

Farmers Group Returns Lucas To Presidency

Texas Association Votes to Affiliate With Farm Bureau Federation; Fee Is Assessed

H. G. Lucas of Brownwood was re-elected president of the Texas Agricultural Association, in convention this week in Fort Worth. Mr. Lucas has headed the association since its organization two years ago. C. H. Day, of Plainview was re-elected vice president.

The association voted to affiliate with the American Farm Bureau Federation, re-districted the State to coincide with the extension districts recently set up, and voted an assessment of $2 annual membership fee.

At district meetings, the following district directors were elected: E. H. Crimes, White Deer, District No. 1; W. M. Kennedy, Muleshoe, District 2; T. F. Falls, Throckmorton, District 3; H. G. Kent, Corsicana, District 4; J. P. Maxwell, Roxton, District 5; W. C. Porter, Colorado, District 6; T. C. Hefner, Crystal Falls, District 7; Mrs. C. A. McGee, District 8; O. H. Morris, Laneville, District 9; R. M. Korth, Ecleto, District 10; C. H. Matthews, Eagle Lake, District 11; and Miller Harwood, Taft, District 12.

Lucas said that the first really constructive era sponsored by the government began with the advent of the present administration in 1932. He outlined the history of the farm association and pointed out what it has been attempting to do.

AAA Helps Farmers

"The AAA offered farmers their first shot at something they have always needed—controlled production," Lucas said. "This act was killed by the Supreme Court but out of it farmers salvaged soil conservation measures."

Lucas stressed that now is the time for farmers to express their views and needs—while a friendly administration is in control. He added that some form of crop insurance and equality of opportunity with other industries is a pressing need.

V. Vanman, Chicago, of the organization service of the American Farm Federation Bureau, who is heading a caravan from the Midwestern States to the federation convention in Pasadena, Cal., addressed the meeting.

"I have some wonderful problems facing us today because agriculture is now on the main highway," Vanman said. "Now is the time to really work—don't let down. We have a friendly administration behind us."

Three factions which he said are leading the fight against agriculture were cited by Vanman: (1) "Merchandise newspapers, 90 per cent of which in Chicago and New York, are unfriendly." (2) Commission men and handlers of agriculture, and (3) "The farmers themselves, who take the attitude that the farm program is a certain thing."

Mrs. Maggie Barry of the Texas A. & M. College extension service paid tribute to the association directors who drew up the revised by-laws.

"They are the best set of by-laws that I have had the pleasure of reading in my 40 years of experience," Mr. Barry said.

Delegates attended a community "get-together" last night where songs, stunts and games were featured. Walter Britton, State 4-H Club Association president; Catherine Porter, association secretary, and Wilbur Daniel, representing Future Farmers of Texas, were guests of honor.

The convention will end Friday.

TWO FOREMEN ADDED TO STAFF AT PARK

C. D. Phinney and Tom Kellum were added to the technical staff at the Lake Brownwood State Park this week, it was announced by N. H. Lee, superintendent for the National Park Service. Both will serve as foremen. Addition of the two men brings the technical staff up to full strength, with the exception of an architect. Assignment of an architect is expected within the next week or ten days.

W. F. Ayres, West Texas inspector for the National Park Service visited Brownwood Tuesday, making a routine inspection. He took with him to Austin completed plans for a bath house and bathing beach to be constructed on the north shore of the park. Approval of the plans is being withheld temporarily pending receipt of data from the water board regarding the level of the lake, but upon receipt of this information, immediate approval of the plans is expected, and construction should start within a short time. G. T. Patrick, architect for the National Park Service, drew the plans in Brownwood, returning Tuesday to his Austin office upon completion of the work. He was assigned to this work by Inspector Ayres because of the lack of an architect stationed at the park. J. T. Roberts, landscape architect for the National Park Service, assisted in preparation of the plans.

Work at the park has been held up for several days because of rains but it was expected that the office, under construction, will be completed by the end of the week.

FARMERS MUST NOT HARVEST SORGHUM, MILLET IN PROGRAM

According to C. A. Cobb, director of the Southern division of the agriculture conservation program, farmers must leave sorghum and millet on the ground and are not to harvest it after October 31 whether performance of their agricultural contracts have been certified or not.

In a letter to County Agent C. W. Lehmburg, Cobb stated: "It appears that some of the producers, and perhaps the committees, have had the idea that if sorghum and millet have been left on the land until October 31, and performance has been certified, the producers may dispose of the crops thereafter as they see fit."

"In all such cases where the bulletins call for crops to be left on the land, these crops are to be allowed to remain on the land and are not to be harvested either before or after October 31. Also, sudan grass, when used as a soil-building practice, is not to be harvested."

Bangs Fruit Grower Begins Interesting Orchard Experiment

Seven hundred and twenty peach trees will comprise an orchard of H. W. Luman, farmer and fruit grower of the Bangs section who, with County Agent C. W. Lehmburg's assistance, is also conducting a demonstration in fruit tree planning which will be watched with interest by other growers during the next few years.

Located on the southeast side of a hill, the orchard has a 1-2 per cent slope. Contour lines will be run on the 15-acre tract to be used for the orchard. The young trees will be set in the water course on the upper side of level terraces which are being constructed.

CHRISTMAS BASKETS TO BE DISTRIBUTED BY SERVICE LEAGUE

Christmas baskets will be distributed to the poor and needy in Brownwood, under the direction of the Junior Service League, with various other charitable and church organizations in Brownwood assisting. It was announced this week by Mrs. O. J. Orton, president of the League.

