NOTICE—Any erroneous reflection upon the character, standing or reputation of any person, firm or corporation which may appear in the columns of The News will be gladly corrected upon its being brought to the attention of the publisher.

There are more high priced automobiles being sold in Donley County than at any previous period of her history. This means that our people are not only prosperous, but are demanding the best for their money.

The building boom that Clarendon has experienced this year will add something like $200,000 in taxable values to the city and school district for rendition in 1921. This will add quite a little to the city and school tax receipts.

The Y. M. C. A. Drive continues. There will be no let up until the finishing of the building is an accomplished task. The young men of Clarendon need the sheltering influences of the building, the boys of the city need its recreational advantages, the town as a whole needs it as a center for committee and mass meetings. Then it won't hurt any of us to take a shower and a plunge in the swimming pool in the hot days of the summer. Just got to have it, boys.

When the editor of The News knew Loyd Sigler as a little red headed kidlet in Fort Worth, he had lots of pep and enthusiasm, and as events have proven there is no better channel for such attributes than the oil game. It took nerve to stay in the game in the Vernon field, where only shallow pumpers had ever been discovered, but Loyd did it and he is now an oil magnate. By-the-way, did you ever see a red-headed fellow, that was lazy or that lacked ability?

Cities and towns in West Texas are beginning to mobilize their forces and deploy their skirmishes in their demands for the West Texas A. & M. College. Some believe that it would be better to simply ask the legislature for additional funds to add the A. & M. courses to the State Normal school at Canyon. It appears to The News that it would be much better for the A. & M. college to be a separate unit, unless the chances are so slim for getting the separate school that it is thought expedient to ask for the addition at Canyon. We believe the legislature will recognize the justice of the claims of this section for a strong A. & M. school. We believe it can do its best work as a separate institution.

Some of our readers seemed to be a little peeved last week because we sold a section of advertising to the campaign committee of Joe Bailey. No doubt some didn't like it when we carried the Pat Neff dope along the latter part of last December. No doubt some won't like it when we carry political advertising for Ben Looney or Mr. Thomason. No doubt they won't. On the other hand, there are always a bunch of readers who are supporters of the various candidates who like the political dope mighty well—then there is another class, the readers who are broad-gauged and interested enough in the platforms of candidates to want to read all of them. These are in the majority and on them falls the burden of maintaining the equilibrium of Democratic government.

It is disheartening, the way England and some in the United States appear to censure France for military occupation of the Ruhr district in the face of palpable infractions of the armistice terms by Germany. Germany has lived up to the terms imposed only when she was forced to do so, and those who are familiar with the history of France can find no blame in her action of taking additional territorial guarantees when the German troops were sent forward in direct violation of the armistice. There are some soft nincompoops in England and in this country who are becoming exercised over the determination of the wise and astute men of France to demand that Germany fulfill the terms on which the armistice was based. They seem to forget that in every war that the German people have had down to date they have always exacted every pound of flesh possible. They seem to overlook the fact that France cannot forget the cruel exactings of the Franco-Prussian war. They will not face the fact that France and France alone stands as a barrier between civilization and the Prussian brute, and that her men know the ever-present menace better than any man or set of men on the face of the earth. True, England and America would assist her again under like circumstances but since both have hurried their troops home in large numbers and have demobilized their armies to a very large extent, France recognizes that it is up to her and her alone to keep the German claw as far from her borders as possible. France did right and no intelligent lover of fair play and justice can deny.

If the big dailies, like the Dallas News, are in trouble over the print paper situation, how in Sam Hill do you suppose, the county papers of Texas are faring? It is some game to keep the wheels turning these days. Another thing—if there is not some downward revision of prices on print paper, The News with all other papers, will be forced to raise its subscription price.

"MAN WANTS BUT LITTLE HERE BELOW"

The Washington lobby of the returned soldiers wants the government to give them a $3,000,000,000 bonus. The Republicans will probably vote it.

The wheat growing farmers want the government to give them about a dollar for every bushel of wheat they grow and sold at $2. They said if the government had kept out they might have got $3 a bushel for their wheat.

The castor bean growers want the government to pay them for beans they did not grow through a crop failure.

Big organizations want the government to build national highways all over the country. Other organizations want the government to pay the greater part of the expense of public education.

