Locals attend tax bill 621 seminar

Clarendon and Donley County representatives from taxing intities attended another of several meetings, being held to explain tax bill #621, in Amarillo on August 29, at the Amarillo School Administration Building on W 8th Street. These meetings are to explain the complexities of the bill. The meeting Wednesday dealt specifically with the preparatory measures which each taxing agency and its governing board will inaugurate over the next three months. The attorney who explained the procedures also clarified some of the provisions of the Senate Bill #621. Several step by step processes are necessary, each to be ready by a specified time and the last step to be complete by December 1, 1979 for use in 1980. Attending from Clarendon were P.C. Messer, county clerk, and Hazel Guy, from the County clerk's office; Jeff Walker, superintendent of schools, Cula Jo Trout and Mary White, from the school tax office; Kay McCowan, tax assessor and collector for the county tax office; County Judge Billie Christal; Billy Ray Johnston and Opal James, from the Donley County Hospital District and Bill Weatherly, tax assessor-collector for the City of Clarendon. Attendance at the meeting was good filling the auditorium almost to capacity as tax offices work to comply with the provisions of the new tax law.

Crops get hail damage

Hail and wind damage has not escaped Donley county fields where some farmers have had repeated poundings from the many rains during the usually hot and much drier August.

September weather needs to be hot and dry for most of the farmers to expect a good harvest. However as usual as far as the weather goes it is a wait and see game.

Those who have suffered the most damage are roughly in a strip south of Clarendon running to Lelia Lake in a southwest and northeast line.

Donley County did escape the devastating damage suffered on the south plains and pastures are in excellent shape for good grass year.

Frank Thomason, Ronnie McAnear, J.E. Kidd, are some of those who got a lot of hail. Ronald Gooch, reported the full damage from hail is never known until the plants are near maturity. However the damage was not widespread.

3rd quarter estimated tax due

Moisture amounts have varied over the county too, with the area west of Clarendon staying driest. However the Ashtola Community did receive rains last week which, though not bringing the total up to other sections, is adequate for the crops. Some growers report too much rain with lush cotton plants but little cotton putting on.

The third installment of estimated federal tax payments on 1979 income is due September 18, 1979, the Internal Revenue Service said.

This installment should be paid using declaration-voucher number 3 found in the Form 1040-ES package. Taxpayers whose anticipated income changed during 1979 may have to file an amended declaration. Space is provided in the estimated tax package to compute an amended estimate, the IRS said.

For more detailed information, IRS/Publication 505, "Tax Withholding and Declaration of Estimated Tax," is available free from local IRS offices. Supplies of the Form 1040-ES package also can be obtained at these locations.

Lions tale

By GENE ALDERSON

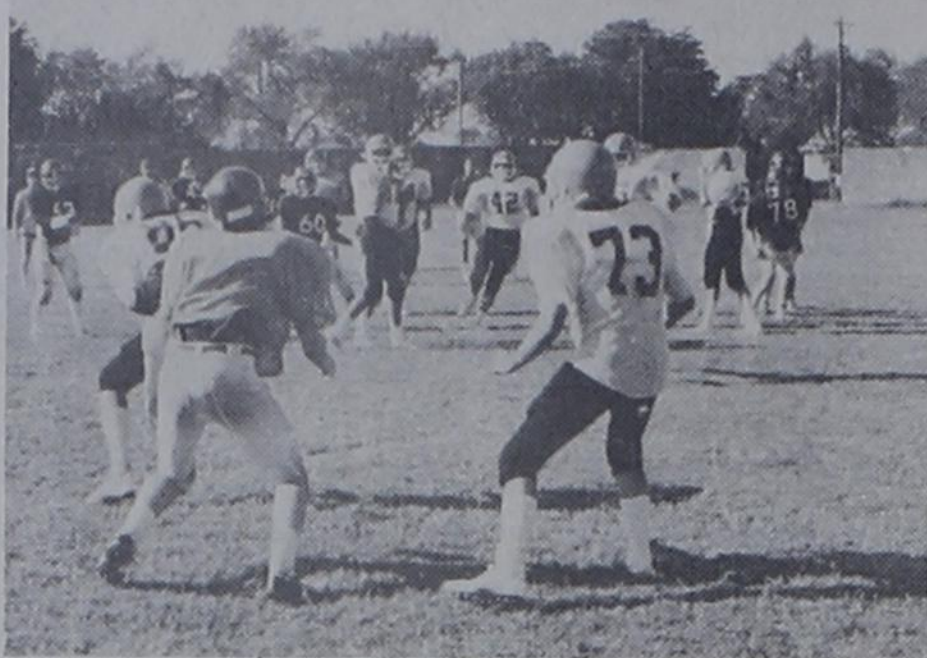

The Clarendon Lions Club held its regular meeting on Tuesday with eighteen members and one new member present. Following the Pledge of Allegiance led by the Boss Lion and the prayer led by Lion Messer, Boss Lion Courtney presented two applications for membership. They were Mark Nixon, Clarendon College Athletic Director, sponsored by Lion Homer Estlack, and Rev. Paul Heil, pastor of the First Baptist Church, sponsored by Lion billie Christal. Both applications were approved unanimously. Lion Ronald Gooch announced there would be a 4-H Bake Off held this coming Saturday. Judging will be held in the school Cafeteria at 10 a.m. with participants entering apple pies and sugar cookies. At 1:00 p.m., on the Court House lawn, there will be an auction held to sell the baked goods with the proceeds going to the individual 4-Hers. The top winner in the contest will represent Donley County in the district Bake-Off held in connection with the Tri-State Fair in Amarillo on September 15th.

Lion Chamberlain didn't come up with a program today. This was his second miss. I wonder if he knows it is customary to forfeit one of your products to the club if you miss getting a program three times!!

