but a fair sample of how justice is meted out to the rich, thieves of the deepest dye though they be. He is known as "Johnny Johnson," the prince of bank wreckers, and he is serving a ten years sentence "at hard labor;" that is, a sentence, but the fact appears to be that Johnny is having a royal good time, such as most bankers enjoy when they are imprisoned these days. A telegram states that he recently accompanied a friend to the train, passing the prison guard with a nod as he walked out; that he visited the theater in company with another friend; that he remained over night as a distinguished guest; that he does not wear the prison garb, and that frequently he is mistaken for an official of the prison by visitors, there being no distinguishing mark, and that he has all that money can buy.

SENATOR JONES, chairman of the many-colored democracy, is about to go back on Bryan, as might have been expected. In fact, all the party leaders care nothing for silver, or any other issue, so long as it cannot be used to foist themselves into power. The news comes from Washington that Croker, who is a fit match for Brice and Hanna, is engaged in an attempt to keep "Buck" Hinrichsen, of Illinois, out of the chairmanship of the democratic congressional committee, and put some man in who will be less favorable to the political fortunes of Bryan. Hinrichsen has been the candidate of the ultra free silver men in congress for the chairmanship, and until a day or two ago, it was supposed that he had enough votes to elect. Hinrichsen's friends claim to have discovered that Senator Jones of Arkansas has been secretly working to defeat their candidate. The interest in this for the democrats of the house lies in the apparent existence of an understanding between Croker and old-time leaders like Jones, Richardson and Faulkner with the purpose of making the campaign in 1900 on more conservative lines than Bryan and his friends would like.

The output of coal at Shaft No. 1 at this place for the year just closed was 457,000 tons, which is largely in excess of the output of any other mine in the Indian Territory. The bulk of this coal was sold in Texas and Oklahoma.—Hartsborne Sun.

No Fusion.

Geo. F. Washburn, of Boston, says: "The silverites can trust our men when they cannot trust each other; therefore, if they wish to endorse our candidates, it is their privilege to do so, but let it be understood that henceforth populists will confine their support to their own candidates. A heroic policy like this would inspire confidence and thrill and unite our party more than to hold a nominating convention. It would serve to bury animosities and arouse action; it would penetrate every district, arouse every sleeper, and call to activity every worker."

Colonel Norton, of Chicago, states that he is willing "to go to the extent of entering into a sacred and solemn pledge that we will never under any circumstances, at any time, for any purpose, take part in, or sanction fusion with either the old parties, except under the name, banner, and leadership of the populist party."

The Fort Worth Depot.

The new Union depot at Fort Worth will occupy the site of the old one that was destroyed by fire. The plan agreed on puts the building on a level with the tracks. It will be built of brick with stone trimmings, and will be two stories high. It will be composed of two wings, one extending east and west and the other north and south, and at the corner where they come together a tower will be built.

The depot will have two fronts, west and south. There will be an entrance at the rear, to which vehicles can drive.

On the lower floor will be the waiting rooms, situated at and near the main corner of the building. The principal waiting room—for white people—will be 100 by 30 feet in size. On one end of this will be the waiting room for negroes, and on the other a private waiting room for ladies, with toilet rooms, etc. On this floor will be also offices for the three express companies, news companies, ticket office, kitchen, dining room, etc. The upper floor will be divided into offices and rooms for rent. They will probably be occupied by the Texas and Pacific as division headquarters.

The depot will be so constructed that no vehicle or passenger will be allowed to cross the tracks in going to or from it. They will approach from the north on Front street beneath the track as formerly. Only the street will be sixty feet wide, with 10-foot walkways on either side, and strongly paved. The overhead structure supporting the tracks will be supported in the center by a stone pillar, with similar pillars on the sides.

The main waiting room will open from west and south. On the west side there will be five double tracks, which can only be reached by passengers through a subway that will run beneath the tracks. To this a stairway will descend from the main waiting room, and a stairway will ascend at each set of tracks. There will be a similar arrangement on the south side of the building where the Texas and Pacific tracks will lie.

The estimated cost of the building is $85,000. The cost of the subways, tracks, site, etc., will make an additional cost of from $70,000 to $85,000, making the total cost over $150,000.

Now Don't Get Green-Eyed.

The newspapers in Donley are agitating the building of a gin and mill at Clarendon and they are using the figures of Hall county's cotton crop to estimate theirs by. They may fish our deductions, they can't get our crop, nor they can't grow so much—they have too many hills in Donley.—Hail Co. News.

Fort Smith Storm-Swept.

FORT SMITH, Ark., Jan. 12.—At least fifty lives were lost as the result of a tornado which swept through a portion of this place, the largest town on the Indian territory border, 290 miles due south of Kansas City, last night at 11:15 o'clock. Many people are missing, and it is feared that the death list will prove to be at least 100. Dozens were injured. Many houses were wrecked, and hundreds are without food or shelter from the inclement weather. The property losses aggregate ½ million dollars.

The debris of many of the buildings which were in the lodging house district caught fire, and those unfortunates who were not at once extricated alive perished by being burned or smothered to death. Add to the fact that many of the people in the outside district were killed in the crash of the falling residences and it will be seen why the list of the dead rolled up so rapidly.

A heavy rain followed the tornado, but the fire department was called out, and in less than thirty minutes Garrison avenue, especially in the vicinity of the wreck, was crowded with people and willing hands and inquiring friends were ready to render all the aid that the emergency required. Men and women clad in their night clothes were seeking shelter and calling for aid for some absent member of the family or friend who failed to escape from the wreckage of the buildings in which they had been living. Men, women and children sought refuge in O'Keefe's saloon.

The greatest loss was between Eighth street and the Catholic church, not a building being left standing.

There is no truth in the telegraphic reports of an Indian uprising, as appear on our inside pages. Late information is to the effect that the Indians have attempted no violence at any point, and are quieting down. The false stories of the uprising were started by members of the mob to draw attention from their own crime. Governor Barnes of Oklahoma received from W. J. Lackey, prosecuting attorney of Pottawatomie county, a detailed account of the murder of Mrs. Leard and the burning of the Indians. It is definitely known that the burning took place in Oklahoma, the spot being near Maude and about one fourth of a mile from the Seminole line. The message from the prosecuting attorney says: "The present excitement about the Indians being on the warpath is without foundation and no danger exists. Several officers have just come from Maude and say that not a house has been burned or a person injured. The man who started the story is in the Tecumseh jail."

