CAMP TRAVIS NOTES

When the soldier boy's Evelyn Mae sends him a cake and a shoebox of fudge, why, of course he has to write her and tell her how "dee-lucious" it was. What he doesn't tell her is that the cake got mashed in transit and he had to bury it in the garbage can. Nor does he mention the fact that the candy went astray because the address was faulty, and the sweets poor little Evelyn Mae labored over were dusty dry before they reached her correspondent.

The fact is that the postal service of Camp Travis is cluttered up with ill-packed, ill-addressed, ill-chosen and generally unnecessary parcels of food intended for a body of men who, even if the parcels never arrived at all, would be one of the best fed bodies of men in the country. The ration is a balanced one, every component that is required to make the meals nourishing and appetizing being provided. Fruits and vegetables find their place on the menu in season. The men do not need food from home. When it comes, if it is still in edible condition, the entire assemblage in the barracks of the recipient assist him in stowing it away, and a box that took long hours of thought and preparation disappears in five or ten minutes.

For those who have a sweet tooth and desire dainties between meals, the regimental exchanges are within a hundred yards or so of the farthest barracks, and for a few cents the soldier can fill up on ice cream or candy or other gimeracks. Quarter-pound cakes in sanitary oiled paper may be obtained there also, as well as fruit of all kinds. The ice cream is produced at a factory that has complied with sanitary conditions of the army. The same is true of the candy, and the cakes even bear a "release date" after which they are no longer to be considered fresh and may not thereafter be sold. Although these cakes contain no wheat flour, the substitutes cannot be detected. All things considered, therefore, if Evelyn Mae wants Private Oswald to have more goodies, she would do far better to send him the money to get them here in camp where they are fresh, than to ship them to him in a fragile hat box or similar container. But even then, Private Oswald is better off as he is, for he gets all he can hold at meal times, and more than that is not good for him, anyway.

Troops at Camp Travis are getting field training now. They march out by regiments and stay out for the day, the company cooks accompany the men and serving the noon meal from field kitchens. The drills and exercises approximate war conditions as nearly as may be, both men and officers being put through problems of attack and defense over the actual ground, instead of merely being quizzed on what they would do in supposed territory.

The men appear to enjoy this work much better than the routine work, although they realize that the latter has its place. But they get out into the country, and, when the problem is one of open warfare, the individual soldier gets an opportunity to see something of the entirety of the work. He begins to realize how his role fits in with the whole scheme. When the problem is one of trench warfare, the necessity for co-operation and synchronization of effort is of still greater importance. And the soldier has a chance to see that, too.

The men like it because it is more like "real soldiering," as they say. They are not forgetting why they are here. These exercises are the nearest approach yet to that end. And that is why the men take to them so readily.

Prior to the war the Treasury prepared approximately 150,000 checks annually for the payment of interest on registered bonds of all loans, the issue of these 150,000 checks being distributed through the year. In the May payment of interest on registered bonds of the second Liberty loan more than twice that number of checks were prepared.

ZONE SYSTEM TO DIS- TRIBUTE PURCHASES BY QUARTERMASTER DEPT.

A zone system for the apportionment of purchases throughout the United States and to facilitate distribution has been established by the Quartermaster Department. Territory has been allotted to each of 13 general supply depots. The general supply depot quartermasters are charged with the duty of ascertaining the manufacturing possibilities of their zones. On the basis of reports along this line forwarded to the Acting Quartermaster General, food and equipment for troops at the different camps will be purchased within the zone in which the camp is located.

Formerly nearly all of a particular class of supplies was purchased through a single general supply depot. Other articles were obtained through other supply depots. Manufacturers in sections distant from the particular supply depot buying their goods were at a disadvantage, and were unable to compete with rivals nearer the point. Under the new system most classes of supplies will be purchased through each of the 13 depots, and manufacturers will be able to transact their business the depots nearest them.

