Emergency Feed Program

The emergency Feed Program is an ongoing program. It is available to all livestock owners who meet program requirements and have suffered a substantial loss due to abnormal conditions. In case of drought, the County Committee is authorized to implement the Emergency Feed Program only after they make a determination that an emergency condition exists and the State Committee concurs.

If you feel you have suffered a 40 percent loss or more in livestock production (grass, hay, feed grain) and you are having to purchase feed above what you normally purchase to maintain your herd, then you might be eligible. There are several factors to consider: (1) Is your grass overstocked, (2) Sold feed grain and hay will count against eligibility, (3) Disaster payments under the feed grain disaster program will count against eligibility and

(6) Stored hay and feed grain will count against eligibility.

Crop Loss

If you lose some acreage of corn, grain sorghum or cotton, remember you MUST file a low yield application BEFORE destroying the crop.

1981 Wheat Program

1. No required set-aside.
2. Must stay within NCA to be eligible for program benefits.

3. 1981 Target price will be at least $3.81 per bushel.

4. 1981 Loan Price will be at least $3.00 per bushel.

5. If conditions change by spring and it become evident by next spring that our wheat supplies will be excessive in 1981, a paid diversion program will be offered to wheat producers.

6. The final decision on a haying and grazing program will also be made before the spring grazing period begins.

Revised schedule for SS representative to Clarendon

The Amarillo Social Security District office is committed to providing the best possible service as economically as possible to all the people in the area it serves.

To conserve energy and reduce costs, visits to Clarendon will be reduced one visit each month beginning with September. A representative will continue serving Clarendon each Thursday except the 3rd Thursday of each month.

The Amarillo District office provides a station-to-station collect telephone number you may use to file for Social Security and Supplemental Security Income payments. This number is 806-376-2231.

There is also available a state wide toll free number 1-800-392-1603 you may use for obtaining general information about Social Security, Supplemental Security Income or Medicare.

You are encouraged to use these numbers as most Social Security business can be done more efficiently and economically by telephone than by traveling to the District Office or to the locations the representatives visits.

Clyde Price Real Estate Broker

Selling is not a new thing for Clyde Price, Jr., who for the past three years has been licensed to list and sell property. Prior to that time Price has been selling insurance, beginning in July, 1956 when he became associated with McCully Insurance.

In 1959, Emmett Simmons purchased the business and Clyde was retained to manage the agency. He has continued to be associated with the business since that time.

Over the past three years Clyde Price has become increasingly active in the Real Estate business. Price has a great fondness for the business, enjoying the role of helping locate the desired property and being of service to persons seeking property. Presently houses with small acreages are in demand. Other listings with Clyde Price are residential, farm, ranch and commercial properties. There is money for financing available to purchase this type property in the Clarendon area. Price's experience in aiding his clients in procuring financing is a definite advantage in relocating or in selling property on the market without undue delay. He is able to do the complete transaction and speed up the sometimes lengthy process.

Price is a Clarendon native, finishing Clarendon public schools, graduating from Clarendon College and continuing his education at WTSU. He spent two years in the U.S. Army with the Signal Corps and returned home to attend night school.

CLYDE I. PRICE

He had a brief stint at helping his father in the Clarendon Press printing business before he entered the insurance business.

Devoted to the principals of Scouting, Price has spent many years working with the Scouts and is now an executive board member of the Adobe Walls Council.

Putting his motto of "Service to Fellow Man" into further practical application, Clyde has served 28 years on the Clarendon Volunteer Fire Department. Four different summers he has attended the Fireman Training School at A&M University. He has received training in firefighting, public relations and arson investigations. Price is proud to join James Trent, Geo. Green and C.W. Bennett as a Clarendon Fire Marshall. Clyde Price, is a licensed Fire, Casualty and Life Insurance Agent at Emmett Simmons Insurance Agency and is also working as a estate broker.

Preliminary census figures in Preliminary estimates of census figures were received for Donley County and its communities and these were the estimated numbers.