Jackson Cotton Seed Free.

The new variety of cotton seed known as Jackson's Lintless Cotton, which yields from 4 to 6 bales per acre, the plants growing 6 to 9 feet high, having no limbs, the stems growing out directly from the stalk, is now all the rage. The plants are grown 8 inches apart in rows 3 feet apart and 80 bolls to the stalk is common. The lint is long and fleecy and sold this season at 10 cents per pound. The originator started with 59 stalks in 1895 and this year had 6 acres yielding 25 bales besides the seeds which commanded $200 per bushel.

The People's Party Paper, Atlanta, Ga., the leading populist weekly in the country, has secured a lot of the genuine seed, and is giving away 100 seeds to every new subscriber or renewal sending in one dollar for that paper for 1898. The seeds alone retail at one dollar and this offer will give every populist cotton grower an opportunity to try for himself this new variety without expense, the paper is worth more than the price paid. Soon Be No Indian Territory.

There is said to be a move on foot to colonize the Choctaw and Chickasaws in Mexico. They realize that Uncle Sam's government will soon be substituted for their own where they now are, and if the scheme of two Kansas real estate men is carried out to purchase 4½ million acres of land for them below El Paso there will be an Indian exodus of some 10,000. Ten delegates of the above tribes recently inspected the land and the agents say they were well pleased, more especially with the climate in which they hope to find an asylum from the diseases which threaten to decimate their people.

Including the Mexican drivers and guides, party comprised nineteen persons. Of these two were members of the Indian legislature, one was a judge of the Indian court, one a son of ex-Governor Thompson of the territory and another, was the son of "Captain" Lock, one of the wealthiest and most influential Indians in the Southwest.

Twelve days were spent in looking over the land. The Indians were more than pleased with it. They found the soil of the river bottom to be suitable for cultivation, while that farther toward the interior, among the ridges near the foot of the Apache range, is unequalled for grazing purposes. The country is dotted all over with living springs, yielding an inexhaustible supply of pure water.

Among the Choctaws and Chickasaws there has been for years an especially high rate of mortality on account of fevers and pulmonary diseases. They have been dying off so rapidly that the survivors feared the tribes would soon become extinct. This is largely accountable for their restlessness. Then, they are not altogether satisfied with the forthcoming apportionment of their lands by Congress. They fear this will tend to break up their tribes and rob them of their last vestige of tribal government. So, during the last few months, they have been casting about for fresh hunting grounds where they can make their own laws and punish their own criminals. Both tribes are rich and the government owes them money. With this they will probably buy the 4½ million acre tract and become Mexican citizens.

General W. R. Hardy, secretary and treasurer of the Kaw tribe of Indians, 85 years old who has been with his tribe since the time it lived along the Kaw river and is the oldest chief of his tribe and probably of any of the tribes, believes that the roving disposition of the Indians will remain with them no matter how well educated they may become. General Hardy, who is a quarter-blood, is an uncle of Congressman Charles Curtis. He says it is very probable that they will emigrate to Mexico.

Inquiry at the office of a leading loan agency at Dallas discloses that during the last year it has collected virtually all of the interest due it from loans upon Texas farms, and that it has not in a single instance been forced to foreclose a farm mortgage to secure either interest or principal. Its collections have been better at Dallas than at its branch offices in Missouri and Iowa. This tells something of what the Texas farmer is doing, and is a prophecy of what he could do if prices were better, and the drain upon him for supplies, which he should produce himself, were reduced to the minimum.—Farm & Ranch.

It now transpires that nearly every fusionist either received an absolute bribe or a promise of some sort of political preference at the hands of the democrats. Rozelle of Missouri was given a fat office and $1,000 in money at the hands of the Missouri democracy. Did pretty well for a "measly thirder."—Cooper Cause Review.

DOCTORS are not overcome with timidity when putting in claims for bodily injury to themselves. Dr. D. T. Morgan, of Dallas, has sued the Pullman Car company for $25,000 damages, alleging that while occupying a berth in a Pullman sleeper from San Antonio to Dallas he was bitten by a centipede and permanently disabled. We opine the $25,000, if secured, will prove a much more efficient healer than the contents of the doctors pill bags.

WEDNESDAY and Thursday the conference called by the national organization committee of the middle-of-the-road populists met in St. Louis. The attendance was not large. They passed strong resolutions against fusion with democrats and for absolute paper money, the free coinage of gold and silver, the issuance of all money by the national government, opposition to trusts and alien ownership of lands, and in favor of the government ownership of railroads and telegraph lines. We will give a further report next week.

Several mornings ago Will Lincoln, an employe in the Clopton & Bragg planing mill, of Corsicana, while working at one of the machines, got one of his hands caught in the cogs and before the machine could be stopped his thumb was torn from his hand. The wound was an ugly one and caused considerable loss of blood.

The city council of Terrell, Kaufman county, met in regular session a few days ago and let a contract to construct the approaches to the overhead bridge across the Texas & Pacific track. The bridge, including the approaches, will cost $700. It is made for both vehicles and pedestrians, and is a material improvement to the city.

The board of trustees of the State Orphans' home at Corsicana awarded the contract for the construction of a hospital building at the home, to a local firm of contractors a few days ago. Work on the building commences at once, and will be pushed as rapidly as possible. The building is to be of brick and stone.

Will Crutchfield and Wade Foreman, two negroes living near Pilot Point, Denton county, were arrested at McKinney, Collin county, the other day on a charge of stealing two bales of cotton from J. H. Jackson. Crutchfield was taken to Denton and put in jail, but Foreman gave bond and was released.

A man was found dead at Pyote tank, Ward county, at a depth of 180 feet in a well, lying on a plank where the machinery of the well is located. It is supposed that he was a tramp and went down in the well to keep warm, and probably dampness killed him. No foul play suspected. His body, which was found a few days ago, was considerably decomposed.

