Winter weather slipped in again Tuesday to cause local residents to bring out their heavier wraps again. The temperature reached a low of 38.5 degrees Wednesday morning and the dampness that accompanied the spell made it seem much colder. Poppy Day Approaches

The making of poppies in hospitals not only provides a means of earning funds for the veterans who manufacture them, and an item to be sold throughout the country for the replenishment of welfare funds, but also (and most important to those charged with his care), it provides a new interest in life and therefore is of definite therapeutic value in the treatment of the patient.

They are made of red crepe paper by disabled veterans in hospitals in forty states. Workers receive pay for each poppy made, the material being furnished free by the Department in the state in which the hospital is located.

More than 20,000,000 poppies made by disabled veterans are sold on the streets under supervision of the American Legion Auxiliary each year—on the Saturday preceding Memorial Day.

Giles Pioneer Dies Monday

One of the county's oldest pioneer residents passed away at his home near Giles in the person of Mr. E. H. Watt, and funeral services were conducted at the Methodist church in Hedley Tuesday. The services were conducted by Rev. L. Guy Ament of Clarendon, assisted by Rev. Wilburn Gaede of Hedley. Burial was in Rowe Cemetery at Hedley under the direction of Womack Funeral Home.

Attending the casket were Leon Reeves, Roscoe Land, Hobart Moffet, Alva Simmons, Ross Adamson and John Nash.

Honorary pallbearers were J. W. Noel, Claude Nash, R. Y. King, C. E. Johnson, M. L. Sims, C. R. Hunsucker, Frank Kendall, R. L. Farris, R. L. Jordan, B. F. Kelly.

Surviving is Mrs. E. M. Glass of Giles, the daughter. The only son is F. G. Watt of Hedley. The grandchildren are Lela Watt of Wheeler, Fred Watt in service in the U. S. Navy, and Virginia Watt who remains in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Watt of Hedley.

Mr. Watt was born on Prince Edward Island of Canada on September 3, 1858 and came to the Panhandle where he was section foreman on the Denver at Magenta between Amarillo and Tascosa about 1890. He made his home near Giles for more than fifty years, being employed by the Denver road as pumper there for many years.

His was an interesting life filled with many pleasures because of the numerous friends. It was only by a close acquaintance that one found out that his ancestors came from Scotland, and that one of them invented the steam engine, and that he was a first cousin of Secretary Knox of our U. S. Navy.

His life was a living example of christian living. He never let an opportunity go by where he could help his fellow man. His kindly nature beamed when praise was heaped upon him, but he continued that reserved nature that never boasted of accomplishment. He preferred to let his life speak for itself.

In pioneer days, Mr. Watt took the hardships without complaint. He was blessed with one of the noblest women that ever came to the state as a helpmate. Mrs. Watt preceded him in death by several months. Each of them were blessed with that natural talent for doing for others, making the most of the least and enjoying the pleasures of life as they came.

In the passing of this noble spirit, hundreds will have lost a dear friend, a wise counselor, and just as many will miss him. Mr. Watt served the Donley County Old Settlers association as president for many terms, a large portion of the time over his protest since he wanted the honors passed around. Much of the success of this Association is due to his untiring efforts, and the love that he had for his folks, the old folks who like himself, had carved out a home in the west from a wilderness.

Sgt. and Mrs. Bill Bennett from Pampa were visitors in the Frank Barton home Sunday.

THE IDEAL GIFT OF MOTHERS DAY

Mrs. Victor Smith was probably the happiest mother in town last Sunday morning when she received the most appropriate gift any mother with a son in the service could ask for. S 1/c Basil Smith, her son, was the gift. He hadn't so much as hinted that he would be home on that day or in the future, yet he walked into his home about noon last Sunday to the surprise of the entire family. He is home on a 15-day leave before assignment for overseas duty. He is based on Treasure Island at the present time.

Bond buying in Donley county has been slow this week as the 7th War Loan Drive opened Monday May 14th. The quota for the county is $320,000.00 and $145,000.00 of that amount is the quota of E Bonds.

J. R. Porter, chairman of the drive, stated this week that this was going to be one of the hardest quotas to raise of any drive so far, in view of the fact that a good portion of the quota will have to be raised by individual purchases of Series E Bonds. Every individual will have to do his part by buying as many bonds as he possibly can.

A table giving each school district, their quota, leader, etc. is printed on this same page, so everyone may see exactly what is expected of his community.

The fighting is over in Germany but is continuing with full fury in the Pacific. The Japs are not pushovers.

Japan's home islands are industrialized to the last kilowatt hour, to the last rivet, to the last pair of hands of the 35 millions of Japanese. And the Japs have 400 million conquered Asiatics slaving away for her, too. Japan constitutes the second largest empire in the world today.

The Japanese losses have been small in comparison to the size of the job we must do. We haven't yet locked with the main force of the enemy. Japanese losses are not equal to the normal replacements.

Many Americans, unfortunately, have the mistaken idea that since Germany is out of the war, Japan will be a pushover. American military and naval leaders certainly don't think so.

Two Jima should dissipate any illusions of Japan being a pushover. Thousands of American Marines died, and more thousands were put out of the fight, the worst fight in the history of the corps, and all on an island so small our Marines could shoot clear across it.

As we get closer to the heart of the Jap empire, our task is becoming harder and tougher. Our fighting men need all the support you can give them. Buy that extra bond today.

Mr. and Mrs. Tedder, their two daughters and one son, come here from McLean where Mr. Tedder has resided for the past 24 years. He was employed as a warehouse man for Smith Bros. before coming to Clarendon. Mr. Tedder stated that he had never been around more friendly and neighborly people than he has met here in Clarendon, and knew they would enjoy living here. We know the people of this city are happy to have this new family as residents, and join them in welcoming them here as our neighbors.