Lists are being compiled by Mrs. Roy Gower at the Community House, and by Mrs. Ruby Ables, Brown county commodities supervisor, of families needing assistance. These lists will be completed within the next few days and assignment of families to individuals and organizations will be started. Mrs. Orton requests that individuals who will assist in this work, get in touch with Mrs. Gower at the Community House. Families will be assigned to the individuals, and full information as to the number in the family, the need of the family and other information available. What will be included in the basket is left to the discretion of the individual taking the same, but it is hoped that provisions for at least one meal, with a limited amount of toys for children in the family will be included. Articles of clothing will be acceptable.

The League also will accept donations of provisions or other material to be included in the baskets which will be sent out at Christmas time by the League itself. Articles may be left at the Community house at any time and they will be included in one of the many Christmas baskets that are to be prepared.

Numerous organizations are assisting the League in the preparation and distribution of the Christmas baskets, and it is expected that a large number of names will be taken by the various church organizations as in the past.

COUNCIL HEAD NAMES COMMITTEE MEMBERS FOR CIVIC ADVISORY

Executive Committee Chairman Paize has announced that all committees will begin their work at once. The executive committee, which is to meet weekly, was formed prior to the last named sub-committees, and consists of Dr. Paize, Joe Weatherly, vice-chairman; Mrs. Carl Blasig, secretary; C. C. Bullard, Dr. Mollie Armstrong, Dr. Homer Allen and Rev. A. K. H. Moore.

R. D. Woods Makes $5,000 Appeal Bond

Convicted last Wednesday by a jury in 35th District Court on a charge in connection with the killing of Raymond Thompson, R. D. Woods, Zephyr filling station operator, is free on $5,000 bond. Woods was sentenced to five years in the penitentiary by Judge E. J. Miller. His attorney, G. B. Callaway, has filed notice of appeal to the higher courts.

Woods' father-in-law, Tol G. Beckham, is charged with the actual shooting of Thompson, 22 year old son of Charlie Thompson, also of Zephyr. The affray occurred on a Zephyr street the night of June 30, 1935. Beckham's trial has been set for December 14.

The esperon, a bird that lived on earth millions of years ago, could progress only by swimming. It could neither walk nor fly. The English Cuckoo is the world's most independent parent. It lays its eggs in the nests of other birds, shirks the duties of brooding, and migrates to Africa before the young are grown, leaving them in the care of foster parents.

FLAMING DEATH TRAP

Smoke pouring from the upper stories, firemen scrambling up the swaying extension ladders, the desperate efforts to reach persons trapped in the burning building—thousands were witnesses to the tense tragedy in the business district of Atlanta, Ga. Three persons were killed and 18 injured as flames destroyed the building.

COLEMAN WILL PLAY CLASS A FOOTBALL IN 1937; OIL BELT MAY BE DIVIDED NEXT SEASON

The Oil Belt District will likely be split again next year, it was revealed by Roy B. Henderson, secretary of the Texas Interscholastic League, at a meeting in Fort Worth.

A situation has arisen that will force some kind of action, Henderson said, and he wants to get it settled before schedules are made for the 1937 football season.

Coleman will be forced into Class A football next year because of the increase in the number of pupils in its high school, which will add one team. Other teams are demanding Class A schedules, including Stephenville, Weatherford and Lamesa. It was stated.

The location of the towns makes it impossible to place them in any other district, and the Oil Belt will likely be divided into an eastern and western division, with Ranger, Eastland, Cisco, Mineral Wells, Weatherford, Coleman and Stephenville in the eastern division and Breckenridge, Brownwood, Abilene, Sweetwater, San Angelo, Big Spring and Lamesa in the western division. This would give each district seven teams.

If this is done another district will have to be formed by mergers of other districts. It is believed, because the league now has 16 districts, and the division of the Oil Belt would make an uneven number of districts which would be unhandy in working out state races.

Another alternative was suggested by Henderson. The high school teams of the state could be divided into Class AA and Class A, with schools having 1,000 students or more going into the Class AA division and those having less than 1,000 going into Class A. This would not, of course, do away with the present Class B division, but would form a higher bracket for the larger schools. Whether or not the championship would be played off between the winner of the state title in Class AA and Class A has not been determined.

San Angelo and Abilene are the only teams in the present Oil Belt that would be placed in the Class AA division, while all others would be in Class A. The Class AA group would likely include Abilene, San Angelo, Lubbock and Amarillo with other Class AA districts around the larger towns, such as Fort Worth, Dallas, Beaumont, Port Arthur, Waco and Austin.

No division has been made, as yet, on which of the two plans will be worked out, and the opinion of district committeemen has been sought by Henderson to determine which plan would meet with the approval of the members of the various district committees.

Palmer has announced an itinerary for the month of December, which will carry him over most of the county collecting taxes. His schedule is as follows: Bangs, December 7; Zephyr, December 8; Blanket, December 9; May, December 10; Cross Cut, December 11.

SANTA FE PLANNING RECORD PURCHASE OF NEW RAIL EQUIPMENT

Convincing evidence of the Santa Fe's confidence in the continued upturn of business was seen in the announcement made by M. J. Collins, General Purchasing Agent of that Company, of orders in excess of $20,000,000, for new freight cars, locomotives, rail and rail fastenings. That Company's order for rail, tie plates, angle bars, bolts and spikes was for 155,000 tons at an approximate cost of $6,135,000.

The bulk of the order went to the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company, Carnegie Illinois Steel Company, Inland Steel Company and Bethlehem Steel Company, with a number of other steel companies participating. The equipment order included 2,025 new freight train cars costing $10,152,925 and 27 locomotives costing $3,985,000, a total of $14,137,925 for cars and locomotives, making a grand total of the combined order for rail and equipment of $20,303,925.

The equipment order includes 1,500 100,000-pound capacity box cars which will be constructed by the Pullman Standard Car Manufacturing Company; 500 100,000-pound capacity box cars which will be built by the American Car and Foundry Company; 200 100,000-pound capacity refrigerator cars; 500 80,000-pound capacity refrigerator cars and $25 110,000-pound capacity gondola cars, construction of which was awarded to the General American Transportation Company.