Lion Alderson passed out tickets to be sold by those members present for the Pancake Supper to be held on September 14th. He will be contacting the absentees to get their tickets to them.

THE BRONCHOS make a good showing against the Phillips Black Hawks Friday.

Social Security news

Q-I will be 65 this year and will continue to work. Do I need to contact Social Security? If so, why and when?

A-Even though you are working, it is important to contact Social Security three months before you will be 65 so that you will have your Medicare card by your birthday. If you sign your application the month you turn 65 or later, you will lose some of your Medicare protection.

Q-Are Medicare, Medicaid, and Medipak all the same thing?

A-No, each is a separate program of health insurance. Medicare is the federal government health insurance program offered to social security beneficiaries who are 65 or disabled. Medicaid is a state administered health insurance program for qualified low income persons. Medipak is a non-government health insurance program offered by a private insurance company.

Q-What does Medicare provide and how much does it cost?

A-Medicare is a two-part program. Part A is available at no charge to 65-year old social security beneficiaries and their eligible dependents who are 65. Part B, which covers doctors' services, out-patient hospital services, and other medical services is optional. There is a monthly premium charged, which currently is $8.70. To enroll, an application needs to be made with social security.

Driving near schools

Major C. W. Bell, Regional Commander of the Texas Department of Public Safety at Lubbock, said today, "There are hundreds of thousands of good reasons why Texas motorists should use extra caution while driving near schools."

"Many of our youngsters will be going to school for the first time and will not be aware of the many hazards existing on Texas' busy streets and highways."

"Precautionary measures, such as traffic signs and signals, safety zones and pedestrian crosswalks, are virtually useless if your children have not acquired good pedestrian safety habits."

Children's responsibilities to and from school include: observing all traffic signs and signals, walking against the flow of traffic when no sidewalk is present, crossing streets at designated crosswalks, and maintaining orderly conduct while enroute to and from school.

"As parents, we must be absolutely sure our children have a clear understanding of traffic dangers. In addition, as drivers, we must always be on the lookout for school children. It is our responsibility—as a parent—as a motorist—as a citizen," said Major Bell.

A Moment For Meditation

By INEZ G. LAWRENCE

"The Lord is good to them that wait for Him." Lam. 3:25

This is a good time to be alive if you are in a hurry. There are jet planes to carry you to the other side of the world in a few hours. Direct telephone dialing connects you to almost any place on earth in a minute or less. The telephone picks up scenes via satellite in seconds. The fine highway systems crisscross the United States to provide endless miles of travel swiftly and safely.

Even in the kitchen one can hurry through meal preparation. There are instant coffee, tea, cake icings and pies. There are microwave ovens to turn out a full meal in minutes. But with all the time saving devices available, there are still some things we cannot speed up. It still takes nine months to produce a baby and years to mature it. Plants, animals and all forms of life grow on nature's schedule, not on ours. In the spiritual realm likewise, we must take time. The promise is, "The Lord is good to them that wait for Him". There is no hurrying God. Neither can we speed through a prayer at our own convenience and expect God to pay attention. The Psalmist realized this when he wrote, "Be still and know that I am God." A real awareness of God and His holiness quickly brings a need for confession, and this takes time. It is not easy to be absolutely honest even with God. Jacob wrestled all night with God's angel before he could humble himself enough to ask a blessing. Anything important enough to pray about takes time, often a great deal of time. The requirement is to wait. The next verse adds, "It is good that a man should both hope and quietly wait for the salvation of the Lord."

So it appears that although we live in the instant everything age there are many things we cannot speed up at will. This is good for in the frenzy of daily living there is deep security in knowing that God is eternal. He does not change and He does not hurry. His purposes take time and so must we if we wish Him to hear us.

Corporations have expected tax liabilities of at least $40 for 1979 and operating on a calendar year tax basis must make a payment of 1979 estimated tax by Monday, September 18, 1979, the Internal Revenue Service said.

The amount of the payment can be computed on Form 1120-W, a worksheet for computing corporation estimated tax. This form should not be filed with the IRS but be retained with the corporation's records.

When the payments are deposited in authorized commercial banks or Federal Reserve Banks, they must be accompanied by Federal Tax Deposit Form 503, the IRS said.

Supplies of Form 1120-W and a helpful pamphlet, IRS Publication 542, "Corporations and the Federal Income Tax," are available free from local IRS offices.

YOUR Bible has the ANSWERS!

Send Bible-related questions to Gene Beason

Church of Christ
Box 861
Clarendon, Tex 79226

"Do you really expect people to write to you about religious topics when they don't agree with your doctrine and theology?"

Yes! I do expect people to write, but whether they disagree with ME is not the point to be made. As God is my judge, I want only to do His Work guided by His Word: The doctrine that all must agree with must be HIS. The word theology is of human origin, relating to various types of method in "interpreting" scripture. Each philosophy originating with man tries to use proof scriptures to beef up its ideology. If it is so without substance that it must be propped up with misuse of Scripture, it isn't worth having.

To simplify: I teach only simple Bible truths. They are doctrine (teaching). "Theology" is too pompous a word to apply to the Good News of Salvation. "Theology" is that practice that has developed the un-scriptural "clergy-laity" distinctions in the past 1500 years. Past attempts to chain the Bible to the pulpit have failed. It must be kept in the minds and hearts of people to be useful. To leave the average christian out of the mission of the church is to frustrate God's own chosen method of evangelism. The church of the New Testament succeeded in spreading the gospel over the whole world, according to the testimony of Paul, the Apostle. See these passages: Romans 10:18; Colossians 1:6; 1:23; 1 Timothy 3:10 and the command to do this is found in Matthew 28:19 and Mark 16:15.