Charlie McCullough, a well-to-do farmer who lives four miles from Bonham, Fannin county, took his own life by hanging himself several days ago. He had been to the insane asylum but had recently returned home and was thought to be of sound mind, but during his absence his brother had died, and brooding over that is thought to have been the cause of his rash act. He was found hanging in his own stable.

INDIAN UPRISING.

Fears of Serious Trouble is Reported from Different Points.

Wichita, Kan., Jan. 12.—A special train from Shawnee, Ok., says: The train from the east last night brought to this city a car containing every woman and child at Earlsboro. The trainmen confirm previous reports and say a pitched battle between the Indians and settlers took place near Maud postoffice, resulting in the wiping out of several families. A later dispatch from Shawnee says:

A message calling for arms has been received from Earlsboro, a town of about 100 inhabitants, saying that nearly 300 Indians are moving toward the place, declaring they will burn the place. Grave fears are entertained for homesteaders on the border. A special train was made up from here of 150 men armed to the teeth and left for the scene. The whole country is aroused.

Guthrie, Ok., Jan. 12.—Deputy marshals arrived here from Maud and report a reign of terror following the recent lynching of the two Seminoles, which has provoked the Seminoles to threaten vengeance. One deputy brings a report that two white men were captured by Seminole bucks and put to death. United States Marshal Thompson received instructions to send a force of deputies to the line marking the border of Oklahoma and the Indian Territory to co-operate with the Indian officials in dealing with the outbreak.

Shawnee, Ok., Jan. 12.—The report has just reached here that 250 Seminole Indians are on their way to Earlsboro, burning and killing as they go, wanting revenge for the burning of the two Indians a few days ago, report of which has already been given. The sheriff and a party of men are on their way to protect the Earlsboro people.

Oklahoma City, Ok., Jan. 12.—An Indian uprising is reported in the Seminole nation. It is said 100 armed Indians have killed twenty-five citizens of Pottawatomie county, this territory. Indians are seeking to avenge the recent burning of Lincoln McGiesey and Palmer Simpson, Indians of the Seminole tribe who were accused of murdering and assaulting Mrs. Lear of Maud postoffice. A special trainload of armed citizens have gone to Earlsboro, ten miles from Maud, and excitement is higher than ever before known in the Indian Territory.

South McAlester, I. T., Jan. 12.—A telegram received here at 6:40 yesterday evening by the train dispatcher of the Choctaw, Gulf and Oklahoma states that a band of 150 Seminole Indians is on the war path, and is leaving behind it a bloody trail. A telegram was sent by the railroad station agent at Earlsboro. The brief information conveyed was that the Seminole Indians were avenging the work of the mob of white men that burned two Seminole Indians at the stake on Friday last, and that the infuriated Seminoles had already massacred twenty-five men, women and children.

The station agent got the additional information that the band started from a point, six miles south of Earlsboro, with the avowed intention of setting fire to Tecumseh and killing all whom they met, that the Indians were reported to have changed their course and were at the time of sending of the message headed toward Earlsboro. The receipt of this startling information has created intense excitement in South McAlester. Federal Judges Townsend and Springer, who are in the city, are anxiously awaiting further news.

Wewoka, I. T., Jan. 12.—Yesterday W. T. Fears, United States commissioner, and Mr. J. F. Wisdom, chief clerk to Indian Agent Wisdom, accompanied by C. P. Lynn, the national physician of the Seminole nation, went to the farm of Henry Taylor, a Seminole Indian, where the body of Lincoln McGiesey and Palmer Simpson, the two Seminole Indian boys who were burned at the stake by a mob, are buried, and opened the temporary grave where the charred bodies were resting.

Only the trunks of the bodies remained. The legs and arms were entirely burnt off and the bodies were unrecognizable. A common trace chain was around the neck of each and securely padlocked. The chain was removed and brought back to Wewoka. It will be used as evidence in the investigation.

Commissioner Fears is thoroughly investigating the matter, and Mr. Wisdom is here to report what takes place to the interior department. The report that the Indians are uprising is wholly false and without foundation.

Alaskan News.

Washington, Jan. 12.—Senator Carter of the senate committee on territories and Chairman Knox had an informal conference yesterday, going over what legislation was necessary for Alaska. It was agreed that nothing should yet be done in the way of giving Alaska a territorial form of government in view of the unsettled character of the population of that territory. It was decided that no action should be taken giving more United States commissioners for the district.

House and Senate.

Washington, Jan. 12.—The senate yesterday briefly discussed an adverse report by the pension committee on a bill to pension Gen. Meade's two daughters at $100 a month each, Chairman Gallinger saying the committee did not wish to enter on the pensioning of daughters of veterans. Senator Allen of Nebraska thought that Gen. Meade's great service justified such liberality. No action was taken, and after Senator Wolcott of Colorado announced a speech on the money question for next Monday, Senator Fairbanks addressed the senate on immigration.

After the speech the Hawaiian treaty was taken up in executive session. Mr. Allen introduced and secured the adoption of a resolution calling upon the president for information in his possession relative to the boundary line between Venezuela and British Guiana, and to inform the senate whether the United States has now any clerks or other employes at work upon the Venezuelan boundary question, and also what part of the $100,000 appropriated for the Venezuelan commission has been expended.

At 3:45 p. m. the senate adjourned. Washington, Jan. 12.—Mr. Moody (Rep.) of Massachusetts, in charge of the legislative, executive and judiciary appropriation bill, in accordance with the notice given by him, moved in the house yesterday, immediately after the reading of the journal, that all debate on the civil service item be closed at 5 o'clock. Considerable opposition was manifested to the motion, but the steering committee of the Republican opponents of the civil service law had agreed to this programme. The antagonism to the motion to close came therefore principally from the Democrats. The latter were supported by the Populists and a few Republicans who believed the debate should go on.