Of the 27 locomotives, 17 will be streamlined, high-speed passenger engines primarily for service between Chicago and the Pacific Coast. Eleven will be of the 4-8-4 type with 80 inch driving wheels and six of the 4-6-4 type with 84 inch driving wheels. The boilers will be of nickel steel construction. These new engines will burn oil and will be fully equipped with roller bearings. With these locomotives in service only one change of engines will be necessary between Chicago and the Pacific Coast on the Santa Fe.

Pension Act Not "Pauper's Law" States Director

"The new pension law is not a 'pauper's law, nor can it be so construed as to mean that an applicant must take a pauper's oath to receive aid," declared Orville S. Carpenter, acting director of the Texas Old Age Assistance Commission, recently.

Carpenter revealed that the formal request for December federal funds from the Social Security Board was being delayed until satisfactory financial arrangements could be made with a Dallas bank on the $3,000,000 interest-bearing warrants.

$3,000,000 In Warrants The third called session of the Texas Legislature passed a bill authorizing issuance of interest-bearing warrants in the amount of $3,000,000. November 17 the State Board of Control awarded the financing of these warrants to a Dallas bank.

In further explaining the revised system of pensions, Carpenter stressed that the entire criteria of eligibility is "need."

"There is no legal formality whereby an aged person must embarrass himself by declaring to the world that he is a pauper. Such a method of administration would be wrong and unfair," he continued.

WORKMEN BEGIN DECORATION OF TOWN DISTRICT

Strings of evergreens and colored lights strung throughout the business district of Brownwood will do much to make the 1936 Christmas season the gayest in years.

Work of the decorating was begun Monday night by the Davis Floral Co., which was given the contract by Brownwood merchants who are sponsoring the move. Work will continue every night until the decorations are complete. The committee sponsoring the decorations, still states that not enough funds have yet been subscribed for the decorations, and merchants who have not done so are urged to contribute at once.

visit by kissing his host, his hostess, all their children, and the dog and the cat.

DECEMBER COTTON IN NEW HIGH POSITION

Under a steady demand, December in the cotton market went into a new high for the season Tuesday morning, although not a new high for the option. The previous high for the season was 12.25 made on September 30, and the high for the option is 12.75, made on July 30. Other positions still have a considerable distance to go to establish new highs for the season.

Extension of the upward price movement the past week was accompanied by a very encouraging expansion of the so-called outside interest in the constructive side. Comment was heard that numerous accounts, a long time on the sidelines, were making moderate commitments, or at least showing more interest by their inquiries.

Two private estimates have been issued so far on the government report to be released Tuesday, December 8th. Fairchild at 12,281,000 and Journal of Commerce at 11,821,000 against the government estimate of November 8th of 12,400,000.

According to exchange service, the Brazilian Ministry of Agriculture has revised its estimate downward of the crop in north Brazil, now placing it at the equivalent of 605,000,478 pound bales vs. 612,000 at end last June and 626,000 last year. The crop in South Brazil is said to be now in its earlier stages and will not be harvested until next spring.

There continues to be considerable conjecture as to what the Roosevelt administration's policy is to be cottonwise, especially regarding possible further releases from loan stocks next season. In trade quarters it is being pointed out as that most of the loan cotton probably is of a character which can only be sold at a large discount off middling, unless the government proposes to take another loss, it would require a considerably further advance of its future prices to permit absorption by the trade. Middling basis Brownwood Wednesday 11.90.

Trapping Laws Emphasized As Season Opens

Trapping season, which opened December 1 and will continue until January 30, is expected to bring increased employment to many people of the section, as well as thousands of dollars to trappers through the sale of hides and furs.

Trappers must secure a license when trapping on property other than their own. The license fee for resident trappers is $1.10, while for non resident trappers the fee is $25.

A hunting license does not entitle the holder to trap. In addition to the license fee, a one-cent charge will be made by the state on a tag for all pelts, except of coon, which is five cents, and wolf, fox, bobcat, mountain lion and other predatory animal pelts, on which there is no tax.

Fur buyers must pay a $5.50 license fee for the privilege of purchasing Texas pelts. All fees go to the State Game and Oyster Commission.

Fur-bearing animals in Texas on which the pelt tax must be paid are: badger, civit cat, fox, mink, muskrat, opossum, polecat or skunk, raccoon, beaver, and ring-tail cat.

Deer, antelope, mountain sheep, bear, and squirrel are classed as game animals and may not be trapped at any time.

Canadian newspaper production in May, 1936, set a new all-time high record of 267,067 tons.

County Is To Provide Homes For Indigents

Two Cottages, Dormitory Will Furnish Home for Dependents; WPA Aiding in Project

To provide better care for the aged indigent of Brown county, the Commissioners Court, with the cooperation of the WPA, is sponsoring construction of two cottages and a dormitory on Belle Plain Avenue.

Total cost of the project is estimated at $7,932.31, $2,071.26 of which will be provided by the county, and $5,861.05 to be furnished by the WPA. A double shift of 45 men will begin construction of the buildings immediately. Final approval on the project was granted November 18.

The cottages, which will occupy 23 by 24 feet each, will consist of three rooms. The dormitory, occupying a space measuring 59 by 80 feet, will contain a men's ward, women's ward, recreation room and kitchen.

A garden will furnish occupants with fresh vegetables, and will provide facilities for those who wish to have gardening as a hobby.

Officials stress that the buildings will be modern in every respect, and are intended to provide a comfortable one for aged persons of the county who have no means of support.

The Commissioners Court will maintain upkeep and other expenses after the buildings are occupied.