The surviving soldiers and dependents of the dead of all wars other than the last one make a pension roll of over $200,000,000 annually and they want more.

Everybody wants more from the government. The government wants more from the people. Everybody wants more wages, everybody wants more for clothes and household necessities.

Everybody wants the high cost of living to go down, but everybody wants all he can squeeze out of the other fellow.

That person who wrote Man wants but little here below, surely did not have the year 1920 in mind.

If there is anything lying around loose that man does not want it is because he has not seen it.—Memphis Commercial-Appeal.

AN ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I have to acknowledge the receipt of a draft in full settlement of a claim against the Reliable Life Insurance Co., for a case of influenza which I contracted a short time ago.

I carry the Reliance Perfect Protection Policy and can recommend it to all looking for first class life insurance.

I have examined many policies gotten out by different companies, but the Reliance policy, written by Mr. Allen I believe is by far the best I have ever examined. It would pay any one to see him before taking insurance.

J. M. Eldridge.

MANY THINGS BOOST THE HIGH COST OF LIVING

We are wont to hear on every hand a great howl about the high cost of living. Various and sundry reasons are given with the majority accredited to under production. While under production may be one of the many reasons, sheer extravagance is the prime factor.

The farmer is the recognized backbone of the nation and yet fewer people are producing farm products now than ever before. The folks on the farm have been caught in the jazz maelstrom, moved to town and quit everything except spending. More people are traveling in all directions with no definite destination than before. Every traveler almost to a person is clothed in the best to be had with a suitcase in keeping with the fancy make-up of clothing. Trunks are too cumbersome for the harem-scarem journey of this day. The upper berths are taken first and berths of any kind are to be had only by applying in advance. The news "butch" sells his wares at exorbitant prices as fast as he can hand them out. Every traveler exhibits a roll of "bat" skins that would choke a horse and handles it with about as much care as a billy goat would a magazine. Trips of a few blocks are made in a taxi with a tip thrown in to further swell the high cost of travel.

Everyone knowing about the H. C. of L. and at the same time spending money foolishly. People of the Ford class hit the Pierce-Arrow gate and keep it up. Prices of town property are high and still going higher. Rents are still higher with any kind of a stopping place at a premium. Still they come to town.

The laborer demands higher wages the manufacturer grants them and immediately advances the cost of the manufactured article which, in most cases, is bought by the same fellow who demanded an increase in wages, only to learn that his wage increase means nothing.

If the immutable law of supply and demand is applied, there is but one logical conclusion at which to arrive: The craftsman, farmer and common laborer must produce more. There must be in a sense an over-production for at least two years in order to catch up.

So long as the principal occupation of half the population is loafing while the other half is getting by on half time labor, and the principal pastime is burning gas in an expensive car, prices will remain up-going higher all the time.

The false prosperity is but a phantom. We wonder where this deluge of money came from. During the war great sums were spent by the government. Production during the war and especially during the last year fell way below the usual standard. That same money thrown to the populace, whether wisely spent or squandered, it makes no difference—is now being replaced in the treasury of our Uncle Samuel thru taxation. The next question naturally arises, where is the next supply of money coming when this is gone?

DINK PUNK VS. MARSHAL FIELD

Marshal Field & Co., Chicago's greatest retail store, has sold seven Chicago newspapers a total of $354,442.09 for advertising in 1914—a dull year. Marshal Field & Co. began business in a small way many years ago, and from the first utilized advertising in a dignified and convincing way. From obscurity to eminence, Marshal Field emerged, and although he died a decade ago, a multimillionaire, the store he founded grows annually. Marshal Field and his associates believed in advertising, and believing in it, unhesitatingly paid for it by employing the best newspapers in the city. But their views as to the profitability of newspaper advertising is controverted by Dink Punk of Mouldyburg. Dink Punk went into the mercantile business at Mouldyburg the same year Marshal Field began in Chicago. Mr. Punk has been consistently opposed to advertising all his life and has, as a leading citizen, uniformly fought all the proposals to make Mouldyburg a progressive community. He is an old man now, and inactive. His store went into the hands of the sheriff eighteen years ago and Mr. Punk lives with his married daughter. But he is still consistent and not only does he contend that advertising doesn't pay, but at every opportunity votes against good roads. In his forty years residence it is told that the reason Mouldyburg has stood still and dry-rotted, while Westerville, eighteen miles away, has become a thriving little city, is because the railroad and Wall Street discriminated against Mouldyburg. And although Mr. Punk has paid only a few dollars taxes during his life, and spent nothing for advertising, he is convinced that good roads and newspapers will ruin the country unless oceans and bad roads shall finally triumph.—Galveston News.