Donley County - 3,641 persons in 1970 and 3828 estimated for 1980 with a 5% increase; City of Clarendon - 1974 persons in 1970 and 2102 estimated for 1980 for a 6.5% increase. Howardwick had no prior total but was estimated at 166 persons. Hedley had 439 persons in 1970 and the estimated figure for 1980 is 344 for a 21.6% drop in population. Census workers have already begun working to count the persons who are believed residing at Hedley and who were missed in the preliminary count. The final figure is expected to show as many persons and probably more in the revised count.

This moderate rate of growth in the county population bears out the projected additional number of person which the recent feasibility study had listed in the study.

Fred Russell continuing growing up years

Quitting school at age 13, after a conflict with his teacher and an argument with his father, Fred Russell left home shortly after his mother died and began a life of his own. He worked at farm labor, a meat market and cowboying an occupation he had always wanted to try. His first try (a forced one by drunk cowboys; at bronc riding was both painful and humiliating). Another memorable experience was having a gun pulled on him for no good reason he could see. The gun barrel looked big enough to drive a team and wagon in as he looked into it. The story continues as he waited for whatever might come.

which meant that he was not wanted around any more. Russell worked for Thompson through the winter and the next summer. After the crop was laid by Thompson after giving instructions to Fred to seeing to the ranch in his absence. When Thompson's father came over and gave him a different set of orders (including doing work for him) Russell decided he would take orders from the man who paid him, only. A cowboys life was independent if hard and Fred was Irish and independent so he did his work, packed his clothes in a bundle from his trunk and left.

He owned his own horse and he got a job on the YOU Ranch, a spread of 50 or 60 acres, for $20 a month. They worked six or eight men and were getting ready to have a round-up in two or three weeks. At round-up time Emmett Thompson came over to help in the manner of exchanging work common to ranchers. Thompson asked Russell why he quit while he was away. When he heard the story he said he did not blame him.

During his time on the YOU Fred remembers the coldest physical experience of his life. His duty was to feed the cattle on the range. CLARENDON PRESS and the Donley County Leader. To do this he fed cake from three cake houses spaced around the edge of the ranch. At each cake house he fed five or six 100 pound sacks of cake and then went on to the next one. It was about 40 or 45 miles around this route and took from before daylight until after dark to complete the trip. He had to make this route every other day and it took a good horse to get it done.

On this particularly cold day Russell left early, the boss was gone, and he went without taking a lunch with him. At the first cake house, located on a high hill, there were no cattle waiting for him. This was unusual. He went to the edge of a deep canyon that ran near to the cake house and looked down to see the cattle. "I called them and they would come to the top of the canyon and then go back out of the cold wind," Russell said. He reloaded his horse to have feed so he loaded the cake a 100 pound sack at a time on his horse and led the horse down the trail into the canyon about 200 yards scattered it and made enough trips to feed the usual amount. The next stop was about eight or ten miles away and was on level ground. There was no trouble there and after emptying the sacks he made for the last stop another some nine miles away, before he headed into the cold wind and snow going northeast to the ranch house.

There was one gate to open and from that point he headed directly into the 11 degree below zero wind and snow and made for the corrals. "When I got to the corrals two of the boys were catching their horses to come looking for me," Fred said, "and when I tried to get off my horse I fell to the ground. By the time they got to me I had gotten up but they helped me to the house. I could barely walk," he went on, "My feet, hands, ears and nose were frozen. They bathed me in cold water and for several days I didn't work." When the boss asked him why he did not turn around and come back to the ranch, Russell explained that when he left the wind was at his back and he could follow the canyon part of the way and that helped some. "I told the boss", Fred continued, "if those old cows ever needed cake it was that day. All the other boys did turn around and come back. We had gotten about 200 horned cows from Arizona some two months earlier and we had dehorned them. About 50 or 60 of them died and I didn't lose a one of my cows," he added with considerable pride.

He left that job behind when he was asked to do the missing freighter's job of milking the cow one night about 10 o'clock. The boss was drunk a lot and was in his cups at the time and when Fred objected to milking at 10 p.m. and said he had not been told to do the milking he knew there would be trouble. Russell was all saddled up when the boss told him he was fired. "You are a ---- liar," Fred told him, "I just quit". There developed a cuss fight, he remembers, before he left for the RO Ranch where he got a job.