Brown county is the only county in the 14th District of the WPA to sponsor such a project, although any county is eligible for WPA aid in like projects if they meet eligibility requirements. It is anticipated that other counties in the district eventually will provide such homes.

PROGRESS NOTED IN WPA NURSERY SCHOOL STARTED OCTOBER 12

Considerable progress has been noted by WPA and American Legion officials since the establishment of the nursery school on Melwood Avenue which is sponsored jointly by the two groups.

Increase in enrollment has been noticeable since the school was first opened on October 12. At that time, about 20 children were enrolled as compared with the 45 now attending the school.

The school, which runs five days a week, is conducted on a strictly scientific program of study, recreation and health. Enrollment is limited to children between the ages of two and four years of age.

Under the supervision of Mrs. Melba Johnson, head teacher, the children daily go through a routine scheduled to make them healthier and happier than they might be in other environments. The WPA pays the staff's salaries and the grocery bill, while the American Legion pays the rent and all upkeep. The two sponsors are aided by other organizations of the city.

The staff, other than Mrs. Johnson, includes Miss Winnie Mae Van Nort, Mrs. Allie Allen, Mrs. Marie Monroe, Mrs. Lottie Joyce, Mrs. Annie Riggs, and Wesley Lewis, nurse maid.

The nursery is the only one of its type in District 14.

MEETINGS ANNOUNCED

J. B. Jones, secretary of the Brown County Old Age Assistance Association, has announced a meeting of the group to be held at the courthouse Saturday, December 5, at 1:30 p. m.

Sweet Potatoes Make Pudding

By NEA Service

Every try a sweet potato pudding when the family appetite acted a little bored? Use either 2 large cans of sweets, or 10 medium cooked potatoes. It's a simple dish—but a rich invention. Peel the boiled potatoes, or drain the canned ones. Then butter a baking dish liberally. Place a few slices of potato on the bottom, and with brown sugar and dot prodigally with butter. Repeat these layers of potatoes, brown sugar and lots of butter. To finish off with a royal gesture, stick the prongs of a fork down through the pudding making many little channels to the bottom. Over the top pour about 3 tablespoon rich milk or cream. It will seep down and down and add a smooth grace to your dish. Dot the top with butter and place in moderately hot oven. Cook for 1 hour. The butter will melt and go places with that brown sugar and in the end you will have such a fluffy mass of hot sweetness that no southern fried chicken could resist.

Select Good Potatoes

Sweet potatoes are good when they are smooth, well shaped, firm and of bright appearance. Get potatoes that are uniformly well shaped. Oddly shaped ones will cause waste and also offer cracks which invite decay. One decay spot can spoil the entire potato. It may show as a soft wet spot, or else the potato may be discolored, shriveled or have sunken spots. Those are signs of decay; so also are any dark greenish spots. Remember this little nutrition fact: sweet potatoes belong in the yellow-orange food class and as such are an excellent source of vitamin A and have a fair amount of iron. In baking a sweet potato, allow less time for it to become soft than you would for a white baked potato. Scrub the skins until they shine and bake in moderately hot oven. They adore brown gravy.

WINTER TIME IS REAL "STEW TIME"

Stews, it is said, are best when served to the accompaniment of howling winds and wintry storms, but whether or not that is true, certainly the converse is. There is something friendly and homey about a well-made stew which dispels the outside cold and creates a feeling of utmost satisfaction, regardless of the weather. On this score, at least, wintertime is "stew time."

While all stews are cooked by the same method, there are ways to add variety so they may make frequent appearances at the table without risk of monotony. The meat may be dressed with flour and browned in hot lard before any water is added, thus making a brown stew; or the water may be added to unbrowned cubes of meat for a white stew. A variety of seasonings and vegetables may be used to make one stew different from another. The stew may be cooked on top of the stove, or made into a meat pie and cooked in the oven.

There will be many chill days this winter and you will want to serve stews frequently. Perhaps you will welcome this unusual recipe as an addition to your collection. It is suggested by Inez S. Willson, home economist.

Lamb Stew With Cream
2 pounds lamb shoulder or breast
2 tablespoons flour
2 tablespoons lard
2 small onions, sliced
2 cups tomato pulp or soup
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
1 cup thick sour cream
paprika
Salt and pepper.

Have lamb shoulder or breast boned and cut into 1 to 2-inch cubes. Dredge these in flour and brown, together with the onions, in hot lard. Season with salt and pepper, and paprika. Add the tomato pulp or soup and let cook slowly until done, about two hours. Add water only if necessary during cooking. Just before serving, add the sour cream and blend it well with the sauce.

Cooking Hints

It is frequently the little unusual touches which make foods interesting, so you may be interested in these cooking hints, suggested by Inez S. Willson, home economist.

(1) Salt sprinkled with garlic juice adds a distinctive flavor to roast lamb.

(2) Two or three slices of bacon placed on top of a liver loaf during baking adds both flavor and fat.

(3) Veal baked in sour cream makes a delicious meat dish. The veal is first browned in hot lard, then the sour cream is added and the meat baked in a moderate oven (350° F.) until done.

(4) Applesauce is considered the best accompaniment for roast pork.

BONED BAKED HAM

5 lb. ham (boned)
24 whole cloves - Juice of 2 lemons
6 tablespoons prepared mustard
onion 1 bay leaf
2 tbsp. vinegar - 2 cup bread crumbs
1 1-2 cups brown sugar

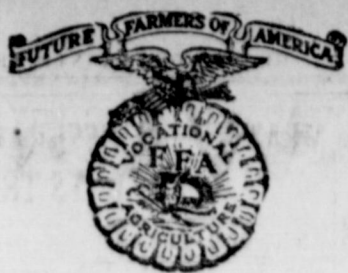

Cover boned ham with cold water, and bring slowly to a boil. Add onion (cut in small pieces), 6 cloves, bay leaf, lemon juice and vinegar and boil gently until tender. Remove from kettle and cool. Then remove skin and brush entire surface with mustard. Spread over this the brown sugar mixed with crumbs. Insert remaining cloves over top and sides of ham. Bake in a moderate oven for about 1 hour, or until browned.

but have you tried a combination of applesauce and cranberries? While cranberries are plentiful, try this combination. It is delicious.