LIBRARY NOTES

By Mrs. C. A. Burton

The inevitable trend of the books being written today is war stories and particularly Victory Day stories. One of the most striking is "On a Note of Triumph"—Norman Corwin's eloquent, vigorous prayer for V-E Day. It is short, only 72 pages and was written for a broadcast by a man who is described as a tireless exponent of liberation.

Another is "We Flew Without Guns" by Flight Captain J. Genesee, one of the men who pioneered the route "over the hump" which kept open China's lifeline. He was a pilot for the R.A.F., later for the China National Airlines, and is now a test pilot for one of the largest aeronautical corporations in America.

The leading best sellers in fiction shift from week to week, many of them remaining on the list, but changing places, but Ernie Pyle's "Brave Men" continues to hold first place in non-fiction.

Nila Cram Cook, stepdaughter of Susan Glaspell, has virtually completed the twelve year task of making a new compilation and translation of the Koran, together with an additional commentary. She has been called the "Luther of Islam."

Fannie Hurst was presented a scroll of merit by the Conference on Coordination for Youth Service, in commendation of the books she has written about young people and their problems.

John Hersey recently came to New York to see what the stage had done for his novel, "A Bell for Adam."

W. H. Auden will receive the $1,000 poetry prize of the American Academy of Arts and Letters, not for any one work, but rather for the beauty of his poetry, and his variety of poetic forms.

"People die, but books never die. No man and no force can take from the world the books that embody man's eternal fight against tyranny."—Franklin Delano Roosevelt.

Mr. and Mrs. LaGrone and family attended services at the Baptist church at Lelia Lake Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Connally Jr. spent the week end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Williams and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Connally Sr.

A TRIBUTE TO MRS. BOB MCGOWAN

By Mrs. M. H. HAYS
Mission, Kansas

Would it seem like a fairy story to think of a person living in one little town 40 years and, in that time, making friends continually and never losing even one? Would you believe any woman could find the time, the means, the energy, the room in her home and in her heart not only to adopt one child but to help raise several other helpless, homeless youngsters? Would you be able to find among those who have been your friends a person of whom you have heard no one speak ill, whose words and deeds were not merely above criticism but, instead, were without exception praised?

It isn't a fairy story. There are a great number of people who can say "Yes" to that last question. They are the fortunate ones who knew the beloved "Aunt Jennie"—Clarendon's Mrs. Bob McGowan.

Last week "Aunt Jennie's" long lifetime of living for others came to an end. Her eyes, closed in complete blindness these last few years, are shut now to the light of this world. Her hands, unsteadied by an illness that had lasted a long 10 years, are stilled now.

But it will be hard for a neighbor to realize that "Aunt Jennie" will not be churning as usual on Friday, making that particular kind of rich country butter—or, across the fence, be feeding her chickens or watering her flowers or gathering vegetables. It will be difficult for a relative to believe that "Aunt Jennie's" red-and-green "Christmas relish" will not be on the table next holiday season as it has been every year.

There will be many who can scarcely understand that "Aunt Jennie" will not be just taking an angel food cake out of the oven when they happen by—for "Aunt Jennie" always had a cake, and there were and are no other cakes like hers, though she gladly gave her recipes and culinary secrets to countless local brides. There are rich and poor, old and young, who held equal places in "Aunt Jennie's" affection. They will all tell you that for her that description might have been coined: "To know her was to love her."

"Aunt Jennie" put a great deal of herself into life. And in return she got a great deal from life. Who do you know who reached the borderline to eternity with such serenity and poise?

When spring comes again to a quiet little street in Clarendon, the house on the hill corner will have flowers in the yard once more. They always grew there for "Aunt Jennie", whom people said "must have had two 'green thumbs'." And they will bloom again, for her.

Long ago, "Aunt Jennie" found real happiness. And that happiness she shared always with others. Perhaps she found happiness because of her sharing it. To herself she never gave a thought—her flowers, her foods, her cunning, her energies, her love, all boundless, were for her family and her friends. Yet this generosity and unselfishness brought to her the finest blessing: a spirit which took her through necessary pain and suffering with a courage "beyond and above the call of duty."

No, "Aunt Jennie," whose heart was big enough to encompass everyone in her entire world, never considered herself.

But she did one thing for herself—she built a lasting monument. For her memory, like her flowers, will live and grow, in many a remembering heart, and bloom again.

MATCH THEIR SPIRIT in the MIGHTY

7TH WAR LOAN DRIVE

YES, despite their long months and years of privation and suffering, those gallant men, just released from slyth Jap Prison Camps, still have their good old fighting spirit. They're itching to get back into the fight and give the Nips a taste of their own medicine.
Let's show them that we're not quitting either! Let's match their spirit with our dollars! Let's make this MIGHTY 7th War Loan the significant of them all!

But to come even close to matching their sacrifices, everyone here at home must buy War Bonds until it hurts. Buy double or treble the extra War Bonds you've bought in any previous drive. Remember, this is really two drives in one. In the same period last year, you were asked to subscribe to two War Loans.
So let's go, Americans. Our hard-fighting Soldiers, Sailors and Marines are giving their ALL. The least we can do is to lend our dollars.

THE TEMPLE OF TRUTH
 By the Apostle

 Experience is the label men place on their mistakes.

 The reason the old timers laughed up their sleeves was because that was where they found their funny bones.

 One man's meat may be another's poison, but no one is going to get poisoned that way under the red point system. Saving lives and winning the war—she was known as them days.

 Speaking of cats, the old Apostle has eaten so much oleo butter during the war that the boll weevils chase him in swarms everywhere he goes down in old Jack county.

 You may be able to recognize a walnut by its nuts, but you can't a dogwood by its bark.

 Grandad used to ask the question: "What is the difference between a church bell and a politician?" Then after they had guessed all-round he would tell them that the bell peals from the steeple, and the politician steals from the people. Grandad was quite a goer in his day, and knew a lot of politicians.