After some wrangling the previous question was ordered on the demand of Mr. Moody, but the rising vote on the motion to close the debate was very close—ayes 92, nays 85—and on the demand of the Democrats the roll was called. When the roll call was concluded the motion to close debate stood defeated by six votes. A recapitulation of the vote was called for, and it was whispered that assurances had been received from the rules committee that the time would be given for the consideration of the measure prepared by the Republican opponents of the law. Three Republicans then changed their votes, making it a tie. The speaker announced the vote as 125 to 125. "A tie," added the speaker, "and the chair votes aye." Thus the speaker saved the day, and the motion to close the debate was carried. The Republicans applauded most vociferously. The debate was then resumed.

Mr. Bailey (Dem.) of Texas, the leader of the minority, closed the debate with some remarks defining the attitude of the Democrats. It was difficult, he said, to believe the sincerity of the other side when in one breath the Republicans avowed their adherence to the law and in the next demanded its practical destruction. With the conclusion of Mr. Bailey's remarks the time expired, and the bill was reported to the house. It was then discovered that those who desired to vote to strike out the appropriation for the civil service commission had neglected to make the motion in committee of the whole. No vote then could be taken, and the bill was passed without division.

The agricultural and urgent deficiency appropriation bills were reported to the house, and at 5:20 p. m. the house adjourned.

THE UNEMPLOYED.

Talk of a Colony being Organized on a Large Body of Land.

New York, Jan. 12.—How to find work for the unemployed in large cities on a self-sustaining basis, is a question which the Typographical union No. 6 is trying to solve. The officers of the union have come to the conclusion that the cultivation of unused land is the most reasonable form of relief and it has been unanimously decided to make use of vacant lot farms.

F. H. Goodyear of Buffalo, president of the Buffalo and Susquehanna railroad, and owner of 100,000 acres of land in northwestern Pennsylvania, has offered the Big Six a tract of from 1000 to 2000 acres for a colony. He expects the presence of a colony to bring business to his railroad. Title would be conveyed after the colony was fairly established. The union is expected to raise $10,000 and the donor of the land will contribute a like amount. The union appointed a committee to consider the project.

The Anchor steamship line, with headquarters at St. Louis, has made an assignment.

Miners Rescued.

Pittsburg, Pa., Jan. 12.—The bodies of John Posing, Charles Winters and Antone Weinberger, the miners whom it was thought were alive in the Mount Carmel Coal company's mine, were brought up Sunday. Neither Weinberger nor Winters showed signs of having suffered any violence and it is believed they were smothered to death. Posing was horribly burned. James Zimmerman, who was reported as among the rescued, was the last man taken out. Although badly burned he will recover.

WANT AN INJUNCTION.

Galveston Taxpayers Want to Restrain the City from Issuing Bonds.

Galveston, Tex., Jan. 12.—Twenty-four tax-payers of the city of Galveston yesterday filed suit in the district court praying for an injunction to restrain the city officers from having engraved and from selling $300,000 of bonds for sewerage purposes, attempted to be issued under an amendment to the charter passed by the twenty-fifth legislature and an ordinance passed by the city council on Dec. 6. The grounds on which the restraining order is sought is that the charter amendment is illegal, because notice of intent to apply for the act was not given in accordance with constitutional provisions, being published four times only, and not stating the substance of the act; that it is unconstitutional also because article 11, section 7, of the constitution provides for the creation of debt for sanitary purposes in coast cities by a vote of two-thirds of the tax-payers, and it is alleged that neither the amendment nor the ordinance provided for such election, and none has been held; that the said amendment is also invalid because the enacting clause does not mention the original act of 1876, incorporating the city of Galveston, and does not identify the attempted act of 1897 with any act of any legislature whatsoever; that as an original act it is void, as the title does not set forth the subject matter; that the amended sections are not reenacted, as demanded by the constitution.

Plaintiffs also ask that the city be restrained from forcing collections on account of these bonds for the year 1897 and hereafter. They allege that taxes were assessed on account of the sewerage bonds and two other issues of bonds, aggregating $250,000, before the legislature had attempted to authorize the same and before the council had levied the tax by ordinance; they also allege that taxes were assessed for 1897 for $50,000 of school bonds, which they allege have not been sold. They ask that the collection of these three items for 1897 be restrained. The four items aggregate 20 cents on the $100 valuation.

KIDNAPPING CASE.

A Shooting Scrape Over the Possession of a Child.

Center, Tex., Jan. 12.—There was an exciting scene—a kidnapping and some shooting, and capture of one man and two buggies and teams—at the home of I. N. Harris, about a mile from town Sunday night. Mr. Harris and his wife separated last year some time, he keeping their only child, now about two years old, while his wife went to her friends in Louisiana. Mr. Harris applied for and received the appointment of guardian of the child. There was afterward an application made by the wife to have the matter reopened. Mr. Harris removed and herself appointed such guardian, which, on hearing, was by the county judge refused. She and her friends returned to Louisiana, and no more was heard from them until Sunday, when she came over to visit the child. Sunday night she asked to be allowed to take it into another room to change its clothing, and went out with it, but instead of going into another room, she went out to the yard fence, where there were several men awaiting her, who took the child and at once started for Louisiana. They were pursued and a shooting scrape followed, with the results above stated. No one was hurt. Part of the crowd escaped, carrying the child with them. Deputy Sheriff Pearce and a posse have gone in pursuit of the fugitives.

Attempt at Suicide.

Marshall, Tex., Jan. 12.—James Paul, who attempted suicide Sunday night, made a second attempt last night. Procuring a wire about seven feet long, that is used in one of the cells for the purpose of drying the washing of the prisoners, he concealed it about his person, and when the other inmates of the jail were fast asleep, fastened the wire around his neck, and, climbing upon the bars of his cell, fastened the other end, and dropped down. Paul's position was soon discovered, and he was cut down. Had he hung a few moments longer he would have accomplished his purpose.

Courthouse being Repaired.

McKinney, Tex., Jan. 12.—The commissioner's court now in session has decided to repair the inside walls of the courthouse. New ceiling will be added to the hallways and rooms, up stairs and down stairs. The walls will be calmsomed. A solid rock wall will be built around the courthouse at a distance of about twenty feet from the courthouse steps. The inclosure will be filled with earth on a level with the rock wall.