(5) The casserole dish is a convenient utensil for cooking left-overs. Dice left-over meat and vegetables, add left-over gravy, or a can of cream soup, and allow to cook in a moderate oven (350° F.) until thoroughly heated. This makes an easy-to-prepare and delicious one-dish meal.

A Swift Farewell

By Helen Welshimer

GOODBY, below'd—go quickly as you leave me. Walk down the road and never pause to wave; Farewell should be a brief word, swiftly spoken; If you should turn, I might not be so brave.

GOODBY, below'd—walk onward to the rhythm Of martial songs that sing against the drums. May all the hills you take be worth the climbing, And tents await you as the evening comes.

GOODBY, below'd—strange that I should be praying That you be fleet when all the while I know I'll strain to hear your footsteps growing fainter Along a street soft-cushioned by the snow.

BEAUTY'S TRANSFORMATION

BY ALICIA HART
NEA Service Staff Writer

"She's looked like that only for the past two years," a striking mature woman's husband said about his wife the other day.

"Ever since I have known her, she has worn most conservative clothes, conventional coiffures and just ordinary makeup. She has always been pretty, but hardly stunning.

"However, in a reckless moment two years ago, she got a scarlet tweed suit instead of the black one she had intended to buy. That suit changed everything.

"Within a month, she had let a hairdresser cut her rather thin brown hair and arrange a coiffure that made her face look ten years younger and her hair ten times thicker. She got new rouge, lipstick and powder and replenished them oftener during the day. She started wearing pure white gloves and gayer accessories. You can see the result. She's not merely pretty now—she is strikingly beautiful."

Home Demonstration Clubs

"I was given an old discarded chair with no bottom in it and one of its legs shorter than the others. I re-seated it, sawed off sections of three of the legs to make all the legs the same length, and by using an old quilt, some burlap and cotton I made an over-stuffed chair which I covered with trefonne. I also made a foot stool to match the chair," reports Mrs. E. T. Garmon, bedroom demonstrator for the Early club.

Mrs. Audrey Parker, bedroom cooperator of the Early club, recently re-made a mattress. She removed the tufting from the mattress, which was old, sunned and beat it, and now reports that the mattress is almost like a new one.

Erna Nell McKinney, bedroom cooperator for the Zephyr 4-H club, has reached every goal in her particular project. She has put the proper number of slats in her bed, made a chair cushion, hung suitable curtains and refinished the floor.

Doris Faye Shelton, Zephyr club member, has refinished a discarded dresser, made a clothes closet with shelves for quilts and linens and bags for patterns, shoes and laundry.

"This makes my room complete except for refinishing the floor. I plan to do that soon," said Doris Faye.

At a very small cost, Mrs. J. R. Hamilton, bedroom demonstrator for the Clio home demonstration club has transformed a rather dark, gloomy room into a light, attractive one. She painted the ceiling and the woodwork white, papered the walls with very light paper, refinished a dresser and four other pieces of furniture, added new window curtains and shades and some new chairs.

The Grosvenor 4-H club will present a short play as a part of the Grosvenor school's Christmas program. Betty Joe Chastain, who won the trip to the Centennial awarded by the Brownwood Chamber of Commerce because of her work in the club, told other members about her trip at the last meeting. The club has adopted sewing as its principal project for the coming year.

MAGIC VALLEY HOLDS CENTENNIAL SPOTLIGHT AS FESTIVITIES CLIMAX

Texas' famous Magic Valley will command the Centennial spotlight in December, as the most glittering festival year in the history of American entertainment comes to a triumphant close.

With the Texas Centennial Central Exposition in Dallas closed November 29, and with the Fort Worth Frontier Centennial having closed November 14, thousands are preparing to make the cross-Texas trek to the Rio Grande Valley where Mission, Harlingen, and Weslaco are the Centennial's official hosts.

The Texas Citrus Fiesta, to be held in Mission December 4-6, is a banner celebration on the Centennial calendar. Parades, style shows, bathing revues, and many other events crowd the program. Exhibit A at this big show, however, as at the events in Harlingen and Weslaco, will be the Magic Valley's incomparable climate and natural beauty.

Mid-Winter Festival
The Valley Mid-Winter Fair, scheduled for Harlingen December 2-6, this year is a Centennial event of first importance. The beautiful Valley will here display the wealth of its varied produce, but these exhibition features of the fair will be balanced by many entertainment attractions.

The Weslaco Birthday Celebration, calendared for Weslaco December 9-10, will offer entertainment novelties found nowhere else in the world. Here will be held the unique annual style show, in which the contestants will wear dresses made only of fruits, vegetables, or flowers as they parade down an elevated boardwalk more than a block long. The city itself is an important attraction, the facades of the entire business center having been rebuilt this year to present the appearance of a Spanish village.

Far from the Magic Valley of the Rio Grande, however other Centennial celebrants will gather in Anson, historic West Texas community, to participate in one of the most picturesque celebrations of the year—the Cowboys' Christmas Ball. For three nights and two days beginning the evening of December 3, this folk festival of the West, celebrated in story and song, will be alive with frontier gaiety.

STATE DEPARTMENT REVEALS TRENDS IN COTTON PRODUCTION

The weekly cotton grade and staple report for the State of Texas is issued by the Austin office of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics showing a continued lowering of grades as the cotton season advances. The general trend of staple lengths has been towards shorter lengths for the past several weeks than those reported earlier in the season.