KHAKI CLUB ORGANIZED

Memphis has a Khaki Club composed of its business and professional men of the city, with all members pledged to wear nothing but khaki for business wear during the coming summer, except on special occasions. A petition to this effect was circulated in the business section Wednesday and a large number of signers secured. A meeting of the club was held at the office of the county judge Wednesday afternoon, at which R. B. Morgan was made president of the organization. As a result, khaki will be the predominant color and fabric in the business section this summer. It is a very sensible movement, as a pair of khaki trousers cost only a fraction of what any other fabric does and yet is not a displeasing fabric or color. Anything to help swat the H. C. of L.—Hall County Herald.

Editor Braswell of the Clarendon News reports the actual existence in his neighborhood of a subscriber who blamed himself for the omission from the paper of an item handed in late and then blamed the postoffice employees for his copy of the paper being torn. Proclaim to the world that there is "something new under the sun." May his tribe increase.—Troy Enterprise.

CONVENTION LAWS OF TEXAS EXPLAINED

Information relative to precinct county and state conventions to select delegates to the national convention is contained in an opinion given by the attorney general's department and prepared by Assistant General L. C. Sutton to John W. Hornsby, county attorney of Travis county. The information contained in the opinion follows:
The State Convention.—The state democratic convention to elect delegates to the national democratic convention will be held at such place as may be designated by the state executive committee of the party on the fourth Tuesday of May, 1920, which is May 25, 1920.

Selection of Delegates.—Said state convention shall be composed of said political party in the several counties of the state in the following manner:
Precinct Convention.—On the first Saturday in May, 1920, that is May 1, 1920, a primary voting precinct of the county, which precinct primary convention shall elect delegates to the county convention.

Hours of Holding Precinct Conventions.—The precinct convention shall be held between the hours of 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. on May 1, 1920.
Qualifications of Members.—Only qualified voters of each voting precinct are entitled to assemble and participate in the precinct convention.

Presiding officer: Appointment and Qualifications.—The precinct convention shall be presided over by a chairman, who shall have been previously appointed by the county executive committee of the party and said chairman shall be a qualified voter in said election precinct.
Officers of Precinct Convention.—Said precinct convention may elect from among its members a secretary and such other officers as may be necessary to conduct the business of the convention.

Powers of Chairman.—The chairman of said precinct convention shall possess all the powers and authority that is given to election judges under the provision of the election laws of the state. This means among other things, that he may swear members and interrogate them relative to their qualifications and require them to establish their right to participate in the convention.

List of Voters.—Before transacting any business, the chairman of the precinct convention shall make or cause to be made a list of all of the qualified voters present; and the name of no person shall be entered upon said list, nor shall he be permitted to vote or to participate in the business of such convention, until it is made to appear that he is a qualified voter in said precinct from a certified list of qualified voters, the same as is required in conducting a general election.

Election of Delegates to County Convention.—After the precinct convention is organized, as above provided, it shall elect its delegates to the county convention and transact such other business as may properly come before it.
Record of Proceedings.—The officers of said precinct convention shall keep a written record of its proceedings, including a list of the delegates elected to the county convention, which record shall constitute the returns from said convention.

The same shall be signed officially, and safely transmitted by the officers thereof to the chairman of the county Executive committee of the party and to be used by the executive committee in making up a roll of the delegates to the county convention.
The County Convention.—The county convention shall be held on the first Tuesday after the first Saturday in May, 1920, which is May 4, 1920, and shall elect delegates to the state convention aforesaid.