Each general supply depot quartermaster besides ascertaining production facilities within his zone is instructed to recommend to the Quartermaster General office the employment of such producers as are in his judgment qualified to fulfill contracts. Each depot is expected to keep informed as to market conditions and spot goods located in that zone, and when shortages occur submit recommendations for purchase of articles which may be obtained within the zone.

Purchases are to be made after advertisement by open competitive bidding when time will permit. In emergency cases competition is desired whenever possible. The record of bids received and awards made will be open to public inspection.

AMERICAN TEAMS TO TEACH BASEBALL TO LONDON PEOPLE

A committee on public information representative in London says:

London has never heard of a baseball season before, but will get its chance this year when the American baseball league gets its schedule of games well under way. There are eight American and Canadian teams recruited from various organizations stationed in London, with games scheduled for each Saturday during the summer.

The thousands of American soldiers who may pass through London, or be invalided or stationed here, are in a fair way to be made to feel that England is the next best place to home and that English hearts are kept warm for them.

"Make England the Sammy's 'blighty,'" is the way the English press puts it in urging readers to entertain the American troops. 'Blighty' is the war word for everything the soldier wants in intervals of his fighting work; the place where friends, recreation, and homelike comfort await him.

The Weekly Dispatch recently called for suggestions for a public entertainment to be offered American soldiers and an instant response made thousands of dollars available for amusements and entertainments. The idea that found greatest favor, however, was to throw open the homes of the nation to the Sammys.

An officer commanding an American squadron operating with the British fleet has reported on a late inspection and speaks in high terms of the present state of efficiency in which he finds both ships and men.

"Vessels show the most gratifying improvement in battery and fire control," he said. "Our ships are smart, spick and span, and have been recipients of many high compliments from British flag officers."

AMERICAN MERCHANTS TAKE OVER INTERESTS OF GERMAN FUR MEN

Arrangements are being completed by which the interests of German fur men, amounting to several millions of dollars, will be purchased by American merchants and the money thus paid turned into the Treasury.

Before the war broke out in Europe according to a statement issued by the Alien Property Custodian, the trade of American furriers was practically nothing but a collecting and shipping agency for the Germans. Almost every pelt taken by American trappers went to Leipzig before it could be sold. Although London was the world's market, three-quarters of the fur shipped to London from America, Russia, and even China, went to Leipzig for dressing and dyeing.

The Leipzig dressers and dyers were recognized as the best in the world. Each year after the fur was prepared and German merchants had fixed the price, Americans were allowed to purchase as much as three-fifths of the year's amount for manufacture into garments, but in so doing they were forced to pay the original cost, expense of dressing and dyeing, a big profit to the Germans, and a 30 per cent duty, before the furs were returned to America.

The war deprived Germany of the chance to purchase fur in London, and limited the supply from America—now also entirely cut off. In New York American dyeing houses are actually operating, and in St. Louis sealskins have been dyed successfully. According to the Alien Property

According to a statement by the Department of Agriculture, there has been an annual shortage of more than 2,000,000 tons of sugar annually since the war began. Prior to the war practically all of the belligerent countries except the United Kingdom and Italy exported sugar, the total amount being more than 3,000,000 tons. In 1918 it is estimated that the allies must import a minimum of 1,200,000 tons.

FEDERAL EXPLOSIVE ACT—CITIZENS TAKE NOTICE

The Fourth Called Session of the 35th Legislature enacted a law, which makes it incumbent upon every state, county and Municipal Peace Officer in Texas to enforce the Federal Explosives Act, which went into effect last November, and to co-operate with and report to Chas. B. Watters, United States Explosives Inspector, San Antonio, Texas, on all explosives, and violations of the Federal Explosives Act, and the willful failure or refusal of any such officer to discharge and perform the duties imposed by this Act shall constitute a misdemeanor involving official misconduct, and upon conviction he shall be punished by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars and removal from office. This law was introduced and passed at the suggestion of the Texas State Council of Defense.