The grades White Middling and above represented only 6.5 percent of the cotton classed this week against 17.5 percent last week and 32 percent two weeks previous. Nearly half (46 percent) of the total Texas crop classed to date this season has been White Middling and above in grade. Slightly over one-fourth of the cotton this week was White Strict Low Middling and Low Middling, whereas for last week these grades constituted nearly one-third. Approximately 7 percent, Middling Spotted 24 percent and Strict Low Middling and Low Middling 27 percent. The latter two grades represented 13 percent the past week.

There are marked differences however in the grades of cotton reported for the week among districts within the State as evidenced in District 1, Trans-Pecos Region, where White Middling and higher grades represented 33.6 percent and in District 2, where these grades constituted only 1 percent.

Staple lengths shorter than 7-8 inch constituted 41 percent this week, 15-16 and 31-32 inch 13 percent, and 1 inch and longer staples 3.8 percent.

This week, 41.6 percent of the cotton classed was of tenderable grades and staples, the smallest percentage reported for any week thus far this season. Of all the cotton classed this season to date from the current Texas crop 75 percent has been tenderable.

Buchanan's group, and Vernon Brazeal, quartermaster, were the boys chosen.

In Quillan's patrol, Kermit Wynn was elected assistant patrol leader and Ralph Kelley was elected quartermaster.

The troop will meet Saturday at 7 p. m. rather than Friday.

NPS OFFICIAL URGES TURKEY CONSERVATION AS INSECT ERADICATOR

Conservation of wild turkeys will aid materially in assisting Texas farmers to eradicate the grasshopper pest, it was pointed out recently by Dr. L. M. Dickerson, Assistant Wildlife Technician of the National Park Service.

All types of insects are grist to the mill of this bird, he said, which is hatched with seemingly a full-grown appetite that shows a strong preference for "hoppers."

Directing attention to wildlife preserves that have been established in Texas State Parks, where development is being carried on under technical supervision of the National Park Service, Dr. Dickerson said that "the key to the restoration of the turkey, as in the case of other wildlife, is to provide adequate sanctuary protection and food supplies."

"The history of the wild turkey," he added, "is in a very real sense the history of American wildlife in general. By nature, he is a denizen of the forest. He will use open fields as a feeding ground but he prefers that they be small enough that the tall trees are always within easy running distance. Equipped with acute vision and hearing, he is rarely caught napping by even the cleverest stalkers. Possessing strong flight muscles and the endurance of a marathon runner, he is able to survive in spite of any and all predators in his native homeland."

PRESCOTT TO OPPOSE LIQUOR ADVERTISING IN TEXAS NEWSPAPERS

Ross K. Prescott of Santa Anna, representative-elect of the 125th District comprising Brown and Coleman counties, this week issued a statement in which he stated it was his purpose to introduce in the forthcoming session of the Legislature a law to ban liquor advertising in state papers and periodicals.

Mr. Prescott's statement follows: "As representative elect of the 125th District to the 45th State Legislature I shall propose a new and important law at the opening of our session in January, and write to ask advice and co-operation. It is a law to ban liquor advertising in state papers and periodicals."

"There is on in full swing in the United States a nationwide and well planned educational program to train up a nation of drinkers. It is fully financed and is evidently paying its way as the program is widespread, continuous and expanding."

"I refer to display liquor advertising by which the distillers are educating the youth of this land into the use of hard liquors and into habits of drinking and intemperance."

"If this wild scheme is unopposed it will succeed as surely as the similar campaign of the cigarette factories popularized cigarette smoking among our young boys and girls."

"Such mis-education of the youth of this land into the liquor habit is vicious, degrading, and injurious; it combats and nullifies temperance teaching and work; it encourages both young and old in the liquor habit; it subsidizes the press of our State and Nation."

"Prohibition, laws, regulations—these come and go—but the liquor problem; the greed of the distiller and liquor dealer; the thirst of the addict; the weakness of human nature; the suggestibility and educability of youth—these seem to be eternal."

"I believe that the good fathers and mothers of this land may reasonably look to our lawmakers for protection of our youth from such vicious educational advertising campaigns."

"I shall appreciate any suggestions that the readers might offer."

"Respectfully submitted,
"Ross K. Prescott,
"Representative, 125th Dist.

TEXAS HAS ALREADY RAISED OVER FOURTH OF DEMOCRATIC QUOTA

With approximately one-fourth of the Texas quota of $50,000 already raised, state Democratic leaders in Austin this week renewed their efforts to help remove a half-million dollar deficit in the finances of the Democratic National committee.

Contributions totaling $8,000 were sent the past week end by state headquarters to W. Forbes Morgan, treasurer of the national committee. State Director Roy Miller said.

Also Harris county Democrats, who, under the direction of Walton D. Taylor, district executive committeeman, and Rex Baker, campaign director, greatly exceeded their quota in the pre-election drive for party funds, already had raised the $5,000 they were requested to contribute to the "deficit fund," Mr. Miller said.

Several smaller counties which failed to reach their quotas before the election already have remitted contributions to the post-election campaign in excess of those quotas. They include Lipscomb, Terry, Val Verde, Sutton, Jim Hogg, and Dallam.

Exceed Quotas
Sixty-one other Texas counties exceeded their quotas in the first campaign, which resulted in a total of approximately $275,000—the largest fund raised by any state in the nation except New York, and the largest fund ever raised in Texas in any type of political campaign in the history of the State.

"Because of that fine response on the part of loyal Democrats of Texas, this state ranks at the top in the eyes of the nation, and the state organization was asked to raise the additional $50,000 or 10 percent of the money needed to wipe out the national party deficit," Mr. Miller explained.

STATE NYA OFFICIAL OUTLINES PROGRAMS TO VOCATION GROUP

The program of the National Youth Administration in Texas for equipping youths to enter private employment prepared to do a full day's work for a day's pay was outlined at San Antonio Thursday to the American Vocational Association by Llewellyn B. Griffith, state supervisor of the NYA program.