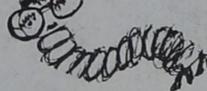

Entertainment for the most part was what you made for yourself and the kind of fun the cowboys indulged in was pretty rough some times. Rob Harlan and Fred Russell got a big laugh out of the incident when they put a short stick under the tail of a spooky horse owned by Everett Watkins, who was enroute to Amarillo for an evening of fun. After the unseating they helped him on the mean critter to speed him on his way. Another time Fred and his best friend, Cleo Emerson, had a real donkeybrook over chewing tobacco once.

On a days job away from the ranch house, Emerson discovered that he did not bring enough chewing tobacco to last him all day. "I had a chunk so big it made me ride sideways," Fred said, "I just thought how funny it would be to make him do without all day. I pretended I had lost mine and he shared his with me saying, 'We will chew it as long as it will last'. About three quarters of a mile from the farm and corrals I got my tobacco out and took a chew. At the time I thought my horse was faster than Cleo's. After he had chewed cedar bark, limbs off trees and worried through the day without much tobacco he was really mad." Fred chuckled, "I got about 15 feet ahead of him when he roped me, got me down, took my tobacco away from me picked up a handful of sand and poured it in my face. I was so tickled I couldn't put up much of a fight." Russell added, "He wouldn't let me get back on my horse, but drove him on and made me walk. The boys saw us coming, with me walking and by the time we got to the corral they were all looking over the fence to see what was going on."

Bookworm

When you think of the Gabie Betts Burton Memorial Library, you think of books or cassette tapes. There are other sources of reading enjoyment available that you might forget to check out. That source is the periodicals or magazines available to check out and read or to read in the library. Periodicals are checked out just like a book would be checked to you. It is yours to take home for two weeks and enjoy at your leisure in your favorite magazine reading place. If the magazine seems slightly worn when you check it out, that is because it was donated to the library after someone had read it at home. There just isn't money to spend on magazine subscriptions yet, but the city library sure does welcome these donations.

In fact, Mrs. Justice remarked that if someone wanted to make it a Christmas gift, they might donate a new subscription of their favorite magazine to the library. Some types of magazines people check out frequently would be issues of Moody, McCall, Newsweek, Ladies Home Journal, Texas Monthly, Goodhousekeeping and Red Book. Magazines for youth and teenagers are sadly lacking. Ranger Rick, an outstanding outdoor wildlife magazine for children is donated currently. Teen is the only teenage magazine available. Requests have been made to carry home your selection, free to you, as the library's way of saying "Thanks". Another item in the library frequently overlooked, is newspapers. Of course, the city library doesn't have many papers, in fact, it only has two. But, when they move to the new building, there will be a newspaper rack and hopefully, someone will bring their paper into the library for the public to read. Think about donating those magazines and newspapers to the library the next time you look around and see the stacks of periodicals you accumulate. Don't throw out a good magazine or daily paper simply because you've read it, bring it on down to the library, the one in the old court house... for now.

Permanent employment on the ranches was for just a few of the men. The young fellows were hired for the busy times and when there was little to do the ranches could not afford to keep so many men on the payroll. There were three busy times on the big ranches; feeding in the winter, branding in the summer and shipping in the fall. The young ones were 'extra hands'. To be continued.

CONTINENTAL SINGERS and Orchestra

Tamra Day returns from tour

Tamra Day, the daughter of Fred Day, recently returned to Clarendon from her summer tour with the Continental Singers. Tamra and the group of Continental Singers that she had been touring with since the first week of June, crossed the United States twice and also toured in Great Britain, Scotland, Wales, Ireland and Holland.

When asked about the places she had visited, Tamra stated that all of the countries were fantastic, but that the weather was very cold, especially in Holland. She also stated that it rained every day. However, Tamra said that the people she met were really wonderful, and that she would gladly tour with the Continental Singers again, even though it was the hardest work she had ever done.

Since the singers stayed in homes, rather than motels, they had the opportunity to meet and get acquainted with many more people than most tour groups. Tamra said that the reception they received was usually very enthusiastic, but particularly so in the foreign countries.

She stated that they were able to make good contact with the people through their music.

The Continental Singers conduct workshop services, usually one each night, but sometimes as many as three in one day. Their schedule is a grueling, but rewarding one. Although each service is identical in music performed and choreography, each one is also different in that it is a worship service, not just a concert.