The Federal Explosives Act prohibits the manufacture, sale, purchase and possession of all explosives and their ingredients, in time of war, without a license. In other words, the dealer must have a license, and the purchaser must have a license. The dealer must keep an itemized record showing the name and address of purchaser, his license number, kind and quantity of explosive purchased, and purpose for which it is to be used. This also compels practically every drug store in the United States to have a license permitting them to have in possession and sell explosives ingredients, and the buyer must have a license when purchasing these ingredients in quantities of an ounce or more, and the dealer must keep the same record as the party who sells dynamite. These ingredients are: Bichromates, Chlorates, Chromates, Nitrates, Nitric acid, Perchlorates, Perborates, Permanganates, Peroxides, and Phosphorous, in their various forms.

To Be Rigidly Enforced
According to Chas. B. Watters, United States Explosives Inspector for Texas, this law will be rigidly enforced in the future; it having been in effect since November 15th, 1917, and every dealer has had time to familiarize himself with the law and all its details, and no excuses will be accepted in the future. Violation of this act carries a penalty of $5,000 fine or imprisonment at Fort Leavenworth, or both. A careful and systematic check is being made, by the Federal Authorities of every dealer in Texas who handles explosives or ingredients, regardless of location or size. An inspector or some deputy may drop in any day, and dealers should not allow themselves to be caught unprepared. J. P. Johnson, Hedley, is United States Explosives Licensing officer for Donley County, and such dealers as have not already procured their license should take immediate steps to do so.

This is considered one of the most important war measures enacted by our congress, and dealers can not be too careful in making sales of explosives or their ingredients.

Any violations of this law, or any explosions should be reported to Chas. B. Watters, United States Explosives Inspector, San Antonio, Texas.

The following is a copy of the law passed by the Fourth Called Session of the 35th Legislature, approved on April 2nd, 1918, and known as House Bill No. 182:

"Be It Enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

Section 1.—It is hereby made the duty of all the sheriffs and constables, their deputies, policemen, city marshalls and all other peace officers of the State, to fully co-operate with and assist the officers of the United States whose duty it is to enforce the provisions of an Act of Congress, approved October 6th, 1917, entitled "An Act to prohibit the manufacture, distribution, storage, use and possession of the same, and for other purposes"; and it is also made the duty of said officers to promptly report any fact or circumstance coming to his knowledge in any way showing or indicating a violation of any of the provisions of said act of congress, to United States Explosives Inspector or other proper officers of the United States, charged with the duty of enforcing the provisions of said Act of Congress, and the willful failure or refusal of any such officer to discharge and perform the duties imposed by this Act shall constitute a misdemeanor involving official misconduct and upon conviction he shall be punished by fine of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than one thousand dollars, and by removal from office, and it shall be the duty of the judge or court rendering said judgment or conviction to embody suitable provisions removing said offender from office."

Section 2.—In case it should appear to the judge before whose court the defendant stands charged with a violation of this Act that either the State or the defendant can not obtain a fair and impartial trial in the community, it shall be his duty to change the venue either of his own motion or on application of the attorney representing the State or defendant, said case to be transferred to an adjoining county if similar conditions do not exist there, and if similar conditions appear to exist in all the adjoining counties and those authorizing the change of venue, then the judge shall order said case transferred to a court of competent jurisdiction in some county of the state where the State and the defendant can obtain a fair and impartial trial."

Section 3.—The importance of this bill to the public at this time and the few days remaining of this special session of the Legislature create an

That the streets of Clarendon should flow like rivers is unbelievable to the casual visitor. But had they been here Monday afternoon and night they would have concluded that Clarendon was a tide-water town and a naval detachment would have seemed more in keeping with the general characteristics of our city than our cavalry troop.

Old Donley County always comes through with a soaking rain when we have to have it. Now the ranges will afford ample grazing for the cattle and our farmers will cultivate a crop that will cause the towns of this county to shut up shop certain days this fall to assist in gathering it. Old man Prosperity will never move his headquarters from Donley County.