Mr. Griffith summarized the extent of construction and service work done by NYA youths since last January on soil conservation, road-side parks, in sewing rooms, canning plants, and public school canteens, and on playground improvement. Then he explained:

Average Age 19
"The average youth worker was 19 years old with no job experience and about a seventh grade education. When he arrived on the job he was unprepared as a worker. He would begin to produce effectively as his morale improved, and after a training period all were expected to produce the results attained in normal private industry."

"The employers' viewpoint was taught to them along with the other training necessary to equip them for private employment. The usefulness of each unit of work was explained, the foreman showed the youth the proper use of equipment and tools. Material and labor scheduling was illustrated. Coordination of working units was emphasized, and above all, he was made to grasp the value of job discipline."

Mr. Griffith also stated that after six months on the NYA job the average worker is prepared to hold a job in private industry.

Christmas Baskets

Under the direction of the Junior Service League and other charitable organizations, and with the full cooperation of Brownwood churches, plans are going forward for the distribution of Christmas baskets to the poor and needy people of this community at Christmas time. The work has started this year possibly with less publicity with less attention from the public, perhaps. But the need is just as great as it has been in any year in the past—greater than generally is realized by those who find themselves a bit more favored this year during the past few Christmas seasons.

Due to the active relief work done by various governmental agencies during the past few years, we have become a bit hardened to human need. Not that there is any less desire of people to assist their less fortunate brothers, but rather that we have come to look upon relief as a definite governmental work, and one which has been lifted from the shoulders of the community itself. Unfortunately for those in need, such is not the case. Drastic reduction of relief rolls to the very minimum has forced many needy families into greater financial stress than they have experienced in several seasons. The limited amount of assistance that can be given the few that are being aided has cut government aid to such an extent that it is a very light lift, indeed, in the fight for existence for many.

The situation calls for a generous attitude on the part of the public. The need is here daily, but the Season of Giving offers an occasion wherein that need can be relieved a bit temporarily, and a semblance of the Christmas happiness which should be dominant in every home at the Yuletide season be provided to every home.

It is several weeks until Christmas, to be sure. But the task is great, the cause worthy, and the work should be speeded as much as possible. Those who desire to assist in the charitable work of providing Christmas baskets to those less fortunate are requested to so inform the authorities in charge without delay.

There can be little doubt that the greatest good done by the New Deal in relieving the unemployment situation was through the establishment of the Civilian Conservation Corps camps throughout the country. Not only has the work performed by these camps, in parks, in forestry work and in soil conservation, been of great and lasting value, but more than important, several thousand young men and war veterans have been provided employment. The question of saving these men for society was the first thought in the establishment of the CCC; the work they performed first was incidental. That the work has been worthy certainly is gratifying, but the intangible benefit to the men themselves has been a thousand times greater.

CCC Camps For Girls

Now comes the announcement that fifty CCC camps to provide jobs and vocational training for some 5,000 needy girls has been approved as a regular part of the Government's work-relief programs, and thus the benefits of CCC environment and training are made available to young women as well as young men. It is a wise move.

Just as important, or possibly more important, will be the work of providing work for the girls as has been the work among boys and men. Of course, there has never been any question but that it is even more important that the girls be not lost to society through the unemployment era, but as a rule they were more protected and better provided for through times of stress than were the boys. Relief families, boys could be pushed out into the world to shift for themselves, find employment or not. If they by choice or necessity strayed from the straight and narrow path, they were just boys and they didn't have the proper home surroundings. But girls generally were taken care of, so long as the family didn't starve.

The girls' CCC camps are to take care of this situation, according to Director Richard R. Brown. "The purpose of the camps," says the director, "is to provide young women who have been handicapped by poverty and unemployment a new outlook through work, education and healthful, outdoor living in an environment which will stimulate their qualities of cooperation and leadership." Each girl will be required to perform a certain amount of work each day, with the tasks stressing domestic science and handicraft, such as making hospital supplies, highway markers, repairing toys, etc. Camp life will be rounded out with educational classes in English, health and hygiene and supervised recreation. Women will direct all activities. The experiment will be watched with interest.

America can well look with caution at the announced plan of France to renew payments on the gigantic war debts, owed by that country to the United States, and dating back to the World War. It is freely stated, and not denied by French authorities, that payments on the debts will be a preliminary to seeking new financing from this country.

Repaying War Debts

It might be much better to write off the debts than to loan more money to European nations, in the hope that they will repay what they already owe. Sending good money after bad has never been a wise policy.

Another condition of the renewed payments is that the debt be scaled down a second time. This of course will mean that the obligations to other debtor nations likewise must be reduced by this country.

But the worst feature is the possibility that payment of debts might encourage new loans. European nations, especially France and Italy, need cash for military expenditures. Certainly this country, committed to peace, could not be induced to loan more money for European armaments.

Thanksgiving—home coming days—can be sad ones indeed when sorrow has left a chair vacant at the long table. I clipped this little gem for those of you to read whose sorrow is still an ache; and that is too recent to forget at this time.

Sorrow with his pick mines the heart; but he is a cunning workman. He deepens the channels whereby happiness may enter and hollows out new chambers for joy to abide in when he is gone. —Mary Cholmondeley.

The Toll
If we should take the selfish road to happiness, Some day, amazed, we'll find That we, somewhere along the careless way we tread, Left happiness behind.—Lifted.

Among our writing fraternity who are "stepping slow" this month appears Bess Truitt, that girl of so much versatility. Bess has written a poem to another friend of ours whom you have met in this column, Dr. Homer C. House, head of the English and Literature of the University of Maryland. Part of the poem follows:

One sudden hour I knew the magic of your voice, I sat upon Parnassus Mount enthralled Immune to sense of time, condition, space, Charmed by the music that your words intoned.