Tamra is a graduate of Clarendon High School and Clarendon Junior College and is presently enrolled at Hardin Simmons University in Abilene, Texas. She is well known locally for her singing talent.

The Labor Day weekend didn't bring the big crowds expected at the lake. From over hearing some of the comments of boaters on the lake, the majority of people in the panhandle area chose the cool mountains for their "before school fling". They decided that the lake would be too crowded, so all of the thundering crowds crammed their campers and pickups and picnic baskets into the nearest mountain for a quiet weekend away. These seekers of the quiet may have been disappointed because there were only about 1000 people at the Lake this weekend.

The white bass are getting cooled down and ready to snap a line. Bill Watson caught a 6 1/2 lb black bass, Flip Breedlove caught 3 or 4 good sized bass. A 10 lb blue and an 8 lb channel cat were reported caught last week. A lady caught a 12 lb Northern Pike this past weekend, once again proving that it is the women who seem to be better Pike catchers.

A gentle reminder to those frustrated dove hunters, there is positively, absolutely, beyond any shadow of a doubt NO, NONE, NADA, NO HUNTING of dove or quail on Greenbelt Lake property. Try to find your own dove heaven to hunt, but the game warden, Gary Hunt and Grandpa Welty at the lake will be glad to relieve you of your weapon and money if caught hunting dove at the lake.

The lake is incredibly low this week. It is so bad that the boat dock has grown legs and has to wade out deeper each week just to keep afloat. The house boats are going to have to pay tax as a house if they don't get afloat again and the fish are taking walks up the creeks.

Wayne Brister is in St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo where he has recently undergone a surgery for an aneurism. He is reported as doing fine, his only difficulty being that he can't bait his hook like he used to.

There is great things in store for the scenic lake in a few weeks. The famous televised Match Fishing is coming to Greenbelt! A pro fisherman from Conroe will come down here to compete with one of our local bass fishermen in the traditional match fishing tournament. There will be more on this later.

Right now, however, those blue gill are going to get a run for their money. There are huge long stringers of these rascals being pulled out and my line is ready!

To carry out this year's pirate theme, a costume contest will be held for junior 4-H members. The big treasure chest of goodies for everyone will be at the door.

Anyone interested in entering the bake show or joining 4-H may call Lesli Garnett 874-2141.

There will be a Pee Wee division for children 8 years and under.

Over the last three years, the medical care component of the Consumer Price Index (CPI) has held steady in the face of rising prices throughout the economy. At 10.1 percent for 1979, medical care has been outstripped by energy (34.7), housing (15.8) and transportation (18.2) indexes as well as the "all items" index of the CPI, which was 13.3 percent. Physicians' services rose by 9.4 percent.

Texas medical schools produced more than 800 physicians in 1979, which is almost double the figure of 10 years ago. Texas licensed more than 2,500 new doctors in 1979.

Howardwick partyline

By NORMA CORGILL

Haley Hamilton was honored with a surprise party for her 3rd birthday this past weekend at the Howardwick pool. In attendance were her great grandparents Mr. and Mrs. T.J. Cherry from Hedley. Maternal grandparents Clarence and Carylton Hamilton of Clarendon, her aunt Carol Bryant, Belinda and Brett of Clarendon, her uncle Doug Cherry and Lisa of Amarillo along with Haley's parents and brother B.J.

After swimming, everyone went to Haley's for BBQ hamburgers and gift opening which is always the good part.

Haley received many nice gifts. Haley was presented with a circus cake, holding marshmallow giraffes, elephants and bears. Everyone had ice cream.

The Cherry's had their family reunion recently at the Community building, The T.J. Cherry's and their five grown sons and daughters present. Many grand children and great grandchildren were missed. But there were over 75 present during all three days. Two of Mrs. T.J. Cherry's sisters were present also.

Mr. and Mrs. Melville Mills and Sharon drove down to Wichita Falls Sunday, had dinner with Ruth's sister Mrs. Ted Jerine and her niece Frances Jeme and Keethis other sister Mrs. Ed Edsell. They also visited Mel's brother and sister-in-law Olen and Eunice Mills on the way home they stopped for supper at Henry's steak house in Quanah.

