There is said to be a move on foot by the cattlemen to build a ten million dollar packing plant at Kansas City. There has been nothing in years past that has so stirred up the cattlemen as the packing trust.

If President Baer is an "instrument in the hands of God," as he seems to want, arrogantly, to claim for himself, he must be about the same kind that drove the children of Israel into the Red sea, and is as likely to turn out as disastrously to the driver. The public is now arising in mass and demanding public ownership of the mines. The intolerance and greed of the monopolists are opening the eyes of the people faster than all the persuasive arguments have been able to do in the past, and will yet result in their undoing.

W. R. HARST, a progressive democrat and who runs several papers, among them the New York Journal which advocates greater reforms than any other metropolitan daily, defeated Perry Belmont for the nomination for congress in New York. In his speech accepting the democratic nomination he announced himself as in favor of public ownership of certain public utilities, specifying, as a natural beginning, railroads and telegraphs. Existing conditions, he declared, made it advisable for the government to take possession of and manage the anthracite coal mines for the people's good. He favored the election of United States senators by popular vote as a means to the end of dealing with monopolies that "compel the payment of extortionate prices by the helpless public."

Several years ago, when populists were making the leading issue more money, they were branded as wild-eyed fanatics. Now, that the very class who said there is an overabundance of money have gone into speculation until we are on the verge of a big panic, they are the biggest howlers for more money in the whole land, and advocate a worse "wild cat" currency than they even charged the populists of advocating. Secretary Shaw is scared nearly out of his boots and is so anxious to put off the panic until after the election that he is using every scheme known to man to get "more money" into circulation. That game might work if the banks didn't pile ten dollars of credit on top of every new dollar that Shaw gets out. Call money went up to 20 per cent. in New York and the only thing that saved them was the sending in haste a few millions from Washington and the getting out by Bradstreet and Dun of a great prosperity report. We were told a few years ago that when we could have the gold standard, panics and money disturbances would be unknown. Now they tell us to make the money "sound" we must have wild cat banks on the asset plan. What's the matter with Hanna, anyhow?

Dallas and Donley counties have both gone prohibition and some of the newspapers of the Panhandle are predicting that Clarendon and Dalhart will be the toughest towns in Texas—Higgins News.

No paper has made any such prediction as to Clarendon and Dalhart did not go prohibition, hence it is natural to conclude it will be "tough."

The INDUSTRIAL WEST made a good fight for prohibition in Donley county and Bro. Blake should feel proud over the result. The total vote was: prohibition, 225; anti, 133; prohibition majority, 92. Clarendon gave a pro majority of 60. Is Carson going to join the band?—Claude News.

Carson would have long since joined the band had it not been for the very liberal patronage of the saloons received from our neighbors on the south.—Panhandle Herald.

The Herald is an anti paper and tries to divert attention from the disreputableness of its own county by casting reflections upon others. Armstrong is able to show facts and figures with any whisky county, and as for Donley, the voters of the fourth of its territory next to Carson were so disgusted with doggeries like those in Panhandle that every vote cast by them

That Whisky Ad. Expose.

The fellows who got caught with the Johnson advertising proposition are very wrathful now at the method used to catch them. It does look like people who live in such glass houses would not throw stones. For they agreed to use deception that is more reprehensible than that used by the Voice. The Voice only started out to catch a few newspaper men, while the latter proposed for a consideration to deceive all their readers. Mr. Page, of the Texas prohibition committee says of the matter:

"Every prohibitionist believes that the whole business is the greatest crime in the United States. The government that licenses the traffic; the voter that gives his consent by his vote to the license policy; the paper that for money or otherwise will uphold it, are alike guilty of this crime against humanity. Our federal and state government uses every possible means to ferret out crime, decoy letters and many other methods being used. These methods are recognized by all except the criminals themselves as being perfectly legitimate. And yet, the paper that above any other agency in the United States has fought through evil and good report for the prohibition cause is denounced as a fraud when it uses these same recognized methods against a crime that far outranks any other crime. The proposition was plain to the editors. They were asked for how much they would sell their 'news columns for advertising' without advertising marks, and how much they would take for their editorial honor. Those who had backbone enough to refuse have nothing to regret. Those who were willing to peddle lies for the liquor men are exposed and rightfully so, and convicted before the people of Texas as being willing to become accessories in crime. Is the liquor business a legitimate one by the laws of God, and before the bar of public opinion? Or is it a crime? Can we fight this subtle enemy without knowing his plans and his plots against the homes of Texas? Will they willing tell us their plans? Is it wrong to set a trap for a criminal? Are good men hurt by refusing to be caught? No really honest paper in Texas has been hurt; only some rottenness exposed. We believe that the honest voters of Texas will thank the New Voice for the exposures; and say God speed to it in its endeavors to exalt civic righteousness, and dethrone and expose political corruption."