Governor and Governor-to-be Hobbs says in answer to a certain small critic that "the Lord may not have endowed me with much brains, but He gave me enough intelligence to know my money from the State's money." A very vital matter in the light of certain exhibitions at Austin in late years.

"The State University is a rich man's school," howl some of its enemies. If these would-be critics had half as much brains as they think the sons of "rich men" have they might discover along about the end of their three-score and ten that the vast majority of "rich men" send their sons and daughters to northern and eastern institutions for their education. Texas University is the poor man's school and anyone who will face facts, knows this to be true.

During our Third Liberty Loan campaign it was the unanimous decision of a certain mass meeting held in Clarendon that a list of all bond buyers and their amounts be published in The Clarendon News. In this step the editor heartily concurred. An information committee was appointed whose duty it was to secure such a list and turn it in to The News for publication. On this premise The News published a notice that the list would appear, but somehow the committee was not able to secure a list from one of its sources of information and until this good day there is no compiled list in existence. Several days ago, from several sources it came to the ears of The News editor that there were those in the immediate community who were blaming (unjustly) The News for not printing this list. Let the blame fall where it belongs. The News has been ready for weeks and is still ready to publish the list and when it can be furnished to us we shall most certainly publish it. We believe the list should be published, especially since there are some who say they will not purchase another bond until publicity is given to the whole matter so that all may see who is and who is not supporting the government. The News is not to blame and therefore refuses to shoulder any part of it.

It may have happened in Clarendon—it is happening in other places—that misguided persons have come to the conclusion that dances are the only forms of recreation worth while to the youth of the land whether in uniform or not. Some have even come to the point that they will assert that those who do not participate in such amusement are not "patriotic." It should be remembered that nimbleness of limbs cannot be made a test of patriotism and that lightness of mind tends rather in the other direction. The habit of saying persons are not "patriotic" when they conscientiously differ from one's viewpoint is becoming too prevalent, altogether. This is a time when one's loyalty and patriotism is not a matter of show and parade, but is a steady grind of service in all departments of life; unselfish devotion to duty.

Your Uncle Sam desires that all young men who have come of age since last June 5th, appear before the proper authorities on Wednesday, June 5th of this year and register for military service, subject to call in order of classification. It is estimated that 800,000 men will be enrolled on that day. Bringing it closer home and using the same basis of computation, Donley County should register between sixty and seventy on this date. Just another blow, straight at the Kaiser.

The Suffrs are still urging the mothers to lay aside their home duties and save their leader's faces by voting in the coming primary. About as effective as the long-range German gun.

A $420.00 Aeolian Vocalion was sold at Stocking's store this week to one of Clarendon's discriminating musicians. Nothing superior to the Vocalion. It renders the music from all records most perfectly.

SPECIAL NUMBER FOR CHAUTAUQUA

The Redpath-Horner Chautauqua has informed the local committee that they had the good fortune to secure an extra man for the war day program.

Piper Kenneth Millar is an original member of the First Canadian Division. While playing his pipes at the second Battle at Ypres, he was hit by a bullet which passed through the bag of the Scottish National Musical instrument, smashed a rib in Millar's left side, passing through the region of the heart piercing the left lung and going out at the back. He was discharged from the hospital May 1st, 1918 and as Sergeant Turley had met him overseas and knew his ability as a piper, he secured his services for the Chautauqua trip.

Millar is a native of Iverness, Scotland and served five years with the Royal Scots of the Imperial Army prior to this war. In 1905, he toured Great Britain in company with Li Hung Chang, then Chinese Ambassador to Britain and is very proud of the medal presented to him by that eminent Oriental at the conclusion of the tour. Millar was playing his pipes while the 15th Battalion, (Gordon Highlanders of Canada) battled at Ypres in quite the traditional Scottish fashion.