Henry Seat of Alexander, Ky., died on the train as it entered Texarkana, Ark., the other day.

Troubled With Tramps.

Galveston, Tex., Jan. 12.—The Galveston police believe they have solved the tramp deportation question. With not enough work to keep the convicted tramps employed, they were sent out of town on trains. This pleased the tramps, and they would all return. They are now loaded on steamers and taken across the bay to Bolivar Point, from which place it is impossible to return by land for less than 35 cents, and the land route back is 130 miles. Beaumont, the eastern gateway, is quarantined by rock pile regulations.

A BIG BLAZE.

Several Business Houses at Denison Consumed by Fire.

Denison, Tex., Jan. 10.—Denison suffered a severe loss Saturday morning by the burning of a third of the business block on the north side of Main street, extending westward from Rusk avenue. The large dry goods and clothing establishment of Madden, Graham & Co., on the corner of Rusk avenue and Main street; the hardware house of Pollard, Hoerr & Co., the saloon of Felix Tachini, and the barber shop of Joe Thompson, were a total loss, and W. A. Hallenbeck, confectioner, is considerably damaged.

The fire was discovered a few minutes before midnight in the third story of the hardware house of Pollard, Hoerr & Co., the second building from the corner, three stories high. A general alarm was sounded, and the fire department responded, reaching the fire after the flames had burned through the roof of the building, and were leaping high in the air above the roof. The story of the fight with the flames is best told by Chief of the Fire Department W. H. Linden. He said:

"It was nearly midnight when we got the alarm, and the entire department was turned out in short order. Arriving at the fire, which was but two blocks from the fire hall, I saw the flames leaping forty feet above the roof of the three-story building occupied by Pollard, Hoerr & Co., and gaining ground rapidly. The fire hose was directed to the flames of this building, but about the time the third-story wall of the building, which was higher by several feet than the McCarthy two-story building on the east side, and the Murphy two-story building on the west side, gave way and fell in, setting fire to the store of Madden, Graham & Co., and to the saloon of Felix Tachini. The three-story building being too far gone to save it, the attention of the fire men was directed to the buildings surrounding, but on account of an inadequate water pressure, from some cause, we had hard work making any headway with the buildings already on fire, and our time was employed mostly to save surrounding buildings. It was after 3 o'clock when we had the fire under thorough control and the other buildings in the block were out of danger."

The fire was extinguished about daylight, and all morning was spent by the fire department pulling down standing walls that were dangerous. The Ford building, across Rusk avenue, east of the burned block, was considerably damaged by being slightly scorched and the large plate glass windows being cracked by the intense heat. The State National bank building, south of the burned block, across Main street, was also scorched slightly and glass broken by the heat. The telephone, electric light and power wires were burned, broken down, badly damaged, and telephone connection cut off.

SHAW CASE ENDED.

The Jury Returned a Verdict of Murder in the First Degree.

Cleburne, Tex., Jan. 10.—At 9 o'clock Saturday morning the jury in the Shaw murder case brought in a verdict of "guilty as charged in the indictment," and assessed his punishment at death. The defendant heard the verdict without moving a muscle, except his under lip seemed to move as if repeating the words of the verdict. His mother, who has been with him all through the trial, was not present. The great crowd, which has hung around the court-room for several days, immediately dispersed. Shaw was taken back to the jail, and Saturday evening newspaper reporters who called found him deeply interested in a game of checkers, which he was playing with a fellow prisoner. He would make no statement for publication, but said he was not guilty; still, since hearing the testimony, was not surprised at the verdict.

A remarkable coincidence is that just two years ago the jury in John Wilkins' case brought in a verdict of "guilty," and Wilkins was hanged a short time thereafter for the murder of old man Grince Taylor. Another coincidence is that the murder of Taylor was committed on Oct. 31 and that of Crane on Nov. 2. In each case a speedy trial was had. Shaw's attorneys have filed a motion for a new trial.

Beall, F. S. Boulware and Zane Cetti. Also chartered: Charles Schreiner company of Kerrville, Kerr county; capital stock $100,000. Purpose, to do a general merchandise business. Incorporators, Chas. A. C. L. A. and G. F. Schreiner and Hiram Partel.

Unpicked Cotton.

Sherman, Tex., Jan. 10.—County Commissioner Hi Dennis came in from Gordonville yesterday to attend the special session of the court, of which he is a member. He says that on the road from Whitesboro there are from 50 to 100 bales of unpicked cotton in the fields. He states that there are pickers in some of the fields and in others the unpicked cotton has been abandoned. The general attention of the farmers is now turned to plowing, in which all are greatly behind.

A FLOOD.

Arthur Kimber

Further details of the fire at Denison. Five men were killed, including Arthur Kimber, who was on the boat. The boat was overturned and struck the boat. Owing to the main sheet not running free she reeled over and capsized, turning bottom upward. In the party, besides Kimber, were Fred, Harry and William Slawson, McConnell and McCabe. All but the lad Harry clambered onto the keel. Kimber swam to the boat and after some difficulty got him safely on the boat. After clinging to the craft for about an hour a steamer passed within a mile and a half of them, but, though all shouted together, they failed to attract attention. Kimber states that he had strong hopes of being picked up; the others, however, gradually lost all heart. By their combined exertions the boat was righted, but the mast snapped off close to the deck. All got into the boat and passed a line around to secure themselves. All through the night they huddled together for warmth, and kept singing out to one another for companionship sake. Fred Slawson and the boy died during the night and the bodies of both were cast into the water. At daylight on the second day McConnell came close to Kimber with a pocket knife in his hand, but Kimber wishes emphatically to contradict the false statement that he tried to stab him. Both McConnell and McCabe appeared to have lost heart and tried to jump overboard. McConnell, however, died in Kimber's arms shortly after McCabe succeeded in jumping overboard. Then, William Slawson, heartbroken at seeing one after another drop off, was the next to succumb. Kimber was now the only one of the six living. Being unable to bear the sight of the dead bodies he cast them overboard. The following morning the boat drifted in within a mile of land, but went out again without the faintest hope of rescue. Next morning the boat drifted into the Laguna bay, near Noosa Heads, but again went out with the current. Finally she grounded on the beach four miles from the Heads. After landing Kimber says he went to sleep. The next day, with great difficulty he reached a settler's house in a terrible state. When found his hands, feet and face were fearfully sunburned and swollen, and his eyes starting out of their sockets.