Philippines no Longer an Issue.

Practically all fundamental Philippine questions, apart from the supreme question of independence or statehood, have now been settled. The Filipinos wanted religious liberty, personal freedom, freedom of speech and other civil rights, a native legislative assembly and territorial home rule, and these all have been conceded to them. In the long run, of course, the Filipinos must be given either statehood in the American Union or independence—an independence which may be actual and open like that of Cuba or veiled like that of Canada.

But till their native legislative assembly is organized in 1904 and for a few years thereafter this can scarcely be a practical issue, and in the meantime the Philippines will disappear as an issue in American politics.—Pres. Schurman of Cornell University.

We congratulate Editor Johnson of the Hall County News upon his prosperous business and new office equipment of a cylinder press and gasoline engine.

Buckner Orphans Home now has an annex and children's hospital in the city of Dallas, where the general manager transacts all business of the institution and where all children are first received before being taken out to the home.

The Shakey Banks.

The trust companies of New York City owe $887,001,689, most of it payable on demand. The banks owe $955,829,400, all payable on demand. The trust companies have practically no reserves at all, their funds being lent to the clearing house banks. That being the case, it will be seen that when the banks have the legal reserve of 25 per cent. the truth is, that the real New York reserve is only 12 per cent.

Watered stocks and wildcat money. That is the latest from the "sound money" crowd.

Rejected by Massachusetts Democrats.

The platform that was drawn up by George Fred Williams and which was rejected with so much scorn by the democratic state convention of Massachusetts is such a model document for terseness and sledge-hammer blows on the thick hides of corporation robbers and plutocratic supporters of a government by the rich for their further enrichment, that the Independent prints it. After indorsing "the last great protest of the national party against accumulating evils," it is as follows:

"First—That the power of the people be extended so that laws may be made and legislative enactments vetoed by direct vote at the polls.

"Second—A prohibition upon judges in equity to create offenses, and then try offenders without jury and sentence them without right of appeal.

"Third—Taxation in nation and state which shall require full contribution from wealth and bear as lightly as possible on labor and the poor.

"Fourth—The repeal of tariff duties which protect monopolistic trusts and the reduction of the tariff to a revenue basis.

"Fifth—Liberty and self-government everywhere under the stars and stripes.

"Sixth—The enactment and enforcement of drastic criminal laws against monopolistic trusts.

"Seventh—The public ownership or control of public utilities.

"Eighth—An eight-hour day for all labor.

"Ninth—Stringent laws to prevent the use of patronage of corporations to influence legislation or political actions.

"Tenth—Honest reciprocity with other nations, especially with Canada and Cuba.

"Eleventh—State co-operation with the national government for the speedier improvement of Boston harbor.

"Twelfth—The arbitration of industrial disputes such as the present coal strike.

"Thirteenth—Not only just laws, but a party which means to enforce them."

The latest dispatches say that the real reason for the hatred of the reorganizers was on account of the preamble, which was as follows: "A heartless capitalism, born of greed and nourished by law, is perverting our institutions and morals, invading press, pulpit and college and oppressing labor and trade. Its system has one aim, to increase the hoard of the wealthy out of the toil of the people. Its method is to secure grants or immunities of privilege, and it is rapidly bringing trade, lands, money and inventions under monopolistic control, and its hand guides the helm of government. Its reign is no longer endurable.

"The democracy of Massachusetts indorses the last great protest of the national party against these accumulating evils. The success of a faithful democracy was never more necessary to the maintenance of our liberties and the greatest happiness of the greatest number."

—Nebraska Independent.

The McLean "democracy" of Ohio have issued notice that they will vote the republican ticket because their pluto-imperial program was knocked out at the state convention. This is as it should be. They belong with the Cleverlands, Gormans, Hills and Whitney. Over the transom with them! They belong to the republicans. Let them go there. The sooner the democratic party is rid of these old blisters, the better off it will be.—Southern Mercury.