Visiting with Norma Corgill this weekend a son W.L. Corgill, of Dallas.

Henry Corgill, of Childress Uncle of Jim, Thelma and Norma Corgill passed away Sunday morning funeral services were Tuesday at 2 p.m. Burial will be in the Childress cemetery.

THE SEARCH GOES ON

The search for a drug or miracle cure that will prolong life continues. To grow old yet stay young physically and mentally would certainly be wonderful.

A recently popular anti-aging preparation that has been in the news is Gerovital. Is this a new medicine? Hardly. Gerovital became popular when Dr. Anna Aslan first used the compound in Burcharest, Rumania in 1949.

What is Gerovital? It is simply procaine hydrochloride . . . the local anesthetic frequently used by dentists to numb the gums before dental procedures. Physicians frequently inject procaine hydrochloride (or similar materials) beneath the skin before doing minor surgery for warts, cysts, and small tumors.

Dr. Aslan has claimed that Gerovital, taken in capsules by mouth is beneficial in rheumatoid arthritis, Parkinsonism, and inflammatory conditions of the spine. Even today, as many as 20,000 people flock to Dr. Aslan's clinic for treatments (and at age 83 this physician is still active!).

Most British and American medical authorities reject Dr. Aslan's claims for the benefits of procaine taken by mouth. Why? There are no controlled studies that substantiate her claims. In other words, her claims are based almost entirely on testimonials of users.

Meanwhile, the search goes on for the fountain of youth. That search will certainly include the area of medicines.

Texas Heritage Project kickoff

The Texas Heritage Project, a statewide educational and patriotic program designed to strengthen a spirit of pride in and renewed patriotism for all Texans, was launched during official ceremonies this week at the State Capitol.

This dynamic program is a cooperative endeavor of the Texas Historical Foundation, a non-profit group formed to preserve, promote and protect the heritage of Texas, and the Texas Historical Commission, the state preservation agency. Funds were made possible by a grant from the Moody Foundation of Galveston.

Governor William P. Clements, Jr. endorsed the Texas Heritage Project, "it is one of the finest programs to be started in Texas in many years. An emphasis on the rededication and celebration of Texas patriotism is what the people of Texas need to rekindle the unique spirit of Texas. I particularly commend the increased emphasis that is being placed on future observances of Texas patriotic days."

To kick off this patriotic rededication, Governor Clements issued a proclamation designating September 1-7 Texas Navy Week and called upon all Texans to celebrate the important role that the Navies of Texas played in achieving our freedom.

Reception held by LVNA

To all parents

I'll lend you for a little time a child of mine. He said, For you to have the while he lives and mourn for when he's dead.

He may be six or seven, or twenty-two or three.

But will you, till I call him back, take care of him for me? He'll bring his charms to gladden you, and shall his stay be brief

You'll have his lovely memories as sloace for your grief.

I cannot promise he will stay, since all from earth return.

But there are lessons taught, down there I want this child to learn

I've looked the wide world over in search for teachers true.

And from the throngs that crowd life's lanes, I have selected you.

Now will you give him all your love, nor think the labor vain.--

Nor hate me when I come to call to take him back again?

I fancied that I heard them say: "Dear Lord, Thy will be done--

For all the joy Thy child shall bring, the risk of grief we'll run.

We'll shelter him with tenderness, we'll love him while we may.

And for the happiness we've known forever grateful stay:--

But should the angels call for him much sooner than we've planned,

We'll brave the bitter grief that comes and try to understand."

Skyfire new star show at Discovery Center

Awesome and mysterious lights that appear in the sky will be recreated on the planetarium dome of Amarillo's Don Harrington Discovery Center in a spectacular show, opening September 6/7, 1980.

The show, called "SKYFIRE", illustrates and explains the amazing variety of natural lights that can be seen in day and night skies. "SKYFIRE" will be presented at the Discovery Center weekends at 8:00 p.m. on Saturdays and 3:00 p.m. on Sundays.

Created by the Strassenburgh Planetarium at Rochester, N.Y., "SKYFIRE" explores both common and rare phenomena that occur in the earth's atmosphere and in space. Some of the skyfires shown can be seen with the unaided eye, under the right conditions: rainbows, the northern lights, lightning that travels in a ball, and the sun disappearing in a green flash.