TOO MUCH OF A GOOD THING.

The "Pleasures" Mapped Out in a Western Girl.

Not long ago, while a young woman hailing from a western state was residing in the east, she had a slight attack of the grip and was much in need of something to cheer her up. With a view of securing the needed amusement she wrote accepting the standing invitation of a Boston girl to come and spend a few days at the hub. When the time was near for her to leave home she received a letter from her Boston friend which ran like this: "I think I have planned as pleasant a programme for you, my dear, as would be possible. You will arrive Monday morning; that afternoon we shall have a luncheon of the Quilt Hour club in your honor, at which thirty literary women will be present. Monday evening we shall attend a lecture by Professor ——— on 'The Semitic Races.' Tuesday forenoon we are going to a meeting of the Browning club and in the afternoon we are booked for a musicale in behalf of the colored old ladies' home. Tuesday evening we shall wind up the two days with a lecture by Professor ——— on 'Esoteric Buddhism,' which, I am sure, will be the greatest treat of the whole two days." As soon after the receipt of this letter as she could recover strength enough to hold a pen the western girl wrote her friend as follows: "I am afraid, my dear girl, that you will have to modify your program, or else I can't come to you. What little intellect the grip has left me I don't propose to wreck in such manner as you have arranged for."

Jackson's Monument.

It has been noticed that within the last year the chipping of bits from the Stonewall Jackson monument, at the place where he received his mortal wound on the battlefield of Chancellorsville, has seriously disfigured the monument, and steps have been taken to deal severely with relic-hunters, otherwise described as vandals, in future. The report says that the monument to the Union General Sedgwick near by is almost untouched.

HOSTETTER CO. WINS A CASE.

Infringements on Their Bitters Not Tolerated by United States Court.
The United States circuit court for the southern district of New York, Judge Townsend presiding, handed down an opinion December 23, 1897, granting injunction and accounting, in the suit of The Hostetter Company against Isaac Sommers and Louis Joseph, for infringement of its trade mark. The jurist states, in bold and clear language, the rights accruing to the Hostetter Company, and the liability incurred by all who would rob them, by fraud or misrepresentation, of the well-earned reputation and profits of a business built up by the efforts of half a century. The judge says, in part:
"The complainant is entitled to protection against the appropriation of its trade mark, by any and all unfair and dishonorable means, and a court of equity has power to grant such protection whenever it is satisfied that an attempt has been made by ingenious subterfuges, to invade the rights of an owner of a trade mark."
In the sharp contest between the individual manufacturer, who strives to acquire and retain the fruits of industry and honesty, and the field of keen rivals, seeking to wrest from him the prize of the public good-will, the inventive ingenuity of the infringer has conceived a great variety of devices for evading the established rules of fair dealing. * * * Courts of equity finding that their ultimate object and effect were to enable and induce the retail seller of a fraudulent imitation to palm it off on an unsuspecting public for the genuine article, and thus to contribute to the infringement upon the right of the original owner, have not hesitated to apply the remedy."

Forty Chickens, Forty Dollars.

A very peculiar happening took place on the farm of Lafayette Beach, six miles from Portland, Ind. Mrs. Beach raised a great many fine chickens every season, and takes great pride in the brood. Early a recent morning, when she went to feed the flock, she discovered that forty of the best fowls were missing. Mrs. Beach, in hunting a possible clew to the thief, noticed a pocketbook lying on the ground near the coop. This she picked up, and on examining it found inside the sum of $40, or exactly $1 for each of the purloined fowls. The thief had undoubtedly dropped the purse while taking the chickens.

Stamps with a Fancy Value.

Stamp collectors have invented the term "speculative" to deal with the special issue of stamps which are produced to mark certain occasions, and which are a source of revenue to the government which owns them, for they, of course, must be bought by everyone who desires his collection to be complete. In order to put a stop to these speculative stamps a society has actually been formed, but whether it will have any success in fulfilling the object of its existence is a question which time may answer in the affirmative, but which, it would be safer to assume, will only be replied to in the negative. Into this category of speculative stamps will, of course, come the Prince of Wales' jubilee hospital stamp and the jubilee issues of the Canadian stamps which give the portraits of the queen in 1837 and 1897, and those of Newfoundland with pictures of Sebastian Cabot, his ship, the place where he landed, and so on. The Canadian government has issued only 25,000 sets of its stamps, ranging in value from half a cent (a farthing) to five dollars (£1), and which, except in the case of the three lowest values, are sold only in sets. The American philatelists, at all events, have condemned the idea, no doubt basing their view on the fact that four years ago the United States government issued centenary stamps to mark the four hundredth anniversary of the discovery of the United States, and those desirous of possessing complete sets of these stamps had to put up a goodly sum of money, as the denominations ran into comparatively large figures.

Ferry's Old Sloop.

Buried deep in the sands at the edge of Spring Lake, near Grand Haven, Mich., lies the hull of the old sloop Porcupine, which was one of Lieut. Oliver H. Perry's fleet in the battle of Lake Erie. The old boat is nearly gone. She has lain there since 1873, when she went out of service, and was beached by a gang of men who had tried to rig her up as a lumber lugger. D. M. Ferry, later a United States senator from Michigan, owned the land where the discouraged sailors flung the hull, and he left her there to work deeper and deeper into the sand. She is just at the end of one of his docks now; but he knew the honorable part she had played, and while he lived he refused to move her.

BAD DIGESTION, BAD HEART.

Poor digestion often causes irregularity of the heart's action. This irregularity may be mistaken for real, organic heart disease. The symptoms are much the same. There is however a vast difference between the two: organic heart disease is incurable; apparent heart disease is curable if good digestion be restored.