OUTFITTING 1000 HOSPITAL BEDS IN THREE HOURS

Out of the ever-clanging death struggle on the plains of Picardy, with its promise of Victory, its spectre of defeat, one thing stands forth unchangeable day by day—the duty of the Red Cross.

Behind the bloodstained battle lines misery is again on the road. As in nineteen fourteen, the refugees—old men, women and children—carry the helpless on shutters; the bird cage and the improvised cradle make their appearance on the muddy roads; the trains are loaded with the wounded. In Paris, civilians lie crushed beneath the ruins caused by air raids and bombardment, while the railway stations are crowded with the fleeing refugees from northern France. It might be nineteen fourteen over again.

Only this time there is a difference. So far as military relief is concerned, the same efficiency is observable. A single illustration, indeed, can demonstrate the difference between nineteen fourteen and nineteen eighteen where the wounded soldier is concerned. In three hours, recently, all the splints, accessories, instruments and surgical dressings required for a hospital of one thousand beds were assembled and dispatched from Paris. To those of us who are left behind, these facts have become vital. America is in the war at last—a hundred thousand strong.

CANADIAN ORDER LIMITS HOLDINGS OF WHEAT AND SUGAR

A Canadian order in council provides that no person, with the exception of manufacturers of flour, bakers, confectioners, wholesale or retail dealers, or persons living at a greater distance than two miles from a licensed dealer, shall hold or have in his possession or under his control more flour, made wholly or in part from wheat, than is sufficient for his ordinary requirements for a period not exceeding fifteen days.

Over in Germany the government is requiring all women to marry before they are twenty years of age, and a heavy penalty is being exacted from those who remain childless. The lack of mature manhood is so pronounced that boys fourteen and sixteen years of age are becoming husbands and bigamy is most certain to become universal unless the war comes to an end. The children from these immature marriages cannot but be weaklings in body as well as moral perverts. How beastial is the war-mad spirit of Germany. Nothing is too sacred to be thrown into the hungry jaws of their war lusts.

"In the case of meat and meat products, the necessities for shipment abroad are very great. Whereas the allied consumption has been reduced to the average of about 1 1-4 pounds per person per week, we are today enjoying about 3 1-4 pounds per person per week. This division is unequal-able and the understanding of these facts will justify our request that the consumption of all meats, including poultry, as nearly as possible, be reduced to 2 pounds per week per person over four years of age."—Herbert Hoover.

NEW EDUCATION BUILDING AT STATE UNIVERSITY SOON TO BE OPENED

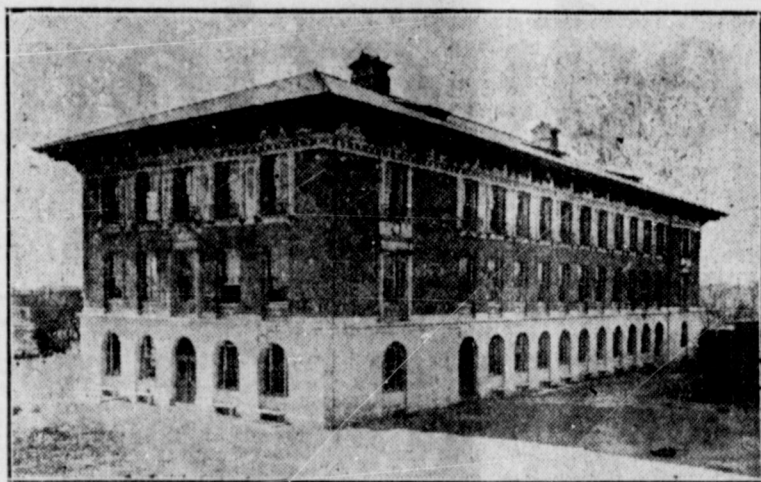

Austin, Texas, May 28.—When the first half of the summer school of the University of Texas opens on June 12, the new Education building of that institution will be ready for occupancy. It is one of the most magnificent buildings from an architectural and construction standpoint possessed by any educational institution in the United States. The hundreds of students who are expected here to attend the summer school will find the conveniences and comforts of the University this year far better than they have been heretofore.