I am not ashamed of this doctrine, as this column will say. If any has a doctrine that is Biblical from beginning to end, then we agree and can enlarge upon each other's knowledge. If any has a doctrine that is weak in any point and cannot stand penetrating examination AND correction, then it isn't the kind of doctrine for one to lose his soul over — OR take that chance.

"All Scripture is inspired by God and profitable for teaching (doctrine, G.B.), for reproof, for correction, for training in righteousness; that the man of God may be adequate, equipped for every good work." II Timothy 3:16,17

Alcohol

More than 2,500 beer distributors across the country endorsed the new alcohol awareness program recently introduced by the United Brewers Association, Inc. announced today by Jerry Yaryan of Austin, Reg. Representative of the Association.

"This development will include the active involvement of beer distributors in our state," he added, "and it is an essential dimension of our statewide program. Twice... About Drink designed to help cities and communities reduce alcohol misuse."

"Through their trade with the National Beer Wholesale Association, local distributors will share the leadership reaching consumers as wine operators of taverns, grocery stores and other retail outlets in our state," he said.

Four objectives of the program, he pointed out, are reduction of alcohol use, underage persons, proper education of consumers, and dissemination of facts about alcohol and moderate consumption of alcohol beverages at all times.

Now underway, the program includes five advertisements related to alcohol use and misuse. Two of the advertisements inform underage persons that they cannot legally buy beer in Texas. Three of them are directed to drinking driving problems.

Alcohol awareness program

More than 2,500 beer distributors across the country have endorsed the new alcohol awareness program recently introduced by the United States Brewers Association, it was announced today by Jess O. Yaryan of Austin, Regional Representative of the Association.

"This development will include the active involvement of beer distributors in our state," he added, "and it will bring an essential dimension to the statewide program. 'Think Twice...About Drinking,' designed to help cities and communities reduce alcohol misuse."

Through their trade group, the National Beer Wholesalers Association, local distributors "will share the leadership in reaching consumers as well as operators of taverns, grocery stores and other retail outlets in our state," he said.

Four objectives of the program, he pointed out, are reduction of alcohol use by underage persons, proper operation of Texas retail establishments, communitywide dissemination of facts about alcohol, and moderate consumption of alcohol beverages at all times.

Now underway, the program includes five advertisements related to alcohol use and misuse. Two of the advertisements inform underage persons that they cannot legally buy beer in Texas. Three of them are directed to drinking and driving problems.

Underage drinkers and drivers who drink are also the target audiences of a leaflet entitled, "Before you take to the open road, think twice about drinking and driving." Including a True/False test designed for new licensees, this leaflet is designed to be distributed by motor vehicle bureaus, law enforcement officials, state highway traffic experts and driver education courses.

The danger of selling beer to minors is underscored two ways-in a Photo Quiz for retail operators and their employees on the difficulty of determining a person's legal age; and in a poster, suitable for point-of-sale display, that says, "Underage? Don't ask us to sell you beer."

Other elements and activities will be added to the statewide program as it moves ahead in the area of alcohol education, he said.

Rye for cotton cover crop

CLARENDON LAKERS Sala Leffew, Lori Skelton, Lacreia Petty, Pam Mooring, Alice

Davis, Kathy Wilson, Kelly Hardin, Kim Wilson, Pearly Butler.

Will your cotton be protected from blowing next spring? If not, now is the time to be planting rye cover crops. There is 48,419 acres of cotton planted in Donley County this year. Of that, about 85 percent will be unprotected and in condition to blow next spring. It is estimated that unprotected cotton land will lose 15 tons of top soil through the blowing season if provisions are not made to protect the land. Rye can be planted with your last cultivation to provide needed winter and spring protection. It will produce sufficient cover to prevent the need for a lot of sand fighting this spring. Considering the cost and scarcity of fuel, this could be a great economical advantage. In addition to cover, rye will supply your soil with additional residues to maintain soil fertility. Cotton is termed as a soil depleting crop because of the small amounts of residue returned to the soil. Cotton depletes the soil of needed plant nutrients. Without these nutrients, crop yields will continue to decline. Conserving your top soil and its nutrients is planning for next year's crop.

RYE WILL PROVIDE cover when broadcast prior to the last cultivation of cotton.

Wheat fertilization important

This past season's bumper crop of wheat may have depleted plant nutrient levels to the point where proper fertilization for the 1979-80 season deserves special attention. "Greater yields of high quality forage and grain are a major concern of producers looking forward to the next crop," says Ronald Gooch County Extension Agent. To get those yields, producers will need an accurate inventory of their soil's nutrient levels in order to apply the right kinds and amounts of fertilizers. A soil nitrogen analysis following a 60 bushel-per-acre to 13 pounds per acre.

wheat yield indicated the nitrogen level had dropped from 124 pounds per acre to 13 pounds per acre. "Soil tests from the Extension Soil Testing Laboratory at the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center near Lubbock provide a guide for making decisions on what, when and how much is needed," Gooch adds. Nitrogen is the element likely to be in shortest supply. The soil's nitrate nitrogen content, which is determined by soil test, provides an excellent criteria for evaluating the nitrogen need," he explains.