Other scenes are of events within our solar system, such as eclipses, meteor showers, and flares on the sun. And some of the fires in the sky come from deep in space, where stars explode into glowing clouds of gas and galaxies of a billion suns rotate like gigantic pin-wheels.

Using the planetarium dome of the Discovery Center and computer-controlled projection equipment, "SKYFIRE" can show certain effects as they appear to an observer on earth or reveal dramatic close-ups of objects out in space. The narration for the show presents the scientific explanation for the lights in terms that are easily understood.

At about six months, Baby may want to start drinking from a cup. Baby learns to coordinate the muscles at that age.

These first attempts to drink from a cup probably will wind up with more spills than swallows! So, here are some training tips from Gerber:

- Use a special, small training cup with a lid and a special, raised opening from which Baby drinks.

- Fill cup with only a small amount at first.

- Let Baby practice drinking a favorite liquid. One of the Gerber fruit juices would be an excellent choice.

Most of all, be sure to give lots of encouragement!

LITTLE KNOWN FACTS
When traveling with a baby, it's often a good idea to bring along a couple of plastic tablecloths for covering beds and carpets on which the baby may sleep, crawl, sit or be changed.

A good pramsuit can be a big boon for the traveling baby. One from Mothercare, retailing specialists for mothers-to-be, babies and children under five zips up the front for easy dressing and has mitten cuffs for warmer hands.

It's even fun to wear in a rocking chair, while mother watches nearby. Parents should never leave an infant alone in a rocker.

A complete line of practical clothes for children and infants can be found at Mothercare stores.

Proposed Amendments to the constitution

Proposed amendments
The last five of nine proposed amendments to the constitution, to be voted on in November will follow.

Amendment No. 5 BUDGET EXECUTION
A constitutional amendment authorizing the legislature to grant budget execution powers to the governor, subject to approval by a budget execution committee. FOR:

1. Since the Legislature meets every two years in regular session, there is a need for more budget execution authority vested in an elective office.

2. With the approval of a budget execution committee, the chief executive could closely monitor agency expenditures and insure accountability of tax dollars. AGAINST:

1. Additional controls on spending are not needed in Texas as the citizens' tax burden is among the lowest in the country.

2. Such authority would allow a free-spending governor the ability to increase expenditures, just as a frugal one could decrease them.

3. Agencies are managed by appointed or elected boards that are accountable to the people now; there is no need to change a system that is considered one of the best in the country.

Amendment No. 6 REMOVAL OF CERTAIN APPOINTED OFFICIALS

Proposing a constitutional amendment to authorize the governor to remove appointed officials with the advice and consent of the senate; and allowing the governor to call a special session of the senate for this. FOR:

1. Allowing the governor to remove appointed officers of the State gives the governor the ability to insure the promotion of his/her policies.

2. This ability would make board members and other appointees more accountable to the needs of an elected official. AGAINST:

1. Appointees should have the ability to make independent judgments concerning the operations of their agencies, boards, and offices.

2. Such an added governing power would be a move away from control by the Legislature, which represents citizens at a district level.

3. The governor has no need for day-to-day control over appointed officers of the State.

Amendment No. 7 COUNTY ROAD WORK ON PRIVATE ROADS

Proposing a constitutional amendment relating to the authority of a county to perform private road work. FOR:

1. It is unfeasible to hire a private firm to perform private road work in many remote areas of Texas when the county can do the same at a reasonable charge.

2. Small counties must maintain expensive road construction and maintenance equipment even though not required on a full-time basis. Part of their investment could be regained with the revenue received from private road work. AGAINST:

1. Provisions of the Texas Constitution prohibits the use of public funds for private purposes and public funds would be squandered by this amendment.

2. Counties would be in direct competition with private construction.

Amendment No. 8 JURISDICTION AND AUTHORITY OF THE COURT OF CIVIL APPEALS

A constitutional amendment to change the names of the courts of civil appeals and the names and qualifications of the justices of the supreme court and to prescribe the jurisdiction and authority of the appellate court. FOR:

1. It is unrealistic to expect only one criminal appellate court in Texas to administer criminal justice that is needed speedily and is a deterrent to crime.