It was tracing the pages of November's "Note Book" whose editor, Flozari Rockwood, has been such a help to young writers.

Then opening my new "Nuggets" low and behold, a poem by Bess Bettis Lawrence of Anadarko, like a flaming sword flashed out at me for its beauty and for its sentiment. A mother's heart is crying out against war.

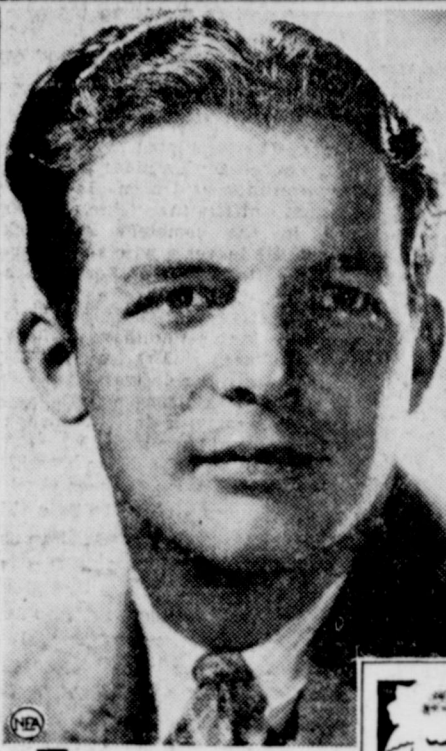

"Why should I who bore him, give him to the frenzied arms of war? Give his strength and fine young manhood For maddened fools to scar?" These are the key lines to the little gem.

"Mickey" the lone citizen of Cascoosa, a personality feature is appearing in Naylor's Epic Century Magazine this quarter and the writer, Lona Shawyer, is a personal friend of mine. Mrs. Shawyer who is author of "Chuck Wagon Windies," is authority on Texas and Texans. She writes as a fluent scribe talks, easily and with great charm. Epic Century is what I consider the Rolls Royce of the south, when it comes to literary convenience. Stepping out in the Epic Century has become a habit with Lona, however. She is living in Oklahoma City now but I met her while we were both in a Texas hospital. Could you imagine two women in a hospital who didn't talk of their operations? Well tell this one to Ripley . . . we didn't have time for operations, she was patient enough to try to boost me into the Rolls Royce along with her but alas, I'm still in the puddle-jumper class.

There will be fewer Americans to disapprove of the Nobel letters prize award to Eugene O'Neill than there were to cavil when Sinclair Lewis was thus honored. It is a more popular award by far, largely for the reason that O'Neill has stuck pretty closely to the business of writing plays without indulging his cynicism at every opportunity.

O'Neill has won a much more secure place for himself in American letters than Lewis has attained. His plays have been of unflinching excellence, and his knowledge of dramatic values is perhaps not excelled by that of any other living man. There are not many in this country or elsewhere to question the award.

TEXAS CONFERENCE CHAMPIONSHIP COMES TO BROWNWOOD AS HPC WALLOPS S'WESTERN

The sixteen teams left in the race for state honors began preparations for the four weeks elimination schedule to determine the 1936 schoolboy championship. Amarillo's Golden Sandstorm, winners for the past two years, are heavy favorites to repeat this year.

Gene Taylor's Hill Billies at Dental Baker ended a sensational grid season Monday night when they held the powerful eleven of St. Mary's University in San Antonio to a 6-6 tie. The Billies now stand firm in their second-place slot in the Texas Conference.

Climaxing their 1936 season with a 47-0 victory over Southwestern University, Howard Payne's Yellow Jackets brought the Texas Conference championship to Brownwood for certain.

The game Thanksgiving Day featured the playing of their combination end and back, "King Kong" Wedeman, who accounted for three of the Jackets' touchdowns.

Eleven veterans who have played together since freshman days: in 1923 finished their college football careers in the game. During the years these boys have played together, they have been defeated only once by a conference member. Hardin Simmons, in 1935. The eleven players finishing playing are: Bob Harlow, Ray Nunnally, Jimmy Marshall, Brady Thomas, Ronald Miller, Elbert Whitehead, "King Kong" Wedeman, Clovis Fletcher, Max Vickers, Robert Simmons and Jack Crane.

Don't be afraid of Wattage! More Light for Better Sight!

MANY a person is using lamp bulbs of too low wattage to give the proper clearness of vision, in reading, sewing, working at anything. No reading lamp is right that has less than 100 watts. Remember . . . Electricity costs so little, and eyes cannot be bought at any price. Equip your home with plenty of lamps so that every member of your family may use his eyes wisely and be free from eyestrain. Keep an adequate supply of extra lamp bulbs of the right wattage on hand at all times.

THE IMPORTANCE OF AIR!

Requirement of food, water and air to sustain life.

Food . . . 3 pounds per day { An adult can exist for approximately 40 days without food

Water . . . 4 pounds per day { An adult can exist for approximately 12 days without water

Air . . . 27 pounds per day { An adult can exist for approximately 10 minutes without air

The air supply of a person is of first importance. Therefore it is a wise precaution to keep the air in the home during winter as pure as the warm oxygen-laden air of summer. A room that is poorly ventilated can be injurious to health. Inadequate fresh air and a lack of pure, warmed air throughout the home make it easy to "catch cold."

A simple method of providing a constant circulation of fresh air is found by keeping a window in each room slightly open. Connecting doors left open between adjoining rooms, when the entire house is adequately heated, provide a natural circulation of pure, warmed air from one room to another.

Never permit the air you breathe to become "stuffy" through lack of pure air circulation. Heat your entire house and provide fresh air ventilation for your health's sake. It's important to you and your family.