The rate of application should be based on nitrogen present in the soil, grazing practices, and on yield potential which is determined by water availability and cultural practices. Gooch says, "On hardlands all or part of the nitrogen can be applied before planting. On sandy soils where leaching may cause nitrogen loss, part of the nitrogen should be applied preplant with one or more applications made later in the season." "Insufficient phosphorus may or may not be limiting factor and here again, the soil test can serve well," he explains. "Phosphorus, second only to nitrogen in importance, is a major contributor to the vigorous early growth that supplies first-quality forage for the beef industry." Demonstrations recently conducted near Kress, Texas, indicated that wheat yields were increased from 8 to 19 bushels per acre from phosphorus application depending upon phosphorus rate and tillage practices. "Phosphate, where needed, should be applied in the

UT Austin works on fusion device

Scientists from around the world are expected to be attracted to The University of Texas beginning in 1980 when UT's Fusion Research Center completes construction of a new device needed to achieve nuclear fusion. The device is the Texas Experimental Torus (TEXT). TEXT will permit scientists to conduct basic research on nuclear fusion, an energy-releasing process that occurs when the nuclei of atoms of deuterium (found in ordinary sea water) fuse under high heat to form helium. It is estimated that one pitcher of sea water contains enough nuclear fusion "fuel" to provide an average household with electricity for a year.

The Book Worm

Now that school is back in session there are probably going to be times when students are requested to make reports on various subjects.

Bookworm has found several books in the library that would make good reports, or just interesting reading for adults.

In our reference section-these are not to be taken from the library but must be used there-we have:

"Encyclopedia of the Animal World"-Larousse

An encyclopedia should be a feast for the brain and an illustrated encyclopedia should be a feast for the eyes. This is both, and covers the whole range of the animal kingdom, from protozoa to primates.

"The Complete Book of the Horse"-Published 1978-edited by Candida Ceddes.

The material for this book has deliberately been slanted towards the cultural and historical aspects of the horse and man.

"Trees-Timbers and Forests of the World"-Published in 1978. Beautifully illustrated, filled with information.

In our circulation dept.-these may be checked out-we have several books on birds. There are shelves of old encyclopedias that may be taken from the library and still contain topics of interest.

We have "Secrets of the Seas"-published in 1972 by Reader's Digest.

This takes you on a grand tour of the living ocean. It tells you the exciting story of island plants and animals, and contains more than 500 photographs, paintings, diagrams and maps.

Come explore our library-we have a varied selection of stimulating, entertaining material available.

Take note of the table in the hall-old books are for sale there, and you might find some very good "buys".

We have fifty new cassettes-

These have been a good addition to our library services. Two members of the library enrichment committee attended a workshop at the Amarillo Public Library. We want our library to be of benefit to the entire community. It takes time, effort and motivation to build a collection-We're learning, and we're trying.

Club news

One Duplicate Bridge had to be postponed as everyone seemed "out of pocket". This Monday Peggy Minkley was hostess and Lea Tyler and Kathryn Cain tied for high.

Rain rather caused havoc at the golf course; our scramble and the second day of the partnership tournament had to be called off because of it.

There will be a Q hole scramble Monday, Sept. 10, at 5:30 and an 18 hole scramble

Sunday, Sept. 23, at 1:30 p.m. (Please! for this one by Sept. 21 please!). A lot of people have expressed a desire for an 18 hole scramble so lets make it a really good one!

Several of the women went to Memphis for a round robin scramble: Lois, Claudia, Lea, Sandi, Maxine. Sandi's team won 2nd and Lea's 3rd. None of us got door prizes!

Ladies' Golf Association luncheon will be this Thursday. Plans for the tournament will be finalized.

Next week there will be the parties beginning Wed. afternoon and the tournament Thurs. and Fri. The big awards party includes husbands will be Saturday night. Please get your entry in for the tournament by Tuesday, Sept. 11. Also please turn your reservations for the final party in to Billie.

The Arthritis Style Show last Saturday night provided everyone with a real nice time. There was a good crowd and the beautiful clothes were modeled well. Moderator, Ted Allen, also did an excellent job.

DOUBLE S & H GREEN STAMPS TUESDAY

Mail order cigarettes may pose more than a health risk

State Comptroller Bob Bullock Tuesday warned that mail order cigarettes may pose more than a health risk to Texans if state taxes aren't paid on them.

Bullock said advertisements have appeared in the state recently offering mail order cigarettes and that the tobacco products do not carry the state's tax stamp.

He said purchasers are required to pay his office $1.85 a carton on cigarettes they order from out-of-state and may be liable for a $1.85 a carton penalty if the tax is not immediately reported.

The advertised price of the cigarettes, plus the penalty and interest, works out to about 85 cents a pack for the mail order cigarettes, Bullock said.

Federal law requires out-of-state firms to provide the Comptroller's office with a list of Texas residents who purchase cigarettes outside the state.

"Consumers who buy mail order cigarettes have to pay the tax and if we have to go out and chase them down to get it, they'll have to pay the penalty," Bullock said.

2. The nation that drinks the greatest amount of mineral water—88 pints or 50 liters per person per year—is (a) Britain (b) France (c) the U.S.?

3. The purest water available generally comes from (a) lakes (b) municipally treated reservoirs (c) bottles?

4. The fresh-water lake with the greatest surface area is (a) Lake Titicaca in Peru (b) Lake Superior (c) Lake Baykal in central Siberia?

Answers: 1. (a) The area is 31,820 square miles and (b) is always safe.

2. Bottled water, the American Bottled Water Association reports, is specially purified or filtered from a natural spring or at least eight times a day.