2. The heavy workload of appeals in criminal cases that is presently handled by one court of criminal appeals would be shared by the 14 regional courts of appeal.

3. Appellate courts with jurisdiction in civil and criminal matters may attract and develop better judges that have benefitted from experience with a variety of legal problems.

4. This amendment would clarify such questions as qualifications of a justice of the supreme court and a vacancy in the office of chief justice. AGAINST:

1. Our present system is the most efficient system to achieve criminal justice.

2. The addition of a large number of criminal cases to the civil caseload of the civil appeals courts will create another caseload problem.

Amendment No. 9 CONVERSION OF MARI-

TAL COMMUNITY PROPERTY INTO SEPARATE PROPERTY

Proposing a constitutional amendment relating to the conversion of marital community property into separate property. FOR:

1. A system for marital property should provide general rules for determining rights and allow for persons to make alternative property arrangements in their best interest.

2. Benefits derived from property should be owned by the spouse who owns the property.

3. The amendment would reduce the complexity of the process of converting community property to separate property. AGAINST:

1. The present community property system has served the best interest of the citizens of Texas.

2. The community property system, as permitted by the amendment, could foster the creation of an entirely different way of settling property matters.

Out of This Work Pork Chops

Put in skillet how ever many pork chops you want to eat. Brown them in hot grease (you may want to bake them without frying, in which case, simply arrange them in a skillet unbrowned) salt and pepper to taste cover with sweet milk put in oven to bake on medium temperature until done and most of the milk is evaporated.

By KATIE DVORAK

Jeanice Weatherly has a cupboard full of recipes from friends around the Panhandle. She collects cook books, recipes and friends with the same vigor and enthusiasm that she gives to her work.

Hungarian Noodles from the "Square House Museum Cook Book"

1lb ground beef
1 C chopped onion
2 C diced celery
1/4 C chopped green pepper
6 oz (3C) noodles.. any kind to suit your fancy
3 C tomato juice
2 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
1 tsp salt
dash pepper
1 pkg Sour Cream Sauce Mix
1 3 oz can mushrooms (optional)

Brown meat, add onions, celery, green peppers. Cook until tender. Add noodles juice and seasonings. Add enough more liquid to keep the noodles from sticking. Cook and simmer 25-30 minutes until noodles are tender. Blend in sauce mix, mixed in milk as directed add mushrooms.

Jeanice has found that she needs to reduce the heat and add a little more liquid. She says that it freezes beautifully if you leave out the mushrooms and sour cream add them when you cook it.

Jeanice and Bill have a daughter, Ann and Oran Burton are swine breeders in gruver. Jan and Lacey Lee Noble raise pigs on their farm and the children show them in 4-H. So, with such a family background in pork, it is natural that Jeanice have a good pork chop recipe.

Beef in Casserole

1 lb ground beef
2 tsp salt
1 tsp sugar
1 16 oz canned tomatoes
1 8 oz can tomato sauce
2 clove garlic, crushed
pepper to taste
1 8 oz package thin egg noodle
1 C sour cream
1 3 oz package cream cheese
6 green onion chopped with some of the tops
1 C cheddar cheese, grated

Combine and simmer 5-10 minutes: first 7 ingredients. Cook noodles and drain. Add to mix of sour cream, cream cheese and chopped onion. Arrange in layers in greased casserole. Meat mix, noodle mix and grated cheese. Heat until bubbling, about 35 minutes at 350 degrees. Makes 8 servings. Can re-heat or freeze.

Jeanice's sister-in-law, Mrs. C.W. Bennet, suggests this way to cook a steak.

Rub steak with a clove of garlic, then brown in very hot oil. Then put it on a broiler rack. When steak is browned, season with salt and pepper. Remove steak to hot platter. Put 3 Tbs coffee (in liquid form) in fry pan, and pour over the steak.

Stuffed Manicotti

Meat Sauce
1 lb ground beef
1/4 C olive oil
1/2 C chopped onions
1 clove garlic minced
2 oz can tomato paste
2 C water
2 Tbs chopped parsley
4 tsp basil
6 oz manicotta
Cheese Sauce
2 tsp oregano
salt and pepper
1 tsp thyme
1 tsp marjoram
1/2 lb ricotta cheese
3/4 C grated parmesan cheese
1 Tbs chopped parsley

Brown meat lightly in oil and add next 7 ingredients the meat sauce, 1/2 tsp salt and dash pepper. Simmer uncovered 45 minutes stirring occasionally.