Besides the inviting feature of having at their disposal the new Education building, the summer school be the usual laboratory, medical and library fee.

An unusually strong faculty has been employed for the summer school. Special mention may be made of the fact that one of those will be Dr. Aldred Lawrence Hall-Quest, Professor of Secondary Education in the University of Virginia. He will give a course at the summer session of the University of Texas upon the problem of supervised study, which is a very important phase of the work of high school teaching.

Another important feature of the summer school will be the conferring of degrees, which was decided upon at a recent meeting of the faculty of the University. With the pres-students this year will find open to them at the University several courses of instruction not heretofore embraced in the curriculum. Prospective summer students will specially welcome the announcement that the fees will be reduced more than one-half. Heretofore the matriculation fee averaged about $10 for each one-half period, whereas, this year, it will be $5 for the entire summer session. In addition to this, of course, there will ent two sessions of summer school, courses amounting to two entire credits toward a degree may be easily completed.

It is announced that the courses in typewriting and stenography, which were recently established at the University, will be continued during the summer school. Special courses in manual training will also be given.

An interesting program of athletics public lectures and other activities has been prepared.

HOBBY SCHOOL OF CITIZENSHIP

That the majority of women do not assume responsibility lightly is a conceded fact, therefore it is not a matter of surprise that the women all over the State have arranged what they have termed Schools of Citizenship, in order that they might inform themselves and worthily use the new privilege granted them in the recent Suffrage Act.

The women of Donley County have always been up and doing in all worthy enterprises bearing their full share of every load for social or civic betterment. In proof of this fact, a representative gathering of Donley County women met in the district court room last Saturday afternoon to organize for study, that they might vote intelligently. This meeting was pursuant to a call made by the Pathfinder Club, and Mrs. R. H. Alexander, as chairman of the Pathfinder Committee, called the house to order and stated the object of the meeting. It was decided to perfect an organization which should continue indefinitely, subject to conditions, therefore the following officers were elected: Mrs. J. D. Stocking, President; Mrs. Paul Shelton, Vice-President; Mrs. A. T. Cole, Recording Secretary; Mrs. C. A. Burton, Corresponding Secretary; Mrs. Willie Goldston, Treasurer.

A motion was carried that the organization be known as The Hobby School of Citizenship. A circular letter of instruction to women voters by Governor Hobby was read, and also an article from the Dallas News by Miss Hortense Ward, a discussion of the political situation and an exhortation to the women voters. It was decided that another meeting be held at the same place at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon, June 8, at which time Mr. Link, who had offered his services to the women be asked to address the meeting, giving needed information relative to the ballot.

The public is cordially invited to attend, and the women of the County are urged to do so.

The chairman appointed the following women from those present to notify all the women in their communities: Mrs. Bruce from Martin, Mrs. Reid from Chamberlain, Mrs. Hefner from Naylor, Mrs. Crabtree from Sunnyview; others to be appointed by phone.

It is earnestly urged that every woman who can possibly do so be present.

Women, it is no longer a matter of choice as to whether you use the ballot or not, it is a matter of duty equally as much as it is with your husband or brother. You may not have wanted this duty, it may have been thrust upon you, but it is yours, and the loyal American citizen meets duty squarely—yet are citizens now. Come and prepare to be intelligent ones on the day of the primary.—Corresponding Secretary.

When wanting good, fresh milk, phone Modern Dairy. W. T. and S. S. Dubbs.