Qualifications of Voters.—These conventions are affairs of the Democratic party, and hence only those who are democrats can participate in same.
In the foregoing wherever it is explained that only qualified voters can vote or participate in the conventions or be chairmen thereof, it means those qualified to vote in primary elections; that is, for instance persons who, in addition to being qualified voters generally under the constitution and laws of the state of Texas are also full-fledged citizens of the United States; they must be either natural born citizens or those fully naturalized; persons who have simply declared their intention to become citizens are not qualified voters within the meaning of the law governing the holding of these conventions.

Women are qualified voters within the meaning of the law governing the holding of conventions of this kind and may vote and participate in such conventions if they are otherwise qualified voters.
Presidential Primary Law.—It will be remembered that the statute passed in 1913 attempting to provide for the holding of primary elections on May 1 to select delegates to the national convention, etc, was held unconstitutional by our state supreme court. Thus we must resort to the convention system as above outlined, and which is provided for by a previous statute to the one held invalid.

YOUTHFUL DEPOT BURGLAR IS CAPTURED SUNDAY

It was discovered by the depot agent at Jericho Saturday morning that the money drawer had been burglarized of a number of checks and about ninety dollars in money. The special agent who looks after such things was informed immediately of the occurrence and came down from Amarillo. After some investigation, it became known that a young man of about 18, who had been working on the section gang, had quit his job. This led the officials to suspicion him at once. The young man who goes by the name of Lester Snow, was located Sunday morning. When accosted by the special agent as to what he had done with the money he had gotten out of the depot he dug up the money at once and admitted the robbery and stated that he had destroyed the checks. All the money was recovered and the young man has since been in jail here waiting the next step in the process of law as applied to such cases.

The Hood Tire is the Best

It will outwear any other tire made.

This is a positive guarantee, not a mere trade statement. Aside from the factory guarantee, the ALLEN'S GARAGE, after selling Hood tires for one year, assumes full responsibility for the guarantee. There is no string to the guarantee. The user is assured of the most mileage. The guarantee is broad. Any Hood tire is guaranteed to produce the most mileage against the best any-other-make tire. This includes:

- A Hood Cord against any-other-make Cord;
- A Hood fabric against any-other-make Fabric;
- A Hood fabric against any-other-make Cord;
- A Hood Cord against any-other-make fabric;

Proposal Open to Anyone

To test the claim of the ALLEN'S GARAGE that the Hood offers the longest life and most mileage, this challenge is made:

Equip your car with a front and rear tire of any other make (the best you know of) and at the same time put a front and rear Hood of either cord or fabric. The user will deposit in any bank the cost of the four tires. If the Hood tires do not wear longer than the others, then the entire deposit sum goes to the other dealer, and in addition the ALLEN GARAGE will furnish additional tires to produce a mileage in excess of the others.

This is a "cinch" proposal for the ALLEN GARAGE. It has been tried before and the Hood Tire has never lost.

ODD FELLOWS GO ON RECORD NOT FAVORING THE DANCE

At a meeting of the Odd Fellows Lodge Monday night they went on record as being against dancing. They had an offer from a dancing teacher to rent their hall, was the reason for the action. The ladies societies of several of the churches sent in petitions to the lodge asking that they do not rent the hall but these petitions were not needed. The following is the letter from the secretary of the lodge to one of the societies:

"With pleasure I announce the action taken by the I. O. O. F., viz: moved and seconded that the Odd Fellows go on record disfavoring a dance hall of any character within a radius of ten miles of Vernon. Ballot being taken the motion carried unanimously.

"We appreciate the petition and interest in this is well as all matters pertaining to the moral and spiritual welfare of our young people, but did not read any of the petitions as we preferred to rely solely upon the obligation of an Odd Fellow."—Vernon Times.

SUNDAY, APRIL 18TH IS INTERCHURCH SUNDAY

To stimulate interest in the 120 county mass meetings which are to commence April 20th throughout Texas, Sunday April 18th, has been designated as Interchurch Sunday and all the pastors in this city and county co-operating with the Interchurch will preach upon this great Movement of Christian idealism. These mass meetings will be informational in character, as well as inspirational and will be conducted by some of the leading pastors of Texas, headed by Rev. C. L. Kirkes, Paris; Dr. H. F. Brooks, Amarillo; Rev. W. P. Barton and Mrs. G. C. Hutton of Breckenridge.