 Did it ever occur to you that Hitler lost his bite just as soon as he lost his bridgework?

 After grandad got beyond a hundred, he used to say that he could remember back when the big dipper was just a drinking cup.

 In the old days in the Panhandle preachers made the rounds and preached wherever they could bunch up even a few, and some preached to the boys at the roundups. They were loyal sons of the faith and did a noble service. Among them was one old fellow who liked to season his meat according to his own likes as he visited the various homes, and carried along a bottle of Tobasco sauce. All went well until he ate dinner with a family living in a dugout over near Tulia. His host watched him pour the sauce on his barbecue and gobble it down. The preacher was a hearty eater say old time. The dugout brother eyed the parson for a few minutes, then asked that he be given a try at the bottle, which the minister readily did. The old boy warehoused a hunk of meat inside his old weather-beaten mug and began to pulverize it. In a few seconds he screwed his eyes to the ceiling and remarked that, "I've seen likker agents carry samples around these parts to make a sale, but you are the first danged preacher I ever saw to carry around a sample of hell to give the folks a idea where they are a heddin!"

YOU'RE looking at an electric "whirley" crane in action. It's placing a superstructure on the deck of a new troop transport.
 This is a big, rough, tough power job. It takes a lot of electricity—a far cry from the amount needed to make your breakfast toast.
 Today, electricity is doing a lot of big jobs... helping to keep America's huge war machine roaring toward victory. And it is also doing the little jobs in the home... helping to give hard-working Americans the comforts and conveniences that keep morale high.
 And all this at low pre-war prices!
 Your electric company is glad to have been able to keep plenty of cheap electricity on tap in these war times... and our folks pledge that an abundant supply will be ready to serve all your post-war needs.

WADSWORTH-KING

A wedding of unusual interest was solemnized at the Presbyterian Church on Friday evening, May 11, at 8 o'clock, when Miss Margaret Faye Wadsworth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Wadsworth, became the bride of Ensign John Burton King, son of Rev. and Mrs. J. Perry King of Mesquite, Texas.

Miss Mary Howren, organist for the Presbyterian Church, presided at the organ. The church had been beautifully decorated under the direction of Mrs. A. L. Chase. Miss Howren gave as a prelude "Liebestraum" by Liszt, and Mrs. J. H. Howze sang "O Promise Me" by De Koven.

The bridal party entered to the strains of the "Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin" by Wagner. Miss Sue Holt and Claude Hearn and Miss Dorothy Ann Kennedy and Billy Lowe preceded Miss Frances Phelps, Maid of Honor. The groom entered with Ensign B. L. Morgan, Best Man. The bride entered on the arm of her father. In front of the flower-decked altar, flanked by candelabra holding lighted white tapers, stood Rev. J. Perry King, father of the groom and Rev. John Ellis, pastor of the local church, who administered the vows in an impressive ring ceremony to the soft strains of Schuman's "Fraumleri," and the party passed out to Mendelssohn's "Wedding March."

The bride wore a floor length white satin gown with illusion yoke and veil, and carried a bouquet of white roses. The bridesmaids, too, wore floor length gowns. Miss Sue Holt from Waco, cousin of the groom, wore blue organza, and Miss Dorothy Ann Kennedy wore yellow net. Miss Frances Phelps an aqua net, and each carried a bouquet of yellow daisies. The ushers wore the regulation black, while the groom and his best man wore their Navy whites.

A reception for the wedding party and the out-of-town guests was held at the home of the bride's parents. The bride's cake and punch were served from a lace covered table at which Mrs. Fain and Mrs. King, aunts of the bridegroom, poured.

The out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Holt, Jr. and their daughter, Miss Sue Holt of Waco, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Fain of Amarillo, Mrs. E. E. King from Ballinger, and Mrs. Karl Adams and Miss June Melton of Amarillo.

The bride was reared in Clarendon where she was graduated from High School and Junior College and later attended college in Denton.

The groom also spent his early life in Clarendon where his father was pastor of the First Baptist Church for ten years. Here the groom was graduated from High School, attended Junior College, and later Baylor University at Waco. For the past two years he has been in training as a cadet in the Naval Air Corps at Pensacola, Florida, where he received his wings recently, and his rating as Ensign.

After a short leave, the young couple will be stationed near Miami, Florida where Ensign King will continue his training.

AN APPRECIATION

Please accept in this way my appreciation and thanks to those who came to my rescue while trapped in the elevator conveyer.

I know you were willing to help in any way possible in rescuing me and helping me while I was suffering such pain with a crushed and mangled foot. And to those who visited me and for the cards, letters, and flowers I received while in the hospital 52 days recovering from the injury, I extend my heartiest appreciation and thanks.

Am now at home recovering slowly. No doubt I will be on crutches several months; still I have good reasons to believe I am going to have a foot I can get around on in a few months, which I will be very thankful for. I hope to be back at our place of business soon. On account of conditions being like they are we thought best to close the place when this accident happened. I have had no income of any kind during this time so I am very anxious to get the place open for business again.

I hope to be out among my friends and acquaintances again soon.