The secretary of war, Shaw, has almost depleted the people's treasury in an effort to keep the Wall street gamblers from going broke and precipitating a panic before it can be shifted to the fool democrats. His last contribution amounted to $40,000,000. People are told that this is all an accident. That it just happened so. The truth is it has been skillfully planned. No highwayman ever laid his plans with so much premeditation.—Dalton Herald.

Many public schools in West Virginia are closed for the want of teachers. The pay there is only from $25 to $40 per month.

Panola county voted prohibition Monday. This is where Rev. Granville Jones was rotten egged and the anti were out on election day with a brass band.

Canting Hypocrites in High Places.

Even men who see but little of the worst side of life can picture the glaring injustice of the coal barons in some of its aspects. John Wannamaker says of the miners: "They live in houses built of sheet iron and boards, about fifteen feet square and sunk about three feet in the ground. Of course, there is but one room and in the room the family—anywhere from six to ten humans—cooks, eats and sleeps. Although there is plenty of space, these huts are crowded together like troopers' bunks on a transport. The streets are so narrow one may almost touch a house on either side simultaneously. Behind these huts stretched a great heap of ashes—the dump from the furnaces that ran the engines, a reddish-brown heap, packed hard by the rain. For obscure reasons parts of it were yet hot, and steamed under the contact of the veil of wet. And this mass, in cooling, threw off a stench like that of burning bones; an acrid, foul odor, sweet with a nauseating, revolting sweetness, pervaded the entire community."

To this the Nebraska Independent add: "Men like Baer, who claim that God in his providence has placed the property interests in their hands, treat human beings in that manner when without cost to themselves the miners could have plenty of room and pure air instead of these horrible stench. When the miners demand better conditions and strike to get them, these canting hypocrites declare that 'there is nothing to arbitrate.' The trained writers on the great dailies could make Baer and all his kind slinking fugitives from the wrath of an indignant public in three days if they so desired. But they do nothing of the kind. Not because most of them would not be glad to do it, but money controls the policy of the papers and money says: No.

"One of the curses is the despoiling and degrading of the finest writers in the nation and using men's minds and souls to despoil the poor. That is the curse that the plutocratic press entails. The crime is not that of the writers so much as that of the men who force them to so use their intellects. As for this writer he had rather be a doorkeeper in the house of righteousness and justice than dwell in the twenty-storied palaces from which the plutocratic press is issued."

The Vagaries of Populism.

Question. Republican farmer, where do you live? About 10 miles northeast of Kearney. Q. What is your postoffice address? Kearney. Q. You are very busy now, so you don't come to town for your mail very often? A man brings my mail out to me every morning. I read the market reports from my morning paper at the breakfast table. Q. That is very convenient. How much does that service cost you? Not a cent. It is all done by Uncle Sam's postoffice trust. Q. Your son and daughter attend the state university free? Yes, but I do not get to see them often. It costs $14.28 every time they come home. Q. Do you know that in New Zealand all school children have passes on the railroads, that as big a man as you can travel anywhere on the railroads for one cent a mile, talk over a telephone anywhere for ten cents, send a telegram anywhere for twelve cents, that freight rates there are about one-third what they are here, that section hands get $2 a day for eight hours' work and a half day off each week? No. Why, I used to send money over there to Christianize those heathen and they seem to have done pretty well upon it. Mr. Paperton, let me ask a question. Why is this? Oh, nothing, except the New Zealanders own the railroads and telegraph and telephone systems and they make nearly enough, too, to run their government, so that a farmer over there can be worth $2,500 before he is called upon to pay taxes. Let me ask another question. Have these New Zealanders got the initiative and referendum? Yes. That grizzly animal got loose over there and you see what he did. And Mr. Republican farmer rolled up a copy of the Hub containing a fresh editorial on the "Vagaries of Populism," lighted his pipe with it and strolled off humming, "I would not live always."—Roy W. Rhone, in Kearney New Era-Standard.

Engineers of the World.

St. Louis, Oct. 6.—The many great engineering works of the world and their fast increasing number have prompted the organizers of the World's Fair to give due recognition to the profession. Col. John A. Ockerson, chief of the Department of Liberal Arts, himself an engineer who has to his credit many great works, has published the following letter for the information of members of the profession everywhere:

"The agitation in engineering societies as to the propriety of a code of ethics to govern the members of our profession, is evidence of a desire to ennoble the calling of the engineer. None of the so-called learned professions is so intimately connected with the material progress of our country as is that of engineering. Yet, in the face of all of this, the profession is not held in that high esteem to which it is justly entitled. This is due, in a great measure, to the fact that the public is not as familiar as it should be with the functions of the engineer, whose individuality is more or less over-shadowed by the great corporation which employs him.