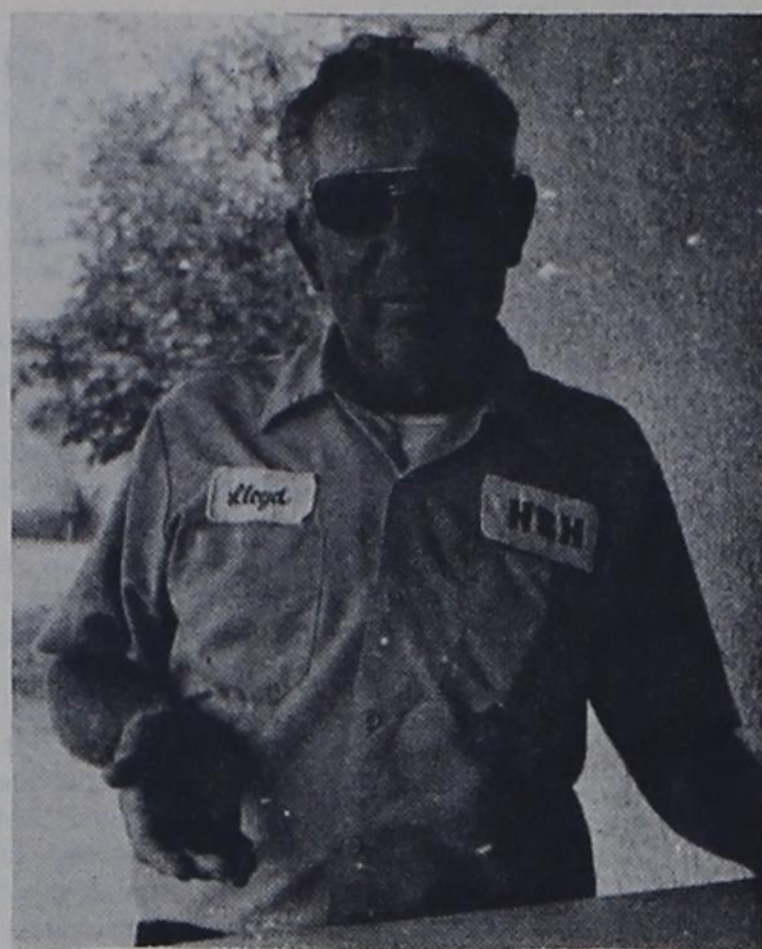

3. It's a good idea for everyone to drink filtered water, frost is below the freezing temperature of water, frost is below the freezing temperature of water, frost is below the freezing temperature of water.

4. The amount of water vapor contained in a given amount of air is determined by the amount of water vapor in the air.

Answers: 1. (a) The amount of water vapor in the air is determined by the amount of water vapor in the air.

LLOYD THOMPSON of Odessa caught what he thought to be a fresh water clam on a hook, while fishing over the weekend at Greenbelt Lake. They were visiting Mrs. mother Mrs. Edna Brewer.

Cosmetic Surgery Helps Appearance

Physical appearance is our calling card. An attractive and pleasant appearance opens doors.

It is not merely vanity that prompts tens of thousands of Americans to turn to cosmetic surgery to seek improvement of physical appearance. The mental shock of "dumbo" ears can mark a boy for life, the American Medical Association points out.

The most common cosmetic surgical procedure is the rhinoplasty—the "nose job." The surgeon removes excess bone and cartilage to reduce the hump on a prominent nose. For proper facial harmony, chins are sometimes built up with bone or cartilage transplants in an operation called mentoplasty.

Hanging upper eyelids that give a look of fatigue and aging can be corrected by removing excess skin and fat. The operation is called blepharoplasty. Bags under the eyes are included in this procedure. The widely known "face lift" is actually called rhytidoplasty. Incisions are made close to the ear and in the hairline and the skin is redraped into a more youthful position. Excess skin is removed. The aging process continues, however, and the face lift must be repeated after a few years.

Surgery to correct protruding ears—otoplasty—is usually performed just prior to the child's entering school. This protects the child from the teasing by schoolmates that may arise from his appearance. The incision usually is hidden on the back side of the ear.

Breast enhancement through implanting of a silicone prosthesis sometimes is sought. Injection of liquid silicone into the breast has been found to be harmful and is no longer done. Enlarged, sagging breasts can be reduced by surgery to remove excess tissue and reshape the breast.

Plastic surgical operations do not magically give new talents or personalities to people. Rather, they take away a liability so that the person's own natural talents and personality can develop normally.

VA progress expanded Hungry 'Hoppers in Texas Panhandle Are Being Battled by TDA, USDA Forces

Expanded Veterans Administration programs for the nearly 6 million Vietnam Era veterans are highlighted in the annual "state of the veterans report" sent to Congress this week by VA Administrator Max Cleland.

The report details how VA spent $18.5 billion during Fiscal Year 1978 for federal programs in behalf of the nation's 30 million veterans and their eligible dependents.

The VA annual report to Congress stressed the agency's enhanced outreach efforts, the special emphasis on care of veterans with service connected disabilities, and programs for younger veterans who have been educationally or economically disadvantaged.

Cleland pointed out that approximately 70 percent of the GI home loans made during FY 1978 went to Vietnam Era veterans and he reported that this group continued to outshine its predecessors in using GI Bill education benefits. VA continued during the period to select Vietnam Era veterans to fill many of its employment vacancies, Cleland said.

In the medical field, Cleland said, "More veterans received health care from VA during FY 1978 than in any year since the agency was established in 1930."

Nearly 1.26 million inpatients received care in VA medical centers during the period, while 17.4 million outpatient visits were recorded.

VA medical programs "Emphasized priority care for service connected veterans, and looked in new directions to meet the changing needs of an aging veteran population," Cleland told Congress.

"We continued during 1978 to place emphasis on our innovative treatment programs for alcohol and drug dependent veterans and for those with mental health problems," the report continued.

During the year, 15 new, specialized medical programs for alcoholism treatment were readied for activation in VA medical centers in Maryland, New York, South Carolina, Ohio, Texas, Florida, Missouri, Tennessee, Louisiana, Arizona and Puerto Rico.

The report notes that a declining enrollment under the GI Bill education programs was the cause of the slight expenditure decline over the previous fiscal period.

Spending for medical care and for compensation and pension benefits continued to increase.

