reported.

Figures just released by the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service show that 46,000 head of sheep and lambs were sold for slaughter from Texas large-capacity drylots last month. This figure was 5,000 head above previously stated intentions, added Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown.

"Texas sheep feeders also reported 66,000 head of sheep and lambs on feed for slaughter at the first of April," Brown said. "This would be about 16 percent more than at the same time last year, although it is 7 percent lower than the previous month."

FILL 'ER UP -- Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown fills State Rep. Dan Kubiak's pickup during a gasohol demonstration in Austin recently. The project, sponsored by the Texas Department of Agriculture, provided free gasohol for all members of the legislature and state officials to promote the agriculturally-derived fuel.

Wheat Farmers To Harvest About 150 Million Bushels

AUSTIN--Texas wheat producers are expected to harvest some 150.3 million bushels this year, almost twice the small 1978 crop, but still below the 1977 level, Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown has announced.

The prospects are good for the growth of wheat this year. Tornado damage to crops in the Wichita Falls and Vernon areas has not been assessed as yet. There are around 200,000 acres of wheat planted in Wilbarger and Wichita counties each year, Brown said.

Killer From the Skies

In West Texas, it struck someone playing baseball on an aluminum bat. On the Texas coast, another victim was just getting into a car. In Harris County, it happened during an installation of pipe at a construction site. Another victim was a young football player.

What happened to all these Texans? They were struck by lightning. Three of the four were killed. Although lightning is obviously not something that can be eliminated, fear of lightning can be replaced with facts and basic precautions, according to the Insurance Information Institute.

Suppose this is the situation: You are driving through flat farmland in Texas. What appeared to be a mild shower off on the horizon seems to be moving inland. More and more lightning streaks across the darkening sky. As you pay closer attention, the grumbling thunder turns into loud frequent claps.

There is no question that you are about to be caught up in the midst of a Texas thunderstorm. It's the kind of storm that may be good for your parched lawn back home, but it is potentially dangerous and even deadly for you at this moment, depending on what you know and what you do.

If you see a shed off the road, should you stop and seek shelter there until the storm passes over? Is it safe to say in your car? What if it's a convertible? Should you keep the radio on?

The first thing to do is to remain calm but cautious. If you notice a shift in the weather while traveling in your car, try to tune in to a local radio station to get a better idea of the forecast. Once in the midst of a thunderstorm, turn off the radio.

Your metal car is the safest place you can be. Pull over to the side of the road and sit the storm out. Do not touch the metal parts of your car. A convertible car, which is not all-metal, is not safe. Your alternative would be to seek a ditch, cave or ravine. If you cannot see any such shelter, crouch down in the open.

Stay away from trees, telephone poles, wire fences, tractors, and anything else that might serve as a conductor of electricity. The main thing to remember is that you must not be tallest object in the field. Drop to your knees, bend forward and place your hands on your knees. Wherever you find yourself, be aware that if your hair stands on end or your skin tingles, lightning may be about to strike you. Crouch down at once.

If the same kind of storm catches you at home, the Institute suggests other precautions.

Avoid windows, doors, fireplaces, radiators, stoves and metal pipes or sinks. Refrain from using electrical appliances such as radios, TV's, toasters, hair dryers, electric razors.

Stay off the telephone, strange as the restriction may seem. Lightning may strike the outside lines.

Don't take a shower or bath. It is important to instruct children about lightning as well. Even a very young child should know to stay out of water during storms and to go indoors if they are playing outside.

In an age where we often feel a false sense of security against the forces of nature, we need to remind ourselves that lightning kills more Americans annually than hurricanes or tornadoes.

If you are with someone who is struck by lightning, you must think clearly and act fast. The victim has received a severe electrical shock and may be burned. They are not "chared" though and are perfectly safe to touch. Even if the person appears to be dead, prompt first aid often can revive them.

If they are not breathing, give mouth-to-mouth resuscitation once every five seconds to adults, once every three seconds to infants and small children. If there is no pulse, it is necessary to administer both resuscitation and external cardiac compression.

This can only be safely done by those with proper training. (another good reason to take a first aid course from the Red Cross or some other organization or agency.) Even those victims who merely appear stunned need to be checked for burns: examine fingers and toes, particularly areas next to buckles or jewelry.

Lightning is a power to be respected, but do not panic. Remain as calm as possible and use your common sense. Others may be depending on you for guidance and help.

According to the Insurance Information Institute, the best safety tools you can have are a knowledge of lightning and the tips you've just read.

For more information about lightning, there are several publications available from the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402.

is "Owlie's Tips on Lightning Safety" (stock number 003-018-00076-8), available for 50 cents.