"Much can be done at great expositions, by bringing the general public into contact with the work which the engineer has wrought and which emphasizes his science, ingenuity and skill. Heretofore, engineering work at expositions has been somewhat obscured by being mixed up with transportation and other related matters which indeed are closely akin to it. In the coming exposition at St. Louis, civil, military and architectural engineering pertaining to public works, will be housed together in the Liberal Arts Palace.

"In the interests of the profession, as well as those of the exposition, I hope to secure for the several groups devoted to engineering, the best examples of what the engineer has wrought in all parts of the world. With the proper cooperation of the engineering profession, which should be readily accorded, there would be gathered at the coming exposition the greatest engineering exhibit which the world has ever known. Every engineer can do something toward the realization of this much-desired result."

After Austin Gamblers.

Whether he is just making a grand stand display or in earnest, Judge Penn of Austin this week in delivering his charge to the grand jury hit the gamblers pretty strong, as well as the professional juror. Referring to gambling he said that the gaming laws were being openly, deliberately and defiantly violated every day in Austin. He went so far as to say that if the grand jurors were unable to ascertain the names of parties who gamble in the gambling houses, they should have the proprietors brought before them to tell who were their customers. The charge shows plainly that it is the desire of the court that gambling cease. Referring to the professional juror, the court said: "The law does not contemplate in having a grand jury for the purpose of giving people jobs, but for the purpose of having good government by the enforcement of the laws. Good and impartial citizens who are not afraid to enforce the laws are desired on grand juries."

Female Cattle Ropers.

Miss Mulhall, daughter of the general live stock agent of the Frisco, Zack Mulhall, has entered for the prize in the cattle roping contest at the San Antonio International fair, which opens on the 18th. Miss Mulhall is said to be one of the most expert cattle-ropers in the country, her record being better than many recognized crack ropers among the opposite sex. Besides Miss Mulhall three other young ladies from West Texas have made application to be permitted to enter the contests.

Unsafe Conditions.

While the carpenters union and other labor organizations are contributing money by the hundreds of dollars to keep the striking miner's wives and children from starving in the mining districts, our national secretary of the treasury Shaw is dishing the people's money out of the people's treasury to the coal barons and the Wall street gamblers by the millions of dollars to keep their wives and children reveling in silks and wines and other luxuries. And much of this public money which Shaw is bridging the gamblers over with was squeezed out of the very same miners and the good hearted men that are now contributing of their scant savings to keep their families from starvation. Fellow-citizens, this is a very unhealthy state of affairs. There is something rotten in Denmark. Yet the boodlers and beneficiaries of the rottenness (whose name is legion) persist in their efforts, both fair and foul, to hold the workingman's nose to the old party grindstones.—Dalton, Ga., Herald.

Many are satisfied to live in Northwest Texas, having proved the value of the land in this region as a good Crop Raiser. Not only Cattle, but Wheat, Cotton, Corn, Feed-Stocks, Cantaloupes, Garden Truck and Good Health flourish here—in a district where Malaria is impossible and very little doing for Jails and Hospitals.