Combine the next 6 ingredients the cheese sauce, add salt and pepper to taste. Cook manicotti, drain, rinse in cold water. Stuff with cheese mix. Pour 1/2 tomato sauce into 11x7x1 1/2 baking dish. Arrange stuffed manicotti in sauce, overlapping slightly. Add remaining sauce. Sprinkle with romano cheese. Bake at 350 degrees for 25-30 minutes.

investor's advisory
By Peter Costiglio

Electric Utilities: Brighter Question: What factors should I consider when deciding whether to invest in electric utilities?

Electric utilities are expected to perform better this year than last.

Answer: Recent industry trends should reverse last year's poor market performance. Experts at the investment firm of Bache Halsey Stuart Shields expect the declines in interest and inflation rates to improve earnings - which should improve even further as more state regulatory commissions allow for automatic price adjustments based on higher costs for fuel and replacing equipment. Additionally, most utilities regard maintaining or raising dividends as a top priority during a recession. Advising selectivity, Bache suggests looking for a favorable regulatory environment, moderate capital needs and a strong cash flow.

MR. AND MRS. DOYLE HALL

Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Hall celebrated their 25th anniversary

The children of Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Hall honored their parents with a reception in celebration of their 25th wedding anniversary. The occasion was held in the fellowship hall of the Calvary Baptist Church on Sunday, August 24th from 2:00 to 5:00 p.m.

A Moment for Meditation

By INEZ G. LAWRENCE

"The God of hope fill you with all joy and peace in believing." Rom. 15:13

"I hope we get to go to the mountains this year," I said to my spouse during the recent heat wave. Almost immediately I started trying to bring it to pass. The very words had set in motion an effort to accomplish the wish. Soon we had arranged a short visit later in the fall. We believe it is going to happen. We have hope.

The GOD OF HOPE is a beautiful title. It suggests reliance and fulfillment of our deepest desires. These needs are more success in a job or profession. They penetrate below our conscious level to a yearning we often cannot express.

Then hope bubbles up and expectancy flows to us from the God of hope as we believe and trust Him. "Anything is possible if you believe," Jesus said Along with that thought comes joy and peace in the knowledge that good things are ahead for us.

It is a healthy thing to be optimistic. When we are, our minds and bodies operate in harmony to accomplish our goals. There is no conflict within us to slow us down. Our minds work around the difficulties, then our bodies carry out the plan. Dr. Norman Vincent Peale calls this "The Power of Positive Thinking." I call it The Beauty of Believing. Tuning in to the God of Hope is the basis for both titles. To have access to that type of power is a thrilling possibility and it is available to anyone anywhere.

Phillip Moreman goes on 4-H tour to Washington D.C.

Phil Moreman, 18 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack A. Moreman attended the 1980 National 4-H Citizenship Short Course and Heritage Tour in Washington, D.C. The trip is put on by the National 4-H council. It is an annual event which involves 4-H'ers from all the states in the United States. Texas sent 4-H'ers on two different trips, one in June and another in July. Phil was a delegate on the July trip which was from July 29 through August 12, 1980. They traveled from Dallas on chartered buses and had over night stops in Jackson, Miss., Chattanooga, Tenn. and Petersburg, Va. While in Washington they were housed at the National 4-H center. They attended workshops, leadership labs, and had many speakers come and talk on citizenship and leadership in communities.

The highlights of the trip were the tour's of Washington. Some of the many places they visited were the Smithsonian Institution, Capital Hill, the Lincoln, Washington and Jefferson Memorials, Arlington Cemetery etc. They saw the musical Joseph Coat at Ford Theater and also a military show put on by Gen. John Pershing "Old Guard" at Jefferson Memorial.

On the return trip they made overnight stops in Kingsport, Tenn., Nashville, Tenn., and Conway, Ark. before arriving back in Dallas. Phil was one of 66 4-H'ers on the trip and he said that not only was it educational but it was a special trip as for getting to know others from Texas and all the other states.