The National Weather Service also has a booklet for adults giving tips to follow in thunderstorms. It is called "Lightning Safety" and can be purchased for 60 cents. Ask for stock number 003-017-00392-2.

A booklet titled "Lightning" is a product of the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration. Cost is 35 cents. Ask for stock number 003-017-00005-2.

A specialized publication, "Lightning Protection for the Farm," supplies information to help assess farm lightning protection needs. Cost is $1. Ask for stock number 001-000-03794-3.

"Lightning Protection of Aircraft" is the title of specialized NASA publication giving information on the effects of lightning on aircraft. Cost is $4.75. Ask for stock number 033-000-00689-6.

Veterans news

Texas veterans who have been led to believe they are entitled to receive an insurance dividend on lapsed World War II GI insurance policies are being notified they are not.

The only dividend that the Veterans Administration pays is on insurance policies that are still in force from World War II and the Korean Conflict, Jack Coker, Waco VA Regional Office Director, said.

VA is receiving many calls weekly from veterans who have been deceived into expecting dividends on GI insurance that was allowed to lapse years ago. Coker said the hoax comes up each year in various parts of the country as a result of news stories and reprints of phony application forms which appear in many publications throughout the U.S.

Coker said VA has been paying dividends on policies in force as announced each year and the dividend is paid on the anniversary date of the policy.

TECHNOLOGY ON THE MOVE

A 'Steak' In Tomorrow's Energy

Ten thousand head of cattle are helping to create a new energy source simply by doing what comes naturally. The tons of manure they produce each day is being converted into methane gas, a fuel similar to natural gas.

The cattle are owned by Kaplan Industries, Inc., Bartow, Florida, the state's largest feedlot and meat-packing plant.

About 25 tons of manure a day is piped to a pair of heated, air-tight fermentation tanks. Bacterial action inside the tanks transforms the waste into methane gas. The company burns the gas to generate steam and hot water for its operations.

The conversion facility was designed and built by Hamilton Standard division of United Technologies Corporation. Each day, it delivers the energy equivalent of 35 barrels of oil -- about as much as it takes to heat an average home for a whole year.

SOUND ADVICE

Hearing Impaired Employees
"The hard of hearing are good job candidates, and there is no logical reason to hesitate in hiring a hearing impaired individual for any position the person is qualified to fill."

This is the advice of the Beltone Crusade for Hearing Conservation, a public service effort sponsored by Chicago-based Beltone Electronics Corporation, world leader in hearing aids and electronic hearing test instruments.

While it would be unusual today to find an employer who would totally reject a job applicant because the person has a hearing problem, some firms still believe hard of hearing job seekers must be carefully "placed."

Such a belief is a fallacy. While some employers feel a hearing aid user would be suitable for a production-type job, but not qualified for a sales position, other employers express directly opposite opinions. They would not hesitate to "place" the person on the sales force, but not in a production-type job. While persons with unalleviated hearing problems obviously should not be located in a job where the hearing impairment could create a safety hazard, it is a simple matter to place these people in jobs where such hazards are not encountered.

Additionally, for the vast majority of the hard of hearing job safety is not an important problem. Most work related accidents occur because persons do something contrary to instructions. The hearing impaired generally have learned the value of self-discipline and the importance of following specific instructions.

Xi Lambda Xi meets

The Xi Lambda Xi chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met in the home of Frances Johnston on Monday, May 14 at 7:30. The meeting was called to order by Peggy Anderson. The opening ritual was said in unison by the 14 members present. Peggy opened the business meeting by passing around "thank you" cards from Mrs. Bromley, who received our "Woman of the Year" award and the Groom Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, expressing their thanks concerning the Founders Day program. The two recipients of the Beta Sigma Phi scholarship were named. They will be presented at graduation, May 18.

They are Nancy Johnson and Beverly Childs.

Our last meeting which was scheduled for May 28 is changed to May 29 at Frankie Henson's home.

Making a float for the 4th of July parade was discussed and it was noted and passed that we combine with Mu Gamma on the float. We would also, have a booth set up and sell homemade ice cream.

After the business meeting the new officers for the coming year were installed. It was a beautiful candle-light service.

Installed were: President, Susan Henson; Vice President, Charlene Mays; Recording Secretary, Gayle Riley; Treasurer, Donna Mann; Historian, Gloria Gage.

Corresponding Secretary, Betty Veach; Parliamentary, Freida Gray; Extension Officer, Beth Johnston.