MANY SUBSTITUTES ARE DISPLAYED AT LEIPZIG FAIR

According to the Leipzig correspondent of a christian newspaper, the Leipzig spring fair showed exhibits of many substitutes and surrogates which have been placed on the market in Germany. Descriptions of some of these have been received by the United States Chamber of Commerce:

A surrogate for pepper is offered for sale which, judged only by its appearance, seems almost the same as real pepper. The color, odor, and taste have been surprisingly well imitated.

prepared from garden vegetables in "German tea" has been given. It is prepared from any one or a combination of a great variety of plants, from strawberry leaves to linden blossoms. It is said to taste very much like genuine tea, but even a half dozen cups will not produce the stimulation caused by a single cup of real tea.

There are a number of surrogates for marmalades. Most of them are a large number of articles offered instead of from fruits, with a minimum amount of sugar.

Substitute soap is offered for sale, which is said to have been prepared from the oil in berries and from pumice stone. It lacks, however, the one main characteristic of soap, that of working up into a rich creamy lather; otherwise it is very good. Substitutes are also to be had for laundry blueing.

Substitute bicycle tires are sometimes made of two concentric iron rings with small springs between them. They are very serviceable on asphalt pavements, but are not exactly as noiseless nor as easy riding as genuine rubber tires.

A large number of articles offered for sale had been prepared largely or entirely from paper—coarse working clothes for men and women, and blouses, aprons and other fabrics. There were paper belts which seemed capable of driving heavy loads.

Many artificial and substitute leathers were noticed. Brass and copper articles were not seen, and attempts were made to place substitutes on the market in the form of plated wares.

HANDS, ARMS, LIMBS ASLEEP

And Was Run-Down, Weak and Nervous, Says Florida Lady. Five Bottles of Cardui Made Her Well.

Kathleen, Fla.—Mrs. Dallas Prine, of this place, says: "After the birth of my last child...I got very much run-down and weakened, so much that I could hardly do anything at all. I was so awfully nervous that I could scarcely endure the least noise. My condition was getting worse all the time..."

I knew I must have some relief or I would soon be in the bed and in a serious condition for I felt so badly and was so nervous and weak I could hardly live. My husband asked Dr. ————about my taking Cardui. He said, "It's a good medicine, and good for that trouble," so he got me 5 bottles. After about the second bottle I felt greatly improved...before taking it my limbs and hands and arms would go to sleep. After taking it, however, this poor circulation disappeared. My strength came back to me and I was soon on the road to health. After the use of about 5 bottles, I could do all my house-work and attend to my six children besides."

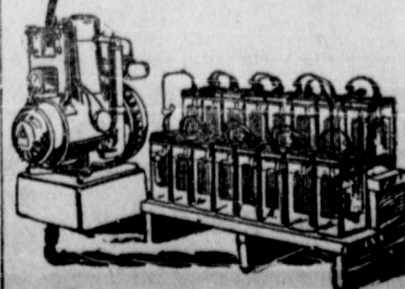

You can feel safe in giving Cardui a thorough trial for your troubles. It contains no harmful or habit-forming drugs, but is composed of mild, vegetable, medicinal ingredients with no bad after-effects. Thousands of women have voluntarily written, telling of the good Cardui has done them. It should help you, too. Try it. E 74

DELCO-LIGHT Increases Farm Efficiency

1. Saves time and labor—Work formerly done under poor light and by hand can be done better and in less time with the aid of electric light and power.
2. Labor is attracted to the farm—The "back to the farm" movement is made practical when the conveniences afforded by electric light and power can be had in the country.
3. Keeps the boys and girls on the farm—Electric service on the farm offsets city attractions. Valuable labor and valuable young manhood and womanhood are saved to the country community.
4. Solves the retired farmer problem—Electric light and power make the farm home so attractive and comfortable that the farmer and his wife remain on the farm where their advice, experience, and immediate interests are of great practical value.
5. Lightens burden of the housewife—Increased farm work in war times means increased labor for the housewife. Electricity offers the only practical means of taking the drudgery of household tasks from her shoulders.