A case in point is quoted from the New Era, of Greensburg, Ind. Mrs. Ellen Colton, Newport, Ind., a woman forty-three years old, had suffered for four years with distressing stomach trouble. The gases generated by the indigestion pressed on the heart, and caused an irregularity of its action. She had much pain in her stomach and heart, and was subject to frequent and severe choking spells which were most severe at night. Doctors were tried in vain; the patient became worse, despondent, and feared impending death.

A Case of Heart Failure.

She was most frightened but noticed that in intervals in which her stomach did not annoy her, her heart's action became normal. Reasoning correctly that her digestion was alone at fault she procured the proper medicine to treat that trouble and with immediate good results. Her appetite came back, the choking spells became less frequent and finally ceased. Her weight, which had nearly ceased to increase, was restored and she now weighs more than for years. Her blood soon became pure and her cheeks rosy.

The world is full of ridiculous customs.

SEVEN DOCTORS FAILED.

A Case of Systematic Catarrh in Its Worst Form Cured.

Invalids would do well to read the following letter recently written to Dr. Hartman by Mr. Abe Miller, of Stilesville, Indiana. Not only read it, but ponder on it. Not only ponder on it, but act upon it. He writes: "A word of praise to your medicines. I began taking Pe-ru-na the 20th of February, 1897. I was all worn out. My weight was 134 pounds. I was weak and almost ready to go to bed. I had catarrh, asthma and kidney trouble. I have taken ten bottles of Pe-ru-na and I weight 161 pounds. I feel as if I could do as much work as any man on earth. I had tried seven doctors, some of them as good as there were in the state. But none of them did me any good. At last I saw Pe-ru-na advertised. Then I began taking it and it has cured me. So I recommended it to my neighbor, and it is doing the work for him. He has gained four pounds from the use of three bottles."

"THAT TERROR OF MOTHERS."

How it was overcome by a Nova Scotian mother

Who is well known as an author.

Of all the evils that attack children scarcely any other is more dreaded than croup. It so often comes in the night. The danger is so great. The climax is so sudden. It is no wonder that Mrs. W. J. Dickson (better known under her pen name of "Stanford Eveleigh") calls it "the terror of mothers." Nor is it any wonder that she writes in terms of praise and gratitude for the relief which she has found both from her own anxieties, and for her children's ailments, in Dr. J. C. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

"Memory does not recall the time when Dr. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral was not used in our family, for throat and lung troubles. That terror of mothers—the startling, croupy cough—never alarmed me, so long as I had a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in the house to supplement the hot-water bath. When suffering with whooping cough, in its worst form, and articulation was impossible on account of the choking, my children would point and gesticulate toward the bottle, as if to say, 'Mother, that's what you want.' Mrs. W. J. Dickson ('Stanford Eveleigh'), author of 'Romance of the Provinces,' Truro, N.S.

C. J. Woodbridge, Wortham, Tex., writes: "One of my children had croup. One night I was startled by the child's hard breathing, and on going to it found it strangling. It had nearly ceased to breathe. Having a part of a bottle of Dr. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in the house, I gave the child three doses, at short intervals, and anxiously waited results. From the moment the Pectoral was given the child's breathing grew easier, and in a short time it was sleeping quietly and breathing naturally. The child is alive and well to-day, and I do not hesitate to say that Ayer's Cherry Pectoral saved its life."—C. J. Woodbridge, Wortham, Tex.

These statements make argument in favor of this remedy unnecessary. It is a family medicine that no home should be without. It is just as efficacious in bronchitis, asthma, whooping cough, and all other varieties of coughs, as it is in croup. To put it within everyone's reach, Dr. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is now put up in half size bottles, at half price—30 cents. Send for Ayer's Curebook (free) and read of other cures effected by Dr. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Address the J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

Oh! the Pain of Rheumatism!

The aches and pains of Rheumatism became a constant companion to all who are victims of this disabling disease. The people generally are not acquainted with the cause of the disease, though thousands know its tortures. Everybody should know that Rheumatism is a peculiar condition of the blood upon which all liniments in the world can have no effect whatever. The best blood remedy is needed—one which is able to go to the very seat of the disease and force it out. Swift's Specific (S. S. S.) is the right remedy for Rheumatism, because it is the only blood remedy free from mercury, potash and other minerals which intensify the disease, causing stiffness of the joints and aching of the bones. Swift's Specific, being the only real blood remedy, never fails to cure Rheumatism. It reaches even the worst cases where the doctors have made cripples with their prescriptions of potash and mercury.

My wife was for years a sufferer from Rheumatism, and was treated constantly, but could obtain no relief. The doctors said the disease was liable to strike the heart at any time, in which event death would be inevitable.

"Every kind of treatment recommended for Rheumatism was given, including widely advertised blood remedies, but none did any good. She grew worse all the while and was reduced to a mere shadow of her former self. This medicine seemed to reach the disease promptly, and she began to improve. One dozen bottles effected a complete cure, and she has had no touch of the disease since."

D. R. Johnson, Blackshear, Ga.

Every one afflicted with Rheumatism should take Swift's Specific, the only remedy which can reach their trouble. S. S. S. will cure the most aggravated case of Rheumatism, Catarrh, Cancer, Contagious Blood Poison, Scrofula, Eczema or any other blood disease. It is guaranteed PURELY VEGETABLE. Books mailed free by Swift Specific Co., Box Y, Atlanta, Ga.

TRUTHFUL LADIES SPEAK OUT

Mrs. Mary E. Crocker
Peachonts, Tenn., writes: "Have used Dr. M. A. Simmons' Liver Medicine 15 years. It cured me of all ailments, including Sick Headache and Female Trouble. My husband uses it for all ailments, including Malaria and Biliousness. This section is it as a standard medicine. We think it much superior to J. H. Zella's Liver Medicine."

Mrs. M. L. Johnson
Jennifer, Ala., writes: "Have used Dr. M. A. Simmons' Liver Medicine 20 years. It cured J. M. Clark of Sick Headache, and M. L. Powell of Heaviness and Tired Feeling. Have used 'Black Draught' and Zella's Regulator, but find the Dr. M. A. Simmons' to be the best medicine."