With best wishes
Major Hudson

WORTH WHILE COMMENTS
 BY COUNTY AGENT Charles O. Ross

Some years we have "good luck" and raise nearly all of our baby chicks. Some years we have "bad luck" and baby chicks die in spite of our pills and tonics. Fowl Pox is the only disease that the Extension Service recommends the use of vaccines for prevention or treatment. Pulletts should be vaccinated with Fowl Pox Vaccine at "frying size" to prevent possible outbreaks of disease later. If Fowl Pox breaks out in flock of laying hens "Pigeon Pox" vaccine is recommended. Coccidiosis is a common disease of baby chicks causing high death losses during first 6-8 weeks of age. Medicine, pills, tablets, or colored water has little or no value to cure disease or stop death losses. When baby chicks are sick nearly all diseases or ailments are the same. Fortunately a good management and sanitation program will prevent all of these diseases and ailments. To raise more chickens profitably try this procedure:
 1. Sterilize the feed and drinking troughs once a week with lye water solution (1 can lye to 10 gallons of water.)
 2. Dry clean the brooder house at least every three days.
 3. Remember contaminated drinking water, feed and picking up the droppings is primary cause or spread of diseases.
 4. Put out fresh clean water 3 times daily in clean fountains.
 5. Provide plenty green feed daily.
 6. Provide direct sunshine or cod liver oil.
 7. Feed good commercial chick mash.
 8. Keep chicks warm, dry and comfortable.
 9. Do not over crowd.

RATIONING AT A GLANCE
 Phebe Ann Buntin

Farmers who expect to slaughter or have animals slaughtered for them after May 13, 1945, for sale as meat in their neighborhoods or local communities must obtain a Class III slaughterer's permit from the local War Price and Rationing Board. Forms can be obtained by mail or in person from local War Price and Rationing Boards for this registration. Farmers are urged to get the permit before July 1st even though the ymay not be slaughtering until next fall or winter. This permit limits the sale of dressed meat by farm slaughterers in any quarter of this year to the same amount sold in the corresponding quarter of 1944. Farm slaughter permits previously issued by the War Food Administration are revoked. The Class III Farm slaughterer is defined as a resident operator of a farm who in 1944 sold not more than 6,000 pounds of dressed weight. Farmers who sold no dressed meat in 1944 may, if they register with their ration boards, market up to 400 pounds this year. Farmers are required to charge no more than ceiling prices for the meat they sell, to collect the proper number of red ration points for meat sold or given away, and to report their sales and account for points collected to their ration board each month. Simple forms for reporting sales, along with price ceiling lists and ration point tables, will be supplied to farmers when they are issued their slaughterer's permit. OPA wants to emphasize that no slaughter permit is necessary for farmers who dress meat, or have it dressed for them exclusively for consumption in their own households. CARD OF THANKS We wish to thank our many friends for their sympathy and kindness during the illness and death of Mr. O. S. Anderson. May God's richest blessings be with each of you always. C. W. Big Job Ahead For OPA

"In the months to come, OPA has perhaps a bigger job to do than ever before," J. Bryan Miller, Acting District Director of the OPA, said today. "This will remain true until supplies of most commodities can be produced in quantities somewhere near current demand."

"Our Army and Navy still have a major war to fight in the Pacific. The service forces will still need to purchase high quantities of supplies until final victory is won."

"So we know that income will remain very high, and demand for civilian goods will also outstrip supplies of cost commodities. This will mean the necessary continuance of price controls until the threat of inflation is gone. Insofar as we are able to determine now, it will mean the continuation of major rationing programs, certainly through 1945 at the very least—many until final victory in the Pacific.

"In the months immediately ahead, OPA will have a heavier load of work than at any time in the war period. In addition to the continuation of present programs to hold prices in line, we must promptly establish prices on re-conversion goods, like automobiles, radios, electric fans, refrigerators, etc. These are the things which have been out of production during the war. Adjustment provisions for many different regulations in other fields have been planned and must be immediately put into effect. In the next six months, there will probably be changes made in rationing programs which will further add to the work of our Local War Price and Rationing Boards and our office here in Lubbock.

"Then later on, as supplies of different commodities come up near demand, we must remove controls in an orderly manner, and as quickly as possible, without running the risk of a serious rise in prices.

"The OPA programs of price control, rent control and rationing can only succeed in the difficult months ahead, if we receive the continued support of the many volunteers throughout the District who have given so much of their time to help their Government in this war-time program. We can only succeed further, if we have the support of the trade and the public in now completing the work which OPA was set up to accomplish. Only this way can the cost of living be held in check for the benefit of all Americans. Only thus can we prevent sharp increases in the cost of war until final victory.

"War production will not shut down overnight," Mr. Miller continued. "The government will still spend for the war at the rate of $60 billion a year. And the money people collect in wages, salaries, farm receipts, dividends and interest will continue to exceed what they can spend for the limited supply of civilian goods to be available.

"In addition, cash holdings of individuals plus their war bonds today total more than $140 billions, compared with $50 billions before Pearl Harbor. In the months ahead when production of war gives way to production of civilian goods, these billions of dollars of savings will add their pressure to those already present on prices.

"Price control will be needed then more than ever before to keep people from bidding up prices of everyday things, and touching off sharp price increases in the cost of living."

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Eichelberger of Goldston spent Sunday in the H. M. Stewart home.

THE METHODIST CHURCH
H. W. Hanks, Pastor
We are to begin our revival meeting next Sunday morning. We are to run for one week only. Bro. J. H. Crow, now serving his fifth year as pastor of our church at Paducah, Texas, will do the preaching. We will have services at night only. We are running the Daily Vacation Bible school each day beginning at nine o'clock Monday morning and running to eleven each day till Friday. We are anxious to have all our boys and girls from the Primaries through the Intermediates to attend this school. There will be a course in The Meaning of the Christian Life. This will be helpful to all. It will be of special interest to those who have not yet surrendered their life to the Christ. May we count on you parents to help to get the children to each of these sessions.

We will begin our service at night at 8:30. We will feature congregational singing. Mrs. Landreth will have charge of the young people and the children. Mrs. McMurtry will have charge of the adult choir. We want all the men to attend these services and assist in the congregational singing. Nothing helps more than to have everyone help in the singing. Now let me urge every family to please set aside this time for our revival. Then there is someone each of you can help to become a Christian. Please see that one and urge him or her to join you in the Christian life. We earnestly request the cooperation of all Christian people of the town and community to join us in our services.