MENACED BY MOB

Streetcar Strike Situation Has Assumed Acute Stage. CARS NOT PERMITTED TO MOVE Mayor Issued a Call for Volunteers to Assist Police and the Total Number Who Responded Was but Seven. New Orleans, La., Oct. 8.—The railway company tried to obey the order of the mayor to run cars Tuesday morning, but with almost the entire force of city police concentrated at the scene of action, one car got five squares from the central barn and the attempt was abandoned for the day. Four cars were started out with non-union motormen and conductors, each carrying eleven policemen, while a hundred policemen were massed in the vicinity, but when the first car reached Conti street the strikers and their sympathizers made a rush, got possession and won the day with the utmost ease. The police made no show of resistance. Evidence of the fact is that not a single striker was injured. On the other hand, P. H. Schwenk of Chicago, a non-union conductor, was hit on the head with a brick and badly hurt, and with three others, were bodily injured, possession of by the strikers. Two were kept prisoners in union headquarters all the afternoon, carefully guarded, and not even members of the union were allowed to talk to them. The other two were concealed at some other point, which is not known. A fifth non-union man, who had been an inspector for the company, got scared, and when his sweetheart clung to his neck and dragged him from the car, he went and was greeted with cheers by the strikers as he retired to his home. One policeman was hit on the foot by a brick, and another of the non-union men, who is a prisoner, was roughly handled, but not badly hurt. The cars were damaged by the rain of bricks, and all glasses were broken. AGAINST MONUMENT. Two Individuals Oppose One to Gen. Robert E. Lee. Washington: At the Grand Army reunion Tuesday afternoon at Camp Phil Sheridan, Gen. J. H. Wilson was one of the speakers. In the course of his remarks he referred to the proposal to erect a monument to Gen. R. E. Lee, saying that our monuments should be to men who had assisted in keeping the flag flying and not to those who would have pulled it down if they could have done so. Capt. William Potter of the Ninth Pennsylvania Infantry, Gen. Wilson's sentiments on the flag question. He said he had been present when Joe turned after a brief flight in Cedar Canyon and heard Gen. Wade Hampton, in command of the Confederate cavalry, swear that he would lead the cavalry into Mexico before it should capitulate. "Our soil," said the speaker, "is too pure to be used for the erection of a monument to any rebel." Showman Died. Temple, Tex.: John B. Brown, one of the "Buckskin Bill" showmen, died at the hospital from injuries received in falling from a train after leaving Temple. SAMUEL ARNOLD DEAD. Was Convicted of Participation in Lincoln's Assassination. Baltimore, Md.: Samuel Arnold, 72 years of age, who was convicted in 1875 for alleged participation in the assassination of President Abraham Lincoln, on Tuesday died at his home at Masonville. Arnold, with Dr. Mudd, Frank McLaughlin and others, was tried and convicted in Washington during Andrew Johnson's term of office. Arnold and Mudd were sent to the Dry Tortugas for life, but were pardoned by President Johnson after he had been acquitted in the impeachment trial. All efforts to get Arnold's story of the incidents leading up to the tragic death of President Lincoln were futile. "I prepared a statement which will exonerate me from guilt which will be given to the world after my death," was all he would say concerning the tragedy. It is not known whether Arnold left his promised statement or not. View of Gompers. Washington: President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor declared that there was no outlook for an early resumption of work by the striking anthracite miners, and said he was unable to say whether the strike would continue until spring. He refused to answer questions as to whether he had any communication from Mr. Mitchell. McKinney grain dealers complain of delay of cars. WORK BEGINS. Operations to Make the Trinity River Navigable Have Commenced. Dallas: Chief men who will have in charge the work which is soon to make Trinity river navigable from four to six months of last year arrived in the city and began Wednesday morning at the Commerce street bridge. The party is composed of E. Harrick, United States assistant engineer; F. H. Harris, who is the superintendent in charge of the work; Mr. Wiley, inspector and bookkeeper, and Michael Keenan, boat builder. Mr. Harris is said to be thoroughly conversant with the work in view, having been promoted from foreman by Superintendent of Construction Hinkle of the government engineers' department. The opening of the Trinity river is under the charge of the government, and will not be let out to private contractors.