Delco-Light is a compact electric plant for farms or country homes. Self-venting. Air-cooled. Thick plate, long-lived battery. Ball bearings. No belts. RUNS ON KEROSENE

YOUNG BAND LEADER IS A MARVEL

Joseph Pistoia, the leader of Victor's Columbia Band, which comes to Chautauqua is one of the youngest and most successful conductors in the country. Only a lad he handles his musicians with the ease and skill of a veteran. His program this year is extremely patriotic. What stirs the multitude, what awakens our patriotism, more than the Band with its spirited military music.

This is distinctly a spectacular organization. The program is a startling succession of popular, classical, patriotic, descriptive and novelty selections, now instrumental, now vocal, a crushing crescendo, sax-phones, now a solo. Then the whole band in Then street singing scenes. Some jazz just for novelty. In attractive and elaborate uniforms the men make a striking appearance. Then with snap, dash, pep and punch the program rolls along carrying us completely away with the melody, the enthusiasm and variety.

The young director, without the use of a score, has a masterful control, directing with ease, tremendous skill and untiring zeal. Signor Solimeo and Delli Paoli, trombone and cornet, give a strong account of their rare ability and in one of their duets it is hard at times to detect whether it is the human voice or brass instruments. Sometimes the entire band gives the effect of a huge organ.

One will never realize how many "stunts" a band can perform and what rollicking fun there can be in a band program until he hears Victor's Columbian. Yet the patriotic and classical selections, vocal and instrumental, solos, duets, quartets, and ensemble, have not been neglected for the more sensational and spectacular features. The program closes with the tableau "The Spirit of '76."

NOTED WRITER IS DEAD

For several years the page in the Ladies Home Journal by "The Country Contributor," has held the interest of many readers, because of the splendid treatment of the various subjects brought so close to the hearts of the people.

The name of the author was not generally known but was Mrs. Isaac Strauss, of Rockville, Indiana, the wife of the editor of that city.

Mrs. Strauss was fifty-five years of age and a blond of small stature. She was the author of many poems as well as prose writings, and her first literary work was accepted by a leading Eastern newspaper when she was only sixteen years old. She was a close friend of Opie Read, the Southern story writer, of Bliss Carman and James Whitcomb Riley, who expressed high appreciation of her work.

Mrs. Strauss was also interested in the national club life of our women and visited many cities in the lecture field, in which she was very successful.

Mrs. Strauss led an active and useful christian life, and her death which occurred last Thursday will be mourned by thousands of readers and the many friends who were fortunate to know her personally. Her burial took place from the family residence in Rockville.—Rosa A. Marquis.

TREDA BARA IN "CAMILLE" MONDAY MATINEE AND NIGHT

Theda Bara, the William Fox star, will be seen in a magnificent super-picture production of "Camille" at the Pastime Theatre Monday matinee and night. Founded upon the world-famous story of Alexandre Dumas, this unusually beautiful photo-drama is wonderfully interpreted by the incomparable Bara.

The story of "Camille" is familiar. It deals with the life story of a lovely adventuress, whose real womanly qualities are brought out under the influence of her love for Armand Duval, a young French student. There are many vivid scenes which will fascinate the picture-loving public. Miss Bara is particularly fascinating in her latest picturization. 10c and 20c.

THE RED CROSS MEETS EMERGENCIES

Day and night since the German drive was begun, Red Cross departments and their workers have been ceaselessly at their tasks. The capacity of two of its Paris hospitals has been increased from 45 to 128 beds in one instance, from 41 to 77 in the other and there was enrolled an emergency corps of physicians and nurses for whatever service might be required. Within the space of three hours all the instruments and accessories for a 1000-bed evacuation hospital were assembled and hastened to the front as a precautionary measure, the whole available for instant use by any of the military medical forces in the field.

The American Red Cross camions also helped to clear out a number of hospitals near the front in which there were a large number of American soldiers recovering from wounds and illness. Several of these hospitals had been bombarded from the air and the patients were taken down into the cellars and there waited for the American camions to conduct them to the rear.