Trip to Canyon

The seventh grade and a host of elders enjoyed a trip to Canyon Sat. The museum was our first stop. We spent about 2 hours enjoying the old relics and other things of interest. Although some of us didn't get an eye full of everything, dinner time was at hand and we had to call it quits until a future date.

From there we drove to a park and spread our lunch. Everyone was filled to the brim with good things to eat.

We had a longing to see our brother and sister "monks" at the zoo, so we made a short stop there. After a brief enlightening on the history of cousin Mo and others, we left the monkeys and some of us went to English Field and watched the big planes land and take off.

A good time was had by all. Those that enjoyed this trip were Wanda Jo Graham, Evalyn Barker, Betty Anglin, Frankye Nell Wilson, Mary Evelyn Brinson, Alwyn Barker, Anna Mae Swearingen, Theron Holland, Gene White, Royce Morris, Mr. Brinson, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Davis, Faydene Watkins, Mr. F. M. Watkins, Mrs. Marie Miller and Mrs. Eutha Hickey.

We wish to thank everyone that had a part in making this trip possible; whether it be the mother that fixed sandwiches or the parent that furnished the money for purchasing something needed.

Especially do we thank Mr. Brinson, Mr. Watkins, and Mr. Davis for taking their cars and driving for us.

MOOS OF THE MOMENT

BY UNCLE BOB

of the Kraft Dairy Farm Service

I'm glad I don't have to claim responsibility for this one. A dairyman in Minnesota says you can't expect good results from a cow which is udderly neglected.

That brings up the matter of cutting milk losses, as discussed in the March-April Kraftman. One of the ways is to be sure cows are clean at milking time, particularly around the flanks and udders—or should I say udder places?

Six rules are listed as essentials to producing clean milk. In addition to clean, healthy cows, they are:

Clean and sterile utensils; use small top pails; prompt cooling; clean, healthy milkers; and dry-hand or correct machine milking.

If you follow these rules exactly, you'll make sure of doing your full share in getting all your milk in usable condition to a plant where it can be used for the war effort.

Write Uncle Bob at 500 Peshtigo Court, Chicago 90, Ill., and I'll send you a booklet giving full details on these six points. Ask for "Care of Milk on the Farm."

Here's a lightweight item which will carry a heavyweight punch in your battle of production.

I'm speaking of brome grass, which is finding a place in rotation pasture programs in nearly every section.

One of its great virtues is that it provides forage in summer months, when some other pasture grasses slow up. Also, it is long-lived—Ohio reports one plot which has been growing for 25 years.

The "lightweight" angle is the weight of seed—14 to 20 pounds per bushel—which presents a seeding problem, but mixing with fertilizer or with oats is helping solve this.

You can sow brome in spring, summer or fall, in most areas with good results, the Ohio extension service points out. I suggest you look into this grass as a good item to plan for your pasture program.

Another good booklet on the subject of "correct milking" reached me recently. It is a special circular entitled "Better Milking Saves Time," issued by The Extension Service, University of Wisconsin, Madison, Wis.* You'll want to add it to your collection. Ask for it by name.

*NOTE: There usually is a 5c charge for pamphlets mailed to non-residents of a state; but possibly your own state has a free pamphlet on the same subject. Ask your county agent.

Gilbert Lane Writes Mother From Pacific

EDITORS NOTE—The following letter was received by Mrs. Bessie Lane from her son, Gilbert H. Lane, who is somewhere in the Pacific. Gilbert will be remembered here as being identified with the cafe business for several years.

Dearest Mother and all:
I am in a writing mood tonight, so will write you all that I can tell you about what I have done since I left the States. If any of it is cut out, don't be surprised or worry about it, and don't worry about me, for I may not be in another battle as long as I am over here, but I hope I am. That is what I joined this outfit for and besides, it is a lot of fun.

When I first left the States I came to Hawaii. I caught my ship there. As you already know, we left there in a few days for the Marshall Islands and stayed there only one day and night. From there we went to Siapan, the first battle I was in. We went in fairly close on D-day morning and started unloading troops and supplies. We didn't lose any of the ship's crew but they fairly worked the hell out of us for five days and nights. We had several air raids and a few shells came pretty close to our ship, but the boys on the beach had hell. I have never smelled anything like it. A plane almost hit us as we were leaving there; that was the worst scare I have ever had. It was a Jap bomber. You should have seen the guys hit the deck. We got as low as we possibly could. We went back to Hawaii, reloaded, and started for Guam. It was a lot the same, except that we went in a lot closer to the beach. It is a lot of fun to watch our boys fight in the air, and at night when the ships cut loose, it is worse than any 4th of July you have ever seen. The sky is so full of tracers you can't see anything else. I saw planes burn in the air, men die, and watched them bury them at sea. Well, we left Guam and started for Hawaii again. We all thought we were going to come to the States, but they cancelled it and we reloaded, for we knew not what, but we stayed around Hawaii for quite some time. We were all so tired of the place that we could hardly stand it. One morning we got orders to leave. They didn't tell us where we were going, but all of us knew. It was the Philippines, and we also knew we were coming to the States after that so we were one happy bunch. But here is some of my good luck. My darn kidneys got to bothering me so the Dr. transferred me back to Hawaii to the hospital. When we got to the Marshalls, I caught a plane and was back in no time. I was transferred from the hospital to a damned L.S.T. Well, I was sure mad. The Dr. had told me I would catch the same ship and I sure wanted to come home. I raised so much hell that I went back to the hospital and had my eyes operated on. From there it was to the good old LCT (G) 345. Well, I knew by then that I wasn't going to get to catch the Aleyone, so I decided I would make the best of it. We stayed in Hawaii until I dreamed about that place every night. I have never hated any place like I do that one. We -- one morning we got orders to leave and was I glad. But this ship was a lot different than the other. It is so small and rough as hell out at sea. We went to Iwo Jima. We got there the night before D-day and went to within about a mile of the island and stayed the rest of the night. In the morning most of the LCT's were throwing rockets into the beach, but they had us go in and look for guns and pill boxes. We went to within forty or fifty yards of the beach. No other ship was with us. They shot at us with fifty cal. guns and a few six-inch guns, but mostly they shot mortars at us and they came too damned close for comfort too, but we didn't get any hits. After D-day we had a lot of air raids and the boys on the beach had pure hell. I am sure glad I am in the Navy. Well, that is as far as I can go, but you see we don't have such a hard time. There are lots of things I can't tell you, but you know what, or part of what we are doing. But Mom, don't let this worry you. I guess I shouldn't have written you this, but you should know that we are fighting a war anyway. I just wish we would go from one invasion to another until it is over. I want to make a liberty in Tokyo and then come home for good. I will admit that war is hell, but it is a great experience for the ones that come through it. It will show a man what an easy life we have in the good old U.S.A. Most of the people don't even know there is a war going on. They gripe about things they have to do without. Well, we do without a hell of a lot more than any of the people there do, but we in the Navy have a lot more than some of them do, so we don't cry.