SPINDLETOP BLAZE

A Section of the Hogg-Swayne Trust Swept by the Flames. Beaumont: A fire broke out on the Hogg-Swayne tract Tuesday night about 10 o'clock. One man is perhaps fatally injured by burning, but was taken out of reach, while three others are badly singed. The fire originated at what is known as the J. S. Corbett well, the property of the Kansas City Oil and Gas company. It was caused by a watchman, who has been in the habit of putting out his lantern and taking a nap. As the light went out the gas was ignited and the trouble started. It has covered about half of the east of block 35 on Spindletop avenue, being the extreme east end of the hill and on the south side of the avenue. The loss is estimated at $250,000. It is impossible to enumerate the names of the companies involved. ANOTHER ACCOUNT. This One Places Damage at Half a Million Dollars. Galveston: R. S. Rowland called up The News office from Spindletop at 1:35 Wednesday morning and announced that the fire was fully under control. Mr. Rowland stated that four out of five acres of block 35 of the Hogg-Swayne Syndicate tract had been burned over. On these four acres, he says, there are about 150 wells, any of which has surface improvement of $2000 to $3000, nearly all of which was destroyed. He, therefore, estimates the loss at $500,000. The character of property destroyed consists of derricks, pumping plants, a few small settling tanks and such surface improvements as those. Mr. Rowland says this fire is twice as big as the one of Sept. 12. To prevent the spread of the fire, derricks and other combustible material were torn out on all sides of the district burned over. NO DEFINITE PLAN. Mitchell and Manufacturers' Association Accomplished Nothing. Buffalo, N. Y.: The conference between the committee appointed by the National Manufacturers' association and President Mitchell and his lieutenants, held at the Iroquois hotel Tuesday afternoon, did not result in any definite plan being agreed upon for the partial resumption of work in the anthracite coal fields, but the members of the manufacturers' committee stated that they were greatly pleased with the progress made. Mr. Mitchell positively declined to discuss the request made by President Roosevelt that Mitchell use his influence to induce the miners to resume work with a promise of the appointment of a commission to investigate the miners' grievances. It was learned, however, that Mr. Mitchell does not regard the proposition favorably, and that he will decline to ask the miners to resume work under the conditions stipulated. Died From Musket Blow. Ballston, N. Y.: All was quiet on the Hudson Valley railroad in this county Tuesday afternoon, and there were no signs of disturbance at any village on the line. George Bourgeois of Glen Falls, the deaf laborer who was struck by a guardman on the head with a musket ball Monday evening, died Tuesday. He was 26 years of age and unmarried. He was on his way home from work in a mill when struck. ATTEMPTED HOLDUP. A Number of Shots Fired Into Coaches, but Nobody Hit. Guthrie, Ok.: An attempt was made Monday night between Chickasha, I. T., and Siding No. 1 to hold up the fast Rock Island passenger train, west-bound. A number of shots were fired into the coaches, but no one was hurt. The train had just entered the canyon, where in 1895 a desperate train robbery was committed by the Jen Jines gang, when a number of shots were fired at the train. Three rifle bullets passed through the coach windows, causing a panic among the passengers, while several others struck the sides of the car. The engineer increased the speed of the train. Young Lady Ropers. San Antonio: Miss Mulhall, daughter of the general livestock agent of the Frisco, Zack Mulhall, has entered for the prize in the cattle-roping contest at the San Antonio International fair, which opens on the 18th. Miss Mulhall is said to be one of the most expert of cattle-ropers, her record being better than many recognized crack men ropers. Besides Miss Mulhall, three other young ladies have made application to enter. Creek council is in session at Okmulgee. G. M. Hodges was elected speaker of the Choctaw council. OUTLAWS CAPTURED. Eight of Them Taken in Tow by Several Deputies. Guthrie, Ok.: Sheriff James Thompson of Caddo county arrived in Annadarko with a bunch of eight prisoners, alleged to be members of a gang of outlaws who were surrounded and captured after a brief fight in Cedar Canyon in Caddo county. The leader had called a conference of the gang to discuss future action. The officer became aware of rendezvous and with twenty-one deputies surrounded it. The leader left his horse to be confiscated, crawled on his hands and knees through the underbrush to the top of the canyon and escaped. He is thought to have headed the gang Monday that made an attack on the Rock Island train near Chickasha for the purpose of robbery.