Mrs. M. A. Harkins
Lono, Ark., writes: "Have used Dr. M. A. Simmons' Liver Medicine 20 years for Sick Headache, and cannot speak too highly of it. Have used Zella's Liver Regulator, also 'Black Draught,' but found both very inferior."

Miss B. Leatto
Cobden, Ill., writes: "For Liver and Female Troubles nothing except Dr. M. A. Simmons' Liver Medicine did me any good. 'Black Draught' did me no good."

A very pleasant affair was a social at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J.
S. Scott's last Thursday night, given in honor of Miss Kate Jordan, of Wichita Falls, who is visiting friends in this city. The fore part of the evening was spent in games, music, etc. At 12 o'clock they all retired to the spacious dining room where an elegant supper was spread. Miss Mabel, as well as Mr. and Mrs. Scott are royal entertainers and the following young folks enjoyed the evening very highly: Miss Minnie Hill and Cliff White, Miss Quillian and Crocett Taylor, Miss Annie Babb and John Griffin, Miss Bessie Chamberlain and Jno. Beville, Miss Erowder and W. H. Shaw, Miss Jordan and W. T. Jones, Miss Daisy Blake and Adie Hill, Miss May Barnhart and W. H. Patrick and Miss Susie Douglass and H. B. White. In the wee hours of the morning the guests departed after having expressed their thanks to the hostess, for the pleasant evening they had spent and a desire for a hasty return. The entertainment was an informal affair, but none the less interesting to all the guests and also to the fair visitor.

To Tax Collectors.
AUSTIN, Dec. 27th 1897.—I beg to call your attention to that portion of Section 10, Chapter 103, General Laws of 1897, which provides that "If any person shall fail or refuses to pay the taxes imposed upon him or his property by law until the 31st day of January next succeeding the return of the assessment rolls of the County to the Comptroller, a penalty of ten per cent on the entire amount of such taxes shall accrue, which penalty when collected shall be paid proportionately to the State and County." You are therefore earnestly requested to make known this provision of the law as widely as possible throughout your county in order that all tax payers may have due notice of the same and thereby avoid said penalty. Instructions for reporting collections of Penalty will be furnished in due time for your monthly report for February collections.

With Compliments of the season,
I am,
Very respectfully,
R. W. FINLEY,
Comptroller.

INDUSTRIAL WEST Correspondence.
CLAUDE, Tex., Jan 14, 1897.—
Very little news of interest this week
A son of Mrs. Jackson living south of the Paloduro Canyon was brought in this week suffering with a fever and is stopping at the Palace. He was in a very critical condition for a few days but under the treatment of Dr. Warner he is now in a fair way to recover.

Mr. Wade Bowie came in a few days ago suffering with a bad case of tonsillitis and for two days and nights his throat was so badly swollen as to make breathing very difficult.
He is able to be up today.

Bro. Younger went to Panhandle yesterday to hold two funerals; Mr.
Stanhope and a boy whose name I did not learn are dead.

A New Form of Personalities
The old style of portraying famous people through a "sketch" or "biography" is to be modernized in The Ladies' Home Journal during 1898. Five of the most prominent Americans have been chosen for the departure: President Mc-Kinley, Mrs. Cleveland, Mark Twain,
Joseph Jefferson, and Thomas A. Edison. Each will have a special article, which will consist of about fifteen or twenty fresh, unpublished stories and anecdotes showing some characteristic trait or presenting a different side of the subject. The idea is to show famous personalities through their own doings and sayings, and to make these articles accurate the relatives and closest personal friends of the subjects have assisted and given to the Journal the best stories and anecdotes within their knowledge. Each article will thus represent the closest view of the one sketched. No authorship will be attached to any of the articles.

The February Delineator is called the Midwinter Number and again thoroughly justifies its reputation as woman's authority in Fashions and Literature. The latest Winter styles are elaborately illustrated and prominent among the literary features is Emma Churchman Hewitt's article on Household Expenses. "Social Life in English Provincial Cities," "The Chamberlain's Life," "Children and Their Ways," "Mardi-Gras in New Orleans,"
"The Care of Belongings," are all of material value. Blue-Print Photography is continued by Sharlot M. Hall. "Dona Marla" is a fascinating character study of the Southwest by Eva Wilder Brodhead. The "Bachelor Maids' Luncheon" is a graphic description of the details of a gathering which many readers will hasten to duplicate. An agreeable observance of the popular anniversary is outlined in "A Valentine Party." In Mrs. Witherspoon's "Tea-Table," many timely subjects are interestingly discussed. Mrs. Cadwalader Jones' department
"Social Observances," "The Flower Garden," by Mr. Vick, "Fancy Stitches and Embroideries," by Emma Haywood, Knitting, Lace-Making, etc., add to the attractiveness of the issue.

Fighting Plutocracy.
The New Time in its January number sounds the keynote of the opposition to the currency plans of President McKinley and Secretary Gage. This able magazine is now the recognized leader in the fight against the money power.
"The Wolcott Commission and Its Results" is the subject discussed by Charles A. Towne, the brilliant chairman of the Silver Republican National Committee.
He handles Comptroller Eckels without gloves, and charges him with dense ignorance on the subject under discussion. Mr. Towne accuses the Republican party leaders with despicable duplicity and with the betrayal of solemn pledges.

"The Menace of Plutocracy" is discussed by Congressman Howard. Among the famous contributors to this splendid number are Prof. W. H. H. Lecky, of the English Parliament; Congressmen
D. B. Henderson, of Iowa, and Stark of Nebraska; Prof. J. R. Commons, of Syracuse University; Hon. John C.
Bradshaw, who treats of "Single Tax and Labor;" John W. Breidenthal, Senator Marion Butler, Helen M. Gou-gar, Imogene C. Pales, Rev. Myron W.
Reed, Senator William M. Stewart, Prof.
Frank Parsons and many other of the best writers and thinkers of the country.

Twenty-five illustrations, including several striking cartoons, are scattered through the pages of the January New Time. This magazine has passed the 50,000 mark, and is a power to be reckoned with. Chicago has at last a magazine of the first rank. Publishers, Chas.
H. Kerr & Company, 56 Fifth avenue,