Delicious refreshments and punch was served to those in attendance at this meeting: Retiring officers were: president, Peggy Anderson; V.P. Susan Henson; ec. sec., Charlene Mays; Corr. FIRESTONE GIVES DETAILS ON RECALL

The Firestone Tire & Rubber Company and the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA) have signed the final agreement covering the voluntary recall of several million Firestone 500 and other steel belted radial tires manufactured in the U.S. and Canada in 1976 and earlier. An agreement in principle had been announced by Firestone and the NHTSA on October 20.

Firestone Chairman Richard A. Riley said the recall is expected to take at least a year to complete. "We are turning out 400,000 tires a month towards meeting the needs of the recall," Riley said.

"Despite our best efforts to fulfill the needs of the recall and to meet our continuing business requirements, however, there are likely to be occasional shortages of replacement tires in some areas from time to time," he continued. "We will do our utmost to handle those who come in for the recall as quickly, fairly and conveniently as possible," he added, "and we appreciate the understanding and cooperation we have received from our customers during the first few weeks."

In July, the NHTSA made an initial determination that a defect relating to motor vehicle safety exists in the Steel Belted Radial 500 tires. The voluntary recall is being made to resolve the matter.

A defect of the type referred to in the NHTSA's initial determination may, according to the NHTSA, first be evidenced by appearance of a bulge or of a noticeable difference in ride characteristics. According to the NHTSA, tires covered by its initial determination may also fail without warning. The NHTSA believes that failure of the tires can result in loss of air with a possible loss of control of the vehicle which may result in vehicle crash.

The recall provides for free replacement of the following tires:

- 1) Firestone Steel Belted Radial 500 tires of seven-rib tread design, similar private brand steel belted radials and TPC tires (installed as original equipment on General Motors cars or sold as replacements) manufactured from Sept. 1, 1975 to May 1, 1976 (serial numbers ending 355 through 525 and 016 through 176).
- NOTE: Serial numbers have 9 to 11 letters and digits, and are on the inside sidewall of the tire. The last digit designates the year of manufacture and the preceding two digits the week of that year. 385, for example, means the 38th week of 1975. Seven-rib tires have six deep grooves in the tread design. Five-rib tires covered in the following paragraph, have four deep grooves.
- 2) Firestone 500 tires of five-rib tread design and similar private brand steel belted radials manufactured from Sept. 1, 1975 through Dec. 31, 1976 (serial numbers ending 355 through 525 and 016 through 526).
- 3) Firestone 500 tires of five-rib or seven-rib design and similar private brand steel belted radials manufactured from March 1, 1975 through Aug. 31, 1975 (serial numbers ending 095 through 345) and purchased as replacement tires on or after Sept. 1, 1975.
- 4) All other "500" and TPC tires manufactured before Sept. 1, 1975 (serial numbers ending 345 or lower) and purchased new after Sept. 1, 1975.

The Sept. 1, 1975 purchase date is a key date in the recall. The reason is that the law provides for free replacements only for tires purchased within three years of the specified recall date. No proof of purchase is required in the first two groups, because it is obvious tires made after Sept. 1, 1975 had to be purchased after Sept. 1.

The tires in the third group are assumed to have been purchased on or after Sept. 1, 1975, with no proof of purchase. Owners of tires in the fourth group need proof of purchase, showing they bought the tires on or after Sept. 1, 1975.

For the same dates of groups 1 and 2 private brand tires made by Firestone with similar or the same internal construction as the Steel Belted Radial 500 are included but will normally be replaced through the individual tire marketers.

In order to simplify the proof of purchase required, Firestone has agreed that "500" tires involved in the recall and purchased in the replacement market shall be considered sold on or after Sept. 1, 1975, if the tires' serial number indicate they were manufactured after March 1, 1975, even though the owner-purchaser presenting the tire may not have proof of the purchase date.

This provision is based upon the time replacement tires remain in inventory before being sold and is not applicable to tires that come as original equipment on new cars.

Customers with original equipment tires manufactured before Sept. 1, 1975, and replacement market tires manufactured before March 1, 1975, will be required to present proof of the tires were purchased after Sept. 1, 1975, to have affected tires replaced free.

In all cases, tires to be replaced under the recall will have to be presented, along with proof of purchase as needed. Proof of purchase alone, without the tires, will not be sufficient to obtain free replacements under the recall.

Although use of tires worn down to or below the final 2/32 of an inch of tread is a violation of motor vehicle laws in 38 states and the NHTSA's recommended tire inspection standard, Firestone has agreed that such "worn out" tires included in the recall will qualify for free replacement if they are in use on the vehicle brought in by the owner-purchaser. No other "worn out" tires are covered by the recall.