I have gotta close and get some sleep. Don't let what I have written worry you, Mother. I just thought you would like to know what I am doing. Lots and lots of love,

Gilbert H. Lane

Sgt. W. Johnston Back In P. I.

EDITORS NOTE—The following was written by Sgt. W. O. Johnston, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Richardson of Palo Duro. Sgt. Johnston is with the 5th Air Corps engineers somewhere in the Philippine Islands. The letter was written a short time after he arrived there after having spent a furlough here with his parents. Dearest folks:

I have arrived safely and sound somewhere in the P. I. I am back with my old outfit, and it looks pretty nice over here but it rains a lot. There was a nice little P. I. girl around while ago so I sent my laundry off by her. I have written to Clyde and Cecil Heckman. I am sure tired after so long of a trip over.

I made Sargeant while I was at home, about the first of February. I will send some money home in about a month. I will close for now as I am tired, so write to me real often. I will write again in a few days. You can put my address and that I arrived here safely in the paper. Some of hte people want to know it, and send me the paper. Answer soon.

Love, your son.

HIGHLIGHTS OF 1944

General Electric annual report

JET PROPULSION. General Electric developed the world's most powerful engine for the world's fastest plane—the G-E jet propulsion engine for the Lockheed P-80 "Shooting Star." It is over twice as powerful as previous models produced for the Army Air Force.

PRODUCTION INCREASED. For the fourth successive year, General Electric turned out record quantities of war goods despite an average of 2 per cent fewer employees. G. E. produced over 8,000,000 horsepower of ship propulsion turbines for the Navy in 1944.

EMPLOYEE EARNINGS UP. The average G-E employee earned $2,772 in 1944. Employees also shared $234,000 in Suggestion Awards. Top award was $2,000 for an idea that speeded production of G-E gun control for the B-29. G-E employee suggestions aid the war effort.

234,732 STOCKHOLDERS. Ownership of the company was divided among more stockholders than ever before. Dividends were $1.40 per share—same as 1943 and 1942, less than 1941 and 1940. Net income was less than 1940, while sales billed were 3 1/4 times greater.

NEW DEVELOPMENTS. G-E research and engineering played a part in such recent developments as radar, silicones, jet propulsion, rocket weapons, remote gun control for the B-29 "Superfortress," the A-26 "Invader," and the P-47 "Black Widow."

FOR VICTORY—BUY AND HOLD WAR BONDS

AROUND THE WORLD A THOUSAND TIMES I

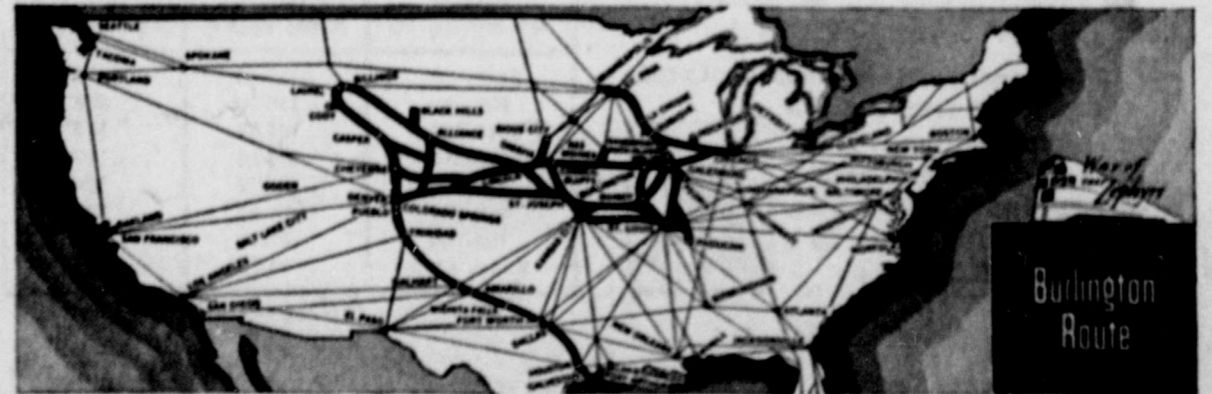

Shortly after the first of this year, Burlington's fleet of fourteen diesel-powered, stainless steel Zephyrs attained an unprecedented total in train miles of service—25,000,000!

The Texas Zephyrs, linking Texas with Colorado since August, 1940, have contributed nearly 3,000,000 miles to this amazing total.

In rolling up the equivalent of a thousand times around the world, the Zephyrs have proved many things. Their tremendous patronage has shown the public's enthusiastic endorsement of speedy, luxurious, streamlined trains. Their almost unbelievable record of availability and "on-time" performance, in the face of high speed schedules, has established the might of diesel power. Their beauty and stamina are a tribute to the design and structural strength of these fast trains. (The Pioneer Zephyr, first of the Zephyr fleet and America's first diesel-powered streamline train, has nearly 2,000,000 miles to its credit and has already started on its second ten years of service.)