The meeting will be held at Methodist Church in Clarendon on April 20th, and will be preparatory to the organization in this city and county of the financial campaign of the Interchurch Movement. Leaders of big business and finance as well as religious leaders of the country are being impressed by the Interchurch Movement's program and it is regarded by many as one of the greatest forward steps since the dawn of the Christian era. Five million workers, many of whom are volunteers from churches, colleges and other institutions participating in the Movement are assisting in the carrying on of the United Simultaneous financial campaign by which it is confidentially expected that millions will be raised throughout the Union.

THE INTERCHURCH WORLD MOVEMENT, APRIL 21, 1920

Christians and friendly citizens will meet in an Interchurch County Conference.

Mission workers in foreign fields, China, India, Latin America etc., got together first. They realized the necessity. Can we of the churches at home afford to do less?

The movement does not advocate an organically united church, for some co-operating communions do not favor that, but it proposes that an "allied" church shall undertake present day tasks.

The allied church will eliminate waste of money and lost motion in missionary effort.

It will organize the whole membership of the church for work.

The world war opened the eyes of the Christian churches to the needs of the whole world. Interchurch Movement Surveys are charting these needs on a world scale so that all Christians in the churches may see and face the facts.

The facts call for the greatest Christian crusade ever organized against paganism and materialism.

This means a new life for your home church in cooperating with at least 140 organized agencies of 34 Christian denominations.

The Interchurch Donley County conference will offer not theories but definite things that you can do right where you are.

Inform yourself at the County Conference with its program of evangelism and education:

How to pray effectually.

How to choose life work intelligently.

How to qualify as a Christian steward of all one has.

How to study mission problems at home and abroad.

How to provide decently for ministers and Christian workers.

How to look after the sick and aged in hospitals and homes.

How to Christianize education of children, young people and American men and women.

The Church School of Missions.

The program is being presented to the American churches at 3,000 County Conferences to reach the last man and last woman with the message of the world's needs and how to meet them.

An All Day Program: The Conference sessions will be held at 10:00 a. m., 2:30 p. m. and 7:30 p. m. at the First Methodist Church, Clarendon, Texas.

Speakers: The outstanding leaders of the various denominations and communions.

Who are invited? All church members and friendly citizens are invited.

Will you be there? You should! Yes, this is one meeting you cannot afford to miss. The message will be straight to you! Be there sure.

MULKEY PREPARES FOR A FEAST OF ENTERTAINMENT THIS SUMMER

Our readers will recall that we published a statement as to the improvements to be made in the Pastime theatre a short time ago. Homer Mulkey is getting ready to provide entertainment in keeping with that proposed building. He made a trip to Dallas the last of the week and signed up for a most interesting lot of pictures including the Nazimova series which includes "When The Clouds Roll By," "Down On The Farm," "Red Viper," "Thunderbolt," "Evangeline," etc., to say nothing of Mickey, Checkers and Real Art pictures that will be given along with other good ones. Miss Rhoda Weidman will preside at the piano, Joe Romeo will handle the clarinet while Homer Taylor will continue with the drum. Mr. Mulkey expects to furnish a feast of music to all his patrons such as is not found in any other town of this size.

FILIPINOS WANT AMERICA TO GIVE INDEPENDENCE

Maximo M. Kalaw Declares U. S. Cannot Consistently Refuse "Self-Determination."

By MAXIMO M. KALAW, Secretary of the Philippine Mission, Author "The Case for the Filipinos," "Self-Government in the Philippines," etc.

"When they show sufficient capacity," "When they are able to govern themselves," "When they are educated enough." Thus run the answers of many Americans pressed with the question as to when the Filipinos should be granted their independence. Now, "ability," "capacity" and "sufficient education"—What do they mean in black and white?

Senator Shugart may think no people is capable of self-government that does not establish the judicial recall, or that has no Pilly Sunday. John Smith of Sonoville may think no people is capable of self-government that does not vote his democratic ticket, or go to church on Sundays.

"Capacity for self-government" is as broad and elastic as the world, and if that should be the criterion for the granting of Philippine independence, America might as well say to the Filipinos, "I will give you independence when it pleases me to do so."