Tires are considered "worn out" if treadwear indicators, which appear when the tire reaches its final 2/32 of an inch of tread, are showing on two adjacent grooves at three different sections of the tire's circumference, according to the NHTSA definition.

Under the agreement between the NHTSA and Firestone, replacement will be made only for the owner-purchaser.

Since the recall was announced some news reports have focused on the fact that tires were being collected from dumps with the hope they might be covered by the recall.

"The agreement makes it clear that the recall is intended to replace tires on vehicles that people are using and not tires that have been collected by speculators, or that have been previously discarded, retreaded, adjusted or scrapped," Riley said.

In the interest of satisfying customers as fully as possible and in addition to replacing recalled tires free, Firestone is conducting a half-price replacement program covering earlier manufactured tires not eligible for free replacement under the agreement.

Persons still using Steel Belted Radial 500 and TPC tires purchased before Sept. 1, 1975, can have them replaced with Firestone tires for one-half the current retail selling price.

The half-price program excludes "worn out" tires, but puts no limit on how long before Sept. 1, 1975, the tire was manufactured.

As an additional part of its customer satisfaction policy, the Company, upon presentation of necessary documentation, is authorizing refunds to persons who already paid a pro-rata adjustment price on tires now eligible for free replacement.

Steel Belted Radial 721 and TPC tires will be used as replacements for most tires involved in the recall and adjustment program, but customers have the option of selecting other comparable Firestone tires, including constructions other than radial.

Due to different handling characteristics that could create serious driving problems industry guidelines discourage mixing radial and non-radial tires on the same vehicle, and these guidelines must be adhered to in selecting replacement tires.

Because of their limitations for seasonal usage, snow tires are not being offered as replacements.

Tires replaced free or at half-price will be mounted and balanced at no charge.

Individuals who bought new cars after Sept. 1, 1975, with affected tires as original equipment and registered owners of tires purchased in the replacement market after that date will receive recall notification letters from Firestone.

Firestone has hired R. L. Polk, a firm specializing in automobile registration records, to handle the mailing.

The Polk firm maintains records of current owners of vehicles based on the car's serial numbers and has an address correction system for vehicle owners.

"We are taking this extra step of hiring the Polk firm to do the mailing so we can reach as many current owners as possible in order to make the recall as complete as we can," Riley said.

To the extent it is possible, the mailings will be coordinated with the availability of tires.

Firestone dealers and stores will check tires to determine if they are included in the recall and make appointments to replace them if they are.

Motorists who receive notification letters are being asked to contact Firestone outlets for an inspection and appointment so change-overs can be made with maximum convenience to customers.

Customers who believe that Firestone has not handled tire replacements as called for by the agreement may submit a question or complaint to Mr. Jack B. Scarcliff, Director of Consumer Affairs, The Firestone Tire & Rubber Company, 12000 Firestone Parkway, Akron, Ohio, 44317, or Administrator, National Highway Traffic Safety Administration, Washington, D.C., 20590.

LITTLE KNOWN FACTS

A good way to keep baby's nails clean, many mothers have found, is to put a small, floating nail brush in the tub. Whenever your youngster grabs for it, it will help scrub his nails.

A good way to help a baby learn to talk, doctors say, is to use moderate tones and clear-cut speech. Loud sounds can confuse young children.

Seat Belts Protect Against Auto Injury

Motor vehicle crashes claim almost 50,000 lives each year, and injuries number in the millions. Most of the deaths and serious injuries can be prevented by the regular use of seat belts.

Scientific research, including actual crashes under controlled conditions, proves that safety belts can be extremely effective in protecting you and your family, says a pamphlet from the American Medical Association.

The most effective safety belt is the combination lap-shoulder harness, but even the lap belt alone will help to keep you safe.

Seat belts already are saving more than 3,000 lives each year, and between 7,000 and 8,000 more lives could be saved each year if safety belts were always buckled.

The lap-shoulder belt combination protects passengers in crashes above 60 miles per hour. Deaths occur at speeds as low as 12 miles per hour when safety belts are not worn.

A large majority of motor vehicle crashes occur within 25 miles of home, frequently at neighborhood intersections, and at speeds of under 40 miles per hour. Most of the injuries and deaths in these accidents could be avoided if safety belts are used.

The arms of a parent are not strong enough to restrain and protect a small child even in low-speed crashes. If the parent is not wearing a belt, he or she may be thrown forward. For maximum protection, an infant or young child should ride in a specially designed infant carrier or child restraint that is secured by the safety belts already in the motor vehicle.

Less than 20 per cent of motor vehicle occupants bother to buckle up. Even worse, only about 7 per cent of infants and young children are properly protected while riding in motor vehicles.