Yes, America has given the nod of approval to the Zephyrs and the kind of travel they typify. So there will be more of them in the days ahead. They will be even more efficient, even more luxurious. For improvement is the mandate of progress.

CLARIFY RAILROAD LAW

House Resolution 2536, known as the Bulwinkle Amendment to the Interstate Commerce Act, is the subject of many editorials and other discussion over the nation.

The amendment seeks to eliminate any possibility of conflict between the Interstate Commerce Act and the Sherman Anti-trust Act by providing that agreements between common carriers be approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

This is similar to provisions for commercial airlines and maritime shipping contained in the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938 and United States Shipping Act of 1916.

The amendment provides that carrier agreements be approved only when found to be in furtherance of the national transportation policy declared in the Interstate Commerce Act. Under its terms, no agreement would be approved which bridged the rights of independent action by non-concurrent carriers.

The Commission is authorized to prescribe necessary rules and regulations, hold hearings, prescribe terms and conditions upon which its approval is to be granted, modify such terms and conditions, and terminate agreements.

Carriers are specifically relieved from the anti-trust laws only to the extent that they comply with such approved agreements and conform with the terms and conditions prescribed by the Commission.

The Bulwinkle Amendment is worthy of support, in view of the fact that confusion and uncertainty exist today concerning the application of the anti-trust laws to railroads and other surface carriers. At least, the amendment is worth a trial. If it did not succeed, something else could be done.

The Southwest and the South are particularly concerned over discriminatory freight rates. It is significant that the author of the Bulwinkle Amendment is Rep. A. L. Bulwinkle of North Carolina.

In commenting on his amendment, he said:

"The Interstate Commerce Commission was set up as, and is, the arm of the Congress for the purpose of insuring reasonable and nondiscriminatory rates and fair practices, and the Congress

Diego has it is really an outstanding event to be ordered to a task altogether new and different. Well, we had it: a bombardment mission! Our first. The target was Okino Daito, a small island of high military value 450 miles south of southern Japan. The time was just after midnight on March 2nd. In company with a few other ships in single file we steamed passed the island at a distance of about two and a half miles. Star shells were sent up to illuminate the target, making it bright as day. As we came well within range we opened up with the biggest and best we had, continuing the fire until we had passed the target. Within an hour the job was done. As we left the area Okino Daito was a mass of flames, and it appeared that the entire island would be a complete loss to the Japs. At the time of our action against Okino Daito this bombardment was the closest to the Japanese mainland of any made during the war.

A few days later found us back in port for "replenishment and recreation" as the book calls it. This means taking on supplies, liberty parties to the beach, baseball, swimming or just loafing under a palm tree; it means movies topside, and a jazz band coming aboard now and then, and lots of mail. But best of all, it means another "mission completed" and we are that much nearer home!

Your loving son,
Harley

Motion Pictures In Schools

Motion pictures are becoming more and more a part of regular school instruction, Donald McCavick, director of the University of Texas Visual Instruction Bureau reports.

Circulation of films and other visual aids from the Bureau this year has doubled that of the preceding year, and the Bureau is now serving 550 schools, Mr. McCavick reports. These schools, he said, often serve as a clearing-house for smaller schools in the county or district.

From the Bureau's 3,000-film library the school children of Texas are getting a broad visual education in subjects ranging from English and history to current events such as Dumbarton Oaks and the coming Seventh War Loan Drive.

In constant demand, the director says, are such films as "Peace Builders," and "Dumbarton Oaks," and films distributed by the Office of War Information and the American Red Cross.

Films are available from the Visual Instruction Bureau for costs of mailing and a small rental fee, Mr. McCavick said.

Harley C. Longan Writes Again From Pacific

EDITORS NOTE — Mrs. Edith Longan received the following letter a few days ago from her son, Harley C. Longan, who is operating with the battle fleet somewhere in the Pacific war area.

U.S.S. San Diego
April 3, 1945

Dear mother: With this letter I want to bring you up-to-date on the San Diego's experiences "as far as the law allows."

One morning during the second week in February we got under way with the feeling prevailing throughout the ship that this operation was going to be something really big. We were not long in doubt. On the second day out the matter was settled by a familiar voice over the ship's general announcement system: "This is the Captain speaking. We are going to call on the Japs at their own front door. We are headed for Tokyo!"

This operation was to be the first great attack on Tokyo by carrier-based planes since the famous Doolittle raid in April 1942. That, necessarily, was a hit and run affair. This time we were going in with sufficient surface vessels to permit a sustained air attack on a massive scale. And go in we did, until we were almost in sight of Fujiyama!

Early on the morning of February 16th the planes from our powerful fleet began their strikes against targets in and around the Japs' capital city. All day long the attack continued with wave after wave of our carrier planes sweeping over Tokyo. The next day the process was repeated.

I must admit that we in the San Diego did not take these two days in the enemy's home waters as just a matter of course. We expected a heavy air attack in return, and we were ready for it. But it did not come. A few Jap planes headed our way but were shot down far beyond sight of our ship. Does this mean that the Japs just did not have the means to fight back at us? Well, your guess is as good as mine on that.

Our next move was southward to cover the invasion of Iwo Jima. We spent days in that area while carrier planes were launched to give support to our troops going ashore. Again the return air attack from the Japs was mild and ineffective. On February 25th we were once more off Tokyo and our planes blasted installations there with good results. So far as our surface vessels were concerned there was no Jap opposition at all.

There are new planes to be built . . . new tanks . . . new ships. All to bring the war to an earlier close.

Our fighting men will do their job. But we must do ours!