Other highlights were: DIRECT PAYMENTS A $500 million increase in compensation and pension payments brought the total to $9.5 billion to veterans and their beneficiaries. At the end of the period, more than 2.2 million veterans were receiving VA compensation payments for service connected disabilities, and just over one million were on VA pension rolls.

HOUSING ASSISTANCE Payments of $3.3 million in education benefits to 1.5 million veterans and active duty personnel during FY 1978 brought total participation under the current GI Bill education program to 7,276,926—70 percent of them Vietnam Era veterans. Participation by Vietnam Era veterans and service personnel increased to 64.8 percent of those eligible. This compares to the 50.5 percent participation rate among World War II veterans.

HOUSING ASSISTANCE VA guaranteed nearly 381,000 home loans during FY 1978. With a face value of $14.6 billion, the 1978 loans brought the number of GI home loans outstanding to just over 4 million.

EMPLOYMENT VA hired nearly 20,500 veterans during the period, and as of September 30, 1978, 16.3 percent of all VA employees were Vietnam Era veterans. Six percent of its employees were disabled veterans.

About 70 percent of the agency's veterans benefits counselors are Vietnam Era veterans, as are 40 percent of the veterans claims examiners.

Cleland said the nation's veteran population at the end of September 1978 stood at 29,984,000.

The number of Vietnam Era veterans continued to increase with 277,000 discharges from the armed services and only 19,000 deaths among that segment of the population. At the end of Fiscal Year 1978 there were 8.7 million living veterans of that conflict.

Some 43,000 Korean Conflict veterans died during the year, leaving 5,897,000.

An estimated 229,000 World War II veterans died during the period reducing the number of living veterans of that war to 12.9 million.

Only 667,000 of the 4.7 million U.S. participants in World War I were still living at the end of September 1978, and less than 300 U.S. veterans of the Spanish American War remained alive at that time.

Cleland noted that the number of women veterans increased by 29,000 during FY 1978, reaching 649,000 by the end of the period. The number of women veterans under 30 years of age rose to 144,000, reflecting increased reliance on women to fill the ranks of the nation's armed services.

AUSTIN--There is a range war going on in the Texas Panhandle, but it looks more like a bombing raid than a shootout. The targets are tiny, although numbering in the millions.

The enemy is grasshoppers. Millions of grasshoppers are threatening thousands of acres of rangeland in 13 Panhandle counties and are being sprayed around the clock by personnel of the Texas Department of Agriculture (TDA) and the U. S. Department of Agriculture (USDA).

By the time the spraying ends this month, more than 1.4 million acres of range will have been treated at a cost of around $1.5 million in state, federal and private funds to control the voracious insects that have invaded Texas and 13 other states in the greatest number since 1958.

According to Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown, the cost-sharing aerial application program has been a "war on grasshoppers" that present "a very real threat to High Plains' agriculture and to food production in that area."

Brown added that the program is proving successful. "It looks like we are going to win the war," he said. Preliminary reports indicate 95-99 percent control, about the same level that was achieved last year.

Spraying has been taking place in Childress, Roberts, Carson, Hutchinson, Dallam, Lipscomb, Moore, Armstrong, Sherman, Potter, Hall, Collingsworth and Gray counties.

Only rangeland meets federal guidelines which do not cover control on cropland.

Acres are being sprayed in blocks to prevent skipping heavily infested areas. "If land is skipped, grasshoppers will reinfest acreage that has been treated," Brown said.

The grasshopper control program divides costs among TDA, USDA and the ranchers whose land is being sprayed. TDA's one-third share is expected to reach $500,000, exhausting the program's funds for the fiscal year.

The program will end naturally by the end of July when grasshoppers reach maturity and begin laying eggs. "Federal guidelines call for making the treatment before the eggs are laid," Brown said. "This procedure provides control for this year sharing duties with the USDA in surveying, flagging aircraft and supervising pesticide application.

"Some of these men and women will have worked four and five weeks away from home straight through the weekends by the time the program ends," he said. "We appreciate their dedication in taking care of the needs of ranchers."

"It is generally better to deal by speech than by letter." Francis Bacon

AUSTIN, Texas (Spl.) — A new radio series on women in Texas history is being planned by KUT-FM, radio station of The University of Texas.

The UT station has received a planning grant for the proposed 13 half-hour radio dramas. The series is to be called "Women of Action: Reliving Texas History Through Radio."

One pilot program of the new series (concerning Cynthia Ann Parker who was captured by and grew up among the Comanches) will be distributed over the Longhorn Radio Network in fall 1979.

WOMEN BECOME

CONSUMERS

As women continue to enter the work force in increasing numbers, they seem to be developing a confidence in products and services offered to them through the mails.

They must, because their time is sparse. The attention they can give to selecting what they need is available on a non-scheduled basis. And yet their needs for goods and services are increasing as their lives become more active and their financial responsibilities grow.

As women become important wage earners sharing the financial responsibilities of running a household, they need to be fully protected by insurance. But being busy, women find they have less time to "shop around." Mail order is a mechanism of buying insurance that is made to order for this emerging style of female consumer.

And she realizes it. More than half the policies being sold by mail are being bought to cover women. Women themselves bought 29 percent of new policies in 1977, up from 24 percent five years ago.

This popular and accessible way of purchasing insurance by mail allows the busy woman to sit down alone or, if married, with her husband or family when the moment is right and the time is available for leisurely decision-making. She can make choices intelligently based on what she sees in black and white, not what she thinks she remembers hearing.

A woman then can make her purchase when she feels ready and from a company she feels is offering her the kind of insurance protection she needs for herself and her family—at a cost she feels she and her family can afford.

These considerations, in effect, then, allow women the age-old luxury of shopping around for the kind of insurance they need—whether it is life, accident, health, casualty coverage, auto—whether she is looking for basic protection or supplemental insurance to extend coverage she may already have through her job.