By Mrs. Dan Gerber

A responsible and caring babysitter is a boon to new parents. To assure the baby's and the sitter's health and safety in their absence parents should follow certain guidelines.

• Leave and return on time. If you are unavoidably detained, call and notify your sitter.

• Post a list of important telephone numbers—neighbors, doctor, fire and police departments, a number where you can be reached—near the phone.

• Give your sitter specific instructions related to bathing, feeding and bedtime. You can simplify feeding time and be sure that baby has a nutritious meal by having convenient Gerber baby foods on hand.

Don't ask your sitter to do housework or the laundry. The sitter's main and only responsibility should be caring for your child.

A PROCESSION OF EPISCOPALIANS round the Church opened the Rogation service. Pictured are: Josh & Sally Hamilton bearing incense, two acolytes from Borger, the Rev. William Houghton from Borger, the Rev. Pettigrew Hamilton from Clarendon, followed by various parishioners.

VARIOUS PARISHIONERS enjoyed a delicious barbecue which followed Rogation services at the Episcopal Church last Sunday.

Episcopal Church has annual Rogation

The Episcopal Church in Clarendon held its annual Rogation ceremony this year at the church, followed by the planting of a tree and a barbecue.

Episcopalians from different parts of the Texas Panhandle congregated last Sunday to join together in a special service to ask God to Bless our planting time, our crops, and our labor. "Rogation" is a Latin word meaning "asking." In past years the service has been held on various ranches. The barbecue, cooked by Buddy Knorpp, was a true delight.

Q: I filed on my ex-husband a year ago for back child support. He learned of the order and skipped town. Even now the papers haven't been served because the law can't locate him. Can you tell me what can be done to have him located?

A: In Texas there are two agencies that will search for your ex-husband. If there is a domestic relations office in your county, this office will often have an investigator who can search for the missing individual.

The Texas Dept. of Human Resources also provides child support enforcement services for a nominal fee. If such an individual goes into hiding the local child support unit can draw on statewide as well as local and occasionally national resources to try to locate the delinquent spouse and have the warrant executed for his arrest.

Q: I live in a condominium in the county. My neighbor has fenced in property beyond his boundary. My air conditioning unit is inside his fence and he has all sorts of building materials stacked up against it. He won't allow anyone inside the fence. Would I be breaking the law if I knocked down part of the fence, making an entrance to my air conditioning unit so I can clean around it and have it serviced?

A: If your neighbor has fenced in your property or the property of the condominium developer, you or the developer should take steps to make the neighbor move the fence or buy the right to use the enclosed property. If that is not done, after 10 years the neighbor may come to own the enclosed property by what is known as "adverse possession." But you should not knock down the fence. To do so would make you liable to your neighbor for damage to the fence, and perhaps be a violation of criminal law as well.

Q: If a car pulls in front of me to switch lanes and I'm unable to avoid hitting the car from behind, who is at fault? After an accident, is it necessary to leave the cars where they stopped? What can you do if the police report on an accident is incorrect?

A: State law requires that any change of traffic lanes must be accompanied by a signal and must be done safely. After an accident, the cars involved should be moved out of traffic to avoid creating a hazard. A copy of the official accident report may be obtained from the Department of Public Safety in Austin for a fee of $2; both drivers also may file reports, and you may challenge the investigating officer's version by appealing your traffic citation in court, where the officer is subject to cross-examination.

Send your questions to "You and the Law," State Bar of Texas, P. O. Box 12487, Austin, 78711. Answers may appear in columns in hypothetical terms; personal answers not possible.

March of Dimes

Accidental poisoning is one of the leading killers of young children, according to Dr. Albert H. Domm, child safety specialist and former medical director of the Prudential Insurance Company.

"The best precaution the parent can take is to keep all poisonous substances locked up or otherwise out of the reach of children," Dr. Domm advises.

"You should also label all bottles containing drugs and chemicals and never give your child medicine in the dark."

Cosmetics, nail polish and remover, perfumes, cleansers, furniture polish, pesticides and medicines are among the potentially lethal materials found in the house.

"If your child does swallow a poison, call a doctor and then start first aid procedures," Dr. Domm says. He recommends giving the child five glasses of milk or a solution of baking soda or salt in a glass of water and inserting a finger into the throat to induce vomiting.

However, if the mouth is burned, give the victim raw eggs or olive oil and do not induce vomiting.

"Quick emergency action when a child swallows poison can usually avoid tragedy," says Dr. Domm, "but an ounce of prevention can save parents plenty of anxiety."