And right now, the most important job we have is to meet our personal quotas in the Seventh War Loan drive!

Those quotas are big. Uncle Sam needs $7,000,000,000 from individuals. For this loan is really 2 in 1—there had been 2 drives in 1944, by this time. So now—we've got to do a two-loan job in one.

But Americans have never failed to meet a War Bond quota yet—and we won't fail now! So find out what your quota is—and meet it!

Some of the most potent doctors in this war don't know the first thing about medicine or surgery, but they get the job done, if you take it from the wounded veterans and the administrators in the big Army hospitals of Texas.

These drugless "doctors" are the actors and entertainers of the USO Hospital circuit. Approximately 50 show units, in addition to a number of big-name entertainers, have made the rounds thus far. More have been, and will continue to be, booked for future shows.

USO Hospital Shows are financed, just as are USO Camp Shows and the USO clubs, by the National War Fund, to which Texans contribute through their county war chests.

"These entertainers have done a wonderful job in our institution," Brig. Gen. James A. Beath, commanding general of McCloskey Hospital at Temple. "They have done wonders for our wounded."

One of the major problems of army hospital authorities and doctors is to keep the wounded men from boredom and from thinking too much of their troubles. Model-making, drawing, work that men can handle from their beds or wheel chairs are all encouraged to that end. But the surest-fire gloom-killer is the USO hospital show, Army authorities report.

Top flight entertainment, planned specifically for the wounded men, is presented. Each unit spends three or four days at each hospital. Shows are presented in the auditorium for ambulatory patients, and also in the wards at the very bedsides of the more seriously wounded. When acts call for it, a piano is moved from ward to ward.

Texans last year led all big-quota states in contributing to the National War Fund, which finances USO and 21 other war-related agencies. The 1945 drive for funds will open on October 1, with active war chest groups organized in all Texas counties.

One Bulb Every 30 Months
Americans replace household light bulbs on an average of once every two and one-half years because semi-annual replacements in the kitchen and living room are more than cancelled by the little-used lamps in attic and basement sockets, says the Westinghouse Lamp Division. The average life of a 60-watt incandescent bulb is 1,000 hours of burning.

Texas highest county, judged by average elevation, is Jeff Davis, a little less than a mile above the sea level.

Price Control On Used Cars Stressed

Persons advertising used passenger automobiles for sale in newspapers and other publications must include in the advertisement the make of the car, the model year, the model body type, the seller's offering price, and the statement that the price is "within OPA ceiling," the District Office of Price Administration has announced.

This requirement, effective May 9, 1945, is designed to aid in the enforcement of price control on used cars.

The owner of a car may obtain its legal ceiling price by phoning his local War Price and Rationing Board or by checking the ceiling price list which is available at all OPA offices or automobile dealer shops.

A number of changes in the regulation governing used car prices, effective May 9, were also announced. These include exemption of 1925 and earlier models from price control, establishment of specific record-keeping requirements for used passenger car dealers, a slight modification of warranty and replacement requirements, changes in selection of a comparable car in determining price ceilings for some 1926 through 1935 model cars, establishment of an equitable dealer resale price on a station wagon with a new station wagon body and used chassis purchased from another dealer, adding of a requirement that the price label or tag must be displayed in a prominent place on a car for sale, and a clarification of the regulation to state clearly that the only extras which may be added are the $10 standard addition for a heater, the $30 standard addition for a radio on the specific additions permitted for built-in overdrive transmissions or automatic clutches. No additions may be charged for such items as seat covers, spotlights, etc.

Tire Rationing Rules To Be Tightened

Tightening of tire dealers record-keeping requirements and several other changes in the tire rationing program, all designed to protect the nation's small supply of tires, were announced by the Office of Price Administration today.

Tire dealers will be required, beginning June 1, 1945, to maintain current records and to take a monthly inventory to establish accountability for tires and tire certificates.

Coupled with the recent cancellation of tire certificates dated before December 1, 1944, and a requirement that tire manufacturers turn in certificates monthly to OPA verification centers for screening, today's action completes a comprehensive program to stop illegal tire sales and transfers.

The new requirements will help

They raised the Flag again on Corregidor...

Let's raise the money in the MIGHTY SEVENTH

OUR FLAG flies once again over Corregidor. The cost was great in blood and pain, but our fighting men did not turn back. And on Iwo Jima, four thousand men—more and more—died to take the long step forward to Victory. Twenty thousand others suffered wounds. Yes, we're on the way to Tokyo!

At home, your contribution to Victory is measured in dollars. The Seventh War Loan is the biggest in America's history because seven billion dollars must be raised from individuals alone. That means you must buy more and bigger War Bonds.

This is really two great loans in one; for this time last year you had been called upon twice to subscribe in War Loans. As our fighting men raise Old Glory all over the world—let's raise the money back home!

Will you hold a FAT-SALVAGE BEE for your country?

HERE IN AMERICA, when a neighbor needs help, it has always been the custom for all the folks to pitch in and give him a hand. Many a harvest would have been lost without the help of a husking bee.

YOUR COUNTRY NEEDS a fat-salvage bee right now! Millions of tons of fat have been used up to supply the thousands of battlefield and home-front needs in this war. And there's still a lot of war ahead!

A PLEA TO EVERY WOMAN! Our country is calling on you, the women in small cities and towns and on the farms, to save every drop of used fat. Your used fats are desperately needed to meet our country's requirements.

So scrape all pans and roasters. Skim soups and gravies. Keep your used fats in a tin can—any kind will do. Save meat trimmings and plate scrapings in a bowl; melt them down and add the liquid fat to your can.

When the salvage can is full, take it to your butcher. He'll give you 2 red points and up to four cents for every pound. If you have any difficulty turning in your used fats, call your Home Demonstration or County Agent.

Needed this year: 100,000,000 more pounds of used fats