To further generate consumer confidence, the Direct Marketing Insurance Council (DMIC) was formed by companies that offer consumers insurance products by mail as well as support insurance agent sales through direct marketing. The members of DMIC have joined together to support the highest standards of advertising and promotion practices, and to be responsive to consumers.

SOIL CONSERVATION SERVICE

Texas quail being counted

Texas quail populations are being studied and recorded as 266 census or survey lines are being driven by personnel of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department across the state. Each of the 74 census lines being conducted on the High and Rolling Plains of northwest Texas covers a 20-mile line determined by P&WD computer. These roads are driven in early morning or late evening when the quail are out along the roadside. Abundant rains have produced heavy weed cover in many areas making it difficult for the P&WD personnel to count the birds. The number of birds observed by the P&WD specialists will be entered into the computer and compared with the last three years figures. This quail index will then be used by the P&WD Commission to set the daily and possession bag limits in each region according to the production. For those areas where weather or nesting conditions have been unfavorable, the daily quail limit could be reduced and in those regions where ample food and nesting results are high, the daily limit could be raised accordingly. Comments from the survey crews are also taken into account by the P&WD Commission. Many of these census-takers have resided in the survey region for years and are able to predict quail populations by observing not only the young and mature birds, but the availability of habitat, food and water. Quail hunters will note that the daily and possession quail limits have been deleted from the new 1979-80 "Texas Hunting and Sport Fishing Guide" now available at license vendors. The P&W Commission will set these limits well in advance of the quail season. Gasohol know-how conference Several hundred are expected to attend a statewide Gasohol Know-How Conference Sept. 6 in the Lubbock Memorial Civic Center. The meeting is co-sponsored by the Texas Tech University Center for Energy Research and the Texas Farmers Union (TFU). State Rep. Dan Kubiak of Rockdale will be keynote speaker. Kubiak's support of gasohol production has earned him the name "Mr. Gasohol" in Texas. Inquiries concerning the conference have come from six states, according to Jon Thomas, TFU staff conference coordinator. "We expected interest to be widespread," he said, "but we have had inquiries from as far away as New York and Montana." Gasohol is a mixture of gasoline and ethanol. It usually consists of 90 percent unleaded gasoline and 10 percent ethanol. Ethanol is made from grain but can be made from any product containing cellulose. The conference will begin with registration at 9 a.m. the registration fee is $10, including lunch for participants. Five major facets of gasohol production will be addressed at the conference: ethanol technology; legalities of gasohol; financial assistance; small vs. large-efficient processes, equipment and techniques; and mixture, marketing, storage and use of ethanol products. Following Kubiak's address, rotating sessions will begin, which will allow participants to take part in each session. Victor Ray, director of National Farmers Union Field Services, will make a comprehensive presentation on all stages of modern ethanol production, including a demonstration of a working ethanol glass still. A slide program, "Alcohol Fuels A: A Declaration of Independence for Farmers," will illustrate ethanol production. Discussing legal aspects of gasohol production and marketing will be James Bynum, inspector of the federal Bureau of Tobacco, Alcohol and Firearms, and Lubbock District representatives of the Texas Alcohol Beverages Commission. They will explain procedures for obtaining both federal and state permits as well as answer questions from participants. In reviewing financial assistance a panel representing various agencies will explain processes for obtaining funds. Participating will be Bill Beauchamp, Small Business Administration; L.W. "Bear" Curfman, Economic Development Administration; Marlis Barker, Special Projects, Farmers Home Administration; and Ben T. Haney, Community Services

Rolling Plains quail management program

Bob-white quail have needs, just as domestic livestock do. These needs can be met with proper habitat management. Mortality in quail is very high. About 80% of a given population will be dead in 12 months, with or without hunting. Predators, disease, and starvation will kill most birds throughout the winter. This is why habitat is important to good quail numbers. Quail spend most of their lives within an area that has about 1/4 mile radius. Because quail have such low mobility, it is important that their habitat requirements be in close proximity to each other. Cover should include nesting, loafing, and roosting areas. Nesting is done in clumps of perennial grasses, 8" tall and 12" in diameter. Loafing cover, such as shinnery oak and plum thickets, provide excellent cover and protect birds from predators. Artificial loafing cover can be provided by half cutting mesquite and/or tent shelters. These can be built by, leaning limbs around the standing trees, or leaning limbs against each other in a teepee fashion. Brush piled in a manner so that quail can get under easily will also provide good cover. Night roosting can be any low, sparse vegetation, such as wheat stubble. With these 3 types of cover in the quail's range, populations should be numerous and healthy. A lack of "good quail cover" will cause birds to concentrate and become easy prey to coyotes and other predators. Supplemental feeding will also cause a concentration of the population; enhancing disease and pests. Feeding should only be necessary when snow or ice covers natural foods. The manipulation of native plants is the best and most economical tool we have for supplying additional food. For example, additional food can be supplied by discing strips of an area to stimulate the growth of annual weeds. However, most areas will have sufficient food if cover is provided. Quail numbers will be limited to the amount of food and cover they have. By managing or building cover, quail populations should increase to a natural carrying capacity. Good management will give you good quail. For wildlife planning and management assistance, come by the Soil Conservation Service and attend the wildlife seminar at Clarendon College, September 13th at 8:00 p.m.

No taxi drivers

Don't look for taxi drivers among holders of Ph.D. degrees from The University of Texas. A recent study found a high percentage of the 913 persons who earned doctoral degrees from UT Austin between 1976 and 1978 are engaged in meaningful work. Only nine were still seeking employment when the survey was made, and only two were holding jobs below their training level. Fifty-six per cent of the UT doctoral graduates held teaching or other positions in educational institutions; 27 per cent were in business, industry or government; nine held postdoctoral appointments in large research institutions. Thirty per cent of the Ph.D. holders were working in Texas.