Fortunately, the American promise to the Philippines is not based on such obscure and abstract conditions. It is based on a definite, tangible thing. When America, through her Congress, officially told the Filipino people that they would be granted their independence as soon as they could establish a stable government, no abstract or obscure condition was meant. Stable government, according to American usage, means a certain, definite thing.

The United States promised the Cubans the same thing, that "when they have established a stable government, then American troops would be withdrawn." As soon as the Cuban people elected a government suited to themselves, capable of maintaining order and fulfilling all international obligations, there was a stable government in Cuba, and American troops were withdrawn.

When Congress passed the Jones law, it simply borrowed the phrase "stable government" from the Cuban history and applied it to the Philippines. The history of Philippine legislation shows that in black and white. With full knowledge of what it meant, the Filipino people accepted the Jones law and immediately began setting up the stable government required by Congress as a pre-requisite to independence. The stable government is now a fact. It is indeed more than that; it is an undisputed fact.

The official representative of the United States in the Philippine Islands, the Governor General, reported to the American Congress and the administration that "the Filipino people have established the stable government demanded by Congress as a pre-requisite for the granting of independence—namely, a government elected by the suffrage of the people, which is supported by the people, which is capable of maintaining order and of fulfilling its international obligations."

The Filipino question is therefore no longer a question of politics, argument or supposition. To the Philippine mind, at least, it is now a question of whether the United States is ready to discharge its own obligations fully and completely. America went before the world in the recent war as the avowed champion of "self-determination" and Filipinos cannot see how America can consistently refuse to act.

The Filipino people, however, have no grudge or grievance against the American people. Theirs is a message of friendship and gratitude. They seek independence as the natural and logical outcome of America's policy in the islands and of America's solemn promise to them. They come willing to give privileges and concessions not incompatible with their national welfare.

The Filipino people are willing to accept independence under any of the following conditions: Under a League of Nations, guaranteeing its territorial integrity; under the protectorateship of the United States for the first few years; under a treaty of neutrality between the United States, England, Japan, France and other powers, or even without any condition whatever—absolute and complete independence. They have no fear of Japan. Philippine independence, in our opinion, is not inimical to Japanese interests. The Japanese are now free to come to the Philippines, but at the present time there are less than 10,000 Japanese in the islands. There are six times as many Japanese in California as there are in the entire Philippine Archipelago.

The Filipinos are willing to take their chance as a nation. Smaller nations beset by graver problems and dangers have taken a more hazardous chance at freedom, and have succeeded.

LITTLE LIFE LINES

W. H. F.

ETIQUETTE

I guess I'm old-fashioned, as young as I am.

But I wish the good old days when people were as courteous as they were, would return. What has become of the man who gave his chair in a train or car to a lady with a half a dozen children? It is not to say that we don't have good manners nowadays—or mannerisms, for we do, but so much of the so-called etiquette now doesn't mean anything. We are so all-fired up in the chase of the good old dollar, that we are not manifesting much courtesy unless it "will pay."

There are a great many folks, too, that do not think about the other fellow or his comfort any at all. On the train or street cars they are called 'seat-hogs'; but there are other places, too. Not long since, I was on this 'Denver' train; at a small place two persons with two children got on. The two persons took one seat each, the two kids took a seat each and packages took another. Later the car got crowded. With them it was a case of being 'steadfast'. Finally a lady with a little boy got on and was game enough to ask if they had tickets to cover the seats where the packages were?

Back to the simple life: back to chivalry.

Back to the Golden Rule.

Coal Facts

During the winter we had to put out some coal of an inferior grade—coal that we would not have handled under normal conditions.

It was a question of take anything we could get or do without. But with all our troubles our town fared better during the coal shortage than any of our neighboring towns.

The coal that we are getting now and the coal we have bought for this summer's shipment is of the very best quality and we want to urge everybody to lay in a supply and get it put in as soon as possible.

The storage season is on now and the price advances some each month. Do not wait until late summer to put in your coal but get it as soon as possible.

R. A. LONG, Prop.

THE Y. M. C. A.—NOT AGAIN—BUT STILL

(Crowded out last week)

At Tuesday's Luncheon the question of the Y was again discussed and a report taken of the committees working on this matter. Every report was favorable with the exception that sufficient time was not being given to putting this proposition over in the way that it should be put over.