Anthracite is Constantly Appreciating in Value in the North. New York: Nine dollars a ton is the price of coal in New York. Anthracite has no fixed price. One lot of five tons was sold for $125 by one retailer, and $50 a bushel is now being asked in some places. This is at the rate of $32 a ton. The cargo of the City of Chicago, Welsh coal, was put on sale at $15 a ton. The soft coal dealers declare they are unable to get their coal hauled from the mines owing to the scarcity of cars, and that, inasmuch as soft coal is loaded directly from the mine into the cars and not stored like anthracite, they have to stop mining when no cars are furnished them by the railroad companies. CHURCHMEN ACT. Episcopal Clergymen Pass Resolutions Regarding Coal Status. New York: The Churchmen's associations, including more than 100 of the representative Protestant Episcopal clergymen of the diocese of New York, Monday passed these resolutions: "Whereas, the present coal famine is the cause of widespread distress and great industrial disturbance, involving consequences of unprecedented gravity; and, "Whereas, the public deprivation of a necessity of life raises an issue which is above the merits of any private quarrel; therefore be it "Resolved, that we recognize with gratitude and approbation the patriotic action of the president of the United States in his endeavors to conciliate the conflicting interests; and further, be it "Resolved, that we pledge to the president our heartfelt moral support in his further efforts to secure justice for the public." T.: The sale of mild drinks which are claimed to be non-intoxicating is heretofore to be prohibited in the Indian Territory. In nearly all of the towns in the Indian Territory pool hall men and a class of men who make a business of selling mild drinks have introduced a mild drink which looks very much like beer, and in many instances beer is introduced in unlabeled bottles and sold throughout the Territory. During the last year there has been a great amount of drunkenness and crime which is believed to be traceable to the sale of mild beverages, which have been found to make their victims drunk and crazy for time being. Agents for these drinks in the Indian Territory have had a tip that the authorities were going to take a hand in the matter and have quietly decided to go out of business. Surprised Them. Scranton, Pa.: A crowd of strikers at Throop Thursday night were given a rather unpleasant surprise party. They attacked a train going to the Pancoast colliery, which they supposed contained non-unionists, but which, in fact, had aboard two companies of soldiers. The train was quickly stopped, the soldiers piled out and captured eight of the mob, all foreigners. They were taken to this city and sent to jail in default of $500 bail each. Obeyed the Command. At 3 o'clock she was awakened by the smashing of the window. She screamed, when a negro rushed in and seized her, pushed her back on the couch she had been sleeping and told her that if she screamed again he would kill her. Fortunately her cry was heard by George Best, who was on the gallery of the hotel across the street. He rushed over and as he knocked at the door the brute jumped from the second story through the window to the ground. Ut Duncan, the negro who attempted outrage upon the young lady telephone operator at Eagle Lake was placed in jail here, having been brought by Marshal Kinard on a freight train to evade notice. When the noon train arrived about 125 of Eagle Lake's leading citizens alighted and went immediately to the jail, which was found securely barred and in possession of a posse under Sheriff Burford by wire from Eagle Lake. But another obstacle far more difficult than a band of armed men was here encountered. Mrs. Burford, the sheriff's wife, held the keys and refused to turn them over or to vacate the victim without doing violence to the lady frustrated the mob for nearly five hours. Finally entrance was made through the windows of the dwelling in the afternoon and the guards were overpowered and disarmed. Entrance into the cell was effected by the use of sledge hammers, chisels and railroad irons and the victim was found lying in the corner covered with bedding. He was at once securely tied and the crowd, now several hundred strong, started on a run with him for the grove in the north end of town, where he was hanged to the limb of a huge live oak in the Volksest grounds. The guards who have been keeping the line open to Pekin will be retained indefinitely. It has been given out. Developments in Misamis confirm the predictions of constant native hostility so long as the American troops remain in the interior of that island, or until the insurgent chiefs are all completely reduced to submission or are severely punished. In a beef-dressing contest at Lake Contrary, near St. Joseph, Mo., L. A. Forlier of Chicago beat the world's record. There were six entries. The victor dressed his steer in 3:56 1-4. The previous record, held by A. Nelson of Kansas City, was 4:33 1-2. The engagement of Miss Ruth Hanna, youngest daughter of Senator Hanna, and Joseph McCormick, son of Hon. Robert S. McCormick, lately appointed minister to Buenos Aires, announced. The groom is a student of Chicago.

County Judge B. H. White announces this week for re-election to the office he now holds. As an evidence of his popularity he has been re-elected at every election since his first appointment to the position in 1884, and besides this holds the position of vice-president in the Citizens' Bank. He is rather retiring and unassuming in manner, yet easy of approach and ready to give out information relative to the county's affairs of the public schools, in which he takes a lively interest.

George F. Morgan, whose genial smile and hearty hand shake has met every one who has had anything to do with the clerk's office the two past terms, gracefully places his name before the voters this week to let them know that he would again appreciate their votes for the office one more time. He has performed his duties as county and district clerk in a way to win the respect and confidence of all who have had any business relations with him, and this is so well understood that no one is likely to contest his claim for the office. He is a man who is well liked by everybody for his affable manner and obliging disposition and his long and varied experience in a clerical line makes him about the best qualified man in the county. We prophesy that he will come out of the race with the biggest vote of any candidate on the ticket.

Too Indigent to Girls.
We believe that most American parents have always been and are too indulgent to their children, and to their daughters especially. There is an innate spirit of chivalry in almost every man born on American soil that makes him wish to shield every female tie from any of the hardships of life, and we should be sorry if it were not so. But at the same time life is so full of change and misfortune that all too often dependent women are left to support themselves and their families without the least experience as to how to assume the responsibility.

Therefore every girl should be taught something practical which she could turn to account if necessary, but she need not assume its practice until circumstances demand its assumption.—Mrs. John A. Logan.