CANCER ANSWER LINE American Cancer Society M. D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Institute

A retired school teacher writes: "I am confused about having mammography. Is it safe for me?"

ANSWERline: Mammography, x-rays of the breasts, are taken for two reasons to either, (1) assist a physician in diagnosis of possible breast cancer in a woman with suspicious symptoms or, (2) to screen women with symptoms for hidden disease. Mammography, which can detect breast cancer in an early stage, is a useful screen for women in the age groups most likely to develop this very common form of cancer. As to your personal situation, if you have symptoms and your physician requests a diagnostic mammogram the benefit of having that diagnosis outweighs any theoretical risk from radiation exposure. If you don't have symptoms but you are over 50, you should discuss mammography with your physician because you are in an age group when breast cancer is more likely to occur. The advantage of early detection make mammography a wise idea.

A high school student writes: "How many people alive today have ever had cancer?"

ANSWERline: There are over three million Americans now living who have had a cancer history. Some two million of these people were diagnosed five years or more ago which means that most of them can be considered cured. For more information ask your local American Cancer Society Unit for a free copy of "1979 Cancer Facts & Figures."

A concerned woman explains: "My husband has suffered from hemorrhoids for five years and now he just tends to ignore bleeding. Could he be ignoring cancer?"

ANSWERline: While hemorrhoids do not cause cancer, people with hemorrhoids contact the Attorney General's Consumer Protection and Antitrust Division in Austin, Houston, Dallas, San Antonio, Lubbock, El Paso, or McAllen.

could have colorectal cancer at the same time. People who are used to hemorrhoids might overlook the significance of rectal bleeding, and in this way risk ignoring a far more serious condition. Only a medical examination can rule out cancer. For this reason, your husband should have a checkup soon. This will ease your worries. If cancer is present you will have done a great deal to protect his health because colorectal cancer is highly curable if detected in an early stage.

A woman in her 50's writes: "In my life I have known three women who have had uterine cancer and each was treated differently. Is this varied approach a trend in cancer treatment?"

ANSWERline: Yes. The term cancer applies to more than 100 different diseases that progress in various ways. Today, thanks to research, there are numerous approaches to treatment tailored to these differences in the disease. The trend in cancer management today is towards individualization of diagnosis and treatment. After cancer is detected it is precisely staged and often a combination of therapies is used. Becoming increasingly popular is the team approach to diagnosis and treatment. This draws on the skills of different specialists. For example, a breast-cancer case may respond best to the combined efforts of a diagnostic radiologist, a pathologist, a surgeon, a plastic surgeon, and a chemotherapist.

Do you have further questions? Call your local unit of the American Cancer Society or call M. D. Anderson Hospital & Tumor Institute's Cancer Information Service, 1-800-392-2040 toll-free in Texas, 792-3245 in the Houston area.

DRIVELINE

Q: When the oil light starts glowing on my dashboard, how long can I continue driving before getting more oil? — O.A., El Paso
A: Stop immediately. Don't drive another minute, unless you want to risk buying a new engine. If the warning light is working correctly, your car has lost oil pressure and is probably out of oil. Turn your engine off and check the oil level with the dipstick. If no level shows, don't drive until you've added oil. A good precaution on long trips is to keep a quart of oil in your trunk. And check your oil regularly, everytime you buy gas.

Notable quotes from insurance company accident reports:
"I was thrown from my car as it left the road. I was later found in a ditch by some cows."
"I thought my window was down, but I found out it was up when I put my hand through it."

OLD WORLD MAGIC IN A SALAD

For a real conversation piece, try serving this Antipasto Mystery Salad as a first course. Mixed salad greens, encircled with radish slices, tomato wedges, Swiss cheese and prosciutto stand up as a molded salad without any gelatin or dressing to bind it. Good Seasons Thick 'n Creamy bleu cheese salad dressing mix prepared with mayonnaise and vinegar is spread over the top of this salad spectacular and lends just the right touch to this authentic Italian recipe.

ANTIPASTO MYSTERY SALAD

- 1/2 pound thinly sliced boiled ham or prosciutto, cut in 2-inch strips
- 1/4 pound thinly sliced Swiss cheese, cut in 2-inch strips
- 2 medium tomatoes, cut in wedges
- 1 cup thinly sliced radishes
- 3 cups shredded salad greens
- Creamy Bleu Cheese Salad Dressing

Line a 1-1/2 quart casserole or saucenpan with strips of wax paper. Arrange about half of the ham and cheese in bowl; then chop remainder. Cut tomato wedges in half. Layer ham, cheese, tomatoes, radishes and salad greens in lined dish. Cover with a damp towel, and chill for 1 hour. Invert on serving platter and top with some of the salad dressing. Serve with remaining dressing. (OR, spread dressing over top and sides of salad.) Garnish with hard-cooked egg wedges, ripe olives and watercress, if desired.

Makes 6 servings.
Creamy Bleu Cheese Salad Dressing. Empty contents of 1 envelope creamy bleu cheese salad dressing mix into bowl. Add 2 tablespoons vinegar. Mix well. Add 3/4 cup plus 1 tablespoon mayonnaise. Mix well. Cover, and refrigerate.

Distorting economy

Some of the protective actions people take as a hedge against inflation can cause even more inflation, says the director of The University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

Dr. Charles Holt says such actions usually are prompted when the price of an essential commodity increases and is expected to continue to increase.

"They buy diamonds, jewelry, gold, silver, and land and real estate to the extent that people distort their holding of economic assets," he says. "They're really distorting the economic activity."