It was voted and agreed by 20 business men present to give one whole day to the completion of this building, to open it up, if possible to put in the pool and clean out the building in time for a Luncheon to be held there Tuesday week, which day was chosen to put over the matter and otherwise to get some definite responsibility and action in the matter.

Led by Mayor Watson, every member of the Tuesday Luncheon present agreed to give this one full day to this work and really do something. To quote Homer Mulkey, "I think it is just a lack of interest or attention to the business rather than the lack of a willingness and desire to do something that has kept the building from being completed. I know for myself that I have just quit thinking about the building and am ready to help finish it if something will really be done."

That seems to be the present standing of the situation. The definite plans have not been worked out for the all day campaign but with about $12,000 in cash that building can be completely finished and furnished and put into operation. It will be one of the biggest things in the town when it is completed. With one or two evenings given to the ladies, one or two to the boys under 14 and the Rest Rooms established on Saturdays and Trades Mondays—the meeting rooms fitted up for the Ladies Clubs, and meetings of every nature that come up from time to time the building will become the absolute center of the social, civic and recreational activities of the city.

As far as the Y building coming into competition with the idea of a monument to the soldiers that is all just a wild scare started by someone that wanted an excuse for not contributing to the Y fund. The purpose of the directors in allowing a room to be set aside for the American Legion was not to fight the memorial idea at all. Nor was the Memorial tablet proposed by the American Legion in any way opposed to the monument. We did not propose to list only the men that were killed—their honor notwithstanding but to list every man that served in the war—with special honor to the men that served and paid for the service.

It is well to rave about fighting any move made to complete and dedicate any building started before the war to the men that served in the war—but the actual facts are that nothing of any nature has yet been done in honor of these men—and rather than let their memory go unperpetuated in a material way it would be better to dedicate even a street—but the American Legion, every overseas man and ex-service man believes that he appreciates the services and sacrifices of these men that were killed about as well as the average man that remained at home and not one of them thinks it would be an insult to have his name enrolled in a building dedicated to the direction of the young manhood that is to fight our future wars if needs be in order to perpetuate the principles made possible by the last war.

A monument, yes, if it is the desire of the county to raise such at some future date—but the present crying needs of the living in perpetuation of the principles for which the sacrifice of the dead were made, should have their consideration of every right thinking man. Were there a choice between cold marble and living human hearts upon which to carve a dedication to the memory of fallen heroes, who would hesitate? When that choice is but the choice of time and would withhold his full unqualified support from the completion of this building?

It is the full belief of the adjutant of the American Legion as speaking for the majority of the Service men of this community that the completion of this building for the use and direction of the growing needs of the present generation should be the first consideration of the citizenship of this section—even before the consideration of a monument. As for the tablet of dedication—there is not a church, a school, a community center or any such nature in which such a tablet could be erected that would honor or both citizens, members or relatives erecting same, to the building so honor to the men in whose honor the tablet was erected.

There is no conflict between these moves—the same motive spirit and purpose actuates each. It is just a matter of cooperation for the successful culmination of both ideas and honor will be given where honor is due and both can be put over in time. The one is already far advanced and needs but little effort to complete—and its delay means a possible loss in the perpetuation of the very ideals and principles for which the memory is due. The monument has been delayed a year—a few months further delay will not materially hurt the cause. Let us think! Then work together.

BRILLIANT PROGRAM BY MUSIC GRADUATE

Monday night at Clarendon College was given what is no doubt one of the most brilliant recitals ever rendered by a graduate of the local institution, when Frank E. Marsh, Jr., director of the music department presented Miss Pearl Irene Miller in senior recital.

Miss Miller has been a pupil of Clarendon College for the past three years, and all the promise she has given of her ability in piano mastery was unqualifiedly consummated by her program of Monday night. A large crowd was in attendance and every number was most heartily enjoyed and applauded. If some numbers stood out above others in point of excellence, the writer would fail to mention the andante movement of the first number, Sonata, op. 14, no. 2, from Beethoven, Chopin's Valse, op. 18, and the climax of the program in the closing number, Liszt's Rhapsodie Hongroise, no. 6.

Without doubt the program put Miss Miller in a distinct class as an interpreter and performer, proving again the high order of instruction to be obtained at Clarendon College conservatory of music.
